HOLLAND IS TO GET A NEW INDUSTRY

HAVE SECURED GUMSER WILL- LOW FACTORY FOR A STARTER

The Holland Chamber of Commerce have for sometime been negotiating with the Hughes Steel and Equipment company, located at Allegan, which tho a small concern at the present time shows great promise for extensive development.

The Gumsier Willow Factory building that has been vacant for some time has been secured, and the company will move to Holland as soon as the building can be put in shape to take care of the machinery.

The Hughes company are makers of steel factory furniture, such as chairs, book-keepers stools, high stools, restaurant chairs, steel tables, steel trucks for light work. In fact all the goods made are constructed of this metal.

William C. Vandenberg, president of the Chamber of Commerce, John Arendshorst, Henry Winter and Sam Miller, before negotiating with the firm visited Allegan and made a thorough investigation, and found that the men back of it and the concern proper was of high grade and stood well in the community.

Altho running a small factory, starting off with ten skilled laborers, there is a possibility for great development and what is better, it adds another factory to Holland, manufacturing a line of goods that is not manufactured here, adding one more to the long list of diversified industries.

While the factory was prospering in Allegan, the manager stated that the freight connections in Holland were ever so much better than those in Allegan.

In Holland a shipment of goods comes overnight by boat, while in Allegan it takes four days to a week. Eastern shipments are made to or from Holland in ten days, while in Allegan three weeks is required.

The Holland men who investigated the new project speak highly of it and one may get some conception of the class of goods that the company makes from the display put on exhibit in the Blom building on West 8th street.

This new factory may prove to be a big industry in Holland in a very short time the same as so many other industries like the Holland Furnace company, and Holland Shoe company, starting with a small beginning have become.

BARNUM SCATTERS DOUGH TO THE WIND

Barnum has the greatest show on earth, but the old P. T. has cashed in his checks long ago. But the Barnum in question was about to cash in his checks.

The Barnum we refer to is Al of the City Garage, the man who tells of the merits of the Buick car, and sells not a few.

Anyway Al took one of those Buicks, and also took his bank book containing eight checks and $175. in currency. As he stepped out of his car to go into a local bank, the bank book containing checks and currency slipped from his pocket, the rubber band broke, and the terrific wind of that day sent a collection of checks and currency whirling down the street.

The shower of long green sailing through the air soon set men, woman and child scampering down the street and after a chase of several blocks with Barnum making up the rear, every check and all but one bill was captured. A ten dollar boy in some way got by and Al Barnum is out a single X.

WADDELL-WILSON SALES CO. IS A NEW CONCERN

George Waddell and Earle Wilson, two Grand Rapids men have organized what is called the Waddell-Wilson Sales Co., who are putting on an oil burner that can be used in any make of furnace and is said to be the simplest and most economical of its kind, now on the market.

Anyway the men are giving demonstrations in the John Rutgers Clothing store on West 8th street beginning tomorrow.

Both Mr. Waddell and Mr. Wilson are well known here and are living at Mr. Wilson's cottage at one of the Holland resorts.

The Peoples State Bank wishes to thank the Ebbelink flower shop for donating the beautiful flower display that is now being used to set off the fine display of apples at the exhibition now being held in the bank and the officials also wish to announce that the show is free to everyone in fact all are welcomed. The exhibition closes Saturday night.

Miss Margaret Knutson, West 12th street, gave a surprise Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Ovilla Armbruster, whose birthday occurred Wednesday. The young lady while unaware of the surprise in store was doubly surprised to find the many useful gifts friends had brought. Games music, and dainty refreshments were features, and the following were present: The Misses Ovilla Armbruster, Cora Slenk, Hattie Slenk, Esther Armbruster, Eva Armbruster, Helen Klomparsen, Clara Wagenveld, and Margaret Knutson.

TERRIBLE BLAST PARTLY WRECKS POST OFFICE

TWO DIE, AND 14 INJURED IN GRAND RAPIDS EXPLOSION

At six o'clock last evening this paper received a telephone call from Grand Rapids telling of the terrible explosion that partially wrecked the Grand Rapids post office. The stories were many and varied. Some had it that 8 employees were killed and that a gang of robbers had first attempted to blow up a bank, and not succeeding they endeavored to raid the postoffice. Naturally these stories were taken with a grain of allowance for robbers do not work that way. The truth is that a terrific explosion demolishing the loading dock of the Grand Rapids postoffice yesterday afternoon brought death to two postal employees and injured 14 other persons, two so seriously that last night they were reported in a critical condition.

The blast, which transformed the one-story loading dock into splintered debris under which Ernest A. Roth, a mail truck driver, and Herman Petersch, a clerk, were buried, took place at 4:29. A deafening detonation, shattering hundreds of windows in surrounding buildings and along the east side of the federal building, rocked the business district and caused a property damage estimated at $30,000.

About 35 clerks and other employees at work in the big distributing room of the postoffice were showered with a barrage of debris that included iron doors, reinforced window glass and indoor mail trucks, but fortunately less than half of the working force were injured.

Among those hurt were six persons not employed in the postoffice, but passing or working nearby when the blast took place.

Three probes today were underway in an effort to determine the cause of the explosion. Four postal inspectors arrived in Grand Rapids this morning from Chicago, having been dispatched by Grant B. Miller, chief postal inspector of the Chicago district, to aid Inspectors Swain A. MasSwain, Edward LaForge and A. W. Hamilton in their investigation. Joseph E. Bayliss, in charge of the Grand Rapids office of the department of justice, will co-operate with them. Conquest Simeon LeRoy has ordered an inquest into the deaths of Petersch and Roth and may impanel a jury today, and police are conducting another inquiry in an effort to aid the government officials in their work.

Two theories are being considered in the investigations. One is that a bomb was sent through the mails, possibly to carry death to the person to whom it was mailed or to wreck the federal building. The other theory is that gas, leaking from mains of building piping nearby collected in an open space below the loading dock, was ignited and caused the blast. The theory that an explosive substance other than gas caused the explosion was given support by Safety Director James Sinke and federal officers last night. Police Chief A. A. Carroll, however, clung to the gas theory.

Fortunately for some dozen or more postal employees who might also have lost their lives, the explosion occurred during a lull in the late afternoon activity about the postoffice. Roth, married and the father of two children, was busy loading his mail truck with merchandise and letters comprised in the "4:45 dispatch." Nearby on the loading dock was Petersch, also married and the father of four children. Another employee, Harry W. Curry, a clerk, had just stepped from the loading dock into the distributing room.

The distributing room is separated from the loading dock by iron doors and a few feet behind him followed Edwin Annatyn, a dock man, who was one of those badly hurt. Newhouse, delivering his parcels, is believed to have been on or near the dock. Passing nearby on Division ave., were scores of persons, some of them included in the casualty list.

At 4:29, the time that clocks in the postoffice were still by the shock of the explosion, a terrific detonation shook the vicinity. Persons nearby saw a flash of fire, followed by an upheaval of debris and a cloud of dust that enveloped the scene. As the dust was wafted from above the dock, nothing remained of the loading platform. Part of the tin roof, supported by a few joists, still clung to the wall of the federal building.

Buried beneath the debris were two parcel post trucks, three civilian-owned touring cars, a civilian-owned truck and the mail truck Roth was loading preparatory to a run to the trains. A small truck used in the post office was hurled skyward and then fell upon the federal building roof. Glass crashed in every direction, falling from as high as the sixth story of the Furniture temple, from windows in rooming houses across Division ave., and from windows in two printing offices across the street.

Moans brot rescuers to where Roth and Petersch lay, plinned by wreckage, their bodies maimed, smothering beneath the debris that had fallen on them.

In one instance, spectators saw a man felled by the explosion hurrying to the wreckage and start unpinning planks burying the injured. A little boy burst into tears and ran into the federal building. He told others he believed "daddy" had been hurt.

Postoffice attaches and others called police and fire departments and ambulances and fire trucks sped to the scene.

Within a short time, Roth was located and hurried to the hospital. Five minutes later volunteers and the firemen lifted the overhanging remains of the loading dock roof and from out of the debris below, uncovered Petersch. He and Newhouse were carried off, but the work of moving the debris continued until the concrete pavement below the loading dock was clear, and until all belief that others were trapped in the explosion proved to be unfounded.

FINANCE AND APPLES MIX AT LOCAL BANK

PEOPLES STATE BANK STAGE A WONDERFUL APPLE SHOW

One who enters the Peoples State and is not aware of the fact, the first thing that strikes him is the aroma of apples and were he blindfolded he could imagine himself in a large apple orchard.

However this is not the case. The fact is that he Peoples State Bank is staging a large apple fair, and the entire west end of the building is devoted to apples from this vicinity. There are 144 exhibits and these are neatly racked in pyramid style in order to show them off to the best advantage.

Never even at the Holland fair has such a large display been shown and Benjamin Brower of the local bank, and treasurer of the Holland fair is in charge of the apple show.

The apples sure are beauties and there are thousands of them, and what is more, they come from within a radius of six miles of Holland, in fact the majority of them within two miles. The display is surely an eye opener to the citizens of Holland for it is surprising that such beautiful fruit grows at our very door.

Regular premiums and ribbons, first, seconds and thirds have been issued, the first being blue, the second red and the third yellow, each containing the seal of the state of Michigan and the wording "apple show, Peoples State Bank, Holland, Michigan, all printed in gold."

The judges of the show are W. B. Collins and George Loveridge of Fennville, Michigan and their findings are shown in the awarding of the following premiums.

Premiums for the different varieties follow:
John DuMez of Holland, first premium on Stark, McIntosh, Rhode Island Greenings, Northern Spies, Jonathan, Delicious, Maiden Blush, Twenty Ounce, Wine Sap, Wagoner, Talmann Sweet, Ontario, Fall Pippin, Black Ben, and Black Twig, and second premium on: Baldwin, Kings, Golden Russet, King David, and Cooper's Market.

Gerrit Du Mez of Holland, first premium on "Seek-no-further, Baldwin, Winter Bananas, Wolf River, Tomkin's King, Grimes Golden, Mann, Golden Russet, Cooper's Market, and Pewaukee, and second premium on Northern Spies, Talmann Sweet, and Stark.

Henry G. Vredevelde of Holland received first premium on Wealthy, Fameuse, Ben Davis, St. Lawrence, Roman Beauty, and Duchess; second premium on Winter Bananas, Maiden Blush, Grimes Golden, Wagoner, Ontario, Shlawassee, and Wine Sap; third premium on Jonathan, Wolf River and Talmann Sweet.

H. J. Kleinhekel of Fillmore, was awarded the first premium on Shlawassee, Hubbardston, Swaar, and Unknown; second premium on Wolf River.

Gerrit Deur of Holland, won first on Northwestern Greenings, and Pumpkin Sweet; second premium on Jonathan; and third premium on Northern Spies, Winter Bananas, Tomkin Kings, Ben Davis, and Swaar.

Klaas Koster of Holland, was awarded second premium on Seek-no-further, Ben Davis, and Fall Pippin; third premium on Fallwater, Wagoner, and Golden Russet.

W. H. Benedict of Holland won first premium on the "Kind David" variety and second premium on the "McIntosh."

John K. Alderink of near Gibson, was awarded first premium on the "Fallwater" variety; Alvin Bauhahn also of near Gibson, first prize on Gilliflower, and third prize on Stark.

John De Pree of Holland, won second premium on Fallwater and third premium on Grimes Golden.

Peter Steggerda of Holland, won second premium on Northwestern Greenings.

Paul Dogger of Holland, second premium on Rhode Island Greenings; third premium on Baldwin.
Van Appeldoorn Bros. of Holland, won second premium on Hubbardston; Jake Van Huls of East Saugatuck, was awarded third premium on Rhode Island Greenings.

The cash premiums given to prize winners will be in the neighborhood of $125.

PLANS ALL READY FOR FARM BUREAU FESTIVAL ALLENTOWN TOWN HALL

Everything in readiness for the sixth annual Farm Bureau Festival to be held at the Allendale Town hall Wednesday, Nov. 19th. Mr. Carl Knopf, Muskegon county agricultural agent, will do the judging and also be one of the speakers. Mr. Addy from the dairy department, M. A. C. will also appear on the program. The Allendale Farmers Club will serve a dinner at a reasonable price. Special prizes will be given by Lemmen Bros., Walbringer's store and the Allendale Creamery in addition to those given by the Farm Bureau and the Parish Bros. Milling Co., Coopersville Co-Op and Jamestown Co-Op. It is expected that this will be the best festival that has been held. At 2:30 P. M. the organization of the Ottawa-Allendale Cow Testing Ass'n will take place.

LEWIS SERIER CONVICTED OF BOOTLEGGING

Lewis Serier was convicted in circuit court yesterday on the charge of furnishing and selling liquor to a man by the name of Spriggs of Holland. The jury was out less than an hour. Chief Van Ry had the confession of Spriggs who in turn had been furnishing liquor to others, implicating young Serier. What led to the arrest of Spriggs in the first place was the fact that after many complaints had been coming in the police searched the premises where Spriggs lived, and found a pint of moon in the ground under the grape arbor, which was stated Serier furnished. Serier lives on west 7th street, and no doubt will be sentenced at the close of this session of circuit court.

INTERURBAN TO DELIVER OWN FREIGHT

MAKE ARRANGEMENTS WITH EIGHT HOLLAND DRAYMEN TO DO WORK

Will Pick Up Or Deliver Freight Direct At Merchants Door

Often at the Holland Merchants association meetings the question has come up to stand by the interurban with all freight business, for if the Holland Interurban was to go out of business it would bring about a deplorable situation, and Holland would be practically isolated from Saugatuck and the resorts the year around with only the Pere Marquette to give passenger service twice a day to Grand Rapids.

Truck lines have cut heavily into interurban business, and the Holland Interurban who pay for their own highway which the trucks do not, pay for the cleaning of the road in the winter time, make all necessary repairs to the highway and pay primary school money which the trucks do not, and even pay taxes to build the road that their competitors use, have been having hard sleiding since the trucks deliver right at the merchants door. This fact made a terrible inroad upon interurban freight business. The convenience of having stuff delivered at interurban freight prices appealed to the merchants, and consequently the loss of business.

Therefore Mr. Brown, superintendent was in Holland yesterday and made arrangements with eight Holland draymen, and two draymen of Zeeland to not only take care of the incoming freight and deliver this to the very door of any customer who gets freight over the interurban, but to pick up outgoing freight to be shipped to Grand Rapids, at the freight charge, in fact the interurban is giving the same service now that the trucks are giving, with an early morning delivery.

They will also pick up freight in Grand Rapids from the different wholesale houses to be shipped to Holland or Zeeland, if the customer will only direct to have it shipped by interurban, and delivery will be made coming and going as prompt as possible.

Mr. Brown stated that the Holland Interurban every winter has been giving service through snow drifts and all bad weather when all other service failed. It has given the very best passenger service as everyone knows.

It is one of Holland's best taxpayers, and 70 interurban men, including conductors and motormen live in Holland and spend their earnings here. All things being equal, Mr. Brown feels that the Holland Interurban ought now to be given a square deal.

What applies to Holland, also applies to Zeeland, Mr. Brown states and he says further that he has made arrangements with the following Holland and Zeeland draymen to handle the business: Al Brinkman, Herman Damsen, Harry TenBrink, John Rooks, Wm. Mulder, Isaac Verschure, Wm. Mokma, Citizens Transfer and Storage company of Holland, and Gerrit Amink and Henry Vander Weide of Zeeland.

MANY MORE STOLEN BEANS ARE FOUND

HOLLAND POLICE ARREST TWO MORE IN ROBBERY CASE

Chief Van Ry's men have just returned from Muskegon Heights where they got another load of loot from the robbers den kept by Henry Tubbergen, a former Holland man.

The load contained 600 pounds of flour taken from the Beach Milling company which was not included in the first consignment found. There was also a great deal of household goods and it is estimated today that the things stolen will total considerable over $3,000. Sheriff McKinley of Newaygo county also had a truck at the house in question, and took a large sized load of goods stolen from Grant, the place where the beans were stolen and which theft upon investigation brought to light the robbers den conducted by Tubbergen.

That is not all. Tubbergen when arrested and taken before Chief Van Ry confessed that he had brought several bags of beans to his mother's house on East 7th street. This, his mother, Mrs. Frank Chrispell, denied, stating that she knew nothing of beans. The Holland police however took this story with a grain of allowance, and after making a thorough investigation found that Frank Chrispell of this city, and Harry Guilford of Port Sheldon had taken the beans to the sandhills of Port Sheldon where they were dug up. There were 35 sacks, worth more than $200.

Chrispell was arranged before Justice Van Scheiven on the charge of secreting stolen property, and was bound over to circuit court for trial, giving a $500. bond for his appearance. Guilford will be arranged today.

An article covering this entire story and where it had its beginning will be found on page 3 of this issue of the News.

Dr. W. B. House, chairman of the Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce, was a visitor in Holland Friday night. He came to hear Dr. John Vander Vries give his discourse before the Holland Chamber of Commerce at the Masonic Temple.

Clarence Morris, 57, of Allegan, is in Buttrickworth as the result of injuries received early Thursday night at Division-av. and Pleasant-st. Gr. Rapids, when struck by an automobile in charge of F. M. Bleher, 950 Division-av. S. The driver stopped immediately and hurried the injured man to the hospital.

A charming dinner-bridge was given for Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Robbins Thursday evening by Miss Margaret Watson at her home on Franklin st. Dinner was served at small tables centered with flowers, in the yellow shades. Bridge followed with the honors going to Mrs. Herman Millman, Eugene Harbeck and a guest prize to Mrs. Robbins. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Hunter S. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Robbins Jr., of Holland; Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Millman, Mrs. Reginald Heap, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Little, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harbeck, Mrs. Herman Zierlin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Buckley, and Mrs. D. O. Watson.

A feature number will be presented on the local Lyceum course Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, when the Jackson Jubilee Singers, a notable company of seven negro melodists, will be heard.

The program of this company covers every form of negro music. Negro melodies, jubilee chants, plantation songs and dances, religious hymns, voodoo songs, old tribal melodies and spirituals are sung by colored singers who typify the best musical attainments of their race.

The Jackson Jubilee Singers were sent out two years ago as one of the leading attractions on a Redpath Chautauqua circuit. They proved an immediate success. As a "crowd-getter" this company surpassed every other attraction on the circuit. That experience was repeated the following summer on another circuit.

This season the Redpath Bureau is sending the company out on the Lyceum platform, and wherever they have appeared their fascinating and appealing negro melodies have evoked an extraordinary enthusiastic response.

This will prove the most popular number ever given under the auspices of the College Lyceum Course. From the monetary standpoint, the attraction is worth while. The prices have been reduced in order to fill the house.

Prof. Egbert Winter of the education department of Hope College is in Ann Arbor to attend the institute for community service of the colleges of the state. This organization has for its purpose to provide the smaller places in Michigan with extension programs by representatives of the colleges, the university and the state institutions. Dr. Wm. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan is head of the organization.

The extension departments of the university of Michigan and of the state supported institutions like the big Normal schools send their representatives to various parts of the state at state expense. The privately endowed schools send their men out on extension lectures and frequently do it free of charge; sometimes the men going out on these lectures have been compelled to pay their own expenses even because the communities asking for their services had overlooked this little formality. The meeting in Ann Arbor is for the purpose of considering the interests of this service and how to make it as effective as possible.

There is a great deal of demand for the services of speakers from the colleges throughout the state. The demand in fact is so great that often it cannot be adequately filled. There are many towns in the state that could use a great many more speakers than are available and sometimes requests have to be refused. The association at its meeting at Ann Arbor will try to devise ways and means of making the service as adequate as possible.

Members of the Hope College faculty do considerable of this kind of work, mostly free of charge. Last year, according to Prof. Winter's figures, the local college sent out 38 representatives during the year on extension work.

Because the women of the church have furnished $1,218 in donations for the missionary educational cause in addition to the regular offerings, the Woman's Missionary society of the First Reformed church Wednesday afternoon held a golden jubilee celebration in the church. It was a special thanksgiving service and 125 women of the church took part.

The announcement was made at the meeting that the sum secured in the jubilee drive for the girls' high school in Amoy, China, from the women of the church was $1,018. The Young Women's League for Service added $200 to this sum, making the total a very substantial one in view of the fact that the people of that church are all people of moderate means. This large contribution is considered all the more remarkable when it is remembered that last June the church expended $3,500 for redecorating the building, making the total of the money contributed in addition to the ordinary budget about $5,000.

When the money for the girls' school in China was announced, Miss Theresa Mol, costumed like a Chinese girl, accepted the gift with thanks for the Chinese girls and expressed the appreciation of that nation for what the money can do in training teachers, nurses and doctors in China. Mrs. A. Walvoord offered a consecration prayer.

All the decorations were in keeping with the golden jubilee idea. They were of autumn leaves and yellow flowers and a huge birthday cake of fifty golden candles was divided. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Walvoord, on behalf of the society, presented Mrs. James Weyer, president of the organization, with a dozen yellow chrysanthemums as a token of appreciation of Mrs. Weyer's work for this cause.

The decorations and refreshment committee was composed of Mrs. J. Vander Hill, Mrs. H. Raterink, Mrs. A. Dogger, Mrs. Smeenge, Mrs. Nienhuis, and Mrs. Frank Van Etta. The hostesses were: Mrs. G. Ter Vree, Mrs. P. Vander Poel, and Mrs. A. Nienhuis. Winifred Zwemer gave a reading, "The Parable of the Water Jars," and Margaret Hondelink, of Rochester, N. Y., gave a trumpet solo.

Lucas Sprietsma Sr., of Chicago is in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kooker. Mr. Sprietsma was formerly in the hardware business in this city.

Cornelius Schaap sustained a fractured shoulder while working at the new Warm Friends tavern. Schaap had just loaded his wheelbarrow and was about to wheel it away when a brick fell from the scaffolding on the sixth floor. It missed his head, striking him on the shoulder.

Beginning Sunday, November 9th the first interurban car in the morning will leave Holland for Grand Rapids at 5:30 instead of at five o'clock. The first car will leave Grand Rapids for Holland at 6:50 instead of 6:20. The first car will leave for Saultgutek at 7:55 instead of 7:35.

At 9:30 Saturday morning the steamer "South American," partly destroyed by fire a few months ago, backed away from her dock and began the journey to the shipyards for repairs. The big steamer backed from the dock on her own power and then when she had reached the middle of the lake the tug accompanying her to the shipyards hitched a rope to her.

The big steamer was to have left the local dock a few days ago but the lake was too rough for the journey at that time and the trip was postponed until Saturday morning.

In one township in Muskegon county the election returns show that Mr. Davis did not obtain a vote. However, as no one probably promised Mr. Davis a vote there, it is not so bad. We remember a man who ran for mayor of a city once. In one ward he had two paid workers. The men got $3 a day to work for the candidate, while they also got flour and other articles from his store. Then when the votes were counted the candidate did not have a booster in the ward. The two men lived in the ward where they were working.—Muskegon Chronicle.

A representative audience greeted Dr. John Vander Vries, formerly of Holland, now with the national chamber of commerce with headquarters at Chicago. Mr. Vander Vries is an able speaker and had his subject well in hand.

He started out by giving a short history of how and why the national chamber of commerce was organized and what the duties of this organization consist of. He stated that this national body was created in the interest of business not alone, but in the interest of the public as well, for if the public does not prosper, business naturally languishes.

He stated that the national organization is composed of 900 chambers of commerce, dotting the entire United States. Besides, there are 500 trade organizations also affiliated with it.

Mr. Vander Vries stated that the functions of a chamber of commerce in a city are many. He contends that the getting of new factories for a town is not the only duty that a chamber of commerce should shoulder. The city's welfare is not found in industry alone but in public health which embraces public parks, playgrounds, sanitary conditions, healthful recreation and in some instances, even religious activities.

However, in speaking of industry it should be the first duty of a chamber of commerce, Mr. Vander Vries stated, to get the right kind of enterprises and factories to the city, business establishments that fit into the scheme of things in a particular city. The best thing to do is first to make a survey of a city to see what factories would be the most desirable and the most economical. The thing to find out is how far is an industry from its raw material. How far from its best market? What are the labor conditions? Is the class of labor the right kind for the class of goods that are to be manufactured? Transportation facilities by rail or water enter in. In fact, the thing to find out is whether the industry fits the town considering all these points.

As an illustration Mr. Vander Vries took for example the city of St. Louis, where many shoes are made. The chamber of commerce of that city made a survey and found that the eyelets and laces for the shoes came from Massachusetts, while Massachusetts sent to St. Louis for the raw material that is used for eyelets and shoelaces. Now St. Louis makes the shoelaces and eyelets themselves for the shoes they make from the raw material found at their very door. It has created a new industry, saves freight two ways and saves a tremendous lot of time lost in shipping.

Mr. Vander Vries gave the drones in the chamber of commerce a knockout blow. He stated that a lazy member on a committee practically kills a committee, and such a member should be kicked out immediately and a live wire substituted. He stated that the chamber of commerce work was largely done through committees, and if a whole or a part of a committee does not function, it stops the cog in the wheel and a few such dilatory committees soon make a chamber of commerce in a city a sluggish organization.

Mr. Vander Vries complimented the Holland chamber of commerce upon the many things accomplished during the two years of its existence and he saw a great future for his old home town.

The deer season opened Monday and Ottawa county nomads have been trekking northward in time to be on the ground in search of adventure, recreation and incidentally capture the elusive deer.

Some of them have left by automobile while not a few have gone by train. Thus far 20 deer hunting licenses have been issued in Ottawa co. Among the hunters are county farm agent C. P. Milham, county surveyor Carl T. Bowen, formerly of Holland, Deputy sheriff Marvin Den Herder, Austin Harrington, chairman of the county road commission, and others. Deer are said to be plentiful this year, the wolves having let them along to a great extent.

In the list of deer licenses issued by county clerk Orrie Sluiter, many names from Holland and vicinity appear. The names of the hunters who have gone north from Ottawa county are: Earl Balduis, N. H. Balduis, Howard Balduis, Nunica; Howard Gillhespy, Conklin; Clinton P. Milham, Grand Haven; George Volker, Grand Haven; Albert Wheat, Grand Haven; L. Kardux, Holland; Earl Kresger, Holland; C. C. The reception by the W. C. T. U. to the teachers of the city was a pleasant affair. About two hundred gathered at the First Reformed church to enjoy a program of music and an address by Rev. James W. Hallwood of Grand Rapids on the subject, "The Final Education." The speaker has a large fund of humor and droll stories which no doubt add to his popularity as a speaker, his stint being a speech and a half a day. He, however, gave serious thought to his subject and defined education to be the training of heart and mind in the appreciation of values. In his judgment youth gives too much thought to athletics and not enough to mastering good English, to appreciate art in music and painting, and cultural studies. One must also seek the best in religion, the speaker claimed, to have love and sympathy to parents, home and the whole world.

Mr. Fairbanks, of the Hope college musical faculty, gave violin selections. The first, "Melody," a composition by vice president-elect Dawes, was especially enjoyed. One by Kreiser and the "Indian Lament" were given as encores.

Miss Morrison of Hope college favored with two songs, "Little Lost Youth of Me" by Bond, and "Think, Love, of Me" by Grey, Miss Van Houten accompanying. Miss "Adella Beeuwkes gave a reading in which was expressed the value of temperance instruction in the schools and the teachers' opportunities.

Mrs. Huizinga, Mrs. Schulling and committee served delicious ice cream and cake.

Consolidation of the Graham & Morton Transportation company with the Goodrich Transp. company, was assured Thursday afternoon when the Michigan Public Utilities commission at Lansing informed representatives of the latter company that permission would be granted in an order for the Goodrich company to issue $400,000 in common stock and $250,000 in preferred stock.

This new stock is being issued for the purpose of taking over a controlling interest in the Graham & Morton company by the Goodrich lines. It will amount to a control of all like steamship services between Chicago and Michigan points on the east shore including Holland with the exception of the line to Petoskey and Charlevoix.

Under the merger plan, William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, who was chairman of the board of directors of the Graham & Morton company, will become chairman of the board of the Goodrich company.

Co-operation of the Goodrich steamship lines with motor bus transportation, especially freight business in southwestern Michigan territory, proved very profitable to the steamship company this year, and it is said that this policy will be further extended next year.

Day and night services by the motor truck and the steamship lines have made it possible to ship fruits and green vegetables and other perishables over night from western Michigan to Chicago. Kalamazoo co. lery which leaves that point at 5 o'clock in the afternoon is on a freighter at South Haven at midnight and is on the Chicago market early next morning.

No. 353 AN ORDINANCE CHAP. 53

To License and Regulate the Wholesale and Retail Sale of Meats to Retailers Within the City of Holland:

1. Prohibiting sale without license.
2. Definition.
3. Requirement of License.
4. Requirement of Application.
5. Fee.
6. License Provisions.
7. Sale and Possession of Meats.
8. Relative to Retailers.
9. Inspection of Meats.
10. License Number on Vehicles.
11. Powers of Health Officer and City Inspector.
12. Requirements as to Slaughter Houses.
13. Penalties.
14. When to Take Effect.
15. Compiled as Chapter of General Ordinance.

The City of Holland Ordains: (426) Sec. 1. No person shall sell, deliver or engage in the sale and delivery of fresh meats to retailers in the City of Holland without having first obtained a license to do so from the City Clerk of said City, and no person shall bring or send fresh meats for sale to retailers in said City, excepting through a licensed dealer as hereinafter provided.

(427) Sec. 2. The word "person" shall, for the purpose of this ordinance, hereinafter be construed to include individuals, co-partnerships and corporations, not operating under United States or State license and inspection; excepting and provided that nothing in this ordinance shall be construed to prevent any farmer from selling in the open market any wholesome meat intended for food, from any animal or fowl, that he has himself fed and slaughtered and did not purchase for the sole purpose of slaughter and sale.

The words "fresh meats" shall, for the purpose of this ordinance, hereinafter be construed to include fresh meat of all fowls and animals ordinarily slaughtered for human consumption.

(428) Sec. 3. Every person desiring to engage in the sale or delivery of fresh meats to retailers in the City of Holland, before doing so, shall make application to the City Clerk of said City of Holland for a license for that purpose, which application shall be in writing upon the form prescribed by the City of Holland, and shall be approved by the Health Officer or the City Inspector of said City.

(429) Sec. 4. Said application shall state fully: (a) The full name, age and residence of said applicant. (b) The exact location, and a complete description of applicant's slaughter house. (430) Sec. 5. The fee charged for the license required under this ordinance shall be $25.00 annually. (431) Sec. 6. The license herein provided shall not be extended beyond the first Monday in June next after the issuance of same. Provided further, that said license may be revoked or suspended at any time upon hearing, by the Mayor after notice by the Health Officer, when any of the provisions of this ordinance, or any law of the State relating to the sale and delivery of meat for human consumption shall have been violated by the licensee.

(432) Sec. 7. No licensee shall sell, hold, offer for sale or deliver to a retailer in the City of Holland any fresh meat unless: (a) The animal from which said meat was obtained shall have been slaughtered in a slaughter house as described and located in the application of license.

(b) Said fresh meat shall be entirely free from disease and fit for human consumption. (c) Said meat shall have been kept free from contamination by flies or dust in a suitable covering from the time of butchering until delivery of the same to the retailer.

(d) Said meat shall first be attended with licensee's name in such form and manner as the Health Officer or City Inspector may require. (433) Sec. 8. No retailer in the City of Holland shall purchase or have in his possession any fresh meat for human consumption which he has obtained from any person not a licensee under this ordinance, unless the wholesaler from whom he obtained such meat is operating either under United States or State license and inspection—excepting and provided, that a retailer may have in his possession wholesome meat which has been dressed and sold to him by a farmer who has himself fed and slaughtered the animal or fowl from which such meat was obtained; provided further, that such animal or fowl was not purchased for the sole purpose of slaughter and sale, provided further that a retailer shall immediately tag such meat with suitable tags, showing the name and residence of such farmer and any other information that the Board of Health may require in order that they may have proper control and inspection over all meat sold in the City of Holland.

(434) Sec. 9. For the purpose of inspection the Health Officer, City Inspector, and or the assistants of either of them or any member of the Board of Health, are authorized to enter any building, room or premises where any such licensee under this ordinance slaughters, keeps or stores any fresh meat for sale or delivery, to any retailer within the City of Holland. The said Health Officer, City Inspector, assistant or any member of the Board of Health, are empowered to open any package or container, whether in transit or otherwise, containing fresh meat for sale to a retailer in the City of Holland, and take therefrom a part or the whole thereof for examination, to determine whether said fresh meat is fit for human consumption.

(435) Sec. 10. Every person using a vehicle for the sale or delivery of fresh meat to retailers within the City of Holland shall keep the name of the owner thereof and the license number in plain legible letters and figures, not less than two inches in height, upon the side of said vehicle. All vehicles and animals used for the slaughtering, cutting, handling, storing and delivery of fresh meat shall at all times be kept in a clean condition and free from any contamination in such manner as the Health Officer or the City Inspector of the City of Holland may require.

(436) Sec. 11. The Health Officer or City Inspector of the City of Holland may confiscate, exclude from sale and/or destroy in whole or in part, any fresh meat which has been condemned by them, or to which access, for the purpose of inspection, has been refused to the said Health Officer, City Inspector, or any of their assistants or any member of the Board of Health.

(437) Sec. 12. Slaughter houses from which fresh meat is obtained, for sale or delivery to retailers in the City of Holland, shall be thoroughly cleaned each day before and after use. All hides, non-edible parts, roughage and manure shall be removed immediately upon slaughter and kept where and as directed by the Health officer or City Inspector of the City of Holland. The City of Holland may condemn or exclude from sale in the City of Holland, any fresh meat obtained from a slaughter house where the provisions of this section are not complied with.

(438) Sec. 13. Every person who shall be convicted of the violation of any provision of this ordinance, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100 and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the City Jail of the City of Holland or County Jail of Ottawa County for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court before whom such conviction is had. In case a fine and costs only shall be imposed, such person may be committed to said City Jail of the City of Holland or County Jail of Ottawa County, until the payment of such fine and costs not exceeding ninety (90) days.

(439) Sec. 14. This Ordinance shall take effect twenty days after its passage. (440) Sec. 15. This Ordinance shall be and hereby is compiled as Chapter No. 53, Sections 425 to 440 inclusive of an Ordinance to Revise, Amend, Re-enact, Consolidate and Compile the General Ordinances of the City of Holland, to Provide the Penalties for Violation thereof, and to Repeal all Ordinances in Conflict Herewith" passed and approved by the Common Council of the City of Holland, September 20, A. ## LOCAL POLICE GET $3,000 IN LOOT

Police headquarters in Holland is filled with about $2,000.00 worth of stolen goods and there is considerable more to be hauled. The story had its beginning about two weeks ago when the Zeeland garage owned by Mr. Kooyers was robbed of about $200.00 worth of tires. There was no clue that would lead to the arrest of the burglars, nor could any trace be found of the stolen goods. A few days later a large consignment of beans was stolen at Grant, Newaygo county, and shortly afterward some oats were taken.

Sheriff McKinley of that county suspected a man by the name of Evert Ayers and a search was made of his house and barn, where the oats were discovered, but apparently Ayers had got wise to the coming of the sheriff's party and had run several bags of beans from the upstairs, pouring them down between the studdings of the house.

The result was that the walls of the Ayers home were bursting with beans. A few stray beans on the floor led to the discovery.

What led the investigation to Holland and the robberies in this vicinity was the fact that Ayers implicated Henry Tubbergen, formerly of Holland, now of Muskegon Heights, and also a young man by the name of Evert Scott, living near Grant.

The Newaygo sheriff immediately went to Muskegon Heights where Tubbergen admitted that he had stolen the beans, but stated that he had taken several sacks of the beans to his mother's place in Holland, whose name is Mrs. Frank Christpell, living on 7th street.

Sheriff McKinley and Deputy sheriff Hietje came to Holland, searched the Christpell house, but found no beans, and the woman emphatically denied that beans were brought there, in fact that she had never heard of beans in any way.

Sheriff McKinley then took Tubbergen to Holland police headquarters and chief Van Ry immediately recognized the man who had been in difficulties before in Holland. Mr. Van Ry asked Sheriff McKinley if he was looking for some other stolen goods besides beans and oats. The sheriff said that he was not. Then Mr. Van Ry asked him whether in his search he had noticed any other goods that looked suspicious. The sheriff said that he had. Among the things mentioned were a lot of silverware and a little brass fire extinguisher. As soon as the little brass fire extinguisher was mentioned Chief Van Ry stood up, grabbed Tubbergen by the shoulder and with finger pointing he said, "Tubbergen, you stole that extinguisher from the Ottawa Beach some time ago."

Tubbergen spoke up, "Well, Chief, you got me anyway, so I'll make a clean breast of things," and he then told how he had cleaned out the cottage of Lyman T. Hay at Ottawa Beach, relieving the cottage of more than a thousand dollars worth of household goods, including $300.00 worth of linen and bedding, besides fur coats, cooking utensils, a chest of silver, curtains, electric heater, and even some olive oil and maple syrup. When asked where he had these goods secreted he stated that they were in his home at Muskegon Heights.

The Holland Chief detailed officers Steketee and Zweringa on the job, and they have already returned with two loads of stolen property, the entire consignment inventorying at more than $2,000.00.

They will leave again on Tuesday for another load, and goodness knows how much more there will be.

In the consignment was also found 500 pounds of flour taken from the Beach Milling company, which the local concern did not even know had been stolen; $200.00 worth of tools, a cook stove and a sleeping cot still at Muskegon Heights, it is found, had also been stolen. The Zeeland tires taken from a garage there were later found by Deputy Sheriff Hietje of Zeeland, hidden away at the Ayers home in Grant, Newaygo county.

When Ayers and Tubbergen were searched, two bunches of keys were taken, containing at least 200 keys of different sizes. In the Tubbergen home a "black jack" and an automatic gun were also found.

The goods at police headquarters surely constitute a conglomerate mass. There are percolators, combs and brushes, bottle of cologne, mirrors, cameras, knives and forks, in fact the list would be too long to mention.

Chief Van Ry is especially anxious to see what more there is at Muskegon Heights and he thinks that some of the goods stolen from Dr. Vail's cottage at Waukazoo more than a year ago might be traced.

The Newaygo officers took their men back to Newaygo county, where the three of them will be tried on the charge of burglary, having to do with the loss of beans and oats.

After the burglars have served their sentence of possibly five years, it will be up to the Ottawa county officers to re-arrest them for burglaries in this county.

In the meantime Chief Van Ry has all the stolen goods on display at headquarters and citizens of Holland and vicinity are privileged to look over the list, provided they have found some of their belongings missing within the last year or more.

The goods stolen, including the tires at Zeeland, will inventory not less than $3,000.00, not including the beans and oats.

HOLLAND NOT MENTIONED IN BELL IMPROVEMENTS

Holland is not mentioned in the list of cities that are to benefit because the Bell Phone Co. is to spend millions for extensions and improvements in Michigan. Practically every city of importance is mentioned, however, and possibly this city will come in for a portion eventually.

President Franz C. Kuhn of the Michigan Bell Telephone company, has announced his company will expend more than $85,000,000 between now and the end of 1929 for additions to Michigan's telephone plant. That program of expansion will bring the property worth of the plant with which the company serves Michigan up to more than $150,000,000.

President Kuhn, briefly outlining the telephone company's plans for the next five years, indicated that additions to plants serving most of Michigan's larger cities are contemplated.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Van Vulpen celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Saturday evening at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Peter Notter, 76 W. 16th St. Children, grandchildren, brothers and sisters numbering twenty-five gathered 'to congratulate the aged couple.

At seven o'clock a sumptuous wedding supper was served; after which a short program of music and readings was rendered.

The living room was beautifully decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and the dining table looked festive with its centerpiece of marigolds and the dates 1874 and 1924 in gold at each end of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Vulpen have spent the greater part of their married life on a farm just south of the city. For the past eighteen years they have lived in retirement at 24 W. 16th St.

Beautiful gifts and flowers were presented to them in remembrance of the happy event.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY HATES REPUBLICAN GOVERNORS

State Senator Burney E. Brower of Jackson county, says there is one thing about state election returns in his county that he has never been able to understand. That is the lukewarmness towards regularly nominated Republican majority of upwards of 5,000. Yet in five of the last eight state elections it returned pluralities for the Democratic candidates for governor. In one other election the Republican candidate won out by a scant plurality of a little over 100, and in another by 300 plurality.

ALLEGAN JUSTICE HAS BUSY DAY

Clarence and Peter Koster, aged 18 and 19 years respectively, broke into a Leighton schoolhouse Oct. 30, mixed the books and wrote obscene expressions on the blackboard. They admitted their guilt and Justice Fish of Allegan gave them ten days in jail to think over what they had done. The boys had a good reputation, were industrious and well-behaved, but offered no explanation for their conduct.

Thomas DeLong got full of "moonshine" Tuesday and wandered up Ely st., that evening, running into and damaging a car parked at the side of the road. The officers found a bottle of whisky on his person and decided to charge him with unlawful possession of liquor. He waived examination Wednesday, was brought before Judge Cross, Thursday, pleaded guilty, and will be up for sentence this week.

L. M. Hoyt, operating the creamery at Perle, was arrested on complaint of W. L. Woltman of the agricultural department, charged with offering for sale butter containing less than eighty per cent of fat. He pleaded guilty, but claimed that he was not aware that the butter tested only seventy-seven per cent. Justice Fish heard his plea Wednesday and assessed him $50 and costs.

36 POSTAL EMPLOYEES ARE CAUGHT STEALING STRAW VOTES IN MAIL

A dispatch from Washington states that thirty-six postal employees in 15 cities have been found guilty of having misappropriated mail recently by taking the ballots of a presidential straw vote from undeliverable envelopes, and voting the ballots themselves.

Postmaster General New, in an announcement Monday stated that the offenders had been disciplined by reducing their salaries $100. Said offenses were pretty evenly distributed among the partisans of at least four candidates for the presidency. He did not make known the cities where the employees were implicated. Each instance reported was thoroughly investigated by inspectors.

TO TEACH ENGLISH AND CITIZENSHIP

The board of education of the public schools is offering an opportunity for all foreigners to learn the English language and to become acquainted with American institutions to do so at night in special classes to be formed next Monday evening in Room 206 of the high school building. This will not be a regular night school in the usual sense but is only for the specific purpose of giving the foreigners an opportunity to learn English and citizenship. Martin Bos will be the teacher.

It is planned to hold sessions two evenings a week. Which evenings are to be selected is to be decided upon Monday night. All who wish to take advantage of this opportunity are requested to be present Monday evening.

MORE HUNTERS IN NORTH WOODS THAN EVER BEFORE

The deer hunting season opened Monday. Indications are that more hunters are in the north woods this year than any previous season. Licenses issued so far run well over 25,000, which sets a record. From all reports less hunters will return empty handed than have in the past. Wardens report that the deer are numerous and are still confined to the ridges and plains. The boys that go north can thank the one buck law and the state warden hunters for the increase in the ranks of our white-tailed deer and no one will be surprised if the total kill in Michigan this year will top that of Pennsylvania last year which ran over 6,500.

AMERICAN BEET SUGAR CO. MAY ABSORB RIVALS

The financial district in New York has heard that the American Beet Sugar company has offered to buy the Minnesota Sugar company and the Northern Sugar company. Tentative terms were said to involve payment of $117 a share for the preferred and $49 a share for the common stock of Northern Sugar and $21 a share for the common of Minnesota Sugar, the minimum amounts stockholders would receive.

Teachers of Hudsonville public schools have organized a Parent-Teacher club. Preliminary to this organization Supt. De Jonge with his six assistants made a house to house visit to all the patrons of the schools and found little trouble in enlisting them in this new work.

Supt. De Jonge was elected president, Theodore B. Curtis, vice president; Miss Gladys De Neff, secretary; Mrs. George Hubbard, treasurer.

HOLLAND MAN WOULD BOND AUTO DRIVERS

A letter by Sam W. Miller of Holland to Carl M. Saunders of the Grand Rapids Herald formed the subject of one of Mr. Saunders' well known Upper Right Hand Corner Editorials in Sunday's Herald. The editorials is headed "Bad Driving Kills." Mr. Miller's letter, which is quoted in the body of the editorial reads as follows:

Mr. Carl M. Saunders,
Care of The Herald.

Der Mr. Saunders—Your article in the Upper Right Hand Corner in The Herald of Oct. 26, is enough to set one to more than thinking, and enough to make the legislature sit up and take notice.

A man, before he is permitted to run a locomotive, has to put in years and years as fireman, learning how to run on two streaks of rust, on which he cannot turn right or left only as the steel permits him.

Anything can take hold of an automobile steering wheel and be permitted to guide the thing through a maze of traffic, that makes us oldtimers quake. I have driven since 1903, and I shudder at times.

How to curb is the question. Every one has his own solution, good and bad and I have one.

Every autoist should be put through a thorough examination as to his ability to perform and act in emergencies.

Every autoist should give a bond as to his good behavior, guaranteeing to the rest of us his ability to refrain from mixing equirrel whisky with gasoline. Someone said to me, who good would that do? I could go right out and get drunk and attempt to drive, but I informed him, if he was that kind of a fellow, he couldn't get bondsmen.

An article says 18,000 citizens of New York state will not be permitted to vote this year, as they flunked the literacy test. Could not read or write. Wonderful precaution, but it doesn't concern life or death, and no one would get killed if they did vote, but there are thousands driving cars who can't read the "Go" and "Stop" and other signs directing traffic was demonstrated in Detroit on more occasions than one, so what chance have we? Every autoist should be compelled to carry liability insurance.

Holland, Mich. Sam W. Miller.

OIL POURED ON 50-FT. WAVES SAVES SHIP IN DISTRESS

Now and then the skipper of a ship rises up to rival the feat of Moses in parting the waters of the Red Sea. Capt. D. Clinton of the British steamship Harold Dollar was in distress off the coast of Japan, a furious storm breaking over the ship. Waves were forty to fifty feet high. Fuel oil was pumped overboard and specially prepared oil in bags was hung over the side. The effect was wonderful. The seas gradually subsided and only an occasional wave broke over the deck.

Third officer J. White reported the "miracle" to the Navy Department. The explanation is: Ocean water beaten by winds, begin to climb on the water ahead and mounts great heights. When oil is poured over the surface the waves "slide" instead of getting a foothold.

LAKES AND STREAMS WILL BE PLACARDED BY WALTON LEAGUE

"What lake is that we just passed?"

"What river is this?"

These are questions which motorists are constantly asking of themselves; but, if the Grand Rapids chapter of the Isaak Walton league succeeds in its program, the lakes and streams of Kent county no longer will present a puzzle to tourists. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Kent chapter Monday noon, it was voted to ask the aid of the Kent county road commission in placarding every highway bridge with the name of the stream which it spans. Roads which pass within view of lakes also will bear markers showing the name of the waters. As there are 109 lakes in Kent county and scores of stream crossings, a complete survey of roads and waters will be necessary before sign posting commences.

ROMANCE OF OIL BUSINESS IS DESCRIBED

That there is much more to the subject of "Oil" than driving up to a filling station and having the little old tank restocked with liquid "pep" was clearly brought out in a paper on this subject Monday evening by Wm. C. Vandenberg before the Social Progress club. The meeting was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. N. Patterson.

Mr. Vandenberg told the intricate story of oil financing, devoting nearly all of his paper to that phase of the subject. His first division dealt with the large refining companies and their relations to one another. The Standard Oil of course looms large among these firms and in juxtaposition to that concern the independent oil companies were placed. The intricacies of the relationships of the various concerns were interestingly described by the reader of the paper.

Next turning his attention to the chaos in the oil business, he outlined the conditions that exist today in this business which has grown up within the last twenty years from a minor place in the activities of the American people to a front seat. Oil as a factor in American business is still so new that there has not been time to stabilize it and to reduce it to the status of the long established things. There is a good deal of chaos in the oil financing world and that makes the oil business a difficult game.

Finally touching on the causes and cure for these conditions, Mr. Vandenberg pointed out that the rapid development of the internal combustion engine had made the oil business spring up like a mushroom and that in such a business the old principles based on supply and demand could not always be applied immediately. He expressed it as his opinion however that that principle is the only permanent cure for chaotic conditions.

Rev. Rutema of Muskegon, will give an address in the Berean Reformed church Thursday evening November 13. The address will be in the Holland language.

WHO WANTS TO GO HUNTING?

At a recent meeting of the Holland Game Protective Ass'n it was decided to go on a rabbit hunt and two sides were chosen from the members, one side to be captained by Bill Vissers and the other by Peter Lievensen.

Those wishing to join the party must send in their names to either of these men not later than Saturday night of this week.

The day of the rabbit hunt will be made known at that time and it is understood that the side getting the least number of rabbits is to wait table for those who shoot down the most cotton tails.

The banquet is to be held in the early part of December, the details to be given later. What the club wants at this time is that the nimrods send in their names to either Mr. Vissers or Mr. Lievensen by Saturday night.

CAR WRECKED; BOYS UNINJURED

The Buick car driven by Bernard Arendshorst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arendshorst, was almost completely wrecked Saturday evening near Agnew on the Grand Haven pike when it figured in a collision with a Grand Haven car. The Holland car was turned over completely and it was so badly smashed in the mixup that those who have seen it in the car hospital in Holland marvel that the occupants came out alive. The Grand Haven car lost one wheel.

The Holland car contained four boys, Bernard Arendshorst and three companions named Klefer, Kole and Japinga. The boys were uninjured.

RURAL CARRIERS TO HAVE HOLIDAY

The rural letter carriers of Holland will again have a holiday on Christmas this year and Postmaster Westveer is notifying the patrons on the routes to keep this in mind. In former years the rural carriers were the only ones who could not enjoy their Christmas dinners with their families. Last year the department issued an order giving the rural carriers a holiday along with all others and this system will be continued this year. An order has just been received by the postmaster giving the rural carriers another holiday on Christmas and Mr. Westveer advises the patrons to mail their Christmas packages in plenty of time so that they will be delivered before Christmas day.

HOLLAND WOMAN WINS HIGH HONOR

At the meeting of the Michigan Conference of the W. H. M. S. of the Methodist church held last week in Manistee, Mrs. E. B. Rich of Holland, was elected treasurer of the conference. This carries with it a membership in the national board of managers of the W. H. M. S., which board meets in various states from year to year. Next year the meeting will be in California and Mrs. Rich will probably attend the meeting there.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

THE mothers of the Twentieth century will go down into history as being true patriots. They have tearfully, ungrudgingly and bravely given of their own flesh and blood that true Democracy might prevail thruout the world and that the strong arm of Imperialism should be shattered once and for all. Now the war is won it can be said, in more ways than one, that it was won by the Mothers of the country.

But you mothers, who sent your dear boys "over there" to fight for world wide liberty, also have a duty to perform with reference to the babes in your arms and your sons and daughters of tender age. Do you know that not very long ago, at the Y. M. C. A. at Kansas City fifteen hundred boys were examined and fifty per cent of them were found to have some form of spinal trouble? If those boys had been examined by a competent Chiropractor when they were yet infants, these faults could have been corrected.

If your little baby is sick, weak, puny or not properly developed in some part of the body there must be a Cause and nine times out of ten it is found in the spine. Do not wait with the expectation that the baby will outlive the weakness; have the spine palpated and if necessary adjusted. Many a boy, many a girl has gone to a premature grave or lingered thru life a miserable cripple when a Spinal Analysis made in infancy would have detected some weakness which Chiropractic Adjustments would have corrected.

Nature is the only true Healer. Spinal Adjustments eliminate the cause of the trouble and Mother Nature heals. You say, "Oh, yes, that's a beautiful theory, but like all other beautiful theories, it's too good to be true." It is not only a beautiful theory, but it is beautifully true, as the thousands of men and women who have been helped will attest any day.

"Save the Children." The children of today will be the men and women of tomorrow. You can do this by safeguarding their health while they are still in your arms.

Winstrom also of Holland, superintendent of junior work. There were 15 other positions filled by women living in different parts of Western Michigan.

Third Reformed church has inaugurated a new system for electing the members of its consistory. Printed form cards have been mailed to the entire membership, so that every member will be accorded an opportunity to have a share in the election by filling in the names of his choice for elders and deacons. These cards will be collected before the next meeting of the consistory, which will pick a certain number of the candidates having the highest number of votes and nominate them for the annual meeting, thereby eliminating the usual large scattering vote.

Thursday night about six-thirty little six-year-old Florence Hunt, of Grand Haven ran in front of an automobile driven by J. Edgar Lee of that place. The child collided with the fender of the car but the wheels did not pass over her body. The car was stopped instantly. Witnesses absolved Mr. Lee of blame, it is stated. He took the injured child to the hospital where she was given every attention. The child sustained severe injuries to the forehead.

Hope College Glee club, numbering 15 young women singers, will give a concert Thursday evening at the 7th Reformed church, Grand Rapids. The club's repertoire includes classical musical numbers, also humorous selections and readings. A Ottawa county farmer whose name for certain reasons is not given was very much disturbed one morning this week when he found a score of his pullets gone. Upon close investigation, in giving the flock a recount, he saw something else besides chickens. He noticed a pocket-book bulging with greenbacks. It is stated that more than $500 was secreted in the wallet. The farmer's temporary grief at the loss of the chickens was turned into joy, for no one but the thief could have dropped the bill fold. The farmer was still more surprised when on the afternoon of the same day two men in an automobile loaded down with chicken crates drove into the yard and asked the man whether he had any chickens for sale. The farmer who had found the fat wallet told the prospective buyers that all the chickens he wanted to get rid of were sold at an exceptionally fine price.

The men lingered for a short time, gazed longingly at a nearby hen coop, and then reluctantly turned away.

The members of the American Legion are hard at work on their Red Cross roll call and are meeting with considerable success. Friday the first report was made and the following amounts have been received by the various workers:

Smith, $13.50; Frank Pazzakerly, $8; Jacob Zwemer, $13; Leonard Overweg, $11.50; George Manning, $23; Ed Eiders, $9; John Vander Verf, DePree, $16; Peter Lutzen, $27; S. Meeuwem, $18; Ben Wiersma, Poole Bros., $23; Herman Gerritsen, $14.00; A. E. Van Lente, Holland Furnace Co., $108.

The grind of the November term of the Ottawa county circuit court began Monday afternoon, with the trial of the case of the people vs. Martin Klomparsen of Holland, charged with liquor law violation. Klomparsen who was employed in a garage at Holland at the time of the Holland fair, was alleged in the complaint to have supplied a man named Decker with a quart of liquor.

Decker is said to have become intoxicated at the fair grounds and to have flashed his bottle pretty liberally. Klomparsen's case was the first tried in the present term and after being out about half an hour returned a verdict of guilty.

C. J. Dregman of Holland Business College states that beginning on Monday, Nov. 17, the day and night school will begin at the local college. A new class in stenography, bookkeeping and business subjects will start at that time. Anyone who wishes can join these classes and either Albert Hoeksema, the principal, or C. J. Dregman, the secretary, can give the desired information.

On last Thursday evening the newly installed pipe organ in the Reformed church at Vriesland was dedicated by George Dok of this city. The organ is a two manual pneumatic action with all the modern appliances and of excellent tone quality.

Mr. Dok played a well balanced program and brought out all the possibilities in the organ in the following selections: Gothic Suite, by Boellmann; Prelude and Fugue in G Major, by Bach; Pilgrims Chorus, by Wagner; Pastorale in G, by Armstrong; Gavotte in B Flat, by Handel; and Triumphale March, by Verdi.

John and Gerrit Ter Beek, who never fail to please their audience, sang two duets: "Watchman, What of the Night," by Sargeant, and "Will You Go," by Havens; also a solo by Gerrit Ter Beek, "The Lord is My Light," by Alliston, and a solo by John Ter Beek, "The Earth is the Lord's," by Limes.

Rev. M. Luven, pastor of the church, gave a very fine talk on "The Place Music Fills in the Church," and Rev. G. De Jonge of Zeeland spoke along similar lines. Miss Ver Hage, organist of the church, and a pupil of Mr. Dok, presided at the organ during the singing of the psalm and hymn.

Fred H. Kamferbeek, sheriff-elect of Ottawa county, is grateful to the people of the county for the support they gave him in Tuesday's election. Mr. Kamferbeek had planned to give expression to his sense of appreciation on Thursday but he wanted to wait until all the returns were in and a few of the precincts did not report until the official canvass was taken.

"The word 'appreciation' does not at all express how I feel," said Mr. Kamferbeek. "If my sense of gratitude were to be adequately expressed I suppose a new word would have to be coined because I don't know any word that can tell it all. I realize fully that I have been placed under greater obligation by the voters of Ottawa county than a successful candidate for sheriff usually is. In the ordinary election a sheriff rides into office along with the others and the vote for him to some extent is a collective vote. In my case Tuesday, I realize fully, I was singled out by a large number of voters who ordinarily would not have voted for a Democrat but who took pains to vote for me. I fully understand that I would not have been elected but for those Republican votes.

"And while I am grateful to the members of my own party, men and women who have stood by me loyally and who have worked hard for me, I am doubly grateful to the Republican voters who supported me and who thereby expressed themselves against the kind of tactics that nullified the will of the people two years ago.

"The best way in which I can express to Democratic and Republican friends both who supported me that I appreciate what they have done in this election is to give all the people of the county the best there is in me. I shall try my level best to let deeds express my sense of appreciation during the next two years."

Mayor Kammeraad and a large number of other city officials were present at the dedication of Michigan's greatest highway bridge, an important connecting link on the West Michigan Pike.

The bridge spans the Grand river connecting up Grand Haven-Spring Lake and Ferrysburg making these three towns practically one.

With bands playing and flags flying the State of Michigan's greatest highway bridge was opened to the public Tuesday afternoon. At 2 o'clock Miss Stella Lawton, chosen by ballot to impersonate "Miss Grand Haven" cut the gold string which let down the barriers and opened the new bridge between Grand Haven and Ferrysburg to traffic. The flag was raised to full staff on the bridge and the bands played, "The Star Spangled Banner."

Immediately after the simple ceremony of the opening, the Automobile parade, headed by Grand Haven's two bands, Thomson's Jackie band and the Elk's band, crossed the new structure and whizzed through the streets of Spring Lake and Ferrysburg. The members of the American Legion and ex-service men formed the guard of honor during the opening of the bridge.

Keen disappointment was suffered by the committee in charge when State Highway Commissioner F. F. Rogers, who had planned to be present, telegraphed that he would be kept in Lansing by a meeting of the state administrative board. However, there were many guests present including a number of state highway officials and engineers, secretaries of the Chamber of Commerce, of nearby cities and newspaper representatives.

"Miss Grand Haven" charmingly attire was the center of attraction at the ceremonies Tuesday. She announced Tuesday morning that the Style Shop had loaned a handsome cloak for her to wear Tuesday. F. J. Riemer, the jeweler, loaned a bracelet to be worn by "Miss Grand Haven", and Lehman's Hair Shop supplied a marcel to enhance her appearance.

The festivities of the day began at 12:15 Tuesday noon, with the luncheon at the Gildner hotel, arranged by the Grand Haven Exchange Club and the Chamber of Commerce, at which about two hundred guests were present. Besides the members of the city council, Mayor Cotton and City Manager Taylor, members of the board of supervisors, the county road commission and other citizens, there were many out-of-town guests.

The Marionette Players, who made a big hit in Holland last year, will again be in this city Thursday. They will appear in the Holland high school auditorium under the auspices of the Holland Teachers' club and they will give "Uncle Wiggily at the Circus," a new puppet play by Howard R. Garis. This will be in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

In the evening at 7:30 they will give "Bold Robinhood and His Merry Men, or the Famous Exploits in Sherwood Forest." The plays are full of laughter and romance and they are for the general public.

The Hope College Milestone staff is diligently working at the 1925 Annual and will endeavor to make it a better book than ever. Plans are being made for feature sections and for improvements over previous editions. The staff will follow the plan of last year's Milestone, to print an individual picture of every college student. This gives an added personal interest to the book.

The Forward Age

The activity in home building is attracting general comment this year.

Not until the American and French revolutions did home owning by the people become a fact. Casting about for a way to economic freedom a group in England pooled their resources and formed the first Building and Loan body in 1871.

One in Philadelphia followed soon. Holland was not far in the rear. In 1888 an Englishman, Henry Martin with the late C. A. Stevenson and twenty-six residents of Holland organized the OTTAWA COUNTY BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, this is to-day one of the oldest in the State of Michigan and more prosperous than ever.

The Building and Loan Associations of the country have a membership of 7,202,000 and assets aggregating $3,940,939,000.

During this year they have financed 360,000 homes at an average cost of $3,500. This shows what co-operation will do for the little fellow.

Here's What We Say It Is:

Making Housesin to Homes

We do that, and then we make good homes better. Wonder if you would'nt like to have your home cozier than it is.

Its no more a luxury to have cozi-ness; than it is, to eat good bread. It does just as much as bread to make you ready for all in life that is worth while. ## LEGION MEN RECALL DAYS OF THE WAR

After a delicious banquet prepared by Comrade Chris Korose of the Green Mill Cafe, the members of the American Legion, of the Woman's Auxiliary and a few friends, the whole company forming an audience that taxed the capacity of the banquet tables, listened to a program Tuesday evening in the Masonic temple that vividly recalled the days of war and that re-inspired them with the sentiments of those stirring days.

Generalissimo Dr. W. M. Tappan served as toastmaster and an unusually welcome toastmaster he was. He announced at the beginning that he would do the unusual by not taking up the theme himself but leaving it all to the speakers and he loyally stuck to that resolve.

"Eyes Right" was the subject assigned to Elbert Parsons, who was introduced as the wit of the local Legion post. And he made good his claim to that title. Sprinkling his talk with many effective anecdotes of army life he recalled to the buddies many things of humorous slant that some had almost forgotten and he kept the audience in an uproar. Another unusual feature of his talk was that he gave the audience the realism instead of the romanticism of army life. Instead of glorifying life in the army he told incidents that served to illustrate the pomposeness of some petty officers and the sense of disillusion that comes to the average soldier amid the scenes of camp life. But he had a humorous slant on everything and this made his talk an orgy of fun for the audience.

Miss Katherine Post, representing the Auxiliary and speaking on the subject, "Your Auxiliary," on the other hand spoke in an entirely different vein but just as effectively. Her talk was marked by a poetic feeling of the sense of dedication of war days and she effectively quoted several bits of poetry inspired by war scenes, most interesting of which perhaps was Carl Sandburg's "Buttons." She said the aim of the Auxiliary is to keep green the graves of the soldiers, to be of service to the gold star mothers, to help the soldiers in hospital, and specifically in Holland to erect a soldiers' memorial for which $1600 has already been raised. Her talk had a thrill in it that was plainly visible on the faces of the listeners.

Willis A. Diekema, although not on the program, was requested to sing "Sir Galahad" and he responded even though there was no accompaniment. And so well did he please that he was requested to sing an encore, which was no less successful.

"Front" was the subject of Clarence Laman. Mr. Laman represented the boys who were sent to Russia during the war. For that contingent, said the speaker, Armistice day did not mean much because the fighting in Russia continued for several months after Nov. 11th. In reality, he said, the boys from Russia ought to celebrate Armistice day next July instead of in November. Mr. Laman told a good many incidents about army life in Russia and he thanked the people of Holland for the warm welcome they had extended to the boys on their return. He advised the members of the Legion to make a stand against all the elements and forces that made the presence of American troops in Russia necessary and to do battle against Bolshevism now as they battled the enemy in line of war. He closed with a Russian rendering of "In Flanders Fields."

Ben Lievense gave the briefest but by no means the least effective of all the addresses of the evening. Always known more by deeds than by words, Lievense left most of the oratory to others and merely contented himself with making a brief plea for a year of hard work on the part of the Legion. And the applause from the Legion men showed that under Mr. Lievense's leadership they are determined to make the year count.

Captain Van Vyven and his squad of singers entertained the audience with a number of songs with banjo accompaniment and when at last they closed from exhaustion and not because the audience did not want more, the orator of the evening, G. J. Diekema, was introduced by the toastmaster. His subject was "Pow-wow," and he declared that in Indian terminology "Pow-wow" meant "a gathering for consultation." And that, he said, was what the meeting of Tuesday night was. It was a gathering of the warriors for consultation as to how the Legion and the Auxiliary may serve the community and the nation to best advantage. He said the purpose of the Legion is and must be to serve some present purpose. This is shown in their care of the soldiers who have come back invalided, in their care of the orphans of the war, and moreover it must continue to show itself in their determination that this country shall remain prepared.

Mr. Diekema's address was in its main aspect an eloquent and a passionate plea for preparedness. He declared that the time for glorifying war has passed but that the time to glorify human courage and the willingness to sacrifice life for one's country will never be past. There are two opposing schools of thought in regard to war, he pointed out, the militaristic and the pacifist. The former is represented by men like Alexander, Caesar, and Napoleon who made war because they loved war. This school must be suppressed and America will do its share to suppress it because America hates war. The pacifist school, containing many men and women of fine character, imagines a world that does not exist and would disarm America in a world that is armed to the teeth. With France, Germany, Russia, Japan and other countries increasing their armaments the pacifist would take away America's arms and leave it helpless in a belligerent world. This in effect is treason to our country, the speaker said.

What we need and what the Legion stands for, said Mr. Diekema, is a middle ground between these extremes—an army and navy and air force for defense. We must gradually substitute reason for the sword. We are now thinking peace instead of war, and that is a big step forward. We must reinforce this by a World Court and we must work for an international disarmament conference on land like the conference on naval disarmament, but most of all we must supplant hate with love for in that way only can lasting peace come to the world.

The invocation was pronounced by Father F. W. Ryan, the Legion quartet sang several selections in the course of the program and the Legion band did good service throughout the evening.

LEGION BANQUET DECORATIONS ARE UNIQUE

The decorations in the Masonic banquet hall for the sixth Armistice day banquet of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post, American Legion, were not only elaborate but unique. The stage settings corresponded to the dot with the cover of the beautiful program. The unusual part of this is that the printer did not know of the plans of the decorators in the hall or vice versa, and the similarity was not discovered until the programs arrived shortly before the more than 200 guests sat down for the banquet.

The cover of the program in pale blue contains a "doughboy" and a "Jackie." While the doughboy salutes, the Jackie blows the bugle; between the two figures a gold embossed American Legion seal with blue background is printed. The stage too had its bugling Jackie and saluting doughboy with a large golden seal draped in flags hanging between them.

Another unique feature was the arrangement of the tables. At the head was the speakers' table appropriately decorated with flowers and the national colors with a background of palms, ferns and potted plants. The other tables were placed in the form of an A, an L, and an H, representing the first letters in the words American Legion, Holland. These tables were covered with long red, white, and blue streamers.

The program was unusually appropriate, containing, as was said before, the "Goo" and the "Doughboy" printed in pale blue as a cover page while the title page contained the American flag in colors with a border of liberty bells, key-stoned with an American eagle, which plan was carried out throughout the entire program. The back cover page contained a peace dove carrying an olive branch, also done in the same color scheme.

The menu was not called menu, but "Slimguldgeon," whatever that may be, although the name sounds very much like the stuff the "Weary Willies" cook at "Rattlesnake Point" near Waverly, but the guests were soon assured that Chris Korose of the Green Mill had put on his best bib and tucker when he prepared that layout. Each guest was provided with a prime cocktail, a la' Volstead; then came Hilar '57 varieties, radio style with goldfish trimmings. The entrees were "pump, haradack and grease," a combination. The mainstay was "bully beef a la' Green Mill" garnished with spuds peeled, and marbles tipped in cream to be eaten with sauté points.

"Frozen brisques," which really was red, white and blue cream, was accompanied with angels' food with mud de Java as a chaser.

Yes, it was some spread to which more than 200 guests sat down.

Michigan is going to find out, if possible, the source of the desire that prompts persons to start incendiary fires, according to a dispatch from Lansing. A number of pyromaniacs have been arrested recently by the state fire marshal's department and through a request of Lieut. Fred Armstrong of the state police a man arrested on such a charge has been sent to the Ionia state hospital where he will be put under the personal observation of Dr. Haskell, in charge of the institution. The man sent to Ionia is Glenn Townsend, 22, of Otsego. He is one of three persons who confessed to having started 13 fires in September.

All three of those who confessed in September admitted the same physical disorder and Lieut. Armstrong believes a cure can be found if one of them is put under observation. Young Townsend set fire to four barns, a haystack and a stack of corn fodder.

Following is a list of Ottawa Co. Poultry demonstration farms which will keep feed and production records in co-operation with M. A. C. and Agricultural Agent. Pedigreed cockerels of 200 or better egg breeding will be used on breeding pens and eventually a select strain produced. No other farms will be taken on unless they apply now to C. P. Milham, Grand Haven.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—More than $100,000,000 will be added to the value of the nation's corn crop as a result of the warm weather which put the killing frost into the discard, according to a statement by the Blue Valley Creamery institute here. Eighty per cent of the corn crop now is safe and it is even possible that the 1924 crop will reach a total valuation of $3,000,000,000, the statement adds.

Oren Delos White, Civil War veteran, and for forty years a resident of Spring Lake, died last Saturday at his home in that village. Mr. White was eighty years of age and was a native of Kalamazoo county. He served during the Rebellion in Co. E, 25th Michigan Infantry and was wounded on July 4, 1863, at the battle of Vicksburg. Mr. White and family located in Spring Lake in 1885 and became among the best known people of the town. Mr. White was prominent in G. A. R. and Masonic circles there.

WIERDA IS FREED BY JURY WEDNESDAY

Just before noon Wednesday a jury in circuit court in Grand Haven freed Louis Wierda of Holland of the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder. The jury was out only half an hour and Wierda walked out of court a free man when he had had the menace of several years in the state penitentiary hanging over him. This verdict of course also protects him against prosecution on the lesser charge of assault, and the stabbing episode seems to be ended.

On September 28, Wierda, in an altercation with Richard Stykstra on River avenue, whipped out his jackknife and stabbed Stykstra in the back. It was a very serious wound and it was by a very narrow margin that the knife missed a vital organ, which would have meant death. The blade went three inches or more into Stykstra's body and Stykstra was laid up for several weeks.

The defense however was self defense and the defendant and his attorney proved to the satisfaction of the jury that the knife had been brought into play only after Stykstra had considerably beaten up Wierda and that Wierda used the knife to protect himself. The quarrel was about a girl, Majorie Wiebenga, who was one of the witnesses during the trial this forenoon.

When the size and character of the knife came into question, an attempt being made to represent it as a stiletto. Attorney D. Ten Cate, defending Wierda, sprung a surprise by producing the knife itself although a vain search for it had been made at the time of the quarrel. It proved to be an ordinary pocket knife, which however opened with a spring.

The people produced three witnesses and the defense only Mr. Wierda himself. Among the jury sitting in the case 4 persons were from this end of the county: Peter De Goede, Peter H. Boven, John Van Dort, and Milton G. West.

Vandenberg Bros. Oil Co., which about a year ago began the manufacture of commercial fertilizer and for the past several months occupied the old plant of the Superior Chemical Works east of the city, has purchased a factory site a mile north of the city and work has already begun on a new factory building there. This site is on the Grand Haven division of the Pere Marquette and in order to avoid any possible objection, the company purchased twenty acres of land, ten acres on each side of the railroad, and they will be comparatively isolated. A sidetrack is being installed and as soon as the cement piers and foundations have been poured, the building will be rushed to completion. The main plant will be 85x120 and the equipment will be of the very latest type in use for this purpose. A representative of a large machinery manufacturing company, specializing in this type of factory equipment, has been busy the last ten days staking out the plant and he will also have supervision of the installation of the machinery.

It is understood that this local firm has contracts for a large portion of what it can make by the time the spring season is here. Mr. Peter Braamse, who has been selling fertilizer in this community for one of the larger corporations for many years, will have charge of sales and he is arranging for a meeting of his dealers for an early date. It is expected that he plant will be ready for operation by the middle of December. The annual report of the State of Michigan covering all brands of fertilizer being marketed in the state, shows up the products of this company in a very favorable manner, in fact their tests rank with the very highest.

Although no announcement has been made of their plans, it is possible that a limited amount of stock may be offered in this new venture.

The International Livestock Exposition, Chicago, is from November 29 to December 6. Last year Michigan won many prizes and hopes to continue at the top of the list of winners. Every farmer wishing to enter the show should ship the exhibit before the 15th.

"Our Son," the schooner which sailed into the Muskegon harbor Friday, is just one-third of the total lakes schooner population, as far as could be learned from marine authorities. The Wm. J. Slosson company of Milwaukee, owns the "City of Grand Haven," the "Lucy R. Simpson" and "Our Son." Manitowoc and Sheboygan, the old schooner ports, no longer send out sailing ships.

Three former Holland citizens are taking an active interest in religious activities in Miami, Fla. Prof. Albert Raap, former educational secretary and head of the department of Dutch literature at Hope college for 21 years, has consented to take charge of teachers' training class using as his subject, "Great Characters of the Old Testament." The course will continue for 12 weeks. Dr. A. G. Huijzinga, a former Holland physician, occupies the position of superintendent of the Sunday school in the Baptist church, and Henry A. Nabers, former city engineer, is serving in a similar capacity in the Methodist church.

The November meeting of the Home Missionary society of the Methodist church was held Monday evening at the pleasant home of Mrs. Charles Gross, 110 E. 8th street. In attendance it was the banner meeting of the year, sixty-three ladies responding to roll-call.

Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. R. A. Schmar, assisted by several ladies. Mrs. B. Welton, superintendent of the temperance department, gave several selections along that line of work. An interesting reading "Home Missions in Kansas City," by Edith Wilson, was given by Mrs. O. R. Rench. Piano selections were given by Miss Eva Clark and violin duets by Mrs. S. E. Carrier and Miss Clark. The second chapter of the study book "Adventures in Brotherhood," by Dorothy Guller, was made very attractive as outlined by Mrs. Elsie Gunn. It was decided to take over the redecorating of one room, also furnishing a rug for the same, of the Adrich Deaconess and Esther Home in Grand Rapids. Mrs. N. Huling reported a large number of new rugs now ready for sale. Mrs. J. Rank reported quilts are being made for Mission Homes. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Martha Hoover's group of ladies.

Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Bowerman, formerly of Holland and now of Jackson, were in Holland last week for business purposes and while here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McClellan.

A splintered knee-cap for Joe White and a badly bruised shoulder for Guy Van Lopie were the results of an automobile wreck near Mona Lake, Muskegon, when the car in which White and Van Lopie were riding was smashed by a car driven by R. Balbernie, a Muskegon undertaker. With White and Van Lopie were Tom White and Charles Bosch who were practically uninjured. The car was badly smashed.

Chedell Simpson, a salesman who pleaded guilty in Superior court at Grand Rapids when charged with the shooting of Col. John G. Emery, former national commander of the American Legion and who is well known and has many friends in Holland, was sentenced by Judge Leonard D. Verrier to the state reformatory at Ionia for a term of from five to ten years. Imprisonment for a period of six years was recommended.

"This is pretty hard, but I guess it is about the best you can do," sighed Simpson. "I don't know what will become of my wife."

Grand Rapids hasn't yet reached the stage where a man can go into another man's office and shoot him down. No one believes Col. Emery had done anything to bring about the separation.

"Yes, I was wrong," confessed Simpson, who during the interview had labeled himself a "d-d fool." Then he added as he left the judge's office with Deputy Sheriff Clarence Boynton: "I'll be a good prisoner."

A story published in the Sentinel the other day to the effect that Jacob Heeringa had voted in 15 presidential elections caused John Kollen, 45 East 12th street, to look up his own voting record and he finds that he has voted in 17 presidential elections, thus beating Mr. Heeringa by two. He cast his first vote in 1860 and has voted for every president since that date. He qualifies the statement with the announcement that his candidate did not always win.

Not only did Mr. Kollen vote in every presidential election since 1860 but he voted every year in every state election and in every township or city election that was held since that time. This is believed to be a record that few voters can beat and if all voters were as faithful there would be no need of campaigns to get out the vote at election time.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans, Holland Camp No. 22, met in the city hall Thursday night and held installation of officers. Mrs. Cella Praal, department president of the Gity W. Henry camp No. 9, of Grand Rapids, conducted the installation ceremonies. Camp Sherman S. Dickerson, No. 47 of Grand Haven, 14 strong, visited Holland's new chapter later on in the evening, and wished them success in their new organization. Holland's newly elected Auxiliary President, Mrs. George Moomey, thanked Mrs. Praal for her efforts in the installation ceremonies and presented her with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, to which Mrs. Praal responded in a few well chosen words.

Refreshments were served, after the ceremonies of the evening, by Mrs. Bert Vander Water and committee to those present, 150 in all. Delegates were present from Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Grand Haven. The Holland Auxiliary has decided to hold meetings on the third Friday of each month in the G. A. R. rooms in the city hall.

Holland's newly organized Auxiliary to the Spanish War Veterans starts off with a bang as all are very much enthused with the prospect for a busy and interesting year.

The Woman's Literary Club appropriately observed Armistice Day thru the coincidence of its date for general meeting falling on November 11. The Living Pictures, which were the feature of the first half of the program, were patriotic historical characters, dating from Colonial times to the present. "The Making of the First Flag," with Betsy Ross posed by Mrs. Edward Yeoman, was followed by a scene from each of the country's great wars. George Washington laying aside his sword after victory in the Revolutionary war was depicted by Mrs. Arthur Vlascher, Mrs. R. Bosworth, Mrs. C. Bergen and Mrs. F. De Vries. The Civil War picture was rather out of the ordinary, being that of the famous Confederate spy, Mrs. Greenhow and her daughter, posed by Mrs. Ossewaarde and Miss Miriam Van de Riet. "The Red Cross Nurse" was the picture from the World War posed by Alice Plasman. The pictures were arranged by Mrs. R. Chamblion, Mrs. G. Van de Riet and Mrs. J. P. Ogzel.

Between pictures two piano solos were well rendered by Miss Marjory Du Mez and two vocal solos, "Wayfarers Night Song," by Martin and "The Little Damozel," by Novello, sung by Mrs. John Koelker, accompanied by Miss Du Mez.

The second half of the program was given over to Mrs. Heber Knott of Grand Rapids. Playing her own accompaniment Mrs. Knott thrilled her audience with a group of World War Cantatas. As a preface she gave "Each in His Own Tongue." This was followed by "The Belgian Flag," portraying Belgian loyalty. Mrs. Knott then played an original piano composition entitled, "American Loyalty March" inspired, she said, at the time of the presence in Grand Rapids of the Michigan and Wisconsin Soldiers' during mobilization. Her third number was "The Americans Come" by Elizabeth Wilbur, being an episode in France. The last number dedicated to the heroism and sentiments of Edith Cavell in regard to war was the 13th Chapter of Corinthians set to music.

Another coincidence of date was marked by the presentation of a lovely bouquet of roses to the president of the club, Mrs. G. J. Diekema, in honor of her birthday anniversary which also falls on November 11.

BOLHUIS Home-Building Service is better—because It's More Complete!

The four important steps in every home-building program are the

1. Plans
2. Materials
3. Millwork
4. Construction

The difference between the Bolhuis way of building and the ordinary way is that Bolhuis has knit these four fundamentals into ONE COMPETENT ORGANIZATION, instead of having them divided among three or four separate parties.

We draw plans to suit each individual homeowner's taste and pocket-book. We have all the materials right in our own yards. We do our own mill-work in perfectly equipped and powerful saw-mills, and, (most important of all) we construct the house with our own men, specially trained in the Bolhuis methods of quality construction.

This "four-in-one" policy guarantees you a satisfactory job from start to finish, for there can be no divided responsibility anywhere along the line. And it saves you time and money.

NO FATALITY IN COLLAPSE OF BLEACHERS

All sorts of rumors have been going about town in regard to the serious injury of a woman from Grand Haven who, it was reported, sustained a broken leg, and about a young Holland lad who had his eye taken out when a small section of extra bleachers gave way at Waterworks park during Saturday's game.

The fact is, according to the Grand Haven school authorities who advised Principal Riemersma, that the Grand Haven woman sustained only slight injuries to her leg.

The Holland boy who was injured was a little seven-year-old Walter Woodcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Woodcock, 107 Columbia avenue. The lad was under the grandstand looking for pennies when the crash came and was considerably bruised about the body and head so that when pushed up his eyes bulged out. He was rushed to Holland hospital and given medical attention. No bones were broken and later the boy was taken to his home where, physicians said today, he is out of danger.

The Grand Haven woman's name was Mrs. Fred Schwondeck. While her injury was not serious she suffered considerably from shock and she was near collapse when taken home.

The most curious case in the collapse of the bleachers was that of Donald Pippel of Grand Haven. Young Pippel was a scrub player of Grand Haven and about six weeks ago he broke his leg. He went to the game nevertheless and he sat on the very top row in the bleachers. When the crash came he had the presence of mind to life up his broken leg with his hands and in that way he allowed himself to sag down with the bleachers. He came out of the ordeal without the least hurt to his injured leg.

Principal Riemersma states that he felt responsible for the safety of the crowd and he personally made a thorough inspection of the bleachers; however, he said, the bleacher in question was overcrowded, and because of the intense cold, occupants kept dancing up and down and kept stirring around, which no doubt weakened the supports, and a small section fell to the ground. Mr. Riemersma estimates that at least 3,000 spectators entered the site. Of this number, not less than 800 came to Holland from Grand Haven, judging from the tickets sold. This is the largest crowd that ever attended a football game at one time in this city.

Playing a fine brand of football and sweeping their opponents off their feet with a mashing attack and dashing forward passes the Holland high eleven completely overwhelmed their ancient rivals, Grand Haven, and turned in a 20-0 victory. Coach's men fought hard and showed stars in Fase and Kammeraad but they were outclassed by the crashing attack of Cook and the brilliant end runs of Capt. Buck Hill. Jappings, Holland's plucky little quarter-back, and Nettinga also aided greatly in the victory. Jappings ran interference in line style and was good for many gains while Nettinga's punting and forward passing was of a high class. Every man on the line showed up well and they turned the county seat back time after time without a gain. Exo, Overweg and Israel slightly outshone their mates in smashing the opponents' play.

Cook Hinge deserves a great deal of credit for the showing his team made. The locals displayed a great knowledge of the game and their play was superior to Grand Haven's in all departments. Cook was unstoppable, never failing to gain. Time after time he tore off tackle for long gains and he played a whole of a game at defensive tackle. He was the individual star of the contest.

Grand Haven held Holland even in the first half, but the Maroon and Orange scored quickly in the 3rd quarter. Hill scored first, Cook and Van Zanten duplicated his feat soon after. The visitors made but 2 first downs in the entire game.

Not a few Holland fans went to Ann Arbor to see Northwestern get its trimming. Michigan surely smothered the Illinois team by a score of 27 to 0. Ralph (Moon) Baker, a second Red Grange, failed to connect and his teammates went down in defeat.

Zeeland high swamped Coopersville 51 to 6 outweighing and outclassing the visiting eleven. Hecox was the star for the Zeeland team until injured shortly after the start of the second half. Van Eenam also played a fine game for the Zeeland team. Forward passes accounted for most of the touchdowns scored by Zeeland.

Muskegon high came back to form Saturday and crushed Grand Rapids Union 27 to 0. It was the first defeat of the season for the Grand Rapids Union high, although it had been held up to a 18 to 10 tie by Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Jackson high's forward passing and kicking game fell down against Grand Rapids Saturday and South won 7 to 6.

Coach Chapman's Reserve team went the varsity one point better as they scored a 21-0 victory over the Grand Haven Reserves. Ranch, Ver Hey and Esenberg scored a touchdown apiece while Tyse scored 3 times on goals after touchdowns. Michmershuizen played a fine game on Holland's line, while H. Dirse and Mahan took Grand Haven's honors.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Eldred of Grand Rapids, who recently purchased Duke's Cafe, will make their home here.

A large plate glass was broken in the Waltz building occupied by the Atlantic-Pacific Tea store. The new glass will be replaced in a few days.

Mrs. William Byron was called to Grand Rapids Sunday on account of the illness of her daughter, Miss Della. Miss Byron underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Blogett Hospital.

SPRING LAKE GIRL BECOMES MISS GRAND HAVEN

Hokus pokus, and a Spring Lake girl becomes a Grand Haven girl, and as Miss Grand Haven and queen of the bridge will reign supreme at the opening of Armistice Day.

Miss Stella Lawton of Spring Lake who is employed at Grand Haven is the most popular maid, winning over 20 contestants. Spring Lake rallied to her support and managed to put over a win against a split in Grand Haven and Ferrysburg.

When the board of canvassers met more 3,000 ballots for over 20 candidates were to be counted. The small votes were counted first and then ballots polled by Miss Lawton, Miss Lydia Secory, Miss Lucille Schwonck and Miss Hazel Smell, the four leaders, were counted. This took some time and the ballots were carefully recorded by the board of canvassers composed of E. J. Duecker, Robert Doyle and Max Geisler.

Miss Lawton's big vote was a last minute rally that put her far in the lead. Polling for Miss Schwonck was heavy in the afternoon and she was picked as a sure winner but final balloting Miss Lawton and Lydia Secory, put them ahead. Miss Lawton polled 1,198 votes; Miss Secory polled 338; Miss Schwonck polled 301 and Miss Hazel Smell 447.

The result of the balloting, while causing some feeling, unquestionably represents the sentiment. Miss Lawton had an organized campaign system that had functioned among the business men and women of the city and they supported her in a fine manner.

The members of the Fraternal Society of Hope College and their lady friends appropriately observed Armistice day when they trooped at Lakeside Inn Monday night. About seventy were present and after a most delightful meal served by Mr. Taylor and his assistants, a short program was enjoyed. Floyd Vander Meer, president of the society, gave a few words of welcome and Jack Veldman talked on the subject, "Why we are here." Two musical numbers, a vocal solo by Rutherford Huizenga and a flute solo by Chester Yntema, and a humorous reading by Paul Gebbard comprised the rest of the program. Each couple was then given a cross-word puzzle to work out and the prize was awarded to Miss Grace De Wolf and James De Pres. Games in charge of Clyde Geerlings were then played, much to the amusement of all. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schouten chaperoned the party. The Fraternal society has celebrated Armistice day every year for the past five years.

Election returns are nearly all in from Ottawa county and the board of canvassers was scheduled to meet Friday to make their official tally of the votes. At noon Thursday 20 precincts were in and Allendale, Blendon, Jamestown, Wright and Zeeland were still to be heard from at the county clerk's office.

From the 24 precincts Coolidge polled 9,395 votes; Davis 1,496 and La Follette 904. Cousins polled 8,844 for U. S. senator and Dean Coolidge, his democratic opponent polled 2,955 so far. Alex J. Groesbeck was a popular choice, the 24 precincts giving him 8,544 as against 3,858 for Frensdorf. In the congressional, Carl Mapes, republican polled 9,781 as against 2,112 for White, democratic.

In the state ticket the republicans were on the long end in everything by big counts. For lieutenant governor Welsh led Doyle, 9,314 to 2,278; Deland led Jarvis for secretary of state 9,851 to 1,897. Oramel B. Fuller was unopposed for auditor general and McKay led Merrick for treasurer 9,374 to 1,639; Dougherty led Cavanaugh for attorney general 9,841 to 1,844.

For state senator Vincent A. Martin of Fruitport beat Boonstra, Democrat, 9,638 to 2,250 and for state representative G. W. Kooyers republican led W. O. Van Eyck, 9,450 to 2,442. The amendments all proved unpopular in Ottawa and the school amendment lost 2,717 yes to 9,751 no. The income tax amendment was buried 1,516 yes to 10,544 no and the reapportionment amendment went down to defeat in the county in 24 precincts 1,219 yes as against 9,767 no.

With but two precincts, Blendon and Wright yet to hear from, F. R. Kamferbeek, democratic candidate for sheriff was leading Cornelis Stekette, republican, 7,602 to 6,474. His majority is 1,128 at present. Fred T. Miles, prosecutor, was leading his democratic opponent, Charles E. Misner of Grand Haven in the race for prosecutor 9,130 to 3,666. 24 precincts had been heard from in this report. Other Republicans were assured election by overwhelming majorities.

Capt. James W. Morgan, who died last Saturday at Rogers City, Mich., was buried at Saugatuck Thursday. The funeral was held from the home of his sister, Mrs. J. J. Brown, and was conducted by Saugatuck Lodge, F. & A. M., deceased being a thirty-second degree Mason.

Capt. Morgan had sailed on the great lakes for 57 years, and was well known in Saugatuck, where in earlier days he had sailed on local steamers. For the past 29 years he had been in the employ of the Pittsburgh Steamship company. He was 76 years of age.

Frank MacArthur, W. M. of the Rogers City Masonic lodge, accompanied the body from that place to Saugatuck.

House cats are again running wild around the Holland resorts and there are hundreds of them. The animals bound over the brush heaps and skip up the trees when they hear the tread of human feet. Just now the cats are looking fine and evidently have no and evidently have had little trouble in finding enough to eat. But the chances are that there will be some emaciated kittens in the woods before spring after a winter of food hunting when the ground is covered with snow and the resorters' garbage can ceases to furnish sustenance.

The cats are those that have been abandoned by resorters and left to live the best they can. The kittens make nice playthings for the youngsters in the summer, but when the time comes for going home many of the resorters pack up and forget them. When left to themselves they become as wild as any wood wild animal.

Peter and Clarence Koster, 17 and 18, both of Allegan were given 10 days in the county jail Wednesday for breaking into a schoolhouse and writing obscene language on the blackboard.

RESIGNS AS PASTOR OF HOPE CHURCH

Rev. P. P. Cheff, pastor of Hope church, staged a surprise for the members of his congregation on Sunday forenoon when he made the announcement that he had handed in his resignation as pastor of this congregation, that the resignation had been accepted, and that he was on the point of leaving Holland to accept the pastorate of Westminster Presbyterian church of Omaha, Nebraska. Not only was the announcement a surprise to most of the members of the congregation but Mr. Cheff announced further that the sermon Sunday morning was in nature of a farewell sermon. While it was not formally a farewell in the usual sense of a farewell sermon, the pastor referred to the fact in his sermon that the ties between congregation and pastor were soon to be severed. He stressed the fact that there is a great future for Hope church in Holland and that it occupies a commanding position in the community.

The new field of labor to which the local pastor will go is a promising one. It is one of the largest Presbyterian churches in Omaha and the field is said to be one of great promise. A week or two ago Mr. Cheff was invited to preach for the congregation and the call was extended immediately after his visit to the church.

Mr. Cheff came to Holland in 1917, coming here from Zeeland where he had served the First Reformed church for a number of years. Before that he had held pastorates in various churches in Western Michigan and he also at one time served on the mission field in Oklahoma. He has won the reputation of being one of the most brilliant pulpit orators in this section of the state.

Not only has Mr. Cheff been active in his own congregation but he has taken a commanding part in the life of the community since 1917. He has an unusually large number of friends outside of his own congregation and in view of that fact arrangements have been made for a farewell reception, when all his friends in the city whether members of Hope church or not, will be given an opportunity to bid him and his family farewell. This reception will be held in the Hope church parlors on Thursday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock and all friends of the pastor or his family will be cordially made welcome. Mr. Cheff expects to leave for Omaha early next week.

MOTHER OF 8 CHILDREN DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. John Kleeves, aged 43 years died Monday night after a brief illness. She is survived by her husband and eight children: Mrs. T. Ekelund of Muskegon, Henry Raymond, Joseph, Wilma, Margaret, Ethelyn and Jennie Mae, at home. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the home just outside the east city limits off 8th street and at two o'clock at the Sixth Reformed church, Rev. J. H. Brugers officiating.

ALLEGAN FARMER FINDS HENS LIKE THE LIGHT

Lights over laying hens are becoming very popular among those who have tried this method of producing more eggs in the winter months.

Richard Alshner of Allegan township states he proved first by hanging lanterns over his hens that they would easily give him an extra profit of one dollar per hen for the year. Now he has purchased an 850 watt electric plant as this is more dependable and less bother than lanterns. He says it is easy enough to make a hen lay in winter if given the same length working day as she has in the summer. The amount of eggs may not be any greater for the whole year, but you get them when the price is high and one dollar extra profit is very easy.

Alshner has 700 hens that he expects to turn the lights on about the first of next month.

SOME FARMERS MISS GOOD BET

East Lansing, Nov. 8.—That Michigan farmers will miss a good bet if they fail to make use of the large deposits of sugar beet factory lime which are available in all beet growing sections of the state, is the opinion of Dr. M. M. McCool, head of the soils department at the Michigan Agricultural College.

These sugar beet lime deposits, which may be seen around all sugar factories, are usually available at little or no cost, the factory managers in most cases being glad to have the by-product hauled away. And yet soil experts assert that the lime is of very good quality for agricultural use, making a cheap yet satisfactory material for application on acid soils.

"The sugar beet factory lime runs about 70 per cent in composition," says Dr. McCool. "It is therefore advisable to apply about 25 per cent more of it per acre than one would of ground limestone."

"Many sections of the state need lime badly. The first thing is to determine whether or not the soil is acid, and then make arrangements to secure lime from some nearby sugar factory, where this is possible."

All the sugar beet factory lime is used for agricultural purposes in France, Germany, and Denmark, according to McCool, who returned recently from an agricultural inspection trip through Europe.

The fall is, of course, a good time to apply the lime. There are said to be thousands of tons of the factory lime in this state, and many farmers are making plans to utilize the source of cheap material.

NOTED ARTIST DOING WORK IN HOLLAND

Mr. Arvid Nyholm of Chicago, a noted painter, is in Holland for the purpose of doing some portrait work here. Mr. Nyholm will be in Holland frequently until he has filled his present contract and he will be accompanied by his business manager, Mr. F. W. Horton, also of Chicago.

Mr. Nyholm is one of Chicago's most noted portrait painters. He studied under Zorn and he is an artist by nature as well as with the brush. Mr. Nyholm's work is frequently reproduced in art publications. The latest was a portrait of F. Edson White and another of A. MacNeillage of Chicago printed in the "Art World Magazine" of October 7, this year.

Mr. Nyholm has painted the portraits of many famous people, among them being the late Dr. Frank W. Gamaliel, Dr. F. H. Bridgeman, Dr. F. Wigmore of Northwestern University, General Whipple of West Point, Senator Cummings of Iowa, former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, and others.

GIVES R. C. MESSAGE IN FLOWERS

The Shady Lawn Florists have a beautiful window display in their store on the corner of Eighth street and College avenue. It is for the benefit of the Red Cross roll call and it is the first window display of its kind ever arranged in Holland.

It is a Red Cross message in flowers. There is a life size Red Cross nurse in the background, also a First Aid scene illustrating the home service of the Red Cross. Then there is a fire disaster scene and a Red Cross hospital scene. A picture of a "heart and a dollar" is illuminated with red light. The whole display is extremely effective.

Mrs. E. J. Walling visited her brother and family in Grand Rapids on Saturday.

MICHIGAN FIGHTS THIEF'S SALE OF AUTO

Holland motor car owners in 1925 will have the number of the license issued by the Department of State in the certificate of title, according to an announcement by Secretary of State Charles J. DeLand to the Michigan Automotive Trade Association. This will make it more difficult to dispose of a stolen car to a dealer or to the public, as the license plate on the car must coincide with the number printed on the certificate of title.

The Michigan Automotive Trade Association is interested in making it difficult for a thief to dispose of a stolen car to a dealer or to an owner, and has co-operated with the Department of State in simplifying the handling of the Title Law for all concerned since it became effective, two years ago.

Secretary of State DeLand points out that owners are careless of the number plates, and that often they are not attached to the cars for which they are purchased. The number plates identify the vehicle and are of great value to the peace officers of the State in tracing ownership in the event of accidents and injuries to individuals. The license plate, he further points out, is a receipt from the State showing that the taxes on the vehicle have been paid and that it can be operated on the highways. As it is a receipt for taxes on a particular vehicle, it can not be transferred to another vehicle, as it is not a license issued to an individual to operate a car, truck or tractor. When owners switch plates, endless confusion results in the event of an accident.

The law requires that both the license and the certificate of title be transferred in the event of a sale of the car during the year in which it was licensed. The title can not be transferred unless the license also is transferred, and stamping of the license number on the face of the title will not only give the dealer and the purchaser the assurance that the car is properly owned but will simplify the transfer by the Department of State and speed up the handling of the titles and licenses in Lansing. In issuing the license plates on cars now in use the number will be imprinted by a numbering machine. When a new car is titled the license number will be inserted by the typist making the title. The title number is in the upper right-hand corner of the certificate of title, and the license number will be placed in the upper left-hand corner.

WHAT IS THE BEST MOTOR TOURIST'S ROUTE TO SOUTH?

The tourist going South, in the East, will likely be steered through the Carolinas, if he follows the advice of the A. A. of A. Both times I have made the trip, I took the western route through the historic Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia. Beautiful Shenandoah Valley has been kept remarkably free of the eyesore bill boards, the sprinkled freely with the less conspicuous and objectionable signs guiding the tourists to endless and endless caverns. The endless caverns are at New Market, Va., but perhaps the most famous caverns are at Luray. Then there are the Dixie caverns on the main highway. There is a well equipped motor camping ground at the latter caverns. At New Market there are a dozen or more private houses that accommodate tourists, besides the hotels. Caverns are a big attraction in Virginia.

If the tourist is romantically inclined, and provided the weather, which influences road conditions, will permit, he can turn east at Staunton and cross the Blue Ridge Mountains southern sun in half a day.—The Atlantic and Outing World.

The better route now is to turn west at Staunton and go thru Lexington and by Natural Bridge. The writer was over this route the past summer, and while there are thirty or forty miles of rocky and dirty road, it was traversed with ease due to the dry weather. The Young Missionary Workers Band will hold their monthly meeting in the church at 6:30 P. M.

Children's Bible classes of the Wesleyan Methodist church will meet Wednesday at 4 P. M. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

Vandenberg Bros. Oil Co. has just purchased the largest oil truck in Holland. It is a big red one with a capacity of 1,250 gallons.

In connection with the Kalamazoo bricklayer who, accompanied by his wife and 10 children, has sailed for Holland to take possession of a half-million dollar estate, one can't stand wondering whether they have been "accidentally" shot in the Michigan forests. As far as can be learned today, no accident in Michigan has yet resulted fatally, which goes to show that it isn't so unlucky after all.

It is stated that some pearls and slugs valued at $13,100 were taken from fresh water clams in Lake Michigan and connecting waters during 1923. In addition to this revenue, the shells used by button manufacturers brought close to $15,000.

E. P. Stephan, Dick Jellema, Lewis Vandenberg and many others were in Grand Rapids yesterday at the time when the terrible explosion took place at the Grand Rapids federal building. They were on the spot shortly after the blast occurred, and distinctly heard the cries of the wounded as they lay beneath the tons of debris scattered about in the vicinity.

Services at Wesleyan Methodist church Sunday will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. Visser. The morning prayer and praise services will begin at 10:00 A. M. followed by the sermon at 10:30. Sunday school at 11:45. Evening services will begin at 7:30. The public is cordially invited.

Thursday evening, Nov. 13, the pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Rev. C. P. Dame will begin a series of talks at the weekly prayer meeting at 7:30. The subject Thursday evening is the "Parable of the Old Testament." The subject Friday evening is the "Parable of the Trees." At each following meeting the pastor will discuss a parable of the Old Testament.

A peculiar auto accident happened on the Zeeland road a few nights ago when an auto ran head on into a team of horses, the wagon tongue penetrating through the "Lizzie" up to the instrument board. The horses were not injured, but this cannot be said of the "Henry."

On display in the Vande Linde & Visser's clothing store is a 5-foot branch taken from an apple tree about as heavily laden as any ever seen here. There are 84 apples on the limb. The limb comes from an apple tree on Rose Hill Farm, owned by L. D. Visser, formerly an alderman of Holland. The farm is located one half mile west of M-11 at what is called "Rice Corners." The apples are called "Winter Banana" and they surely hang about as thick as the tropical fruit after which they are named. The apples will be on display in the show window of the local clothing store all this week.

When Congress convenes in regular session Dec. 1, Senator James Couzens will answer the roll call for the first time as a duly elected member of the Senate. He is still a Senator by appointment of Gov. Groesbeck. The Board of State Canvasser, as soon as the returns reach the office of the Secretary of State from all of the 84 counties, which must be within 30 days after election, will meet and certify that Senator Couzens has been elected for the balance of the unexpired term he is serving which expires March 4, as well as for the full term of six years, beginning on the same day.

John Arendshorst local insurance and real estate man has decided to go into the real estate business more extensively and therefore has taken with him in this department Cornelius Klansen, a Holland man who has done considerable real estate business in Detroit. Also John Miller, formerly of Grand Rapids, but who for the past two years has been developing and selling real estate in Virginia Park. These men together are soon to put in new sub-divisions in Holland, and are to build and sell homes on easy terms. The organization is already at work on plans, and are also listing real estate for sale.

Glen Veneklasen was severely cut about the eye and left side of his face Thursday evening, when he ran into a wire clothes line in the yard at J. N. Clark's home. It is said he was trying to escape pursuit during some premature hallowe'en pranks.

Gerald Hagelskamp, who was driving a loaded truck at a high rate when passing another car and getting to his side of the road tipped over and unloaded. Considerable damage was done to the truck but the driver was fortunate to escape with only a severe jarring and some fright.

"A CITY OF LARGE DIVIDENDS" DAME'S SUBJECT

TRINITY PASTOR STARTS ANOTHER SERIES OF SERMONS SUNDAY EVENING

Next Sunday evening, Nov. 16, the pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Rev. C. P. Dame hopes to begin a new series of sermons. The pastor has just completed one series of Sunday evening sermons which met with a good response. The title of the new series is: "The Eternal City." The following sermons compose the series: "A City of Safe Investments," "A City of Large Dividends," "A City of Perfect Knowledge," "A City of Strange Absences," "A City of Song," "An International City," "A Prepared City for Prepared People." Sermons for Prepared People. These sermons will be preached Sunday evenings consecutively. The aim of the pastor is to focus the thoughts of Christian people more upon the things of eternity. The slogan of today is "one world at a time." The New Testament takes a different position. The pastor will try to point out that there is much in the New Testament concerning the future life of Christians that ought to make them think more of that life. Non-Churchmen are especially invited. Each sermon will be a brief, direct, frank presentation of the subject.

WHIRLWIND VAMP IS NOW ON TRIAL

GIRL WHO WAS TO MARRY HOLLAND BOY HAS A HUSBAND. IT IS FOUND

The shattered romance of Pearl LaVerne, alias Bertha Allen of Chicago and Henry VanderBosch, living on west 5th st., Holland, will be told in the Ottawa county circuit court. The case of the people against Pearl LaVerne, who is charged with appropriating an automobile belonging to Tamara VanderBosch, Henry's father, is the next matter to come to the attention of the court. Miss LaVerne has asked the county to furnish her an attorney and the appointment of the attorney to defend her will probably be made by the court this afternoon.

The romance of Pearl and Henry has been told before. Since her arrest it has been found that she already has a husband in Chicago. However, when she met Henry VanderBosch at Holland some months ago, she did not let that fact be known. Young VanderBosch fell in love with her according to the police story, and after two days of courtship he secured a license from city clerk Richard Overweg in order to marry her.

The day before the wedding day, Henry drove to his work in Zeeland in his father's car and Pearl accompanied him. She offered to keep an appointment for young VanderBosch by driving to Saugatuck and bringing back the father of the fiancée, and owner of the car. Henry agreed and Pearl set out. That was the last heard of her and the car until she was located in Chicago two weeks later.

The young woman has been in the county jail for several months awaiting the trial which is now about to begin.

TO SHOW LIFE OF CHRIST IN PICTURES

Professor Paul E. Hinkamp of Hope college who has a wonderful array of views picturing the life of Christ, will give a stereopticon lecture at the Sixth Reformed church on Wednesday evening, Nov. 19.

William Slater, formerly of Holland high who has always taken a live interest in scout work in this city will also give a talk on the Boy Scouts.

The pictures given by Mr. Hinkamp are exceptionally fine and his lecture accompanying the pictures bring out the true life of Christ as nothing else could.

Music will be furnished by the Sixth Reformed church male quartet and every citizen of Holland and vicinity is welcome to come. A silver collection will be taken up.

GIVE NEWLY ELECTED SHERIFF A FAREWELL

Some fifty friends and fellow employees in the print shop of the De Pree Company gave a farewell to Fred Kamferbeek, newly elected sheriff of Ottawa county. The tables were spread in one of the large rooms on the second floor of the River street building. The affair was informal. Notwithstanding this fact the festive board was filled with good things to eat.

Con De Pree, head of the firm was toastmaster, and Lewis Vandenberg, Thomas N. Robinson, Bert Slagh and others were called upon to make impromptu speeches.

Among the fifty guests present were also several from the different parties who interested themselves in behalf of Mr. Kamferbeek's candidacy.

Principal Riemersma gives the information that Holland high football team will go to St. Joe Friday instead of Saturday. There are several reasons for this, the main reason being that St. Joseph is to have a holiday Friday when a new athletic field and field house will be dedicated, and the lakeport town especially wants the Holland team on this occasion, which will also be Homecoming day when thousands from abroad will be present over the week-end.

HAMILTON

The Girls Clee Club of Hope College gave a splendid program in the First Reformed church Wednesday evening. The girls were greeted by a full house and the collection taken went for Hope College.

Mr. Andrew Lubbers will give up his job for the Standard Oil Co. and become salesman for Jacob Edling. Marvin Fokkert will take Mr. Lubbers' place in delivering oil and gasoline.

The final number of the Lecture Course was given Friday evening, being a lecture delivered by Mr. Taylor on the subject "Give the boy a chance."

The celery farmers are very busy at present shipping their celery because the strong winds did quite a bit of damage.

Mrs. George Japink was called to Battle Creek on account of the critical illness of her father who later passed away.

Jacob Edling and Emery Mosier went to Detroit last week Tuesday to drive back two new cars.

The state inspector of weights and measures was in town a few days ago.

Albert Stankey, who was a member of the crew of the steamship North American, during the season, is now spending his vacation with his parents in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor, whose home is in California, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manies Slotman.

In a fire drill at the Hamilton schools given unexpectedly the pupils in an orderly manner marched from the building in 58 seconds.

NORTH HOLLAND

A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nienhuis of Crisp in honor of Miss Jeanette Lieveense, who is to be the bride of Mr. Abram Looman. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. N. Vander Mere and Bezinia Van Westenburg of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nienhuis and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Slagh, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hop and Irene, Mr. and Mrs. G. Nienhuis, Mr. and Mrs. Schamper, Mr. and Mrs. M. Looman, Mrs. J. Lieveense and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kooyers and Helen Kooyers, Abram Looman, Anne Luidens, Anne Meengs. Many appropriate gifts were received. A dainty luncheon was served and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

The pupils of our local school enjoyed a Hallowe'en party at the school recently. First a program was given in which Beulah Kapenga gave a recitation, "Hallowe'en," a song, "Fall," by the 2nd and 3rd graders, a piano solo by Genevieve Ter Haar, a dialog by Hazel Veldheer, Anna Schilleman, and Raymond Houtling, a song by four boys, duet by Ida Nienhuis and Genevieve Ter Haar, followed by an apple-eating contest in which Jay Maatman received a box of candy as first prize and an all-day sucker. After the refreshments were served which consisted of cookies, candy, salted peanuts, pop-corn, apples and rum, all the children departed for their home all enjoying a very good time.

Mr. John I. Deppenhorst residing two miles south of Noordeloos has disposed of his 20-acre farm for $4000 to a party of Logan, Ind., and in return bought the 40-acre farm known as the Peter Branden place, located across the road from the Noordeloos store.

A happy surprise was carried out on Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bishop and son when the neighbors gathered at their home on Friday evening, Oct. 31. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Lemmen and Genevieve, Mrs. Martin Jongerijg, and Genevieve, and Jacob Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bosch and Willis and Jimmie, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Raak and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ter Haar and Genevieve, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Slagh and Jeannette and Henry, Mr. and Mrs. P. Siersma and Mr. Albert Siersma. Refreshments were served and all departed at a late hour.
