FIND WRECKAGE OF S.H. TUGS ON NEARBY SHORES

Hopes for Safety of Eight Missing Fishermen
Abandoned

Socony Rides Big Waves
With Emergency Gear
for Steering

Believed to have been drowned in Monday's storm which swept Lake Michigan, the bodies of eight fishermen from South Haven were being sought along the lake shore today after wreckage from the two missing tugs, Richard H. and the Indian, had been found by coast guardsmen between Holland and Grand Haven.

All hope for the safety of the missing fishermen has been abandoned. On the Richard H., owned by Capt. John C. McKay, were John McKay, Jr., 28, Stanley White, 33, and John Taylor, 35.

Those aboard the Indian, owned by James Madsen, were Madsen, 55, Harold Richter, 35, Bill Bird, 50, Chris Wakild, 52, and Art Reeves.

Grand Haven coast guardsmen discovered the name plate from the Richard H. while patrolling the beach near the Highland park pavilion, south of Grand Haven, this forenoon. Additional wreckage, identified as belonging to the Richard H., was found along the shore Tuesday afternoon about 1,000 feet north of the Grand Haven pier.

Guardsmen and volunteer rescue workers looked to the calmed seas today to write the final chapter of the worst storm Lake Michigan seamen had seen for more than a decade.

Past wreckage strewn along the quiet shore, past the ice-encrusted freighter Novadoc, where heroic rescue work had cheated the sea of 17 victims before the waves subsided, they continued their search for 51 seamen believed drowned in the turbulent waters.

Though conclusive word still was lacking on at least three vessels, coast guardsmen believed they had accounted definitely for all major ships except two South Haven fishing craft and the ship Anna Minch. Wreckage had come ashore from all three—and from the 7,200-ton steamer W. B. Davock—but only 16 bodies had been recovered.

Rescue workers placed the number missing at 69, but no new bodies were discovered when the 40-foot waves subsided into breakers Wednesday. Several vessels, already given up as lost, reported themselves safe.

A tale of heroism was told by coast guardsmen who stood by surf boats they were unable to land from the wave-battered beach and watched a small fishing boat rescue 17 survivors from the broken hulk of the freighter Novadoc.

Shortly after the hazardous rescue the freighter broke in two. Survivors reported that two cooks, of the crew of 19 men and officers, were lost in the wreckage, and another had been carried overboard.

Eleven bodies from the Davock and five believed to have come from the Anna Minch were recovered.

The gasoline tanker New Haven Socony, with a crew of 15 under a 35-year-old captain, limped back into port at East Chicago, Ind., the victor in a 50-hour battle with mountainous seas which had stripped it of all navigating devices. Coast guardsmen had given up hope for all aboard.

Capt. Harley E. Norton had taken the tanker across the lake toward Muskegon Monday, but the vessel was forced to turn back after approaching within 25 miles of her goal. Captain Norton operated the ship by emergency steering mechanism after the pilot house, containing charts and radio equipment, was carried overboard by the gale that created waves higher than the tanker's 45-foot mast. Norton, inside, was almost taken with the pilot house.

The New Haven Socony visited Holland harbor about a year ago with gasoline for the local marine base of the Globe Oil and Refining Co.

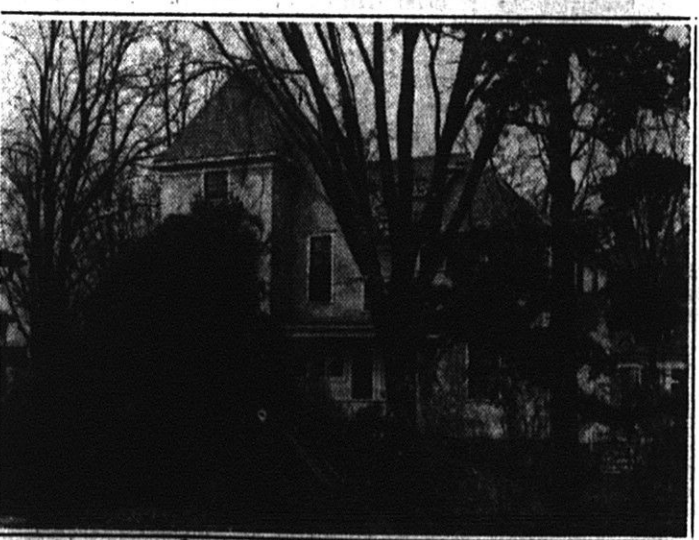

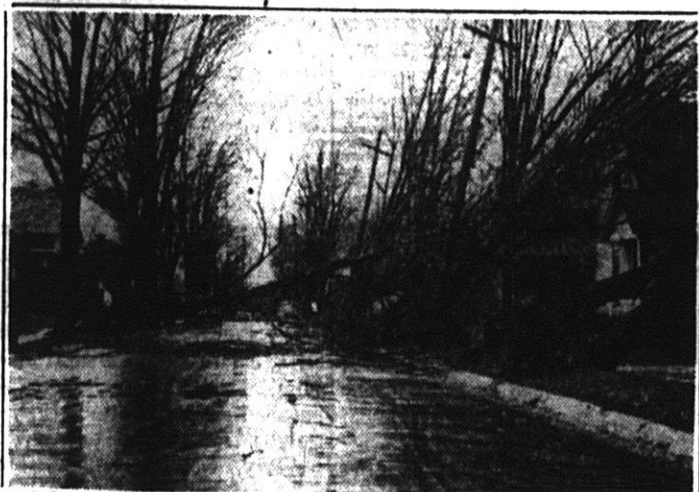

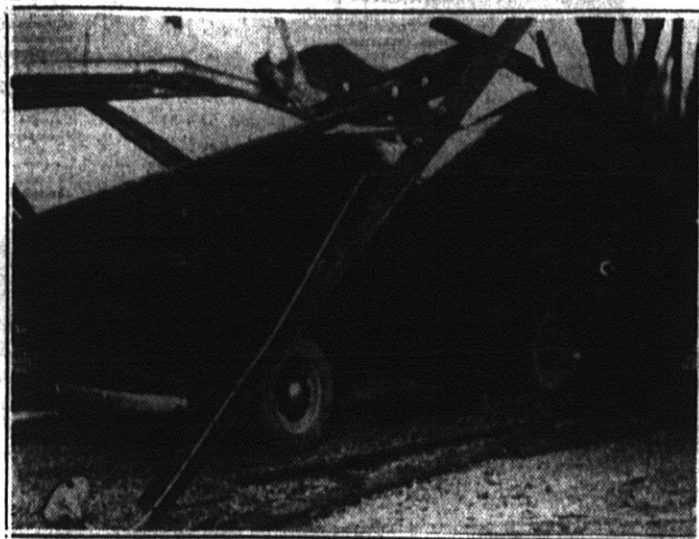

An air blade and part of a life boat from the tanker were washed ashore at Grand Haven Tuesday.

The fish tugs Richard H. and Indian sailed Monday morning from South Haven harbor. When the storm struck in the vicinity of the fish tugs, a crew of the South Haven coast guard station sailed to their aid.

However, it was feared the coast guard crew had been lost when it failed to return to port but it arrived safely in Chicago Tuesday night.

Thus far, no bodies have been seen floating in turbulent Lake Michigan or along the lake shore. Wreckage from the Indian was found about 4 p.m. Tuesday along the beach between Port Sheldon and the M-50 pumping station. The discovery was made by Robert Bontekoe, son of Capt. Charles Bontekoe, officer in charge of (See: Wreckage—Next Page)

NEW GRONINGEN BOY LOSES LIFE IN ROAD MISHAP

Bus of Zeeland Football Team Thought to Have Hit Cyclist

Assistant Coach, Driving,
Not Certain of What Happened

In a bus-bicycle accident which occurred Friday about 8:30 p.m. on West Main St., about one-fourth mile west of Zeeland, Gordon Jay Oudemolen, age 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oudemolen, residing on route 3, Holland, at New Groningen, died of injuries.

Although it had not been definitely determined, it was presumed that a school bus, driven by Curtis B. Merritt, 26, 62 Cherry St., Zeeland, ran over the youth, fracturing his skull and arm.

Oudemolen died shortly after entering the Thomas G. Huizinga hospital in Zeeland where he was taken in an ambulance.

The school bus was returning from Fennville with the Zeeland high school football team which had defeated Fennville in an afternoon game. Merritt is assistant coach at Zeeland high school.

According to Dr. Winter and Deputy Van Etta, Oudemolen had been riding his bicycle in an easterly direction along West Main St. near Zeeland.

Due to the darkness, Merritt told officers, he was not certain what happened. He said he first saw the youth lying over the edge of the pavement after he had apparently fallen off his bicycle.

Merritt said he didn't know whether the bus ran over the boy although he heard a noise. The youth was en route to Zeeland with his father's dinner and the crushed dinner bucket was found along the road.

His bicycle, with no marks of damage, was found lying on the gravel shoulder of the street. Deputy Van Etta said no marks were found on the school bus.

Deputy Sheriff Jacob Elenbaas of Zeeland also aided in the accident. Police Officer Lester De Free of Zeeland also was called to the scene of the accident.

The youth was a student of the eighth grade at the New Groningen school, it was reported.

Besides the parents, he is survived by three brothers, Stanley Floyd, Fred, Jr., and Wesley Ray; one sister, Mary Jane, all at home; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kolk of New Groningen and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Oudemolen; two great-grandmothers, Mrs. H. Gringhuis of Zeeland and Mrs. J. Heerspink of Holland.

Proof of Severity of Storm in This Area

Damage of from $10,000 to $15,000 resulted when the southwest corner of the Charles P. Limbert Co. (top picture) was blown off in Monday's wind storm. Part of the company's furniture stock was damaged when a section of the anti-fire sprinkler system was set off. High waves which covered the piers at Ottawa beach (bottom picture) emphasized the severity of the storm.

NUNICA HOLDUP HEARING HELD

Two Alleged Robbers Are Bound Over to Ottawa
Circuit Court

Grand Haven, Nov. 14 (Special)—Ray A. Valli, 32, and William Otto Robillard, 35, both of Muskegon, after an examination today before Justice George V. Hoffer on charges of robbery armed, were bound over to November term of circuit court to appear Nov. 18 at 2 p.m. for arraignment.

Bond of $5,000 in each case was not furnished. They are alleged to have held up the J. and J. service station, located one and one-half miles east of Nunica, on the early morning of Sept. 27, 1940, in which they obtained $9 and divided it with Izola Hein of Muskegon who was with the pair.

Robillard, in a statement to state police, admitted his part in the holdup and said he was the driver. He also admitted hiding the gun for Valli later that day and that later Valli obtained the gun and a second time brought it to Robillard for hiding. At the time of his arrest, the gun was in Robillard's garage, wrapped in a newspaper.

Detective Daniel Colburn and Police Officer Peter Rechlich, both of Muskegon, were called as witnesses and testified as to statements made by Robillard as to his part in the holdup. Valli has made no statement and denies any part in the crime although Robillard testified Valli was the man who entered the filling station armed with the gun.

James Strawbridge, proprietor of the filling station and June Perry, clerk, also identified Valli as the man who came in the station and demanded money from the till.

The judges for the contest will be named later. Mr. Vande Wege stated that it is not the elaborate decorations which count but the simple and effective ones which likely will attract the most consideration from the judges.

REALIZES GOAL OF NEW PLANT BEFORE DEATH

James De Young Was Ill at His Home Here for
Two Years

Funeral Rites Held This Thursday for Veteran
City Official

James De Young, 80, "father" of the board of public works, died at 1:50 a.m. Tuesday in his home, 85 West 10th St., following an illness during the past two years of heart complications.

He had been in a serious condition for the past week.

Mr. De Young died with the knowledge that the city's new power plant, once his dream, had been completed and placed in operation. Because of his failing health, city officials and his fellow workers in the board of public works feared that Mr. De Young would not live to see the plant in operation.

Begun Dec. 22, 1938, the plant was completed in June, 1940, and placed in operation several weeks later.

Common council had previously recognized Mr. De Young's long period of service as a city official by passing a resolution, upon recommendation of the works board, that the city's new power plant be named the "James De Young Power Plant."

Mr. De Young was born in Grand Rapids, March 8, 1860, to Cornelius and Johanna Pauline Newhouse De Young. He was married in 1910 in Holland to the former Miss Martha Van Landegend of Holland.

He held membership in Hope Reformed church.

From 1918 until February, 1939, Mr. De Young was associated with the Home Furnace Co. Throughout several years from time to time, he served as general manager and secretary-treasurer of the firm but in 1935 he resigned as general manager.

Mr. De Young continued as secretary-treasurer until February, 1939, when he retired from active business life. However, he retained his membership on the company's board of directors until his death.

Mr. De Young began his career of 46 years as a city official May 15, 1893, when he was appointed charter member of the first board of public works. Other members were C. J. De Roo, Rudolph Haberman, Johannes Dylema and John Kramer.

He continued as a member of the board until December, 1897. From 1896 through 1898, he served as mayor of Holland. On Jan. 1, 1898, the veteran city official was appointed superintendent of the board of public works and held that post until Sept. 1, 1910.

His ability in public works affairs attracted the attention of the Consumers Power Co. with which he became affiliated and made his home in Owosso. During his residence there, he served that city as commissioner and mayor.

Upon his return to Holland in 1920, he was almost immediately appointed to the works board to fill a vacancy then existing on the board. He continued to serve on the board since that time, having been reelected to office in 1923, 1928, 1933 and 1938. His present term of office did not expire until 1943.

Mr. De Young served as president of the board of public works for the past 12 years. It was Mr. De Young who appeared before council in August, 1938, to report that something must be done about the old Fifth St. power plant. He suggested repairs to the old plant but strongly recommended the construction of an entirely new plant.

Mr. De Young is survived by the widow, Mrs. Martha De Young; two sons, James of Detroit and Melbourne of New Baltimore, Mich.; eight grandchildren, including four sons and two daughters of Melbourne, one son of James and one son, John Schultz, who was the son of Mrs. Alma Schultz, a daughter of Mr. De Young who died about three years ago in Cleveland, O.

Private funeral services will be this Thursday at 1:30 p.m. from the home and at 2 p.m. from the Hope Reformed church with the Rev. Marion de Velder, pastor, officiating. Mayor Henry Geerlings will assist in officiating at the services.

Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery. Pall bearers will include Abe Smeenge, Abe Nauta, Charles Vos John Knoll, K. Bulthuis and C. D. Knoll.

A delegation from the Home Furnace Co. will attend the services in a body as will members of the board of public works and its office force. Mayor Geerlings has invited aldermen to attend the services.

QUESTIONNAIRES SENT
Registrants with draft numbers from 97 to 106, inclusive, were mailed questionnaires today by the local selective service board. Those with numbers from 87 to 96, inclusive, were mailed questionnaires Wednesday.

Tappan and Meyers
Co-Captains

Coaches Milton Hinga and Jack Schouten were at the Parker inn, Albion, today meeting with other MIAA coaches and drawing up the 1941 football schedule as the last business on this year's gridiron docket is finished.

The Hope team met at the college late yesterday afternoon and elected Bill Tappan of Holland and Ray Meyers, formerly of G. R. Lee high, co-captains for next year. George Heneveld was elected most valuable man on the squad. He succeeds Bob Powers who last year shared MIAA honors with Danny Wood of Kalamazoo. The Randall C. Bosch gold football for the player displaying the best spirit was awarded Bill Hakken, a junior, and former G. R. Central star. This honor is usually reserved for seniors.

Recommendations for an all-MIAA team were also made and were presented at the conference meeting today to De Gay Ernst, judge advocate, who will announce the results later. Each team draws up an honor team using any player except its own.

ASK PROGRAM FOR CITY YOUTH

In a report of the Holland Youth Council's activities during the past year, presented Tuesday night at the meeting of the Holland Council of Social Agencies in the city hall, suggestions for a local youth program were made. In the absence of Russell Welch, youth council president, M. P. Russell presented the report.

"Studies of Holland youth reveal that in spite of the good work of our many churches and other organizations, we do have many cases of delinquency in all of its degrees, and we also have maladjusted children, young people and adults," Mr. Russell stated.

Among recommended activities were girls and boys after school clubs; badminton clubs; basketball leagues; harmonica, hobby, fly casting, and hiking clubs; gymnasium classes; dramatic, camera, table tennis and art clubs; archery instruction; boxing and volleyball clubs; sewing classes; indoor baseball leagues.

Mrs. E. V. Hartman was named chairman of the Holland Council of Social Agencies, succeeding the Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp who, having served two terms, did not wish to continue in the office. The council voted him thanks for his services.

Other officers named were George Schulling, vice-chairman; Miss Carolyn Hawes, secretary; and Harry Kramer, treasurer. Mr. Hinkamp, John A. Swets and C. C. Wood were elected new members of the executive committee.

Holland's Celebration on Nov. 11, 1918

The 22nd annual observance of the signing of the armistice, ending World war I, brought back memories to many Holland citizens who participated in the impromptu parade which was held on that momentous day of Nov. 11, 1918. The above picture was taken as the parade continued along Eighth St. In the lead were (left to right) Mrs. Henry Van Tubbergen, Henry Van Dyke (Uncle Sam), Mrs. Claude Dunnwin and Andrew Stokette. Those who remember the celebration which marked the end of the war recalled that a program was held afterwards in Centennial park at which the late G. J. Diekema was principal speaker.

Not Like Nazi 'Elections'

"Elections in this country are more civilized than those we have seen in Germany," Paul Gottwald and Paul Fried, Austrian students at Hope college, said Friday. In commenting on the German elections, they pointed out that the last "proper" election was held in 1932 before Hitler came into power, and that since then the plebs have been a "one-sided story."

They also described the demonstrations put on by German candidates prior to the Nazi regime when crowds paraded through the streets with bands and lighted torches while their opponents were stoned, jeered and sometimes shot at the procession, thus starting what the newspapers called "street fights." Gottwald stated that while campaigns in this country were also heated,
"throwing eggs is better than tossing hand grenades."

Fried commented on the fact that there was no assurance of secrecy in voting over there today.
Ballots of those under suspicion are sometimes marked. In describing the ballots, they said the printers left a large space for a "yes vote" and a very small space for a "no vote."

They explained that Hitler seems to get such overwhelming majorities by depriving all Jews.

those of Jewish descent and those in concentration camps who might vote against the government of the right to vote. The two said they believed the elections were not always "straight", but that the Nazis is juggled the figures to serve their own ends, never letting the people know the real story other than the large percentages printed in the newspapers. By eliminating all possible "no votes" and printing his own results, Hitler succeeds in getting 90 to 95 per cent of the vote.

They explained that in Germany today the government acts first, and then asks the consent of the people in an election. Hitler nominates a group of candidates and the people are asked, "Do you agree?" Fried said he saw Hitler at Wiesbaden at one time when he was campaigning before his rise to power.

WRECKAGE

The Holland station, and Dick Horn, Robert Bontekoe and Horn are surfmen at the Grand Haven coast guard station.

Two life jackets, badly torn but easily identified as coming from the Indian, were found along the beach.

The pilot house from the fish tug had been driven by the high waves some distance into Pigeon creek. The wreckage was identified as coming from the Indian by the manufacturer's name plate.

The boat had been built by the Burgher Boat Co. of Manitowoc, Wis. The name plate was found on the pilot house wreckage.

Captain Bontekoe reported that additional wreckage was found along the lake shore between Port Sheldon and the M-50 pumping station of the Grand Rapids water works. A considerable amount of refuse and wreckage was seen floating northward but the under-tow was holding it away from shore.

Local guardsmen, ordered Monday night to search for the missing craft, had launched the life-boat and were sailing through the channel when orders were received to return to the station and take up patrol duty along the shore between Holland and Saugatuck.
They continued their patrol duty throughout the night and Tuesday forenoon but in the afternoon shifted their search to the north side of the channel.

Reports of additional damage caused by the storm Monday and Tuesday were received today.

Cottages along Lake Michigan at Macatawa park were reported to be covered with ice, indicating that the spray from the lake travelled considerable distance inland. Numerous trees are down but extent of the damage in that vicinity cannot be learned as trees across the road prevent driving of cars into the park.

Two trees were partially blown over in the yard of Ernest C.
Brooks, 659 State St. Mr. Brooks reported that an attempt will be made to save at least one of the two trees.

longing to Henry Rowan, were destroyed.

Harry Bang, route 4, Holland, was turned upside down but none of the chickens inside were killed.

Holland included those of John Petroe, Fred Geerlings, John Elferink and Albert Daining.

ed blown off the roof on the west side of the Macatawa Bay Yacht club building.

result of the storm which, accordplant's core room was broken off level with the roof of the building.

John Van Bragt, local park superintendent, reported here that between 40 and 50 trees had been blown down or uprooted throughout the city. Some of the trees, he reported, fell across homes, porches and chimneys, inflicting extensive damage.

The four wings of the windmill at Windmill park were blown away. Several tables at Kollen park were overturned and broken.

Van Bragt reported he and a crew of men worked until after 10 p.m. Monday to clear away the trees.

The board of public works reported having received more than 100 trouble calls.

Uprooted trees did most of the damage to the street lighting system. Several light poles also were broken off on East Eighth St., Waverly road, East 24th St., beyond the city limits, Graafschap and throughout the city.

A heavy power line running to the north side was given temporary support in the vicinity of the Black River bridge to prevent it from falling. Public works employees were prevented from entering the northwest side of Wauka-zoo to make repairs Monday night because trees were across the road.

They had to borrow a saw to cut their exit as a tree fell across the road after the truck had passed by.

Approximately half the windows in the skylight at the old Fifth St. electric generating station were broken by the wind. The loss was covered by insurance.

The tile roof of the 28th St.
water pumping station was torn loose and damaged.

Local police said two minor automobile accidents occurred during Monday afternoon's storm.

Part of the plant of the Smith Chemical Co., located north of Holland, was picked up and carried some distance, finally being deposited on the Pere Marquette tracks. The damage was estimated at $500.

A section of the roof on the southwest corner of the factory of the Charles P. Lambert Co., Seventh St. and Columbia Ave., about 40 by 40 feet, was torn away. The walls to the building also were damaged as bricks fell to nearby sidewalk and railroad tracks.

The company reported its loss would amount to between $10,000 and $15,000. When the roof blew away, the sprinkling system in one section of the factory "let go," damaging a stock of furniture.

Part of the roof of the Swift Ice Cream Co., 147 East Sixth St., was blown away and other parts of the roof were torn loose. A crew of men labored furiously about 5 p.m. Monday to prevent other sections of the roof from blowing away.

Despite added precautions, a large plate glass at the Dutch Novelty Co., 85 River Ave., was blown in about 4:45 p.m. Monday.
Several piles of lumber, located across the street from the factory, were blown down "like straw piles."

A large wooden fence, extending along the property of the Old Ottawa Furniture Co. on north River Ave., was levelled.

The garage at the home of Homer Doane, 391 West 19th St., was demolished.

falling glass about 5 p.m. Monday when one of the large plate glass windows at the James A.
Brouwer Co. store, 212 River Ave.,

JUNIOR CLOSES RECORD SEASON AS DUTCH LOSE

Hope Beaten Ten to Six as Aerials Fail to Connect

All in one Friday night at Riverview park by a score of 10-6, Grand Rapids Junior college took its first victory over Hope college since Coach Bud Hinga became coach, won over its third MIAA opponent this season and closed its 1940 schedule without a loss.

It also was Hope's last game. Outweighed, Hope took to the air, but completed only three out of 18 attempts. Junior completed one out of four and intercepted one. Hope counted six first downs in the first half and ended up with eight while Junior, with four in the first half, ended up with ten.

During halves, Ernest Hartman representing the Holland American Legion post presented medals to Capt. George Heneveld, Bob Van Dyk, Phil Waalkes, Mary Den Herder and Art Kronmeyer of Holland and Bob Hudson, Bob Montgomery and Bob Idema of Grand Rapids, eight senior members of the local squad.

Hope began pass attempts immediately after the opening whistle, but it was not until Art Timmer after a kick out to the Jaycee 39-yard line took around right end down to the nine, that things began getting serious. Bob Idema also went around right and also cut back coming down to the six. Don De Fouw also got away around right, but fumbled. Hoffmann of Grand Rapids recovered and the Dutch had again missed a likely chance to score.

Junior was backed up to its own four in the second period after a 15-yard penalty but gradually managed to work itself out, resting on its own 26 at the half.

A determined drive when they first got the ball in the third quarter brought the winners down as far as Hope's six-yard stripe. Mike Creel, standing on his 23, successfully dropped a field goal for the first three points.

Timmer with several much-needed short gains late in third quarter, and Idema with a 21-yard gain, set the stage for Hope's lone touchdown. On the first play of the fourth, Timmer took the ball on a reverse from Montgomery on the Jaycee 21 and evaded three Jaycee tacklers in giving Hope a 3-3 margin. Montgomery missed the kick which is only the second he has missed in two years in that department at Hope.

The visitors' golden opportunity came late in the fourth when Kamp recovered De Fouw's blocked punt deep in Hope territory. Charon brought the ball down to the three, and Creel down to the one before Charon went over the right side of the line for the winning margin. Creel's drop kick was good.

Lineups:

TANK'S CRUDE OIL COVERS HIGHWAY

Grand Haven, Nov. 14—US-31, from a point six miles south of Grand Haven through Ferrysburg received a coating of crude oil last Thursday when the valve on the tank of the transport became open in some manner.

William Wheeler of the Wheeler police patrol noticed the oil dripping from the truck and upon stopping the vehicle, suggested to the driver he should turn off the valve.

Mr. Wheeler then notified city police, and road commission officials were called with the result that a few minutes after 4 a.m. a sanding crew was on the job, covering the film. The deposit of oil was particularly large and hazardous at the West Olive curve where it would menace speeding cars and at the turn from Beech Tree on to Fulton near the Eagle-Ottawa plant. The oil truck was reported to be owned by the Rumsey company. Much oil dripped on road shoulder, destroying grass road commission officials said. No estimate was obtained of the number of gallons of oil wasted and the name of the truck driver was not obtained.

TWO CARS WRECKED
EAST OF HOLLAND

Two automobiles were involved in an accident about 10:40 p.m. last Thursday on M-21 just east of Holland, when an oil transport truck pulled out onto the highway.

The cars were driven by Herman Rummelt, 24, 378 Central Ave., and Gerald McFall, 17, route 4, Holland. Driver of the oil truck which was owned by the Holland Oil Transport Co. was Ray Brower of Holland.

Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta said he was informed the oil truck pulled onto the highway from the north side in a westerly direction. Brower apparently did not know of the resulting accident as he did not stop, Van Etta said.

Rummelt who was driving west on the highway was forced to apply his brakes suddenly and McFall's car which was following crashed into the rear of Rummelt's vehicle. The force of the impact crushed Rummelt's car between the oil truck and McFall's car.

McFall suffered a bump on his head when he struck the windshield, breaking it. Lester Bell, 17, route 4, Holland, was listed as a witness. Mrs. Judith Rummelt was riding in the car with her husband.

TELLS CLUB OF REFORMATORY

Edward Good, deputy warden of Ionia Reformatory, addressed the Holland Rotary club last Thursday noon in the Warm Friend tavern on the penal system at Ionia.

Instead of using the brutal and "knock-down-and-drag-out," methods of a few years back, penal institutions are now trying to rehabilitate men and teach them through respect rather than fear, he stated. Of the great many men paroled from Ionia in the past 16 months, 80 per cent of them have good reports, he said in attempting to prove the worth of the new system.

Another fact which Mr. Good referred to and which speaks well of Ionia reformatory is the fact that it established a record of losing no men over a 13 month period ending at 2:30 p.m. November 3. This is the first time in the history of a Michigan reformatory or of any reformatory in the country, that 13 months has passed without a break.

Ionia is second in size of the Michigan reformatory, he said and now has a population of 1,277, most of the inmates serving terms for first or minor offenses. Some have been returned to the institution as many as three times, and 12 are doing life terms. Jackson is the largest institution of its kind in the state with a population of 5,400 and acts as a clearing house, Good pointed out. It has enough inmates, he added, to fill three good-sized prisons.

The Ionia institution is different from both Jackson and Marquette's, he explained, because it has a younger group and is more sympathetic toward it. Many fine boys finally arrive there, he said, some because their homes have been broken and some because they cannot find employment. As with all inmates, "you've got to take them apart and find out what's the matter with them." The main thing and the best way in the institution to keep the men out of trouble is to keep their hands and minds busy, he said.

BOARD OFFERS DATA ON DRAFT

As the Holland draft board continued sending questionnaires to registrants, it pointed out today that the potential draftees have five days in which to fill out and return the forms. Failure to return them within five days is punishable by imprisonment and fines.

Any registrant who seeks a deferred classification may, within five days, submit proper affidavits to the local board. They may be submitted in the space provided in his questionnaire or submit them separately.

Any other qualified person seeking deferred classification for the registrant will use form 42 (claim for deferred classification by dependent, employer or other person) or other applicable forms available at the office of the local board.

Failure of the registrant or any other person concerned to exercise any right or privilege within the time authorized by the selective service regulations or within an extension of time granted by the local board may constitute a waiver of such right or privilege.

Vaude Vandenberg, chairman of the board, pointed out that mailing a questionnaire to the registrant is notice that the process of "classification and selection" with regard to that registrant has begun.

The local board keeps in its office a classification record which contains the data each action is taken by the board or the board of appeal concerning each registrant. The classification record is open to inspection by the public during the board's business hours and any registrant may learn there in which class he has been placed.

Either the mailing of a notice or the entry in the classification record of the data the notice was mailed shall constitute notice to the registrant and all concerned. This is true whether or not the mailed notice is actually received by the person to whom it is addressed.

FOUR OF GRAND RAPIDS FAMILY DEAD IN CRASH

Five G.H. Residents on Way Home From Hunt Are Injured

Grand Rapids, Nov. 14 — Four members of one family were killed and six other persons injured in a two-car collision near here Sunday night.

The dead were Henry Deuling, 28, and three children, Annette, 1, Francis, four months, and Kenneth, 2, all of Grand Rapids.

Deuling's wife, Evelyn, 25, was seriously injured.

Cletus Trinker, 27, route 1, driver of the other car, James Williams, 18, Eugene Wolfe, 35, and Albert Millman, 32, route 1, and his 34-year-old brother, Theodore, route 1, all of Grand Haven, were hurt.

Injuries were listed as follows: Mrs. Deuling—Fractured leg, head and internal injuries, lacerations, shock.

Williams—Head injuries, severe lacerations, shock.

Trinker and the Millmans—Cuts and bruises.

Kenneth Deuling died in St. Mary's hospital on Monday. The others were dead on arrival at the hospital. St. Mary's attendants Monday reported no improvement in Williams and Wolfe, but stated the condition of Theodore Millman was favorable.

The crash occurred when Trinker, driving west of Hachmuth road, failed to come to a stop at Alpine road, two miles northwest of here. Deputy Sheriff Arnold Pigorsch said Trinker told him.

The Trinker car crashed broadside into the Duelling car. The impact threw the three Duelling children and Mrs. Duelling from the vehicle and Trinker stated that all of the occupants of his car also were thrown to the pavement.

When deputies from the sheriff's office arrived they moved the Duelling automobile and found Annette Duelling crushed to death beneath it.

Trinker and his party were returning home after a day of hunting north of Greenville, the officers were advised, and drove across Hachmuth road from Comstock park to take a short route home. It was the first time he had driven the route, he asserted, and he added that he did not see the stop sign at the intersection.

According to Trinker, Deputy Pigorsch stated he was driving between 30 and 35 miles an hour and Duelling was traveling south on Alpine road at a speed of approximately 40 miles an hour.

Two shotguns and a purse were stolen from the automobiles. Sheriff Hugh M. Blacklock reported. He said clues had been obtained in the theft.

It appeared likely that an inquest would be called, but a date for the hearing will not be set until recovery of the injured persons.

The tragedy increased to 41 the number of persons who have met death in traffic accidents in Kent county outside the city this year.

SIX INJURED IN ACCIDENT HERE

Six persons suffered minor injuries in a collision of automobiles driven by Peter Ver Schure, 32, 55 East 21st St., and Hilda De Feyter, 26, 53 West Second St., at 13th St. and Columbia Ave. Friday at 6:45 p.m.

An automobile, driven by Al Lamberts, and an oil truck, whose driver was not learned, were involved in a crash at Seventh St. and Columbia Ave. Friday night.

Two cars sideswiped each other on US-31, two miles south of Holland, about 11 p.m. Friday, according to police.

Drivers of the cars were Russell Vrieling, 21, 404 College Ave., and Edward B. Kellogg, 36, 174 River Ave. Vrieling was driving south on US-31 and Kellogg was driving in a northerly direction.

Vrieling told police that he was driving on his side of the road and that Kellogg's car sideswiped his.

Kellogg, in his report to police, said Vrieling was driving on the wrong side of the road and crowded him off the highway. He claimed that Vrieling continued down the road for a half-mile, then turned off a driveway and switched off the car lights.

Police listed Len Woltman of Saugatuck and Luke Kuna, 227 Pine Ave., as witnesses.

But It's True

Almost 100 years ago the country—from Boston to Philadelphia—was more than upset about a group of radicals who believed that bathing in tubs was a way of gaining health. Majority of opinion believed that getting wet during the winter months was a sure way of getting pneumonia. Further, the habit was considered indecent, as a bath was necessarily entirely disrobed. Philadelphia also enacted legislation, but not as drastically. It decreed that people could not bathe in tubs between December and March.

Patriotic Program Given at Meeting of WCTU

The monthly meeting of the local unit of the Woman's Christian Temperance union held Friday afternoon in the home of the Misses Henrietta and Nellie Zwemer was of a decided patriotic character. Mr. Carl Dressel presided and Mrs. E. J. Blekkink acted as devotional leader, reading from the book of Proverbs.

Mrs. Dressel introduced Willard Wichers who gave a talk on behalf of the Red Cross. He explained the extensive program of the Red Cross, its speedy action in the case of major disasters, its national safety drives, its educational plans and the additional work for the boys in army camps assisting in communications between boys and their homes, the building up of the bloodbanks and the instruction in the making of surgical dressings and clothing for the people in devastated areas. In a strong appeal for support.

Mrs. Margaret Markham in charge of the day's program conducted a brief Armistice day service. She spoke of the great importance of the Christian homes and Christian families as the backbone of the nations, quoting a poem by Grace Noll Crowell. Mrs. Markham called up on the group to salute the American flag. The salute was followed by the singing of "America" with Mrs. William Valkema at the piano.

Mrs. Markham introduced the speaker, Mrs. O. K. Marshall, district president and editor of the Michigan Union. Mrs. Marshall presented the district vice president, Mrs. Snyder of the Highland Park union of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Marshall's address included highlights of the National convention held in August in the Stevens hotel in Chicago and she gave excerpts of the speeches given at the state convention this fall in Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. Marshall gave some startling statistics about the liquor traffic which is steadily on the increase among the people of this nation. She enlarged upon the special program of the WCTU among youth with its slogan "The child in the midst". The necessity of being well informed in every department of the work was emphasized.

In closing the speaker gave first the challenge to Protestant churches to "clean house." She quoted Alonzo Baker, secretary of the Race Betterment Foundation, that "of the 45,000,000 Protestants in the United States, 10,000,000 or 15,000,000 drink some form of liquor regularly." She added, "We must convince the Protestants who drink to stop their drinking or else they must cease to be members of the church. The Gibraltar of drinking in the United States today is the social drinker. He is a greater menace than the brewer or distiller. If the Protestant churches would clean their own houses, we could revolutionize the whole social setup of the United States. Such action would probably reduce the army of the Prohibitionists to a very small number."

The challenge made by Mrs. Dora Whitney, state president, was the last excerpt given by Mrs. Marshall. She quoted "How Thankful we should be that God will let us work in this great cause. We should this year lay aside any difference of opinion, misgivings and discouragement and give ourselves to assume the responsibility of every member of the WCTU."

The meeting closed with the WCTU benediction. The social hour was in charge of Mrs. F. Jonkman and Mrs. H. Kleis. Mrs. J. W. Visscher of Minneapolis, Minn., attended the meeting. She is a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Albertus Pieters. She is listed as an active member of the local union and keeps in close contact with its activities.

LOCAL MAN DOES HIS BIT FOR RED CROSS

Willingness of Holland citizens in all walks of life to support the American Red Cross in its humanitarian activities was demonstrated in an incident which occurred on River Ave. the past week. As Mrs. J. E. Telling, Otawa county roll call chairman hurried down the street, her arms filled with American flags, roll call material, and a box containing 1,000 Red Cross buttons, the box slipped from her grasp, and the small buttons were scattered right and left, rolling under cars into the street.

A poorly dressed man hurried to her rescue, saying, as he completed the task of picking up approximately 1,000 pins: "Time was when I could give to the Red Cross. Now that I'm on my uppers, this is the least that I can do."

The committee in charge of the drive for membership getting under way today, urges the support of the Red Cross organization, each according to his ability.

FIRST PAY GOES TO HOLLANDERS IN SOUTH CAMP

Draftees Are Expected to Increase Strength of Local Unit

By Osborne R. Vos
Camp Beauregard, Alexandria, La.—Nov. 7 proved to be a happy day in camp as all the men of Holland's unit drew their first pay. The base pay for a private with less than four months' service is $21 per month while a private with four months and over receives $30. Each man has a chance to make a specialist rating for which he draws more money according to his class. However, a company is limited as to its number of specialists.

A total of $30,000 dollars was paid out by the division finance officer Wednesday and an additional $50,000 was paid Thursday and we are led to believe that the whole division is not yet paid.

A sum of $1,500 dollars alone was paid to company D for the first 16 days of mobilization in the army. The payroll for the total month will probably double this amount.

It has been rumored that the strength of company D will go to 208 men which will be filled by draftees. The strength now is 78 men and three officers. Approximately six officers also will be added.

Some 1,500 Garand rifles have been delivered to the 32nd division. A total of 9,165 is on order and will arrive shortly.

Many men are receiving boxes of candy, cake and many are receiving letters but some are disappointed because they are receiving no news from home and Holland.

Word has been received from the divisional recreation officer that the war department has allocated a tidy sum of money for athletic such as football, baseball, softball, volleyball, basketball, horseshoe or whatever games the men would desire to play.

Corp. Jim McCormick is attending school in the mornings in regard to his position as company clerk, for advanced knowledge in this field.

Sgt. Homer Lokker and Corp. Ver Heij are attending a school on new and more advanced methods of machine gunnery and the handling of the gun. They are also training men of the rifle companies on machine gun work as all rifle companies will receive machine guns and trench mortars for more fire power and more combat effectiveness of a unit.

Sgt. Jack McCormick has also been attending a school on trench mortars for which he is instructing various platoons of the first battalion on the use and mechanical functioning on the mortar. He has been using an old 60-m mortar dating back to the World war as an instruction piece. The new 81-m guns are due here shortly.

Church services are held Sunday mornings in which all attend except those who prefer to go to the city to attend church.

This weight is more than twice that of the present largest swing bridge in America.

Vander Meulen Addresses VFW Armistice Banquet

The annual Armistice Day banquet of the VFW post and auxiliary was held Monday evening in the tea room of the Woman's Literary club with about 175 present including the Spanish American war veterans and their wives who were special guests.

Activities opened with the advance of colors followed by salute to the flag and the Lord's prayer led by the auxiliary chaplain, Marie Roos. Daughters of the veterans served as waitresses.

Following the dinner Commander Watson Lundie introduced the toastmaster, Richard Martin. Mrs. Harry Young sang two solos. Elaine Bielefeld, Joanne Vander Volde and Joyce Timmer gave a choral reading. Juanita Coleman entertained with a baton tap dance and Andrew Berkompas gave two accordion solos. A comedy dance was given by Arla Parsons.

In giving the Armistice Day address, Cornelius Vander Meulen, local attorney, contrasted the Armistice day of 22 years ago and the Armistice day today.

"Twenty-two years ago was perhaps the most joyous day in the history of the world because the war had ceased," he said. "In America it was a particularly joyful day because it was a war to end all wars and the democracy was victorious."

"Armistice Day today was marked by no particular demonstration of joy because the democracies again are in peril of existence," the speaker said. He sketched conditions in England and France and raised the question, "Has Democracy failed?"

"Democracy has failed to abolish war," Mr. Vander Meulen stated. "It has failed to make the world safe for democratic principles." The second question he raised was whether democracy was doomed. He quoted an interview with Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy which had appeared in Monday's newspapers in which the ambassador seemed to think that democracy was doomed in England and replaced with national socialism. He raised the question of whether the United States could withstand the strain of economic conditions succeeding the war because of the loss of foreign trade.

Mr. Vander Meulen attempted to sketch conditions essential for the permanency of democracy. He said one requisite was the continued faith in individualism and pointed out that with all their failings history has showed that the progress of the world has been dependent on men's freedom.

The second requirement, the speaker listed, is an education system adapted to modern conditions. The third he listed was protection of democracy against self, showing that in the past the democracies had perished because some majority had become so absolute that the rights of the minorities and individuals had been suppressed.

The program closed with the group singing "God Bless America" after which taps were sounded.

Florence Tiesenga was general chairman for the auxiliary and Shud Althuis for the post. The room and tables were appropriately decorated for the occasion.

WORKMEN FLEE WHEN BUILDING IS DEMOLISHED

Two Hurt, One Seriously, As Gale Levels New Structure

A sudden whirlwind that sprang up Tuesday at 1:30 p.m., destroyed a virtually-completed $15,000 garage at the Arie De Visser junk yard on the Zealand road and injured Henry De Visser, 23, and Gordon Korstange, 28, workmen.

About 20 men were reported to have been inside the building when the wind sent it crashing to the ground, but they were said to have escaped.

De Visser was outside the building. Korstange suffered a small laceration on a finger and one of his legs. He was released upon receiving treatment at the hospital.

De Visser apparently was rendered unconscious. "The roof of the garage ballooned like a tent and then the walls fell in," Kenneth Park, Grand Rapids, said. Park, who was to have been a mechanic in the garage, was one of the men to escape as the building crashed.

The garage—60 by 80 feet—was completed except for work on the offices and installation of the furnace. Fire, but no wind insurance was carried on the structure.

The building was of brick, steel and concrete block construction. Arie De Visser said he found his brother, Henry, lying about the debris on the north side of the building and with the aid of five other workers he carried his brother into a nearby building.

Len Kootstra, an employee there, told Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta that the building appeared to shake all over before it fell in.

Part of the roof was tossed against the front door of the other De Visser building. Other portions of the roof were blown approximately 50 feet north of the building. Debris was scattered over a large territory.

Police officers and Deputy Sheriff Van Etta who were called to the scene of the wreckage made immediate arrangements to have the steel beams pulled to the ground as a safety measure to prevent anybody from being hurt, should they fall. A tow truck from a local garage was used to pull over the beams.

TWO KILLED IN STORM AT SL

Village Treasurer Hit by Falling Barn; Other Is Electrocuted

Spring Lake, Nov. 14 (Special)—Two north Ottawa residents met death in Monday's windstorm.

Harold George, 33, Spring Lake township, was burned to death when he walked into a fallen high tension circuit. He was trying to reach a farm barn caused by another wire. His father, Henry George, and a brother were burned trying to rescue him.

Mrs. Gladys Barr, 52, Spring Lake village treasurer, suffered a neck fracture shortly after 2 p.m. when the barn at the rear of her home on River St. collapsed and buried her beneath its wreckage.

Gerrit Klouw, who lives across the street from the Barr home, said he saw her go into the rear yard and close the chicken coop door. On her way back to the house she passed the barn as a strong southwest wind caught the roof and folded the entire structure.

Just before the fatal accident, a large tree blew down in the front yard of the Barr home, striking an electric wire and causing the kitchen clock to stop at 1:45 p.m.

Klouw, the first person to arrive at the death scene, assisted in removing Mrs. Barr's body from the ruins. Coroner W. B. Bloemendaal of Grand Haven was called. He rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Sergeant Earl E. Seerist and Trooper Sam Sineni, of the Michigan state police, were called.

Mrs. Barr's husband, Claude, died about 12 years ago.

She was born in Allendale township Aug. 4, 1888, and came to Spring Lake in 1912 where she since resided. She attended the Gospel hall in Grand Haven.

Mrs. Barr is survived by a daughter, Eleanor, who is a teacher in the Muskegon schools; a son, Robert, a student at Michigan State college, East Lansing; and the following brothers and sisters: Frank Stevens, Muskegon; Mrs. Thomas Rosema, Allendale; Carl Stevens, Walkon Lake; Mrs. Frank Sheridan, Jensen; Mrs. Herbert Kendall, Los Angeles, Calif.; Don Stevens, Allendale; Mrs. Fred Hovhing, Grandville; Charles Stevens, Marne; and Lyle Stevens, Allendale.

George, 33, route 2, Spring Lake, was burned to death about 7:15 p.m. Monday when he came in contact with a Consumers Power Co. high tension wire which had fallen across the driveway at the home of his father, Henry George, two miles east of Spring Lake. The wire was blown down by the severe wind and sparks from the wire ignited the grass. George walked into the wire when he went out to investigate.

His right foot was burned off at the ankle. Sergeant Seerist who investigated, picked up his right shoe which contained his right foot. His left leg was completely burned off below the knee. The rest of his body was completely burned.

The Spring Lake fire department was called and poured chemicals on the grass fire. The body was removed to the Ringold Funeral home.

George's father in attempting to rescue his son, was thrown to the ground from contact with the son's body. He was rescued by Seerist.
