Bob Andre Named Vice Chairman Of Polio Chapter

Bob Andre of Jenison was named vice chairman of the Ottawa county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis this week, succeeding Charles D. Veldhuis, retired Hudsonville school superintendent who is moving from the county. The appointment was unanimously approved by the county board consisting of Lt. Verne C. Dagen, chairman; Charles K. Bugelski, treasurer, and Mrs. Loretta De Weerd, secretary.

Plans for the county's 1954 drive in January are progressing, and Ernest Phillips, local polio chairman, and Irvin De Weerd, vice chairman, along with Charles E. Zerrip, Zeeland's retiring chairman, are assisting with arrangements.

The Ottawa county quota for 1954 calls for $1 per capita to continue its present patient care, the national program for polio prevention, patient aid, research and education. Total expenditures for patient care in the county in 1953 to date are $40,473.68. The polio fund balance as of Nov. 1 was $293.49.

Michigan's cases for 1953 totaled 2,086. Their care cost $1,804,000, of which $762,000 was provided by the national foundation's emergency fund. From the latter fund Ottawa county received $13,375.

State Chairman Paul Bagwell estimates Michigan will need $3,000,000 in 1954. The state fund has never been self supporting.

The term "polio prevention" describes a new phase in the national program, one which has been the aim of all its research. Dr. Hart Van Riper, medical director, recently announced that for the first time in history the national foundation believes it has a permanent vaccine. This was developed under a March of Dimes grant by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh. This killed-virus vaccine was tested on 637 people last April, and the experiment has been successful in that no one suffered any toxic effects from the inoculation; no one has contracted polio to date, and blood tests have shown these people to have a high immunity to all three strains of polio.

In the light of the preliminary success, the national foundation is planning mass field testing of this vaccine of between 600,000 and 1,000,000 children starting tentatively in December, turning for the first time from the defensive to the offensive in the desperate race against time to find a control for infantile paralysis.

One-third of all 1954 receipts will be turned over to the polio prevention program. This includes besides the massive vaccine field study the purchase of gamma globulin for use next summer as a stopgap measure in preventing polio paralysis.

These achievements were made possible through the American public's support of the March of Dimes. Furthering these achievements will cost an additional $25,000,000 in 1954, pointing to the need of more and larger contributions.

Rasmus Changes His Plea to Guilty

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — In a surprise move this morning, Joseph P. Rasmus, 41, Grand Rapids changed his plea of not guilty to guilty just before his trial before Judge Raymond L. Smith and the jury was to commence. His bond of $1,000 was continued and he will return Nov. 23 for disposition. The charge against Rasmus resulted from a fatal accident at the east limits of the village of Zeeland Sept. 13 when Mrs. Angeline Crews, 41, a passenger in the auto he was driving, was fatally injured.

He had originally entered a plea of not guilty Sept. 19 and later asked that the matter be remanded to Justice Court for examination, which was held Oct. 8. He again appeared for arraignment in Circuit Court Oct. 12, when he again entered a not guilty plea and date for trial was set for today.

The jury was excused until 9 a.m. Friday when the case of Howard Hyma against Gilbert Vanden Berg, both of Holland township is to be tried. Hyma is seeking $10,000 damages for severe and permanent injuries allegedly received Dec. 23, 1949, while a passenger in Vanden Berg's car while they were traveling on US-12 in the village of New Buffalo, Mich. It is alleged Vanden Berg, the driver and owner of the car, drove over the center line of the highway into the path of oncoming traffic.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff again warned youngsters that it is against the law to ride motor scooters on the sidewalk. Farmers Union Members Meet at Dykhuys Home

The Holland local of Michigan Farmers Union met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dykhuys, route 5. Twenty members were present. Vice President Louis Boenstra led the discussion on the Benson plan of reorganizing the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

During the discussion it was brought out that under this plan a "real political machine" would be set up through political appointees in every PMA county office in the nation, which would affect every farmer, and under the "guise of farm education through the Extension Service, long range plans would be drawn up for each individual farmer." If a farmer should not choose to follow this plan, "he would not be eligible to benefit from any government farm program and might be unable to get needed credit."

A resolution was adopted supporting the Ottawa county Board of Supervisors and the Ottawa county Soil Conservation Committee in their opposition to the Benson Plan on Soil Conservation. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Judge Reverses Court Procedure

ALLEGAN (Special) — Municipal Judge Ervin L. Andrews turned the tables on the complainant in a felonious assault case Friday and recommended that the prosecutor draw up a warrant charging him with disorderly conduct.

The witness, Fay Rouse, 30, of Otsego, had signed a complaint charging that Preston J. Baldwin, 40, of Plainwell, had assaulted him with a pocketknife during a fight on Court St., Otsego, on the night of Oct. 10.

Without benefit of counsel, Baldwin had waived examination in Judge Andrews' court two weeks ago and was bound over to circuit court. Later, he retained an attorney who made an investigation of the case and asked that Baldwin be remanded to municipal court for examination.

Back in municipal court Friday, Rouse, under cross examination admitted that he and Baldwin had been bickering most of the evening and that he had "sort of egged him on."

At that point, Judge Andrews directed Prosecutor Dwight Cheever to draw up a warrant charging Rouse with disorderly conduct and a new warrant for Baldwin charging simple assault.

Rouse pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $35 and costs. Baldwin also entered a guilty plea and was fined $50 and costs.

First Reformed Church Purchases Froebel Site

At a congregational meeting Wednesday night, First Reformed Church voted overwhelmingly to purchase the former Froebel school site from Western Theological Seminary as a site for a new church in the future.

The seminary had purchased the property from the Board of Education more than a year ago for a new seminary, but the board of trustees abandoned those plans last September in view of strong sentiment for continued development on the present site on 12th St.

Christmas Seals On Sale Nov. 16

Distribution of Tuberculosis Christmas seals will begin throughout the state, including Ottawa county, Nov. 16 and the stamps this year picture a child singing from an open song book. Colors are red, green and gold.

Funds from sale of the stamps go to the never-ending fight against tuberculosis. They represent the only means of financing the year-round voluntary TB battle in Ottawa county, according to Theodore J. Werle, executive secretary, Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Tuberculosis, Werle said, "kills more Michigan people than all other infectious diseases, steals more productive years from the lives of Michigan people than all other infectious disease, and costs more than all other infectious diseases combined."

Besides helping others, Christmas seal contributions, Werle said, "offer a means to build self-protection from this communicable disease."

Special Detection Week for Diabetes Slated in Holland

Diabetes Week will be observed throughout the nation Nov. 15 through 21 and the Ottawa County Medical Society is cooperating with the American Diabetes Association in sponsoring the program in this area.

Aim of the campaign is to find an estimated one million Americans who have diabetes but do not know they have it. Once found, the diabetes can be guided to medical care that will bring the ailment under control and enable a person to live a practically normal life.

Testing facilities to enable anyone to find out whether he or she has diabetes will be an important part of the local observance of Diabetes Week.

Members of the county medical society have offered to check the urines of their patients at their offices. Some local industrial plants will attempt to cover their personnel in "detection drive. Other groups are planning to cooperate in an effort to make the special week a success.

It is important for everyone to have a simple test that will indicate whether or not he or she has diabetes. A simple urinalysis is the basis of testing.

Facilities for screen tests, which take only a few minutes, are included in the local committee's plans.

Dr. John A. Reed of Washington, D.C., chairman of the American Diabetes Association's committee on detection and education, points out diabetes is one of the few chronic disorders for which there is a known control. Its cause is a glandular deficiency which makes the body unable to convert starches and sugars into energy. That deficiency cannot be cured, but the lack can be supplied by injections of insulin.

Many mild cases, in fact, can be controlled primarily by diet, with a reduced intake of sugars and starches and with no use of insulin. Those two factors—diet and insulin—plus exercise to help the body work off its sugar surplus, constitute modern medicine's triple-barreled attack on diabetes.

But those control measures can't be applied until the ailment has been diagnosed. And that is the reason for the detection drive.

The test is particularly important, medical authorities say, for any one who is seriously overweight or who has had an unexplained loss of weight or who has any of the typical symptoms of diabetes. These include constant hunger, excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant tiredness, itching, slow healing of cuts and bruises, changes in vision and pains in the extremities.

Prosecutor Drops Homicide Charge

A negligent homicide complaint and warrant against Hama Vander Molen, 66, of route 2, Hudsonville, dropped on motion of Ottawa County prosecutor James Bussard.

Vander Molen had demanded examination on the charge growing out of the death of 13-year-old Marilyn Lou Emmert, of route 1, Hudsonville. The girl was struck by a car driven by Vander Molen on Bauer Rd. near Bauer on Oct. 31.

A series of legal maneuvers in court this morning ended in the dismissal motion by Bussard after Vander Molen's attorney, Clarence Lokker, objected to the line of questioning.

Ottawa County Deputy Nelson Lucas was on the stand. Court officials explained that a corpus delicti must first be established before further questioning could continue.

Bussard said that deputies will continue their investigation of the case and Vander Molen can still be charged with negligent homicide since he had not yet been placed in jeopardy on the count.

Three Men Face Robbery Counts

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A Grand Rapids man and two of Grand Haven demanded examination on robbery unarmed charges when they were arraigned Monday before Justice Frederick J. Workman.

The three, Wayne Wymore, 18, route 1, Grand Haven, Duncan D. Tucker, 17, Grand Haven, and Irwin Slack, 25, Grand Rapids, were picked up by state police over the week-end and charged as the result of an alleged robbery on the beach along North Shore Rd. early Saturday morning.

Examination was set Tuesday, Nov. 17, at 10 a.m. Slack, a parolee, furnished bond of $1,000 and the other two $500.

The trio was apprehended on complaint of Harold Van Raalte, 21, Ferrysburg, who was discharged from the U. S. Army Nov. 3. He said he was beaten by an unknown assailant and that a billfold containing approximately $75, a $30 wrist watch and a pair of eye glasses were missing. It was determined later that Van Raalte was with the three men and a 16-year-old girl before the robbery and had gone to the beach following a drinking party in Grand Haven.

It was reported that Slack allegedly struck the first blow. The glasses were smashed and the billfold was burned. The watch was recovered but not the money.

Van Raalte told officers he remembered nothing after midnight and awoke on the beach about 5 a.m. with a swollen jaw and stiff neck and then walked three miles to his home arriving there at 6:30 a.m.

Armistice Day Observed By Veterans in City

Armistice Day was observed in Holland Wednesday as the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion posts held traditional dinners honoring the war dead and the end of World War I 35 years ago.

"That playhouse on the Hudson" was Leon Buer's, senior vice commander of the VFW, definition of the United Nations building in New York as he blasted the UN in an Armistice Day speech.

Speaking to more than 200 persons in the VFW hall, Buer urged veterans to write their congressmen to prevent a move to recognize and seat Communist Red China in the UN.

"Are we going to be sold down the river again? We're the most powerful country in the world and we are acting like the weakest," Buer said.

He asked what is this country going to do about 6,950 American boys who are still unaccounted for in Korea. Buer said to all intents and purposes the men have disappeared from the face of the earth.

"If this country is so yellow, timid and scared to apply pressure on the Reds, then let's quit right now and wait for the Reds to come over here and we will fight them here."

"The government and state benefits are ruining the economy of the country. Yet in 1890 almost one per cent of the national budget went for GI benefits. In 1953 less than three-quarters of one per cent go for these benefits."

"Since 1947 there has been a reduction of 46 per cent in GI benefits. No other federal agency has taken such a cut in spending. And all this despite the fact that 12 per cent of our population today are veterans."

"Michigan is being taken for a ride," Buer said. "The state stands eighth in the nation in sending men to the armed forces, fourth in amount of taxes paid but 47 in number of hospital beds available for GIs."

The meeting opened with the singing of the Lord's Prayer. Toastmaster Andrew Hyma introduced Post Commander Stanley Danning and Auxiliary President Mrs. Ruth Harnsen.

The Spanish-American veterans and their wives were special guests at the dinner. Earl Johnson, president of the Dad's group, and Gold Star Mothers were introduced.

Group singing was led by Fred Wise and the Four Star quartet entertained with several songs. A trumpet trio included Jim Van De Vusse, Harold Wise, and Andries Steketee accompanied on the piano by Paul Lucas.

The meeting concluded with the playing of taps as the group paid a silent tribute to the dead of all wars.

At the Legion Memorial Club House more than 100 members of American Legion posts 6 and 188 gathered for their annual Armistice Day banquet.

A moment of silence in reverence to the war dead opened the meeting. Harry Kramer, chaplain of post 6, gave the invocation.

Following a duet by Mrs. Ruth Nonhof and Miss Shirley Nonhof, accompanied by Miss LaMaee Zwiers, officers and activities of the Legion Auxiliary were presented by Mrs. James M. Cook, vice-president of the group.

Stoner presented a past commander's citation to C. Havinga. Havinga has served in numerous other positions within post 6. Havinga was toastmaster for the event.

Bruce Van Voorst, Holland Community Ambassador, showed colored slides of his trip to Europe this past summer, narrating the various points of interest. He spoke briefly following the showing.

Games, in charge of John Rozboom, climaxed the meeting.

Plans to Drop Candy Bags In Sunday School Contest

The Wesleyan Methodist Sunday School, which has been participating in a National Sunday School contest sponsored by the Christian Life magazine as an interdenominational project, has made plans for a unique stunt Saturday in which some 400 candy bags will be dropped from an airplane. With the candy will be an invitation to attend Sunday School.

The Rev. George B. Hilson, pastor of the church, explained that Sunday is the last of six Sundays that the Sunday School has participated in the contest. The contest is based on attendance and new methods pointing to personal participation in Sunday School work. The Sunday School has an attendance goal of 400.

Irving Harrington is superintendent. The flight is set for Saturday afternoon but in case of cloudy weather it may be in the morning.

"If you have winter coats, underwear, shoes, boys' trousers, dresses and other garments for little children, please bring them to the mission at 74 East Eighth St. or call 3461. We would appreciate it very much," the superintendent said.

He added that clothing for older children also can be used, but the more desperate need lies with the younger children. He explained that if the mission is closed when people leave articles, it would only be for a short time and suggested they leave the clothing at the front door.

The heaviest demand for clothing comes from families where the father is ill or incapacitated and from large families where income is inadequate.

The Holmes firm drew plans for the new Lincoln school, and the Van Raalte and Longfellow additions.

The council is a statistical clearing house which prepares reports on bond sales which are sent to more than 300 investment firms, banks, trust and insurance companies. The charge for the service is $300.

The board also approved several routine changes in setting up three separate bank accounts for sinking funds and debt retirement funds, subsequent to the approval of the Municipal Finance Commission to issue $900,000 worth of bonds. These involve accounts for the 1926 bond issue which lists an amount of $23,205.17, and the 1949 debt retirement fund which currently lists $247,415.15.

Also presented was a report on the high school building fund which lists a balance as of June 30, 1953, of $148,516.81. Contributing to the fund are the sending districts outside the city which give an additional $50 tuition per pupil for the fund and the Board of Education which earmarks $50 per city pupil. Sums included $56,785 in 1951, $56,290 in 1952 and $58,885 in 1953 for a total of $171,960, plus three-year, grand totals of $6,576.81 for grand total of $178,536.81. The only disbursement from the fund was $30,060 for 63 lots on 26th and 27th Sts. to be added to the new school site.

Also submitted was a report on tuition calculation for high school pupils. Claims and accounts totaled $82,276.36 of which $50,065.31 went for teachers' salaries.

Mrs. John K. Winter, president, and Trustee Vernon D. Ten Cate gave the invocation. All members were present. The meeting lasted 24 hours.

Children's Used Clothing Needed

Guilty Verdict Returned by Jury In Fish Net Case

Measurement System Explained at Trial In Municipal Court

A jury of six men deliberated for more than an hour Tuesday afternoon before finding Murray Chambers of Macatawa guilty of using illegally sized gill nets in fishing for chubs.

Ottawa County Prosecutor James Bussard opened the case before Municipal Court Judge Cornelius vander Meulen shortly after 2 p.m. and outlined the people's case saying the nets owned by Chambers were smaller than the statutes allowed.

Conservation department patrol boat officer Chester Bely was the first witness called by Bussard. Bely told how he and another officer, Melvin Plum found the nets late in October approximately nine miles northwest of Holland in Lake Michigan. He said a portion of the three-mile long string of nets was examined by using a small flexible metal rule as required by law.

Bely explained the rule, measuring 2 1/2 inches, is held between the thumb and forefinger, and inserted into the mesh.

If the bent rule does not straighten out to its full length, that particular mesh is not of legal size, a minimum of two and a half inches, he said.

Bely said after a number of tests were made and the majority of them showed the mesh were under the legal size, officers confiscated three miles of nets.

Prior to the examination, a portion of the nets and the rules were admitted as evidence. Defense counsel Rex Orton cross examined Bely.

Orton questioned Bely on exactly how the measurements were made. He then took one of the metal rules, held it up, and bent the rule. Orton asked Bely if the rule was supposed to return to its original straight shape.

Bely said "yes" and then Orton showed the rule would not straighten out. Bely and Bussard said Orton had broken the rule by bending it too far. After Plum and Boorman were called to the stand Orton introduced two witnesses.

A representative of the fish net making concern was called, who testified that the nylon constructed nets shrink and also stretch on occasion but his concern has sold legal sized nets to Chambers.

Bussard allowed invoices showing sale of the nets to be admitted in evidence. It was not established that the nets cited as illegal were the same as purchased from the concern.

Chambers was called to the stand, questioned by Orton and cross examined by Bussard.

After instructions by Judge vander Meulen the jury retired. They returned once to ask a question of the court and a second time asked to examine the nets and metal rules.

Shortly before 5:30 p.m. the jury returned with their guilty verdict. Judge vander Meulen deferred sentence until Nov. 17 at 2 p.m. Immediately after the trial papers were served on Chambers to confiscate the illegal nets valued at $1,500 to $2,000.

Prosecutor Asks Boat Amendment

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Prosecutor James W. Bussard has sent a letter to State Rep. George Van Dyke of Zeeland suggesting that the state legislature consider amending the statute referring to reckless operation of a motor boat.

The letter was in connection with a trial last Saturday concerning a 19-year-old coed who was found innocent of such a charge. The young man who was hit by the motorboat last summer has since had a leg amputated above the knee.

Bussard said the state law provides only a maximum fine of $10 on such a charge, and after several complaints is suggesting that the statute be amended to provide for prosecution as to "negligent" instead of "reckless" operation of motor boats and an adequate penalty for such a violation. He said a careful study of the statute (Sec. 28.21 MSA) will show it is almost impossible to prosecute successfully for reckless operation of a motor boat. In the case referred to there was adequate evidence of negligence and probably no evidence of "recklessness."

"At the present time it appears to me that motor boats on the inland waters of this state can be operated negligently with impunity and that such a situation should be remedied by the state legislature. I would like to see this statute amended so as to give more protection to those people using the inland waters of this state for other than operation of motor boats thereof," he wrote.

CLYDE NIEBOER POINTS to one of the trees which the Olive Center school is harvesting on Christmas trees this year to help pay for the new school now under construction to replace an old frame school destroyed by fire last Jan. 22. The school started planting Christmas trees six years ago on a 20-acre plot behind the school and last year cut its first trees making about $800. Earlier this week, three big truckloads left with trees and school leaders hope profits would again reach $800. The school is planting trees on the plot each year and hopes eventually to have the entire 20 acres covered. (Sentinel photo)

New members of the Woman's

Literary Club as well as the regular members were treated to a musical afternoon Tuesday when Dorothy and Fred Smythe provided finishing touches to the annual autumn dessert-tea with a two-piano concert.

Opening with "Bach in the Mike Hammer" manner, the artists played a group of numbers climaxed by "Slaughter on 10th Avenue." In the second portion of the concert, the Smythes played a medley of hit tunes from Broadway musical shows including Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," Youmans' "Call for Two" and Berlin's "Tea for Two." Tunes from Cole Porter's "Can Can" and Rodgers' "Me and Juliet" delighted the audience.

For the third and closing portion of the concert, they showed their versatility by playing well-known Latin tunes. In his introduction Mr. Smythe gave some background notes on the Argentine tango, Brazilian samba and the Cuban rumba. Starting to play the rumba, the Smythes took over the sound effects with the percussion instruments as the tape recorder played the music. "Mexican Hat Dance" and "Clap Hands" provided the Mexican touch. As an encore the Smythes played a number they said was applauded by their high school audiences, "Hot Toddy."

Tigers Come Out In Second Half To Rack Up Win

Coach Joe Rodgers must have used some magic words at half-time, because his Benton Harbor Tigers came charging out in the third quarter and overcame a 7-point deficit within a few minutes and went on to win 27-7 against Holland.

The game, highlight of the Holland Football Festival, was played in crisp, cool weather before an estimated 1,500 fans at Riverview Park. It was the last home game of the season for Holland, and 20 seniors on the squad. The Dutch finish up next Friday at Grand Haven.

Holland started strong and racked up seven points in three minutes. From then until the half, the locals turned back two dangerous Benton Harbor scoring drives with vicious tackling.

But after the intermission, the Tigers came back with a touchdown run on the third quarter kickoff and took advantage of two pass interceptions and a Holland fumble to push over three more TDs before the final horn sounded.

Holland took the initial kickoff and Halfback Ron Van Dyke fumbled it on his own nine, but picked it up and ran up to the 33. From there to the end zone, the Dutch clicked better offensively than they have all season. Halfback Paul Mack squirted off right tackle to the 37. Jim Boeve, who started at fullback, made it to the 38. Mack, on a delay, went to the 46 and Ron Van Dyke to the 47. Quarterback Bob Van Dyke spotted the close Benton Harbor defense and caught the secondary pulled in when he flipped a neat pass that brother Ron caught on the Benton Harbor 48 all alone and ran all the way to the visitor's 24 before he was tackled. Two plays later, Mack stepped back and heaved toward the end zone. The ball slipped between the outstretched hands of Benton Harbor defender Howard Rodgers and Ron Van Dyke caught it and stepped the last yard for six points. Bob Van Dyke added the point and it was 7-0 with the game three minutes old.

Benton Harbor had drives to the Holland 24 and 6 respectively before Holland held on fourth down in the second quarter and at half-time it was 7-0.

But the explosive Tiger offense came to life in quick order. Ron Van Dyke kicked off and 158-pound Rodgers caught the ball on his 10, raced up the middle, cut to the south sidelines and outdistanced the entire Holland team as he crossed the goal a good 15 yards ahead of the closest man chasing him. Rodgers, a junior, added the point and it was tied up.

Ron Van Dyke fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Harold Wheeler fell on it on the Holland 34. Four plays later a 19-yard pass play from Rodgers to End Jim Reynolds in the end zone made it 13-7. Rodgers' kick was wide.

Holland was still very much in the ball game. However, early in the final quarter, with the ball on Benton Harbor's 43 in Holland's possession, Mack's pass was intercepted by big 185-pound, 6'11" junior Don Arend, who took it on his own 35 and went all the way, aided considerably by a nice block by Reynolds on the last Holland man that had a chance at it. Rodgers added the point and with seven and a half minutes to go it was 20-7.

Wheeler was the fly in the ointment again soon after when this time he intercepted a Mack pass and returned it to the Holland 31. The play had started on the Holland 36. Eight plays later a beautiful pass play from Rodgers to End Ron Zacha, all alone in the end zone, was good and that was it.

Coach Dale Shearer used a good share of subs along the way and had a chance to see most of the second and third stringers in action. Holland's tackling all evening was sharp as the night air. Men such as Dick Yskes, before he was injured, Ennis Gonzales, Co-Captain Blaine Timmer and Dave Rogers, were really setting 'em back.

Benton Harbor standouts were Zacha and Tackle Paul Farris.

Volleys

It's newcomer time in Holland again, and a lot of newcomers have moved into the city during October.

Al Ackerman, the new sports announcer at WHTC, and his wife and seven-year-old son have moved into a house at 165½ West 17th St. They came here from Chicago.

Two Bohn Aluminum executive families have moved here from Adrian. Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Woods and two young children are living at 50 East 15th St., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart and two young children are living at 30 West 27th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Mellema and two sons have moved here from Grand Rapids and are living at 881 Woodbridge. Mr. Mellema is employed at Vans, Inc., and his wife is a nurse at Holland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bendixen of Winnipeg, Canada, have purchased a home at 648 West 20th St. Mr. Bendixen is a dental technician at Van Fleet laboratories.

Holland, Mich., isn't very close to Ohio or Washington, D.C., but the Chamber of Commerce certainly is well supplied with maps serving those places. U.S. Rep. Jerry Ford availed himself of local supplies when he was here earlier this week. Why is it that it's always hard to pick up the right maps at the most logical places?

Wotsis we hear about two strangers barging into a meeting of high school principals and coaches a few nights ago looking for a bar? It couldn't have been funnier.

The paths of Sentinel photographer Al Bransdorfer and his old chief in the Bander seem to cross every once in a while. It started out when Al and some Navy men were first attending radio school at the University of Wisconsin where Gus Steinhebel was instructor.

Then when the group went to the South Pacific, Steinhebel was chief petty officer on board ship. At Okinawa they were thrown together again.

On Thursday afternoon, Bransdorfer stopped at the football practice field where the Moosehart football team had stopped an hour for some practice before meeting the Big Reds at Muskegon. He chatted with the assistant coach who was none other than old Gus. There was one certain expression in the conversation that tipped off the identities.

Al figured it was 8½ years since they had met.

"You've grown," Gus said.

Speaking of football, George Lumsden has a few stories of his athletic prowess while attending college. Never having gone into football while at high school, George had his first experience in the game at college level.

His most memorable experience occurred on practice field when he tackled one of Hope's biggest stars and put him out of commission three weeks.

Laft for the day:

Two friends motored home from a fishing trip in Maine. On a lonely country road they encountered engine trouble. Who answered their knock at the nearest farmhouse? Right! The farmer's beautiful daughter. She gave them dinner and let them stay overnight. Six months later one of the friends received an ominous-looking legal document. A frown disappeared as he read it, and then he phoned his fishing companion.

"I say, Tom," he said. "Did you by any chance spend a little time with that beautiful farm girl the night our car broke down?"

"Why, yes," answered Tom sheepishly.

"And did you, in a moment of Machiavellian cunning, give her my name and address?"

"Now, don't get sore about that," broke in Tom. "Where's your sense of humor?"

"Oh, I'm not a bit sore," his friend assured him. "I just thought you'd like to know I heard from her lawyer. She died last week and left me the farm and $12,000 in cash."

Arizona's Grand Canyon of the Colorado is more than 200 miles long, a mile deep and ranges in width from four to 18 miles.

The expression "dog days" originated in ancient Rome when it was believed that the simultaneous rising of Sirius, the dog star, and the sun caused the hot and humid weather of midsummer.

Holland's coaching staff really went all out to try and win Friday's game. Ned Stuitts even bought a new hat. Many fans did not even recognize him. But it did supply good joke material all night.

Benton Harbor started the game using 6-2-1-2 defense. The lads were pulled in pretty close, and presented a natural pass situation for the Dutch.

Holland's strategists quickly spotted this and before long the locals were passing and running the ends. Holland had their first TD before Tiger Coach Joe Rogers spread out the secondary.

One lad who was really putting a spark into the Holland defense was Ennis Gonzales, getting his first crack at backing up the line. The youth, a bare 5'9" tall and 150 pounds, was really pushing those big Tiger linemen around.

Holland's Chuck Gouloze also played one of his best games and while we're handing out roses, Carl Fehring gets a big bloom too for his excellent defensive play.

One of the reasons Benton Harbor is so powerful offensively is they are as effective back over the weak side as they are to the normally strong right side.

Halfback Joe Rodgers and Fullback Bob DeFrance are a potent combination in the Tiger single wing attack. Both boys spin, and frequently crash up across the weak side guard or tackle. Their ball handling was excellent.

Top-flight halftime shows are becoming traditional around Holland gridirons and Friday night was no exception. Director Arthur C. Hills and his assistant Granville Cutler put the band through its paces in a snappy salute to Thanksgiving.

After forming a ship for the "Mayflower" and Indian topees portraying the hardships of America's first settlers, the band went into a cross and played the famous Thanksgiving song "Come Ye Thankful People."

The noise and bustle of the stadium was suddenly quiet as a trumpeter sounded out taps in every year.

The western pronghorn antelope, alone of all horned creatures, has horns that grow over bony cores and yet sheds them every year.

OH, THE TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS of a manager. It's all in the line of duty for Hope College football manager Norm Lager who doubles as baby sitter at the afternoon practices of the Dutch grid squad. Object of his attention is little Douglas Prins, whose daddy, "Bud" Prins, is center and place kicker for the Hope eleven. Dad is supposed to take care of the youngster, because his mother has a part time job. But it's rather difficult to center the ball to the proper halfback while keeping one eye on the child. So Norm volunteered, deciding that winning teams like Hope deserve extra special considerations. But Doug will be sound asleep at home tonight as his dad joins the rest of the Hope squad in hosting Kalamazoo at Riverview Park in the last home game of the season for local grid fans. Isaac Rottenberg Gives Talk at Mission Meet

Isaac Rottenberg, seminary student, told about his experiences among the Dutch immigrants in Canada the past three summers, at a meeting of the Third Reformed Church Missionary Auxiliary Wednesday evening.

There are at least 12 organized churches now and about 25 groups. Twenty thousand Dutch families enter Canada each year and next year 30,000 are expected, he said. The Reformed church was requested to come into Canada to work. Many difficulties were involved and ministers were needed. Choirs were started bridging the change from the Dutch to the English language as hymns were sung in English.

There is a tremendous burden of social work for the minister, he said. The Dutch people must make a complete adjustment to their new surroundings and learn a different language. In their work of ten misunderstandings arise due to the fact that they cannot understand their employers.

Mrs. Marius Mulder led devotions. A quartet composed of Arnold Ver Meer, Mrs. Arnold Ver Meer, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ver Meer sang three Dutch selections. They were accompanied by Miss Mildred Schuyper.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. K. Koolker, president; Mrs. G. Vander Borght and Miss J. Karsten, first vice presidents; Mrs. H. Koolker and Miss C. Hilariides, second vice presidents; Mrs. Ruth Bleckink, secretary; Mrs. J. De Koning, treasurer; Mrs. R. Wilson, board member; Miss E. Veen Huis, service committee chairman; Mrs. R. Champion, social committee chairman; Mrs. C. Groenewoud, membership committee chairman.

Good Stewards of God's Gifts
Psalm 24:1; Leviticus 25:18-22;
Malachi 3:7-9, 16; 1 Corinthians

By Henry Geerlings

The basic fact in considering the subject of giving, is that God created and owns the world including ourselves. One's very existence is the gift of God. The seed which we sow and the crops which we reap are his. The Biblical principle of private ownership is valid, in establishing the rights of men in relation to each other. In relation to God, however, ownership is not the word—we are God's stewards.

As His stewards there are two main things to be kept in mind. The first is that we are responsible for diligently caring for all which has been entrusted to us. Natural resources are to be preserved. The amount value and trust is to be enlarged, not diminished. If possible, one talent committed to us ought to return ten talents to the Lord. But the second responsibility of our stewardship has to do with offerings made from time to time in recognition of God's ownership, and as a matter of cooperating with him in specific current opportunities for service—such as tithes, burnt offerings and such as the apostle Paul requested for relief of other needy Christians.

The tithe represents a beautiful sentiment that originated in the days of the patriarchs. It was probably their own idea at first, as a suitable proportion for contributing to what they regarded as God's receiving agents. Thus we are told that Abraham paid tithes to that mysterious, unknown saint and leader called Melchizedek.

It was one of the first impulses of Jacob's heart, when God blessed him at Bethel; to build an altar and pledge a systematic share of all his future profits as a gift to God. We are not told through what channels he applied these gifts. Probably the only receiving agents he could find were the poor or probably some embarrassed relatives of his family who may have been in need. The outcome of God's dealings with him, and the victories he gained, would indicate that he kept his word. It was however a voluntary pledge and not the adherence to a law.

Tithe as a standard of giving has no dispensational limits. Tithe as a law was a part of the Mosaic system. It represented a covenant into which every member of the temple or synagogue was supposed to enter, even if he were a proselyte.

The Korean War might be said to be the result of economic pressures which stem from a lack of good stewards of the gifts of God. Although man shall not live by bread alone, it is equally true that man must have bread. Our task as Christians is to see that bread has its proper relationship to life. The great peril is in the possibility of physical bread becoming the major objective in life of material things taking precedence over spiritual values.

Millions throughout the world are floundering in the engulfing waves of materialism. More important than life itself is the moral and spiritual enrichment of human personalities. The acquisition of things should ever be secondary and present day history bears this out. Our task is to apply the teachings of the Bible to this world problem of materialism—man's failure to recognize his obligation to be a good steward of the gifts of God.

While the matter of stewardship is generally applied to the believers it is equally applicable to every one. All are recipients of God's daily gifts and providences whether they are conscious of the fact or not. People of common sense cannot deny that we are all under obligation to God for his goodness.

The first and most popular way that stewardship is presented to us is not the only thing which we possess. The Christian should consider all that he is and has as a gift of God to be used for our good and His glory. Another point we ought to emphasize is this, it is the quality of our offerings. The Old Testament offerings were to be the best of the flock, without spot or blemish. So should our offerings be. We are to give lives that are worth something, lives that God can use and which will count in His service.

Stewardship begins where we are now and demands that we use every opportunity for development as God's gift to us. Stewardship is for all. It makes no difference what our status is, whether rich or poor. We are responsible for only what we have. The widow's mites were of more value than the larger sum of the rich. And our stewardship should be continuous and regular.

Farm-to-Prosper Group Is Aiming For Best Round-Up

"The best party we ever had." That was the target sights were set for as 28 members of the West Michigan Farm-to-Prosper Contest Association board of trustees met in Muskegon Monday night to discuss overall plans for the Round-Up climaxing the 1953 contest.

Enthusiasm was high as Edward F. Allen expressed confidence the Round-Up set for Tuesday Dec. 29, could be made better than any in the years since the first one in 1941. Allen, manager of Sears Roebuck store in Muskegon, is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee charged with financing the Round-Up.

The greater Muskegon Chamber of Commerce finances the Round-Up. It is open to all members of competing community organizations, their families and friends, and similarly to members of business organizations which provide the prize money in the five counties—Mason, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana, and Ottawa.

Win Three Honors For Advertising

Competing with more than 2,500 supermarkets in the United States and Canada, Van's Food Department Store, Inc., on Michigan Ave., received three awards for advertising during the convention of the Super Market Institute at Hollywood Beach Hotel, Hollywood, Fla.

Shown at left is William B. Carr, vice president and advertising director of McCall's Magazine, sponsor of the awards, making the presentation to G. Vander Hooning, president of Van's. This marked the first time one supermarket has received three awards, namely for advertising in the following fields: Agricultural Service, Community Service, and Brand Names.

Van's Food Department Store won three out of 13 first prizes in the nationwide competition and also took two special citations.

The Agricultural Service Award is given to advertisements which sell farm products or present the story of the supermarket's service to the farmer. Community Service Awards go to advertisements devoted primarily to community or civic needs, or in behalf of community or civic interests, without regard for immediate personal gain. The Name Brand or National Brands Award goes to advertisements which deliver the message of national brands as part of the supermarket quality, value and customer service policies and advertisements which represent the supermarket as "the home of national brands."

The competition, the fifth of its kind, is held each year under the auspices of Super Market Institute, national organization of supermarket chains in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii. It is designed to accord recognition to supermarkets whose advertising in the newspapers of the nation, has become an increasingly powerful force for knowledge of nutrition and better family feeding.

Dutchmen Rally In Second Half To Defeat Kazoo

While Hope College was edging Kalamazoo 12-7 in a tight defensive battle at Riverview Park Saturday night, Albion and Hillsdale were battling to a 0-0 tie. Thus the Dutch are assured of the first undisputed MIAA title in the history of the local school.

In 1951 Hope tied with Alma for the title and way back in 1934 a Hinga coached Hope team tied Kalamazoo for the crown.

Coach Al Vanderbush's 1953 team so far has a record of five wins and no defeats in MIAA play and must play Alma this Saturday. However, the title already has been decided in Hope's favor.

Saturday's game was a toughie for the locals, however, and Kalamazoo put up a stubborn defense that pretty well throttled Hope's offense all evening.

Coach Rolla (Red) Anderson unleashed a defensive club that fought all night in its own territory without allowing Hope yardage in the tight spots to score.

Both teams went scoreless throughout the first half as drives sputtered for Hope on the four yard line in the first quarter and 19 in the second period. Two successive penalties against Kalamazoo stalled its only drive on the Dutch seven yard stripe.

A tremendous running and passing attack by Hornet Halfback John Compton kept the Dutch off balance and the vaunted Hope defense was effectively bottled up throughout the half.

An attempted field goal by Hope Center Bud Prins early in the first quarter from the Hornet 23 yard line was blocked by Tackie Don Hay.

For the first few plays, the second half looked like a continuation of the close struggle. But Prins' kickoff was taken by Fullback Lee Sherman to the Kalamazoo 36 yard line.

A Compton pass to End Vic Landervon was good for five yards and Compton crashed through center for five more and a first down. Halfback Bill Dent failed to gain on a reverse and a Compton pass was incomplete before Dent swept left end for nine yards and almost a first down. But the Hornets had to kick and Compton booted to the Hope 20 yard line.

Waiting for it was Halfback John Adams who started up the south sidelines, cut across to the other side, and streaked 80 yards for Hope's initial score. Bud Prins' kick was wide and Hope led 6-0.

Kalamazoo's Sherman returned the kickoff to his own 36 yard line where Compton and Dent alternated in carrying to the Hope 35. Fine defensive play by Captain Jim Van Hoven helped stop the push, and the Dutch took over on its own 42.

Hope, with John Holmlund in at quarterback, couldn't get rolling either and exchanged punts with the visitors. Holmlund threw several successive passes, some of them right in the receivers' hands, but none of them were completed.

Big break in this see-saw battle came on the first play of the fourth period. Adams took a lateral from Quarterback Harry Voss and went all the way from his own 44 yard line to the Hornet 20.

A Voss pass was knocked down and then Jim Van Hoven carried on an end around play to the Kalamazoo nine. Frank Talarico picked up the first down on the next play and Voss' pass dropped incomplete.

Hope scored on the next play with Adams taking a pitch-out and running wild to the right before passing to End John Brannock who made a sensational shoe-string catch on the goal line. Prins' kick was partially blocked and the score stood 12-0.

By this time there was only about eight minutes left in the game, and Kalamazoo started to open up with Compton passing and Roy Stricker, Aceligh Dodson and Pete Lenox trying.

The visitors picked up five first downs in a row bringing the ball to the Hope 16 where the Dutch took over after holding on downs. Talarico picked up five yards but a penalty set the locals back to their own 11.

After a minor gain and incomplete pass, the Dutch were forced to kick, Talarico back to punt standing on his own 10. But the Hornets line, who had been charging hard all night, broke through with End John Sweet blocking the kick. Chuck Brown recovered on Hope's six yard line.

Even then the Dutch were almost able to hold as Dent went to the three, and Quarterback Pete Lenox recovered his own fumble for no gain. Dodson then crashed to the one before Lenox scored on a Quarterback sneak. Hope's line threw Lenox back but the officials said he'd crossed the goal. End Bill Howlett booted the extra point and the visitors were back in the ball game.

Then began one of the longest four minute periods that Coach Al Vanderbush's squad will see in a long time. Hope took the kickoff on its own 44. The Hornets tried an on-side kick but Hollander downed it safely.

Halfback Bob De Young rattled off four yards, and Fullback Dave Kuysers picked up a first down by crashing to the Kalamazoo 40. Kuysers gained another four yards and it looked like Hope was again on the march.

Things looked even better as flashy De Young broke into the Hornet secondary on the next play. But he fumbled when tackled hard and Vern Mario recovered for the visitors on their own 20 yard line.

Community Chest Gifts Stand at 107 Per Cent

The 1954 Community Chest campaign officially ended Saturday with its final figure listed at $42,410.68 or almost $3,000 over the assigned quota of $39,500.

Campaign Director Riemer Van Til said the final figure on gifts and pledges was better than 107 per cent, one of the finest records established in Holland for a Community Chest drive.

Today's figure represents the final figure on Chest contributions, although like all campaigns, Community Chest still keeps the door open and will accept gifts at any time.

The bulk of the contributions comes from the Single Solicitation Plan, Inc., a program for local firms in which payroll deductions are matched by management to cover such charities as Community Chest, Polio and the Red Cross.

Van Til and his co-chairman, Bernard P. Donnelly, today again expressed their appreciation for the unselfish efforts on the part of 400 to 500 volunteers who worked to make the 1953 campaign a success.

Chest leaders were particularly happy that all work was done promptly since many times campaigns run well into November. The campaign officially went over the top a week ago today.

Dutch Harriers Defeat Kazoo

Dutch Visitors Baffled By Local Football Game

Attending the Hope-Kalamazoo football game in Holland Saturday night provided a real American touch to a group of Dutch visitors who included Holland, Mich., in a 10-day visit to the United States.

To Theunis Kerkhof, 54-year-old Dordrecht school teacher, and his sister, Mrs. Jannetje van der Graaff, the game was one of confusion in which players "crouch like tigers ready to come in for the kill, and then all the baffled eye sees is an intricate knot of limbs sprawling all over the field." Kerkhof had won first prize in a contest to identify pictures appearing in Panorama, Dutch pictorial weekly, of 15 famous places and buildings of the world.

The football game was far more familiar to Jim Klaarenbeek, photographer-reporter for Panorama, who admitted playing more than a little bit of rugby (that's football in Europe) for his alma mater. This six-foot-five young giant admitted to playing left half on his home team. But football is not the national sport in the Netherlands that it is in the United States, and it is not at all unusual for the European to be completely baffled by American gridiron tactics.

Of more interest to Kerkhof and his sister was the tour about Holland — which is considerably more American than they pictured it. "I'd like to live here," the schoolmaster said. "I like those new houses with everything on one floor," his sister echoed.

The couple, along with Dr. Lucas N. H. Bunt, curator of the Pedagogic Institute of Utrecht University and assistant professor of Didactics of Mathematics at Utrecht and Groningen Universities, were guests at a tea Saturday afternoon at the Willard C. Wichers home on Central Ave. Among the guests were six students at Western Theological Seminary from the Netherlands. They intend to serve churches for the Dutch immigrants in Canada after their training.

Traveling with the group were the Panorama photographer and Bruce Hamon of the General Motors Overseas Operation which with the Pan American World Airlines and Panorama sponsored the contest.

The group also visited the Netherlands Museum, and had dinner with a group of Hope College people Saturday evening before going to the football game. They left Holland Sunday afternoon for Detroit after attending church services.

"We're glad Hope College won the game, but then we fully expected them to," the visitors said.

'Fashions and Fancies' Attracts Large Audience

St. Catherine's Guild of Grace Episcopal Church sponsored the style show, with the cooperation of Reichardt's of Grand Haven. All proceeds will be used for the new Grace Church.

Spring Lake Girl Found Innocent In Boating Case

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — After deliberating 10 minutes, a justice court jury Saturday found Miss Joan Board, 19-year-old student at Michigan State College, not guilty of a charge of reckless use of a motor boat.

Miss Board had entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned before Justice Frederick J. Workman of Spring Lake Aug. 27, the day following a boat accident in Lloyd's bayou at Spring Lake when Carl Anderson, 22, of Spring Lake, was so seriously injured that on Sept. 3 his left leg was amputated above the knee after gas gangrene had set in.

Anderson, the first witness called, testified from his wheel chair that he had tied up his boat and was swimming toward a raft that had been in the bayou for a number of years. He said as Miss Board's 15-foot speedboat came near him he realized the operator did not see him and he dove to avoid the boat but was hit. He said he immediately called for help and a young boy on a raft came toward him with a rowboat. Later Miss Board came with her boat but it was too high for him to get aboard.

Once ashore, Anderson said Miss Board tried to patch the injuries on his right leg. He said at the time there were three persons in a rowboat and several others on the raft. On cross-examination he informed the jury that at no time was he swimming under water.

Vernon Rake, 11-year-old Muskegon boy who was on the raft at the time of the accident, told the jury how he and his companions assisted in bringing Anderson to shore. He said they were swimming and rowing around in a rowboat.

Corp. Clarence Beuerle of the state police said by the time he arrived at the scene, a Spring Lake physician had given first aid and an ambulance was standing by. Beuerle called a Muskegon hospital to make further arrangements. He said in questioning Miss Board, she said she was about to make a circle around the raft and had not seen Anderson because her attention was focused on the raft and it never occurred to her that somebody might be swimming on her side of the raft. The officer was not cross-questioned.

Miss Board displayed no emotion or remorse when she took the stand. She testified her parents have a summer home on the east side of the bayou and that her companion on the day in question was 12-year-old Betty Ann Pater of Chicago. The boat she was operating belonged to her brother who lives in Illinois. She said she had been a swimming instructor for the Ottawa County Red Cross for several years.

When asked by Prosecutor James Bussard why she went to an area where children were swimming, she said she wanted to show her young companion the sights around the lake. She said she had no idea how fast the boat was traveling and could not account why she did not see Anderson.

Serving on the jury were Graham Fowler, Leon Campbell, George D. Branton, Douglas Baker, William Loutit and J. William Cooper, all of Spring Lake.

Zeeland Notches Second Place in Ken-New-Wa Loop

COMSTOCK PARK (Special) — A 34-13 win over Comstock Park secured the runner-up spot in the Ken-New-Wa league Friday night for Coach Jerry Groeters' Zeeland Chix.

Zeeland scored the first time it got the ball as Halback John Vanden Bosch returned the kick-off to the Zeeland 40 yard stripe. Halback Ron Weatherbee scooted 35 yards on a reverse to the Parker's 25.

The pair alternated in carrying it to the two, before Quarterback Jack Faber slipped across for the initial tally. John Van Dam kicked the extra point and Zeeland had the lead.

But the Parkers weren't going to let up that easily, as they came charging right back to score within two minutes. Halbacks Brewer and Wilson alternated in carrying to the Zeeland 20. A pass from Cavanaugh to Wilson put the ball on the five, and Brewer carried over for the score.

Comstock's line held the Chix on the next series of plays, and then broke through to block Weatherbee's punt. The Parkers recovered the ball on the Chix 35.

Cavanaugh again passed, this time to Bralley who brought the ball to the 12 before runs and a five yard penalty brought it to the Chix three. Wilson carried over on the first play in the second quarter. The try for extra point was good and Zeeland trailed 13-7.

Again it was the touchdown duo, Vanden Bosch and Weatherbee, who bore the brunt of the Chix attack as they came back to take the lead when Vanden Bosch plunged over from two yards out. The kick was good.

An intercepted pass set up the next Zeeland tally, as Vanden Bosch caught Cavanaugh's pass and returned to the Parker 34. Faber passed to Klamp on the 23, Vanden Bosch ran to the 11, and then passed to Faber in the end zone for the tally. Halftime score gave the Chix a 20-13 lead.

Zeeland commanded play throughout the second half, as a recovered fumble set up another Chix score. Another Vanden Bosch to Faber pass netted the TD.

Scoring for the evening ended as Weatherbee plunged over from the two yard marker midway through the fourth quarter. The score had been set up on a Vanden Bosch to Weatherbee pass good for 20 yards.

The contest rang down the curtain on Chix football for this season. A record of five wins, one tie and two losses were enough to capture the second place spot in conference standings.

At the helm was newcomer Jerry Groeters who was elevated to the head coach position when Joe Newell accepted a position as principal of Pittsford Agricultural School.

Let's Plant Beauty--Killing Frost Puts Emphasis on Indoor House Plants

This week's killing frost has made most of us dependent again upon house plants and purchased flowers for that touch of the growing plant world without which a home seems dead. We have a wealth to choose from, varieties to suit the decor of any room and the condition of any home.

There are people who say that they love house plants but just cannot grow them. With a little study one can find the types of plants which are right for her home and just as important, perhaps, for the amount of attention one is willing to give them. If you are one of those who will not water them more than once a week, stick to succulents, sedums, echeverias, and sansevieras, or grow cacti which usually want light watering about every two weeks, but remember that cacti want sunlight. These desert plants can resist the dry atmosphere of our homes.

But most of us want vines and plants with luxuriant foliage. Few of these need direct sunlight but most of them like a bright location. And they need proper watering. A plant is more apt to remain healthy when given frequent light watering than when it is saturated once a week. Don't water if the topsoil is damp to the touch, but remember how dry your skin becomes in an artificially heated house and don't neglect checking on your plants' needs. A little and often is a good practice in feeding as in watering, rather than a feast or famine diet. Liquid plant foods are easy to use. Whatever you use, do follow directions.

Fancy little do-dads on a window ledge might better be enjoyed for their own sake than as containers for a self respecting plant. Give your plant a chance of survival in a pot large enough for its development. Foliage should be kept clean, though never washed with a detergent. If yellowing or blemishes are noted, check for aphids or mites and control with a recommended spray.

African violets have culture requirements all their own which most growers are aware of, but perhaps the most overlooked fact is that they are sensitive to drafts and temperature changes.

Other generations considered sanseveria and the aspidistra their fool proof plants. Pothos might be ours. It is a vine similar to but not to be confused with philodendron cordatum, which is a little finer textured but also more demanding. Pothos leaves will be flecked with cream or light yellow if it receives some sun, but it is satisfied with a spot where it receives a half day of good light. It is listed among those plants which can endure a small amount of gas in the air. It may be grown in water, but it is usually potted and kept reasonably moist. It propagates easily from shoot tips. One such tip cutting taken a half dozen years ago has produced four large plants of cuttings for friends. Anybody can grow pothos.

Tonga, an island in the south Pacific, is a debt-free kingdom without any factories, mines, newspapers or public electricity.
