Grand Haven Tribune—Holland City turned down the Republican candidate for sheriff giving Kamferbeek 444 majority over Woodbury, and thereby proved that the assertion to effect that it was "rule or ruin" with Holland was true. Holland showed its disposition and will undoubtedly be remembered in coming county conventions.

For a few brief moments Tuesday night when the election returns were coming to the Slagb Zuidewind building the Ferris club of Hope College was jubilant. I looked for a time as if Ferris would sweep the state and they shouted and sang "We have buried the cheesemaker." Their joy was short-lived, for when reports came indicating Warner's election dense silence prevailed the Ferris camp and the boys quietly stole away to take a ride in the Ferris wheel and they have not been heard from since.

A spasm of virtue has seized the powers that be in South Haven. A few days ago the dead walls were blazoned with posters announcing the coming of a troupe of gaiety girls. As soon as the good people of the town got their eyes on the posters they were greatly shocked. A complaint was laid before Mayor Wiley and a consultation was held to decide what should be taken. All over town the bill boards were visited by Chief of Police McGregor, after the consultation, and paper skirts were added to the wardrobes of the gaiety girls. Now the good people can visit the downtown region without fear of being shocked. The show is billed to come off tomorrow night, and it is stated that the authorities are considering the advisability of ordering the ballet girls to wear skirts over their pink fleshings. The crusade has been a great "ad" for the show.—Press.

Fred Kamferbeek shows no sore spots over his defeat for the office of sheriff but on the contrary wishes to thank the voters of Holland and of Holland township, republicans as well as democrats, for the loyal support accorded him. Not being able to thank all personally he takes this method of extending thanks through the press.

The Rev. Dr. Giles Henry Mandeville is dead. Dr. Mandeville was born in New York in 1824, was graduated from Rutgers college in 1848, and from the Theological seminary at New Brunswick, N. J., in 1851. He was corresponding secretary of the board of education of the Reformed church in America from 1884 to 1889. Dr. Mandeville filled the position of Pres. of Hope College during the years that intervened between the resignation of Dr. Phelps and the appointment of Prof. Scott to the presidency. He never made Holland his home but visited here sufficiently to carry the institution through the most trying period of its existence. By virtue of his position prior and since that time as secretary of the board of education of the Reformed church his relations to and identity with Hope College and with Holland have been of so intimate a character that at one time it was intimated that Hope Church might extend him a call as its pastor.

SAW YOUNG'S DEATH

Tardy Witness Comes Forward with Evidence That May Acquit "Nan" Patterson.

WOMAN HELD FOR KILLING HIM

Says He Saw the Man Shoot Himself in a Cab on a Street at New York.

New York, Nov. 2.—In defense of "Nan" Patterson, the actress now in the Tombs prison charged with having killed Caesar Young, a wealthy book-maker, in a hansom cab in West Broadway, this city, on June 4 last, Milton W. Hazelton, a prominent business man of Oneonta, Otsego county, N. Y., has appeared at District Attorney Jerome's office and declared in an affidavit that he saw Young fire the fatal shot. Hazelton said that another man was with him at the time of the shooting. He does not know the identity of this witness, however, as he was a chance acquaintance, attracted by a Masonic emblem on his watch chain. He declared that his conscience has been troubling him so that he finally had to come forward and tell his story.

Does Not Remember the Date. Hazelton told Assistant District Attorney Hand that he is 78 years of age, and that he lives in Oneonta. For a few weeks previous to the affair of June 4 Hazelton says he was staying with the family of Rev. D. W. Couch, whose wife is his cousin, at their home in Brooklyn. He says that he came to this city to see Joseph H. Headley, president of the International Air Power company, with whose father he had been associated years before in California; that on the day to which he refers—he cannot remember the date—he came from Brooklyn looking for a buller shop which he thought was somewhere on the lower west side.

Thought He Was a "Con" Man. "Up the street," continued Hazelton, "I met a man from the west who was attracted by the Masonic emblem on my watch chain. He spoke to me and we walked along together. At first I thought that he was a 'bunco steerer,' and was suspicious of him because I thought that he wanted to bunco me. But he showed me that he was a Mason in good standing, and we went along up the street together.

Tells of the Death of Young. "I saw a handsome cab coming towards me. In this was a man and a woman sitting partly facing each other. When I first saw them they were about 100 feet away. Their four hands were raised. From their excited faces and positions I saw that they were in a commotion of some kind. My companion saw them at the same time and said to me, 'Look there.' Just then I saw the young woman drop her hands towards her lap and a minute afterwards I saw the revolver in his hand and saw and heard it go off. I saw him fall forward into the lap of the woman."

Could Not Identify the Place. After making his statement Hazelton was taken under escort to Bleeker street and West Broadway, where the shooting occurred, but was unable to identify the locality.

STRENUOUS LOVE AFFAIR

Preferred Suitor Tied to a Tree by His Rival and Left to Die in the Woods.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 2.—Out of spite and in order to put M. Kelly, of Kelso, Wash., out of the way so as to prevent him marrying a young woman who had refused the attentions of a less successful suitor, Kelly was seized, gagged, and buckled, bound by wire to a tree in a dense wood, and abandoned to die for a period of four days, when he was discovered and released.

Later the young woman whose preference for Kelly nearly caused his death procured a marriage license and late the same day the couple was married. Kelly is almost a physical wreck.

A Helping Hand.

Is Gladly Extended by a Holland Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Holland prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence, and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement: John Kloosterman, two miles of Zeeland, says: "For ten or twelve years I looked in vain for some medicine to free me from distressing kidney complaint. I suffered at intervals during that period with aching pains through the loins, twinges up and down the muscles of my back, irregular and unnatural condition of the kidney secretions and frequent attacks of dizziness. My son, John Kloosterman, a tailor, 133 East Eighth St., Holland, noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in the Holland papers and highly recommended by people who had used them. Thinking they might help me he procured a supply at J. O. Doesburg's drug store and sent them out to me. I noticed shortly after I commenced the treatment that it was doing me good and as I continued my condition improved. In my estimation Doan's Kidney Pills are by far the best remedy on the market.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Years of suffering relieved in a night. Itching piles yield at once to the curative properties of Doan's Ointment. Never fails. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Disastrous Wreck.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by W. C. Walsh Druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles 10c.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at W. C. Walsh Druggist.

JAPANESE LOSE FORTY THOUSAND

ENORMOUS CASUALTIES DURING LAST THREE MONTHS OF PORT ARTHUR SIEGE.

Advance on Beleaguered Place Continues, However—Part of the Town Again in Flames—The Situation Near Mukden.

Chefoo, Nov. 5.—Chinese who left Port Dalny Thursday evening report that batches of wounded were passing through Dalny. They report, also, that during the recent battle fresh Japanese troops were constantly going to the front. It is reported that the Japanese killed or wounded in front of Port Arthur during the last three months approximate 40,000.

There are persistent rumors that the Japanese have occupied the forts of Rihlung mountain and certain forts of the Kekwan mountain group, but well-informed Japanese here consider these rumors as premature. These Japanese, however, are confident that the end of the Russian occupation of Port Arthur is fast approaching. They admit that they have been disappointed heretofore, but say that their previous hopes never had such a fact-based foundation as those they at present entertain.

Jap Advance Continues.

London, Nov. 7.—Special dispatches from Chefoo and Tientsin report that the defenders of Port Arthur have retired to the Laiti hill fort, where they are holding out desperately, entrenched and with ten guns of large caliber. Many Russians, the correspondents assert, are deserting and surrendering. The Japanese, it is added, are advancing with irresistible energy. More reliable reports do not confirm these statements, but the Tokio report of the capture of Wantal hill, a dominating fort within two miles of the railway terminus, shows that the Japanese are making rapid strides.

Wantal hill is one of the extensive semi-circle of forts defending Port Arthur. It is situated in about the center of the semi-circle, between the Antse mountain forts and the Sungchow fort, which is situated on an adjoining hill. The capture of Wantal hill, it has been pointed out in dispatches from Port Arthur, means the dividing of the eastern fortified ridges. The Japanese had previously and unsuccessfully attacked Wantal hill, particularly during the latter part of August.

Port Arthur on Fire Again.

A vigorous bombardment with naval guns was delivered at noon on November 3 against the east harbor, dockyard, and other points, as a result of which a fierce conflagration occurred near the east harbor. The same day the fire of large caliber guns was directed against "H" fort at a height of 200 yards and the northwest tower. Heavy damage was caused by the bombardment on both the fort and tower.

Japanese Repulsed.

Mukden, Nov. 8.—The Japanese on Saturday night attacked some of the Russian outposts in considerable force, but the Russians had been warned and the Japanese were repulsed. They were not able to take away all their killed or wounded, leaving 28 bodies on the field. The Russians lost only nine men.

The Russian and Japanese armies, extending from Bentziaputze, east to the Liao river, west, at places are almost within a stone's throw of each other. At Bentziaputze not more than 400 yards separate the advance posts, and at Sin-chinpu, on the Shakhe river, just west of the railway and 15 miles south of Mukden, the Japanese and Russians occupy the extreme ends of the same village. At Huangshantse the Russian center has thrown advance posts across the Shakhe river. Both armies are still strengthening their positions all along the line. The slightest movement on either side is the signal for firing, which occasionally last all night. The Russians are using six-inch guns on the railway, which must greatly harass the Japanese.

Undoubtedly the most decisive, if not the greatest, battle of the year will be fought in the vicinity of the Shakhe river. The Russians are confident of their ability to hold their positions. The soldiers are building mud huts for winter quarters.

Heroic Woman Dies.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Groping her way through flame and smoke, Mrs. Mary Reano, 60 years old, was burned to death in her farmhouse at St. Louis avenue and the south bank of the Illinois and Michigan canal. Her four-year-old grandchild, whom she attempted to rescue, also perished. Firemen found the charred bodies. The woman evidently reached the child and had him clasped in her arms when death overtook her.

Killed in Trolley Car Collision.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 8.—One man was killed and several injured in a trolley car collision on Gilbert avenue Tuesday. The trouble began by a car ascending Gilbert avenue becoming unmanageable and running backward. It struck another Gilbert avenue car, which began backing and struck a third car behind it. Joseph Christian, a passenger, was killed.

Death of a Journalist.

Clinton, Ia., Nov. 8.—E. H. Thayer, for many years editor of the Clinton Age and widely known as a democratic politician, died Monday. He was 72 years of age.

WILL GIVE UP YOUNG THAW.

Miss Nesbitt Will Not Antagonize Divorce Proceedings if She Is Paid Sum of $250,000.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 8.—It is announced that if the Thaws, of Pittsburg, care to make Miss Evelyn Nesbitt, reported to be the wife of young Harry K. Thaw, practically independent for life there will be little or no trouble in coming to an agreement. The sum sought is $250,000, which the Pittsburg friends of Miss Nesbitt say is just one-fourth of what the Thaws paid to get the earl of Yarmouth into the family. That Miss Nesbitt was married to young Thaw in Paris is no longer doubted by many who have interested themselves, and the question of breaking up the marriage seems to be the all-important topic. Pittsburg friends of Miss Nesbitt say that if matters are "fixed" properly for the young woman, she will go abroad at once, allowing Harry Thaw to sue for divorce on the grounds of desertion.

STRIKE DECLARED OFF.

End of the Hoisting Engineers' Trouble in Coal Mines in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 8.—In an order issued Monday afternoon, Mack Taylor, president of the hoisting engineers' union of Illinois, declares the strike of the hoisting engineers off in obedience to a referendum vote, which resulted 750 to 315 in favor of returning to work. The question of joining the United Mine Workers of America will be submitted to a referendum vote, but there is little doubt that the engineers will decide to join the larger organization. The engineers return to work at a scale of 5½ per cent. less than what they received last year. None of them will be discriminated against by the operators because of having struck.

MURDER CHARGED.

Prominent Iowan Accused of Causing Death of Neighbor in a Quarrel.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 7.—A special from Decorah, Ia., says: Prof. T. I. Gifford, a prominent resident and church worker of Decorah, is under arrest and a charge of murder in the first degree as a result of the death of H. A. Bigelow, from a blow on the head from a hoe in the hands of Gifford. Bigelow's skull was crushed. The men were engaged in a dispute over their rights to a certain piece of property, when Gifford struck Bigelow down, pulled his body onto his own lot and left him. Bigelow died a few hours after, without recovering consciousness. He was a pioneer of Winnebago county.

A HUNDRED DROWNED.

French Vessel Gironde Goes Down After a Collision Off Coast of Algiers.

Bona, Algeria, Nov. 5.—A hundred persons were drowned Thursday night by the sinking of the French steamer, Gironde, after having been in collision with the French steamer A. Schifano, near Herbillon, 23 miles from Bona. The Gironde left Bona with 110 passengers, of whom 100 were Algerian natives.

Fatal Gas Explosion.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—One person was killed and five injured when the building at 76 East Twenty-fourth street was wrecked at 8:30 o'clock Monday night by an explosion of gas, caused, it is said, by leakage in the tailor shop of Samuel Fisher, at that number. Fisher, who was taken unconscious to the Wesley hospital, was blown through the side of the house, striking the car tracks in Cottage Grove avenue, as a cable car was passing. He died at the hospital.

Confederate Veteran Dead.

Lake City, Fla., Nov. 7.—Gen. Jesse J. Finley, one of the few surviving brigadier generals of the confederate army, died here Sunday. Gen. Finley was 72 years old. He resigned the district judgeship of Florida to enter the confederate army. In the southern service he rose from the rank of private to that of brigadier general. He was a member of congress three terms and held many positions of honor and trust in this state.

Outlaws Have Escaped.

Casper, Wyo., Nov. 8.—Sheriff Webb and party returned to Casper Monday afternoon from the northwest, where they went in pursuit of the bandits who held up the First National bank of Cody and killed Cashier Middaugh. Not a trace of the outlaws was discovered and it is the opinion of the officers that they have effectually escaped. Nothing was seen of the other posse.

Quarrel Ends in Shooting.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 7.—James C. Braman, a restaurant man of Bremerton, a suburb of this city, is dead and his wife is lying at the Seattle general hospital here as the result of a shooting which was the outcome of a quarrel between them. The woman is wounded internally and it is thought there is no hope for her recovery.

Many Buildings Burned.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 5.—Fire has destroyed the entire west side of the little town of Marion, in Tuscola county, a hundred miles northeast from here, entailing a loss of $200,000. The opera house block, post office block, ten stores and 23 residences were destroyed.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

REPUBLICAN TICKET IS VICTORIOUS BY A BIG MAJORITY

Roosevelt and Fairbanks Successful in Tuesday's Contest at the Polls.

PLURALITIES ARE DECISIVE

Returns Indicate Greatest Popular Vote Ever Given to Candidates.

"Solid South" Probably Broken—Makeup of the Next House of Representatives—Results in Various States.

New York, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt probably will have 325 electoral votes as the result of Tuesday's balloting. Late unofficial returns give a basis for this estimate which, however, may be increased by 18 votes from Missouri, when the returns from that state shall have been completed. The majorities given the republican national ticket in Tuesday's balloting are confirmed by the more complete counts of Wednesday and in some instances increased over earlier figures. Beginning with the tremendous majority of 400,000 in Pennsylvania the republican pluralities are decisive in nearly every state carried for their ticket, and it seems probable that Roosevelt has received the greatest popular vote ever given a presidential candidate.

Returns thus far received indicate that he will receive a popular plurality of slightly over 1,300,000, against 849,790 for McKinley over Bryan.

The sentiment which swept the republican candidates into office will be reflected in the next house of representatives. From present indications the republicans have elected 233 representatives and the democrats 141, the 12 remaining districts yet to be heard from being now equally divided between the two parties. The republican majority in the next house will therefore be at least 92.

New York, Nov. 9.—Theodore Roosevelt's plurality in this, his native state, is second only to McKinley's in 1896. It exceeds McKinley's in 1900 by about 25,000. The late returns show that there were cast for him in New York state about 169,000 votes more than for Parker. Not only was his vote heavy in the country districts, where the republican strongholds are, but in the Greater New York, traditionally democratic, he ran much closer to Judge Parker than had been expected even by his own campaign managers. It has been estimated that he would come down to the Bronx with better than 140,000 plurality, but the figures showed that this forecast would be exceeded by approximately 85,000. In the city Parker's supporters had expressed hopes that their candidate would have from 140,000 to 160,000 more than Roosevelt, but in this they were disappointed by more than 100,000 votes. So overwhelming was the republican vote that the result was known positively early in the evening. The earliest counties to report made it clear that the Parker vote everywhere fell below Bryan's in practically all the up-state districts. In the Greater New York Parker's plurality was from 12,000 to 14,000 larger than Bryan's, but in the state, according to the late reports, his total vote fell 16,000 short of Bryan's.

Missouri. St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Slow progress has been made toward an accurate count of Missouri's vote, but partial returns up to 11 o'clock Wednesday showed remarkable republican gains in St. Louis and almost throughout the state. In many counties the usual democratic plurality was cut in half. The Post-Dispatch (independent-democratic) at that hour inclined largely toward the conviction that Roosevelt had carried Missouri, and the republican state committee insisted that final figures would show a republican majority of 20,000 on the national ticket. That Joseph W. Folk, democrat, has carried the state for governor, was the claim made generally, but figures on the state result were lacking. The democratic state committee asserted that Folk will show a majority of 30,000. Indications are that the legislature will be republican by two or three votes on a joint ballot. The legislature will elect a successor to United States Senator F. M. Cockrell.

At 1:30 o'clock Wednesday the republican state committee gave the following statement: "We think Roosevelt has carried the state by 15,000 to 25,000 majority. The indications are that the entire republican ticket, with the possible exception of governor, is likewise elected. Returns on the legislature are incomplete, but indicate a republican majority."

Maryland. Baltimore, Md., Nov. 9.—Returns received from all the counties in Maryland except two show a plurality for Roosevelt of 1,119. The two counties not heard from are St. Charles and St. Mary's, with large negro populations, the returns from which will almost certainly increase the foregoing figures. In the six congressional districts of the state three republicans and two democrats are elected, with the remaining district in doubt.

Illinois. Chicago, Nov. 9.—Roosevelt and Fairbanks carried Illinois in the election Tuesday by about 235,000 plurality over Parker and Davis. Deneen for governor has 225,000 plurality. The entire portions of the vote for Higgins (rep.) republican state ticket is elected by overwhelming pluralities. Republicans elected certainly 21 and possibly 23 of the 25 congressmen. The next state senate will stand 39 republicans to 12 democrats. There will be 90 republicans, 63 democrats and one prohibitionist in the house in the next general assembly, according to incomplete returns.

It was the greatest political landslide ever known in the history of Illinois. McKinley carried Cook county by 69,913 in 1896, and by 17,567 in 1900. Roosevelt's plurality in the city of Chicago alone yesterday was 103,818, according to the police returns. The returns from Cook county outside the city will increase this by from 12,000 to 15,000. The republican plurality in the rest of the state may reach 125,000, making a total of nearly 250,000.

Indiana. Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—Latest figures from all counties in the state give Indiana to the republicans by probably 60,000. The republicans gain two congressmen, defeating Representatives Miers and Robinson in the Second and Twelfth districts. Many counties went republican for the first time, and majorities were increased in nearly all others. The state ticket runs 5,000 behind the national ticket. The legislature, which will meet in January, will elect two United States senators, one to succeed Vice President-elect Charles W. Fairbanks. Senator Beveridge will be reelected. The republicans have almost, if not quite, doubled the McKinley plurality in the state of 26,467, four years ago. In Marion county which includes Indianapolis, 132 out of 280 precincts, indicate the republicans have carried the county by 11,000, which is almost double the McKinley plurality of four years ago.

Wisconsin. Milwaukee, Nov. 9.—While the election returns in Wisconsin are far from being complete, estimates give Roosevelt and Fairbanks over 75,000 plurality in the state. Chairman W. D. Connor, of the republican state central committee, places La Follette's plurality in the state at about 60,000. The democratic candidate for governor, George W. Peck, concedes his defeat. The legislature will be largely republican, though it looks like a deadlock on United States senator. The questions of primary election law carried by a good majority. The election of Congressman Joseph W. Babcock by a safe plurality is conceded by the democrats.

Vice President-elect Fairbanks received the returns at his residence from private wires which connected his home with the white house at Washington. He and President Roosevelt early exchanged congratulations, and Senator Fairbanks was given a reception at the Columbia club. He did not make an address. In an interview, he said the result was a generous endorsement of President Roosevelt and his administration.

Iowa. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 9.—Chairman Spence, of the republican state central committee, estimates Roosevelt's majority in the state at 130,000. The entire state ticket was also elected. Dawson, Second district congressman, pulled through by a narrow margin. All other congressmen were elected.

Ohio. Columbus, O., Nov. 9.—Revised returns show that while the republican plurality on the national ticket in Ohio is approximately 200,000, it is about 30,000 less on the state ticket. The total vote will not exceed 1,000,000 as was estimated and the socialist vote is less than expected. At noon Wednesday Senator Dick announced that the republican state committee claimed that the republicans carried 70 of the 88 counties in Ohio and all of the 21 congressional districts with a plurality for Roosevelt exceeding 200,000. Chairman Garber, of the democratic state committee, conceded all except the Fourth congressional district, in which he says he was reelected to congress by a decisive plurality. The average republican plurality in Ohio the past ten years was 75,992. The largest plurality Ohio ever gave any president was 69,030 for McKinley four years ago.

Michigan. Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9.—Michigan was the scene of a veritable republican landslide. Roosevelt and Fairbanks have carried the state by an unprecedented majority, estimated at about 150,000. Fred M. Warner and the republican state ticket are elected; at least 11 of the 12 congressmen from Michigan are republican, and the legislature is overwhelmingly republican, insuring the reelection of United States Senator J. C. Burrows. Fred M. Warner, republican candidate for governor, is conceded a majority of about 48,000.

Pennsylvania. Philadelphia, Nov. 9.—Roosevelt's majority in this state will reach the unprecedented figure of 400,000 and the republicans have probably elected 31 of the 32 congressmen. The only democratic congressman who now appears sure of election is Kline, in the Thirteenth district. They have also elected about 175 of the 204 members of the house of representatives. This gives them control of both branches of the legislature by a large majority, insuring the election of Gov. Pennypacker's appointee, Philander C. Knox, for United States senator, to succeed the late M. S. Quay. John P. Elkins, republican, is elected state supreme court judge by a majority almost as great as that cast for the republican national ticket. The republicans have also carried nearly all the judicial districts in which elections were held for common pleas judges, and the five counties in which associate judges were chosen.

Rhode Island. Providence, R. I., Nov. 9.—Complete returns from Rhode Island for governor show that George H. Utter (rep.), defeated L. F. C. Garvin (dem.) by 594 plurality. The vote was: Utter (rep.), 33,635; Garvin (dem.), 33,041; Carney (socialist), 652; Brightman (pro.), 964; McDermott (socialist labor), 501. These figures indicate a net gain in the republican vote for governor of 1,837.

Connecticut. New Haven, Conn., Nov. 9.—The republican pluralities in Connecticut for the national and state tickets exceed anything ever before experienced in the state. Revised returns from every city and town give Roosevelt a plurality of 38,197, while four years ago McKinley defeated Bryan at the high water mark of 28,558. Lieut. Gov. Henry Roberts, the republican candidate for governor, although badly scratched in the cities, led Judge Robertson, his opponent, by 25,971. The legislature is overwhelmingly republican, the senate standing 30 republicans to 5 democrats and the house 215 republicans to 38 democrats, with two seats tied.

West Virginia. Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 9.—It is admitted by democratic headquarters that Roosevelt has carried West Virginia by a majority of upwards of 10,000, but it is claimed that Cornwell (dem.), has defeated Dawson (rep.) for governor, and that possibly the entire democratic ticket may go into office on the anti-Dawson wave. The republicans have the legislature on joint ballot, but by reduced majority, insuring the return of N. B. Scott to the senate. Republicans have elected three of the five congressmen, while the democrats claim Walker wins over Dayton in the Second, and Murdock over Woodyard in the Fourth.

New Jersey. Newark, N. J., Nov. 9.—New Jersey was carried by the republicans by a bigger majority than even the most sanguine of the republican predictions claimed. The state gave in the neighborhood of 60,000 for Roosevelt, exceeding McKinley's majority four years ago by 3,000 or more. Despite a local issue, which was used against him and which caused him to be cut severely in some parts of this state, Edward S. Stokes, the republican nominee for governor, defeated his democratic opponent, Charles C. Black, by more than 40,000. Eight republicans and two democrats will constitute the state's congressional delegation, a gain of one for the republicans. Allen defeated Congressman Hughes in the Sixth district. The legislature is overwhelmingly republican and John Keen will probably succeed himself as United States senator.

Kansas. Topeka, Kan., Nov. 9.—Late returns from all parts of Kansas indicate that President Roosevelt has carried the state by at least 100,000 plurality. Hoch's majority will be at least 50,000, according to incomplete returns received at headquarters. The eight republican congressmen are probably elected. The legislature, which may have to elect a United States senator, will be overwhelmingly republican.

Nebraska. Omaha, Neb., Nov. 9.—The only part of the republican ticket in Nebraska left in doubt is that of governor. The vote for Roosevelt is unprecedented, and some estimate his plurality at as high as 75,000, and there seems little doubt that it will reach at least 60,000. The Lincoln Star (republican) claims the reelection of Gov. Mickey by a plurality of 8,000 over George W. Berge, fusionist, basing the claim upon complete returns from nearly half of the voting precincts in the state. Republican leaders also claim Mickey's reelection, the success of the entire republican state ticket and the election of six republican congressmen.

Massachusetts. Boston, Nov. 9.—Although the republicans carried Massachusetts for President Roosevelt in Tuesday's election by over 89,000 plurality, they lost the governorship for the first time since 1892, William L. Douglas, of Brockton, defeating Gov. John L. Bates, of this city, by over 36,000 plurality. The balance of the republican state ticket is claimed by the republican state committee. The democrats lost the Third district and the delegation to the next congress will stand 11 republicans to three democrats.

Minnesota. St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 9.—While returns from the state are far from complete, there is sufficient information at hand to justify the previous estimate of 100,000 plurality for Roosevelt. The gubernatorial result is still in doubt, both sides claiming to have elected their candidate. Unofficial but fairly complete figures from 42 of the 83 counties of the state give Johnson (democrat) a plurality of 12,000 over Dunn (republican). The state ticket below the governor is all republican, with the possible exception of one justice of the supreme court. The legislature, which will elect a United States senator, is strongly republican on joint ballot.

RETURNS FROM OTHER STATES.

Results of the Election Are Briefly Stated.

DELAWARE—Returns at hand indicate that Roosevelt has carried Delaware by over 4,000 majority, and that the republicans have elected their entire state ticket by majorities a little smaller.

OREGON—Roosevelt conceded plurality of over 40,000.

GEORGIA—Plurality for Parker and Davis between 45,000 and 50,000. All 11 democratic congressmen elected.

WYOMING—Roosevelt has carried Wyoming by from 7,500 to 8,000.

NORTH DAKOTA—Roosevelt has carried nearly every county in the state by pluralities of from 100 to 2,000, indicating that his plurality will not be far from 50,000.

VERMONT—Roosevelt's plurality is estimated at 30,703.

LOUISIANA—The democrats carried Louisiana for Parker by a majority of probably 35,000. Seven democratic congressmen have been elected.

ALABAMA—The majority of the Parker electors will be 75,000, probably.

IDAHO—Returns indicate that Roosevelt will carry the state by from 15,000 to 20,000.

MISSISSIPPI—The democratic plurality is unusually large in Mississippi, having reached the total of about 50,000. All democratic congressmen are elected.

VIRGINIA—The democratic majority on the presidential ticket will be about 25,000. Nine democratic congressmen out of a total of ten have been chosen.

TEXAS—Early returns show that the vote cast will hardly exceed 375,000, of which 250,000 were cast for Parker, 60,000 for Roosevelt, and the balance scattering.

ARKANSAS—The democratic plurality is conservatively estimated at 40,000. The democratic nominees for congress have safe majorities.

NORTH CAROLINA—The democratic majority in the state appears to be about 50,000.

CALIFORNIA—The republican estimate of 75,000 plurality for Roosevelt in California appears to be confirmed by the latest returns. A full delegation of eight congressmen has been chosen, and the election of a republican senator by the next legislature is assured.

NEW HAMPSHIRE—Roosevelt carried state against Parker by about 20,000 plurality, while John McLane, republican, defeated Henry F. Hollis, democrat, for governor by about 15,000. The republicans will have a majority of about 100 in the state legislature.

FLORIDA—The democratic plurality will be about 20,000.

NEVADA—Incomplete returns indicate a complete republican victory with congressmen only in doubt. Roosevelt's estimated plurality will exceed 2,000. George S. Nixon, republican, undoubtedly will be elected United States senator against Gov. Sparks, to succeed Senator Stewart.

COLORADO—Estimated that Roosevelt's plurality in Colorado will be about 20,000 and that Alva Adams, democrat, will have at least 5,000 plurality over James H. Peabody, republican, for governor.

MONTANA—Roosevelt carried Montana by 7,200. Gov. Toole, democrat, elected by about 800. Majority of state republican ticket elected and next legislature, which is to elect successor to United States Senator Paris Gibson, will be overwhelmingly republican.

KENTUCKY—All save 333 out of 2,135 precincts in Kentucky show a plurality of 21,711 for Parker over Roosevelt. Of the 333 missing precincts, 227 are in republican counties and 106 are in democratic counties.

TENNESSEE—Incomplete returns show that the democratic ticket has been elected in this state, but by reduced plurality. Frazier has been elected governor by a plurality of between 15,000 and 20,000.

UTAH—Partial returns from 50 voting districts of the state, mostly Salt Lake City, give Roosevelt 7,500; Parker, 4,204. If this proportion is kept up Roosevelt's plurality in the state will exceed 15,000. The entire republican state ticket is elected by majorities considerably less.

SOUTH DAKOTA—Returns corroborate estimate of 40,000 majority for Roosevelt. The state ticket is elected by about the same majority. Pierre's majority for the state capital will be 18,000.

To Invite President. St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Mayor Rolla Wells and First Vice President Corwin H. Spencer and Treasurer William H. Thompson, of the exposition, have departed for Washington to formally tender President Roosevelt an invitation to visit the world's fair. Additional Arrests Made. St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Five additional arrests in the naturalization fraud prosecutions have been made, on warrants issued by the federal officials. All are charged with registering in fraudulent naturalization papers from the St. Louis court of appeals.

Made Young Again

REPUBLICAN AVALANCHE SWEEPS COUNTRY

Theodore Roosevelt in his race for the presidency of the United States scored the greatest political triumph of our time. His vote in the electoral college is 335 as against 134 for Parker.

He has carried every state in the North. Not only that but he has invaded the solid South, and won the border State of Missouri, which for the first time since the war gives its electoral vote to a republican candidate for President.

He has carried New York by an unexpectedly large plurality, running well toward 200,000, and has swept Higgins into the governorship along with him.

The next House of Representatives will be Republican by a larger majority than that party has in the present house. The Senate will be Republican for years to come.

As went the victory for Roosevelt in the nation so goes the victory for republicans in Michigan. As it went in Michigan so it goes in Ottawa county, and as it went in Ottawa County so it goes in Holland. The triumph is most sweeping.

IN THE STATE.

In the state the results were more than gratifying to the republicans. President Roosevelt carries Michigan by a plurality of 202,878 and Fred M. Warner for governor has a plurality of over 65,000.

The great difference between the pluralities of the national and state tickets is accounted for by the explanation that many Democrats voted for Roosevelt and at the same time for their state ticket. This, with the defection created in the Republican party on the gubernatorial candidate through the activity of the Democrat campaigners did much to make the difference in the pluralities.

Warner was the one man in the state ticket upon whom the fight was made and it is a great credit to him that in spite of this bitter fight he was elected by a handsome majority.

For the first time in the history of the state, the Michigan legislature will be solidly Republican, and no Democrat will have a seat in that body.

Congressman William Alden Smith carries his district by the unprecedented majority of 18,423. This majority is twice larger than he ever had before.

IN THE COUNTY.

Ottawa County more than held its own with other counties in the race for republican pluralities. It is now one of the greatest republican counties in the state and stands in that respect with the ten leading republican counties of the state.

Roosevelt carries the county by 4300 over Parker. Warner, carried the county by 2300. Wm. Alden Smith was remembered by a majority that will nearly equal the president's. The county Republican ticket is elected by majorities of from 2300 to 4006. Kamferbeek, the Democratic candidate for sheriff carried Holland City, his home town, by 444 and Holland town by 6. There majorities were offset several times over by the great vote Jesse Woodbury, the Republican candidate, polled in the balance of the county.

In the first legislative district, which includes the west half of the county, N. J. Whelan's majority for representative is 2013; and the second district Millard Durhams majority in 1954.

Holland gave Roosevelt, 1,253 votes and Parker 384. Roosevelt's plurality being 869, which is said to be the largest ever given by the city to any candidate. The result in the city on governor was a bitter disappointment to the democrats who counted on Ferris carrying the city. Warner received 935 votes and Ferris 784. Mr. Warner's plurality being 151. Holland gave Smith a plurality of 740, Sheldon 735, Whelan 729, Kirby 648, Brown 790, Luther 714, Rutgers 774, Pagelsen 775. In this city the prohibitionists polled a total of 55 votes for their presidential candidate, Swallow, the result by wards being: First ward, 13; second, 9; third, 15; fourth, 10; fifth 8. The socialist nominee for president, Eugene Debs, received 75 votes, the ballots by wards showing that the fourth ward has the largest number of socialist voters, the result being: First ward, 12; second ward, 10; third, 19; fourth 26; fifth, 8.

The pluralities given the different candidates in Grand Haven were as follows: Roosevelt 551; Warner 45; W. A. Smith 539; Sheldon 294; Whelan 528; Kirby 588; Woodbury 455; Brown 591; Luther 590; Rutgers 519; Pagelsen 508. The balance of the county ticket has majorities of about 550.

Grand Haven township gave Roosevelt 95 votes and Parker 25, a plurality of 70 for Roosevelt. Warner had 56 plurality in the township, Wm. Alden Smith 71; Sheldon 65; Whelan 75; Kirby 76; Woodbury 75; Brown 74; Luther 78; Rutgers 73; Pagelsen 73.

Zeeland rolled up great majorities. Roosevelt had 479; Warner 332; Smith 451; Sheldon 459; Durham 459; Kirby 458; Woodbury 395; Brown 472; Luther 466, Rutgers 460; Pagelsen 462.

In Holland township Kamferbeek received 262 votes and Woodbury 256, Roosevelt was given 435 votes and Parker 83, while Warner received 390 votes and Ferris 123. The majorities for the county ticket outside of sheriff were around the 350 mark.

Georgetown gave Roosevelt 163, Warner for governor 91, W. A. Smith for congress 185, Sheldon 150, Durham 160, Kirby 167, Woodbury 173, Brown 161, Luther 162, Rutgers 163, Pagelsen 159.

Crockery gave Roosevelt 232, to only 26 for Parker, a Republican plurality of 206. Warner had 167 plurality, Wm. Alden Smith 198, Sheldon 202, Durham 205, Kirby 206, Woodbury 210, Brown 213, Luther 205, Rutgers 205, Pagelsen 205.

Chester gave Roosevelt 137 votes and gave Parker but 68, a clear lead of 69 for the President. Ferris had a lead of one but otherwise the Republicans swept the board, giving Wm. Alden Smith 66, Sheldon 55, Durham 66, Kirby 109, Woodbury 128, Brown 71, Luther 67, Rutgers 67, Pagelsen 75.

Jamestown rolls up 185 for Roosevelt, 124 for Warner, 183 for Wm. Alden Smith, 181 for Sheldon, 178 for Durham, 176 for Kirby, 99 for Woodbury, 173 for Brown, 178 for Luther, 175 for Rutgers and 172 for Pagelsen.

In Robinson Roosevelt secured a majority of 54, Warner 24, Smith 46, Sheldon 44, Durham 46, Kirby 54, Woodbury 56, Brown 52 and the balance of the county ticket the same.

Polkton gave Roosevelt 343 plurality, Warner 229, Smith 340, Sheldon 301, Durham 321, Kirby 357, Woodbury 342, Brown 345, Luther 344, Rutgers 342, Pagelsen 323.

Allendale presents Roosevelt 244 majority, Warner 223, Smith 244, Sheldon 238, Durham 242, Kirby 244, Woodbury 253, Brown 243, Luther 245, Rutgers, 243, Pagelsen 245.

Wright township is another Democratic precinct that has come into the band wagon with 15 for Roosevelt, Ferris won out there by 59, Smith 12, Loutit 9, Durham 22, Kirby 21, Woodbury 29, Brown, 24, Luther 31, Rutgers 19, Pagelsen 13.

Olive township rolled Republican majorities greater than ever. Roosevelt had 220 the best of it, Warner 198, Smith 207, Sheldon 215, Whelan 185, Kirby 208, Woodbury 122, Brown 212, Luther 212, Rutgers, 218, Pagelsen 212.

Tallmadge is Republican greater than ever, giving Roosevelt 118, Warner 63, Smith 115, Sheldon 91, Durham 107, Kirby 119, Woodbury 133, Brown 107, Luther 127, Rutgers 118, Pagelsen 115.

In Spring Lake township Roosevelt won out by 240, Warner by 89, W. A. Smith 213, Sheldon 160, Whelan 198, Kirby 214, Woodbury 181, Rutgers 220, Pagelsen 208.

The pluralities in the township of Blendon were as follows: Roosevelt 158; Warner 135; Smith 155; Sheldon 137; Durham, 146; Kirby 155; Woodbury 158; Brown 154; Luther 152; Rutgers 154; Pagelsen 152.

New Routes Established And Old Routes Reorganized.

Upon representations from the local office that there was room for the establishment of three additional rural routes, a free delivery rural inspector was here this summer and as a result of his investigations, by action of the department three additional routes have been established and existing routes modified and changed to fit in so as to cover the entire territory tributary to Holland and to give them all as near as may be free R. F. D. services.

The new system will go into effect December 15. The carriers for the new route will be designated at an early day. By the establishment of the rural routes so far several small post offices have been discontinued and this will undoubtedly be followed by more discontinuances. The descriptions of all routes as reconstructed will be given next week. Several patrons now served have to change numbers of their routes in their correspondence and their mail address and for their benefit the routes are published so that they can make the change and be ready for the right addresses after December 15.

Ward, Smith and the Harbor

For the Holland City News

Dear Sir

Another election has come and passed and as usual the Grand Old Party has rolled up a large majority for our Congressman Wm. Alden Smith, a man whom we all delight to honor. It has been repeatedly asserted by men holding high positions in Washington, that our Congressman Wm Alden Smith has the confidence of his colleagues in Congress and also has to a large degree a great amount of influence in that Honorable Body. All this we know is true, we all admire the Sturdy Manhood of our Congressman and hope to see him holding still more and higher positions of trust and honor. We select men to represent us in Congress and send them there for the good they may be able to accomplish for the District they represent. We in Holland feel to a man, as though we did not in the past receive our share of Harbor improvements as our Harbor is not only a great benefit to us in Holland but is equally of great importance to Grand Rapids. Our Harbor needs extending and widening so that our boats will not be compelled to run into St. Joseph Harbor in every little storm. It is an old and true saying that if you want anything you must ask for it. We feel that the time has now come when we ought in all justice to ourselves and in all justice to our Congressional District, not only ask to have our Harbor placed in a good sea worthy condition but insist on what must appear to any fair minded citizen in our City, that the urgent needs of our Harbor be looked after. I believe and know that all our Congressman needs to accomplish what we want in this line is a concerted action on the part of our Citizens to back him up. He has inspected our wants and knows full well our needs, and with a large delegation of our Citizens at his back he can accomplish what we desire let us pull together in this matter and make of ourselves a committee of one of each of us and you will be surprised at the results.

Yours Truly
A. J. Ward.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Court convened Monday for a preliminary calling of the calendar and for the naturalization of citizens. All cases on the criminal calendar were declared ready for trial. George Gildner charged with violation of the liquor law changed his plea to guilty and John Link, held for arson, pleaded not guilty. In the case against Henry Wolcott for the murder of young Grevengood, an order was made for further return from the justice court. A large number of full naturalization papers were issued.

Circuit Court was adjourned late Monday afternoon after a short session. Nothing was done further than the calling of the calendar. A great number of naturalizations were made and the scene in the court room at four o'clock was an animated one and the room was crowded with prospective citizens and their witnesses. Jesse G. Woodbury of Allendale brought down eight candidates for new voters who were casting their first vote under their new government. All of these eight had come to this county before they reached the age of eighteen years. All of the new voters were lined up and given the final oath of allegiance. The judge will be in Grand Haven in two weeks to resume the session of court and take up the calendar. The case of Henry Wolcott, charged with the murder of young Grevengood, will be the first case brought up for trial.

General Items

A magazine writer suggests that the man who will be president in 1940 is now a lad somewhere in the United States, and wonders what he is doing. That may be difficult to guess, but it would be safe to bet that he isn't smoking cigarettes, for the cigarette smoker of today will probably be absolutely good for nothing thirty-six years hence. —Coopersville Observer.

Dr. Kremer Arroused

To the Editor of the News.

Allow me a little space on the epidemic of small pox. Readers of The Sentinel must come to the conclusion that the present Health Officer and his associates of the Board of Health are very negligent in their duties, that we are allowing people to do as they please and that homes are not placarded properly. I can inform the citizens of Holland that several meetings of the Board of Health have been held since that outbreak to devise means to stop the disease. The Mayor has assigned to me an officer who is always ready and willing to investigate any breaking of quarantine.

Mr. Easley informs us in his paper Wednesday that a physician had informed him that quarantine is continually being broken. I at once sent the officer to Mr. Easley to tell us who the people were who broke the quarantine. He refused to do so. Then I personally demanded the same thing of him and he again refused.

If Mr. Easley is so anxious about atamping out this disease why does he not divulge the name of the person or the physician who informs him but not abuse the Health Officer because he refuses to give him the names of these afflicted. Most of these sick are not to blame that they are sick with that loathsome disease and feel bad enough. Must they be still further subjected to more humiliation by having their names in print? If it would do any good I should gladly give the names for publication, but no good can come of it. Mr. E. claims that people should know where they are located so as to avoid them. (If they can see they must know.)

Does he think that people go around with the Sentinel in their pockets to look up affected homes, and I will leave it to any sensible person would it not be his duty to publish the names of those who break the quarantine, or the persons who inform him? Which would certainly be his duty if he thinks right about the matter. I can further inform the people that the persons quarantined are law abiding citizens and have not transgressed.

Most of the families have consented to be vaccinated and the disease stamped out in that family. A few have refused and are now suffering the consequences of coming down with it. I expect to raise the quarantine of a few to-day. I am in hopes of raising it from more homes next week. If no new cases develop we will soon be gaining and be rid of it. I must testify to the help and good will of the majority of the physicians, and those that have taken care of the afflicted have done so faithfully and conscientiously without standing on the street corners and discussing with the Sentinel men the terrible condition of affairs and making complaints against the Board of Health. The majority of four physicians are too busy to loaf in cigar stores or restaurants and tell the people that the disease is not small pox, or others who are perhaps just as bad continually finding fault with those who try to do their duty.

The personal attack which the Sentinel makes on me I pass by considering only the source from which it comes. I will only assure him that as long as I am the Health Officer I shall not publish in the Sentinel or any other paper the names of those who are sick with any contagious disease, as it will do no good and may do harm to our city. Further if people will report to me any cases who are sick with what might be a contagious disease the case will be investigated at once. Further, if any person, Mr. Easley or his Doctor informant will come to me, or report it to the Assistant marshal and not stand on the street corners or loafing places of the city gossiping it will be far better for the health of the community. Mr. Editor with your consent I shall from time to time keep your readers informed as to the spread or subsidence of the epidemic.

Sincerely yours,
H. Kremers, M. D.
Health Officer.

Holland Mich., Nov. 11, 1904.

The feature of the meeting of republicans held in the Slagh & Zuidewind building to hear the election returns Tuesday night was the playing of Holland's new Citizens band which was recently organized by some of the leading young business men. Considering the short time they had to practice their playing was exceptionally good and came as a very pleasant surprise. The Citizens would like to hear the boys again.

THE EAGLE'S CHALLENGE.

Upon a lofty mountain height
The Storm-King's castle stands alone,
And there by birth and kingly right
I share the honors of his throne.
Deep canyons form our castles' moat,
And towering cliffs its parapets
O'er which cloud-banners proudly float
From storm-carved granite minarets.
Companions of the stars by night—
Dawn finds me on my sunward way,
And evening, soaring in the light
And splendors of departing day.
No tongue of man can e'er recount
The joys of my aerial reign—
How oft in kingly state I mount
And ride the roaring hurricane,
Or, circling upward, grandly rise
To heavenly heights in crystal air,
Until I seem to earthly eyes
A tiny ship at anchor there.

My realm hath neither bound nor shore—
And 'neath my heaven-aspiring wings
The world lies low, and checkered o'er
With petty realms of human kings
Who boast forbears of ancient blood—
But mine were monarchs of the skies
And Vikings of the earth's primal flood
Ere theirs were born in Paradise!
O, mockery of royal birth,
And comedy of heaven's awards,
When men, condemned to dwell on earth,
Proclaim themselves Creation's Lords!
Ye wingless bipeds called mankind,
Your sovereignty's a flaunting lie!
Come on! I dare you mount the wind
And follow me throughout the sky!

An Amateur Messenger

By CAROLINE A. HULING

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

SATAN is said to find mischief for idle hands, but nowadays Cupid sometimes assists, and the "combination" is hard to beat. In this case the sly little god played a "lone hand," and won the full count.

Pretty Alice Marquis sat in her elegant apartment at the Auditorium hotel, wondering what she could do to while away the time until her father returned and undertook that responsibility. It was altogether too bad, she thought, to be left alone in a strange city for a whole week with only a stupid maid for company. It was by no means intentional, this abandonment, her father, who had been traveling with her, had expected to show her all the glories of the western city, and they had planned a delightful time, but a telegram had called him to the Texas oil fields, and it was not convenient to take her with him. Mr. Marquis would do almost anything for the idolized only child, who called him "Daddy" with such a delicious pout that he forgave the impertinence and kissed the ruby lips. But even that could not win his consent to go with him where he knew there were no hotel accommodations.

With time and money to spend, the maiden looked around for some amusement during the week of loneliness.

"Handsome Hal Ashton," as he had been called in college, and his chum, Frank Austin, were sitting in the office of the latter, discussing ways and means. Hal was experiencing the novel sensation of being, in common parlance, "dead broke."

In other words, less expressive of the calamity that had befallen him, he had spent his last cent—of, rather, lost it, and must, perforce, wait for several days before funds would arrive from home.

"I tell you what, Frank, I have not the remotest idea how I could have lost my money, unless it was taken from me on the L road last night. I expect a remittance next week, and I dare not write for money now, as father is so particular. He would be sure that I had been gambling or doing something else dreadful. If I could only get a small sum to carry me over till the draft comes for my allowance. The worst of it is that I owe a week's board at the hotel, and you should have seen that clerk when I told him that my money had been stolen. He did not say anything much, but his look was politely incredulous, and I was sure that he doubted my story."

"I am very sorry, old boy, that I have no reserve fund to help you out with, but the truth is that I have just paid a big bill for mother's hospital expenses, and drew the last cent that I could get. Cannot you get something to do?"

Both laughed aloud at the suggestion, as Harry had often threatened to go to work, something that would give his august father apoplexy at the suggestion of. Ashton pere was a millionaire and had no thought of his son's ever earning his living.

"I would go to work on the double quick if I had the remotest idea what I could do to turn an honest penny." As he spoke, he took up the morning paper and idly glanced at it, his eye noted an advertisement. With a broad smile he jumped from his chair and said: "I guess I will try this," and was about to leave his friend's office, when he stopped a moment and said: "I may need a reference. Can I use your name?"

"Certainly; but what is the position?"

"I will tell you later; never mind now," and the door closed behind him with a slam.

A tap at the door, and a bell boy entered with a card on a silver plate.

"You may send him up," said the young girl, as she turned to her sedate maid.

"Now, Susan, you need not scold. I knew that you would not go with me to hear Bernhardts alone, and so I have called a district messenger to escort us, and I telegraphed the manager to send a nice-looking one, too."

"Now, Miss Alice, whatever will your father say to that?" sighed the woman, as she put her young mistress' opera cloak over the fair shoulders, and a cloud came over her face.

"He will have nothing whatever to say about it. He might have stayed here and taken me himself. Did not the telephone book tell me that I could get a messenger for any service, and I telephoned to the manager while you were at lunch."

A knock at the door stopped further speech, and as the servant opened it a fine looking young man entered and said: "I am from the 'A. D. T.' office. The manager said that you wished some one to escort you to the theater this evening."

Alice almost gasped as she realized that this most presentable person was only a district messenger. To be sure, he was attired in faultless evening dress, but she supposed that the company furnished the garments as a matter of business. She had been careful to say that she did not want a man in uniform and that he must not be a boy.

In a moment she realized that whatever his present circumstances he really was a gentleman, and she therefore gave him her purse (with a trifle of embarrassment), and asked him to call a cab. He took the dainty feminine trifle and looked at it a bit aghast, which the girl instantly noting, put out her hand and taking back the purse, opened it and gave him a ten-dollar gold piece. Handsome Hal, who usually had no thought of discomfiture under any circumstances, now recalled his novel situation and placed the coin in his pocket, as they left the hotel.

Alice had obtained the seats, and chaperoned by the maid, the two entered a box at the Illinois.

It was hard work for Hal to remember that he was only a hired escort and had not been properly introduced to the lady, but she had told him her name and he had stiffly given her his "number," as the manager had told him to do, but this had not satisfied the lady, so he quickly invented a name, and "Mr. Henry" he had been called since then.

Absorbed in the marvelous acting of Mme. Bernhardt, the evening passed all too swiftly, and then, when the "A. D.

"I AM FROM THE 'A. D. T.' OFFICE."

T." had supposed his duty done, his imperious employer had insisted that she was hungry, and that she could not take supper in the Palm garden at midnight with only her maid, so "Mr. Henry" must attend her, and, truth to tell, that youth began to feel loth to leave Miss Marquis.

As they took supper together the lady politely ignored the fact that her escort was simply hired for the evening, and began to enjoy drawing him into conversation, finding him, what he appeared, not only a well-bred man, but a brilliant conversationalist.

Hal prided himself on having some conscience, but when it reproached him with a breach of confidence in thus assuming social relations with a fair unknown, he stifled its reproaches by assuring himself that he was but doing his duty. Before they parted the lady had engaged his services for the next day to show her around the city.

A week later Mr. Marquis arrived, to find his disconsolate daughter quite reconciled to his absence, and even suggesting another trip for him, attesting her willingness to forego his society for another week.

"Where have you been this last week. I really feared that you had been arrested for debt or had pawned your clothes for your board bill, and was lying dormant until that draft arrived," was the greeting of Frank as Hal entered his office, eight days later.

For reply Hal took out an envelope and a book and tendered them to Frank for his signature. The mystery was not fully explained, however, until late that fall, when Frank went to New York to act as best man at a wedding and for his favor from the groom received a gold district messenger badge with the mystic number "37" thereon.

Alice now says "Henry" without the prefix as she proudly gazes at her husband. He has long ago explained how he happened to become for the nonce an amateur "A. D. T."

MANY TREES IN ICELAND.

General Supposition Is That Few Exist, But Copenhagen Professor Sets Aside Belief.

One would hardly expect the subject of the forestry of Iceland to call for much serious attention, but a lengthy investigation of the trees of that country has recently been made by no less distinguished a person than Dr. C. V. Prytz, professor of forestry at Copenhagen. He says that the prevailing notion that Iceland has a single tree only is a fallacy, and that there is quite a pretentious growth of trees on the land, the soil not being unsuited for the growth. The tree growth of the country has suffered from injudicious cutting, he says; and he makes recommendations for the reforestation of the lands and offers suggestions about the planting of birches. The latter, here, spring up naturally, and it is thought that by sowing these in places where the snow lies deep immunity from destruction by sheep might be gained; as it appears to be only in winter, when grass is not to be had, that these animals devour the birch trees.

OUR GUARANTEE

The word "Guarantee" is much overworked; Everybody can use it; and almost everybody does.

It's a pity to see it abused; "Guarantee" is a good word when it means something.

We use it because we have made it mean something. The Clothes we "guarantee" are made so that it's safe to stand behind them; in every detail they are such as we dare insure.

The label is merely the seal and signature of the work.

The Label

The Label is a small thing, a small thing to look for, but it's a big thing to find for when you do find it, you find the right clothes and you know you've found them.

We Sell The Hand-Tailored Clothing Goldsmith, Joseph Feiss, Clothcraft Label America's Most progressive Clothes Makers and you get a double Guarantee with every Garment bearing the Label—the manufacturers and our own

SHOE SHOES

We sell such makes as the

Dorothy Dodd, Douglas & Ralston Health Shoe

We guarantee these also and the modest prices at which we sell them will make you the peer of the best shod man or woman in Ottawa County—and if you don't care to talk about it your friends won't know but that you spent five or six dollars for them.

VINOL FOR THE AGED.

Con De Pree, Our Well Known Druggist, Prepared to Show That Nothing Equals Vinol for Old People.

Said Mr. De Pree: "It is a pleasure to receive letters like the following in regard to our Vinol, as they fully substantiate our claims as to what it will do."

Mr. Joseph Bankson of Decatur, Ill., writes: "I am in my 78th year, and for some time I have been losing strength and suffered with a chronic cold and lung trouble, until I was seriously ill and could not go out of doors. My son sent me some Vinol. I commenced to take it and it has simply worked wonders for me. I feel better and stronger than I have for years, and my cough is all gone."

"You see," said Mr. De Pree, "Vinol contains in a concentrated form all the strengthening, healing properties of cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil or grease to upset the stomach, and no sickening drugs, and for this reason it has remarkable power to cure chronic coughs and colds, build up and invigorate the weak and aged, make rich, red blood, cure stomach troubles and restore the convalescent to perfect health.

"I just wish every aged, run down or debilitated person in Holland would try Vinol on our guarantee to return the money paid for it every time it fails." Con De Pree Druggist.

Olive Center.

Indian Summer continues. We are getting our fall work done in fine shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheesman returned Friday from a visit with friends at Pearl, Allegan Co.

The William Alden Smith Republican Rally here on Saturday was a Hamlet, with Hamlet left out. Mr. Smith was ill. But Mr. Diekema came and we didn't lose the Rally. Mr. Whelan and Mr. Smith's private Secretary (what is his name) also gave interesting talks. Rutgers and Woodbury were also present. The hall was well filled and much interest was manifested.

Two Facts About Dairying.

One thing we have noticed in our experience of dairying is that rough and unkind treatment of cows has a decided effect on some, making them very much harder to milk than when they are treated kindly, says a correspondent of National Stockman. The other is when milk cows are hurried or become heated by being run or "dogged" the milk sours quickly despite any cold water preventive, and the rising of the cream is retarded or it is retained in the milk. No one should doubt that it pays to be quiet with dairy cows, as these two noted facts speak strongly in favor of the quiet man.

The Successful Dairyman.

If a man would succeed in the dairy business he must read and keep posted on matters connected with his business. There are thousands of active, energetic dairymen that are constantly discovering new methods and advancing new, bright ideas. Experiment stations are busy solving the problems that surround the dairy farmer. The dairyman who would keep up must read, think and plan. He should strive to keep in the front rank, remembering that "he who follows is always a little behind."—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Keep Air Out of the Silo.

Have the silo so tight and the packing so close that the air is thoroughly expelled by the packing and does not afterward get in, says American Agriculturist. If from slack packing or, what oftener happens, from the bucking or springing of the silo walls air is retained or gets in later the losses may be very large, enough to make the whole thing uneconomical.

The Sucking Cow.

The sucking cow can be easily broken by placing a horse collar on her neck. I have tried it and it works like a charm.—Freston Slauson.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR ROOSEVELT

PRESIDENT RECEIVES MANY MESSAGES OVER HIS VICTORY AT THE POLLS.

CABLEGRAM FROM THE GERMAN EMPEROR

Chief Executive Issues a Statement That He Will Not Again Be a Candidate—Parker Sends His Congratulations.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt was overwhelmed with congratulations Wednesday. They were presented by many people in person and were received by mail and by telegraph from every state and from almost every city in the country. Thousands of telegrams already have been received, and they are coming yet in an undiminished flood. Four operators were kept busy Wednesday receiving the messages over the wires at the white house telegraph bureau. Before noon one operator alone had taken more than 300 telegrams. The others were equally busy. It will be physically impossible for the president and Secretary Loeb to acknowledge each message received, in accordance with the usual custom at the white house; but President Roosevelt desires it to be understood that he appreciates to the full the expressions of his friends and would be glad if it were possible for him personally to greet and thank every one of them.

The president was in exuberant spirits Wednesday. Although he did not retire until a late hour Tuesday night, he rose early and had a happy early morning chat with the members of his family and his house guests. He reached the executive offices early, and not till then did he read the morning papers. Official business was nearly impossible of transaction by the president. Scores of people called on him to extend their felicitations upon the result of the election. While he radiated good feeling, President Roosevelt was perfectly calm and undemonstrative.

Kaiser Sends Congratulations. President Roosevelt received the following cablegram from Emperor William:

"Neus Palais, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt, U. S. A., Washington: Sincerest congratulations. May Heaven give you prosperity. Tum Quod Bonum Felix Faustumque Sit Populo Americano.

(Signed) "WILLIAM I. R." A free translation of the Latin in the above cablegram is as follows: "May your good administration be happy and prosperous to the American people."

No Third Term. Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statement:

"I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the 4th of March next I shall have served 3½ years, and this 3½ years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form, under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

The president said Wednesday he felt that his announcement that he would not accept another nomination would prevent, during the next four years, any misinterpretation of his actions, personal or official. He expressed himself as being in entire sympathy with the evident belief of the American people in the undesirability of a third term for a president and he, therefore, made his statement as unequivocal as possible.

Parker Gives Up. Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Judge Parker conceded the election of President Roosevelt at 8:30 p. m., when he received a bulletin that the democratic national headquarters had already admitted that every doubtful state had been carried by the republican national ticket. He appeared to be not at all downcast by the result, although it is known that he greatly deplored his overwhelming defeat in his own state. He received the discouraging news in his study, where he sat smoking with two of his neighbors. When asked if he had any statement to make, he pulled a telegraph blank toward him and wrote hastily for a moment. Then he said: "I am going to send this telegram to President Roosevelt."

The message was dispatched at once. It was as follows: "Rosemount, Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 8, 8:30 p. m., Nov. 8.—The President, Washington: The people by their votes have emphatically approved your administration, and I congratulate you."

"ALTON B. PARKER." At that hour returns were indefinite, and the judge declined to make an extended statement.

President Replies. At ten o'clock Judge Parker received a telegram from President Roosevelt, as follows:

"Alton B. Parker, Rosemount, N. Y.: I thank you for your congratulations."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

George Stevens was a dutiful son but maternal authority in these matters is not in Iowa what it is in France.

Work was begun on his house, at what leisure he had was spent with Clara. He still lived with his mother, for both of them dreaded a more definite rupture. But Mrs. Stevens could not resist perpetual girding and bitterness against her son's choice. Hate seemed to have perverted her nature.

One day she crossed the line. "Hullo, George," she sneered, "you don't need to marry her!"

That day George Stevens left his mother's house, he thought, forever.

But God disposes.

One morning Doris Parker, the distant cousin who stayed with his mother, came to the tenant house where George was staying till his own should be finished.

"She's had a stroke. You better come home, George."

The old woman—she looked suddenly aged and withered and ghastly—clutched him with dreadful eagerness.

"Promise me you'll give her my love, George."

"I'll stay with you till you get well, mother."

Mrs. Stevens rallied slightly. George's marriage was indefinitely postponed; could not leave his stricken mother.

One morning she summoned him. "I'm going to live many days. I feel comin'. I've made another will. My property goes to Doris Parker, unless you let that Dutch girl go. And if you don't I'll leave you your mother's dower."

French President Well Guarded.
President Loubet is one of the best-guarded rulers in Europe. His flying brigade of police agents in civilian costume has been created to follow the president step by step wherever he goes. When M. Loubet is about to start from the Elysees the prefecture of police is apprised by telephone of the place to which he is going, as well as of the route he is to take. Before he has passed the gate of the palace a carriage is ready in the street, with orders to follow the presidential conveyance, and not to lose sight of it. This maneuver is repeated several times daily.

Closing of The Campaign,

Auspicious was the closing of the campaign by the republicans in Ottawa.

On the Saturday night preceding election 8 meetings were held in different parts of the county and all were well attended.

In Holland Congressman Wm. Alden Smith was billed to close the campaign Saturday night but illness prevented his doing so and Judge Wolcott, Ex Mayor Millard Palmer and Attorney W. J. Landman took his place. They addressed an enthusiastic gathering and their speeches were a grand roundup to one of the best campaigns ever conducted in this part of the state.

Hon. G. J. Diekema closed the campaign in Grand Haven by making the best speech of his career, and the best speech heard in the state this campaign. His townsmen so strong went to Grand Haven on a special train to hear him.

Letter From Rev. John J. Banninga, Missionary. Melur, S. India. Sept. 17, 1904.

Dear Relatives.

We have just returned from a series of meetings in Madura that I am sure you will be pleased to hear about. During the year each Missionary is busy in his own Station and too often becomes so absorbed in his work that he almost forgets the large work that is going on around. His burdens often so weigh upon his mind that he feels, like Elijah of old, that he alone is left to bear the brunt of the battle. And if large success has been his lot, then too his success often hides the difficulties and successes of others. So for us as well as for outsiders it is well to take a look at the Annual gathering of the Christians of this district and take courage therefrom or perhaps learn a lesson of patience and waiting upon the Lord.

Every year we have what we call the September Meeting. This is meant to be a gathering of the Christians and as many as possible do come. A special effort is made to have all the Helpers of the Mission attend. The program usually includes a day for Young People, and then two days of Spiritual meetings and another day of Native societies such as the Native Evangelical society, the Widow's Aid society, &c.

This year the first day was given to the Young People, and was conducted mostly by the Christian Endeavor society. The Pres. of the Dist. C. E. Union was Chairman of the day and led the opening Prayer meeting. The different Stations responded to the roll call, those present of each station rising and reciting a passage of scripture and then singing a song. One of the stations varied this a little by having a teacher and three boys do the singing for them. To those who knew the boys there was considerable interest in their being present at these meetings and taking part in them. The boys had never been in Madura before and the trip to these meetings had many "first things" in it. They live in a village on the hills some 17 miles from the nearest Christian church. But every year some of us go to the neighborhood of this village for a few days shooting. Two years ago we decided that we would stay out a few days more than usual and spend a Sunday in camp. This Sunday was spent in going to the surrounding villages for preaching. Kukkai being the nearest village, we decided that we all would go there in the afternoon after returning from the various villages to which we had gone in the morning. So at 5:00 that afternoon we had street preaching in the village. Several spoke and sang and we all were impressed by the manifest presence of the Spirit. After we got through speaking several portions of scripture were sold. After getting back to camp the thought of the meeting long remained with us and we all wished something permanent could be done there. Rev. Herrick, one of our number, had charge of that station at that time and upon revisiting the village some three months later decided to open a school there. This was done, and when we went there for our shoot last year we were amazed at the progress that had been made. About 20 or 30 boys had been attending the school and they had done their work well. Not only could they recite their regular lessons well but they had also learned the life of Christ, and could recite numerous texts and several Psalms, and could sing a number of Christian Lyrics well. And the conduct of the boys had changed marvelously. Before they had simply stood and stared at us but now they greeted us with a "Good morning, Sir" and acted as our young friends. We were no more strangers to them. The village people also felt the presence of the school and showed their appreciation in many ways. Thus the seed shown by the wayside had sprung up and was giving promise of a rich harvest. And now these boys have been to Madura and have seen the large company of Christians gathered there. They have seen the railroad, the shops, and fine buildings of a large city and they will go back and tell all about the wonders they saw. And the little village school will be the salt and light of that village, not only widening their view of this world but also giving them a view of the Kingdom of our God and showing them how to realize that Kingdom in their own hearts and lives.

After the responses from the societies the Secretary gave his report, showing a gain of 18 per cent in the number of societies and a large gain along all other lines also. Then followed addresses on various branches of C. E. work. In the afternoon an hour was spent in discussing Sunday school work. Larger plans are being made for this and in another year it will be thoroughly organized also. After a school of methods on C. E. work a large number of those present marched in a procession through the principal streets of the city. It was a strange sight to the Heatheo, who is so accustomed to see the disorderly crowds of Hindus with their awful looking gods going through the streets, to see this orderly company with banners and songs marching as an army going to victory.

In the evening a Concert was given and each station in turn sang a selection and added a block to the building of the spiritual temple (Eph. 2:21). This temple was represented on the platform by a building of paste-board boxes. The foundation was made up of blocks representing the Apostles and Prophets, and Christ the Corner stone. The side walls were made according to 2 Peter 1: 5-7, the virtues there mentioned being the stones for the walls. In the center were two pillars (Rev. 3:12, supporting the roof. The completed temple looked very pretty and the program had been well carried out. On the second day of the meetings, the Native Evangelical Society celebrated its Jubilee. The history of the society was reviewed and its future work discussed. The society now enters on a larger sphere of activity and will attempt to carry on a small Mission in the northern part of our District where little or no work has been done.

The Subject of the third day's meetings was "Christ and His Disciples." Dr. L. R. Schudder of the Arcot Mission was here and delivered several inspiring addresses. Others also spoke on various phases of the subject. Saturday's meetings were largely of a business character and these ended the special meetings of this year.

The members of the Mission were busy with Mission business for three days more. Some important questions came up for discussion but all were settled in good spirit, and the members of the Mission have now all returned to their Stations to resume their special work.

It may be that I am somewhat biased on the subject but I believe that the C. E. movement is entering upon a period of increased activity usefulness in our Mission. A very successful rally was held in connection with the meetings last week. In a business meeting held then some modifications were made in the Constitution which tend toward closer organization and more effectiveness. A second missionary was included in the officers. This gives the Union more stability and power. A strong effort will now be made to develop the society along both external and internal lines. In each of these departments a Missionary will take the lead and he will be assisted by the best of the native workers. A travelling Secretary will soon be put into the field and give all his time to this work. The whole object of the Union is to raise the standard of Christian activity, especially among the young. During the past year there was a good increase but we hope the present year will mean even more to our society. May the Lord bless it richly and cause it to be a real power for Him and for His Church.

In regard to Melur Station I can say that we are rejoicing over the completion of the foundation of our new church. You may think that that is not much, but for us it has the promise of a complete structure soon. The money is not yet in hand but we believe that the Lord will provide it soon. We are still busy in repairing the school-buildings and in building a teacher's house. For these also we need more money. Two weeks ago five persons were received into full communion, two were baptized at the time, the others having been baptized in infancy. We are also rejoicing in the expectation of soon receiving a number of converts from heathenism into the Christian community. They will not be ready for church membership at once but they will form the nucleus of a future church in that village. The schools in this Station are all doing well. We are both well.

Yours as ever,
John J. Banninga.
