that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family."—A lady, in Providence, R. I.

Edmondo De Amicis' "Holland."

The Chicago Times says: It is no little surprising that one of the most fascinating of books should be written on, presumably,
one of the dullest of subjects. Napoleon used to say that the steeple of Antwerp cathedral was made out of Mechlin lace; Edmondo de Amicis has transformed the land of dykes into a land of beauty, of wonder, and of enchantment. He has written, in a word, a book in every sense charming; and the gracious task of the competent translator has been worthily performed. The volume is a fit comrade for the picturesque "Morocco," by the same judicious traveler; but it is perhaps more elegant in literary method if less rich in variety of natural detail. In an opening chapter, admirable for its dignity, its poetic feeling, and its pictorial sweep, the scope and general character of the work are distinctly outlined. The Tirrs will summarize, leaving the body of the volume for the leisure of its readers, who will find it thoroughly delightful. There are in all seventeen chapters, covering four hundred pages.

The amazement with which De Amicis approached the study of so curious a country is frankly and wittily acknowledged. "Whoever looks," he says, "for the first time at a large map of Holland, wonders that a country so constituted can continue to exist. At the first glance it is difficult to say whether land or water predominates, or whether Holland belongs most to the continent or to the sea. Those broken and compressed coasts, those deep bays, those great rivers that, losing the aspect of rivers, seem bringing new seas to the sea; and that sea, which, changing itself into rivers, penetrates the land and breaks it into archipelagos; the lakes, the vast morasses, the canals crossing and re-crossing each other, all combine to give the idea of a country that may at any moment disintegrate and disappear. Seals and beavers would seem to be its rightful inhabitants; but, since there are men bold enough to live in it, they sure can not ever sleep in peace."

Napoleon called it the alluvion of French rivers, the Rhine, the Scheldt, and the Meuse,—and on the pretense added it to the empire. A writer has defined it as a transition between land and sea. Another speaks of it as a crust of earth floating on the water. Still another as the end of earth and the beginning of ocean. But all agree that it is the work of man, an artificial country; that it exists because the Hollanders made it and preserve it; and that it will vanish when they abandon it.

The German tribes who first inhabited it found there tempestuous lakes, like seas, touching one another; morass beside morass; one tract of brushwood after another; immense forests of pines, oaks, and alders, traversed by herds of wild horses; and so thick were these forests that one might travel leagues from tree to tree without once touching ground. The fury of northern tempests was carried into the country by the deep bays and gulfs.
Provinces disappeared year after year under the waters of the sea, and were mere muddy tracts, neither land nor water. It is impossible to walk or sail on them.
Large rivers wandered here and there, uncertain of their way, without sufficient inclination to descend to the sea, and slept in monstrous pools and ponds among the sands. Furious winds swept along, beaten by obstinate rains; the land was veiled in perpetual fog and nothing was heard but the roar of the sea and the voices of wild beasts and birds. The first people who pitched their tents there had to raise with their own hands dykes to keep out the rivers and the sea, and lived within them like shipwrecked men upon desolate islands, venturing forth at the subsidence of the waters in quest of fish and game.
Now this region is one of the most fertile,
one of the wealthiest and best regulated lands in the world. Holland is nature conquered by man; but the conquest goes on forever. Miracles of courage, constancy and industry must have been accomplished by these people in first creating,
then in preserving such a country.

They had a triple enemy to overcome; the sea, the lakes, the rivers. They drained the lakes, drove back the sea, and imprisoned the rivers.
The air was called into their service.
The lakes and marshes were surrounded by dykes, the dykes by canals, and an army of windmills, putting in motion force-pumps, turned the water into the canals, which carried it off to the rivers and the sea. Then vast tracts saw the warming sun and were soon covered with villages and intersected by canals and roads. In less than forty years in the seventeenth century forty lakes were drained. Steam-mills were substituted for wind-mills, and in thirty-nine months the great lake of Harlem was drained, which menaced Harlem, Amsterdam, and Leyden.

The rivers were no less difficult to check and govern. Some had to be channeled and defended at the mouths against the tides, by great cataraacts; others were turned from their course; the wandering waters were gathered together; the affluents regulated, and all were disciplined into streams for service.

The heaviest battle was with the ocean.

The people of Holland still have that ancient enemy at their gates. They live in a fortress on a war footing with the sea. Everywhere are bulwarks of earth, granite, and wood. Where there are not sand-banks there are dykes. The whole province of Friesland is defended by three rows of piles, sustained by masses of Norwegian and German granite. Amsterdam, all the cities of the Zuyder Zee, and all the islands—fragments of vanished lands—which are strung like beads between Friesland and north Holland, are protected by dykes. From the mouth of the Ems to those of the Scheldt Holland is an impenetrable fortress, of whose immense bastions the mills are the towers, the cataraacts are the gates, the islands the advanced forts, and, like a true fortress, it shows to its enemy, the sea, only the tops of its bell-towers and the roofs of its houses, as if in defiance and derision.

And still the struggle goes on. Every day the cataraacts of the bays and rivers close their gigantic gates against the high tide trying to rush into the heart of the land. The sea knocks at the river gates, beats upon the ramparts, growls her menace on every side, lifting her curious waves as if to see the land she counts as hers; piling up banks of sand before the gates to kill the commerce of the cities;
forever gnawing, scratching, and digging at the coast; and, failing to overthrow the ramparts upon which she foams in angry effort, she casts at their feet ships full of the dead, that they may announce to the resisting country her fury and her strength.

But Holland has done more than defend herself against the sea; she has turned it into her own defense. Against a foreign foe she has but to open the dykes and un-chain the sea and the rivers. Water, which was the source of her weakness and her poverty, she has made her strength and her wealth. Her canals serve to irrigate the land through which they are the means of communication. The canals are the arteries of Holland and the water is her lifeblood.

And not the water only has Holland conquered; she has made her soil. The once uninhabitable and sterile sand now sends abroad the most precious products.
As her people subdued the element at home, they have done a great part in carrying on the struggle of men with nature in every other part of the world.
After England she is the great colonizer.
She is tranquil in her prosperity; she restricts herself to commerce acquired by agriculture; she has the substance of free political institutions; she has wealth without ostentation, freedom without insolence and taxes without poverty. Within her limits education is most popular and manners are the least corrupt.

[The above we deem the most glowing and concise article about the Netherlands
we have ever seen in print, and thought our readers would be pleased with the first chapter of the author's work, if, perhaps, not with the rest.—Ed.]

WEEKLY NEWS REVIEW.

THE EAST.

SAMUEL S. MOREY, who was arrested in New York for perjury in the Philp trial, has made a full statement of the manner in which he was indicted to testify, declaring that he spent two nights before election in the rooms of the National Democratic Committee, from whom he received $150. Lindsay has confessed that he was coached by William M. Price, a Democratic elector in Maryland, and that his testimony throughout was false.

MISS MARY SIGERSON, residing in New York, repulsed offers of marriage from Andrew Gillen, a dissipated young lawyer. The latter called at her residence, threw his arm about her neck, and, in the presence of her mother, shot her dead.

SOLOMON S. MOREY and Frank Lindsey, alias O'Brien, were brought before the Grand Jury of the New York Court of Sessions on the 11th inst., and made confession that they had perjured themselves in the hearing of the Philp case. Morey was held as a State witness, and O'Brien was indicted for perjury.

A SHOCKING accident is reported from Bord City, a small town near Bradford, Pa. One Joseph Heeps and eleven others were playing cards in a boarding-house. The fire was running low, and Heeps undertook to replenish it by pouring on kerosene oil from a peach-can. The can caught fire, and Heeps threw it from him. It fell into a can of petroleum oil, which set fire to the house. Elliot Brown, Barney Haley, and Henry Hydo perished in the flames. Joseph Barthley received fatal injuries in attempting to escape, and has since died. Mike Welsh, Henry Monroe and Willard Freshy, who were badly burned, will probably die. Heeps, the fellow who caused the disaster, escaped without serious injury. Mr. Henry Wharton, a well-known Philadelphia lawyer, and at one time associate editor of the American Love Register, is dead. Lucetta Mott died, the other day, at Philadelphia, in her 88th year. The deceased lady identified herself with the anti-slavery cause, and championed it to the end.

THE proposition of a New York paper to raise a Presidential pension fund is being briskly responded to in that city. Hon. Edwin D. Morgan heads the list with $5,000, conditional that $250,000 is subscribed before Jan. 1. John H. Starin places his name down for $2,500. Other subscribers are George Jones, $1,000; Anson G. McCook, $250; Thomas L. James, $250, and A. J. Dittenhofer, $100. Two burglars entered the house of Thomas O'Brien, a Syracuse merchant, and with a carpenter's hammer brained Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien while they were sleeping in bed. O'Brien's condition is very precarious, and there is no hope of Mrs. O'Brien's recovery.

MASSACHUSETTS, according to the official census report, has a population of 1,783,085. The females exceed the males by 66,044. The number of persons of foreign birth is 443,116, and there are 19,004 colored persons. William V. Grover, a 50-year-old husband of Red Bank, N. J., has shot and killed his 13-year-old wife.

KENWARD PHILP has been held for trial at New York on charge of criminal libel, and remains at large on his bond of $5,000. Judge Noah Davis, in reviewing the case thought Hart, the publisher of the Truth, displayed reasonable caution before publishing the Morey letter, but the course of Hon. Abram Hewitt he declared to be thoroughly reprehensible. The Judge regards the letter as altogether a forgery. Mr. Hewitt, smarting under the reflections of Judge Davis, retorts that the letter was published before he had ever seen Mr. Hart or the original, of which event Judge Davis must have been informed; and that when a man becomes a Judge he should cease to be a partisan.

YOUNG WILLIE SPRAGUE, son of ex-Senator Sprague, who was arrested for shooting at Robert Thompson, his mother's trustee, has been discharged from custody, it having been proved that the shot was fired at a bird instead of at Thompson. After a contest of ninety minutes, in Pittsburgh, John McMahon, of Vermont, defeated W. J. Farrell, of California, for the champion wrestler's belt. P. K. Barger, of Scranton, Pa., has been sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary for embezzlement.

IN a church at East Cambridge, Mass., last Sunday, Miss Jennie Smith announced that after sixteen years of intense suffering her sight had been restored and her useless limbs renewed solely through prayer.

A TRAIN on the Lehigh Valley road jumped the track near Pittston, Pa. By the upsetting of a stove in the foremost car, in which were most of the passengers, the car was set on fire, and several of the passengers were severely, one fatally, burned. A brakeman was killed instantly, the fireman was fatally injured, and the engineer and a second brakeman were very badly hurt.

THE WEST.

IN the period between the 1st of May and the 31st of October there were brewed in the city of Chicago 311,047 barrels of beer. This would make about 155,523,500 glasses, or 311 glasses for each man, woman and child in the city.

THE railroad war continues. The Wabash system of roads last week reduced rates from St. Louis and Chicago to all Eastern points. The schedule adopted for limited tickets is: Boston and New York, $4.25; Philadelphia, $3.75; Washington, $3; Harrisburg and Buffalo, $3.25; Pittsburgh, $2.25. The rate between St. Louis and Chicago continued at $1 for tickets limited to twenty-four hours.

A FIVE-STORY building on Randolph street, Chicago, occupied by Dwight Bros. & Co., paper manufacturers, and Sammons, Clark & Co., furniture and picture-frame manufacturers, has been destroyed by fire. Loss, about $100,000.

BURGARS visited the postoffice at Appleton, Wis., and cut open 300 letters. Gov. Smith, of Wisconsin, has appointed the Hon. Orsamus Cole Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of that State in place of Chief Justice Ryan, deceased.

DEPUTY MARSHAL THOMAS, at Socorro, New Mexico, was compelled to disarm a troublesome gambler, named Gordon. In the evening the latter assassinated the Marshal at a poker table, firing nine shots into his body, and walked away unmolested. Three murderers and a horse-thief escaped from the Las Vegas (Col.) jail. A posse pursued and overtook them. The jail-birds showed fight, and two of the murderers, Allen and Davidson, were killed.

Another of the party was wounded, but managed to make his escape. Petroleum was struck at Ponca, Neb., at a depth of 550 feet by workmen digging for coal.

BENJ. H. SKINNER, an old and popular Chicago hotel man, is dead. Osgood, Utah, will have in operation in January, from a flag-staff on the Court House, four electric lights of 3,000 candle-power, each of which is guaranteed to illuminate a mile in diameter. The lines of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad last year earned a net income of $9,405,400. Five passengers were killed and five were injured, according to the admission of the managers of the great corporation.

A TELEGRAM from St. Peter, Minn., dated the 15th inst., says: "At a late hour to-night fire broke out in the insane asylum at this place, containing about 600 patients. This building, which was one of the finest edifices in the country devoted to the care of insane persons, was burned to the ground. At this writing it is thought that from 150 to 200 of the inmates have perished in the flames."

SITTING BULL, who some time ago evinced a disposition to surrender, now bids defiance to the United States Government, and says he will fight to the bitter end, that he will die rather than surrender, and his warriors seem to share his hostile sentiments, and dare Gen. Miles to attack them, threatening him with Custer's fate if he does. The people of St. Louis were greatly disappointed at the result of the census taken of that city in June last, and at their urgent request a new enumeration was ordered by Secretary Schurz. The result is the crediting of the city with a population of 340,362, or about 6,000 in excess of the June census. Capt. Payne telegraphs Gen. Pope that his colony is actively preparing for a second invasion of Indian Territory, and that open house will be kept for army officers at Oklahoma City during the holidays. The latest lake horror reported is the capsizing of the schooner Carnington, twenty-five miles southeast of Milwaukee. All on board were lost.

THE St. Louis and Southeastern railroad has been sold under foreclosure for $3,200,000 to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company. The gross earnings of the Chicago and Northwestern railway for the last fiscal year were $16,155,122, and the operating expenses $6,749,723, leaving a balance on the right side of the ledger of $9,405,399. A coal-bed has been discovered near Ponca, Neb., about twenty-two miles west of Sioux City. The vein is four and a half feet thick, and about 585 feet below the surface. Petroleum has also been discovered in the vicinity thirty-five feet nearer the surface. A Chicago newspaper reporter went on an investigating tour through the city and discovered fifteen butter factories in full working order. The "butter" made in these concerns is a compound of various ingredients—soapstone, lard, tallow, and fatty substance. An official report gives the wheat product of Ohio, in the present year, as 52,522,794 bushels, against 41,052,120 bushels in 1879. The average production per acre, this year, was eighteen and three-tenths bushels, against seventeen and seven-tenths bushels in 1879. Ohio claims that these figures make her the first wheat-producing State in the Union this year, but Illinois and Indiana are still to be heard from.

THE SOUTH.

EX-JUDGE GLEESON has been disbarred by the Supreme Bench of Baltimore for uttering falsehoods in court. A train from Madison Court House, Fla., having on board five persons in charge of a United States Deputy Marshal, who arrested them for having violated the election laws, was boarded by a party of masked men, who released the prisoners, drove off the witnesses against them, and threatened violence to the Marshal.

TWO NEGRO laborers were killed and five injured by the caving in of a railway cut near Orange Court House, Va. A dispatch from Charleston, S. C., says that thirty-nine warrants of arrest for offenses under the election laws have already been issued by the United States officials in that city. A number of arrests have also been made in Richmond and other counties. Libby prison, the famous military bastle of the Southern Confederacy, in Richmond, Va., has been sold at auction to James F. Gray, for $6,725.

THE National Cotton Exchange reports that 1,507,945 bales of cotton of this year's crop has been shipped from Southern ports, or by rail to Northern manufacturing points. This is an increase over the shipments at this time last year of 167,781 bales. Dr. John Y. Porter, Assistant Surgeon in the United States army, telegraphs from Key West that there have been ten cases of yellow fever at that point, of which two were fatal.

THE Agricultural Bureau reports the cotton-crop prospect in North and South Carolina and Florida as promising an increase of from 7 to 15 per cent. over last year. In Alabama and in the Lower Mississippi valley the heavy rains have damaged the growing crop, and a decrease in the yield as compared with last year is probable. In Texas there is prospect of an increase of from 18 to 20 per cent. in the yield over that of last year.

THE Lipan Indians, who have lately been pillaging both sides of the Rio Grande in Texas and Mexico, have been badly punished by a band of Mexican volunteers.

POLITICAL.

GEN. GARFIELD has sent his resignation as a member of Congress to Gov. Foster, of Ohio. The latter has called an election to fill the vacancy created by his acceptance of the resignation for the 30th inst.

THE private secretary of Gov. Foster, of Ohio, is authority for the statement that that gentleman does not desire, and will not accept, a position in Garfield's Cabinet.

THE official vote of the November election in Ohio has been canvassed, and shows the following result: Garfield, 375,043; Hancock, 340,871; Weaver, 5,456; Dow, 2,616. Garfield's plurality, 34,172; Garfield over all, 26,105. The official returns of the Indiana election give Garfield a plurality of 6,540. Porter, in October, received 6,352.

OMAR D. CONGER announces himself a candidate for the Michigan Senatorship, and mentions H. P. Baldwin, James F. Joy and John J. Bagley as in the field. The Athens Champion has official returns from all the counties in Kansas except twelve on the remote frontier. The vote foots up: Garfield, 115,526; Hancock, 56,917; Weaver, 18,330; Garfield's plurality, 58,609. This will be increased to about 62,000. The total vote of the State will be about 200,000—an increase of 62,000 since 1878. Garfield's majority over Hancock in Michigan is 53,504.

At a meeting of the Democratic National Committee in New York, last week, an address was issued denying that they ever took any action in reference to the Morey letter, or even saw it until its publication. A resolution was passed, recommending that in the States where election frauds have been perpetrated the Democratic committees investigate with a view to exposure and punishment, but declaring that the National Committee cannot be charged with responsibility as to the duties of courts or Congress.

OFFICIAL returns from the ninety-nine counties in Iowa show the following result: For Garfield, 183,954; for Hancock, 105,928; for Weaver, 33,590; scattering, 470. The total vote east 328,832, an increase of 30,953 over the vote of 1876. The official vote of Pennsylvania gives Garfield a plurality of 37,276 and a majority of 14,625. The total vote is 874,783, against 758,968 in 1876. Following is the vote for President: Garfield, 444,704; Hancock, 407,428; Weaver, 20,668; Dow, 1,339; Phelps, 44. The official vote of Alabama, with four counties to hear from, is: Hancock, 88,309; Garfield, 55,734; Weaver, 4,551. The counties to hear from will add about 2,000 to Hancock's majority. Official vote of Maryland for Presidential electors: Hancock, 93,706; Garfield, 78,515.

Gov. FOSTER says that he is a candidate for the Ohio Senatorship, and that he will fight hard to get it. He says he has no understanding whatever with Secretary Sherman, and that Gen. Garfield will not interfere in the contest.

ALEX. H. STEPHENSON declares that the cotton States will be content with any government the North sees fit to give them, if not oppressive in any form. The Governor of Alabama insists that the North does not understand that the Southern leaders have been cured of interfering in national politics, ask only home rule, and have no hostile feeling. Official vote of Missouri: Hancock, 208,589; Garfield, 153,587; Weaver, 35,135; Hancock over Garfield, 55,002; over all, 19,867.

CONGRESSMEN Conger, Kasson, and Frye continue to be most prominently mentioned for the Speakership of the next House. Besides, Judge Kelley, and Butlerworth and Keifer, of Ohio, are mentioned for the position.

THE full vote of Louisiana has been canvassed, and shows a majority for Hancock over Garfield of 32,709. Complete official returns from all the counties in Minnesota make Garfield's majority 39,073. The official count in Rhode Island gives Garfield 18,195; Hancock, 10,773; Weaver, 226; Dow, 20. Complete official returns from California show majorities ranging from 87 to 143 for five Hancock electors, Judge Terry being defeated by Henry Edgerton, Republican, by 507 votes. Joseph E. Brown has been elected as his own successor in the United States Senate from Georgia. Senator McMillan, of Minnesota, is likely to be his own successor in the United States Senate. His Republican competitors are ex-Gov. Davis, Gen. John B. Sanborn of St. Paul, Lieut. Gov. Gilman of St. Cloud, and Judge Cornell of Minneapolis.

WASHINGTON.

RECEIPTS from internal revenue since the commencement of the current fiscal year up to the 12th inst. were $48,240,768, against $43,780,935 the corresponding period last year. During the fiscal year ending June 30 the receipts of the Treasury Department from customs duties amounted to $188,378,611. This sum was collected at a cost of $6,023,253.

GEN. SHERMAN denies the report that he is seeking a place on the retired list. Gen. McCook recommends Congress to pass a law authorizing the enlistment of 150 young men—being one for each military post—who are qualified to act as schoolmasters, and who shall have the rank and pay of Commissary Sergeants.

WASHINGTON advises are to the effect that Gen. Schofield's report upon the Whittaker case, and his observations upon the association of white and colored cadets at West Point, will probably lead to his removal from his position as Commandant there.

JUSTICE CLIFFORD, of the Supreme Court, who was struck with paralysis some weeks ago, still lies helpless. He has recovered his speech partly and can articulate, but his mind has hardly rallied from the shock, and it is doubtful if he will ever recover.

GENERAL.

CAPT. EADS, of jetty fame, has gone to Mexico to make a survey of the isthmus of Tehuantepec to determine its adaptability for an interoceanic ship railroad. Washington advises indicate the following changes in the military service: Gen. W. B. Hazen to succeed Gen. Myer as Chief Signal Officer; Col. Nelson A. Miles to be promoted to the rank of Brigadier General, and to succeed Gen. Ord, who will be placed on the retired list.

THE propeller Zealand, of Toronto, was wrecked on Lake Ontario in the gale of the 8th inst., and all on board sixteen persons, found a watery grave.

BRADSTREET'S revised estimates of the wheat crop of 1880 show a total of 455,649,000 bushels, the surplus for export being placed at 190,724,000 bushels. A terrible explosion occurred on the 12th inst. in the Ford coal-pit, at Stellarton, N. S. The men on the north side calmly continued their labors, and were greatly surprised at dinner time to learn what had happened. Those on the south side, numbering nearly fifty, were instantly covered and maimed by huge blocks of coal dislodged by the concussion. Three men, who volunteered, found it impossible to explore the south side for any distance, on account of afterdamp. Six sufferers were taken out in a dying condition, and the names of thirty-two were recorded as missing.

UNDER the authority of the convocation of Canterbury, a commission of English and American scholars has completed a revision of the New Testament, sitting forty-seven days. Gen. Ord, commanding the Department of Texas, reports that nine men were killed and two men wounded and one captured by the Indians since the 1st of October, 1879. The General complains of a large number of desertions from the ranks. He recommends that a large force be maintained on the Rio Grande to preserve order in that turbulent, robber-infested quarter.

A DISPATCH of the 16th inst., from St. John, N. B., says that "tremendous fires continue to rage in the Stellarton mine, but, with the aid of steam pumps and fire engines, the pit is being rapidly flooded, and the diminution in the volume of smoke from the shaft indicates the flames are being subdued. There remains little, if any, prospect of the recovery of the bodies of the victims of the disaster."

THE wheat yield for the past season, as shown by the Agricultural Bureau report, exhibits an increase of about 31,000,000 bushels in the crop of the United States in the past ten years. Fire consumed the depot of the New Orleans, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, at the former city, the loss being $30,000. Aikin & McLaren's knitting-mill, at West Sand Lake, N. Y., was burned by an incendiary, wiping out $35,000. The Windsor Hotel, at Denver, was damaged $10,000 by water thrown by firemen. John Knight's tannery, at Manchester, Mass., has been burned; loss, $50,000.

BURNED: THE town of Mammoth City, Cal.; the St. Nicholas Hotel, at Paris, Ill.; a number of buildings, including business blocks, residences and shops, at Goshen, Ind., loss $30,000; 150 houses in Newport, Ark., including churches, hotels and the homes of 200 families, loss more than $200,000. An appeal on behalf of the widows and orphans, made such by the Stellarton mine explosion, has been issued to the Mayors and Wardens of the various towns throughout Canada. The appeal sets forth that fifty men and 1000 were killed, and that thirty-three wives have been widowed and 110 children orphaned.

FOREIGN.

M. DE BAUDRY D'ASSON, Legitimist and Ultramontane Deputy from La Vendee, who was reprimanded by M. Gambetta, President of the French Chambers, and temporarily expelled, has sent his censor a challenge to mortal combat.

A REMARKABLY disorderly and disgraceful scene was enacted in the French Chamber of Deputies the other day. It grew out of M. Baudry D'Asson's refusal to leave the Chambers when ordered by Gambetta. He had been excluded from the Chambers, but sneaked back in defiance of that body. A file of soldiers was brought in. M. D'Asson sat at his seat with folded arms, surrounded by a body-guard of Royalists and clericals. A hand-to-hand fight ensued. The Deputies resisted the troops, and refused to allow M. D'Asson's expulsion. At last Col. Riv, the commander of the soldiers, caught the bellicose Deputy round the body, a soldier took hold of his head, two more caught him by the heels, and he was carried kicking and struggling out of the house to a lock-up in the palace. The incident caused intense excitement.

THE Pope expresses sympathy for the Irish Land League, but is strongly opposed to any revolutionary proceedings. Kelly, the notorious Australian highwayman, has been hanged.

An audacious robbery has been perpetrated in Rue St. Vinne, Paris, bank notes of the value of 600,000 francs having been stolen from a postman. All the Nihilists tried for attempts against the life of the Czar have been found guilty by the Military Court at St. Petersburg. Five of the convicted were sentenced to death, and eleven to hard labor in the mines for life. Three female Nihilists were sentenced to fifteen years' penal servitude. Mr. Wheeler, an Irish land agent, was shot dead near a place called Oola, in the county of Limerick.

THE Origin of the disorder in Ballinrobe, Ireland, that culminated in the sending thither of a detachment of Orange volunteers is thus explained in a recent cable dispatch: "The tenants on the estate of Lord Erne became incensed at the harsh treatment of Capt. Boycott, the agent, and refused to pay rents to him. A process-server who was sent round was surrounded, together with his police escort, by a dangerous crowd, and was forced to fly for his life. After three processes had been served and decrees duly obtained against the three persons who were served, a memorial signed by all the tenants was presented to Lord Erne. It recited the grievances against Capt. Boycott, and appealed to the old traditions of the Erne family for considerate landlordism. It intimated that, while the tenants were perfectly willing to pay their rents, they had come to the conclusion never again to work for or hold communication with his present agent. The answer was a firm refusal from Lord Erne to change his agent at their dictation. The tenants asserted their readiness to pay rents to any other person whom his Lordship might appoint. Lord Erne ended the correspondence by a curt note stating that he had no intention whatever of changing his agent, and if they would not pay their rents to Capt. Boycott they might take the consequence. The policy of isolation was then entered upon."

A DUBLIN dispatch of the 16th says: A meeting was held at Kockanrose Village, near Walshtown, yesterday, for the purpose of formally "Boycotting" thirteen landlords, land agents, and others, residing in that neighborhood. Five thousand people were present. James Malloy, a tenant-farmer, was President. The following resolution was adopted: "That we pledge ourselves to 'Boycott' these thirteen men, and all who act like them, and will endeavor to follow the example set to the rest of Ireland by the brave men of Ballinrobe." A dispatch from Ballinrobe says: "The general opinion is that it will be absolutely necessary for Boycott to leave the country, as he will have to be protected if he remains in Ireland."

WHILE Spain is about to proclaim the complete pacification of Cuba, the police of Madrid have seized a revolutionary printing establishment and arrested Gen. Ripoll. Fresh earthquake shocks have occurred at Agram, Austria; two mud volcanoes have formed, and several hot springs have arisen. Half the town has been destroyed, and the sufferers have taken to sheds. The bodies of 2,000 victims of the recent Kurdish massacre lie unburied in the vicinity of So Uj Bolek.

THE Basutos have achieved another victory over the colonial troops in South Africa.

THE Roman Chamber of Deputies has refused to accept the resignation of Garibaldi and his son, and has granted them three months' leave of absence. The horrors of the Chilian-Peruvian war have been added to by a band of Chinese scoundrels, who follow the Chilian army and complete the work of plunder and rapine, and murder of the Chilian force. The British Cabinet is considering two plans for the settlement of the land question. One is, arbitrati n between landlord and lessee; the other, to aid the tenant to purchase by state loans. A London dispatch of the 16th says the County Cork Land League urges tenant farmers to poison all game covers. Re-inforcements of 100 men have been forwarded to Boycott's house, and troops have occupied Headfort, four miles distant. An extra regiment of cavalry will be retained in Ireland during the winter months. An attempt by French Jesuits to find an asylum in Portugal is met by an order for the strict enforcement of the decree of 1834 abolishing religious orders. French monks who landed at Alicante and Barcelona, Spain, were compelled by the populace to re-embark. The French journals are being sharply disciplined under the republic. The manager of a Toulouse newspaper has been condemned to pay 12,000 francs to the Minister of the Interior, and 6,000 francs to the local Prefect of Police, as damages for libelling those officials. The sculling match on the river Thames for the championship of the world, between Hannan, of Canada, and Trickett, of Australia, resulted in an easy victory for the Canadian. He took the lead at the outset, and maintained it throughout, several times stopping and lying down in the boat to allow Trickett to come up. The Czar has commuted to life imprisonment the sentences of death pronounced against three Nihilists.

A LONDON dispatch says that Gladstone and Earl Cowper, the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, receive threatening letters daily. Mr. Forster says that land legislation is imperative if the English position in Ireland is to be maintained. John Bright said, in a speech at Birmingham, that the situation in Ireland is due to the landlords' oppression and absenteeism, and the difficulty of tenants obtaining land personally. He attributed the present disturbed state of affairs also to the rejection of the Compensation-for-disturbance bill in the House of Lords. In the future force could effect nothing. Mr. Bright said he was in favor of a plan which should give the tenants security in the possession of their farms and protection against constant increase of rent. A Brussels dispatch says that 8,000 rifles have been shipped from various Italian ports to Ireland. Two condemned Nihilists were hanged at St. Petersburg on the 16th inst. They met their fate without flinching.

Burning of the Minnesota Insane Asylum.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 16.

The number of lives lost by the burning and freezing in the insane asylum is variously estimated at from twelve to fifteen. The loss on building is $300,000. The scenes at the burning of the south wing of the hospital were heartrending in the extreme. So appalling a sight has rarely been witnessed. The patients in the annex were males. Many of them refused to leave the building at all. They ran up and down the halls, screaming and crying, and acting like the bedlamites they were. Of course, those who could not be coaxed nor forced out of the building became the unhappy victims of the flames, and suffered a horrible death in the flames. Others were saved, some by ladders, and some by leaping from the windows. Some were nearly nude, some shoeless and hatless, and all were exposed to the exceeding cold of the night. Many of the poor, demented lunatics fled as if for their lives, and could not be overtaken. Their sufferings in this frightful condition can better be imagined than described. The whole catastrophe is a fearful one to contemplate and an impossible one to describe. The poor dazed inmates of the asylum who had escaped the flames were at large, half clothed, and were to be seen in all directions flying in wild fright from those who attempted to save them. The air was bitter cold, and the poor wretches, with half-naked bodies and bleeding feet, were flying about, hiding in alleys and dark corners. It was a sight once seen never to be forgotten. For some time the capacity of the building has been taxed to its utmost. There were about 600 patients, and every inch of space was utilized. What will be done with these poor creatures turned out in the cold, and their malady increased by the excitement of the occasion, is a serious question. There are three other buildings situated in the town which are used, but they are already crowded to their full capacity. The asylum at Rochester is full, and will doubtless be unable to provide accommodations for any of the inmates at St. Peter turned out in the cold by the terrible catastrophe.

While the flames were slowly progressing the Matron of the Female Department made all haste to get the inmates out, and many of them ran shrieking in their night clothes in the snow drifts, even burying themselves in the snow, and had to be dragged into the barns and sheds, while those near by wrapped blankets and shawls around them. Intense suffering could not be avoided, as they had to be taken about fifteen or twenty rods through the snow to the nearest shelter, which was on the hill immediately rear of the south wing. Yet when one turns to the main apartments his blood runs cold as he realizes what was the doom of more than one poor demented man last night. Those crowded into the long corridors of the south wing stood around moaning and shivering like poor dumb brutes. The actual number burned cannot be gotten at in any way at the present time, as many are known to have wandered away in the intense excitement that prevailed throughout the whole premises. Several bodies were taken out of some of the rooms and halls, and several persons were gotten out into the halls, when they would seem determined to return to the fire, like a horse that is being led from the flames. One room occupied by two was broken open, and while one was dragged out the other was determined to remain in his warm bed, and, when dragged out, insisted on waiting to be dressed. An old man brought here from Minneapolis, by the name of Adams, was taken out dead. The engine telegraphed for from St. Paul did not arrive in time to do any good. There were about 600 patients in all at the asylum. The principal cause of delay in getting a stream of water on the fire from the hospital hose was the almost utter uselessness of the hose, from the fact that it had not been in use for so long that it required to be wet from end to end with hot water poured on outside of the hose. Meantime the flames spread very rapidly from the basement, filling the halls with smoke and making it impossible to do anything at saving the inmates of the north wing except by putting up ladders and prying off the fire-screens from windows, the rescuers taking inmates out and actually bringing them down in their arms, without clothing in many cases, while at other windows there were three or four begging to be saved from death while the flames were leaping from the adjoining windows at them.

ALBANIAN women walk over rough mountain pathways with sixty pounds of fagots on their backs and spinning with distaff and spindle as they go, while the men shoot at a mark and the boys turn somersault races on the gentle slopes of the mountain sides.

Hydrophobia.

Hydrophobia seems to be generated from the saliva of other animal than dogs. Cat bite has produced it, though it is not in evidence whether the cat was spontaneously hydrophobic or was inoculated. The Duke of Brunswick died in Canada from hydrophobia from the bite of a pet fox. In all cases the bite which poisons thus seems necessary to be that of a carnivorous animal. Possibly the larger carnivora may at times be similarly affected, and spontaneously, though we can hardly expect, from the few cases of human beings who survive the immediate effects of the bite, to find a case of hydrophobia thus recorded.

THE FAMILY PHYSICIAN.

SORE THROAT.—Gargle for sore throat: Tincture myrrh, two drachms; common water, four ounces; vinegar, half an ounce. Mix.

FOR BURNS OR SCALDS.—Varnish the wound with the white of an egg. The application of the egg is more soothing than sweet oil and cotton, the common remedy for burns.

TONIC APERIENT.—Epsom salts, one ounce; diluted sulphuric acid, one drachm; infusion of quassia chips, half an imperial pint; compound tincture of rhubarb, two drachms. Half a wine-glassful for a dose twice each day.

DIARRHEA.—It is said the small plant, commonly known by the name of rupturewort, made into tea and drunk frequently, is a sure cure for diarrhea. Rupturewort grows in nearly every open lot and along the roads. It is a small plant, throwing out a number of shoots in a horizontal direction, and lying close to the ground, something similar to the manner of the parsleyweed, and bears a small dark green leaf with an oblong purple spot in the center. When the stem is broken, a white milky substance will ooze from the wound. It is very palatable and infants take it as readily as any drink. This is an old Indian cure, and may be relied on. The botanical name of this plant is Euphorbia Maculata.

HOW TO KILL A TAPEWORM IN AN HOUR.—Kousso and kamela are expensive drugs, nauseous to the taste, not always effectual, and requiring several days to effect the death of the worm. Dr. Karl Bettelheim, of Vienna, narrates in the Deutsches Archiv, a heroic method and nearly sure cure in the short space of time of three-quarters of an hour to two hours. It is this: He inserts a tube in the cesophagus, to the stomach, and pours down from 200 to 400 grammes of a very concentrated decoction of pomegranate root, having previously had his patient fast for twenty-four hours. The worm is stupefied and passed, head and all, to a certainty; the patient has no sickness of the stomach, and no nauseous swallowing to do, and the drug is cheap.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.—On the first day of taking cold there is a very unpleasant sensation of chilliness. The moment you observe this go to your room and stay there; keep it at such a temperature as will prevent this chilly feeling, even if it requires 100 degrees of Fahrenheit. In addition, put your feet in water, half-leg deep, as hot as you can bear it, adding hotter water from time to time for a quarter of an hour, so that the water shall be hotter when you take your feet out than when you put them in; then dry them thoroughly, and put on warm, thick woolen stockings, even if it be in summer, for summer colds are the most dangerous; and for twenty-four hours eat not an atom of food, but drink as largely as you like of any kind of warm teas, and at the end of that time, if not sooner, the cold will be effectually broken without any medicine whatever.

Something About Glass.

Some boy writes to "The Doctor," asking how window-glass is made so flat and smooth, "especially those in the large windows of store-fronts." There are two kinds of window-glass, one called "cylinder" and the other "plate" glass. All the large panes are plate-glass, as the size of cylinder-glass cannot be increased beyond a certain point. In this kind of glass a cylinder is blown. Those who have been in a glass-house—and I advise you, whenever you have an opportunity, to visit one and see how this wonderful material is worked—know that to make a cylinder a glass is first blown. This then is worked into a cylinder by rolling it upon an iron table. After a cylinder is made its ends are cut off, and it is divided lengthwise and flattened out to form a flat, smooth sheet. All plate-glass is cast. A polished iron table has ledges at the side as high as the thickness of the plate of glass. The metal glass is poured upon this and spread and flattened by a copper roller. The plate is then annealed; that is, put into a very hot furnace, which is so arranged that the glass will cool very slowly, in order that it shall be tough when, at the end of a week or so, it is cool. But the glass is now dull and rough, like that which you see in roofs and skylights. To become the beautiful plate-glass it must be ground and polished. The plates are so arranged that they may be rubbed together, one upon the other, by machinery. First sand and water are placed between them, then emery of different sizes, and after being ground with the finest emery they are polished by rubbing them with some kind of polishing powder.—American Agriculturist.

The Czar and His Brother.

I hear that the Czar is threatened with blindness, and it is doubted if he would obtain any relief by an operation. Long before Gen. Melikoff's appointment to the Dictatorship of Russia all state papers requiring his Majesty's signature were printed in the largest type, under the direct superintendence of one of the Ministers, to enable the Czar to read them. The Grand Duke Nicholas would probably never have published his recent defense in the Nouvelle Revue, had he supposed that the Czar would be likely to peruse it; but as he had hitherto been his Majesty's favorite brother there were enough people about the court ready to undermine his influence and bring the obnoxious article under the imperial notice. The Grand Duke Nicholas was named the principal executor in the will of the late Empress, and on dit that this has caused no small amount of jealousy among her sons. She had appointed a second executor in Count Alderberg, the Minister of the Court, and the hereditary confidential friend of the Emperor, who once paid the Count's gambling debts, after exactng a promise that he would never touch a card again. From the terms of the will the Empress seemed to expect to outlive her husband, although she added a provision that in the contrary event he should retain possession of the palace at Livadia, which was her property.—London World.

The Schoolmaster in Germany.

The reports of our school inspectors often reveal a very remarkable state of things in our schools and among our teachers, but, thank Heaven, they show nothing so bad as the report of an examination of German candidates for the schoolmaster's certificate, which we have just read. One candidate, on being asked what countryman Jesus was, replied that he was an Italian. Another, on being shown a stuffed squirrel and asked to name it, succeeded in doing so, but on being further asked what sort of a squirrel it was, guessed that it was a stuffed one. "Where," continued the examiner, "is this species of squirrel to be found?" "In the dealer's window," was the reply. "What is this?" asked the professor, showing another candidate a butterfly. "That is a butterfly, sir." "No doubt, but what kind of butterfly?" "Mein Gott!" was the answer, "we have so many of them in our parts that we never pay any attention to them." "It is now 4 o'clock here," remarked the examiner to a candidate for honors in geography, "what time is it in London?" "Well, it must be quite as late there," was the reply. "How many square miles does the north pole cover?" was another question, to which came the answer: "No one knows. A great number of people have tried to go there, but not one has succeeded in the attempt." "How do you teach children the difference between the right and left bank of a river?" "I don't teach them that, because there is no river in our parts." Another candidate was shown a skeleton map and asked to name a particular mountain, but he observed the map was a bad one, as the names were not marked on it like the one at home, which was far superior. "Why did the companions of Columbus refuse to go further?" was another question. "Because," replied the candidate, "they had come to the spot where the ship would have tipped over, for you know, sir, the earth is round." These examples will suffice to prove that, if the schoolmaster is generally abroad in Germany, the candidates for that title are not seldom at sea.—Manchester (Eng.) Post.

Tiresome Sundays.

In order to appreciate fully the beauty of our Sundays one should live abroad two or three years. My dislike to foreign Sundays has reached a perfect pitch of bitterness, a foreign correspondent writes: Owing to an accident, I have not been able to go to church the last two or three weeks, and so I have had the full benefit of a Sunday in a foreign land. Let me give my experience for the benefit of such as think that our Sunday may be improved. As I lie here I hear the piano in a room close by played vigorously. The same runs, the same shakes, the same crashing chords, are being repeated over and over again that I have had to listen to every day during the past week. I can also hear the piano across the road being practiced on in the same way that I have heard it practiced on every day during the past week. In the long passage outside my door I can hear the servant scouring away as hard at drudging work as she was yesterday. I can hear the housewife with her jingling keys opening store-cupboards, and giving out stores in the same dreary round of duties that have occupied her all the week, and when I am carried into the salon this afternoon no doubt I shall find her, as I did last Sunday, with her kind, tired face bent over the work-basket, putting strings and buttons and tuckers to little garments, just as she had put them on any other day of the week. Sweet, unselfish, tender-hearted German lady, what a boon our blessed Sabbath day would be to her.—Exchange.

Smoking.

The evils of juvenile smoking were considered at a conference of Sunday-school and day-school teachers in Manchester, England. Dr. Emrys-Jones, of the Royal Eye Hospital, who presided, laid special stress upon the injurious influences of tobacco upon the sight, and said he was convinced that the use of tobacco, say of half an ounce a day for ten or fifteen years, resulted in serious injury to the eyes, and sometimes in absolute blindness. Resolutions were adopted setting forth that, as physicians of the highest eminence declare tobacco to be injurious to health and longevity; as smokers smoke to satisfy the same artificial craving which induces drinkers to drink; as careful statistical investigation shows that the smoking teetotaler is five times as liable to break his vow as the non-smoking teetotaler; as smoking is an unmanly leaning on a solace to care and labor, neither sought nor needed by women, enabling the smoker to be idle without growing weary of idleness, tending to take the ambition out of him, and to make him happy when he should be miserable, and content when his divinest duty is discontent; as it is almost impossible to smoke in an inhabited country without causing discomfort or nausea to others; and as, finally, the passion for tobacco has been the cause for many serious fires and disastrous explosions, parents, teachers, and all others who have influence with British boys should warn them against this barbarous habit both by precept and example.

A Troy youth snapped a bean from a window. It struck a man on the nose. He jumped and knocked down a woman, who broke an arm and caused a horse to run away and fatally injure itself. Had the boy thrown a grindstone, nobody knows what might have happened.

Army Reports.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16, 1880.

The annual reports of Gen. Pope and Ord have been made public.

Gen. Pope, commanding the Department of the Missouri, gives a detailed history of the troubles with the Indians in Colorado and New Mexico, which, he states, have not yet been wholly settled. Of the situation in the country, Gen. Pope says: "With the present military arrangements and provisions of the agreement with the Utes, there will certainly be no trouble this winter."

He attributes the outbreak of Victoria to the determined purpose of the Interior Department to effect the removal of his band to the San Carlos Agency, Arizona, and says: "I do not know the reasons of the Interior Department for insisting upon the removal; but certainly they should be cogent to justify the great trouble and severe losses occasioned by the attempt to coerce the removal."

One serious trouble with the Indians has always been in relation to their food, and Gen. Pope recommends to the Secretary of the Interior that he forbid Indian Agents to punish or seek to control the actions of Indians by withholding provisions from them.

In relation to the attempt of Capt. Paine to colonize in the Indian Territory, Gen. Pope says: "It is certain Capt. Paine and his followers fully believe in their right to make such settlement in the Oklahoma District, and are anxious to test the question in the United States courts."

Gen. Ord, commanding the Department of Texas, reports nine men killed, two wounded, and one captured by the Indians, since Oct. 1, 1879. The casualties are three less than the previous year. He reports that the number of desertions has increased. The General recommends that a strong force be maintained on the Rio Grande to preserve order.

Gen. McCook recommends that a law be passed by Congress authorizing the enlistment into the army of 150 competent young men (one for each military post), to be rated as schoolmasters, with the rank and pay of commissary sergeant.

GEN. SHERMAN'S REPORT.

Gen. W. T. Sherman, in his annual report to the Secretary of War, recommends, among other things, that the army be increased to 30,000 enlisted men, and says that he agrees with Gen. Sheridan in saying that the present army is overworked; he favors providing suitable armaments for the forts which guard the chief harbors of the country, and thinks that in view of the extension of railroads in the Western States and Territories, particularly the completion of the Pacific roads, many of the minor posts in these regions might be abandoned, and recommends that the soldiers be concentrated at strategic points along the national frontier, and at points where railroads intersect, so that they could be moved to threatened points at the shortest notice. He recommends the abandonment of small seacoast forts, and the establishment of strong garrisons at Portland, Boston, Newport, New York, Port Royal, Key West, San Diego, San Francisco, Port Townsend, Philadelphia, Hampton Roads and Pensacola. Gen. Sherman has a good word to say for the Military School at West Point, and the Artillery School at Fortress Monroe. He holds that the investigation of the Whittaker case fully vindicated the authorities at the former place.

QUARTERMASTER GEN. MEIGS' REPORT.

Quartermaster Gen. Meigs, in his annual report, gives the total earnings, on account of military transportation of the bonded Pacific railroads as follows: Union Pacific, $6,959,974; Central Pacific, $1,321,276; Kansas Pacific, $2,287,832; Sioux City and Pacific, $34,389. The debt of the United States to land-grant railroads on account of the War Department is increasing. A general order of the War Department is being printed, regulating the business of military transportation over land-grant and bonded railroads, and the adjustment of accounts therefor in conformity with the latest legislation, decisions of courts and opinions of the Department of Justice. The cost of wagons and stage transportation of military supplies for the year was $86,163.65, and the cost of water transportation $100,874.69. The debt due June 30, 1880, by railroads which at the close of the war purchased railroad material from the United States, was $1,068,911.72.

SURGEON GEN. BARNES' REPORT.

Surgeon Gen. Barnes in his annual report thinks an appropriation of $250,000 will be required for the use of the medical department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1882, for the purchase of medical and hospital supplies, for the expenses of purveying depots, for pay of employees, for pay of private physicians and nurses employed in emergencies at posts or stations, and for other miscellaneous expenses of the medical department. Gen. Barnes earnestly recommends an appropriation for a new fire-proof building, adequate for uses of a medical museum and library. The cost of such building he estimates at $250,000.

SURELY the ways of theatrical men are peculiar. When a lot of tramps congregate about the entrance to hear the music, and the policemen drive them away, the manager telegraphs all over the country that his play is an immense success, and that people are turned away from the doors.—Oil City Derrick.

SOMEBODY notes that love is more interesting than marriage, for the same reason that romance is more enticing than history.

Poverty and Suffering.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctoring, which did them no good. I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I procured Hop Bitters and commenced their use, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost, I know it. A Workingman."

FROM all appearances at present we are to have a long winter. But then our local prophets have not been heard from yet.

WINTER seems to have fastened her death grip on Lake Michigan and still hugs to her bosom the unfortunate victims of the Alpena disaster.

THE schooner A. Plugger arrived home safely on Saturday last, stripped, and was prepared for the snow storm which commenced that night. This schooner was out and weathered the memorable gale nobly. Welcome home to our gallant sailors!

ON Thursday, Nov. 18th, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Breyman celebrated their silver wedding. Although no general invitation had been extended, several of their relatives from abroad were in attendance, and the presents were not alone many and appropriate, but valuable. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding also.

AMONG the recent changes on the Chi. & West Mich. R. R., we learn that Mr. Chas. Waring has been appointed the manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company at this point. We congratulate Mr. Waring on his promotion, and hope he may keep on climbing higher and higher.

THE schooner Winnie Wing, of Pentwater, bound to Chicago, collided with the schooner G. L. Seaver, on Sunday morning last, off Saugatuck, causing the Seaver to go on the beach, and the Wing was dismantled, and came to an anchor between Saugatuck and South Haven. On Wednesday last the steam barge Mary Groh towed her into South Haven.

THE whole aspect of things has suddenly changed. We seem to be in the midst of winter. On Sunday morning the ground was covered with snow. On Sunday night we had some more, and on Monday we had a regular cold snowstorm from the northwest, and on Tuesday it was not any better. On Wednesday it did not blow quite so hard, but the wintery aspect was the same. Truly, it looks as though winter had come to stay.

CAPT. Reuben Vanderhoef now boasts of the best craft of its size afloat on Grand River. He purchased the steamer Gracie Barker of Capt. Thos. Vanderhoef paid $8,500 for the Gracie.

By glancing over our new advertisements our readers will notice the dissolution of co-partnership heretofore existing between Messrs. Joslin & Breyman. Although we regret to lose Mr. W. H. The stock of jewelry will be kept up full and complete, and the repairing will also be attended to with the same faithfulness.

LIST of letters remaining in the post-office at Holland, Mich., Nov. 18, 1880: A. Harrison, R. S. Hall, Rev. A. H. Gillett, C. Boughman, Mrs. Luther Brown, O. Burch, S. Cooter.

WM. VERBEEK, P. M.

THE party who took a white and a red nubia from the counter of Mr. E. J. Harrington's store, on Saturday last, Nov. 13th, will do wise to return them, and no questions will be asked. Otherwise they will be put to considerable expense and disgrace.

THAT the holidays are close at hand, can easily be observed in all the stores, and especially in the store of Messrs. Boot & Kramer, where they display an enormous stock of beautiful toys and fancy goods. Parents looking for something for their children, will do well to look over their stock.

ON Monday and Tuesday evening we had the pleasure of hearing the Miner Family bell ringers. The weather was too stormy to expect a good house. Their bell ringing was fine. Their orchestra music was good also, and Mr. Martyn's imitations were excellent, but the singing was decidedly defective.

SOME people move out, others move in. Mr. M. F. Adair, recently from Muskegon, has come and settled among us. We bid him welcome. Mr. Adair is an expert ornamental and carriage painter, and judging from the specimens of work shown us, he may be fairly classed among the artists. His work shop is to be found annexed to the wagonshop of Mr. J. Flieman. Give him a call and see his specimens.

THE paper makers are importuned by big printing houses and other concerns using a good deal of paper to put up twenty-five sheets to a quire, or in some way make a ream consist of five hundred sheets instead of four hundred and eighty. The printers and book and magazine publishers make their contracts by the thousand, and find it necessary to carry too many broken reams. Much of the book paper is now sold in reams of five hundred sheets.

A DUEL was fought a few days ago in France between M. Alfred Gassier, the author of the prohibited play, "Juanes," and M. de Miramon, son of the former President of Mexico, who took exception to the mention of his father's name in the piece. M. de Miramon received a slight wound in the hand. A curious feature in connection with this duel is that, though M. de Miramon is an excellent fencer and M. Gassier had never previously handled a sword, the encounter lasted over half an hour, and ended in the inexperienced swordsman gaining the advantage.

$100 REWARD. $100

The above reward will be paid for the recovery of the body of Capt. N. W. Napier, who was lost on the Goodrich Steamer Alpena, which foundered on Lake Michigan in the great storm of Oct. 15-16, 1880.

Description—height, about 5 ft. 11 inches; weight, about 200 pounds; fair complexion, hair dark, little gray, smooth face; had initials, "W. N. N." and "R. A." on arm—sailor style. Age, 64 years.

Address, Mrs. N. W. NAPIER, St. Joseph, Mich. St. Joseph, Mich., Nov. 8, 1880. 4-2w.

THANKSGIVING, next week Thursday.

MUSKEGON has sent out to the lumber camps over fifteen hundred men. Nearly all the mills have shut down.

FOR the first time in more than twenty years we have a president, an ex president and a president elect, all living.

REV. D. Broek, the new pastor of the Third Reformed Church, arrived in this city with his family on Friday last.

THE First Reformed Church have made another trio, on Monday evening last, at a meeting held for that purpose, consisting of Revs. L. J. Hulst, P. Lepeltak, and E. Winter.

CAPT. EADS predicts that the navigation of the Sacramento river will be destroyed and the value of San Francisco harbor extinguished unless a stop be put to the flow of mining deposits.

ON to-morrow (Sabbath) evening, in Hope Church, Prof. T. R. Beck, D. D., will give some account of the Sunday School Centenary, held in London, England last July, and at which he was present as delegate from the U. S.

THE schooner Carrington, it is feared, is lost with all hands on board. It is nearly a week since she left Muskegon, and nothing has been heard or seen of her since the captain of the schr. Phoenix saw her flying a signal of distress, about 25 miles southeast of Milwaukee.

AT no place in the country was the tariff question pressed by the republicans more persistently than in the manufacturing city of New Haven, Conn. Yet the returns show that the democratic majority for Hancock was two or three hundred more than that given for Mr. Tilden in 1876.

UNION Thanksgiving exercises, will be held in the Methodist church, on Thursday next, at 10:30 a. m. The sermon will be presented by Rev. C. Scott, D. D. Rev. D. Van Pelt assisting in the services, the other ministers, and all the people are cordially invited to come, and enjoy the hour in prayer, meditation, and praise. M. D. TERWILLIGAR.

A DISPATCH from Muskegon, dated Nov. 15th, says: "Hon. H. H. Holt and Oscar Stromgust returned from South Haven, to-day, and report they identified the body recently found there as that of one of the Swedes who went on the Alpena, and whose life was insured for $4,000, as reported in the papers previously." This report is simply this, that two life insurance policies were found in a bottle, near Muskegon, purporting to come from two men wrecked on the Alpena. If all this information is straight, it is wonderfully lucky for the parties in whose interest these policies were made, that after finding the policies, the body of one of the policy makers should be found and identified. Very lucky coincidence!

GRAND HAVEN ITEMS.

WILLIAM TOICK brought in a fat buck on Friday last, weighing, dressed, 198 pounds, and several of our Nimrods have started for the north woods to try their luck and endurance.

WINTER is setting in very suddenly; it has been snowing and blowing for the last four days, and cold enough to cover the bayous with ice, and on Wednesday morning even the river was carrying considerable ice. Several of the mills have already shut down for the winter and others will soon follow suit.

LAST Friday morning the scow U. S. Grant, from Michigan City, went ashore north of the harbor, where she lies high and dry. It is said that the schr. Grant, together with a number of other vessels, laid in Michigan City, waiting for a change of the weather, but that her owner, supposing himself to be a better judge of the weather than all the captains, ordered her out, with the above result.

JUDGE Arnold has sentenced Lewis E. Sawdy, on plea of guilty to a rape on a child of only seven years, to Jackson, for a term of thirty years. Although it is a heavy punishment, the sentence seems to give general satisfaction, owing to the disgusting circumstances of the crime. The two "horse dealers," Smith and Robinson, received a term of three years each. The liquor suits that were on the calendar for trial, have all gone over the term, as well as the Worms assault and battery case.

ON Sunday morning the steam barge Granite State left for Chicago, laden with lumber. After being out a short while it was found that she was leaking so bad that the pumps could not keep her free, and she was headed again for Grand River. When within a mile from the pier, a tug went out and took hold of her and towed her into the river, where she now lies, above the D. G. H. & M. depot sunk in 12 feet of water. The Granite State is an old craft, having formerly belonged to the Northern Transportation Co's line between Ogdensburg and Chicago.

FACTS FOR THE CURIOUS.

ALTHOUGH idleness is frequently fatal to persons of great mental or physical energy, some workmen still find their term of existence very short on account of the deadly nature of their employment. The average life of a Sheffield fork-grinder is only 29 years, but that of the dry-grinder of sickles is 38 years. For every 70,451 tons of coal dug up in Prussia the life of a miner is sacrificed; and in England there is one life lost for every 89,419 tons raised to the surface.

In the Bible about 100 planets are alluded to; Hippocrates mentioned 233; Theophrastus 503 and Pliny 800. From this time there was little addition until the Renaissance. In the beginning of the fifteenth century Gesner could only enumerate 800, but in 1838 Bauhin described 6,000. Tournefort, in 1694, recognized 10,156 species; but Linnaeus, in the next century working more cautiously, defined only 7,294. In the beginning of this century, in 1805, Persoon described 25,000 species, comprising, however, numerous minute fungi. In 1819 De Candolle estimated the known species at 30,000. London, in 1839, gave 31,731 species; in 1846 Prof. Lindley gave 80,387, but in 1853 these had increased to 92,920. At present the known species are estimated at 125,000.

CHARLES D. MCGUFFEY, of Chattanooga, has been endeavoring "to get some idea" of the magnitude of the national debt at the close of the war. He has made the calculation that if four men were to sit down to pay the interest, and count a silver dollar a second, and work every second of the year, they could not keep down the interest on the original debt; and if another should sit down at 2 years of age to count the principal at the same rate, he would be over 107 years old by the time he counted the last dollar, interest on the principal having ceased from the first moment. The pile of silver dollars, moreover, which he would make in counting that principal would be four feet square and fifteen times as high as Lookout mountain (1,600 feet above Chattanooga); and if the silver were conveyed in a continuous wagon train, each wagon carrying a ton, and each wagon and team occupying thirty-five feet, the train would stretch from Chattanooga to Columbus.

WHAT a noisy creature would a man be were his voice, in proportion to his weight, as loud as that of a locust! A locust can be heard at the distance of one-sixteenth of a mile. The golden wren is said to weigh but half an ounce; so that a middling-sized man would weigh down not short of 4,000 of them, and it must be strange if a golden wren would not out-weigh four of our locusts. Supposing, therefore, that a common man weighs as much as 16,000 of our locusts, and that the note of a locust can be heard one-sixteenth of a mile, a man of common dimensions, pretty sound in wind and limb, ought to be able to make himself heard at the distance of 1,600 miles, and when he sneezed "his house ought to fall about his ears." Supposing a flea to weigh one grain, which is more than its actual weight, and to jump one and a half yards, a common man of 150 pounds, with jumping powers in proportion, could jump 12,800 miles, or about the distance from New York to Cochinchina.

Health of the American Eagle.

[From the Cleveland Penny Press.]

To relieve the monotony of the constant important sayings of "Our Candidate," "Our Next President" and "Our Fellow Citizen," it is a pleasure for us to present herewith the opinion of one of Cleveland's most popular druggists, Mr. E. A. Schellen-trager, 717 St. Clair street. The gentleman writes: I know of no remedy which has given more universal satisfaction than the Hamburg Drops. I have not heard of a case where they failed to benefit. The very large and daily growing demand for this Great German Blood Purifier is a source of high gratification, for, aside from the pecuniary gain, one takes pleasure in selling an article of such marked efficacy and superior merit.

The Health of Animals.

Early last spring we published in the Health Monthly an article from the pen of Hubert T. Foote, D. V. S., on the care of animals, in which he took the position that horses and cattle should have shelter that is as well provided with cleanliness and ventilation as are our homes. The writer undertook to show that horses are subject to pretty much the same ills that we are, and that they are nearly or quite as sensitive to all injurious influences. Since the new disease has broken out among the horses of our cities, some of our metropolitan papers have been calling attention to the same subject which was so well presented by the veterinarian, Dr. Foote. The ground taken is that if we would have healthy horses and cattle we must give them carefully prepared stables and sheds which are free from all disagreeable odors or poisons or malarious influences. Further attention is called to the fact that cows provide a large share of the food which is given to our children, and yet that these useful animals are often provided with only filthy abodes. Considering how frequently our horses are affected by some new epidemic and how rapidly pleuro pneumonia is extending over the country would it not be well for all who have the care of such domestic animals to look well to their creature comforts, and see to it that their dwelling-places are as well ventilated and cared for as are our dwellings.—Dr. Foote's Health Monthly.

Tasteless Cod Liver Oil.

Dr. Peuteves, in La France Medicale, recommends, in order to render cod liver oil tasteless, to mix a table-spoonful of it intimately with the yolk of an egg, add a few drops of essence of peppermint and half a tumbler of sugared water, so as to obtain a lait du poule. By this means the taste and characteristic odor of the oil are entirely covered, and the patients take it without the slightest repugnance. Beside, the oil, being thus rendered miscible as the water in all its proportions, is in a complete state of emulsion as the fats at the moment they penetrate the chyle vessels, consequently absorption is better assured.

HE WOULD RUN LIKE LIGHTNING.

[From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

Speaking of candidates and records, it is safe to say that if a man could be nominated for the highest office in the land, with as clear a record for being the fittest, safest and the best, as our famous German friend St. Jacobs Oil has, there would be no doubt of an election. Party, creed, or denomination would not enter into the canvass. Many of our most influential citizens are enthusiastic upon the subject of this wonderful oil.

Giant Powder.

Chemistry itself is at a loss to estimate the power of nitro-glycerine, and yet this new agent of death is 20 per cent. stronger. That our readers may be enabled to form a faint conception of the danger of such a preparation, we will give a brief description of the process by which nitro-glycerine, giant and Hercules powder are supposed to be manufactured, and of the extreme caution necessary in their manufacture.

In the manufacture of nitro-glycerine, two tubes, each about a quarter of an inch in diameter, and six inches in length, lead into a single tube of double their capacity, but of the same length. Nitric acid is introduced into one and sulphuric acid into the other of these small tubes. The large tube contains glycerine. The two acids are then forced quite gradually into the glycerine, and the chemical combination thus forms an explosive of incalculable power.

So powerful and dangerous is this article that not an ounce of it is allowed in the manufactory while this tube, six inches long and half an inch in diameter, is being filled, and this tube is kept constantly washed in ice during the process. To make giant powder, this nitro-glycerine is allowed to drip upon a clay (similar to meerschaum) imported from Germany. This clay is the only perfect absorbent of nitro-glycerine known. As Hercules powder is darker, it is believed that that explosive is manufactured by the same process, charcoal, an imperfect absorbent, being used instead of said quality of clay. If, in the manufacture of nitro-glycerine, a strong tube is kept swathed in ice, and a quantity of the liquid only six inches in length and half an inch in diameter is allowed in the building at the same time, no wonder that Gen. Von Bockelen, with his preparation 20 per cent. more powerful, remarked that he would have it handled thermometer in hand!—Virginia City Chronicle.

When the season for making presents comes, make some sufferer of your acquaintance a present of a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and note the benefit it will do him and the thanks you will receive.

What a Telegram Did.

A piece called the "Death of Lincoln" was produced at Munich in the latter part of 1865. The author resided at a distance from the town, and was communicated with by telegraph concerning two or three important changes. The author wished the murder of Lincoln to be narrated—not to take place on the stage; but the manager was against this, as he was a sensation-lover, and he, therefore, sent a peremptory telegram to the author in these words: "The murder must be committed in the box. Reply quickly." The telegraph employee who received the message was so alarmed that, instead of forwarding it to the address, he communicated it at once to the Commissioner of Police, who in his turn considered the information of sufficient importance to put his brethren of the police on the qui vive at Munich, and the machinery of the law was at once put into operation to arrest the murderous conspirators. Happily the manager was able to convince the authorities, and so the matter ended with a sensation story for the papers, which turned out to be a capital puff preliminary for the piece.

Bears and Hornets. Hornets build their nests high up in the branches of trees, or fasten them to rocks out of reach of harm. But, cunning as these insects are, they are no match for the bear. A bear discovers a hornet's nest far out on a limb too small to bear his weight or high up on the breast of a rock. If the former, he climbs the tree, breaks off the longest branch he can get, and, holding it in his fore paws, thrashes the nest until it drops to the ground. Sometimes he dances or stamps on the limb until the nest is shaken off. If the nest is on a rock, the bear goes up to the top of the ledge above it. Then he gathers large stones and pieces of wood and rolls them down the side of the rock until one strikes the nest and sends it tumbling to the ground below. The hornets seem to know what has caused their ruin, and not one of them deserts the fallen nest, but all seem to await the appearance of the bear, when they attack him at once. "A hornet sting," says the old hunter, "is equal to a blow from a sledge hammer every time, and one hornet'll knock a bull down. But their bite won't raise a lump as big as a buckshot on a bear, and the shaggy creature seems to think it's a heap o' fun. He'll stand up on his hind legs and square off with his fore paws at the hornets, just as if he was boxin' with somebody, only he's durn careful to keep his eyes set. Then he'll lay down and roll all over the nest, as if he wanted to show the hornets how he didn't care no more for 'em than as if they was gnats. Once I see a big she bear, which had knocked a hornet's nest as big as a peck measure off'n a tree, take it under her arm and walk off with it as coolly as if it was one of her cubs."
