THE MYSTERY OF THE OPAL NECKLACE

The interesting letter below comes from Robert Solath, brother of Mrs. John Karreman, of this city. As a sequence to this letter, an opal necklace of exquisite workmanship, is on exhibition in the window of Wykhuyzen and Karreman's Jewelry Store, on West Eighth Street. This letter, whose interest and romance will hold close attention to the very end, was given to the "News" by the sister of the writer.

334 North Fourth Avenue,
Phoenix, Arizona, 11-17-12.

Dear sis,—

Am sending the necklace of which I wrote in my last letter. Its history may seem a little strange to you who have not been on the ground and lived in the old Alamo Mission as I did in March 1912 when I was wounded in the skirmish on the Mexican borderline, and kind Father Juan the head of the monastery, took me in and kept me until I was able to travel.

In September of the year 1870 the rough opal in one large piece was given to Father Juan by a Yaqui Indian in payment of a debt and in 1873 the opal was sent to Amsterdam to be cut into forty-six beads ranging in size as you have of course noticed. For seven years he wore this around his thin brown neck. In 1880 in an old cell of the monastery he found a curious Indian amulet—simply a rough opal with a hole bored through it and as he was very fond of opals and held the opinion that they were "lucky stones" he sent the amulet to Madiera City and had the opals which make up the most beautiful part of the necklace, cut from it.

While I was at the Mission, convalescing I noticed how peculiarly fascinating it was and that the longer I looked at it, the more I liked it and one night when I was very feverish and restless, the old Father who treated me like a son, unclasped it from his neck and said that it should be mine. Of course, I refused to even consider such a thing, knowing how exceedingly fond he was of it; and in the morning when I felt more like a man, I threw it across his shoulder and watched the jewels scintillating and lighting up his somber brownish-black robe as if they felt the love in his eyes. He certainly was a good old scout and I treasure the memory of those days spent in the quaint place more than I can explain. That was the last I heard of it and when I finally left the kind Father's hospitable roof, the thought of ever owning the much coveted necklace had left my head.

I think I have told you a little of my accident and how I was injured when I fell off the scaffolding when lecturing a couple of my lazy Mexican workmen, and how my good friend Doctor Munson took me right into his home in order that I might have the best of care. Well, one day when I was nearly well, Mrs. Munson said that for two days a man who looked like a Spaniard or a Mexican had been faithfully watching the house. She was becoming very much frightened at being the object of such close attention and that maybe some fanatical Mexican had designs on her husband's life, but I managed to laugh away her fears and in talking of other things she forgot about it.

A week later I was awakened one night about three o'clock in the morning by a queer feeling that some one was near me. Thinking it was merely a bad dream I tho't nothing of it and as I was very restless, turned to fix my pillows. In doing so I awakened enough to be fully conscious of my surroundings and to my great surprise saw a man kneeling beside my bed. I lay perfectly still for a second collecting my scattered senses, and then realized that he was talking to me in Spanish, bidding me be silent as he had much to tell me. Then he started his story which brought vividly to my mind the old Mission and the fine old man who had been my benefactor. He told of how the Yaqui Indians and rebels had taken over everything of value in the old place and said that while they were pillaging in the other rooms he had been at confession to Father Juan, who was as calm as tho' a bunch of intoxicated Indians tearing down the place he loved and desecrating The Holy Man's House were an everyday occurrence.

He said the old priest had delivered an opal necklace, that sparkled and gleamed as if possessed of an evil spirit, into his hands and charged him to bring it to me, saying that if it reached me safely, he would pray night and day for him, that he might surely enter heaven; but that if some accident happened to it, he would be forever cursed. The ignorant and superstitious Spaniard promised to do the priest's bidding to the best of his ability, and left the old man calmly and peacefully praying in the dimly lighted church with its beautiful windows all broken and with the curses and shouts of the pillagers in his ears.

The man said he had come all the way on foot and I believed him for never had I seen such a pitifully ragged object as he presented at that moment. I gave him a dollar—all that I had near me and after he had struck a light and examined my face and looked at the scar on my leg you remember how I hurt it when I was a kid in school at G. R. he left me with the beautiful necklace in my possession.

If that is not a fine example of the faithfulness of these Catholics to their religion, I miss my guess. I had all faith in his story for he crossed himself many times and held his rosary in his hand until he had finished. This may seem far fetched to you, sis, but if you could see the old adobe walled Mission with its tarnished old bell brought over from Spain ninety years ago; and the faithful Mexicans and Indians in ever dwindling numbers as the years go by coming to worship early and late; and the kindly old monks with their lives dedicated to the perpetuation of their religion and their every tho't, that of helping the Mexicans and the Yaqui Indians live better lives high up there in the Cuyamaca Mountains you would be able to understand and appreciate it all as I do; but even at that I am sure you understood my love for the curiously fascinating necklace just as soon as you unpack it; now didn't you?

Give my regards to all, in little old Grand Rapids and do not forget the friends in Holland.

Your loving brub,
Bob.

LIQUOR DEALERS MUST PAY FIVE HUNDRED

Base-Ball Fence to be Removed

Yesterday afternoon the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners met and a considerable amount of interesting work was accomplished. In the first place the Board gave notice that the Board of Public Works remove that part of the baseball fence and grandstand which encroaches on Nineteenth and Twentieth street.

If this order is carried out the Board will no doubt move simply that part of the fence that encroaches upon the street and nothing more. In this case 55 feet will be taken away on 19th street and ten feet on 20th street.

If this is done of course it will mean the abolishing of the base ball ground and if Holland wishes a base ball diamond it will be compelled to look elsewhere for it.

Another new ruling which will no doubt be a bomb shell to the liquor dealers is one that City attorney Van Duren secured from the Attorney General. The ruling is that the whole sale liquor dealers will be compelled to pay another license of five hundred dollars in order to sell spirituous or intoxicating liquors, for instances if a wholesaler wishes to sell beer or wine, under the interpretation of the law, he must pay a license of five hundred dollars, then also if he wishes to sell whiskey, gin, or brandy he is compelled to take out another license of five hundred dollars before he can sell any liquors in this class.

In other words the liquors according to the law are classified. The milder liquors require one license of five hundred dollars while the stronger liquors are in a class by themselves and require another license of five hundred dollars. Therefore if a wholesale liquor dealer wishes to sell as he has in the past, he will be compelled to pay a thousand dollars instead of five hundred as heretofore.

In securing this ruling Attorney Van Duren says that altho' this law exists, it was not being enforced in any other part of the state. Professor Kuizenga however thought that if the law was there it should be enforced. He also stated that he preferred to see beer houses instead of whiskey houses because the whiskey and stronger liquors were the one that were doing the damage and not so much the beer. Therefore he thought it would be right and proper to enforce this new ruling and consequently the liquor dealers have been given notice today stating what is required of them.

The News thinks and has always contended that if places were licensed where beer and light wines could be sold and whiskey and other strong drinks were made hard to procure through the strongest legal restrictions, the greatest step toward temperance would be solved.

The majority of the drinking people do not require whiskey but do want their beer and if some distinction were made and the stronger liquors were divorced from the beer and light wines, the great question that is uppermost in the minds of the majority of people today would be practically solved. That this is a fact is shown in the Netherlands where at church socials a sign is conspicuously placed stating, "Beer and light wines sold here but no strong drinks." A course of this kind will not be approved by any liquor dealer as the profits on the lighter liquors are very small while the revenues from the stronger grades are large.

The consensus of opinion of the Police department and the City Attorney seem to be that an ordinance should and will soon be adopted by the council regulating the sale of whiskey by the drug stores. No doubt the ordinance will be so stringent that it will require a prescription from a local physician to procure the necessary drinkables besides the signing of a form in which the purchaser states why he wishes to obtain the liquor. No doubt when the ordinance is thoroughly thrashed over by the council it will be left without a loop-hole as far as the restrictions put on liquor selling in the drug stores is concerned.

TO ABOLISH THE JUNGLES

At the last meeting of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, a ruling was brought in by Prosecuting Attorney Louis Osterhous prohibiting the wholesalers of liquor in this city of selling twenty-four pints of beer and a half pint of whiskey, at the same time.

The Prosecutor held that it would simply be wholesaling one kind of liquor and retailing another. In the future whiskey can only be bought in three gallon lots. Professor Kuizenga of the Police Board issued orders that this new order be strictly conformed with.

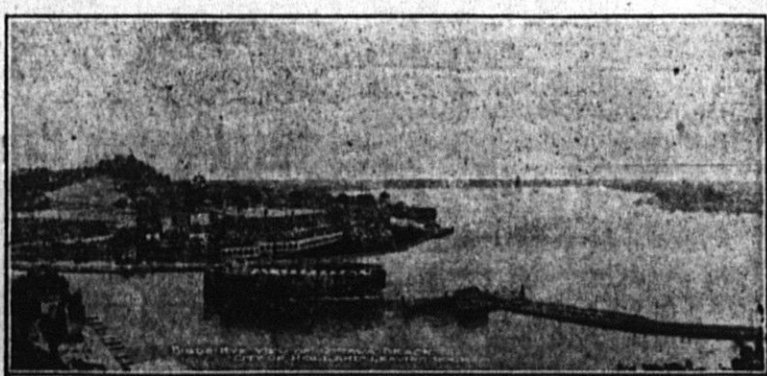

Professor Kuizenga also issued another order that the Pere Marquette put up signs on its premises prohibiting loitering and drinking on the premises. This will bar any more drinking in the so called Jungles which is part of the Pere Marquette property.

JAMESTOWN

As the result of a smashup caused by a runaway horse, Mrs. Rudolph Elders, seventy-four years old, is lying at the point of death at the residence of her son, Henry, in Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Elders went to visit the son yesterday afternoon and when the old gentleman got out to open the gate he handed the reins to his wife. Upon passing through the gate the horse became frightened and ran through the orchard, throwing Mrs. Elders out upon her head and reducing the carriage to kindling wood.

Mrs. Elders is still unconscious and it is feared that she will not survive the shock.

SOUTH OTTAWA ASSOCIATION

HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING SATURDAY.

All Day Session Was New Departure And It Proved Very Successful.

In the assembly room of the Zeeland High school Saturday, the members of the South Ottawa Teachers' association met in an all-day session. Nearly one hundred instructors were present to listen to a varied program of instructive and entertaining material.

The Rev. Benjamin Hoffman, pastor of the Second Reformed church of Zeeland, conducted the devotionals. Prin. Henry K. Boer of the Jamestown schools was introduced by the President of the association, Supt. J. C. Hoekje, as the first speaker. His subject was, "Why Teach Agriculture?" The discussion of this paper and topic was led by Miss Garrietta Schaap and Prin. Henry J. Beld. An interesting and instructive free discussion followed.

Miss Shirely Harrison illustrated practically with scholars from grades four, five and six, "How and Why We Teach Oral Composition in Connection with Language Work." The little people and their teacher acquitted themselves very creditably. The discussion of this topic was brisk and pointed. Prof. Lambert Eldson of Hope College was another speaker. His remarks were very practical and helpful.

At the business session at 11:30 a constitution was adopted. Routine business was transacted.

The Junior class of the Zeeland High school proved themselves good waiters and better cooks by serving a most delicious and appetizing luncheon at 12 o'clock.

At one o'clock the afternoon session began. Three little people from grades three and four presented a little operetta, "The Three Bears." The rendition was particularly striking and apt in connection with the topic that followed. Miss Ada F. La Huis showed why dramatization is particularly helpful both to teacher and to scholars. Tenth graders did practical work in dramatization to illustrate her points. A brief discussion followed.

Misses Henrietta VandenBerg and Henrietta Neerkene regaled the association with one of their strikingly effective duets.

The topic "Should Grades 9 and 10 be Taught in Rural Schools?" provoked more thought and discussion than was expected. Principal F. E. VanSickle of Hudsonville presented the affirmative. Adrian Van Farowe upheld the negative. The discussion was very practical. The necessity for and the benefits of a rural high school were forcibly presented.

The county Superintendent, Mr. N. R. Stanton made a number of announcements.

Miss Mary G. Kelty closed the program with a very practical paper discussion "Methods of Teaching History."

After a rising vote of thanks to the Junior Class for their entertainment, the association adjourned.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Superintendent J. C. Hoekje; vice president, Isabelle Roman; secretary, Chris Ver Liere; treasurer, Ada F. La Huis.

KNIGHTS OF THE PYRAMIDS TO PLAY THE ST. JOSEPHS IN LYCEUM RINK.

This evening the indoor base ball season will open in Holland when the St. Joseph of Grand Rapids will come here to play the Knights of the Pyramids. The game will be played in the Lyceum Rink. There is still a good deal of indoor base ball enthusiasm by a large crowd of fans when they take the floor this evening evening.

The Knights of the Pyramids team is a new one; or rather it is a new name. All the members of this team are seasoned players. In fact, the new team will be practically be an All Star team since the best players of the Industrial League of last year are members of it. The chances are that because of the inability last year are members of it. The chances are that, because of the inability last year to make the league financially successful, another league will not be organized, and the Knights will be perhaps the only players in the city who will go after state championship honors. It is possible that the Knights may be able to join some Western Michigan league.

In the opening game this evening Peterson and Nash will form the battery for the locals. The St. Joseph are known as strong players and the game promises to be exciting.

ARTHUR C. KNIGHT AND DORTHY E. NEWMAN TRY TO STEAL MARCH ON FRIENDS.

But Other Members of the Company Get Wind of It and Make

Arthur C. Knight and Miss Dorothy E. Newman of Portland, Oregon, were married Tuesday by Justice of the Peace Fred T. Miles. The couple are both members of the Knight & Beyers Co's troupe. Mr. Knight is part owner of the show, theatrical manager and plays the part of the Dutch comedian in most of their plays. Miss Newman is a member of the chorus. The wedding was very quiet but the other members of the company turned out in body with tin cans and drums, old shoes and plenty of rice and gave the bride and groom a glorious reception when they came from the justice's office. After the reception all enjoyed a lunch at Van's cafe. Here more rice was thrown and again the girls played a wedding march with their tin pans. When the bride came out a bold attempt was made to kidnap her, but Mr. Knight proved himself a hero and hung on until he finally won the battle and drove away the kidnapers.

It was a noisy, good-natured bunch of jolly show folks that made things lively for the young couple, but under the circumstances the innocent hilarity can be excused. One of the company offered the following toast to the couple:

"Cash and Dorothy; you have launched your boat on the sea of matrimony. Keep a sharp lookout ahead; remember that there are apt to be breakers, and unseen rocks. Always keep your searchlight beaming in front, thereby avoiding those menaces while peacefully floating down the stream of time. Now in the language of Rip Van Winkle: here's to your health, your family's good health, and may you both live long and prosper."

Mr. and Mrs. Knight will be seen this evening in "A Day at College."

CONGREGATION SHOWS APPRECIATION OF WORK OF THE REV. R. L. HAAN.

A congregational meeting of the Central avenue Christian Reformed church was held Monday for the purpose of electing elders and deacons for the coming year. All the old members of the consistory were re-elected. A vacancy was caused among the elders because A. Wiebada had moved to Muskegon. His place was filled with the election of Peter Barraman. The congregation showed their appreciation of the good work being done by their pastor, the Rev. R. L. Haan, by presenting him a purse of $200.

LATEST FIGURES NOT FAVORABLE TO THE WOMAN'S CAUSE.

Lansing, Nov. 25.—Equal Suffrage is undoubtedly defeated in Michigan. Official returns from all but Keweenaw, Monticlam and St. Clair counties give a majority of 165 for the amendment. However the issue seems beaten by more than 500.

Unofficial returns received by the Detroit News-Tribune gives Keweenaw county 200 for Monticlam 619 for, and St. Clair 1,569 against. These estimates show the amendment defeated by 585, with four precincts in St. Clair county to hear from.

There are several counties which now threaten to ask for a recount

Anti-suffrage leaders here believe that their will be no recount for the suffragists.

The vote in seventy-nine counties shows 239955 for, and 239,791 against.

"THREE SISTERS" WRECKED AT GREEN BAY BUILT HERE IN LATE FIFTIES.

The following item appeared in yesterday's Chicago Tribune:

"Green Bay, Wis., Nov. 24.—During a terrific gale the schooner Three Sisters was waterlogged in Green Bay and the crew of four was drowned. The schooner Three Sisters had been navigating Green bay and Lake Michigan for more than forty years." It was generally supposed by our local skippers of the early days that the schooner Three Sisters had been wrecked years ago. She was built here in Holland in the latter part of the fifties at the ship yards of Harn Slagh—now the Graham & Morton dock, for A. Plugger. Charles T. Pagelson was her first master. The name "Three Sisters, was in honor of Mr Plugger's three daughters, now Mrs. A. M. Kanter, of Seattle, Washington, Mrs. E. C. Oggel, at present in Japan, and Mrs. D. Kruidenier, of Des Moines, Ia.

DR. R. L. DIXON WILL ADDRESS HOLLAND TEACHERS' CLUB.

The Holland Teachers' club has secured R. L. Dixon, secretary of the State Board of Health to address the club on "Tuberculosis" on Tuesday evening, December 10. Dr. R. L. Dixon is an authority on matters of health and especially on tuberculosis. He will deliver his address, which will be an illustrated one, in the High school assembly room and arrangements will be made to accommodate a large audience. The subject is so highly important, and the fight against tuberculosis is so largely a matter of correct information on it that the club will try to fill the building to its capacity.

PLAYS GAME SATURDAY WITH MASK COVERING FACE.

John Vruwink who star work at end was a factor in the defeat of Minnesota by the Chicago university football team at Chicago Saturday, is a former Hope college student and entered Chicago from the local school. He was one of the star men on the Hope basketball team and has played in Grand Haven many times. He never played much football however, until this season when Stagg developed him into one of the best ends in the west. Early in the season he cracked his jaw, and Saturday, he used a mask and harness which completely covered his face.

BOOKSTORE MAN AND DAUGHTER DECLARE PRISONER IS NOT ONE WHO VISITED STORE DURING THE DAY.

H. R. Brink and daughter Ella failed to identify R. J. Carney, who was picked up by the Kalamazoo police and lodged in the Ottawa county jail as the man who had visited the Brink store several times on the day when the store was burglarized in the evening. Carney strenuously denies that he had any connection with the robbery. He had when arrested a Moore Non-Leakable pen in his inside coat pocket, and he could not give an adequate account of how he got by it, claiming that it had been given to him by someone. He declares that he can prove that on the night of the robbery he was in Kalamazoo. If he can prove an alibi doubtless the man will be released. But he is being held pending an investigation into his past.

DETAILS OF NIGHT SCHOOL PLAN MADE PUBLIC BY SUPER- INTENDENT.

A Wide Variety of Subjects to Be Taught; Civics Offered in Every Course

Few people except those who have enrolled as scholars in the night school realize how many courses are offered by this school and how many different lines of work can be pursued by the pupils. The number of courses depend almost entirely on the number of scholars and since the enrollment has been at least three times as large as had been anticipated the courses cover a broad field. Perhaps the most significant fact about the courses is that a course in civics is offered in every one of the six courses that make up the complete curriculum. Many of those who will attend night school are Hollanders who have come to America to make this country their home. It is highly desirable that they should have every opportunity possible to get thoroughly acquainted with American government and political institutions. And for no one can a course in civics be superfluous, since among most native Americans there is a great lack of accurate knowledge in regard to the American government. The courses in civics are in line with the basis idea of the night school plan, and in fact of all education, namely, that the pupils may be given the opportunity to become better and more intelligent citizens.

There are six courses in all. In Course I the following subjects are offered: arithmetic, writing, spelling and civics. A large number of men who through force of circumstances dropped out of school somewhere in the grades and who now desire to make up for what they lost have entered this course.

Course II consists of the following studies: English classics, composition, grammar, arithmetic and civics. This course consists of high school work entirely and those who dropped out in the eighth grade or in high school are taking these studies.

Course III consists of the study of English for foreigners. This will perhaps prove to be the most popular course in the curriculum as far as numbers is concerned. The Hollanders of this city are ambitious for the most part to learn the language. This course is for those who do not read or speak the English language. They will be given instruction in reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic and civics.

Course IV consists of domestic science and civics. A large number of girls from homes, offices and shops have enrolled for this course. Many girls also who are not working for a living have enrolled and will learn the household arts. This course is designed to equip a woman so that she can intelligently conduct a home. Some married women have enrolled for this course and others are expected to join.

Course V consists of manual training and civics. This class is composed largely of boys who had a taste for manual training work while they were pupils in the grades. They will thus be given an opportunity to learn more about this most useful line of work.

Course VI is a commercial course and civics. It was not intended at first to offer this course. But the school authorities were fairly forced to do so because of the demand for it. The initial enrollment is seventeen and it is supposed that others will join later.

OTTAWA COUNTY FARMER HAS UNCOMFORTABLE EX- PERIENCE

Henry Strick, a farm hand employed by A. Katz, near Hudsonville, has a broken collarbone and many bruises as the result of trying to induce one of Katz's cows to eat moderately.

He drove the cows in from pasture last evening and started to milk them. The bossy in question walked through an open door while Strick was milking another cow and buried her face in a grain box. Apparently she liked the meal, for when Henry noticed her and endeavored to separate her from the grain she lifted him off the floor with her horns and pitched him half-way across the barn.

Henry got a pitchfork. But the cow pitched Henry first. Once more he described a high spiral and landed on the other side of the grainbox. Help finally came. Henry was taken to a doctor.

LARGE GANG OF MEN ARE CAUS- ING WORK TO PROGRESS RAPIDLY

Commissioner R. H. Cook is Rushing The Job and Taking Advantage of Good Weather

The work on the Ottawa county road just outside of the city limits of Zeeland is progressing rapidly under the supervision of Commissioner R. H. Cook.

The outfit comprises a Geyser engine and steam road roller made at Waynesburg, Pa., and eight standard Troy self-dumping wagons made at Troy, O. Each wagon holds four yards of crushed stone and four wagons are drawn at one time by the engine. While on the trip the other set of four are being loaded at the station. The hauling done by this outfit per day is equivalent to that of five teams and the five teams would cost $22, while operating the engine costs but $9, hence a saving of $13 per day over team work. Besides this equipment there are at times as high as 19 teams employed hauling stone and 12 shovelers employed.

Mr. Cook has two gangs at work right in the immediate vicinity of Zeeland. One mile of the road is being put in commencing at the corner near the G. Zwagerman farm on the Borchio road thence north to the school house, and on the Vriesland road one and a quarter miles is being built commencing at the Zeeland city limits and eastwardly almost to Wentzel's hill. The celebrated Thornton (Ill.) crushed stone is being used. In building the road east of Zeeland four courses of stone are put in. The first layer is coarse over which a thin dressing of fine stone is placed and then this same operation is repeated. In the stretch being built on the Borchio road the same foundation is put in but instead of the last two courses a considerable thickness of screened gravel is put on. The roadbed being put in is 12 feet wide and when finished will be eleven inches thick. The fine stone is used as a binding and cements the coarser stones together so that the surface becomes perfectly hard and smooth. It is claimed that these roads will not need attention for 20 years. The stretch on the Vriesland road will bring the county $1,000 state rewards if up to the standard and the other mile $750.

Mr. Cook is well satisfied with the way the work is progressing. The first layer of stone on each stretch has been laid. From now on the work will proceed much faster and he hopes to complete the roads before winter sets in.

E. E. Laffler and H. H. Hampson, the former representing the engine, and roller company and the latter the wagon company, were in Zeeland this week to see how matters were coming, as was also W. S. Cornwell of Harvey, Ill., from whom the commissioners had purchased smaller road building equipment. Commissioners Willis Ruck of Coopersville and Richard Dykema of Grand Haven were also there to inspect Mr. Cook's work.

IONIA MAN TRIES TO GET PAR-OLE FOR JOHN VOS BECAUSE HOLLAND BOY HAD SAVED HIS LIFE

Jumped into Water And Brought Him to Safety Several Years Ago

Stacey Boswell, timekeeper at the Ionia Reformatory was in the city part of this week trying to get signatures to a petition that he has drawn up asking that John Vos be admitted to parole. Young Vos, as perhaps all local people remember, was sent up for burglaries committed in Holland and he was sentenced by the Ottawa County circuit court. Boswell has a large number of signatures of people who believe that young Vos will make good if given a chance.

The story of Boswell's activities in behalf of Vos is rather touching. It is a case of gratitude on the part of Boswell. Some years ago, according to Boswell, he fell into the water at Reeds Lake. Being unable to swim he thinks he would surely have lost his life had it not been for young Vos. The Holland boy happened to be near at the time of the accident and without taking thought of the consequences he dove into the lake and brought Boswell to safety.

This incident caused a warm friendship between the Holland boy and Boswell and when young Vos was sentenced to spend a number years in prison Boswell made up his mind to help him if the opportunity should ever again. Boswell immediately got made good at Ionia and that with his prison record as a basis he determined to start a movement for admitting the boy to parole. Some months ago he circulated a petition in Holland and received a large number of signatures. But later it was found that some error had been made in the form in which the petition had been drawn and the work had to be done over again. Boswell immediately got busy and this time he made sure that there was no hitch. He again secured signatures, made arrangements for securing a "first friend" for young Vos in case the parole should be granted and now he has hopes that he will succeed.

THEATER MANAGER SAYS
HOLLAND IS A SURPRISE

The Knight & Beyers Musical Comedy company will be in Holland four days more, their last engagement in the local theater being on Thanksgiving evening. They will then go to Grand Rapids for an extended engagement at the Garrick Theater in that city. After Thanksgiving evening the Knickerbocker will be dark for a while and on December 9, the Doyle Stock company will come to Holland for a week's engagement or more. They will change programs every night. The opening play will be "The Parish Priest."

The Doyle Stock company comes with a carload of scenery and the plays will have a large number of special features. Mr. Simons has made arrangements to have the Alvarado Players follow the Doyle company and is negotiating for some first-class one night attractions on the Klaw & Erlanger circuit. He is highly pleased with the patronage so far. "Many people out of Holland have the notion," he said, "that all the people here wear wooden shoes and can talk only the Dutch. I will show theatrical circles that this is one of the best little cities in the state and one of the most up-to-date."

Board of County Canvassers Had to Visit Eight Precincts To Correct the Count

The board of county canvassers have completed their canvass of the Ottawa county vote and the total vote received by each candidate in Ottawa county is now in the hands of County Clerk Glerum. Before they could complete their work the board members were compelled to visit 8 precincts in the county for the purpose of correcting the inspectors' returns, besides making a complete recount of the ballots cast in the first ward of the city of Holland.

The following summary of the vote cast for all candidates in Ottawa county will show how the voters of this county expressed their preference on election day. The vote on the presidential nominees is taken from the votes received by the leading presidential elector in each party. The summary follows:

President—Taft, R. 1851; Wilson, D. 2043; Chaffin, Pro. 125; Debs, So. 335; Soc. Labor, 17; Roosevelt, Progressive, 4416.

Governor—Musselman, R. 2781; Ferris, D. 2620; Leland, Pro. 103; Hoogerhyde, Soc. 300; Watkins, Progressive 2990.

Lieut. Gov.—Ross, R. 2784; Helme D. 2019; Demarest, Pro. 120; Comsh, Soc. 319; Gordon, Pro. 3386.

Sec. of State—Martindale, R. 2790; Balch, D. 2075; Lowther, Pro. 122; Comerfett, Soc. 316; Grabowski, So. Labor, 9; Blidoff, Pro. 3423.

State Treasurer—Haarer, R. 2752; Robson, D. 2072; Briand, Pro. 121; Beyer, Soc. 317; Kline, Soc. Lab., 10; Holmes, Pro. 3460.

HOPE COLLEGE

The debate in Junior English Monday at Hope College was on the question "Resolved, That the United States should establish commercial reciprocity with Canada." The affirmative won on the merits of the arguments but the negative won on the merits of the question. The affirmative were debated by H. Jacobs and Jeanette Oltmans, the negative by N. Suhterman and Gerarda Brook. Yesterday the class debated on Woman Suffrage.

The trouble about the class rush at Hope College is over and all the students are back at work. A final conference was held yesterday afternoon when Arthur Winter of Mohawk, N. J., followed the course of his classmates and handed in his apology for insubordination. Winter was reinstated as a member of the A class and the entire class was back at school this morning.

As a result of the strike the college authorities have served notice upon the student body that no more class rushes will be tolerated. Stricter rules for discipline will be adopted and expulsion from the institution will be the punishment for future violators.

The A's are glad the incident came to an amicable settlement and they will now make up for the time lost.

On the invitation of the young ladies of the Minerva Society the Melophone Society joined with them young ladies and held a joint program with the following number:

Reading L. Dalman; Quatette Minerva girls; Declamation E. Koster; Piona Solo Jennie Prins; Music Melophone Quartette; Story (Prophecy) K. Staplekamp; Reading M. Vander Meer; Song Melophone Quartette illustrated by C. Wierenga and H. Dieters.

Friday night the Freshmen made their first appearance in the society of the High School. They were royally entertained by the Sophomores who took into consideration the modesty of the freshmen and also their hilarious outbursts and by catering to their every whim and fancy they showed them the time of their lives. Special invitations were sent to members of the faculty and about one hundred and thirty were present.

A few of the students tried to imitate members of the faculty and some of these imitations were exceedingly good. Miss Anna Lundberg gave a humorous recitation after which a kindergarten play was given. This play was the hit of the evening and kept the audience in a continuous roar of laughter. The next stunt these bold performers undertook was to imitate the High School Glee Club. It was a scream. Prof. Drew gave a humorous reading and it was so good that he has been assured by many that he will now have to do it lots of times.

Refreshments were served and the dear little freshmen were allowed to go home while the night was still young.

Contrary to all expectation the football game between the College Preps of Hope College Friday afternoon resulted in a victory for the Preps by a score of 9-0.

In spite of the fact that the college team was several pounds heavier to the man than the Prep team, the College was unable to make any long gains over the lighter line. At the same time the Preps bored through the College line at will, most of their gains being made by line smashes with an occasional end run. At no time was the College within striking distance of the Preps goal. The Preps first points were made by a field goal by Van Putten from the 30 yard line in the second quarter. In the same quarter the Preps forced their way to the College goal by a series of forward passes and line plunges. About five yards from goal the College held the youngsters for three downs. Then by a neatly executed forward pass Vander Meer received the ball and carried it across Van Putten failed to kick goal.

Van Putten Byer and Boone star for the Preps, while Holleman did good work for the College.

G. A. KANTERS BACKS UP BELIEF
BY CONVERTING OLD STORE
INTO MODERN BUILDING

Contract Is Let For New Plate Glass
Front And For Other Improvements

* G. A. Kanters arrived in the city Friday from Racine, Wisconsin, and he will leave for that place again soon. He made it a business as well as a pleasure trip and last night he left the contract for putting a modern plate glass front in the Kanters' building, East Eighth street and for converting the building into a modern, up-to-date store. The contract was let to F. N. Jonkman and work will be begun on it very soon.

One part of the building will continue to be occupied by Jonkman, the plumber, and the vacant part of the store will be occupied by the Coster Photo Supply Company. Mr. Coster's business has been growing so consistently that he has outgrown the present quarters. At the new place he will have twice the room he had at the old place and Mr. Coster thinks he can use all the available space for his business.

HARRY McNAMARA IS GIVEN SEN- TENCE BY JUDGE

CROSS.

Harry McNamara, charged with obtaining money from Fred Meyers under false pretenses was sentenced to not less than two years nor more than ten years in Ionia state reformatory, with the recommendation that the sentence be two years. The judge had not intended disposing of McNamara's case until today, but the prisoner requested that sentence be passed upon him Saturday.

McNamara's sister from Coldwater was in court and her greeting of her wayward brother in court was pathetic and aroused sympathy in the hearts of every one who saw the incident. The young woman threw her arms around Harry's neck and wept over him. Her greeting touched the prisoner's heart and the boy broke down and wept.

Judge Cross gave the young man a kindly lecture and his words bespoke plainly of the sympathy he felt for the boy's sister. McNamara's record had been investigated by the judge, however, and probation was out of the question for him, although it was evident that the court did not enjoy the prospect of sending the young man to prison. He advised the lad to lead the right kind of a life during his term, and when his time was up to make up his mind to live honestly and make a man of himself.

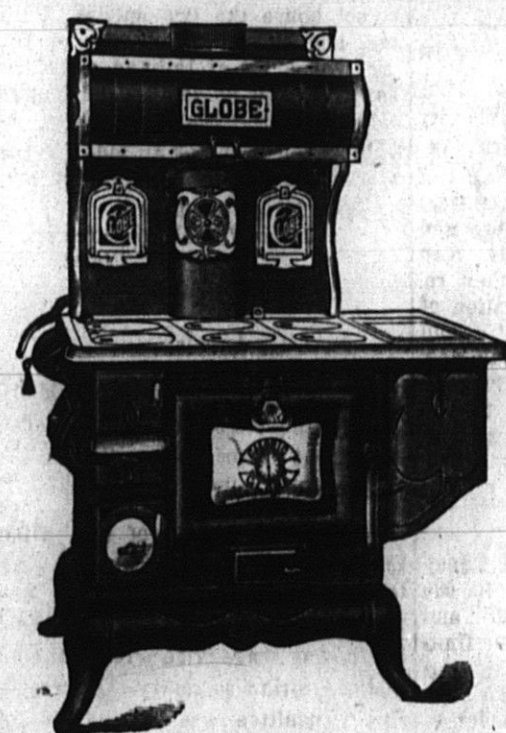

KLEIS TO COME UP FOR TRIAL AT DECEMBER TERM OF COURT

A change has been made in the case of the People vs. John Kleis of this city, the charge having been changed from manslaughter to murder. Prosecuting Attorney Stone of Allegan has announced this change in the case and it has been entered on the court calendar in this way. The December term of the Allegan County Circuit court opens next week Monday and the case against Kleis will be one of the first to come up for trial.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE AT MACA- TAWA SATURDAY NIGHT

The residents of Macatawa Park witnessed one of the worst wind storms on the Lake in many years, Saturday night. The storm was sudden and went down during the night but while it lasted it was terrific and did much damage to the walks and bathhouses near the lake. The water rose about a foot and on the Lake Michigan shore it has washed the sand from under the board walk in places and left the walk so weakened that the small waves are threatening to carry away pieces of it. On Black lake the waves were so high that they completely covered the walk leading to the pier and washed away pieces of walk from the boat houses.

OUR THANKSGIVING OFFERING

The first national Thanksgiving proclamation was made by Congress during the Revolutionary war. The first American Thanksgiving day was in 1784, for the declaration of peace. There was one more national Thanksgiving in 1789, and no other till 1863, when President Lincoln issued a national proclamation for a day of thanksgiving. Since that time the President has issued annual proclamations.

Thanksgiving is the one day that runs back along a line of tender recollections to the beginning of American civilization. Historically it is rooted deeper in our national life and touches a richer vein of sentiment than any other day of general observance.

While it is good to make the day one of feasting and light-hearted rejoicing, yet at the same time its observance should never fail to stir the deeper emotions of the American people. As the world runs, three centuries is a very short period of time. And yet what an amazing chapter in the story of our world falls between the first Thanksgiving day in the bleak New England colony at Plymouth and that Thanksgiving day in the year 1912. Almost every thing which we count either as a necessity or a luxury of our life today has come about in much less than the three centuries since the Pilgrims landed. In the face of the prodigious record of these growing years, surely we ought to be a thankful people.

Thanksgiving is the day especially dedicated to the family, and its survival may be looked for as the result of a deepening family life among the people. It is a good time, therefore, to devote some thought to the problems of the home. In the final analysis all the problems of our national life are problems of the home. Whatever ministers to the welfare of the home and the family makes for the welfare of the city, state and nation. On Thanksgiving day the people will do well to show a proper gratitude for the blessing of the American home and they will give themselves to the serious study of the evils which assail the home, which make the home life uncertain or in any degree a failure. For after all the future of this republic is bound up with the fortunes of the home, the family, the health and prosperity of the women and the children, and the success of the man who is the bread winner and the support of both.

There is one consolation. While there have been and still exist complaints as to the high cost of living, the American people may be thankful that the crops are record-breakers and at no time in the history of the republic have the people the enjoyment of so many luxuries, comforts and necessities of life, and never more of the means individually and collectively, with which to obtain such.

The country is in the full enjoyment of splendid prosperity. No people on the face of the globe will sit down to such bountiful spreads as those who gather around the generous Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow. For this we may all be thankful.

Not forgetting the turkey and cranberry sauce.

A DYING TOWN

A town which never has anything to do in a public way is on the road to the cemetery. Anyone who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. A man who curses the town furnishes the casket. The man so selfish as to have no time from his business to give to the city affairs is making the shroud. The man who does not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is pulling back from any public enterprise throws bouquets on the grave. The man who is howling hard times preaches the funeral sermon and sings the doxology; thus, the town lies buried from all sorrow and care.

THEATER NUISANCES

It does not follow that persons who purchase theater seats at the same time purchase the right to carry on conversations in audible tones, to the disturbance of those sitting about them, who are at the playhouse for the purpose of seeing the play and hearing what is said on the stage. It is a fact that very frequently, overlooking propriety and the trust at taching to liberty, many people detract largely from the interest in good plays and monopolize their particular sections of the theater with constant discussion of the play, and sometimes conversation upon matters entirely foreign to the stage.

Conceding the rights of every person to regulate his or her personal conduct in all ordinary matters, it is not just to deny others the rights of the theater that we may revel in discussion of the business topics at the expense of others.

However the bath tub trust will no longer clean up the public.

A REVIEW OF ACCIDENTS

Arie Schaap living on Route 10 is an unfortunate being.

One year ago his oldest son was seriously injured by an interurban car. Six months ago his daughter was affected by a case of appendicitis and about six weeks ago his youngest boy was affected and operated on for the same trouble and finally the old man broke his big toe when he slipped by driving the cattle from the field. But at that Arie is still hopping around as cheerfully as ever.

ASK RECOUNT

The State Equal Suffrage association has requested the Ottawa county organization to ask for a recount in Ottawa county on the vote for the equal suffrage amendment at the recent election. It is not fully determined as to whether or not the request of the state association will be complied with as it is understood the Ottawa County organization is not strongly inclined to belief that there was anything irregular in the vote counted in Ottawa. It had been practically conceded before hand that the vote in this county would be heavy against suffrage and it is thought likely that a recount will change matters here.

A CREAMERY FOR SAUGATUCK

J. F. Hall, formerly connected with Hotel Macatawa and at present proprietor of the Columbia Hotel at Saugatuck, is investigating the prospects of establishing a creamery in Saugatuck which no doubt would prove a boon to the community as has proven the case in thousands of localities. He has some knowledge of the business and all that is necessary to make the project a realization is encouragement. Mr. Hall would like to have each and every farmer who is interested in the project call on him when convenient and talk the matter over.

HEARSE IS FILLED WITH CHAMPAGNE

With a hearse filled with buckets of ice champagne in the vanguard, a party of merry serenaders, carrying lighted redfire, and accompanied by a band playing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," marched from the Pantlind Hotel at Grand Rapids exactly midnight to the home of Dr. Louis Barth, 149 East Fulton street. It was the doctor's fifty-third birthday.

The demonstration was merely an expression of the good will of the physician's close friends. The blare of tin horns, the glare of the redfire and the strains from the band of "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," brought Dr. Barth to the door, where he was met with laughter and congratulations, then told to look pleasant while a photograph was taken of the company.

George G. Heye, New York, president of the Hart Mirror Plate company of this city, evolved the original carnival-like ovation for Dr. Barth, and he was assisted in carrying out the business by Meyer May, A. I. Wolf, G. Perry Dowling, Dr. Foelidas, B. H. Kearns, Sydney Steele and R. R. Metheny. The doctor had been cleverly kept from bed until the party arrived, and was eating supper with George Heye at the time.

The wine-laden hearse, the glaring torches and the marching serenaders, bearing a banner on which was inscribed, "Dr. Barth's Birthday; that marched through Grand Rapids marched up one of the drollest id streets.

STRANGE EXPERIENCES FOR BOYS

The coming appearance in this city of "Rooney's Boys Orchestral Company" on Dec. 4, recalls the interesting fact that the experiences of these musical cherubs is strangely fascinating and interesting. From the executive mansion at Washington, where they received the enthusiastic admiration of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and their 500 invited guests at the now his oric Christmas Concert, given by them at the White House, to the gloomy prison cells in the great penitentiaries, is a wide gulf, yet their prison audiences are no less critical and appreciative than those at the National Capital.

In the past 25 years Mr. Rooney has given concerts to about 100,000 unfortunate inmates of penal and other public institutions in the United States. The effect of these marvellously sweet voices upon the criminal class is described as wonderful. The audience of thieves, burglars and murderers listen with rapt attention, many of them with tears running down their faces, and applaud with a frenzy of enthusiasm. They have several times sung in the cells of condemned prisoners awaiting the electric chair. Mr. Rooney is usually allowed to take the boys along the tiers of cells and talk with the prisoners, and the gratitude they show for the pleasure brought into their monotonous lives reveals the good which lies even in such hearts as these. If it can be but reached. The prisoners often thank the boys with tears in their eyes, and give them souvenirs and presents.

The daughters of Rebecca and the I. O. O. F.'s and friends are asked to keep the auction sale at the Odd Fellows Hall well in mind. It will be on Friday evening and four little maidens from Amsterdam will serve lunch.

"Rooney's Boys" have proved a revelation even to those familiar with the work of the Boys. The greatest musical novelty of years. Aroused unprecedented.

ELECTRICAL-DRIVEN CARS FOR PERE MARQUETTE

Receiver Felton of the Pere Marquette Railway company has been traveling over the lines lately in an electrically-driven inspection car that has attracted attention not only from the traveling public but from the officials of the road as well. It is a coach fifty-five feet long, ten feet wide, and twelve feet high, seats eighty-five persons, will carry 60 miles per hour. It has been reported that such cars are to be given a trial on one of the Pere Marquette divisions north of Grand Rapids, and if the test proves successful a number of cars will be added to the rolling stock of the company. There is no doubt that should the company put such a car on the Allegan run it would make money. Let the car leave Allegan at seven in the morning and make connection with the fast train from Chicago at Holland at eight o'clock. Then let the car return to Allegan and leave here again about half-past eleven, connecting with the main line trains both north and south; return here at once and leave again at half-past three to catch two more trains at Holland, one each way. Then let the car return again to Allegan for the night. But three men would be required to handle the car where five men are now required on a train. These new cars are reliable, for they are supplied with storage batteries kept fully charged by gasoline engines, and if the engines should become disabled for a time the batteries have strength to carry the car many miles. The Pere Marquette company would find Allegan and the surrounding territory welcome such service as that suggested here. Mr. Herbert Frazier, agent for the Pere Marquette in Allegan approves of the above schedule and is likewise of the opinion that it would mean much in a financial way for the company, to say nothing of convenience to patrons of the road.—Allegan Gazette.

Miss Hoekje has spent six years as a worker among the Mountain whites of Kentucky, and she told of the ignorance, poverty and superstitions of the people and showed their great need of enlightenment. Some pathetic instances of personal experiences were given and the people were compared to the lost sheep spoken of in the Bible. Various denominations are trying to assist the people but the work is slow as the funds are inadequate. Miss Hoekje is a pleasing and instructive speaker and at the close, a thankoffering was taken for the Home Mission Work. There was also special music by the choir.

The Grand Rapids fire department has adopted the telephone, and the chief now thinks he could not keep house without it.

The schooner Four Brothers attempted to run into this port on Sunday last for shelter, being loaded with shingles from the north for Michigan City. A bar had formed outside during the recent tempestuous weather, (as it seems to have done along the east shore) of which Captain Thompson was not aware, and she pounded very heavily, carrying away her main gaff, tearing her main sail badly, and splitting her foresail.

Our attention was recently called to the section of the New liquor law, defining what is meant by a retail liquor dealer. Among the rest of articles which a dealer may dispense to the public is sweet cider by the glass. And all who wish to indulge in the privilege of selling cider in any quantities license with approved bond before he can engage in that business. It follows that all persons in this city now selling cider by the glass, and there are quite a number are liable to prosecution under this new law. The penalty is quite severe and we advise caution on the part of all who are thus engaged.

The editor of the News took a brief vacation recently with Ex-Alderman Breyman and the chief of the Fire Department, A. Huntley, in a short trip shooting or attempting to shoot ducks. The head quarters of the party was at Macatawa Park and it is needless to say that a good time was enjoyed.

Among the embarrassing incident, that occurred was one which we asked for a button hook and was tendered two cork screws, of course we had no use for such articles and consequently returned them with our regrets. Bregman and Huntley got all the ducks and we got—awfully tired.

TRUSTY HAD WALKED OUT OF JAIL YARD; BUT WAS SOON CAUGHT

While walking along the railroad track near the Andre farm at Jenison L. V. Spitzer, of Holland better known as "Silver" had the surprise of his life when Sheriff Andre confronted him and took him into custody. As "Silver" had calmly walked away from a trusty gang from the jail on Thursday afternoon his capture was to be expected especially when he walked fairly into the sheriff's own dooryard. Spitzer who had served all but a few days of a 60-day sentence in the county jail had been a trusty for a few days and had given the officers no reason to believe that he would be foolish enough to run away with only a few days of his sentence to serve. However when a member of a gang of trusties doing a little job of outside work under the supervision of Deputy Sheriff O'Connell, Spitzer decided to make his getaway. Thursday afternoon his opportunity came and when the deputy's attention was turned elsewhere he calmly walked away and boarded an Interurban car for Grand Rapids. When he was missed it was too late to follow him but the officers have been conducting a quiet search for him ever since. He walked into the sheriff's arms at Jenison and today he is back in jail where he will remain firmly locked in for awhile.

ARRIVES FROM DRY DOCKS IN CHICAGO THIS WEEK.

Equipped With New Engines and Other Fixtures—To Be Laid Up

Benton Harbor, Nov. 24.—Equipped with a new engine and thoroughly overhauled the passenger steamer Holland arrived from dry docks in South Chicago in a few days to be laid up in the private slip in the far end of the canal. The freighter Traverse was moved from the slip on Wednesday to make place for the passenger boat.

It will be remembered that the Holland was disabled in mid-lake about the middle of the summer and so extensive were the repairs necessary in placing her in first class order again that she was taken off the run for the remainder of the season. A new engine was ordered from W. A. Fletcher & Co., of Hoboken, N. J. and installed and many other changes made.

The City of Chicago will be placed next to the Holland in the canal, while the Traverse has been placed further down the canal temporarily.

LITTLE TOTS MAKE GOOD USE OF LITERATURE SUPPLIED FOR THEM.

One of the most popular departments of the city library these days is the juvenile section. The little boys and girls have tables and chairs suited to the size of their small bodies in the western section of the room and it is no uncommon sight to see all the chairs occupied by little tots laboriously but enthusiastically pursuing the juvenile books and periodicals that the library supplies for their special use. The needs of the children are constantly kept in mind by the librarian and every effort is made to secure for them all the literature they can use. And the interest shown by the children is such that this department of library work has become very important and also very satisfactory.

FURNITURE FACTORY ESTABLISHED IN 1832 BUILDS ADDITION.

Lambert Furniture Company Has Enlarged Quarters; New Engraving Plant is Ready.

The West Michigan Furniture company, the oldest concern in this city, is constructing a large new addition to its factory.

The shop is divided into three large divisions. The first building was constructed in 1832.

The entire factory was destroyed by fire in '97, but was immediately rebuilt with many new additions.

At present the factory employs 400 men, and is doing a large business. The latest addition to the plant is a large drying kiln, which is built on the north side factory No. 2. When the new addition is completed about 25 more men will be employed, making the total number employed by the company about 425.

The new addition to the Chas. P. Lambert furniture plant is now completed and is running to its fullest extent. The new section contains three stories and a basement. The first floor is used principally as a packing room and a warehouse. A large new beautiful office is located on the second floor, as is also the cabinet room.

The third floor is used entirely for upholstering and here some 15 or 20 girls are employed. The entire new factory is equipped with all modern improvements, including rest room, lunch room, library and club rooms. The total number employed is about 350, including the 20 girls.

ANNOUNCE INTENDED VISITS FROM PULPIT AND INSIST THAT MEMBERS BE AT HOME.

The custom of the house-to-house visitation plan in vogue for years among the churches in the Holland Christian Reformed churches is again in progress and not a single family is overlooked.

At the Sunday services the names of the families to be visited during the week, together with the day and hour for each family, is publicly announced from the pulpit and no excuse will be taken for absence from the home when the pastor and elder put in an appearance. These visits are usually of an hour's duration, at the close of which a prayer is offered.

One of the pastors during the present canvass, visited over 50 families in a single week and as his congregation numbers over four hundred families the rounds cover more than two months of strenuous work. Besides scores of homes are annually visited in case of sickness.

MAN ARRESTED IN KALAMAZOO SUSPECTED OF BRINK BOOK STORE JOB.

Proprietor of Store And Daughter Go to County Seat for Purpose of Identification.

Believing that they had found the man who burglarized the book store of H. R. Brink some time ago the Kalamazoo authorities Saturday night arrested a man named Carney and locked him up in the Kalamazoo county jail. It seems that he was found selling fountain pens and it was supposed by the officials that these might be the pens taken from the Brink the local police department sent out the local police department send out a hundred postal cards to many of the cities in the state describing the burglary, and asking the officers all over the state to be on the lookout for anyone trying to sell the goods that have been stolen. It was these cards that directed the attention of the Kalamazoo officers to the man as he was trying to dispose of fountain pens.

The cards directed anyone who might have information which might lead to the arrest of the guilty party to communicate with Sheriff Andre in Grand Haven. The Kalamazoo authorities called up the sheriff and Deputy Sheriff Salisbury went to Kalamazoo to take the man under arrest to the county jail. They arrived there yesterday and the accused man is being held pending an investigation.

Tuesday noon Mr. Brink and his daughter Ella went to Grand Haven to identify the man if possible. It is claimed that on the day of the burglary a certain man had been in the store a number of times. Miss Brink had noticed him and the theory was that he was the man who in the evening pulled off the burglary.

Last week the Michigan representative of the firm that manufactures Moore's Non-Leakable Fountain Pens was in the city. He declared that if any one ever tried to sell a Moore he could be put down as a crook since he himself was authorized to sell pens. Several Moore's were stolen and it is supposed that this may help to convict the accused man.

"WESTERN RURAL ROUTER" DESCRIBES TEACHING OF AGRICULTURE THERE.

Article Illustrated With Picture of Rural School in Jamestown, This County.

"The Western Rural Router" this month prints a cut of the pupils of the rural school at Jamestown under the heading, "Teaching Agriculture in the Rural schools," and the following article appears under the cut:

"The farmers' institute, the agricultural colleges, bulletins, the short courses, as a rule, operate to increase the productivity of those farmers where the yield is now way above the average. The man who is bringing down the average does not attend institutes, read college bulletins or study agricultural questions. He must be reached by actual demonstrations on his own farm, either thru experts or by his own children. The agricultural school must be brought to the farmer if the children in the rural schools must be educated to become progressive and intelligent farmers.

"Michigan, we believe, is far in advance of her sister states, but this advance has been principally in the past 15 years. The total enrollment in all the schools in the state is about 550,000. Of this number, 320,000 are in cities and villages and 220,000 or 40 per cent, are being educated in rural districts. There are 100 cities and large villages in the state. Of this number 41 have courses in manual training, 30 in domestic science, 15 have regular four-year courses in agriculture and about 15 others give some work in agricultural training. It is estimated by Professor French from whom these figures are obtained, that about 60 per cent of the pupils in our schools have some training in industrial work, there are about 500 boys studying agriculture in high schools and the extension phase connected with this reaches approximately 1000 farmers. There are 6,700 rural schools in the state and of this 12 1/2 per cent are giving some work in elementary agriculture, manual training and domestic science.

Every person who has graduated from the college has become an enthusiastic advocate of advanced scientific methods and has given agriculture his moral and active support. Fifteen of the graduates of the college are now conducting agricultural departments in high schools. Next year there will be 24 such schools in charge of the college graduates. Perhaps the best development of the agriculture college has been in the increasing number of farmers who have attended the short courses of the college. Last year over 400 men from the farms of Michigan received valuable instruction and inspiration from the teachers in that excellent institution.

LIFE SAVERS EXPECT TO GO ON ANNUAL VACATION NOVEMBER 30.

Fall Has Been a Very Quiet One; Not Much Extra Work Because of Weather.

Captain Van Weelden of the Macatawa Life Saving Station has not yet received the usual notice that the station will be closed for the winter at midnight of November 30. Usually this notice comes to the captain some what earlier in November than this, and the crew at the station is wondering if the delay in the notification means that the station will be kept open longer than usual this year. Last year there was some talk that the government would follow this plan and keep the stations open till January. Some stations along the lake were kept open a month longer, but at Macatawa no change was made. Captain Van Weelden does not expect that any change will be made this year, but that ten days from now the boys will be allowed to begin their vacations.

The crew at the station rejoices as much as anyone in the beautiful weather that has struck Michigan this fall. It has been one of the most quiet falls that the members of the crew have experienced for many years, and there is little of the extra work that fall weather usually brings with it. Sometimes November is so stormy that the men are kept on their toes all the time and are often exposed to danger even. This year November has been so quiet that the lake looks as it does in midsummer. And since the resorters have left there is little of the work that the crew for their vacation.

Most of the men that make up the Macatawa crew will remain in Holland or at Macatawa Park during the winter months. Regenmorter, Slegthor, Bertsch, Teigard and Horning live at Macatawa and will remain there during the winter. Van Gort will make his home in Holland. Only one man, W. H. Mikels, will spend the winter away from here. He will go to Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin.

The crew at Macatawa has about given up hope that congress will pass the pension bills that have been agitated considerably during the past two or three years. There was a time when the life savers at Macatawa were deeply interested in this measure, but failure on the part of congress to pass the necessary legislation has caused them to lose hope. There has been some talk of the next congress taking the matter up again, but the men at the station do not believe that anything will come of it just yet.

POWERS

Robert B. Mantell, the recognized leader of the American Stage in the interpretation of the great roles of Shakespeare and the classics, comes to the Powers' Theatre, Grand Rapids, for an engagement of eight Shakespearean performances starting December 2d.

Grand Rapids is the only city in Michigan Mr. Mantell appears this season.

Mr. Mantell's repertoire for Grand Rapids is as follows:

Monday, Dec. 2d.....Julius Caesar
Tuesday, Dec. 3d.....Macbeth
Wednesday matinee.....Merchants of Venice
Wednesday night.....Hamlet
Thursday, Dec. 4th.....Othello
Friday, Dec. 5th.....King Lear
Saturday matinee.....Julius Caesar
Saturday night.....Richard III

The Wednesday matinee is a special students and teachers performance.

Rates will be given for parties of twenty-five on the different railroad rates and the interurbans. This courtesy will be of great advantage to teachers and pupils of the schools.

Mr. Mantell is the only American actor living who can be regarded as the legitimate successor of the long line of tragedians that included Forrest, Kean, McCullough, the Booths and Mansfield. He is the only actor fitted by voice and physique and long, hard training in the classics for such great roles as King Lear and Othello, and is the only one who has dared re-create these personages and include them in a permanent repertoire. His success in the interpretation of the big classic roles led William Winter in 1907 to proclaim Mr. Mantell leader of the American stage, and since then many other critics of note have echoed this opinion. Mr. Mantell's readings of certain of the tragic speeches in "Macbeth" are regarded by Mr. Winter as the best readings of Shakespearean lines since the days of Edwin Booth. Professor H. H. Hay of Girard College, Philadelphia, recently went a step further even than Mr. Winters and declared Mr. Mantell the superior of Booth in natural qualifications, for Shakespearean tragedies and quite his equal in most points of Art. Prof. Hay, who is a Shakespearean scholar of note and whose memory of acting extends back to the days of Forrest and the Booths, unhesitatingly pronounced Mr. Mantell the greatest King Lear in the history of the stage, not only of American but of the world.

For each of Mr. Mantell's productions his manager, William A. Brady, has provided stage settings in keeping with the dignity of the acting of the foremost Shakespearean star, and Mr. Mantell's company, which has been steadily improving year after year, is now considered one of the greatest organizations that ever interpreted Shakespeare to Americans.

Joe Zaremski, aged 12, Felix Zaremski aged 14, and Walter Krusel, aged 15, were picked up by the police officers at the P. M. depot Monday night looking pretty ragged and very dirty. They said they were from Petoskey and were running away from home. They were given rooms in the Hotel Bristol and again in the morning they were taken to the jail where they are being held awaiting a message from the children's parents or from the chief of police at Petoskey. They have been wandering since Saturday night and were trying to reach Detroit.

Friends in the city have received word from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oosting that they arrived safely in Miami, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

Friday one of the Holland Inter-urban cars ran into a herd of cattle on the Saugatuck road and killed four cows. The cows belonged to Harry Tuesink. R. Mulder was the motorman.

Blikert and Nina Lindeman.

Fire in the wood box of Stedione's house on First street Friday a. m. gave the fire department a little exercise and caused much alarm among the residents of that district. A match was carelessly dropped into the woodbox which set afire to some papers and startled the inmates of the house. They turned in a fire alarm but before the fire department could get there the fire was out.

The cypress trees still wave their banners of Spanish moss, and the Acadian descendants still occupy their ribbon-like farms on the banks of the bayous, a happy and prosperous people.
