Gales Cause Some Damage in Area; Big Lake Rough

Scattered Power And Telephone Failures Reported

Holland residents today braced for a second day of whip-lashed winds which swept into the area Tuesday along with the first cold wave of the season.

But despite 50-mile-an-hour gales damage in Holland area was at a minimum. Perhaps the greatest casualty was the many TV aerials knocked down by heavy winds. There were several branches down, causing scattered interruptions in power and telephone service.

Holland was lucky, compared with what happened elsewhere. Most severely hit by Wednesday's storms accompanied by winds up to 80 miles an hour was the Upper Peninsula and the northern Lower peninsula.

George Rendleman, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, said only a few wires were down in Holland. One or two were broken by strong winds, causing some sparking. The power failures that resulted were few and scattered. Heavy winds curtailed work on the pipeline to some degree.

A. G. Sall of the Telephone Co. said the only real difficulty was a complete break in the long distance toll cable south of Holland, resulting in rerouting all those calls through Grand Rapids. Two cable crews were working on the break today and expected to complete repairs this afternoon. There were few scattered reports of breakdowns caused mainly by falling limbs.

Coast Guardsmen reported winds up to 50 miles on Lake Michigan and said waves were so high they completely obscured the breakwaters. The waves Tuesday were breaking over the beacon lights at the end of the long pier. The lake was somewhat more calm today. Repair crews of Consumers Power Co. also were busy today restoring power in isolated sections.

Predictions called for continued cold, snow flurries and diminishing winds. The temperature at 11 a. m. today was 29, compared with a low of 20 during the night. Wednesday's maximum was 50 and the minimum 29 with rainfall .06 inch. Gale-force winds also lashed Chicago, injuring three persons. In Wisconsin four hunters were reported missing after winds whipped peaceful Green Bay and Lake Winnebago into a frenzy. The Green Bay sheriff reported "the water's practically left the bay."

In Minnesota, 400 pieces of equipment were called out to clear northern highways of 8 to 10 inches of wind-whipped snow, while flash floods added to the misery in Ohio and Indiana.

The Miami River swirled up near Dayton, Ohio, after 2.87 inches of rain forcing evacuation of residents in three housing developments. The river kept rising at the rate of 9 inches an hour and rescue units were alerted for major evacuations.

In central and southern Indiana more than four inches of rain sent flash floods swirling across highways, washed out bridges and forced evacuation of thousands of Indianapolis and Franklin. Patients were moved from lower floors at Johnson County hospital and water poured over the sidewalks at Anderson.

It was the first major cold wave of the season, coming on the heels of record-breaking Indian summer weather.

West Olive Siding Used First-Time in 35 Years

WEST OLIVE (Special) — For the first time in 35 years, a carload of produce has been shipped out of West Olive. The shipment involved a load of Christmas trees being loaded today for Van's Pine Co. of Chicago for the Chicago market.

Years ago, West Olive was a fairly important shipping center for steam wood (four-foot lengths), sugar beets and rye. At one time there were two warehouses, long since removed, and the siding has been idle about 35 years. The Chicago company obtained special permission to open the siding.

Arrangements were made because the West Olive loading center is far more convenient than hauling all the Christmas trees to Grand Haven. The company plans to ship four or five carloads of Christmas trees this season.

TODAY'S HEAVY WINDS were responsible for this scene in which part of a tree in the yard of Mrs. Nicodemus Bosch at 189 West 12th St. was blown down into the yard of B. P. Donnelly home (shown here) which fronts on Maple Ave. The result was more spectacular than damaging. (Sentinel photo)

Agent Suggests Gravy Recipe

By Grace Vander Kolk -
Ottawa County
Home Demonstration Agent

Roast turkey is traditional, but cooking in aluminum foil is a comparatively new method of preparing turkey and has two distinct advantages. Cooking time is shortened and spattering of the oven is eliminated. But foil-cooked turkeys have other characteristics, too. The skin may be less brown, have a light or spotty color and be soft. There seems to be a tendency for the skin to tear and for the muscles to pull from the bones.

When using aluminum foil use the medium weight of foil which is called "heavy duty." Thin foil tears easily during wrapping and heavy foil tends to be too stiff. No turkey dinner — Thanksgiving or otherwise — is complete without smooth, rich, brown gravy.

To make good gravy everytime, we suggest the following procedure. For four cups of gravy use six tablespoons of fat, six tablespoons of flour and 4 cups of liquid. This liquid may be broth, milk or water.

When the turkey is done, place it on a warm platter and keep it hot. Plan to allow 1/4 cup gravy for each serving. Pour the fat and meat juice into a bowl leaving all the brown residue in the bowl. Let the fat rise to the top of the drippings in the bowl. Then skim off all the fat and measure the amount needed for the gravy back into the roasting pan. The meat juice under the fat should be used as part of the liquid for the gravy.

Set the roasting pan with fat over a low heat. Add the flour and cook the blended fat and flour until frothy, stirring constantly.

To give more color and flavor, you might brown the mixture slightly. You'll then need to increase the flour to 1/2 cup (eight tablespoons) because browned flour has less thickening power.

Next add the liquid, cool or lukewarm (not hot) all at once. Stir the gravy constantly while it is cooking. Be sure to scrape the bottom and sides of the pan to blend the flavorful, solid brown drippings into the gravy. Simmer for about five minutes and season with salt and pepper. Chopped cooked giblets added to the gravy before seasoning make it a little more special for that holiday meal.

Drownings Fail To Materialize

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — State police and sheriff's officers expended a lot of energy Wednesday on what was first believed to be two drownings.

In both cases, victims were located elsewhere and officers were happy to discontinue dragging operations in gale - swept waters.

The first alert came at 5:40 p. m. when a car was reported parked at Grand River in Spring Lake. Officers identified the owner of the car as Dunk Olsen, of 1144 Waverly St., Grand Haven, who had gone duck hunting with Tilford McMahon of Spring Lake. The two men were caught in the marsh in the river but reached home safely.

The second call came at 7 p. m. from Charles Gray, route 1, Nunica, who reported a car parked at his boat livery on Grand River. The occupant was missing and a rented boat had not been returned. Officers identified the car owner as Merlyn Zerns, 44, Muskegon, and started dragging operations.

Considerably later, Zerns' wife came for the car and informed officers her husband was in Municipal Hospital. He had been mired in the marsh and had been found unconscious by another duck hunter, Roy Brandt, of Spring Lake. A back injury received during World War II aggravated by exposure caused Zerns to become unconscious. He remained in the hospital today.

Noted Educator Slated to Speak At Big Round-Up

Gov. Williams Will Present Prizes to Top Organizations

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, nationally known educator and speaker, has been obtained for the 1955 West Michigan Farm - to - Prosper Contest Round-Up at Central Campus auditorium, Muskegon, Tuesday, Dec. 27.

Dr. McFarland's address will be in addition to the traditional presentation of prizes by the Governor. Governor Williams will make the presentations to the 5 winning organizations in each county, and to the Sweepstakes winner.

Invitations have been sent again to leaders of rural life of the state to attend.

Further details of the program still are to be arranged. A meeting of the five-county board of trustees of the contest association is scheduled Monday, Nov. 23 at the Pine Room, US-31 and Giles road, at 6:30 p. m.

In addition to his other interests Dr. McFarland serves as education consultant and lecturer for General Motors. He comes here through the courtesy of General Motors. He is a native Kansan. He was graduated from Pittsburgh State College in Kansas, obtained his master's degree from Columbia University, and earned his doctor's degree in education at Stanford University.

During his 24 years' experience as a school administrator, Dr. McFarland became widely recognized as a leader in that field. The modern McFarland Trade School which he designed and built at Coffeyville, Kans., is named in his honor.

Dr. McFarland probably has addressed as many important meetings of educators as any other American, but through the years he has become increasingly identified with agriculture, business, industry, and civic organizations throughout the county. He is in constant demand as a speaker for large groups in these fields.

When the nation's trade associations were requested by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to name the speakers who had addressed their annual meetings or conventions, Dr. McFarland's name headed the list of the 10 most frequently mentioned.

Dr. McFarland lives on his 140-acre "city farm" adjoining Topeka. In addition to raising polled Hereford cattle his farm has produced some prize-winning Tennessee walking horses. His friends refer to him as "a PhD with horse sense."

Probably a secret of his unusual appeal as a speaker is that his audiences sense his sincerity of purpose and his ardor in helping them solve their problems and they are carried along by his well chosen humor skillfully used to illustrate as well as to entertain.

A trans - Continental airline awarded Dr. McFarland a certificate as being "America's No. 1 Air Passenger," and said "Dr. McFarland sees more people in more different places in the United States and Canada, and does it in shorter periods of time, than any other American."

Council Votes To Buy Property For Parking Lot

Many Express Opinions At Hour-Long Special Meeting Tuesday

By a vote of 5 to 2, City Council decided to go ahead with plans for purchasing three parcels of property on West Ninth St. between River and Central Aves. for parking purposes at a special meeting Tuesday night.

Following a two-day trial in Grand Haven last week, a Circuit Court jury awarded judgments of $66,000 for the three parcels, in condemnation proceedings brought by the city of Holland. The following compensation was determined: $11,000 for the Bonzelar property at 9 West Ninth St., $28,000 for the Den Bleyker property at 13 West Ninth St., and $27,000 for the Hopkins property at 17 West Ninth St.

Twenty-six persons were in the audience, most of them merchants and persons interested in downtown business.

Casting dissenting votes were Councilman Laverne Rudolph and John Van Eerden. Voting in favor of the resolution were Councilmen John Vanden Broek, Bernice Bishop, John Belmont, Robert Kouw and Mayor Robert Visscher. Councilmen Raymond Holwerda and Anthony Nienhuis were absent.

The resolution which Council approved calls for a transfer of $30,000 from capital improvement to the parking meter fund to be repaid in two years. Amount in the parking meter fund at present is $56,681 but after improvements are completed for parking areas in the next block between Central and College Aves., the balance will be about $42,000. It was estimated paving and drainage for the new lot will cost about $4,300 and new parking meters at $50 will cost $3,360.

Most people in the audience felt that $66,000 was far too much for the property, but that the property was necessary for parking purposes. There was considerable discussion about the city's top appraisal figures of $55,000 and the possibility of assessing merchants in the vicinity for the $11,000 that City Attorney James E. Townsend said there was not enough time to set up a special assessment district. There was the added question of whether such a program would set a precedent for the future with the city paying five-sixths of a parking lot price and merchants one-sixth.

One other possibility was discussed, that of asking Circuit Court for a delay so that further study could be made. Townsend felt that two weeks would be all the court would grant, if the request were okayed.

Stuart Boyd, a downtown property owner and member of the Planning Commission, pointed out that it is the aim of the Planning Commission to "ring" the downtown commercial district with parking lots, and this is just one step in that direction. He pointed out that the downtown business district pays 25 percent of the total city taxes, and adequate parking is important now and will be even more important in the future.

Henry S. Maentz also felt the price was too high but that the value of parking lots to the downtown district was such that Council should not let the price stand in the way. He said there might be justification for criticism of the price if the money were coming from the general fund instead of the parking meter fund. He favored parking meters on the lot to build up funds to purchase more parking lots.

Earnest C. Brooks felt $66,000 was a ridiculous figure but said the city couldn't quibble about a court opinion. "When we consider the resources of the city the extra amount doesn't mean much. Let's go ahead and develop the lot," he said. Applause followed.

Chester Van Tongeren said the city should protect the future income in its taxes and said there was considerable talk about shopping centers in the townships in which case those taxes would go to the townships.

Bertal Slag, downtown merchant and former alderman, recalled the opposition to parking meters when they were first installed some years back. He said the revenue of parking meters was planned at that time to go into a fund to purchase parking lots, and strongly recommended that the city purchase the property.

Dale Fris said $66,000 was a lot of money but there was no other way of acquiring the property. John Arendshorst felt it was unfair for the city to purchase a parking lot which would benefit a certain group of merchants, but it was explained that this is only one step in acquiring other lots.

Gradus Den Bleyker, owner of one of the houses, protested the loss of his home. "It is our home and our living. What we lose they (the merchants) get." Later he said he had been contacted by Standard Oil Co. about 15 times, the company offering a 20-year lease at $187.50 a month. He said this amounted to some $42,500 and purchase was preferable to rentals. "Through all the hard times, we made a living here. Three times I bought paint to fix up the place and some merchants also told me not to. When that picture was taken, it burnt me up. It isn't the city that wants the property, it's the merchants pushing the city!"

Councilman Rudolph who dissented said he had received many calls from persons opposed to the high figure, but he also felt that the people who are being deprived of their homes weren't getting enough. He said he was opposed to the particular program from the beginning.

Percy Taylor, another merchant, said the city should be big enough to accept the court figure and the only decent thing to do was to pay the money. "We can't be like the little boy who doesn't want to play ball when things don't exactly go his way. Besides, these lots aren't built for the merchants, they're built for the people." The meeting adjourned at 8:30 p.m. Mayor Visscher presided.

Bang's Disease Retests Slated In Ottawa County

Reactor Animals Will Be Quarantined Until Sold for Beef

Retest of the cattle in Ottawa County for Bang's disease (Brucellosis) will get under way the middle of December under the cooperative program of the Michigan and U. S. Departments of Agriculture.

The last county-wide test of Ottawa county cattle for Bang's disease was completed in June, 1955. Results of this test indicated a herd infection rate of 9 percent and a cattle infection rate of 1.7 percent. Since the initial test a program of retesting in infected and suspect herds has been carried out to aid in controlling infection. Calhoun vaccination has also been offered to owners of infected herds.

This year's test will again make use of the "milk ring" test as a preliminary screening procedure. Herd milk samples will be collected from all producing herds in the county. These samples will be tested at the laboratory and the owners informed of the results by mail.

Herds showing suspicious milk samples will be blood tested to determine if any infected animals are present. Blood testing will be done wherever possible by local veterinarians working in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture.

Reactor animals will be permanently identified as such, and quarantined until sold for beef. A new addition to the program this year will be the offering of indemnity payments to owners of infected herds who elect to sell all their reactors for immediate slaughter through authorized sales yards or slaughterhouses. Such indemnity is in addition to the salvage value of the animal for beef. The beef value of an animal is not affected by the presence of Brucellosis.

This year's test will again be under supervision of Dr. J. W. Trumble, of Lowell, area veterinarian for the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Dr. Trumble will work in conjunction with the local veterinarians and with Richard A. Machiele, county agricultural agent.

Hospital Deficit To Be Shared by Three Townships

Council Also Provides Temporary Loan for Current Construction

In accordance with contract agreements with surrounding townships, City Council Wednesday night instructed the city auditor to bill the three townships for amounts which will help make up the hospital deficit for the 1954-55 fiscal year.

The report, as submitted by the Hospital board, lists an operating deficit of $21,145.88 to be pro-rated among Holland city and the townships, based on patient days. The amount is divided as follows: Holland city, 60.65 percent, $12,824.97; Holland township, 20.51 percent, $4,337.02; Park township, 12.31 percent, $2,603.07; Fillmore township, 6.53 percent, $1,380.82.

Previously, patients in Holland Hospital from outside Holland had been charged a higher rate. This differential was eliminated after townships agreed to share in the operating deficit on a pro-rata basis.

Council also passed a resolution for a temporary loan of $75,510.70 from the Workman's Compensation Reserve fund from utility funds to finance current obligations for hospital construction. The transfer is to be in the nature of a loan to be repaid when funds are available. The transfer of funds is subject to approval by the Board of Public Works.

Council authorized payment of $3,000 for the post audit and $500 for review of procedures and controls to Ernst and Ernst, certified public accountants, who conducted the annual audit this year. Of the amount, $1,500 is to come from the general fund, $1,500 from utility funds and $500 from the hospital fund.

Council approved a Planning Commission recommendation to retain the services of George R. Sidwell to check the proposed zoning ordinance for legal terminology at an estimated cost of $450. Another communication from the planning commission recommended no immediate action on rezoning an area on the north side of 11th St. between Lincoln and Fairbanks Aves. from industrial to residential, in view of the fact that under the proposed zoning ordinance the area will be zoned residential. The commission recommended that the city manager call together interested property owners in an effort to subdivide this area into standard sized lots and report to council.

City Attorney James E. Townsend recommended that the firm of Berry, Stevens and Mooreman of Detroit be designated to render the required approving opinion on the proposed bond issue for the 1955 paving projects. Council concurred.

On recommendation of the Board of Public Works, Council approved a contract with the Public Administration Service for preparing an administrative code at a cost of $1,000.

City Manager Herb Holt reported completion of the 1955 resurfacing program under contract with Michigan Colprovia and recommended payment of $24,254.25.

Council supplemented action taken last Oct. 19 on paving West 29th St. Previous action listed paving from Van Raalte Ave., West, but now it appears the block between Washington and Van Raalte should also be included in the 1956 paving program, pending completion of Wildwood drain.

The city manager was instructed to continue negotiations on the Kammeraad property at 275 East Ninth St. for which Council has an option for $8,000. Technically, the option was tabled until next meeting.

City Clerk Clarence Greengood reported that the Board of Education has approved the use of Thomas Jefferson school for voting purposes. He also reported that Trinity Reformed Church had granted permission to use Terkurst auditorium for the same purpose. This is in preparation for dividing the fourth, fifth and sixth wards into two precincts each. The communication was referred to the election commission.

A final report of a canvass of Michigan's local governmental needs for new water and sewage works capital improvements over the next 10 years as prepared by the staff of the Water Resources Commission was referred to the Board of Public Works.

Council granted requests from polo lenders for permission to solicit funds on Eighth St. Jan. 13 and 2nd from 5 to 9 p.m. and Jan. 14 and 5th from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and to conduct the Mithers March at residences Jan. 28 from 6 to 8 p.m.

Permission also was granted to the Mothers of World War II unit 36 to solicit funds by the sale of poinsettias from 6 a.m. Dec. 2 to 6 p.m. Dec. 3.

A request from Wesleyan Methodist Church to install a public address and chime system in the tower of the church was approved, subject to provisions of the ordinance code.

A letter was read from the Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce expressing appreciation to council for making it possible to collect funds for the annual Halloween party and also expressed appreciation for facilities of Civic Center. A letter of thanks also was read from Health Inspector Ben Wiersma for flowers sent during his illness.

Mayor Robert Visscher presided at the meeting which lasted 45 minutes. Councilman Laverne Rudolph gave the invocation. All Councilmen were present except Anthony Nienhuis.

New Guinea Is Primitive But Fascinating Place

New Guinea, the South Pacific island second in size only to Greenland, is perhaps the most inaccessible island in the world, and a good many of its 700,000 inhabitants live in uncontrolled areas as primitive tribes.

This is according to Dr. J. Victor de Bruyn, former district officer of the Netherlands government in the Wissel lake region of Netherlands New Guinea, who with Mrs. de Bruyn is spending a few days in Holland while lecturing in several West Michigan centers. Dr. de Bruyn's first appearance was before the Holland Rotary Club Thursday.

He described New Guinea as 1½ times the size of Texas with the east half belonging to Australia and the west half to the Netherlands. He said the Dutch have had permanent administrative stations on the island since 1898, although the Dutch associations go back much further than that.

Two high mountain ranges from 10,000 to 17,000 feet with snow peaks the year around running east to west make penetration north to south impossible, and the development of the island is largely a matter of coastal villages and cities and then working inland.

New Guinea has great strategic importance, particularly to Australia, and during World War II it was an important base for General MacArthur and 350,000 American G.I.s. The airstrips the servicemen built are still in operation today, together with many smaller fields and strips currently developed. Air travel is the only answer to transportation in a land of impassable mountain ranges, impenetrable jungles and few navigable rivers.

Dr. de Bruyn said the New Guinea natives culturally, racially and geographically are of the Melanesian race or the negroid race common in the South Pacific islands. He said the flora and fauna and the religion of the people also are in keeping with the South Pacific natives, not with the Indonesians who are of the mongoloid race with 95 percent Mohammedans. The New Guinea people are mostly Protestant.

Dog Notes

By Peter Boggs
Bloodhounds And Criminals

One breed of dog whose mute testimony is accepted by the courts of many states is the bloodhound. However, a suspect having left the scene of a crime and been trailed to a hideout by a bloodhound cannot be found guilty merely by this canine evidence. The court will accept the data and consider it valuable only when the prosecuting authorities have other relevant facts which cast strong suspicion on the accused.

A favorite trick employed by criminals feigning the bloodhound is to throw pepper over the start of their tracks. This condiment completely prevents dogs from picking up odors.

To overcome such a handicap the police, on discerning traces of pepper, sprinkle water over it before sending the dogs in pursuit; and by this means the effect of the pepper is destroyed but not the scent.

Bites And Bitters

More than ninety-nine times in a hundred, the bite of a dog is no more serious to you than would be a similar wound inflicted by a bit of metal or bone; plus such germs (NOT rabies) as there may be on the biter's teeth. Remember that, if ever you are bitten. If the bite does not pierce the skin, it means nothing at all.

If the bite should break the skin or inflict an injury beneath the skin, do this:

Such: the wound, hard, if it is where your lips can reach it; and spit out the blood. Then wash it with warm (not hot) water. Then dry it and paint it with iodine. The iodine will sting, but it will aid in preventing infection. Then forget all about it. This last command is the most important of all.

As a youth, I heard the ancient story of the Plague which entered Damascus, vowing he would slay only three hundred. Inside a month, six thousand lay dead. Said the Plague: "I told the truth. I slew only three hundred. My twin brother, Fear, slew the rest."

Bear that old fable in mind, all of you, if you are bitten by dogs. I have been bitten many times by dogs and once by one that was supposed to be rabid. I am still alive, and I don't think I am especially rabid, either.

The Question Box

Question: Are boxers an American breed? If not when were they first imported into this country?

—T. R.

Answer: They are not an American breed. They were first imported into this country in 1910.

Question: Can I safely put flea powder on week-old pups?

—W.L.P.

Answer: Yes, by first keeping the mother dog away from the pups. Put the flea powder on the pups and after about an hour brush each one carefully before allowing the mother dog back with them. It is wise to treat the mother dog in the same manner.

FLYING TACKLE — An unidentified Holland tackler lassos Kaye Davis, Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills halfback, in the Holland-Ottawa game Friday night at Riverview Park. This is an example of the way Holland was hitting in the final three periods of the game. The Dutch won 32-6 over the Indians to conclude the season. Holland had a 5-3-1 record this year.

Van Dyke's Three TD's Pace Dutch To 32-6 Victory

Playing rock 'em, sock 'em football for three quarters Friday night, the Holland High griders ran over Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, 32-6 at Riverview Park, to finish the season in a blaze of glory.

The victory gave Holland a 5-3-1 record for the best season since 1952. It tied the '52 mark.

It was Ron Van Dyke, Holland's all-state candidate, who scored two touchdowns in the second quarter and one in the third that took the starch right out of what had been a fired-up Ottawa eleven.

Van Dyke took a Tom Stoel pass on the Ottawa 47 yard line and raced the remaining distance, after getting three nice blocks, for the first touchdown. He converted the point to put Holland ahead 7-6 with 5:10 left in the first half. And from then on, it was all Holland.

The Indians had scored the first touchdown with 1:10 left in the first quarter after running up 109 yards rushing. Ottawa, sparked by Kaye Davis again on a 22 yard run, and was successful with left half Walt Jolley going over from the four.

Jolly's attempt to run the point was no good.

Van Dyke scored his second touchdown with about two minutes remaining in the first half.

This time he swept right end from 15 yards out and went in standing up. He kicked the extra point and Holland led 14-6 at half.

Ottawa hadn't seen the end of Mr. Van Dyke.

The Dutch co-captain grabbed the second half kickoff on the Holland 15 and ran through the first Indians down the field, then cut for the sidelines and went the rest of the way for the touchdown.

Holland was off side on the placement.

This was Van Dyke's longest run of the season and the touchdown pushed his total for the season to 12 and his conversions left his point total at 82 for the season.

Van Dyke rushed 695 yards in 79 carries this season for almost nine yards a carry.

Holland struck again in the third period. This time the score came on a four yard pass play from Stoel to right half Dick Den Uyl with 3:30 left in the period.

The Dutch started the drive on their own 40 and Van Dyke reeled off 20 yards around end in the big run of the march. The other three Dutch backs, Stoel, Tom Klomparsen and Den Uyl alternated the next 40 plays and pushed to the four where the TD pass was thrown. A Holland fumble on the four was promptly recovered by center Leroy Fogarty on the play before the score.

Van Dyke missed the kick.

Holland's final touchdown came with 1:50 seconds left in the contest. Bill Kraai, senior quarterback, went one yard. Guard Ed Shidler's kick was wide.

Junior Wes Keyers, defensive back, intercepted a Mike Coddington pass on the Ottawa 44 to set up the drive.

Another junior halfback, Norm Hoeve, with a stride like a scared ostrich, circled the end for 36 yards to the Ottawa five right off the bat but a 15-yard penalty put the ball on the Indian 20 where Hoeve again swept the end and moved this time to the one. The touchdown came on the next play.

It was a familiar story for Holland—start slowly, but pick up momentum as the game moves along.

Holland bettered its previous quarter's yardage each time. The Dutch netted 19 yards in the first period, 41 in the second, 63 in the third and 72 in the fourth.

The Dutch had one other good opportunity to score in the fourth period but the tiring Indians got that extra ounce and held on their own three.

Fullback Klomparsen recovered a Davis fumble on the Indians 31 late in the third quarter. Holland advanced the ball to the three in nine plays.

It was a great way for the local football season to end. Coach Dale Shearer emptied his bench. Shearer and line coach Ernie Post and backfield coach Bill Hinga, were pleased with the play of everyone. The Dutch defensive line, led by co-captain Bill Buis, Alan Hill, Ted VanZanden and Dale Streicher, really came to life in the second quarter and held the Indians to a minus 13 yards. All but Buis are juniors.

Ottawa picked up only 69 yards in three quarters following the initial period.

NOTES ON HOLLAND-OTTAWA HILLS GAME — Mike Coddington, clever Ottawa Hills quarterback, was deceptive in his handoffs to start the game. He paced a third period Ottawa drive that at one time moved to the Holland 21 with his cover handoffs to the halfbacks. He is one of the best quarterbacks to show here this season but was hindered in the second half by a bad leg . . . The Holland High coaches all wore red ties with white shirts in keeping with the Dutch Red and White day . . . Ottawa ended the season with a 4-5 mark . . . Holland had the ball for 42 scrimmage plays and the Indians had it for 51 plays. Billy Dawson, five-year-old youngster, was the Indians mascot. He was dressed in full Ottawa Hills regalia and wore No. 1. He was in the pregame huddle and also took part in exercises . . . Holland had its small fry also, with little Andy Klomparsen, sister of bullback Tom Klomparsen leading cheers and Pat Bouwman, 10-year-old, playing the part of a mouse running up the clo, during the band's liftime program . . . The Holland High band did a Kid's show for the halftime. The same show was presented at the Grand Rapids South game in the Furniture City.

Formations included a large fiddle, with a bow made up of claret and drum majorettes, the clock, with a large swinging pendulum, a star and a baby crib.

Selections played included "Hey, Diddle, Diddle," "Hickory, Dickory Dock," "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" and "Rock - a - Bye Baby" . . . The 66-piece Ottawa band, directed by Jarvis Wiggers, did a sequence around the $64,000 Question TV show. Questions were posed in the form of other TV shows. The numbers 714 were made for Badge 714 of Dragnet, the ukulele, for Arthur Godfrey, the candleabra for Librace and a dog bone for Tin, Tin, Tin . . . Tom Stoel again turned in a stellar quarterbacking job for Holland and should make a good account of himself next year. He is probably one of the most improved players on the team. Holland completed four out of six passes for 93 yards and two touchdowns. The one play Ottawa Coach Gordy Hunsberger didn't see last week in the Benton Harbor game, a screen pass, went for Holland's first touchdown . . . Ottawa scored on a 21-yard pass play in the third quarter from Coddington to end Ed Sabo but an illegal use of the hands penalty nullified the score. A crowd estimated at 2,500 saw the contest.

Research psychologists say their ideal type of prospective Air Force or Navy pilot is a youngster from a large family who enjoys bodily contact sports, builds and drives "hot rods," likes all kinds of people, believes in some religion, and is daring but not foolhardy.

Hulst and four-year-old daughter of Grand Rapids who are living at 403 College Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hess and three children of Tiffin, Ohio, who are living at 135 West 19th St.; and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bender and three sons of Schenectady, N. Y., who have purchased a home at 146 West 23rd St.

Other newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. McDermott of Palestine, Ill., who are living at 189 West 24th St. The McDermotts have no children. Mr. McDermott is with Marslife Insurance Co. and Mrs. John Keck and three-year-old daughter of Marshall are living at 529 Pinecrest Dr. Mr. Keck is a sales engineer for Duffy Manufacturing Co.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Rose, Jr., of Kalamazoo are living at 147 East 18th St. Mr. Rose is with Bell Telephone. The Rev. and Mrs. James O. Young Stevie Kuna, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stevie Kuna, was anxious to try his luck with pheasants during the hunting season, but his parents wisely forbade his playing in the woods near his home north of Holland during the first days of the pheasant season. Came the day when the shooting became less frequent, and Stevie was granted permission to go out with his bow and arrow. Away he went, accompanied by eight-year-old Dale Knoll.

About 10 minutes later, Stevie returned home excitedly bearing a cock pheasant. No, he hadn't shot it with his bow and arrow. It was dead on the ground, but to Stevie it was a real treasure.

The expression on father's face was something even Stevie noticed. Then came the difficult part . . . that of telling the youngster that the pheasant wasn't good to eat. Stevie was philosophical, but his plaintive question was, "Daddy, why did you look so surprised when I came home with the pheasant?"

Herma Boeve, chief desk clerk at the Warm Friend Tavern, has been taking a lot of good-natured kidding these days.

Because her name is listed incorrectly in the city directory (Herman Boeve) she gets on a lot of mailing lists for men, and she gets lots of advertising and promotional material.

Sometimes she got on a brand new list, and the latest gimmick in the mail was "Enlist now, or be drafted later" together with all the advantages and glories of that particular branch of the service.

The story got around that Herma was "drafted" but it wasn't quite that good.

Ground Observer Corps Work Explained to DAR

Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, heard a talk on ground observer corps operations at a meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John Bosman.

Airman 1/C Richard Zinn of the Grand Rapids Filter Center explained the country's radar defense which is perfect protection a high altitudes but useless under 5,000 feet. Thus, there is an urgent need for ground observers on a volunteer basis. When the Ground Observer Corps is expanded to all 48 states, the speaker said, a million people will be needed.

Zinn said a father and son observing at the Holland post are working for their citizenship papers. He emphasized the need for more volunteers to watch two hours a week. The post is located on 28th St. near Washington Ave. near the water tower. The work should be done on a 24-hour basis, but at present the post is manned only eight to 10 hours a day.

Zinn was introduced by Dale F. S. of the Ground Observer Corps who characterized this corps as the bright spot in national defense. He will be happy to enroll more volunteers. There is no age limit.

A film entitled "Menace From the East" brought out the need for ground observing in a realistic and moving manner.

Mrs. Earl Price, regent, presided and Mrs. Ben Van Lente led devotions. Mrs. C. C. Wood gave a short talk on national defense stressing the sanctity of the jury room as provided in the constitution.

A trumpet trio of the E.E. Fell Junior High School composed of James Vande Vusse, Harold Wise and Andries Steketee, accompanied by Paul Lucas played "Bugler's Holiday" by Leroy Anderson and "The Three Gabriels" by Barnes.

During the social hour, members told how they earned their dollar for the craft center at Kate Duncan Smith School at Grant, Ala. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Edward Slooter, Mrs. Myrtle Beach, Mrs. William F. Kendrick and Mrs. Benjamin Van Lente.

Authorities said the five admitted taking gasoline from trucks and private cars on at least 10 different occasions at scattered points in the city and county.

The three minors have been waived to Probate Court. Held in jail are Wilbur Eugene Shaw, 18, of 144 East 18th St., and William Louis McKenney, 18, of 48½ East Sixth St.

Officers said Shaw would be charged with theft of gasoline and McKenney would be arraigned on a charge of taking a car battery from Park Township.

Grand Haven Man Held On Larceny Charge

The gun, which had been sold to Arthur Dreesse of Ferrysburg, was recovered Friday afternoon. It had been loaded in a trailer as Dreesse was ready to leave for deer hunting.

William Chittenden, Jr., 17, route 2, Spring Lake, paid $50 fine and $4.55 costs Friday in Justice Workman's court on a charge of possession of beer in an automobile in the nighttime. State police made the arrest Nov. 3 in Spring Lake township.

FREE TO SPEAK OUT

A Michigan radio and television executive recently had something to say about self-government in that industry. In America, he pointed out, those forms of communication are free because they are policing themselves. If they should cease to do so, he warned, they would inevitably lose their freedom. The industry is governed by a code. Not one that was imposed on it from the outside by government, but a code that was adopted voluntarily and that is applied from the inside of the business, not from the outside.

It began during the war, when national security made some form of control mandatory in that business as well as in the newspaper industry. Both in print and on the airwaves the control was applied on a voluntary basis, and there was so seldom any violation in either medium that the battling average was considered almost perfect.

That situation, which grew up normally, has since been written into an actual code, with preamble and articles and sections that govern to minute details what may and may not be said on the radio and displayed on the television screen. Government is not involved; the orders are not given by any congress or legislature or bureau; they are imposed by the industry and enforced by it.

The general public is probably unaware of this situation. Yet it is in effect the general public that is enforcing the code; the industry would not long continue a type of program of which the public disapproved, out of considerations of self-interest alone.

There is one menace to the continued freedom of this medium of expression that is hard to deal with, according to the executive quoted. It is narrow-mindedness of "lunatic" sections of the public. There are all sorts of groups who have pet axes to grind. They are determined that all shall live and think as they do. They condemn any medium of expression (newspapers are familiar with this) that does not push their negative propaganda.

Thus there was one group that wanted congress to force the discontinuance of programs in the field of anthropology because its members were sure that the world was created in six days 6,000 years ago, not during the long eons of time involving millions of years. Fortunately such censorship from the outside has until now been avoided by a self-censorship from the inside. There is always plenty of work to be done by the right thinking people. We have many laws on our books that could be removed. Voluntary regulation of all things is much better. What do you think? Write us 300 words.

Sunday School Lesson

November 20, 1935
Evidence of Jesus' Power
Luke 7:11-23
By Henry Geerlings

In both the gospels of Matthew and Luke after Christ delivered the Sermon on the Mount there is recorded a list of many mighty miracles that He performed. There is a relation between the Sermon on the Mount and the miracles. The Sermon has been called the manifesto of the King and the miracles show the authority and power of the King.

There are twelve acts of His healing ministry recorded here. For the most part single individuals were the beneficiaries of His grace and power. Twice two individuals were cured at the same time of the same disease. And twice it is recorded that in different places He healed all that were sick.

These miracles in their number and variety witness to the character, power and being of Christ. His power was the first thing that was evident. Even His enemies could not deny that.

The evidences of His power wrought in Israel proved Him to be their Messiah. The Old Testament prophets had declared that when the Messiah came he would cure the blind, the lame, and the dumb. This was the expectation of the believing remnant in Israel. It is interesting to note how our Lord exercised His power while He was on earth. Since He is such a Being it should never surprise us how or when we see evidences of His power.

The first evidence of His power was when He changed the water into wine. All that He did was to tell the servants to fill the empty vessels with water. When they drew from them, the water was changed into wine. He willed it and it became a fact. The same was true about the nobleman's servant whom He healed while at a distance.

When Christ entered the city of Nain, He had already wrought many miracles and the number of them was increasing daily, and the very footsteps of Jesus were being traced by His marvelous acts of love and power, as well as by the memory of His astonishing doctrine. Previously, He had brought joy to the heart of a noble centurion by restoring to him his servant who was at the point of death. Now He was to bring joy to the heart of a bereaved mother by restoring her dead son.

The presence of Jesus in that little town of Nain was to make such a joyous change in the circumstances of one sorrowful soul. We are reminded of what His coming into this dark world of sin and death has meant for millions of desolate, sin-burdened souls. He has changed countless lives and transformed homes of wretchedness into homes of happiness. Who can estimate what He has done for multitudes who lived in heathen darkness but now follow Him.

Only Luke records the miracle of the restoration of the life of this young man. It is characteristic of Luke to set forth the human side of our Lord, here manifested in His compassion on the grieving widow. This man was still young. No details are given about his life. It would seem that he had been a worthy son. We do not know how long the woman had been a widow, but it is clear that he had taken his responsibility to care for her seriously. We know nothing about him to criticize, but we do know that he was dead. No matter how good a son he had been, his mother could no longer count on him for anything. Neither her love for him nor her need of his help had any effect on him.

The young man was being borne to the grave. The time had come to remove him from the presence of those who loved him. Though his mother would doubtless mark the spot where his body was laid and possibly visit it often, there was no possibility that he would ever notice her or pay any attention to her. The young man's mother was a widow, and that in itself made her lonely. Her husband may have died shortly after the son was born, for we have every reason to suppose, she missed her departed husband greatly in the years that followed his demise. But she had her son left, and devoted herself to the raising and training of him, apparently with success.

But now the son was gone also. How empty her little house in Nain must have seemed. How lonely she must have felt. But the Lord has comfort for the lonely and He appeared on the scene at this needy moment. He came to the help of both the dead young man and his widowed mother. He halted the funeral procession. He restored the young man to life. He spoke words of comfort to the mourning mother and gave back her son.

The incident furnishes an eloquent demonstration of the Lord's sympathetic interest in all our needs and sorrows.

Zeelands Klamt Boasts Top Ball-Toting Average

A first down on every carry is "pretty good" football. And Zeeland High's Art Klamt has supplied just that.

The senior halfback carried 87 times for 891 yards or 10.24 yards per carry in leading to an unbeaten season and a share of the Ken-New-Wa league championship.

He scored a total of 84 points. Added to his rushing total, the 5'10", 175-pound athlete collected 323 yards on nine pass catches to give him a total offensive mark of 1,214 for eight games.

ART KLAMT ... had a great year

Klamt added 211 yards on returned punts and 167 yards on kickoff returns.

In league play, Klamt maintained an even better average. He carried the pigskin 54 times for 591 yards and a 10.94 average per carry and scored 48 points.

Klamt's brilliant long runs are what brought up the average to the phenomenal mark and kept Zeeland in the driver's seat all season.

His longest scrimmage scamper was an 87-yard sprint off tackle and he added runs of 69 and 59 from scrimmage, either sweeping the end or glancing off tackle for scores.

Other long runs included dashes for 56, 47, 39 and 28 yards for touchdowns.

His longest gain from a pass play covered 75 yards and he had other pass catches totaling 60, 52, 42 and 12 yards for touchdowns.

Klamt's greatest prep thrill came on a 90-yard punt return in the Comstock Park game to sew up the conference tie title.

He also returned a punt for 72 yards and a touchdown earlier in the season.

A true storybook finish to a great three-year career closed out Klamt's high school play last Friday night. He caught the game winning touchdown pass about a foot off the ground in the final 43 seconds of play.

"Klamt played with the team this year and the boys really worked for him," Coach Jarold Groeters said.

Groeters played Klamt at end in his sophomore year but moved him to halfback a year ago.

The shifty halfback made the all-Ken-New-Wa league team last year and repeated again this year.

His brother, Ron, was an outstanding prep football player about 10 years ago and won all-state honors. Ron also played quarterback for the Holland Hurricanes, a local independent unit in the late 40's.

Art is undecided about future education. He is leaning toward attending either Michigan State University or Central Michigan College.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele, County Agricultural Agent

The Federal School Milk Program is making a dent in the milk surplus. According to Dale E. Butz, farm economist at Michigan State University, children drank almost twice as much milk in September, 1935 as a year ago.

This increase used up about two million pounds of milk. Consumption in many schools in the three-week period was as high as the top consumption months last year.

It appears that activities of the Ottawa County dairy committee under the leadership of Neil Andre has been effective in getting more schools to inaugurate the milk program. Schools not enrolled should take advantage of this worthwhile program. Contact your school commissioner's office for details.

Most farmers will pay social security taxes for the first time when they file their 1935 income tax returns. A farm operator, whether an owner, a partner, or a tenant, comes under the provisions of the act if his net farm profit is $400 or more. He is included even with a lower net profit, at his option, if he reports on a cash basis a gross farm income of $800 or more.

A father having an indefinite working arrangement with a son or son-in-law will want to clarify his status immediately. Each member of the actual farm partnership is both obligated and entitled to make social security payments according to the amount of his own share of the farm's income. When a farm is operated on a rental basis, however, the landlord is not covered.

We have copies of a new booklet entitled "How Social Security Covers Farmers". For a free copy, write the Extension Office, Court House, Grand Haven.

Clarence Reenders, chairman of the West Ottawa Soil Conservation District, has an enviable record of five years perfect attendance at district board meetings. Congratulations!

Sell all 1935 spring pigs as they reach 200 to 210 pounds. Heavy hogs are a drag on the market this fall. Rather than feeding corn to heavy hogs, use it for some other purpose.

October and November is the time of the year when rats and mice leave the fields in search of warmth, food and security offered by buildings. Once inside, they are a source of great annoyance and create severe damage.

Why not try creep feeders for rats? It's a good idea because it protects other farm animals when you spike the rat feed with a poison.

First used in Alabama in a rat control campaign, the one by two-foot creep feeder, or bait station holds five pounds of feed. A two by two-inch hole at each end allows rats to enter but keeps out cats and other animals.

County commissioners in an Alabama county put up funds for building the feeders. Youth groups pitched in and converted their farm shops to rat feeder factories.

A year after the campaign was started, 1,800 creep feeders had served 4,700 pounds of poison to rats. Officials estimated that each pound killed at least five rats. By the end of 1936, the rat population in Alabama will be negligible, according to the campaign's director.

This may be a worthy project for youth groups in Ottawa County but cleaning up filth in places that harbor rats is just as important.

Pick out the first good warm day and give your hogs and hog barn a good going over with lindane spray. That's the best way to control lice and mange. All hogs on the farm and their quarters must be thoroughly sprayed. Otherwise, the lice will just move to an area that's unsprayed. Bed the hogs down good so they don't catch the flu. Be sure to do a thorough job of spraying, especially around the head and ears. Spraying is more effective than using the dry form of lindane. Follow directions on the package. There are several different strengths on the market. One caution: hogs to be slaughtered within 30 days should not be sprayed.

'Schools Should Explain Benefits Of Military Duty'

Former Local Man Gives Impressions After Week's Tour

Schools have an obligation to show young men the benefits of military duty rather than have them regard such service as time wasted, according to Gerald Rasmussen, superintendent of Morris, Mich., schools.

Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Rasmussen of 711 Linton Ave., Holland, recently went on a one-week tour of Army, Navy and Air Force bases under sponsorship of the Michigan Secondary School Association.

"I found that time in the service even under draft conditions need not be a wasted part of a young man's life," he said. "There are many trade opportunities and professional schools open for the man in the service."

The various opportunities and obligations in all three branches were thoroughly outlined and discussed during the tour.

"I think that the most lasting impression which I got from the tour was the vital need to inform our young people and their parents of the obligation that every person has to his nation and way of life which we are so apt to take for granted and realize that nothing in this world is free."

"It is better to have a large prepared and ready armed force, composed of all young men, as a protection than it is to have some of our young men have to lose their lives in time of war."

"I also found that the armed forces are much nicer than they were 12 years ago. More interest is taken in the individual in terms of food, clothing, job assignment and leisure time. I found that a career in the armed forces is not the worst profession that a young person could choose."

"From this tour I am convinced that the public schools of our nation have an obligation to present all the facts of necessary military service and to better educate youths in respect to their obligation to their nation and its way of life so that they may better fit military service into their overall life plan in an intelligent and beneficial way."

I can assure you that a Defense Information Orientation course will be set up in our school and strongly suggest that all schools give serious consideration to a similar program for their young people."

The tour was anything but a "soft touch" for the educators. They were up usually at 5:30 a.m. and mightily glad to call it a day usually between 9 and 10 p.m.

They flew in C-47s and C54s with stops at Fort Carson, Colo.; Ent Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Lowry Field, Denver, Colo., and Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill.

Chix Unbeaten; Art Klamt Stars

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland's football team ripped a page out of the football thrill book Friday night to pull one out of the fire here in the last 43 seconds and win over Wyoming Park 19-14.

The come-from-behind Chix scored 13 points in the final 10 minutes to finish an unbeaten season of 7-0-1.

Quarterback Ron Beyer fumbled on the counter, picked the ball up and threw it. The ball flipped end-over-end, bounced off the shoulder of a Wyoming Park defender and into Klamt's arms. He moved 12 yards to score. The drive started on the Chix 31 yard line with 7:30 remaining.

A 47-yard reverse with Klamt totting at the 9:45 mark had put the Chix within one point of Wyoming. Ron Komejan converted. He missed the other two.

Klamt scored the first touchdown with 23 seconds left in the initial quarter on a 56-yard off-tackle play.

The Parkers took over in the second quarter and dominated play during the next two periods.

Casey Vandenberg, Wyoming Park halfback, went 31 yards around end midway in the second period for the first touchdown. The drive climaxed a 60-yard touchdown march.

The Parkers scored again in the third period. Zeeland fumbled on the first play from scrimmage and Wyoming recovered on the Chix 15. Paul Williams went 15 yards off tackle for the score.

Vandenberg kicked both extra points.

Klamt was again the offensive leader for the Chix. He picked up 158 yards in 13 carries and upped his touchdown total to 14 this season.

Defensive standouts were Mike Vanden Heuvel, Jack Sneller,

Goose Hunters May Set Record

LANSING — A record turnout of goose hunters appears certain this year at the popular Swan Creek-Fennville areas in Allegan county.

More than 12,000 hunting permits were issued in the areas in the first 37 days of the 70-day waterfowl hunting season which ends Dec. 9.

Some 952 geese were bagged during that period at the two state-managed areas.

The hunter use at the Swan Creek-Fennville areas has increased annually since the state purchased the lands in 1950. Only 14,407 permits were issued for the areas during the entire 1950 season.

By 1954, the number had jumped to 22,289 and at the present pace, this year's hunter total would go well over that mark.

From the Frying Pan Into the Fire

Accident statisticians will have a rough time putting this one in its proper category.

Bastian D. Bouman, 47, of 37 East 14th St., was unloading some welding equipment from his truck Thursday when a gauge was knocked off a tank.

The resulting explosion burned Bouman about the face and singed his hair.

Racing from the scene, fearful of another explosion, Bouman ran onto Douglas Ave. in front of Beechwood School, where he was hit by a car.

He suffered leg and hip bruises. Driver of the car was Ralph Getman, 24, South Haven.

The Ottawa County deputies report will show one of the causes of the accident as "explosion" with a detailed explanation.

Dutch War Hero Speaks At Rotary Club Meeting

Dr. Jean Victor De Bruyn, former government official of Netherlands New Guinea, was guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon Thursday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Active in underground work against the Japanese in World War II, Dr. De Bruyn talked about the Papuans, primitive natives of the area he administered. Because of the topography of the country, vast areas are almost inaccessible and the natives lead a stone age existence, he said. Metals, weaving and grains are unknown and the basic food is a paste made from sago.

Dr. De Bruyn said some tribes still resort to head hunting and their moral practices are not always in keeping with modern civilized standards.

The island, he said, is unattractive and swampy, but because of its strategic position, attempts are being made to develop it. This can be done only by educating the natives and providing them with a new spiritual background. The work of the missionaries has been of great value in the program, he said.

Dr. De Bruyn was introduced by Rotarian Harold Ramsey.

Freedom of Expression must be properly safeguarded at all times so that our basic freedoms shall not be replaced by anything else, he said.

The Rev. John Hagans of First Methodist Church conducted devotions. A cornet solo was played by Bruce Kuiken accompanied by Paul Lucas. Greetings from the county office were extended by Miss Jennie Kaufman, county superintendent of schools.

$66,000 Amount Allowed by Jury in Condemnation Suit

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — After deliberating 24 hours, a Circuit Court jury Wednesday afternoon allowed judgments of $66,000 for three parcels of property bordering the downtown section in Holland which City Council sought to condemn for parking purposes.

Following a two-day trial, the jury agreed that condemnation of the property was necessary for public improvements in Holland, and determined the following compensation: $11,000 for the Bonze-laar property at 9 West Ninth St., $28,000 for the Den Bleyker property at 13 West Ninth St., and $27,000 for the Hopkins property at 17 West Ninth St.

Observers said the verdict was a compromise between the city's top appraisals of $55,000 and the property owners' appraisals of $95,000 for the three parcels.

The city of Holland sought the property for parking purposes and plans call for a well designed lot for 56 cars.

Should the city decide not to proceed with the purchase, it can discontinue the court's action prior to confirmation of the verdict six days after the trial closes.

State Farm Given Award of Merit

The mystery of the "best buy" in auto insurance, the tangled web that most motorists know, little or nothing about, has been solved by the editorial research board of Car Life Magazine, in an exclusive article appearing in the November issue. After two months of study and evaluation of 39 auto insurance companies by the national magazine's research team, the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company of Bloomington, Ill., was awarded the Car Life Magazine Seal of Merit Award for "the nation's best buy in auto insurance."

"When you are ready to buy your policy," Car Life found, "you need not shop for one that offers everything and a little extra. Today, all policies have standard provisions and most companies use the standard policy. But what you do need to consider is this: The kind and amount of protection your particular needs require. The cost of the policy and the reputation and stability of the company insuring you."

"However, these are by no means the only or most important factors to be taken into account in buying auto insurance," the magazine article continues. "What is important is what happens when you present your insurance company with a claim."

"Is the agent or representative easily reached? Is he cooperative? Does he represent you as well as the company? Will the company try to talk you out of your claim, or reduce it? Will you have to wait a long period for settlement? Will the company force you to go to court? In short, will your insurance policy do what it claims to do?"

Taking all these factors into consideration, the magazine editors found that State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company compared better with the rigid code of specifications than any of the 39 auto insurance companies studied. The company is represented in Holland by Ben L. Van Lente, 171 College Ave.

Ken Folkertsma of Zeeland and Merlin Terrill of Grand Haven have been appointed March of Dimes co-chairmen for Ottawa county for the 1956 campaign during the month of January. It was announced today by Wilbur Cobb, president of the Ottawa county polio chapter.

Folkertsma, active in Lions Club work in Zeeland, will direct the drive in the southern half of the county and Terrill for the second year will direct the campaign in the north half of the county.

Polio leaders have set their sights to raise the same amount of money raised here last year—$59,244.07.

This figure, divided into round numbers, puts township and city goals as follows: Holland area including Holland and Park townships, $22,265; Zeeland area, $5,200; Grand Haven and Spring Lake area, $17,863; Chester, $839; Tallmadge, $1,009; Allendale, $760; Blenden, $839; Georgetown, $2,710; Cive $769; Wright, $1,266; Polkton, $580; Crookery, $1,139; James-town, $1,161; Port Sheldon, $44; Robinson, $297.

Even though the Salk polio vaccine program is expected to reduce greatly the patient care program in the future, Cobb pointed out that polio is not licked yet. "There always will be a March of Dimes as long as there are patients to be cared for."

Cobb estimated that the patient care program this year is $61,000 which is $1,756 more than was collected in the 1955 campaign. Although new cases are down from last year, several holdover cases form the bulk of the total expenses. Two cases alone this year will cost approximately $28,000 by Jan. 1.

It also was pointed out that in the 17 years of polio work in Ottawa county, more money has been spent to take care of patients than was collected. In 17 years, $327,334 was collected and $342,114 was spent on polio patients. The difference came from chapters which had a surplus.

A kickoff meeting will be held Dec. 7 in Allendale township hall for all county workers.

The campaign in Holland area will be in charge of the Inter-Club Council of Holland.

'Tensions in Far East' Discussed by Speaker

The impact of Communist China on the rest of the Far East and attitudes of other Asians toward the Red Chinese were graphically analyzed for members of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon by Dr. Russell H. Fifield, professor of political science at University of Michigan.

Dr. Fifield, who has studied and traveled extensively in the Far East, has lived in China and Formosa, the Philippines and other Southeast Asia countries. Speaking on the topic "Tensions in the Far East," Dr. Fifield said the most significant development in Asia is the rise of Communist China. There are 600 million people there under control of the Reds, who are getting stronger every year.

The speaker said that although the Chinese Communists share the same general ideology as Russian Communists, they are diplomatically independent and there is no indication they are taking orders from Moscow. However, militarily, the Chinese are dependent on the Soviet Union.

The government of Red China is not becoming more popular with the people, but rigid controls and police state tactics will prevent overthrow, he said.

Moving to Formosa and the Chinese Nationalists, Dr. Fifield said Chiang Kai-shek's future is closely tied up with the United States and Red China policy toward Formosa. Although Chiang's record on Formosa is reasonably good, it is still a question if he should duplicate that record in China should he return.

Chiang's return to China, Dr. Fifield said, depends on three things — is his armed force big enough, could he depend on American air and naval aid which would be necessary for success, and how would the Chinese people on the mainland react if he should return?

The speaker discussed the implications of China's turning Communists on several other parts of Asia. As for Korea, he said the war there would have ended in late 1950 if the Red Chinese hadn't entered. It is the belief of many in Asia, he said, that the U. S. was defeated in Korea; therefore we have lost prestige and suffered a serious setback on that score.

Red China has only an indirect impact on Japan, but a significant one, because China is a logical market for Japanese goods. Japan's move toward an uncommitted or neutral status bears close watching in the future, Dr. Fifield said.

Red China's important influences in the Southeast Asia are its boundaries, its devoted ally Ho Chi Minh and the large number of Chinese, over 12 million, living in Southeast Asia.

The average Asian, Dr. Fifield said, prefers to be left alone—many have won their independence and want to stay that way, but there also is a strong desire for better economic standards. The U.S. offers help in that direction through technical and economic aid in a long range program, but the Reds promise the millennium overnight, he said.

Dr. Fifield discussed a number of questions asked by club members.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Neal Van Leeuwen of the Public Affairs Committee, which arranged the program.

Mrs. Alvin D. Bos presided and announced there will be no club meeting next week because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Saugatuck Plans General Meeting

Kuyers Paces Dutch to Third Straight MIAA Win

ALMA (Special)—Hope College's football team mauled Alma College here Saturday night, 37-14 for its third straight victory and concluded the season on a successful rebound after a disastrous start.

The win gave the Dutch a 3-3 MIAA record and tied them with Albion and Alma for third place in the conference. Hillsdale swept through the league unbeaten. Kalamazoo took Albion Saturday to win second place honors. Hope ended with a 4-5 record.

All-MIAA fullback Dave Kuyers is probably the big single reason for the reversal.

The Zealand junior, after aiding in breaking up Albion a week ago, Saturday exploded off guard and through center on his favorite plays and knocked the Scots out.

Final MIAA Standings

	W	L	PF	PA
Hillsdale	6	0	208	60
Kalamazoo	4	2	98	82
Hope	3	3	162	90
Albion	3	3	72	94
Alma	3	3	114	102
Adrian	2	4	77	135
Olivet	0	6	32	200

of any MIAA runner-up contention. Kuyers scored twice and picked up 204 yards in 15 carries for a 13 yard average and pushed his total yardage to 317 yards in three MIAA games.

The 6', 200-pound fullback started it off Saturday with a 15 yard smash off guard for a touchdown with six minutes gone in the second quarter. And he kept right on pounding the line the rest of the game.

Don Van Hoeven converted after the first touchdown, the only successful kick the Dutch made in the game.

Kuyers scored his second touchdown on a 31-yard off guard jaunt after four minutes had elapsed in the third quarter and set up two other Hope touchdowns, one on a 60-yard run and another on two line plunges that gained 33 yards. A pass combination from the quarterback to the left halfback also worked twice against the Scots for touchdowns.

The second Hope touchdown came on such a pass in the second quarter. Quarterback Harry Voss threw the ball to left half Dave Woodcock, who delayed momentarily while the defense picked out would be receivers, and then scampered down the side and was hit with the pass. The play covered 37 yards and was set up when Ed Jim Hilmer recovered an Alma fumble by Joe Emory on the Scot 37.

Alma sneaked in two touchdowns in the game, both in the last minutes of each half.

The first one made by halfback Marv Raab, covered 45 yards in the last minute of the first half. Raab started out around end. He saw he was trapped, so he completely reversed his field and outran the Hope secondary. Dick Ayking converted.

Kuyers' third quarter touchdown highlighted a 60-yard Hope touchdown drive after receiving the kickoff. End Paul Wiegierink had taken the kickoff to the Hope 40.

Hope started its next drive on its own 19 yard line where a Raab punt had gone out of bounds. Kuyers broke loose on his 60-yard jaunt on the first play. He was brought down from behind on the Scots 21. He then went nine to the 11 and right halfback John Adams carried for 10 on the next play to the Alma one. Adams cracked over for the first of his two touchdowns, moving into the end zone standing up.

The Dutch kicked off again and the vicious tackling caused the Scots to fumble on the Alma 33 and Wiegierink pounced on the pigskin.

Fullback John Holmlund carried three times and Jack Faber twice to put the ball on the Scots six yard line where quarterback Del Grissen passed to Faber in the end zone for the touchdown on the same pass play used earlier in the game. The push to the six was made in the third period and the score came on the first play of the fourth quarter.

After an exchange of punts midway in the fourth period, Holmlund intercepted an Alma pass on the Scots 40 to give Hope the ball for the final score. Kuyers plunged twice to the seven and Adams scored his second touchdown on a seven yard run off tackle.

A 67-yard drive got Alma its final touchdown. Ayling went over from the one with 1:30 left in the game. Raab kicked the extra point. Aiding the drive was a 17 yard pass interference penalty.

Hope had another field day on the ground picking up 291 yards while Kuyers had 204 and Adams 63 in 10 carries. Hope had 92 yards passing.

Locally-Owned Beagle Finishes Championship

Holland's first Beagle Field Champion, "Nancy of Lakewood," finished her championship Tuesday, Nov. 8, at Clay City, Ind.

Nancy is a 13 and 4/8-inch female owned by Ted Baker, of 198 Lakeshore Ave., secretary of the Holland Beagle Club. She has won four first places and has placed 17 times in licensed trials for a total of 126 points.

She is five years old and was purchased by Baker at the age of seven months. Nancy is by Sutherland Tobi and her sire is F. C. Sutherland Dapper Dan.

In order for a dog to be a champion it must win three first prizes and not less than 120 points in competition.

Nancy's firsts were won at the Holland Beagle Club trial; Tri-City, Evansville, Ind.; Sturgeon Creek at Midland, and Clay City, Ind.

The Holland Beagle Club was organized in 1944 by Baker and four other Beagle fanciers in the area. Today the club membership numbers 60 and the group is developing 80 acres of land near Port Sheldon as club grounds.

There are members from Nunika, Grand Rapids, Zealand, Muskegon and Muskegon Heights and Ludington.

Previous to purchase of the club grounds, the Holland club held trials at Hastings Wolverine Beagle Club grounds. Class A and sanctioned trials were also held in Hastings.

The Beagle is becoming more popular all over the nation as well as in Holland, Baker said. The breed now has the highest registration with the American Kennel Club, leading even the Cocker Spaniel, he added.

Any dog registered with the AKC can enter field trials, Baker said. Four classes are run — 13-inch males, 13-inch females, 15-inch males and 15-inch females.

The dogs are run in braces, or pairs, on live rabbits. Two judges on horseback oversee the competition.

First place winner is awarded the place and also a number of points corresponding to the number of dogs in the trial. Second place is awarded half that number of points, and third, one third.

Members of the Holland club hope to hold trials at the new club grounds by next fall.

WEST OLIVE (Special) — A local citizen's meeting was held at Robert School Monday evening with Congressman Gerald R. Ford Jr., reporting to about 60 residents.

Object of the meeting was to obtain information on legislation to return 25 percent of 3,000 acres of Port Sheldon Township, now owned by the Federal Government, to private ownership in order to boost tax rolls. Another problem under discussion was the control of tree insects in evergreens grown on federal land.

Ford said that all land purchased under the Bankhead Act cannot be returned to private ownership without legislation, but that a bill to change this act, sponsored by the chairman of the House Committee, is now under consideration. The Secretary of Agriculture has presented an amendment as to priorities and preferences.

However, the bill in its present form is inadequate for this community. Reference is made only for agricultural purposes, whereas much of Port Sheldon's federally owned land is more suitable for residential and industrial purposes.

A committee of six was appointed to give Ford concrete proposals to present to the House Committee for action in December. Marjorie Van Slooten, chairman of the citizens meeting, was appointed to head the committee. He will be assisted by Clarence Reenders, Al De Ridder, Lester Fuite, William Taylor and Ed Van Dyke.

Ford assured the citizens that no Federal program is involved in the land option going on recently in the community.

It was also agreed by the group that Ford ask Congress for an allocation of $30,000 to carry on an experimental program to eliminate the European Pine Shoot Moth in this district.

Evergreen growers questioned Ford on the 10 per cent tariff levied by Canada on seedlings shipped into Canada, and pointed out that Canada paid no such tariff on trees shipped into this country.

It was reported that Canada shipped in more than 11 million trees in 1951, the same amount in 1952 and 10 million in 1954, or one third of the trees sold in the United States.

Ford said that in 1950 Congress passed a reciprocal tariff law making certain imports tariff free. He assured the group that he would contact the tariff board concerning the matter. Despite the large import of evergreen trees, however, growers said that price has remained at the same level for the past five years.

Blueberry growers also expressed the opinion that action should be taken on blueberry imports. The owners said that imported berries, processed here, are shipped as far as California. Such a situation could jeopardize the local market, owners said.

Admits Setting Saugatuck Fire

A former Detroit man now living in Saugatuck has admitted setting fire Sunday night to a Saugatuck landmark because "the place was hexed" and the "Mafia" (a secret society of Italians and Sicilians) rebellious against law and known as the Black Hand) was after me.

Allegan Prosecutor Dwight Cheever said the man, Nicholas Orlich, 31, would be petitioned as a mentally ill person after his arraignment Monday. Orlich admitted setting fire to the old Brittan bank, located just behind the bank and across from the Methodist church. The fire, did considerable damage to the large home, which has been unoccupied since 1904. The house is owned by Miss Julia Britton who makes her home in Virginia.

The fire was discovered about 9 p.m. A waitress said she saw Orlich in the vicinity and some of his clothes were found inside the house. Construction Supervisor Read reported that all rooms are now available for use in Jefferson School, and landscaping, playgrounds, sidewalks and curbs are complete. Drives have been filled with stabilized gravel and can be blacktopped either this fall or next spring. The playground drainage problem at Lincoln School also has been corrected.

All information on such trips will be assembled for board study before an architect is selected, possibly in January.

Van Zanden, Kuyers Named '56 Co-Captains

Ted Van Zanden, guard, and Wes Kuyers, fullback, will lead next year's football team, 1955 members decided in an election Monday afternoon.

Van Zanden is a 6'1", 180 pounder who stood out in every game. Many times Van Zanden stopped opposing backs on the line of scrimmage.

Kuyers, co-captain of the reserve team in 1954, shone as a defensive linebacker this year. He was in on many tackles and "likes it rough."
