Armistice Day Well Observed In This City

MERCHANTS CLOSE UP SHOP
—PARADE AND SCHOOL PROGRAM, FEATURE

Day Winds Up With Annual
Legion Banquet at Warm Friend
Tavern

Although the 11th of November proved to be rather dark and dreary, it did not dampen the spirit of Armistice day and a well arranged program was given under the auspices of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post, American Legion, augmented by a second program arranged by Holland Public Schools.

The parade started promptly at 1:30 o'clock from the Holland Armory, in which all the military organizations and auxiliaries took part together with the American Legion Band.

There were also two floats, one from Willard G. Leenhouts Post American Legion and the other from the Henry Walters Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The procession wended its way from the armory east on Ninth St. to College avenue north to Eighth street, west to River Ave., and then south to Fifteenth street, disbanding at the Holland High School where a suitable program had been arranged and held in the auditorium.

The program as rendered was as follows: Music—"U. S. Field Artillery March" and "Medley—World War Songs," by the American Legion band; patriotic singing by the audience; introduction of Jacob R. Bultman, commander of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post American Legion, Holland, by Principal John J. Riemersma.

Advancing the Colors—Salute to the Colors, and repeating of the Preamble and prayer by Chaplain Harry Kramer. The Armistice Day proclamation was read by Miss Helen Gieblink and Cornelius Vander Meulen, cashier of the First State Bank, each of which will offer liberal awards to the winners, while there will also be two divisions for the postmen and one in which only 4-H and similar clubs will participate.

The poultry interest is of great importance to Zeeland and Ottawa County, a fact that has been recognized by the county board of supervisors who appropriated a fund for educational purposes at the Zeeland show this winter. Poultry is one of the principal agricultural industries here and it deserves the wholehearted support of every citizen of this region.

It is expected that the show and schools will be held in the Zeeland High School gymnasium and that the agricultural department of the high school will participate under the sponsorship of Mr. Otto Pino, agricultural instructor.

Mr. Cornelius Vander Meulen, cashier of the First State Bank, was the speaker on the Armistice Day program at Holland High School Wednesday afternoon. He was fittingly introduced by his old friend, Principal John J. Riemersma.

Mr. Vander Meulen reviewed the real Armistice Day in 1918 as the most noisy in the history of the world, stating as a comparison that a victory over Grand Haven in a football game would not even bring about so much noise as was heard in staid old Holland 13 years ago. However, he said, with that noise making there was a great gladness that filled the hearts of every human being and the noise on the outside was simply an expression of the happiness within, happy and thankful that the most appalling slaughter of all times was over.

Mr. Vander Meulen traced our entry into the war as a liberty loving people was not lacking in heroism, again showing that America was great in every crisis which was evident first with the struggling bands of colonists settling the east and blazing the trail west. Then came the struggle of "taxation without representation" which brought America's independence. And so America marched on overcoming every obstacle and passing through every crisis.

In every instance youth responded. There were terrible sacrifices and heartbreaks in these different periods in those trying days but the sacrifices have not been in vain.

In closing Mr. Vander Meulen stated in talking to the students and the guests present "Armistice Day has taught us many lessons: First—it promotes a spirit of friendship between individuals and among nations.

Second—it promotes clear thinking on problems relating to today's domestic and international well-being.

Third—it calls for courage and a spirit of self-sacrifice in matters of peace as great as was shown in times of war."

As a fitting Armistice Day poem, Mr. Vander Meulen gave the following:

Somewhere in France

Somewhere in France he is marching,
Brave and gallant soldier,
Heart not faltering, foot not
Tiring, though the march be hard and long.

Somewhere in France he is fighting,
Facing the foe without fear,
Over the top he cries his captain,
Over he leads with a cheer.

Somewhere in France he is dying,
Lying in No Man's Land,
Over the summit and din of the battle,
Hearing God's final command.

Somewhere in France he is lying,
Reddened martyr no more,
For the call of his spirit is calling,
And the call comes to rest.

In the evening the annual banquet was given at the Warm Friend Tavern, attended by at least 200 Legionnaires, ladies and guests. Comrade George Dauchy had presided.

HOLLAND LAD RECEIVES WORTHWHILE PROMOTION WITH GENERAL MOTORS

Mr. Keneth Parish of Chicago, a former Holland boy and graduate of the local high school, has just received notice of his appointment as general office manager of the Chevrolet Zone office at Chicago, second largest in the United States.

Mr. Parish started in the Holland Chevrolet Sales and Service, later taking charge of several offices in Indiana and Illinois, thus equipping himself for his present position.

While in Holland, Mr. Parish lived with his aunt, Mrs. Georgia Yore on West Eighth street for 15 years.

READ ABOUT RUSSIA

In the Armistice Day article appearing in the News today, there are two men who give an insight about life in Russia. One is an engineer by the name of McElroy, who spent 13 months in that country. The other, Attorney O. L. Smith of Detroit, who was once assistant Attorney General of Michigan and later prosecuted a score of Communists, who were plotting against the United States, meeting among the sand dunes of Lake Michigan, near Benton Harbor. They were convicted and sent to prison. The speeches of the two men indicate how interrelated the Communists in the United States and Russia are.

They have high hopes that Moscow will be the world capital for a world Soviet government in the near future.

Turn to these speeches—these are eye-openers.

Zeeland Is To Stage a Poultry Show This Year

Special Educational Schools Will Feature the Three Days of the Show

Poultrymen of Zeeland and vicinity are already making arrangements for their next annual poultry show that will be staged in Zeeland on the three closing days of 1931, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, December 29, 30 and 31.

In connection with the show there will be regular poultry schools held at which new phases of the industry will be discussed, when Chick Phillips of the Wayne Milling Co., Prof. J. A. Hannah of Michigan State College and Dr. Stafeth of Michigan State College will take the leading parts.

At the exhibits there will be a Standard Class and a Production Class, each of which will offer liberal awards to the winners, while there will also be two divisions for the postmen and one in which only 4-H and similar clubs will participate.

The poultry interest is of great importance to Zeeland and Ottawa County, a fact that has been recognized by the county board of supervisors who appropriated a fund for educational purposes at the Zeeland show this winter. Poultry is one of the principal agricultural industries here and it deserves the wholehearted support of every citizen of this region.

It is expected that the show and schools will be held in the Zeeland High School gymnasium and that the agricultural department of the high school will participate under the sponsorship of Mr. Otto Pino, agricultural instructor.

Fillmore Widow Given $6,000 In Damage Suit

SUIT IS BROUGHT ABOUT BE-CAUSE OF SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

A Circuit Court jury in Allegan County gave to Mary Wyma, administratrix of the estate of George Wyma, her husband, a verdict of $6,357.78 as stated by her attorneys, Oren S. Cross and Daniel Ten Cate of the firm of Dickema, Cross & Ten Cate.

The case was the outgrowth of a serious auto accident when George Wyma was killed and other occupants of the car driven by Abraham Van Anrooy were seriously injured. Those in the car were guests supposedly of Mr. Van Anrooy but according to the evidence and the verdict of the jury the driver was charged with negligence. Under the law a guest riding in the car cannot secure damages unless negligence is proven.

The story that appeared in the News at that time follows which will give some idea of the time of the accident and who were involved:

"A group of men from northern Allegan county, including Bert Nyland, Guy Hekhuis, George Wyma and Abraham Van Anrooy had driven to Lansing to take up the matter of a new road near Fillmore with the good roads department. They were on their way back with Van Anrooy driving. The machine is said to have crashed into a truck after becoming involved in a slight collision with another automobile, resulting in the death of Wyma."

"After the crash it was found that Peter Rignold was the most severely injured. He suffered a skull fracture and was badly lacerated and bruised about the head and body. His wife, Goldie, was severely cut and bruised and his sister, Wilma, and brother, Harry, were believed to have suffered internal injuries as well as severe cuts and bruises. Harry also suffered some rib fractures."

"Mr. VanAnrooy and Mr. Nyland escaped with severe cuts and bruises about their heads. Mr. Hekhuis, supervisor of Fillmore was badly lacerated about the head and body and also was injured about the back."

"The crash occurred just east of the viaduct at Pratt Lake, 93 feet east of the Kent county line and in Ionia county. Austin Harrington of Holland who also was in Lansing aided in taking care of the injured."

Whether an appeal will be taken to a higher court by defendant's attorneys, is not yet made known.

Miss Johanna Veenstra, missionary to the Sudan, Africa, will deliver an address at the Third Chr. Reformed Church, Zeeland, Wednesday, November 25, instead of on November 12, as was previously announced.

Let Those Who Want War Shoulder Gun

WAR WASTAGE WOULD KEEP WORLD FROM STARVA-TION FOR YEARS

Bringing About War Should Be A
Punishable Crime With Heavy Penalty

Rev. Raymond Drukker, a former Holland boy and a graduate from the local high school, who was a soldier over seas, painted a picture of war so vividly that the members of the Exchange Club, where he was the guest speaker, were thoroughly impressed that war is what General Sherman called it—"hell."

Mr. Drukker was introduced by Coach Hinga, who told some interesting relations they had on the athletic field when they lived in the same town of Kalamazoo.

Mr. Drukker said in part as follows: "In speaking to you today I am not face to face with strangers but with old friends. My theme 'The Armistice,' brings many sober thoughts to me for I want to tell you that I thought deeply while 'on the other side' and I thought on the question of war ever since, and these thoughts have brought out some positive facts and this is my slogan: 'War No More'."

"The facts brought out were the terrible waste and destruction costing billions upon billions of dollars. What could not Mr. Wickers do in building up manhood in his college with only an infinitesimal part of this tremendous sum? What could all do with these vast sums which have the welfare of mankind at heart to promote a higher plane of living morally and religiously? There was money-waste enough to support the world for years without poverty and while we can stand the waste of money, we cannot afford the wastage of morals which war and battles bring."

"A man in battle is obsessed with the idea that his fellowman is his enemy. This brings hate and man's soul is seared with a hatred that should not be and for which there is no direct cause."

"In the second place, the bringing on of war should be made a punishable crime. Those who perpetrate wars are not the ones who suffer but the penalty of war based on so-called patriotism falls not only on the loved ones who die in battle but on the mother, the father and the sister. The penalty is far reaching but falls on the wrong shoulders. The penalty should be transferred on those who bring it about. Let the 'War Lords' and those in the Council Chambers be penalized. They should shoulder arms and bear the brunt of battle."

"There is a new patriotism—it is peace. Peace has proven to us that it has accomplished far more than war with its appalling disasters. War is unmoral and it should be outlawed. The implements of war are unchristian. We must curb those who want to go into conflict. We must prevent future wars through christianization."

"During the World War I was very much impressed on one occasion when in a German trench. I found a man whose hands were clasping a Testament. The pages were turned to the thirty-third Psalm and undoubtedly while reading in his life had been snuffed out. The thought came to me very forcibly that 'We are brothers under the skin.' My supposed enemy and I served the same God, read the same Bible and felt the same comfort that religion brings. He loved the same Jesus that I do. How could we be enemies? He adhered to the same religion that I did which teaches us to help our fellowman."

"I was surprised to hear the conversation of one well known man who said 'What do I care for the war in the far East and how many Russians, Chinese and Japs are killed off as long as prosperity comes to this country.' When you hear such statements at home you begin to feel that some of your home people should be christianized first before you think of christianizing other people abroad."

"We stand in a position as a Christian democracy. No nation can stand alone today. We are so inter-related which has become more pronounced through recent inventions that we have everything in common with the peoples of the earth—their purposes and aspirations are similar to ours."

"I feel that peace is the new patriotism and the christianization of nations will mean peace and will mean no empty chairs, no broken homes, the terrible scars that war leaves."

President Wynand Wichers of Hope College gave a eulogy on the late Dr. Frank M. Paterson who died recently at Phoenix, Arizona. Dr. Wichers said that Mr. Paterson came to Hope College as a member of the faculty in 1909 when he died, that he first graduated from Mt. Vernon School for Boys, received his degree from Harvard as well as from other scientific schools, and he stated that his work was so outstanding that his recommendations for scholarship were immediately accepted with the higher institutions of learning."

Dr. Wichers believed that both Dr. Paterson and Dr. Almond Godfrey were the men who put the scientific department on the high efficient plane of today.

Andrew Klompars reminded the members that the local firemen were building over toys for the needy youngsters, rebinding books for Christmas purposes and any one having toys or books to spare should send them to Engine House No. 2 on East Eighth Street.

Borcilo people will be treated to a special musical program by the Grand Haven Men's Glee Club at the church and auditorium, Thursday evening, November 19, at 8:00 p.m., fast time, when all are invited.

Miss Nella Weller attended the Fritz Kreisler concert in Grand Rapids Wednesday evening.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

E. J. Harrington, Jr., has started a "lumber jack" camp in the woods about 8 miles northeast of Holland, and Pete De Feyter with 25 other men is cutting stave bolts for Joe Fixters' Stave Factory. Note:—Forest was thick around Holland even 50 years ago. The Joe Fixters mill was located where the Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. is now located. Long drying sheds for cross-piled barrel staves extended nearly to Seventh street.

James Koning has two vessel loads of stove bolts up the Kalamazoo River ready to be shipped to Holland for the stove mill.

The Channel tunnel between England and France is no longer a question of preliminary experiments. The boring has already begun from the English side to 1800 metres and 1600 metres from the French side. Note:—Those English and French must be slow workers for the Channel tunnel is not yet completed 50 years later.

David Vail is sinking a tubular well for Mr. O. Yntema at Drenthe. The depth of 301 feet has been reached and not a big showing of water yet.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Attorney Charles H. McBride has contracted for the construction of three dwelling houses on College avenue in Prospect Park addition.

The line was often a half mile long, waiting to be unloaded; and the

A Man Who Sang In War Will Sing in Holland

HAYDN'S "CREATION" TO BE GIVEN IN SONG

The great oratorio, Haydn's "Creation" is to be presented this week Friday evening, November 13, at Hope Memorial Chapel at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the large Holland Civic Chorus, composed of some of the best artists in Holland. Among the soloists are Mrs. John Telling, soprano, who interprets the part of Gabriel; Andrew Sessink, tenor, who impersonates Uriel; and Jurien Hoekstra, basso, who takes the part of Raphael.

Mrs. Telling and her wonderful soprano voice need no introduction in Holland. A production such as "Creation" given in this city is hardly complete without her assistance.

Sessink is a soloist at St. Mark's Cathedral, Grand Rapids, and his lyric tenor has an appeal that will not go unnoticed. He has been heard in Holland before on other occasions when his offerings were well received.

Mr. Hoekstra sings in concert engagements as a soloist and has appeared often not only in Europe but in the United States as well and his audience has received his efforts with unusual enthusiasm.

Mr. Hoekstra, as an over-sea soloist, served in France from 1915 until the close of the war. Joining the French troops he fought under the French flag and was decorated with the "Croix de Guerre" for bravery. After the war Hoekstra and his comrades formed an entertainment company for the "Wacht on Rhine." They were genuine entertainers, just the kind of men the "army of occupation" needed. General Pershing considered. He therefore commanded them to stay for months to entertain the different groups of American soldiers who had remained after the war.

But this is not a war story—it is simply telling about an outstanding soldier who this Friday evening is to take part in this Biblical oratorio "Creation" that has to do with the bringing into existence this world of ours.

Undoubtedly the Holland Civic Chorus can give a fine account of itself under the direction of Mr. W. Curtis Snow and here the large Skinner pipe organ can surely be brought into play with musical effects that are especially essential in bringing out the production.

Those who see and hear this marvelous "Creation" under these auspices will come away deeply impressed for that is the character of this oratorio with the right interpretation.

Remember it is given this Friday night in beautiful Hope Memorial Chapel at 8 o'clock.

NEARLY TIME FOR OPENING OF NEW BRIDGE

The new concrete bridge across Black river on US-31, north of the city limits, tentatively will be opened to traffic within a week. The day has not officially been designated by the state highway department.

The approach on the south side was completed a few days ago and the north approach is nearing completion. No ceremonies will attend the opening of the span.

Fall Army Worm Visits Allegan County; Easy to Stop

The fall army worm has been found in spots in Allegan county. These caterpillars come from good sized moths or "millers" that fly from out-of-doors and lay their eggs on the plants. The fall army worm is incapable of passing through the winter in Michigan. At this season of the year the moths or "millers" fly in through ventilators and lay their eggs on the plants inside. Caterpillars coming from these eggs reach a length of almost two inches and a diameter closely approximating that of a lead pencil. In color they vary from tan and pink to green and brown, sometimes being almost black. They are usually striped longitudinally. Serious losses have already been sustained in some parts of Michigan, where many greenhouse plants have been so mutilated as to be worthless. The most effective method of control is that of hand picking. As a supplementary measure, the various extracts of pyrethrum have been found to be very effective when applied as spray.

The addition of a little ivory soap to most of the pyrethrum sprays increases the effectiveness. It should be remembered that, while the army worm dies off during our severe winters out-of-doors, nevertheless in green houses they survive and continue to thrive until eradicated. Just as soon as cold weather makes it practicable to close the ventilators and thus shut these out, an active campaign should be started, both by spray and hand picking.

THEME FOR ZEELAND HIGH "STEPPING STONE" CHOSEN

The staff of the 1932 edition of the "Stepping Stone," annual of Zeeland High School, met and discussed plans for issuing the best annual ever. The theme will be an historical one, dealing with the city of Zeeland, tracing its history from its settlements up to the present date. The duties of the different staff officers were assigned and prompt action was urged.

License plates for new automobiles will be placed on sale Saturday, Nov. 14. The regular license sale for plates to replace those now in use, starts Dec. 1, although automobile owners will be able to use 1931 plates until March 1, 1932.

Ottawa County Now Has Man 104 Years Old

STILL CHIPPER AND DANCES
HORN-PIPE TO RADIO
MUSIC

Went Through Most Bloody Battles of Civil War; Saw General Lee Surrender to Grant

Ottawa County now has a man living who is 104 years old. He hasn't been here long, for he just moved in at Grand Haven, living with relatives. The Grand Haven Tribune gives a special write-up on this centenarian which is indeed interesting. When the reporter arrived the old gentleman was dancing a "jig" to radio music.

Grand Haven Tribune.—Major O. E. Barber, in his 104th year, the oldest man on the pension records of the Civil war, is a resident of this city, living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Seales, where he expects to remain for several months, and if the weather is favorable, perhaps through the entire winter.

Major Barber is a man of remarkable vitality and agility and travels about much the same as any other individual. He is slight in stature, having never weighed more than 145 pounds, he says, and still maintains the immaculate trim appearance which earned for him the sobriquet of "Dude Major," won in the Civil War.

The major seems to have led a charmed life in the war, which he entered in 1861 and went through to the final surrender of Lee to Grant at Appomattox. Three times he was seriously wounded, once on his leg, another time when he was hit on the head with a piece of shrapnel, the effects of which caused him to lose his teeth and nearly the sight of one eye and another serious wound was received in the calf of his right leg where the shot still remains.

These were major wounds, he says, but points to a little finger that is disfigured by a bullet that whistled past him once taking the tip end off, and another scar on his neck as minor injuries.

He has never missed a reunion of the G. A. R. since it was organized and for many years has been the center of interest in the gatherings. This year at Des Moines, he was treated royally, he says, and the remembrance of the attention and kindness he received makes him want to return there again.

It was at Denver, a few years ago, that stands out in his memory as a bright spot for it was there he lunched with Mary Pickford and a friend at the Brown Palace hotel. "I insisted they have a bountiful lunch and we had a great time chatting with my telling them about the days of the war. The $10.00 bill the waiter handed to me was a small sum for the delightful time I had had with the two famous women. Later in the evening when Mary was on the stage, she called for me to come and sit beside her."

At Grand Rapids two years ago, the major occupied a prominent place in the reunion. He marched with the youngest of them and dances to the tunes of long ago as nimbly as one many years his junior.

Life for Major Barber is not reduced to snoozing in a fireside chair and waiting for the months to roll by. He is active, travels alone and daily reads the paper with as much interest as anyone. He sleeps well at night and takes a nap during the day. He eats three meals a day, but they are light.

"Many persons dig their own graves with their teeth," he smilingly said today. "I never was a hearty eater, and have never liked tobacco. I never was sick a day in my life outside of the wounds in the Civil war."

"My father and mother lived to be 97 and 87 respectively and a brother lived to be 97, so you see we are a long-lived family. I was born in Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 10, 1827," he said. For years he lived on a farm.

He early enlisted as a private from Ohio, joining the 110th Ohio second brigade, third division of the 6th army corps. He soon rose to staff major and served most of the time under Gen. Warren Keifer. He also served with Thomas at Chickamauga.

The "Dude Major" was sent on many an important errand and fought in the front ranks of some of the bloodiest battles of the war. He saw active service at Gettysburg, Cold Harbor, Spottsylvania, and the Wilderness. He was with Grant at Appomattox and saw Lee lay down his arms to the northern general there.

At Anderson prison he was among those who liberated the 30,000 soldiers confined there, he says, under the most horrible conditions. The stories of Anderson prison were not exaggerated one bit, he stated. When the men walked out they were skeletons and very nearly naked.

He tells a story of being in charge of a squad which was about to fall asleep on picket duty. As the black caps were being placed over their heads a horse was seen coming, covered with foam, and bearing a hatless rider. The major felt certain he bore news concerning the execution and stayed the order. The message was directly from President Lincoln, commuting the sentence of the boy, who, it was found, had been saved by the pluck of a sister, who had gone to Washington to tell the president why her brother had fallen asleep. He was only 14 years old and had carried the heavy gun and knapsack of a still younger brother during a day's march. When put on night duty he was overcome by sleep.

After the war the grand old soldier returned to the farm and later moved to Michigan, near St. Johns. He drifted west and was a contractor on the St. Paul railroad, the first road from Chicago to Minnesota. He also was on hand when the golden spike was driven as the

BAD FIRE AT SAUGATUCK

Douglas barber shop and residence, a long one-story building owned by Chris Walz of Saugatuck and occupied by his son, Francis, and wife, was badly damaged by fire and water. A telephone ground wire became charged when a high tension wire and the telephone cable in the street became crossed. The siding was burned the full length of the ground wire and in two places it burned through so the flames ran up the inside of the wall to a space above the ceiling. Prompt work of the Douglas fire department extinguished the flames before they burst through the ceiling below. Repairs will be made immediately.

MILK MEETING TONIGHT, FRIDAY

Efforts of the common council, board of health and Mayor Ernest C. Brook to lower the prices of milk in Holland may come to a head tonight, Friday evening when the committees of the milk dealers and the council meet in the city hall for a conference on the rate issue.

The dealers committee is composed of James Bareman, John Jipping and Benjamin Speck. Mayor Brooks, City Attorney Charles H. McBride, and Aldermen Benjamin Steffens, Henry Prins, and Peter Huyser represent the council.

On November 2, the board of health at its monthly meeting drafted a resolution asking council to take steps to increase the consumption of milk as a move to improve health conditions for children. It was said milk demands in the city have decreased 40 per cent within the last four years.

Christianity's Cyclone Cells

A complete exploration of all the catacombs in Italy is about to be undertaken by the Pontifical Institute of Christian Archeology, a dispatch from Rome states. The recent Concordat between the Vatican and the Italian Government transferred possession of these early Christian refuges and burial places to the Church. Valuable additions to historical and religious lore is certain to result from a thoroughgoing examination of them.

The catacombs close to Rome have long been familiar to archaeologists and tourists; but there are catacombs in many other parts of Italy, as well as in the Crimea, Asia Minor, Syria and many more countries touched by early Christianity. They contain virtually all that is known of primitive Christian art and have revealed much of what is known of the life of the times. Originally merely burial places for those whose creed disincarnated them to incineration, a pagan practice, catacombs came to be places of secret worship. There the early converts set up their altars and worshipped the Only True God. The catacombs became the cells to which Christianity fled, when persecutions of persecution were threatening above. They gave asylum to the Tongue of Fire, when the winds of worldliness sought to extinguish it.

The catacombs have an intense interest for the modern Christian world. They have preserved the story of the early trials through which Christianity had to beat its way up to recognition. The fact to which they stand imperishable monuments is that Truth, crushed even beneath the earth, will rise again; that an idea, if it be worthy, cannot be destroyed on the Cross, at the stake or in the Arena.

Armistice Day Well Observed In This City

pared a suitable menu for the occasion and the decorations in the large dining hall were in keeping with the spirit of the day. Here is the menu:

Fruit Cocktail
Celery
Roast Prime Ribs of Beef au Jus
Mashed Potatoes String Beans
Princess Salad
Michigan Cherry Pie
Coffee

The program as given also follows:

President Hoovers Armistice Day Proclamation, Justin Smeenge; Invocation, Chaplain Harry Kramer; Songfest (two numbers) Everybody; Toast Master, Retiring Commander, George Manting; selection, Mrs. Phillips Brooks; The Legion on Parade, Commander-elect, Jake Bultman; The Auxiliary in Action, Mrs. Peter Slagh, president of the Auxiliary; March, Orchestra; Introduction of Speaker, Attorney Clarence Lokker; Address, Hon. O. L. Smith; Words of Appreciation, Attorney Elbert Parsons; Stars and Stripes Forever, Orchestra.

The Armistice day banquet held by the Willard G. Leenhout Post No. 6 of the American Legion at the Warm Friend Tavern was enjoyed by at least 200 guests.

The program was opened with a pep song service led by Mr. Jerry Houting. Mrs. Phillips Brooks then rendered two vocal solos, "The Americans Come" by Ray Foster, and "Freedom for All Forever." She was accompanied by Mrs. Geo. Manting. Her offerings were indeed well received.

Mr. Jake Bultman gave a short address, "The Legion on Parade." He spoke of the membership drive which he is conducting. Last year's membership numbered 190 and the membership this year is expected to reach 250. "This," he said, "can be easily attained by united action and loyalty to the Post."

Mrs. Peter Slagh, president of the Legion Auxiliary, spoke on "The Auxiliary in Action." She said that the first thing the Auxiliary did after organizing was to start a drive for funds toward a memorial. $4,244.74 has been collected toward this cause.

The Auxiliary has also done very commendably in giving to orphans and hospitals. The Auxiliary is financed by giving parties and having poppy drives. Last December the Auxiliary distributed Christmas baskets to the needy. This consisted of groceries and meats. She said "The Auxiliary is in action not only one day, but every day in the year." She concluded by giving a membership invitation.

Mr. James McElroy of East Lansing, who has recently returned from a 13 months' residence in Russia, then gave a very informative address on conditions in Russia. He spent four months in Moscow and the balance of his time in Siberia as an engineer in a large tractor plant.

He said that "home life" in Russia was very degrading. The children were taught in the schools to think more of the government than of their parents. If a child reports to the Secret Police that he has been punished by his parents, the parents are punished severely by the government. In some cases they are either shot or exiled. He said that devotion to parents was utterly lacking.

Men who protest against the government are shot without trial and their families are exiled. He said that he had no sympathy for the casual visitor to Russia who comes back with stories of conditions in Russia. You have to learn to talk the language and associate with the working classes in order to know what conditions really exist. He said that the average Russian workman was happy if he had black bread, fish and vodka. He said that Russia is maliciously under-selling other countries. They have no cost system and therefore cannot figure production costs on the money standards of the world. He said that Russia is using fat money and even though it may cost them fifty dollars to produce a bushel of wheat they put it on the world market at 48 cents per bushel, 2 cents less per bushel than we can produce it at, simply because they pay nothing for labor. The Soviet government is a vicious thing and is disrupting the political and economic system of the world.

Just Phone 4616

29 East 8th St. Holland

speaker of the evening was made by Attorney Clarence Lokker.

He began by reading a part of the Preamble to the constitution of the American Legion. He said that too often people read and recite this as just mere words and forget the import. He said that we should never lose sight of the fact that we must "Foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism."

He then introduced Hon. O. L. Smith of Detroit, who gave an inspiring address against "Communism."

He began by saying that "Fishers and choppers and plowmen" constitute the state. These were the kind of people who founded the greatest movement toward human liberty in any country. These were our forefathers and we must strive to uphold their traditions and ideals which we have inherited.

He said that the Communistic movement was gaining a great impetus in our country and is the greatest danger which we are facing today. He said that our country today offers more opportunities than any other country of the world. He mentioned that his mother died when he was born, that his father died when he was ten years old and yet he was able to gain an education even though he was a penniless orphan and was able to make something of himself. "America has kept its promise with me."

He said that even though there were thousands of cases like his that Communism was an intangible but perceptible evil that was creeping into our country. "There are actually more Communists in the United States today than in Russia."

He said that there are about two million communists in Russia who are ruling fifty million people with an iron hand. What would we say to two per cent of our population were telling the other ninety-eight per cent what to do? That is the situation in Russia.

Russia is underselling the world with malice prepense. They know that if they can make the rest of the world hungry it will be an excellent culture medium for Communism. Russia believes that she is destined to rule the world as the capital of a Soviet Republic. There are even men in Russia who care not for American ideals as long as they can get the Russian dollar.

He said that all society is divided into two parts: the capitalist state, and the communistic state. The Communists and the Socialists are both working for the same ends. The only distinction is that the Socialists hope to gain their ends by ballots and the Communists by bullets. Russia has merely established a Communist dictatorship over their working classes.

The Communistic menace would not be serious in the United States if there were not 15 million people thinking in the language of their hinterland. Communists in the United States are mostly aliens and dare not come out in the open for fear that they would be deported. He said that communism was utterly atheistic. The people are not just immoral but they are immoral.

The Communists have collected $999,894.90 from Americans to spread their propaganda.

In conclusion he said that when we look at our flag we should see through it and think of the constitution which it represents. "We must not only be willing to die for America but we must be willing to step out and live for it."

Mr. Elbert Parsons then gave a few words of appreciation and then presented Hon. O. L. Smith with a pair of wooden shoes as a souvenir of the occasion.

The toastmaster, Mr. George Manting, then asked all to bow their heads in a moment of silent prayer for those who have given their lives for their country.

Mr. Manting lastly invited all to stay and play a game of "Keeno." Another feature of the evening was the presentation of a large basket of chrysanthemums to Mrs. Phillips Brooks, who so pleasingly entertained the guests in song with her wonderful voice.

Most of the merchants of Holland, where possible, closed their places of business at noon and displayed the colors. This was decided at a recent meeting of the Holland Merchants' Association and was urged later by President Cornelius J. Dornbos. Mayor Ernest C. Brooks also issued the following proclamation:—"In honor of those who were left behind in Flanders Field and their comrades who fought heroically in the World War, by such powers as are within me vested, I do hereby proclaim Armistice Day, November 11, 1918, to be a holiday in the city of Holland and do respectfully request that all of our industries and our stores close for the afternoon, if economic conditions permit, and that as many of our people as are able, do attend the patriotic and religious services which will be held throughout the city in our churches and schools."

Winter Fishing and Spearing Rules

Spearing through the ice of Michigan lakes during the coming winter will be limited to the months of January and February. This is a curtailment over last year, when the regulations permitted spearing so long as the lakes were frozen over. Trout streams and quasi-trout streams will be illegal grounds for winter spears, and spring spearing in non-trout streams for carp, suckers, redhorse, mullet, dogfish and garpike will run from March 1 to April 30 in the lower peninsula and March 1 to May 15 in the upper peninsula.

Pike (great northern and grass pike, but not wall-eyes), carp, suckers, sheepshead, mullet, redhorse, lake trout, smelt, muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pilotfish, dogfish and garpike may be speared through the ice.

The jack light or any other type of light is prohibited in spearing at any time whether through the ice or in the spring.

Winter fishing through the ice this year may be carried on with from one to five ice lines per fisherman, the rule being "not to exceed five single hooks which may be attached to not more than five single lines." This is interpreted to mean that if only one line is used five hooks may be attached to it.

The season for black bass closes Dec. 31, but pike, bluegills, sunfish, perch and warmouth bass may be taken until March 31, and rock bass, calico bass and crappies may be taken in any open waters at any time.

GOOD FOUND IN ALARM CLOCKS; RESCUES FISHES

The indispensable (and utterly contemptible) common bedside variety of alarm clock has ascended to a scientific station of honor in the control of natural wild life. Recently an emergency appeal informed officials of the California Division of Fish and Game that a colony of black-crowned night herons were making merry with little goldfish in the public squares of Alameda. Dispatched to investigate, E. L. Sumner, Jr., assistant bird and mammal zoologist, reported himself in a quandary. Potatoes and whatnot hurled at the herons failed to dampen their ardor for night-fishing inside the city limits. The use of guns was not advisable.

Sumner slept on the question of saving the goldfish of Alameda. In fact he overleapt on it—and got an idea. He strung four healthy alarm clocks in the tall "heron tree," where the birds napped all day after each night of dodging missiles and gulping the prized gold fish. The alarms were set to go off at half-hour intervals. After a sleepless week the herons disappeared from their strangely serenaded retreat, and haven't shown up again. Now Sumner, the hero of Alameda, is recommending that alarm clocks be supplied in other cases of unwelcome invasion by wild birds and animals.

TALLMADGE MAN HELD FOR IMPERSONATING OFFICER ON HIGHWAY

The man is alleged to have been the one who halted a car driven by Paul Vandenberg of this city on M-50 recently.

HOLLAND BANKERS RE- VIEW HOOVER'S PLAN

The officers and directors of the three Holland banks were in Grand Rapids Tuesday afternoon, the guests of the First State Bank of Holland and the Union Bank of Michigan of Grand Rapids.

The main object of meeting was to review and discuss President Hoover's National Credit Corporation to which more than a half billion dollars was subscribed by the bankers of the nation for the purpose of starting the wheels of industry going again.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, who was an important factor in helping President Hoover in his proposal which came out successfully, was the guest speaker at the luncheon given at the Peninsula Club. This plan which is already working, is a forerunner of a larger plan that will undoubtedly be taken up by Congress in December, through which well regulated banks will always be protected as they are through the National Credit Corporation which is now functioning.

The fact that this plan has gone into effect is already shown in better business practices in every part of the country—the first glint of better times and more optimism evident in over a year. It has restored confidence all over the nation. Hoarding of money has absolutely stopped every where and millions are returning to the channels of enterprise, in the avenues of trade and agriculture.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVED

Another sign of improving business conditions was noted during the past month by the corporation division of the department of state. One of the best means the state has of gauging economic conditions, is through the number of new companies which seek articles of incorporation.

During the month of October requests were received by the corporation division for 8000 application blanks. This is taken to mean that many new companies sensing improved conditions are preparing to be ready for prosperous times.

GRAND HAVEN'S NEW LIGHT PLANT MAKES MONEY EVEN NOW

Despite the decrease in demand for light and power in Grand Haven for the past two years the earnings of the municipal light plant continues and following the complete report of the auditors, will show a profit equal that of last year, or $49,943.84.

The profits this year have been made possible by the Diesel plant, said Mr. Badcock. The price of crude oil and the efficiency of the Diesel engines have brought the costs down so low that despite conditions during the past two years the plant continues to show large figures on the black side of the ledger.

According to the record that is kept there has been a steady decline in the consumption of light and power since 1929, due to business conditions and the loss of the Construction Materials Corp. account. In Oct., 1929, there were 666,300 kw. h. produced, the peak of the past two years. Since then the amounts have steadily fluctuated with here and there spurts which are clearly indicated on the monthly chart. In September of this year there were only 405,400 kw. h. produced. A year ago in October there were 545,600 kw. h.

TEACHERS ARE GUESTS AT BEECHWOOD

The Ottawa County Rural Teachers' Club was the guest of the Beechwood teachers on last Wednesday evening. Miss Ina Kelly of the State Department of Public Instruction gave an inspiring address dealing with the modern trends possible in teaching.

Among the special music features of the program were several selections rendered by the Beechwood Girls' Glee Club and the Misses Wyngarden.

Delicious refreshments were enjoyed immediately after the program, following which a short business session was held.

The next meeting will be held on December 4 at Beechwood school at which time the club is invited to be guests at a PTA meeting there.

Help Nature Save Trees

Nature, to protect her trees, enlists birds. Hence protection of our feathered friends is a phase of forest protection, says the American Tree association. Certain insects prey upon others, protecting the trees. But man must take a hand in such warfare—a warfare that must be conducted constantly.

Underground City

Near Budapest, Hungary, is an underground city where more than 1,000 people live. The strangest part about it is that it is under a cemetery. It started in 1338 when people fled to the caves from a flood. The soft rock lends itself to the carving of both rooms and furniture. The place is cool in summer and warm in winter.

Long Day and Night

In the northern parts of Lapland unbroken daylight and darkness last from two to three months each; through the greater part of the country the sun does not rise in midwinter nor set in midsummer.

to know better and changed the time to satisfy own selfish interests.

Permit me to quote a few lines from the greatest document ever written. "When in the course of human events, it sometimes becomes necessary to dissolve the political bands, for a decent respect for the opinion of mankind, these being, the freedom of the ballot or the voice of the people."

Prudence indeed will dictate that city and state governments long established, should not be changed for light and ancient causes. And why a change in time—only to make it more miserable and inconvenient for our people.

We have repeatedly asked the common council in the most humble terms, to sympathize with the mothers in these times of hardships and hunger to send their children so early an hour in the morning off to school when it is yet so dark, dreary and cold. What excuses have these few men who advocate such a time in winter months? The transaction of business is about the only reasonable excuse. Traffic hazards are no more numerous in our well-lighted city at night than in the day time and as to the hour of play for the children, their sleep is much more essential in the morning.

As our city was once regarded as a well-governed town, we now have lost all respect of our neighboring communities, who judge us as a city, governed of the people, by the people and for the people.

Saugatuck, Douglas, Fennville and Vicinity

The Men's Chorus of the Third Reformed Church of this city presented a program in the Methodist church of Ganges Tuesday night. The chorus was organized in February and is under the direction of John Vandervelde. The program opened with opening remarks and prayer by the minister of the Ganges church. The program consisted of numbers by the chorus, vocal solos by Henry Hoffman, a male quartet consisting of Albert Van Dyke, Ben Dalman, John Schipper and Edward Van Dyke, and two cornet duets by John Orlert, Jr., and Donald Lieverse.

The debating team will have its first debate Nov. 13 with Grandville, at Grandville. Fennville supports the negative side of the question: "Resolved, that the state of Michigan should enact legislation providing for a system of compulsory unemployment insurance." This is the first year that the Fennville high school has had a debating team. Everyone wishes it success and all hope it wins its first debate, notwithstanding that Friday the thirteenth is considered unlucky. Unlucky for Grandville?

Leonard Dickinson, 75, a hardware dealer at Fennville for the past 50 years, died at his home on Sunday morning. He was one of the oldest hardware men in western Michigan in point of service. He had been a member of both the board of education and the Fennville city council. He also had served as supervisor of his township. He was a member of the Fennville Masonic Lodge, Surviving are his widow, a brother, Walter of Sturgis, and a sister, Mrs. Charles A. Water of Shelby. Funeral services were held at Fennville Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. W. Clapp, wife of the postmaster at Saugatuck, has been appointed chairman of the Red Cross drive for Saugatuck. Mrs. Clapp will have a desk in the post-office lobby, where she will receive memberships and contributions.

Consumers' Power Co. has just finished its new line north from Glenn along the shore of Lake Michigan and is giving light service to the people of the community near the Allegan county park.

The annual Red Cross drive for Allegan county started yesterday and will continue until Nov. 16. Rev. H. L. Potter is in charge. The goal in Allegan county is to increase the membership to 1,000 members.

The Fennville Fruit exchange and the Fennville plant of Michigan Fruit Canners, Inc., have completed this season's pack. Shipping will continue for some time.

The Todd farm near Fennville is closing its cabbage crop of 63 acres with sales of about 600 tons. It has been a very good year for that crop. Of their sixty-five acres of celery they are tending about 80 per cent.

The American Legion and auxiliary of Allegan put up 93 quarts of fruit and 25 glasses of jelly and jam, which they divided between the two hospitals at Battle Creek and the children's billet at Otter Lake. They also sent a complete winter outfit of clothing for a 9-year-old boy at Otter Lake billet.

The sum of $18.64 was derived by the Unity Club at Ganges at a public dinner held at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Tucker.

Mrs. Alva Hoover of Ganges entertained with a dinner recently honoring the birthday anniversary of her husband. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. George Glupker and daughters Alma and Mary of Holland and Mr. and Mrs. John Westveld and Mr. and Mrs. John Bast of Fennville.

Miss Rena West, nationally known home economist, will give demonstrations in cooking to two classes here Monday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Erickson and family of Holland were Sunday visitors in the Albert Nye home at Ganges.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller of Gibson, with Mrs. A. Bachelor of Holland, went to Cadillac last week. The Millers left later for a two-week vacation to the Kentucky mountains. They will visit the Mammoth Caves while there. They are expected to return in a few days.

The canning factory at Fennville finished its season's pack Wednesday night and in closing for the year the management made its customary distribution of a 2½ pound box of candy to each employee. The season was shortened slightly by the smaller receipts of pears, owing to the fruit not keeping so well, but on the whole, the output has been about normal. Manager M. C. Hutchinson says. The Fruit Exchange also practically closed for the season Wednesday, but a small force will be kept at work handling the large quantity of fruit in storage. The cider mill is still operating, and is expected to continue working about two weeks longer.

Organization of a Rural Teachers Club was effected at a meeting held Tuesday evening in Fennville high school. Keith R. Landsburg being elected president; Mrs. Helen Kitchen, vice president; and Miss Mary Hans, secretary and treasurer. A committee consisting of Mrs. Drought, Mrs. Zeitsch and Miss Opal Mosier was named to prepare a tentative program for this winter to be presented at the next meeting on Monday evening, Dec. 7, at 7 o'clock, standard time. All grade teachers are invited to Tuesday night. Commissioner G. V. Faler and Rev. Cone of Allegan gave interesting talks and after the meeting light refreshments were served.

The girls' class of the Gibson Sunday school entertained the boys' class at the home of James Boyce, Sr., Saturday evening. Refreshments were served after the games. All who attended were dressed in Halloween costume. A wonderful time was had.

The Saugatuck high school students are busy preparing for a bigger and better carnival this year. There will be many attractions, including shows, candy booths. Friday, Nov. 20th, at 7:00 p. m., is the date. The proceeds are for the benefit of the student association.

Just to show his prowess as a man of war, Hughes went out in Charlie Wadsworth's swamp and took a rattlesnake that had six rattles and was "as long as a string."

The fruit exchange is putting up a number of fancy Snow apples in boxes holding a dozen with eight of these packages in a carton. They are for the fancy holiday trade and will probably pass through chain stores.

A Holland pastor took part in the program held at Gibson when the Northwest District of the Allegan County Council of Religious Education was held. Those participating were Mr. Glass, who gave the delegates a hearty welcome; Mr. Oonk of Ebenezer Church Sunday school, who opened with devotions; and Rev. Kortkamp of Saugatuck, who read the scripture. Dr. House, well known in Allegan county, spoke to parents, especially asking them to set an example to young folks in Christian living. The principal address of the evening was given by Dr. J. O. Russell, new pastor of the M. E. Church of Holland and Saugatuck. He chose as his subject "The Living Word" and said in part as follows: "The Bible is not just a book, easily smashed or worked over. It is living and cannot be killed by different translations. It is a central organizing force used by fraternal and political organizations as a foundation. The Bible must be alive or men through the ages could not have preached from the same book such varying messages. The Bible is a ballast that will hold us true in the storms of life. You cannot read the Bible without an attitude towards it." Mr. Fred Boyce gave a suitable solo that was well received. The Gibson school entertained with a number of choruses in their able manner; 95 persons were present from the 12 church schools represented. The meeting closed with the song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Benediction by Rev. Beckett of Fennville M. E. church. New Richmond extended an invitation for the spring meeting, which was accepted.

If baby has COLIC

A CRY in the night. Colic! No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy. This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and causes no harm. It is the sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it safe for frequent use.

And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than strong medicines meant only for adults.

THERE ARE NO 180-MILE-AN-HOUR DUCKS

The alibi of the hunter who said that the ducks he missed went by him 180 miles an hour has been shot to pieces by statistics on speed of birds compiled by a worker in the bureau of biological survey in the United States department of agriculture.

Earlier estimates on the speed of ducks credited these birds with phenomenal speeds, but automobiles and airplanes have made more accurate timing of their flying possible. The most accurate checks thus far made show that ducks and geese do not ordinarily go more than 40 miles an hour, although they are capable of increasing their speed if frightened. They cannot, however, maintain the higher speed for a long time. The fastest bird time was a duck hunt in California, which flew at a speed of 165 to 180 miles an hour while chasing its prey.

Mallards flew in France and England 50 to 58 miles an hour and a flock at top speed in California when timed with an airplane went only 55 miles an hour. Pintails chased by an airplane in California flew 55 to 65 miles an hour, and a canvasback made 72 miles an hour. Canada geese timed in Massachusetts flew 44 miles an hour and a brant in Scotland flew 45 miles an hour. —G. R. Press.

OUR TRADE RADIUS SUFFERS

Clocks in the vicinity of Overisel were set back one hour last Saturday evening and all enjoyed an extra hour of sleep Sunday morning, but several felt rather surprised when Rev. Pyle announced from the pulpit that since Holland had on Saturday night decided to keep fast time, our clocks would have to be set ahead again. At a consistory meeting on Sunday morning it was decided to have the services start at 9:30 in the morning, two o'clock in the afternoon, and eight o'clock in the evening. Whether the schools will follow this schedule or not is up to the boards. The mothers are hoping the schools will adopt the same, for it's pretty hard to get the little tots off to school so early in the morning. —Overisel Correspondent.

Insects Destroy Trees

There are two hundred thousand known kinds of tree-attacking insects, and their attacks upon the trees are going on all the time. It is estimated says the American Tree association these pests cause a loss of one hundred million dollars every year. Some experts are of the opinion the loss due to the ravages of insects is far greater than losses due to forest fires.

Old Form of Pie

The name "mince pies" was invented by the Puritans in Colonial days, as they objected to the name "Christmas pies." Under the name "mutton pies," similar pies were known in England as early as 1598. Later on tongue was substituted for mutton, and then chopped beef took its place. Otherwise, the ingredients have remained about the same.

Birch, Magician, Baffles Record Lyceum Crowd

MYSTIFIES AUDIENCE WITH VARIED PROGRAM OF TRICKS

Duping about 1000 people that appeared in Carnegie Gymnasium the night of Nov. 6 to hear the third number on the Hope College Lyceum course, the 29 year old magician, Mr. Birch, established his right to the title of "Future Successor to Thurston." He successfully baffled a critical audience for over two hours with a number of unusual tricks.

Opening his performance with a sleight-of-hand illusion in which he pulled from an empty scarf a bowl of goldfish and then made the goldfish disappear from under the scarf, Mr. Birch later introduced to the audience his "trained alarm clock," which answered by ringing its bell all questions put to it.

Producing from an apparently empty hat a dozen clamoring alarm clocks did not seem half as difficult as making corn pop in the same hat with the aid of the flame of a lighted candle. A trained rooster that crowed on being produced from nowhere was appreciated by the audience.

Walking from his shadow on a screen was not fully appreciated until two volunteers from the audience struck unusual attitudes between the screen and the light and then walked off to regard their own shadows. Betty McClean, one of the volunteers, was disappointed when the guinea pig which she had thought she was holding turned out to be a box of Cracker Jack.

Probably the most sensational were at the same time the most explicable of the illusions was that of cutting a woman into four parts. An escape from a box that had been nailed shut by three of the spectators proved to be another mystery that none could solve satisfactorily.

The vanishing and reappearing doves, the large cards that somehow shifted their positions, the canary that disappeared and later turned up inside of a light bulb were other parts of the program. Miss Sperry, his assistant on the stage, entertained with a xylophone solo.

Walked The Path In Jerusalem Jesus Walked

Dr. A. J. Brower Visited Mount of Olives, Garden of Gethsemane and Jacob's Well

(By Dr. A. J. BROWER)

Outside the wall of Jerusalem, and on the East side of the valley of Jehosaphat is Mount of Olives. It is only a short distance from the temple area, perhaps not more than two to five miles by way of a winding road, with stone wall fences on both sides.

Acts 1, verse 12, "Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the Mount called Olivet, which from Jerusalem a Sabbath day's journey." At that time the length of a day must have been like it is today. Surely not, either Mount Moriah or Mount Olives have moved to different places since the time of Christ, or even of Abraham.

We read how Jesus walked over Mount of Olives to Bethany, Zachariah 14, verse 4, "And his feet shall stand in that day upon the Mount of Olives which is before Jerusalem on the East."

Here is where David went when he fled from Absolon, barefooted and with covered head he ascended Mount of Olives, Samuel 2, chapter 15, verse 30, "And David went up by the ascent of Mt. Olives and wept as he went up, and had his head covered and he went barefoot."

We noticed three winding roads leading to the top where a Russian church stands today. At one place the hill is bleak and bare and at another it is all terraces covered with vineyards and olive orchards. Even today it is amusing to note that the Palestinians certainly carry enough wraps on their heads. I can just see Jacob unwind a lot of scarves from his neck and head and carry them carefully on the stone that he used for a pillow at Bethel. Anyhow that is the way they do it now. They carry very little about their feet, often barefooted, but surely the head must be covered good and plenty. As the practice was of old so it is today.

Here Jesus sat with the disciples when he prophesied the destruction of Jerusalem, for from this height one has a wonderful view of the Holy City. St. Matthew 24, verse 4, "And as he sat upon the Mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately."

The temple area is plainly seen. The tiled house roofs, the domes, especially the Dome of Rock over Abraham's sacrificial altar; the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, and at that time the beautiful temple must have been in plain view. From here we could plainly see that around every breathing place on the roof there was a battlement for the people. Here were small holes for a bit of air and sunshine. It was an ancient law to construct houses in this fashion. 1 Deuteronomy XXII verse 8, we read "When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for thy roof that thou bring not blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence."

In many different places I have observed natives, who seem so odd in looks, actions and appearances, that I sometimes wondered if they really were human beings; but when we begin to study and know them, we are often amazed at their intelligence and knowledge, for instance, look at Mahatma Gandhi, I have never seen him but many like him of his own kind, so I know that clothes can help, but they do not make the man. Often their language is so hard that it certainly needs intellect to master it. This alone convinces me that because we are white we should never feel that we are it or the best or brainer.

In a church called the Church of Ascension we saw the Lord's Prayer cut in stone, in (if my memory serves me right) thirty-six languages. How is this for the Lord's Prayer? (Only this part) "Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

"Macamoxitechmochahuili Inicamo Ipan Tihuetzque Inteneyecoltiliztili Canye Xithecchomaxitlil Inhuicpa Innaquallu." It not only takes brains to understand such big words, but also a big mouth to pronounce them. Try it! I give up.

Examine those big words and notice the great number of syllables in them, whereas in our own English Bible there is not one word contained in it that has more than six syllables.

Mount of Olives is not like a pyramid with just one peak, instead it has several points of elevation. One peak is recognized as the hill of Ascension, and another as the Mount of Gethsemane. Tradition tells us that Solomon here built idolatrous shrines for some of his many wives.

A spot revered in the annals of Christendom is the Garden of Gethsemane, where Jesus and his disciples kept vigil on the night before Crucifixion.

The Garden of Gethsemane is just below the Mount of Olives, close to Jerusalem. As it is today, it is very small and all fenced in with a wall. We walked all through it. Saw the very old Olive trees which some think might have sprung from roots of trees of Jesus' time. They surely were the biggest and oldest olive trees, the like I saw at no other place. Olive trees like California Redwoods do get to be very old. Hence it could be possible. Still we read that: In 70 A. D. when Titus destroyed Jerusalem for the last time, all the trees around Jerusalem were cut down during the siege. For this accomplishment of the King of Rome, the Romans built a mammoth beautiful arch in his honor which stands today in almost perfect preservation in the Forum at Rome. I saw it while I was there. The Latins and the Greeks each have a Garden of Gethsemane, but they are both beyond the Kidron and East of Jerusalem, and close together, so I thought if a fence would be put around both places with it's surrounding territory, then the real Gethsemane might be enclosed, and the dispute ended.

On our way to Tiberias and the Sea of Galilee, we paused for a short while at the Well of Jacob. Unbroken traditions of Jews, Moslems and Christians have definitely established this as the real well of Jacob. A small chapel is built over it to protect it. This well is at Sychar a small town in the land of Samaria. Here is where Jesus sat at the Well and met the Samaritan Women. Gen. 4, verses 5, 6, 7,

"Then cometh he to a city of Samaria which is called Sychar, near the parcel of ground which Jacob gave to his son Joseph. Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well, and it was about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water." This portion of land that Jacob bought was in the Valley of Shechem, now a very fertile place, as it was then.

Shechem is among the oldest of all the sacred places in the Holy Land. It was here where the great assembly of the tribes of Israel was held after the death of Solomon. This meeting resulted in a revolt against the son of Solomon, Rehoboam who was then on the throne. Jeroboam who at this time was in Egypt became King of the made the tribes and Shechem was the revolutionary capital of this kingdom of Israel, and the chief city of the Samaritans in the land of Samaria. So there were for many years two kingdoms. The Northern at Shechem, called the House of Israel, and the Southern at Jerusalem, called the House of Judah. All this is recorded in the Book of Kings. 1 Kings, chapter 12, verse 1, "And Rehoboem went to Shechem, for all Israel were come thither to make him King?"

To Shechem did Jacob send Joseph where his brothers were feeding the flocks of sheep and working in the fields. Here is where Joseph was wandering him, saying, "What shall I do? And he said, I seek my brethren, tell me I pray, where they are departed hence, for I heard them say, Let us go to Dothan, and Joseph went after his brethren and found them in Dothan." Surely an act of Providence was Joseph's fate. Hard to understand at the time, but very clear after all is said and done. Gen. 50, verse 19 and 20, "And Joseph said unto them, 'Fear not, for I am in the place of God? But as for you, ye thought evil against me, but God meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save people alive.' Balaam did not comprehend the peculiar actions of the ass he was riding, but finally his eyes were opened and he understood it for good. 'God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform.' Like them it still is now. Every move has a meaning of its own. It is expected of us that we be observing and take note of signs as they appear.

Jesus said as follows in St. Matthew 16, verse 2 and 3, "When it is evening ye say, It will be fair weather; for the sky is red. And in the morning, it will be foul weather today; for the sky is red and lowering! O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern the signs of the times?"

Today the well is still about 75 feet deep, and if all the rubbish and dirt would be taken out, it might be again as deep. Every traveler is given a cup of water from the depths of this Patriarch's Well, but I did not care to take a chance of drinking perhaps contaminated water, so preferred to have it put in a bottle to take home with me as a keepsake. However I carried tablets with me to sterilize all microorganisms in water in case I was forced to drink suspicious water. It is figured that this well had been dug at least 1800 years at the time Christ sat there. One year later I saw a very old well, perhaps the oldest in the United States, that reminded me very much of Jacob's well. This was beside the Old Trail at Glorieta Pass in Northern New Mexico. This is on the ranch where the Run-a-Way iKt Carston kept in seclusion from the authorities.

This well of Jacob, The Pool of Siloam and the stone I saw in Constantinople of the Temple Wall of Jerusalem, are a few of the works of man wrought in Bible times, and enduring down to our own day. Still there are others like the Obelisks, Pyramids of Geza, ruins of Memphis and temples of Thebes, Luxor and Karnak.

MORE MONKEY BUSINESS

Last week the news reported a stray monkey seen near Allegan. Now a report states he was found near Ganges. This is what the correspondent says:

"A stray monkey with a chain attached has been traveling through the community this week. Monday night it was chased up a tree near Milton Weed's place. A number of persons gathered there, thinking they might get it, but it was too wise, and escaped. Later it was captured by Mr. Clays of What-Not Inn, corner M-89 and US-31.

A stray monkey with a chain on it was entering chicken coops along the lake shore until residents complained to Deputy Sheriff E. Johnson of Ganges, who located and shot it in the top of a tall pine tree on the Weed farm Tuesday morning. It is thought it belonged to and broke loose from some of the resorters or it may have traveled some distance to reach here. As it fell after being shot the chain caught in the tree and Mr. Johnson returned in the evening after his day's work on US-31 was done, to remove it from the tree.

BREEN'S MEN GO TO GRAND RAPIDS SATURDAY HOPE HAS NO GAME

Coach Jerry Breen's Holland High school team will attempt to make it two out of three over Grand Rapids football this week on Saturday when the Maroons face South at Grand Rapids. Holland, after a disappointing showing against Tech. hopes to give South a great battle as the team did last fall.

Breen may make changes in the backfield for the Saturday game. Harry Irvin, star sophomore, is bothered with a leg injury and may be replaced by Mickey DeRidder or McClure, Don Slighter may get the called over Gross at Quarterback.

Several hundreds of local fans will accompany the team to Grand Rapids. Hope college has an open date and the followers of both teams will attend the Holland-South battle.

Spring Lake Will Vote on Change To Become City

COUNCIL ACTS FAVORABLY ON PETITION; SETS ELECTION IN FEBRUARY

Spring Lake, a village since 1869, may step into the higher classification of a city, providing the voters of the village decide the matter, which will be placed before them at a special election to be held the first Monday in February.

The matter has been agitated for some time, and came to a head when a petition asking that the question be submitted to the people, was presented to the village council this week. The council unanimously passed a resolution authorizing the special election.

The advantages of incorporation as a city instead of a village, declare some of the leaders, is primarily to rid the village tax payers from the township road tax. The present rate is between $2.00 and $2.50 per $1000 valuation.

D. M. Cline, supervisor and assessor of the township believes there would be no advantage in the move, in fact he states the village taxpayers would be at a disadvantage. The township road tax he says is cut in two by the refund made to the village each year. He points to the fact that the county is annually taking over more of the township roads and believes it will be but a short time until the county absorbs all. In that case Spring Lake would have to support its own streets entirely.

He points to the fact that present cemetery rates would be increased as being non-residents of the village, the citizens would be obliged to pay non-resident rates. The library, located in the village, would no longer be a part of that community and would not receive township funds.

Spring Lake township, located as it is, would be split apart with the center of power at Ferrysburg, and the present unity, within the township, might be greatly disturbed, he stated.

The village was incorporated in 1869. The first president was H. A. Hopkins, the trustees were Allan C. Adzitt, John H. Newcomb and Martin Visser; recorder, H. W. Cleveland; street commissioner Stephen Wooley; marshal, Frank Lilley; and treasurer, O. L. Perham.

Should the matter pass the village would become a city of the fifth class.

THERMOMETER HITS 72 FOR WARMEST NOV. 8 EVER RECORDED HERE

Cloudless and mild Sunday was the warmest Nov. 8 ever recorded in Holland vicinity.

The maximum temperature of 72, recorded at the Ottawa County weather bureau at 3:30 p.m., was four points higher than the previous record established in 1915 and only two points under the maximum temperature record of 74 in November, established last year. Topcoats were abandoned by those who availed themselves of the mildness of the weather for walks. Highways were thronged with motor cars.

GRAND HAVEN MANUFACTURER FIGURES IN A STRANGE AUTO ACCIDENT

A. E. Jacobson, Grand Haven manufacturer, narrowly missed serious injury a few days ago when it is believed the brakes of his car locked and he was thrown out of the car against a tree. He suffered a fractured collar bone and severe head lacerations and body bruises. He was picked up by a passing motorist and brought to Hattin hospital where he will be confined for a time. Mr. Jacobson was traveling on a new gravel road leading to M-50 when he put on the brakes to make the turn to M-50. He believes the brakes locked for the car spun on the pavement and swerved to the side where it hit a tree and Mr. Jacobson was thrown out through the door. He was alone and was forced to lie there for nearly two hours before he could attract help. The car was damaged considerably. Louis Van Drezer of Grand Haven brought him to Hattin hospital.

LARGE FORCE OF MEN DOING ROAD WORK IN ALLEGAN COUNTY

A. R. Morris, superintendent of state highways in Allegan county, reports that he is working men in three-day shifts on road improvement projects.

He has 180 men working the first three days of the week on M-40, M-89 south of Pennville and on M-118 between Allegan and Martin. The same number of men works the last three days of the week. Twenty-seven men are employed on US181 between Wayland and Moline and this number is to be increased. Monday morning a force of 20 to 30 men began work on the seven-mile stretch between Glenn and South Haven and it is expected the number will be increased to 60 by the middle of the week. It is reported the men employed on state projects are doing very good work.

NIECE OF ALLEGAN WOMAN INHERITS FORTUNE OF MILLIONS

Her cousin, Attorney Gerald Dykstra of Cleveland, left immediately to make investigations. While it is not known how much Mrs. Kern will inherit it is understood the fortune is upwards of $6 million dollars, coming from the estate of her maternal great-grandparents.

Dr. Charles E. Barker of Grand Rapids, former physician to President Taft, spoke Thursday at a meeting of the Holland Rotary club in Wayne Friend Tavern. He discussed "The Road to Happiness." Dr. Barker addressed the student body of the Holland high school and also the students of the Junior high school earlier in the day.

At a convention of the Rotary clubs in 1919 Dr. Barker attracted such wide attention by his address on "A Father's Responsibility to His Son" that he has been spending virtually all his time to that type of work. Previous to this he was engaged in lecturing to the general public on health and other subjects of general importance.

NEW STATE LAW PERMITS OWNERSHIP OF HUNTING FERRETS

Have you a ferret on your farm? If you haven't you may have, according to Harry Plotts, conservation officer, who adds this provision. You must have a license from the state conservation department. Muskrat trappers must tag their traps with metal tags, Plotts says. Other tags are unreadable after a rain and the state law provides a metal tag must be used.

Miss Susie Van Otterloo, 24 W. 17th St., Holland, visited the Moody Bible Institute while recently in Chicago.

MISS NELLIE CHURCH-FORD MAKES STRONG APPEAL FOR AID

Miss Nellie Churchford, of the City Mission today appealed for used or new clothing and shoes to be distributed among needy persons in Holland.

With the approach of winter and cold weather increased demands for wearing apparel have arisen, it was said.

Residents, who have articles to donate, are asked either to take them to Miss Churchford's residence or the mission or call 3263. Miss Churchford said she will be glad to send for the clothing.

The mission is open Thursday afternoons from 1 until 3 o'clock for the receipt of the apparel.

Less Hunting Licenses Sold

On Nov. 1 approximately 230,000 small game licenses had been sold in the state of Michigan. These figures have been obtained from a check-up of the agencies handling licenses and seem to indicate there will be fewer licenses sold this year than last. Last year approximately 232,000 small game permits were issued.

Just what part of this decrease is due to the 50-cent increase in price or the general economic distress current in the state is of course problematical.

Conservation officials, when the new budget was figured, estimated there would be a decrease in the number of licenses purchased of approximately 25 per cent and made the necessary allowance when figuring expenses against possible incomes.

The one thing the department does not know is how the figure of 230,000 on Nov. 1 would check against the sales on the same date last year. This is the first year the department has ever conducted a check of license sales on certain dates.

TURKEY TO BE CHEAPER THIS THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving turkeys will be cheaper and more plentiful this year than last year, says a dispatch from Washington.

The department of agriculture, in a special report prepared today for the United Press after the first turkeys moved to market, said that, while the demand was still uncertain, the trade expected turkeys to be 4 to 5 cents below the 1930 prices. Unless prices are low the public may buy chickens and ducks, the latter being especially low priced.

DISATISFIED WITH COLLEGE SPRAYING METHODS

Never before, since spraying of fruit has been the practice around Fennville and the "fruit belt," a fruit farmer contends, has so large a percentage of winter apples been marketed as "ciders" as the present season. If our college men are unable to work out a more effective protection from the codling moth ravages, some of the "dirt farmers" will have to get busy. Scraping of the loose bark and banding with killing materials must be more generally practiced and the college spray calendar had better be filed in a museum of has-beens.

Some of the fruit growers at Fennville are troubled with threats of prosecution for having sold unwashed apples to a trucker who tried to take them out of the state. He turned back but was followed by inspectors who secured the names of those who sold to him. Ralph Knowlton and Mr. Dolbee were summoned to appear in Chicago and answer in person or by attorney to the horrible crime of selling fruit that had not been washed. Whether "super acids" should have been used was not stated. This federal ruling, under the food and drug act, is getting our apple-growers into a state of unrest that calls for action along sensible lines.

CATTLE FEEDING SHOWN IN OTTAWA COUNTY

Dairy feeding schools will be held Nov. 18th in Ottawa County with James Hays from the State College and Agricultural Agents Milham, as speaker. Schools will be held at the Jamestown Y. M. C. A. Hall and lowering costs of ration, pasture crops and breeding will be the subjects covered at the meeting. The schools held in the past have been drawing a good attendance. At the previous Blenden meeting one farmer learned that he could lower the cost of his ration by $8.75 a ton and obtain better results.

TITLE TO DOZEN MUSKOGON COUNTRY FARMS IS CLEARED

Title to a dozen ceded farms in the Muskogon oil field was cleared Monday by an opinion handed down by Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles of Ottawa county. The suit, brought by Jacob Koning against the heirs and assigns of the defunct Cohasset Lumber Co., involved a conveyance made in 1899 covering what was then thought to be worthless swamp lands. In 1920 several ceded farms were established and discovery of oil later enhanced their value.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

The following arrests were made in Holland Saturday and Sunday for traffic violations: August Johnson, Chicago, speeding charge, fined $5; Theodore Dekker, Ray Van Houten, John Overway, B. O. Bouwman, Lester Johnson, Mart Ten Brink and William Van Eessel, charged with running through red lights, and Joe Risselada and Henry Bergman charged with turning right on red light without coming to a full stop.

Miss Katherine Zierline, teacher of English, is coaching a cast for the presentation of "Daddy Long Legs" Nov. 20 and 21 at the Congregational Hall.

Dynamiter Case Comes Up at This Term of Court

NOT MANY CRIMINAL MATTERS BEFORE JUDGE MILES THIS TERM

Several Holland Chancery Cases. Sentences for Arie Vos and Harold Sturm of this City.

The lightest criminal calendar in some time is slated for the coming term of circuit court, to open next week Monday. But three cases are listed for trial on the criminal calendar.

Holland folks and firms figure in a number of chancery cases and there are also two young men awaiting sentence before Judge Miles.

Grand Haven names figure prominently on the 19 cases on the civil jury list. Trial of the suit brought by Walter Malstrom against Joe Sickman, city constable in which Malstrom charges Sickman with false arrest, is to be tried this term. Marvin Huizenga, Grand Haven high school football player and son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huizenga, is defendant in three cases brought by Mrs. Gertrude Gieglio of Grand Rapids. Her husband was fatally injured, it is claimed, as a result of a motor accident on U.S. 16 some months ago when Huizenga was driving the other car.

The most interesting case is that of Nat Brown charged with arson, following the alleged bombing of a cottage belonging to Nicholas DeWitt of Grand Haven. Brown admitted in a written confession that he had destroyed the cottage with a heavy charge of dynamite, placing it in the chimney, and pleaded guilty in justice court. When arraigned in circuit court he changed his plea to not guilty.

Upon petition of a sister his case was turned over to Judge James J. Danhof in probate court on the plea of insanity. He has been under observation since and is at present at the county jail where he is held under bonds of $10,000. Nat Brown is 64 years old, and former Grand Haven photographer and inventor.

In his confession he stated that he was not satisfied with the real estate deal in which he and DeWitt had entered, DeWitt having acquired the cottage at a resort near Grand Haven, so he bombed the place.

Albert D. Walker of Waukegan and Cincinnati, O., will be tried for negligent homicide.

Other cases are Joe Maglio for liquor violation and Matt Hahn, Arie Vos and Harold Sturm will appear for sentence.

OLD TIME FURNITURE DEALER OF MUSKOGON PASSES

Nicholas G. Vander Linde, aged 78, early Muskegon resident and furniture merchant, died in Hackley hospital Tuesday after an illness of several months. He was born in the Netherlands, October 13, 1858, and was founder and president of the N. G. Vander Linde, Inc., furniture business at Clay Avenue and Pine street.

He had served two years as county coroner and two years as the representative of his ward under the old council form of government. He was an active member of Central Reformed church. Vander Linde was well known in Holland.

ALLEGAN TAXES 12 CENTS PER $1,000 HIGHER

This year's tax rate for Allegan county has been fixed at $26.84 per thousand dollars of valuation, only twelve cents more per thousand than last year. —Allegan Gazette.

And we thought Allegan county wouldn't have to pay any taxes after that terrible tax expose and expense paring as set forth in the Allegan county newspapers.

THEODORE SCHAAP SPEAKS AT C. E. MEETING IN GRAND RAPIDS

Break Down a 20-6 Lead in Last Quarter

Last Saturday Hope bowed to the Kalamazoo Hornets, 19-20, in another M.I.A.A. thriller. And while Hope was on the short end of the score, we may well feel proud of the boys for their brilliant comeback and rest assured that Jap- inga's flying feet will be the chief characters in Coach Barnard's nightmares for weeks to come. From the opening kickoff, Jap- inga was easily the outstanding star on the field, for it was on this play that he made his 90 yard return for the first touchdown. Unfortunately, the kick from placement was wide. Hope's lead was short lived. Kazoo elected to receive but could do nothing through the Hope line. Thomas punted to the Hope 15 yard stripe and on the following play, the Hornets recovered a fumble on the 18. A series of line bucks by Deehr and Nefert put the ball on the 2 yard line, from where Deehr plunged over. Nefert went through center for the extra point. This concluded the scoring for the first half, but immediately after the intermission Kazoo started a vicious line smashing attack that would not be denied a touchdown. After a straight march in which they made four straight first downs, Warner crashed through for another 6 points and Thomas promptly kicked goal. Score 14-6, Kazoo.

On the next kickoff, Dalman fumbled on the 20 and Kalamazoo recovered. At this point the Hope line began to fight but not quite in time to avert the last Kazoo touchdown.

Nefert was stopped at the line in an attempt for the extra point. Sensing the approach of the fourth quarter, the Dutchmen began their customary last period drive for touchdowns. The first drive was only stopped when Kazoo recovered a fumble after Hope had marched 50 yards to within scoring distance. An exchange of punts gave Hope the ball in mid-field. From here Louis tossed a 35 yard pass to Dalman who sprinted the remaining distance to the goal. A pass for the extra point was incomplete.

A little later Hope took the ball again in midfield. Japinga collected 25 yards on three tries at the line and then tossed another long pass to Dalman for the last touchdown. Dalman carried the ball across for the extra point.

In a last desperate attempt, Jap- inga and Dalman alternating picked up 70 yards. But this effort was finally stopped when a pass fell incomplete into the end zone.

MAYOR BROOKS GIVES ARMISTICE ADDRESS

The first hour this morning was given over to the College observance of Armistice Day. The devotional service was of a patriotic nature, and special music was enjoyed. Mayor Earnest C. Brooks, of Holland, addressed the group in his inimitable manner. School closes this noon for the rest of the day.

On Wednesday evening, from five to six o'clock, the pupils of Miss Meyer gave a private piano recital upon the stage of the Chapel. The numbers on the program progressed from the Classic on through the Romantic and Modern Periods. 1. Gigue-Graun (1701-1759)—Gertrude Holleman. 2. Chaconne (Variations)—Handel, Jean Bosman. 3. Prelude—B-flat minor—Bach. Prelude from the English Suite in G-minor—Bach—Ethel Leestma. 4. C Minor Sonata (1st movement)—Beethoven. Waltz—Chopin, Vivian Veldman. 5. Mazurka in D—Chopin—John Pott. 6. Waltz—Chopin—Genevieve Wright. 7. Romance—Sibelius, Eula Champlon. 8. Rhapsody (Am-in.)—Brahms—Zella Skillern. The pupils have found these recitals both interesting and helpful so similar programs will probably be held in the future.

Kriesler Concert Will Attract Many Admirers from Hope

The second of the Philharmonic Concerts on Wednesday evening, Nov. 11, promises to be a real treat in that it brings us Fritz Kriesler, the world-famous violinist. No violinist of our time has equalled Kriesler in his hold upon the public. During his years in the United States he has played in every part of the country and season after season, whatever the place or the occasion, his audiences have filled hall or theatre to the doors. These eager and returning listeners have included great musicians quick to recognize a master in their art; the public that knows when it is pleased and time after time returns for its pleasure; and, finally, those with or without an ear for music who feel in Mr. Kriesler the sway of a potent personality. About seventy-five of the Hope students have already procured tickets for the concert at the Armory. Appreciation of good music is an asset to any college, and it is encouraging to see that such a large number of our students should grasp the opportunity of hearing this great musician.

FRESHMAN TRIAL WILL TAKE PLACE NOV. 23

The annual Freshman trial, at which all offenders will come face to face with justice, will take place on Monday night, November 23, in Carnegie Hall. This is just before Thanksgiving when Freshman rules go out of effect. The Student Council is in charge, and more complete plans will be published next week. A definite improvement over former trials will be attempted in this year's court. It will be humorous but not ridiculous, and at the same time will promote a serious attitude towards crime.

Last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock the final cross-country run of the year was held when the college runners strutted their stuff over the arduous course in the south-eastern part of the city. Eight men started and eight men finished. Joe Esther, a freshman, won the race in creditable fashion. His time was 22:30 for the four and seven tenths miles. The last seven men finished in the following order: Cuperly, Zegarius, Scapper, Mc Gilar, Kowals, D. Cuperly and Meyer. Four varsity men did not run. These were Decker, Veldman, Ellerbroek and Scholten. Thus ends another cross-country season. The teams best accomplishment was the winning of second place in the M. I. A. A. meet. Several of the best runners of this year will be back again next fall, so a crack team may be expected next year.

W. S. T. C. Frosh Trample Hope Yearlings

Our cocky Frosh outfit went down to Kalamazoo Saturday and maintained their record of not having scored a point all season when they watched the Western Yearlings collect 7 touchdowns and five extra points.

The game was scarcely 3 minutes old before Barber, Kazoo full-back, had taken the ball across for the first touchdown on 4 successive line bucks. From then on you would call it a track meet.

At only one time did they threaten and then two 15 yard penalties ruined their chances after they had advanced the pigskin to the 3 yard line on several successful passes in a very surprising display of good football.

PRAYER WEEK PROGRAM IS SATISFACTORY

The annual week of prayer under the auspices of the Association Union and the Religious Conference of Hope College came to a close last Friday. The guest speaker was Rev. John A. Dykstra, D.D., Pastor of the Central Reformed church of Grand Rapids. The general theme for the week was "For to me to live is Christ."

The first meeting was a vesper service held on Sunday at four o'clock. Dr. Dykstra spoke on "Saints at Home." Devotions were read by Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp, the College Pastor, and music was furnished by the chapel choir.

Monday morning at eleven o'clock Rev. Dykstra addressed the student body on "Life At Its Best." Devotions were read by Rev. Paul McLean. Miss Cornelia Stryker, accompanied by Miss Marzaret Stryker, played a violin solo, entitled "This Is My Task." The main thought of the talk was that personality and the spiritual are of more importance in life than place and substance. Three things, he said, are necessary in the lives of Christians; elevation, extension and experience.

The third prayer week sermon was delivered Tuesday on "The Master Mind." Rev. Walter Van Saun led devotions. The music was furnished by Jeanette Herman and Harry Friesema who sang a duet entitled "Love Divine" by John Stainer. Rev. Dykstra emphasized the reasonableness and necessity of faith in daily life, and the promiment place it holds in religion.

In the evening the students met in small prayer groups at the various society houses with faculty members and cabinet members of the "Y" organizations to discuss religious problems.

On Wednesday morning the meeting was opened by Rev. Egbert Winter who read from the second chapter of Paul's letter to the Philippians. Two musical selections entitled "Praise the Name of the Lord," sung by the chapel choir and "Spirit of God" sung by Howard Schade, were given. Prof. Snow accompanied the latter on the organ. Rev. Dykstra, who spoke on "The Letter Carrier," said that Christians should be noble friends, fellow soldiers, and faithful messengers, just as Epaphroditus was, the messenger of Paul. Students met in larger groups in the evening for discussion.

On Thursday morning Dr. Dykstra spoke on "A Good Sport," stressing the fact that there should be pull in a Christian's heart toward God and that Christianity was like a race run with a purpose. Mil-dud Schuppert, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Carl Walvoord, president of the Y. M. C. A., had charge of the devotions. Hazel Paalman furnished the music by singing a vocal solo entitled "There Is A Green Hill Far Away," by Gounod, accompanied by Ethel Leestma. In the evening an open forum discussion was held with Dr. Dykstra. Religious questions were discussed, the vice-presidents of the "Y" organizations, Lois Marsilje and Roger Voskuil, were in charge of the meeting.

Rev. Dykstra delivered the last of his prayer week sermons on Friday morning, on "Interior Decorating." Thought was the center of Dr. Dykstra's farewell sermon. We must control our thoughts, which is a difficult task, he said. A quartet composed of Jeanette Herman, Hazel Paalman, Harry Friesema, and Carlyle Neckers, sang "Recession-al" by Kipling. They were accompanied by Annetta McGilvra.

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN
HIGH IN STATE
DEBATE LEAGUE

As a new member in the Michigan High School Debating League the Holland Christian High school will compete for the state championship, according to J. H. McBurney, director of university debating at the University of Michigan and manager of the league.

The local team, coached by Gerit Schipper, will open its season Friday, November 13. The subject for debate is, "Resolved, That the State of Michigan Should Enact Legislation providing for a system of compulsory unemployment insurance." Three other state-wide debates on December 4, January 8, and January 22 will constitute the four preliminary debates in which all schools will take part in order to compete for entrance in the elimination debates to be held February 19.

The schools with the highest percentage of victories will enter the elimination series, in which the schools will debate among themselves until only two undefeated schools remain. These two teams will be taken to Ann Arbor for the state championship debate April 29.

RABBITS WOULD BECOME DANGEROUS

But for the hunters in the lower peninsula and foxes, wolves, etc., in the upper, rabbits would increase so much as to become a serious pest through their habit of gnawing fruit trees and shrubbery. They are so numerous in some parts of the state, despite the extensive killing of them, that large hunting parties are organized to clear the country of them. The rabbit population does not decrease for all the efforts at exterminating them. Time was when the dead ones were purchased for shipment to cities for food but this was an incentive to more killing of them and so exportation was stopped.

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Sixth Reformed Church met Sunday afternoon in the church parlors. About 35 were present. Miss Frances Van Voorst, superintendent, and Miss Henrietta Terpstra, assistant superintendent, had charge of the devotion after which officers were elected for a half year. Those elected were Robert Steggers, named president; Bernard Van Voorst, vice president; Vera Vanderbeek, secretary and Lois Brandt, treasurer. Following the election the members who are to serve on the three major committees, which are the prayer meeting, the missionary and the lookout committees. Muriel Modders and Lois Brandt favored with a duet, accompanied by Ethel Brandt.

The Ambassador Trio of Grand Rapids will present a sacred concert in the Fourth Reformed church tonight, Friday at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. H. Van Dyke, pastor of the church, will have charge of the devotion. A silver offering will be taken, the proceeds of which will be used for the Arabian hospital bed. This program is being sponsored by the Missionary Committee of the Christian Endeavor society of that church of which Henry Koe-man is chairman.

Donald Holkeboer, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holkeboer, 63 East Twenty-First St., was injured last week when he was run down by a car driven by Jacob Stroop, Holland Route 1. Mr. Stroop was driving west on Sixth street and was crossing through a green light when the accident occurred. The boy was considerably bruised about the head and back. Mr. Stroop took the boy to Holland Hospital where he was treated for his injuries.

Six hundred dollars worth of repair to be done on the Army were commenced Monday. The roof is being painted a bright red. New wiring also will be included. This gives added work for a few men.

Charles DeBoer, John Van Wieren, Jacob DeFeyt, and Fred Kamper have left on a hunting trip to northern peninsula.

NORTH HOLLAND

James Vander Ven, principal of our school entertained the pupils of his room with a party given at his home in Holland on Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing games and a delicious luncheon was served. There were twenty-eight girls and boys present.

The drought of the last two years has sure been broken during the last two months. We have water aplenty now.

The farmers who have wheat to sell are in clover.

Rev. H. Schipper of First Ref. church of Grand Haven preached at both services at North Holland Sunday. Rev. Maassen had charge of the services at First Church.

A meeting of the North Holland Parents-Teachers' Association will be held on Friday evening, November 13, in the school house. A good program has been prepared and a pleasant and profitable evening is assured to all who attend.

Miss Hilda Bosman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bosman passed away at her home on Thursday evening, Nov. 8, after an illness of several weeks. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon, at the home and at the North Holland church.
