School Students To Vie for Prizes In Bond Campaign

Students in the public and parochial schools of Ottawa county will compete for special prizes in the Victory loan drive. County Chairman D. J. De Pree of Zeeland announced Tuesday.

First prizes are silk flags that were to be worn on the backs of American paratroopers, Chinese flags for the American troops in the Chinese invasions, plain American flags similar to the original paratrooper's flag worn in the invasion of Africa and Europe, and the American flag with seven different languages used by troops in the Asiatic theater.

Only 30 flags are available for distribution in Ottawa county, 15 to be allotted to Holland, seven to Grand Haven, three to Zeeland, and one each to the south half of the rural area, the north half, Coopersville and Hudsonville.

Winners in each area will be those who have made the most sales of bonds to individuals. In cases of ties in the same area, the total value of the bonds will determine the winner.

The second prize in each area is a Pointe Talkie book which was a great help to American forces in getting across to the natives the messages they desired.

In addition to these special prizes a U. S. treasury certificate will be given to each school, boy or girl who sells $500 in E bonds or who makes 10 individual sales.

The terms and basis upon which these awards are to be made has been worked out by a committee of school men who plan appropriate presentation ceremonies later. The prizes will be on display in store windows in Holland, Grand Haven and Zeeland.

Returned Physician Saw Jap Peace Envoys on Ie Shima

Maj. Nelson H. Clark, who was the second local doctor to enlist in the medical corps in 1942, is back in Holland on terminal leave after spending more than two years in the Pacific area with the 36th field hospital which was first established at Engbi in the Marshalls, then at Guam, Leyte in the Philippines, Bismarck archipelago, Ie Shima and Okinawa.

Dr. H. P. Harms was the first physician to enlist, Clark the second.

Most of his work was caring for the wounded and he attributed the saving of many, many lives to the uses of penicillin, plasma and sulfa drugs. The hospital cared for air corps, navy and army casualties. Malaria and dengue fever also accounted for numerous patients.

Maj. Clark entered the service in October, 1942, after practicing in Holland eight years. He expects to resume his practice here shortly. He resides at 101 West 26th St. with his wife and two children, James 8, and Susan 6. His discharge will be effective soon.

The major landed at San Pedro, Cal., Nov. 2 and arrived here a few days ago.

Sentence Duncan To Prison Term

Allegan, Nov. 21 (Special)—Judge Fred T. Miles Saturday sentenced Weldon Duncan, 60, Kalamazoo papermill worker, to serve 7 1/2 to 10 years in southern Michigan prison at Jackson, after Duncan was found guilty Tuesday of "assault with intent to do great bodily harm, less than murder."

The charge involved the knifing of his estranged common-law wife, Pearl Tanner Duncan, and her employer, Brooks MacDonald, Aug. 18 in Plainwell. According to testimony brought out at the trial, Duncan and Mrs. Tanner had lived together for several years including six years in Plainwell, and after difficulties in June, 1944, he went to live in Kalamazoo, partly because of his drinking. Resenting the interest shown between MacDonald and Mrs. "Duncan," Duncan was enraged and "warned" the couple.

On the stand, he said he had not intended to kill the couple but that he lost control of himself when MacDonald turned and "sneered" at him just before the stabbing.

In pronouncing sentence, the court remarked: "It seems clear to the court from the evidence of your previous threats; your habits of drinking; your having driven from Kalamazoo armed with a deadly weapon, and from your method of attack from the backs of these people that you intended to kill them both. Had they not received immediate medical attention, you would have been tried and no doubt convicted of murder in the first degree and then sentenced to life imprisonment. Because your effort to kill failed, this does not make your act less vicious than had you succeeded."

"Had there been no previous trouble between you, had you not left her for more than a year before to support herself, had you refrained from drink and fits of anger not justified by any related facts, the court might feel there was some basis for your claims."

Estimate Fire Damage at Local Dairy at $4,000

Damage estimated at $3,000 to $4,000 resulted Tuesday night from a fire which swept the boiler room of the Hill Crest creamery at 620 Michigan Ave., just south of Holland hospital.

With patients at the hospital having "grand stand" seats, fire was confined largely to the north end of the 40 by 50 foot frame building. The boiler was considerably damaged and engineers were investigating to determine whether it could be repaired. The boiler is needed for processing and pasteurizing the milk.

Albert Speet, owner of the dairy, said today that deliveries would continue. If equipment in the dairy cannot function, the milk will be pasteurized and bottled at other dairies.

The first alarm was sounded about 6:30 p.m. and another at 9:30 p.m. when smoke persisted. Firemen, who were on the scene for over an hour on the first alarm, had told the family to take a look-out for other outbreaks.

Aided by a brisk north wind, smoke poured into the dairy proper resulting in smoke damage to the walls and other equipment. Many bottles were damaged by heat and will be disposed of, Speet said.

While the family was out fighting the flames, a daughter, Beatrice, 21, had the presence of mind to remove five milk trucks and a passenger car, one by one, from the building. After all the vehicles were safely removed, she faintly.

Cause of the fire was undetermined, according to Speet and Capt. Jack Knoll of the fire department. Firemen laid two lines, or about 900 feet of hose.

Since the dairy is located on US-31, one of Holland's main thoroughfares, several traffic tie-ups resulted. Swarms of people gathered at the scene. Police assisted in directing traffic.

Dutchmen, Bucs Battle to 7-7 Tie In County Clash

Holland High and Grand Haven football teams battled in traditional fierceness on Green Hill field in Grand Haven Friday night to a 7-7 draw.

The Buccaneers were much more satisfied with the tie than was Holland because the Hollanders held the upperhand most of the way. They pushed the Bucs around in the first half but didn't manage a score until the final minute of the second quarter when Billy Hinga tossed a couple of completed passes and Joe Caravia carried the ball over on line plays.

The second half was nip and tuck and in the fourth quarter the Bucs took advantage of a strong wind behind their backs to quick kick and put the Dutch in the hole. Holland tried unsuccessfully to bring the ball out into the middle of the field but the strong wind, which reached gale proportions at times, held Warren Nysson's two puts to a total of eight yards and Grand Haven finally scored with three minutes remaining in the contest.

Lloyd Beekman booted Grand Haven's extra point and Kenny Kuipers accounted for Holland's seventh point.

The two teams share the cellar of the southwestern conference. Each without a league victory, four defeats and one tie.

The Dutchmen received the opening kickoff and drove into the wind for 55 yards and four first downs before the Grand Haven defense stiffened and took control of the ball. Grand Haven fumbled on their first offensive play, Holland taking over on the Bucs' 21 yard line. Again the Bucs defense held and Grand Haven took over on downs.

That was much the story in the first half but as final minutes in the second stanza ticked away, Bill Hinga unleashed a pass to Ren Kuipers for 13 yards down to Grand Haven's 27. He then tossed to Leo Vander Kuy for 19 yards and the ball rested on the eight. Joe Caravia peeled off three yards and on the next play plunged over for the touchdown.

Grand Haven was a rejuvenated ball club in the second half and battled the stronger-looking Dutch crew on even terms. When they got the wind at their backs in the fourth quarter, they punted on second down with the ball rolling out on Holland's 14. La Verne Boeve's quick kick had carried 47 yards.

The Dutch tried two line plays and failing to gain, Nysson punted and the wind caught the ball and carried it back to the line of scrimmage where a Grand Haven player fell on it.

A tricky lateral play was then broken up by the Dutch and Grand Haven was tossed back to Holland's 21 yard marker and Holland took over. Holland brought the ball up to the 27 yard marker and was again forced to punt. This time the wind pushed Nysson's punt out of bounds on Holland's 35.

John Van Stratt gained a yard into the center of the line. Boeve's pass was incomplete. Van Stratt passed to Boeve for 11 yards to Holland's 23. Boeve completed an aerial to Jack Hoffman for eight yards to Holland's 15. Van Stratt hit center for four to Holland's 11. Boeve gained six, Van Stratt two and then Boeve went over making the score 7-6.

Holland received the kick off and showed a powerful ground attack. Play started on Holland's 33. Kuipers gained six yards twice in succession, and then he and Jack Van Dorpe peeled off yardage and got as far as Grand Haven's 37 when the contest ended.

Oddly, neither team took advantage of the wind until the fourth quarter. Holland, of course, had less necessity for punting with the wind than Grand Haven because the Dutch offense was always moving.

Grand Haven was playing inspired football. It was obvious they were the underdog once the game got underway but they were always trying, and it finally paid off.

All the boys gave their best. However Holland's quarterback, Jack Van Dorpe, turned in by far his best running game and Jerry Groeters, tackle, probably played his best game.

"WE'RE MOVING RIGHT ALONG"

... BUT THE JOB HAS JUST BEGUN

Telephone equipment for civilians is beginning to flow from the factories. Michigan Bell's 5-year $120,000,000 expansion and improvement program is off to a good start, with projects costing over $5,000,000 already under way.

We've begun to install telephones in those areas where only telephone instruments are needed to provide service. By next spring, we expect to clear up virtually all orders of this type—more than one-third of the 125,000 waiting applications.

To fill the other orders, cable must be produced, placed and spliced; complex switching equipment must be engineered, manufactured and fitted in with existing apparatus. In many cases, new buildings must be erected.

This work is being rushed. But the job is so big that it will be 1947 before enough equipment is ready to serve everybody who wants a telephone. That means we must still ask your understanding and patience.

THE BOOMERANG
OF THE FUTURE

Minority Leader Joe Martin's campaign for the two-term limitation for the presidency is a bit of irony for the Republicans now, but the irony may be turned on the Democrats in the future. There was a time, in the twenties, when the Republicans were in power, when the Democrats suggested such a limitation. But then the Republicans were not interested enough to take it seriously—an attitude for which they paid dearly in the forties.

Today the Democrats are just naturally against the proposal.
Since their standard bearer, the late Mr. Roosevelt, has smashed the tradition twice, they have developed a kind of sense of ownership in the new tradition of unlimited number of terms. So they oppose the proposal with a passion that goes beyond ordinary partisanship.

They might better take a hint from the poetic justice that have taken their Republican brethren and remember that it can happen to them too. Suppose Mr. Martin's proposal should lose out, as it very well may. Then suppose the Republicans should come to power fairly soon, as they very probably will. Then suppose a Republican F. D. R. should appear on the scene; this too is not improbable, the temper of the country being what it is. Suppose finally that after two terms in office that Republican should build up a crisis at just the proper time.

After supposing all this, it is not too difficult to suppose that that Republican leader would have a fairly easy time to win a third term, and a fourth; perhaps a fifth and sixth. It would be quite easy because of the precedent set by Mr. Roosevelt. But it would be just as hard for the Democrats to swallow such a president for an indefinite number of terms as it was for the Republicans to swallow Roosevelt.

The Democrats of the future may yet curse the day when they fought against limiting the terms.
It would seem to be the part of wisdom for both Democrats and Republicans to fix the limitation by legal means. The fears of Washington and Jefferson applied not only to their day but still more to our time. It can happen here. Either a Democrat or Republican of the future can attempt to make himself president for life, or a Socialist or Communist. No matter how indispensable such a president might regard himself as being, he would not be truly representative of our democracy.

Sunday School
Lesson

November 25, 1945
Christians Working Together in the Community
John 17:20-23; Acts 15:22-29
By Henry Geerlings

During its entire career the church has tended to set its ideals over against those of secular society. From the very beginning, the Hebrews considered themselves a holy people. They had holy convocations, holy days, holy garments, holy abitations, holy places, holy things, holy mountains and hills. The central place of worship was called a holy temple. The Jews looked forward to a time when all nations would recognize the claim of God.

Jesus had a social vision that included the entire world. He spoke of His followers as the light of the world, the assumption being that the radiance of the Christian life would affect all of one's environment for good. The apostolic church began to make Jesus' words a practical reality.
By His teaching He had rejected materialism as it was commonly understood, and He rejected force as a method of achieving victory over the enemies of His people.
Although Himself a royal Jew, yet He shared with John the Baptist the belief that some Gentiles would find more favor before God than did the Jews. He declared that the kingdom of God was at hand. In His mind material prosperity was at best a secondary consideration in the kingdom. When He was being tempted to compromise His spiritual emphasis He said that man can not live by bread alone.

In addition to His emphasis on the spiritual elements of vital religion, He wanted physical needs satisfied. He taught His disciples to pray for bread. He was remembered as one who went about doing good. He taught that mankind ought to live as a family.
He spoke of God as His Father and taught His disciples to say Our Father. He thought of the Father as being intimately concerned for the welfare of all life on earth, even animal life. God knows even the sparrows, He said, and the very hairs of our head are all numbered. As for man, he is the crown of creation, of more value than many sparrows. Man may be sure that God cares for him.

Jesus held that man will be judged on the basis of how he acts toward his fellow man. Since the family of God has a great and good heavenly Father, then the members of the family should act like brothers. In Jesus' day as today, material wealth was a major decisive factor between man and man, and therefore a peril against brotherhood. Jesus did not argue against having wealth, but He warned men to use it for social ends.

Against this background of Jesus' humanitarian teachings we see a world that was socially indecent straits. Historians are agreed that human poverty was more prevalent in Bible lands during Jesus' lifetime and for three centuries following than at any other time in history. Everything that the common man touched had a blight upon it. He had little food, poor clothing, squalid and filthy living quarters, brute ignorance, utter lack of educational opportunities, disease.
Whatever medical knowledge the world had at that time, limited its benefits to a very few. Hardship and distress led the people generally to believe that the air was alive with demons, eager to plague them.

Jesus came into a world that knew nothing about brotherhood.
The Roman Empire ruled by force. To be sure, philosophers voiced sweet pamaeas, but their counsels did not agree, and nothing was ever done about them.
No steps were taken to bring peace and free understanding among nations. With all its skill in administration and control, the Roman empire presented the worst exhibition of bigotry that one could find.

During the whole period the sensibilities of men were benumi-shed by incessant war and bloodshed. Although a forced peace prevailed when Jesus was born, nevertheless the world was filled with cruelty and inhumanity.
Glorious shows were a sign of horrible punishment ever devised, was a common practice all over the Roman empire. After a slave revolt in Rome, the roads leading out from the city were lined for ten miles with victims nailed to crosses.

And no one protested. He would have been crucified also.
Scourgings, beatings, and revolting tortures of every kind, the breaking of bones and the gouging out of eyes with hot poker, were an accepted part of the regular procedure. Practically no limit was placed upon the extent of torture that could be inflicted on slaves. With no redress whatever they were forced to witness in court under torture that would result fatally if the unfortunate victim refused to say what the court wanted him to say. And if his testimony incriminated himself, he died anyway. Incidentally, marriage laws and family ties were not legally recognized in the case of slaves.

Women in particular were held under the yoke of brutal custom.
They were discriminated against.
Women were always subject to their husbands, widows to their sons, and unmarried women to their fathers. Most of the unpleasant and revolting things that may be charged to any society were true in the Roman empire.

Responsibility Stressed
For Women of AAUW

Challenging her listeners to "give all you have toward rebuilding the world, to stand up and be counted for those things which are eternal and right and to speak the truth as you see it," Mrs. Judith Lowe of Michigan City, Ind., gave an inspiring address before members of Holland branch, American Association of University Women, Thursday night in the home of Mrs.
Leon Moody.

Mrs. Lowe, who has spent many years in foreign countries as a teacher and observer and as wife of a prominent newspaper man, took as her subject "Our Postwar Responsibility."

In order to understand current events and the part women are to play, it is necessary to know something of the background of the present world situation, she said, as she gave intimate glimpses into the life of a corrupt Spain where she saw the beginning and death of the new republic; France, where the people were betrayed by their politicians, and England, whose people "know what it means to be loyal to a government."

Mrs. Lowe saluted the English women for their good sportsmanship, the French women for their interest in economy, and pitied the Spanish women for their lack of freedom. She begged the women of America to free themselves from prejudice, to become informed on both sides of every question. "The peace of the world depends on us, and lip service alone will not solve our problems," she declared. "The task before us is greater than one country, and humanity is far greater than politics."

"If all would accord to one rule, the 'Golden Rule,' we would have a rich heritage for our children—a world at peace," she said in closing.

Mrs. J. D. French presided at the meeting and announced the appointment of Mrs. J. J. Brower of the local branch as state Attorney by Mrs. William Hubbard, recently elected president of the Michigan division. Mrs. Brower outlined tentative plans for organization of a creative writing group in the branch.

Miss Lavina Cappon, social studies chairman, gave her report, stressing current legislation. Miss Marion Shackson was appointed chairman of the Christmas tree project for the local coast guard station.

Lubbers Speaks To Exchangites

"Man in a Global World" was the subject on which Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope college president, addressed Exchangites Monday noon at their meeting in the Warm Friend tavern. There are two trends with reference to man in this world and his trying to live with his fellow men," he said.

Continuing, he stated, "One recognizes man as chattel or slave." This trend was traced from ancient history, down through the "divine right" of kings theory, through the Civil war in our own country. "This position is not proper, right, or morally tenable that man should own his fellow man," continued Dr. Lubbers.

Tracing the second trend, the speaker suggested that the Jews emphasized freedom during their years of jubilee. Greek and Roman histories were quoted to point out that free men are great and have the greatest opportunity.

"Any American is equal to any other American. People are equal as human beings, regardless of their capacities," he stated in conclusion.

Introduction of the speaker was in charge of William J. Olive. Music was presented by a string quartet, Joyce Brandt, Peggy French, Prudence Haskin and Mary Houtman. Exchangite Everett Kinsinger was in charge of musical arrangements. Opening prayer was pronounced by John J. Riemersma, High school principal.

Guests of Exchangites were Dale Fris, Clair Van Lier, Robert Van Zanten and Dale Van Lente, all from Holland, and all discharged servicemen.

Exchangite Milton L. Hinga announced the annual football banquet for Monday, Dec. 3, at 6:30 p.m.

The house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dorrance has been sold and will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John K. Andrews and son, Mrs. Andrews, the former Marianne Hutchinson, is a granddaughter of the late Mrs. Alice Hutchinson, who owned the house. Immediately after the contest, the student body proceeded to the Hope athletic field where the freshmen burned their pots in the traditional bonfire.

CHS Cage Team Made Up of Vets From '44-45 Outfit

Five more practice sessions remained today for the experienced Christian High school Maroon basketball team before they open the 1945-46 season in a game with Western State High school in Kalamazoo Nov. 30. They have a long way to go if they hope to top a veteran Western State crew which last season beat the locals in the second game of the season, 30-14.

Coach John "Cooney" Tuls has been working with his boys every night for the last two weeks and has a first string working on offense and a second string working on defense. First stringers are Bob Altena and Fred Brieve, forwards; Earl Dykstra and Kearney Zoerhof, guards; and Dale Artz, center. Second stringers are Marv Beelen, George Slikkers, Roger Kole, Jim Lampen and George Menken.

The Maroons of this season are a veteran outfit but with a rugged schedule, which includes several class A teams, fans are doubtful that the Maroons can improve their record of nine wins and 11 losses of 1944-45.

Now a class B school, Christian lost only two men from last season's team and they were both reserves, Mart Stegink and Walt Boerman.

Last season's Maroon and White aggregation was a hot and cold club. When they were right, they were stiff competition for strong teams, but when they were off, they were easy victims of weak teams. As an example, they defeated Grand Rapids South, one of the power teams in the Grand Rapids city league, 36-28, but were badly beaten by Kalamazoo, St. Augustine, 45-28.

Christian has two good scorers in Fred Brieve and Bob Altena and these two boys, in addition to Dale Artz, give the team considerable height. The gang is scrappy, paced by Artz, aggressive Kearney Zoerhof and hard-working Earl Dykstra. They are fairly strong in reserve strength with George Slikkers and Jim Lampen as the best, each standing some chance of breaking into the starting lineup.

It's generally agreed that if the boys set their minds to it, they could bring Christian a highly successful cage season. It remains to be seen whether the strength that lies in their ranks will be brought out occasionally or consistently.

The Maroon and White will practice tonight after which they take a four-day vacation during the Thanksgiving holiday, returning to regular practice on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Urges Bill of Sale Be Used in Yule Tree Sales

L. R. Arnold, Ottawa county agent, states that thousands of Christmas trees will be sold by Ottawa county landowners and urges all sellers of such trees to guard against selling such without issuing a bill of sale.

A state act requires anyone transporting Christmas trees to have in his possession a bill of sale. In order to make the act effective throughout the state, there will also be individual inspections at work, Arnold says.

Blank bills of sale may be obtained at state police barracks, conservation headquarters, agricultural agent's office and from the department of agriculture, Lansing.

The bill of sale requires the signature of two witnesses. If an owner of trees is transporting trees taken from his own land, he need only show legal document which denotes ownership of property. In such case he needs no bill of sale. Blank bills of sale will be issued upon request by the agricultural agent.

Woman's Literary Club Hears Review of Book

Mrs. James K. Miller, Jr. of Grand Rapids charmed members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon with her recital of the story of "My Indian Family," based on the book of that name by Hilda Wehmer, an Austrian woman. Although the author pointed out that the book apparently was based on fact, impersonating the mother, Mrs. Miller made the story of the young Austrian girl who married the Indian scientist, a very real one. It was a poignant story, revealing the differences of religions and customs in a land where they "produce miracles with great charm."

Mrs. Miller, who has appeared before the club on numerous occasions, again justified her popularity with her artistic performance.

Mrs. Randall Bosch presided at the meeting. Announcement was made of a meeting of the child study group next Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the club house. Mrs. W. Gomez of the Hope college music faculty will speak on "The Parent, Child, and Music," and will illustrate her talk with records of songs which she has made in connection with her new plan to bring music to all children of school age.

Mrs. Alex Van Zanten and Mrs. John Vander Hill were hostesses.

Frederick School PTA Group Elects Officers

Mrs. Charles Rich was elected president of the Frederick school Parent-Teachers association at a meeting Tuesday night in the school library. Other officers elected include Mrs. Harold Beernink, vice-president; Mrs. Russell Kleis, secretary and Edwin Looman, treasurer.

Dr. William Gouloze, acting president presided at the first meeting of the new semester and led devotions. Group singing was led by Miss Margaret Van Vyven, accompanied by Mrs. Beernink. A play about the life of the Pilgrims, was given by a group of first graders under the direction of Miss Gertrude Althuis. A solo was presented by Mary Lou Van Dyke, accompanied by Mrs. B. Kuite.

Refreshments were served by mothers of the sixth grade pupils.

Junior Welfare League Holds Meeting in Club

At the regular meeting of Junior Welfare league in the Woman's Literary club Tuesday night, Mrs. Don Leenhouts and Mrs. Gerald Breen, co-chairman of the bazaar committee, urged all members to have their materials ready at the next meeting. New members of the league have taken over the making of lapel pins.

Mrs. John Donnelly, president, was in charge of the meeting.

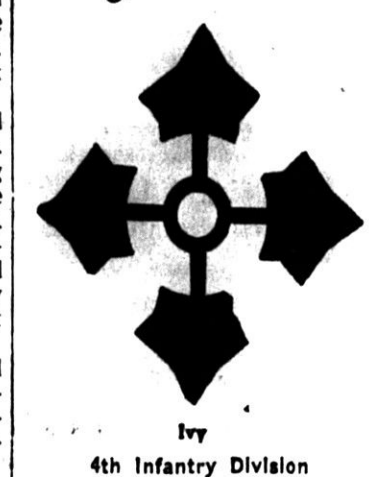

Capt. James Whitaker To Speak at Trinity

Plans are complete for the appearance of Capt. James C. Whitaker, second in command of the famous Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker plane, Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Trinity Reformed church. Capt. Whitaker, who tells a dramatic story of privation and ultimate rescue, will speak here under auspices of the Young Women's League for Service of Trinity church.

Mrs. Harold Beernink, organist, and Miss Norma Albers, pianist, will open the program with two numbers, "Adagio," Beethoven, and "Finlandia," Sibelius. The choir, under direction of Miss Margaret Van Vyven, will sing "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," Maunder, and "Beside Still Waters," Hamblen. The offertory number will be "Kamennol Oatrow," by Rubinstein. Dr. H. D. Terkstra, church pastor, will conduct a brief devotional period.

Doors of the church will be open at 6:30 p.m., and arrangements will be made for ladies.

Hunting Death Toll Rises to 18

Michigan In Washington

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty

Washington, Nov. 21.—Although both Democrat and Republican politicians agree that Pearl Harbor will not make a good election issue—yet the hearings are operating under a cloud of partisanship. Every preliminary step taken by the joint senate-house investigating committee has been marked by controversy across party lines. Some of the Republicans have given the distinct impression that they are most interested in convicting the departed wartime president of negligence than in an orderly presentation of the unbalanced truth. Some Democrats may have contributed to the suspicion that pertinent information might be withheld.

The average hired man on a Michigan farm now makes $68.80 a month—but it took a global war to do it (in 1940 the average was $29 a month).

Conscientious objectors who have served for four years or more, regardless of age, are soon to be discharged. Michigan had four out of 149 civilian public service camps and projects in the United States. Weistlan, 149 objects; Ypsilanti State hospital, 75; East Lansing project, 20; Kalamazoo hospital, 20.

Although assistant minority leader Earl Michener did his level best to make the Democrat house Leader McCormack say no legislation of importance would come up to interfere with a Thanksgiving vacation, there remains a possibility that something might break which would allow but 24 hours notice to absent congressmen. McCormack made that clear and then added to the confusion by saying he didn't expect any.

Even Santa Claus can't get the best of what's left of WPB... there'll still be a toy shortage this Christmas. Cupid is doing better... Diamond prospects are brighter... Most demobilization complaints now coming to senators are about lack of transportation for GI's stuck overseas with enough points for discharge... so says Senator David Walsh of Massachusetts.

New High in Washington confusion... Some of the cherry trees blossomed last week! British in Washington say the wife of Prime Minister Attlee resembles Mrs. Truman... both are shy and "stay-at-home" types.

Ten Dollar Pay Raise at Stake

Detroit, Nov. 21.—The average General Motors factory worker has a $10-a-week pay raise at stake in the strike against the nation's biggest corporation.

That's approximately the difference between what General Motors has offered and what the United Automobile Workers union (CIO) demands.

The typical GM factory worker now earns $1.12 to $1.15 an hour in base pay.

During the war, General Motors said, this typical worker put in 45 hours a week. This brought him $55.49 weekly.

During its negotiations with the union since V-J day the company has offered a flat 10 per cent increase with a 45 hour work week. This would give the typical worker an average of $60.09, the company said.

But the union wants a flat 30 per cent raise.

If granted, the union's scale would give the typical worker $1.49 an hour, or $71.00 for a 45 hour week.

At 40 hours of work the typical base pay now is $46.00. With GM's 10 per cent offer it would be $50.60. Under the union's proposal it would be $59.80.

Outdoor News and Views

By Bill Thake

Now that the squirrel and rabbit hunting season is in full swing the reporting of a few cases of tularemia is to be expected. It is a disease chiefly of rabbits and squirrels. But all other animals and even man are subject to it.

It is an infectious disease that can easily be transmitted to man through an abrasion in the skin whenever direct contact is made with an infected animal, or through eating infected meat that has not been thoroughly cooked to completely destroy the causative organism.

Soon after exposure the disease makes the patient uncomfortable and a glandular swelling creates a general systemic disturbance that is frequently fatal.

And since it is a highly communicable disease, here are a few suggestions to help avoid contracting this dreaded sickness. Always be suspicious of any wild game that lack pep and never under any circumstances handle any animals found dead.

When cleaning game, always wear rubber gloves if you have any scratches or other abrasions on the hands. If you run across any animals that are slow to move and appear sick, shoot them and leave them lay. Never handle any sickly looking animals with bare hands after shooting them.

A Minnesota fur farmer has trained an otter to retrieve small game and according to Emil Liers the otter has it all over a dog on duck retrieving.

If your metal tackle box shows signs of rust and wear, a little polishing with steel wool and a coat of enamel will make it almost as good as new.

When feeding or sleeping, geese always have at least one goose, usually a gander, on guard. During the shooting season pheasants are smart as a fox. Sometimes they will fly but usually they manage to keep out of sight of the hunter and sneak away as silently as a mouse. A mortally wounded deer usually falls forward but a mouse when hard hit almost always falls back on its hunches.

In eastern Tennessee the descendants of a pair of wild Russian boar that escaped from a game preserve roamed the mountains and became so large in numbers that the state established a short open season on them. The boars are hunted with dogs and rifles and are undoubtedly the most dangerous game in America. They unhesitatingly attack and if the hunter misses the boar's murderous tusks can make short work of him.

Urges Increase in Sale Of Small Size Bonds

Washington, Nov. 21.—State war bond chairmen were urged by the war finance committee today to increase their efforts to reach small bond buyers.

The committee said sales in the $11,000,000,000 Victory loan drive now are high, but only because of the large number of $1,000 bond purchases.

Special drives have been made to sell bonds of this size however, and officials predicted a sharp drop in total sales unless greater efforts are made to reach more small bond buyers.

Individual sales to date total $2,438,000,000, including $851,000,000 in E bonds. The individual goal is $4,000,000,000 and the E bond goal is $2,000,000,000. The drive closes Dec. 8.

Bell to Grant Higher Pay to Returning Vets

Detroit, Nov. 21.—The Michigan Bell Telephone company today announced that, in recognition of experience in the armed forces, it will grant increased starting pay rates to returning veterans entering the company's service for the first time.

George M. Welch, president of the company, said the extent of the increase will depend upon the experience of veterans while in the armed forces. He emphasized, however, that the practice will not eliminate the element of judgment in the individual hiring of new employees.

"The new practice simply grants recognition to the fact that the veteran has undergone a measure of development useful in the telephone business while in the armed forces," Welch said. "For such purposes, veterans are placed into two general classifications: 1. Those with no communications experience but in whom military service has developed maturity and certain other abilities. 2. Those with communications experience related to telephone occupations, or have had specialized training courses while in the service."

Ann Arbor Prices Geared For Workers, Not Students

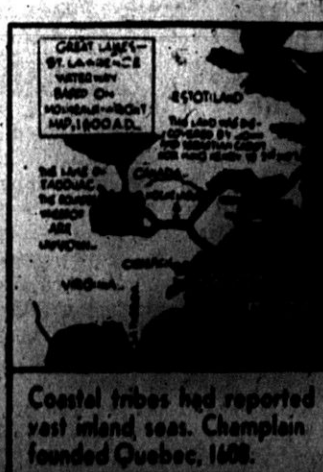

Ann Arbor, Nov. 21.—William Akers, president of the University Veterans organization at the University of Michigan, charged today that "prices in Ann Arbor are geared for war workers, not veterans or other students at the university."

Akers said a survey in which comparative costs of living were studied was the basis of his statement.

"At a time when veterans are trying to economize, rental and living costs here are higher than those of any Michigan town of comparable size," Akers said.

He said that "even the university-maintained and so-called non-profit cafeterias are operating at a decided profit."

While enroute to Huronia he discovered Lake Huron at French River mouth.

Brule's journey from Quebec was difficult. In 1615 Brule crossed Lake Ontario.

Mackay Drills 23 Candidates For HHS Cage Team

Basketball practice was going on in earnest at Holland High school this week, following completion of the football schedule, as Coach Malcolm Mackay drilled 23 first team prospects for the opening game with Grand Rapids at Ottawa Hills, Friday, Dec. 7.

Mackay expected to cut the squad today or next Monday to about 13 or 14 boys.

The Dutch schedule is a much talked about subject around the Southwestern conference because it is a rocky cage card which will see the Dutch battling not only the first-class conference teams twice but three other outfits which have powerful teams, Jackson, Lansing Sexton and Ottawa Hills.

It was popularly believed a couple weeks ago that Ottawa Hills would be the only thing close to a breather on the Dutch card but it was learned today that the Ottawa Indians will probably be the most powerful team in Grand Rapids. They have a host of veterans on the team including the sensational youngster, Jim Montgomery.

Mackay has lost three regulars from last season's team. His high scorer, Louie Van Dyke, his aggressive guard, Al Van Meeteren, and a highly talented forward, Ken Zuverink. They were the mainstays in the Dutch offensive which took them to the state semifinals at East Lansing.

The two regulars returning are center Leo Vander Kuy, six-foot-four, and speedy Jack Van Dorpe.

Coach Mackay's job ahead is about the biggest since he started coaching at the local high school four years ago. He must, in limited time, because of the four-day Thanksgiving vacation which starts today, build a team that will give a good account of itself on a 15 game schedule which includes the top teams in the state. He must have the team ready for a veteran Southwestern conference team, Muskegon, by Dec. 14.

The team will definitely have height. Leo (the Lip) Vander Kuy stands 6-4; Bob Van Dyke, up from the second team, 6-4; Dale Van Oort, up from the second team, 6-2; and Bud Vande Wege, 6-1.

It will also have speed with Jack Van Dorpe and Ken Van Tatenhoe ready to swing into action. Mackay's big problem is the lack of experience.

Coach Mackay has a gang of boys out for the squad, many of them good-looking prospects. The Dutch will probably be strong in reserve strength.

Following is a list of boys out for the first team:

Red Cross Cannot Make Far Eastern Inquiries

No means now are available for obtaining welfare and location reports requested by servicemen or civilians for forwarding messages to persons in Japan or other parts of the far east recently liberated. Mrs. J. J. Brower, home service chairman of the Ottawa county Red Cross chapter, said today.

Requests for inquiry or message service to persons in those countries must be discontinued, it was explained. Current requests being received by home service at Red Cross national headquarters will be returned to chapters with an explanation. Replies to inquiries and messages previously sent to these countries and requests which may be in transit from persons in that area will be forwarded to chapters for delivery to the addressees.

Even though Red Cross facilities are not available for continuing and expanding such a service, large numbers of civilian messages are still being forwarded to Japanese persons in war relocation centers or to a later address if they have left the center.

ABOLISH ELEVEN BOARDS

Eleven more war price and rationing boards in western Michigan will be abolished Nov. 24, Jacob Zweedyk, Grand Rapids district OPA director, announced today. This will make a total of 20 boards abolished since October. The remaining 23 boards will be known as price control boards instead of war price and rationing boards, Zweedyk said.

British Columbia's mine production for 1945 reached a total value of $7,000,000.

In Gratitude

Painted by Harold Anderson—Courtesy of American Oil Company

THE cheers die away and ticker-tape is gone from the streets. But the grateful heart knows that the time to say thanks is just beginning. It knows Victory wasn't given to us. It was paid for with the hearts, the hopes and the lives of our boys.

These we can never pay back. But we can put a down-payment on the future they anguished for. We can invest in the tomorrows of those who come home. We can pay for the care of the hundreds of thousands now fighting their grimmest battles in service hospitals. We can give our government the means of taking care of those who took care of our freedom.

If we don't show our gratitude now by making the Victory Loan the greatest bond drive success, we may be doing ourselves, as well as our veterans, a harm as grievous as defeat. If we run hog-wild with our money now, and unloose inflation on the land, the word "Victory" will mock us to the end of our days.

Americans know this. We'll need no whooping or parades to lure us to bond windows. We won't need movie-star kisses or pleas from empty-sleeved heroes. But, in gratitude and with humble thanks to those who brought us peace, we'll use our money to buy a bright future for our boys and for ourselves.
