HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum acids and lime phosphates, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make clean and healthful food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be a pure, healthful, grape cream of tartar baking powder, of highest strength, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.

RELEASED ON PAROLE

Arthur Kieft, who was sent up from six months to fifteen years for burglarizing Pieter's 5 & 10c store was today released on parole, after serving one year and three months in prison. The boy says he has learned his lesson well, and will endeavor to show the citizens of Holland, and especially his mother, what stuff he is made of.

A STILL ALARM OF FIRE INJURES TWO MEN SUNDAY

Bill Van Regenmorter and Bob Bontekoe of Fire Department No. 1 were seriously injured Sunday while fighting a fire in a cinder pile near the Holland Canning Company. Number One was called out on a still alarm to subdue the burning pile and when the fire boys played the hose on the burning heap an explosion took place injuring both men.

Bob Bontekoe's face was so caked with cinders that it took a solution of water and oil to remove them and today he looks more like an Indian than a white man. Mr. Van Regenmorter's arm was severely burnt.

The Sunday suits of both firemen were ruined and the men should be reimbursed for their loss in this respect.

HAS NOVEL PAIR OF DUCKS

Grand Haven Man Will Exhibit Peculiar Birds at Show

Charles Bahr of Fifth street at Grand Haven took out a membership in the Grand Haven Poultry association in order to exhibit a pair of Cuban Muskovite ducks. Mr. Bahr paid a large sum for the eggs last year, and has six fine birds. They are something absolutely new to local poultry raisers.

I. N. Tubbs, a chicken fancier of years' experience, never saw anything resembling them. They have many peculiarities, one of which is that they have no more desire for water than chickens. They originate somewhat on the island of Cuba, and are very fond of rice.

The wings of the birds have to be kept tied to prevent them from flying away. Their feet are large, like those of a goose, and their necks are longer than that of the ordinary mallard.

The head of the strange species is white, and the wings a deep blue at the top and white at the tips.

GONE WITH FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dyke and family have left for Petoskey, where they will reside for the next six months. Contractor Dyke is completing a new high school at that place similar to the one in Holland. They contemplate returning some time next June. Their Holland home is now being occupied by Mrs. F. Plasmann and daughter.

DETECTIVES' CASE WILL NOT COME UP THIS TERM

Attorney Dunham of Grand Rapids, Lillie of Grand Haven and Williams of Chicago have agreed to have the Flannigan and Carlin kidnapping case go over the term. Dunham asked that this be done, owing to the fact that he was interested in a large will case in Grand Rapids and would not be able to be present.

SOLD 50 ACRE FARM

G. Lenters sold his 50-acre farm about four miles south of Holland after a residence of 15 years for $5,000 to J. Zoerman of Holland, taking as part payment a $2,000 residence property in this city where he will make his home. Mr. Lenters sold his personal property at auction Wednesday.

Mrs. G. Van Duren left yesterday for a visit with relatives in Chicago. Mr. Wayne Tilt spent yesterday in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Maxson of Leslie, Mich., Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star was in Holland yesterday. She held an informal reception at Hotel Holland and later was escorted to the train, leaving for Breedsville, where she delivered an address last evening.

MOUW CONVICTED AND SERIOUSLY ARRESTED.

Serier Taken On Evidence in The Mouw Case

After being out an hour, deliberating on the Mouw case, the jury at ten minutes after six last night returned a verdict of guilty against Harry Mouw, who two months ago struck Officer Steketee in the performance of his duty. The charge against Mouw was assault to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, but the jury brought in a verdict of plain assault and battery, and upon this charge he will be sentenced later by Judge Cross.

Upon the evidence produced in court in the Mouw case, Herman Serier was so plainly implicated that Judge Cross, through Prosecuting Attorney Osterhous ordered his arrest. The officers found him in the depot going to Holland. He was taken to the county jail last evening and arraigned this morning before Justice Wachs, where he pleaded not guilty. He was put under a bond of $200 for his appearance at the next term of circuit court. Had Mouw been convicted on the more serious charge instead of assault and battery he would have gone up for a term of years in State's prison, while now the most the Jurge can give him is 90 days in the county jail. Visscher & Robinson of Holland were the attorneys for Harry Mouw.

LOCAL FACTORIES PUT IN VARNISH SPRAYING MACHINE

WILL KNOCK OUT 12 MEN.

The West Michigan Furniture Co. has put in a varnish spraying machine in their varnishing department that has supplanted 12 men formerly employed in that department.

The machine works on the principle of a large atomizer and it is said that one machine can do more, and better work than twelve men can do by hand. The spray is so fine that the employee who handles it is compelled to have a sponge over his nostrils to prevent him from taking the poisonous vapors into his lungs. There is also a hood with a blow pipe going through the roof of the factory which draws up the poisonous fumes.

While it is said that considerable more varnish is used in this mode of operation, the factory is more than making up on the price of labor.

It is said that two other factories contemplate installing machines in the near future.

WORK ON NEW HOLLAND

Arrangements are being made for a train schedule.

OTTAWA COUNTY WOMAN HAS REACHED AGE OF EIGHTY-NINE.

Hudsonville, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Catherine Ruthe, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. John Hemstraw, celebrated the 89th anniversary of her birth yesterday, and is, in many particulars, a most wonderful woman.

She came to this country from the Netherlands and settled in Iowa, where Mr. Ruthe died, leaving her with five children under 16 years of age and a $7000 mortgage on the farm. With the help of the children Mrs. Ruthe ran the farm, paid off the mortgage and kept them together till they went into homes of their own. Five years ago she sold the farm and came to Michigan to live near her two remaining children and took up her abode with her eldest daughter.

Aside from slight colds, she has never been sick a day since her marriage over 60 years ago. This year she has raised one of the finest gardens in Ottawa county, doing all of the work herself, besides putting up 86 cans of tomatoes, 35 cans of cherries, 100 quarts of jelly and preserves and six gallons of pickles. Last week she made a barrel of sour kraut. She helps with her daughter around the house, and whenever the men are busy around the farm she milks six cows. She has never taken a dose of medicine and never paid out a cent for doctor's bills. She walks two miles to church and does not complain of fatigue.

OTTAWA COUNTY MEN ARE INVOLVED IN LITIGATION BECAUSE OF LACK OF PRECAUTION.

Did Not Employ Attorney to See If Title Was Clear and Now There Is Trouble

A story has been going round to the effect that a former Ottawa county man had suffered quite a nick in his capital through investing in California lands to which to which the title proved faulty, but one has no need to go so far from home to discover losses of this kind. Only last week Judge Cross appointed B. P. Hatch of Lamont, to be Receiver in the local circuit court several years ago and which has been to the supreme court also. Supposing that certain lands had been willed to them by their father, the O'Hearns made a sale of the property and the money was paid and deeds and mortgages given. A couple of years later it was discovered that the O'Hearn boys did not own the property, as they had supposed, and possessed only a right to the property for life, and of course this left men who had bought from them with out a good title to the land. It made such a bad tangle that a suit in the courts for more than six years. If the purchasers had secured the services of a lawyer to examine the title the situation would have been discovered and could have been adjusted with very little trouble and at a trifling expense, but they tried to get along without help and have suffered much trouble and annoyance and as a result of their effort to economize. That there are still plenty of people who take chances of this kind is further illustrated by the same case. One of the purchasers from the O'Hearns, Mr. Bauman, subsequently sold a part of the land he had bought. This purchaser did not engage a lawyer and did not know that Mr. Bauman had no title to the land until several years after and he is now mixed up in the suit to attempt to get back the money he paid for the land that did not belong to the man he bought from. Nor does the illustration end there, for the man who bought from Bauman borrowed $600, with which to help pay for the land and the money-lender, instead of making sure that the title was good, took a mortgage on land that did not belong to the borrower and consequently has suffered much worry and delay in getting his money back.

Grand Haven To Have Big Show
Exhibit To Be Held Dec. 16-19
The Grand Haven Poultry association is making preparations for one of the biggest shows in the history of the organization. The officers who have been conducting the shows for years have turned over their positions to new and younger men, and as a result the new men have already started things which promise to exceed anything the old regime ever accomplished. The first move was to change the time of the show from the latter part of January to the middle of December, just before the regular season is on in earnest. This will bring many of the largest exhibitors from Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Holland and other sections of the state, who will be anxious to have their birds scored before the big shows commence. A large Queen incubator has been donated as the first prize for the finest exhibit. Fifteen silver cups and a number of cash prizes have been presented by local merchants for the show. The dates will be from December 16 to 19. It will be held in the Armory. The officers of the association this year are: William Fisher, president; Bert Vanden Bosch, secretary, and Fred Albers, treasurer.

BARBERS MUST LOOK OUT

New State Law Very Strict.

Barber shops of Michigan come under stricter sanitary survey and control by the provisions of Act No. 38 passed by the last session of the state legislature. The new law not only creates a new barber board with more mandatory powers than the old board enjoyed, but it empowers the board to fix and prescribe the sanitary requirements of barber shops, subject to the approval of the state board of health. The new law requires them to file a certificate of good health, good moral character and one year's apprenticeship. The fee is $2.00 for old barbers and $5.00 for new ones. They are prohibited from shaving people who have erysipelas, eczema, impetigo, syphilis, tuberculosis or contagious or infectious diseases. It is also against the law for people who have these diseases to apply for a hair cut or shave in a barber shop. The law is mandatory, not directory, violation is a misdemeanor and punishable by from 10 to 90 days in jail.

A GENTLE HINT TO DIAMOND BUYERS

Those young men who are thinking of buying an engagement ring before long better hurry up. That is the advice of a diamond importer just returned from an European trip. The high cost of matrimony is going to advance with the buying of the ring, for diamonds are going up, away up. In fact, the importer says that the tariff now amounting to 10 per cent, will be advanced to 20 per cent., before January 1, and this means an increase in the retail price. The advance in the last eighteen months has amounted to 15 per cent and a further advance will mean paying more for the engagement ring next year. Young men, now is the time to buy.

OVER THE COUNTER

"Are these candies fresh, my pretty one?" asked the youth with the sunset socks. "They are fresh, but not in your class," answered the saleslady with the Titian hair.

IMPORTANT MATTER ALL SHOULD KNOW ABOUT PARCEL POST

Postmaster Van Schelven has received a circular letter from the Post Office department at Washington which contains information of interest to every patron of the parcel post. The letter follows:

Complaints have reached the Department of the frequent breakage of or damage to articles sent through the mails as parcel post, due evidently to improper packing or wrapping. This condition indicates clearly that careful attention is not being given to section 37, Parcel Post Regulations, which states plainly that postmasters must refuse to receive for mailing parcels not properly endorsed or packed for safe shipment.

Postmasters and clerks are informed that whenever it is shown that the loss or damage to a parcel or its contents is clearly the result of improper packing or wrapping at the time of its receipt at the office of origin the person responsible for its acceptance in that condition will be held responsible for the damage.

Umbrellas, canes, golf sticks and articles of a like character must not be accepted for mailing unless strips of wood of the same length and are otherwise wrapped and made sufficiently strong to withstand the impact from heavier packages coming against them in the process of handling in their various stages in transit.

Perishable articles—particularly berries and ripe fruits—also paints, oils, etc., contact with which would be destructive to the contents of other parcels, must be denied admission to the mails unless the regulations with reference to packing as set forth in Sections 23 to 37 are observed strictly. Instances have come to the Department's knowledge where there has been carelessness in this regard and damage to other mail has resulted therefrom.

You are cautioned to give this matter particular attention and to instruct your employees accordingly.

RASPBERRIES IN NOVEMBER

Charles Hyde, Spring Lake, Enjoys Extremely Late Crop

Spring Lake horticulturists are trying to figure out how Charles Hyde of this place was blessed with a second crop of raspberries when the rest of the bushes, no matter how much they were sheltered from the elements, have not the slightest indication of life.

Hyde is not considered a Luther Burbank by any means but the bushes at the rear of his house gave him as good a supply of raspberries as anybody received in this year of early killing frosts. He harvested his yield and was surprised to find the bushes in blossom again in September, when the leaves should have been falling off instead.

This week the raspberries were ripe enough to pick, and he secured enough to keep his table supplied for a week.

Mrs. D. Van Bree made a trip to Grand Rapids Friday.

The next regular meeting of the Ladies' Good Will society will be held at the home of Mrs. D. F. Boonstra on Church street, tomorrow afternoon, No. 14.

The afternoon services at the 1st Reformed church Sunday were conducted by the Rev. Benj. Hoffman of the Second church.

One of the early settlers of this community, Albert Tammes Huizenga, who for many years was one of the well known school teachers in Ottawa county, died Thursday night at his home in Zeeland at the age of 78 years. The funeral was held Monday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the chapel of the First Reformed church. The deceased is survived by four sons, John C., of North Blendsa, Thomas A. of Beaverdam, and Gerrit J., and Henry, both missionaries in India. He is also survived by one brother, G. T. Huizenga of Holland.

The deceased was born in Uskewerd, Prov. Groningen, the Netherlands. He came to this country in the spring with his parents and other members of the family. After graduating from Hope college he taught school in a number of Ottawa county schools. For a number of years he had lived in retirement in Zeeland.

Zeeland will be represented in the world's temperance movement by A. Lakis. The vast affair was launched simultaneously throughout the United States and all of its dependencies on November 9, when 1,000,000 children were enrolled in the Lincoln-Lee legion and on November 10 the Biennial convention of America opened its first session at Columbus, O. The sessions will continue daily until tomorrow.

The Classis of Zeeland of the Christian Reformed church met in regular session at the North street church yesterday commencing at 9:15 a. m. This meeting is of more than ordinary interest to many of the Zeeland people for reason that at this session it is hoped to secure favorable action from that body upon the formation of an English-speaking church of that denomination in Zeeland. This movement was started several months ago by members of the First Christian Reformed church when a petition was circulated through the congregation for the signatures of those willing to join the movement, in which the committees were quite successful. This petition has been before the consistory, where it received favorable action and at a meeting Monday night a delegation was elected to present the petition to the classis.

While working at the Wolverine Furniture factory in Zeeland Tuesday, Albert Noorthuis had the misfortune of cutting his hand in the sticker-machine. His hand was very severely cut and Dr. Rigerink attended to the cut.

The Klassen Clothing Co., with headquarters in Holland, opened a branch store in this city in the De Kruij building Friday.

A social was given at the second Reformed church by the Womans Bible class yesterday.

A basket ball league has been organized in the Zeeland High school. Three teams made up entirely of members of the high school association compose this league. The idea is to develop material for the second team this season and players for a first team to work in the coming season. Each team goes under its own name as follows: Pirates, Omars and Eagles.

William Diemer, the well-known horseshoer, who usually goes under the name of "Splan", is about to resume business after spending the summer in truck farming on his little farm at the Zeeland West Limits. Mr. Diemer has rented the blacksmithing department of the Zeeland Auto and Repair Works at the corner of Washington and State streets and opened his shop Monday.

SAUGATUCK

David Reed of Saugatuck has bought from Griffin & Henry of the same place, what is known as the sawdust island, lying a little way out in Kalamazoo Lake, south of their lumber dock, and is now actually engaged in sawing it up. This land is a relic of sawmill days and is some four hundred feet long by fifty or sixty wide, and was built of edgings some fifty years ago or thereabouts. In those days sawmill operators did not saw up their waste as closely as now and some good sized pieces were left. Mr. Reed bought the island with the intention of using it for stovewood but found such good material when he got down under the water that he has made a good many lath already. He will take a gasoline engine down on the island and continue operations.

FENNVILLE

Half of the roof of the Hotel Stevens at Fennville was blown off, the plate glass front of W. H. Fouch's drug store was blown out, trees, windmills, sheds and other small buildings were upset by a fierce gale which struck there Sunday.

DR. HENRY B. BAKER ASKS GOV. FERRIS FOR APPOINTMENT

Dr. Henry B. Baker, who lives on a fruit farm just out of Saugatuck has applied to Gov. Ferris for the position of secretary of the state Board of Health. Dr. Robert L. Dixson recently resigned that position to become superintendent of the epileptic farm colony at Wahjemeza. So far there are only two applications in the hands of the governor, the other being that of Dr. B. H. Glenn of Fowlerville. The positions pays $2,500 a year.

Dr. Baker who is well known in Holland, was at one time secretary of the state board and since then he has been living on a farm near Saugatuck. Local physicians say that while he was holding down the position, Dr. Baker was known as an able secretary, one of the best the state ever had.

William J. Demison, carpenter and contractor, 525 Central Ave., Holland, Mich., says: "Some years ago I gave a statement for publication, telling how greatly I had been benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills, and today I am glad to say that the cure has been lasting. I first took Doan's Kidney Pills about ten years ago, when I was suffering from disordered kidneys. Every cold I caught settled on my kidneys, causing lameness in the small of my back, accompanied by pain in my loins. Doan's Kidney Pills soon relieved the trouble and I continued taking them until cured. From that time to this, I have been a firm friend of this remedy."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Demison had—the remedy backed by some testimony. 50¢ all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WAS BEGUN IN CIRCUIT COURT COURT TUESDAY AFTER-NOON

Tuesday afternoon the case of the people against Harry Mouw was taken up in circuit court. Mouw is charged with an assault with intent to do great bodily harm upon Officer Steketee of this city. An attempt was made to settle this case without trial, but after a conference of about an hour, it was decided to go on with the battle. The jury was drawn Tuesday afternoon and the statements made by the opposing attorneys. L. H. Osterhaus acted as the prosecuting officer and Visscher & Robinson of this city appeared for the defendant.

A number of witnesses were used in this matter and the outcome of the case is still in doubt.

CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT IS WITHDRAWN IN CIRCUIT COURT AGAINST FORMER HOLLAND MAN.

The case against Joseph Brown, charged with embezzlement on complaint of William Brusse, was dismissed in circuit court Tuesday. The case has been hanging fire for some time but some settlement was reached which made it unnecessary to try it out in court. Diekema, Kollen and Ten Cate appeared for Mr. Brown and Prosecuting Attorney L. H. Osterhaus appeared for the people. The motion to have the case dismissed was made by Mr. Osterhaus.

SEATS ARE NOT AS REPRESENTED WHEN PURCHASE WAS MADE

The seats that had been purchased by the board of education for the new high school have been rejected. The seats had been bought of the Cleveland School Seat Co., Cleveland, Ohio. When the sale was made it was represented to the board that the seats would be noiseless, but when they arrived it was found they do not possess this quality. It was furthermore promised that the foot-pieces should be of malleable iron, while they actually are of cast iron. Another objection to the seats is that they have only a coat of shellac, while the promise was that they should have two coats of varnish and should be rubbed down. For these several reasons the board of education has decided not to accept the seats, and the Cleveland Company has been notified to this effect.

BEEKMAN WILL HAVE CHARGE OF LOOKING AFTER THE CARP FISHING HERE

Jack Van Anrooy, recently appointed as Deputy Game Warden to oversee the seining of fish in Black lake, has resigned and Monday Deputy Sheriff Herman Beekman was appointed in his place. He started the work Tuesday morning. While the overseeing of the seining will not keep Deputy Beekman busy every day he has made arrangements to work for the men in charge so will be enabled to put in full time.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Salisbury came here Tuesday for the purpose of making the appointment and giving instructions regarding the work.

TOOK TWO DAYS TO GO TO NORTH HOLLAND IN EARLY DAYS

Marie De Young Of Zeeland Tells About Old Settlers Experiences

The following article written by Marie De Young giving some old settlers data, relative to this vicinity and particularly in Zeeland will no doubt be of interest to our readers:

(By Marie De Young)

In April and May, in 1847, three companies left the province of Zeeland. One of these companies consisted of fifty-six persons under the leadership of Mr. Van De Luyster. They spent thirty-six days in going to New York and Albany, and eleven days on the Erie Canal. They sailed from Detroit on the Great Lakes through the Straits, thence through the Black Lake at the shores of which they arrived July, 1847.

Their first night was spent out of doors. Soon their leader bought six sections of land about seven miles east of Holland. The Pilgrims found this land to be a majestic wilderness. The only visible things were the skies above, the soil under their feet, the trees and shrubbery round about animals such as the deer, bears and the wolves. The forest was so dense that the people were compelled to cut down the trees before a shelter could be erected. Some of the poorer class of people took some branches of trees with which they built them a shelter, a shelter which was soon exchanged for the log cabin. The families suffered many hardships in these cabins. Furniture was a rare article; a stump or box served as a table and a block of wood as a chair; many a bed was composed of such hard material that the sleeper was compelled to rise several times in a night to sit down to rest; the candle was the home illumination, the half of a barrel served as a wash tub. The victuals were not cooked or baked in different kettles as now a days; instead, all were cooked in the same kettle. Some of the poorer class of people had to eat with their fingers, because knives and forks were lacking. The principal foods of many of the pioneers, were Johnny cake for breakfast, cornmeal mush for dinner and cornmeal pudding for supper. Roasted corn, beans, and peas were substituted for the absent coffee bean.

The style of dresses and fashions was not of the latest. The pioneer's Sunday garments differed very little from the ones worn during the week. They went to church wearing wooden shoes, clad in blue striped jackets, and overalls; only a few wore boots.

The only bath was the Indians trail, often blocked by a fallen tree. The way from one farm house to another was indicated by blazed trees. The first roads made through the forest accommodated a wheel barrow better than a four wheeled carriage. It was no pleasure to travel in those days. Once a family journeyed to North Holland from Holland. It required two days to reach this destination, a distance of about six miles. Horses were unknown as yet and people would walk from Holland to Allegan or Grand Rapids as the case might be. In going from one place to another the pioneers were handicapped by bridgeless streams, fallen trees, and treacherous valleys, a fact which compelled them to carry with them an ax and a spade.

The land was not tilled as it is to day. Trees had to be uprooted first; then, in the holes made by the uprooted trees, men would plant their vegetables and crops, while the grain was covered with leaves and dirt. All the work on the farm was done with a hoe. If the pioneers wished to plant crops where there were no trees, they would have to chop the ground loose with an axe, for they had no farm implements by which the work could be done. The farms then, were not covered with weeds as the farms to day. This in deed, was a fortunate thing for them. Their young cattle roamed in the wilderness, and many times the owners would not see them for a whole year; sometimes they never saw them again. The older cattle wore heavy bells about their necks, which could be heard for a distance of three miles. Sometimes when a farmer awoke in the morning, he would find that a pig had been stolen from his pen by some animal during the night. It was difficult to secure good drinking water; one night a wolf drank the water of a large tub which the father secured for the family use. The pioneers rose early in the morning and toiled until after sunset.

They had love of order, respect for law and appreciation of the noblest things of life; they were dignified and had simple manners; they placed education and character above and before appearances and possessions. We should recognize them also by their reverent observance of Divine Ordinances. Religious services were first held in the homes but a log cabin was soon built on the site of Baart home. A log cabin was the first school house, this was also used for church purposes. The services were first conducted by Rev. Van Der Meulen in Zeeland and by Rev. Van Raalte in Holland. Services were next held in the barn of Mr. Van De Luyster in Zeeland. Fourteen of the sons and daughters of the immigrants are today working in the mission field.

The first home belonged to Mr. Den Herder and that was followed by that of Mr. Steketee. The first saw mill was built one and one-half miles south of Zeeland. That was followed by a grist mill by Mr. Koppel. The first railroad was laid in

GOOD JOKE ON MOTHER

A certain little boy on the West Side has lived the short span of his life in an atmosphere in which the postal service predominates. His father is employed in the postoffice and studies schemes at home out loud so it's no wonder that the little fellow is looking forward to the life of a postman.

"Mother, I've been playing postman," said the little boy, entering the house the other day all out of breath.

"Playing postman?" she asked. "Where have you been playing postman?"

"Right here on our street. I've delivered letters to every single house on our side."

"What kind of letters?"

"Real letters."

"Why, you little dear! Where did you get them?"

"Right out of your bureau drawer I took those old ones you had tied up in a pink ribbon."

Is Entitled To Our Trade

"I believe the home merchants are entitled to our trade when the prices are as reasonable. I think it is a wrong principle to send away for the goods that can be bought as well at home," said a farmer to the editor the other day. It sounds good to hear men argue the justice of this matter. The local business man and the farmer's interests are mutual: neither one can succeed in the fullest sense without the other. The merchant must sell at honest margins of profit and when he does this he is entitled to the trade of his community.

BOARD OF EDUCATION DECIDES NOT TO PUT "SLAB" IN NEW HIGH SCHOOL

There will be no marble slab in the new high school building. That is the conclusion reached by the board of education after it had been decided on some months ago to have a slab bearing the names of the members of the board. At the last meeting the board decided that they did not care to have their names appear in the new building. There was not enough egotistical spirit about the school officials to make the proposition to have their names engraved in marble carry. They decided to be modest and not to attempt to perpetuate their names in this way. Last January it had been decided to put in a marble slab similar to the one found in the corridor of the city hall but this action has now been rescinded.

HOPE LIKELY TO BE A MEMBER OF PROPOSED NEW ORGANIZATION.

Hope college will be one of the three Michigan colleges in the proposed new triangular debating league which is being formed for the promotion of debating and oratory among college students.

The three colleges which will be included are Hillsdale, Hope and Kalamazoo, and each one of these will organize and drill three debating teams.

Three debates will be held at the same time. One will be at Hillsdale, one at Hope and the other at Kalamazoo on the same evening, and while one team debates on the negative side the others will debate on the affirmative. This will mean that three teams will be organized at each college. The team debating at home will have the affirmative side of the argument.

LOOKING FOR LOCATION

FOR A POULTRY FARM

Henry Holtsma, whose home is near Madison, Wis., is visiting different points in Ottawa county in search of a suitable location for a large poultry farm. Mr. Holtsma owns five of the largest poultry farms in the U. S. and thinks this county a good place wherein to establish the sixth. From his five farms, which are located at different points in this country, he shipped last year over 16,000 broilers and sold 97,000 crates of eggs. At the farm which he hopes to establish in this county he hopes to handle only the best blooded stock of hens and ducks.

LIVER LECTURE TOMORROW EVENING.

Tomorrow night the second number of the M. E. church lecture course will be held in the church auditorium when Scott F. Hershey will deliver one of his famous lectures. The most popular lectures of Mr. Hershey are: "The Fellow on Top, or How to Win," "In By-Gone Days, or the Things I would Do Were I Back at Twenty, Knowing What I Know Now," "The Waste of War," and "Big Jobs for Men." One of these will be delivered in Holland.

Dr. Hershey has, in a marked degree, the personality, the passion, the easy flow of words, the scholarship and sense of humor which make an orator to the manner born. The compass, richness and carrying power of his voice specially qualify him for the lecture platform. His record of more than a dozen lectures in the same towns is evidence of the wide range of his familiar acquaintance with things, and men, and history.

TWO MILE RACE IS TO BE PULLED OFF AT HOPE TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon will be an exciting time on the Hope College campus. At 3 o'clock will be held the two mile race which is open to all the men in the college. Already 15 men have signified their intentions of entering and a good race is promised. It is planned to make this race an annual affair and so get a line on the track material for the spring races. The first three men in the race will be awarded a gold, silver and a bronze medal respectively. The medals were made possible through generosity of several Holland business men: P. Coster, G. Lacey, N. Dykema, John Karreman and John Hoffman.

After the race the Sophomores will meet the Freshmen in a football game. This will probably be as exciting a contest as any of the games this season have been as the classes are very evenly matched and the Varsity team about an even number of Sophs and Freshies. This will be a sort of a benefit game to catch up on expenses incurred this season and charge of ten cents will be made for admission. At any rate there will be an exciting contest.

WAR SONGS WERE FEATURE AT PROGRAM

A Camp Fire was held at the Woman's Literary club rooms Tuesday afternoon.

The club is interested at present in that period of United States history which treats of the civil war and the camp fire in charge of Mrs. J. Van Duren replaced the regular afternoon tea. The quartermasters in charge of the mess tent were Mrs. John F. Dryden and Mrs. John Dykstra and the rations were passed out by Mesdames Tom N. Robinson, John Prakken, W. R. Stevenson, Percy Ray, Jacob Van Putten, Jr. Ray Hoek, C. W. Nibelink and John Devers.

War songs were a feature, Mrs. Arthur Visscher leading, and the stories were told by relatives of civil war veterans.

MRS. G. J. VAN DUREN IS SELLING MANY SEALS IN THIS CITY.

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren is greatly pleased with the interest shown in the work she has undertaken in this county for tuberculosis prevention. Tuesday she received a letter from the Conklin Enterprise saying that the editor was very much interested in the crusade against the white plague and that he would do all possible to advance the cause in the vicinity of Conklin. He requested that a die of the cut showing the drinking fountain and seal be sent him.

Up to date Mrs. Van Duren has sold 4,425 seals in this city. Her canvassing thus far has been confined to the business section and to some of the factories. Later she will canvass the resident district.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS TO STAGE DANCE TONIGHT

The Royal Neighbors will give their fifth dance of the series that is being put on this year this evening in the Woodman hall. The dance tonight will have some special features that will be of interest to those who attend. Interest in the dances has been great and the attendance has been very satisfactory. From now on more work than ever will be put on them so as to make them successful and to make the turnout large. Lacey's orchestra which has been so successful at the dances held hitherto, will again furnish the music.

Moreover there was a bequest of $2,000 for Union Reformed church of Highbridge, N. Y.

HEALTH OFFICER GETS ENCOURAGING REPORT FROM LANSING.

Supply Is As Pure as Water Ever Is; Most Favorable Test in Months.

For the first time in many months Holland's water is in such a condition that the precaution of boiling it is no longer necessary. Health Officer Godfrey announced that the warnings that have been issued from that department from time to time during the summer while the unfavorable reports were coming in from the state bacteriologist are no longer in force and that now the people of Holland can feel perfectly safe in using the water for any and all purposes.

This most welcome announcement is the result of the reports received by the health department this morning. On November 7 two samples of water, one from the old well and one from the new well, were sent to Lansing and Tuesday morning the findings of the department were sent in. The bacteriologist found Holland's water about as nearly one hundred per cent pure as it can be found, and the water from the new well had just a shade the best of it.

With the supply plentiful for the present at least and the quality of a high order of purity, Holland is enjoying a water situation that is almost ideal. However the board of health and the board of public works will not rest here, but will from time to time continue to send in samples of water to Lansing to guard against the percentage getting lower than is consistent with safety.

Soon a report will be made to the board of public works in regard to recent efforts to find a new supply of water. That question will probably not be solved for some time to come, but it is encouraging to the average user of water to know what the city has is at least pure.

CARP FISHING IN BLACK LAKE WILL SOON BE IN FULL SWING.

Fisherman Who Works Here Is An Old Man at the Game of Fishing in the Mississippi

The carp fishing in Black Lake will soon be on in full swing and from now on it is expected that each time the nets are pulled up thousands of pounds of carp will be secured. Tuesday the fishermen resumed their work after some enforced idleness on account of bad weather. The men in charge of the fishing here are M. N. Lipinsky and D. Gantenbein. A few hauls have been made, but no serious work has been made of the fishing so far. In one of the hauls the men caught some 500 or 600 pounds of carp and another time they landed four or five tons. One haul was a complete failure however when only a few carp were captured. The men however have been putting in a great deal of preliminary work in the nature of removing snags. By the time the lake is covered with ice they believe that the water will be quite free from obstructions so that there will be less difficulty in doing the work this winter. The men have been going slowly so far because the market for the fish has not been as favorable as it is expected to be later, and in view of the fact that a large sum was paid to the state for the privilege of catching the fish here the men want to make all the profits they can.

Mr. Gantenbein is a fisherman of years of experience. In fact he has been a fisherman all of his life and it has long been his business to fish the inland lakes and the Mississippi river for carp. Mr. Gantenbein's home is at Diamond Bluffs, Wis. and naturally he learned the art of carp fishing on the Mississippi. He is familiar with the game from every angle. He has studied every sort of condition and he is therefore prepared to meet almost any emergency in the game. While the conditions for seining are somewhat different on Black lake than those which confront him on the western rivers, he is prepared to meet those conditions.

The demand for carp is greater in New York city than elsewhere and it is said that the market for the fish is greatest among the Jewish people of New York. The Jewish people of that section seem to be particularly fond of carp, as a diet and hence the demand is great. It is hard usually to keep the market supplied and it is then that the price naturally goes up. Carp has been shipped in to New York from Mississippi for years, and the local fish are just beginning to be shipped in to the metropolis. Within the last few months Mr. Gantenbein has been looking up the New York market, and he is pretty well informed as to the outlook there for several months to come.

The carp fishing game is an expensive proposition, and the men who are now engaged in seining Black lake have sunk several thousand dollars in the proposition with out having yet received a cent. Several of the men are interested with Mr. Gantenbein in the project, but many of them are highly paid experienced men, and the running expenses are therefore no small sum. While the fishermen expect to make a good thing out of the local project, there is a chance of losing a lot of money, and the game is a gamble, after all.

PUBLIC PULSE

Editor of the Holland City News: Kindly allow me a little space in your paper to explain the circumstances under which I was arrested for selling impure milk. The Sentinel of October 31 contained an article of at least a column telling of the awful crime that I had committed and besides this there was an editorial bearing on the case.

Now I have reached the age of 37 years—have always lived within three miles of Holland and have never been arrested or sued or threatened with arrest either in a civil or criminal matter until the time above referred to. I have been a milk dealer in Holland three years. My hired man had on Oct. 30 delivered a bottle of milk to William Van Vuren, at the factory of the Holland Furniture Co., who brought this bottle containing a spider and some settlements to Dr. Godfrey the Health officer. At about 4 o'clock of that afternoon I received a telephone message from a deputy sheriff ordering me to appear before Justice Robinson before 5 o'clock. I went there immediately from my home three miles from Holland. He read the warrant and asked me if I were guilty. I told him I would not plead guilty to selling dirty milk, but that an accident could happen. Thinking the easiest way out of the difficulty would be to plead guilty, I did so. I was then given a fine of $25 and $3.45 costs and the justice gave me "just three minutes to decide if I would pay the fine and costs" or take thirty days in the county jail. I told him I would raise the money and I was given thirty minutes to get the money.

The justice further told me that the object was to get such persons as I out of business. I have sold my milk route, but in order to let the people know what my record is I visited every one of my customers personally, and have asked them to sign the following statement:

To whom it may concern:— This is to certify that we have for sometime been customers of Gerrit Oonk and have used milk from him. That we have personal knowledge of the condition in which said milk was delivered and that we always have found his milk clean and sweet. We sign this of our own free will.

This was signed by 137 of my customers.

One of my customers, I could not find.

Two of my customers said they had no objection to signing except for business reasons.

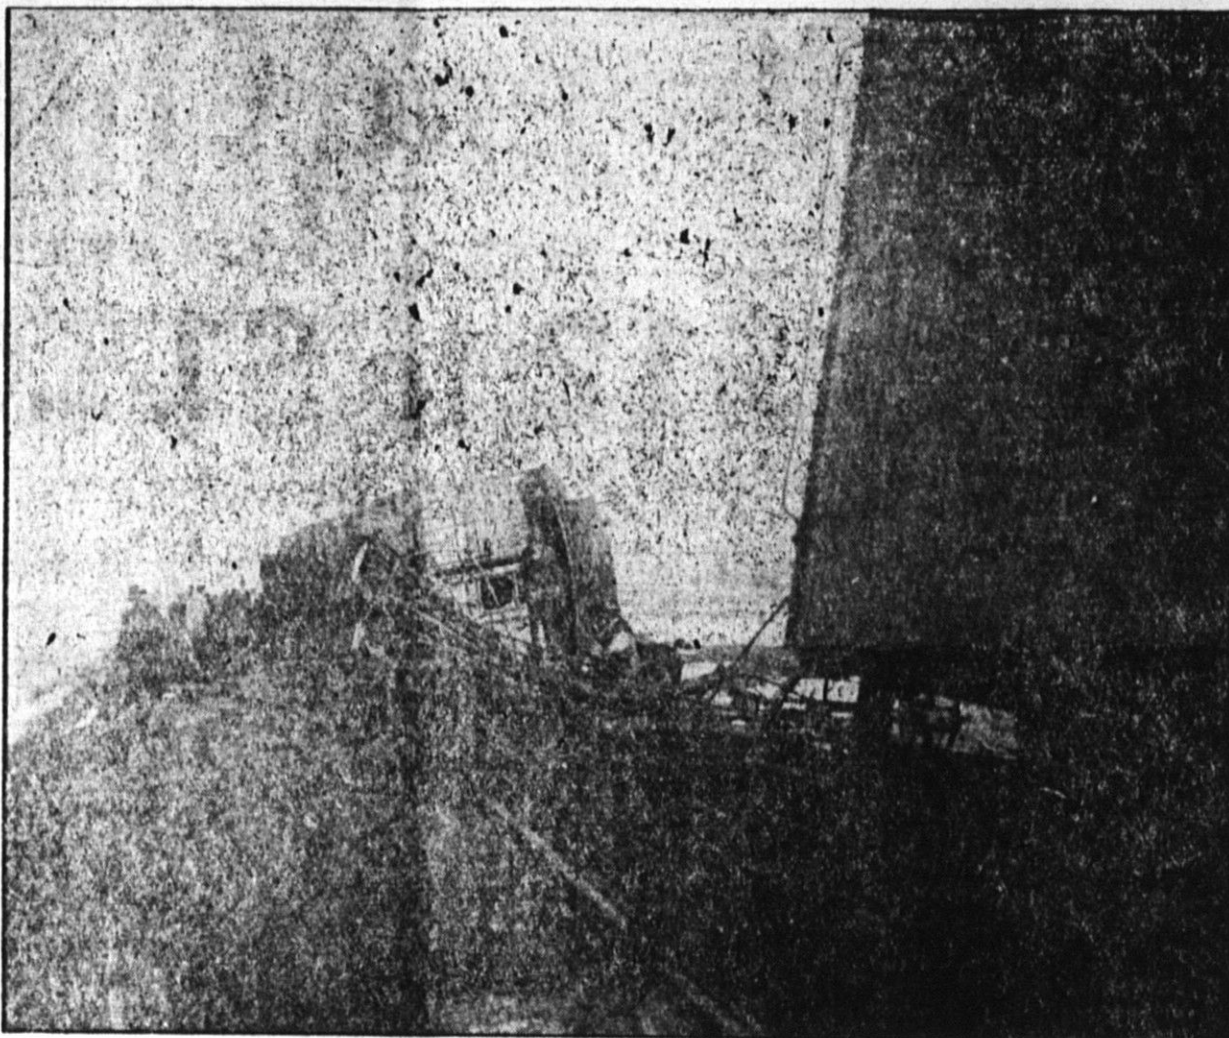

One refused to sign because she received some sour milk last summer. The man who made the complaint of course, did not sign, and three of his shopmates also refused to sign. The balance of the men at the factory were eager to sign.

I have the list of my customers above referred to in my possession. It is signed by many shop men and many of the most particular house wives of Holland and it is a great satisfaction to me to be able to thank them for the loyalty. "A good name is better than riches."

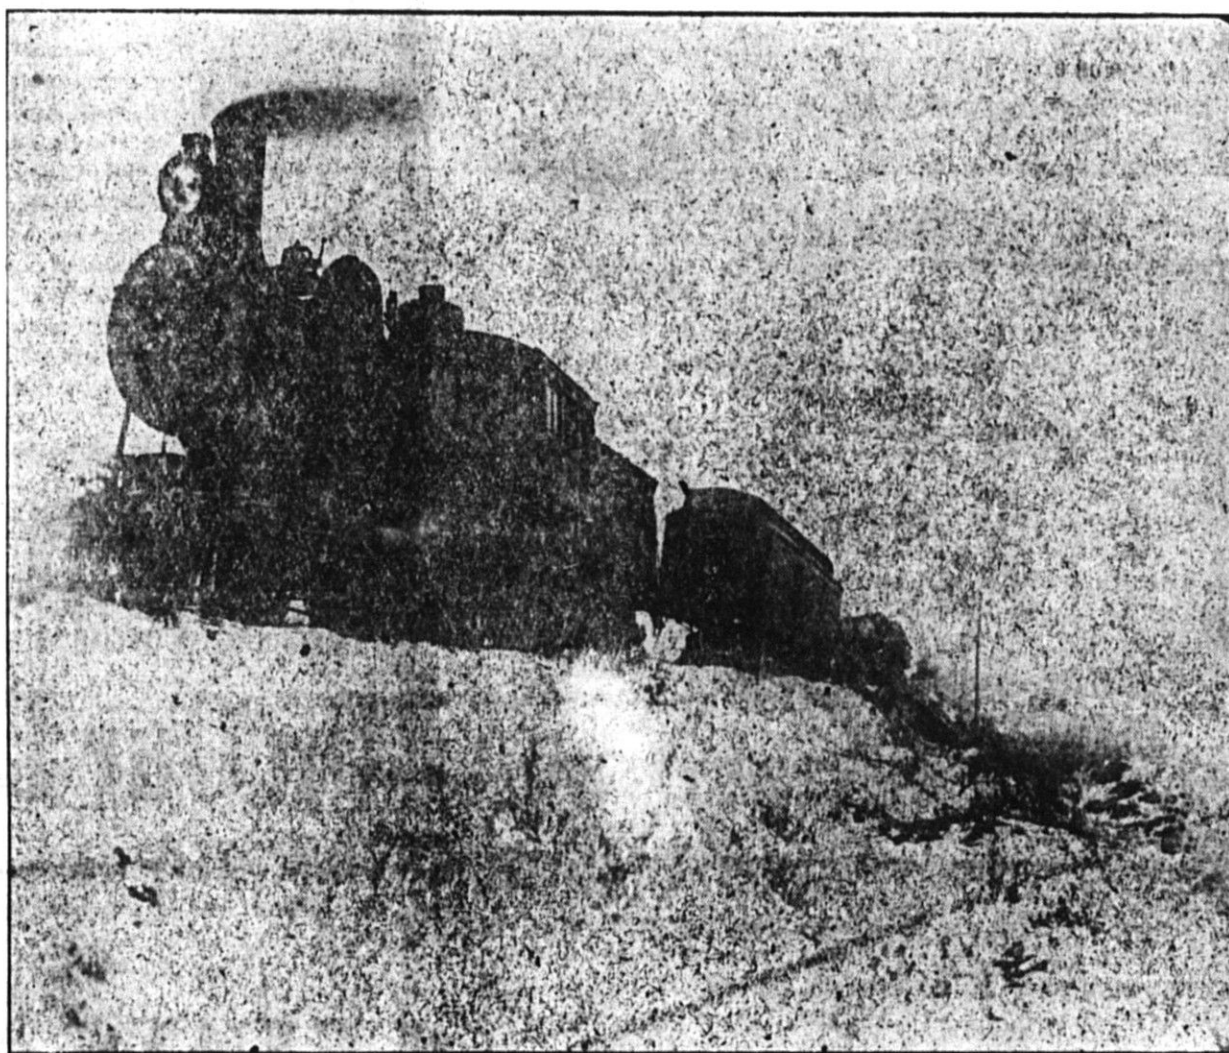

The people as a whole are always in favor of a square deal.

GERRIT OONK.

Serious Wreck on Allegan Division of Pere Marquette

The pile of twisted iron is all that is left of the wreck coaches that caught fire and was consumed.

The Embankment over which Coaches Rolled

SPREADING OF RAILS IS RESPONSIBLE FOR TRAIN ROLLING DOWN HIGH EMBANKMENT. NOT ONE OF THE TWENTY-TWO PASSENGERS ESCAPES INJURY THOUGH SOME ARE BUT SLIGHTLY WOUNDED.

Calvin Cummings and Mrs. John Aikenhead seriously, but not fatally injured and several others had to be taken to hospital for treatment.

One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Allegan branch of the Pere Marquette railroad occurred Tuesday night soon after six o'clock about three miles out of Holland when train No. 306 was derailed at the May station. The day coach rolled down a thirty-foot embankment, turning over twice; the baggage and mail car was thrown on its side, and only the engine remained on the track. There were twenty-two passengers on the train and of these two were very seriously injured, and all of the others received some injuries of a minor nature. The most seriously injured were:

Calvin Cummings, Cross Village, Emmet county, head badly cut and probably internally injured.

Mrs. John Aikenhead, Dunningville, head and arms badly burned.

A. B. Seery, Allegan, back badly wrecked.

George McPherson, Grand Rapids hands badly cut and back wrecked.

Harm Silkkers, Hamilton, head badly cut.

Others who were injured are: John Porter, Muskegon, leg badly injured. Charles Cook, Hudson, Mich. cut about the head and hands. H. F. Stretman, New York City, hands and arms cut; badly bruised. Thomas Cecil, Coldwater, Mich., hands cut and hip hurt.

Badly injured are Mrs. H. M. Mutchler, Allegan, badly bruised. Taken to Holland. Rose Cornemeyer, Hamilton, badly bruised. Taken to her home in automobile. Carrie Cronemeyer, Hamilton, badly bruised. John Bollinger, Holland U. S. mail clerk, badly bruised. Unidentified passenger, badly bruised. Taken to Holland.

The coaches were of the old style and oil lamps were used for lighting purposes. When the cars turned over they were filled with the oil from the broken lamps, and soon the wreckage was a mass of flames. After much effort the injured were taken from the burning coaches, but before Mrs. Aikenhead could be reached the flames had badly burned her, and these it is thought will cause her death.

Both the day coach and the baggage and mail car were destroyed by fire. A large amount of baggage and mail were burned.

Farmers living near the scene of the wreck telephoned to Holland for aid, and a special train was made up and left Holland about 7 o'clock. On board were Drs. A. Leenhouts, T. A. Boot, and J. J. Mersen, the latter the P. M. Surgeon.

The injured were carried to the homes of farmers near by and were given temporary attention by the three physicians. Another special train was made up, and the more seriously injured placed aboard in charge of Dr. Mersen and were brought to Grand Rapids where the train was met by Dr. Thompson and Dr. Catlin, two private ambulances and several cabs, and the victims taken to St. Mary's.

"Our train was late when we left Holland," said Charles Cook, one of the victims taken to Grand Rapids "and we were traveling at a high rate of speed when the accident happened. When the train left the track the engineer threw on the brakes and we traveled on the ties for more than 500 feet, when suddenly the cars lurched and turned over."

"I was riding in the rear coach and when the car turned over it did not stop rolling until we were at the bottom of the ditch. It must have turned over three or four times as the car turned over the lights went out and the oil from the lamps was thrown all over the car. Before anyone had a chance to get out of the car fire broke out.

"The excitement was intense. Every one was fighting to get out. Some of the men got out through the broken windows and then came back into the car and carried out those who could not walk.

"We found Mrs. Aikenhead in the front of the car. It was a wonder she was not burned to death before we got to her.

"Every passenger on the train was injured and it is a wonder we were not killed. When the train turned over I thought no one could escape alive.

John Hatch of Chicago, who escaped uninjured, and who went to Grand Rapids on the relief train said:

"That no one was killed I cannot understand. The train tore up the track for more than 500 feet, but remained upright until it had passed over a 40-ft bridge, which spans a gully nearly 30 feet deep. Had the cars turned over before reaching the bridge the loss of life would probably have been very large.

"As near as I could learn from an inspection of the train, the spikes which held the rails to the ties pulled out, letting the rail turn over. The engine held to the track and the tender and other three coaches left the track.

"Both the baggage and day coaches were in flames in a few minutes. By the light of the fire the rescue work was carried on and all of the injured were gotten out in time. They were taken to nearby farm houses and received the best of care. News of the wreck was received in Grand Rapids about 7:30 and the wrecking crew with Superintendent J. W. Mulhern aboard made a record run to Holland and then switched on to the Allegan division and went to the scene of the wreck. Superintendent Mulhern took personal charge of the situation and saw that everything possible was done for the comfort of the injured." About a year ago a similar wreck occurred within a short distance of the scene of Tuesday night's wreck. Spreading rails was also the cause of that wreck and many persons were injured.

H. F. Stratman, a traveling salesman for the Calhoun & Robbins Dry Goods company of New York City, suffered many bruises and cuts about his legs and back when the day car in which he was riding turned over twice. In addition to his injuries Stratman suffered the loss by fire of six large sample cases.

"I haven't a thing with me now but this little grip," said Stratman in describing his experiences in the wreck. "We must have been going about 35 miles an hour when the accident happened. I had just settled myself in a comfortable position when I realized by the bumping we were getting that we had jumped the rails. I grabbed the side of the seat and held tight until the coach had made one complete turn. On the second turn the seats came loose and when we had reached the bottom of the ditch I found the seats piled on top of men. I was badly dazed, but was quickly attempting to get to my feet when I heard the screams of a woman. I do not know her name, but she was an aged woman and was bleeding from ugly cuts about her head and had been severely burned about the face and hands. I broke one of the windows with my fist and with the help of another passenger we pulled her through to the ground. Immediately after the coach turned over it caught fire from the oil lamps. There was no way of extinguishing the flames and we stood there and watched our baggage burn. It seemed like hours before the surgeons arrived. The accident happened at 7 o'clock, and I judge we were three miles from Holland."

Rufus Curtis, a farmhand, whose home is at Monterey was cut about his legs and suffered bruises from the seats falling on him. He was en route to Grand Rapids looking for work. Curtis was riding in the back coach and crawled out through a window. His hands were lacerated by broken glass.

George McPherson, 925 Sigbee street, Grand Rapids, traveling salesman for the Ideal Clothing Co., sustained bruises and cuts and lost a sample trunk containing suits and invoices. McPherson was able to go home without any assistance.

John Porter, Jr., of Muskegon was another passenger bound for Allegan who received cuts and bruises. He came into Grand Rapids on the caboose which brought the other injured to the city.

Dr. Mersen who is attending the patients, says that they are all doing as well as can be expected and he thinks there will be no fatalities.

Union High Loses to Holland Eleven by 6-0 Score

CATHOLICS LOSE BY 19 TO 0 Both Grand Rapids Teams Put Up a Hard Fight—Union Outplays Holland in Three Quarters

Grand Rapids Union High's football team met a 6-0 defeat here Saturday at the hands of the local High school eleven. The locals, though outclassed in three of the four quarters and on the defensive in them, came back strong in the fourth, and Sirrine, intercepting a forward pass, ran 30 yards for the only touchdown of the game.

Union and Holland both played an aggressive game from the first second of play. Several times the Grand Rapids boys seemed about to ring up a touchdown, but when with in striking distance the necessary punch to get across the Holland goal was lacking.

Adrizzling rain fell during the entire performance and made excusable the several fumbles. Both Union and Holland attempted direct pass plays, but the slippery ball soon put them out of the question and the old-fashioned game was resorted to until the fourth quarter, when Union made its forward pass attempt, which spelled defeat.

Grand Rapids made a determined effort to knot the count and broke through the Holland line for big gains and several times worked the ball to the Holland five-yard line, there to lose it on downs. Sirrine Steketee and Ingham starred for Holland, while Duke and Brown did the best work for Grand Rapids.

The summary:
G. R. Union—Dunbrook, 1. e.; Gilson 1. t.; Dingler 1. g.; Anderson c.; Rindler g.; Blanford r. t.; Adrian r. e.; Brown g.; Hanish 1. h.; Duke r. h.; Knowlton f. b.

Holland—Steketee r. e.; Ingham r. t.; Douma r. g.; Bosman c.; Krulder 1. g.; Helfrick 1. t.; Huntley 1. e.; Irving g.; Whelan r. h.; Sirrine 1. h.; Haan f. b.

Subs: G. R. Union—Powers. Holland—Douma.

Rev. R. Pieters has so far recovered that he is expected to fill his pulpit tomorrow.

Mr. E. Vander Veen celebrated his silver wedding last Wednesday evening. The gift were many and beautiful and the number of invited guests, large.

Mr. Robert Mayhew, residing at "Bark Landing" (known to many as Pat Quigley's station) got his ankle dislocated and fractured while engaged in the logging business, on Tuesday evening last. Dr. F. S. Ledeboer was summoned in haste to relieve the poor sufferer.

The professor was expostulating with a student for his idleness, when the latter said: "It's of no use sir; I was cut out for a loafer." "Well," declared the professor, "whoever cut you out understood his business!"

The gravel with which Eighth Street is being covered is excellent and is being fast rolled down by the regular traffic of heavily laden wagons grain and produce.

When the street is entirely covered with such gravel it will become one of the finest streets in the State.

Mr. Jonkman is building a fine new residence on Tenth Street.

Messrs. Odell and Miller have returned from their hunt up north, and succeeded in getting only one deer. Their story corroborates the general report that game is quite scarce up north this fall.

Two parties of medical students in Vermont, went out after the same corpse. The first to arrive on the grounds, ambushed themselves and let the second party exhume the corpse, then rushed upon them with wild shouts of "Body snatchers!" and "Arrest them!" and when their rivals had fled, carried off the corpse delicat at their leisure.

The city of Grand Haven was visited by another fire last Monday night. The dwelling of Mr. George Harvey was destroyed.

The church and parsonage at Ebenzer which were burned down last summer have been rebuilt. The building committee have accepted the job and have given the contractor a certificate, or recommend, for the faithful and efficient manner in which he performed the work.

BURGLARS SECURE MUCH SILVERWARE AND JEWELRY AND MAKE GOOD THEIR ESCAPE

THE HOMES ENTERED ARE THOSE OF ARTHUR VISSCHER, PROF. WYNAND WICHERS AND W. J. GARROD

Were Scared Away at Latter's Place But Make Big Haul at Both of the Other Places; Believed to Be Connected With the Thompson Case.

The home of Prof. Wynand Wichers and Arthur Visschers were looted of silverware Sunday at about 8 o'clock by burglars, and the jimmy men were scared away from the home of W. J. Garrod before they had taken anything. No clue has been left the police and it is thought that the men got out of the city on a train Sunday night after doing the jobs. About $60 worth of silver was taken from the home of Mr. Wichers, 89 West Twelfth street.

It is not yet known how much was taken at the Vischer home.

A great deal of silverware, however is gone. Mr. Garrod returning home about 8 o'clock discovered his house locked and was not able to get in. When he finally did get in he discovered that his house had been broken into but that the robbers had made their get away thru a rear window when he was trying to get in. Entrance was gained to his home through a window. At the home of Mr. Visscher, the men prried open the front door with a jimmy and left the same way. At Mr. Wicher's home they opened the front door with a key. At both Wicher's and Visscher's the houses were looted from the cellar to the garret but only the most valuable articles and those easiest to carry were taken, such as silverware and jewelry.

The police were notified and patrolmen were placed at many places in the city but no trace of the burglars was found. It is alleged that shortly after eight o'clock two men bought tickets at the Interurban office for Grand Rapids, but that they returned the tickets saying they had changed their minds. It is thought that they got away on the train although the trains were closely watched.

The window of the First State bank was found open by Officer Steketee about 10 o'clock. The light was out over the safe. He crawled in and investigated but discovered no signs of robbery.

Thursday night of last week a similar job was pulled off in Kalamazoo when the drug store of W. C. Wheelock, 324 N. Rose St., was entered and several valuable watches and other things stolen. Friday night Muskegon reports a robbery of the same nature. There the home of Mont Streng, 166 Terrace street, was broken into and silverware and jewelry stolen.

The robbers seem to be bold. According to the story told the police by Mr. Garrod, they entered the house and after pulling down all the curtains and locking the doors they went to work to loot the house. At Wicher's home even the mattress was thrown back. Every room had been entered. Mr. Wicher discovered his loss when he returned home shortly after 9 o'clock.

B. D. Keppel was at Visscher's home about 7 o'clock to start a fire in the furnace. He returned about 9 o'clock to see how the fire was, and discovered that the house had been looted.

It is thought by some that this band of robbers is in some way connected with the Thomson murder case in Grand Rapids. The theory is that when Blackburn is placed on trial his dwindling fund of $1,000 will be replenished by loans from his friends; and it is believed that these friends are taking the money from Michigan homes in the vicinity of Grand Rapids.

The following articles were taken from Wicher's home; one half dozen silver orange spoons; 6 silver dessert spoons; 4 silver tea spoons; sugar shell; butter knife; berry knife; berry spoon; meat fork; Holland Souvenir spoon; silver handled tooth brush; gold stick pin with initial "W"; pearl ring; Ladies' gold watch and fob with initials "A. D. P."; watch was Waltham works, No. of case 7058703, number of watch works 10858622.

STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE AT MACATAWA PARK DURING NIGHT.

Launches Sunk, Track Washed Away Trees Blown Down and Telephones Out of Business

The terrific gale that swept over Lake Michigan Saturday, Sunday and Monday found the steamer Puritan safe in the harbor here, and that vessel did not venture out until Tuesday when the weather had changed considerably. All along the lake ports the boats were warned in advance and few were caught in the storm. The storm was the most severe that has swept over Lake Michigan in many years.

In Holland many beautiful maple trees suffered. In many parts of the city large limbs were torn off the trees and in some instances large maples were snapped clear off a few feet above the ground.

The storm that limited itself to blowing down trees in this city, created great havoc at Macatawa Park. The excursion boat, "D. P. Perry" was torn from its moorings and cast high up on the beach nearly on the interurban tracks. It will be a big job getting the large steamer back in place for winter quarters, although not much damage has been done to it. Two smaller launches were sunk, one in the row of boat houses along the tracks and one near the Graham & Morton dock. A large number of people from this city hastened to the park Monday morning to look after their boats and to see what damage had been done.

The waves tore out part of the interurban tracks just on this side of the loop at Macatawa so that the cars could not round the loop but were compelled to back up. The waves were higher than they have been for a long time. They washed completely over the piers so that most of the time the breakwater could not be seen at all. The dredge "General Meade" was safe in the harbor an anchor having made this port just before the storm began on Saturday.

The telephone companies suffered greatly by the storm. About thirty poles of the Citizen's company blew down between Holland and the park and the Bell system was also badly crippled by the wind so that all communication between the resorts and this city was cut off. In the city also wires were blown down and there was considerable trouble but a large force of men was put on the job immediately to repair the damage.

At Grand Haven Sunday at noon the wind began blowing from the northwest shortly after noon and soon attained a speed of 39 miles an hour. At 6 o'clock the wind was making 48 miles and at 9 o'clock was sweeping the city at a speed of 55 miles. Trees were blown down about the resort city and signs came tumbling from their fastenings, many being carried several blocks. The streets were deserted because of the high wind.

At Ludington, the Missouri had been tied up since Saturday morning and was unable to proceed north to her regular ports. The two large P. M. car ferries were also waiting for the wind to subside before they proceeded to the other side. The gale at Ludington, the life station reported Sunday night, to be the worst in the history of the station. No wrecks have been seen.

At Muskegon the gale reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour and the snow accompanying made it the worst early blizzard in years. Several store fronts were blown in last night, signs were wrecked and other minor damage was done.

Dispatching was interfered with to a great extent on the G. R. & I. division north to Cadillac by a ware house roof which was blown off at Morley and crashed into the wires and poles. Trains, however, were not greatly delayed. The ferry left St. Ignace Sunday night at 9:45 for Mackinaw City to make the G. R. & I. connection but up to a late hour had not been reported on this side.

MRS. MARTIN KLEINE PASSED AWAY AT AGE OF TWENTY-NINE YEARS.

Mrs. Martin Kleene, aged 29, died early Friday morning at her home on W. 21st St., near Ottawa Avenue. She is survived by a husband and two small children, besides her mother, Mrs. Jager of East Saugatuck. Funeral was held Monday afternoon at one o'clock from the home and two o'clock from the Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church.

HOLLAND'S OLDEST SETTLER

John Grootenhuis, 167 College Avenue, who is claimed to be Holland's oldest settler, can now lay greater claim to this title than ever, as he has just found out that he is one year older than he thought he was. In some way or other, Mr. Grootenhuis was cheated out of a birthday somewhere between the ages of five and 72.

It is hard to accuse one of not knowing his own age, but when Mr. Grootenhuis's case for an increase of pension came up a short time ago the authorities demanded proof that he was 71 years of age as he claimed he was. John searched about among his papers and documents but could find nothing that would prove his age. But he was not to outwitted in this way. He explained his difficulty to Consul J. Steketee in Grand Rapids and the consul wrote to Ommen, the Netherlands, where Mr. Grootenhuis was born. Reply has just come from the Netherlands that Mr. Grootenhuis is 72 years old instead of 71. Although Mr. Grootenhuis could not prove he was 71, he now has proof that he is 72.

Mr. Grootenhuis came to this country on the same ship with Van Raalte in 1846. Since then he has taken an active part in the building up of this city and claims the distinction of being one of the surveyors who laid out the plan of the city streets. He has taken part in many city functions in honor of his position in the community, and when the city hall was built he wielded the official tool and laid the cornerstone.

THE REV. H. J. VELDMAN MAKE AUDIENCE SEE WHAT HE SAW.

Describe the Customs of the Country and Tells of His Experiences.

Friday the Parents/Teacher of the Maple Grove school had the pleasure of hearing the Rev. Veldman speak of his trip to the Netherlands and of his work as pastor of the English church at Hague, during the summer months. Graphically did he describe the country, the cities and the people that unconsciously the attentioners were real tourists to the so dear to the hearts of Hollanders.

It seemed that they actually tickets, boarded the ship and experienced a real sea voyage. For travel was spent in the comfortable compartment car and on the boats.

They entered the city of the Hague they realized that the task for just what they wanted pass out. Only in the one big department store did they really shop as they do in America, spend the whole day looking for and pricing goods and finally buy a postal card, or nothing at all.

The high cost of living made the listeners feel at home.

The churches are large and the membership numbered by thousands. The organists and in fact all musicians are thoroughly musical. Much could be said of the artists and art galleries. Mr. Veldman was fortunate in seeing the Queen and her mother, the Peace Palace and the steel king, Andrew Carnegie. Many beautiful pictures of the Hague and its attractive and historical buildings were viewed by the audience.

The social committee reported many calls made, sewing done and solicited helpers in this Mercy and Help department.

The program committee reported that the Maple Grove orchestra would be ready to play at the next meeting.

Violin solos were given by Garrit De Weerd and Edward Wolfert.

These and the duet for cornet and violin played by Mr. Strenburg and Mrs. Gowdy received hearty applause.

The opening song was furnished by pupils from Miss Ewald's room.

GAME LAW IS PUZZLE TO AGED GENESEE INDIAN

Trapper Gains Freedom on Plea of Traditional Rights to Hunt

Flint, Mich., November 12.—Pleading ignorance of the state game law, contending that according to the traditions handed down by his ancestors he had a right to hunt on the land which the white men bought, Charles Fisher, an aged Indian secured his release on suspended sentence in Justice Halsey's court when he pleaded guilty to having 179 muskrat and five racoon skins that had been trapped out of season. County Game Warden Ross, on learning that trapping and fishing was Fisher's only means of income, asked the court to be lenient.

SHE'S A BIRD

Figures just published by the department of commerce, show that during the fiscal year 1913, the United States exported over 21,000,000 dozen of eggs against 1,500,000 exports included 20,409,390 dozen of whole eggs, valued at $4,391,663 and of $67,854 worth of yolks and canned eggs, making a total of over a quarter of a billion eggs exported during the year.

The Great American Hen still receives a little assistance from the outside but comparatively little. We imported during the fiscal year 1913, whole eggs, 1,271,756 dozen; yolks, 227,457 pounds, dried eggs, 20,284 pounds. The imports of 1892 were 4,000,000 dozen eggs. The American hen is certainly a bird.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS
DEDICATED CHURCH
SATURDAY

The Seventh Day Adventists have organized a congregation in this city and on Friday they held the dedication services in the church building they will occupy. The new congregation has secured the building at the corner of River Avenue and Third street formerly occupied by the Wesleyan Methodist congregation. This church has been put into good shape for the weekly services. Many local people donated toward the fund for redecoration of the church and the new congregation wishes to extend thanks for these gifts.

The Sabbath school was held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The morning worship was at 11 and the dedication services at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The congregation also held services on Sunday at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 7:30 in the evening.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES

When the Rev. A. J. Rus and family of Byron Center reached Holland Monday they were given a cordial reception in the parlors of the Prospect Holland Christian Reformed church of which Mr. Rus will be the new pastor. Nearly the entire congregation was on hand.

Hoekstra, a classmate of Mr. Rus in the Grand Rapids seminary, will preach the sermon and the Revs. R. L. Haan, E. J. Tuuk and W. D. VanderWerp will assist in the installation ceremonies. A reception will be given after the program.

The new pastor entered the ministry three years ago and the Byron Center church was his first charge. Mr. Rus preached his farewell sermon in Byron Center Sunday afternoon.

CONVERT COLLEGE BUILDING
INTO DELICATESSEN
SHOP.

The third floor of an Raalte hall at Hope college was Friday converted into a delicatessen shop by the young ladies of the Harmon society. The room was tastefully decorated with pennants and bunting and cozy corners made delightful places to linger. At small tables placed about the room one might be served a dainty lunch of delicious home made pie, sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee by winsome white-aproned waitresses. At one side of the room there was a long table bearing sweets such as would please the taste of the most exacting. Music was furnished during the evening by Misses Marie Dykstra, Margaret Jan Herder and Jeanet's Molder. The sale proved to be very popular and was well patronized by the members of the other societies.

FAIR DIRECTORS FRIDAY WERE UNANIMOUS IN THEIR CHOICE.

He Declines But Will Probably Be Forced to Accept.

It is very likely that E. P. Stephan will be the next secretary of the South Ottawa and West Allegan Fair association. This is likely in spite of the fact that Stephan has positively declined to be considered for the position. When the members of the association meet in December the chances are that they will force him to accept.

This fact was brought out Friday at the meeting of the directors. The present secretary, A. B. Bosman positively declared that he would not stand for re-election this year. Mr. Bosman has served the association for a number of years in that capacity, and when he took this position the question of a successor was brought up. The directors at the meeting were unanimous in their choice of Stephan but he declined to let his name be used.

But the sentiment for him is stronger now than ever in spite of the refusal, and many of those who attended the meeting Friday declare that he will be compelled to accept it. It is pointed out by them that Stephan has been largely instrumental in making the fair a success this year. He has done a good deal of hard work and has given it time and attention. Now they wish his services as secretary. Although the fair was a success this year, it is pointed out, that the association is not yet out of the woods and that it will take two or three more successful years to put the organization entirely on its feet. For that reason the directors to a man want Stephan to take the secretaryship, to help keep up the enthusiasm and to pave the way for a more substantial foundation for the association. It was through him largely that Mr. Getz was interested in the Holland fair, and there are said to be prospects to interest others who can materially help the movement along.

R. A. HYMA DEAD IN WISCONSIN
AT THE AGE OF 67
YEARS.

The following concerning the death of a former Holland resident clipped from the Advocate published at Minong, Wis., will be of interest to our older citizens and oldtime associates of the deceased.

"R. A. Hyma, aged 67 years, 2 months and 10 days, one of Washburn county's most prominent citizens, died at his home in the town of Chicago from heart failure, Wednesday evening, October 22, at 11 o'clock. He was born in the Netherlands, August 12, 1846, and came to the United States and settled at Zeeland, Mich., where his father was one of the earliest settlers.

"Practically all of his early life was spent in Ottawa county, where he attended school and college, later teaching school in the same county for over 20 years.

"He came to Washburn county in 1900 and took up a homestead in the town of Chicago. During his residence in Washburn county Mr. Hyma was for several years chairman of his town and was a prominent member of the county board, always taking a prominent part in its proceedings. He leaves many warm friends throughout the county who will be pained to learn of his sudden death.

"The funeral was held at Minong Sunday at 1 p. m.

"The advocate joins his many friends in extending condolence to the bereaved relatives."

DIRECTORS MET FRIDAY AT HOME OF SECRETARY
BOSMAN.

Outline Plans for Business Session In December; Well Pleased With Prospect.

A meeting of the directors of the South Ottawa and West Allegan Fair association was held Friday afternoon at the home of Secretary A. B. Bosman. Nearly all the directors were present and they enjoyed a pleasant social time. Refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Bosman showed a warmth of hospitality that caused the guests to give them a vote of thanks. The meeting was largely for the purpose of making preparations for the annual meeting to be held the first Tuesday in December at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the city hall. There was much enthusiasm shown by the directors in regard to the fair just past and in regard to the prospects of the future.

It is perhaps not generally understood that all who have had exhibits at the fair are entitled to vote at the annual meeting. All such are members of the fair association and they have as many rights as any one there. They are all urged to be present at the annual meeting this year to take part in the deliberation and to prepare for the coming year. Those who did not exhibit but who would like to become members of the association can do so by paying the fee of one dollar. This will also entitle them to exhibit the coming year.

A campaign for a larger membership to create greater interest in the ship will be launched between now and the annual meeting. An endeavor will be made to secure a large number of members among the businessmen and farmers in the fair and in the work it is doing for this community.

Another question that will be taken up at the annual meeting is the advisability of increasing the number of directors by three or four. All the retiring directors are from the rural districts. It is very essential that these districts should be continued to be represented. But it is considered essential that the city should be more prominently represented than it is now. Hence the question of whether it will be advisable to add some directors, choosing them from the businessmen, will come up. The retiring directors are I. H. Boone, H. E. Van Kampen, J. W. Vanden Berg, H. Bouys, G. J. Deur, Arthur Wiggers, Henry Koolker and C. Andre.

Friday the directors also decided that it was necessary revise the constitution and bylaws and a committee for this purpose was appointed. E. P. Stephan is the chairman of this committee and the other member are Dr. J. W. Vanden Berg and Henry Koolker.

HENRY JACOBS IS AWARDED FIRST PLACE AT COLUMBUS OHIO TUESDAY NIGHT DELIVERED RINGING ADDRESS ON "THE DECREE OF THE CENTURY" WINNING OVER PICKED MEN FROM OTHER COLLEGES

Was Representative of Hope College
Not Only But Won the Laurels for The Whole State of Michigan

Another laurel was added to the crown of old Hope Tuesday when Henry C. Jacobs took first place in the Eastern Inter-State Oratorical contest at Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Jacobs was not only representing Hope college but was also Michigan's representative against eight other states. The other states were Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Virginia, Indiana, and Illinois. The representatives from New York, C. A. Moore of Syracuse University, Ohio, B. J. Bruner of Hiram College; and Florida, H. G. Jones of Stetson University were snowbound and failed to arrive altho

The contest was delayed more than an hour to await them. So it was in the face of the opposition of the picked men from five other states, that Jacobs was awarded first place. The contest was an excellent one and very close. The other contestants were chosen in the same way Mr. Jacobs was, first winning out in their respective colleges and their capturing first place in their intercollegiate contests in their own states as Mr. Jacobs did at Albion last spring. Several times during the delivery of the oration at Columbus, Mr. Jacobs was interrupted by the applause of the audience. The contest was held in Convention Hall, a building seating five thousand and which was taxed to its utmost capacity by the delegates of the National Anti-Saloon League Convention which is being held there this week.

Second place in this contest was post-graduate of Evanston University and now working for his Ph. D. in the Garrett Biblical Institute of Evanston, Ill. The hundred dollar prize in this contest is divided between the two first places, giving them $75 and $25 respectively. Mr. Jacobs by winning this contest becomes the representative of the Eastern Inter-Collegiate Prohibition association in the National Oratorical contest, which will be held at Washington, D. C., in the latter part of June next. In this contest will be six speakers representing the various sections of the Inter-Collegiate Prohibition league all over this country. The prize in the National Contest is $500.

Mr. Jacobs is a native of Alton, Iowa, and a member of the Senior class at Hope College. This is the first year that Hope has been represented in Prohibition contests and has completely won everything in sight. The cry now is "On to Washington." There was a big demonstration on the part of the students yesterday at Chapel when the news of the victory was announced but the students say this was no sample of the reception which will be accorded the victor when he returns to the city the latter part of the week. What the faculty will contribute is not as yet known. The studentry is hoping for a day off in which fittingly to celebrate the honor which has come to Hope.

WORK AT ZEELAND—THREE COUPLES VICTIMS

Dan Cupid must have had a strenuous bit of target practice before he aimed his arrow at Zeeland. In a single shot he strung six hearts on the shaft, and then, with a sly wink, darted away to let the pastors finish the job. It was completed this afternoon.

The victims of this classy shot are: Jacob Geerlings and Ada Zwagerman, married by Rev. Drukker; Frank Ozinga and Martha Vredevelde, married by Rev. Smutter and Henry H. Goodyk, Jr., and Susan Blamokamp, married by Rev. Krohne.

Mr. and Mrs. Geerlings will locate on a farm two and a half miles north of Zeeland. Mr. and Mrs. Ozinga will live on West Central Avenue here, and Mr. and Mrs. Goodyk, Jr., will live on the groom's farm, two miles north of Borculo.

The Newton entertainment bureau of Baltimore, Md., will give its famous mock trial in Grand Haven November 20, under the auspices of the Men's club of the Methodist church. C. W. Newton always acts as prosecuting attorney and manager of the production, but the rest of the cast will be made up of local talent.

Judge Orien S. Cross has signified his willingness to act as judge, and the other members of the court will include County Clerk Glerum, Court Officer Vander Noost, with the sheriff and local police force acting in various capacities.

The mock trial has been participated in by such men as Alton B. Parker of New York city, Judge Pheasant of Detroit when the K. of C. of the Michigan metropolis staged it, with Mayor Thompson and many other prominent officials in the cast of characters.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. LOST CAMP EQUIPMENT

The plans of Austin Harrington and others who left for a hunting trip in the northern peninsula were suddenly interrupted on the start when it was learned that their camping outfit had got lost on the way. Several of the party left about a week ago to prepare the camp, consisting of two tents and all the equipment that go with them. All this was shipped more than two weeks ago so that there might be no delay. Saturday Mr. Harrington received a telegram from one of the advance men to the effect that the goods had been traced as far as Manitowoc but that there they had been lost sight of.

FIRST MEETING HELD SATURDAY WITH MISS VEN NEMA IN CHARGE

Two Sessions to Be Held Each Saturday, One Beginning at 10 and One at 10:30

Saturday forenoon the Saturday morning story hour exercises, conducted under the auspices of the public library, will be resumed. The meeting tomorrow will be conducted by Miss Florence Vennema. It will be held in the board of trade room in the city hall, the council having granted the library board permission to use this room for this purpose each Saturday.

The children's story hour proved immensely popular last year when they were occasionally held whenever story tellers could be secured. So popular were they with the little folks that it was decided to conduct a story hour each week this year. The time is from ten to eleven in the forenoon, but there will be two sessions so that the youngsters can come either at ten or at 10:30. 50 children can be accommodated at a time. At the exercises the world's great stories will be told to the children. It is a legitimate and important extension of library work, on the principle that it is the function of a library to bring the books to the people, as much as possible. The library in this way is laying the foundation for a more cultivated taste in literature which will later on guide the boys and girls in the selection of their reading matter and in the broadening of their cultured life.

The teachers of the public schools have offered to do the work of story telling free of charge, and a schedule of meetings and their conductors has been made out.

In making arrangements for the year's course of story hours, Miss Bessie Crowfoot of the public schools has been of great help to the librarian, Miss Kanter. Miss Crowfoot has put in a great deal of work arranging the schedule and preparing for the year's work.

It is likely that all the work this year will be done by local people, while last year there were some outsiders on the program.

Mayor Bosch has appointed two special committees to take charge of the petitions in regard to the gas question brought up at the last meeting of the council. One committee is composed of Aldermen Hansen, Congleton and Drinkwater, and the other of Aldermen Prins, King and Drinkwater.

ANNUAL FEAST OF THE H. O. H. FRIDAY NIGHT WAS SPLENDID SUCCESS

Able Speakers Tell of the Dutch People and Their History; Was 6th Annual Banquet.

Nearly 250 strong, representing the sturdiest citizenship of Holland, the H. O. H. Friday night held their sixth annual banquet in the Lyceum Rink. It was an evening of unalloyed pleasure and the meeting was a revelation to some who had not kept in close touch with what this organization has been doing. The H. O. H. makes the proud claim that it is the strongest organization of its kind in the city and this can hardly be disputed when it is remembered that it has a membership of some 350, all enthusiastic and deeply interested in the work of the society.

The H. O. H. was organized six years ago under the leadership of former Mayor Henry Brussee, who also served as president for a number of years.

The members gathered in their own hall and marched two abreast to the banquet hall, the procession being about a block long. After the Rev. R. L. Haan had asked the blessing the large company sat down to the feast at tables that stretched along the length of the hall. The room was artistically decorated in red, white and blue, with large letters of "H. O. H., Concordia" over the stage. Lacey's orchestra furnished the music during the feast and they were repeatedly applauded. The menu was particularly appropriate, containing as it did a number of "dainty Dutch delicacies," such as Haagsche Beschuit, Komijne Kaas, Met Wurst, Sauer Kraut, Hollandische Honkkoek, etc., as well as the food usually encountered at a banquet. The catering was done by N. Hoffman of the Boston restaurant.

At the conclusion of the meal the company arose and sang with vim and enthusiasm the national hymn of the Netherlands, after which President William Lawrence made a few opening remarks. He referred to the fact that the society had been organized six years ago with fifty members, while at present it had a membership of some 350. Speaking of the future he said that the expectations of the society were expressed in its motto, "Voorwaarts Concordia". Mr. Lawrence introduced the toastmaster, Henry Geerlings, as the man who had and still has more positions of trust and usefulness than any other man in the city.

"It is an honor to be a Hollander and a descendant of a Hollander," said Mr. Geerlings in his introductory remarks. "The Netherlands has been an example for other lands. The Dutch love their fatherland, and we, their descendants also love the land of our fathers although we are citizens of a new country. The Dutch are a careful and frugal people and that is the reason why they have won out where others have failed. The Hollander moreover has respect for law and order. He is always ready to stand up for his country whether it is his native land or the land of his adoption. He is the best kind of immigrant that is coming to our shores. History has shown him to be a man of courage and persistence, who chopped close to the line with a perseverance that won the day and that put other nations to shame. For all these reasons we are proud of being Hollanders and have reason for thanksgiving on occasions of this kind."

Mr. Geerlings introduced the first speaker, Wm. O. Van Eyck, whose subject was "Het Nut Van Deze Organizatie in Onze Stad." Mr. Van Eyck went back into the records of the H. O. H. and showed by giving statistics of its growth what it has done for hundreds of families. The H. O. H. is a mutual aid society and it has during the past six years paid out thousands of dollars in sick benefits and death claims, thus helping stricken families to tide over the difficult periods when misfortune overtook them. The speaker told of the rapid growth in membership and the spirit of true helpfulness that has characterized the meetings. He referred to the fact, as an illustration of the work of the organization, that the H. O. H. was the first organization in Holland to subscribe to the fund for flood sufferers in Ohio last spring. In addition to definite financial aid the society aims to advance along all lines the interests of the Holland ers of this city and Mr. Van Eyck laid special stress on this clause in the constitution.

He closed with an eloquent plea for Americanization. "We are Hollanders," said the speaker, "but we are also Americans, and we must never forget that fact. We must guard against obstructing the natural course of American life by merely clinging to forms and customs. We must incorporate the spirit of the Netherlands in American life and so help to transform it and ennoble it."

Mr. Van Eyck made the suggestion that the society might, with this thought in mind, profitably change its name to something like "Knights of William the Silent."

One of the most magnificent addresses ever delivered in the Holland language in this city was that of H. Uden Masman, who followed Mr. Van Eyck on the program, and whose subject was "Voornaam Hollanders op Het Gebied Van Letterkunde." A splendid command of the beautiful language, a deep and intense sympathy with his theme, an earnestness that moved and thrilled the large audience again and again, a scholarly conception of his subject that gave his words the stamp of authority—all these marked the address of Mr. Masman.

"I might as well go and stand on the shores of Black Lake and attempt to drink the lake dry," he said "as to exhaust my subject. The field of Dutch literature is so wide that I can merely suggest a point here and there. When I remember that a country's literature reflects the characteristics of the people then my task becomes an absorbing one, because in this case the country is the country that I love."

Mr. Masman described in considerable detail three outstanding characteristics of the Dutch people and showed how they come out in the country's literature: Their love of freedom, their love of country, and their sociability. He described the Netherlands as the cradle of liberty of the modern world and named some of the parts of that country "who have made human freedom their theme. Some there were who sang the song of freedom almost exclusively, but throughout the literature of the Netherlands it is found as a favorite subject for poets."

In speaking of the Hollander's love of country Mr. Masman deprecated the custom of calling William the First, by the title of "William, the Silent." The great Dutch leader, said the speaker, had not been silent but had known how to speak forcefully and effectively whenever the occasion offered. He gave his all to his country—rank, position, wealth, all. And throughout the literature of the Netherlands runs a golden thread of the glorification of the love of country. But all this patriotism is crystallized in William, the First, the Father of his country.

The sociability of the Hollander is not so often thought of, but Mr. Masman convinced his audience that true sociability has its home in the Netherlands. With a knowledge of what he was speaking about that was convincing he told of gatherings of artists and poets and scholars, back in the fatherland; how their religious and social and political beliefs differed often, but how they met together as brothers, seeking with one purpose the advancement of the beauty of life and seeking it with a beautiful tolerance that might serve as an example for many others.

"We should think less of what separates us and more of what ties there really are that hold us together," said the speaker in conclusion earnestly. "Let there be differences; it would not be desirable not to have differences but let there be love in all things."

The Rev. M. Flipse spoke on "Voornaam Hollanders op Godsdiensgebied," and his address was interesting and inspiring. He referred to the Dutch people as essentially a religious people. "The literature of the Netherlands is permeated with the spirit of religion. And my subject is still more inexhaustible than that of Mr. Masman." He told of the steadfastness of the people, a national characteristic that is shown also in their religion. The long struggle against Spain exemplifies this. He cited Erasmus, as an example of great religious leaders in the Netherlands, calling Erasmus a man who gave the initial impulse to the Reformation in the Netherlands by writing satires on the practices that obtained in the Roman Catholic church, a church with which he never officially broke. Then he spoke of Armenius, and coming to the present day, of Dr. A. Kuyper, Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, the missionaries, Dr. John Otte, Dr. S. M. Zwemer, etc., all men who have advanced the world's religious thought.

The last speaker was G. Van Schelven, whose subject was "Herinneringen Uit Het Koloniale Leven."

Mr. Van Schelven is better versed on this subject than any other man in America and he gave an interesting account of some of the experiences here in the early days. Mr. Van Schelven during the past three years has been conducting a department in De Grondwet in which he is publishing documents bearing on the early history of the colony here, and in his address last night he avoided touching on what had already been printed. Most of the address was devoted to the relations between the Hollanders and the Indians. These relations were not always cordial, said the speaker, and there was sometimes a good deal of friction. There was no close sympathy between them and the Ottawas finally disinterred their dead from the Indian cemetery and left in a body for other camping grounds.

Mr. Van Schelven described the Indian chiefs who ruled over the nations here and told of their merits and their weaknesses. He told the story of the survey and the purchase of the land from the red men. His account of the appropriations for Holland harbor was an interesting one and was new to many of those who were present.

In the course of the evening a quartet rendered a number of songs and near midnight the meeting closed with the singing of "America."

SENTINEL MACHINE MAN HAS A NEW WAY OF CLEANING BRASS "MATS"

Will Be Of Interest to Operators the World Over; Does the Work in a Few Minutes

A. M. Galentine, linotype machine operator at the Sentinel, has made a discovery which will be of interest to all linotype operators in the world and which will make one of their tasks a great deal easier. Mr. Galentine has discovered a method of cleaning linotype "mats" by which a complete set can be cleaned in ten minutes which hitherto has taken about three hours. And moreover the work is done with less trouble than formerly.

Like all inventions worth while the new process is a very simple one and anyone can operate it. It merely consists of a solution in which the matrix are washed. After soaking them for ten minutes they are as bright and clean as though they had just come from the factory.

To those who are not acquainted with a linotype machine it might be explained that "mats" are the little brass plates that form the letters on the metal slugs. They have to stand a great deal of wear in the course of a day's work and they easily become dirty so they must be cleaned in order to make the letters clear and distinct and in order to keep the intricate machinery running smoothly. The cleaning process has always been an arduous one, but by the new method it is greatly simplified and can be done in a few minutes. The solution prepared by Mr. Galentine absolutely removes all dirt and it does not hurt the brass a particle.

What it will do for linotype mats it will do for all articles made of brass. Mr. Galentine has been experimenting with it and in all cases it has been found to work very satisfactorily.

W. C. T. U. AT FRIDAY'S MEETING BRINGS OUT INTERESTING POINTS

National Temperance Organization Has Entered Upon Its Fortieth Year of Work

At the meeting of the local branch of the W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon the subject, "What the World is Doing" was discussed. A great many interesting facts were brought out in the course of the program.

With the opening of the World's Christian Temperance Union Convention in Brooklyn and the celebration of the annual assembly at Ashbury Park, N. J., the W. C. T. U. inaugurates its fortieth year of public service for national reform.

The World convention, which opened in Brooklyn on October 23, was the greatest in the history of the Union. Women from all parts of America and delegates representing thirty foreign nations participated in the meetings. Lady Aurea Howard, daughter of the Countess of Carlisle and world's president presided at the gathering.

On the 29th the meetings of the National W. C. T. U. began in Ashbury Park. These sessions were devoted entirely to the interest of the temperance campaign in the United States.

The conventions celebrated the epoch-making event of 1873 when women in several Ohio towns under the inspiration of faith and prayer moved in concerted action against the saloon, which crystallized in the organization of Christian Women for the protection of the home, the abolition of the liquor traffic, and the triumph of Christ's Golden Rule in custom and in law.

Nine states entirely without saloons and two-thirds of the United States "dry" territory are the conditions which today cheer the earnest workers who have kept up the agitation for two-score years.

Through the efforts of White Ribboners' the white slave law has passed this year in Missouri; many victories for local option in Minnesota; in the District of Columbia, the dry zone is enlarging; in Iowa the drinking of intoxicants has been prohibited by law in State institutions; legislation gains have been greater in Oregon than at any time during the past twenty-five years; in South Dakota a law has been passed making the sale of liquor to minors unlawful even with the consent of parents or guardians, and another prohibits the location of a saloon within five miles of a dry town; resolutions for the appointment of commissions for the investigation of conditions responsible for the white slave traffic have been introduced in many states, including Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri, California, Iowa and Pennsylvania; in West Virginia, the latest dry state, a measure to enforce State-wide prohibition has been enacted. Michigan is the first state to offer a concurrent resolution requesting the United States Congress to pass an amendment to the Federal constitution forbidding the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage; the passage of the Kenyon-Webb law stopping interstate shipments of liquor to points where state laws prohibit its sale, is regarded as the greatest victory in recent years.

Another great source of rejoicing is the action of the Isthmian Canal Commission, which decided to issue no saloon licenses after July 1, 1913.

Forty-one departments of work are listed by the National W. C. T. U. and it has nearly three hundred thousand members now enrolled, with a strong foothold in every state and territory.

Among the most prominent measures advocated are the suppression of the white slave traffic; an anti-polygamy amendment to the United States constitution, the preservation of the gains already made in the form of Federal departmental rulings, the establishment of five-mile zones, and finally the enactment of national constitutional prohibition.

The local Union's "Annual Reception" will be held on Nov. 21. Contributions to the Thanksgiving gift for the Women's Home should be left with Mrs. J. C. Post.

GIVEN DUTCH LOVING CUP AND BAR PIN OVER 100 YEARS OLD

Genevieve Lucile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wise, celebrated her first birthday that time was presented with two very valuable and interesting presents by her grandmother, Mrs. H. Vander Warf.

The presents were a Dutch loving cup and an old fashioned solid gold bar pin, which have been passed down in her grandmother's family from generation to generation. They have been traced back over a hundred years but there track was lost of the cup and pin.

The pin is nearly an inch wide and is four and one half inches long.

CITY OFFICIALS BELIEVE GAS COMPANY HAS VIOLATED COURT INJUNCTION

Will Call Upon Judge Cross to Decide the Point Next Week.

That the fight between the city of Holland and the Holland City Gas company over the laying of mains to supply Zeeland is not yet over seems very certain. Wednesday night when the council met and when a proposal was made to the aldermen by the company it seemed as though the company had outmaneuvered the city and that Zeeland would be furnished with gas no matter what the aldermen might do or not do.

This idea was strengthened Friday when work on the digging of the trench on the private right of way from the gas plant to Fairbanks avenue was begun. The city officials did nothing to interrupt the work, as they could not do so since it was work done on private property. The company carefully refrained from breaking up any street without permission of the council.

Friday also they worked without interruption although Friday they crossed the streets. This was done by forcing pipes through under the streets by means of a "jack". In this way the pipes were laid without digging up the surface of the streets.

Nothing was done by the city to prevent this and the belief was general that the city had given up the fight and would let the company go to Zeeland. But this is not the case, according to some of the city officials who are interested in the gas fight. It is claimed by them that the street six feet down or ten feet down or any number of feet down is as much the street and hence the property of the city of Holland as the surface is. They make the claim that by forcing the pipes through the company was breaking up the street, although they are restrained from doing this by the injunction issued last summer by the Ottawa county circuit court. Nothing will be done immediately, but this week Judge Cross will be called upon to decide whether or not the forcing of the pipes through the street is a violation of the injunction. If he should rule that it is then very naturally the company will be compelled to take out the pipes again or the city will have the power to take them out.

The fight is being watched with interest not only by the contending officials but by the people as well.

City Attorney Van Duren has had an officer take all the names of those who were engaged on the job of forcing the pipes through, and all of them may be haled into court next week to answer the charge of contempt.

DID NOT SIGN IN GOOD FAITH

Many Do Not Care For Gas, Others Not Citizens of Holland

Ald. Van Drezer and Ald. King came forward with the charge Friday that many of those who signed the petition sent to the common council Wednesday night asking that the gas company be allowed to connect their home with gas did not do so in good faith. The petition had twenty-three signatures. In the document the following sentences are found: "We respectfully call the attention of the council to the fact that we, the undersigned, are all citizens of the city and taxpayers. We want gas badly and we have an opportunity to get it if the council grants permission."

The two aldermen mentioned above say that many of those who signed this petition could not have read the document they signed. They made a canvass of the names found on the petition. They saw about 15 of the 23, they say, and of these only two said that they wanted the gas. All the others were indifferent and did not expect to use it after it had been put into their homes. Some said they were willing to have it put into their homes, the aldermen charge, with the idea that the connection with the gas main would make their property more valuable and more saleable.

"The petition states that all the undersigned are citizens and taxpayers," said one of the aldermen. "We found that this is not the case. There are some on that petition who do not live in the city of Holland, but who are residents of Holland township. How they could conscientiously sign the petition is beyond me."

Mr. Van Drezer and Mr. King were not acting officially when they made the tour of inspection. They merely made the trip out of curiosity. A committee has been appointed by the mayor to look into the matter and this committee will go over the ground and make a formal report to the council.

COMMON COUNCIL

(Official)

Holland, Mich., Nov. 5, 1913.

The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Bosch, Alds. Van Drezer, Prins, Drinkwater, King, Dyke, Congleton, Hansen, Harrington, Sterenberg, Vander Hill, and the Clerk.

The minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved.

Petitions and Accounts

A. Postma requested permission to place building material in East 8th Street, adjacent to the De Pree Hardware Co.

Granted, subject to ordinance.

The Holland City Gas Company presented a sketch showing what they wish to do under their petitions of August and 20th, relative to the laying of extension in 6th and 20th, relative to the laying of extensions in 6th, 9th and 11th Streets and Fairbanks Avenue.

Referred to a special committee of three to be appointed by the Mayor, said committee to report on such to the Council at its next regular meeting.

The Clerk presented a communication from the Holland City Gas Company relative to an offer to sell gas to Blaine Gavett, the holder of a franchise in the Township of Holland, and in the City of Zeeland, under two propositions; one to deliver the gas to him at the city limits, and the other to deliver gas to him at their city limits, and the other to deliver gas to him at their plant. (for communication in full see Holland City News, Nov. 6, 1913.)

Holland, Mich., Nov. 5, 1913.

The Honorable, Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland, Michigan.

Gentlemen:—

As it is the desire of this company to be perfectly fair with the city, and as there has evidently been some misunderstanding as to the company's attitude in other matters for instance with reference to main extensions, we deem it proper and duly fair to the citizens of Holland to lay the following matters before you, for your consideration, so that there may be no misunderstanding now or at any future time.

As you are no doubt aware, this Company has an offer to sell gas to Blaine Gavett of Grand Rapids, who is holder of a franchise in the Township of Holland and the City of Zeeland. This Company has two propositions from Mr. Gavett; one is to deliver the gas to him at the city limits; the other is to deliver the gas to him at our plant. Mr. Gavett has secured a private right of way from the City limits to our plant, and now stands ready to run his gas main to us. However, we would much prefer to sell our gas to him at the city limits for the reason that this would enable us to supply a number of applicants in the city of Holland, and it would be a great help to our distribution system, equalizing our pressures, etc.

Should Mr. Gavett come to us over his private right of way, it would of course be impossible to furnish gas to any private consumer off this line of main, as this line would be the property of outside parties and not a part of the Holland City Gas Company's plant.

If the Council should see fit to grant us a permit to lay our gas main on Fairbanks Avenue, we would respectfully request prompt action in that regard, so that we may begin the work without delay.

If the Council should not be favorable to this plan, it will, of course, be necessary for us to sell gas to Mr. Gavett at our plant over his private right of way.

Yours very truly,

Holland City Gas Company,
E. P. Davis Manager.

Referred to the above mentioned special committee. The Holland City Gas Company made application to lay the following gas main and service pipes:

Gas main:—Commencing at the corner of Columbia Ave. and 20th Street, and extending East 150 feet.

Service pipes: Dr. Conkey's lot on 20th Street, Reformed church at the corner of Maple Avenue and 18th Street.

To Expose Gas Main: In front of 50 West 7th Street.

Granted.

Twenty-three residents in the vicinity of Fairbanks Avenue called to the attention of the Council, that the Holland City Gas Company has been requested to supply them with gas, that their petition conformed in every way to the gas franchise and should under the law be allowed by the Gas Company; that while the Council has granted other similar petitions presented later than theirs for services to consumers in other parts of the City, they had refused the Gas Company the right to give them services, (for communication in full see Holland City News, Nov. 6, 1913.)

Holland, Mich., Nov. 1, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland:

We, the undersigned, residents of the city of Holland on Fairbanks Avenue and East Eleventh and East Ninth Streets, in the vicinity of Fairbanks Avenue, respectfully call to the attention of your Honorable Body that the Holland City Gas Company has been requested to supply us with gas, and that our petitions conform in every way to the gas franchise and should under the law be allowed the Gas Company.

The Holland City Gas Company informs us that it has requested the Council for permission to give the service that a number of us have asked in conformance with the franchise, and that while the Council has granted other similar petitions presented later than ours, for the giving of service to consumers in other parts of the city, it has refused the Gas Company the right to give us our services.

We respectfully call the attention of the Council to the fact that we, the undersigned, are all citizens of the city and taxpayers. We want gas badly and we have an opportunity to get it if the Council grants permission. We are reliably informed that the Gas Company's request is lawful and within its legal rights. We believe in fairness and we would like to know why the Council is holding us up.

We have heard that some of the Aldermen have said that the reason for this, is, that the Gas Company wants to go to Zeeland, and that it is the desire of the Council to compel the Gas Company to live up to its franchise and give the city of Holland the extensions which it is legally entitled to before doing so.

We respectfully ask the Council if there is on record any instance in which the Holland City Gas Company has refused to grant extensions as provided in the franchise and in compliance with it? We know of no instance and believe there is none. Please look into this, and if we are asking for what is right and lawful, as we believe we are, kindly give it to us.

Referred to a Special committee of three to be appointed by the Mayor.

The Cappon, Bertsch Leather Company reported having installed a track scale on their premises, and petitioned the Council to confirm the appointment of Adrian Van Iwaarden and Jerry Dykstra as city weighing masters.

Confirmed.

Resolved, That Ordinance No. 211, entitled "An Ordinance Relative to Fire Department" Approved August 27, 1912, Ordinance No. 225, entitled "An Ordinance Establishing a Police Force and Prescribing and Defining Certain of the Powers and Duties Thereof," approved June 22, 1905; Ordinance No. 226, entitled "An Ordinance To Regulate the Speed and Operation of Motor Vehicles in the City of Holland," approved July 6, 1905; and Ordinance No. 277, entitled "An Ordinance to prohibit and prevent the carrying of concealed weapons except in certain specified cases when a license is issued therefor; and to prohibit the sale, keeping for sale, loaning or giving away of certain dangerous weapons," approved January 4, 1912, be and the same are hereby repealed.

The resignation reads as follows:

Holland, Mich., November 5, 1913.

To the Honorable the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland,

Gentlemen:

I hereby tender to your honorable body my resignation as Alderman of the Third Ward of the City of Holland, to take immediate effect.

I do so at this time, as I am leaving the city, to be gone most of the time during the next several months and I believe that it would be unfair to my ward and the city to continue in office, and not be able to be present and attend to the duties thereof.

I regret to be so placed that I must sever some of the pleasant associations that I have here made, and to thank those who have shown me many courtesies, while in office, and to assure them of my best wishes, and that I hope that the future may be filled with the greatest good to the city and its government.

Respectfully,
Frank Dyke Ald. 3rd Ward.
