New Parking Ordinance

An ordinance regulating off-street parking in residential areas goes into effect today and bans parking in the front yard and side yards adjoining a side street within the required setback area.

The code also requires all home owners to have clearly designated driveways and parking areas, surfaced with concrete, asphalt or other durable material when located within the required setback areas.

Residences located on streets without curb and gutter may surface parking areas with gravel provided no nuisance is created by dust or improper drainage.

Only passenger cars or trucks of two tons or less will be allowed to park in residential areas except for deliveries, service calls and short duration parking.

The Environmental Health Department urges residents whose parking spot is not properly surfaced to discontinue the use of that spot and relocate their vehicle to an approved site. If the site is to be reused it should be surfaced within nine months.

New houses are required to have properly surfaced driveways and sufficient parking for the residents. Multiple dwellings are expected to be provided with sufficient parking area for each unit of residence.

Holiday Arrangements Treat Two Club Groups

One of the most interesting and creative flower arrangements to appear at the Holland Garden Club in a long time was the guest at a combined meeting of the Garden Club and the Woman's Literary Club Thursday afternoon.

She was Mrs. Jack Blome who used "Holidays Today and Yesterday" for her theme as she worked with a variety of materials, old and new in making some holiday arrangements.

As she worked she described some of the available materials and where to get them, how to use greens effectively and other items that could be found in most homes. Especially effective was her demonstration of two or three sprays fastened with twinstems and topped with different ornaments and ribbons.

Mrs. Blome said women are extremely conscious of design around them in their homes and in nature. She demonstrated the use of textures in various materials and how they should be used in keeping with all the he completed arrangements. Simply, she said, was the watchword of a good design in any decorations.

In making one door swag of greens, Mrs. Blome used loops of raffia, children's figures of straw, butterflies and ribbons. This basic swag could be used as a table decoration, a mantel piece or a swag.

Barn boards are good, she said, and showed a simple green arrangement with a pair of mice dressed in red that could be used in children's rooms. She also did an angel arrangement of a more modern type that would please young adults.

A pair of lacy candlesticks was used by inverting one of them and fastening it to the other with oases and twinstems. She used leather leaf or Baker fern and pink carnations.

Some of her unusual accessories included bright red and green ostrich feathers. She said she was probably the only arranger at this time to use the feathers for this year's holiday programs.

Mrs. Blome gave much praise to florists in all communities for their help in selecting some unusual fresh material. She mentioned one florist who featured "doghouse specials," for husbands at the start of the baseball or football season. Many families have traditional arrangements, she pointed out, and even after they leave home, these become more important to children.

A tea preceded the program at 12:30 p.m. in the clubhouse tearoom. New members were Mrs. Edward Gobel, Mrs. Harry Nelis Jr. and Mrs. Robert Weersing.

Mrs. Vern Schipper, Garden Club president, introduced Mrs. Blome and made several announcements. Wreaths will be available from Sharon Van Putten at the Civic Center on Dec. 6 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Instead of the usual Christmas workshop this year, the Garden Club is featuring a Festive Fashions and Flower Boutique and tea on Dec. 6 in the Civic Center which will be open to the public.

Other dates on the list are flower arranging, Nov. 8 at 9:30 a.m. at Rose Albers; horticulture study, Nov. 15 at Betty Smith's and conservation study Nov. 27 at Vivian Kingsley's.

The engagement of Marla Ortman to Paul Driesenga is announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Ortman, 451 Alice St., Zeeland, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Driesenga, 6106 96th Ave., Borculo.

MIXED BLESSING

The internal combustion engine is not proving to be the unmixed blessing it was once thought to be. Certainly it has made many of our tasks lighter, it has made much of our fun more enjoyable. And it also has polluted our air, and now we get reports that it may be affecting our hearing.

Dr. R. Peter Openheimer and Leonard Reid of Canoga Park, Calif., have discovered that mini-bikes, those fun vehicles, may be responsible for hearing loss. It's because they make so much noise. It's a known fact that prolonged exposure to intense noise — above 84 decibels — is likely to affect hearing either temporarily or permanently. These mini-bikes, now, at full throttle range from 90.4 to 94.2. That's higher than recommended. And that's with mufflers. We also know that many kids, enjoying the noise they can make, remove the mufflers and then the noise goes up to over 96 decibels.

What these researchers conclude is that exposure to mini-bikes can cause temporary loss of hearing, and that prolonged exposure at high levels can injure hearing permanently. What we conclude is that there's a cloud to every silver lining, that the fun and convenience of the mini-bike — or other uses of the internal combustion engine — brings with it some kind of threat to our wellbeing. The trick is to know how to use these things, and in the case of the mini-bike we perhaps haven't learned all we need to know.

Rescue Truck Put Into Use

The Holland Fire Department's $11,000 rescue truck, a lime-green step van vehicle, went into service Wednesday after appropriate ceremonies at City Hall.

Fire Chief Marvin Mokma said the vehicle will be used in rescue efforts at fires and accidents and was not designed as an ambulance. Mokma said the vehicle cannot be used to transport persons to the hospital.

The truck is equipped with rescue tools, power plants, ladders, entry tools and first aid equipment. Some of the items were removed from the aerial ladder truck which is being replaced by a new 85 foot aerial tower truck now on order.

The rescue truck will be housed at the East Eighth St. fire station. The cost of the rescue truck and equipment was paid for through revenue sharing funds.

Bridges and a 16-year-old boy were apprehended by Ottawa County sheriff's detectives. The juvenile was referred to probate authorities. Bridges was released on $1,000 bond.

Sunday School Lesson

Living Victoriously In Society
Romans 12:14 through 13:1

By C. P. Dane

Christians live in the world but are not of the world and hence their view of life differs from our secular age. This lesson sets forth the Christian's principles for living in a modern society.

I. Christians are called upon to differ with the world. Last week's lesson taught how Christians should treat each other, this lesson teaches a Christian's responsibility to society and the government. Christians are told to bless those which persecute them and not to curse them — the thing which is natural. Getting even is common. History records that Christians have been persecuted in every age. The Bible says they should take persecution.

To rejoice with those who rejoice is easy at times but not always, when for instance, someone gets what is not deserved. We hear much about human relationships. Christianity tells how to make relationships helpful. It is an art to put self in the position of another. Pride mars relationships, therefore, be willing to think with others along the same Christian line. Snobishness is out of place and social status should not have standing among believers. Unfortunately at times, self is rated too high, and conceit sticks out boldly.

II. Seeking for peace is very worthy. "If possible, as far as it depends on you, live peaceably with all men." The world longs for peace but wars and conflicts continue. In church and in society differences crop out. To live at peace with nice, loving people is not hard but what about those disagreeable folks? Some people like to arouse quarrels no matter where they are — be it in the home or in school or at work. It is Christian to promote peace, not at any price but by principles. Let the Spirit of God prevail and then relationships will bring blessings to all concerned, both friend and foe.

III. God is the source of all authority. Christians have obligations to the government which is ordained of God. We know that our government is not ideal, but we have learned that again lately, but it is far from the government of Paul's day. We have freedom and can criticize our government when it does wrong. If the government orders believers to do things contrary to God's will then they should obey God and defy the government which objects to God, Ruler of all.

Planetarium Is Available To Public

Fred Meppelink, West Ottawa Planetarium director, announced today that the facility located at the Middle School is available to organized groups, such as service clubs, youth groups, church guilds and any other groups with an educational goal. The District is accepting reservations on a first come first serve basis.

The programs that can be offered are varied and can be tailored to meet the desires of the individual groups. Meppelink is available to assist group leaders or program chairmen to plan the type of program desired.

At this time no charge is being made by the District for providing this community service. As the use of the facility increases, it may be necessary to institute a fee system to cover the operational costs, Meppelink said.

The West Ottawa Planetarium facility is one of the finest in Western Michigan. This installation was a part of the building project completed a year ago and the facility has been undergoing development as an instructional device during the past year.

Gas Pipe Ruptures

A four-inch high pressure gas line damaged during an earlier installation of water mains at 112th Ave. and Chicago Dr. ruptured Wednesday creating a small crater in the soft fill sand and forcing road closings and gas shutoffs to customers.

Jim Crough, acting district manager for Michigan Power Co., said work crews expected to make necessary repairs late Wednesday with gas service restored. About 63 customers were affected by the gas cutoff.

Ottawa County deputies said they were notified in rapid succession by passing motorists at 6:14 a.m. Wednesday of the gas break. Deputies blocked off traffic along Chicago Dr. from 104th Ave. to 120th Ave.

Crough said the pipeline had been damaged during a water main installation but gas company officials inspecting the line said the pipe appeared sound.

Crough said weight from passing traffic on the fill sand apparently forced an opening in the damaged pipe, allowing for the break.

Deputies said Kotowski arrived at the scene minutes after the 1 p.m. accident and found John Clemens, 66, of Allegan, not breathing and with his heart apparently stopped.

Clemens was pulled from the wreckage of his truck and Kotowski applied closed chest heart massage and revived Clemens after a few minutes. Clemens was taken to Allegan General Hospital where his heart again reportedly stopped and he was revived a second time.

Deputies said Clemens was admitted to the intensive care unit at Allegan General Hospital.

Deputies said De Groff was stopped eastbound on M-89 for a left turn while the Clemens truck, also eastbound, struck the rear of the De Groff vehicle shoving it into the path of the oncoming Van Horn vehicle westbound on M-89.

Dr. Littlefair Cites Need for Compassion

By Cornelia Van Voorst
The need for human compassion in the world today (people who care) was the unifying call of Dr. Duncan E. Littlefair of Fountain Street Church of Grand Rapids at the opening lecture of the Crucial Issues Speaker Series Monday night in Holland High School.

Speaking on the subject, "The Essence of Human Life," the popular speaker opened with the story of a young college student who had just interviewed him. "...a girl who disagreed with his philosophy saying 'I don't owe the community a damn thing. I pay my own way.'"

Dr. Littlefair objected strenuously. "...even a student paying full tuition doesn't pay one-fourth the costs of college education, and no one can repay what he has received from the community. Although he shield from any association as a biblical minister, he quoted the Bible 'To whom has been given much, much is expected.'"

The benefits one receives from a community, he said, is the result of the pouring forth of the lives of many generations. "...resulting in an organization of industry, agriculture, people. In general people are far more dependent on the community than the community is on them."

Dr. Littlefair said the essence of human life is care, love, understanding and appreciation, and the quality of caring is a matter of depth, extent, intensity and scope.

Then he listed six basic self-defeating qualities that keep a

Chix Bid For Win Falls Short

ZEELAND — Zeeland's bid for a win fell short, as the Chix girls lost its basketball game to Kenowa Hills here Tuesday evening, 43-35.

Kathy Lampen and Diane Groters paced the Chix in scoring with eight and seven points respectively. Slick guard Pat Nedwick led the winners with 14 markers.

While the varsity was suffering its fourth defeat in eight games, Zeeland's reserves remained unbeaten at 8-0 by drubbing the Little Knights, 43-28.

Karla Brower and Jane Stetema led the Chix with nine points each. Deb Van Orman chipped in with eight.

There were two kinds of electricity plugged in Civic Center Monday night. The Alive Company's production of "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well and Living in Paris" featured theatrical electricity, as well as the medium of electronic music.

Co-directors Wayne Adams and Paul Plumadore presented the diverse musical tendencies of contemporary French composer-singer Jacques Brel in 25 choreographed numbers. Their direction, in conjunction with the technical work of Ken Graham and the instrumental co-ordination by Bob Christianson, achieved a rare blend of voice, gesture, instrumentation, and lighting. The staging was simple, but intensely effective.

The production, however, was not for the weak-hearted. Brel's music and lyrics are hard-hitting and emotional; there is no escaping the social commentary. The composer's diversity was apparent — from the comic "Girls and Dogs" to the mockingly ironic "Middle Class" to the urgent appeal of "The Desperate One" and "If We Only Have Love."

Baritone Shashi Musso, clad in white three-quarter sleeve undershirt and blue jeans, displayed a vocal versatility which met the challenge of Brel's music. Vocal co-arrangers Paul Baker and Dede Washburn exploited the subtleties of the music in their arrangements.

The Alive Company's production was professional in tone and precise in execution. If it had a major fault, it must be the company's enthusiastic acceptance of the challenge of Brel's music, as translated by Eric Blau and Mort Schuman. The comic and the desperate, the brutal and the tender are laid bare in sound and movement. Regardless of how one feels about the frank emotionality of Jacques Brel, he must recognize the virtuosity and achievement of the performers.

Okay Dec. 17 As Junior High Bond Election

The date of Dec. 17 for voting a bond issue for two new junior high schools for Holland was verified by the Board of Education Monday after receiving preliminary approval of the bond issue by the Municipal Finance Commission and the State Department of Education.

The issue calls for a bond issue of $6.8 million, or $300,000 more than the $6.5 issue which was narrowly defeated last June. The increase is due to anticipated cost factors and inflation.

A public information committee headed by Ronald Rainsorn is setting up a program of publicity and speakers, with emphasis on endorsements, registration and getting out the vote.

Hope Claims 1st Outright MIAA Title in 20 Years

Dutchmen Go Unbeaten In League

OLIVET — It only took Hope College football Coach Ray Smith four years to notch his first MIAA championship, as the Flying Dutchmen jolted Olivet, 20-7 Saturday in a fumble-and-fight-marred game that gave Hope its first undefeated league season ever.

It was the first time in 20 years that the Dutchmen have been undisputed league title winners. The only other time came in 1953.

A victory by Olivet would have given it a share of the championship for the first time since 1914 but Smith and his team wasn't about to let Doug Kay's gridders triumph this time around.

Officials were forced to call the game with 1:26 remaining on the clock, as an all out fight cleared both benches and also involved some fans, came after freshman standout Matt Cramer of Lake Odessa recovered a short Hope kickoff after the Dutchmen locked up the game with a touchdown.

A frustrated Olivet team couldn't be contained as they went wild in starting the unfortunate incident.

"It's very bad taste for our league," said a disgusted Smith. It takes some of the glitter out of our championship."

Joe Cooper, the supervisor of officials for the MIAA said, "the officials did the right thing in calling the game. It was the only thing they could do after what happened."

The league commissioner Al Deal was also at the game but as of now, no action has been taken against Olivet for starting the fight.

There were 12 fumbles and three interceptions in the hard hitting game. The Dutchmen lost the ball on fumbles twice and had two interceptions while the Comets coughed up the ball six times on fumbles and had one pass interception.

"I think the reason for all the turnovers was the condition of the field, the importance of the game and the hard hitting," explained Smith. Mistakes had set up three of the game's four touchdowns.

Things didn't look rosy for the Dutchmen, as on the first play from scrimmage senior Ed Sanders fumbled the ball with Olivet's Earl Moore recovering on the Hope 27.

Five plays later freshman quarterback Rick Kesteloot, who is just one of seven members to have played for top rated Muskegon High made a nice move in running seven yards for the score.

A pass interference lay on the Dutchmen helped Olivet punch it over. Dave Sabada's extra point kick gave the Comets a 7-0 lead.

Sander's second fumble gave the Comets life again deep in Hope territory but the Dutchmen defense which ranked second to Olivet's going into the game, stopped the Comets short, as Cramer came up with his first fumble recovery on the 25.

Hope had a fourth and seven on the Comets' 18 but Chuck Brooks dropped a sure first down pass and Olivet took over.

Ken Melton recovered Tom Pierson's fumbled punt on the Olivet six to set up Hope's first touchdown.

Carlson, who was a senior at Muskegon when Kesteloot was a sophomore, went in for the score on a keeper play to cut Olivet's margin to 7-6 with 9:32 to play in the second period.

Jeff Stewart's extra point kick tied the game at 7-7.

Middle guard Dave Yeiter and end Bob Lees combined to hit Kesteloot from the blind-side, as the ex-Big Reds signal caller fumbled on his own 13.

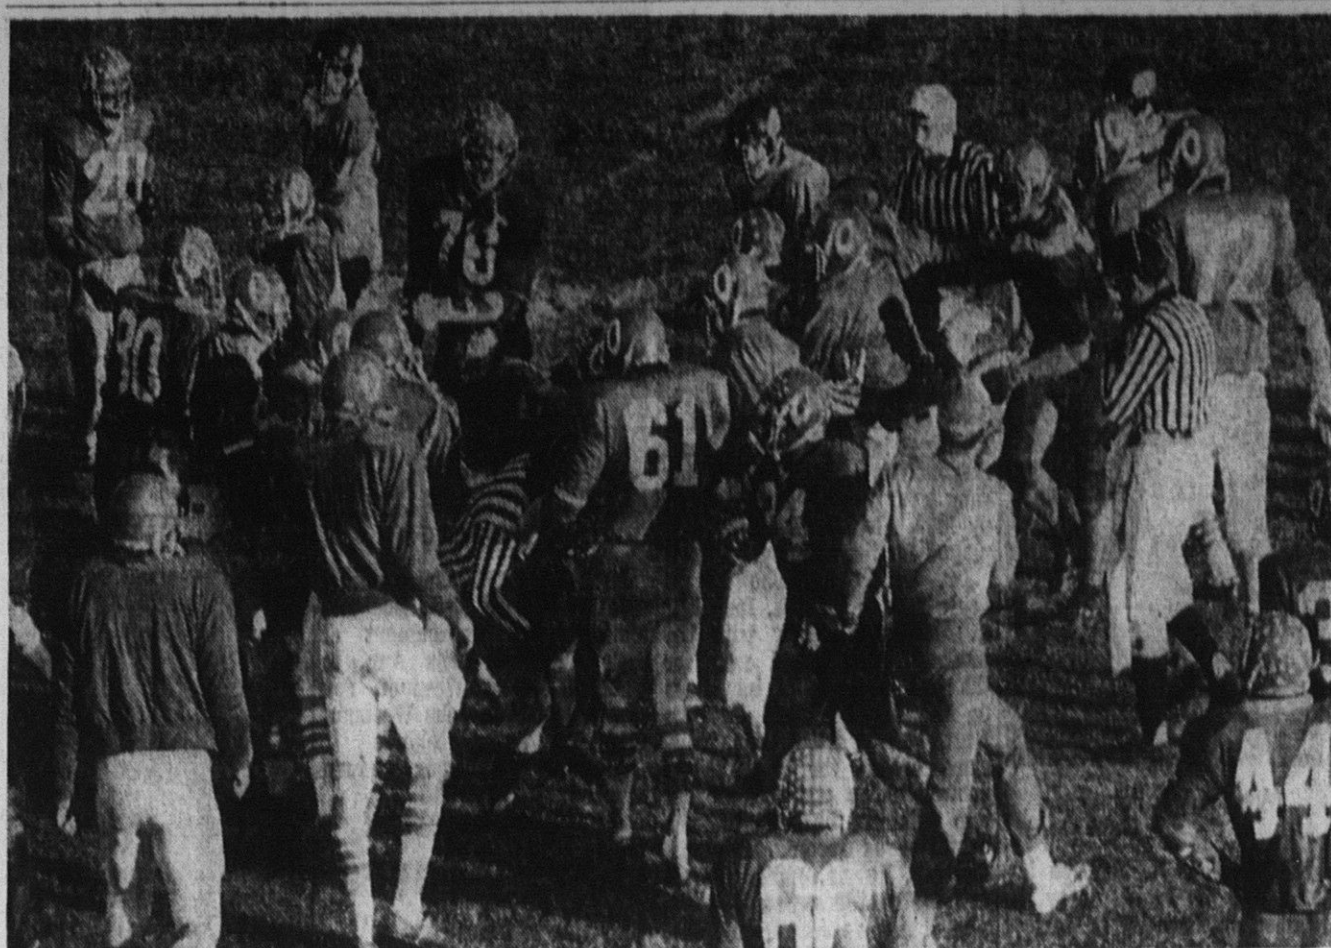

Carlson later ran seven yards to the Olivet one where Brooks took it over for the TD. Stewart's kick was true as the Dutchmen led 14-7 with 7:30 to play before the halftime festivities.

The Hope defense, consisting of ends Stewart and Lees; tackles, Craig Van Tuinen and Ron Posthuma, middle guard, Yeiter; linebackers, Cramer and Mark Bolthouse and backs, Jim Ritchieske, Bob Lamer, Jim Boscher and Rick McCloth showed why they're the key to the Hope team, as they stopped Olivet in its tracks the rest of the way.

Another TD against it didn't make any difference to Olivet, as they tried to make a first down on their own six on a fourth and 29 situation just before the explosion was about to occur.

Kurt Bennett of Zeeland managed to score from the one with 1:31 left in the tilt. After about three cracks at trying to make the PAT, the Dutchmen were stopped, as they core read Hope 20 Olivet 7.

The Comets held Hope, the MIAA's total offensive leader to 171 yards rushing and only 28 passing but the Dutchmen defense was just as strong as they held the league's second best offensive club to only 70 yards on the ground and 79 in the air.

FREE-FOR-ALL — For the first time in MIAA history officials had to call off a football game before it was actually over because of this donnybrook which took place in Hope College's 20-7 win Saturday over Olivet. The tilt was called with 1:26 left in the game. In the middle of this pile is Hope's Matt Cramer, who recovered an Olivet fumble.

HOPE QUARTERBACK—Bob Carlson (15) tries to break loose here from an unidentified Olivet College tackler during football action Saturday at Olivet. The Flying Dutchmen won their first outright championship in 20 years by decking the Comets, 20-7.

For the first time this season, Sanders failed to hit the 100 figure, as he rushed for 83 yards in 24 carries. Tom Creighton of Olivet, who was second to Sanders in rushing in the MIAA, picked up 61 yards in 15 tries.

Jim Stevens hauled in three passes for Olivet while catching one apiece for Hope were Dave Teater, Gary Constant, Brooks and Frank Gucker.

Lamer had a key interception for the Dutchmen while falling on fumbles beside those already mentioned were Van Tuinen, Stewart and Yeiter.

"We nominated Lamer for player of the week," Smith commented. "Bob did just a terrific job for us."

Four of the Dutchmen were shaken up at one time or another in the game. Lamer has a badly bruised hip, Sanders injured his ribs, guard Gerrit Crandall, an ankle injury and Brooks suffered a shoulder separation.

"It's too early to tell if any will miss our last game Saturday," Smith said.

The win was the fifth in a row for the Dutchmen and gives them an overall 6-2 mark while the Comets are now 5-3 for the season.

Hope finished 5-0 in the MIAA.

Chicago-Circle will help Hope close its fine season at home Saturday.

Rick Elzinga Paces Dutch

Rick Elzinga, gifted sophomore running back for Holland's reserve football team, ran his touchdown count to 10 in Holland's 40-0 bombing of Grand Rapids Union Thursday night at Riverview Park.

Elzinga scored three touchdowns on runs of 42, 27 and 52 yards against Union and finished the night with a robust 208 yards rushing in 21 carries.

Junior Ybarra's 53-yard TD run gave the Dutch a 13-0 half-time margin.

Mike Arzamendi tallied Holland's third TD of the third period by running 10 yards.

Leading 33-0 after three periods, Manuel Fuentes dashed 13 yards for Holland's final touchdown. Paul Pena kicked two extra points while quarterback Todd De Young passed to Denny Lawson for a PAT.

"The offensive line was just super in opening big holes for our backs to run through," said Coach Mike Bos. "Fullback John Boeve, who gained 76 yards on the ground also did a fine job of blocking Pena and Ybarra also played fine games on defense."

The Dutch had 452 total yards compared to only 66 for Union. In the second half, the tough Holland defense threw the losers for 11 yards in losses.

Mike Ryan Breaks Back Of Dutch

Last week it was fullback Larry Niemiec that led Grand Haven to its easy football win over Holland and last night it was Mike Ryan, a 6'1" 173-pound tailback from St. Joseph that broke Holland's back in the Bears 34-14 verdict over the Dutch at Riverview Park.

Ryan, the younger brother of ex-Bear basketball flash Packy, who now attends the University of Hawaii on a scholarship galloped for 203 yards, scored three touchdowns and passed for one, as the Bears moved within one game of finishing the season undefeated.

Ryan had four runs of more than 30 yards in the contest, as everytime he ran off tackle he seemed to go for a long gain.

The Bears' top rusher Doug Lincoln, who the Dutch keyed on all evening didn't have his usual strong game against Holland. While the Dutch stopped Bertsch, they couldn't contain the quick moving Ryan.

Lincoln tallied the first Bear touchdown by running 15 yards for the score with 7:34 to play in the opening quarter. Mike Priebe kicked the first of four extra points to give his team a 7-0 bulge.

Bruce Harrington made a fine return of the ensuing kickoff for the Dutch but Frank Olson intercepted the first of three pass interceptions off Steve Bonnette to set up St. Joseph's second TD.

Ryan walked into the end zone from seven yards out for the Bears second score of the night. Priebe's kick gave St. Joseph a 14-0 first period lead.

A lineman's dream came true for Holland's tackle Marc Armstrong, who intercepted a Randy Breuling pass and scampered 69 yards down the field to put the Dutch on the scoreboard.

Dan Bartlett's kick was true, as the Dutch only trailed the ninth rated Bears, 14-7.

Ryan again scored without any problem from the seven moments later, as the Bears increased their margin to 20-7.

John Bonnette dashed 21 yards around left end behind a great block by Clark Kuipers, who knocked down two Bears on the play. The first half ended with St. Joseph on top, 20-7.

Ryan's third TD run that of 35 yards which moved his game rushing total to an even 200 yards upped St. Joe's lead to 26-7 in the third stanza.

Ryan showed he could do more than run with the ball, as he took a handoff from Breuling and passed downfield to Tom Buckleitner for a 43-yard TD. Buckleitner was all by himself on the play. With 2:06 left in the third quarter, the Bears held a 34-7 margin.

With Coach Dan Porretta using another new play this week, this time an end around by Tom Barkel that went for 38 yards, the Dutch were on their way to their second touchdown.

The hard running Kuipers eventually took it in for the score, as the Dutch moved 65 yards into pay dirt. Bartlett's extra point kick closed out the scoring at 34-14.

Holland, now 3-5 will close its season at home next Friday against Mona Shores.

Panthers End 4-Game Losing Skid

West Ottawa's Panthers finally put it all together Friday night beating winless Wyoming Rogers by a 29-8 footlak score. The Panthers completely controlled the game from every aspect in the second half to notch their second win of the season and their first after four consecutive losses.

It was pretty much even in the first period as neither team could muster any points, thanks to some super defensive plays by the Panthers' Tom Hill, Jeff Bakker, Mark Goodrow and Steve Sanger.

The Golden Hawks started out well, moving the ball to the six-yard line of West Ottawa before the defense closed the door; however a bad kick in the second period gave the Golden Hawks an opportunity to score its first and only touchdown of the evening as they took an 8-0 margin. Quarterback Doug Vanderlaan snuck in from the two and a pass to Jim Russo was good for the PAT.

That was the end for Rogers as West Ottawa dominated completely from that point. Randy Ollis got the Panthers started when he recovered a fumble on Rogers' 26-yard line. Scott Tubergan took the ball on a sweep to the 13.

Then Jack Muddock threw a pass over the middle to Goodrow for nine yards and a touchdown. Rogers led 8-6 at the half but it didn't take the Panthers long to get going in the third period. Speedy Matt Johnson ripped off some nice gains and took it eight yards into the end zone giving the Panthers the lead for good.

West Ottawa's defense was at its best allowing Rogers to handle the ball only four times in the third quarter. The rest of the game was strictly ball control as the Panthers' Ken Hamstra intercepted a Vanderloon pass to set up the third West Ottawa TD.

Johnson, playing his best game streaked through for 23 yards and the Panthers third score. Tubergan ran for the two point conversion to make it 20-8.

Coach Deb Nolan was able to use most of his bench the rest of the game. Vanderlaan is one of the best passers in the O-K Red Division but was held to only three completions in nine attempts by the Panthers.

Senior playing their last home game for West Ottawa were Dave Doyle, Gord Vander-Yacht, Greg Holt, Mike Johnson, Rob VanKoeveering, Ron Kamper, Steve Van Slooten, Dan Dekker, Rudy Mascorro, Fred Medendorp, Jim Stevenson, Rick Brand, Joe Kloet, Mark Goodrow, Chuck Veldheer, Tim Beckman and Mike Feyon. Information Needed On Energy Crisis: Heins

Gordon L. Heins, executive manager of the Electric Planning Department of Consumers Power Co., Jackson, speaking to members of Century Club Monday evening in the Hotel Warm Friend, said the need for information is probably the first requirement in facing the situation caused by the energy crisis. It is difficult for us to believe there is a problem, he added.

The time to think is now, although it is already late. It is difficult to believe because it is a new experience to be lacking in gasoline, fuel oil and natural gas, he said. He suggested we may be the last generation to drive a big car, hauling a boat to the lakes.

Heins said the first reaction to warnings of shortages is that it is a contrived situation for some purpose. The speaker's opinion is that the situation cannot get a lot better before it gets a lot worse. He added that there is a small chance that a technological society can exist for an indefinite future.

The reason for the shortage, Heins said, is that we are using more energy than we can produce and we cannot produce what we need. Legislation, especially regarding the use of coal, has added to the problem. Increased use in Western Europe, Japan as well as in America has been fantastic.

A solution, Heins said, is to get organized, that people will want to improve the situation in the frame work of an orderly democratic society. We can understand the U.S. has one-sixth of the world's population and uses one-third of the world's energy. We can understand that we have been wasteful and that we need ways to construct ways to best use what we have.

Population will begin to decrease, he predicted, but it will probably be 50 years before the goal of zero population is reached. We now import 35 per cent of the oil we use, Heins reported. By 1980 we will need to import 65 per cent and the price will continue to increase.

Heins believes that price mechanism is not the whole answer, but it will be necessary for people in government to take intelligent action and we must help them. At present, he said, committees are working successfully on the problem of environmental protection, but none effectively planning on how to meet energy requirements.

The speaker said coal, which is in good supply for the present need, could be used as soon as the problem of high sulphur is understood. Adding to the present shortage, he continued, has been the delay in getting the oil from Alaska's north slope. However, he said, the reports state that the amount of oil there is equivalent for three years use at our present rate. Another problem, he continued, is delay in licensing nuclear power plants which today provide only one per cent of our requirements.

Geologist Addresses Early Birds

His experiences the last two years as a drilling supervisor for water supply projects in Lesotho, a small inland country at the southern tip of Africa, were related by Alfred C. Medendorp, hydrogeologist of Grand Rapids who joined the Peace Corps, at a Chamber of Commerce Early Bird breakfast Tuesday.

Working out of the capital of Lesotho, Maseru, Medendorp worked for the Ministry of Community Development, establishing water supplies for villages in a program designed to create political activity at the village level. Population of these villages ranges from 50 to 2,000.

With the aid of color slides, Medendorp said the small country two-thirds mountains at altitudes from 5,000 to 11,000 feet. It was a story of mountains and plateaus, shifting sands, two rivers, one shallow lake, and attempts to drive wells from 10 to 400 feet deep. Generally, hardrock lay under 10 to 20 feet of top soil, with water between some layers of rock.

Medendorp, his wife and their four children spent two years in the small country of Lesotho which became independent in 1966. His assignment, he said, was to carry on a drilling program and train a supervisor to take over after he left. But, as in the case of many small new countries, the program fell apart after 18 months and they had to start over again. His wife, who worked as a record librarian for a radio station there, is expected home at the end of the month.

Medendorp said windmills are used to pump the water, and in those villages where technical knowhow exists, a diesel pump is sometimes installed. He spoke of the many difficulties existing in a small country where getting anything done takes considerably more effort than in America where people are geared to the mechanical life.

Medendorp operated his own firm before joining the Peace Corps.
