Tuesday evening C. Blom, Sr. was treated to a genuine surprise party. His friends learned that it was his 48th birthday and repaired to his residence in goodly numbers. Although it was only a "stag party," they passed a very sociable hour, and spoke in commendable terms over the fine spread.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the State funeral directors' association at Lansing last week, a committee was appointed to draft a bill to be presented to the next legislature providing for the licensing of embalmers and prohibiting inexperienced persons from embalming the bodies of the dead in Michigan.

In this issue of the NEWS will be found the tabular statement of the vote cast in Ottawa county at the late election, as canvassed on Tuesday. The board of county canvassers met on that day in Grand Haven, and organized by electing Hon. C. Van Loo of Zeeland, chairman. Four committees were appointed to tabulate the votes: electoral, state legislative and county, upon the completion of which the several local candidates receiving the highest number of votes were duly declared elected. There were a few discrepancies in some of the returns, but none so serious as to delay the canvass. The board concluded its labors at seven o'clock Tuesday evening, and adjourned.

Recently we have had several collisions between bicycle riders and pedestrians on the sidewalks of the city, causing bruises and injury to the latter. At the meeting of the common council this week Mayor Harrington called the attention of the aldermen to this nuisance. As a result we may look for an ordinance prohibiting the use of wheels on all the sidewalks in the city. From now on also the ordinance forbidding the same on the walks of River and Eighth streets will be strictly enforced.

Elsewhere appears a call for a meeting of the Republican club of this city, on Saturday evening. One of the objects of the meeting is to arrange for a suitable demonstration in honor of the triumph of the Republican state and county tickets, an especially to signalize our local gratification with the election of our townsmen—G. J. Dickema, as attorney general, B. D. Keppel as sheriff, A. Visscher as prosecuting attorney and J. C. Post as circuit court commissioner. Let all Republicans attend this meeting of the club.

"Jim," the sea lion who escaped from Lincoln Park, Chicago, a few weeks ago, and who was seen the other day off Ludington, dropped into Milwaukee harbor last week. After escaping from Lincoln Park he lingered for some days along the shore near the park. Then he swam south and began to explore the Chicago river.

Where he has been since is a matter of conjecture. About 7 o'clock Friday morning he called on the Cream City. He first visited the Milwaukee Dry Dock company's slip, and the men at work there greeted him with a shower of stones. He barked his disapproval of this reception and swam off toward the rolling mills. Half a dozen Polish laborers secured the same number of shotguns and started after him, firing a number of ineffectual shots. Thoroughly disgusted Jim turned tail, made for the lake, and headed north.

CLEVELAND SAYS NO.

HE IS OPPOSED TO A SPECIAL SESSION.

Shooting of a Famous Horseman at East St. Louis—The President Will Make Appointments—Garza's Brother Wants Release—Wyoming Election.

Favors a Tariff Commission.

A Washington dispatch says: Mr. Cleveland is opposed to the calling of a special session of the Fifty-third Congress and is in favor of the appointment of a tariff commission to sit next summer, take testimony and prepare a measure of tariff reform to be reported to Congress a year hence. That these are the views now entertained by Mr. Cleveland is well known to his intimate friends. In fact, his policy in this respect was settled upon only after consultation with a number of men who were prominent in the late campaign, and who are in a position to advise him as to the future.

JACK CHINN IS SHOT.

The Race Starter Makes an Attack on Secretary Sinclair with a Knife.

Col. John Chinn, starter at the East St. Louis Jockey Club track, was shot and, it is believed, fatally wounded by Captain D. R. Anthony. Dissatisfaction had arisen with his work as starter, and Secretary Sinclair presented him with his discharge. Chinn said that if he did not start the horses no one else would, and refused to accept the paper, at the same time catching hold of Mr. Sinclair's coat collar with one hand and reaching down into his boot with the other and drawing a large dirk-knife. Two policemen caught Chinn and tried to disarm him, he in the meantime making desperate efforts to use the knife. Capt. Anthony came upon the scene at this moment, and seeing that Chinn was about to get the best of it he drew his revolver and fired full in Chinn's face. The ball struck him in the mouth and ranged upward, coming out back of the ear. Chinn was removed to a hospital, where he lies, with but slight hopes of his recovery. He is a magnificent specimen of physical manhood and when in his cups is said to be very ugly. Colonel Chinn is known all over the country among turfmen, and has handled the flag on many of the great race tracks.

RESOURCES DIMINISHED.

United States Supreme Court Has No Jurisdiction Over Criminal Appeals.

The United States Supreme Court has taken away one of the last resources of convict: in the District of Columbia, namely, an appeal to it, these appeals as a rule being taken chiefly to delay the execution of a sentence. Chief Justice Fuller rendered the decision in the case of William D. Criss, convicted of wife murder and sentenced to be hanged. He applied to the court in general term of the District for a writ of habeas corpus, and when it was denied took the further appeal, which has been decided. The United States Supreme Court held that under the statutes it had no jurisdiction over criminal appeals from the local court. The decision will have an important bearing on the case of Howard Schneider, convicted of the murder of his wife and sentenced to be hanged after a long trial, which excited more interest in the District than any court proceeding since the Galt case.

WILL DEMAND HIS LIBERTY.

Revolutionist Garza's Brother Claims He Did Not Violate the Neutrality Law.

Encarnacion Garza, brother of the revolutionist, will at once apply for his liberty under a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that he had nothing to do with the revolution and merely assisted his brother to leave the country, which was no violation of the neutrality law. In the Federal Court at San Antonio, Texas, three cases against Catalino Garza, the revolutionist, for alleged violation of the United States neutrality laws, have been continued until an arrest shall have been made.

From the Church to the Prison.

At Waco, Texas, Rev. Richard William Wilson, a minister and physician of some note, pleaded guilty to conversion as a baler of a horse, and got a term of five years in the penitentiary. The prisoner is a historical character. He enlisted in the Confederate army under Gen. John H. Morgan, and when Gen. Morgan was captured he escaped and became a secret service agent of Jeff Davis' government. When the war ended he became acquainted with Cole, Robert and James Younger and joined their band. Leaving them he turned to the ministry, but was nearly killed in a temper and took to drink. While recovering he reformed, went to Texas and began preaching, and practiced medicine in McLennan County. He went to Waco on a borrowed horse, which brought him into his present trouble.

Filling the Vacancies.

President Harrison has decided to fill the principal existing vacancies, notwithstanding Secretary Hilditch said several days ago that only such appointments would be made as are absolutely necessary for the public service. It has been announced that the Assistant Secretaryship of the Treasury would be filled at once, or as soon as Secretary Foster makes a selection. It is understood that ex-Assistant Charles E. Coon, of New York, will have this place if he will accept it. He is in Washington now, in consultation with the Secretary.

Victory Undecided.

Both sides are yet claiming the Wyoming Legislature. The only sources of information are the State committees. At each headquarters they claim the victory. Before the result can be possibly known the official count must be made in three counties. Chairman New (Dem.) and Chairman Vandewater (Rep.) have left Cheyenne, one for a close count in the west and the other for a similar field in the north.

Farmer Adams Sentenced.

Farmer Adams, the man who put obstructions on the Fort Wayne track at Enon, Pa., and who played the insanity dodge while on trial, was sentenced by Judge Hazen to four years and six months in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $500.

New Field Opened to Miners.

The Supreme Court of the United States has affirmed the decision of the Territorial Supreme Court in the San Pedro and Canyon del Aguas grant case. The decision is against the grant, and throws the district open to miners.

NOT A BIT RATTLED.

How President Harrison Received the News at the White House.

According to a Washington correspondent the President spent election evening in his library accompanied by the members of his family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrison, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Dimmick, Judge Scott, and Lieut. and Mrs. Parker. Secretary John W. Foster and Attorney General Miller came in after dinner. Secretary Tracy got back from New York about 9 o'clock and went at once to the White House. Dr. Hamline, the President's pastor, dropped in for a few minutes. The President's information consisted of the press bulletins. He got no private dispatches, at least none of any account. He gave up New York early in the evening. The very meager dispatches which the President received from his own State were moderately encouraging to him. He figured that if he gained fifteen votes in a precinct all over the State, as he did in the twelve precincts first reported, he would get the State by a small majority, for the comparison was made with two years ago, when the Democrats got the State by a large majority. He got no news from the Pacific coast and was quite prepared for the announcement that Nebraska had gone for Weaver. He got no news from Wisconsin except a few bulletins indicating no major change. The President looked the bulletins over and discussed the comparative statistics in a nonchalant way and left most of the talking to the members of his personal and official families. Up to the time his secretaries bade him good-night he had learned nothing that he deemed desirable. He recognized Illinois as doubtful, and when the returns from Chicago and other important points in the State came in he gave up the election, remarking: "If Illinois has gone Democratic that settles it," and, requesting that no further returns be sent to him, went to bed. Mr. Tibbott, his stenographer, was in the morning still figuring upon some possible combination which might snatch victory from defeat, but with very indifferent success, even in his own mind. The President arose at his usual hour, glanced over some of the latest returns which had been prepared for him, and then calmly devoted himself to legislative business, saying nothing. Attorney General Miller and Secretary J. W. Foster, of the State Department, are the only two members of the Cabinet in the city. Attorney General Miller is somewhat prepared for defeat by the forecast of doubt which he brought back with him from his hasty visit to Indiana, but he was far from anticipating so complete a slump. Secretary of State Foster is not an active politician. He was paired with Col. Dick Bright, of Indiana. Ex-Secretary Blaine declines to be interviewed on the result, and has had the telephone removed from his residence in Lafayette Square so as to avoid the annoyance of perpetual calls.

MAKING A CABINET.

Politicians Hasten to Help Mr. Cleveland with His Work.

The result of the election being positively settled, politicians are turning their attention to the possible make-up of President Cleveland's next Cabinet. The Cabinet slate generally figured out by politicians is as follows:

Secretary of State—Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware.

Secretary of the Treasury—John L. Mitchell, or ex-Postmaster General William F. Vilas, of Wisconsin.

Secretary of the Navy—William C. Whitney, of New York.

Secretary of War—W. B. Franklin, of New Hampshire.

Secretary of the Interior—Isaac P. Gray, of Indiana.

Attorney General—Congressman William L. Wilson, of West Virginia, or Congressman Culbertson, of Texas.

Postmaster General—Don M. Dickinson, of Michigan.

It has been generally accepted belief in political circles at Washington that ex-Secretary Whitney, who has done so much to achieve the sweeping victory for Cleveland, would be offered the place of Secretary of State by the President-elect, but those who appear to know something about it say that Mr. Whitney would prefer to be Secretary of the Navy if he enters the Cabinet at all.

BULLETIN IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Three Men Killed and Several Wounded in a Political Quarrel.

Details of the election affray at Holland's Store Precinct, Anderson County, South Carolina, show that three men were killed and several wounded, all whites. It appears that R. G. Carter, the Republican Supervisor, and James V. Earle, a Democrat, became involved in a political quarrel just outside of the house in which the voting was going on. Carter pulled his pistol and fired at Earle, but missed him and hit Columbus Green, the Democratic manager. Green was killed instantly. Earle then began firing, and both men emptied their weapons. Earle ran through the house, and, picking up a shotgun, poured the contents into Carter. During the fusillade three bystanders were wounded, but not seriously. Carter was terribly wounded and died a few hours afterward.

LEFT THEIR BREAKFAST.

Kid and His Renegade Band Surprised by Troops in Arizona.

The troops in pursuit of the "Kid" and his band of renegade Indians surprised the savages while in camp just across the Arizona line about 100 miles west of Denning, N. M. The Indians were preparing breakfast, when a picket discovered the soldiers approaching and gave the alarm. The renegades jumped into their saddles and fled into the canyons, leaving their breakfast untouched. The troops sent several volleys after the fleeing Indians, but without effect. The chase will be kept up and a battle may be expected soon.

Winter Wheat in Fair Condition.

Winter wheat is reported by the Farmers' Review to be in fair condition in Illinois, Ohio, and Kentucky. In Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin it is reported good. Eye is doing much better than previous reports indicated. Drought has prevented the growth of grass in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, and Missouri, and pasture in those States is reported as generally poor.

Shot by Judge Randolph.

Judge F. G. Randolph, Probate Judge of Montgomery, Ala., shot and mortally wounded William Metcalfe. The difficulty is said to have originated in political differences. Judge Randolph is one of the most prominent men in the State and the leading Democrat of the State.

Said to Be $40,000 Short.

Simon Poe, passenger agent and confidential clerk in the offices of the Cuban Mail Steamship Company, was taken to the Tomb Police Court in New York and arraigned before Justice Grady, being charged with the defalcation of $40,000 from Ward & Co.

STARVING NO MORE.

MEXICAN FAMINE RELIEVED AT LAST.

Probably No Extra Congressional Session—Son of a Famous Scout in Serious Trouble—Ohio Insurance Company Must Explain Crooked Work.

Mark Miles Standish's Grave.

Two cannon—32-pounders, weighing 5,700 each—have been placed in position to mark Captain Miles Standish's grave at Duxbury, Mass. Twelve empty 8-inch shells will also be placed there, and a bowlder has been laid at each of the graves of Captain Standish, his daughter and his daughter-in-law. A 3-ton towider marked "Miles Standish" has been placed in the center of the lot. Appropriate public observance will subsequently be held.

NO EXTRA SESSION.

It Would Be Directly Opposed to All Precedents.

Precedent seems to be against the likelihood of an extra session of the next Congress, and according to a Washington correspondent it is not likely that the proposed move will materialize. When President Arthur became President in 1881 it was held that he must and would call Congress together to take action upon certain issues which were impending and which were agitating the country, principally the proposed revision of the tariff. The same had been said when Gen. Garfield became President. There were international questions, it was held, which demanded immediate action. Neither Garfield nor Arthur had the least idea of calling an extra session. When Mr. Cleveland became President in 1885 the Democratic and independent press throughout the country demanded and anticipated an extra session for the revision of the tariff. The circumstances were the same as the present, but Mr. Cleveland, in private conversations, laughed at the suggestion of an extra session of Congress. Every reader will recall how when General Harrison became President it was demanded that he call Congress together for tariff revision. Everybody seemed to expect an extra session till the President said he would not even consider the subject of an extra session. He said the country would far very well till Congress met in regular session. It is now pointed out by prominent Democrats in Washington that, besides being opposed to extra sessions of Congress in times like these, President Cleveland will have too much to do making changes in offices to warrant attention to Congress. It is learned that some of the leading tariff reformers are favoring an average reduction of about 20 per cent. from the McKinley schedule. They expect a bill to be passed by the new Congress and made operative two years afterward.

AMERICAN CORN IN MEXICO.

The Blockade on the Mexican International Railroad Raised.

The corn blockade on the Mexican International Road at Piedras Negras, Mexico, and at Torreon has been removed, and the shipments of grain from the United States promptly handled. President Diaz has issued a decree extending the time for free entrance of corn into Mexico to Feb. 15; the exportation movement has greatly decreased during the past few days. In the southern states of the republic the new crop is being harvested. The price is rapidly going down. Serious suffering among the poorer classes is still reported from Zacatecas, although the government has taken active steps looking to its relief during the past few days.

HAD LITTLE EFFECT.

The Election No Drag on the Wheels of Business.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The Presidential election has interrupted business to some extent in all parts of the country during the past week, but by no means as much as usual. At nearly all points the volume of trade has been fairly maintained, and the unprecedented activity of industries has only been interrupted by the election holiday. The money markets have not been disturbed, though working somewhat closer at several important points, and foreign necessities and the scarcity of commercial bills have caused some decline in foreign exchange.

Want It Open Nights.

Electrical firms throughout the country that had expected to make great exhibits illustrative of the progress in electrical science and industry have risen almost as a unit in protest against the rule recently adopted to close the gates of the Columbian Exposition at 7 o'clock in the evening. That rule robs them of their best time to exhibit, of their only chance to do anything in the way of the spectacular on which some of them have counted greatly. It is now only on the "fete" nights, probably two or three each week, that the electricians will have the chance they deserve for their display. If the present regulations hold the electric lighting men might about as well stay away from the Exposition altogether.

Mrs. Deacon's Appeal Cases.

The appeal of Mrs. Deacon from the decision of the tribunal of the Seine, which declared that she had no right to apply for a divorce from her husband and awarded the custody of the children to Mr. Deacon, came up before Judge Perrier and was adjourned for a week. The appeal of Mrs. Deacon against the jurisdiction of the court at Grasse to hear and determine the action for divorce her husband has brought up against her has been fixed for a hearing by the court at Aix for Dec. 8.

New Style of Shingles.

Slate roofs are to be crowded out by shingles manufactured from a peculiar kind of fire clay. The material used is a rich plastic clay, which burns a fast red and is found at various points in the upper Ohio valley. The clay shingles are said to be as durable as the best slate and can be supplied at a much lower figure. A manufacturing plant is to be started at Steubenville or at Toronto. There is one at Indianapolis.

Eaten by His Hogs.

Jesse Sykes, an old farmer residing three miles from Newport, Ind., met with a horrible death. He was subject to epileptic fits. He went out to feed a lot of hogs. As he did not appear for supper, one of the members of his family went out to see what was the matter. What was his horror to see the hogs devouring the remains of the old farmer.

Kilt Carson's Son Convicted.

Kilt Carson, a son of the scout, was found guilty at Las Vegas, Col., of manslaughter. Dec. 10 he went to the house of his father-in-law, William Richards, whom he accused of having enticed his wife away from him. Carson shot several times at Richards, one of the shots killing Mrs. Richards.

FEMALE VAMPIRE IN RUSSIA.

She Sucks the Blood of Her Hostess' Child and Kills Another.

A most horrible story of cannibalism is reported by a St. Petersburg correspondent. A woman named Akkerman, a gipsy in stature and strength, sought shelter at the house of a peasant woman named Yoreski Bariera, living in the small district of Bessarabia. The Akkerman woman was afforded a refuge by the peasant, and they became quite friendly. They drank a considerable quantity of vodka, and when the supply gave out Yoreski went out to get another bottle. She was gone quite a while. When she returned she was almost struck dumb with horror on finding that her guest in her absence had killed her baby, gnawed the soft parts of its body and sucked its blood and brains. The woman was then in the act of attempting to kill another child, a 3-year-old girl, who was seeking to escape from the hut and screaming at the top of her voice. The mother rushed in and tried to save her child from the murderer, but the latter struck the little girl with a bludgeon and killed her before her mother could reach her. The mother's brain was turned by the terrible scene she had witnessed, and she became a raving maniac. The Akkerman woman made a most desperate resistance when some of the peasants attempted to arrest her. She was finally overpowered and bound with ropes. She is insane.

Randall Left No Money.

The famous Pennsylvania Congressman, Samuel J. Randall, died a very poor man—how poor in this world's goods was not disclosed until Mrs. Fannie W. Randall, widow and administratrix, filed an answer in the Philadelphia Orphans' Court to proceedings brought by a creditor of the estate to compel an accounting. The few words in the answer were touching in the extreme. Mrs. Randall simply said that her husband left no real or personal estate, save a few personal effects, and that after the payment of funeral expenses, and the settling out of her $300 widow's exemption, there was nothing to account for, not enough money of the estate left to pay the costs required in an accounting. She added that no disrespect was intended by her to the court, but under the circumstances she had not complied with the request.

Elephant in the Procession.

The Democratic justification at Chattanooga, Tenn., broke the record of Chattanooga's political events for magnitude and enthusiasm. The most notable feature of the parade was an elephant belonging to the circus now playing there, which moved with perfect unconcern through the deafening din and glow of torches and fireworks.

Anarchist Paper Seized.

A dispatch from Berlin says that the police of that city have seized the first number of an anarchist paper entitled Arbeiter Zeitung. Five thousand copies which had been printed were confiscated. The publisher's house was searched and the plates from which the paper had been printed were destroyed.

Cars Running at Columbus.

Friday morning the Columbus, Ohio, Street Railway Company and the strikers agreed to submit their dispute to Mayor Karb for arbitration. On this disposition of the case all the employees resumed their places and cars are now running as usual.

Train Robbers Felled.

Three train robbers held up the W. & A. train at Adairsville, Ga., but were successfully held off. Twenty shots were fired, one of which struck a robber and another wounded the flagman. All the robbers escaped, but pursuit has been instituted.

Admits Soliciting Bribes.

Charles Neundorff, one of the indicted councilmen in Toledo, Ohio, pleaded guilty to the charge of soliciting bribes. This makes the second councilman who has pleaded guilty and two others have been convicted by juries.

Stole the Old Maid's Insurance.

Burglars entered the residence of an old maid, Miss Jennie Campbell, near Inverary, Ont., and stole $500. A barn belonging to Miss Campbell was burned some time ago, and the money stolen was the amount of the insurance. She is worth $50,000.

To Keep Out Immigrants.

The New York Board of Trade and Transportation has adopted a resolution requesting Congress to consider the desirability of prohibiting immigration for three years.

Twenty-five Lives Lost.

A dispatch from St. John's, N. F., says that as a result of the gale ten vessels were lost or missing, and twenty-five lives are known to have been lost.

Died from Gas.

J. Doyle and wife, from Davenport, Ia., were found dead in bed at the International Hotel, San Francisco. They had been asphyxiated by gas.

FIRE AT M'KEESPORT.

THE CITY CAUGHT WITHOUT WATER SUPPLY.

Lively Tussle with a Circus Lion—Lake Sailors Indulge in a Fight—Hundreds of Horses and Thousands of People Swept Away.

Caused by a Lamp.

At McKeesport, Pa., a fire broke out at Jenny Lind and Eleventh streets, and in less than half an hour six houses were in flames. As the city was without water, the pumps at the water works having given out early in the day, and as the river was over five blocks away, nothing could be done to check it. After tea houses burned the National Tube works came to the rescue by pumping water into the city's mains from their works. Had it not been for this assistance at least three or four blocks would have been in ashes. The loss is variously estimated at from $30,000 to $60,000. Insurance small.

LION ON THE WARPATH.

Escapes from His Cage, but Is Driven Back with a Red-Hot Poker.

At Newcastle, Pa., one of the big lions got out of his cage in the winter quarters of the Hunting show. Trainer Mark Monroe caught up a large iron poker, which he thrust in the fire until the iron was glowing. With this weapon he ran back to the quarters. The elephants, camels, and other animals not confined in cages were huddled together and trembling with fear. Monroe found the lion and attacked him without hesitation. There was a terrible uproar, the lion showing fight and the other animals, their excitement by all the various cries in their category. Finally the lion gave ground and tried to dodge the hissing iron. The keeper pushed him and once started kept him going, the animal as a last resort dodging into his cage. The beast was cauterized painfully by the encounter. Later George Bishop thoughtlessly passed close to the cage. The animal thrust one great paw out clear to his shoulder, catching Bishop on the thigh, tearing the flesh and muscles badly and seriously injuring him.

ANOTHER FIRE IN MILWAUKEE.

T. L. Kelly & Co.'s Big Dry-Goods Store Completely Gutted—$175,000 Loss.

Milwaukee had another disastrous fire visitation, when the large dry-goods store of T. L. Kelly & Co., fronting on Wisconsin street and Broadway, was completely gutted. The total loss will probably reach $175,000. The loss is fairly covered by insurance. The fire started in a mysterious manner in the rear of the basement of the main store, which fronts on Wisconsin streets, and in three stories high. The rear part of this building was connected with the Broadway wing by a one-story structure. The flames made great headway, despite the work of the firemen, and soon invaded the Broadway wing and filled the entire block with dense smoke. When the roof and walls of the connecting building fell in the firemen had a better chance, and soon had the blaze extinguished. It took eleven steamers and the fire tug Cataract an hour and a half to put out the fire. The entire stock of goods is ruined either by fire or water. Goods in cellars adjoining the burned building were considerably damaged by water.

FIVE MEN KILLED.

Frightful Explosion of a Locomotive Boiler Near Schuylkill Haven.

A frightful boiler explosion occurred on the Reading road a short distance above Schuylkill Haven, Pa., about midnight of the other night. Five men were killed and several injured. The killed are: Engineer William Cowey; Fireman William Moyer; Engineer Harry Allison; Conductor Kendrick; unknown man. Michael Dobbins, a brakeman, was badly injured. The engine had just finished making a shift and coupled up to a train. The moment the steam was applied the explosion followed. Cowey was hurled against rocks and every bone in his body was crushed. Moyer was hurled 100 yards away into a field. The others lay near the wreck. Cowey and Moyer belonged to another crew and were dead-heading it home to Palo Alto. The others belonged to the engine which exploded.

YELLOW RIVER RAGING.

Immense Area of China Flooded and Half the Population Drowned.

The City of Peking has arrived in San Francisco, bringing Oriental advice to the effect that the Yellow River has broken loose again, inundating the districts of Chang Chin, Chi Tung, Ching Chen, Chang Giang, Chou Ping, Fen Shing and probably others, embracing a large area. The devastation is frightful and the loss of life terrible. It is said that half of the population perished. Six hundred houses have been destroyed by fire in the city of Tokio, Japan. The houses were mostly of the cheap native variety, and while much privation has been caused the loss of property is not great.

Riot on a Whalebark.

A lively riot occurred on the whaleback steamer Washburn at Buffalo. The seamen and firemen, all of whom were on an extended spree, engaged in a general fight. Captain McFarland and a wheelman, who interfered, were roughly handled. Captain McFarland was badly cut about the face and otherwise injured. When the police arrived the riotous crew had all escaped from the steamer, and a hunt for them is being made.

Policeman Shot.

Policeman Graef, of Shamokin, Pa., was shot and killed by an unknown man while patrolling his beat. No arrests have been made.

Suicide Over Financial Troubles.

Simon Feldman, a retired merchant of Pittston, Pa., committed suicide because of financial reverses.

Texas to Try for Rain.

A meeting was held at the Board of Trade rooms and it was decided by them to raise a fund of $2,000 to be added to the $10,000 fund already secured by the government rainmaking expedition and expended in their proposed experiment.

Election Echoes.

The result on Congressman in the Fifth district, which has been uncomfortably close ever since the returns began to come in, is still somewhat clouded by uncertainty.

The unofficial result, up to last Tuesday, gave Richardson a plurality of from 9 to 15. This, however, on the face of the returns as they were laid before the several county canvassing boards in this district, Ionia, Kent and Ottawa, has been changed into a plurality for Belknap of 23, as follows:

PLURALITIES FOR BELKNAP.
Kent county, outside Grand Rapids	537
Ottawa county	138
Ionia county	292
1967

PLURALITY FOR RICHARDSON.
Grand Rapids city.	1224

Net plurality for Belknap 33

Just prior to the convening of the canvassing boards this week, Mr. Belknap, deeming himself in the minority, gave due notice for a recount in some of the voting precincts in Kent county. This notice however was withdrawn by him when later on it appeared that he was elected.

Similar notice was served by Mr. Richardson, affecting the result of several voting precincts in Ionia county. As we go to press the result of these recounts has not yet been ascertained.

The reports in Saturday's evening papers that an unexpected heavy Populist vote had been discovered in the northern part of the state, sufficient to overcome the Republican plurality and elect the Fusion candidate for attorney general, was rather alarming to the friends of Mr. Diekema in this city, and kept them on the "anxious seat," until the figures of the official canvass in the several counties commenced to come in, on Wednesday. With each succeeding day the returns grew brighter, and it now looks as though Mr. Diekema will still have a small plurality over Ellis.

In Muskegon county the defeated democratic candidate for sheriff has demanded a recount of the entire county on the vote for that office.

"Alloo-Alloo vor Klavland!"

Wednesday evening was Democratic Jubilee in Holland. As early as Saturday the city was placarded with posters announcing the monster parade, and the love-feast in Lyceum Opera House, where Hon. George F. Richardson and Hon. Edwin F. Uhl were to address triumphant Democracy. Later on a second edition in bulletin form was scattered broadcast over the city announcing the marshal and his assistants, designating the line of march, admonishing every Democrat to turn out and help celebrate, (no invitation to the Populists), and cordially inviting all citizens to decorate.

It had been freely intimated by the knowing ones that this was to be the grandest affair ever witnessed in Holland—1,000 horses, 2,000 men in line, 6 bands, 2 marks, 2 topseys, etc., etc. Local expectation ran high.

Wednesday evening came. The weather was beautiful and the streets were in excellent condition for a parade. In anticipation of what was coming our citizens had exerted themselves in decorating their residences and stores. The illuminations were profuse, many even handsome, especially among the residences. The streets were thronged with people, and everybody was in high expectation. Finally the signal was given for the starting of the procession, by a simultaneous blowing of all the steamwhistles in the city.

The procession moves.

And what a procession!

The fiasco of the season. No enthusiasm, no men, no horses, no torches—one general disappointment, to Democrats and Republicans alike.

A correct inventory will enumerate

73 horses and riders, carrying 1 torch and 3 lanterns; 2 drays, firing roman candles, an occasional sky rocket, etc.; 1 band; a squad of say 100 juveniles; and half a dozen illumined transparencies, the mottoes whereof could not be credited with either wit or originality.

And yet the boys should not be judged to harshly for this failure. As far as matters laid within their reach there was no lack of zealous effort—but to the extent that they relied upon their hilarious friends from outside, everything failed them, in the line of speakers, torches, horses, etc.

It all passed off orderly.

Among the Republican members of the next House of the Michigan Legislature, but few are elected who have had any past legislative experience. Among those who have served previously is R. P. Bishop of Ludington, and his name is already prominent as a leading candidate for speaker. He is an one-armed soldier, having served in the Forty-third New York infantry. His education, begun in New York academies, was finished at the Michigan University, he entering there in 1873, a congressional attaché under the sergeant-at-arms, was alderman of Ann Arbor city in 1875, was admitted to the bar the same year, and in 1876 began the practice of law at Ludington. He was a member of the legislature of 1883, and later served in Washington as clerk of the House committee on military affairs, of which Gen. Cutcheon was chairman.

In Michigan we still have the old slow system of only one election board at each voting precinct, which board sits all day to receive the ballots, and then sits all night to count the ballots, and the Michigan public do not know the results of their own elections officially until hours after most of the rest of the United States has all been counted and sent to us by telegraph. Thus we know how all New England and New York and most of the other states have gone before we can find out how our own precinct, ward or city has gone! Is there any need of Michigan being any longer so old foggy?

Under the "Massachusetts system" (so-called, because that state adopted it years ago), there are two election boards present at each poll—one board to receive the votes and conduct the election, the other board to canvass the votes. At the end of the first hour after the election opens, the ballot boxes are emptied, and the canvassing board begins to count the votes; and the ballot boxes are emptied at the end of each hour. Both boards sit in the same room, divided from each other by a railing.

By this system the votes are not only counted as fast as they are cast, so that the entire count is completed and the official result is made known within an hour after the polls close, but also the counting is done in the day time, right before the eyes of the voters, so that there is no opportunity for any sort of cheating. Also the other board of inspectors are witnesses, so that any cheating would have to be agreed to by both boards. This makes cheating impossible; and it is a matter of history that for more than thirty years there never was a disputed election return in any part of Massachusetts. But Michigan has had disputes without number under our old-fogy system.

This double-board system does not cost a cent more than our single board system. Under our single board system we pay one board for two or more days. Under the "Massachusetts system" we should pay two boards for one day only. It is just as cheap to pay two boards of five men each for one day, as it is to pay one board of five men for two days. Besides, having two boards gives ten voters a chance to get this little public honor and employment, while one single board system only gives this chance for five voters. If Michigan will adopt this double board system the morning newspapers on the morning after election would have the official returns complete from the whole country and from the whole state, except a very few remote townships. This would be a great benefit and satisfaction to everybody.

The recent election, under our present system of balloting, has shown that the count is very slow. In many precincts the board was compelled to work from twenty to twenty-six hours without stopping. This is too much of a strain on health and on accurate work.

Mistakes are made by men fagged out with twenty hours continuous labor. Besides, if cheating is done at all, really has its opportunity late in the night, when the voters are gone, and the board is left alone, without witnesses to its proceedings.

After March 4th, President Harrison will return to Indianapolis and make his home there for the future. It is probable that Russell Harrison will reside in Indianapolis also. Mrs. McKee and children will go to Boston, where Mr. McKee has established himself in business. Dr. Scott, Mrs. Harrison's father, will live with the President. Mrs. Dimmick will remain in Washington with Lieut. and Mrs. Parker.

Railroad Notes.

This is the season of the year for starting new enterprises—on paper, or otherwise. And this applies to projecting railroads as well as to other schemes. The latest in this line comes from a Muskegon correspondent of the G. R. Democrat:

"The Vandalia system, one of the richest and best-handled railways in the country, is considering a step which is of great importance, and the consummation of which will be productive of great results to Western Michigan. Two years ago the Vandalia surveyed a route along the shore of Lake Michigan from Benton Harbor to Muskegon and the indications as given out from high railroad authority are that the survey is about to be put to practical use. The Vandalia has completed arrangements for crossing the St. Joseph river at Benton Harbor, and this means the building of the long denied extension into the most valuable territory in Michigan.

"Such a step as this is but carrying out the traditional policy of the Vandalia, which has been to build its lines outside new territory, step by step, making each place to pay before an addition was made. They built into St. Joseph and Benton Harbor some two years ago, and put on a line of boats between that port and Chicago. This same railway authority assures us that the extension and the boats have been a paying investment from the beginning. This having been established to the satisfaction of the managers the extension further north is but a matter of a short time.

"The route which has been surveyed as above stated runs inside the Chicago & West Michigan line, and takes all the shore towns up, Saugatuck, Holland, Grand Haven, etc., to Muskegon, direct to "Port Sherman," where Muskegon Lake discharges into Lake Michigan. At this point the Muskegon Land and Dock Company, composed of Muskegon capitalists, owns all the available ground, purchased long ago for just such contingencies as the Vandalia now offers.

"The Vandalia owns its own line to Logansport, Ind., which is the key of its system, tracks radiating thence to St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati and the East via the Pennsylvania system. There have been many railroad visions in Western Michigan, but this is one of flesh and blood, its value vouched for by the completion of arrangements to cross the St. Joseph river."

"This is the best piece of railway news given out this year. Just wait development."

So we have decided to give a live turkey to every cash purchaser of a ready made suit or overcoat of the value of Ten Dollars or over.

Remember our goods are sold at the usual Low Prices.

ONE WEEK ONLY.

Come early and get first choice.

Wm. Brusse & Co.
Corner Clothing Store.

The Early Bird CATCHES THE WORM.

Who'll be the first? Until Friday night, Nov. 25th, (one week) the first comer at my gallery each morning will get

One Doz. best Cabinet Photos,
Finest Finish, Any Style for $1.50.

Just half price. Each customer after the 1st, to the 10th, will get 13 best cabinets for $2.00, and each one after the 10th will get 14 best cabinets and a good frame for $3.00.

I will also sell all 8 x 10 picture frames in stock at prices running from 25 to 50 cents, to save expense of moving.

WHY?

Because I have had to take back my Muskegon gallery and cannot attend to both places. I shall close my gallery here Dec. 3rd, but the above offer will hold good only one week. All work guaranteed and re-sittings free if desired. Cash must accompany all orders. Call early in the day and get the benefit of the reduction. Special rates will be given to parties of three or more. Photos taken rain or shine.

F. E. PAYNE,

River Street, Holland, Mich.

ROYAL RED CROSS Red Cross Coal Stove.

It is always been the leader in first class stoves. Among the features contributing to its grand success are a Large Fire Pot, Large Flues, with Circulating Flues of sufficient size to secure a rapid circulation and a change of temperature in the adjoining rooms.

We feel confident in recommending it as the best stove of its class ever offered.

The Red Cross is absolutely A., No. 1, and First-Class.

The highest possible class but one—the price; the price is second-class.

Come in and see our complete line. No trouble to show them.

E. VAN DER VEEN,

full of corn.
An' when the frost
pumpkin mooks
The golden glories of
the morn,
An' every night the farmer locks
His turkey tighter in
the barn,
An' when they all go up to roost
As high as ever they can climb,
Then we are apt to think it must
Be purty nigh Thanksgiving time.

But when the corn has done be shucked
An' pumpkin made up into pies,
The farmer's turkey likewise plucked,
An' both are dressed, but not likewise,
An' when the gobblers done been cooked,
Where many pleasant odors rise,
An' nothin' has been overlooked
That 'xhilarates an' satisfies—
Why, then, I guess no one misdoubts
Thanksgivin's here or hereabouts.

An' when they bring the turkey in,
All steamin' hot an' brown an' rich
With ev'ry kind of seasonin'—
Burnt brandy, pepper, sage and sich—
An' things at only women would Know how to fix to make 'em good,
It's plumb astonishin' to see
How good we all feel inwardly,
As if we made just thataway
A-purpose for Thanksgiving day.

Fence I wuz born bald-headed
I have scarcely seen such pumpkin pie.
Nor mince nor apple nor sweet cake,
Nor nuttin' nor any folks kin make;
An' when I've thought of what I've et
I'm glad I've let but little splee.
For I have thought, an' I think yet,
When I've been dead a good long while
My jaws 'll rattle with regret.
—An' when Thanksgiving comes I'll smile
—Puck.

A SAD THANKSGIVING.

It was a brief message that the smart-looking telegraph boy delivered at the cozy house on Cleveland avenue, but it was freighted with a world of happiness for little Mrs. Harris, to whom it was addressed:

LIVERPOOL, NOV. 14.—Home Thanksgiving. WILL.

Mrs. Harris read and reread the precious line.

"Dear Will, how thoughtful of him to cable! And it is nearly two weeks earlier than he expected to get through.
See, Dorothy, papa is coming back to us again."

Dorothy dropped her dolly and patertered across the floor to her mother's side.

"Papoo, dee?" she lisped.

"Yes, honey, papa dear is coming home. Won't he be surprised to see how big you have grown, and what a good girl you are, and how many new words you can say? He will be prouder than ever of his little girl."

"Uh-huh," asserted Dorothy with the supreme confidence of her two years, as her mother tenderly swept her hand over the little one's glorious tangle of golden curls. "Papoo tum tee mamma, Deak, Daway."

"Yes, darling, papa will come and see mamma and Jack and Dorothy. Brother will be home from school presently and he will be glad, too, when he knows papa is coming so soon."

Mrs. Harris counted the days after the receipt of the cable. She knew that it would take about ten days for the ocean trip at that season of the year, and she feared a little for the safety of their loved one on the treacherous bosom of the great ocean. Sturdy little Jack was his mother's comforter through the days that dragged slowly on, and each night mamma and Jack and Dorothy knelt at the side of Jack's bed and united in a fervent plea to the Good Father to watch over their dear one and bring him safely home.

A week passed without special incident. There was something done in the way of preparation of the Thanksgiving dinner, which had been a feature with them ever since they were married. Mrs. Harris came of good old New England stock, and the Indian puddings, and mince pies, and "crullers"
that invariably formed a part of this meal were always prepared by her own hands. Her husband insisted that no one else could make them taste so good.

The Thursday before Thanksgiving
when little Jack came home from school
his cheeks were flushed and he complained of his throat. Mrs. Harris, who never liked to take any chances, called
the family physician, who said that it was nothing serious, though it should be carefully watched. The next morning Jack was worse—much worse—and that night was very bad indeed. When the doctor came he brought another with him, and their verdict struck a chill to the heart of the little mother.

"My dear madam," said the old doctor, kindly, "your boy has diphtheria of the most malignant character. We will do all in our power for him, but we gravely fear for the result. In the meantime the little girl must be kept in another part of the house."

Dorothy was banished to the upper floor, and Mrs. Harris sent for her sister to help her. Together they watched over the pillow upon which Jack's curly head tossed, and together they prayed.
Ah, the terror of those nights; the hopes and fears that alternated in the bosom of that fond mother; the prayers that went up from the depths of that gentle woman's soul for the preservation of the life of her boy. "Oh, G-d, spare him to us," she pleaded; "let him live to glorify Thy name and bless Thee in the days when he shall have arrived at man's estate. Take him not from us, we pray Thee; heal his sickness and restore him whole to the arms of those who wait for him. Yet, if he must die, oh, our Father, we pray that he may be permitted to live to see his earthly afternoon."

So she supplicated for the life of her first-born; and when she rose from her knees great beads of sweat were on her forehead. Her eyes were dry and hot,
she stepped lightly to the side of Jack's bed. He had not stirred. His lips, parched by the fever's horrid heat, were swollen and cracked. His face had lost the brilliant flush it had once had, and was taking on the darker shade that tells the trained physician that hope is gone.

"O, why cannot Will be here to bear
this with me? Must our little one go before he comes? Heavenly Father hasten him on his way." Who can measure that poor mother's agony.
None save those who have watched
while the light has faded from loving,
sunny eyes, and tiny hands dropped nervously upon a breathless bosom.

Monday's papers noted the arrival at New York of Will's steamer, and if there was no delay on the way he might get home in time. That night Dorothy exhibited some unfavorable symptoms,
and by Tuesday morning was in the clutches of the same dread monster that was taking the life of little Jack. No skill could prevent a catastrophe. There was nothing to do but await the end.

This was the home to which the loving husband and indulgent father came after his long absence that Wednesday evening. Jack had died early in the afternoon, and little Dorothy was going fast when her father let himself in with his latchkey. No hint of the situation had reached him. Hardly a mile of the thousands he had traveled on his homeward journey that was not marked by a thought of the beloved wife and little ones. How Jack must have grown! And he was going to school now. He was 7, little man, and would have so much to say about his teacher, and his slate, and his reader. And Dorothy! She always was her father's girl, anyway, and she would have many new words to say to him, and her mother, God bless her,
would gladly welcome him, and would tell him all the odd things the little ones
had said and done while he was gone.
They were well, of course. Had he not humbly asked that the Master might care for and keep them in his absence?
Had not this prayer been sincerely offered every night of the months he had been from home?

The house seemed strangely quiet as he hung up his overcoat.
"Hello there! Jack! Dorothy! Mamma! Where are you?"
The color left his face when his wan little wife threw herself sobbing into his arms. He learned it all in a few minutes. His Jack was gone. Dorothy was alive, but could not long survive.
He nerved himself and tiptoed to the trundlebed where she lay.
"Dorothy, darling," he said, gently.
Slowly the big blue eyes opened and

"O, WHY CANNOT WILL BE HERE?"

closed. A faint smile touched the poor parched lips. "Papoo, dee," she murmured faintly.
That was all. It was soon over. The solemn undertaker came with two little caskets and, accompanied by the father and mother, drove to the cemetery,
where Jack and Dorothy sleep side by side.

The air was crisp and quickened the warm blood in the cheeks of those who faced it. Some of the church bells were ringing the call to Thanksgiving service
as they returned.
They sat down at dinner with heavy hearts. On one side of the room stood Dorothy's high chair; on the other was Jack's "safety," of which the little man was so proud. They bowed their heads reverently, as was their custom.

"Almighty God," he began in a broken voice, "we thank—we— Then he stopped and, dropping his face upon his hands, wept like a little child.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Its Origin and Adoption Throughout the Country.

The first Thanksgiving Day held in America is believed to have occurred in February, 1631, at which date a vessel laden with supplies arrived to succor
the starving colony at Charleston. During the following years frequent days of thanks were appointed in the New England colonies. At first these appointments were at different seasons of the year—sometimes twice in one year
—and for special reasons. Thanksgiving Day was a national institution during the Revolution, and was annually recommended by Congress, but after a general thanksgiving for peace in 1784,
there was no national appointment
until 1789, when President Washington recommended a thanksgiving for the adoption of the Constitution. In 1795 Washington appointed another national thanksgiving on account of the suppression of the insurrection of that year.
In 1815 a day of thanksgiving for the restoration of peace was recommended by President Madison, but during the early part of the century
Thanksgiving remained an institution peculiar to New England, but was not always held either on the same day or in the same month. The Protestant Episcopal prayer book adopted in 1789
recommended for a day of thanksgiving
the first Thursday in November, and this day was observed by the church
generally in States where there was no official thanksgiving appointed.

The first official appointment of a Thanksgiving day in the State of New York was made in 1817, but the Governors of Western and Southern States
did not generally follow the custom until after 1830. Proclamations recommending special thanksgiving for victories were issued by President Lincoln in 1862 and 1863, and in 1863 and 1864 he appointed the annual Thanksgiving day by a national proclamation. Since that time annual thanksgiving proclamations
have been issued by the Presidents,
the Governors of the several States, and the Mayors of the principal cities. The last Thursday of November is celebrated as Thanksgiving day throughout the country.

RESULTS IN DETAIL.

INTERESTING FIGURES FROM THE POLITICAL BATTLE.

A Summary of the Vote in All of the States Made Up as Complete as Possible
from the Latest Associated Press Dispatches.

Wisconsin.

Cleveland has undoubtedly carried Wisconsin by a plurality probably exceeding 10,000, and Peck, Dem., is elected over Spooner, though by a decreased figure. Republicans gain three,
and the Democrats lose two, Congressmen in the State, the Republicans electing four and the Democrats six of the ten. In the last Congress the Wisconsin delegation stood eight Democrats and one Republican. Under the apportionment law of 1890 Wisconsin increased its Congressional representation from nine to ten. The Congressmen-elect by districts are as follows:
First, H. A. Cooper, Rep., by 3,000;
Second, Charles Barwig, Dem.; Third,
John W. Babcock, Rep.; Fourth, John
L. Mitchell, Dem.; Fifth, George H.
Brickner, Dem.; Sixth, Owen A. Wells,
Dem.; Seventh, Geo. B. Shaw, Rep., by
2,755; Eighth, Lyman E. Barnes, Dem., by 1,800; Ninth, Thomas Lynch, Dem.;
Tenth, Nils B. Haugen, Rep., by 4,500.
The Legislature is Democratic in both the Senate and Assembly. With their fifteen hold-over Senators the Democrats will have twenty-five of the thirty-three members of the State Senate, and they will have a majority of thirty-one on joint ballot.

Illinois.

Illinois gives Cleveland a plurality of over 25,000, and elects a Democratic Governor, Altgeld, by several thousand.
There is little doubt that the next Congressional delegation from Illinois will be composed of the following: First District, J. Frank Aldrich, Republican;
Second District, L. E. McGann, Democrat; Third District, A. C. Durborow, Jr., Democrat; Fourth District, Julius
Goldzier, Democrat; Fifth District, A.
J. Hopkins, Republican; Sixth District,
R. R. Hitt, Republican; Seventh District, T. J. Henderson, Republican; Eighth District, Lewis Steward, Democrat; Ninth District, H. K. Wheeler, Republican; Tenth District, P. S. Post,
Republican; Eleventh District, R. F.
Marsh, Republican; Twelfth District,
J. J. McDonald, Democrat; Thirteenth
District, W. M. Springer, Democrat; Fourteenth District, Owen Scott, Democrat; Fifteenth District, J. G. Cannon, Republican; Sixteenth District, G. W.
Fighian, Democrat; Seventeenth District, Edward Lane, Democrat; Eighteenth District, W. S. Forman, Democrat; Nineteenth District, J. R. Williams, Democrat; Twentieth District, G.
W. Smith, Republican.

Indiana.

Indiana gives a safe plurality for the Democratic electors, and from the latest returns it is figured that eleven Democratic Congressmen are chosen, with the First still doubtful. The delegation will probably be made up as follows:
First District, A. H. Taylor, Dem.; Second, John L. Bretz, Dem.; Third, Jason
B. Brown, Dem.; Fourth, William S.
Holman, Dem.; Fifth, George W. Cooper,
Dem.; Sixth, Henry U. Johnson, Rep.;
Seventh, William D. Bynum, Dem.;
Eighth, E. V. Brookshire, Dem.; Ninth,
Daniel Waugh, Rep.; Tenth, Thomas
Hammond, Dem.; Eleventh, A. N. Martin, Dem.; Twelfth, William F. McNagney, Dem.; Thirteenth, C. G. Coon, Dem. The Legislature will be Democratic by about 31 majority on joint ballot, insuring the re-election of Turpie to the United States Senate.

Michigan.

The following are the Congressmen-elect in Michigan and their approximate
majorities: First District, J. Logan Chipman (Dem.), 2,500; Second, S. Gorman (Dem.), 750; Third, Julius C. Burrows (Rep.), 5,000; Fourth, Dr. H. F.
Thomas (Rep.), 250; Fifth, George F.
Richardson (Dem.), 600; Sixth, D. D.
Atkin (Rep.), 500; Seventh, Justin R.
Whiting (Dem.), 400; Eighth, W. S.
Linton (Rep.), 1,200; Ninth, John W.
Moon (Rep.), 200; Tenth, Thomas A. E.
Weadock (Dem.), 700; Eleventh, Dr.
John Avery (Rep.), 800; Twelfth, S. M.
Stephenson (Rep.), 2,000. The Democrats have elected Presidential Electors
in the eastern district and in the First,
Second, Seventh, and Tenth Congressional Districts. They hope yet for the Eighth District.

Iowa.

Harrison's plurality in Iowa will reach about 22,000. The entire Republican State ticket is elected by about the same plurality. The Congressional delegation will stand ten Republicans and one Democrat, as follows: First District, John H. Gear, majority, 500;
Second, Walter I. Hayes (Dem.), majority 1,500; Fourth, Updegraff, majority 1,300; Fifth, R. B. Cousins, majority 400; Sixth, J. F. Laca, majority 1,200; Seventh, J. A. T. Hull, majority 4,500; Eighth, W. P. Hepburn, majority 1,100; Tenth, J. P. Dolliver,
3,500; Eleventh, G. D. Perkins, majority
1,500.

Minnesota.

Harrison has undoubtedly carried Minnesota. Nelson, Rep., is elected Governor by a plurality of 12,000 to 15-000. The following seem to have been elected to Congress: First District—
Lawney, Rep.; Second—McCleary, Rep.;
Third—Hall, Dem.; Fourth—Kiefer,
Rep.; Fifth—Fletcher, Rep.; Sixth—
Searte, Rep.; Seventh—Feig, Rep.

Sufficient returns have been received to show that the Republicans will have a majority of twenty-eight in the Legislature on joint ballot, thus insuring the re-election of C. K. Davis to the United States Senate.

The Dakotas.

Harrison has carried North Dakota by 2,500. Johnson, Rep., is elected to Congress by 3,000. The Republican State ticket receives average pluralities of 2,500, while the Legislature is in doubt.
Scattering returns at hand indicate that Harrison Electors have carried South Dakota. The Republican State
ticket is certain. Pickler and Lucas, Reps., are elected to Congress. The Legislature is probably Republican.
Chairman Peemiller, of the Democratic State Committee, still claims the State for the Weaver Electors.

Nebraska.

It is too early to give the exact vote
of Nebraska. The entire Republican State ticket is undoubtedly elected by pluralities ranging from 1,000 to 2,100.
The Legislature will stand: 64 Populists, 53 Democrats, and 46 Republicans.

Ohio.

Ohio has apparently gone Republican.
With only two counties to hear from,
unofficial returns give the Harrison electors 917 plurality, and Col. A. W.
Taylor, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, a plurality of 1,035. The latter gained 197 votes through an error discovered in the returns from Summit County. Only the official count will determine the result.

Returns from Many States.

Pennsylvania—The Republicans made a clean sweep, by 85,000 majority.

Wyoming—The Weaver electors and the Democratic State ticket have been elected.

Vermont—Returns received from fifty
Vermont towns give Harrison 12,765;
Cleveland, 5,696.

New Mexico—Joseph (Dem.) is returned to Congress. Republicans control the Legislature.

Mississippi—Cleveland carries the State by 20,000. The Democrats elect all their Congressmen.

Oregon—The Democratic State Committee concedes the electoral vote to Harrison, except one.

Maine—Harrison's plurality in Maine will be less than 15,000, a Republican loss of 8,000 since 1898.

Montana—Has chosen Harrison Electors and the Republicans elect a majority of their State ticket.

Rhode Island—Harrison's majority in Rhode Island is less than 3,000. Capron (Rep.) is elected to Congress.

New Jersey—Cleveland's majority will fall little short of 12,000. Werts,
Dem., for Governor, is chosen.

Maryland—Cleveland's majority will be over 20,000. All six Democratic Congressmen have been elected.

Virginia—Virginia is Democratic by nearly 30,000. A solid Democratic delegation has been returned to Congress.

Idaho—This state has elected Weaver electors, but the Republicans have elected Sweet and McConnell to Congress.

Georgia—Full returns show the election of the entire Democratic ticket.
The majority for Cleveland may reach 70,000.

Louisiana—The entire Democratic delegation to Congress is chosen and the State goes for Cleveland by more than 50,000.

North Carolina—The Democratic majority will probably be reduced by the People's party vote, but not enough to elect the governor.

Florida—Democrats claim 22,000 majority for the Cleveland electors. There was no Republican ticket, and the third party vote was light.

Alabama—Returns indicate a majority of at least 25,000 for Cleveland. All the Democratic candidates for Congress have safe majorities.

Delaware—The Republicans concede
1,000 Democratic majority. A Democratic Legislature is chosen, insuring
the re-election of Senator Gray.

Missouri—The entire Democratic ticket has been elected by a plurality of 17,000, and the Demo-rats have carried thirteen out of the fifteen districts.

Tennessee—Cleveland has 65,000 plurality and Peter Turney is elected Governor by 50,000. Buchanan, the third party candidate, polled only 20,000 votes.

South Carolina—Cleveland's majority will not fall much below 40,000. Democrats have elected Congressmen in every district except the Seventh, which is in doubt.

Washington—Harrison has at least 5,000 plurality. McGraw, Rep., for Governor, leads, while the vote on the two Congressmen is close, favoring the Republicans. No estimates on the Legislature.

Connecticut—Cleveland's plurality, 5,417. Four years ago it was 336. The entire Democratic ticket is probably elected. The State Senate is a tie, and the Republicans have about 20 majority in the House.

West Virginia—The Democrats confidently claim the election of all four Congressmen. Cleveland will undoubtedly be given the Electoral vote, and the election of the entire Democratic State ticket is generally conceded.

Colorado—Weaver has carried the State. Both the fusion candidates for Congress have been elected by safe majorities. The Legislature is in the hands of the Populists and Democrats, which insures the election of a Democratic Senator.

Kansas—The Democratic State Committee says the Weaver electors will have a majority in the State of 22,000;
that Lowell, for Governor, will have 17,000 majority, and that the Democrats and Populists will get seven out of the ten Congressmen.

Texas—Cleveland has carried the State, but the race between Hogg, Dem., and Clark for Governor is very close,
with indications favoring the former.
The Populists have probably captured
two and the Republicans one Congressman out of thirteen.

Massachusetts—The Republican ticket
was completely successful by pluralities
from 2,000 down, except Russell, Dem., who has 2,000. The Legislature is heavily Republican in both branches.
Of the thirteen Congressmen the Republicans carried ten.

California—The Democratic State Committee announces that the State has gone for Cleveland about 7,000 majority. Chairman Myers, of the Republican Committee, concurs. The Congressional delegation is probably five Republicans and four Democrats.

Kentucky—The Democrats have elected Congressmen in the First, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth,
Ninth, and Tenth Districts, and the Republicans in the Eleventh. The Second is doubtful. Cleveland receives about the same plurality as four years ago.

Nevada—It is conceded by all that Weaver has carried Nevada by 1,500.
Newlands, silver party, is elected to Congress. As to the Legislature, it is generally believed the silver party has a majority, which will insure the re-election of Stewart to the United States Senate.

New York—Cleveland's plurality in New York State is about 44,000. In New York City it is 75,800, and in Kings County about 25,000. The New York
State Legislature will be Democratic by 14 or 16 on joint ballot, thus insuring
the election of a Democrat to succeed
United States Senator Frank Hiscock.
The Assembly will probably be made up of 70 Democrats and 58 Republicans.

Nine—Strange about Whoomp's disappearance, isn't it? Could he have been made away with? Jibs—Impossible! He had no enemies, and always wore a Waterbury watch.—
New York Herold.

Pet Names.
The popular abbreviations of pet names in earlier times were in, on, et, kin, cook and others. Emma was shortened to Em, and for love's sake it became Emmott or Emmott. Matilda was first Tili, then Tillot. Bartholomew was Bart, then Little Bart, or Bartlett. The popularity of these pet names is seen in the great number of them which eventually became family names, says the Boston Home Journal.

The Tillotsons, the Emmotts and the Bartletts are numerous in England and America, although few dream that their names were originally pet and not surnames. Before the use of family names it was often necessary to use the diminutive forms from the fact that the same name was not infrequently given to two or three children of the same family. The original surname Robinson is the pet name of Robin or little Robert. As Germans of to-day add then to children's names as a term of endearment, making Anna Annetten, Elizabeth Lischen, so our English ancestry used the equivalent kin. Watkin was Little Walter, Simkin Little Simeon, Perkin Little Peter. Terminations in kin and cook were in use among the lower orders—that is, among the Anglo-Saxons—while the diminutives in, on and et were more aristocratic, and used by families of Norman blood.

An Iceberg Suddenly Thrust Down Your Back.
Would produce a sensation akin to that experienced by the unhappy individual who feels the chill which seizes in an attack of fever and ague and bilious remittent. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in such an emergency, is what is wanted at once to scotch the enemy which seems to penetrate the very marrow of the bones, alternately freezing, roasting and deluging the sufferer with perspiration. This grand anti-febrile specific is the surest medicinal safeguard that an emigrant to the far West can take with him. Malarial complaints are rife in all regions newly cleared of timber, in mining camps and in low lying river bottoms, where the streams periodically overflow their banks. Immunity from malaria is, however, obtained from the protective agent named, which is also a remedy for indigestion, rheumatic and kidney ailments, liver complaint, constipation, and debility.

Money Enough.
The rich woman who was shocked to hear her daughter say, "A penny for your thoughts," when she ought to have offered a dollar, has a relative in California, of whom the San Francisco Examiner relates a "true anecdote."
She is not unknown in fashionable society, her wealth drawing about her a set of admiring followers. Lately she had some affection of the throat, and called a physician. After an examination, he said:

"Madam, I shall have to touch two or three of the affected spots with nitrate of silver."

"Oh, Doctor, please don't do that!" answered the patient. "Use nitrate of gold; the expense is quite immaterial."

Moonshine Whisky.
The whisky made by moonshiners seldom becomes a week old, and very often it is drunk warm from the still, having the effect of broken glass on the palate. It is frequently adulterated, tobacco being added to make it bite and rattle, and to make it bead. In the moonshine districts almost everybody drinks—men and women, old and young—and the mountain boy on pleasure bent carries a quart bottle of the stuff, a package of snuff, and a six-shooter.

SAW DEATH COMING.

AWFUL COLLISION OF FREIGHT TRAINS IN IOWA.

Criminal Carelessness on the Part of a Crew Said to Be the Cause—Four Persons Crushed and Cremated, Three Injured.

A Tale of Horror.

A fearful accident occurred on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Road Wednesday night at Highland Center, a small station north of Ottumwa, Iowa. A fast freight train dashed into the caboose of the local freight, which was standing on the track, telescoping the caboose and four cars. The caboose caught fire and with several cars was burned. The scene was heart-rending. Four people perished in the flames, and a number of others had narrow escapes. The caboose was split in two by a car of grain, wedging in four people on the right side. The most pitiful sight was that of Miss Lizzie Butler, of Ottumwa, who got her head out of the window, and piteously pleaded with those about the wreck to save her, but her body was pinned by the freight car and it was impossible to extricate her. Mrs. Samuel Jones, also of Ottumwa, tried to escape through a window, but was an unusually large woman and could not get through. The other victims were an unknown woman and man. The latter is thought to be a butcher of

MISS BUTLER'S FATE.

Oskaloosa. The injured are Mrs. Clyde Millsack and Mrs. C. D. Pickett of Ottumwa, and Miss Lizzie Corey of Sigourney, who are badly burned, but not fatally. A curious incident of the accident was that one of the passengers was disguised, and, in the crash, his disguise came off, revealing a noted crook. He quickly disappeared in the excitement. The cause of the accident seems to have been due entirely to criminal carelessness on the part of the crew of the fast train. The local train was standing at the standing unloading freight. For four miles away the track is perfectly level and straight, so that the danger lights of the standing train could easily be seen by the engineer and fireman of the fast train, and everybody saw it approaching but never dreamed of a collision. In fact, the company's rules are so strict that when trains enter station yards if they are not under such absolute control as to be brought to a stop before striking another train, even through accident to switches or anything else, heavy penalty attaches to the employee guilty of violating them. The conduct of Engineer Richardson and Conductor Wood, who had charge of the fast train, in this instance, cannot be accounted for by the officials of the road. No report has been made as to whether they were placed under arrest, but an investigation is being made. In the fire one car load of barley and two car loads of merchandise were burned.

Liberalist Gathering Dispersed.
At Brussels there was a big Liberalist demonstration Wednesday night, 3,500 being present. M. Janson and other Liberal deputies made speeches, violently attacking the government. At the conclusion of the meeting the Liberalists, 2,000 strong, marched to the king's palace, preceded by a man carrying a red flag. The procession was charged by a detachment of gendarmes, and the artillery and civil guards were summoned to protect the palace and ministerial department buildings. The parade was separated into two portions and were finally dispersed about midnight.

Col. Dodds Captures Cana.
An official dispatch says that the French forces have captured Cana, a short distance from Abomey, the capital of Dahomey, after a vigorous resistance. The French loss was eleven killed and forty-two wounded. The capture of Cana is practically the end of the campaign against King Behanzin. Shortly after the receipt of the news that Cana had fallen into the hands of the French was received the promotion of Col. Dodds, the commander of the French forces, to be a general, was gazetted.

Will Ship Twenty-four Chinamen Home.
There are twenty-four Chinamen at the Detroit jail under sentence of deportation. Six were arrested in Port Huron, two in Bay City, two in Flint, and fourteen in Detroit for trying to evade the Chinese exclusion act. They will soon be taken to San Francisco and placed on board steamers bound for China.

The Gallows Cheated.
A message from Allentown, Pa., says that William F. Keck, the murderer who was to have been hanged Thursday at noon, was found dead in his cell that morning. Whether his death is due to heart failure or to the approach of his dreadful punishment or poison is not known.

Notes of Current Events.
EAST BOSTON was visited by a fire that destroyed seven manufacturing plants. The area covered by the plants was four acres.
MARTIN FOX, JR., who escaped July 10 from the Saratoga County, N. Y., jail, and for whom a reward of $500 was offered, was arrested at Oakland, Cal.
A HANDSOME tablet in memory of the late Clinton B. Fisk, the Prohibition candidate for President in 1888, was presented by his widow and family to the Methodist Episcopal Church at Coldwater, Mich.

A Queer Business Man.

One of the characters of Portland, Me., is a German Jew, whom any business man in Maine would trust with $5,000 if he wished it. He buys about $10,000 worth of dry goods and millinery annually in job lots and sells it all over the State through the medium of some twenty-five or thirty basket peddlers. He makes evidently a good profit, for he is worth over $20,000, though he cannot read or write and cannot be taught to do either. Several times the attempt has been made to teach him to form the initials of his name for the purpose of signature, but he cannot form the letters so that they can be recognized as such. He can add and subtract, and has a young man to keep his accounts, which he is able to prove correct or the reverse, because he has learned that certain combinations of marks mean certain kinds of lace, etc. He could not name the letters or any of the words. They are simply symbols to him.

In Memory.

These lines are affectionately dedicated to the memory of my little friend and pupil, HENRIETTA BOSSER.

How sweet the life of this dear child,
Who early loved the gospel's call!
Her gentle words and manners mild
Could not but win the hearts of all.

She sought to do whatever was right
According to the Master's will;
And though disease did sorely smite,
Obedient and loved her Saviour still.

The form of her we loved so well,
The hand of Death has laid to rest;
But she, herself, has gone to dwell
Within the mansions of the blest.

We grieve that she of tender years
Must pass the gates of death, and find
What lies beyond this vale of tears,
This home of mortals weak and blind.

But God is true! And this we know—
He ever doeth what is best;
He hath a balm for every woe
That heaves a weary mortal's breast.

Oh! let us put our trust in Him!
And in His service let us live!
Assured, though tears our eyes bedim,
That He will peace and comfort give.

J. J. TRENT.

The Bigness of the World's Fair.

The magnitude of the World's Fair is a matter hardly to be realized. It will exceed anything ever conceived. Take for instance that one building, for Manufactures and Arts. It is 1,687 feet in length, 787 feet in width, and the huge arch sprung over the central hall is 245.6 feet high. But figures are slippery stepping stones to any appreciation of the real size of this stucco affair.

This building is the largest in the world, and is the largest under one roof ever erected. Its unequalled size makes it one of the architectural wonders of the world. It is three times larger than the Cathedral of St. Peter, in Rome, and any church in Chicago could be placed in the vestibule of St. Peter's. It is four times larger than the old Roman Coliseum, which seated 80,000 persons.

If the great pyramid Cheops could be removed to Chicago, it could be piled up in this building, with the galleries left from which to view the stone. The central hall, which is a single room without a supporting pillar under its roof, has in its floor a fraction less than eleven acres, and 75,000 persons can sit in this room, giving each one six square feet of space. By the same arrangement, the entire building will seat 300,000 people. It is theoretically possible to mobilize the standing army of Russia under its roof.

Big! You may chase that word through all its synonyms and after all you will come back to it. The lagoons that have been coaxed out of the swamp; the stretches of tender sod and parkland and boskage; the windy blue lake; the far black cloud through which the lights of Chicago shine redly; the city of giant buildings where Gargantua might ride at will; building upon building, until the neck is weary craning and the eyes are tired with the white glitter of them—they are all big. It is oppressive.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Lake Shore.

In my last correspondence I said that Henry and Johnny Aussicker were threshing corn and you made me say husking corn. They have threshed nearly half of the corn on the Lake Shore and are still at it.

N. W. Ogden took in over 75 bu. of beans this week, and 200 bu. of corn. Mrs. Holcomb is in Grand Rapids and is quite sick again.

Wilbur Cochran is working in Grand Rapids. Charlie Ogden is up north in Antrim county, working for the Antrim Iron company.

Scott & Schuurman of Holland have bought the lumber here on the beach, of the Insurance Co., and John Cochran has taken the job to draw it to Holland.

The boys around here and those from the city are having great sport nowadays, hunting rabbits. There seems to be plenty of rabbits yet for all.

Fillmore.

Alt. Brink is seriously ill from blood-poisoning, contracted from a hemlock sliver which stuck in the palm of his hand.

Marriages and rumor of marriages are the order of the day. The family of supervisor Klomparsen will be remembered next.

Another company of emigrants arrived here this week. They came from the German borderland. This makes about 45 arrivals since April, 1892.

J. W. Goosen, our station agent, is still betting on Harrison. Don't mention Cleveland to him, unless you want to pay extra fare.

All those who saw the performance of Dr. Boss and his pony last Saturday must come to the conclusion that there is no place like Fillmore for training vicious and fractious horses. They can't help but fall in line.

John Wellington and a crew of men are building a wire fence from May hill to Fillmore.

Overisel may have strong attractions for young Fillmoreites, but some ought to remember that they are still too young and tender to keep late hours.

We actually noticed two horsemen from Overisel at the "democratic out" in Holland, Wednesday evening, but not a soul from Fillmore.

G. T. Brouwer of Colloendoorn is very sick with pleurisy.

Windmills.

A windmill is almost indispensable now-days.

Among the best ones manufactured in this country is the ARIEL ROLLER WINDMILL, of J. M. De Feyter, Cor. Pine and Fourteenth streets, Holland, Mich.

This Mill draws the general attention at the late Fair held at Holland. It is especially adapted for deep wells, is made after an entire new model, has a very attractive appearance, and is the result of thirteen years' experience and experiments with different kinds of mills.

A good supply of pure water is an absolute necessity on every farm, and this can be obtained by purchasing an ORIEL ROLLER MILL of J. M. De Feyter, who is also ready at all times to dig wells and furnish drive wells.

He also has the agency for the STAR STEEL WINDMILL.

It Should Be in Every House.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpshurg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, Coughs and Colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with Pneumonia after an attack of "La Grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksfort, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done more good than anything he ever used for Lung Trouble. Nothing like it. Try it.
