Remember The Red Cross; Stand Up, Be Counted

THE ROLL CALL FOR SPLEN-DID ORGANIZATION STARTED YESTERDAY

American Legion Auxiliary Is Taking Charge This Year

When you say "Red Cross" or vision the sweet lady of Mercy as pictured on the posters, a kindly feeling steals into your heart. It is spontaneous, there is no doubt—the reason is that the American Red Cross stands out head and shoulders above any other organization of that type where human needs and human suffering are instantly taken care of and alleviated.

The Armistice Day yesterday reminds all of us what these nurses of mercy have done during the most terrible conflict of all time. The soft touch of a woman's hand allayed the suffering of the wounded and the personality of the Red Cross lady comforted the dying soldier, and this work was going on right under the guns of friend and foe where death constantly stalked. The Red Cross is not a war organization but an organization that extends a helping hand in peace times, during floods and pestilence, during drought and fire; no matter through what vicissitudes suffering may come—the Red Cross is there first. There are so many examples of the efficiency of this organization, their readiness to aid, the ability shown in bringing relief in the shortest possible period of time, that it is well established in the hearts and minds of the people, namely that the Red Cross is a peer in alleviating the suffering of mankind. They do not ask the reason why, they go without hesitation and even death itself does not slacken their efforts.

Well, the American Legion Auxiliary is in charge of the drive in Holland and vicinity. The roll call is now on. Holland never fails to "go over" on anything, leastwise the Red Cross. Those taking charge of this annual roll call are busy folks—help them by going to them rather than having them come to you. It is not their problem, it is problem of all of us and joining the Red Cross should be no problem at all.

The roll will be called in every part of Ottawa County starting today. The captains of the different teams having to do with Holland and vicinity met in the Red Cross rooms in the City Hall and Richard Swigart, Red Cross field representative, was present and helped organize the workers under the different captains. He will remain for a week in order to get the drive well under way. The drive will continue through Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. John Roseboom, president of the auxiliary, is serving as general chairman of the drive, aided by Mrs. Mabel Vanden Berg, executive secretary of the Red Cross chapter of the southern half of Ottawa county. A goal of 1,800 has been set for Holland, with county goal of 3,500.

The house-to-house campaign in the city will be directed by five captains, Mrs. Anthony Dogger, Mrs. Martin Janning, Mrs. Chester Ver Meulen, Mrs. Franklin Van Ry, and Mrs. Henry Popp.

Workers who will aid in this phase of the drive are: Mrs. Anna Popp, Mrs. Duncan Weaver, Mrs. Walter Mitchell, Mrs. Ledyard Lindsay, Mrs. Jacob Barndse, Mrs. Burr Clark, Mrs. A. E. Van Lente, Mrs. Peter Michale, Mrs. Bernard Kammeraad, Mrs. John Kobes, Mrs. Henry Ter Haar, Mrs. Martin Kammeraad, Mrs. Henry Popp, Mrs. Harry Kramer, Mrs. Earnest Bedell, Mrs. M. G. Manting, Mrs. George Manting, Mrs. John Post, Mrs. Edward Vande Woude, Mrs. Esther Frundt, Mrs. Benjamin Rutgers, Mrs. Martin De Lin, Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, Mrs. William Westrate, Mrs. Marinus DeFouw.

Mrs. Jacob Bultman, Mrs. Raymond Smith, Mrs. Benjamin James, Mrs. Theodore Bos, Mrs. Gerrit Lokker, Mrs. Bert Ter Haar, Mrs. Louis Padnos, Mrs. Bert Jacobs, Mrs. Andrew Rutgers, Mrs. Bert Slaght, Mrs. Henry Topp, Mrs. Harold Vande Bunte, Mrs. Henry Welter, Mrs. Fred Meppink.

PRESIDENT PRAISES WORK OF RED CROSS

Declaring that the emblem of the American Red Cross symbolizes good will, neighborliness and brotherhood throughout the land, President Roosevelt urged a prompt and generous response to the annual membership roll call of the organization. President Roosevelt lauded the work done by the Red Cross this year after the destruction wrought by floods and tornadoes.

LEGION BANQUET NOTES

First Vice-Commander Sooter wants more banquets—then he'll be assured of more hot dinners.

The Sergeant-at-Arms demanded more liquid refreshments.

Friday afternoon, between 1:00 and 3:30, the entire Legion of the state will distribute 8,000 flags to country schools in the state. The Holland Post will take care of 31 schools.

Mr. Hibbard presented a few statistics: there were 6,000 inhabitants at the Olympic village; 115,000 people in the stadium each day; 51 nations represented; 500 athletes from the United States; the Olympic torch to light the fire at the Olympics was carried by 3,000 athletes 3,000 miles—from Greece to Berlin.

Mr. Hibbard also noted that, in Germany, the ball is known as the "sphere" and the bat is termed the "flail."

Mrs. George Van Duren, the sweet old lady who has played an important part in so many benevolent causes and who was at one time head of the Red Cross here, who is the pride of Civil War, Spanish War and World War veterans, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers at the American Legion banquet. Mrs. George Van Duren is dearly loved by all, and in her acceptance of the bouquet she was visibly affected, but notwithstanding, received the well wishes of everyone present. In February she will have reached her 85th milestone in life and is still active. Our citizenry, as well as the soldiers, share in that love for Katherine.

HAMILTON BURNS LAST NOTE ON COMMUNITY HALL

About 200 men attended the get-together at the Community Hall last Wednesday evening, Armistice Day. The occasion was the final payment on the beautiful auditorium and community grounds with the meeting in the nature of a celebration. Ben Koiker presided. Rev. J. A. Roggen offered prayer. John Brink, Jr. and Henry H. Nyenhuis, presidents of the welfare association related the experiences and the aims of the organization. The treasurers, Ray Maatman and H. D. Strabbing reported concerning the financing of the proposition and superintended the burning of the notes and papers.

Rev. I. Scherpenisse spoke on "My Experiences in the Army in France." Music was furnished by Harold and James Lugten. The men then enjoyed a social hour until the tables were set and a splendid lunch was served. It was decided to make the get-together an annual affair to be held after the Labor Day celebration and all the members of the various committees be invited. It was a splendid meeting and a fitting climax. About 10 years ago the plans were made to secure community grounds and erect a community hall. The various organizations of the community responded so that at present we have a 20-acre plot with ballgrounds, grove, and buildings valued at about $20,000.00 free of all debt. The auditorium was erected 5 years ago and both grounds

Legion Banquet At Tavern Proves Delightful Fete

SOLEMNITY MINGLES WITH PROGRAM OF LIGHTER VEIN OLD LEGION OFFICERS STEP ASIDE FOR NEW

Men Of Note In Field Of Sport Are The Highlights On The Speaking Program. Music Excellent

On Wednesday evening, November 11, at 6 o'clock, the main dining room of the Warm Friend Tavern was the scene of the eighteenth annual Armistice Day Banquet, sponsored by the Willard G. Leenhouts Post No. 6 American Legion. Approximately 175 legionnaires and members of the auxiliary and guests were assembled in the candle dining hall, when the program opened, under the chairmanship of Dr. Gabriel D. Bos, retiring commander of the Post.

The program opened with the clarion sound of the bugle call. The audience then participated in the flag salute and all in all these features were indeed impressive. Thirty seconds were next devoted in silence by the standing audience to the memory and in honor of departed comrades. While the audience remained standing, taps were sounded by bugler John Perkosi, just preceding the banquet. Chaplain Harry Kramer pronounced the invocation.

Dinner was an elaborate affair, the menu consisting of tomato bouillon, chautilly, assorted relishes, hearts of celery, tenderloin steak, french fried potatoes, buttered whole green beans, pear and date salad, apple pie a la mode, rolls, and coffee. Throughout the meal, the group was entertained by excellent musical offerings of John Perkosi's orchestra.

"Carole, You Hear Me Call, Caroline?" "Gonna Shout All Over God's Heaven", and "I Dunno", were selections offered by the Manhattan Quartet, one of Holland's "crack" musical organizations, composed of Jerry Houting, first tenor; Kelly Trap, second tenor; Jack Bos, baritone, and Rein Visser, bass. Mrs. Kelly Trap was the able accompanist.

After a session of group singing in charge of "live-wire" Jerry Houting, books for which were lent by the Exchange Club, Mrs. John Roseboom, American Legion auxiliary officers. She also presented floral tokens to Gold Star Mothers and a bouquet to Mrs. George Van Duren, Holland's wonderful lady whom the News calls "The pride of the regiment."

Mrs. Roseboom announced that the auxiliary now boasted 119 members, 52 of whom volunteered for Red Cross roll call. The district meeting at Battle Creek on Nov. 18 was also announced. Report on Red Cross work was then given by Richard Swagert, National Field Representative of Western Michigan of the Red Cross. He announced as the motto for the year: "This is the People's Red Cross."

"Bride of the Waves" by Clark featured John Perkosi, cornetist, ably accompanied by Girard Hanchett on the piano. The offering was well received. Commander Chester Van Tongeren expressed his optimism for a grand year for the Legion, and presented Legion members who retired, as well as the newly elected officers.

Commander Dr. Gabriel Bos, who retires, was in charge of the program and fittingly introduced the different speakers, the first being Judge Hyames. Judge Hyames, athletic director at Western State Teachers' college, gave the main address of the evening. He stressed the obligation of parents to their children. He stated, in part: "We should instill in boys and girls the desire to use their lives in the service of others. The team is the big thing; there must be a common interest, and each must do his part. Parents must go back to the realization that they are creators. There is nothing so worth while, nothing so stable equipment and the building was remodeled accordingly. That is a story in itself and we may dwell on this feature at a future time. Then came the motor-drawn trucks, the first being installed at that station. The writer was a member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners at that time and it was a bitter battle as to which type of truck to buy. Mr. Henry Brusse, former mayor, and the writer brought in a minority report insisting that a truck be purchased from a "fire truck making" firm and not a makeshift. That is the common council, as well as Chief Blom, backed this minority report and the first American La France truck was purchased. Our department today is made up of this type of truck. Past performances covering a period of almost 20 years, backed by a fine group of fire fighters, is the best proof as to whether this judgment was well founded. A very important change was recently made in that building when a large addition was built to the east which now houses our police department and a municipal court room. It was an excellent plan to correlate these two departments, one to protect life and property from fire and the other to protect the city against crime and criminals.

The final speaker for the evening was Ronald Hibbard, the only Michigan boy on the Olympic baseball team. He played center field, and comes from Western State Teachers' college. His address took the form of a summary of his adventures at the Olympics where he saw such men as Cunningham and Jessie Owens, the colored boy, in action. He stressed the fact that, in the 1940 Olympics, 22 countries were expected to have baseball teams in an international league. An informal period of games followed, prizes being awarded for winners in all events. Cigars and cigarettes for the occasion were donations from the Bos Tobacco and Candy Co. The mellow glow of the combination blue and white lights blended well with the atmospheric decorations of the occasion. The table decorations were colorful and of a patriotic nature. It can easily be said that the Armistice Banquet by the Willard G. Leenhouts post at Warm Friend Tavern was a gratifying success to which the members of the order and their auxiliary contributed largely.

The Alethea Sunday school class of Trinity Reformed church will hold its annual business meeting and pot-luck supper at 6 o'clock, Friday evening.

and hall have proven to be of great benefit to the community at large, being used for town, school and church purposes. The men are now planning to obtain equipment and make improvements so that Hamilton will have one of the most complete community grounds in Michigan.

That Two-Wheeled Horse Cart We Tell About

In our feature, fifty years ago, we mention the building of the Engine house No. 1, where Police Headquarters is now also located, and we tell of our early equipment at our fire stations. Here is that two-wheeled horse cart spoken of, the best of the two in the city, a half century ago, drawn by man power or occasionally a draft horse. Often the horse would go askew and whirl around like the front wheels of a kiddy cart.

On this occasion the horse cart was in its "Sunday best" with a fine team of horses belonging to "Allie" Baker, the prominent figure in the driver's seat. Holland didn't have those horses regularly but this was an unusual occasion, taken just before the big parade during our Semi-Centennial during the summer of 1897. The flags and bunting are the decorations for the parade.

The man perched high up is the late George Van Landegent, son of Holland's seventh mayor. The man in the back with the mustache is our old faithful Chief of the Fire Department, Cornelius Blom, who has been in the department for 52 years, has been the Chief for 28 years and assistant Chief before that time. When shown this picture Mr. Blom was delighted and noted the changes since these horse cart days followed by horse-drawn equipment and now the efficient motorized pumpers and ladder equipment. He stated that besides able men and fine equipment, all precautions were taken through building regulations to safeguard the city from fire. It may be interesting to know that the roofs of all buildings are practically fireproof, with the exception of 5% over the entire city. No new roof is permitted unless asphalt for fireproof shingles are used and he expects that within two years the more safe roofs will cover Holland 100%.

The boat houses and boats belonging to Alfred Baxter, Charles B. Judd and A. Smith of Grand Rapids were burned at Ottawa beach. The loss is $5,000. A naphtha launch, two other launches, two rowboats and a sailboat were also burned.

The Liberty Pole standing on the elevation in the center of Centennial Park blew down during a heavy wind. It has served now for 10 years, carrying Holland's official flag on patriotic days and special occasions. The colors have often been placed there at half staff in deference to a departed state or national figure or a Holland citizen of note. The pole will be replaced.

Hubert Marsilje, father of Isaac Marsilje, Holland town clerk, passed away suddenly at the age of 76 years.

A party of hunters, "Allie" Van Raalte, "Baas" Keppel, Darius Gilmore and A. Van Duren shouldered guns and entered the wood nearby, returning with 33 squirrels and two partridge.

The postoffice at Jenisonville has been robbed of $95 in cash and $140 in stamps. It was located in L. and L. Jenison's general store, across from the big flour mill there. The safe crackers used a charge of nitroglycerine to open the safe door, piling blankets and books about the safe to deaden the sound. The burglars departed, leaving no clue. Note: The L. and L. Jenisons were two bachelor brothers who came to that vicinity during the lumbering days along Grand river. They founded a town, called it Jenisonville. Loomis, one of the brothers, purchased "Shady Side" on Black Lake and called it Jenison Park and it is still named after him. Both brothers remained unmarried. However, before their death they built a mausoleum which stands alone at the limits of Jenison. You pass it on the old Grand Rapids road; however, when M-50 was relocated this part of the highway was eliminated from the concrete. Anyway, the two Jenison bachelors have long since been laid to rest in that granite vault. The store in question is still across from the mill.

A fine new pipe organ has arrived at Zeeland to be installed in the Second Reformed Church. Part of the instrument was paid for by Andrew Carnegie, who not only aids in church organ giving but builds libraries throughout the nation. Note: It appears he gave more than that for Hope's "gym" came from the "Steel King's" lavish hand.

Henry Haverdink of East Saugatuck met with a strange accident. He was herding cows on horseback like the "cowboys" do when he slipped and fell to the ground, breaking his leg in two places.

Born — To Mr. and Mrs. Kryn Breen of Holland—a daughter, Mrs. Breen was formerly Miss Jessie Bouman of East Saugatuck.

The flag pole at the Central school on East 10th St. broke off suddenly during a heavy wind. Luckily the bell had just called in the several hundred pupils a few minutes before the crash came. The young folks generally play near or around the pole.

The steamer Arundel burned to the water's edge at the Crawford Transportation Co. dock at Saugatuck. The ship carried passengers and fruit to Chicago and had just been tied up for the winter. The loss is $35,000.

Joe Pino, proprietor of the Hotel Bristol, has leased the Atlas Hotel next door from the E. F. Sutton estate for five years.

The boat houses and boats belonging to Alfred Baxter, Charles B. Judd and A. Smith of Grand Rapids were burned at Ottawa beach. The loss is $5,000. A naphtha launch, two other launches, two rowboats and a sailboat were also burned.

TODAY IS FRIDAY THE 13TH

Today is the day set by all county agents including Ottawa and Allegan, with the association of many farmers in each county, to serve the rats a banquet. Much has been said in the News about this spread. Anyway, the rats are to receive a hearty meal but the after-math is another thing again. The rats will go to sleep and never wake up again. Friday the 13th is a good day for mankind and hard on the rats. "The better the day, the better the deed."

"Old Glory" To Wave Over All Ottawa

WILLARD G. LEENHOUTS POST TO TAKE CARE OF 31 SCHOOLS

North Ottawa and Zeeland Posts Will Take Care of Rest of Rural District

The Willard G. Leenhouts Post American Legion, Holland, is all set today (Friday) to have the "Stars and Stripes" unfurled over Ottawa county. Ten cars are all ready to be occupied by two Legionnaires each and today (Friday) from 1 o'clock to 4 o'clock these veterans will visit 31 rural schools in this vicinity and at each school, in the midst of pupils and teachers

FLAG CAPTAINS FROM LEGION POSTS

The following are the captains of Leenhouts Post. The flag brigade sent out by the American Legion are:—

Henry Geerds, Doctor Westrate, Louis Dalman, Jack Riemersma, Earnest Brooks, Al Van Lente, Charles Miller, Alfred Joldersma, Jake Bultman, John Post, Ray Smith, Ed Sooter, Chester Van Tongeren.

The flag bearers will present a flag to each school and with the presentation there will also be short flag exercises.

The whole affair, although the time at each school is limited, will be impressive nevertheless.

Zeeland American Post will also send out a brigade of standard bearers. Grand Haven will do its share and Coopersville will look after the northeast end of Ottawa county.

The county is so sub-divided that 126 rural schools will be visited altogether today (Friday).

What is going on in Ottawa county is also transpiring in Allegan, Kent, Muskegon, in fact every county in Michigan and every county is sub-divided much the same as is Ottawa county.

American Legion officials throughout Allegan county are making plans to distribute American flags to Allegan county's 204 rural schools today.

The flags, which are of silk and measure 3 x 5 feet, will be presented to the rural schools of Michigan and there are thousands of them.

In addition to the presentation of the flag, each school will also receive a copy of "The Flag Code," which describes in detail how to display the flag on various occasions, the methods of salute, the American's Creed, the respect due the flag, the history of the flag, and the words of the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

The citizenship program is being carried on in more than 6,000 Michigan schools, and 7,000 flags, made by WPA workers, will be presented. The ceremonies will also mark the closing of American Education Week, during which millions of school children throughout the nation will devote part of each day to learning more about the flag of our nation and the principles for which it stands.

This project was undertaken after the Legion advised WPA officials that many of the schools lacked flags and funds with which to buy them. An average of 116 Grand Rapids women were given work for about four months.

The schools of Ottawa county were officially notified by Mr. Gerrit G. Greenwood of Holland, county school commissioner, and suggestions for a program in connection with the presentation of the flag have been made. Most of the ceremonies will be held in the afternoon, although some of the schools will be visited in the forenoon, in order that all of them may be reached in one day.

In Allegan county Mr. Arthur A. Kaechele, county school commissioner, urged the teachers to plan a program to fit the presentation of the flag to the schools. Many of the schools are planning lessons on the history of the flag, its significance and the changes that have been made in it in history.

Mr. Kaechele urges that every school child learn the pledge of allegiance to the flag and gives this as the proper practice: Stand erect, facing the flag, right hand over the heart. At the phrase "the flag," the right hand is extended, palm upward, toward the flag, and this position is held until the pledge is finished, when the hand drops to the side. All join in repeating the pledge:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands—one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

A benefit card party will be given, Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Katie Hofstetter for members of the Women's Relief corps and their friends.

Holland Relief Workers Must Be Examined

BLANKS CAN BE SECURED AT THE CITY HALL IN THE E. R. A. OFFICES

The United States Government is demanding that all those who wish to hold responsible positions to fill vacancies on the State Emergency Welfare Relief Commission in this city and elsewhere throughout the nation will have to stand the test of a series of competitive examinations for the purpose of securing eligible lists of applicants from which appointments will be made to fill vacancies in the future.

There are certain qualifications an applicant must have before he or she can even ask for an examination. All who apply must be at least 21 years old; must be of good health; must have good habits and a high moral standing. Special education and experience also rates high in the classification.

Applicants, wishing to take these examinations, are to secure application blanks from the local E. R. A. offices (City Hall, Holland) and after filling them out are to forward them to the nearest Field Representative before the examinations are held. It is necessary that the application blanks be on file at the offices of the Field Representative on or before Tuesday, November 17, 1936. The examinations will include oral as well as written tests. Applicants will need to furnish pencils for the examinations.

There are several classifications of work and Miss Deborah Veneklaassen, who has been an able executive has given this newspaper several pages of type-written work covering this subject, which "boiled down" would indicate that examinations will be held for stenographers, stenographers, typists, social service supervisors, and three grades of "visitors." In every classification it appears that graduation in accredited high schools, universities or colleges play an important part in every one of these examinations embracing these different positions. In many instances physical strength, vitality, good, not defective vision, willingness to learn, play an important part in social service. A legal knowledge and principles governing welfare work are very essential; resourcefulness and tact are very necessary in this work.

In typing, reasonable speed and accuracy is very much desired and there is a differentiation between routine work and plain work, the neatness of the work is also essential. Neatness and personal appearance also plays a part.

As a secretary, tact is desired and a thorough knowledge of governmental procedure and organization. The secretary must also be resourceful and have the initiative in dealing with minor as well as major administrative details. There must be no serious defects in vision, hearing or other disabilities.

Stenographers must be thoroughly trained, equivalent to two years of experience and preferable applicants from an accredited high school course in typing and stenography. They must know the general routine of office work and must also know how to use the "Queen's English." The applicant must be mentally alert with reasonable speed and accuracy.

Junior, senior and head clerks are required to have many of the qualifications exacted from the other classes mentioned above. That also applies through the three grades of "visitors" so-called.

It is rather interesting to note that in all of these examinations, stress is laid upon school and college training, and that a finished product largely of education, considering that "Uncle Sam" looks to that source in a measure for his staff. It also shows that good habits, a high moral character, which carries with it, alertness, aptness and initiative, play an important part and make for efficient and thorough workmanship.

The examinations for the persons seeking appointments will be held in the Kent County Emergency Relief Administration offices, Gilbert Building, Grand Rapids.

The positions for which one may take examinations are as follows: Social Service Supervisors and Visitors—I, II, III—9 a. m. to be held Thurs., Nov. 19, 1936.

Bookkeepers and Accountants—9 a. m., Friday, Nov. 20, 1936.

Junior, Senior, and Head Clerks—9 a. m. Monday, Nov. 23, 1936.

Typists, Stenographers and Secretaries—9 a. m. Tuesday, Nov. 24, 1936.

Those wishing more information of a detailed nature can receive this on the third floor of the City Hall where Miss Deborah Veneklaassen and her staff will be glad to aid applicants in gaining full knowledge of what the requirements are.

THE FRED W. GREEN BREAKS SHAFT IN GRAND HAVEN HARBOR

The Fred W. Green, big gravel boat leased by the Construction Aggregates company of Ferrysburg for transportation of gravel from the Ferrysburg plant to Chicago, is tied up in the south channel at Grand Haven where it will remain for about 12 days for repairs.

The boat was loaded with gravel preparatory to leaving for Chicago when the big main shaft broke. Half of the load was taken off and the boat steamed down the river and into the south channel. New equipment will be shipped from Manitowish, Wis., and installed here.

Miss Vivian De Weerd from Holland visited her sister, Miss Jane Klingenberg recently.

REP. MAPES HAS 862 MAJORITY IN 5TH DISTRICT

The complete official tabulation of the votes cast for congressman in the fifth Michigan district, which includes Kent and Ottawa counties, set the majority of Rep. Carl E. Mapes over his Democratic opponent, Thomas F. McAllister, at 862 votes today.

The official vote for Mapes was 49,860 and for McAllister 48,998. McAllister lead Mapes in Kent county 40,495 to 38,356, but Mapes wiped out that advantage by carrying Ottawa county 11,504 to 8,533.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Baron were surprised by a group of neighbors, Monday evening, at their homes on East 23rd St. The evening was spent in playing games and singing songs. Mr. and Mrs. Baron recently returned to Holland after living in Zeeland for three years and the affair was a house warming.

GRAND HAVEN AND SPRING LAKE DOGS ENTERED IN HOLLAND DOG EVENT

Interest in field trials for pointers and setters rose to a new high this week end among Ottawa county sportsmen with the staging of the second annual field trials of the Holland Pointer and Setter club at the Robinson township terrain on M-50.

Participation in the meet was not confined to county entries, and the meet took on proportions of a general West Michigan test with dogs from Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Muskegon, Zeeland and Spring Lake competing with the Holland entries.

Lary Bug, English setter owned by E. M. Schopp, of Grand Rapids, topped the all-age trials Sunday morning to win the one-year possession cup donated by the Holland Fish and Game club. A 525-foot coal boat from Toledo unloaded a cargo of 7,500 tons of coal at the Harrington docks last week Thursday. The boat, under the command of Capt. McNally, was described as medium in size and not as large as the T. W. Robinson, the largest boat ever to enter the local harbor. The latter boat arrived here about two years ago. Reports of a coal shortage in the city were not confirmed by Austin Harrington, who said that coal is not hard to get but that boats are hard to get. There will probably be only one or two more boats in here this year. To permit the entry of large craft in Macatawa lake, dredging operations are necessary. The arrival of this large boat emphasizes the importance of dredging.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

November 15, 1936.

The Heroism of Christian Faith—Acts 21:26, 13-27:34.

Henry Geerlings

One would think that Jerusalem should have given Paul a tumultuous welcome something like that this country gave Lindbergh when he came back from his first famous flight across the Atlantic. He was sowing the seeds of a new world civilization. He was lending new visions to dull eyes. He was lifting men to new high levels. He was giving them a new understanding of God through Jesus Christ. He was helping them to find themselves in terms of a new evaluation. He was starting a process of spiritual education in the Gentile world that has not ceased to this day. So Jerusalem had every reason to welcome him as a returning hero, as a man whose presence in the world had so changed it by the power of the name of Jesus as that it could never return to what it once was.

But the great city which he loved, the city of holy memories to him, the city whose very streets the holy feet of Jesus had pressed with eager and loving going, the city that was a glowing center of very human interest that beat in the heart of every Jew who loved God—this city treated Paul more like a criminal than a soldier of the cross. But he knew that it was dangerous for him to go there.

He had been warned time and again by seeing men—men who loved him and his cause. But he dared to go to Jerusalem in spite of the warnings. He was a man of great and magnificent courage. He never was afraid that he would not do his duty. He cared not what men would do to him only that he could do everything for Jesus. He was his bondsman—surrendered and consecrated to him body and soul. Such a man would not be afraid of men. He would hold back on account of personal dangers. He would bear testimony to the power of the gospel and to the worthiness of Christ no matter what men thought and said and threatened. He was determined to go to Jerusalem and to Jerusalem he went. In this determination his motives are revealed as of the highest.

Outstanding among the reasons for his unchangeable purpose to visit the great city was his earnest desire to bring to the poor of the city a collection which he had laboriously and yet lovingly gathered from his gentile converts. It was not only a gift of love, but it was an evidence of the power of the gospel in the hearts of these changed pagans. It showed that they had love for the brethren in the mother church. But is looks as if he did not get a chance to say much about this fine gift and to elaborate on its mighty significance. The leaders of the church in Jerusalem were more concerned about Paul's heterodoxy than about the beautiful fruits of his ministry. To be sure the brethren received him gladly when he came in unto them and made his report about what God had wrought among the Gentiles through his ministry. It is a fact that they glorified God on the basis of Paul's report, but as we read the account we get the feeling that they could hardly wait until he got through so that they could get at him for certain teachings of his which had given offense to Jew-Christians who were yet quite as much Jew as they were Christian. They took him to task for teaching that a Gentile did not need to be a Jew in order to be a Christian. He did not need to come to Jesus by way of Moses. They were more concerned about the non-essentials than they were about essentials. We have the same mind here, that we have in our modern day, that is more concerned whether a man has been immersed than whether his life is actuated in all things by the spirit of Jesus. We have the same mind that insists that no minister is ordained upon whose head have not been laid the hands of the bishop who is in the line of apostolic succession.

James had a proposition. In his mind it would set Paul right with everybody and disprove the stories that were going the rounds about him. It was a kind of a glorified compromise. It was that he associate himself with four men who were under a vow and go through with them all that they would go through and incidentally pay their expenses. Instead of its being oil for the troubled waters, it was the match that set fire to it all. James had in mind that this act of Paul would prove him to be still a good Jew. But to men who have already made up their minds, such a matter as James advised seldom comes with any convincing power. Things cannot be otherwise than as they think they are. Then they had seen Paul in company with a Greek and they jumped to the conclusion that he had brought him into the temple and thus defiled it. So there was no mercy to be shown to such a man. These Jews belonged to that vast army of supposing people—the kind that start half the trouble in the world.

"AN APPLE A DAY"

The City of Bangor, down south on the Pere Marquette, had quite a representation here the other day advertising their apple show. There was a large band of girls and boys presumably from the High School and a motorcade followed with one float, a gigantic apple made of papier-mache. They were a healthy-looking lot, and from the automobiles many folks on the sidewalk were thrown a "northern spy," a "wine sap" or a "seek no further."

If the parade of citizens from our neighboring town is a sample of the citizenry undoubtedly the doctors at Bangor are having slender picking. In an apple town the adage "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" indeed seems fitting. The Bangorites were advertising their annual apple show November 12, 13, 14, and 15 and they certainly have a pretentious program.

Fourth Reformed church held its annual congregational meeting, Monday evening, and the elders re-elected were John Kobes and John Nyboer. John Van Zoeren was elected elder. Deacons re-elected were: H. Timmer, C. Buursma and J. Vanden Elst. A short business meeting followed the election and G. Viascher closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. H. Streur and her mother of Graafschap were in Holland Tuesday afternoon.

THEY DID NOT DIE IN VAIN

Oh ye that stand in silence now
To honor those that have been slain
To bless their memory: O pray for peace
And make this solemn vow:
"They have not died in vain!"

Should bugles and the drums
In stirring notes of march
Make us forget the agony of war?
The world's last indignation?
The broken lives, the lost, the slain?
Oh make this solemn vow:
"They have not died in vain!"

Is there a wrong, an insult to our flag
That war could ever adjust?
It still is waving free and proudly
High above the dust
Whate'er could threaten heartlessness
But evil from within.

Watch o'er your shrines,
Keep holy fire upon your altars,
Let beacon lights upon your mountaintops
Flare out their warning.
Your nation's enemy lurks yet within your borders:
No danger from without. But evil from within.

That nation shall be great with living righteousness
Will keep its banner without blot or stain
The sun of peace glits every hill and plain
Where thankful hearts rejoice,
"They have not died in vain."

TWO LOCAL BANKING INSTITUTIONS MAY MERGE

For some months bank negotiations have been in progress for the merging of the Holland City State Bank and the First State Bank of Holland, two banking houses that have been established almost a half century ago and during that time played an important part in Holland's development. Should the merger go through the consolidated bank will be known as the Holland State Bank and will be capitalized at a quarter of a million dollars. The bank will be a member of the Federal Reserve System and will also be safeguarded with Federal deposit insurance the same as all banks in Holland are today with guarantees on deposit of $5,000 to each depositor in conformity with a bill passed by the Congress of the United States, which became a law nearly two years ago.

All deposits and assets of the two banks will be joined in the proposed merger. The stockholders in both the Holland City State Bank and the First State Bank are largely local men, as are the directors and the plan is to have the board of directors selected from the personnel of the two banks to serve on the board of the consolidated bank. Naturally the merger means solidity; and the conducting of one large institution under one roof instead of two separate banks means a sizeable saving annually. Stockholders will vote on the proposal Nov. 18.

The Holland City State bank has a capitalization of $191,000 and the First State bank a capitalization of $100,000. Charles Kirchen is president of Holland City State bank while Henry S. Maents is president of First State bank.

Deposits of the two banks, listed in the last published statement, aggregate $3,000,000. The plans are so drawn, that the consolidation can be effected over night without any interruption of banking service to any of the depositors or other customers of either of the present banks.

During the last three years there have been many consolidations of banks for the simple reason that a certain number of banks in the community are ample to serve the needs. For instance, Muskegon has three; Saginaw, two; Kalamazoo, three; Benton Harbor, two; Saint Joe, one; Bay City, two; Grand Haven, two; Grand Rapids, five. In some of these cities there may be a few extra banks of an industrial nature.

STREETS STRESS RED CROSS

Holland's principle streets carry a patriotic as well as a benevolent aspect. All week long several "Old Glorys" have been fluttering in the breezes indicating that Armistice Day has been with us again. Interspersed with the stars and stripes are the conspicuous white banners with the deep red cross heart. It simply means the roll is being called for this benevolent organization—and be sure and join when the several ladies of the auxiliary call, or better yet drop into Red Cross headquarters in the G.A.R. room in the City Hall and leave your offering with Mrs. Mabel Vanden Berg, Red Cross head in this vicinity. Remember all the ladies are very busy folks and you can help by calling rather than being called on.

HEALTHY BUSINESS AND HEALTHY BANKING

DEATH OF HUSBAND OF WOMAN WHO DIED LAKE MYSTERY

Mrs. Adrianna Poppen, widow of the late Orrie Poppen, died last night at her home in Grand Haven, following an illness of six months. The deceased was widowed March 12, 1921, when her husband fell from the fish tug, H. J. Dornbos, owned by Capt. Peter Fase, when the boat was on the fishing grounds 25 miles out in Lake Michigan in a bad storm. His body was never recovered and remains one of those "Big Lake" mysteries.

FOOD STORE EMPLOYEES HAVE BIG PARTY

A dance and vaudeville show were given Wednesday, Armistice night, in the black and silver room of the Civic Auditorium by the Kroger Employees Mutual Benefit association. This is the annual fall party for all Kroger employees and their friends in western Michigan. Fine acts from Detroit were offered and DeForest Poole and his orchestra furnished the dance music. A crowd of approximately 1000 were present. Luncheon was served to a large number.

The Kroger Employees Mutual Benefit association is an organization of all employees to provide social and recreational activities and to further the best interests of the employees through group insurance and a savings and loan association.

A large number from Holland and other Kroger food stores in this vicinity were present.

On Sept. 16, 1882, she was married to Mr. Vander Ven in Muskegon and they located there for two years, then came to New Era where they at first located on a farm.

She leaves beside the husband, three sons, a daughter and 25 grandchildren; one great-granddaughter, three brothers and two sisters; Mrs. Fred Metz, West 12th St., Holland, is one of them. Funeral services were held at New Era Tuesday.

A grant of $18,000 and a loan of $22,000 to Spring Lake for the construction of a city hall, has been announced by the Public Works Administration. The total cost is $40,000. The new building will be of modern design, two stories high, 96 feet long and 65 feet wide. It will also house the fire department and be so arranged to provide for gymnasium facilities.

Warner Takes
Dr. Nykerk's
Place At Hope

New Instructor Has Done Considerable Work Along Victorian Lines; Writes for Magazines

—from Hope College Anchor.

Where the bust of the bearded Victorian, Tennyson, watches thoughtfully over what was for years the sanctum sanctorum of the late Dr. Nykerk, the teaching of the works of the eminent English poet is being carried on by Dr. James H. Warner.

Tennyson was the acknowledged favorite of Dr. Nykerk, and this four-hour course was to have been the final effort of his years of teaching. Since his decease the work is being continued by a man who has the same scholarly interest in literature which was such a prominent characteristic of the late educator.

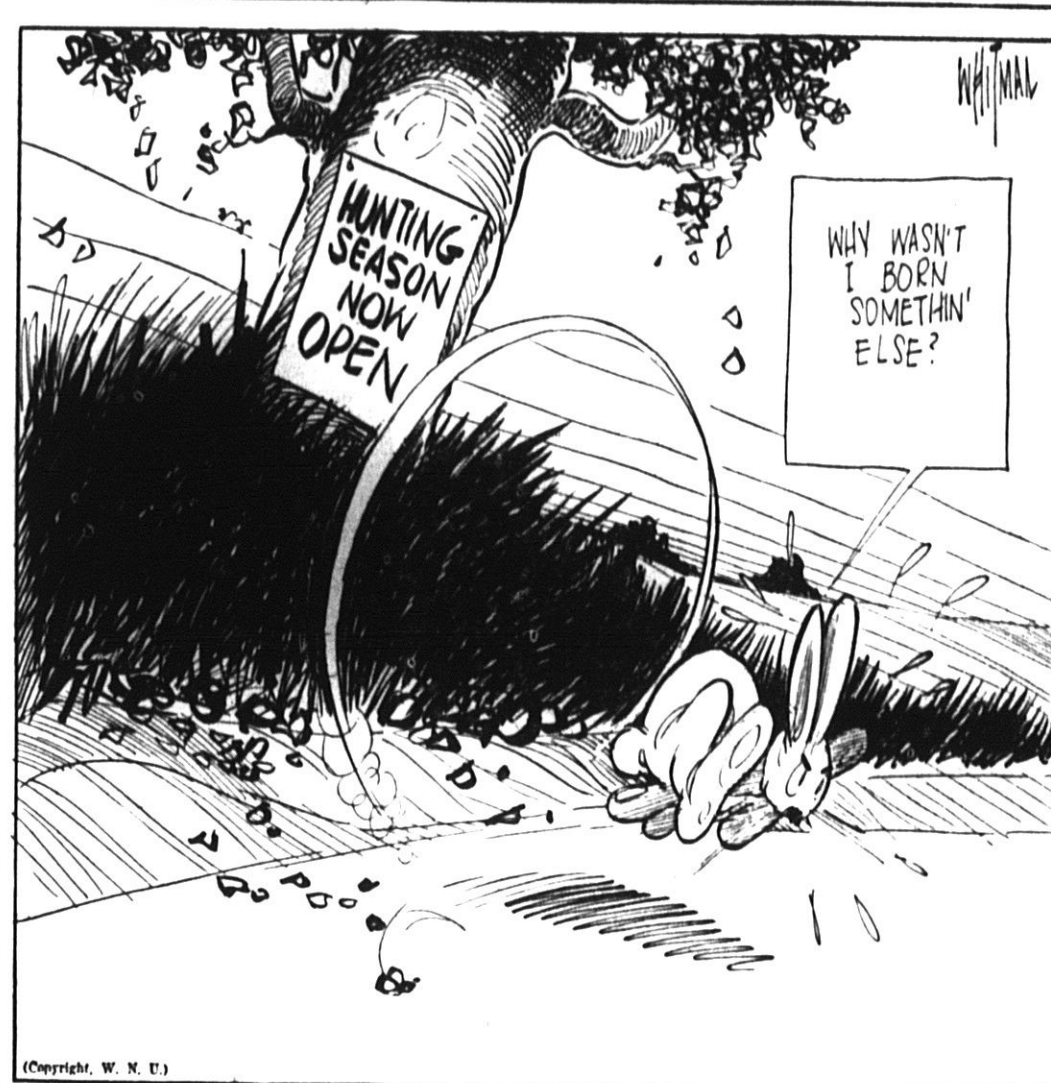

Continues Nykerk Plans
Dr. Warner expects to conduct the course along the same lines as Dr. Nykerk had planned. The enrollment of the class is large, numbering thirty-six; about two-thirds of the students are girls, the usual percentage in English classes. The text used is the Cambridge Edition of Tennyson's complete works. The line of study also includes some background material and a review of the poet's life.

Dr. Warner is particularly fitted for teaching this subject as he has done much studying of the poet and regards him very highly. Though his personal favorite is Robert Browning he is deeply interested in Tennyson. He emphasizes Tennyson's achievement in transcending the unfortunate peculiarities of his age and in incorporating the best of Victorianism. He regards particularly the poet's mellifluousness and his power of portraying depth of emotion in the liquid smoothness of his work.

Dr. Warner has done considerable work along 18th Century lines. His article "Our Amazing Ancestors," which tells of 18th Century life in eastern Tennessee appeared in the January, 36, number of the South Atlantic Quarterly, and in recognition of its merit was reprinted in the May edition of the "Digest and Review."

Write for Magazines
He has recently completed the third of a series of articles on

Rousseau's reputation in 18th Century England which is entitled "Eighteenth Century English Reactions to the Nouvelle Heloise." This article was published in the P. M. S. A., the official publication of the Modern Language Association. Dr. Louis Bredvold of the University of Michigan English department complimented Dr. Warner's work in a review, stating that it was "entertaining, illuminating, and scholarly."

This section of Michigan interests Dr. Warner greatly and he hopes in the near future to write an article on the lives and customs of the early settlers here, gleaned from his material from early newspapers, letters and diaries, and stories remembered by the old people.

His first published work appeared in Modern Language Notes a number of years ago. It was a technical article written jointly with R. S. Crane on "Goldsmith and the Essai Sur Les Moeurs by Voltaire." This is the first year that Dr. Warner has taught at Hope College. He comes originally from

AUTO CRASHES INTO WAGON

A big team of farm horses belonging to Clarence Reenders, Grand Haven township, ran away yesterday after the wagon they were drawing was cut in two by an automobile driven by H. E. Reynolds, Grand Rapids, on U.S. 31 about six miles south.

The wagon was driven by William Vincent, who was helpless to stop the horses as they broke away from the demolished wagon. Several motorists on the highway pulled off of the road in a hurry as they saw the team bearing down on them. The horses were finally stopped by the driver as the team was slowing up and the car on the highway brought them to a stop so that they were caught.

Reynolds was arraigned by the state police charged with drunk driving before Justice Peter Verduin, Grand Haven. He was fined $50 and costs of $7.35 or 60 days in the county jail. The money had not been paid and he was remanded to the county jail. Mr. Reenders secured a writ of attachment on the car as he claims damages of $50 or more on the wagon.

FUNERAL OF HOLLAND MERCHANT WAS HELD

Jacob Kuite, Jr., 70, a Holland merchant for many years, died at 9:30 o'clock Friday night at the Kuite apartments, 12 W. 8th St., after an illness of two weeks.

Mr. Kuite, who was born June 1, 1866, received his fundamental education in the public schools here. At an early age he was employed by his father, Jacob Kuite, Sr., former alderman of Holland.

In 1884 he established a meat market of his own and continued to conduct this enterprise successfully until four years ago when he retired and his son, Wallace J. Kuite, took charge of the establishment.

The market conducted by Mr. Kuite had been on the same site for 40 years in a frame building. In 1924, he erected a large brick building at the site of the old building on W. 8th St. Shortly after his retirement, the building was leased to the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. and Wallace Kuite continued the market on River Ave.

Mr. Kuite, a member of one of the pioneer families of this city, contributed liberally to civic activities. He was a charter member of the B.P.O.E. lodge and was also a member of the Order of Eagles.

He is survived by an only son, Wallace; one brother, C. J. Kuite of Holland; and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Blott of Marmouth, N. D., and Mrs. Anna Kuite Alcott of North Muskegon. His wife died ten years ago.

Funeral services were held on Monday at 3 p. m. from the Nibelink-Notier funeral home, the Rev. Thomas W. Davidson, pastor of Hope church, officiating. Interment took place in the Kuite family plot in Fair Lawn cemetery.

Friends paid their respects Sunday from 2 to 5 p. m. at the Nibelink-Notier mortuary.

Birth Rate for State Is Again
On the Decline

BIRTHS IN MICHIGAN FALL FAR BELOW THOSE RECORDED IN LAST CALENDAR YEAR

Mr. Stork must have flapped his wings with joy when he gazed upon Michigan's rising birth rate as revealed by the 1935 statistical report of the Michigan Department of Health which has just gone to the printer. It was an unusual record at that, for only nine states were able to show any kind of an increase, and it was encouraging for the hope that the long period of falling birth rates had at last run its course. An increase of 3,469 births indicated that the threat of an ultimately declining population had been temporarily averted.

But statistics to September 1 of this year give the lie to those hopes. Already there has been a two per cent decrease in births as compared with last year and the state is running 1,271 behind last year's total of 59,816 births at this date. It now appears that the total of 87,403 births with a rate of 17.21 per 100,000 population will not be reached this year.

Michigan's total births have never quite reached 100,000, but they came very close to that figure during the record year of 1927 when 99,940 births were registered with a rate of 22.28. The highest rate ever recorded was 26.22 in the war year of 1917. Total births have decreased one-eighth in the past decade and the birth rate dropped almost one-fourth.

These figures are typical not only for Michigan but for most of the United States and Canada as well. There was a depression low for births in 1933 as well as for business. The national birth rate rose from the 1933 low of 16.6 to 17.1 in 1934, but dropped back to 16.8 last year. A decline of 15.5 per cent has marked the national birth rate during the past decade.

SUGAR BEETS A FINE
DIVERSIFIED CROP

According to an announcement made today by Arthur A. Schupp, executive secretary of the Farmers and Manufacturing beet sugar association, the beet sugar companies of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana will be prepared to slice more than 2,500,000 tons of sugar beets next fall.

Calling attention to the fact that the beet sugar factories in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana are equipped to slice more than 27,000 tons of sugar beets per day, Mr. Schupp said, "More than $20,000,000 will be paid to the sugar beet growers of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana for their 1937 sugar beet crop if the farmers of the three states make it possible for all of the beet sugar factories in the area to operate at capacity next year. During the past six years sugar beets have proven to be the most profitable major farm crop grown in the three states and the excellent yields per acre harvested this year have served to again demonstrate that sugar beets are admirably able to withstand adverse weather conditions."

"All authorities are agreed that sugar beets fit into practically every well balanced rotation system used in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana and with farmers striving to increase their purchasing power I am convinced that the sugar beet growers of the three states will not overlook the opportunity to add millions of dollars to their farm income by growing a maximum acreage of sugar beets in 1937."

NOT A LUCKY BOY—OR WAS HE LUCKY?

Norman Wins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Wins, of Fennville, lost to possess an unlucky streak. Last Friday evening he ran into a parked truck on the highway and wrecked his car. Sunday morning, returning from South Haven he lost control of the rental car he was driving and turned over twice, completely wrecking the car, but fortunately escaping with minor bruises. His brother, Thomas, who was also with him, as was his brother, Fred, received a cut on his head. How they escaped so luckily is a miracle.

HOME

IS NO PLACE FOR DREARINESS

MAKE IT A CHEERY PLACE WITH

BETTER LIGHT

As you walk down the street of an evening, some homes strike you as bright and cheerful—the kind of homes that bespeak of warmth and of friendliness. In dark contrast are the other homes you see,—poorly, sparsely lighted, suggesting dreariness and uninteresting home life.

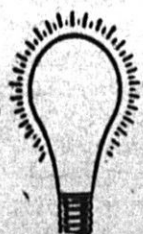

Naturally, you want your home to be the kind that radiates hospitality,—a well-lighted home that has no dark and gloomy corners. Not only does good light make your home more inviting, but it immeasurably adds to the enjoyment of living within the home.

So why not check up on your lighting now? See to it that all the burned-out lights are replaced with fresh bulbs. And while you are at it, see to it that you have the kind of bulbs that give the better light that makes for better sight and greater cheeriness.

It costs so little to enjoy good light and lots of it. Even a 60-watt bulb can be burned a whole evening for LESS than a penny under Holland's extremely low electric rates. For less than nickel you can burn a 25-watt bulb a full ten evenings. So why deny yourself and your home this privilege which your own city light plant has made possible.

So little does your electricity cost that it is many times cheaper to light your home with it than candles. In fact, a 15c light bulb of 60 watts will give you a thousand hours of good light at a cost of about $2.00 for electricity, whereas the same amount of light from a kerosene lamp would cost about $13,—and from candles, over $700!

LOST MONEY FOUND —
THINK OF IT, $230

(Allegan News)
Mrs. Webb Leggett of Hopkins has recovered her lost purse containing $230.00.
Mr. Deb Presley picked up the small pocketbook in front of Punched meat market in Hopkins and slipped it into his pocket, thinking some child had dropped it, without looking in it. A few days later he opened the pocketbook and discovered the large sum of money. He waited until the Allegan News came out that week and looked in the lost and found ads for the loser before he was able to return the money. There are still honest folks left so don't be discouraged.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Van Loo celebrated their 35th anniversary of their marriage on Friday, October 30, at their home Zeeland, Mich.

I wish to thank the voters of Ottawa County for the splendid vote given me at the November General Election, and I assure you that I deeply appreciate your confidence.

Death of Old Man Reveals
Side Lights

NOT ALL HOLLANDERS CAME TO THE LAND OF THE FREE
IN IMMIGRATION DAYS.
MAN OF 90 ROBE "BIKE" AND "HIKE"

The fatal accident which took the life of Marinus Slabbeborn, recently, who divided his time between the homes of his children in Holland and those living in Zeeland, bring out some interesting sidelights.

Mr. Slabbeborn, who would have been 90 years old within three months, often "hitch hiked" between the two places. It also shows that all Hollanders did not come to the "Land of the Free" and to Holland or Zeeland, Michigan, but some trekked to other climes.

This Mr. Slabbeborn went to South America to Brazil, where he stayed and farmed for 30 years on the pampas plains among tall pampas grass, and reared a family. Mrs. Gerrit Van Anrooy, Pine Ave., Holland, a daughter, was born in South America, as was her sister, Mrs. Mary Scholten of Montello Park.

The old gentleman was unusually active and often walked from Zeeland to Holland to stay a few days, and then walked back unless he felt like riding a bicycle for a change.

Two years ago, at the age of 87, he discontinued to use a "wheel," fearing the congested traffic on the new Zeeland-Holland highway. It is rather unfortunate that in exercising more care he should have been knocked down by an oncoming truck and killed.

A driver had stopped for the aged "hitch hiker" when a large oil truck trundled by, struck the aged man while he attempted to get into the car that was to give him a free ride to Holland and his loved ones. The story has already been reported in the News and that he died soon after in Huijenga Memorial Hospital at Zeeland. The surviving children, many who were born in South America, are: Carl Slabbeborn of Morristown, Tennessee, John Slabbeborn of Zeeland, Mrs. Henry Scholten and Mrs. Gerrit Van Anrooy of Holland, Mrs. Henry Hulst of Statesboro, Georgia, and Mrs. Theodore Dalman of Zeeland; also twenty-eight grandchildren and twenty-four great-grandchildren.

ZUTPHEN

An enjoyable evening was spent in playing games and lunch was served by Mrs. Fred Ensink, Mrs. Gerald Beek and Mrs. Bert Ensink of Hudsonville.

Miss Jeanette Van Ess, who is employed in Holland spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Ess.

C. Rynbrandt who was seriously injured in an accident several weeks ago, is improving.

The Ladies Aid Society was represented at the Ladies Missionary Union at Zeeland on Thursday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Henry Velthuis was taken to the St. Mary's hospital where she submitted to a serious operation.

He discussed the giants of Caleb's time and likened them to the giants of today. An instrumental duet was played by Miss Gertrude Wymargen of Vriesland and Miss Janet Meeuwse of Zeeland. The program closed with the C. E. benediction. The union is made up of the Christian Endeavor societies of the Reformed churches of Grandville, Hudsonville, Jamestown, Vriesland, Blendon, Beaverdam, Forest Grove and Zeeland. GRAVEL FIRM BUYS
ANOTHER TUG

The Tom Johnson Gravel company has added to its equipment by purchase of the tug Stamina from a Chicago firm. The new tug, the third in the company's fleet, arrived this week and is at the Johnson Brothers' dock in Ferrysburg where it will undergo inspection and possibly some alterations. The Stamina was formerly used on the Calumet river and while a comparative new craft must be slightly changed for lake service. It is of steel construction, 65 feet long and has a 200 horsepower engine, considerably more powerful than the company's other tug, Senniece.

Through its addition, the company which employs 23 men on its tugs and at Bass River, a tributary of the Grand, where its gravel pits are located, now owns three tugs: the Senniece, a wooden hull tug, the last built here and launched in 1922; the General, formerly the General Gillmore, a government engineering department tug bought several years ago; and the Stamina. The company also owns shovels, scows and other equipment.

Boeve. Games were played and refreshments were served. Mrs. Boeve was presented with many lovely gifts.

Fire broke out in the apartment above the Fisher barber shop, in Fennville. The apartment was occupied by Mr. Chauncey Reynolds. A pan of grease on the stove is said to have caused the blaze. Some of Mr. Reynolds' clothes were damaged.

John Whitbeck and Lovell Lamoreaux are opening a grocery store at Fennville in what was recently Shiffert's department store, but is now owned by Menolds, who will set up a restaurant in the other part of the store.

Mrs. James Van Blois entertained the Neighborhood bridge club Monday afternoon at her cottage on Lake Michigan, near Douglas. Both refreshments and decorations were of the Halloween motif. High scores were held by Mrs. Marc Hutchinson and Mrs. Guy Teed.

Clare Harrington, son of Bert Harrington of Ganges, is now stationed in the forest service at Hiawatha Forest reserve near Manistowic.

It will cost Allegan county $204,000.00 to maintain its county government for the coming year, according to the budget adopted by the board of supervisors at its session this week. The tax rate will remain at 6 mills, as it was last year. In spite of the fact that $34,000.00 in debts were paid off last year, there will be no decrease in taxes, as increased appropriations for various county offices and added bequests to help private agencies will swell the total to equal last year's requirements. The sheriff's office which was allowed $10,000.00 last year, will be granted $12,000.00 for the coming year. In spite of the $10,000.00 limit put on the operation of the sheriff's office by the board for last year, the actual operation of the office cost the taxpayers $12,180.00.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Lucasse, Fennville, Sunday, were Mrs. Gertie Wierda and two sons, Ted and Nick, from Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stegenga and children, Geraldine and Billy, from Three Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Wierda and son, Bobby, from Zeeland, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mokma and son, Ronald, from Montella Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Corneal Lucasse and daughter, Laura, of Fennville. A dinner was served and the visit was enjoyed by all.

A blow-out is believed to have been the cause of an auto accident in which Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fairhead of Saugatuck were seriously injured late Friday near St. Joseph as they were returning from a visit in Chicago. The car crashed into a large tree, resulting in serious injuries for Mrs. Fairhead, including fractures of both legs. Mr. Fairhead's chest was crushed.

Miss Gertrude Veldhof was the guest of honor at a kitchen show, last Friday evening, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Veldhof, in East Saugatuck. Miss Veldhof will become the bride of Benjamin Frens in the near future. Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Julius Lugten. A two-course lunch was served. The honored guest was presented with many gifts.

Wednesday marked the 51st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips of Saugatuck. Both are of pioneer ancestry. Their parents were among the first settlers on the lake shore, back in the forties. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips lived in Chicago some years before returning to Saugatuck to buy a large fruit farm on the lake shore. They sold the farm and for the last 15 years have resided in Saugatuck. They are the parents of a son who lives in New York, and a daughter of Danville, Ill.

MINCEMEAT MAGIC
RECENT COOKS' Council Creation is a Mince-meat Sundae of palate-pleasing proportions. Crown a scoop of rich vanilla ice cream with a hot Mince-meat sauce—the fruitly kind with that subtle blend of flavors fashioned from an old American formula. Irresistible to autumn appetites!

CHILDREN'S HOUR
When your eager offspring dash home from school for noonday refueling, serve them simple serviceable fare. Here's a fruit custard dessert that will stand by them sturdily through an afternoon of pure learning and still be no tax on your morning housework hours. Just scald 1 1/2 cups of milk in a double boiler, add 1 1/2 cups cooked rice, and 1/2 cup rich fruit Mince-meat and cook for 5 minutes. In the meantime, you can be blending 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt and adding to 2 slightly beaten egg yolks. To this add 1/4 cup of milk and stir gradually into the rice and Mince-meat mixture in the double boiler. Then continue cooking to the consistency of a very thick custard. Remove from the fire and add 1 teaspoon vanilla for a flip of flavor. Pour into a copious casserole or pudding dish and top with a fluffy meringue made by whipping 2 egg whites stiffly. When they form a peak, gradually fold in 4 tablespoons granulated sugar. For the final touch, pop the dish into a slow oven (300° F.) for 15 minutes or until the meringue is delicately brown. Serve cold. Watch the demand for repeats!

QUICK TRICK

If you're half the housewife we think you are you'll save yourself kitchen work and still serve bang-up meals by using ready-to-serve foods for quick feasts. Take Spaghetti for instance. It can be combined in any number of ways to make grand new dishes that will rank you among the experts. Sometime try combining 2 cups of diced cooked beef, 1 medium onion, finely chopped, and 1 medium green pepper, chopped. Fry together in fat until brown and season with salt and pepper. Then for the triumphant touch add 1-21 oz. can of racy flavored Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce. Stir in 1/4 cup of water and pour the whole delectable concoction into a buttered casserole. Top off with a few buttered crushed Rice Flakes for a crisp finish and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) until brown. About 20 minutes will do the baking trick.

Travelogue on Interesting European Trip

By Mrs. Mae Van Drezer Bush

We had over two hours one afternoon with a very famous correspondent. I wish I could tell you his name. He told us some most interesting things. In 1934 the loyalty of many in Leningrad was doubted and at that time 70,000 people were deported. If you don't endorse the regime 100 per cent you are deported or your family "gets your clothes," which means you have been executed and your clothes are returned to you home.

About 25 of us, all real students and a very congenial group, came south. Tourist has a special car for us which follows us all the way to the border. We shall have the same compartment the rest of our stay in Russia. When we arrive in a city we stay at a hotel but the coach waits for us and takes us on to the next stop. The same porter goes with us all the way. A guide, Mr. Dobins, will be with us till we leave Russia. He speaks perfect English and is well educated. I have been told he guided John Dewey during his studies in Russia.

Our last night in Leningrad Ben and I passed the Youssefov Palace where Rasputin was murdered and finally thrown in the canal that runs past the palace. The palace now seems to be used for some kind of club. Leningrad is the Russia I have dreamed of. I am so happy to have had a glimpse of the old culture before leaving this land of chaotic upheaval.

We are in southern Russia now. It was a long but interesting trip from Leningrad to Zaporozhie. We traveled two days and one night, and was once the old Cossack stronghold. It is of interest now because it is near the Dnieproges dam. We motored out to see that great project of which they are so proud. Tomorrow we leave for Rostov on the Don, which is a little farther south. From there we go to Kiev and then home through Warsaw and Berlin. We visited a large threshing machine factory this morning. Of course, to anyone accustomed to American factories, it was nothing remarkable. The remarkable thing comes in the social work—the apartments built for their workers, the hospitals, the nurseries, creches for babies, kindergartens, the great amusement parks, opportunities for education for workers.

Soon we shall be facing homeward. America looks wonderful to me. There is so much fear and unrest here; every country is afraid of her neighbor. America seems so far away from it all. Of course I know we are not free from problems. But if we would only profit by the experience of Europe we could solve our economic and social problems without revolution.

I must tell you we have kept very well on this strenuous trip. Well, I'll say good-night. It is cool and I expect a fine night's rest. We have been very comfortable.

Lovingly, MAE.

R.M.S. "Queen Mary,"

Mid-Ocean, Sept. 4th.

Dear Mother and Maude:
Two days out at sea and half way home! Imagine crossing in four days. Ben and I talked about you our first night on shipboard. Ben said, "Mother is saying I'm glad they are out of Russia," and I said, "Mother is saying I'm glad they are out of Europe."

We both are happy to be on our way home. It has been a wonderful summer. Never before have we packed so much knowledge and inspiration into so brief a time. Every minute has been filled with something thrilling and interesting contact. When we think of the people we have met and talked with, the sights we have seen, the speeches we have heard, we are almost dizzy.

August 26th we left Russia and celebrated our wedding anniversary very quietly on the train. We left after a month of almost constant travel. I believe we traveled about 6,000 miles in Russia alone. We went from Moscow to Leningrad, then back to Moscow and south to Rostov on the Don, which is only a few miles from the Black Sea, then up to Kharkov and Kiev. It gave us a good idea of what they are trying to do. Our last day in Russia was the day the sixteen "rebels" were executed. There was suppressed excitement — we could speak the language.

Our return to Berlin was by way of Warsaw and we had three quiet days at the Central Hotel. The quiet seemed good after a summer spent with a group of people. Then we went on to Paris where we had a day and a half before taking the train for Cherbourg. Paris seemed quite deserted. I suppose people were afraid of war. While everyone is preparing for war no one wants it. Each nation is paralyzed by fear. Russia is afraid Germany will take the Ukraine from her. Germany is afraid of Communism and France. France is afraid of arming Germany. England is afraid of Italy, and so it is all a vicious circle. The people of each nation tell you they don't want war and yet they are certain war will come. So all over Europe there is a suppressed excitement and tension.

And, of course, we shall return to America also filled with excitement and tension. I almost wish the election were over, two months of unrest before we can settle down to normal.

At Paris we found 16 letters—two from you and Maude. We sat and read them all as we ate out-of-doors in a quaint old French restaurant. The tables were on the sidewalk and people swarmed around us. The proprietor stood on the edge of the walk and smiled a welcome at every passerby. We enjoyed our potage, French fried potatoes, entre cote and wild strawberries and cream immensely. But nothing will taste as good as a cup of real honest-to-goodness coffee, after what we've been having in Russia. Coffee costs so much to import so some part of a bean that tastes like coffee, but not chocky, is used.

We arrive in New York on Labor Day. There are some people Ben wishes to see, so we'll probably be home Wednesday. All our love to you. Will try to get to Holland as soon as possible.

THE END.

(And thank you, Mrs. Ben Bush)

How To Get Your Share

Nature has been unusually kind to the growers who farm in the sugar beet areas of Michigan. Your natural soil is just about "made to order" for a profitable planting of Sugar Beets.

Naturally incomes vary from season to season. Circumstances control them. One year they are good—another not so good, etc. But that is true of any business.

In this matter of making a living, we must consider the long pull.

The essential consideration, from every standpoint, in the profitable growing of Sugar Beets, is to stick to a regular acreage in beets every single year. If you do that you will make more money in the long run.

Here's why: Sugar Beets fit into your rotation program admirably.

For you grow beets not only to make money but also for the beneficial effect on your soil.

The growing and proper cultivation of beets gives to your soil those necessary properties required to keep it healthy, fertile and productive of other crops in the natural cycle of rotation.

Your rotation might be clover, corn, then Sugar Beets, then oats or barley, but whatever might be the best rotation for your locality, you'll be money ahead if you plant beets every single year.

Now here is another important point: Beets are unusually "tough". They can "stand the gaff". As a matter of fact, beets, more than any other crop, develop in wet weather, in dry weather, in hot weather and in cold weather.

This means that when you grow beets and get up against adverse weather conditions, you are more certain of a good yield than you are with any other cultivated crop.

You can make more money on Sugar Beets on a year in and year out basis than you can from any other crop, and there are ample facts to back this statement.

You'll always get your just share of Michigan's $10,000,000 Sugar Beet crop if you stick to a regular Sugar Beet planting year after year, after year.
