MANY WITNESS DIEKEMA-STEKETEE WEDDING CEREMONY

With a most profuse setting of artistically arranged palms and ferns, colored here and there with gorgeous bouquets of orchid and yellow chrysanthemums, serving as a background, about four hundred guests gathered to witness the marriage ceremony of Miss Beatrice Steketee to Mr. Willis A. Diekema. Mr. Harris Meyer of Kalamazoo presided at the organ during the arrival of the guests, and Mr. Frank Kleinheksel of Flint, Michigan, sang "At Dawning," and "Bridal Dawn."

With the first strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride party entered. The ushers, Mr. Hale Sattley, Detroit, Mr. C. E. Kennedy, of Boston, Mr. Nathaniel Robbins Jr., Mr. Don Wurzburg of Grand Rapids, Mr. Wm. R. Buckley of Chicago and Patrick J. Buckley of Cleveland led the way and after taking their places at the altar, Miss Marian DeFree who acted as bridesmaid came, gowned in gold georgette, carrying a most attractive arm bouquet of opelia roses tied with orange tulle and silver. She was followed by the maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Steketee of Beloit, Wisconsin. She was charming in a gown of orchid georgette and lace with a silver head dress and arm bouquet of premiere roses and pink snapdragons held together with rose tulle and silver. Little Jack Lokker carried the ring on a white satin pillow while Mary Alcott Rodger of Chicago and Ellen Rhea of this city immediately preceded the bride whose gown was white crepe moire with a side panel of rhinestones. She was very beautiful in a veil of silk tulle and orange blossoms which was held in place by a coronet of rose point lace. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses, lilies of the valley, swansonia, Maidenhair fern and a cloud of tulle.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. George Steketee. The groom was attended by his best man, Mr. John Diekema of Chicago. Rev. P. P. Cheff read the marriage service and after the benediction the wedding party and guests adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Diekema, where the bride and groom received the congratulations of their many friends.

The home was beautifully decorated with southern smilax, banks of ferns and palms, candles and bouquets of chrysanthemums and roses. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rodger of Chicago acted as master and mistress of ceremonies during the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Diekema left for the east where they will spend a brief honeymoon after which they will be at home at 100 West Eleventh street. The bride wore a going-away gown of brown crepe, a brown coat trimmed with fox fur and a brown hat.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rodger, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rodger, Mr. A. P. Oggle, Mrs. Wm. Thornton, Miss Mary Thornton, Mr. Wm. R. Buckley, Mr. B. Perkins, Dr. G. E. SEVERAL PRE-NUPTIAL AFFAIRS GIVEN FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

A number of pre-nuptial affairs were given last week for Miss Beatrice Steketee who on Saturday night became the bride of Mr. Willis A. Diekema. Miss Marion DeFree gave a miscellaneous shower and luncheon, Mrs. Frank Whelan and Mrs. J. J. Riemersma a miscellaneous shower, Mrs. Edwin Moore a linen shower and luncheon, Mrs. G. J. Diekema a luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhea a surprise double linen handkerchief shower and dinner. Mrs. Edwin Moore gave a farewell dinner and Mr. Nathaniel Robbins entertained with a bachelors' dinner.

OLD ZEELAND LANDMARK TO BE USED AS A SCHOOL

One of the oldest, if not the oldest buildings in Zeeland was brought to the attention of the general public this week when work of fitting it up for school room purposes was begun. The building is in the east wing part of the old house recently sold by John Bookman, situated just east of the Second Reformed parsonage on East Central avenue. This part of the house was very probably built in 1845 and may have been built the previous year, 1847, the year when this original colony was founded by Rev. VanderMeulen. The building is of the log house type but the logs are all very evenly hewn so they are square, leaving an even surface on both the outside and inside of the building. On the outside the logs were covered with handmade siding while on the inside they were covered with handmatched flooring. All the finish lumber on the inside as well as outside are hand-planed.

The building is being fitted to accommodate the grade classes of the public schools which are now attending school only half days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dobbstein and daughter Margaret of Marshall motored to Holland and were the guests of friends here. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Ada Bannister who will make an extended visit in Marshall and Battle Creek.

The League for Service of the First Reformed church of Hamilton will give a program consisting of sacred readings and songs on Thursday evening Nov. 22, in the church auditorium. An offering for missions will be taken. Everybody welcome.

There has been a lusty fire in the swamp near Holland for the past day or two. The dead grass has been burning over but since there was nothing else than grass that could burn there was no danger.

EXHIBIT GIVEN BY BY ARMY FLYER FOR WILLIS DIEKEMA

Lieut. T. S. Van-Veghten of the 9th aero squadron, the company of which Willis A. Diekema was commander, gave probably the finest aeroplane exhibition Friday noon that has ever been seen by the people of Holland. Lieut. Van-Veghten Friday flew from Dayton, Ohio, to Grand Rapids to take part in a bachelor dinner that Mr. Diekema gave Friday night at the Fantland, and while on his way he gave an exhibition for the benefit of the people of Mr. Diekema's home city. He flew over Holland a number of times, circling about and making many dips and summersaults in the air that gave the people here a genuine thrill.

It was at the noon hour when many workmen were returning to their work and professional men were on their way to their offices. All stopped to look and many people came out of their homes to see the exhibition. The plane finally descended east of the city on a farm located on the way to the country club and a crowd of people soon collected.

It has been the habit of the 9th aero squadron, of which Mr. Diekema is commander, to hold a reunion once a year on Armistice day in New York city. But this year it was decided to combine the reunion with a bachelor dinner and that was held Thursday night. About twenty-five flyers who served along with the Holland man in France was present. Another bachelor dinner was given in honor of Mr. Diekema at the Holland Country club Saturday night. Mr. Van-Veghten is now a lieutenant in the air service of the United States army. He was formerly lieutenant of the 9th aero squadron of which Mr. Diekema was commander. He is now serving as a test pilot for the United States government. He made the journey from Dayton to Holland in two hours and 15 minutes. The plane in which he made the exhibition is the same in which he won the Liberty race in St. Louis at an average speed of 139 miles an hour.

SOLDIERS PLEASED WITH EXERCISES ON SUNDAY

One of the most satisfactory Armistice Day Sundays observed in Holland since the armistice was signed in 1918 was that of Sunday when the members of the Legion and the Auxiliary were the guests of the pastor and consistency of the 14th Street Christian Reformed church. Sunday was the first time that the anniversary of Armistice Day and Sunday came on the same day and that gave added significance to the occasion.

The members of the Legion and Auxiliary gathered at the city hall some time before the time set for the church services and fell into marching formation. They made an imposing procession, about one hundred being in the line of march. The men were not in uniform, it having become recognized as a custom that the uniform is not to be worn on Armistice Sunday but on Armistice Day, and since Monday is officially Armistice Day and the annual banquet is being held it is Monday that the uniform was in evidence.

The Legion and Auxiliary members completely filled the section of the pews reserved for them and there was still an overflow. All however were taken care of by the entertaining church. Every seat in the building was taken.

Rev. J. M. Vander Kleff preached an appropriate sermon, addressing his remarks directly to the members of the Legion. The Legion men were highly pleased both with the sermon and with the way in which the pastor and consistency of the church provided for their comfort.

The exercises were a fitting prelude to the banquet and Armistice Day program that was held on Monday evening.

STOCKHOLDERS TO DECIDE ABOUT REBUILDING RESORT HOTEL

Plans for rebuilding the Ottawa Beach hotel, destroyed by fire Tuesday night will be left to the stockholders at a meeting to be called in a short time, the board of directors decided Thursday.

Preliminary sketches for a 500-room modern resort hotel will be made prior to the meeting and these with the estimated cost, will be submitted at the meeting. No architect has been selected.

The cost of a structure which would adequately replace the hotel would be from $500,000 to $750,000 it was estimated Thursday. Fred Z. Pantlind, president; L. J. Montgomery of Battle Creek, vice president, and C. S. Richardson of Lansing, treasurer, visited the ruins last Wednesday afternoon.

PASTOR SURPRISED BY YOUNG PEOPLE OF HIS CHURCH

Rev. J. C. Schaap, pastor of the Prospect Park Christian Reformed church, was very happily surprised Thursday evening by the young people of his congregation. He was out on a house visitation call at the home of G. Lemmon when word came to him that some one wanted to see him at the church on urgent business. When he approached the church he heard the sound of "surprise" from many happy voices and he found the basement auditorium decorated with autumnal beauty. The young people were gathered in the auditorium in a large circle and their welcome to the pastor was most hearty and spontaneous.

Harry Mouw, on behalf of the young people, presented the pastor with a valuable gift as a token of appreciation of the work that he is doing for them. A program was given, refreshments were served, and a pleasant evening was spent.

Mrs. S. Hamlin accompanied by the Mesdames Edna Bertsch, Abbie King, Jessie Galentine and Grace Barnum drove to South Haven Wednesday and spent the day with Mrs. Luella White.

THE LEGION AND AUXILIARY JOIN IN FINE BANQUET

Several hundred members of the American Legion and the Woman's Auxiliary gathered in the Masonic Temple Monday night for their Armistice Day program. It was a happy event and good cheer reigned. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags and plants and Van Vyven's orchestra furnished the music. An impressive moment came when Legion men ushered in a few of the members of the G. A. R. Post. The whole audience arose to do silent homage to these veterans of a former war.

John B. Vander Ploeg, Legion Chaplain, pronounced the invocation. A delicious banquet was served to which all did justice. Toward the close of it John Van Vyven jazzed things up considerably by leading in singing.

The spirit of the occasion was running, ace-high when the toastmaster of the evening, Earnest Brooks, arose to introduce a symposium of speakers and entertainers such as will make the fifth anniversary a memorable one in the hearts of all legionaires. The speaker made mention of the fact that gathered with the ex-service men of the last world crisis where also those veterans of American freedom who served in the Spanish and Civil Wars.

Mrs. Eva Peigim, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, then spoke in behalf of the "Legion helpers", who are cooperating with the Legion, in promoting the worthy ideals and necessary duties which are still awaiting the pressure of American manhood and womanhood. The president of the youthful order after sketching the history and work of the organization, held out the grand objectives towards which the Auxiliary is working, and made an appeal to the legionaires to stand "flat-footed" for the enforcement of law and order, especially in regard to the 18th amendment, and to reach out toward true Americanism.

The Auxiliary membership is doing much by the way of service to ex-service men in hospitals, the speaker said, and especially is doing a remarkable work for the Battle Creek hospital, an institution for tuberculous men, the only one of its kind in the U. S., and hopes to attain many other things before they can expect to reach the goal.

Mr. Brooks spoke briefly concerning the legion of Holland. The legion program has as its objective, said the speaker, three aims, namely, Americanization, Legislation, and Hospitalization, and with these aims in view the local post is striving to help make the "American legion the best insurance policy the nation ever had."

The American legion quartette favored the audience with the old "familiar songs," corked up with a modern tonic that was refreshing from beginning to end. Mr. Van Vyven incidentally sat too close and next a quintette was lined in array—and legionaires are agreed that quintette it surely is.

After the presentation of medals and a loving cup, a new feature of Legion banquet programs, Arthur Smith and his banjo held the attention of the audience for some time. Rev. P. P. Cheff delivered the address of the evening. Legionaires are "men of destiny," he declared. "What the men have seen, and experienced upon the battle lines has wrought an inward change in them, which sends a 'wave' of crime, but a 'flood' of the nation is standing face to face with questions that are higher than law, and as victory in war, so also the pressure of our American legion must bring victory in the moral struggle."

A second ideal, "a world without war." There is not only the possibility but a certainty that such a time must come. Today civilization is standing upon the threshold of destruction, if war is to come back.

The next and greatest step toward the goal of legionaire ideals is a "united world." The barriers of the past are today but pathways of danger. The whole world is a neighborhood and changes are imminent and sure, whether we wish them or not, and necessity calls to true Americanism to work and hope for the better change. Why live and sacrifice for war, said Rev. Cheff, when we can do as much for peace and righteousness? "The day will come when the unborn generations will call you blessed."

SURPRISE IS PULLED ON FURNACE MAN A SECOND TIME

When some two years ago the friends of Andrew Klomparsen staged a surprise for him at his home he made the boast that they would never again be able to pull off such a stunt. He told them then that he was wise to their tactics now and that in the future, if they should ever try it again, he'd be ready for them.

They accepted the challenge and on Monday night they staged the complete surprise Klomparsen ever had. One of them sent in a call to Andrew to come and look at his furnace, which he pretended was no good and wasn't working. While Klomparsen was busy on that job, his friends sneaked into his fruit cellar. Arrived home, Klomparsen was told by his wife that a neighbor had brought him a fine present and that she had put it in the fruit cellar. All eagerness to see the prize in the cellar, Klomparsen took the steps down into the basement three at a time, and when he opened the fruit cellar door he was almost scared out of his wits by the cries of "Surprise" that came to him from the cavernous dark room.

It was a complete surprise. The evening was spent playing games and refreshments were served. Nine couples were present.

Mrs. A. Atman submitted to an operation at the Holland Hospital Thursday.

MRS. VAN DUREN IS HONORED WITH A LOVING CUP

The Willard G. Leenhouts Post of the American Legion made a happy new departure Monday evening at its banquet in the Masonic Temple by passing out three medals and a loving cup to persons who had done distinguished service for the cause of patriotism in Holland. The medals went to Dr. A. Leenhouts, Captain Henry Geerds and Dr. Wm. Westrate and the loving cup, a beautiful trophy of silver with an appropriate inscription, went to Mrs. G. J. Van Duren. The inscription reads as follows:

"Presented to Mrs. Katherine Van Duren, by the Willard G. Leenhouts Post of the American Legion in recognition of loyal and faithful service during and after the World War."

Captain Geerds of the National Guard opened this feature of the program when, with words of esteem and appreciation, he handed to Dr. A. Leenhouts, the first commander of the Post, a medal in remembrance of all that the doctor has meant to the post and still is to his comrades in the Legion. Adjutant General Den Herder in behalf of his fellow-comrades presented Comrade Geerds and Comrade (Dr.) Westrate with a medal for their loyal service.

Dr. Leenhouts then arose in behalf of the entire legion to pay homage and tribute to Mrs. Van Duren, one of Holland's noblest characters, a character in whose behalf the Legion has chosen to pause to honor for her "unselfish, whole-souled service and mother-heart in the last crisis,"—a character that embodied the message of cheer and still serves cheerfully and happily, and for the sake of "loyal and loving service" presented her with a beautiful loving cup. The entire audience rose to give Mrs. Van Duren a vote of thanks and honor, and she responded with a cheerfulness that made all the legionaires feel like one big family. "I hope to serve in the future as in the past," she remarked as she related the happy associations with the legion men in the past. Mrs. Van Duren cast a hopeful look into the future, when she suggested that a world of warriors had come back to unite in one family. "The legion boys are all in all to me," she added as she gracefully accepted the token of esteem.

CHAIRMEN ARE APPOINTED FOR RED CROSS DRIVE

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren, in general charge of the coming Red Cross drive in southern Ottawa, is laying the plans for that campaign and is getting her chairmen named in the various districts. Monday Mrs. Van Duren made a trip through several sections of the southern half of the county to form organizations for the roll call.

At Hudsonville Mrs. Chamberlain will serve as chairman of the local committee and Mrs. Sherwood as secretary and treasurer; at Jamestown

Mrs. Holleman chairman and Mrs. De Kleine secretary and treasurer; at Vriesland Mrs. De Jonge; at Zeeland, Jack Boonstra, with the American Legion making the canvass; at West Olive, Mrs. Dresser will be in charge; at Beechwood, Mrs. Edna Bertsch, chairman; at Lakewood Farm, Mr. Charles Jackson.

In Holland the American Legion will again have charge of the roll call. The members will make the canvass as usual in a systematic way, visiting the homes and giving all an opportunity to become members for the coming year.

Fifty copies of an appeal to the churchgoers of southern Ottawa will be mailed to the pastors in the various churches. They will be asked to read this appeal from their pulpits on Red Cross Sunday, which this year will be on the anniversary of Armistice Day, namely on Nov. 11. There is probably more interest in the Red Cross campaign this year in church circles than in usually the case because of the direct help that was given by the Red Cross in Japan where the churches were deeply interested in missionary endeavor.

Posters calling attention to the coming roll call were distributed about the city by Mrs. Van Duren Tuesday. The roll call will open on Monday, November 12, and will close on Thanksgiving day.

MAYOR URGES ALL TO ENROLL IN RED CROSS

Mayor E. P. Stephan Friday issued the following Red Cross Roll Call Proclamation:

Proclamation
Fully appreciating the liberality of our people to all charities, I do not believe that it is necessary to urge them to contribute to any charitable cause, but I do not feel that I would be doing my full duty if I didn't call the attention of the citizens to the coming seventh annual roll call of the American Red Cross. This organization is supported and enabled to carry on its international relief work almost entirely from its membership dues. It is ever prompt in heeding the call of distress and need and is ready and prepared to lend aid and assistance before the people at large realize the need. This was most forcibly demonstrated in the recent Japanese disaster, as well as the disaster at Berkeley, California. Were it not for the liberal response of the American people in its membership in the organization this work would soon be impossible, and the most charitable and efficient organization in the world would pass out of the active charitable field. Holland has been one of the strong Red Cross cities in this part of the country, since its organization here in 1917, and as our quota of members for this year is 2500, I sincerely hope and trust that all persons in the city over 21 years of age will endeavor to enroll themselves as members of the American Red Cross, in the 7th roll call membership drive, so that we will be doing our part in the work of the Red Cross, and also maintain our position as one of the banner Red Cross communities in this part of the country.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lugten, River avenue, a daughter.

Waving his hand, palm-upward, after the manner of his race, and smiling one of those smiles that can so easily be increased or decreased to suit the occasion, the Jew storekeeper was describing the merits of a heating stove. "Yah," he he said, "It will save half your coal."

"It will, will it!" said the Irishman. "I'll take two, and save it ahl."

John Southard, 23, fell into a corn husker on his father's farm, seven miles southwest of Allegan late Monday afternoon. His right leg was mangled and later amputated above the knee. The left foot also was mangled and he suffered a fracture of the left limb. Southard was doing repair work on top of the machine when he fell in. He was married a short time ago.

Allegan, Michigan, Nov. 13—Carl and Martha Binder, formerly of Chicago, recovered in the circuit court $900 from the ruins of their dream of independence on a Michigan fruit farm. Two years ago they invested $8000 from their savings of a lifetime, in a Ganage township fruit farm giving a mortgage for the remaining payments. They sued the dealers who completed the transaction for $5,000, the purchase price, claiming the quality of the soil was misrepresented to them. A jury which visited the farm found it unproductive.

Herman Miller, manager of the Colonial Mfg. Co., of Zeeland, was arraigned in the court of Justice Huxtable of that city Friday on the charge of killing a dog belonging to Herman Cook. The complaint was brought by Cook. Miller pleaded not guilty and will stand trial, the date of which has not been set.

According to the information brot out in the examination, little 8-year-old Donald De Free, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick De Free of Zeeland, was bitten while he was playing with the dog. Miller is the boy's grandfather and it is claimed that his daughter had been bitten by the dog some time ago, which caused him to have a not unnatural prejudice against the animal. It is charged that he lured the dog into his car, took it to his factory and dispatched it there. A warrant was sworn out which was served by Constable Van Dyke.

Sunday was perhaps the biggest day at Ottawa Beach since the fire of Tuesday night. Very many people took advantage of the Sunday recess to take a trip to the lake shore resort to see the ruins. One autoist who was in the procession of cars estimated that there was a mile of cars ahead of him and a mile of cars behind him, and that kind of thing kept going a large part of the day.

The big brick chimney that was left untouched by the fire is still standing, and the ruins are about the same as on the day after the fire. On Wednesday after the blaze officials of the Ottawa Beach hotel announced that they meant to dynamite the chimney the next day, but the plans have evidently been changed.

So large was the procession of cars that went to Ottawa Beach that it took one Holland party three hours to go to the beach and return.

Hope students will observe the annual week of prayer next week with special services. The speakers listed for the first three days are: Rev. Albertus Pieters, college pastor; Rev. J. A. Dykstra of Grand Rapids and Geo. Schulling, president Ottawa County Sunday School association.

While a house to house canvass will be made by the members of the American Legion in the annual Red Cross roll call, opportunity will also be given to the general public to subscribe at the Holland banks as usual. Mrs. George Peirson, president of the Legion Auxiliary, will be in charge of this part of the work and she will station her lieutenants in the lobbies of the three banks on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, November 17 and on the afternoon and evening of November 24. Anyone who for some reason or other is missed in the regular canvass can take out a membership on those days.

With the personal responsibility attached to members of a voluntary association before them, the Allegan Milk Producers wisely decided to form a corporation to operate the proposed condensary in Otsego. Adopting the name of the Otsego Sanitary Milk Products company, they organized with the following officers: W. J. Barnard, president, Charles M. Taylor vice president, Marvin G. Haight secretary, Ernest Claire, treasurer. The board of directors will purchase the building site and then turn over to the farmer's organization the balance of the $20,000 subscribed, $17,500. Work has already been begun on the building.

Instead of rebuilding the Ottawa Beach hotel a club house may be built to serve as a social center and where meals will be served for members of the club occupying cottages. Rebuilding the hotel at present cost levels would involve an investment of upward of $750,000 and the season is too short to make such an investment profitable, it is said.

Mrs. Doris Skeels, a pioneer resident of Grand Rapids and of Jamestown township, this county, died early on Thursday morning at the home of her daughter-in-law in that city. Mrs. Skeels, who was 88 years of age, came to Michigan from Rochester, N. Y., before the Civil War and she was one of the pioneer school teachers of Jamestown. She used to recall to her friends those early days as a pioneer educator, when Indians roamed the woods and wolves prowled near the school house.

She moved to Grand Rapids in the early sixties and lived in that city continuously until her death. Her husband, Doris Skeels, was prominent in early engineering work in Grand Rapids. Among the surviving relatives is a brother, B. B. Stillwell of Jamestown.

Two rather peculiar cases of old fruit trees are mentioned by the Bangor Advance. One is that of a tree 76 years old which is still well preserved and produces good fruit nearly every year. The exact name of the variety is not known, it having been called "pie apple" by the early settlers. The other in the case of W. G. Lee, an old resident of Paw Paw in whose large apple orchard is one of the trees planted by his father who brought a number of trees with him when he came to Michigan in 1846. All have died except this one which Mr. Lee manages to save. It is a Rhode Island Greening and yielded this year 41 bushels of No. 1 apples.

A man whose name was not learned was on the streets in Holland Saturday afternoon and evening selling Ku Klux papers. His battle cry was something like this: "You've been reading lies in your daily paper. Read the truth about the Ku Klux Klan. We are not afraid to tell it."

The Klan newsboy furnished a bit of amusement for local citizens and he also succeeded in selling quite a few of his papers. There is a not unnatural curiosity about the Klan paper and many who had not seen it were glad to get a copy.

The Beechwood School P-T club did not wait for the opening of the Red Cross roll call to begin enrolling its members. The drive at Beechwood was started on Friday evening and a considerable number of the members were enrolled. Mrs. G. J. Van Duren gave an address on the Red Cross before the club and the attendance was large. Mrs. Van Duren showed the members a sample of the 100% certificate that will be issued to those organizations that get a full membership, and the club immediately began the work of getting all the members to join. Many did so Friday night and a vigorous campaign will be conducted to win one of the certificates.

According to a report issued this week by the Agricultural college, the West Michigan Allegan County Cow Testing association still has the highest butter fat average per cow of any association in the state. The Macomb county association, however, approached the Allegan records in the past year when 363 cows established an average production of 8,693.2 lbs. of milk and 317.3 pounds of butter fat.

Capt. and Mrs. George W. McBride of Grand Haven observed their golden wedding anniversary Saturday. During the day they received many messages of congratulation and good wishes from their many friends in Grand Haven and away. During the evening from 7 until 10, Capt. and Mrs. McBride received informally at their home on Franklin street, when many friends called and personally congratulated the bride and groom of fifty years ago. Capt. and Mrs. McBride have been residents of Grand Haven for many years, where both have many warm friends. Captain McBride, a veteran of the Civil War, practiced law at Grand Haven for many years and served the county as prosecuting attorney at one time. At the reception Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McBride of Holland assisted.

Mrs. Ella Soper entertained the Lady Macabees and their friends at a card party given at her home Friday afternoon. A very pleasant time was enjoyed. Mrs. Leona Morlin carried off the head prize. It was decided to hold a series of parties to be given by a Lady Macabee once in two weeks. Mrs. Ola Shank will entertain next on the afternoon of Nov. 23. The big Hudson touring car of A. M. Legget of Fennville was completely wrecked Sunday afternoon about 4:30 when it was hit by an interurban car at the intersection of the railway and 17th street. Neither the auto nor the interurban car was going very fast and it is probably due to this fact that no one was injured. The occupants of the auto escaped almost without a scratch in spite of the fact that the machine when hauled to the Hudson-Essex garage for repairs was found to be a wreck.

The interurban car had stopped at the city limits and so it did not have much speed when the crash came. The driver of the Legget car did not see the interurban coming. The Hudson was shoved several feet and tipped over.

A young gray wolf is reported to have been recently killed in Berrien county. The hunter who shot it supposed it to be a large red fox. That it was a wolf is partly substantiated by the fact that he collected a bounty of twenty dollars. It would take a search through old records to find when the last wolf was killed in Western Michigan. Since Clerk Stuckel has been in office, in Allegan county, a man brot in what he thought to be a head of a wolf. Canny William sent the head to Lansing; verdict, a collie dog. A

A collision occurred Saturday forenoon at about eleven o'clock between a Nash car driven by Clyde Geerlings and a Ford driven by H. Damveld. The accident took place at the corner of Ninth street and Central avenue. The two cars were not going much more than ten miles an hour and it was due to this fact that the result was not worse.

As it was, both cars were considerably damaged and had to be laid up for repairs. Mrs. P. Hamil, who was a passenger in the Damveld car, was slightly injured.

The Longfellow school P-T players will this year give the big New York dramatic hit, "Three Wise Fools." It was of great interest to the members of the cast, who chose their play about a month ago, that the same play was put on last week in the Colonial Theater. All the members took occasion to attend the show at the Colonial and they obtained many hints from it.

The first rehearsal was held Friday evening under the direction of Mrs. Nina Dougherty who will act as coach. The play is to be given the latter part of January.

Ottawa Beach hotel has burned down. Maybe they will mark M-11 now at the junction of the Ottawa Beach road, so motorists will know it. At present one drives toward Ottawa Beach on the concrete before he discovers he should have turned. The idea is, we guess that a motorist at Ottawa Beach is worth more to the business there than one in Saugatuck.—Muskegon Chronicle.

An amusing feature of a recent case in Allegan circuit court was a cross-examination of a witness who had a variety of miter tails to say about one of the parties, and who had been frequently with one of her eyes on the cringing party and the other on a highly exasperated lawyer who thought the witness was castigating him and vainly endeavored to break in on the flow of language.

Holland has defeated St. Joseph for three years in succession but that is no indication of what will happen on Saturday. St. Joseph has the strongest team this year in the history of the school. The team is undefeated so far. The closest it came to defeat was a 9 to 0 score against Kalamazoo Normal high school. No team has even scored on the St. Joseph eleven. The line, from tackle to tackle, is composed men who have played four years.

The Ottawa County Road commission Friday received and opened bids for the eight miles of concrete to be laid from Hudsonville to Zeeland. The lowest regular bid received was from the Willite Construction Co. of Detroit, a firm that laid a number of streets in Holland last year. The county commission does not have the power to let the bids, that being done by the state highway department. All the county commissioners can do is to recommend a bid to the state, and that has been done with the Willite Co's bid. The chances are that that firm will do the work.

The plan is to build this road next season so that before the end of 1924 Holland will be connected with Grand Rapids by a paved road all the way.

About 400 were served by the refreshment committee of the W. C. T. U. at the guest day meeting of that organization in the Methodist church Friday evening. The attendance was most encouraging and Dr. J. C. Willis, of St. Joseph, gave a stirring address in which he compared temperance conditions of thirty years ago with those of today. He was engaged in the temperance battle in Muscatine Iowa, thirty years ago, and the home of the three leaders, Dr. Willis' among them, were bombed by wet sympathizers. Such things cannot happen today, the speaker said, and he found in that much encouragement. SAUGATUCK AND DOUGLAS TO PUT UP A FIGHT

The villages of Saugatuck and Douglas have joined hands to put up a legal fight against the Shorewood Association for the right of the public to use the roads and paths in the subdivision of that organization. The council of Saugatuck has passed the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The Shorewood Association, a corporation, has brought suit against William G. Tiedale, John Campbell Sr., and Alex Campbell Jr., in the circuit court for the county of Allegan, to enjoin and restrain them and practically all other persons, except their stockholders in the Shorewood Association and their guests, from going upon any of the roads, paths, beaches and premises of certain lands which they include within Shorewood subdivision, and which we believe to be public roads and paths; and

"Whereas, The question involved in said suit is of but little practical importance to said persons above named, against whom said suit was brought, but is of vital importance to all of the people of the village and township of Saugatuck and of the village of Douglas and the surrounding community. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the township of Saugatuck, the village of Saugatuck, and the village of Douglas employ counsel and join in the defense of said suit, the costs of such defense to be prorated by the three municipalities in accordance with the value of the property of each."

CONTEST TEACHES FARMERS VALUE OF MICHIGAN POULTRY

Michigan's first international egg laying contest, which closed this month, left three strong impressions upon agriculturally-minded folk in this state. They are:

1. That Michigan has within its borders as good poultry as can be found anywhere.

2. The poultry raising can be made to pay if the birds are properly bred, selected and fed.

3. That it is possible to make the hens lay almost as many eggs in the winter months as during the spring and summer.

While the number of eggs did not equal those produced in the spring and summer they were so much larger than the average farm flock as to command the attention of every person interested in raising poultry for profit. Prof. E. C. Foreman of the M. A. C. poultry department points out this production was made possible through excellence in breeding, good housing conditions and proper care and feeding. These records are all the more remarkable as they were made by fowls which never were permitted to leave their coops during the entire contest. The average per hen was 160 eggs.

"Better records could have been made," C. F. Ferguson, manager of the contest declared, "had the heavier breeds been given more yardage in which to exercise. The lighter breeds did very well in confinement but we can expect some improvement in the heavier birds this year, if we can provide them with a range."

NO MONKEY GLANDS ARE NEEDED FOR A HEALTHY BODY

Dr. William Elliott Griffin, minister, educator, world traveler and author, addressed the students of Hope College Monday morning at the regular chapel services, speaking for about half an hour and giving them much good advice.

"I am eighty years old," said the veteran writer and lecturer, "and I haven't any monkey glands either." He made this remark in connection with advice he gave to the boys and girls to take care of their bodies. Dr. Griffin is still a very active man in spite of his age and he is himself the best possible example of what care of the body results in. In other ways than the physical he also gave the young people a cheerful picture of old age, declaring that the best of his life had come after he was 65. After that period, he declared, he had been able to enjoy the fruits of what he had done before that time and he had been able to put to practical use the tools that he had acquired in the earlier period of his life.

Mr. Griffin warned the students against paying too much attention to contemporary opinion of great men and women. Even the disciples of Christ, he said, did not appreciate his greatness, and Shakespeare is better appreciated today than he was in his own time. He called attention to the fact that he had served in the Civil War and he pointed out that he remembered distinctly the time when Lincoln was looked upon as an ordinary politician by his contemporaries.

He advised the students that if they wish to accomplish anything they must be able to stand criticism. England's greatness, he said, is largely due to the fact that she allows soap box orators to criticize her to their heart's content and does not try to govern by suppression.

Dr. Griffin told some of his own life's history and said that one of the most satisfactory things in life is congenial work. He took a shot at the wealthy by declaring that only one person in ten can stand being rich.

S. S. CONVENTION CLOSES WITH PRAISE OF HENRY FORD

The Michigan State Sunday School convention came to a close in Grand Rapids Thursday. It was the largest convention in the history of the association. The registration was nearly 3,000 while the largest registration before this was 2,700. Before adjourning the convention passed resolutions praising Henry Ford and scoring Senator James Couzens. The resolutions read:

"Resolved, that without taking sides in any current controversy and without registering any opinion on any other phase of his work, this convention endorse the simple and exemplary home life of the most advertised and perhaps least understood man in the commonwealth today, Mr. Henry Ford."

"While conceding to every citizen the right to hold and express his personal opinions, while receiving with respect the honest convictions of every man, while advocating the curtailment of so-called personal liberty with the greatest hesitancy, this body still believes with profound conviction in the abolition of the liquor traffic and cannot but express deep regret that a man holding one of the highest honors in the gift of the people of this great state should advocate the repeal of so far-reaching and difficult a measure before a sincere and courageous sort of enforcement has been made."

TRUNK LINE HIGHWAYS ARE CONTRACTED

The Trunk Line road systems in Ottawa county will soon either be entirely completed as far as the present work program calls for paying or else the work will have been contracted for according to road commission officials. All of the trunk line highways save a few miles are finished in concrete with the exception of a few miles on both M-16 and M-51. M-11 the important tourist artery is all done in concrete and will soon be opened for its entire length in this county.

Trunk line 11 between Grand Haven and Holland was recently widened at the narrow part so that the two principal cities of Ottawa county are now joined by a full width 18-foot stretch of concrete.

Before Thanksgiving Day the Muskegon-Grand Haven stretch of M-11 should be opened for traffic. All of this road is done in concrete with the exception of a short distance which is fairly good asphalt. The asphalt is located in Muskegon county. The route of M-11 through Ferryburg is to be re-located to eliminate several bad turns, and a railroad crossing. A grade crossing over the Pere Marquette tracks must be built to accomplish this and some new concrete will be put in. No detours will be necessary as the present highway is now in concrete.

Trunk line sixteen from Grand Haven to Grand Rapids is completed in concrete save for 3 miles near Marne which is being constantly worked in order to prepare a smooth gravel surface when freezing weather comes. The trunk line near Marne is being re-located and will be so constructed that a number of the curves will be done away with as well as two railway crossings. This pavement may be put in before the heavy traffic of next July according to a report. The Crockery Creek bridge will undoubtedly be in by the middle of December and the 1,800 ft. of gravel at this point will be paved next year. It was impossible to pave this bit prior to the completion of the bridge.

Trunk Line 51 between Holland and Grand Rapids is all contracted for and by the end of the next season will be a complete stretch of concrete.

A $5 license fee for passenger cars and a gasoline tax and a truck tax to provide the remainder of the funds necessary for financing state highway building was the plan being considered today as the possible solution to the highway finance problem.

OPPOSING TEAMS TO HOLD RABBIT HUNTING CONTEST

About a hundred members of the Holland Fish and Game Protective Association gathered in the city hall Thursday night and made plans for the year's work. The members felt that it would be desirable to have more activities under the auspices of the association and as a starter it was decided to put on a rabbit hunting contest. There will be two opposing teams and the hunt will be followed by a banquet at which the bunnies slain will be served to the members and guests.

J. Lievense and C. Dornbos were elected captains of the two opposing teams and the following teams were chosen:

Capt. J. Lievense, Wm. Wolrding, Nell De Waard, Frank Nash, Dick DeWaard, H. Koop, Art VanDyke, H. Zeukema, Bill Deur, Harry Klomparsa, Al Fairbanks, Bert Wiersma, Dr. Van Kley, Peter Oosting, William Vinger, Joe Geerdas.

Capt. S. Dornbos, H. VandeHeuve, P. Lievense, Harry Deur, G. Vanden Belt, Clifford Nash, Fred Nivison, F. Lievense, Andrew Klomparsa, Dr. De Haan, A. Van Dort, B. Keeler, Jack Dekker, Mart Vander Bie, Henry Lugers, Jr., Oscar Johnson.

When the banquet is held, the members of the losing team will act as waiters and will serve the members of the winning team. It will be evening of Friday, Dec. 7. The date for the hunt will be Dec. 3-4-5. All the members of the club will be invited to the dinner. Two committees have been appointed, one to make arrangements for the place and the other to draw up a program.

A number of general matters were discussed, which were of interest to all members. One was the matter of securing the planting of more fish in the local waters. These fish can be obtained in cans in the form of fry or else in carload lots when the fish are from half pound to three pounds. It was decided to go after some of these next summer. Fred Kammerbeek presided over the meeting.

HOME MISSION SOCIETY DOES MUCH WORK AT ITS MEETING

The Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held a very interesting meeting Monday. Several comfortable were tied for the Mission homes.

A bountiful picnic dinner was served at the usual time with Mrs. G. Atwood in charge. This was followed by a short business session. Rev. J. C. De Vinney conducted devotionals, and community singing was led by Mrs. Charles Groza, Miss Eva Clark accompanied. Mrs. N. C. Huiting, as chairman of the fruit committee, reported a large barrel of fruit and jellies had been forwarded to the Alldrich Deacons Home at Grand Rapids. Deep appreciation was expressed in a letter from Mrs. Lucy Durrin, Home Mother, and also a former member of this society in Holland.

Mrs. H. Te Roller was appointed superintendent of the Queen Esther circle and Mrs. C. Barnard reported for the Home Guards.

As delegate to the Michigan Home Missionary conference meeting, recently held in Battle Creek, Mrs. J. C. De Vinney brought back a very comprehensive report.

Following this interesting report, came the study book "The Child and America's Future," by J. F. Stowell. Mrs. Etta Whitman and Miss Alma Koertge reviewed the first two chapters.

"THE CLIMAX" PLEASES GOOD SIZED AUDIENCE IN CARNEGIE HALL

An appreciative audience gathered in Carnegie Hall Tuesday evening when a company of New York actors, under the auspices of the Redpatch Lyceum Bureau, presented "The Climax," a clever comedy by Edward Locke.

The play hinges about the actions of a pretty girl and deals with an absorbing theme—love versus ambition. Adeline Van Hagen, the pupil, lets her audience decide which motive has won the conflict as the curtain drops on a disconcerted suitor and a happy lover.

Miss Lawrence is a graduate of Columbia University, winning her B. S. degree there, by majoring in music. There is a deep contrast between the two men who care for the pupil. Pietro Golfonti, the son, whose love is expressed in a beautiful song which he has composed to her and Carlos Calahan, as John Raymond, the doctor, whose love, rife with jealousy, furnishes the action of the play.

Distinctly a part of the play is Luigi Golfonti, the father. He is an Italian tutor who sees the possibilities of Adeline's voice and who guards her accomplishments as a jealous foster father would. His traits of character are distinctly Italian, impulsive, temperamental but intensely human.

POET TELLS OF THE BEAUTIES OF THE WEST MICHIGAN PIKE

The following poem about the West Michigan Pike appeared in "Michigan Roads and Pavements":

When welcome summer time is here,
And happy birds are singing,
Imperative is nature's call,
In joyous tone a- ringing,
When overcome with business cares,
And cities' din distressing,
Just seek the many beauty spots,
And cooling winds refreshing,
That ever fan this western shore,
Dispensing health and pleasure,
To old and young, the rich and poor,
In a most lavish measure.
You'll find roads paved, concrete and stone,

With here and there some gravel,
And many lovely camping sites
Along the line of travel;
You wind along this scenic route
Each bend new joys disclosing,
A farm house, orchard, there a lake,
Among the hills reposing.
We have the sand dunes mountain high,

We have swift streams and rivers,
We have secluded shady nooks,
The ideal spots for lovers;
We have the woods, the valleys, lakes,
Fine bathing shores and fishing,
We have in truth quite all the things
For which you may be wishing.
If you would seek ideal retreat,
The next best place to heaven,
You must travel up the Dixie Trail,
Just "Kum Trunk Line Eleven."

NAMED MEMBER OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE BY S. S. WORKERS

President E. D. Dimment of Hope College was named member of the executive committee of Michigan State Sunday School association in session in Grand Rapids. Other officers are: President, Dr. Allan Hoben, president of Kalamazoo College, to succeed Dr. Paul F. Voelker, president of Olivet College; V-presidents, H. M. Crooks of Alma college and E. A. Hubbard of Escanaba; Mr. Crooks succeeds President Edward D. Dimment of Hope College, Holland, and Mr. Hubbard succeeds himself. C. E. Gibson of Detroit was re-elected treasurer.

Six members of the executive committee were elected as follows: Jas. Buys of Grand Rapids, A. R. Artford of Benton Harbor; E. D. Dimment of Holland; W. B. Shirley of Ann Arbor; S. L. Houghton of Detroit and A. E. Ramdall of Kalamazoo.

All the officers and committee members were elected by acclamation.

The program for today, closing day of the convention, included two addresses by William T. Ellis of Swarthmore, Pa., world traveler and writer on religious history, past and in the making. He spoke at 11 a. m. Thursday in the Armory on "America's Way Out for the World: A Traveler's Conclusion."

At 2:30 Thursday afternoon in the adult division conference in LaGrave Ave. Christian Reformed church Mr. Ellis spoke on "Relating the Lesson to Current World Needs."

Besides Mr. Ellis, this forenoon's speakers included Dean Athearn and Ernest Bourner Allen, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, Oak Park, Ill.

The pageant, "The Commonwealth of God" will be presented twice this evening. At 8 o'clock it will be presented for delegates from outside of Kent county. At 9 the doors will be opened to delegates from Kent county, including Grand Rapids. Non-delegates will be admitted after all the badge-wearing delegates have been seated if any seating room is left.

A $4,000 increase in the religious work budget was voted Wednesday, increasing this budget to $30,000. The new plan of financing adopted by the finance committee of which J. N. Trompen of Grand Rapids is chairman, provides for assessing counties on basis of population property valuation in those counties, Sunday school population and previous contributions.

POSTOFFICE BEGINS TO PREPARE FOR THE CHRISTMAS RUSH

The Holland postoffice force Tuesday began the work of educating the public for the Christmas rush. During the last few days before Christmas about nine-tenths of all the mail passing through the postoffice is local mail. Formerly it has been the habit of patrons of the office to make no distinction between local and outgoing mail but to put everything into the letter drops together.

But now the two letter drops at the postoffice were marked to make a distinction. One was labeled "Local Mail," and the other "Outgoing Mail." By "Local Mail" is meant all mail that is addressed to persons in Holland or on the rural routes; by "Outgoing Mail" is meant all mail that goes out of the city by train. The postoffice officials hope that the public will begin immediately to put their mail into the appropriate drop so that at Christmas time all will have learned the new system.

WANTS TO KNOW WHAT THE PEOPLE OF HOLLAND WANT

Dr. J. B. Nykerk, manager of the Hope College Lecture Course, will make an attempt to find out definitely what the people of Holland desire in the way of entertainment. He will seek this information with a view of supplying the citizens' needs in next year's course.

In introducing the company of actors in Carnegie Hall Tuesday evening he asked the patrons of the course to write on the back of their season tickets what they liked best, whether they liked a course of a few numbers but those numbers all of the highest class, or whether they prefer more numbers of second or third class quality. He asked the ticket-holders to add their names and addresses.

The course tickets will be taken up at the next entertainment on December 5, which is the closing number of the series. It is hoped that all will respond to the request. The preferences of the patrons will be canvassed and the management will have a clear idea of what the people want. Then a strong attempt will be made to provide a course next year that shall meet the demands of the public.

CLUB TO HOLD BENEFIT FOR THE WORKING GIRLS

Announcement was made at the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday of a benefit card party to be given next Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, to further one of the most important branches of the club's activity. For some time the club has been opening its doors one night a week to the working girls of the city, and providing for them the entertainment which they preferred. An athletic instructor has now been engaged for them, and as the work grows additional funds are necessary. A delightful time, in addition to the consciousness of assisting in a most worthwhile project, is promised those who attend Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. Boone, general chairman of the rummage sale, reported a profit of $208 from the last sale.

Miss Martha Sherwood and her committee took up a collection for the box which is to be sent to the county poor farm. It is the custom of the club to send a box of fruit, delicacies and warm clothing each year at Thanksgiving time. Those who were not at the meeting are urged to send in their contributions to Miss Sherwood.

Mrs. Leslie Smith, who died in Holland Saturday, was born in Otsego, February 5, 1903. When six years of age she moved with her parents to Northern Michigan. A large portion of her life was spent with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Will Drew, at Otsego. With her husband she was graduated with the class of 1921 from Cedar Lake Academy.

LOCAL CASE MAY DECIDE MOOT LEGAL POINT

Dick De Boer was found guilty in circuit court in Grand Haven Tuesday on the charge of transporting liquor. De Boer was arrested on this charge after his car had been searched by officers. The trial took about an hour. Prosecuting Attorney F. T. Miles appearing for the people and Attorney T. N. Robinson for the defense. Only three witnesses were heard, Chief of Police Frank Van Ry and Officers Zwierenga and Vander West, all for the prosecution.

Announcement was made that the case would be appealed to the supreme court. The question on which a decision is desired from the highest court in the state is whether an officer has a right to search an automobile for liquor without a warrant if he has had time to secure one. It is contended in this case that the officers were given information in regard to the alleged liquor in DeBoer's car in the evening and made the search without a warrant in the morning. The contention is that in the meantime they had plenty of time to secure a search warrant but they made the search without it.

This point has never been passed upon by the supreme court and an attempt will be made to get a clearcut ruling on it. Such interesting questions are being decided from time to time by the state's highest court. Only Tuesday, while this trial was going on in circuit court the supreme court decided two search and seizure cases.

In one it ruled that an officer armed with a search warrant for stolen goods may not take advantage of his presence in a home to seize liquor and prosecute the other.

In the other ruling the supreme court held that when officers enter a home to make an arrest, armed only with a warrant or the arrest of a person, they have no right to search the house.

BUSINESS TRAINING OF SERVICE MEN MAKES FOR SUCCESS

The success of the American Legion banquet this year may be attributed very largely to the splendid efforts of several of the buddies who, being in business themselves, lent their business experience to the carrying out of the many difficult problems involved in putting on such a large banquet.

Mr. Chris Korose of the Green Mill Cafe was in charge of the banquet proper and from the soup to the nuts it is doubtful if a choicer selection of tempting viands was ever more properly served on an occasion of this kind in Holland. Mr. Korose has displayed real ability in handling a big dinner and the banqueters were highly pleased with such service and, as the boys say "good feed."

The floral decorations were contributed and artistically arranged by Comrade John Vanderploeg of the Shady Lawn Florists. Vanderploeg is the Post Chaplain but he believes that a flower or two for a sick buddy is as much appreciated as some of the other services a chaplain usually performs. Bunk Bosman came to the rescue with the decorating and, ably assisted by Elmer Prins and Henry Top, gave the Masonic hall just the appearance it needed for such a gala occasion.

Among the decorations awarded was a Past Commander's badge to Raymond Visscher the first adjutant of the Post who was responsible for all the strenuous detail of organizing and getting the Post started right. Because of illness Comrade Visscher was unable to be present but receives the honors in absentia. The programs, very tastily gotten up, were the work of Miss Dena Beltman of the Holland City News office, and as the Post has found out so many times in the past it can count on the local papers to do everything possible in the interests of all ex-service men.

LOCAL YOUNG MEN BUY DOUGLAS GARAGE

Carl Shaw and Gerrit Rooks of Holland have purchased the National Garage at Douglas, owned and operated for a number of years by E. R. Nevins. They will have the agency for the Chevrolet car and they will do a general repair work.

Mr. Shaw is the well known base ball player who has a long period of distinguished service in the national pastime to his credit. He has played all over Ottawa and Allegan counties and in many other places and has formed a wide acquaintance. He has been salesman for the Hayden-Koopman Auto Company for the past two years, and he will have charge of the sales end of the new firm.

Mr. Rooks, formerly of the Holland Mail Co., will have charge of the service department. He is a world war veteran and has had considerable experience in repair work before the war. Having served 22 months as a machineist's mate in the naval aviation.

The firm will be known as the Shaw-Rooks Auto Co.

Mr. M. Mix of Holland has been receiving letters from relatives in Germany which make an interesting study in the progressive decline of the German mark. The letters have been coming from Dresden. A letter received on September 11 carried 206,000 marks in postage; another on October 12 carried 15 million marks in stamps; and a letter received on Oct. 27 required 30,000,000 marks to carry it from Germany to the U. S.

Since before the war the mark was worth 23.30 cents, the value of the postage on the letter of October 27 figured in ante-bellum prices would be $6,990,000.

Work is so scarce in Germany, according to the story told in the letters, that it is hard for people to stay alive. Bread is so valuable that the bakers' wagons are protected by a guard just as treasure cars used to be guarded. The tables in fact have turned in this respect. A wagon load of paper marks would not tempt anyone, but a few loaves of bread are worth much more than their weight in marks.

The people in Dresden, according to the letters, are unable to get coal because it is not to be had and they can't afford to burn gas, and so they are up against it for heat no matter what happens.

Mr. Mix's relatives live in Dresden from Pirma where other relatives live, which is about a half hour's ride. But the half hour's ride costs 144,000,000 marks. The family used to read a daily paper but was forced to

LAURANT & COMPANY TO GIVE PROGRAM IN MASONIC TEMPLE

Big things have been predicted of Laurant & Co., who are to appear here on the Masonic Temple Lecture course in a program of magic and mirth on Wednesday evening, Nov. 21.

People who have seen Keller and Hermann the Great at their best declare that Laurant is quite their equal, and not a few pronounce him their superior.

Not only does Laurant at least equal, and not a few pronounce him dars of his feats but his manners it is said to excel theirs. There is little of the forced and unnatural in the way he does things. A certain ingenuity about his manner is most convincing, and a witness of the performance does not realize that it is an illusion until it actually accomplished.

For the great work which Laurant has accomplished in raising the art of magic to a higher plane he has received high honors from the members of his own profession. He has been awarded a gold medal by the society of American Magicians, and he has also appeared on several occasions before societies of scientific research.

Here is a list of prices of commodities in Dresden as given in the latest letter:

Beef, 350 million marks; pork 550 million marks; sausage 520 million marks; 1 box of matches 200 million marks; salt 100 million marks; plums 30 million marks; butter 1500 million marks; oleomargarine 800 million marks; ham 800 million marks; cheese 280 million marks.

"At a recent meeting of the Common Council it was reported that sanitary sewage was being emptied into the Fifth St. slip, through the storm sewer pipes.

The matter was referred to the Committee on Sewers, Drains and Water Courses for further investigation and report.

Your Committee feels that according to the information at hand, all of the concerns who were connected with this storm sewer have confessed or are being connected with the sanitary sewer system, except the Ottawa Furniture Co.

We further find that it is possible for the Ottawa Furniture Co. to connect their premises with the sanitary sewer in Fourth St. and from River Ave.

Your Committee therefore recommends that the Ottawa Furniture Co. be instructed to connect their premises with the sanitary sewer in Fourth St., and disconnect from the storm sewer emptying into the Fifth St. slip."

Adopted.

The Committee on Licenses reported as follows:

tained in his petition.

Second: That upon the issuance of said permit he will pay into the city treasury an annual license fee for the privilege of engaging in this business, a sum of money to be computed as follows:

Third: That he shall carry insurance for the protection of persons and property, carried by him, in the sum of $25,000 in an insurance company approved by the Commissioner of Insurance of this State, or shall furnish an indemnity bond running to the People of the State of Michigan, conditioned upon payment of all just claims and liabilities resulting from injury to persons or property carried by him, in a stock company authorized to do business in this State.

Fourth: That he shall comply with all the requirements of the State Law regulating his business, and with all city ordinances regulating traffic, and use of streets and public places and the protection of the public and private property."

Adopted.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported recommending that the Clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for the $42,250.00 Storm Sewer Bonds, bids to be in not later than Dec. 19, 1923, at 7:30 P. M.; and further that the said bonds be dated Feb. 1, 1924.

Out of the Darkness

"We had to wait some time for the doctor, who had been delayed by a case. When he arrived, he pushed his way hurriedly through the people at the far end of the room, pausing only for a moment to speak to the district attorney. He took his place back of the desk, and, after removing some papers from his bag, stood for a moment looking over the crowd. He seemed almost too worn and nervous to preside.

A silence fell on the room, the curious, expectant silence that I have so often noticed at inquests. To most of the people present, the doctor had ceased to be their familiar friend and had become an impersonal officer of the law, the instrument for unraveling a mysterious death. Perhaps some were thinking of the man in whose house they were and whose dead body lay above awaiting burial. The silence was suddenly broken by a heavy peal of thunder.

To my surprise, the doctor called as his first witness Slyke's sister-in-law. As a rule, the first person called at an inquest is the one who discovered the body, but for some reason the doctor had decided to keep the butler for a later moment.

The first questions, after Miss Potter had taken the oath, were the usual ones. They related to her name and her relationship to Slyke. She said her name was Alice Potter, and that she was the sister of his dead wife.

Slyke had asked her to come and run his house for him, and for the last ten years she had done so. In response to a question as to whether she had been paid for her services, she flushed deeply and explained that while no real salary had been paid, whenever she had needed money she had asked Slyke for it and he had given it to her. The sum varied, though she doubted if she had ever received more than a thousand in any one year. He always had been willing to give her as much as she asked for, and had not questioned the amounts. There had never been any trouble over money matters between them.

This was all evidence that I knew; and, while she was giving it, I glanced about the room, then watched the doctor. He was finding his position a very difficult one, as he was the family physician as well as the coroner. He put his questions with as much delicacy as possible. The whole affair seemed to be very distasteful to him. It was particularly trying for a man who was still feeling the effects of a nervous breakdown. Miss Potter, fortunately, became more at ease as the questioning proceeded. She kept her eyes down and gave her answers in such a low voice that at times it was hard to hear them at all.

All through the early part of Miss Potter's evidence there were rumbles of distant thunder. Leaning back in my chair I pushed aside the heavy draperies that hid the window, and looked out. It was almost like night. A big storm was close at hand. The thunder was still some miles away, and I could see distant, almost continuous flashes of lightning. After a quick glance I let the curtain fall back into place.

When I turned my attention again to the evidence, Doctor King was questioning Miss Potter about the finding of the body. She testified that she was at breakfast when the butler rushed into the room, crying that something was wrong with Mr. Slyke. She knew her brother-in-law had intended to go fishing that morning, and was surprised to learn that he was not yet up. The butler had told her that he had called him, and receiving no reply had entered his room and found Mr. Slyke still in bed. When he did not answer when spoken to again, he (the butler) had come to me to her.

She stated that she had gone up at once to his room, the door of which had been left open by the butler when he rushed out. She had crossed to the bed and called him by name. When he did not answer, she looked closer and saw that he was dead. Her voice broke a little on this last statement, but she soon recovered and continued. The next thing she had done, she said, was to call the doctor.

For the first time, the district attorney took a hand in the proceedings. "Tell us how you found him."

She answered that he was lying on his back, the bedclothes pulled up around his chin, and his hands by his side. She had not pulled the bedclothes down from the body, nor disturbed them in any way. It was not until she had noticed the wound in his head that she realized he had been shot.

"Did you disturb the body?" was the next question. "There was a long silence, then halfingly, "I—well, that is—I did cross his eyes. Their expression frightened me, so—I—closed them."

She received a rather disgusted look from the district attorney, who asked, "Did you not know that the body should have been left as you found it?" "I—she made an appealing gesture: "I never thought of that. Only of his eyes! They frightened me, they stared so. I simply closed them. But I did nothing else."

King then asked a question that surprised her. "You thought he had committed suicide?"

She hesitated, started to speak, stopped and at last found her voice. "Why, yes. That—that is—I did at the time. But I don't know what to think now."

"Why did you think he killed himself?"

This seemed a harder question to answer than the other.

"Why, I don't know. You see, he was shot; and I knew of no one who would want to kill him. As far as that goes, I know of no reason why he should have wanted to take his own life."

The next questions were along the line she had suggested by her answers. Could she not think of some reason why he might have committed suicide—ill health or money troubles? Had he quarreled with anyone lately? She seemed to have more difficulty with these last questions than with any of the previous ones. She was so long in answering that some of them had to be repeated several times. She was so careful of what she said that she gave me the impression that she was trying to keep something back.

In response to the first question, she repeated that she knew no reason why Slyke should want to commit suicide. She had heard of no money troubles, and his health was good. No, she had never heard of his having quarreled with anyone. It was this last answer that she had hesitated longer over than over any of the others, and it was the one which caused me to feel sure she was hiding something.

The question regarding the revolver that had been found in Slyke's hand she answered readily enough. He had kept it in his room, just where, she did not know; it was one that he had bought a year before.

When questioned as to her own doings on the night of his death, she could tell us nothing of value. There had been a card party, but she had gone to bed about ten o'clock and had not even heard the men go out. During the night she had heard no sound. As this was all she had to tell she left the stand. Though her testimony had thrown no light on what had taken place, I felt more strongly than ever that she could have done so had she wished. I glanced at Bartley, and the queer smile he gave me hinted that he, too, thought as I did.

The next witness was a Doctor Webster. I knew that a second physician had been called in on this morning of the crime, but had not met him. Doctor King's position was a peculiar one, as he was not only the physician who had first seen the body, but also the coroner. In order to have the testimony of a second medical man, he had sent Doctor Webster to examine the body and testify as to its condition. As the doctor took the seat near the coroner, I examined him closely. He was a man of at least fifty, rather stout, with a beaming, kindly face, and white beard that gave him the appearance of a practitioner of the old school.

In response to questions, he told how Doctor King had requested him to go to the house and examine the body, because, as coroner, King himself could not testify at the inquest. In terms more scientific than plain, he described how Slyke met his death, a death which, he said, must have been instantaneous, as the bullet had lodged in the brain.

"Doctor, do you think the wound could have been self-inflicted?" came the question.

The doctor paused, then answered thoughtfully, "That is very hard to answer. So far as the wound itself is concerned, it could have been self-inflicted. But other things that were brought to my attention cause me to believe that it could not have been so inflicted."

The room stiffened into attention. It was the first hint they had had that Slyke might have been murdered.

ZEELAND SCHOOLS HAMPERED BY OVERCROWDING

The City of Zeeland has a serious problem of overcrowding in the schools according to an article in this week's issue of the Zeeland Record, contributed by one who signs himself "A Parent." A number of cities have a similar problem, Holland among them, altho conditions are not as serious here as they appear to be in Zeeland, and in this city relief will come with the completion of the new Junior high school. The writer of the article in the Record says—

"What is the trouble with our public schools? That is the question that is being asked repeatedly ever since the beginning of the present school year. One thing is certain, and that is, that there is not room enough to accommodate the children. The grades are so overcrowded that they have to be divided and part of them can go to school in the morning and the others in the afternoon. Is this fair to the children in the grades? Has a child that attends a half-day session the same chance as one that has a whole day in which to get his or her studies in a half day. Common sense will tell us that.

"How did this condition come upon us so suddenly? Is this the first year that these grades are overcrowded? Have so many more been enrolled in these grades this year, or is there some petty jealousy working somewhere? I understand that the school board has bought or rented an old dwelling and intends to convert this into school rooms. Do you suppose that a building that was built for a dwelling is a suitable place to educate 50 to 60 children? Why is it that Zeeland with all its resources, etc. cannot have sufficient room for the proper education of its children? It would be hard to find a city of this size where school conditions are as inadequate as here.

"Surely our children should have the same chance as other children. If our school board cannot provide adequate quarters, it is time for the parents to get together and demand better conditions. We are entitled to it, and why not have it?"

"A PARENT."

FORMER ZEELAND MAN PASSES AWAY AT LEVERING

With the death of Johannes De Kruij at his home in Levering, another of the second in one week, old pioneer of Zeeland is gone.

Mr. De Kruij, after a long illness, finally gave up the fight and died at his home Nov. 2 at the age of 73. He was a man of sterling character as was well known by the older residents of Zeeland, where he spent his childhood days as he did nearly all his active years later, when about ten years ago he retired and made his home with his daughter at Levering, Michigan.

Funeral services were held in Zeeland and interment was made in the family lot in Zeeland cemetery.

Mr. De Kruij was the eldest son of H. De Kruij, pioneer of Zeeland and was born in Zeeland in 1850. He survived by three daughters, Mrs. De Kruij of Zeeland, and Mrs. Hattie Wagner of Ann Arbor; also by one sister, Mrs. W. Vandenberg of Grand Rapids and three brothers, Wm. De Kruij of Levering, Peter De Kruij of Los Angeles, California and John De Kruij of Grand Rapids.

STANDARD OIL CUTS PRICE OF GASOLINE TWO CENTS SATURDAY

The welcome announcement was made Saturday forenoon by Anton Seif, Jr., local agent of the Standard Oil company for the territory of Holland Zeeland, and neighboring stations that the price of gasoline has dropped two cents. The new price went into effect on Saturday morning. The tank wagon price formerly was 14.50 per gallon and this has been reduced to 12.50. The price at the service stations formerly was 16.50 per gallon and has been reduced to 14.50.

The reduction in price was made in the territory covered by the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

The reduction it was explained is an adjustment to meet the present wholesale market which has dropped during the past several weeks, the price of crude having declined from around $3.50 to about $1. The reduction is in addition to a reduction of 6.6c made about two months ago by the Standard of Indiana after Gov. McMaster of South Dakota had started to sell gasoline at reduced prices through the state depots. At that time the company announced it was making the cut to meet competition, but independents declared an attempt was being made to drive them out of business.

WARN HUNTERS OF THE ROAD LAWS

Hunters are being warned that the state law relating to parking on the highways will be enforced and that in leaving their cars within the highway limits while they are after rabbits and partridge they are laying themselves liable to prosecution.

State police recently began marking all trunk lines notifying autoists of the no-parking rule. Provisions of the new uniform traffic law prohibit parking on the right of way for any purpose whatever even for changing of tires. The right of way must be kept clear for the passage of moving vehicles at all times, the law orders. Signs warning motorists that such parking is illegal are to be posted along gravel roads and painted on the surface of concrete and bituminous surfaced roads.

At this time of year the ruling applies particularly to many hunters who make the highways a parking place while they hunt the adjacent country.

Hunters of the lower peninsula are warned that across the straits local officials and state police will be especially watchful this year for the hunters illegally headlighting for deer. Cars left at the side of the road by such hunters are directly violating the new law.

Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte will sing the solo, "Come ye blessed of my father," next Sunday evening at the Sixth Reformed church. Visitors always welcome.

Hon. G. J. Diekema, president of the Ottawa County Red Cross and Secretary Van Duren have ordered a meeting of the Ottawa County Chapter to be held at the City Hall this week Saturday at two o'clock for the purpose of electing seven members of the Board of Trustees and receive reports from the different committees. Rev. John Kulte of Gano, Ill., formerly of Holland, was given a unanimous call to the pastorate of the 9th Rfd. church, G. R., Monday night at a congregational meeting held at that church. Mr. Kulte is a graduate of Hope college and Western Theological seminary and also took postgraduate work at Princeton.

A marriage license was issued to Raymond Koester, 23, and Martha Hop, 19, both of Holland. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ellison Gotsing (Olive La Mae) a daughter. Don't forget that Laurant and Co. will appear at the Masonic Temple on November 21. Be sure and get your tickets early.

STRANGE COINCIDENCE IN OPERATIONS AT THE MUSKOGON HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Axel A. Colson of 59 Fifth street, Muskegon, well known former residents of Grand Haven, are in Mercy Hospital, Muskegon, recovering from operations for appendicitis. Mr. Colson was operated on several days ago and was making a good recovery. Mrs. Colson had been spending much of her time with her husband while he was in the hospital, when she too was taken with an acute attack of appendicitis and an operation in her case was also considered necessary. She also is recovering.

WHEN PEACHES WERE CHEAP IN ALLEGAN

The Saugatuck Commercial of 1877 contains the following item that the value of money must have been high in those days and the owner of an orchard got $400 net for 1600 baskets of grapes, and thought he was making big money. Anyway James Goodrich of Ganges had 3,700 baskets of peaches on 140 trees and realized $1400 net proceeds. On three-fourths of an acre of grapes he produced 1,600 baskets for which he realized $400 net. This we venture to say is the largest yield and the most profitable two acres of land in this county or the next.

DAMAGES ORPHANAGE

Damage to the extent of about $20,000 was inflicted on the Christian Home Orphanage at Council Bluffs, Iowa, by floods from excessive rains and cloudbursts on the nights of September 28 and 29. Every building at this great institution was damaged, the heating, lighting and power plants rendered useless for several days, and the store rooms in the basements of the buildings were flooded and thousands of dollars worth of supplies ruined. This is the worst catastrophe that has ever befallen this work, and comes as a serious blow when the institution was already struggling to free itself from debt. This institution is non-sectarian, receives orphan and destitute children from all parts of the country and is supported entirely by the voluntary contributions of charitable people. It is appealing to the public for a Thanksgiving offering to help overcome the losses by the recent floods and to meet running expenses in the daily care of 250 inmates. We have had calls from those in distress in foreign climes and have responded to them. Here is a good work right here at home that has met serious trouble and is now asking us for help. Let all send something at Thanksgiving and help to put the home of those little children back on its feet. Address The Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Shirley Anne, on Nov. 12, 1923. Chicago, Nov. 11—Anticipating that the Tourist travel to Florida this winter will exceed any previous season the Pennsylvania R'y System announces a material reduction in the running time of "The Southland," its Chicago-Florida train. "The Southland" is popularly known as the daylight train through the scenic Blue Ridge and Cumberland Mountains. The sleeping cars now operating on this train between Chicago, Indianapolis and Jacksonville will operate to Miami, beginning December 1st, a greatly added convenience for tourists traveling to the Florida east coast resorts. New through sleeping car lines have been established between Grand Rapids, Michigan, Columbus, Ohio, and St. Petersburg, Fla. Florida hotels are preparing to accommodate a record breaking number of tourists during the forthcoming season.

FORD PICTURES ATTRACT MANY AT EXHIBIT HERE

Ford pictures at the Knickerbocker Wednesday night proved a real attraction. Practically every seat in the building was filled when the novel program of motion pictures was shown. No admission price was charged and the public who were interested in the pictures was invited to attend. The size of the audience proved that many in Holland were interested. The Ford pictures were interesting and instructive, especially to those who feel the thrill of mechanics. The films covered the remarkable methods and system used in the Ford plants, where the popular make of cars are produced by the thousands. The audience, by means of motion pictures, was taken on a tour of inspection through the Ford plant, at the same time seeing the production of a Ford machine from the raw material to the finished product. A number of interesting side-lights were thrown upon the industry by means of the pictures.

VAN RAALTE P-T CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The November meeting of the Van Raalte P-T club was well attended. Rev. J. C. De Vinney gave a splendid address on "Better Schools". Miss Smith, principal of Junior High, outlined the plans for National Education week and urged the parents to become better acquainted with their schools and the teachers.

All enjoyed the violin solos played by Louis Fairbanks, while the Colonial orchestra added zest to the evening's entertainment.

The new officers are Peter Damstra, president; Miss Kathryn Windisch, vice president; Ed Munson, secretary; C. Marcus, treasurer.

RURAL CARRIERS TO COUNT PIGS AGAIN NEXT YEAR

In addition to their regular duties, which range from weighing babies to administration of various situations, rural mail carriers have been given the job of counting the pigs in the country again next year. The carriers have counted them before and they did such a good job and the department of agriculture found the figures so valuable that Postmaster Gen. New has ordered another census of the whole swine population to show how many pigs will be ready for the market next spring and summer.

SAUGATUCK MAN TO STAY ON ALLEGAN ROAD COMMISSION

Mr. Takken has been a member of the body for several years and under his leadership many improvements have been made on the county roads.

Mr. Takken is director and cashier of the Fruit Growers State bank here.

DENY GRAND HAVEN GAS RATE INCREASE

An order issued Wednesday by the state public utilities commission denied an application made by the Grand Haven Gas company last Aug. for the rate increase.

The present rate, the commission ruled, will allow the concern to make up the deficit mentioned in the application in a short time. It was stated in the petition that while the present rates would allow a profit under normal circumstances, deficits accrued in the past ate them up.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS ARE FINE ON THE PERE MARQUETTE

BEST HARVEST IS NOW IN RULL SWING ON THE RAILROADS

Traffic conditions on the Pere Marquette R'y continue to give good promise, according to the reports that are coming in from outside representatives. In this connection the completed returns for the month of October from the Grand Rapids district which is a territory of varied manufacturing enterprises since this territory extends as far as St. Joseph and Fenton Harbor to the south and includes Holland-Huskegon-Pentwater line along the Lake Michigan East Coast and north as far as Petoskey as well as the Ionia industries. There was an increase of 21 per cent in inbound traffic for the entire month over the same interval in 1922. For the past week, the increase over the same interval last year was 17 per cent in outbound and 14 per cent in inbound. The principal points contributing to this increase are Grand Rapids, Holland, Newaygo, Petoskey, Manistee, Reed City, Ionia, etc.

The Saginaw district also shows an increase of 9 per cent in forward traffic and 4 per cent in forward traffic performance records of last year. year. Alma, Bay City, Belding, Greenville, Mt. Pleasant and Pt. Huron and St. Louis are the principal contributors to this increase. Of course, there is a heavy movement of sugar beets in this territory, and the shipments of sugar from the factories are keeping up almost with the movement of beets to the machines. The beet is about 33 per cent, delivered to the factories, the estimate of the crop to be handled by the Pere Marquette R'y this year, being about 12,000 carloads, and already 4,000 carloads, and already 4,000 carloads have been delivered to the various factories situated on this line. In Michigan and in Ontario. Usually the slicing campaign extends into January. Mt. Pleasant and Port Huron are handling large quantities of Chicory this year.

Detroit, Michigan, Nov. 15—Under the constantly growing demand for Ford products, domestic assembly plants of the Ford Motor Company, working at capacity in order to meet these increasing requirements, established a new production record for the week ending Tuesday, Oct. 30, The Ford News announces.

Daily output during the six-day period averaged in excess of 7,000 and brought a total of 42,271 cars and trucks for the week, exceeding by 502 the previous high mark set up during the week ending September 25. The lowest day's production of last week was 6,890 and the highest 7123.

The present record-breaking production of the Ford Motor Company is of especial significance, continuing as it does through this period of the year when winter months are at hand and when car deliveries as a rule begin to show declines. It reflects a generally prosperous condition of the country in which Ford products seem to be enjoying a large share.

The Fordson Tractor plant turned out 1,335 tractors during the week. At the Lincoln division of the company production moved up to a new record for the week ending Tuesday with an output of 223 cars, six more than the previous week with its record of 217.

ANOTHER VERY GOOD STORY EXPLODED

It has been a popular notion that jeweler's wooden clock signs invariably point to 18 minutes after the hour. The explanation for the traditional location is that the position of the hands gives more space for advertising on the upper part of the sign and gives a better balance.

one magazine article on the subject. A New York man who is a shark for facts has discovered this design was used long before Lincoln was shot. The explanation for the traditional location is that the position of the hands gives more space for advertising on the upper part of the sign and gives a better balance.
