Happiness Makes Personality

WHAT makes an attractive personality? Some think it is born in those who have it.

We don't think so. It comes with happiness, and happiness is the logical result of thrift and independence.

There are steps to it, just as there are steps to a ladder.

An important step is a connection with this strong bank.

Mr. Candidate For Governor

DRUNKS COME MOSTLY FROM ALLEGAN CO.

VERY FEW ARRESTS WERE MADE AND CHIEF VAN RY GIVES HIS REASONS.

Claims Majority Drunks are Farm and Berry Picker Hands

Although burglaries are reported everywhere throughout the state, Holland has been exceptionally free from the yegman so far this winter. Thus far not a case has been reported, but the saying goes "Don't boast, tap on the wood", because the winter isn't over with as yet.

Not alone has Holland been free of burglaries but the lesser crimes are not so rampant as before. For instance last month 37 cases of drunk were reported while this month only seven offenders have been in their cups. The chief says that Holland furnishes but very few drunks and that the large list reported each month during the summer time are berry pickers and men from the peppermint farms, besides several characters from Saugatuck, Fennville and other parts of dry Allegan, who when they come to Holland, want to drink everything in sight for fear they won't get enough, knowing that when they get back to Allegan county there is very little chance of looking upon the "red-eye."

These berry pickers and mint farmers visit Allegan county by the hundreds during the summer where they work for a few days, draw their pay, come to Holland and spend it and if they succeed in getting by the officers of the law they go back and work a few days more, and repeat their visit to this city until finally they do land in the "cooler," generally winding up with a 30 days sentence in the county bastille.

That few Holland men are picked up for drunkenness is shown in the police report thus far this month. Out of the seven reported but two were Holland characters and the difference between this and last month's list of arrests is 30.

The reason for this dropping off is that the berry pickers have gone south to a warmer clime and no doubt next year when the crop of berries is ripe a large crop of Holland drunks will also be gathered in.

PAROLED MEN CANNOT GO IN SALOON

HOLD-UP MEN ARE PAROLED BY JUDGE CROSS

Must Live Model Life For Three Years At Least.

Chris Ver Planck and Dick Riemersma who sometime ago held up "Lute" Hoffman in his home near North Holland were sentenced yesterday by Judge Cross.

Ver Planck was tried sometime ago and found guilty, while Riemersma pleaded guilty last week.

The contention of the two young men was that they had planned a joke upon Hoffman but that they had become intoxicated and not being in their right mind simply carried the joke too far.

The Judge felt as if he wished to give the boys another chance and therefore put them on parole for three years. The parole carries with it some strong stipulations which these two young men must follow out and if they are not lived up to them in every detail it will mean a good long term in Ionia or Jackson.

For three years Ver Planck of Holland formerly of Zeeland and Riemersma of Olive are to abstain absolutely from the use of any intoxicating liquors. During that time they are not to enter any saloon of any kind anywhere. They are to stay out of all billiard and pool rooms and must make report to their next friend, who was appointed by Judge Cross, of their weekly earnings, what they have done with their money and where they have spent their time.

Violating the conditions, that the Judge has laid down, means the stone pile for the hold-up men.

The judge means to try out the parole system in this instance, feeling that if these men behave for three years, society will have been better served by having made good citizens of them. If their behavior is not what it should be, their punishment has simply been postponed and their sentence will be meted out accordingly.

Attorneys Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate acted for Riemersma and Arthur Van Duren was the legal advisor of Mr. Ver Planck.

THIEFS PREPARE FOR THANKSGIVING

THIRTY TURKEYS STOLEN FROM BEN VAN RAALTE'S FARM

Men Make Raid With Automobiles At Night but Make Get Away

The Robertts Bros.' Meat Market on Sixteenth street had contracted with Ben Van Raalte, sr., for a consignment of thirty turkeys to be delivered yesterday. However, word came to them in the afternoon that they could not be delivered because a raid was made on the Van Raalte farm and all the turkeys, some thirty in number, were stolen.

It appears that the thieves came prepared with an automobile running it through the field to where the turkeys were located, quickly filling their machine with them and hastening to parts unknown.

Robbets Bros. have secured another lot elsewhere and the market will be well supplied with the National bird for Thanksgiving Day.

HOLLAND WOMAN IS AWARDED $490 A WEEK FOR 300 WEEKS FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Mrs. Baldus Asked for $1500—Case May Be Appealed.

The state compensation board last night awarded $1470 to Mrs. L. Baldus of this city in compensation for the death of her husband recently which resulted from a splinter in his hand received in one of the local factories. The wound was so simple that it was difficult for the board to understand how Mr. Baldus could have died from the effects.

Mrs. Baldus asked for the sum of $1500 and received practically the whole amount. It is said that the case may be appealed by the insurance company.

The case does not implicate the furniture company who is insured against accidents. However the case is being fought by the insurance company who carry their insurance.

SMOKE AGAIN ROLLING FROM HOLLAND STACK

NEW SMOKE STACK FOR HOLLAND PUT UP IN TWO DAYS

Muskegon Boiler Works Takes It Here Over the Pike by Auto Truck

What is considered a chain lighting job was done at the Holland Furniture Co., when the Muskegon Boiler Works put up a new one hundred foot stack to take the place of the old one which was blown down Saturday night. Manager Stephan gave the order to the Muskegon Co., on Sunday morning. The parts of the stack were sent over the Pike in Auto Trucks arriving Monday morning and on Tuesday night a new stack had been riveted together and today smoke is issuing from the boilers of the factory. Everything will be in readiness for the men to go to work again on Friday morning.

The factory is working overtime and is rushed with orders and owing to the fact that the stack was put out of commission it inconvenienced the company considerable to have the accident occur at this time. The roof of the building was considerably damaged by the fall of the old stack and the loss will be in the neighborhood of $1,000.

It certainly speaks well for the Muskegon Boiler Works and its efficient staff of workmen. The stack was painted this morning.

City Police and Deputies in Hot Search of Man Who Made Desperate Attempt Upon Woman Monday Afternoon

Grand Haven Tribune—

Monday afternoon the police were seeking for a young man about the age of 19 or 20 years, whom Mrs. H. P. Jensen has accused of attempting criminal assault.

The young man is said to be a hobo who has been loafing around the town for the past few days and has found lodging in the county jail. Sunday night he was watched by the night officers and finally given a berth in the main cell room of the jail. He is regarded as a degenerate and tells those whom he meets that he is from Minnesota seeking a position.

Mrs. Jensen says the young man came to her home after going to other homes, among them being that of Mrs. Nash, corner of Columbus and Griffin and asked for board and room. She says he asked many personal questions and after being refused a rooming place his violence occurred. Mrs. Jensen was made to suffer much violence from the man but she succeeded in warding him off when his blows came. She says he did not say anything but that his actions were plainly indicative.

Chief of Police John Welch and the deputy sheriffs were out in search of the young man at once after the complaint was registered at the jail. They say they know the young man and his arrest was expected at any time.

Further reports were that the suspected one came to the Jensen home and after a few questions to Mrs. Jensen about securing a rooming place, suddenly grabbed her and choked her until she fainted away. After that she does not remember what happened except that she came to her senses and the man was gone. The police have secured a good description of the man suspected and are hot on his trail.

CITIZENS BELIEVE HEADQUARTERS OF WESTERN MICHIGAN DEVELOPMENT CO. SHOULD BE REMOVED FROM TRAVERSE CITY

Good All Year Round Harbor and Renewed Industrial Activities Give City Best Prospects in History.

Grand Haven, Nov. 24—Ottawa is one of the strong supporters of the West Michigan Development bureau and the boosters of Ottawa county believe that they should have headquarters of the bureau located in Grand Haven, which is the county seat. The Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce has offered to procure elaborate quarters for the bureau, should it be decided to locate here, and the department bureau has their offer under advisement.

Men competent to calculate future developments of the country are of the opinion that a large city will grow up rapidly along the lake shore of western Michigan, and as to just what point this will be, opinions are divided. Z. H. Dangremont, industrial promoter, sees great possibilities in Grand Haven, owing to her superior year around harbor, in other words, Grand Haven has both her front and back doors open the year around. With the industries of Grand Haven rapidly growing and the Goodrich Transit company about to put on a daily freight service between this city and Chicago, which will operate all winter, Grand Haven seems to be in line.

LAND OWNERS OF U. P. HAVE A NEW PLAN.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 24—A new method of getting settlers to come to Clover Land and develop the agricultural possibilities has been suggested by J. M. Longyear, of Marquette and put into practice by many of the larger land owners in the upper peninsula.

This idea in substance is as follows: 1. The purchaser must pay 10 per cent of the price at the time the contract is made.

2. Pays 6 per cent interest for six years, providing of course he makes improvements on the land.

3. During each of the first five years the owners must lend the settler $15 per acre on all land bought under cultivation that year.

4. During each of the first five years the owner must loan settler one-half the value of all new permanent buildings.

5. This money loaned must be used in making further improvements on the property.

6. The settler must work to improve the land and not exhaust it.

7. After five years the settler must pay at least 10 per cent of the amount due and all above six per cent is to go on the principle.

At the end of 21 years the settler will own the land if he pays only that demanded by the contract and will have a living for that time and probably worth from two to six times what it cost him.

GOES TO BED FARM HAND AWAKENS NEXT MORNING HEIR TO $500,000 ESTATE; NO PIPE DREAM EITHER.

Grand Rapids, Nov. 24—Robert Hoover, 50 years old, was a farm hand when he went to bed one night. Next morning when he awoke, he was heir to a $500,000 estate out in Cedar Rapids, Ia. His mother whom he had not seen for 30 years, had died and left the fortune.

Story books and novels carry the kind of a tale that Robert Hoover's experience would make. He has traversed the gap of life's experiences that leads a boy to run away from home, tramp the ties, "hit the back door," for a "handout," homesickness, the unwelcome return after many years to find a step-father in the home and the departure again to face the world for the real fight.

Hoover was born in Cedar Rapids, Ia. and at the early age ran away. His parents were not the richest folk in Iowa at that time so Robert thought he could do well by striking out alone. He endured the usual experiences that fall to the runaway and in northern Michigan he found contentment for awhile in a lumber camp.

In a few years he returned to his old home, and the changes that greeted him were entirely new as he had never written and had seen no one meanwhile of whom he could inquire.

His father had died and his mother had married again. This marriage proved a good one, for the stepfather was possessed of much rich farming land and a large stock farm. But the son found no comfort in the new home, so he moved again.

For a time he worked in northern Wisconsin and then drifted into Michigan and finally settled in a town called Harrietta, in Wexford county. There he married and made a home. Two years later his wife died and as there had been no children Hoover again took to roaming to settle his grief and satisfy his wanderlust. He left the state but returned and spent a number of years on a farm.

He finally gave up this work and returned to the camps, but this proved too arduous at last and he again took up farming, hiring out to a farmer in Osceola county. He still was at this work when he married a second time and returned to Harrietta, where he again opened a home.

However, the pair was not mated, and the marriage did not prove a happy one. After a few months they separated and Hoover applied for and received a divorce. He returned to farming and was engaged in that work when he received word of his legacy.

His stepfather had died, and his mother survived her husband but a short time. She had made various efforts to locate her son in the last few months of her life, but these had been unsuccessful, it appeared, altho other developments later indicated that her orders had never been carried out.

Faithful in the belief that her son would be located, the mother left the balance of the estate to Hoover and after her death attorneys and officials soon located the missing man.

Hoover was in Harrietta when news of the windfall reached him, and along with the message came an attorney from Cedar Rapids. The fact was disclosed to Hoover that his right to the estate of his dead mother was being disputed in courts in Cedar Rapids by the two brothers of his step-father, who instituted proceedings to take possession of the property.

Hoover at first decided to accept an offer of $50,000 and thereby avoid litigation, but after he had returned to his old home he decided against this step and has retained attorneys to fight for the carrying out of the provisions of the original will.

Observe Annual Thank Offering in the Church Parlor

The Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held a very pleasant meeting Monday evening in the church parlors and also observed the annual thank-offering.

There is great need of quilts for single beds in several of the mission homes and for this purpose the ladies met in the afternoon. A beautiful picnic dinner was served at 6:30 to which friends were invited. A short business session was held with Mrs. Moody in charge of devotionals. Mrs. Whitman explained showed how the money was spent. Mrs. McClellan brought back a cheering report of the conference meeting recently held at Jackson. At the conference Mrs. E. B. Rich of Holland was unanimously re-elected to the office of secretary of temperance for the Michigan conference.

PICKED EIGHT QUARTS OF STRAWBERRIES IN NOVEMBER

Niles, Nov. 24—Mrs. Dan Nieb, who resides on Sherman street, picked eight quarts of strawberries from her vines of the ever-bearing variety last Friday, but with the turn of cold weather and the arrival of snow, she thinks that may be the last good picking for this season, altho there are still some nearly ripe and many green berries still on the vines.

The ever-bearing vines have yielded since the first of August between 700 and 800 quarts of ripe berries of excellent flavor and fine coloring.

Mrs. Nieb began picking strawberries the first of June, and it has been a long strawberry season altho if it ends now it will not quite equal the record of last year, which produced ever-bearing strawberries from this field up to the first of December. There are 1,300 plants in the Nieb ever-bearing patch, and it has afforded a pleasant occupation to care for them.

How To Prevent Croup

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

BUSH & LANE MAKE THE ONLY UPRIGHT GRAND IN THE WORLD.

TOOK MR. LANE SIX YEARS TO PERFECT NEW MODEL WHICH IS NOW SELLING FAST

The Great Prima Donna Miss Frances Ingram Has One In Her Studio.

It is quite an honor to this city when one can say this is made in Holland, but when one can boast that the only ones in the whole world are made in Holland, makes the honor worth something.

This is just what Walter Lane of the Bush & Lane Piano Co., has accomplished. Mr. Lane's contentions all along have been that a grand piano could be made just as satisfactorily in an upright style as in a three-legged lay-down variety and for several years he has been studying, scheming and planning on how best to reach the solution.

Being a busy man and a very careful one besides in experimental work, Mr. Lane did not rush this plan along, and it was only recently that he felt ready to make known that he had completed the task and the piano with the new scale was ready for the trade.

The new piano is known as Style 16, and is taking well with music lovers throughout the United States. Several of these new pianos have been shipped to Bush & Lane dealers who are exceptionally good judges of construction and tone quality and their judgment has been extremely favorable to the idea and the admirable manner in which Mr. Lane worked out this musical problem.

Several prominent musical people are buying the new upright grand made by The Bush & Lane Piano Co., and no less a personage than Miss Frances Ingram of the Chicago Opera Co., who sang at Carnegie Hall Monday evening has purchased one of them. Miss Ingram has the Upright Grand in her studio and so well pleased is the prima donna with her selection that she wrote the following letter to the company:—

Bush & Lane Piano Co.,
Holland, Michigan.
Dear Sirs:—
Your style 16, Bush & Lane is a remarkable upright piano. Musically it deserves the name of "upright grand."

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Frances Ingram,
of Chicago-Philadelphia and Montreal Grand Opera Companies.

This certainly is an endorsement worth while and Holland cannot help but feel proud that this new innovation in the musical world is the invention of a Holland man and is made in a Holland industry by Holland workmen.

HOLLAND NOT ONLY TOWN TO GET TARTER INDUSTRIES

Allegan Gazette—

Circulars were issued this week by the managers to the stockholders of the Blood Bros. Machine company carrying out the action of the stockholders, asking for surrender of certificates of stock to Mr. Earl W. De Lano as trustee and acceptance of new stock for but 17 and one half per cent of their investment. The rest of it, the eighty-two and one-half per cent, represents total loss to the subscribers to the original stock. This is a pretty hard blow to the men who undertook to secure for Allegan what represented to be sure to become a great industry; but all have suffered alike, the smaller with the larger stockholders, and there is nothing to do but bear it and hope for a favorable outcome in the future under the plan of readjustment which has been adopted. It is probable that the stockholders will all agree to the terms and so afford the only chance there is to save anything out of the venture. But the concern is no mean industry just as it is. Nearly one hundred persons are busily engaged each day in the manufacture of universal joints, for which there seems to be a reliably steady demand. Orders are in hand for $80,000 worth of them right now, or as many as the factory can turn out in four or five months.

LAKE CITY DEPUTY REFUSES TO WAIT UNTIL THE CLOSE OF SERVICES

Arrest and Take Deserter Away at Father's Grave

Cadillac, Nov. 24.—George Hall, Missaukee county youth, who recently deserted from the United States marines, was arrested at his father's grave in Lake City cemetery by Deputy Sheriff Sherman Saturday. The incident has aroused considerable feeling.

Hall returned home early last week upon learning of the death of his father J. J. Hall. For some time officers have been on the lookout for him, as a reward of $50 was offered for his arrest. Young Hall, with a brother and two brothers-in-law, acted as pallbearers. When they reached the cemetery, it is stated Hall was called aside by Deputy Sherman and told he was under arrest. It is reported that Deputy Sherman refused Hall's request to allow him to stand at the side of the grave, even under guard, and he was placed in an automobile. His mother tore the side curtain loose and embraced her son.

Deputy Sheriff Sherman said he did not know the burial ceremonies were not over and that young Hall had abused him when told he was under arrest. For this reason and threats he alleges the boy made the deputy said he did not feel it was safe to permit Hall to stand at the grave with other relatives.

THE PRISON AUTHORITIES AT MARQUETTE SAY HOPPER IS A MODEL PRISONER

Man Who Threw Sweetheart Into Lake Michigan Four Years Ago Writes Grand Haven Tribune from Marquette Cell.

Four years ago last August Walter Hopper crossing Lake Michigan on a Graham & Morton steamer, Chicago to Holland, threw his sweetheart overboard into the water of Lake Michigan, where she was drowned. Hopper was placed in irons by the crew of the steamer and brought to Holland and later to Grand Haven.

This crime furnished headlines to the newspapers of the nation, it was so unusual.

Five days later on August 30, Hopper in the Ottawa Circuit Court before Judge Philip Padgham, pleaded guilty to first degree murder and was sentenced to Marquette penitentiary for the balance of his life.

Hopper was an unusual prisoner and there was much sympathy for the man. He made many friends among the officers here before he was taken to the State's prison.

Friday's Grand Haven Tribune received and printed the following letter from Hopper written in Marquette prison. It will no doubt be read with interest.

An Open Letter.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 13, 1915.
Editor Grand Haven Tribune.

Dear Friend:—Since the last writing to you, so many things have happened, that I thought it would interest you and the many good friends I made while in Grand Haven, to hear from me again. What then was only a dream has now become more than realized and we have organized "The Brighter Day League," (Prison branch of the Salvation Army) at this prison with a membership of 200 and conduct meetings every Sunday morning.

We have a band of 15 pieces, we meet the new inmate and advise him to do right, furnish him reading matter and help him to a better life, we visit the sick and bury the dead, but very few die here, they are treated so well that they live to a ripe old age.

And in this work we have the friendly advice and co-operation of every prison official. And now I got a surprise for you and all the folks. On Tuesday, Nov. 3, there was a Salvation Army wedding in Marquette City and I was there.

And this is how it happened. Our (Golden Rule) Hall Master, Mr. E. Johnson was requested by Mrs. Captain Shaw (our Prison Mother) to ask Mr. James Russell (Our Golden Rule) Warden to let me go. And he said "Yes" (He always says yes to anything provided it will help to make any man better.) And so the afternoon of the 9th I was dressed in a fine suit of clothes and getting the best wishes of all the inmates, I then left the prison at 6 p. m., and went to the home of Mr. Johnson and spent one of the happiest hours of my life with his happy family.

At 7 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and myself left in a carriage for the city. Arriving at the church, Mr. Johnson left me and was free to mingle among my comrades of the Salvation Army. It is putting it very mildly to say that I spent the happiest night of my life among the people whose thoughts and words were pure. And they gave me a warm welcome, too, and I left as if I had been born and raised among them.

The pastor, Rev. M. K. Wilkins gave me a handshake I shall never forget and told me to be sure to come to see him on my release on parole. After a beautiful service, I again met Mr. Johnson and he took the trouble of taking me all through the city pointing out all the places of interest and then we started for my present home. On the way we met our Golden Rule Deputy Warden, Mr. T. B. Catlin and he treated me to an auto ride.

All that I have become is through the power of Jesus who died to save sinners—the Army and the officials here, who are having the Golden Rule daily. And what I have accomplished is possible for every inmate if they make up their mind the only way is the right way. I am 99 per cent better off, spiritually, physically and morally than I was when I came here, and some day I hope to meet Hon Judge Padgham and thank him for sending me to Marquette prison.

After I am released, my very first visit outside of Marquette City will be Grand Haven for I have many friends there I am anxious to see, and believe they will be glad to see me. Since last writing I have received beautiful letters from Sheriff Cornelius Andre, and Prosecutor Mr. Louis Osterhaus.

Do not be surprised if I drop in your office most any day in a year or so. I remain yours,
Saved to Serve,
WALTER HOPPER.

GETS LETTER GIVING VIVID DESCRIPTION OF FIGHTING IN EUROPE.

Writing from Amsterdam where she and her husband have been located for a year, Mrs. George Polman, a missionary, formerly a resident of Zeeland, asserts that a friend who fought in the trenches wrote that he has stood in blood up to his ankles and fought while at another time he stood in water to his knees with dead bodies bumping against him.

Her husband, she says, saw trains of boys aged 17 to 20 years, leaving Germany for the battle front. Mothers with new born babies wrapped in newspapers are arriving in Holland she says.

A week ago she writes, 18 Hollanders went to fish in a herring boat. Nine of them were crazy, killed and tortured three and hid the other six away. Nobody knows what happened to drive them insane.

Because of the terrific fire the wounded cannot be saved. There is terrible shrieking on the battle fields then the shrieks turn to curses and later to songs and all is quiet.

She closes by asking her Zeeland friends to "pray for us all here."

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES HAVE HIGHER AVERAGE

Occasionally we hear some pessimistic individual trying to prove that athletics should not have a part in school life. Others say that too much time is devoted to athletics and not enough to studies, consequently the main issue is often forgotten in the whirl and excitement of the game. We are glad to show that actual facts prove just the contrary—that statistics in the local high school show the percentage of the athlete to be higher than that of the erstwhile "bookworm" or pale anemic young man who does nothing but study, that is, nothing noticeable.

The beginning of this school year marked the beginning of a new rule also in regard to those participating in athletics. Formerly the requirement was that the student taking part in any form of athletics must be passing in three of his subjects. With that rule, the aspiring athlete was forced to do better class work than many of those not taking a part and consequently not having to live up to the law. This rule is the one still adopted by the majority of other schools. But the new rule now in force since September is one stating that all athletes must pass in all four subjects. At the announcement of it, a storm of protest was raised, accusing the authorities of trying to kill athletics. The verdict of the student body was that the demands were too harsh. But they nevertheless settled down to live up to it, or quite athletics.

The first team turned out under this new rule is the present foot ball team, one that is a credit not only to the school but the city. The cry that athletics would be killed has been changed to one of commendation. The team that won over Union high was a team of eligibles, passing in all four subjects. At the close of the season's schedule, Principal Drew gives out the following concerning the standings of the team during the past five weeks, the percentage being the average found of each player's four subjects: Kuite 90, Cobb 82.6, Oudemoulen 84, Risto 86, Van Dommelen 86, Irving 84, Huntley 82.6, Kronmeyer 85.5, Lokker 75.5, Paulus 89, Cappon 90, Dan Den Uyl 87, the average being 85.25 per cent. The average of the first five weeks was 83.74 per cent, showing that the standing of each player is improved as the season advances. This last average is a little better than two per cent higher than that of the remaining male contingent of the whole school body.

Isn't this team worthy of the approval of the parents and citizens of this city? Even the hardest specimen of a pessimist must be convinced of the usefulness of athletics in the Holland High school at least. This team will play an exhibition post-season game on Thanksgiving with the Alumni of the school. The money derived from the sale of tickets will be used to strengthen the fund being raised to purchase sweaters for the team. Are the citizens going to show their appreciation of both the scholarship and athletic ability of such a team?

Proprietors Are Complaining That the Night Men in These Different Establishments are Playing Franks On One Another

"Ting-a-ling-a-ling—Hello, is that light burning on your corner?" That night men at a certain livery thinking it was an official of the Board of Public Works rushed out to find that it was burning brightly and told the man at the other end of the wire so. "All right, then, blow it out," came back the response. Some wag from a local restaurant had been joshing the night man at the livery.

The other evening a call came in to a local cafe when the voice at the other end of the line stated "fix me up two juicy steaks rare, French fry." Before the man at the all night restaurant could ascertain the name of the customer, the phone was closed off and then rather than disappoint a patron he hurriedly does his best with the orders and soon has them ready for consumption. No hungry men appear, but instead a faint call asking whether the steaks were already and their orders had been complied with.

"Yes, they are already and waiting."

"Alright, then eat them yourself," comes from the other end of the wire and the phone was closed. The night man who had eaten a liberal supper could not make way with the two large porterhouses he had on his hands and they were consigned to the garbage with the rest of the waste.

Another livery man complains that his men were called up in the night by a party unknown and was told that a horse was down in the stalls of a competitive livery. In order to accommodate his contemporary he rushes to the livery barn mentioned to find that no call had been sent and that all horses were standing right side up.

This is the way the matter stood until Friday night when a call came in to a livery asking for a horse to be sent hurriedly to an undertaker in this city. The night man replied that he would send it immediately but as the rig was not forthcoming, he called up again with the same reply, but no horse came. With blood in his eye the undertaker rushed to the livery barn, called the night man in terms that could be plainly understood, when all these different stories were brought to light.

The man at the barn said that he had been joshed so often from different local restaurants that he thought this call was intended with the same end in view.

The livery man at whose barn this incident happened came to the News man clean through and asked us to expose those implicated. The City News told the irate proprietor that the best way out is to warn the participants to stop their joking as it might lead to serious results. The undertaker no doubt was compelled to look after a dead one but like as not another call might have been sent by a physician who was hurriedly called to save the life of a child, a mother or father and when the young men appreciate what serious results their joking may bring about they themselves will no doubt have sense enough to stop the practice in the future.

DEATH TAKES YOUNG LIFE.

Mrs. Hattie Burch Leaves Two-Weeks' Old Babe; Was Married a Year Ago.

Mrs. Hattie Burch, wife of McKinley Burch, died at her home at 152 East 7th street Saturday, at the age of 22 years. She had been married for only a year, and leaves a two-weeks' old babe, beside her husband and parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gommers of New Groningen, and several brothers and sisters.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at her maiden home, New Groningen, where the Rev. H. J. Veldman will conduct services in the chapel.

GRAND HAVEN CAN'T FIND AN ALDERMAN.

Vacancy Caused by Resignation of O. L. Hendricks from Grand Haven City Body Brings Unusual Situation for Members to Handle.

While there have been a great many names mentioned in the matter of electing another alderman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman O. L. Hendricks from the official body, strange enough there has been none of the last competition for the position. At the last meeting of the council the matter was brought up for discussion but none of the aldermen had a name to offer for candidacy. The next meeting of the city council will be held one week from next Monday evening and at that time they say they will elect an alderman.

The name of John J. Gleason, prominent and well known citizen of the city is that mentioned in one statement to the papers. Mr. Gleason has many times been on official bodies of his home city and needs no introduction to his home town folk.

However, the identity of the next alderman is not settled in any manner as yet. What the present members of the aldermanic body will do in the situation has not even been hinted.

Probably because of the fact that the new charter makes all council elections from the city at large rather than from wards under the old system, is the interest in the choice of another alderman now much below standard.

ASKS OLD SWEETHEART TO MARRY HER.

NOT LEAP YEAR BUT LADY SENDS REQUEST JUST THE SAME; HAS MONEY, AUTO AND CHAUFFEUR

William Baker, the cobbler at Spritsma's Shoe store is pegging away at his bench and occasionally scratches his head and smiles a knowing smile.

But there is a reason for the twinkle in Bill's eye.

Bill has received a proposal of marriage from an old sweetheart of his who is living in California. The letter refers to the friendship of long ago and the uselessness of two old friends living alone, and so far apart. The message also implied that there is money enough for both with a beautiful new Chalmers with a chauffeur in livery.

It suggested that "it is not good for man to live alone", and that the evening of their lives be spent in each other's society, with the hope that both may still realize a long and happy future. That is why Bill is smiling while pegging away.

Distress in the Stomach
There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padgham, Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

He had badly strained the ligaments of his hip.

The last game of the season's schedule ended in victory for Holland High School when they journeyed to Grand Haven Saturday and defeated that school, 9-0. Several injuries were suffered by both teams, the game being as hard fought as any yet held between the two schools. The score was made by a touchback and a touchdown, Irving making the plunge that carried the ball over. Paulus made a 70 yard run for a touchdown with an intercepted forward pass, but the referee claimed that the Grand Haven man passing the ball was not five yards behind the scrimmage line. Nevertheless the nine points could not be protested, and once more the most bitter rivals of the local school has had to accept defeat.

ROSES ARE BLOOMING IN HOLLAND.

Two of the Beauties are Found on a Bush in Ald. Drinkwater's Yard.

Yesterday morning as we entered our office, the sweet essence of roses in full bloom was detected in the air. The reason for it all was soon found. A richly scented red rose was gracing the desk, a note of explanation reposing at its side. That it was not a hot-house product was evident, and the message proved it, saying that Alderman Arthur Drinkwater had found two roses on the bush in his side yard at 133 Central Avenue.

This particular specie of rose is the General Jack rose, commonly seen in bloom in June and withered by the first part of July. The finding of two new beauties at this season of the year was a great surprise to the alderman and his wife. Similar findings have been reported in various parts of the state in regard to flowers and fruit.

The poetical side of the assembly was gratified by an original poem from that same individual and then Mr. Watt of Muskegon took the floor, speaking in behalf of the Elks. TWO POPULAR LOCAL COUPLES ARE JOINED IN WEDLOCK IN HOLLAND AND MUSKEGON

A pretty wedding occurred Friday noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Miller, 176 East Tenth street, when their daughter Ruth was united in marriage with Julius C. Brusse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brusse, of this city, residing at 69 West 12th street. At high noon the couple attended by Miss Lottie Thornton of Muskegon and Mr. Jake Nibbelink of this city entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. C. I. Witte. Under a shower of white roses and streamers of rose leaves, the bride also bearing a large bouquet of white roses, the couple were united in wedlock before a gathering of their immediate relatives, numbering about twenty-six, by the Rev. C. L. White of the Seventh Day Adventists church of this city, the ring ceremony being employed.

The bride was charmingly gowned in very pale green chiffon over net, trimmed with pale green satin and lace, the bridesmaid wearing a gown of light blue crepe-de-chene trimmed with lace. After the ceremony, the entire company partook of an elaborate six-course dinner. When this wedding feast had been enjoyed, the newly married couple accompanied by Mr. Jake Nibbelink and Miss Lottie Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Nibbelink and family and Mr. and Mrs. H. Brusse boarded the 1:30 train for Muskegon, where the best man and the bridesmaid of the previous ceremony were united in marriage at the home of the bride, 37 Prospect street.

Here the ring ceremony was also used, the Wedding March from Lohengrin, played by the bridesmaid's niece, Miss Goldie Thornton, ushering in the bride and groom accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Julius Brusse. The bride wore a wedding gown of dainty white charmeuse, bearing a bouquet of white roses, the nuptial rites being performed by the Rev. A. Hadden of the First Congregational church of Muskegon. Following the ceremony, a second elaborate wedding dinner was enjoyed by the happy party, completing an eventful day for those concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Brusse will make their home at 69 West 12th street in this city, while Mr. and Mrs. Jake Nibbelink will reside at 20 West Thirteenth street. Both newlyweds are well known in this city, having a host of friends who wish them bon voyage on the sea of matrimony.

WEATHER INDICATOR WAS THE LOWEST FRIDAY IN FIVE YEARS.

There are three local men in the city who have exceptionally fine barometers. Friday morning one went to the other to see if his was broke. One man went to a local drug store stating that his barometer was out of commission and asked to see the one that the drug store man had. When he examined it he found it to register the same as his and what made him think that his own was out of order was on account of the extreme low register.

While these men were conversing a third came in the store to make comparisons, and they all agreed that in the past six years the barometer had not registered as low as Friday. They all vividly recollected another occasion when the same thing happened, and that was the day when the four men met an awful death on the breakwater that was then being constructed. The morning before the afternoon of this awful tragedy was calm and warm the same as Friday but, before nightfall there was a howling gale blowing which came up so sudden and so unexpected and with such terrific force that it was impossible for the men working on the harbor construction just outside of the harbor to get back. What happened to them is well known and needs no repetition here. Four men were practically whipped to death by the heavy breakers which rolled over the construction work and altho hundreds lined the beach watching the men who were clinging to the piers. Darkness soon snatched this awful sight. Lake captains say that this was the most terrific gale that has ever swept Lake Michigan during their recollection. In the morning after that awful night the life-saving crew picked from between the piers four lifeless bodies, another toll caused by Lake Michigan's wrath.

The results of Friday's storm is shown from the reports that no boats left ports on Lake Michigan. Besides two factory smokestacks blew down in Holland, which all goes to show that the barometers do not lie.

BREAKS SHOULDER PLAYING AT HUDSONVILLE SCHOOL

Hudsonville, Nov. 24.—While at play on the school playground Friday evening, William Telegenhoff fell and broke his collarbone and was otherwise internally injured. This is the first accident of any account that has ever occurred on the school ground here.

WHAT WILL HOLLAND DO

Next to Switzerland, The Netherlands is now about the smallest neutral spot on the European map. The Netherlands have given ample evidence of their desire to keep entirely out of this martial dispute; and the tens of thousands of Americans of Holland extraction will hope that this neutrality may continue for the well-being of the land of their fathers. But the history of Holland gives ample proof that this rugged people will "fight to the last ditch" before they will submit to infringement upon Dutch sovereignty. Any invasion of Netherlands neutrality would probably precipitate armed rejection of the invader without an hour of hesitation. Such being the case it is disturbing to read even such dispatches as those of last week which were headed: "Zeppelin Sighted Over Netherlands."

Beware of Cheap Substitutes

In these days of keen competition it is important that the public should see that they get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. Obtainable everywhere.

NETHERLANDS HAVE A WIRE FENCE BOUNDARY LINE

Farmhouses, Towns and Railroad Stations Are Bisected by Barb Wire Entanglements.

The barb wire boundary between Holland and its neighbors, Germany and Belgium, present a remarkable picture at some points, where it bisects farmhouses, towns or even cuts straight across the platform of frontier railway stations.

There is one place where the street is divided up the middle so that Dutch and German shops face each other across barriers of barb wire. On the further side of the street runs a railway, which is in Germany. Separated from the tracks by a high wire fence, there runs a strip 12-feet wide which is neutral ground. Then comes another fence and the narrow bit of road and pavement beyond it are in Holland. At each corner are narrow openings to allow passages from one country to the other, sentries of each country standing carefully guard on either side. It is the main street of a busy town and the ordinary life flows back and forth, while little Dutch street boys talk to the German street boys through the meshes. Down this street at the beginning of the war the Dutch population watched for four days and nights the German army marching southward into Belgium.

All the villages on the frontier lead a confusedly bisected existence, a belt of barbed wire, as it were separating their heads from their feet. In these places the work of the Dutch sentries is mainly to search the people who pass, lest they carry in or out illicit merchandise. The German guards are mostly concerned with keeping a lookout for deserters or able-bodied Belgians who seek to escape from German rule. At a few points the German side of the barb-wire fence is further protected by wires carrying electric current, and searchlights play up and down the lines during the night.

In the towns which are bisected by the boundary line there are two or three contrasts which strike the observer immediately. All the soldiers on one side of the line are in one type of uniform, while the other half of the town there are just as many soldiers, but of course in a different type of dress. The sentry boxes on the one side are red, white and blue, on the other side they are red, white and black.

Part of the town of Baarle-Herog is Belgian, but it is saved from German occupation owing to the fact that it is entirely surrounded by Dutch territory—a little Belgian island in the middle of Holland. There is no need of sentries here, and there is no wire to mark the invisible frontier, which runs through the middle of the main streets. From here to the real frontier one travels over a well paved roadway which is Dutch, while the ditch at the side is Belgian. At the railway station, which is Baarle in Holland, and Wieldie in Germany, the frontier runs straight through the ticket office and out across the platforms on either side. A line of colored tiling in the floor marks the boundary, and the words "Nederlands" and "Belgique" are set into the concrete on either side. On both platforms the sentries of the two countries face each other at a distance of a yard or so apart.

TEUTONS GET COUNTERBAND FATS AND OILS AS SOAP AND MARGARINE BY WAY OF NETHERLANDS.

Bergen-op-Zoom Center of the Illicit Commerce Across the Dutch Border.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 24.—The Dutch newspapers have recently been turning a searchlight on the frontier traffic that is alleged to have been furnishing Germany with many commodities which she needs. According to the Telegraaf, there is little violation of the letter of the Dutch regulations regarding contraband, but there is a great deal of skilful evasion, which is proving very profitable to the Dutch trader.

Fats and oils are contraband, and therefore offer difficulties to the smuggler, but "margarine" and "soap" are in the list of allowed exports. A curious cartoon in the Telegraaf shows an endless train of wagons winding along a country road towards the frontier, each wagon loaded with cases labelled "Margarine" and "Soap," and a note underneath the picture reads "Fats and oils are contraband, but margarine and soap are all right, so here we go."

A correspondent writing from Bergen-op-Zoom, which is one of the convenient points for export to Germany, says: "Each freight train which comes in seems to contain a greater or smaller number of cases of so-called margarine. The platform is littered with them, the storeroom is piled almost to the ceiling and outside, the station yard is thronged with vehicles. I counted 31 carts, five handcarts, several dog carts and 90 men with bicycles. The entire troop is commonly referred to by residents of Bergen as 'the smugglers.'"

"As rapidly as possible the cases are hustled out from the station and immediately the procession starts for the frontier. There are three roads from Bergen across the frontier, but the leniency of the customs officials seems to vary considerably at the three points, and one road is followed by the majority of the margarine-soap laden wagons. 'I am told that an average of about 20,000 pounds of margarine and 2,000 pounds of soap is sent over the frontier from Bergen-op-Zoom daily. It is commonly believed that the so-called margarine is unclean, and that the 'soap' is useless for washing. The soap, it is said, is a combination of linseed oil, for which there is a great demand in Germany, while the 'margarine' is said to be composed of certain elements useful for lubrication."

It was at Bergen just a year ago that the heaviest influx of Belgium refugees reached Holland. The town today is reaping the reward for the warm-hearted welcome with which it received and fed the refugees, for Bergen today, out of the heavy profits of its trade with Germany, is experiencing an unprecedented prosperity.

Another principal center of trade with Germany, according to the Dutch newspapers, is the point where the Rhine passes from Germany into Holland, where, for some distance the frontier runs down the middle of the stream.

COMPANY FORMED TO UNDERTAKE CULTIVATION OF BEET SEED SUPPLY IN UNITED STATES

Definite steps are now being taken to establish the industry of sugar beet seed production in the United States on a permanent basis. The United States Beet Seed Company is being incorporated under the laws of Utah for the purpose of undertaking the growing of beet seed, and will include among its directors representatives of several of the large beet sugar companies. W. K. Winterhalter, of San Francisco, a beet seed expert who has been laboring for several years to develop the beet seed industry in the United States, is to be the director of the new enterprise. The work of selecting a supply of beets for planting next spring is now under way, and it is planned to store 6,000 tons of beets for this enterprise.

The new company expect to begin its growing operations in Utah and Idaho, where beet seed has been grown successfully during the past several years, and where the crop of the present season is expected to amount to some 14,000 bags. While it is hoped that the operations of the new company will make possible within a few years the production in this country of a supply of beet seed sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the beet sugar industry, it will not affect the shortage for the coming season, as two years are required to complete the cycle from the seed to seed, while the production of satisfactory seed matter of several years of careful selection. At the present time it is estimated that one-half the seed required for planting a normal acreage of sugar beets in 1916 is on hand. The remainder can be obtained, if at all, only in Europe.

At a recent meeting of beet sugar manufacturers in Fall Lake City, a committee was appointed to take up the matter of obtaining a supply of seed from Europe and to enlist if possible the assistance of the State department in this effort. Germany and Russia are the only countries from which an adequate supply of seed can be obtained. It is understood that Germany will permit the sale of seed only on condition that foodstuffs are received in exchange and to this Great Britain refuses to accede. The difficulty of finding means of transportation stands in the way of obtaining seed from Russia.

In undertaking the growing of beet seed in the United States, it is realized that with the return of normal conditions in Europe, it may be difficult to operate in competition with Germany and Russia in beet seed culture on account of the lower wages in those countries. It was decided, however, in view of the importance of having an adequate supply of fresh seed available in this country during the continuance of the war, to go ahead with the development of the industry regardless of possible later difficulties.

WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PAPER THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Among the social events we can mention that Mr. E. Bolhuis was married to Miss H. Oarwerk, on Thursday evening last, at the residence of the bride's parents by Rev. D. Broek.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

County Dain Commissioner Fred L. Souter, has established a twelve-foot drain through the cranberry marsh north of this city. The draining of this marsh will open up to cultivation and settlement about six sections of the best land in this county.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Irving Garvelink of Fillmore—a son, Nov. 1.

Married at the H. C. R. church, of Graafschap, by Rev. J. Kuiper, Sunday evening John Mulder of this city and Miss Anna Bouwse of Graafschap.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Married, at the M. F. parsonage, Nov. 20, by Rev. C. A. Jacobs, William Otto and Theresa Wright, both of Holland.

Mayor Diekema and Henry Geerlings attended the State S. S. convention at Detroit this week.

HOPE COLLEGE LECTURE COURSE RENDERS VERY PLEASING NUMBER.

AUDIENCE TAKEN OFF ITS FEET WITH ENTHUSIASM

Lovers of musical art enjoyed to the full the concert of Monday night at Carnegie Gymnasium.

Two stars of nation-wide fame, Miss Frances Ingram and Mme. Chilson-Ohrman, rendered a 7-group all vocal program of exceptional merit. Miss Ingram, of the Chicago Opera Co., with her broad, resonant voice and dramatic poses was in striking contrast with Mme. Ohrman whose equipment is for the lyric style. Despite their divergent talents their opening duet was a splendid illustration of adapting tone, color and timbre. Sympathetic informality was characteristic of the evening's work, the first bases of which lay in the non-arrival of Mme. Ohrman's trunk—where absent scenes and gowns,—but the audience approved of the traveling suit, and of the song, and—well if the songs suited, why shouldn't the suit suit too?

To mention one number in distinction above another would be difficult. Perhaps the most striking work of Miss Ingram was in the weird, convention defying "Hopak," in the Saint-Saens air, in "The Cry of Rachel," and finally in "Dawn in the Desert."

Mme. Ohrman handles her florid passages with delicacy and ease. The varied foreign songs were well done, but the audience took greatest delight, in the modern ballads of group 6 as repeated recalls testified.

The program as a whole was an excellent model of construction. Classic and modern, tragic and tender, English and foreign found well tempered representation.

The accompanying of Mr. Arno Dietrich was especially noteworthy. A Busch & Lane upright grand piano was used for the occasion. The program was as follows:—

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION ON AD- VISABILITY OF THE NEW BUILDING ORDINANCE

Committee Feel That They Have Covered All Points and If Not Satisfactory Open to Suggestions.

The building ordinance which has been in the making for a long time will no doubt come up again at the next regular meeting of the council and such changes made that will coincide with the opinions of all or most of the city fathers.

At the last meeting considerable feeling was stirred up on the matter although he lid was kept tight on the tempers of some of the members of our city administration. The reason for this was no doubt through respect for the ladies who were present at the health meeting and in order not to mar the evening which was set aside for another purpose and not for the building ordinance.

The ordinance when it came up was snowed under but it seems that the aldermen, mayor and ordinance committee are getting together and will discuss the whole matter sanely and dispassionately, and from such deliberation no doubt much good can come. This city should certainly have a building ordinance and if the obnoxious and burdensome features are eliminated, there is no reason why a majority of the council members should not vote for it.

The ordinance as drawn up by the ordinance committee aided by the city attorney follows:

AN ORDINANCE

To regulate and Establish the Line Upon which Buildings may be erected on any street; to prevent such buildings being Erected Nearer the Street than such line; to prevent the Erection Repairing and Remodeling of all buildings deemed unsafe; to prohibit the location of any factory workshop or the prosecution of any trade or business within any residence district; to require Building Permits and to regulate the terms and conditions upon which said building permits shall be granted; to define the duties of certain officers with respect thereto; and for the general welfare and safety of the inhabitants of the city of Holland.

THE CITY OF HOLLAND ORDAINS.

Sec. 1. No person shall erect, repair or remodel any building or other structure, or allow any building owned or controlled by him to be erected, repaired or remodeled without a permit issued in accordance with the terms of this ordinance.

Sec. 2.—Any persons desiring to erect, repair or remodel any building within the City of Holland shall file with the City Clerk an application in writing for a permit, which application shall show the description of the land which it is proposed that the building shall occupy or that it does occupy; the name of the owner of the building; the dimensions of the building, the materials to be used, the purpose for which the building is intended, the estimated costs of erecting, repairing or remodeling the same, and such other information as may be required by the ordinances of the city of Holland, on blanks to be provided for that purpose by the City Clerk.

Sec. 3. Whenever an application for a building permit shall have been filed with the City Clerk, it shall be the duty of the City Engineer of the City of Holland to forthwith examine same and determine whether the danger from fire will be increased by reason of said building or its proposed location, and endorse thereon with his signature, his approval, rejection, findings or recommendations.

Sec. 4. Whenever an application for a building permit shall have been filed with the City Clerk and approved by the City Engineer, it shall thereupon become the duty of the City Engineer of the City of Holland to forthwith establish a building-line for the proposed building, upon the premises where it is to be erected.

Sec. 5. No person shall hereafter erect, repair or remodel any building within the city of Holland, which does not conform in every respect to the description thereof contained in his application, and the requirements of the chief of the Fire Department of the city of Holland; and no building shall hereafter be erected, repaired or remodeled within the City of Holland, so that any portion thereof shall project nearer the street than the building line established for the same.

Sec. 6. No person shall hereafter erect, repair or remodel any building or other structure within any residence district of the City of Holland for the purpose of occupying the same for a factory, workshop or for the prosecution of any trade or business, unless he shall have first obtained the consent therefor, endorsed in writing on his application for a building permit, of the adjoining property owners and of at least a majority of the owners of property abutting the street with the block, upon which it is proposed to locate such factory workshop, trade or business.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the City Clerk to issue a building permit to every applicant therefor, after the same has been approved of by the Chief of the Fire Department of the City of Holland, upon the receipt of the sum of fifty cents, which the City Clerk shall charge for each permit, and which shall be paid over to the City Treasurer and credited to the proper fund. The City Clerk shall keep a complete record of all building permits issued.

Sec. 8. Any person, who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the City Jail or County Jail of Ottawa county for a period not exceeding ninety days, and in case a fine and costs only shall be imposed, the offender shall be sentenced to imprisonment in the City Jail or County Jail of Ottawa County until the payment of such fine and costs, not, however, to exceed ninety days.

Sec. 9. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

LOOKOUT OUT FOR DIEKEMA SAYS GRAND RAPIDS NEWS

Grand Rapids News—The state political pot is beginning to boil. Charges and counter charges are beginning to fill the air.

There is a charge emanating from the republican camp that many democrats took advantage of the idiosyncrasies of the primary election law to vote for Chase Osborn for the republican nomination, thereby picking a man whom Governor Ferris could beat. It is alleged that, after voting for Mr. Osborn for the nomination, they voted for Mr. Ferris at the election.

Now it is said that there is a similar plot to nominate Luren D. Dickinson of Charlotte on the republican ticket. Democrats are said to be behind this plan. It is also stated by persons who may or may not know anything about it, that if the democrats succeed in nominating Mr. Dickinson for governor on the republican ticket, Gov. Ferris will run for a third term. This brings up an interesting phase of the question.

A third term for Gov. Ferris has been often mentioned. It is agreed that the governor has not had time to carry out all the plans he made and that there is still considerable for him to do.

The third term idea is not new in this state. Fred Warner worked it when he elbowed Pat Kelley out of the gubernatorial nomination several years ago. It is very probable, however, that if Gov. Ferris makes up his mind to try for another term there will be no democrat to oppose him. He is by far the strongest man in his party at the present time. The governor himself has rather discouraged the third term boom by practically ignoring it.

If Mr. Dickinson is nominated on the Republican ticket such a nomination would surely drag the liquor question into the election. Mr. Dickinson is a firm antagonist of the liquor interests and liquor probably would become the paramount issue were her to receive the nomination.

In the meantime Gerrit J. Diekema of Holland is covering every foot of the state on trains, in automobiles and on foot and has arranged about the most complete little old campaign that has been seen in this state for several years. It is going to take some pretty determined opposition to beat Mr. Diekema out of the nomination. He is extremely popular, and during the past year has added to his already long list of friends. He is much better known than any of the other republican possibilities and would give Gov. Ferris a keener contest than perhaps any of the others.

The gubernatorial election next year will be of unusual interest in that the national election occurs at the same time. To sum up present indications, it would not be a bad bet to say that Gov. Ferris will be the democratic nominee, for the democrats could hardly hope to win in presidential year with any other man. Gov. Ferris won last presidential election when Mr. Wilson went in altho the odds against him in Michigan were strong.

The Michigan vote, normally republican by a large majority, was badly split up by the bull moose movement, Col. Roosevelt carrying the state overwhelmingly. It is probable that the republican nominee will be Mr. Diekema rather than Mr. Dickinson.

HOLLAND BARBER SUFFERS THE EIGHTH PARALYTIC STROKE.

Henry J. Cronkright, the barber has suffered another paralytic stroke, which has left him nearly blind. Cronkright has been confined to his bed for nearly five years, during which time he has suffered eight strokes of paralysis and for the most time he has been as helpless as a child. He is forty-eight years old.

OLD SHIPS DISCARDED LONG AGO ARE BEING PUT IN COMMISSION

Limping Out of the Dierent Harbors

During the past several weeks, much of the marine shipping passing the Soo has furnished a remarkable study.

Youth, staunch middle age, extreme longevity are represented in the many craft which navigate the locks of St. Marys, but it is the boats representing the latter phase that are interesting to the old-timers, who for years have watched marine comings and goings. Many of the watchers have themselves in the past "gone down to the sea in ships," and in the ancient tubs that have been seen in these waters this fall for the first time in years, they have found many old friends.

Boats have been pressed into service this fall that have not paid their owners a dividend in years. But for every trip made this year, they have returned a small fortune to those who have placed them in commission to take advantage of the big demand for bottoms.

These ancient craft come limping out from the ports where they have been spending their inactivity some of them almost bare of paint and with their worn power plants wheezing and trembling. With careful handling and much coaxing, and a surprising consumption of fuel, they have made their way up the lakes, taken on cargoes and have finally reached their unloading port, with few accidents.

If the demand continues for bottoms without doubt many of these old-time craft will be brightened and strengthened this winter, their power plants improved, and will be ready for an entire season's business next year.

Among some of the oldest vessels that have been seen in these waters this fall are the Routmanian of Richardson line, the Meesta of the old Gilchrist line, which has been out of commission since the Gilchrist company failed; the C. W. Jacobs, a wooden boat, not here before in 15 years; the Drummond, the barge Tyronne a very old-timer; and the Canadian barge Thunder Bay, formerly a member of the Pittsburg fleet.

MILWAUKEE NORMAL MAKES NEW RULES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 24—Rules regulations and statutes in such case made and provided have been promulgated at the Milwaukee Normal school.

They apply to women students at the school. They include the boarding house mistress and the renters of the "furnished rooms" in the city. They provide for clean sheets and pillow cases and towels. They impose quiet after ten o'clock. They tete-a-tetes on the front porch in the mellow light of the harvest moon. They banish the chafing dish as a competitor to the boarding house menu unless the landlady consents to let it in.

They chase men roomers from under the roof where a normal girl finds domicile. They turn around and offer compensation, for they rescue the parlor from the private domain of the landlady and insist that the normal girl roomers have the right to entertain company there.

President Carroll G. Pearce announced the rules at the assembly. Some of them, he said, were suggested as good form. Others he insisted would be rigidly enforced. Which was which he did not specify, but merely announced the new rules. Here they are:

No men roomers shall be kept in the houses where normal girls have rooms.

Room and board shall be paid weekly: rooms in advance: board at the end of the week.

Rooms are to be thoroughly cleaned at least once a week.

Rooms are to be kept at a temperature of 68 or 70 degrees in winter.

Clean sheets, pillow cases and towels are to be provided weekly.

Girls are not to be left alone in the house over night.

There shall be no noise in the room after 10 o'clock at night.

No lingering on porches, steps or walks shall be permitted on returning from evening entertainments.

A reasonable use of the parlor for company shall be permitted. (Not oftener than two nights a week nor later than 10:30 o'clock.)

No chafing dishes shall be used nor food kept in rooms except with the permission of the landlady.

HOLLAND OFFICIALS LIKE THE NEW FIRE TRUCK

Visited the Duplex Factory Tuesday and are Enthusiastic Over the Duplex.

Charlotte Tribune—

Fred Jackson and Cor. DeKeyser of Holland visited our city last Tuesday being members of the fire and police commission of the city of Holland, for purpose of examining the combination chemical and hose truck, also the hook and ladder truck which are under construction and are now nearly completed, being built by the Duplex Power Car Co. of this city.

These gentlemen are highly gratified over the fact that the city of Holland is to have two of the most advanced fire trucks now made.

The Duplex Four-Wheel Drive has proven its superior efficiency over all other trucks for commercial as well as military purposes and now it is about to enter the fire department field for which it is especially adapted. Having traction upon all four wheels together with its broad range of eight speeds it is possible to get an extremely low reduction as well as an extremely high gear. With the eight-speed feature the truck has a range of speed from one mile per hour to 50 miles per hour with the motor running at its maximum efficiency. This allows it to make the side streets, through mud, sand, snow and up the heavy grades where it would be impossible for the two-wheel drive to negotiate.

After a few hours at the factory Messrs. Jackson and DeKeyser left for home most enthusiastic as being instrumental in making the purchase of the Duplex instead of the old line company trucks which seem antiquated compared with the advanced equipment of the Duplex Four-Wheel Drive. These trucks are believed to be five years in advance of any fire fighting apparatus now upon the market. With increased facilities the Duplex will now take on the manufacture of fire department trucks for all purposes, including combination chemical and hose trucks, hook and ladder trucks as well as pumping outfits.

MRS. CLARA SUTTON SEEKS DI- VORCE FROM HER HUSBAND

WILL ASK TEN THOUSAND DOL- LARS DAMAGES

A divorce suit was started in the Ottawa circuit court Monday morning by Mrs. Clara Sutton of Holland vs. Walter Sutton, alleging extreme and repeated cruelty. Another suit will be started by the complainant against Mrs. Edie Dall of Holland in which the complainant sues for $10000 damages alleging alienation of her husband's affections. Both suits will be heard during the next term of court.

Mrs. Dall lives at 143 West 13th St. and is reputed to have considerable well developed land on Lake Michigan west of West Olive near Port Sheldon lake and also considerable money left her by her late husband.

Walter Sutton one of the principles mentioned in the suit it is said is confined to his bed and is critically ill.

R. H. GILBERT DESCRIBES HOW POORLY THE U. S. IS PREPARED FOR WAR.

"The Problem of Our National Defense" was the subject of an exhaustive study of how well or how poorly the United States is prepared to defend itself against a foreign invader, read before the Social Progress club Monday evening by R. H. Gilbert. Mr. Gilbert dissented from both the extreme pacifist and the alarmist, taking the middle ground that the United States should prepare itself for defense but not for aggression. That this country is hopelessly unprepared in many ways in case of attack from another country was quite clearly demonstrated. In order to be prepared, the United States should have a navy as large as that of any other country on earth, declared Mr. Gilbert, with the exception of England. He gave a number of reasons why war by England against the United States is so unlikely that it is not necessary to prepare for it.

The reader of the paper gave a clear outline of methods of defense of this country, grouping them under the first second and third lines of defense, namely, the navy, the stationary coast defenses, including fortifications, etc., and the mobile army. He gave statistics to show that the navy is at present still inadequate, that the coast defenses are in fairly good shape and could be put into proper shape for adequate at a comparatively small outlay of money, that that army is hopelessly inadequate. In addition to the standing army, said Mr. Gilbert, there should be a reserve of some 500,000 men who could be called upon in time of actual need. With a navy as strong as that of any other country except England, with a fairly strong coast defense, with a comparatively small but efficient standing army and with a reserve force of 500,000 men this country could repel any invasion that might be made, according to the reader of the paper.

Much interesting information was given in the paper in regard to the operation of the big guns in the forts, the comparative usefulness of the smaller and larger vessels, etc.

The meeting was held at the home of Att. and Mrs. Fred T. Miles. The next meeting will be at the home of Att. and Mrs. Thos. N. Robinson when Henry Winter will read a paper on "Wages".

BOY OF EIGHTEEN YEARS CON-
FESSES ATTEMPT

Youth Who Says He Is Martin Markie
Homeless and a Tramp, Attempted
Violence Against Mrs. H. P.
Jensen in Grand Haven

WALKS INTO MUSKEGON JAIL
AND WAS THERE ARRESTED

Martin Markie is the name of the 18-year-old youth who attempted to criminally assault Mrs. H. P. Jensen of 1320 Columbus street, Grand Haven, Monday morning about 9:30 o'clock. He says he is homeless and has a brother Frank Markie, in St. Paul who had him placed in a home for feeble-minded boys at one time. He says he escaped from that institution two years ago and has been wandering about the country ever since. He admits everything.

The boy says he came to Grand Haven from Milwaukee and worked at the docks irregularly for a time. Then he worked at the Colonial cafe remodeling for a few days. He was a regular seeker for lodging at the county jail and was known by the officers as the 'boy tramp' but was considered harmless.

About 8 o'clock Monday morning the lad says he went to John Corey's pool room on lower Washington street and met some other tramps who gave him some liquor. Then he says he went to the tannery district. He says he inquired for board and room at several places in that vicinity, among them being at the home of Mrs. Nash, corner of Columbus and Griffin streets. At each place he says he told them that he was employed at the tannery. When asked if he could warm his feet he says Mrs. Jensen told him there was no fire at the home except in the cellar where she was doing the family washing.

Markie says he was suddenly seized with the idea of assault and attacked Mrs. Jensen when she had her back turned to him. He says she screamed and fought him desperately, scratching him in the face. He says he struggled with her for about 2 minutes and left her lying on the cellar floor. After he left Mrs. Jensen she fainted away and lay on the floor for some time. Markie says he went up to the ground floor of the home and there he found a purse containing a dollar and some small coins which he took. Then he says he came back to the Corey pool room and there spent all but 34 cents of the money he had stolen. The last of the money he says was spent for an interurban ticket to Muskegon and he left at 12:50 o'clock.

Mrs. Jensen waited until her husband came home at noon time before she made complaint at the sheriff's office. Then the officers were notified and immediately got a complete description of the young man. Mrs. Jensen was able to remember his appearance to the extent that the officers were confident that the "boy tramp" was the man wanted.

Markie walked into the jail at Muskegon later in the evening to get a night's lodging and the officers there arrested him at once. The boy admitted the charge and Sheriff Dykhuus was notified that his man was held there. He returned with him Tuesday morning. The youth was arraigned later in the day and Judge Cross expected to sentence him before evening.

The young man is plainly a degenerate of the worst type, although his general manner does not suggest any such action as he has confessed. He is a very large boy for the age of 18. His clothes are badly worn and tattered. He says he can do a man's work and when he can earn money he pays his way. Now he says he does not care if Judge Cross sentences him to a term of 15 years. When asked what prompted him to attempt any such crime he says he does not know but he was suddenly seized with the idea.

Sheriff Dykhuus has obtained a complete confession of the youth since he was brought here. He says he was born in a Minnesota town but cannot remember his parents. In the last few years he says he has traveled all over the east and southeast portions of the U. S. Before coming here he says he had traveled over Minnesota and Wisconsin. He always sleeps in jails, he says, when he has no money, and begs his way.

Mrs. Jensen received a severe scalp wound when she was thrown to the floor and her throat shows marks of her assailant's fingers when he choked her. Her nervous condition was regarded as serious Monday-afternoon but she is reported better today.

Markie was arraigned in Justice Dickinson's court yesterday afternoon and was bound over to circuit court on the criminal charge after he waived examination. An effort was made to have his case come up during the afternoon.

When arrested in Muskegon the youth is said to have given the name of Charles Barnett of St. Paul. He walked into the office of Night Sergeant Menno Oosting at the jail soon after the description of the man had been sent from the Ottawa sheriff's office. He was immediately recognized as the man by Sergeant Oosting and locked up in a cell as a prisoner rather than a night's lodger as Markie hoped.

Markie told his story to the Muskegon police and said that he had gained entrance at the Jensen home by telling Mrs. Jensen that he had frozen his foot.

Rev. James F. Zwemer is a Grand Rapids visitor today.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will hold their regular tea meeting Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Burns' Parlors.

The story has been rumored around the city that the "General Meade" the government sand sucker which has been a familiar visitor of this port in many years past, went down while attempting to leave Cleveland for Grand Haven last week. There is no foundation in the story, however, and later reports say the Meade is in Port Huron, unable to go further on the voyage around the state. The boat is expected in Grand Haven not later than this week.

RED CALF COST $500; IS ONLY
WORTH $35

Witness Called from Lower Illinois to Testify in Case

What is proving to be another expensive law suit and is stretching over a distance of nearly 1,000 miles is a $35 red calf that up-to-date has cost nearly $500.

Attorneys at Stanton, S. D. wrote to Atty. Mc Bride in this city asking that deposition be taken from a witness who happens to be a Holland boy named Neil Exo. In order to get his testimony he had to be brought from the southern part of the state of Illinois where he is working. His fare from there had to be paid to Holland and return and several days in witness fees were also added, and all on account of a red calf which had strayed away.

The way the case was brought about is this. Delbert and Frank Kenyon, formerly of Holland several years ago moved to South Dakota where they went into the cattle business in Mercer county. Neil Exo was employed at the ranch at the time the calf incident took place. It appears that August Kasper also runs a ranch near the one of the Kenyon boys. Kasper alleges that the red calf strayed from his ranch into the corral of the Kenyons and that the calf was then branded with the Kenyon brand and added to their herd. This the Kenyons deny giving the pedigree of the calf even to the length of the mother's horns.

It seems that Exo knew about the calf incident and consequently was called as a witness in the case. Up-to-date it is said that the calf cost over $500 although Jake Kuite wouldn't give over $35 for it. But the way of a law suit is hard.

Dana Ter Cate and Charles McBride are the attorneys in the case and the testimony was taken before Otto P. Kraemer who acted as Notary Public.

The funeral services of Mr. Peter Warendorp will be held in the Ebenezer church south of this city on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, interment taking place in Ebenezer cemetery. The death of Warendorp took place in the old Holland home in Grand Rapids, he being 74 years old. He is survived by a widow and six children, Mrs. Herbert Fountain, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Otto De Young and Mr. John Warendorp of Grand Rapids, Miss Anna Warendorp of Kalamazoo and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Alva Fairbanks of this city.

HOPE COLLEGE AND FACULTY WITH VISITORS EACH HAVE A POUND OF TURKEY

The annual Thanksgiving dinner at Voorhees dormitory was enjoyed last evening by one hundred and twenty-five guests, and exactly 125 pounds of turkey were used. That the dinner was a success was professed by many a man and lady. The tables were beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, and with silks and laces and dress suits around them, all presented a fine appearance. The honor guests of the evening were Hon. G. J. Dickema and daughters Marjorie and Marie, Prof. Kleinheksel and son Lewis, Mrs. A. Vennema and daughter Florence, Mrs. George Kollen, Miss Mae Brusse, Mr. Henry Deacons, Miss Annie Scholekamp and Prof. Nykerk and Dimmet.

After the inner-man was filled to the satisfaction of all Mrs. Durfee rang for the toastmaster and graciously proceeded to fill that position herself. She first called up Prof. Nykerk who responded with a toast to over two National Birds, the Eagle and the Turkey. "May the foe bring us peace in each and every state;

May a piece of the other be on every plate."

Mrs. George E. Kollen was next called upon, who told of the pleasure of being with the merry company and enjoying such a grand banquet. She also gave a short reading on "Bridget's Cooking experience," and wished all a happy and true Thanksgiving day.

The next governor of Michigan was last and old trusty Dick who filled his position as nobly as ever. His general humor prevailed, he telling of newspaper reporters who never reported speeches exactly as they were given, he on one occasion having said that "No noble woman, without her man would be a brute" and the reporter, "No noble woman without her man, would be a brute."

He spoke of reasons for thankfulness both as a college and as American, and ended with a plea for greater American liberty and freedom.

The banqueters now adjourned to the social room where vocal solos were given by Miss Henrietta Van Zee and Mr. Henry Deacon each being encored several times. After this a social hour was enjoyed.

WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB GIVES INTERESTING PROGRAM

Supreme Court Session is Described and
Advances in Civilization Since '76
Numerated.

The first number on yesterday's program of the Woman's Literary club was an original Thanksgiving story told by Mrs. Wheeler. This number was followed by Miss Grace Browning, who sang beautifully as always, "Land of the Sky Blue Water." She favored the audience with an encore, Mrs. Pardee accompanying on the piano.

Mrs. Blekkink told of a visit she had made to the supreme Court, describing the appearance of Chief Justice White and the other judges. One of the decisions rendered by the Supreme Court at this time was in regard to land held by the Sioux Indians.

Dr. Bruske compared in his talk on the "Panama Exposition" the three expositions he had attended, those of 1876, 1893 and the present one. The first was a retrospect of art and also showed what had been accomplished by man with steam. The Columbian Exposition showed man's power to conquer electricity.

The present exposition shows man's power to overcome distance. Not only has this been done by the Panama canal but a man in New York may hear another, who is in San Francisco, talk and by a device connected with the telephone, may apparently see him.

ALUMNI AND HIGH SCHOOL CLASH
IN FOOTBALL TOMORROW
AFTERNOON

The final practice of the alumni candidates for the heavy team that will batter down the line of the crack high school eleven tomorrow afternoon was held last night in the school gym. and the line up is chosen. Center, Hub Cook; guards, Deto, Zweering, Brown, Kardux; tackles Ingham, Vander Bic, Chapman, Daily; ends, "Billy" Van Putten, S. Den Uyl, C. De Vries; quarterbacks, Jake Van Puten, Hamelink; half-backs, Steketee, To Roller, Sirrine; full-backs, Bosman, Ashley. All of these men will enter the game, so no first preference is given. But the knowledge of this lineup will give the reader some idea of the tough proposition up against the school team.

This aggregation includes the players rated as stars on the former school teams, making practically an all-star team. But the high school team has not given up hope by any means, and are ready to sell their scalp dearly. Whatever the outcome of the game will be, the battle will be fast and hard. The alumni have had some expert coaching and some twenty candidates to choose from, giving them a fine start. The game, the all-important game, will start at 2:30 sharp, possibly a few minutes before because of the early darkness. This is the last time this year that the fast Holland team of '15 will appear on the field, and as the proceeds of the game will also help them, a strong crowd of fans is expected to line around the gridiron.

The officials will be Bowen, referee, Gilbert, Umpire; Veenker, head-linesman.

COVERS 847 MILES IN LESS THAN
36 HOURS CONTINUOUS
DRIVING

William P. (Billy) Knipper of Rochester, N. Y., former automobile racing star, recently won a wager by driving a stock model Saxon "Six" touring car from Rochester to New York city and return, a distance of 847 miles, in 35 hours and 18 minutes, according to a report that has just been made known.

The wager was with two prospective customers, both of whom accompanied Knipper throughout the day and night trip. The wager was made to the effect that the Saxon could go from Rochester to New York city and back while the clock went around three times, or in other words 36 hours. No allowance was made for stops of any nature, such as replenishing with gasoline and oil or time out for meals.

Knipper took up the challenge and started out, without a relief driver or mechanic to win the wager. There was no sleep on the journey. The longest stop was of 25 minutes duration at Columbus circle in New York city, where a number of Knipper's old friends, who had heard about the feat he was undertaking, greeted him with a demonstration.

The Saxon speed recorded by Knipper's Saxon was 24 miles an hour throughout the 847 miles, day and night, part of which was through heavy rains. Omitting time required for the meals and refilling with gasoline and oil, Knipper's Saxon made better than this average. The car traveled thruout at the rate of 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline, and 256 miles to the quart of oil. It required no attention for mechanical troubles and only one stop was made for punctures.

The performance so impressed the two men who accompanied Knipper that each of them bought a Saxon in addition to paying the wager which they lost.

Knipper has been the hero in many an automobile speed event before he gave up racing. He required national fame by consistent winnings, both in short races and in endurance runs, at Atlanta, Lowell, Elgin, Long Island and many other places. Knipper says he is prouder of his latest achievement than of any other which he has to his credit.

H. H. Karson & Br., of Zeeland handle the Saxon in this territory and are placing quite a few so far this year.

CUT COAL BILL IN HALF.

Washington, Nov. 24—A problem which touches the pocketbooks of several million householders is described in a report issued Thursday by bureau of mines. In the report experts of the bureau tell the public in detail just how in heating their houses this winter they may save in their coal bills. Copies of the report may be obtained by anyone who addresses the United States bureau of mines.

Tests were made in a 10-room house in New Haven, Conn., which was comfortably heated at a cost of $48 for the fall and winter, a saving over other houses of the same size in the same locality of from $50 to $100.

According to V. H. Manning, director of the bureau of mines, similar results can be obtained in hundreds of thousands of homes throughout the country with a consequent saving of millions of dollars.

The results show not only a low cost of heating said Mr. Manning, but also an economical use of fuel, and illustrates what savings may be effected when the problem is given proper consideration. Systematic and regular handling of fire doubtless had considerable to do with results obtained. The cost of the heating is probably $50 to $100 less than what is expended by a large number of householders who live in the same locality and have about the same heating requirements but use more expensive coal and give their heating equipment less attention.

The Rev. M. Flipse of the Third Reformed church will conduct services in that church tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, the subject of his sermon being "God's care for the Hungry."

Thanksgiving services will be held in the Wesleyan Methodist church tomorrow evening, the Rev. A. A. Alverson having charge of the service.
