HEAD OF BOARD PROMISES FULL AIRING OF FEES

Says Parking Charges at Local Parks Would Be
Discrimination

Assurance Given in Letter to C-C Secretary of Grand Haven

Grand Haven, Nov. 19 (Special)—No immediate action on the proposal to charge a 25-cent admission for motor cars entering state parks at Grand Haven and Holland is contemplated. According to a letter received by William L. Stribley of the Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce from J. P. Rahilly of Newbury, chairman of the state conservation commission which discussed the idea at its last meeting.

Mr. Rahilly said that if at any future time the conservation commission should deem it necessary to charge admission to the parks in order to continue the service the public expects, Grand Haven and Holland and other interests affected will be given an opportunity to present their case.

In his letter Mr. Rahilly said, "I stated I did not think that these two parks should be selected for the purpose as it would be discrimination in favor of other parks. I believe the majority of the commission will concur in this."

This word from the chairman of the commission, Mr. Stribley said, temporarily at least allays fears of Holland and Grand Haven that their parks will be subject to the admission experiment. The announcement of the proposal recently caused a storm of protest from city officials, chambers of commerce and tourist and resort interests in the two communities.

It was reported that the "parking fee" proposal would be discussed at the commission's January meeting.

His arraignment was held before Justice Clark in the absence from the city of Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith.

The board, through the secretary, assured the church that if the congregation would accept the support of a new missionary, Miss Holkeboer would represent Trinity church on the foreign field.

CHURCH'S ROLE IN PEACE PLANS IS POINTED OUT

No Civilization Survives
Demise of Religion,
Olert Says

Will Democracies Repeat
Error of Last Victory,
Muste Asks

An enthusiastic audience greeted Dr. Fred Olert of Detroit in Hope Memorial chapel Monday night and heard his impassioned discourse on the need of the church to meet present day problems. He voiced his belief in the force of the church because it was founded by God and headed by Jesus Christ. He deplored, however, the lack of purpose which seemed to him to be so marked in the church today.

Dr. Olert's address climaxed a day of meetings in Hope Memorial chapel sponsored by the Western Social conference of the classes of Holland, Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo. The conference which was held in the interests of a just and vital basis of world peace along Christian lines was under the auspices of the Committee of International Justice and Goodwill and the Committee on Social Welfare of the Reformed church.

"In wild waste and hot haste we are preparing for war and democracy's feeble flare is almost extinguished," Dr. Olert said. "We of the church must provide the resources of a dynamic and living faith and provide the insight into the nature and meaning of the church for today. We must also provide leadership of men and women who really know God and can create a sense of the interdependence of the human race because we are all children of God."

Dr. Olert stressed four areas of the activity of the church—the area of the human soul which is reached by the evangelistic message of the church, the area of missionary enterprise which goes out beyond the confines of the local state and nation, the area of religious education and the area of the collective life of mankind.

Three alternatives were presented as issues of the present war. The collapse of civilization, he stated, is not an impossibility in view of the fact that already 14 out of the 21 great civilizations of human history are gone. "No civilization has survived the demise of its religion," said Dr. Olert. The second alternative was the establishment of some sort of ism here in America. It might not be nazism, fascism or communism but would no doubt be a special American brand of totalitarianism. The third alternative was a great revival of Christianity and its counterpart, democracy.

Therefore, the ministers were urged to preach an evangelistic gospel, both individual and social for both are needed just as one needs two feet with which to walk. Dr. Olert closed with a plea for the boldness and courage of the old-time preacher who dared to look a man straight in the face and say, "You are damned!" and who made hell a great reality.

Dr. B. S. Abernethy, a young Baptist minister formerly of Columbia, Mo., and secretary of the Interdenominational Committee for a Just and Durable Peace, told what was being done by this committee, composed of 100 leading thinkers in the church today and headed by John F. Dulles, an outstanding authority on international law and jurisprudence. Long range peace objectives were presented as of great importance no matter what may be the outcome of this war.

Forty-two years ago this fall Dr. A. J. Muste, then a lad out of the eighth grade came to Hope college to be enrolled as a student in the "D" class. Monday afternoon the group which gathered in Hope Memorial chapel heard what seemed to be the most keen analysis of the entire war situation ever heard on the campus of Hope college.

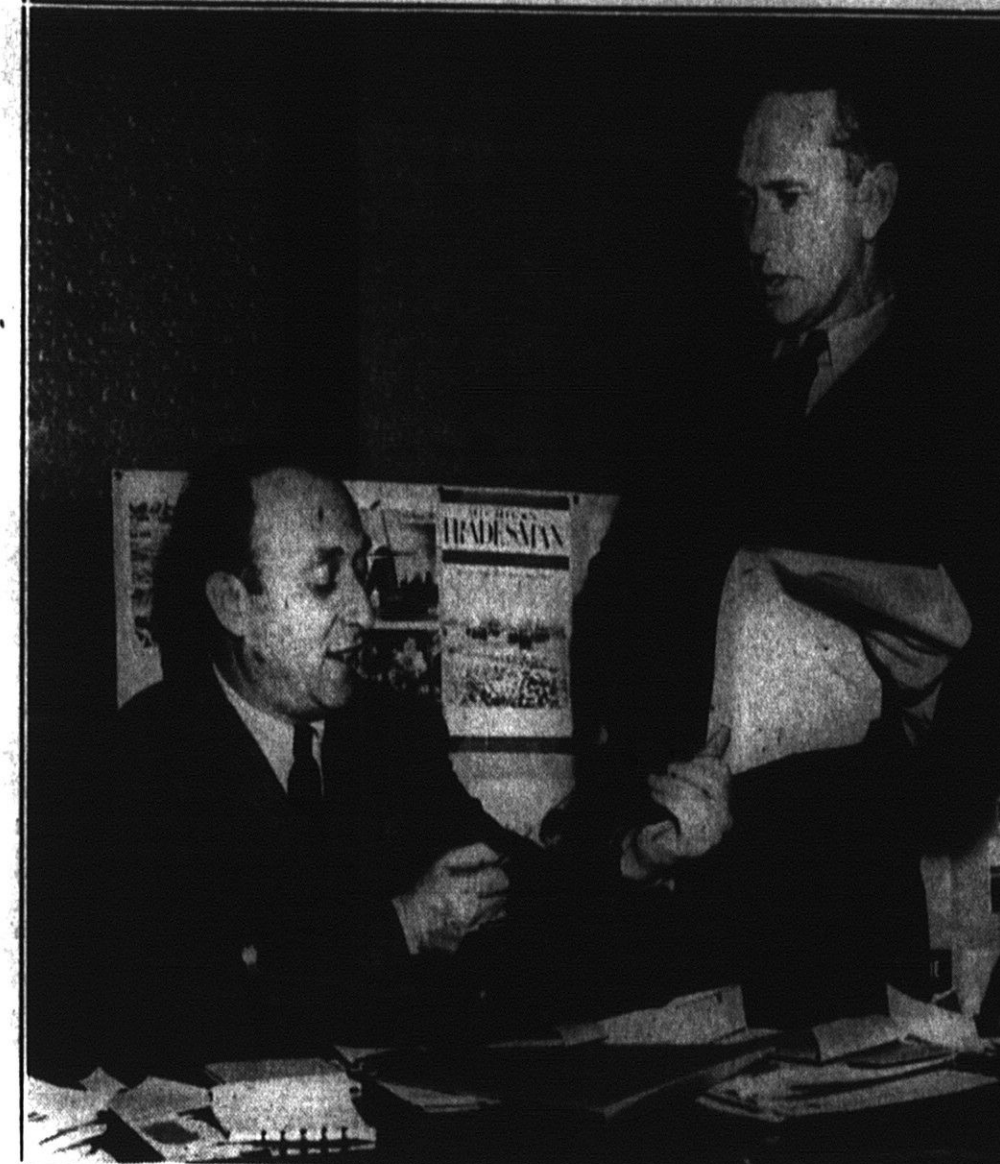

He pointed out that practically all wars have their origin in an economic situation which is brought about by the disparity in the distribution of goods which are produced on a larger scale now than ever before. War is the ultimate result when men try to put on the brakes of overproduction instead of making a more serious attempt to increase the consumption of goods produced among those who still do not have what is needed for comfortable living. The business of each nation trying to make itself economically independent of all the other nations of the world only leads to further complications which finally end in the debacle of war, he stated.

"If democracy wins this war, what proof have we that better use will be made of the so-called victory than in 1918?" Dr. Muste asked.

From the material standpoint there will be less to work with, the problems to be settled will be infinitely more difficult, the prospect of famine, pestilence, revolt and post-war depression is much greater, he added.

The only solution to this great (See: Peace Meet—Next Page.)

Movie About Holland May Be Made in Color

Movie Producer Joe Pasternak (left) looks over colored moving pictures of Holland's Tulip Time festival while S. H. Houtman, general festival manager, supplies the producer with authentic material on the city's famous floral fête.

Hollywood's forthcoming motion picture in which Holland's famous Tulip Time festival will form the background will be a million-dollar production with a possibility that an additional cost of $250,000 will be incurred should a final decision be made to film the picture in technicolor.

This was revealed Friday afternoon by Joe Pasternak, famous motion picture producer, when he visited Holland to gain authenticity and additional background of the festival for his picture.

Mr. Pasternak had originally planned for a "black and white" picture but he was so impressed with color possibilities after seeing color pictures of the blooming tulips that he ordered a copy made of the motion pictures which the Tulip Time bureau is now distributing throughout the country.

This film, along with other still photographs and information on the festival, will be sent to Hollywood and will be the determining factor in deciding whether the picture will be filmed in technicolor.

Because of other business engagements in the east, Mr. Pasternak who had planned to visit here earlier in the week did not arrive from Chicago until about 3:30 p.m. Friday. He was driven here by William G. Bishop, Chicago publicity man for MGM.

During his visit here, Henry Carley, local theater manager, was Pasternak's host. Warren A. Slee of Detroit, MGM publicity agent for Michigan, also was in Holland in connection with the producer's visit here.

Van Huisen, a former employee of the motor freight company, worked here last June and July. Suspicion was directed to him when the license number of a car seen in the vicinity on the night of the robbery was checked and found to belong to his brother who is in military service.

GOOZEN IS SUED BY ZEELAND TO RECOVER FUNDS

Sum of Not Over Twenty Thousand Sought in Shortage

Total of Missing Amount
Not Fully Determined
Thus Far

Grand Haven, Nov. 19 (Special)—On behalf of the city of Zeeland, City Attorney J. N. Clark filed suit by summons in circuit court Tuesday against Berend H. Goozen, 68, former Zeeland city treasurer, in which the city will endeavor to collect part of the money which Goozen admitted he embezzled while holding office.

Mr. Clark said the bill of particulars has not been completed but the amount listed in the summons is not to exceed $20,000. He said he had not received the auditor's report showing the total amount of shortage in Goozen's accounts.

Appearing in Ottawa circuit court Monday, Goozen was sentenced to serve from three to 10 years in Southern Michigan prison at Jackson on a charge of embezzlement. While he was specifically charged with embezzling $50, his shortages are expected to exceed $12,000 over a period of about 12 years.

Grand Haven, Nov. 19 (Special)—Berend H. Goozen, 68, 234 Central Ave., Zeeland, former Zeeland city treasurer, was sentenced in Ottawa circuit court here Monday by Judge Fred T. Miles to serve from three to 10 years in Southern Michigan prison near Jackson on a charge of embezzlement to which he pleaded guilty last Oct. 10.

Pointing out that a public office is a "public trust" and that a violation of that trust must be met with public disapproval and public punishment, Judge Miles sentenced Goozen "as a public official who has violated his trust."

"It would have been better for you and the public if your defaults had been discovered 12 years ago. This may serve as a suggestion of the unwisdom of continuing a city treasurer 'too long in office,'" Judge Miles told the defendant who was city treasurer for 26 years before his defeat last spring.

While Judge Miles read a prepared statement, Goozen followed a copy which had been presented to him because of his deafness.

Goozen was specifically charged with embezzling $50 of Zeeland funds on May 15, 1940, while serving as treasurer. The shortage, said to total $12,000, was revealed last Sept. 18 by Mayor Nicholas Frankena after Nick Tanis, Goozen's successor, had been unable to strike a balance in the city accounts. Goozen told the mayor he had been misappropriating funds for the past 12 years.

"You are unable to make restitution of the monies you have embezzled. You have been ambitious for your family but have never selfishly used this money for your personal pleasure. Aside from this offense, you have lived an exemplary life in the community," the court stated.

"On the other hand you have served as treasurer of your city some 26 years, during all of which time you have been trusted completely by your neighbors and the taxpayers of the community; for 12 years or about that time, you have been taking money from the public treasury and using it to speculate with. You have lost this money on worthless stocks which amounted to gambling. I do not know the exact amount that you have taken from the public funds but understand it amounts to about $12,000."

"You blame no one but yourself. You have asked for no sympathy or favors. You have pleaded guilty instead of making matters worse by perjury as many persons so accused do. You have not bombarded the judge with letters from friends nor have you sent people to the court to offer influence."

PEACE MEET

problem, according to Dr. Muste, is for the church today to sound again the message of the prophets of God and call upon the nations as well as individuals in the nation to repent and turn away from hatred and destruction and instead spend billions for the rehabilitation of those who have been deprived of the world's goods. The speaker pointed out the enormous disparity between the "haves" and "have-nots" nations before the outbreak of the present war.

The change in the relationship between employer and employee which has taken place in the last century was pointed out by Dr. Muste and he predicted the organization of capital not only but also of labor, agriculture, and consumer co-operatives which would serve to keep the balance in the economic situation.

At the close of his talk, he stressed the fact that the malady is not in the deepest sense economic but rather spiritual. "Men have lived for things and pleasure but they have proved to be husks that the swine do eat. Once again we must take seriously the word of God spoken first through Moses and later by Christ himself, 'Man cannot live by bread alone.' Men who preach Christ and are not indifferent to the social needs and who can speak with authority because they live by, in and for Him will be listened to again by a world which is so weary that it is on the point of saying, 'Thou hast said what we have said.'" he concluded.

Sophomores Win Nykerk Cup in Annual Contest

Hope college sophomore coeds "saved face" for their class Monday night by capturing Nykerk Cup contest laurels with the presentation of their program in the Woman's Literary club, thus compensating for the humiliating loss in the tug-of-war. They were also victorious in the contest last year when they were freshmen.

Harvey Koop presided at the program which was the seventh annual event of its kind since the origin of the contest by the late Dr. J. B. Nykerk in 1934. In that year girls of the rival classes challenged each other to a pull like that of the boys, but this contest in which classes vie for honors in music, oratory, and drama was substituted. Numerals of the winning class are engraved on the trophy each year. Freshmen classes have won the contest four times during its history.

Janet Arnold, in black-face make-up and the gay costume of a Negro mammy, sang "Shortnin' Bread" accompanied by Margaret Friesema for the sophomore musical number. A trio composed of Betty Mulder, Eunice Potter, and Elaine Scholten singing the popular "Till Reville" represented the freshman class. They were accompanied by Mabel Vander Linden.

"Our Eternal Beacon," an oration presenting youth's position today, was given by Freshman June Pyle. Helen Mae Heasley of the sophomore class chose as her subject "Women in War" and described the various ways in which the women of our country could aid in national defense.

"Curtain Going Up," presented by the sophomore class, was an entertaining one-act "play-within-a-play." Maxine Den Herder played the part of the harassed director; Ellen Jane Kooker that of the "prop" man; and Dorothy Wendt, Vivian Tardiff, Dorothy Wichers, and Dorothy DeValois were actors rehearsing their scenes. Informality prevailed as remarks appropriate to Hope college campus were injected into the script and some of the characters made their entrances from the audience.

Taking part in the freshman play, "Polly, Put the Kettle On," were Mayneen Jellema, Marie Steketee, Helene Minnema, Josephine Flitz, Barbara Tazelaar, Jane Smies and Arlyne Voorhorst. The play concerned elopements, neighborly quarrels and the colored maid's fear of ghosts.

Judges for the contest were Miss Elizabeth Ogden, Miss Metta J. Ross, and Mrs. Edward Donovan.

Student Council President Bill Tappan presented the Nykerk Cup to Lois Mary Hinkamp, sophomore chairman, at the close of the program. Betty Mulder served as chairman for the frosh. Jeanette Rylaarsdam was coach for the sophomores, and Florence Dykema supervised the freshman program.

Junior League Plans for Holiday Season

HINGAMEN BEAT ADRIAN, 6-0, IN FOGGY CONTEST

Dutch Outplay Heavier Foe in Final Game; DeFouw Is Scorer

On a fog-shrouded field, the Hope College Dutchmen closed the current season with a 6-0 victory over the tough, heavy but winless Adrian Bulldogs. Midway in the second period, a heavy fog descended upon Riverview field and for the remainder of the contest, the players, the pigskin, and the fans across the way were practically invisible to the grandstand spectators.

Six seniors hung up their moleskins for the final time—Capt. Bill Tappan, Bill Hakken, Marty Bekken, George Vander Hill, Ray VanOmme and Bud Morgan. These six men were presented medals at the intermission by the American legion.

In the statistics column, the Dutchmen piled up 13 first downs to 9 for the Bulldogs. In the passing department, the fog-thickened air was filled with futile aerials. The Hollanders tossed 9 passes and connected for one, good for 7 yards. The Bulldogs hurled 14 aerials and completed 2. In penalties, each eleven was assessed 10 yards.

Hope played a crashing type of ball to overpower the heavier Adrian eleven. The forward wall, paced by the graduating seniors, played brilliant ball, especially on the offense, when they opened gaping holes in the Adrian forward wall. The work of Bekken should place him in a good position for all MIAA honors. Hakken, Vander-Hill and Tappan all performed creditably on the defense.

The entire line was outstanding. In the backfield, the running of Don DeFouw, Dick Higgs, and Bud Karel was a feature. DeFouw smashed center like he was shot out of a cannon, and Karel and Higgs ploughed over the tackles with amazing consistency. The blocking and tackling of Roy Davis was again a standout. Although the score was held down, the game was the best played by the Hope eleven this year.

Immediately following the kickoff, Art Timmer stepped in to intercept an Adrian pass on his own 40, shake loose at midfield and romp to the Bulldog 12, before being downed. The attack bogged and was stopped on the 5 by the alert line of Adrian. Lang kicked out of danger and the first threat by the Dutch was stopped. With the Dutch on its own 40, DeFouw attempted a pass which was intercepted by Foltz on his own 40 and the fleet back raced across the field and skirted down the sidelines and was finally tossed out of bounds on the Dutch 25. The threat was snipped by an alert Dutch defense, which batted down three attempted aerials and took over on the 26.

Midway in the second period, Bud Karel broke over his right tackle, reversed his field and romped 24 yards to the 46-yard line of Adrian on a brilliant exhibition of broken field running. The attack was stopped when Karel fumbled for an 8-yard loss and DeFouw was forced to punt. The half ended with the teams battling between the 30-yard lines.

After the kickoff, Adrian was forced to punt and kicked into the end-zone. The Dutch started to roll and weren't stopped until the promised land was reached. Aided by brilliant line blocking that opened holes big enough for a truck to drive through, the Dutch swept down the field. Higgs, on two plays, garnered 16. DeFouw crashed center for 13, Karel hit tackle for 6, and Higgs converted to the Adrian 35. DeFouw again hit center for 5, Karel skirted through the fog for 10, and DeFouw and Higgs collaborated to make a first down on the 7. On the third play, DeFouw split the center wide open and romped on to the score standing up. Roy Davis missed the extra point on an attempted placekick. In the final quarter, with the fog making play almost impossible, the two teams battled between the 30-yard stripes and the game ended with Adrian making a first down on its own 35.

For the visitors, the running of Kirkman and Lang was outstanding and the work of Thomson at tackle and Locke at guard the forward wall was the mainstay in stopping the Hope backs. The flankers on the Adrian, although big, were very easy to take out and the Dutch took advantage of this by making a majority of gains over the tackles.

Kalamazoo Speaker Is Heard by DAR Chapter

Mrs. Cornelia Robinson of Kalamazoo, in a talk which brought a clearer understanding of the problems of other races, told members of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on last Thursday, of the many mistakes which are made in dealing with Latin American and oriental peoples. The meeting was in the home of Mrs. E. V. Hartman.

Mrs. Robinson has travelled extensively with her husband who was interested in making rural education research, and had a wealth of first-hand information about the life and homely customs of the natives of many lands. With cultural patterns deeply ingrained in the lives of the people, and with their psychology "so different from ours," it is easy to misunderstand them, she said. Beginning with Mexico, the speaker took her listeners briefly to South America, South Africa and the orient. China and Japan are as different in their cultural patterns as the United States and Mexico, she stated.

"Science offers no proof whatsoever that the white race is superior," the speaker declared. The machine which gave the whites a great leap of superiority in the last 200 years, has been taken to others, and the facility with which this technique has been mastered, especially by the Japanese, offers a real threat to the white civilizations.

The poverty and disease of China has really been brought on by the cultural pattern of the life the people have set up for themselves, the speaker explained. The country is based on the family instead of the government loyalty pattern. Led by Chiang Kai-Shek, the Chinese people are just beginning to have a sense of patriotism. Practically all the great leaders in China today are Christian, and they realize that to achieve national unity they must set aside the family pattern, Mrs. Robinson said.

"We can still set patterns," she declared, "an international pattern not to exploit, but to let and encourage others to live."

Mrs. C. C. Wood, chapter president, presided. Following the flag salute, devotions were conducted by Mrs. Hartman, the chaplain. Announcement was made of the Red Cross roll call, now underway in the county. Mrs. Malcolm House urged members to keep track of their time devoted to Red Cross work. Mrs. Wood suggested that all contributions of books, old Christmas cards, curtains, toys, games and records for the Tamassee approved school, be taken to Mrs. C. J. Hand at the first opportunity.

PINS AWARDED TO GARDENERS

With the awarding last week of pins to those children who successfully completed their garden projects this summer, the summer portion of the recreational program was brought to a successful close, according to Leor N. Moody, director.

About 200 boys and girls were awarded pins for good work in the garden projects. The children could choose a garden of flowers, a garden of vegetables or a combination of the two, the size of the garden to be nine by 12 feet. Seeds were furnished by the city recreation department and the child accepting them agreed to care for the garden. ## December 13-20 Is Set for Drives of Exchange Clubs

Coordination on Child Aid Planned to Increase Effectiveness

Jacob Fris of Holland, state Exchange club president, today announced that the Michigan Exchange clubs are endeavoring to start a simultaneous drive throughout the state for the raising of funds to benefit children.

The week of Dec. 13-20 has been designated as "Service to Children" week and each of the 54 Exchange clubs has been asked to raise its funds for child welfare at that time.

It is Mr. Fris' idea that if the drives are carried out simultaneously throughout the state they will be more effective. Mr. Fris said it is the hope that in all cities where such drives are staged citizens will heartily cooperate by generous contributions.

He has appointed the Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp of Holland, member and past president of the Holland Exchange club, as state chairman of the "Service to Children" week.

"The methods of raising funds are various," Mr. Fris said. "Some clubs do it by means of newspaper sales, through an annual 'Good-fellow edition' of the local paper, others collect a 'Mile-of-Dimes,' or arrange theater parties, concerts, auction sales or exhibition athletic contests.

"The uses to which the funds collected are used also are various. Among the projects are the giving of physical aid, such as eyeglasses, tonsilectomies or milk supply. Some clubs furnish recreational facilities in the way of playgrounds, swimming pools, supervised hikes, model airplane contests and the like. Other clubs give aid to needy students, the Boy scouts, the Camp Fire girls or other local organizations."

Child welfare work is not new to Exchange clubs in Michigan. Last year, the state clubs gave $17,809.43 for service to children and 8,490 children received benefits therefrom, according to an incomplete report of Dr. William Hinkamp of Holland, chairman of the state child welfare committee. As an aid to the various clubs in arranging their drives in the respective cities, Rev. Hinkamp has sent bulletins from time to time. In these bulletins, he urged Exchange clubs to participate in the state-wide movement. One of the bulletins outlined the "Good-fellow edition" plan which the local club uses annually through the aid of a special edition of The Sentinel.

BERRIEN JUDGE IS KIWANIS SPEAKER

Judge Fremont Evans, circuit judge of Berrien county, who was appointed chairman of the John Augustus centennial committee to commemorate 100 years of probation, delivered an informative discussion on the theory, the practice and the practical system of probation and parole at the weekly meeting of the Holland Kiwanis club Friday noon in the Warm Friend tavern.

Judge Evans' talk centered about his own experiences as circuit court judge. He gave facts and figures which clearly showed that the present system has resulted in the rehabilitation of those who have an anti-social turn of mind and also is greatly instrumental in preventing first offenders from becoming "repeaters."

The speaker was introduced by Attorney Louis J. Stempfle.

LOSS TO RIVALS PUTS HOLLAND IN LOOP CELLAR

G.H. Blasts Dutch Lead by 27-Point Assault in Last Quarter

FINAL STANDINGS

Kalamazoo Central	3
Benton Harbor	2
Holland	0

Last Week's Results
Muskegon Heights 7, Muskegon 6.
Grand Haven 33, Holland 7.

Holland high at the end of three periods was leading the Grand Haven eleven, 7-6, in the game played on Ferry field in the county seat. But in the final stanza the Buccaneers started an attack that netted 27 points and the final score read: Grand Haven, 33, Holland, 7.

The game was played on dry turf which aided the teams in tossing aerials. Grand Haven hurried 19 passes and connected for 11, while the Dutch "lled the air with 15 tosses and completed 5. In first downs, the Buccaneers were far ahead. They racked up 21 to Holland's 6.

The Dutch played good defensive ball for three periods, then in the fourth the entire defense collapsed like a paper sack and the Harborties scored at will. Neither team was penalized and the contest was marked by good, clean play on the part of both elevens. The game was the last of the season for both teams, and placed Holland in sole position of the cellar in the Southwest conference.

The game began with both teams playing cautiously for five minutes. The Dutch started on the offense on the 47-yard stripe of Grand Haven. Wheaton smashed over left tackle for 9 yards, and DeWitt followed up with a yard at center and a first down. Rotman fell 7 yards on running plays, then fell back on his pitching arm and tossed a 19-yard aerial to Heneveld on the 25. Rotman whipped a pass to Kraal for 15 yards to the 10. A line play failed, two passes fell incomplete and, on fourth down, Rotman shot a pass over the center into the waiting arms of Heneveld in the end-zone, and "lolland went into the lead. Rotman strengthened the lead with a perfect placement.

This score seemed to instill new life into the Grayblyes. They took the kickoff on its own 25 and rolled 75 yards to score. Bennett, a hard-charging sophomore fullback, struck through center for six, and Hale chalked up a first down by 4 yards through tackle. Bennett, in two tries made another first down on the Grand Haven 46. A plunge lost 3, then Bennett picked up 6 and, on a fake plunge, Finny Hale tossed an aerial to Jonker good for 8 to the Dutch 43. Hale circled end for 9, and Bennett again chalked up a first down on the Holland 30. In two plays, Bennett crashed over center for 9 and Jonker carried to the 19 as the quarter ended.

The first play of the second quarter saw Finny Hale, behind a wall of blockers, sweep through right tackle and was stopped on the 1, after an 18-yard jaunt. Bennett was stopped on his first try, but pushed the pigskin across on the second to terminate the 75-yard march. An attempted pass, Jonker to Nagtzaam, was broken up by the alert Dutch defense, and the Dutch still held a one-point margin.

Holland came back with two first downs, but was forced to punt, and Grand Haven started again from its own 46. With Bennett crashing through center, St. John and Hale skirting the ends, and Jonker tossing aerials over the center, the Buccaneers marched to the 8 for a first down. With the seconds rapidly ticking away, the Graybly eleven made a determined effort to push the pigskin across the last strip. Three plays netted 7 yards to the one, but before the teams could line up again the gun ended the threat and Holland left the field at the intermission with a one-point lead.

In the second half, Grand Haven began where they had left off, and marched to the Holland 43, chiefly on a 17-yard pass, Hale to Jonker. This threat was stopped by Vande Bunte who intercepted a pass on his own 35 and was downed on the 37. An exchange of punts placed Grand Haven in possession on its 27. The Buccaneers started to roll again, mixing a passing and ground offense. Hale passed to Vanden Bosch for 15, Bennett crashed center for 8, and Hale skirted right end for 14 and a first down on the Holland 35 as the quarter ended.

In the final stanza, the fireworks really exploded. Bennett and St. John alternated in taking the ball 35 yards, with the latter smashing over from the 1-yard line. A pass missed connections for the extra point. Grand Haven booted to Palmer of Holland, who fumbled and Ryenga recovered the elusive pigskin on the Dutch 25. Hale whipped an aerial to La Penna for 12 yards and then the little fellow skirted his right end for the score, and completed his work by tossing to La Penna for the extra point, and a 19-7 score.

After two plays, Rotman kicked out on the Grand Haven 47. Behind magnificent blocking, Hale scampered and twisted 31 yards to the 22. Bennett hit center for 4, and Hale went through a gaping hole in left tackle for 16 yards to the two. Bennett dove over center for the score, and Jonker passed to Boeve for the added point.

Milewalski returned McFadden's kickoff 29 yards to the 39. Milewalski cut through right tackle for 11 yards, but this threat was stopped when Jonker intercepted Van Kampen's pass on the Dutch 47. On the first play, Jonker faded back down from behind on the 6. Hale made it look easy by going through right tackle for the score, and the Jonker to Boeve combination chalked up the extra point and ended the scoring for the afternoon. The Dutch had time to rack up another first down before the gun sounded ending hostilities.

The Dutch forward wall stood up well for three periods, then collapsed completely and the speedy Grand Haven backs ripped the line to shreds in the final period. On the line, the work of the guards, Maatman and Van Zyl and Heneveld at end stood out. Van Lente and Vande Bunte did a good job of backing up the line. In the backfield, the running of Wheaton, before he was injured in the third period, was outstanding, while the passing of Rotman was up to his usual standard.

On the line of Grand Haven, McFadden, Rescorla, and Boeve proved to be bulwarks on defense. The line-backing of Harry Duer stamped this individual as all-conference material. Among the hard-charging backs on the Buccaneer squad, the running of Finny Hale and the plunging of Bennett was outstanding.

Local Probation Records Prove Augustus as Right

Tribute on Centennial Is Paid Man Who Started Reformation

If John Augustus, the nation's original "probation officer," were alive today, he might remark: "Human nature never changes."

From that memorable August day of 1841 until his death June 21, 1898, he learned that most of the 2,000 or more persons he saved from prison terms in Boston were worth redemption.

One hundred years from the time he provided bail for his first "ragged wretch," the faith of Augustus in mankind is vindicated by the probation records of Ottawa and Allegan counties, of Michigan and of the entire nation.

Ottawa county at the present time has 63 persons on probation and under the supervision of Probation Officer Jack Spangler, according to Judge Fred T. Miles. The average is about 60. Since last January, only five have been sentenced for violations of probation terms.

An average of 35 are on probation in Allegan county. During the past 18 months, Probation Officer Harold F. Weston has informed Judge Miles, only three persons have been imprisoned after showing themselves unable or unwilling to comply with the provisions of probation.

Michigan, nearing the end of the 28th year of legalized probation in the state, has nearly 12,000—mostly men—on probation of which about 85 per cent abide by the terms that permit their continued freedom. State prisons house approximately 9,000 persons.

"There are more on probation throughout the state than there are in the various state prisons," Judge Miles said. "A man in prison costs the state about $420 a year while a man on probation costs about $30 per year and, generally, he is required to pay that amount himself."

National scope of probation is reflected in the fact that 5,400 probation officers serve the courts of America and supervise some 200,000 probationers.

Officials and others in Michigan observed the John Augustus centennial in October. Governor Van Wageningen by proclamation and the state legislature by resolution designated Oct. 22 as John Augustus Centennial day. In accordance with the legislature's resolution, the governor named a centennial commission consisting of "representatives of state and local governments, organizations interested in probation work and citizens known for their social and civic zeal."

Two of Holland—State Sen. Earnest C. Brooks and Jacob Fria, state president of Exchange clubs—were among those appointed to the commission.

Great strides have been made since Augustus, a shoemaker of Boston, made a man out of a drunkard who faced imprisonment in the House of Correction—and from the time Michigan passed its first probation law in 1913.

Michigan's law now provides that persons found guilty by verdict or plea may be placed on probation if the court believes they will not likely "engage in an offensive or criminal course of conduct and that the public good does not require that the defendant shall suffer the penalty imposed by law."

Ineligible for probation are those found guilty of murder, treason, armed robbery or breaking into an occupied home at night. Probation also is denied persons who have been twice convicted of a felony in this state or elsewhere.

Augustus never had the title of probation officer and it is doubtful that modern methods of case work were ever followed by him. However, he used great care to ascertain whether the prisoners were promising subjects for probation.

In relating his work, he said, "It was agreed on my part that I would note their (probations) general conduct, see that they were sent to school or supplied with some honest employment, that I should make an impartial report whenever the judge should desire it."

Michigan has in each county a probation officer with whom the probationers are required to meet at least once a month to discuss their conduct and problems. Each probationer is required to pay some amount at each meeting.

If the probation officer reports a serious probation violation to the court, the probationer is required to appear for sentence. His probation is revoked and he is sentenced on the original offense. Probation is a sort of "suspended sentence" which may never be imposed if the probationer undertakes an honest reformation.

Besides county organizations, the state is divided into districts each of which is headed by a supervisor who is usually trained in the work and who assists officers in his district. Fred Bates of Grand Rapids is supervisor of the district which includes Ottawa, Allegan and Kent counties.

Dr. Ralph Hall Ferris of Lansing, who has held the position for a number of years, is head of the state system as superintendent of probation.

Augustus may or may not have envisioned the future of probation when in court that August morning of 1841 he saw "an officer cowering, followed by a ragged, wretched looking man, who took his seat upon the bench allotted to prisoners."

"I imagined from the man's appearance," Augustus said, "that his offense was that of yielding to his appetite for intoxicating drinks and in a few moments I found that my suspicion were correct."

Before sentence had been passed I conversed with him and found that he was not yet past all hope of reformation, although his appearance precluded a belief in the minds of others that he would ever become a MAN again."

The drunkard's earnest promise to abstain liquor if he could be saved from prison prompted Augustus to bail him from court permission.

At last Augustus, whose little shop stood just off the old Boston police court and who had been interested in the plight of poor drunkards who were being sent to great numbers to the House of Correction, had his first "recruit."

Ordered to appear in court in three weeks, the drunkard became a sober man. Augustus accompanied the man to court at the expiration of the probation period.

"His whole appearance was changed," Augustus said, "and no one, not even the scrutinizing officers, could have believed that he was the same person who less than a month before had stood trembling on the prisoners' stand."

The pleased judge fined the man one cent and costs—a total of $3.75.

This, on the basis of research by Charles L. Chute, executive director of the National Probation association, was the first time the term "probation" or its actual practice was ever applied in a criminal court.

Of course, the way had been paved by the growing practice of individual clemency in England and early American courts.

Encouraged by the success of his first case, Augustus bailed other alcoholics he considered likely prospects for probation. He obtained the release of 17 similar cases in 1841 and probationed more the next year.

Gradually he became responsible in the police and municipal courts for 15

Book Review Is Heard by Local WCTU Group

The book, "The Amazing Story of Repeal" by Fletcher Dobyns was reviewed by the Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp at the monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. held in the Hinkamp home.

In his introduction to the review Rev. Hinkamp said the book could be called an autopsy on the death of the 18th amendment. The author, a lawyer in Chicago, could not understand why a thing like prohibition, which came into effect after a struggle of more than a century, should fail. He decided to investigate for himself as to how repeal came about and discovered the sorry part the high and mighty played in their efforts to annul the 18th amendment before it was in action. They had formed the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, a powerful syndicate of multi-millionaires, headed by Peter Du Pont.

They bought the newspapers and radio so the voice of the drys could not be heard. The arguments brought forth seemed sound: lowered taxes, especially for the poor, prevention of crime, better law enforcement, a cure for unemployment and other benefits to the people. With the help of shocktroops of volunteer lawyers, they discovered all the weak parts and loopholes in the Volstead act. Rev. Hinkamp gave a clear outline of each chapter of the book, quoting some of the high points.

"When we look through this smug camouflage, we see a little coterie of multimillionaires, munition makers and Wall Street financiers, raising a huge corruption fund and sending it, together with their propagandist and lobbyists into the various states to appeal to the cupidity of the rich, deceive and inflame the ignorant, debauch politics, override the intelligent and responsible majority, and force the repeal laws, that had been enacted to uphold and enforce the constitution of the United States."

The history of the long fight against alcohol was traced as far back as 1707 when a resolution against liquor was passed. In closing, Rev. Hinkamp pointed out that the dry element in this country was also to blame for the failure of the 18th amendment by neglecting to vote, an indifferent attitude and forgetting that "Eternal Vigilance" is the price of victory.

A representative of the local Red Cross chapter made a stirring appeal for cooperation, in the annual roll call, giving a brief sketch of the work done in our own city and county, of the Junior Red Cross, the work done for draftees, and the courses of training open to women of this community in connection with the relief work in Europe.

Mrs. Minnie Meengs acted as devotional leader.

Mrs. Carl Dressel, presiding officer, announced the results of personal protests by W.C.T.U. members against liquor advertisements in a nationally known magazine. No liquor ads are found in the November issue of that popular magazine, she pointed out.

Paul E. Hinkamp, Jr., played a flute solo, "The Red Sarafan" by H. Steckmest, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Hinkamp. The social hour was in charge of Mrs. Paul Pierson and Mrs. Fred T. Miles.

M'CALL PURCHASES WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

Hartford, Nov. 19—Joseph N. McCall, formerly associated with his brother, Webb McCall, in the publication of the Isabella County Times-News at Mt. Pleasant, will assume management of the Hartford Day Spring Monday, having recently purchased the weekly newspaper from Don F. Cochrane, owner and editor.

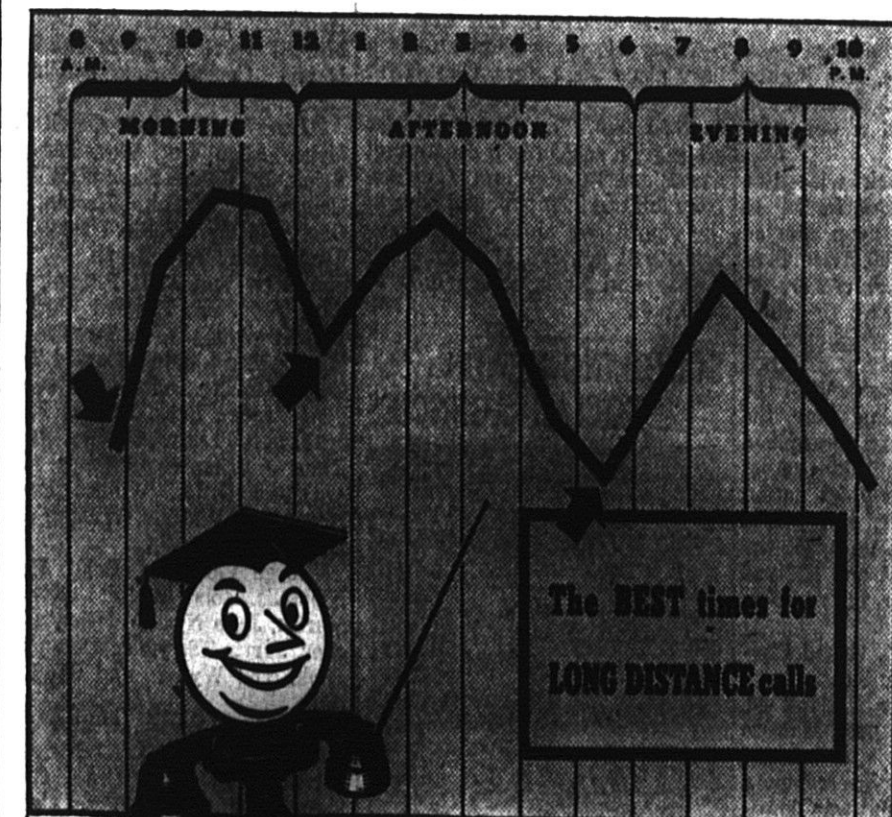

Cochrane is retiring after 43 years of continuous editorship of the Day Spring. He is the only survivor of the group who formed the business personnel of Hartford when he acquired the Day Spring July 3, 1898. For the last eight years his health has been impaired.

Cochrane was one of the organizers of the VanBuren county fair in 1912, has been a continuous member of the board of directors and has been president of the fair the last several years. He also served 12 years as village clerk and 23 years as justice of the peace. He will remain a resident of Hartford for the present.

McCall has been associated with both the Times-News at Mt. Pleasant and the Gratiot County Herald at Ithaca. He is one of the seven sons of the late J. N. McCall, long publisher of the Gratiot County Herald, all of whom are engaged in newspaper work, six of them in Michigan and one in Wisconsin.

Avoid the Peaks and Help Defense

THE chart above shows the ebb and flow of Long Distance telephone calls during an average week-day in Michigan.

Notice the sharp peaks in mid-morning and mid-afternoon. That's when business activity is greatest — when many important defense calls must go through.

See the third peak around eight o'clock in the evening. That's when your out-of-town friends are most likely to be telephoning.

At these peak periods our switchboards and circuits carry their heaviest loads — heavier now than ever before, because of defense, increased business and new homes.

If you can time your calls to fit the "valleys" instead of the "hills," you'll get faster service and find more people free to talk.

NO PARKING FOR PART OF TENTH STREET IS SET

Block Near Holland Hitch Co. Affected by Vote of Board

The board of police and fire commissioners voted Monday afternoon to prohibit parking on the south side of 10th St. between Pine and Maple Aves., due to traffic conditions in the vicinity of the Holland Hitch Co.

D. Vander Meer, 144 West 10th St., complained of conditions in a letter to the board between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. He pointed out that tradesmen to make deliveries must park in the middle of the street and that visitors to his home must leave their cars more than a half-block away. He proposed a three-hour parking limit and offered to buy the signs to be placed in front of his property.

Mayor Geerlings said traffic is congested in this block and he was of opinion they would not be bettered by a three-hour parking limit since the workers are on duty eight hours and would have no opportunity to leave their work to move their cars.

Motion to prohibit parking on the south side of the street was made by Commissioner Fred Kamferbeek and seconded by Commissioner James Borr.

The proposal to limit parking to two hours on the south side of 16th St. between Harrison and Van Raalte Aves. was referred to Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff and Commissioner Borr with power to act. Eight residents of the neighborhood filed a petition with the board, requesting limited parking to prevent accidents in this block.

Borr said a board committee is still investigating traffic conditions on 16th St. between River and Pine Aves. in regard to a request to make this a through street from the east to west corporate limits. He said a dangerous condition exists in this block because of students on bicycles and parked and moving automobiles. He suggested the placing of a school zone sign at 16th St. and Pine Ave.

On recommendation of Police Chief Van Hoff, the board voted to place Dennis Ende on probation for six months as a regular special police officer for part-time duty at the municipal power plant.

The board formally accepted the fire department's new pumper truck and approved for payment a bill of $9,945.50 to the Seagraves Corp. Fire Chief Cornelius Blom reported the truck had successfully passed its test and had pumped more than the 1,000 gallons per minute.

The mission festival committee, through its secretary, George Ver Hoeks, thanked the board for the police officer supplied at its last mission fest.

Police Chief Van Hoff submitted his monthly report which showed 83 cases disposed of during October. Other police activities follow: Illegal parking violators ordered to Judge Smith, 22; warnings for speeding, 12; warnings for stop streets and lights, seven; warnings for improper driving, five; warnings for defective equipment, eight; warnings for illegal parkings, 14; miscellaneous calls, 70; accident calls made, 36; doors found unlocked, 14; stolen cars, three; stolen cars recovered, three; juveniles warned, 12; picked up for other cities, three; fire calls made, four; solicitor and transients ordered out of the city, four; bicycles picked up, 11; motorists who paid fines for overtime parking, 41; warnings for overtime parking, 34.

Chief Van Hoff said 8,930 miles had been patrolled during October, including 7,619 miles by cruisers, 889 by motorcycles and 292 by the service car.

Wood Finds Washington Just Like Oil Boom Town

Waukazo Man Connected With Intelligence Unit of U.S. Army

"Our national capital today has all the scramble and hurly-burly of an oil boom town in a big city setting," Julius B. Wood said here. After a leave of absence to close their home in Waukazo, Mr. Wood has returned to Washington with Mrs. Wood and three dogs. He is connected there with the intelligence section of the army.

"And, like other oil boom towns, a few have struck paying gulches, others have hopes but most of them are modest workers satisfied that they are doing something for their country," he continued. "Living accommodations which were ample for the thousands of tourists who passed through Washington, now are swamped by the additional thousands whose business brings them to the capital for longer stays and the greatly increased staffs of government offices."

"Branches of our own and the British government which outgrow their quarters like soap bubbles requisition hotels and office buildings for more space until anybody can expect an eviction notice in his morning mail. They freeze out others until Washington is like a frozen barrel bursting its staves. Building material is hard to get and new construction is far short of what could be used. Zoning restrictions have been repealed in strictly residential districts and any extra room finds a waiting tenant. Once leisurely Washington now elbows and hanks through the crowds."

"Our branch of the war department is in a former apartment hotel. Mrs. Roosevelt, Mayor La Guardia and other government officials have other floors. Some tenants whose leases have been broken are fighting eviction court with the result that the rules against entering or leaving a government building without a pass cannot be enforced, because the guards can't tell an employee from a belligerent tenant. One stenographer in our office takes a cross country trip twice a day by bus, street car, railroad train and street car from the other side of Baltimore while another lives in a room with three other girls and finds it crowded after a lifetime in Texas."

"The war department is starting a new building and a 6,000 car parking lot for 20,000 employees across the river in Virginia. That means not only a building, but a new bridge and new roads to care for 6,000, probably more, cars dashing in one direction, each grimly determined to beat the time clock by only one minute, every morning and all trekking back in the opposite direction for hot beans and the evening paper at the same time when work is over."

"The government plans an immense dormitory for women clerks and a new hotel is going up, defying steel priorities, but before it is finished thirty landlords are hanging their heads on hooks in closets for a night's sleep. When the footweary visitor decides to ease his knees under a table at any popular restaurant, he finds a queue waiting for tables at all normal eating hours. Washington is a miniature of war activity in the nation."

"So many reports and plans are being written that officials seem groping through a blizzard of paper. The surprising feature amid all the confusion, pulling at cross purposes and duplication of effort, is that so much is actually being accomplished. Though a few thousand and more letter combinations are possible for alphabetically designated offices and bureaus, the effort now is to harmonize those already created instead of launching new ones. A big step in that direction is the recent single central board to include the heads of all defense production departments. It will coordinate their work, prevent overlapping and remove some of the uncertainty which now faces private industry through the country."

"Last week, I made a brief call on General Pershing who has a small suite of rooms at Walter Reed hospital, the big army establishment in Washington. Though in his 82nd year, he did not make much use of the cane he carried and said he was feeling physically fit. His memory and mind were alert. After the years, quiet and peace, possibly loneliness, have come to him but the stirring days are not forgotten when he led the millions of American youth who offered their lives in a war to end all wars and today one may wonder whether the new generation which has grown into manhood is being prepared for an equally vain and hollow sounding sacrifice for perpetually warring Europe. Time harvests the old generals and raises a new crop of youth for the moving."

Mr. Wood has had much experience with the American and other armies, chiefly as a newspaper correspondent. He was with it in Vera Cruz, Mexico, in 1914; again during the Mexican border troubles, the following year; with the Pershing expedition chasing Villa, in 1916; in France with the A. E. F. from 1917 to 1919, and in Siberia, a year later.

DEDICATION TO BE THURSDAY

Services Are Arranged at New Reformed Church at Harlem

Arrangements are being completed for the dedication of the newly completed Harlem Reformed church located about eight miles north of Holland which will take place Thanksgiving day at 7:30 p.m. The new building replaces one which was destroyed by fire March 17.

The new building is of brick and tile construction and will seat about 300 persons. Loud speakers will be installed in the basement for any overflow audience. The basement is not completed but partitions will be installed in the future.

Dr. Simon Blocker of Holland president of General Synod and professor of Western Theological seminary, will preach the dedicatory sermon. The Rev. H. Maassen of North Holland will bring greetings from the classis and the Rev. P. D. Van Vliet of South Olive will bring greetings from the Christian Reformed denomination. The Rev. N. Rozeboom of Hamilton will give the dedicatory prayer and the Rev. Howard Teusink will read scripture. The Rev. Gradus A. Aalberts, pastor of the church, will preside.

The church was founded in 1904 and had two pastors for short periods but for the most part was vacant. The present pastor arrived four and a half years ago after a vacancy of about 10 years. At that time the church had about 60 communicant members and 30 families. Now the church has about 130 communicant members and 62 families. The Sunday school has increased from 50 to about 120 in attendance.

The fire last spring destroyed the church and all its furnishings. New pews have been installed. Cost of the new structure is approximately $14,500. The Holland classis raised about $3,000 for the building, the Grand Rapids classis $2,000 and the Harlem congregation about $4,000 and the remainder was paid by insurance and gifts.

Van Dyke and Volkens were contractors for the church and Peter Elzinga was architect.

Says Straight Thinking Will Nullify Propaganda

City Editor of Muskegon Speaks to Exchange Club Here

"Man's only protection against evil propaganda is the development of straight thinking," Paul Elliott, city editor of the Muskegon Chronicle, told members of the Holland Exchange club Monday in a discussion of "Propaganda and the News."

Several selections by a clarinet trio composed of Gordon Berkel and two pupils preceded the address.

"Events since the outbreak of the first World war have given rise to a stigma which we attach to the word 'propaganda.' The word has come to mean large scale lying," Mr. Elliott stated, although there is both good and bad propaganda, as was shown by the history which he presented of the use of propaganda.

"In order to recognize propaganda we should know the psychology of propaganda, its use of colored words which have an emotional effect. We should know the agency behind the propaganda and what it stands for."

"News from foreign countries is always released through government owned or controlled agencies and is never complete or fully reliable."

"Usually one can determine what is news by asking himself, 'What do I want to know about this and what does the writer want me to know?'"

President Albert E. Lampen announced that the annual football night will be held in two weeks with Hope College Coach Milton L. Hinga in charge of the program arrangements. He also introduced C. C. Moore as a guest and John Westhof who spoke in behalf of the Red Cross and who will serve as the club reporter.

Secretary John Swets gave a final report on the Rubinfo concert. Thanks were extended to Henry Carley who made possible the club's theater party for nearly 1,000 children Saturday.

The Rev. Paul Hinkamp, Michigan chairman of "Service to Children" week, has been busy with weekly dispatches to Exchange clubs throughout the state. A drive for funds to aid children will take place between Dec. 13 to 20. Holland Exchange will again sell The Holland Evening Sentinel on Saturday of that week. Michigan has received high commendation for pioneering in this work, largely through the efforts of Rev. Hinkamp.

Ann Arbor Pastor Talks to Local Century Club

An inspirational message of hope for the future was brought to members of the Century club by Dr. Leonard Parr of Ann Arbor on their meeting Monday night in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wynne and Wiersma on the Hope college campus. His subject was "Destiny or Doom—Where do we go from here?" Dr. Parr is pastor of the Congregational church in Ann Arbor.

"These are unimaginable times through which we are passing," Dr. Parr declared. "Who could predict when the century opened only 41 years ago with all bright for progress, science and education, that devastation of cities, hunger and suffering of many people would follow so soon."

"What are we to do with all this mess we are in," he asked. "Can we live in the 'golden yesterday' reading escape books and poetry, turning to the escape of art?"

Many try to run away from suffering and war, but to stand up to it and face with courage the grim realities of the times, may bring this generation to a clear understanding of the constructive part the United States may play in the making of a future world, he advised.

With reference to many of the new and interesting books recently off the press, and with quotations from them, Dr. Parr sought to find what is the flaw in democracy which makes possible the development of fascism and nazism.

Violence and the forces of revolution are in proportion to the maladministration of democracy, he said. If a real democracy had existed in Europe, it would not have been swept away in the devastation of war.

Quoting from "That Day Alone," by Pierre Van Passan, Dr. Parr predicted that man will be happy yet, that he will never rest until he finds a way. Even in the undermining of democratic ideals, people have found in their hour of greatest suffering that they must be united economically and feel a social responsibility to others before finding a perfect destiny.

An additional feature of the program was the music, consisting of vocal solos by Frank D. Kleinhessel, of Flint, who with Mrs. Kleinhessel, has been a frequent guest of the club. Accompanied by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow of the Hope college music faculty, he sang "Meditation in the Wood," by Goetz; "Thank God for a Garden," Del Rio; "Without a Song," Youmans; and for an encore, "Sylvia," by Speaks.

Henry Winter presided at the meeting. The social hour was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McBride, Mrs. Donald Crawford, Mrs. H. W. Hardie, Dr. M. J. Cook and Miss Elizabeth Lichty.

'Polar Bears' Were Still Fighting 23 Years Ago

Nearly 60 of Local Area
Were Among Forces
in Russia

Twenty-three years ago today the North Russian Allied Expeditionary force—including about 200 western Michigan men—was still fighting the World war.
Elsewhere the celebration of that first, memorable armistice had ceased and the problems of peace were just coming into focus. Although rumors of the signing of the armistice had been prevalent for days, more than a week elapsed after the actual truce before the main body of the North Russian forces learned of the end of the war. Detachments in isolated places were not informed for several weeks.

Between 50 and 60 of the northern soldiers were residents of Holland and vicinity.

Members of the expeditionary force eventually gained a nickname—"Polar Bears," and national "Polar Bear" clubs were formed later on.

The "Polar Bear" club in Holland, organized in 1938, is a local club, not connected with the national organization and does not require its members to pay dues. Meetings are held every two months here.

Present officers of the club are Benjamin De Zwaan of Zeeland, president; Gerrit C. (Jack) Knoll, Holland, vice-president; Ben Lievens, Holland, secretary; and John H. Kiersma, Holland, finance officer.

A list of all "Polar Bears" of Holland and vicinity although all of them do not belong to the local club, although eligible for membership, follows:

Walter Bocks, route 4, Holland; John De Vries, 118 West 18th St.; Gerrit C. Knoll, 17 East Eighth St.; Shud Althuis, 1 West 19th St.; Henry Cook, route 2, Hudsonville; Sgt. A. D. Cox, Battle Creek; Leonard De Pree, 133 West 16th St.; Cornelius De Witt, North River Ave.; Benjamin De Zwaan, Zeeland; Henry Bok, route 2, Hudsonville; Martin De Boer, route 2, Zeeland.

John Beyer, Zeeland; Fred Bosman, East Eighth St.; Harvey Grover, 369 West 17th St.; Henry Garvelink, route 1, Zeeland; Herman Gerritsen, 21 East 21st St.; Dan Hacklander, route 2, Fennville; Sam Hoekstra, route 2, Zeeland; William Huizenga, route 2, Zeeland; Dick Hunderman, route 3, Zeeland; Bob Atkins, route 2, South Haven; John Piers, Jensen; Albert De Maat, route 6, Holland; John Knoll, Hudsonville.

Ben Lievens, 215 Central Ave.; John Leeuw, route 1, Zeeland; Ralph Lowing, route 1, Jensen; Simon Meusen, 271 West 12th St.; Lewis Meusen, route 1, Holland; Henry Meusen, route 1, Holland; Jacob Meusen, Zeeland; John Molewyk, route 2, Zeeland; Richard Ogden, 126 East 12th St.; John Oudemolen, 152 West 17th St.; Albert G. Pyle, route 2, Zeeland; Burleigh Roberts, Battle Creek; William Renkema, route 2, Hudsonville; Ben Rooks, 112 East 20th St.; Martin Rotman, West 16th St.; Albert Slag, route 2, Holland; Gerrit Stam, route 1, Holland; Bernard Schipper, Zeeland; John H. Kiersma, 194 West 13th St.; D. A. Strowenjan, route 4, Holland; John Van Loo, route 3, Zeeland; John Volkers, Holland; Cornelius Wittingen, route 3, Hudsonville; Edward Whaley, route 4, Holland; Jacob Zwemer, 37 West 22nd St.; Art Miller, Byron Center; and M. Harold Saur, Kent City.

Those from Holland were all in one draft quota which was sent to Fort Custer. Before completing their 10-day quarantine period, the group had been selected to comprise Co. D, 339th infantry, 85th division.

The group sailed from Hoboken, N. J., about July 21, 1918, arriving in Liverpool Aug. 1, 1918. They received training at Camp Cow Shot near Brookwood, 30 miles from London, before departing for Russia about Sept. 1, 1918.

The "Polar Bears" arrived in Russia just before the winter freeze up and traveled 350 miles inland on barges and through the snow. Their first encounter with the Russians occurred Sept. 20 at Seltso, Russia.

Practically all in the group have interesting experiences to tell. The company's top sergeant at Fort Custer learned his men were "all Dutchmen" when he reached the names of the four Meusen cousins and tried to pronounce them.

Benjamin De Zwaan was stricken ill of appendicitis while inland and was forced to travel 300 miles by sled to Archangel where the appendix was removed.

Jack Knoll recalls that the night news of the armistice came through he was working on the telephone. But because the message was in code, he did not learn of its contents until later.

The late Leonard Bareman was a member of the company. Another member was Benjamin Kool who is confined in the Veterans' hospital, Battle Creek.

Company D left June 15, 1919, from Economica Point, Russia, and traveled to Brest, France, from where they sailed aboard the President Grant for Boston, arriving there July 14, 1919. They just missed seeing President Woodrow Wilson for he had previously sailed from France for the United States aboard the President Washington.

Upon arrival in Boston, the soldiers were first sent to a nearby camp and then transferred to Fort Custer from where they were discharged from the army July 18, 1918.

Troops of the North Russian Allied Expeditionary force operated from bases at Murmansk and Archangel and moved south along the Leningrad-Murmansk and Archangel-Vologda railroads and the Davina river over a territory covering several hundred miles. Their lines of communication were by foot and sledges drawn by shaggy-maned Russian ponies.

Supply lines were uncertain and many times were cut. Fighting in squads, platoons and with never more than a company in line, these soldiers fought on through the winter of 1918-19. During the winter many of them paid the supreme sacrifice long after the armistice was signed.

The present Russian campaign is proving of interest to these "Polar Bears" for many of the places figuring in today's news are familiar to them. Many of the World war conditions are doubtless being recreated today in the same territory.

Writing in the Grand Haven Tribune, James Siplon, who is in charge of the mechanical department of the Tribune and who served in Russia, said:

"Many interesting comparisons will probably be made in the coming winter in regard to the effectiveness of the German army mobile units in the heavy snows and bitter cold which the members of this force know only too well—conditions which taxed the efforts of the men to keep going. . . to live in the open. . . as well as to fight battles."

"Among the best known members of this expedition from this city (Grand Haven) was the late Capt. Howard Pellegrom, an officer in Co. H, 339th infantry. Capt. Pellegrom was decorated by the U. S. army for bravery under fire during this World war campaign and the Capt. Howard Pellegrom Polar Bear Post of War Veterans is named in his honor. Other members known here were Tony Van Horsen, wounded in action, Harry Baggett, Peter Wilds, the late Ferdinand Bleas and perhaps others whose identities are not known at present. Altogether there were about 200 men from western Michigan in this North Russian expedition and to this day the purpose of their expedition and post-armistice struggle is a mystery to them and many others."

Schipka was driving north on Van Raalte Ave. and Berens was traveling west on 16th St. John Geerds, 442 Washington Ave., was listed as a witness.

GROUP LEAVES FOR INDUCTION

Five local registrants departed at 8:50 a.m. Tuesday in a chartered bus for Fort Custer for induction into the army under the selective service act.

The five were William John De Haan, Harold J. Slenk, Stanley Stephan Mrok, Harold Elmer Douma and Harvey Sprick.

Prior to their departure, R. H. Muller, president of the local Gideon society, briefly told the draftees they should consider their training in the army a privilege to serve their country which has brought them many benefits. He presented each with a Bible, a gift of the Gideon society.

A crowd of relatives and friends was on hand to bid the selectees goodbye. The group represented the board's November quota.

Also aboard the bus were selectees from Ottawa county board No. 2 at Grand Haven.

College Raises Mission Fund

A total of $670.69 was pledged by Hope college students and faculty members for Mexican missions in the annual mission drive sponsored by the YM and YW groups in the Memorial chapel on Tuesday. This amount, one of the largest ever to be collected in such a drive, will probably be somewhat increased by contributions of absentees to be made later.

Clinton Harrison led in prayer at the opening exercises and presided at the program. Guest speakers of the morning were the Rev. and Mrs. John R. Kemper, Reformed Church missionaries to Chiapas, Mexico. Mrs. Kemper described the state of Chiapas as having an area equal to about half the size of the state of Michigan and having a population that is 50 per cent pure blood Indian. It is the most southern of the Mexican states.

Rev. Kemper, stating that Mexico is a country where education and religion do not go hand in hand, emphasized the idea that it is good for Christians to be building. He told of the building of churches in Mexico and of the plans to improve seating facilities. Mexican congregations have also promised to sacrifice so that their goal may be reached, he said.

Music on the program was furnished by a quartet of girls singing a well-known hymn in the Mexican language. Dressed in appropriate costumes, the singers were Betty Mulder, Mary Blair, Ruth Ann Poppen, and Helen Thompson. They were accompanied by Ruth Van Bronkhorst, Senorita Mulder and Senor Rod Funston also sang a duet accompanied by Miss Van Bronkhorst.

Using his own particular brand of droll humor, Mr. Harrison announced results and presided over the pledging. Pledge cards were distributed and read off by members of the YM and YW cabinets. Tabulators for the drive were Bernice Oatmen, Jeanne Horton, Ray Olthoff, John Muller and Dan Fylstra. Organ interludes during the pledging were furnished by Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, college organist.

As pledging progressed Rod Funston moved by 100-dollar stages from the floor, to a low stool, to a bench, to a straight chair, to an easy chair and then to a comfortable love seat. When the 600-dollar mark was reached, Miss Mulder joined him on the love seat on the platform.

Publicity for the mission drive had been carried on for several weeks by means of posters and colored chalk drawings in class rooms. Last year funds collected were sent to aid Chinese students.
