Two Escapees of Vocational School Are Nabbed Here

Attempt to Steal Car Thwarted as Neighbor Informs Owner, Police

David Hunt, 15, and Jack Alexander, 13, Boys' Vocational school escapees, were arrested here Sunday morning in connection with an attempted theft of a car belonging to William Klaver, 23, at 164 West 17th St. The youths were taken to a detention home in Grand Rapids and were expected to be returned to the vocational school in Lansing Tuesday.

Mrs. B. J. Bazuin of 169 West 17th St. emerged as heroine of the affair by her quick thinking in informing Klaver that his car was being stolen. She had seen the two youths abandon a car and the younger youth, a Negro, proceed on 17th St. and the older go to Maple Ave. and get into Klaver's car. She also called police.

On receiving the message, Klaver, shirt in hand, ran out the back door and his brother-in-law, Bernard Coster, 32, out the front door. Coster surprised Hunt who ran from the car around the house. While Hunt watched Coster from a corner of the house he was nabbed from behind by Klaver.

The younger youth, who was not far away, surrendered to Klaver and Coster without trouble.

At the police station, the two youths said they escaped Friday from the vocational school in company with a third youth whom they left at his home in Muskegon. According to plans, the third youth was to obtain money and the trio planned to go to Detroit where Hunt and Alexander lived.

Police informed Muskegon authorities but had not learned today whether the third youth was apprehended.

The car abandoned by the pair on 17th St. was identified as belonging to Edward Lobbezoo of Grand Rapids. Police said the car had been misused and that "the rods were ready to fall out."

Hunt said it was the seventh time he escaped from vocational school and a third time for Alexander.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff has commended Mrs. Bazuin for her prompt action and urged others to notify police promptly in case of suspicious actions.

Three Ships Arrive To Unload Supplies

Holland harbor was a busy place late Monday afternoon and early Tuesday when three large boats steamed in loaded with coal, cement and oil. The "Rand" came in at 5 p.m. Monday loaded with 2,500 tons of coal for Harrington Coal Co. and 5,000 tons for the city. The ship left at 2 a.m. Tuesday morning after it had unloaded.

The "Daniel McCool" steamed in early Tuesday with 4,000 barrels of cement for the Medusa Cement Co.

Suicide Note Starts Search for Body

Grand Haven, Nov. 14 (Special)—Coast guardsmen, under direction of Chief Henry Marsh, today dragged Grand river at the swing bridge between Grand Haven and Ferrysburg for the body of Roger Marker, 45-year-old Navy veteran attending Michigan State college under the GI bill rights.

Marker's raincoat containing a suicide note was found on the bridge at 1 a.m. today by Neal Donker, bridge tender, who notified state police.

The note, addressed to his wife, Pauline, at 621 East Main St., Lansing, follows:

"Pauline: Am sorry that it has come to this but I don't see anything else. I know I'm going crazy and every disappointment or crossing I get lately angers me, so I can't control myself and I fear for you and the baby, and that can't be. You've always been kind and good to me and I'm only sorry you ever met me because I'm just no good, never was, and now it's too late. Heaven knows I've tried, but guess it wasn't just in me. If it's possible to raise the baby without thinking too badly of me, do it."

The note was signed "Roger" and underneath were the words, "I wanted to go to Torch, but that was impossible." Police speculated Marker referred to Torch lake.

The letter was written in ink on a piece of note paper. On the reverse side in pencil were the words, "Good Bye."

Mrs. Marker was located at the farm home of her family near Muskegon after Lansing police could not find her at home. She said her husband was five feet eight inches tall, 230 pounds, bald headed and blue eyed. She suggested police make another check at their home in Lansing and also at the college.

She explained her husband had been ill of diabetes mellitus and had been despondent. They have a 20-month-old daughter. Marker's mother is a Red Cross nurse at Bellaire.

Police traced Mrs. Marker through license number of her car, which had been made out in her former name, Mrs. Pauline Coons. She identified the handwriting as that of her husband, also the raincoat and a pair of red knit gloves.

Dutch Anxious For U.S. Backing, Spokesman Says

Should Isolationism Prevail, Netherlands Would Be Swamped

Netherlands leaders fear that the United States may go back to isolationism and will not take a stand against the spheres of influence developing in Europe, according to Miss Hanna Schokking, former national commander of the Dutch Waves.

Miss Schokking stated her views in an interview with the United Press in Grand Rapids where she is attending the United Council of Church Women's convention.

She is head of the Junior Red Cross of the Netherlands, was a leader of the Dutch resistance movement and spent a year in a concentration camp on charges of aiding a Jew to falsify papers. Daughter of a Dutch Reformed minister, she took a master's degree at the University Leyden. She is a member of the executive board of the Girl Guides and active in the YWCA movement in Holland.

"Holland is concerned with the tension between Great Britain, the United States and Soviet Russia, because we are afraid if any other war breaks out Holland will be in the middle and will supply anovious battle ground."

Miss Schokking reported the food problem is largely solved, although most luxury foods are hard to get. The country is particularly short of chocolate, she said. The land reclamation program is progressing ahead of schedule and already some crops have been harvested from areas inundated with sea water to slow up Nazi attacks.

"Work is progressing in repairs everywhere. On June 14, one airfield had only one landing strip. Today, a plane leaves each 10 minutes. During the war the Nazis confiscated all railroad rolling stock, but today the lines are again operating. Already we have replaced 200 of the 246 railway bridges destroyed in warfare," she said.

"Thousands of Dutch nationals are still in the Russian zones with little chance of getting home. Nazis took their papers and they are unable to establish their Dutch citizenship. There are many collaborators still in Germany who do not want repatriation, because they know they will promptly be tried and imprisoned if found guilty of aiding the enemy."

"We must put our faith in the United States for the future peace," she said.

Fennville High Students Injured En Route to Game

Fennville, Nov. 14 (Special)—Three Fennville High school seniors, Richard Keag, Robert Crane and Miss Arlene Hibbard, were involved in an accident Friday evening while driving to the Grand Rapids Lee High-Allegan football game. Keag was blinded by approaching headlights and in pulling over, his car skidded and hit the ridge of gravel left at the side of the road by the grader. Marks in the road showed the car turned over three times.

Miss Hibbard's legs were pinned beneath the car until the boys could release her. Mrs. John Heavilin and son, Jack, who were driving behind, took the three to the Allegan Health center.

Miss Hibbard received a cut on the upper leg requiring 16 stitches and other severe leg cuts. Keag's forehead cut required eight stitches and Crane's knee cut, five. No bones were broken but Keag had a mild back sprain.

The boys were released that night and returned Saturday for checkups.

The car, a new one belonging to Keag's father, Robert Keag, a carrier on route 1, was badly demolished. Crane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Crane are away on a month's trip to the northwest.

Fisherman Is Found Dead on City Coal Docks

A search of several hours by Holland police and sheriff's officers ended at 11 p.m. Friday when they found the body of William C. Welshire, 70, route 4, who had failed to return home for supper after a fishing trip.

Welshire's body was found on the end of the coal dock behind the power plant coal piles where he had gone fishing at 9 a.m. His wife did not know where he planned to fish, and officers had searched for his car at many locations near Lake Macatawa and Black River. His green car was found near the coal piles.

The dock where Welshire's body was found is quite inaccessible and is used only by fishermen who know the property well. The body was discovered by Police Officer John Piers of the Holland department.

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water said death was due to a heart attack. He said the man died about 10 a.m.

Welshire was employed as a night watchman for Spring Air Co. He was born May 21, 1876, in England and came to America when he was 11 years old. He had lived on route 4, known as 308 Grand Haven road, for 44 years. Sole survivor is the wife, Minnie.

Little Dutch Tip Benton Harbor

The Holland High school football reserves overpowered the Little Tigers from Benton Harbor in an afternoon football contest at Flitstop field 14-7. The locals led 7-0 at the half and added another touchdown before the Harborites scored their tally.

Soon after the game began the little Dutchmen took to the air and Wlodarczyk passed to Appleborn after Veldhouse intercepted a Tiger pass on the 50. Appleborn caught Wlodarczyk's pass on the 20 and jogged down the sideline for the six-pointer. Wlodarczyk rifled an aerial to Van Wieren for the extra point to give the Hollanders an early 7-0 lead.

The second quarter was a saw affair and no team threatened to score although the locals did go for three first downs. But Kemper intercepted a pass on the Holland 33. Holland drove to Benton Harbor 46 where an exchange of fumbles gave the locals the ball in midfield. A group of passes by Wlodarczyk put the Yankigans over for their second touchdown. The final pass was from Wlodarczyk to Appleborn in the end zone from the 9. Kemper plunged over for the point to make the score 14-0.

In the final frame the Harborites moved down the field on four first downs and scored their only touchdown. Butgereit carried the ball over from the 2. Carrope kicked the extra point, to bring the Tigers to within seven points of the Hollanders. The ball ended with the locals on the Tiger 9.

The Holland crew outplayed the Tigers in every respect making 11 first downs to six. Wlodarczyk's passing was outstanding for the locals.

Miles to Retire As Circuit Court Judge Next Year

Osterhaus Throws Hat In Ring as Miles Makes Brief Announcement

In a letter to members of the Ottawa County Bar association announcing the next meeting of the group, Judge Fred T. Miles of Holland announced he will not seek re-election as Circuit Judge at the next election.

Judge Miles will complete 18 years as judge of the Circuit Court for Allegan and Ottawa counties when his term expires Dec. 31, 1947, more than a year hence. The primary election, however, will be held early, Feb. 17, 1947, and the general election will be the first Monday in April.

The announcement in Holland today caught most persons by surprise and there were many speculations on possible successors.

Simultaneously with Judge Miles' announcement, Louis H. Osterhaus, Grand Haven practicing attorney for 40 years, announced his candidacy for the nomination at the primary election. Osterhaus opposed Miles 18 years ago.

Osterhaus was admitted to the bar in October, 1906. His first public office was that of Circuit Court commissioner. He served as city attorney of Grand Haven on three different occasions for a total of 10 years and as prosecuting attorney for six years. In 1944 and 1945 he served as assistant prosecuting attorney while Prosecutor Howard W. Fant was in the service. He is associated with several bar organizations and has been president of the Ottawa County Bar association since its organization 20 years ago.

During his three terms in office, Judge Miles served the second largest one-judge circuit in the state with about 100,000 population. When he was elected in 1929, he succeeded Orien S. Cross of Holland and Philip Padgham of Allegan, each of whom served about 18 years.

He was born in Ottawa county near Holland and spent his early life on a farm. Starting in 1899, he taught rural school six years and studied law, obtaining a law degree in 1904. He was admitted to the bar in 1905, serving subsequently as Circuit Court commissioner, justice of the peace and prosecuting attorney. He was presented an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Hope college when his son Wendell was graduated in 1938.

The next meeting of the Bar Association will be held Nov. 21 at 6:30 p.m. in Dutch Mill Cafe with Rex Orton, who was with the FBI during the war, speaking on "Federal Bureau of Investigation, what it does, who composes it, its function in war and peace, its accomplishments and its future."

Safety Discussed At Lions Club

At the regular noon meeting of the Lions club Tuesday noon John Haspers of AAA talked on safety activities with especial emphasis on their bearing in Holland.

He gave special mention to the importance of high school driving instructions, saying that in most cities the establishment of such courses was usually followed by a 50 per cent drop in the number of accidents, and he complimented the Lions on their presentation of a car to the schools, which made the driving class possible. Mr. Haspers has been in town making a survey of Holland's driving conditions, and a plan for reducing hazards will be presented to city officials soon.

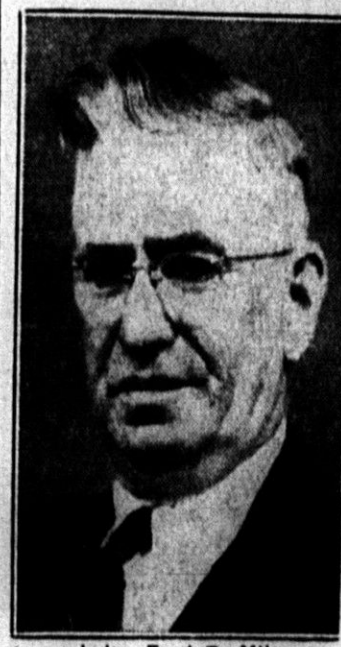

Three new members joined the club: Dr. R. Schaafsma, Elmer Meyer, and Art Keene. Guests at the luncheon were 1. Pershing from Saugatuck and Dr. Carl Cook.

Driver Absolved In Death of Youth

After 20 minutes' deliberation, a six-man jury brought in a verdict of "unavoidable accident" absolving the driver, Lester De Jonge, 23, of Allendale, of blame in the death of Bernard Glass, 15, of Borculo on Nov. 5.

The inquest was conducted by Prosecutor Howard W. Fant before Coroner Gilbert Vande Water. Jurymen were Henry Wilson, George D. Albers, Frank Bolhuis, Jr., Clarence Becker, Lester Klaasen and Leon Moody.

De Jonge, the driver, testified that he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car and did not see an object in the road until the car had passed him. He said he blinked his own lights but there was no change in the lights of the other car. He said he was driving about 50 miles an hour at the time and swerved to the left in an effort to avoid hitting the object which he learned later was the youth on his bicycle.

He described how he ran to a house under construction and notified Andrew Blauwkamp, who returned with him to the scene of the accident, also to the home of a neighbor, Henry Blauwkamp, where calls to state police and for an ambulance were made.

Andrew Blauwkamp testified that the youth was not alive when he examined him after calling police and ambulance. He said the body was in a ditch eight or nine feet from the cement highway and about 20 feet from the point of impact.

State Trooper Leonard Bartell, one of the officers investigating the fatality, testified as to measurements. His testimony corroborated stories told by De Jonge and Blauwkamp.

Three Accidents Occur Near City

Three accidents occurred near Holland last week resulting in damage to six cars and minor injuries to several occupants.

An accident early Saturday at the intersection of M-21 and Waverly road involved a car driven by Mrs. Wilma Tuls, route 4, and a truck operated by Henry J. T. Vanden Bosch, 30, route 1, Zeeland.

Vanden Bosch was proceeding west on the highway and Mrs. Tuls north on Waverly. Sheriff's officers learned Mrs. Tuls stopped before crossing the highway and the impact occurred in such a way that the right front of the truck were damaged. Officers are continuing the investigation.

At 11:15 p.m. Thursday, cars operated by Junior J. Hop, 16, route 2, and Leslie De Neff, 39, route 4, collided at the intersection of Douglas Ave. and US-31. Hop, traveling east on Douglas, told officers he was unable to stop for the through street because his car started sliding on the wet pavement. The De Neff car, proceeding north on US-31, was hit on the left side.

Occupants of the De Neff car were taken to Holland hospital for treatment. They included Mr. and Mrs. De Neff, Kenneth, 13, Carla, 8, and Duane, 5. Mr. De Neff was most seriously injured with a laceration above the left eye. Hop was charged with failure to stop for a through highway.

Cars driven by Raymond Woodward, 27, and Gary Vande Vusse, 16, both of route 4, collided on the Ottawa beach road a half mile west of Chris-Craft Wednesday at 9:50 p.m. Officers said the impact occurred on the wrong side of the road for Woodward who was charged with operating a vehicle on the wrong side of the highway and with having no operator's license.

City Honors Dead Of Two Conflicts On Armistice Day

Dr. J. J. Sessler Urges Perpetuation of Heroic Spirit in HHS Address

"It is the peculiar glory of these men in whose memory we are gathered here that they fought, not for themselves, they fought for us. The best tribute we can pay them is to reproduce and perpetuate their heroic and sacrificial spirit," said Dr. Jacob Sessler in his address to a capacity audience at the annual Armistice Day assembly in Holland High school auditorium at 10:45 a.m. Monday.

"These men so loved liberty and their country that they fearlessly entered into the experience of wounds, pain and death. They asked no promotion, they coveted no distinction; patiently they lived and bravely they died. Their work is done, the war is over and in yonder Heaven the eternal God shall do right," Dr. Sessler continued.

Impressing his audience with the fact that "life is a serious affair," the speaker cited solemn moments in world history. "This hour brings a hush to our souls," he said. "They conquered, though they died. He who lays down his life shall pick it up again."

Silent tribute was paid to the departed dead as part of the ceremony and the high school band played patriotic selections. Factory whistles at 11 a.m. bade other local citizens pause for a moment of silent meditation.

The Armistice day address in Holland Christian High school was given by State Rep. Henry Geerlings. Special music was furnished by the band and the school chorus.

Climaxing Holland's celebration will be the annual banquets of the VFW and the American Legion organizations this evening.

President Truman, with the rest of the nation, observed the customary minute silence at 11 a.m., then, amid much military ceremony, laid a wreath at the tomb of the unknown soldier before making his Armistice Day address. There was a 21-gun salute as the president entered and left Arlington cemetery, there was a massing of colors, and an Army band member played taps.

Michigan's Gov. Kelly paid tribute to the state troops and national guard at colorful ceremonies in which the guard colors were officially returned to Michigan by the War department, and a long military parade composed of state troops units and the bands of the University of Michigan and Michigan State college wound through Lansing streets.

The program will include addresses, forums, discussions, song fests and fellowship periods, directed toward the working out of a practical approach to personal and social problems.

Versatile Young Actress Charms Woman's Club

Mary Hutchinson, slender, good looking, competent young American actress, appeared before members of the Woman's Literary club in their newly decorated club house Tuesday afternoon in a series of dramatic portraits, captivating all listeners with her charm and wit. She can also sing and dance.

The petite entertainer announced her own numbers and carried on a charming little conversation while changing costumes on the stage between roles. Using only a simple bench with a cloth thrown over it for her properties, no supporting cast seemed necessary as Miss Hutchinson, by the quality of her voice and gestures, carried her audience with her into the spirit of the role she portrayed.

Her scenes, in order, were: Lady Teazle's opening exchange with Sir Peter from "School for Scandal"; her impression of Emily Gibbs' return to the scene of her childhood in the third act of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town"; her satirical played Lady Isabel, the long suffering heroine of the popular melodrama, "East Lynne"; "Rosie the War Worker," and "Pearl," original comic sketches of the American scene. For an encore Miss Hutchinson appeared as Cleopatra, in a scene from Shakespeare's "Anthony and Cleopatra," again demonstrating her versatile talents.

Mrs. Randall C. Bosch presided at the meeting. A collection, amounting to $108.30, was taken by the philanthropy committee to purchase gifts and fruit for occupants of the county infirmary at Eastmanville.

Mrs. Bosch expressed appreciation to members of the decorating committee, Mrs. E. P. McLean and Mrs. William Winter, and to the advisory committee, Mrs. W. J. Olive and Mrs. W. G. Winter. New members of the club were presented with small corsages and were welcomed in an informal reception which preceded the program.

Volleys From Ambush - -

LAST WEEK the Ambusher borrowed from the Albion Recorder a bit about news and what it is. Today a selection has been lifted from the Pleasant Hill (Mo.) Times. It's not new, but it still applies:

"We like people who give us news items."

"We adore club reporters who get their news in the day after instead of the week after the club meeting."

"We are fond of folks who know typewritten copy should be double spaced, and of correspondents whose handwriting requires no special decoding."

"We appreciate readers who realize that no conclusion is held in the newspaper office each press day to decide which small item will appear on the front page and which inside. While we do plan to give front-page space to the several most important stories each week, there is, in our minds, an equality of importance between the Smiths' 'company' on page 1 and the Joneses' dinner guests on page 7."

"We are grateful for fellow citizens who do not make a gleeful practice of pointing out our typographical mistakes that get into the paper. We invariably find them ourselves the moment the paper is off the press, and seldom think them funny."

"And we greatly esteem those fine souls who take the trouble to compliment us when they have enjoyed 'a piece' in the paper."

"There are, indeed, some very nice people in the world."

The Ambusher's nomination for Holland's most absent minded man of the week must go to Willis Borr, 249 West 13th. Saturday he was down town transacting business. He had with him his daughter, a cute lass who looks to be about three-going-on-four.

Finishing his business in The Sentinel office, Daddy Borr forgot his child and left her behind.

To which the Ambusher hastens to add little Miss Borr is quite a self-sufficient young lady and, left to her own devices, was entertaining herself quietly while her daddy was busy.

Some kiddies I know would have hung onto daddy's trouser leg in like circumstances.

We didn't get to go to the tulip planting bee staged by the local leaders of Tulip Time. Nor have we had any accurate accounts of the twin events, other than straight news. Our guess is that there were plenty of sore muscles among some of the softer of our tulip planters for a day. It'll be worth it next year, gentlemen, believe me.

Who says the "pioneer woman" is a thing of the past? Mrs. Russell Reidema of 314 West 15th St. displayed courage equal to that of fighting off "Injuns" Saturday afternoon when she killed an opossum in her back yard, using only a butcher knife and an ice pick.

Thinking it was the head of a big large rat she saw peeping from under a board, Mrs. R. threw a piece of iron at the creature and stunned it. Then, running at top speed to the house, she snatched weapons from her kitchen and the butcher knife found its throat so it couldn't bite me," she says and then jabbed it with the ice pick until it died.

"I was scared stiff, but I did it anyway," she said. It wasn't until hubby came home to look at the carcass that she discovered she had killed an opossum. Neighbors think this explains recent nervousness of chickens in the neighborhood.

Two Cars Damaged, One Driver Hurt in Crash

Two cars were badly damaged and one driver was in Holland hospital as the result of an accident shortly after noon Friday at 12th St. and Central Ave.

John Veltkamp of Holland was taken to the hospital for x-rays after the crash which involved his car and one driven by James Oliver Lamb of the Park road. The impact sent the Veltkamp car over the curb into two trees in Centennial park.

Lamb was driving a new car which had only 180 miles registered. He was traveling west on 12th St. and Veltkamp was going north on Central.

At Holland Christian High school 325 parents followed their students' daily programs and enjoyed again "pupils' roles." Approximately 600 parents visited with teachers in the Holland Christian schools' open house for elementary grades.

Dutchmen Thrown Into Cellar Spot By Benton Harbor

Holland High Stopped By Harborites With Decisive Defeat

Benton Harbor sent the Holland High school team down to the undisputed tail end of the Southwestern Conference football standings last night as they walloped the Dutchmen, 20-0. Holland recovered a Benton Harbor fumble on the Tiger 30-yard line but never got any closer to their opponents' goal.

In the opening minutes of play after Holland lost the ball on downs on the Tiger 30, Duane Carlson, a smart halfback, took off and never stopped until his team was leading 6-0 and he had a 66-yard run to his credit. Bill Flaherty, Tiger quarterback, booted the extra point to put the Harborites ahead 7-0.

In the second quarter the Tigers got the touchdown fever again but the Dutchmen finally cured them on the 14. Holland punted out of trouble using their punting star, Ed Vande Wege. Vande Wege kicked one from his own 4 to the Benton Harbor 41 where Bauman downed the ball. The Hollanders held the Tigers in check the rest of the first half but little offensively as the ball changed hands around the mid-field stripe many times.

As the second half opened the Hollanders found themselves on the Tiger 37 where Hinga tossed a pass which Carlson intercepted on the 32.

The Harborites began their second scoring drive immediately as Carlson, Flaherty and Williams drove the ball all the way to the 6, where Flaherty went around right end for the tally. Flaherty added another one point as he split the uprights for the second time. The Harborites led 14-0 at the end of the third quarter.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter the Hollanders received the kickoff and returned the ball to their own 31. Kuipers tossed a pass but Danneff, the Tiger halfback, intercepted and jaunted all the way to the Holland 2. Williams plunged over from the two to put the Dutchmen behind 20-0. A bad pass from center enabled the locals to block the conversion. The game ended with Holland in possession of the ball on their own 45 but Benton Harbor in possession of a 20-0 score.

For the Dutchmen it was the play of Bauman that again attracted the eye of many sports fans and the defensive spark applied by Van Alsburg, Holland's right tackle, Weber, center, and Gow the right guard were outstanding on the Tigers forward wall with Carlson and Flaherty carrying the bulk of the offensive attack.

Place Kick Drops Hope From Share Of MIAA Crown

Hillsdale Outpoints Local Collegians In Final Encounter

The Final Standings:

	W	L	Pts.	Op.
Kalamazoo	4	1	98	27
Hillsdale	4	1	99	39
Hope	3	2	89	34
Alma	2	3	46	97
Albion	2	3	53	70
Adrian	0	5	6	124

Harry Spiteri, a 210-pound tackle, took his time, measured his steps, cleaned his cleats and booted a perfect place-kick which put Hope college on the short end of a 21-20 score in a thrilling gridiron contest at Hillsdale Saturday. The win put Hillsdale in first place tie in MIAA standings with the Kalamazoo Hornets.

With three minutes to go in the ball game Hope was leading 20-14. Dale fans were growing more excited by the minute, as Bill Young, a fleetfooted halfback who passes with deadly accuracy, faded back from the Hope 20-yard line to the 30 and spotted John Cuddeback, left end, on the 5. Young heaved a 25-yard pass and Cuddeback caught it and stepped over for a touchdown. Then with the score knotted at 20-all, Spiteri came in to the ball game from the bench, and booted the ball between the uprights to clinch the ball game for the Dales.

Hope started the ball game with a bang as they received the ball on the kickoff and ran it to their own 32-yard line. Nick Yonker, brilliant Hope quarterback, pulled a smart play that gave the Dutchmen an early lead. On the first play of the game Higgs quick-kicked and the Dales safely touched the ball and a alert Hopper pounced on it on the Dale 30.

Bob Emery, husky fullback, carried on to the 16 on a line plunge; Higgs took the ball to the 13-yard line, and Emery on two plays went to the one yard line. Yonker called a quarterback sneak and scored to make the score 6-0. Higgs booted with perfect accuracy for the seventh point.

Just before the first quarter ended, the Hollanders punted to the Dales. Young took it on the 10, reversed his field, picked up a few blockers and on a spectacular run rolled up 38 yards to the Dale 48. After several plays had netted 45 yards, the ball was resting on the Hope seven yard line where Young took it over to make the score 7-6. Spiteri booted the extra point to knot the score at 7-7.

In the second frame the Dutchmen got all the way to the Hillsdale 18-yard line, but there fumbled and the Dales took possession and brought the ball out of dangerous territory. They carried the pigskin to the Hope 48 before the half-time gong sounded. Play in the first half was even on both sides although the Dales led in the first down column, 8-5.

Early in the second half Hope fumbled and the Dales recovered on the Dutch 42-yard line. Albright, on three plays, brought the ball to the 13-yard line; three plays more brought it to the two-yard line where Ward bucked over to give the Dales their first lead of the game, 13-7. Spiteri entered the game again and made it 14-7 on another perfect placement.

On the third play after the Dales' kickoff, the Hopeites scored again, this time on a pass play. After Emery drove to the Hillsdale 45-yard line, Yonker passed to Clair De Mull on the 20. De Mull snatched the ball away from two Dales who were covering him and raced the remaining 20 yards for the touchdown. Higgs' conversion was good and the score was again tied.

The locals began marching again right after the Dales punted to the Hope 15-yard line and it looked as if the Dales were tiring. Gabby Van Dis teamed up with Emery and brought the ball to the Hope 34-yard line; Yonker tossed a spot-pass to De Mull on the mid-field stripe for a first down as the quarter ended.

Van Dis went to the 44; Emery to the 29; Yonker to the 23, and a pass from Yonker to Van Dis, who was flanking off to the left, took the Dutch to the 13-yard line and another first down. Emery made 12 yards to the one-yard line. Yonker gained two-feet and Emery picked up the next foot for another local tally. With about six minutes remaining Higgs booted, but the ball bounced off to the right side of the crossbar and the scoreboard read: Hope 20, Hillsdale 14.

After the Hope kickoff the Dales plugged their way to the Hope 35-yard line making three first downs. The officials then frowned upon the locals and stepped off 15 yards because of unnecessary roughness bringing the ball to the Hope 20-yard line; first down for the Dales. Then came the all-important play: A pass from Young to Cuddeback to score. Mr. Spiteri again moved off the bench and returned shortly afterwards having put his team ahead 21-20 by way of a placement.

The contest ended with the Dutchmen trying vainly to pass their way to victory. On the last play of the game Yonker faded back to pass but was smothered by Dales on the 30.

For the Dales the heroes are undoubtedly Spiteri and Cuddeback who scored the seven points in the closing minutes of the contest. Albright, Ward and Young turned in outstanding performances as running backs for the Hillsmen.

Hope's defense was not up to par according to other contests but their offensive spark counteracted it. A soggy field hampered the local linesmen. Van Dis, Emery and Higgs all stood out for their stellar running while the passing of Yonker was of a high caliber.

Starting lineups:
Hope—Schriener, le; Collins, lt; Davidson, lg; Ladewig, c; Dick, rg; Nyenhuis, rt; De Mull, re; Yonker, qb; Timmer, rh; Higgs, lb; Emery, fb.

Hillsdale—Cuddeback, le; Masterson, lt; Seger, lg; Clelland, c; Lude, rg (capt); Pifer, rt; Perry, re; Stevens, qb; Ward, rh; Young, lb; Albright, fb.

Statistics: First downs: Hope, 11; Hillsdale, 13. Passes completed: Hope, 6; Hillsdale, 3. Passes attempted: Hope, 9; Hillsdale, 7. Touchdowns: Hope, Yonker, De Mull, Emery. Points after touchdown: Higgs 2 (placements). Hillsdale: Young, Ward, Cuddeback. Points after touchdown: Spiteri 3 (placements).

Score by quarters:
Hope 7 0 7 6—20
Hillsdale 7 0 7 7—21

"GREATEST THREAT TO DEMOCRACY"

Unreasonable government spending is the "greatest threat to democracy." So says a member of the government at Washington —no less a person than T. Coleman Andrews, director of the corporation audits division of the General Accounting Office in Washington. Taking the long-range view this public official has become convinced that a ruinous tax burden is the one power that can land the level-headed American public in the arms of Communist.

Not that Director Andrews is saying anything very new; he would be the first to agree that many others have said the same thing and that his prediction ought to be clear and plain to any man who has a fair amount of common sense. It is not hard to see that only nations that go into bankruptcy are willing to sell the personal freedom of the people for such relief as can be obtained from some form of totalitarianism, whether communist or fascist. As long as the American people remain truly solvent, all the Stalins and all the vermillion hued New York intellectuals, and all the fascist Little Caesars on earth can yell themselves hoarse without making any appreciable impression of American common sense.

But let the tax burden get such that average men no longer feel that it is worth while to try to stand up under it and anything is likely to happen. Fundamentally that is what happened in Russia in 1917, and wherever dictatorships have taken hold they have come about in some such way.

The stage has not yet been reached in America, but with a public debt of some 260 billion dollars, there is always a chance that it will come. Especially if the country is run by utopians who can't get out of the habit of trying to play Santa Claus.

In general the government goes right on spending. It can always find a good plausible reason for every single outlay; it seldom stops to consider that all the multitude of benefits it is after will do no good if in the process America itself will go into bankruptcy.

Remaining solvent is the highest and holiest duty the American government has. That should always be the aim of the American government even if it is at the cost of a dozen Utopias. Self-protection is not a crime, as the Pinks would have us believe; it is our holiest duty.

Paul Ministers to the Thessalonians

Acts 17:1-7; 1 Thessalonians 1:2-8

By Henry Geerlings

We admire the man who will not give up, even if everything seems to go wrong. We call the soldier who stands his ground, when he has every reason to run.
We want the man on our side who never shows a white feather.

Paul and Silas had been unjustly imprisoned, but they were miraculously delivered. The high officials did not know about this, and sent orders for the prisoners to be set free. But Paul insisted on seeing them and being set free by the officials in person. They came and made an apology for treating them so cruelly, but asked them to leave the city. This the missionaries did after going to the home of Lydia to encourage the brethren. But they did not stop preaching. They went from Philippi to other places and cour-ageously preached the gospel.

They went through the country and came to Thessalonica. Paul was an interesting and persuasive preacher. He held his congregation for three successive Sundays to one great theme. He tried to prove out of the Scriptures that the Jesus whom he preached was the Messiah. This was a compelling and stirring subject. The idea of the Messiah was always in the forefront of the Jew's mind. He was ever looking for His coming.
But he had his own ideas of the kind of person He should be and of what He was going to do when He did arrive on this earthly scene.
But Paul was preaching a different kind of a Messiah—a suffering Messiah, a Messiah who should die and rise from the dead. The Jew had no such conception of Him.
Therefore, we can see just how hard it was for him to accept Paul's idea.

We can readily see out of a knowledge of our own minds and attitudes the difficulty with which Paul had to deal. He was facing the fixation of an idea. He was facing the made-up mind. He was facing conservatism that defies change. Therefore, all honor to those whose minds were changed.
It is the mark of an alive mind when it opens the door to the incoming of a new idea and shows it all the hospitality of which it is capable. How many Jews were thus won over to Paul's way of thinking, we do not know, but quite enough to be gratifying to the great preacher.

Then, too, there was a host of devout Greeks and a large number of leading women to be counted among the converts. At any rate it began to look serious to the prejudiced Jews upon whom Paul had made no impression. The defection from the ranks of the faithful assumed alarming proportions. These jealous Jews felt that something had to be done if they were to save the day for the synagogue. So they resorted to mob violence.

The passions of the unthinking can always be aroused. There are always some people around the corner who are ready for anything provided it will furnish some excitement. Some idle individuals provided the nucleus for a wild and unthinking group. They started things. They set the town in an uproar. They marched upon the home of Jason in an effort to find Paul and Silas that they might drag them out into the presence of the populace.

How much alike do mobs of all ages act. The mob of today is just like this mob of the far yesterday. A mob never has any clear idea of what it is doing, and just why it is doing it. Reason gives place to passion and stormy impulses. One man runs after another man because the first man has been caught in the swirl of excitement. A mob thinks it is an instrument of speedy justice, when it usually is only a human cyclone that wrecks the temple of justice.

A well organized and intelligent human group guided by reason and a sane desire to serve is splendid asset in a community, but a mob without reason and intelligent aim is like a wild and raging river that has leaped the restraints of its banks.

Having failed to seize Paul the mob laid hands upon Jason, Paul's host. Him and his brothers they brought before the city father and charged them as being treason-able to Caesar and his government. Their charges were only a smoke screen to hide the real issue: their own religion in which Caesar and his government were not at all interested. These accusers put far more meaning into their charge than they intended when they said that these men had turned the world upside down.

These preachers were not violent revolutionists but they did change things. Christianity does bring in a new order of things. It is not revolutionary. It is evolutionary. True, there is spiritual dynamite in its truths but not the violently explosive kind. It is the change of a new birth, of new ideas pushing out old ideas, of new customs displacing old and worn out customs, of turning men around to face a new day and to work out a new program.

Having slipped through the net of the mob the missionaries came on to Berea. They found a different type of mind here. It was more amenable to spiritual approaches. It was more eager to know the truth. It sought to prove for itself the truth of what Paul said. The Bereans became earnest Bible students. They were thinkers. They were independent. They were open minded. They were spiritually hospitable. We moderns might well learn of them. It is a mark of real success if the modern preacher can make his hearers think.

Citizens' Report Is Referred to School Committee

A report of the Citizens School committee, recommending new school buildings and improvements and an increased tax rate was referred to the Ways and Means committee of the Board of Education at a regular meeting Monday night.

The Ways and Means committee, consisting of E. V. Hartman, A. E. Van Lente and Clarence Klaasen, was instructed to examine the recommendations and report back at a special meeting of the board after they have completed the study.

The citizens' report recommends a new elementary school for the combined Lincoln and Froebel districts, an addition for Junior and Senior high schools, and remodeling of Longfellow and Van Raalte schools. To finance such a program, the committee petitioned the board for an early election to increase the tax rate by five mills for 10 years. The report was signed by Chairman Lester J.
Kuypers and Mrs. Clarence J.
Becker, secretary. The latter submitted the report.

Fred Beeuwkes, former president of the board, appeared in the interests of the Gideons, and his organization was granted permission to present Bibles to children in the schools desiring them from grades 5 to 12. Details will be worked out by Supt. Carroll C.
Crawford.

On recommendation of the Buildings and Grounds committee, the secretary was instructed to write a letter to the Christian school Board of Education indicating that the public schools have no plans to use the city-owned property on 21st St. for building purposes, also that with the exception of the tennis courts, the public schools use these grounds for physical education and recreation purposes only a small portion of the time. The subject was brought up in connection with a previous meeting of the committee with Dr. Bert P. Bos, William Boer and Benjamin Staal of the Christian school.

In his superintendent's report, Crawford said the home economics department earned 316 quarts of tomato juice, 246 quarts tomatoes, 118 quarts peaches and 27 pints grape jelly for the Washington school lunch, saving the school $125.66. He also said the school lunch program with federal subsidies for balanced meals served in the Junior High cafeteria and Washington school was begun Nov. 4.

'World of Tomorrow' Is Legion Banquet Theme

Members of the American Legion, their auxiliary and guests focused attention on "The World of Tomorrow," led by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, president of Hope college, as they gathered in North Shore Community hall Monday night for the annual Armistice day banquet.

Tables, decorated with bowls of deep red mums and patriotic favors and place cards, featured special places at the head table for Legion officers and gold star members. A total of 250 persons was served a turkey dinner. Chaplain Harry Kramer pronounced the invocation.

Dr. Lubbers, a member of the local post, addressed the group on "The World of Tomorrow," citing factors which will figure largely in the new era. "The peace that is made, the rebuilding done in Europe, the organization of the greater prosperity area of Asia and the manifest destiny of America all will play a great part in the shaping of the world of 'tomorrow,'" he said.

Pointing out that war has become a total world concern, Dr.
Lubbers expressed satisfaction at the fact that today's peace is being written with deliberation and patience in contrast to the hasty treaty drafting following World War I, saying that he felt no matter how lengthy the process is he hoped the peace making would not be completed until justice had been done and the groundwork laid for peace. Writing the peace is no "overnight job" and "it takes opposite types of men to successfully fight a war and to write a just peace," he said, involved in making such a peace is understanding of others, brotherhood, sympathy, love, generosity and justice, he added.

"What goes on in Europe in the next five years will have a great influence in the shaping of tomorrow's world," Dr. Lubbers said as he stressed the need of generosity "beyond our natural inclinations" to alleviate suffering.

"We are now riding the world of a concept bound to spell doom—the belief that the emperor of Japan was a divine being. There is now a great colored world in the making in Asia," the speaker continued, "and India, China and Japan contain more people than the rest of the world put together." They are energetic, awakening people, he added.

Entertainment feature at the banquet was the appearance of the Tulip City Four, a quartet composed of John Swieringa, Henry Driesenga, John Essenburg and Arthur Greengoud, who sang patriotic numbers and old favorites.

Mrs. Henry Poppen, president of the auxiliary, greeted guests and introduced her staff of officers as did A. C. Prigge, commander of the men's organization.
Chairman T. P. Rhodes, past commander, made brief remarks regarding the Legion's projects and the planting of a cross of white tulips, and displayed two trophies won by the fifth district for constructive work in the prevention of juvenile delinquency. Joe Nyhof is the local group's representative on the state committee.

Games for Legionnaires and their guests followed the program and dinner.

Bas Hoppel

Who Will Write
This Dutch Boy?

Now here's a chance for some likely guy to take an active part in promoting cultural relations between the Netherlands and the United States. From the Netherlands the Sentinel has received a plea for help in furthering the hopes of the United Nations—in a small way, but all in line with the goal of achieving the bright new world.

In Vlaardingen, 23-year-old internationalist Bas Hoppel sat down and wrote a letter full of continental courtesy. His request:
"A correspondence with a girl about 20-22 years old who would write with me about life and customs of our countries, music, literature, arts, and ourselves."

He enclosed his picture and a brief autobiography. He was born in Rotterdam, where he attended high school, worked as a correspondent in a ship-yard, and after spending a year in Germany joined the staff of a home for social and difficult boys.

His letter, well-written in good English, promises prompt and interesting replies—although to maximize the promptness, air mail would be recommended for any aspirants toward international correspondence, since Bas Hop-pel's letter, sent regular mail, was almost two months in the coming.
His address: "Callenburg," Vlaardingen, Holland.

well, to prevent serious illness. Sick children are referred to the private physician. The program attempts to be a supplement to the regular medical care of the child. In Ottawa County, there were 1112 infants born in 1945. Of these, 20 died during the first month of life, the period when the mortality is highest. Some of these deaths were unavoidable, but a few may have been prevented through better education of parents and better care and supervision of the very young infant.

Visits to homes where there are preschool children constitute a large part of the activity of the public health nurse.

Some health problems not apparent during infancy may become noticeable during this period. Immunization of children against disease may have been neglected, the child's nutritional status may be below normal—these and other aspects about the child's health are brought to the parent's attention, and corrections are urged from a physician's point of view.

To insure that the child is physically ready for school, Preschool Roundups, under the sponsorship of the Ottawa County Health Department, are held in the spring. Local physicians cooperate by volunteering their services for the roundups. Defects or physical difficulties discovered are called to the parent's attention, and corrections are urged so that the child may enter school from a healthy point of view.

mental conditions which may be a means of disease transmission. To accomplish this, the health department has made of public and private water supplies and sewage disposal systems, pollution of water, schools, food handling establishments, milk producers, milk processing plants and nuisances.

One of the problems in the pollution of natural bodies of water existed at Macatawa Park where a number of cottages were connected by a common sewer. The effluent in this sewer flowed directly into Macatawa Bay without treatment. Although no cases of illness were reported or traced to the pollution of the Bay, the potential environmental factors for disease transmission were there. The correction of the existing hazard was confronted by many obstacles. The health department had to secure the common sewer from various states and re-routed at the park at different times during the season or otherwise rented the cottages. As a result, it was impossible to get the group together. This necessitated individually contacting the ones involved and convincing them of the common danger. This method was the only way voluntary action by the group could be obtained since the community was not incorporated. While the efforts to improve the community sewage disposal system was evident, this group employed an engineer to submit plans of the proposed disposal system to the Health Department for approval. During the course of the year, the construction work was inspected and completed. The completion of the disposal system in this area has removed a source of pollution of the Bay and is an opening wedge into the program of eliminating such sources of possible disease transmission.

Industrial wastes are a source of like pollution and also a source of nuisance complaints. Read Johnson Co. has had difficulty in disposing of its waste. In addition, the company has a large production with inadequate disposal of their wastes at their Zeeland plant. The company has been very cooperative in its efforts to dispose of its waste. Local Cage Teams Get Set to Open Winter Campaigns

Defending Champions Bolstered by Stars From Football Teams

A full 52-game cage schedule for 1946-47 has been arranged for the three Holland basketball teams that play in the local Armory. A total of 24 games will be on the home list this year with the season opening on Dec. 3 and the first home game will be Dec. 5.

The defending state champions are working hard on the basketball courts under Coach Malcolm Mackay and Reserve Coach Fred Weiss. More than 50 boys turned out for practice but already the squad has been cut to 21 boys. The remainder will report the Monday after the final football game against Grand Haven. Most of the lettermen are on the football squad and Mackay will begin shaping up for the Ottawa Hills opener after these boys report.

The champion Dutchmen have been invited to a tournament in Flint during the Christmas holidays. There are eight teams invited to the meet and each team will play at least twice and four teams will play three games. The tournament will have a winner and a consolation winner. The teams included in the tournament are: Holland, Flint Northern, Flint Central, Saginaw, Bay City, Grand Rapids Central and two teams yet to be elected.

The Hope college basketball team, also champions, will get their season underway on Dec. 3 against a tough Percy Jones outfit. The GI's defeated the Dutchmen twice last year but may have lost some material since then while Hope has lost little and gained much. Coach Milton (Bud) Hinga has welcomed back another regular from the 1942 "Whiz Kids," who swept the MIAA that year. Rusty De Vette, a tall, rangy cager who has been playing with a service team in China. De Vette played on the Dennison squad while he was in service also. Another returnee is Dick Higgs who also played on the Dennison five.

The Hingamen have a schedule which is packed with powerhouse teams including Western State from Kalamazoo, Michigan Normal from Ypsilanti, Albion, and a pair of games with Calvin, Hope's great rival.

Hinga has been working his present squad of 18 men for two weeks and many of them are rounding into shape nicely. Now out for the squad are: Lettermen Herk Buter, Van Liere, Vanden Berg, Van Dort, Mulder, Dalman, Scholten, Meengs and Zuverink. New men include Van Wieren, Holkeboer, Cober, Brieve, Slikkers, Van Omen, Borr and Ploegsma.

Others who will report for practice from football are Harvey Buter, Van Dis, De Vette, Higgs and some men who as yet are unknown. The Hopes have three full weeks in which to get prepared for their first encounter.

The Christian High Maroons are out for blood this year as they lined up a schedule of 18 games starting with Fennville Dec. 3. The team this year will be coached by Art Tuls, a former star on the Christian High cage team. Tuls has been working for two weeks and with the remaining three weeks will have found his winning five. His lettermen back from last year are: Altena, Zoerhof, Schrotenboer and Lampen. Tuls has arranged seven games with Grand Rapids schools which already prove to be highlights on the schedule.

The entertainment took the form of a Halloween party with a Cub Scout spell-down for the parents, and peanut tossing and apple bobbing for the Cubs. After the games, refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Earl Fairbanks.

The theme announced for next month's program is, "When Knight hood Was in Flower." Den meetings will be based on stories and activities of heraldry and the knights of the Round Table. Cubs and their parents will prepare "armor," etc from tin cans and aluminum painted cardboard to be displayed at a "jousting" tournament to be held at the next pack meeting Dec. 3.

Farmer Shoots Wild Dog, Thought Killer of Turkeys

Grand Haven, Nov. 14—John Madl, Sr., Robinson township farmer, Friday shot a 55-pound wild dog, one of several believed to be raising havoc with cattle and turkeys in that section. The county paid almost $2,000 in damage to turkeys, most of the claims being filed in September.

State police and conservation officers believe the big black dog to be part coyote. It was caught in one of Madl's traps set for fox and was wild with rage attempting to loose itself.

Another dog was seen fleeing through the woods at the same time.
