NEWSPAPER LAWS.

If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid. If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their newspapers from the office to which they are sent, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the newspapers are sent to the former place of residence, they are then responsible.

CONCERNING DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS: The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can have arrested any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and to send a postal notifying the publisher, lays himself liable to arrest and fine.

The latest object lesson in the manifold evils entailed by "yellow back" literature is reported from Springfield, Ill., where on Saturday evening last Charlie Willis, thirteen years of age, was shot and killed while being initiated into a secret society composed of youngsters whose ages run from twelve to fifteen years. The boys, whose minds had evidently become inflamed by blood and thunder literature, had a cave on the outskirts of the city fitted up in the most approved bandit style, and during the ceremony one of them, Lewis Barker, pointed a pistol at the Willis boy with the intention of scaring him. The Barker boy became rattled and pulled the trigger and Willis fell with a bullet in his heart. The entire gang was arrested, and some of them were frightened into telling the truth. Young Barker after the first shock of having killed his companion wore off, seemed to regard himself as quite a hero.

The deceased left 6 children, 40 grand children, and 10 great-grand children, all of whom, with the exception of two or three, were present at the funeral.

It will be seen by the council proceedings that the city has been successful in negotiating its bonds for the erection of an electric light plant, at par, subject to a commission of two and one-half per cent, half of which, however, we learn will be borne by the company that has the contract for the construction of the plant. The special committee composed of members of the common council and the board of public works, that has so successfully carried on the preliminaries thus far, will be charged with superintending the construction.

Albert O. Bakker died at his home on Land street, Saturday evening, aged 83 years. He was a native of the province of Vriesland, Netherlands, and came to this country in 1854. After residing a few years in Drenthe and Grand Rapids he returned to Holland in 1856, but remained there only two years, when he again crossed the ocean, lived in Brooklyn and Paterson, a while also in Grand Rapids, and finally came to this place in the fall of 1865, where he has since resided. His occupation was that of shoemaker. He was twice married. His first wife died 23 years ago and his second wife preceded him only a few years. The deceased leaves two sons, William, of this city, and Rev. Fred P., of Rushville, Neb. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon from the residence, Rev. J. Van Houte officiating.

There are some localities in this city where the sidewalks are not in a suitable condition for to enter upon the winter, and unless improved at once will prove a source of constant annoyance to owner and pedestrian alike, from now until spring.

From the G. H. Express:—The Holland city people can now keep in time with the rest of the world. They have recently placed a clock in the tower of the Holland City State Bank that can be seen at a distance of ten miles and the strokes of which wake up the citizens of Zeeland.

Ten grocery firms at Benton Harbor have lately engaged in a war on prices for provisions. They are selling flour at $2.50, twenty-five cents less a barrel than it can be replaced for in carload lots. Granulated sugar is sold twenty-two pounds for $1. The grocers declare they are in it to the bitter end, and citizens are buying freely for an all winter supply.

Some of the county papers have a column devoted to a "Teachers Department," edited by Miss Cora M. Goodenow, county commissioner of schools. An item in one of the recent issues, which will be news to many, reads as follows: "There are ninety-three representative districts throughout the state and seven in Detroit, making in all one hundred districts in the state."

It would be difficult to find in all Berrien County a more inconvenient point for the county seat than Berrien Springs. It is centrally located, but has no railroad connections. There would be no trouble in moving the county seat, were the people agreed upon a location, but they are not. The northern and western portions of the county favor Benton Harbor or St. Joseph, the southern and eastern Niles, and while they are pulling and hauling, Berrien Springs tilts back its chair and laughs.

The close of the Columbian Fair has thrown a great many people out of employment, not alone thousands who were at work on the Fair grounds, but a larger number outside. Just now the greatest surplus of labor appears to be in the classes of waiters and domestic help, especially the latter. The revolution is all the greater as the hired girl had things pretty much her own way during the last six months, exacting the highest pay and performing the minimum amount of service therefor.—Chicago Tribune.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, from the residence on Seventh street. Mr. Stafford was a native of Kalamazoo county, and came to Holland about a year ago, from the west, and with his partner, John Hadden, succeeded in the livery business of Ed. Harrington.

The number of fraternal societies in this city has been increased during the week by one more—the Independent Order of Foresters. The leading object of the order is to provide relief in cases of sickness, disability and death. The technical term for the local organization is "Court." Thursday morning news reached this city that the schooner Wonder, Capt. John Woltman, which left this harbor Tuesday evening for Milwaukee, with a cargo of staves of the Holland State and Lumber Co., had gone on the beach near the "Twin Sisters" so-called, 16 miles north of Holland harbor. In the G. H. Tribune we find the following further particulars:—

"Before Wednesday morning the northwest gale increased in force until it reached a velocity, at one time, of 42 miles an hour, blowing away some of the schooner's rigging, and at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning drove her on the beach at the Twin Sisters, about five miles south of this city. When the boat first struck, her yawl was washed away so that the crew were obliged to take to the rigging until ten o'clock in the forenoon, when they were rescued by Chas. Weaver, Fred Behm and John Renwick, in an exhausted condition. The sufferers were taken to the house of John Renwick, where everything was done to make them comfortable, so much so that they were soon themselves again. They feel thankful for their narrow escape and grateful to those who have so kindly cared for them. The schooner was all right at last accounts. A pet dog belonging to the captain froze to death on deck before the rescuing party reached him."

World's Dispensary Medical Association:

Dear Sirs—From early childhood I have suffered from a sluggish liver with all the disorders accompanying such a condition. Doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines I have used in abundance; they only afforded temporary relief. I was recommended to try Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I did so, taking three at night and two after dinner every day for two weeks. I then reduced the dose to one "Pellet" every day and continued this practice for two months. I have in six months increased in solid flesh, twenty-six pounds. I am in better health than I have been since childhood. Drowsiness and unpleasant feelings after meals have completely disappeared. Respectfully yours,

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Gentlemen—Last March I suffered very bad with heart and kidney trouble. After using two bottles of your Swamp-Root I began to improve and I now feel like another person. I do not have those terrible Pains in my Back and across my kidneys. My food does not distress me, I have a good appetite and sleep well at night; something I have not done in a long time. Now I do not have that tired dragging feeling that I used to have before taking your medicine. After sitting down awhile getting on my feet I would have to stand and steady myself before I could place one foot before the other on account of the pain across my back and kidneys.

Swamp-Root Cured Me.

I was troubled with constipation very much, but your medicine has regulated my bowels which were in a bad condition. I will willingly answer any one who will write to me.

QUEEN NOT RESTORED

EXPECTED UPEHAVAL IN HAWAII HANGS FIRE.

Minister Willis Presents His Credentials to President Dole—Both Make Friendly Speeches, Indicating the Best of Feeling Between the Two Countries.

Quiet in Honolulu.

The anxiously expected steamship Australia, from Honolulu, arrived in San Francisco at 9:20 o'clock Saturday morning.

She brought the news from Honolulu that there had been no change in the Hawaiian political situation up to the time of sailing, other than the presentation by Minister Willis of his credentials to President Dole of the provisional government and his acceptance of them.

The speeches made by the American and Hawaiian on this occasion indicated the best of feeling between the two governments and President Cleveland's letters strengthened it. Absolutely nothing had occurred to mar the harmony of the international relations.

The Minister had done nothing toward restoring the Queen or deposing the provisional government. This cannot have been because he had received instructions from Washington countermanding previous ones, for there has been no time for that. A Washington correspondent says: It is possible he found the provisional government stronger than he thought it would be and not so easy to overthrow, and that he is waiting for additional instructions from Washington before he takes further action. The news is much better than was expected. It was feared that summary steps would have been taken by the Minister.

The advice of the Secretary of State to the President was—

Should not the great wrong done to a feeble but independent state by an abuse of the authority of the United States be undone by restoring the legitimate government? Anything short of that will not, respectfully submit, satisfy the demands of justice.

For some reason Minister Willis has not made much headway in the work of restoration.

Opinions of Passengers.

San Francisco advices say that the passengers on the Australia had nothing to say but to express amazement, amounting in several cases to positive incredulity, at the attitude of Secretary Gresham and the interest taken in the situation by the people of the United States. Among the passengers was Dr. L. W. Taylor, a physician of Washington, who is returning from a trip to the islands. He said: "Of course there has been much speculation on the islands regarding the policy to be pursued by Minister Willis. Secretary Gresham's

Sir Henry's Nice Job.

Admiral Sir Henry Keppel, while holding the post of port admiral, was coming out of the dockyard one evening, in plain clothes, when he was roughly jostled by a sailor in liquor. Irrate at no apology being offered, Sir Henry stopped the man and asked him if he knew whom he was running against.

"Nor nor I don't care," replied Jack.

"I'm Sir Henry Keppel; I'm port admiral."

"Ah," said the drunken one, "—nice billet you've got," and staggered on.

An Ice Bicycle.

The latest ice bicycle news comes from Leavenworth, Kan.

It is said that Dr. E. Christiansen, of that city, owns the American patent right to a bicycle sled or veloped sled, as its inventor, Leonard Thanner, of Germany; and a brother-in-law of the Doctor, calls it. "The original German patent was granted May 4, 1890, and the American patent May 9, 1893. The sled has also been patented in Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, England, and Canada. One hundred and thirty-three thousand of these novel contrivances have been sold in England so far. The manufacturing price is low because of the machine's simplicity. Bicycle enthusiasts, by means of these machines, it is said, would be enabled to follow the sport the year round, and its use with pedals, or a small sail, on the ice would revolutionize the sport of skating or coasting. The velocity of the sled, as tested in the Ice Sport Corso at Munich, Bavaria, showed it to be as speedy as the safety bicycle, and in a long run it excelled, as it required less effort on the part of the rider. The levers work as speed producers and as a brake. The machine is very light, and can be readily taken apart and packed in small compass, making it as portable as an umbrella. Dr. Christiansen has a small model of the sled. Several Leavenworth manufacturers have seen it, and there is a possibility of a company being formed there for its manufacture. Some of the bicycle manufacturers have heard of the sled, and Dr. Christiansen has had several opportunities to dispose of his rights at a good round sum."—Hard-ware.

A Clever Retort.

A young globe trotter, bearing an illustrious French name, was holding forth during a dinner in the Faubourg St. Germain at Paris about the loveliness of the Island of Tahiti, and describing in glowing colors the marvelous beauty of the women of that French dependency. With the object of learning whether the young traveler had re-visited his observations to the fair sex, as one might have been tempted to believe from the tenor of his remarks, one of the Barons Rothschild who was present ventured to inquire if he had remarked anything else worthy of note in connection with the island. Resenting the Baron's inquiry, he replied, "Yes, what struck me much was that there were no Jews and no pigs to be seen there." "Is that so?" exclaimed the Baron, in no wise disconcerted. "Then let you and me go there together; we shall make our fortune."

Modeled After Bellamy's Idea.

An enterprise which has for its object the application of Edward Bellamy's economic theories to practical town building was inaugurated on the historic plateau of Lewiston, N. Y., last week, when a child, held in the arms of Bishop Cleveland Cox, of Buffalo, pressed an electric button that put in motion the wheels of the first manufactory in the model city. The city was incorporated last winter by an act of the Legislature. The Utopian town site includes twenty-five square miles in the garden spot of Niagara County, nearly all the land already being under options held by the president of the town, the originator of the plan of model town construction. It overlooks the Niagara River on the west and Lake Ontario on the north, within sight of Brock's Monument on Queenstown Heights, and within cannon shot of the famous old Fort Niagara. Among the unique powers granted the town governors is one to build, equip and operate a pneumatic power plant for the carrying of messages, parcels and freight from place to place; another to establish and operate manufacturing plants on the co-operative plan.

Their Souvenir Spoon.

School had opened after the summer vacation (says the Spy), and the teacher was questioning the little boys and girls about what they had been doing in the way of recreation. Suddenly Johnny Jones said: "My mamma and papa want to the World's Fair." "What did they bring you home, Johnny?" queried the teacher. "A souvenir spoon, marm." "Did it have any words on it?" "Yes'm; 'For a Good Boy.'" Susie Greengage was not to be outdone. "My ma and pa went, too," said she. "And what did they bring you, Susie?" "A spoon, and it had on it 'Souvenir of the Fair.'" Teacher looked over the smiling faces and observed Sammy Klepto, evidently observing his turn. "Did your mother and father go to the Fair, Sammy?" she asked. "Yes, marm; they brought me a big silver spoon." "What words were on yours?" "Palmer House, marm."

The Rat Fish of the Pacific.

The other day a boat came in out of the morning mist after a night with the drift net, far out in the broad bay, and landed on the rude wharf at Capitola, with its glittering load of salmon, a thing that puzzled even the old residents by the shore. Some of them called it a squire's fish, and others a rat fish.

The thing had a tail like a goose feather, a soft, pulpy nose, a horn in its forehead with a spiked point and a socket into which to drop it when not in use; a pair of organs, half hands, half feet, below its ventral fins, and a mouth like a shark's, with close-fitting teeth of serrated cartilage. It was close to two feet long, and its ugly body shone when fresh from the water with hues ranging from pearly white to a deep lustrous green, while its great, staring eyes seemed like two perfect emeralds.

The academy's ichthyologist didn't think this fish much of a curio, remarking that it had been discovered long enough ago for Linnaeus to classify it. It is, as the fisherman said, a rat fish. That is the popular name.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mad at the Editor.

A veteran editor tells in the Boston Traveller how he lost two of his subscribers:

No. 1, a happy father of twins, wrote to inquire the best way to get them safely over their teething, and No. 2 wanted to know how to protect his orchard from the myriads of grasshoppers. The editor framed his answers upon the orthodox lines, but unfortunately transposed their two names, with the result that No. 1, who was blessed with twins, read in reply to his query: "Cover them carefully with straw and set fire to them, and the little pests, after jumping about in the flames a few minutes, will speedily be settled." While No. 2, plagued with grasshoppers, was told to "Give a little castor oil, and rub their gums gently with a bone ring."

"Widow of the Late."

Apologies of the surprising reform in the first column of the Times (London), a reader of that journal asks me to call attention to the absurdity of describing widows—as is usually done in that column—as "widow of the late so-and-so." It certainly seems superfluous to mention the fact that a widow's husband is dead, but I feel bound to add that I have known cases where there was room for doubt upon the point.—London Truth.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS

G. VAN SCHELVEN, Editor.

SATURDAY, NOV. 25, 1893.

The System of County Roads.

Ever since the organization of the state the matter of opening and improving roads and highways, outside of cities, has been a township affair. Under the recent pressure and agitation of better country roads the legislature of this state at its last session passed a law leaving it optional for such counties as desired to avail themselves of the plan, to introduce in addition thereto also a system for building roads under the supervision of the county authorities, to be paid for by the county at large.

After providing how the question shall be submitted to the voters by the board of supervisors, and how the vote shall be taken, the law provides that in any county where the county road system shall be adopted a board of county road commissioners, not exceeding five in number, shall be elected by the people. The board of supervisors decide the number of commissioners. These commissioners shall ordinarily be elected at the spring election, rotating after the system is established so that one commissioner shall be elected each spring. The board of supervisors shall fix the compensation of the commissioners. The law provides for the organization and rules of the commissioners and makes the county clerk the clerk of the board of county road commissioners. The commissioners must not be interested pecuniarily in any contract entered into or work carried on by or for the board. The board may employ such help and purchase such machines tools and materials as shall in their judgment be needed in carrying on their work.

The commissioners may lay out such roads within the county as they deem proper. If necessary to take private property, the law provides for its purchase at private bargain and if that can not be effected for acquiring the same by condemnation proceedings, the compensation or assessed damages to be paid by the county from the proper fund.

The commissioners have authority to determine that any road heretofore laid out shall become a county road, to be under their exclusive jurisdiction and control. The board of commissioners are empowered to grade, drain, construct, gravel or macadamize any road under their control, or place thereon any other form of improvement. All contracts for work to cost more than $100 shall be let by sealed proposals to the lowest responsible bidder.

On or before the first of October of each year, the board shall determine the amount of tax to be raised for such year in the county for work to be done on the roads. Such tax shall not exceed two dollars on each one thousand dollars of assessed valuation, and it shall not exceed one dollar on the same basis without authority therefore being first given by the board of supervisors. This tax is to be spread on the rolls of the towns and cities according to their assessed valuations. The board shall not contract any indebtedness in excess of the amount credited to the fund and in the hands of the county treasurer, provided that after a tax is voted it may incur liabilities not exceeding one half of such tax. If the supervisors determine by a two-thirds vote to contract indebtedness or issue bonds to construct or maintain county roads the question shall be submitted to the voters to decide at a general or special election. The law, of course, does not apply to counties that do not vote to adopt the county road system.

Last week an election was held in Muskegon county to determine whether or not the county road system should be put in operation there and in a very light vote the proposition was carried by a majority of 563—yes 1155, nays 592.

The Coming State Census.

A United States census is ordered every 10 years, the last one being taken in 1890. During the interval a state census is also taken, under the supervision and direction of the secretary of state. This census, superfluous as it may be deemed to be in many respects, is a necessity for the purposes of an equitable apportionment and representation in the state legislature. One of the acts, No. 178, of the late session provides, for the manner in which the next census in 1894 shall be taken.

The enumerators are to be appointed by township board of each township and the common council of every incorporated city, on or before the first Monday in May next. In case they are not so appointed the governor is empowered to make all necessary appointments. A list of such appointments is required to be transmitted to the county clerks of the several counties, and by them to be certified and forwarded to the secretary of state on or before the twentieth day of May. Census enumerators will receive a compensation of $2.50 per day for ten hours work. They are required to their work between the first day of June and the first day of July. They must make out four schedules, the first and second containing the name, age, sex, color, occupation, civil condition, nativity, physical condition etc., of every person residing in the state on the first day of June; the third containing inquiries as to the number, size, improvements and value of farms, wages paid to farm help, the acreage and yield of farm products, the amount of the various farm products raised, and like information relative to the business of agriculture; the fourth containing inquiries as to the name of each corporation, company or individual owning or operating each establishment of productive business, the name of the business, manufacture or product, the capital invested labor employed, the kind of power used and such other inquiries as may be deemed of special importance.

The schedules are to be sent to the county clerks and by them to the secretary of state, who will have them substantially bound and prepared for convenience and compilation.

The work of compiling and condensing the census after it is in the hands of the secretary of state is one of considerable magnitude. In the compilation of the last census about forty clerks were employed for nearly two years.

The U. S. Supreme Court has just rendered a decision which completely revolutionizes the law of the states bordering on the great lakes, and gives the federal courts exclusive jurisdiction hereafter in all criminal cases committed on said lakes or on the bodies of water connecting them. Hitherto the local state courts have had exclusive criminal jurisdiction out to the middle of each body of water. The Supreme Court decides that these waters are a part of the "high seas," and so the United States courts can take cognizance of crimes committed in any part thereof, whether over the dividing line or not. The court interprets the term "high seas" to include the great lakes and all waters tributary thereto. Justice Brown dissents from the majority opinion of the court, and in forcible language calls this decision a revolution.

Deputations are going to Washington daily from different sections of the free trade South to ask the Committee on Ways and Means to let Southern industries and products alone in revising and reducing tariff duties. These individuals are willing and even anxious that Northern industries should be deprived of protection, but they do not want their own to be touched. While firm in the conviction that protection is unconstitutional north of the Potomac and the Ohio, they have no doubt of its constitutionality south of those rivers. Thus also they thought it unconstitutional for the government to aid an international exposition at Chicago, but perfectly proper for the government to aid a small fair at New Orleans.

If anything, the Democratic press throughout the country is even more severe in its strictures upon the official conduct of Gov. Altgeld of Illinois, than is the opposition party. Says the Philadelphia Ledger (Dem.): "Altgeld is one of the most dangerous men holding authority in America today. He is not only a demagogue, but an apologist for the enemies of civilization. Within the last week there have been two assemblies of Anarchists in Chicago, and at one of their gatherings the motto was conspicuously displayed: 'No God, no lord, no slave.' These disturbers of the public peace recognize no law, divine or human, respect no authority, yield obedience to nothing save their own perverted will. It is a pity the people of Illinois had no opportunity last week to defeat Altgeld himself at the polls. As it was, they expressed their disgust by defeating Altgeld's ticket in Chicago and electing by a handsome majority the patriotic Gary, whose honor Altgeld so outrageously aspersed."

It is rather amusing to read the headlines in the minor Democratic press of this state, trying to bolster up the Cleveland administration in its Hawaiian embroglio, while the leading Democratic papers throughout the country arraign the policy in unmistakable terms. Among the Democratic organs which have condemned the policy of the administration are the Providence Telegram, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, the New York Sun, World and Herald, the Philadelphia Times, Record and Ledger, the Brooklyn Eagle, the New Orleans Picayune and Times Democrat, and the San Francisco Examiner.

During the week the water in the Chicago river reached the lowest stage it has been this season. The water is so low that grain boats are having serious difficulty in the South Branch. It is from a foot to eighteen inches lower than ever before this year, and is said to be due to the prolonged west and southwest winds of late, which drive the water down the lake.

The C. & W. fast train that left this station for Grand Rapids at 9:30 o'clock Thursday evening, met with a serious accident at Zeeland. Just east of the station on the south side of the main track is a switch leading to the furniture factory. It seems that the switch key had dropped out, causing a partial displacement of the rails. The fast train does not stop at Zeeland, and as it came rushing on the engine still kept the main track, but the baggage car, smoker and coach took the siding, rolling and tipping over as they went, the middle car suffering most.

The injuries to the passengers as first reported were many and serious, and by reason of the prevailing storm that interfered with the wires, it was difficult to ascertain the exact situation. From Zeeland we were informed that out of some fifty passengers only seven are hurt. Other reports had the number of passengers at much less, and that not one escaped without receiving some injury. One or two cases were said to be fatal; Frank Worth, of Benton Harbor, mail clerk, injured about the head, and a commercial traveler for a St. Louis tobacco house, named Mr. Finn. Later reports, direct from headquarters, fix the amount of injured, out of about forty passengers, at seven, four of whom are only slightly wounded, while one of them, E. J. Meyers of Goshen, Ind., has a leg broken. He has since been forwarded home in a special car.

As soon as the news had been wired to the general at Grand Rapids a wrecking crew, accompanied by the principal officers, Dr. Johnston, the chief surgeon of the road, and other physicians, went to the scene of the wreck, arriving at Zeeland shortly after midnight. All the wounded were taken to Grand Rapids.

The union meeting of the Y. M. C. A. of this city and of Hope College, held in Hope church Sunday evening, was largely attended, and in many respects evidenced a general interest in the object and work of the associations. J. C. Post of the city Y. M. C. A., presided. The first address was by Henry Geerlings who dwelt briefly upon the scope of Y. M. C. A. work, embracing the physical, social, intellectual and spiritual development of the young men of Holland; that their aim was not to take the place of the church but to assist the latter along collateral lines; and that therefore they had a right to the moral and financial encouragement of the community.

Wm. Van Kersen, as president of Hope College Y. M. C. A., spoke in behalf of his society, gave a historical review of its organization and its work among the students and outside. Their society maintains four Sunday schools, in the Van Dyk, Pine Creek, Lake Shore and Holland Centre school houses, where fifteen of their members are engaged each sabbath in teaching the youth of these several localities.

G. J. Diekema spoke about the young men of Holland as being divided in three classes, good, bad and indifferent. It were the latter especially that are worthy of christian effort. The foundations of this city, laid fifty years ago, hardly provided for the young men, the outlines being so decidedly puritanical. Then too, for years Holland had no factories to retain its young men, and they were forced to go elsewhere. Under these circumstances the reaction that followed often proved disastrous to the individual young man.

Other speakers were G. Tyssen and C. M. Steffens, all of whom dwelt upon one or more of the practical features in Y. M. C. A. work.

Revs. H. G. Birchby and C. A. Jackson also took part in the services. The singing was led by Prof. J. B. Nykerk and a quartet of students. The collections of the evening was divided between the treasuries of the two associations.

In Memoriam.

IN VIEW of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our friend and associate, MRS. EATON, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to her; therefore, be it
Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting her removal from our midst we mourn for one who was, in every way, worthy of our respect and regard;
That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased on the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy;
That this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy and sorrow be forwarded to the husband of our departed friend by the secretary of this meeting.

RANCH NATIONALITIES.

Dutchmen in the West Who Have Become Thoroughly Americanized.
In "The Wilderness Hunter" Theodore Roosevelt says that as a rule nobody displays much curiosity about other people's antecedents in the far west; but on one occasion Mr. Roosevelt returned to his ranch and found a strange hunter staying there, and asked his foreman who was this newcomer, who evidently appreciated good things and seemed inclined to make a permanent stay, according to the custom of the country.
My foreman, who had a large way of looking at questions of foreign ethnology and geography, responded with indifference:
"Oh, he's a kind of a Dutchman; but he hates the other Dutch mortal. He's from an island Germany took from France in the last war."
This seemed puzzling; but it turned out that the "island" in question was Alsace.
Native Americans predominate among the dwellers on the borders of the wilderness, and in the wild country over which the great herds of the cattlemen roam; and they take the lead in every way. The sons of the Germans, Irish and other European newcomers are usually quick to claim to be "straight United States," and to disavow all kinship with the fellow-countrymen of their fathers.
Once, while with a hunter bearing a German name, we came by chance on a German hunting-party from one of the eastern cities. One of them remarked to my companion that he must be part German himself, to which he cheerfully answered:
"Well, my father was a Dutchman, but my mother was a white woman! I'm pretty white myself," whereat the Germans glowered at him gloomily.

COTTON AND TOBACCO.

Old-Time Prices of These Commodities in the South.
"We have before us," says the Richmond Journal of Commerce, "sales of two bales of cotton and two hogsheds of tobacco sold at Norfolk, Va., June 9, 1881, by James Gordon, a life-time commission merchant of that city. The weights of the bales of cotton were 312 and 330 pounds. Price, 6 1/2 cents—net sales, $61.24. Weight of the two hogsheds of tobacco, 1,375 and 1,476 pounds. Price, $2.50 and $3.25 per 100 pounds. Net sales of both, $98.35. The accompanying letter says: 'I fear you will be disappointed in the sales of the tobacco. I confess it seems to me a low price, but I assure you nothing better can be done here.'
"We are not posted as to how long after this leaf tobacco was sold that Norfolk continued a tobacco market.
"Wonder if a treaty was ever entered into between Norfolk and Richmond, that the one should sell cotton and the other tobacco without business competition. If we so conclude the treaty was like that of William Penn and the Indians, unwritten—for it has been faithfully kept to the present day.
"The tobacco farmer of the hour may glean a ray of consolation as he contemplates the price of tobacco in 1881 and compares it with its value in 1893, and consoles himself with the knowledge that our fathers received less than present prices."

A queer Chinese Superstition.
The Chinese have a remarkable superstition about the Chu river, which is the local name on the border for the Chiating. A considerable trade in drugs is borne along this river, for which a special class of boats, composed of very light boards fastened with wooden nails, is built. The natives say that the magnetic attraction of the bed of the river is so strong that were ordinary boats used the iron nails would be pulled out. Along the river banks iron is mined in primitive fashion, and from the geological evidence it is believed that the ore is very rich.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

SOMETHING WORTH

— I READING. —

As Thanksgiving approaches we naturally compare the events of our lives in the past year with those of our fellow creatures, who have been less fortunate. And those of us who have been called upon to pass through unpleasant experiences, may still be thankful if we follow Thos. A. Kempis advise in the following:
"Thou oughtest therefore to call to mind the more heavy sufferings of others, that, so thou mayest the better bear thy little adversities. Although the past year has been one of extreme anxiety to the business world, yet we may be thankful it has been no worse.

SIX BURNED TO DEATH.

Hotel Horror Near Beaver, Pa., Early Tuesday Morning.

Six men were burned to death and several were badly injured at the Government dam, two miles below Beaver, Pa., early Tuesday morning. The disaster occurred at the Merrill House, a three-story frame building and boarding-house to accommodate the employes at the new Government dam, which has been under course of construction for the past year. The hotel was situated upon the hillside above the railroad—the only building on the north side of the track. It was 84x40 feet and contained twenty-five sleeping-rooms. It also contained the telegraph office, post-office, and a store. The proprietors were Frank J. Bradley and Robert Kenyon. Every room in the building was occupied. Fire was discovered at 4:30 o'clock in the morning by William Bolles, the colored porter. The store room was then full of flames. Bolles then gave the alarm by running to the second and third floors screaming "Fire!" Many of the occupants of the rooms had been working a night turn and had retired only two hours before. All were sleeping soundly and when aroused became so confused that they lost all presence of mind and wandered through the hallways unable to find a means of escape. Six men are known to have perished. The hotel register was burned, and it is not positively known how many men were in the house. The belief is general that others perished. Several are yet unaccounted for. Men were constantly coming and going, seeking employment. A number of these arrived that night, but whether they lodged in the hotel is not known.

LYNCHED IN IOWA.

Swift and Terrible Justice Meted an Ottumwa Criminal.

Fred Gustavson, a laborer aged 32, who recently went to Ottumwa, Iowa, was hanged by a mob on the main street of Ottumwa, Tuesday afternoon. Monday night he enticed the 4-year-old daughter of Jonas Sax into the room of a boarding-house and criminally assaulted her. The child was able to drag herself home, but had been horribly maltreated and now lies at the point of death. Tuesday afternoon Gustavson was taken to Justice Truitt's office for preliminary examination. In the office a fight ensued between the father, grandfather, and other relatives of the child and the officers. The culprit was finally wrested from the hands of the officers and dragged out of the office door. Here the mother of the child stood with a rope and gave it into the hands of the mob. It was immediately placed about the wretch's neck and he was hanged to the handrail of the outside stairway leading to the justice's office.

$80,000 in Currency Missing.

The Citizens' National Bank, Muncie, Ind., which has been in the hands of a receiver for several months, opened its doors Monday as announced, but was unable to transact business because of the failure of an $80,000 package of currency to arrive from the United States treasury at Washington. The money was shipped the 15th, and should have arrived Saturday from Washington via the Baltimore and Ohio and Lake Erie and Western Railways in care of the United States Express Company. A letter mailed since the money left arrived. Agent Bud Thomas has kept the wires hot with messages. One of the valuable chest has not yet been found.

Strayed Treasure Found.

Dr. Bailey, of Gap, eighteen miles east of Lancaster, Pa., discovered an iron pot under an old farmhouse he had recently bought. Investigation proved that the pot contained over $2,000 in gold and silver coin. There were also found three sets of solid silver spoons marked "C." Many years ago the house was owned by a family named Chamberlain. It is supposed the pot was buried by one of the members, and that the secret died with the last survivor.

The town is situated at the eastern extremity of the Ala Dagh Mountains. It is thought that the loss of life was large. Two-thirds of the town was destroyed.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

Chicago Rigidly Patrolled by Police in Plain Clothes.

Chicago between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock a. m. is practically under martial law, with the police force as a garrison. Every person found on the streets, outside the few streets where business is carried on all night, is now halted by officers in plain clothes, and requested to give an account of himself. He will be asked his name, residence and the cause of his being in the streets at so late an hour. Persons who refuse to answer the questions, or who act in a suspicious manner, or have weapons or tools that might be used in burglary in their possession, are immediately placed under arrest. Nearly the entire night division of the force is on duty in citizens' dress at 1 o'clock each night, and the city will be patrolled as thoroughly as can be done with the number of men at the disposal of the inspectors. By this rigid method it is hoped that many of the midnight prowlers who have committed so many murders and burglaries recently will be captured or frightened away from the city. There are fewer policemen's uniforms visible after midnight, but there are more policemen on duty than formerly. The thieves who have been committing so many depredations in the residence districts generally start on their nefarious business soon after midnight. Most of the burglaries and murders are committed between 1 and 4 o'clock in the morning. By strict espionage on all persons found on the streets at this unseemly time of night the police hope to effect the arrest of many of the thieves. Plans are also being perfected whereby the scoundrels once caught will be prevented from regaining their liberty except at the city limits with their faces turned away from Chicago.

GALE IN ENGLAND.

Many Vessels Are Blown on a Lee Shore and Wrecked.

One of the worst gales of the season raged on the western and southern coasts of Great Britain. It is thought that the maritime casualties will be great. A tremendously heavy sea sprang up in the English Channel and the Irish Sea, and many vessels experienced great difficulty in reaching port. Fishing and coasting vessels made for the nearest shelter, but all did not reach their havens of refuge in safety. The schooner Favorite, of Ilfracombe, was seen during the night staggering along under short canvas up the Bristol Channel. Shortly after she was first sighted she disappeared from view in a black squall, and when it became possible to again see objects seaward the schooner had disappeared. It is believed that she was capsized in the squall and filled and sank, carrying all on board down with her. Tugboats that went out from the ports in the morning in search of vessels desiring assistance reaped a harvest. Many of them returned, having in tow a mangled and rudderless craft of every description. Among the fatal disasters already reported is the foundering of the British steamer Bolleau, a vessel of 1,840 tons, belonging to Cardiff. She had a crew of twenty-one persons. The captain and sixteen of the crew are believed to have been lost. Four men have been saved. The steamer is believed to have been sunk off Lundy Isle.

SEMINARY IN FLAMES.

Two Girls Meet Death at the Edgewood Institution, Mich.

The Edgewood Female Seminary, conducted by the Dominican Sisters on the shore of Lake Winzra, two miles southwest of Madison, Wis., was destroyed by fire at a late hour Thursday night and two girls were suffocated, while another is dying. There were twenty-eight girl pupils and fifteen Sisters sleeping in the building, and it is a wonder that any escaped. The two buildings were entirely consumed before the city fire department was able to get the flames under control.

Rio Must Be an Open Port.

A cipher telegram received by the Navy Department Friday evening from Capt. Pickens under Friday's date from Rio Janeiro is looked upon as significant and possibly indicating a weakening of the strength of the insurgent fleet under Admiral Mello. The translation was as follows: "Naval representatives of eight nations, including our nation, have decided not to permit munitions of war to be landed at Rio. Santos being still in possession of the Brazilian Government and connected with Rio Janeiro by railway, munitions of war for Rio Janeiro can be landed at Santos. Yesterday the insurgents dressed ship. The Brazilian Government fort fired a national salute in honor of the anniversary of the establishment of the republic." The only interpretation to be put upon this dispatch is that the naval representatives at Rio have decided that there shall be no interference with commerce and have formally notified the insurgent admiral that they will prevent it. The probabilities are, and this is the view taken by government officials here, that this action weakens Mello very much, for if he cannot close the ports of Rio and bring the city into subjection it cannot be conjectured how he can make his rebellion successful. It looks to naval officers very much as if Mello had been badly crippled. Advice from Madrid says: "Senor Morel, Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs, has received from Brazil a telegram that Admiral Mello has proclaimed Count d'Eu's eldest son Emperor of Brazil. This son is Prince Pierre d'Alcantara Louis Philippe. He was born at Petropolis, near Rio Janeiro, on Oct. 15, 1875. His mother is the present Countess d'Eu and Princess Isabella of Braganza, daughter of the late Dom Pedro."

Died of a Broken Heart.

John M. Washburne, for forty years Treasurer of the Old Colony Railroad, and a wealthy and respectable citizen, a month ago confessed that he was $100,000 short in his accounts. He took to his bed immediately after his confession, and Friday morning died of a broken heart in his paternal Beacon street residence.

Killed by Burglars.

Murderous burglars broke into James Prunty's house, at 41 West Thirteenth street, Chicago, Tuesday night, shot and killed Prunty and wounded two other members of his family. The burglars escaped before aid could be called and none of the family could give any description of the murderous housebreakers.

New Brunswick Jurist Stricken.

Chief Justice Allen, of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, was stricken with paralysis at St. Andrews, N. B. He may recover.

Fatal Wreck.

In a wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio at Vincennes, Ind., Brakeman Charles H. Neff was killed and seventeen freight cars destroyed.

Another Carbolic Acid Victim.

Mabel Hill, 15 years old, died at Allegheny, Pa., from the effects of taking carbolic acid by mistake for medicine.

MOVEMENT OF WHEAT.

AMOUNT HELD IN RESERVE ON THIS CONTINENT.

Lehigh Valley Road Will Be Tied Up—Several Railroads Suffer Heavily by the Operations of Counterfeiters—Smash in the Glass Trust.

The Wheat on the Continent.

The available stocks of wheat in the United States and Canada are thus given by Bradstreet's: East of the Rocky mountains, 90,938,000 bushels; west of the Rockies, 9,875,000 bushels. Exports of wheat (and four and wheat) from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, New Orleans, Galveston, San Francisco, Portland (Oregon), Portland (Me.), Tacoma and Seattle, as reported by mail and wire to Bradstreet's, were 2,645,250 bushels.

SWINDLED THE RAILS.

Extensive Operations of a Gang of Ticket Counterfeiters.

ASTOUNDING revelations are made concerning the scope of a great railroad ticket counterfeiting case. Enough information is secured to warrant the statement that the crime will, when the complete story is told, stand as the boldest and most tremendous of its kind in the history of American railways. It is believed that the railways interested have been mulcted to the tune of more than $300,000, and that not less than $200,000 more is represented in the forged tickets that were either used nor in the hands of the detectives who are investigating the case. These figures, large as they are, may prove entirely too small to represent the extent of the great crime. The railroads which have been victimized, so far as is known at the present time, are as follows: Baltimore and Ohio; Chicago and Erie (Erie system); Pittsburgh and Western (a line controlled by the Baltimore and Ohio); New York, Chicago and St. Louis ("Nickel Plate"); New York, Ontario and Western; Missouri Pacific. The leader of the gang is under surveillance.

WILL BE A LONG FIGHT.

Lehigh Valley Road Apparently In for a Long Strike.

BUFFALO dispatch: Lehigh Valley officials are preparing for a long struggle with their employes. So far the strike has only affected the moving of freight, but nobody knows how soon the whole road may be tied up. The situation is quiet. After the trainmen quit work they went home. It is not believed that any rash acts of violence will be committed. The six hundred employes of the road who live in Buffalo are said by their employers to be as orderly and peaceable a lot of men as any road has on its payroll. It is hard to say what proportion of them have planned and evidently is being capably handled. At the outset it gives evidence of being one of the most obstinate battles in the annals of organized labor. The men who are implicated are such as are federated—that is, the firemen, engineers, trainmen, conductors and telegraph operators.

GLASS MEN ENGAGE IN WAR.

A Heavy Cut in Prices Said to Have Been Inaugurated.

As a result of the dissolution of the National Plate Glass Association, a lively war in prices has been inaugurated. It is said that as high as 20 per cent. off the list is offered, and agents and jobbers are making private terms. The outside firm which disrupted the trust is alleged to be the Pennsylvania Glass Company at Irwin, operating two furnaces, with forty pots. This concern has lately had considerable difficulty with its employes, and, being in need of ready cash during the recent depression, slashed right and left in the trust's territory to get business.

KRUPP'S BIG GUN FOR SALE.

May Be Secured and Placed in a Fortification Near New York.

Krupp's monster gun, which attracted so much attention at the World's Fair in Chicago, may be mounted in one of the modern fortifications now being constructed for the defense of New York harbor. It is understood an intimation will be made to the War Department at an early date that the gun is for sale if this Government wants it. The ordinance authorities of the army are not much in favor of its purchase, as they prefer guns built on their own designs to those turned out by the Krupps.

Netheroy in Ruins.

A cable dispatch from Rio Janeiro says that the scenes in the suburb of Netheroy are appalling. Over one hundred houses have been destroyed by the shells of the rebel fleet and 2,000 injured. The streets are full of bodies and debris. All the people able to do so have moved out of town. A few thousand are hiding in the woods beyond the outer suburbs. Mothers and young girls are begging scraps of food from the soldiers, who divide rations with the starving people. The bombardment continues.

Georgia Murderer Executed.

John Rutherford, one of the noted criminals of Georgia, was hanged at Trenton, Ga. He was among the convicts who killed two guards in trying to escape at Coal City in 1901. This is the second man executed for this crime and another is on trial for his life. The execution was public and was witnessed by 2,000 people, many of whom were women.

Two Convicts Burned to Death.

At Pratt mines, Birmingham, Ala., convicts in the mines, 300 feet below the surface, set fire to the bathhouse with a view to causing a panic among the guards so they could break for liberty. Three white convicts were burned to a crisp. The guards overpowered those who attempted to escape.

Would Better Use Spark Arresters.

The McCloy Lamp Chimney Company, of Elwood, Ind., has been awarded $45,000 damages against the P. & L. E. Railway Company because of the destruction of its factory at Brookside, Pa., in 1901, by fire which was caused by a spark from a passing locomotive.

Fate of Explorers.

A letter written by the Swedish explorer, Bjerring, who started on an expedition to the Arctic regions last year, was brought to Dundee by the whaling vessel Aurora. The letter was found in a cave on Carey Island. It relates that the explorer's vessel, the Ripple, stranded in August, 1902.

End of a Combine.

The National Plate Glass Association has gone to pieces. The association had a capital of $100,000, and was one of the strongest trusts in the country. Lately small outside concerns have been cutting prices, and this, it is said, had something to do with the disruption.

THIEVES HOLD SWAY.

Are Boldly Carrying On All Kinds of Daring Crimes in Chicago.

Chicago is on the verge of a reign of terror. The grip of the criminal classes is upon the throat of the people. "Law and order" has become a meaningless phrase. Crime is king and the agents created for the protection of life and property are prostrate and powerless. Desperate men plunder the office palaces in the downtown districts in broad daylight and they overwhelm the residence sections at night. Burglaries and "hold-ups" have become so common that the police have ceased to particularize except where the case is especially sensational. The police reporters for the daily papers no longer attempt to cover the events in the local field of crime, confining their reports to a skeleton chronicle of the more important happenings. Never in the history of the city has the commission of crime been so general and never have criminals been so audacious and so successful as at the present time.

TOOK HIS LIFE WHILE INSANE.

Suicide of a Wealthy Merchant of St. Joseph, Mo.

George W. Marlow, a wealthy St. Joseph, Mo., wholesale and retail boot and shoe dealer, went to an attorney's office Thursday morning, drew up his will and then went and paid up several life insurance policies. In the afternoon he locked himself up in a room in the third floor of his building, wrote two letters, one to his wife and the other to his foreman, and then blew the top of his head off with a revolver. The letters stated that he could no longer endure pain, and that he did not want the physicians to cut up his body. It is supposed he was temporarily insane from an attack of typhoid fever. He was worth half a million and leaves a young wife.

FINDING OF THE JURY.

Conductor and Engineer to Blame for the Battle Creek Horror.

The Coroner's jury, impaneled to inquire into the cause of the Grand Trunk wreck on Oct. 20, has rendered the following verdict: "We find that the said collision was caused by gross disobedience of orders given by train dispatchers. We also find that Conductor Bertram N. Scott and Engineer Harry Woolley of train No. 6, east-bound, are guilty of criminal negligence in running past the meeting point at which they had positive orders to stop." The jury found that the Grand Trunk Company had done all that could be done in the way of first-class equipments for the safety of its patrons, and the road was exonerated from all blame.

Made Insane by Love.

Mrs. H. M. Coudrey has been placed in St. Vincent's Insane Asylum at St. Louis, and Jerome Hill, the cotton king of the West, Mrs. Coudrey's father, is very ill from nervous prostration, brought on by his daughter's misfortune and the scandal connecting her name with that of an alleged Russian prince, named Elitcheff. Whether her insanity caused the scandal or the scandal caused the insanity, is a mooted question, but her friends claim the former to be the case.

Big Mormon Colony.

According to an official of the State of Chihuahua, Mexico, the Mormon leaders from the United States have made arrangements for the purchase of 3,000,000 acres of land in that state. A contract for the purpose has already been entered into between representatives of the Mormons and the owners of the land. It is said, which has been duly approved by the heads of the church. The Mormon colonists are regarded favorably in Mexico.

General Nunez Takes Poison.

A Panama special says: General R. Nunez, President of the United States of Columbia, recently swallowed poison. It is alleged by his friends that the poison was taken by mistake, but in other circles it is thought that the President acted with deliberation.

Horsemanship Her Detractor.

Miss Maud Britten caused a sensation in front of the Monticello (Ind.) postoffice by horsemanship Harry Bennett, a young girl goods clerk, who had been using her name too freely. The young lady's father also took a hand in the affair with his cane.

Fire at Fergus Falls.

At Fergus Falls, Minn., the Page flouring mills and elevator, with 40,000 bushels of wheat, were burned. The mill was operated by the George Tilton Milling Company. Loss on mill, $75,000, insurance, $27,500; loss on wheat and stock, $30,000.

Collecting Souvenir Coins.

Burglars sawed a hole from the floor above, and with a rope for a ladder, carried away $5,000 worth of old coins from J. J. Bretto's New Orleans office.

Escaped from Denver.

Two United States prisoners, a postoffice thief and a note raiser, escaped from the Denver County jail.

JERRY RUSK NO MORE.

DEATH OF WISCONSIN'S FAMOUS EX-GOVERNOR.

Fish, Honest and Unpretending, He Was Popular with All Classes of People—Was Harrison's Secretary of Agriculture—Three Times Governor.

End Came Painless'y.

Ex-Governor Jeremiah Rusk died Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in his home at Viroqua, Wis. He had been ill for two months, suffering from inflammation of the prostate gland. Dr. John Hamilton, of Chicago, performed an operation on Mr. Rusk some time ago which for a time promised to be successful. The ex-Governor was possessed of a powerful constitution and rallied after the operation to such an extent that the friends and even the physicians hoped for ultimate recovery. As late as the night before his death callers at the residence were told that the patient was improving and favorable reports were sent.

JEREMIAH M. RUSK.

throughout the country. Mr. Rusk was exceedingly weak, however, from the effects of morphia and almost constant pain, and when he suffered a relapse during the night it was known that the end must come soon.

Sketch of His Career.

Jeremiah McLain Rusk was born in Morgan County, Ohio, June 17, 1830, and his youth was that of a farmer boy acquiring a common school education. In 1853 he located lands in the then new and distant region of Vernon County, Wisconsin, where he had since resided. He entered the ranks of the Wisconsin volunteers in 1862, and was Major and Lieutenant Colonel of the Twenty-fifth Wisconsin, which was a part of General Sherman's command from the siege of Vicksburg till the close of the war, and in 1865 he received from the President the brevet of Brigadier General for gallant and meritorious services. In 1866 he was elected Comptroller of Wisconsin, and continued in that office two terms; and in 1870 he was elected to Congress, where he remained an active and useful member three terms, in one of which he was Chairman of the House Committee on Pensions. He declined the tender of appointments from President Garfield, and in 1882 was elected Governor of Wisconsin, and re-elected in 1884 and 1886. In the discharge of his duties as Governor, and particularly in the trying days of riots at Milwaukee, he won the commendation of the country, and with the zealous support of the delegation from his own State, he was prominent as a candidate for the Presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention of 1888 in Chicago. President Harrison, who was then nominated, graciously remembered Gov. Rusk by inviting him to a seat in the Cabinet as Secretary of the Department of Agriculture; and this department, which had just been raised to a cabinet dignity, found in him, for four years, an efficient head in organizing and developing its resources and possibilities of usefulness to agricultural interests. One feature of his work in this direction was to introduce the system of microscopical examination of the meats, whereby the foreign market for the American product was enlarged. The Governor retired from office with the Harrison administration, and there was good promise that his public career was not closed.

Regret at Washington.

Washington Genuine regret is expressed at the death of "Uncle" Jerry Rusk. Of all the members of the Harrison administration he was the most popular. He had a kindly soul, and everybody who was anybody liked him. He was a plain, blunt man. He had no use for executive session business, red tape or cabinet secret concerning affairs in which the public was interested.

Milwaukee—The news of the death of General Rusk spread rapidly through the city, and the feeling of sorrow was universal and sincere. The news came in the nature of a shock, inasmuch as bulletins from the bedside of the distinguished patient had been such as to encourage hope.

Indianapolis—Ex-President Harrison received

THE AUTHOR OF "SPARTACUS."

Composed by Elijah Kellogg When a Student at Andover.

Talking with a correspondent of the Boston Herald Rev. Elijah Kellogg, of Harpswell, Me., thus described how he wrote that favorite declamation of school boys: "Spartacus to the Gladiators":

"It was while I was at Andover," said he, smiling as the remembrance of the event came back to him. "We were required to prepare speeches for our rhetorical exercises, and after each man had spoken he was subjected to criticisms by his fellows—and their comments weren't always so complimentary as they were pointed. Then the professor would follow with serious criticism, and he always found faults that needed correcting."

"So these speeches came to be looked upon with dread, and at last I made up my mind that I'd try to get something so different from anything he had had and so interesting that it would hold their attention too closely for them to think about points on which to criticize me, and so I would get off free."

"Well, I wrote 'Spartacus.' When I began it worked just as I had expected. They were so taken by surprise that they never thought of anything but the speech. You could have heard a pin drop at any time while I was speaking, and they did not recover until I had finished and had come down to ask for criticism."

"Then when Prof. Payne turned to the students and inquired: 'What criticism have you to offer, young gentlemen?' there wasn't one of them had a word to say, for they were all thinking of the piece and hadn't noticed anything else."

"Gentlemen," said the professor, "we are not here for theological disquisitions nor for learned arguments, but these exercises are purely rhetorical, and, gentlemen, that is rhetoric."

"Then, turning to me, he remarked: 'I could criticize you, Kellogg, but I don't know whether it would do you more good or harm, and so, on the whole, I think I will say nothing.'"

"So," added the old gentleman, with a chuckle, "I escaped criticism."

FLOWERS OF THE NIGHT.

Peculiarly Adapted to Attract Winged Insects.

As we all know, there are day-blooming and night-blooming flowers, says the Cornhill Magazine. The former lay themselves out for the fertilizing visits of bees and butterflies; they are generally decked in red, blue, yellow or purple, and have often lines, spots or markings on their petals which point to the nectaries and so act as honey guides. The night-blooming flowers, on the other hand, lay themselves out for the visits of moths or other crepuscular insects, and therefore have recourse to something like the tactics of the fireflies and the glow-worms. They are usually pure white and the petals are often of such peculiar texture that they seem to glow with internal light in the dim shades of evening. At times one might almost fancy they were stained by nature with some curious forerunner of luminous paint, so strongly do they reflect every invisible ray of the faint twilight. They thus succeed in catching the eyes of moths, which, of course, are especially modified for receiving and perceiving the slender stimulus of dusk and the gloaming.

But the nocturnal flowers have no lines or spots, because these last could never be perceived in the gray gloom of evening. They make up for it, however, by being heavily scented; indeed, almost all the strong white flowers, like jessamine, tuberose, gardenia, stephanotis, cereus and syringa, which are such favorites with florists, belong to night-blooming plants, specially adapted to attract the eyes and noses of night-flying insects.

TREES AND THEIR AGES.

They Are the Only Forms of Nature Which Accurately Record the Years.

Elm, 300 years; ivy, 335 years; maple, 510 years; larch, 578 years; orange, 630 years; cypress, 800 years; olive, 800 years; walnut, 900 years; Oriental plane, 1,000 years; lime, 1,100 years; spruce, 1,200 years; oak, 1,500 years; cedar, 2,000 years; yew, 3,300 years. The way in which the ages of these trees have been ascertained leaves no doubt of its correctness. In some few cases the data have been furnished by historical records and by traditions, but the botanical archeologists have a resource independent of either, and, when carefully used, infallible.

Of all the forms of nature, trees alone disclose their ages candidly and freely. In the stems of trees which have branches and leaves with netted veins—in all exogens, as the botanist would say—the increase takes place by means of an annual deposit of wood, spread in an even layer upon the surface of the preceding one.

In the earlier periods of life trees increase much faster than when adult—the oak, for instance, grows more rapidly between the twentieth and thirtieth years—and when old the annual deposits considerably diminish, so that the strata are thinner and the rings proportionably closer. Some trees slacken in rate of growth at a very early period of life, and layers of oak become thinner after 40, those of the elm after 50, those of the yew after 60.

The Superstitious Turk.

There is no land on earth where more superstitions prevail than that of the unspeakable Turk. Some of them are interesting. If by any chance a sparrow or swallow flies in the window and circles three times around the room it is a sign that a blood relation of some one present is about to die. There are many signs and happenings that are supposed to predict marriage. For instance, if a horse sneezes when a young girl passes in the street she is positive that her time is nearly come. If her hair becomes unfastened she knows that she will soon be sought for, and if she goes to eat a peach and finds its kernel split she is equally certain that she will soon be wedded.

HORRORS OF SHAVING.

Whether You Do It Yourself or Go to a Barber, There Are Dangers.

There is a story told of a French nobleman who, when he had been shaved in the morning, always heard the man mutter: "Thank heaven!" on leaving the room. He inquired because. "It is the money, my lord, you always leave on your table over night (for he was a gambler). Every morning I say to myself: 'I must cut his throat,' and am truly thankful to have escaped the temptation." After which confession the nobleman shaved himself. It is quite extraordinary how many people—and even poor people—employ barbers to shave them, partly from consciousness of their own clumsiness ("What do you give the man who shaves you?" inquired some one of Macaulay. "Several cuts on the face," was his reply), but chiefly from their inability to strop the razors. If there is an industry that makes use of old strops (with cuts) I shall be happy to supply them at wholesale prices, says a writer in the London Illustrated News. That there is no machine for stropping razors speaks volumes for the power and intelligence of the Barbers' company.

Nevertheless, for a man who has always shaved himself the employment of another person to do it for him seems for the first time, apart from the humiliation of being taken by the nose, rather a serious business. One wishes to make great friends with him to start with, but the usual methods are closed to us; genial conversation is out of the question—all the soap is on his side—and we aren't offered him liquor. It is the greatest confidence trick known to man. The performer may be an expert or he may not; but it is certain that at one time or another these gentlemen must have been new to their trade. With whom did they begin? With whom, indeed! Dead men tell no tales. I ventured to ask the question the other day of a professional. He replied, with some confusion: "We begin with one another," and it was only the day before that he had observed, with an air of pretended indifference: "We are rather short-handed at the shop just now."

COST OF A BILLIARD BALL.

About Ten Dollars in Cash and Usually a Large Amount of Human Blood.

The globe of ivory which is knocked about a table in a game of billiards costs, if of good quality, at least ten dollars, says the Million. This represents its cost in money. There is, however, a far more important and formidable element in the price which has been paid for it. The billiard ball of pure ivory represents, as it lies white and glistening upon the cloth, an expenditure of human life blood as well as of money. Elephants' tusks are brought down to the African coast by caravans, generally in charge of Arabs, which have been trading in the interior. Very often they have picked up slaves as well as ivory. But this phase of the matter may be left out of the account. It is estimated that every large caravan bringing ivory to the coast has cost more than one hundred and sixty human lives through fights and murders in the course of the expeditions. Thirty more men are likely to have succumbed to fevers or other diseases and the fatigues of the march. The hunting of the elephants and the capture of the ivory are very likely to have caused the death of ten men altogether. Such casualties are the rule in elephant hunting rather than the exception. An average tusk does not furnish more than enough material for two good billiard balls. Of course the remainder of the ivory in each tusk is made use of in other ways; a perfect cut billiard ball requires special quality, or so-called "nerve," which is found only in one part of the tusk. The chances are that a billiard ball of the first quality has cost at least one human life; and there is not one such ball which may not be truly said to be stained with men's blood. They can hardly be considered, therefore, a cheerful accompaniment to a sensitive person's diversion.

PROMPT REPLY.

The Check Given to Farmer Jones and His Matrimonial Intent.

Some business is best done quickly and with few words. Other business, of a more delicate nature, is commonly entered upon in a more leisurely manner. Now and then, however, a man is found who makes no such distinction.

Farmer Jones sought an interview with Widow Brown. He had long prided himself upon his short horn cattle; she was in her way as proud of her poultry and pigs.

"Widow Brown," said he, "I am a man of few words, but much feeling. I possess, as you know, between three and four hundred head of cattle. I have saved up eight hundred dollars or so, and I've a tidy and comfortable home. I want you to become my wife. Now, quick's the word with me; I give you five minutes to decide!"

"Farmer Jones," said Widow Brown, "I am a woman of few words—I'll say nothing of my feelings. I possess, as you know, between three and four hundred head of poultry, and about ten score of pigs. I have nigh twelve hundred dollars well invested—my late husband's savings and my own earnings. I tell you I wouldn't marry you if it were a choice between that and going to the scaffold. Sharp's my word, and I give you three minutes to clear off my premises!"

In the Bronx Valley.

French suburban in the Bronx valley delight in holding old world fashions, and the peasant blue is still seen among them, while doubtless there are sabots in every house, called into use on wash day and at other low barometer seasons. It is a pretty habit of these simple aliens to keep English rabbits, and a family of French people at Woodlawn travel over all the country round digging greens for these creatures. The rabbits, by the way, are kept not as pets, but for food.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION!

Too High Pressure.

In these days of keen competition in every line, when the business man is compelled to bend his intellect and every energy to the success of his business; the clerk, book-keeper, professional man and laborer, to drive themselves at a terrific rate, there can be but one result—an explosion, which, if not resulting in immediate death, leaves them with shattered brains and bodies. They are running at too high pressure. The strain is too great. Something must and does give way. This is equally true of women. Though their sphere is more limited, they have their daily burdens, frets, and worries, and the results are the same as with their stronger companions.

This condition is growing worse every day. The rapidity of its increase is awful to contemplate. Our homes, hospitals, and insane asylums are full of these unfortunate, and are being crowded still further. There is but one solution of the matter. Recognize the importance of the situation at once, and take the necessary measures to overcome it. If you have failing memory, hot flashes, dizziness, nervous or sick headache, biliousness, irritability, melancholy, sleeplessness, fainting, nervous dyspepsia, epilepsy, etc., know that any one of them is but a symptom of the calamity that may befall you, and even though you have used so-called remedies and treated with reputable physicians with little or no benefit, give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve a trial. It is the only remedy that may be depended upon for nervous disorders.

"Two years ago I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve with marked benefit, and later induced my son, who had been sick with catarrh of the bladder five years in the hands of our best physicians, to try it together with Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. He was so wonderfully benefited that he is attending to business again. My wife also used Nerve with most excellent results. All of us together have not used more than six bottles of Nerve. Several of our friends have also used it, and are greatly improved."—Louis Gibbs, Bucher & Gibbs Flour Co., Canton, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles, $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs. Free book at druggists, or by mail.

Sold by all druggists.

Grand Haven.

The life saving station at this harbor will go out of commission Dec 10. The fishing tug E. C. Oggel, built and formerly owned at this place, but now the property of the Sandusky Fish Co., is in trouble and has been seized by the Canadian Government and brought to Amherstburg, Ont. The charge is fishing with gill nets in Canadian waters. The crew was let go, but the boat held. The crew was caught in the act and a large number of nets were seized with the fish still in them. They were fishing near the Pelee Island.

A. J. Ward, the contractor for the building of the new Court House, is receiving many well deserved encomiums from our citizens for the energetic manner in which he has pushed forward its construction.—Express.

The sentimental and beautiful Indian name is not found in many places in Ottawa county. True it is that the name of the county is after one of the most important tribes that once roamed over this territory, but not a single town in the county is of Indian derivation. The Netherlands fare differently: Holland, Noordeloos, Groningen, Zeeland, Vriesland, Drenthe, Zutphen, and Boreculo, are all named after towns or provinces in the Netherlands.—Tribune.

The big tug, Albert Wright, which burned here one cold night last winter has been rebuilt and is now at Sturgeon Bay to be ready for wrecking operations. The Wright is the biggest wrecker on Lake Michigan.

Circuit court meets again next Monday.

Postmaster Parish's commission will expire Dec. 20. In proportion as the time for sending in the name of his successor draws nigh, the convictions of Jacob Baar on the absolute necessity of tariff reform become more and more pronounced.

While an old warehouse near the river front was being cleared out the other day, great quantities of wild cat currency were discovered in the rubbish. The wild cat scrip bore date of 1838, and was issued by Robinson, White & Williams, pioneer mill men of this locality.

Sunday Deputy Game Warden Thos. Hammond attempted to arrest L. Kammeraad, John Lock and H. Rogers, while on Roosters' celery island, thinking they were fish law violators. Deputy Hammond became excited while the three men were trying to explain and pulled his revolver on them. Complaint was made against Mr. Hammond the next day and he was fined $5 and costs by Justice Pagelson for pointing his revolver at the trio. Then came the Warden's turn and he lodged a complaint against the three before Justice Kay of Spring Lake for illegal fishing. They were arraigned and will have their examination next week.

Messrs. Gierum, Heitje Staveling & Co. were awarded the sub-contract for doing the carpenter work on the interior of the new court house.

An attempt was made Wednesday night to rob R. Osterhoff at Ferry-burg. He had just closed his store and started home with the money he had taken in through the day. As he stepped out of the store the robber aimed a heavy blow at Osterhoff's head with a club, but the latter threw up his arm, warding off the blow, and his assailant fled.

The famous water works case has been submitted. It was argued before the supreme court Wednesday. Geo. A. Farr and W. L. Lillie appeared for the city and Judge Howell for the water company.

The fire department of this city have been thinking for some time of having a monument placed on their lot in the cemetery. J. F. Smith of Holland, who had the contract for the stone work on the Court House, has presented a design of a monument and a meeting will be held soon to decide whether or not to accept it.—Tribune.

Allegan County.

Extensive improvements are being made in the G. A. R. hall at Allegan.

Says the Fennville Herald:—Several carloads of nursery stock have been delivered here the past few days, and it doesn't look very much as though the people intend to go out of the fruit business. The fact is that after one has had experience in fruit raising it is a difficult matter to get him to raise any other kind of crops. A similar item we find in the Douglas Record:—"An unusually large amount of fruit trees have been purchased this fall by our fruit growers, all of which goes to show that there is money in raising fruit. You can't find many 'calamity howlers' in God's country."

The rebuilt mill of the Allegan Paper Co. is now completely enclosed. The front, which was badly scorched in the recent fire, has been re-sided and the whole structure is now receiving a coat of paint.

The offices and lower hall of the county court house are receiving the decorations provided for at the last session of the board of supervisors. The walls of the former will be finished each in a different tint, and the effect will be very pleasing. Only the walls of the upper hall and the courtroom were finished when the building was erected, and this improvement is very noticeable.—Gazette.

Some days ago—writes the Graafschap correspondent of the Journal—B. Brinkman of Grand Rapids, and J. Brinkman, our student, went duck hunting and at Kelley's lake tried their skill in shooting at the decoy placed there by the Harkema boys. They could not make the feathers fly.

One night last week the construction train on the C. & W. M. ran into a flock of sheep near Mill Grove, killing thirty-two. The sheep belonged to Alonzo Vosburgh.

Saugatuck fishermen this fall have set their nets out in Lake Michigan as far as thirty miles from shore.

Douglas Record:—It is very aggravating to the Democrats to have a Republican postmaster boast that he is drawing good Democratic money, and will give it as a campaign fund to help to beat the party at the next election. That is the insult the faithful in this vicinity hear every day. They have had their hides rubbed often during the last thirty years, but to have it continued when their own party is in full control of the appointing power is pretty tough, and many of them declare that they will not go near the polls at the next election.

Allegan has ten doctors and thirteen lawyers yet the town is in a prosperous condition.

Much interest is being taken in the local option movement throughout the county.

The new Fennville school house proves too small for the needs of the district.

While Luther Sherwood of Otsego was eating his dinner last Sunday a chicken bone became lodged in his throat in such a manner that it required a surgeon to remove it.

Fred T. Ward, recently of the Journal, has taken a position in the Auditor General's office.

West Olive.

The recent fine weather has enabled farmers to get their fall work done in good time and now many of them are engaged in the wood and lumber trade. Dykema & Melering will finish their job of sawing for A. Names and then move to Wm. Cole's job north-west of here.

C. Clavs has again arrived in the bosom of his family.

Cal. McKinley and Frank Wiley have returned from their deer hunt, bringing home one each. They had a very nice time.

Wm. Jacques has moved to Olive Centre, where he will keep store and postoffice. We wish him success.

The Waffle boy who killed the wild cat, had quite an adventure of it at the time. The trap was staked down with two strong stakes, which the animal succeeded in pulling up, after gnawing off brush within reach that was two inches through. The boy went to his trap as usual before daylight, when his dog, a large fellow, met the cat and had a tussle with it, but soon got the worst of the battle. It was too dark to designate the kind of animal, but the boy sailed into him with a green stick, about an inch through and three feet long, striking him over the head and dazing him by repeated blows until the cat succumbed. Cass says he has had another in the same trap since, which broke the jaw of the trap but escaped. Our youngsters are a little careful how they ramble in that vicinity after dark now.

Lake Shore.

It is generally the case when the times are dull, that people feel cross and ugly, and neighbors are more or less getting into difficulties and disputes. This seems to be the case north of us and terminated into a lawsuit, and times being hard, we naturally figure the costs of a suit. Suit was begun before Justice Cook at the Bridge. Now Justice Cook is a new beginner at the business, just breaking in, and in consequence thereof certain parties were nonsuited a couple of times by reason of alleged irregularities in the papers issued. However with the aid of a lawyer, the papers were again made out in due form, at least we hope so, for if people will go to law we like to see them get there. Nevertheless we think that Mr. Cook is an honest and upright man, and will do honor to the office in due time.

C. C. Ogden and Jane Davis attended circuit court last week, and week before as jurors.

Mello D. Crofoot, his son Clarence and his mother are here on a visit and expect to stay for some time.

Mrs. N. W. Ogden and her daughter-in-law Mrs. G. Ogden, went to Salem last Sunday on a visit to the latter's parents.

Hi Goodin has his shingle mill nearly completed, in fact he has sawed a few singles already. He is putting in more machinery and expects to do good work.

Ryan Bakker and Charles Ogden have put up a shanty and are cutting wood for John Olman north of Port Sheldon Bridge.

Willie Nichols has a lay-off for an indefinite time, and is home. He was driving a street car in Chicago.

The Wen Her Point.

Nearly half a century ago a maiden lady residing in Roxborough purchased an ax from George Davis, a hardware dealer in Manayunk. The ax was in constant service, and by its many trips to the grindstone was worn down until the steel blade was no longer of use. Recently the old lady carried the pole or head of the ax to Manayunk to have a new blade inserted. Meeting a friend, he advised her to go to Davis' store, now kept by two sons of the former proprietor, and get a new one in exchange, as the old one was warranted to last a life time. The two Davis brothers protested against exchanging, while the lady vehemently urged her rights. A large crowd soon congregated, everyone siding with the woman. She finally triumphed, and walked out of the store with a brand new article, waving it over her head as an emblem of her victory over the firm.

Early Prejudice Against Women Doctors.

Medicine as a profession for women is less than fifty years old. Dr. Mary Zakrzewska, of Boston, has recently published an interesting account of the struggles of the pioneers in this particular field. Harriet Hunt and Elizabeth Blackwell were stirred by the idea that an important work might be done by well-instructed medical women. The materialization of this view resulted in complete social ostracism, impossible to be endured by any but the strongest and most courageous women. No woman doctor ever earned a living before 1860. No respectable family in any commonly respectable neighborhood would let rooms to a woman physician. Even when friends gave her shelter a business card or sign was not allowed. The lack of practical training was really the stumbling block and the cause of all this prejudice.

Be sure and look well this season to your own interests, in buying your Hay Loaders and other farming tools.

The American Disk Harrow and Pulverizer. Also the North Mower Spring Tooth Harrow, all steel. No loading up of dirt.

I also keep on hand a full line of Buggies, Road and Farm Wagons, and Carts.

Particular attention is called to my new Patent Double Truss Braces, which I now put on all my wagons, and of which I am the sole proprietor for this City. This is the only true truss brace made. No extra charge. Upon short notice I fill every order in the wagon and blacksmith line. Carriage and Wagon Painting done in the most satisfactory manner.

At Wholesale and Retail—a full line of Iron and Steel.

I buy all kinds of Furs, and keep a full line of Bee Supplies.
