I. Koning, formerly a resident of this city, member of Company I, 25th Michigan Infantry, was badly injured last Friday in a street car accident at Mill Creek and it was thought for a time that the injury would result in the loss of his arm. Mr. Koning is an inmate of the Soldiers Home.

John Notaras and Peter Spers of Detroit have leased one of the store buildings of Slag & Zuidewind at 78 East Eighth street and will conduct a confectionery store there. It is said that they will install a $1000 soda fountain. The store at 84 East Eighth street has been leased for a term of three years to J. W. Brown of Indiana who will run a bazaar.

Mrs. Solomon Johnson died last Sunday night at her home near the lake shore at the age of 75 years. She was born in London, England, and lived in this country for 22 years. For a number of years she taught school. Mrs. Johnson is survived by her husband and by three children of her first husband, Arie, Thomas and Robert Brock. All of the sons live in New York. The funeral services were held Thursday, Rev. A. T. Luther officiating.

Dr. G. J. Kollen has returned from an eastern trip, taken in the interests of Hope College. It was his good fortune to be in the city of New York on election night and he had a chance to see how the Gothomites act on occasions of this kind. He said that Madison Square was a roaring, seething mass of excited and enthusiastic humanity and joy over the victory of Roosevelt was simply maddening. The crowd, withal, was good natured and orderly and it's good feeling was so contagious that everybody partook of the good cheer regardless of politics, age or sex.

According to the new schedule which went into effect on the G. R. H. & C. interurban this week, the Grand Rapids cars will run only to the west limits of the city, and not to the park as formerly. The steamboat car leaving Grand Rapids at 8 p. m. has also been taken off, and the regular cars carry boat passengers. The Saugatuck cars will leave Holland hereafter as follows: At 5:20 a. m., 7:30 a. m., and thereafter every two hours until 9:30 p. m. The Saugatuck cars will run to the park and back to the junction and then to Saugatuck. Returning they will run from the junction to the park before coming to Holland. Outside of these changes the schedule on the main line remains as heretofore.

The proposition to have a public celebration and a big street blow out at Spring Lake when the new electric light plant is completed is being agitated. The idea is to have a band and street parade speeches and a general jollification.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterline of Grand Haven have decided that they do not want to separate. Consequently the bill for divorce by Mrs. Peterline and her husband's cross bill have been withdrawn, and they declare that they are happier than ever before.

The M. E. Ladies "Fair" promises to be a success, as articles of various description are beginning to arrive. The material for the Ladies Home Journal booth is here. This alone will be well worth coming to see. But each of the seven other booths will be equally as interesting and attractive. Remember the dates—Dec. 8th, 9th and 10th.

A classical fellowship has just been awarded to John G. Winter of Holland by the U. of M. Mr. Winter graduated from Hope college in 1901 and last year received an A. M. degree from Michigan university. His valedictory address, delivered when he was graduated from Hope, will long be remembered as the most eloquent and able of closing addresses. State Game and Fish Warden Chapman announced last Monday night that he had formally dismissed Chief Deputy Charles E. Brewster from the service and had appointed Charles K. Hoyt, ex-county clerk of Ottawa county and ex-mayor of Grand Haven, to the position. Mr. Chapman gave as his reason the large expense account of Brewster, which he deemed too great for the demands of the office. Mr. Hoyt has been a member of the game wardens department for nearly two years and his promotion to a more lucrative position is merited on account of his excellent services.

Rev. Manning will preach at the M. E. church next Sunday morning and evening, providing the pastor doesn't return.

Rev. John Vander Meulen delivered the opening sermon at Miss Churchford's new mission hall in the Slag & Zuidewind block Tuesday night.

Holland's postal receipts for the year ending June 30 amounted to $15,118.64, Coopersville $2,263.65, Zeeland $2,736.61, Grand Haven $9,734.69.

Judge Padgham will be in Grand Haven one week from Monday to hold circuit court. The jury is ordered to report on November 21, for the criminal and civil jury cases.

Chas. DuShane of near Agnew brought to town today a potato grown on his farm which weighs three pounds and eleven ounces thereby beating the monster potato grown by Tom Sheehan. When it comes to growing potatoes Grand Haven soil is all right.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Plans have been prepared by J. H. Daverman & Son for a two-story brick addition, 60x120 feet, which the Zeeland Furniture company will build in connection with its big plant. Zeeland Record—On the basis of representation adopted by the last republican convention Zeeland will have 20 delegates and Holland township 16 which is the same as heretofore, while Holland city will have 37, being six less than formerly. Such are the results of treason to a party candidate. Bad trees never bear good fruit.

A smooth talker is traveling over the upper counties and to all appearances he is getting up a directory of the rural routes. He gets ads. from merchants to help pay for the publication, promising them the support of the patrons in proportion to their help. Then he sells the directories to the mail order houses, who flood the country with their catalogues. This is a neat scheme to get the home merchant to pay for a list that is intended to benefit the mail-order houses only.

Governor Bliss has ordered proceedings commenced for the removal from office of Edward Bensley, sheriff of Allegan county, and they will be instituted before Judge of Probate Williams at Allegan, November 22. Charges of "general misconduct on the part of the sheriff are brought, and on preliminary inquiry the governor thinks that the removal proceedings are warranted. One case in particular that was alleged was that of a young girl whom the sheriff and a deputy had in custody in Chicago. It is claimed that the deputy abused the girl.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Thompson, of Lillydale, N.Y., Grand Worthy Wise Templar, and Member of W.C.T.U., tells how she recovered by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am one of the many of your grateful friends who have been cured through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and who can to-day thank you for the fine health I enjoy. When I was thirty-five years old, I suffered severe backache and frequent bearing-down pains; in fact, I had womb trouble. I was very anxious to get well, and reading of the cures your Compound had made, I decided to try it. I took only six bottles, but it built me up and cured me entirely of my troubles."

"My family and relatives were naturally as gratified as I was. My niece had heart trouble and nervous prostration, and was considered incurable. She took your Vegetable Compound and it cured her in a short time, and she became well and strong, and her home to her great joy and her husband's delight was blessed with a baby. I know of a number of others who have been cured of different kinds of female trouble, and am satisfied that your Compound is the best medicine for sick women."—Mrs. ELIZABETH H. THOMPSON, Box 105, Lillydale, N.Y.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

DECLARE KUROKI HAS BEEN KILLED

RUSSIAN ADVICES SAY JAPANESE COMMANDER WAS SLAIN BY BURSTING SHELL.

Story Pronounced Absurd by Army Staff at Tokio—Gen. Stoessel in Hospital at Port Arthur as a result of Wound.

Moscow, Nov. 14.—Nemirovich Danchenko, the well-known Russian war correspondent, telegraphing from Mukden, says the reports of the death of Gen. Kuroki are confirmed. According to his version a splinter from a shell struck Gen. Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast and abdomen. He died October 4 at Liaoyang, and his body was sent to Japan. A rumor is persistently circulated that a kinsman of the mikado, Siasandi, literally "Little Third Prince," has been appointed to succeed Gen. Kuroki. The actual command of the army, however, has been intrusted to Gen. Nodzu.

Report Is Denied.
Tokio, Nov. 15.—The army staff says the story that Gen. Kuroki is dead is absurd.

Gen. Stoessel Wounded.
Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army Before Port Arthur, Nov. 16, via Fusan.—It is reported that a wound received by Gen. Stoessel has necessitated his confinement in a hospital, that he refused to relinquish the command of the garrison, and that he has issued orders to the troops to die at their posts rather than surrender. It is said that the spirit of the Russian troops has been dampened by continuous work, the lack of supplies and the hopelessness of their ability to make any successful defense of the fortress. It is said further that many of the Russian soldiers are ready to surrender, but that they are kept at their posts by officers, who threaten them with revolvers and that several soldiers who were suspected of a desire to desert have been shot as a warning to others. The Japanese now believe that the garrison has almost reached the limit of human endurance.

Tunnel Up to Forts.

London, Nov. 14.—That the main defenses at Port Arthur will be carried by the Japanese at the next assault, if they have not fallen already, is indicated by a belated dispatch from Gen. Nogi's headquarters. A correspondent declares that the siege preparations are complete and have been of the most thorough character. The rocky hills have been tunneled with the most arduous labor until the Japanese works extend to within 100 yards of the parapets of the forts. Through these tunnels the Japanese can march to the fortifications without losing a man and avoid the fire which has exterminated their regiments in nearly all the previous assaults.

Furious Bombardment.

Mukden, Nov. 13, via Tientsin, Nov. 15.—An unbroken cannonade of siege guns, throwing 50 or 60 shells hourly against the Japanese position in the region of Shakhe station, begun early this morning, ended only at nightfall, when more than half a thousand big contact shells had been thrown into the Japanese army's strongest position in the plain, for the purpose of demoralizing the work of fortification concentrate! at that point for the past four weeks.

The "Yellowstone park coach," that has been utilized by President Francis in showing distinguished visitors over the exposition grounds, was waiting in front of the administration building, and after the world's fair officials had met Senator Fairbanks and the informal reception had concluded, he was escorted to the four-in-hand coach. ## A Little Wide of the Mark

Shots fired by politically inclined people in different parts of the county and aimed at the republicans of Holland have struck a little wide of the mark to say the least. In these shots many have voiced sentiments similar to those that appeared in the Zeeland Record last week, portions of which sentiments are copied in this issue of the News. The burden of the whole refrain of these critically inclined is to the effect that Holland gave Fred Kamferbeek a majority over Jesse Woodbury because Holland was "sore" on account of the turn-down received by the Holland delegation at the last county convention. Nothing can be farther from the truth. It would be exceedingly difficult to find in this city one man who voted for Kamferbeek because he was sore on Woodbury or on the failure of the candidates for the nomination for prosecuting attorney or for sheriff to secure a place on the ticket.

Kamferbeek's vote can be explained by saying that in the first place he received his heavy majority because it is customary for many of the Holland people to stand to a certain extent by a Holland man in preference to others, and in the second place because he has a large personal following. It should not be forgotten that Kamferbeek at different times in this city has been pulled through by his personal following even when pitted against a Holland man. And if he has distanced Holland men in a political race in his own town there is nothing marvelous in the fact that he has distanced a resident of another part of the county in political vote getting in his own city.

Recognition of Mr. Diekema's Services in Campaign

No man did more for the success of the republican ticket in this state than did G. J. Diekema, chairman of the republican state central committee, and it is gratifying to the people of Holland to note the words of praise coming from all sections of the state. Some of the opinions of his excellent work follow: Says Homer Warren, treasurer of the republican state central committee:

"We have just ended the most economical campaign that was ever made by the Republicans in this state in a presidential year. Of the funds which we had, not a dollar came from the national committee and not a cent from the railroads. It was all raised in Michigan and subscribed by the business men of Detroit and other parts of the state. Too much praise cannot be given Chairman Diekema and Secretary Alward for their business like administration of the campaign. Their conception of politics is entirely removed from any corrupt use of money. Money has been used by them only for legitimate purposes and any proposition in the nature of buying or corruption has not been given a minute's consideration."

Dennis Alward, secretary of the committee, says: The work of such a man as Gerrit J. Diekema cannot be overestimated. There never has been a moment when he was not in complete touch with the situation in every part of the state and directing with wisdom and integrity every move.

The Allegan Gazette has the following, and to the sentiment expressed the people of Holland will give hearty indorsement: "Mr. Diekema will return to Holland this week with the prestige of having conducted the most brilliant campaign in the history of the Republican party of Michigan. Incidentally he may consider himself entered in the race of 1908 for the governorship of Michigan with first-class chances of taking the pole at the start and distancing the field at the finish. He can set down 'Allegan county, eighteen' for announcement at the beginning of the roll-call."

The Detroit Journal is emphatic in its praise of Mr. Diekema. It has the following: "Mr. Diekema not only assumed the detailed direction of the fight in behalf of Republicanism, but took an active part in the campaign from the stump, visiting every section and practically every county in the entire state. His knowledge of sentiment in the party and of the shifts it underwent during the progress of the campaign of 1904 is not equalled by that of any other man. This is a knowledge that ought to be of great advantage to the Warner administration. In the consideration of all matters of policy in which questions of fact as to state sentiment are involved, Gov. Warner will find no safer counsellor than Chairman G. J. Diekema."

G. J. Houting Writes About Quarantine Enforcement.

Holland, Mich., Nov. 15, 1904. Holland City News

Mr. Editor: A great many have said that the smallpox cases have not been looked after right and that the doctors and the health officer do not enforce the quarantine. Some have said that the family of Gerrit J. Houting does not keep the quarantine. About this I will say that if there is any one in this city or anywhere else that can prove that my family or I have not obeyed the rules of quarantine I will give $10 to any charitable purpose named. The facts are these:

A little over three weeks ago my wife was taken with smallpox. Soon after one of the boys became a little feverish. Dr. A. Leenhouts was called in, as was also the health officer and they said it was smallpox. The morning after the doctors told my wife the boy had smallpox I called to go in the house but my wife rapped on the window and told me not to enter. I did not and I have not been in the house since. Soon after my wife was afflicted with the disease the doctor was called to vaccinate me and my eight children. The boy who afterward had smallpox was feverish then and was not vaccinated. The other children and myself were and none of these seven children nor I have caught the disease. I have not been at home since the smallpox has been at my house. The children have been at home all the time and any report that they or I have broken the rules is untrue. And still people say the quarantine is not enforced. If they can prove it there is $10 waiting for charity. But they cannot do so. Dr. A. Leenhouts as my physician, and Dr. H. Kremers as health officer have done fine work and have taken all precautions to prevent the spread of the disease and to enforce the rules and right here I want to say good words for them for they deserve them. No doctors in the country could do better. Hoping you will publish this in contradiction to those who say things that are not so I remain,

Respectfully
Gerrit J. Houting
89 West Ninth Street, Holland.

Dr. Kremers Tells Of Smallpox Conditions.

To The Editor of the Holland City News. With your permission I shall occupy a small space in reference to the outbreak of small pox. So far no new cases have been reported this week, and those sick are all recovering. Of the infected houses four have been fumigated and I hope to fumigate another Saturday this week. So I can report progress. Still we are not at all sure that the spread will stop, as the disease is very prevalent all over the state. The last report was that the disease was present in 79 places in the state. Chicago reports that small-pox is present to an alarming extent. The close contact with different places makes it always a source of danger of spreading the disease. I would further state that of all the cases reported so far to the local Board of Health only one had been vaccinated and that perhaps forty or fifty years ago. I was told by the attending physician that it was a mild case.

The health authorities from Chicago report that all the cases reported were cases that had not been vaccinated. I let the readers of this article draw their own conclusions. I am sorry that all kind of stories are being circulated as to the great dangers of vaccination. From an estimate should say 2000 people in this city have been vaccinated in the last four weeks while some have been sick and out of their occupation for a few days, nothing very serious has occurred. The slight annoyance of vaccination ought not to be considered in what it will do to prevent the disease of small pox.

H. Kremers M. D.
Health Officer.

General Items.

Work was started on Muskegon's new life saving station Monday. Bennett & Schnorbach, sub-contractors for the pile driving, already have men engaged on the ground. A pile driver has been towed from Ludington. Last week a barge brought the material over from Chicago.

Joseph Smith of Galesburg today completed what is believed to be the greatest "stunt" in the potato digging line ever presented in the state. With only a fork and his two hands Mr. Smith has this year brought to the surface and kept two men busy picking them up 3,500 bushels of the tubers. 1,900 bushels were a part of the crop of one farmer of that vicinity.

An order has been received in Saginaw for the re-lettering of the cars on the Pere Marquette road with the initials of the consolidated roads. The passenger cars will bear the letters, "C. H. & D. P. M. System" in large black letters and the letters "P. M." in smaller letters will be placed at the ends of the cars. On the freight cars the main label will be a big one, the lettering being in the shape of an oval. On the top will be "C. H. & D. P. M. System" and in the under curve will be "Great Central Route." The lettering of the cars will be done only as they pass through the car shops for repairs and none will be taken out of service.

A school teacher in Flynn township took an unruly pupil across her knee and paddled him until his pants fairly smoked. This is no joke. The boy had a hip pocket well filled with matches, which ignited under the pressure of the paddle, and a small conflagration was only averted by pouring a dipper of water in his pocket.—Lexington News.

"Who Is Sore"?

The Zeeland Record goes after some of the Holland republicans in warm style in last week's issue. In an article headed "Who Is Sore" it says:

After our last Rep. County Convention the Holland and Grand Haven papers insisted that Zeeland went home feeling "very sore" over the defeat of its candidate for Pros. Attorney, but that there was "not a sore spot on Holland." It was not true and the election has proven it. Zeeland was not sore over its defeat but it was mightily sore over the ingratitude and treachery of Holland. Notwithstanding Mr. Sooy's defeat we stood manfully by Mr. Pagelsen and gave him 459 majority, the same as other Republican candidates. How was it in Holland? Election day showed so many sore spots there that you could scarcely find a straight Republican. Every man was as sore as Job in the worst period of his affliction."

C. Van Loo, Zeeland's leading republican, also comes out with a stinging upbraiding of those who extended aid to Kamferbeek. Some of his attacks follow:

"Why should we Republicans desert our candidate, one of the finest men of Ottawa Co., and vote for a man training with the Free Trade, Free Silver, whiskey crew? It requires an inordinate amount of assurance and heretofore unheard of quality of political brass to ask Zeeland to vote for a Democrat from Holland. We had to hold our noses voting for the Republicans from Holland on our ticket, to say nothing of a Democrat. And yet several hundreds of so-called Republicans in Holland city and town voted for this man and betrayed their party associate. Shame on them. At our conventions Holland always demands the lion's share of the offices, sits down on our loyal township and then votes the Democratic ticket. It is time that the townships combine against Holland and teach it a lesson in modesty and party fealty and political morality."

Holland's Biggest Poultry Show.

What will undoubtedly be the largest poultry show ever held in Holland and the second largest poultry show ever held in the state will be the annual exhibition to be given December 20 to 24, inclusive, by the Holland Poultry & Pet Stock association at the Slagh & Zuidewind building.

For the premium lists, which have recently been issued, over 200 inquiries have already been received by L. S. Sprietsma, the secretary. The best breeders in the state are showing great interest, particularly those at Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Allegan and Kalamazoo, and those cities will be represented by their choicest fowls. One breeder from Kalamazoo will show 20 birds here and Chicago will be represented by several birds. The home breeders are not a whit behind the outsiders and a show that will eclipse all others will surely be the result.

Charles McClave, of New London, Ohio, superintendent of the water fowl department of the Columbian exposition, will score the birds.

C. St. Clair will be the pet stock judge and F. S. Kleyn will be judge's clerk. The officers of the Holland Poultry & Pet Stock association are:

President—J. B. Hadden.
Vice President—L. D. Viissers.
Secretary—L. S. Sprietsma.
Assist. Sec.—R. Westveld.
Treasurer—Ralph Westvelt.
Superintendent—John Buchanan.
Executive committee—J. P. Simpson, J. L. Conkey, Jacob Westveld, Wm. Viissers, J. C. Viissers, and Jacob Zuidewind.

Death of W. J. Scott.

W. J. Scott, one of the best known and most prominent of the old residents of this city, died yesterday afternoon at his home, corner of Ninth street and Columbia Avenue, after about a years illness, at the age of 79 years.

Mr. Scott was born in Zanesville, Ohio, and his life was an eventful one. In his early struggles against the world his journeys took him to nearly every corner of the United States and his experiences were many and interesting. He was employed on the Erie canal a number of years, and was captain of the first steam craft on the canal. He learned the printers trade in Owosso and was the editor of the Owosso paper in 1846.

In 1860 Mr. Scott came here. He opened the first American hotel in this city, in a building opposite the site now occupied by the Ottawa Furniture factory. He ran it for three years and then he and the late George Shipp, ex-city clerk, started in the business of manufacturing sashes, doors and blinds near the building now occupied by J. Flieman's blacksmith shop. After continuing in this business for nearly four years, Mr. Scott opened a planing mill on the present site of the Ottawa Furniture factory. Later he formed a co-partnership with R. K. Heald and they started a planing, sash, door and blind mill and lumber yard on the corner of Tenth and River streets. They were in this business for thirteen years. Then Mr. Scott opened a small hotel on the corner of Ninth street and Columbia avenue, which he ran for several years, and which he used as a residence ever since. In 1881 he opened the Macatawa Park hotel, being the 1st Prop. At the end of two years he built the hotel at Jenison Park and remained there until 1886 when he went to the Ottawa Beach hotel, being its second landlord. After a year at Ottawa Beach he retired from active business and since then spent his time at his home in Holland and at his summer home at Jenison Park. He owned considerable real estate at the park and his late years were given to the handling of it and to the improving of his property.

At the time of the big fire Mr. Scott was alderman of the 2nd ward and during the stirring times when the school board was reorganized he took an important part and was one of the men elected to the new board. He refused a re-election but was appointed to a second term and after the expiration of that served several other terms. He ran for the legislature on the democratic ticket at one time and was defeated by but five votes in the face of a heavy republican majority that defeated the rest of the democratic ticket by majorities ranging from 500 to 700.

Besides his wife, Mr. Scott is survived by his son, W. Preston Scott, a dentist in this city, by a brother, Grant Scott, sr., of this city and by a sister, Mrs. William Leonard of Fenton.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the house, under the auspices of the Masonic Fraternity.

The 13-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Vander Brink, living on the farm of George W. Straight at Alpena Beach was badly scalded Saturday afternoon and for a time it was thought she would not recover from her injuries.

How glad it is at night,
When every flutter of each wing
Seems telling its delight!
It zooms about from place to place
Upon its happy trip,
Until against a wall its face
Goes, with a sounding "Bip!"

We trace its progress by its bumps
As well as by its whizz.
How often some one quickly jumps
And cries: "Hark! There it is!"
And then we hear its "b-z-z-z um-m-m bum-m-m."
And mark its rise and dip
Until misfortune stills its hum—
It strikes the wall with "Bip!"

Vain man is like this bug of June
Which bips against the wall;
He may fly high, but pretty soon
He's sure to have a fall.
'Tis pessimistic so to write,
But fate is sure to nip
The man some luckless day or night—
He'll hit the wall with "Bip!"

How idle, then, the pride of man!
He does not know there are
About him, built with cunning plan,
The walls whereon he'll jar.
He does not know—and so he scoots
Until he's lost his grip,
And then the crowd that's watching hoots
An echo to his "Bip!"

But, this the June bug teaches up—
This lesson for all men:
"When bitter fate has bipped you thus,
Rise up and bip again!"
Hard luck can never truly say
It has you on the hip.
Be like the June bug. Then you may
Try for another "Bip!"

AT CLOSE OF DAY

By SARA LINDSAY COLEMAN

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

THE big, many-pillared old mansion sat back from the wide, unpaved street in the beautiful seclusion of its towering, glistening magnolia trees. The door stood wide open to the misty early spring night that was settling down over the town, and Fletcher, who had been standing hesitatingly on the threshold that had sheltered so many generations of dead and gone Fletchers, half afraid that the quiet portended something that he refused to let take shape in his mind, stumbled into the shadowed interior to find it deserted, and went on with slow painful steps up the familiar stairway and down the wide, long hall, led, it almost seemed, by subtle, unseen, compelling hands. He stopped before a door, half ajar, and leaned there heavily—one who had come far and reached his journey's end.

The white, wasted little form of his child was held by a capped and aproned woman, who rocked him softly back and forth as she sat in a low chair by the fire.

The room was in shadow, and the child gazed dreamily into the fire flames to murmur: "Nurse, I 'members—"

"What, little one?"
"That's you's muddle. Muddle," a contented little hand went up to her cheek.

The woman gave a little gasping cry that was stifled in her birth.

The child had said those words before to wring that cry from her. Once with the little betraying cry on her lips she had slipped from the child's room to have the doctor's comment follow her going with: "She's losing her nerve—a capital nurse, too—she's too intense, too in sympathy with the little chap. She couldn't feel it more if he were her own. And that, by the way, is what I want to ask you, Mrs. Fletcher, where is the child's mother?" But Mrs. Fletcher had stiffened visibly and swept her proud, unbending old figure out of the doctor's presence.

"I fought you went to Heaven," the boy went on. "Don't muddle's ever go to Heaven? When I worried my granle, she said they didn't. Then what do little boys do wifout 'em?"

The woman's hand closed the questioning mouth. "Go to sleep, my lamb," she entreated, and at the sound of her voice Fletcher's shaking hand went out and grasped the door for support.

The boy stared up into the lovely face touched by the fireglow. In the days and nights just gone through with she had never left him. Always she had leaned over him, giving him medicine, putting ice on his head, rubbing him and calling to him in soft, breathless whispers, and pulling him back from the black rolling waters into which his tired little body wanted to slip.

"Muddle."
The woman roused herself with an effort. "Daddy's coming," she said, gaily. "He's coming just as big as the big boat will bring him. The doctor sent over the sea to tell him that his sick little boy needed him, and when he finds his little son so lonely he'll never go away and leave him again—never."
"And will you stay ven?"

The woman kissed the questioning mouth.

"Why, you see," she began, with a brave attempt at mirth, "there are so many little boys that are sick; nurse must go back and take care of them."

"Muddle, muddle!" the child turned in her arms and flung himself upon her in a strangling embrace. He began to cry piteously: "Stay wif your little boy," he begged.

"My baby, my baby!" the woman cried, gaspingly.

But the child, comforted by her warm nearness to him, had crept to her shoulder and nestled down in sleepy content.

The woman, her fair head bent low, crooned a lullaby as she rocked the child softly back and forth. The fire flared and sent strange, unearthly shadows swaying softly on the walls. It showed the mother's face tremulous with unshed tears; it showed Fletcher's eyes hungry, as one who hungers for bread just beyond reach.

Suddenly Fletcher crossed the room and dropped on his knees beside the quiet figure.

"Oh," she said, and she showed no surprise; "I knew that you would come. I never meant to come here to your home, but I had to—I couldn't endure it. Don't leave him again. He needs you—the poor baby. His grandmother doesn't understand him, and then," with a little unmitigated laugh, "she can't forgive him that he's mine. Do you remember how I fretted that she would never recognize me—never meet a daughter of the people—and because of that I have been able to come here and snatch him from death for you. Life's too big for us to understand, isn't it?" She smiled wistfully. "Rob," she said, softly, "I know now that I did wrong—that it was I who was in the wrong."

The man's face suddenly became as a mask of stone, its lines fixed and rigid.

The woman shrank from him. "You doubt me still," she cried. "I want nothing from you—I loathe the money you have wanted me to use, but you shall believe in me. You shall," looking into his unyielding eyes. "I did wrong," she said again. "I think you would have let me explain, but I was too hurt to want to explain. I was young and foolish and intolerant, and so I slipped away; it was an act of guilt, wasn't it? You thought it guilt, and covered my going to save the good old name. I don't know how I ever did it—it tore my heart strings, the going."

Fletcher leaned nearer and nearer, his hot eyes upon her fire-lit face, searching it, piercing through it to what lay beyond.

The fire's soft querulousness and the child's breathing were the only sounds in the quiet room as his eyes held hers.

"You believe," she cried, breathlessly; "you don't understand even yet, but you believe in me."

"I believe," he said, solemnly.

"And I have suffered so! It was such a trifle to bring such bitterness and sorrow. I don't know why I didn't make you listen to the truth that night; I don't know why I stole away like a thief. I was such a child, Rob, and I was bewildered. I wanted to die. Your scorn cut like a lash; your doubt—Rob, Rob," she cried, "don't you know yet? It was all make-believe. It was a play I was rehearsing with him—none of the others could take the part—don't you remember my talent for the stage—and your doubt of me—"

But Fletcher had drawn her into the shelter of his arms.

The child stirred, woke, sat up and

HE DROPPED ON HIS KNEES.

looked at Fletcher with big, wondering eyes. "Daddy," he said, uncertainly; "daddy."

Fletcher kissed him, a sudden mist before his eyes.

The wan little arm stole about his throat, the other was about the neck of the hospital nurse. "Kiss muddle," he commanded.

The man's lips closed on the woman's trembling mouth.

When the fire flared up again Fletcher was saying: "And to think the little chap remembered that old trick of making us kiss each other, Martha. Why, it's been—"

"An eternity, as hearts count. He's a baby still," she said, and it has been two years—doesn't it take them a long time to lose their baby ways," she smiled at him with the old smile brim full of love and trust.

"Martha, Martha," hoarsely, "what if you hadn't become a nurse? What if you hadn't come to our boy?"

"How futile," she said. "I meant to leave before you came, and you would never have mounted those steps if you had known that I was at the end of the journey, and so things were taken out of our hands."

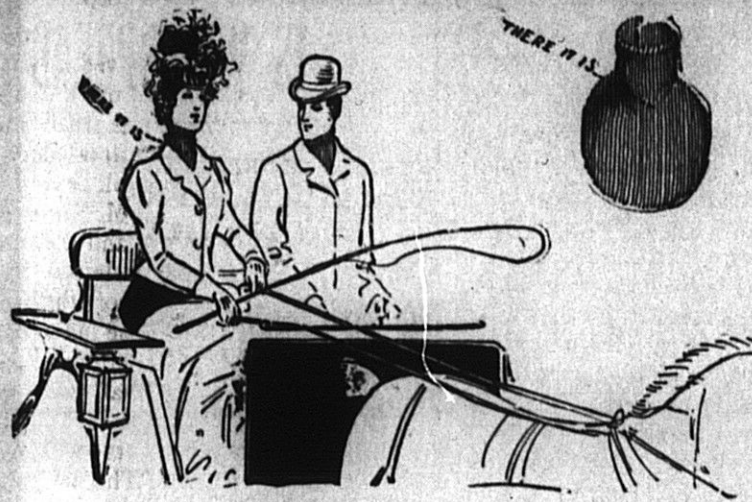

"It was destiny," Fletcher said. "Oh, no," gently, "not fate; just God's planning."

FATAL TO NOXIOUS WEEDS.

Kerosene or Salt Will Effectually Exterminate the Pestsiferous Dandelion.

Owners of lawns and grass plots have great trouble every year in keeping them free from the pestsiferous dandelion. A benevolent citizen who has experienced lots of this trouble writes to say that many people bring more of this trouble on themselves by trying to exterminate dandelions by cutting the plant off just below the ground. A great deal of this is done early in the spring by people collecting young dandelion plants for "greens," they being an excellent and wholesome pot herb. This, it is said, does not kill the plant, but causes each root to throw out several shoots, and thus multiplies the number of dandelions.

The correspondent mentioned writes to impress his fellow sufferers that if when they cut off the dandelion plant below the ground they will drop a pinch of salt or a tablespoonful of coal oil on the root left in the ground it will effectually kill it. This may seem a troublesome job, but to one who is set on keeping his grass plot clear of dandelions it will in the end save a lot of trouble.

GAMBLING HOUSE HELD UP Make It Public.

DARING DESPERADOES SECURE LARGE SUM OF MONEY.

Men Who Plundered Cody, Wyo., Bank Two Weeks Ago, Commit Another Crime.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 16.—A special to the Bee from Cheyenne, Wyo., says: The two bandits who made a descent on the First National bank of Cody two weeks ago and killed Cashier Middaugh, committed another bold robbery early Tuesday, when they held up the inmates of Edwards' saloon and gambling house at Thermopolis, Big Horn county, and secured a large sum of money, watches and jewelry. The outlaws wore masks, but were recognized as George Merritt and his partner, who killed Middaugh. They were mounted on fast horses and escaped to the Bad Lands along the Big Horn river, south of Thermopolis. Posses were quickly organized and started in pursuit, but the robbers reached the mountains ahead of them.

These desperadoes doubled back on their trail from the Hole-in-the-Wall country after the Cody robbery and took refuge into the Owl mountains, south of Thermopolis, where the officers had prepared to capture them. Feeling runs high in Big Horn county and if the desperadoes are ever captured they will be punished without waiting for the courts to convict them. The rewards have been increased and additional posses will go in search of the daring desperadoes.

An additional report says the hold-up at Edward's saloon was a most bold and daring affair. The two robbers entered the place, each heavily armed, and ordered everybody to hold up their hands. This the occupants of the place did and they were lined up. One of the robbers cowed the customers, while the other went through their pockets. The report also says that a large sum of money was secured, although the exact sum is not known.

RETAIN DEATH PENALTY.

Bill for Abolishment of Capital Punishment in Vermont Killed in the Legislature.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 16.—By a vote of 153 to 83 the house of representatives after a spirited debate on Tuesday refused to pass a third reading and so defeated the bill to abolish capital punishment in the state. There was much interest in Tuesday's action of the house because of the bill now in committee to commute the death sentence of Mrs. Mary A. Rogers to ten years' imprisonment. Mrs. Rogers was convicted of the murder of her husband, Marcus H. Rogers, and sentenced to be hanged on February 5, 1905. In spite of the sentiment expressed in the house by Tuesday's vote it is said that the bill in behalf of Mrs. Rogers will be reported soon, and a determined fight made to save her life. Although the Vermont legislature has long stood for capital punishment, it has frequently commuted death sentences to a life imprisonment, three such sentences being commuted at the last session.

The last execution of a woman in this state took place 20 years ago, when Mrs. Meeker, of Waterbury, was put to death for the murder of her child. The murder of Rogers as told on the stand by Leon Perham, the confessed accomplice of Mrs. Rogers, and who was sentenced to life imprisonment, was conceived and accomplished with peculiar cunning and cruelty. Mrs. Rogers was in love with a third man and took advantage of Perham's love for her to do away with her husband. According to confession, Perham and the woman bound Rogers' arms and then she held a handkerchief soaked with chloroform over his mouth and nostrils until he was dead.

Prince Visits Points of Interest.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Prince Fushimi Wednesday visited the capitol, the congressional library, the Washington monument and several other points of interest. He was escorted by Assistant Secretary of State, Peirce and Col. Symonds, his special aide while in this country, and was accompanied by his aides-de-camp. The carriage of the prince was followed by secret service men and surrounded by a guard of bicycle policemen.

Parker Opens Law Office.

New York, Nov. 16.—Ex-Judge Alton B. Parker, recent democratic candidate for president, opened a law office in the building at 32 Liberty street, in this city, Wednesday. At the same time he announced that he had become a resident of this city; that Mrs. Parker would join him here Wednesday and that they would at once secure a home in the city. He said that he had not entered into partnership with anyone and would practice law alone.

Must Undergo Another Operation.

London, Nov. 16.—A dispatch from Berlin says the condition of Emperor William is such that his physicians have advised him to abstain from all exertion, mental and physical. Another operation on the emperor is necessary. It is still uncertain whether his majesty will go to the south during the coming winter.

Actress Placed on Trial.

New York, Nov. 16.—Pale and nervous, but seemingly confident of an acquittal, Nan Patterson, the actress, came to trial Wednesday charged with the murder of Frank "Caesar" Young, bookmaker, in a cab last June. The young actress took a keen interest in the selection of a jury. The courtroom was crowded.

Death of a Woman Educator.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 16.—Miss Clara Conway, one of the best known woman educators in the south, is dead after an illness of several days.

Publicity Counts.—That's What the People Want.—Holland's Expression on the Subject.

Make it public. Tell the people about it. Gratitude promotes publicity. Grateful citizens talk. They tell their neighbors; tell their friends. The news is good to keep. "Bad backs are numerous. So few understand the cause. Many Holland people are learning. And, better still, they're being cured. Lame backs are lame no more. Weak ones regain their strength. This is the every day labor in Holland of Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are making it public. Here's a case of it:

Mrs. B. Volmarei, of No. 85 West 13th street, says: "My kidneys bothered me for years until the dull aching pains through my loins became almost constant. I easily tired and became stiff from sitting or lying in one position, for any length of time and I rose in the mornings feeling thoroughly unrested and devoid of energy. Often I could hardly stand up straight and I walked about in a stiffness position. There was also a stiffness and numbness in my limbs. I had seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and I got a box at J. O. Doesburg's drug store and commenced their use. The result was most gratifying, and in spite of my advanced age, I soon began to feel better. Aside from the natural stiffness of the joints in a person of my age, I feel splendid."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless. Positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

Itchiness of the skin, horrible plague. Must everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

A household necessity. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Heals burns cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by W. C. Walsh Druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles roc.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at W. C. Walsh Druggist.

DAMAGE BY STORM IS WIDESPREAD

FURIOUS HURRICANE SWEEPS ATLANTIC COAST FROM NORFOLK TO PORTLAND.

Big Cities Cut Off from Telegraphic Service and Otherwise Isolated—Business Suffers—Waves Washed Ashore in Maine.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The area isolated by an eastern storm and in which telegraph and telephone communication was rendered practically impossible, extends from Portland, Me., west to a point north and west of Albany, N. Y., thence south to Norfolk, Va., on a line running east of Harrisburg, Pa., and west of Washington. On all the great trunk lines, the wires along which are depended upon for communication between the east and west, from the New York Central at the north to the Baltimore & Ohio at the south, there are great gaps in which poles and strands for many miles are down. Trains and couriers were used to carry messages. One wire between New York and Baltimore, where connection was made with a telephone wire to Chicago, handled all the news that reached the west from the Atlantic coast Monday and most of Monday night.

Great Cities Isolated. New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, within the storm zone, were almost completely isolated from the rest of the country and from one another. Less important cities suffered as much in proportion to their interests. Wind, snow and sleet had prostrated telegraph and telephone lines, trolley service was almost at a standstill, electric lights were shut off, leaving many places in darkness, exchanges were idle, mails were delayed or stopped altogether, railroads operated with difficulty because of the lack of facilities for the handling of orders, business of all kinds suffered and much personal discomfort was endured.

Waves Blown Ashore. One of the most singular effects of the gale was reported from Pennville, Me., where a whale 80 feet long, was blown ashore. Unable to get back into deep water the great creature lay helpless on the beach and a bullet from a hunter's rifle ended its life.

THE TARIFF.

No Decision Reached by Republican Leaders as to Action by Congress.

Washington, Nov. 16.—No decision yet has been reached by the president and other republican leaders regarding possible action of congress on the subject of the tariff. It can be said authoritatively that no decision will be reached as to such action either at a regular or at an extraordinary session of the Fifty-ninth congress until the subject has been considered thoroughly by the president and his cabinet and his political friends in congress. The president is not bound by any preconceived views on the subject and is open to conviction as to the most desirable course to pursue. He is not inclined to favor an extraordinary session, either for the purpose of taking up the tariff or any other subject; but it is said to be too early yet even to indicate the determination which eventually will be reached.

Fire in Jersey City.

New York, Nov. 16.—A considerable quantity of dressed meats in cold storage was burned, much valuable property destroyed and many blocks along the water front threatened by a fire in the United stockyards in Jersey City Tuesday. Whether lives were lost is not yet known, but three watchmen employed in the building have not been accounted for. The damage is estimated at $100,000. The fire is thought to have been caused by an explosion of ammonia.

Retains Death Penalty.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 16.—A bill to abolish capital punishment in Vermont, upon which hung the life of Mary M. Rogers, of Bennington, was defeated in the house of representatives, the vote standing 83 for the bill to 153 against it. As a consequence the sentence of Mrs. Rogers, who was convicted of the murder of her husband and condemned to be hanged, will be carried out.

Train Crews Reduced.

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 16.—Following the plan recently adopted by many large railroad companies, the Erie has reduced its train crews, dispensing with one of the brakemen in each crew. This change is made for economy and also because the equipment of all trains with air brakes make it possible to handle them with less help.

Oysters Cause Typhoid.

Wellington, Kan., Nov. 16.—E. B. Wimer, cashier of the Wellington national bank, is dead of typhoid fever as the result of eating oysters at his sister's wedding several weeks ago. Thirty other guests were made ill and several may not recover.

Earthquakes in Mexico.

Mexico City, Nov. 16.—Earthquake shocks are reported from several points in the state of Jalisco. At the town of Autlan the walls of several buildings were cracked.

Victims of Tidal Wave.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—Reports from Kinnokeet, on the Carolina coast, tell of a tidal wave washing a house away Sunday. Two lives are known to have been lost.

Proverbs

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, i. e., a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 50c and $1.00; all druggists.

Although such simple mechanical devices as the Babcock milk tester and the Scovell sampling tube, both the inventions of state government experts and given freely without patent innumbrances to the world at large, have been in use for over ten years, how many dairies at this present day are equipped with them? asks Edmund Mitchell in Farm and Ranch. Now, what are the advantages gained by the use of these tests? If the entire milking from the herd had gone straight through the cream separator the dairyman would have known certainly his total production of butter. But he would have remained in blind ignorance as to the contribution made by each individual cow. Mere quantity of milk affords no guide, for the brim full pail may be much poorer in butter fat than the pail that is only three parts filled. In a word, only by the use of the tester is the farmer enabled to ascertain with certainty which are his most profitable cows. But it costs just as much to feed a poor cow as to feed a good cow. So he next proceeds gradually to weed out the unprofitable stock and, always testing, to replace them by better butter producing animals. This is scientific dairying pure and simple and is therefore the dairying that brings up the money returns year by year with assured regularity.

Washing Butter. Washing of butter may be omitted when pure water cannot be obtained. It is better to work the buttermilk out without washing than to attempt to use anything but the very best of water.

A Good Guernsey. Lady May of Elm Place, 12542, made her record as a two-year-old heifer, says American Cultivator. She was dropped May 2, 1890, and commenced her record Aug. 1, 1901, when she was two years and two months old. Her sire was Solomon F. II., who has two other daughters in the Advanced Register, Portia of Maplehurst, who until recently headed the list of records, with 11,622.65 pounds milk, 602.87 pounds butter fat, and Pride of Maplehurst, record 9,053.7 pounds milk, 446.52 pounds butter fat.

Quick Arrest

J. A. Gullledge of Verbena, Ala., was twice in the hospital from a severe case of piles causing 24 tumors. After doctors and all remedies failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly arrested further inflammation and cured him. It conquers aches and kills pain. 25c at W. C. Walsh Druggist.

WRECK ON THE WABASH.

Train Derailed in Outskirts of St. Louis, and Fourteen Persons Are Hurt.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—A north-bound Wabash passenger train was partially wrecked Sunday in the outskirts of North St. Louis, on a sharp curve of the belt line tracks of the Merchants' Terminal Railway association, near the west approach to the Merchants' bridge over the Mississippi, injuring 14 persons. The accident was caused by the wheels of the tender leaving the rails on the curve.

The injured are: Joseph Haines, engineer, Decatur, Ill., probably fatally scalded; J. D. Llewellyn, fireman, Decatur, scalded probably fatally; E. J. Birdseye, Silver Creek, N. Y., bruised; John Aeschelman, Monroe, Mich., hand broken; Mrs. W. C. Miller, Spokane, Wash., hand crushed; Wensel Schlegel, Black River Falls, Wis., knee fractured; William Reddick, Gibson, Ill., fractured skull, hip hurt; R. J. Lynch, St. Louis, back injured; Miss Alice Van Oedel, 936 Ashland street, Chicago, cuts; Mrs. Alma Price, Washington, D. C., sprains; S. J. DeVries, Chicago, back injured; Mrs. N. B. Marshall, Chicago; Robert Turner, cut and bruised; E. N. Magill, Chicago, express messenger, bruised.

WATSON GIVES HIS VIEWS.

Late Populist Candidate for President Issues a Statement—Scores Democracy.

New York, Nov. 15.—Thomas E. Watson, nominee of the people's party for president, gave out a statement telling why he suffered defeat at the polls Tuesday and what he intends to do in the future politically. He says that the real cause of Parker's crushing rout and his own small vote was owing to the fact that the radical democrats who had been waiting since 1893 to get a chance to crush Clevelandism saw their opportunity November 8 and did to Parker what they would have done to Cleveland in 1896 had he been the nominee instead of Bryan.

W. J. Bryan comes in for attention by Mr. Watson. He declares that the Nebraska leader, by heartily endorsing the Parker ticket, has tied his hands for the next four years, so far as new reforms are concerned, because the creed adopted at St. Louis last July must stand for the next four years.

Mr. Watson proposes as a remedy for the existing state of affairs to begin now to reorganize the people along the lines of Jeffersonian democracy. In that way he hopes to be successful in the campaign of 1908.

MANY BEQUESTS.

Will of Late E. M. Fowler, of Detroit, Disposes of Property Worth Millions.

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 16.—The will of the late Eldridge M. Fowler, of Detroit, Mich., who died at Pasadena, Cal., November 7, disposes of property worth many millions of dollars. To his widow is given $500,000 in cash and valuable real estate. Nearly a million dollars in cash is distributed among his two daughters, son-in-law and nephew. To Grace hospital, in Detroit, in which city Fowler formerly resided, $10,000 is given to aid in the work of educating and equipping worthy young women to become nurses. To the Protestant orphan asylum in Detroit is given a like amount, and to Pennington Seminary and Female Collegiate institute of the Methodist Episcopal church of New Jersey, $5,000.

BANK ROBBERED.

Safesblowers Clean Out Institution in Rio, Near Galesburg, Ill.—Secure $2,500.

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 14.—Eight men entered the bank of Rio, 12 miles north of here, Saturday morning, blew open the safe with nitroglycerin and got away with about $2,500, practically all the money in the institution. Several charges were exploded before the safe was forced open, badly wrecking the building. Sheriff Hurburn and deputies from this city traced the thieves to the railroad track, where all trace was lost. A special dispatch from St. Louis announces the arrest in that city of three suspects.

Caused Two Deaths.

RUSSIANS DESTROY THEIR OWN VESSEL

WARSHIP CARRIES DISPATCHES FOR THE CZAR TO CHEFOO, THEN IS BLOWN UP.

ELUDES JAP SHIPS AT PORT ARTHUR

Rumor That Gen. Stoessel Requests Instructions as to Surrender Denied at St. Petersburg—Garrison Reported in Desperate Straits.

Chefoo, Nov. 16.—The Russians have blown up the torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny which arrived here early Wednesday with dispatches from Gen. Stoessel for the czar.

The Russians, with the exception of one man, left the destroyer during the afternoon. This last man lit fuses and blew up the vessel. There were three dull explosions, which were scarcely discernible a hundred yards from the place where they occurred.

Almost simultaneously the Rastoropny sunk and settled on the bottom. A single spar marks her grave.

Ordered to Destroy Vessel. It was learned authoritatively on Wednesday night that the Rastoropny carried sealed orders providing that, unless there came a highly favorable opportunity to escape, the vessel should be blown up. Sufficient powder for this purpose was secreted before the destroyer left Port Arthur.

Small charges of ordinary powder, placed in each of the five water-tight compartments, were exploded. It is believed that the Russians determined not to allow a repetition of the Rye-shiteini incident. Prior to the destruction of the destroyer the Russian consul had officially notified the Japanese consul that her disarmament had been completed, the breech blocks and ammunition having been removed and the machinery disabled.

GEN. STOESEL.
(Russian Commander at Port Arthur Who Was Wounded.)

It is rumored that the Russian destroyer brought a dispatch from Gen. Stoessel asking the St. Petersburg authorities for instructions as to whether he should continue to hold out, awaiting relief, or make immediate arrangements with the Japanese for surrender upon the most advantageous terms.

Left in Blinding Storm. Commander Pelem, of the Rostoropny, in an interview on his adventurous voyage, said:

"I left Port Arthur at midnight in a blinding snowstorm. The boat was navigated through all the dangers of floating mines without a mishap. On reaching the open sea we saw a Japanese cruiser and some torpedo boats in the distance, but we were steaming rapidly through the storm with lights extinguished and passed them unnoticed. We reached Chefoo without mishap of any kind."

No Thought of Surrender. St. Petersburg, Nov. 16.—It was learned from a high-placed general, who was with the emperor Wednesday afternoon and who knows the contents of Gen. Stoessel's message, that all the talk about Gen. Stoessel asking for instructions to surrender is absolutely false. He said he was not at liberty to disclose the nature of Gen. Stoessel's report, but he remarked:

"Only when the last biscuit is eaten and the last cartridge fired will the garrison surrender the fortress. This I can state positively."

Considering the authority the general's words may be accepted as a reflection of the views of the emperor himself. The general further stated that the surrender report was all the more ridiculous as several vessels had broken the blockade and reprovisioned the garrison.

Rations Reduced.

Spies and Russians who have surrendered report that rations in the fortress have been reduced. The wounded found by the Japanese are emaciated. Russian artillery shells are made partly of wood and do not explode. This shows that the Russians are short of material for making heavy ammunition. The capture of the eastern fortified ridge will mean the surrender of the fortress in a couple of weeks unless the garrison there retires to the isolated forts. This seems improbable, however, and cold weather and the lack of food and ammunition render desperate resistance unlikely.

A FATHER'S EXPERIENCE.

Trying to Give His Little Girl Cod Liver Oil—Says He Had Regular Circus.

An interesting incident was told by a man in Con De Pree's drug store the other evening.

The man came in and bought a bottle of Vinol, and while waiting for change engaged the clerk in conversation.

Said he: "We were told to give our little girl cod liver oil. I bought a bottle and took it home. We had a regular circus trying to get the child to take it. Then it did not agree with her at all, the oil upset her stomach. She did not get any better, so I told the doctor how we had failed, and he at once recommended your Vinol, saying that it contained all of the curative, healing and strengthening properties of cod liver oil without a drop of oil, and that children all love it."

"I took home a bottle and we began to give it to our child right away. Almost from the first dose we noticed a change, and she has gained flesh, strength and appetite and sleeps well every night."

"I don't believe any one should give a delicate child old-fashioned, nauseating cod liver oil or emulsions when Vinol is so delicious, and it will do so much more good than any other tonic. It is simply a wonderful medicine for weak, puny children, and I am recommending it to my friends."

We guarantee Vinol will make puny children strong, robust and rosy, strengthen and invigorate old people and build up the run down, tired and debilitated as nothing else can. If it fails we willingly return every dollar paid for it. Con De Pree Druggist.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indigestion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me, sneered at my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through my nerves. I was cured mentally, physically and sexually. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

The biggest family of today, according to a French authority, belongs to the king of Siam. This monarch has two official wives, 80 more of a minor order, and his children numbered, a few years ago, no fewer than 72. Dr. Minor C. Baldwin, the world's famous pipe organist fairly astonished a large audience at Hope church last Tuesday night by his wonderful mastery of the instrument. The Ovide Musin concert was decidedly good, in fact as good as has ever been given at Winants Chapel.

In default of the payment of the fine will be required to remain in the county jail for fifty days. Tuttle is positive that the fine can be raised.

Henry Cronkright has been fixing up his barber shop under the First State Bank, until now it compares more than favorably with any barber shop in Western Michigan. The walls and ceilings have been handsomely decorated and the woodwork has been polished to a turn. The equipment of the shop is all that can be desired. The long mirror case is of fine design and costly construction and the barber chairs are of the very latest improved type. Roy Corbett assists Mr. Cronkright in the improved shop.

Grand Haven Tribune.—The board of county canvassers started out on a trip through the county today visiting the townships for corrections in the county election returns and tabulations. A number of mistakes were found and the canvassers will be obliged to visit many of the townships and precincts. The canvassers start in the following manner: Mr. Kay, at Agnew, Mr. Sivers at Lamont and Mr. Cook in the vicinity of Holland. The ballot on the amendments to the constitution seems to have caused the inspectors of election more trouble than the rest of the tabulations. The canvassers hope to finish up their work by the end of this week.

So great was the desire to hear the organ recital given last Monday night at the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church by Alle Zuidema, assisted by Miss Marguerite Mulder and B. A. Beneker, that many were unable to gain admission owing to the crowd that thronged the church. Rev. D. R. Drukker invoked the divine blessing and made a few remarks and a quartet consisting of the Misses Gertrude De Jongh, Hannah Van Ry, L. D. Visser and G. J. Steggerda sang Krogmann's "The Two Angels." Mr. Zuidema showed a fine mastery over the pipe organ and more than fulfilled the great expectations of his friends. Miss Mulder has a very pleasing soprano voice and won the good graces of the audience by her rendition of "When the Tide Comes In" by Millard. Mr. Beneker sang "I Will Praise Thee Oh Lord," and "Remember Thy Creator" very pleasingly. Acollection of $35 was taken.

Rev. Nelson Heald Dies While Preaching

Rev. Nelson Heald, for a time pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church on River street in this city, fell dead last Sunday morning while delivering a sermon in the North Sebewa church, Ionia county. He had nearly finished his sermon when he fell to the floor, and efforts to resuscitate him proved fruitless. Such an end was not unexpected, and Mrs. Heald who was with him at the time, had been traveling with him constantly in the fear that he would be suddenly stricken. Mr. Heald was known to have heart disease. The Rev. Nelson Heald was 60 years of age. He was pastor of the church here until last September when he resigned on account of ill health.

Be sure and see the new dress and walking skirts just received at John Vandersluis. Next Wednesday Mr. Vandersluis will close out a line of 15c to 25c white curtain mulls for 10 cents a yd.

You miss a chance to get interested in bargains if you do not look in James A. Brouwer's show windows, for he has on display some of the finest in the line of beds. He has something simply beautiful in French beds. They are genuine mahogany or selected quarter sawed oak, hand rubbed and piano polish finish. The patterns are entirely new and up-to-date and the designs are very pleasing. It is difficult to understand that these beds, retailing as they generally do for from $15 to $24, can be offered for $5.90 each. But such is the case and if you are prompt in calling you can buy one at this bargain price. But be prompt as the number is limited.

G. H. Tribune—Mr. and Mrs. Hans Dykhuis were pleasantly surprised at their home on Elliot street last night by about forty friends. Those present were the young people of the M. E. church Epworth league and Sunday school officers. The party was in the nature of a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Dykhuis who expect to move to Holland shortly to reside, and before the evening was over the Rev. Kruse presented them with a handsome rocking chair as a token of their friends' appreciation. The evening was taken up with games and parlor amusements and an oyster supper was served.

Pieplant in a Cellar.

Charles W. Garfield of Grand Rapids is undertaking an experiment at his home on Burton farm that will be watched with interest by greenhouse men. He has constructed a cellar 24x 70 feet with concrete walls in which he will experiment with the forcing of pieplant. Only a little light is permitted to enter through a skylight.

Hitherto pieplant grown in greenhouses was set in out of-the-way corners and under benches, and it was found that the darker the corner was the better the plants would thrive. Mr. Garfield experimented with a few plants in the furnace room of his cellar with satisfactory results, and will now carry out his demonstrations on a larger scale.

Not as much heat is required for the forcing of pieplant as for the growing of hot house lettuce, a temperature of 50 degrees being sufficient. Little artificial heat is required to bring a cellar to this temperature, and the experimental cellar will be heated with a stove.

The matter of starting the beds is simple. Two-year-old roots are procured which have been grown in the usual manner out of doors. The first pulling is harvested about three weeks after the roots are started. Two subsequent pullings may follow a week apart before the roots must be replaced with new ones.

A singular feature of the growing of pieplant is that roots which have been frozen force the best, so the roots are collected and thrown into a pile near the cellar. When one set of roots have done service and been thrown out others are taken from the pile outside and set in their place.

Forced pieplant, like forced lettuce is much finer than the outdoor product. The extreme acid of the outdoor plant is not so strongly developed in the hot-house product.

Local Option Meeting

Rev. E. G. Sanderson, of Lansing, state superintendent of the state anti-saloon league, will give a local option lecture at the First Reformed church Monday evening, November 21, and a cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.

After the lecture a meeting of the temperance committees from the several churches and of others interested in local option will be held.
