Four Teenagers Injured in Crash

DOUGLAS (Special) — Four persons were injured, one seriously, as a semi-trailer truck smashed into a car filled with teenagers from Pullman Wednesday night at 8:15 p.m. on US-31 at Washington St. in Douglas.

Miraculously, two of the girls riding in the back seat of the 1954 model four-door car, which was demolished, were not hurt at all.

John Borowiak, 16, of route 1, Pullman, who was sitting in the front seat of the car, is reported in serious condition at Holland Hospital with possible internal injuries, multiple bruises and lacerations of the body.

Henry J. Vahrenwald, 17, of route 1, Pullman, the driver of the car, is listed in good condition at the hospital with an injury to his right thigh.

John Vahrenwald, 15, his brother, is also listed by hospital authorities as being in good condition with fractures of the right leg and left arm.

Linda Grein, 16, also of route 1, Pullman, was treated at the hospital for bruises and lacerations of the right foot, right leg and forehead and discharged.

Paula Grein, a twin of Linda, and Joan Vahrenwald, 16, a sister of the two boys, were riding in the back seat and were not injured.

According to South Haven State police, a semi-trailer driven by Richard T. Hanlon, 45, of Grand Rapids, was headed south on US-31 in the right-hand lane when Vahrenwald, in the center lane, attempted to pull to the right directly in front of Hanlon. The accident happened at the south end of the four-lane bridge over the Kalamazoo River, south of Saugatuck.

The semi smashed the car in the right front side and bore the car ahead of it about 100 feet down the road and off onto the shoulder, where only a cable-strung traffic retaining posts prevented the two from plunging down a steep, 25-foot incline.

State police today ticketed Vahrenwald for making an improper right turn. According to the officers, he had just crossed the bridge south of Saugatuck and was trying to make a right turn onto Washington St.

The troopers estimated the damage to the 1954 tractor at $500. Hanlon said he was headed for Chicago from Grand Rapids with a 9,000-pound load of juke boxes.

School Board Clarifies Its Policy

Members of the school boards from Holland and Montello Park met in a friendly atmosphere Monday night at the Montello Park school and the Holland board clarified its stand on school district annexation.

The Holland board stated it would not deviate from its policy concerning annexation. This policy says that annexation to the city must precede school district annexation.

This announcement followed a letter sent by the Montello Park board to the Holland board asking that a 200-foot strip of land lying along Graafschap Road and in Park Township be included in the school district annexation. It is part of the Montello district.

Both boards were in agreement that because of the difficulties in tax structure when a school district is divided by a municipal and township boundary, it is best for both boards to wait until after the anticipated annexation election in the Lakeview district of Park Township.

In order to help the Montello Park group, the Holland board decided to continue to take all high school students from the district, including those living in the 200-foot strip.

The board amended its policy of June, 1953, which barred all non-resident elementary students and will accept, as necessary, to provide educational space, the elementary students from Montello Park for a reasonable length of time.

Besides members of the two boards, representatives of the Lakeview Board of Education, the Lakeview area citizens' committee and some Montello Park citizens also attended the joint meeting.

Attending the meeting were: James Hallan, Alvin Cook, Harry Frissel, Jack Plewes of Holland board, Superintendent Walter W. Scott, Mrs. Donald Smeenge, Mrs. Harris Scholten, Mrs. J. L. Vander West, Virgil White, Harold De Pree, Fred Coleman, Gary Vanden Bos, Donald Williams, Hetzer Hartsock, Carl Van Lente, James Kiekintveld, Ed Onivan and David Hanson.

This work, Dr. Crook said, also is supported by grants from the National Cancer Institute and the National Science Foundation. Although relatively small in size, it does approach the cancer problem from a new angle.

In cancer, the body loses its normal control over the growth of cells. In his work, he and his assistant, Austin Aardema, are trying to find how the body controls the growth and the time of cells through the hormones it secretes. He explained the body has two methods for such control — nervous and hormonal. Their work is solely with the latter.

Dr. Crook spent last summer gathering and purifying the strains of cells they are using in the experiment. The actual testing is now being started by Aardema under the supervision of Dr. Crook.

Following his talk and a visit to his small laboratory, the group went to Durfee Hall for refreshments.

Plan Barrel Drive for Chest Funds

Barrels to Be Placed
In Downtown Holland
Friday Night, Saturday

"Operation Roll-Out-the-Barrel" to put Holland's Community Chest drive over the top will be staged Friday night and Saturday.

A barrel will be placed in front of Hansen's Drug Store and at Chest headquarters (John Good Building) Friday night from 5 to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Drive officials said today that the drive needs about $2,000 to hit the 100 per cent mark. So far, $71,850 has been raised of the $73,835 quota. The Single Solicitation Plan has raised $40,000 and the balance of the funds were received from among the other Chest divisions.

"Here's a chance for Holland to wind up this drive in the true Community Chest tradition — everyone doing his part in his own way," George Pelgrim, executive-secretary said today.

"The job can't be done without this extra giving," Dave Hanson, 1958 co-chairman said. "This is the crisis — the time for doing just a little bit more so Holland can maintain its reputation for taking care of its own," Hanson said.

The barrel campaign is designed for those persons who were missed in the Chest solicitation and for those wishing to increase their gift.

Several Michigan cities have gone over the top, officials said. "We're convinced the people of Holland don't want to be runners-up to any city when it comes to worth while community projects such as the Fund," Hanson said.

"Friday and Saturday they can prove their civic pride rates with the best," he concluded.

Persons who will not be downtown on either day are urged to send their contributions to the Chest headquarters or call EX 6-6649 for a pick-up messenger to come to their home.

Larry Ter Molen Selected As Hope's Most Valuable

Larry Ter Molen, 21-year-old Hope College senior, was named today as Hope's most valuable football player following a vote by members of this year's team.

Ter Molen was captain of the 1958 Dutch team which won eight of nine games and is regarded by Coach Russ De Vette as "one of the best football players in Hope's history."

The selection puts Ter Molen in the running for the Randall C. Bosch of Holland trophy, awarded each year to the most valuable player in the MIAA. Each MIAA team will select a most valuable candidate and the league coaches and the team members at each school will, then vote on the seven choices. Alma, Albion, Adrian, Kalamazoo, Olivet, Hillsdale and Hope compete in MIAA football.

"Ter Molen was one of the best, if not the best football player we've ever had at Hope College," De Vette said today. "He was the best player on the team and the team was the best we've ever had (8-1 record), so we can conjecture that he approaches the very best we've ever had." De Vette said.

Larry Ter Molen

... 'one of the best'

Ter Molen played regular tackle for Hope all four years after winning all-city honors at guard while at Grand Rapids Central High School.

Extremely quick, he packed a potent charge on his 185-pound, 5'11" frame. He went both ways, was a superb blocker and Hope scored frequently off tackle. He specialized in crashing on defense and tackled many a ballcarrier behind the line.

Ter Molen was a unanimous all-MIAA selection last year at tackle and is called "Rocky" by his teammates.

One of the friendliest players on the team, Ter Molen is also a top student and a shot putter on the track team.

Sidelights on Hope Victory

BELOIT (Special) — The Hope locker rooms took on a pleased look following Hope's 26-6 win over Beloit but there was none of the whooping, hollering and backslapping which accompanied the Dutch locker room following the win at Hillsdale.

The Hope players exchanged congratulations while they showered and dressed. Most of them had an extra word for the eight seniors who had played their final game.

Outside the locker room, Coach Russ De Vette accepted the good wishes of several Hope fans and some from Beloit. The locker rooms were located under the stadium.

Strong Stadium was built following a gift from Walter Strong, a Beloit alumnus, who at one time was publisher of the Chicago Daily News. The Beloit practice field is behind the stadium and an intramural field is located on the other side. Beyond the intramural field is a large farm where about 40 head of Black Angus cattle were grazing.

Ron Boeve, junior end who spent two years in the service, was the only Hope player who had been at Beloit before. He was a member of the 1953 team which stopped the Bucs, 32-14 under Coach Al Vanderbush and aides Russ De Vette and Ken Weller.

Weller was busy following the game collecting his field telephone line which he had strung from the Hope bench across the field, around the end zone and up to the Beloit press box. Hope has 1,000 feet of wire and the portable phone system was used effectively at every road game this season.

Dr. and Mrs. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope president, led the list of Hope fans attending the game. The 350 fans was indicative of Beloit crowds this year. Only a few members of the student body were at the game and the publicity director Dave Mason made it his weekly job to stop at each fraternity house and dormitory before the game to get students to come to the game.

This will probably be the last time Hope will play Beloit in football. The Bucs have rejoined the Midwest Conference and have a full slate of league games.

THE BIOLOGY OF BRITISH ROYALTY

An American woman's magazine has done a piece about Princess Margaret and her boyfriend Peter Townsend. The writing was in the characteristic tone of such things in distaff journalism, the author weeping on the shoulder of the American people, bemoaning the love-life sorrows of a British girl who is no more real to them than a character in Dickens.

Margaret is doubtless a nice enough girl, although so far as can be gathered from her outward acts and words and opinions she has no more personality than a million other British or American girls whose love-life troubles are just as real but on whom the readers of the women's magazines waste no sympathy.

But Margaret is royalty, and emotionally the people of democracies like England and America still live in ancient ages with respect to royalty. In the old, old days a thousand years or more ago, the members of a royal family were held to be composed of finer clay than the common run of humanity. For ages they were even held to be divine, but that belief could not stand up against the obvious mortality of kings and queens and princes and princesses, a mortality that was sometimes joined to the obvious humanity of such things as many diseases that carried them off.

But even when divinity died out of the popular preoccupation with belief in the finer clay of royalty, the conviction persisted that certain people who have arms and legs and stomachs and intestines and all the other indispensable of the biological human organism were yet somehow composed of a choicer protoplasm than mere common people. That notion persists to this day, and nowhere more so than in a country like America whose royalty consists only of "potato queens" and "cherry queens" and "college queens" and even in some cases "onion queens."

Nice girl though she may be, Princess Margaret is just that, only a nice girl. Too bad, perhaps, that she can't have her Peter, but not any worse than the fact of a million commoner Jills being unable to marry their particular Jacks. We the common mass lack imagination to think ourselves into the lives of the anonymous millions, but we love to make up stories in which we can act major parts by proxy. So we vote on the sorrows of a royal young girl who, with all her undoubted merits, is biologically if not socially, after all only just that, an ordinary young girl.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Nov. 23
Jesus Arouses Opposition
Mark 2:18-28
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.) The best, the only Perfect Man Jesus Christ, was much criticized, and strongly opposed. Today the gospel is mildly opposed by some, ignored by others, and fiercely fought in some lands. We can expect the gospel to meet with opposition.

I. Jesus knew how to answer his critics. The Lord and his disciples had just returned from a feast held in the home of Levi when he was asked about fasting — why his disciples did not fast although the disciples of John and the Pharisees did. Jews and pagans looked upon fasting as being beneficial, both physically and spiritually. The law of Moses commanded only one fast a year, the Day of Atonement (Leviticus 23:27-32). The Pharisees fasted twice a week, on Mondays and Thursdays.

Jesus was not opposed to fasting but he also asserted that it might be out of place at certain times. According to Jesus fasting should not necessarily be done at stated times but it should be practiced from a sense of need. Jesus defended his disciples by saying that just as the members of a bridal party do not fast but feast so his disciples should not fast as long as he was with them. The Lord called himself the bridegroom and his disciples members of the bridal party. The time would come when the bridegroom would be taken away from the bridal party and then they would fast. Jesus knew that the cross awaited him.

II. Sometimes the new has to displace the old. Jesus said that no sensible mother would put unshrunk cloth on an old garment for when the patch would shrink it would tear the garment. No one living in that day would put new wine into old wine skins for the new wine would ferment and burst the wine skins and both would be lost. In those days bottles were made of skins of goats. When the bottles got old they were not able to stand the pressure of the fermenting wine. In these two short parables Jesus said that the religion of the Pharisees is like the old garment and the wine skins — the gospel is the unshrunk cloth and the new wine. Jesus could not bind his teaching to the old forms of Judaism. The doctrines of grace which Jesus proclaimed differed much from the legalism of the Pharisees and they did not fit together.

III. Jesus was criticized about the Sabbath day. As the Lord and his disciples were walking through a grain field the disciples plucked grain and ate it. The Law of Moses forbade working on the Sabbath. The rabbis listed thirty-nine kinds of work which was forbidden, and one of them was reaping. The Pharisees who were always watching Jesus criticized his disciples for plucking grain and called the attention of Jesus to their deed. In defense of the disciples Jesus asked his critics about a deed of David — how he ate the shewbread in the tabernacle which only the priests were allowed to eat. David was fleeing from Saul, he came to Nob, where the tabernacle stood and he asked the priest there for bread and he gave him the shewbread because David and the young men with him were hungry — they had a real need.

David set aside the divine law because of the need. If David was justified in doing that then the disciples were also justified in setting aside a rabbinical rule. Jesus laid down a great principle regarding the sabbath in the words: "The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath. Therefore, the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath."

Hospitalized 81 Days, He's Billed for $50

Marinus Smeenge
1601 Waukazoo Dr.
Holland, Michigan

"As a Holland policeman, I was able to join Blue Cross-Blue Shield through the group of city employees. Naturally, I was glad for the opportunity to do so.

"But, I don't think I fully realized the value of my health protection until an actual experience proved to me how badly I needed it.

"It happened suddenly as I was relaxing in my yard at home. I had a heart attack—one that put me in the hospital for 81 days.

"That hospital stay cost Blue Cross-Blue Shield $1,509.64. But, my share of the bill was only $50 for the entire 81 days of hospital care.

"I think you can understand why I now place more value than ever on my Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage."

Hezekiah's Tunnel Provided Water for City Under Siege

Here is an article on a visit to Hezekiah's tunnel prepared by Dr. Lester J. Kuyper of Western Theological Seminary who is presently studying in the Holy Land.

By Dr. Lester J. Kuyper

The problem of water supply for a city under siege. Members of the American School recently explored the tunnel that Hezekiah built through the solid rock of Jerusalem to provide for such an emergency.

The director of the Jerusalem museum, Joseph Sa'ad, invited us to be his "wading" guests in the adventure of walking through this tunnel about 1,700 feet long. We prepared ourselves as though we were to spend the afternoon at Ottawa Beach. Our station wagon brought us to the source of the tunnel, the Gihon spring at the southeast side of Jerusalem. Here Mr. Sa'ad had a guide with a gas lantern waiting for us. Our first step in the cold water was followed by suddenly going into water more than knee deep. However, we were assured that this was the deepest water we would have.

At this point the roof of the tunnel was very low so that we bent very low to get through. Again we were assured that we would have more room on top. With these initial difficulties out of the way we could see by the light of the lantern and flashlights a cutting in the solid rock about two feet wide and all the way from 6 to 8 feet high. At one place where another tunnel had been cut deeper, the roof was fully 20 feet high. We slowly slushed through the water a foot deep constantly wondering how all this work had been cut out by men working one at a time for the width of the tunnel would allow only one to work.

The tunnel ran a rather straight course until we had gone about half way. He found sharp corners and turns, for it is here that the two crews began to hear each other. The engineers had started two crews, one from the side of Gihon and the other from the Siloam end. As they came close to each other, they could hear each other, and they sharply turned their course of cutting in the rock. We stopped at the place to examine where they met. Then we made out way to the Siloam exit, but we stopped about 20 feet from the exit to see the place in the rock where the inscription had been, telling about the feat.

Unfortunately the inscription had been chiseled out and is now on display in the museum at Istanbul. The Hebrew inscription written about 700 B. C. tells that the quarrymen had successfully bored through 1,200 cubits of rock and that the rock overhead was 100 cubits. The cubit is usually regarded to be 18 inches.

We walked out at the Siloam pool after being under the rock for 35 minutes. The water runs into Siloam pool where people come for water and others come to bathe. Here we went up a flight of steps to the station wagon waiting for us with our clothes and shoes. We were gazed at by the natives who cannot quite understand what kind of creatures these were that come out of the tunnel in most unconventional attire.

The bottom of the tunnel was smooth for the most part, and we had no danger of stubbing our toes, but parts of the walk were over smooth stones which was something less than pleasant for tender feet. The water was slowly running its course. It was at its lowest ebb, for the Gihon spring flows heavily later in the day and evening. Many people come to the spring at its source with jars and cans to carry water to their homes. It is the social center for that part of the city life. To be sure, in Jerusalem itself there is running water such as we have in our homes.

After this chilling experience, Mr. Sa'ad invited us to have warm tea in the home of one of his museum attendants. Directly opposite Gihon Spring we climbed the hillside to be invited into a lovely house where we, eight of us, sat about a table and the attendant and his helper served us delicious tea with an array of pastries that would do honor to any coffee kletz in Holland.

At the tea we discuss why the tunnel had been built. First of all we are told that Solomon — it is thought — had constructed a channel through the rock to conduct water from the Gihon to some pools which were outside of the city wall. Later King Hezekiah built this tunnel to direct that same water to the Siloam pool within the city in order to have water in the city in the event of a siege by the Assyrians. It Kings 20:20 tells how he made the pool and the conduit and brought water into the city. However, his engineers had to contend with a water level problem, for the pool of Solomon was much lower than the pool of Siloam within the city. It was necessary to block the conduit leading to the pool to such a height that the water would then flow into the city to Siloam. By doing this, too much water was taken from the Gihon source, so that a return channel was built to allow some of the water to return for the use of the people on the outside of the wall. This channel is still in use and it becomes the water supply for a well irrigated valley producing abundantly in fruits and vegetables.

And so a walk through Hezekiah's tunnel brings one back into Old Testament times when the pick of one man at a time broke off bit by bit pieces of the solid rock to provide for the protection of the city. The amount of labor required and the skill of the engineers still make the construction of this tunnel a wonder to behold.

Hope, Oilers Look Strong In Scrimmage

Both teams should play some fine basketball this year after what was displayed in a scrimmage Thursday night at Carnegie-Schouten gym between Hope College and the Texaco Oilers of Zeeland, recently-organized independent team.

The teams practiced for about an hour and a half and showed some fine basketball. Additional workouts between the two clubs are planned in the next few weeks.

Hope's Paul Benes and Ray Ritsema led a scoring spurt early in the second half to put the Dutch out in front and they held the upper hand from then on. Coach Russ De Vette gave his newcomers, JV team members last year, plenty of opportunity to play.

Pleading in the Hope performance was the feeding of Warren Vander Hill to Benes and the daring, driving play of Darrell Beernink, who darted in and around "under" his foes to gain control of the ball. Beernink is replacing Tiger Teusink in the Hope lineup.

Teusink played with the Oilers and made a few fine shots. Bob Armstrong did most of the Oilers scoring and frequently battled with Benes for rebounds. Dean Vander Wal also showed flashes of things to come this season.

Hope opens Dec. 1 at Valparaiso, Ind. while the Oilers open their home season Nov. 29 against Vander Weide plumbers in the Zeeland High gym.

Vikings Score Three Times In First Half

Niles scored three touchdowns and added a safety in the first half to record a 22-7 win over Holland High's football team in season's finale before 1,600 fans sitting in mild 60-degree temperatures Friday night at Riverview Park.

The loss gives Holland a 1-8 season, one of the worst in its history, while the Vikings have an opposite mark and are one of the ranked teams in Michigan.

It was an electrifying 95-yard touchdown run on the kickoff return which seemed to take the starch out of the Dutch. But in the second half they responded and looked stronger.

Marty Hodges, a 140-pound halfback, took a crisscross handoff on his own five-yard-line on the initial kick-off and followed his blockers up the field. He outran everyone including the last Holland man on the Holland 45 and was off for the score with the game only 15 seconds old. Ron Wingear had the extra point attempt blocked.

An 18-yard pass from quarterback Rog Buurma to end Ben Farabee gave the Dutch first down on the Niles 21, four plays after the kickoff, but a loss and a fumble gave the ball to Niles on their own 25.

And the Vikings took over and controlled play the rest of the half. They knifed through the center and off the tackle, picking up yardage on every play and completed two passes, one to set up a touchdown and the other for a TD.

Halfback Terry Linville, who passed after taking a direct pass from center 12 yards back, heaved a long aerial to end Jerry Wingear on the 15 and the big end took the ball over his shoulder and galloped to the four where he was downed by Bob Teall. On the next play Linville ripped the tackle for the touchdown and Ron Wingear, Jerry's brother added the kick, to make the score 13-0.

Following a pass interception on the Niles 46, the Vikings drove to the Holland two where they were stopped. But after Holland picked up a first down, Linville tackled Buurma in the end zone for a safety with 1:52 remaining in the half.

Holland kicked to Niles and the Vikings moved to the Dutch 42 where on the last play of the first half, Linville hit Wingear with an over-the shoulder pass that the big-handed end took in on the 20 and was away. He made a finger tip catch of the ball and it was probably the best pass catch seen in a prep game in Holland this year. His brother converted and the Vikings led, 22-0 at halftime.

Early in the third quarter, tackle Rick Smith, who made many tackles in the game, pounced on a Niles fumble on the Viking 25. Teall sailed through tackle for nine and then Buurma threw to end Ron Dorgelo on the five. The senior end fought his way into the end zone for the score, carrying two defenders with him. Scott Brouwer ran the extra point off tackle.

But that ended the scoring. The Vikings threatened twice in the final quarter. A nine-play ground drive moved from the Niles 36 to the Holland 13 where a holding penalty bogged the winners.

After intercepting a Holland pass on the Dutch 17, Niles had a pass intercepted by Bruce Van Dyke in the end zone and he carried it out to the 25. Dave Smith of Niles intercepted a Holland pass on the next play but after Niles moved to the nine, Holland held, with Gary Smith making the fourth down tackle.

Holland was hurt by the ineffectiveness of Jan Nienhuis, who was used sparingly because of a twisted ankle. Jim Tenckinck received an injury above his ankle in the game.

All Bill Hinga and his aides Ernie Post and Don Piersma could salvage from the season and the game was the play of the sophomores. Garry Klaasen recovered two fumbles, Russ Kleinheksel ran hard. Garry Smith made several tackles and Ben Farabee looked strong at end. These boys spent most of the season on the reserves. Hinga used 13 sophomores in the game. Piersma missed the game because of illness.

Niles picked up 420 yards on 229 rushing, 116 of it in the first half and 91 yards in passing, all made in the first half. The Dutch made 117 yards, 64 rushing and 43 passing.

Hudsonville's Football Team Displayed Strong Finish

Coach Dave Kempker was reluctant to start the football season because he felt his Hudsonville Eagles weren't ready but he's anxious for 1959 following the fine second half of the season showing his team made.

The Eagles took three straight beatings and then the team jelled and in the final five contests, Hudsonville won three, tied one and lost one to Grand Rapids Rogers, the champions of the Ottawa-Kent League.

Kempker felt the development of some ends and a quarterback, plus the improvement of his other team members, made the change. The offense continued to improve and the defense also looked better as the season progressed.

Jim Shuck, a 150-pound senior quarterback, who didn't play football during the past two years because of injuries, found himself at quarterback and the Eagles began to go. Shuck did the team's passing and also was a running threat along with being a strong safety man on defense.

The tide seemed to change when the fired-up Eagles defeated traditional rival Zeeland, 13-6. In that game, the offensive linebacks did a fine job and the Chix had trouble running the ends. Zeeland was held to 57 yards rushing.

For the rest of the season, Eagles foes didn't find the ends vulnerable. The ends, Dave Bolhuis and Gerald Brower, two seniors, worked hard while the rest of the line was anchored by 6' 4", 225-pound junior Jack McDuffie. McDuffie did everything well and was joined by defensive center and linebacker junior Bruce Struik. Senior Dave MacDonald, played the other tackle and the guards were senior Wes De Young, who went both ways and Bill Kramer, a defensive standout.

In the last four games, the Eagles did a good job of moving the ball. They made 150 against Rogers, 210 against Lee and 190 in the last half with Sparta.

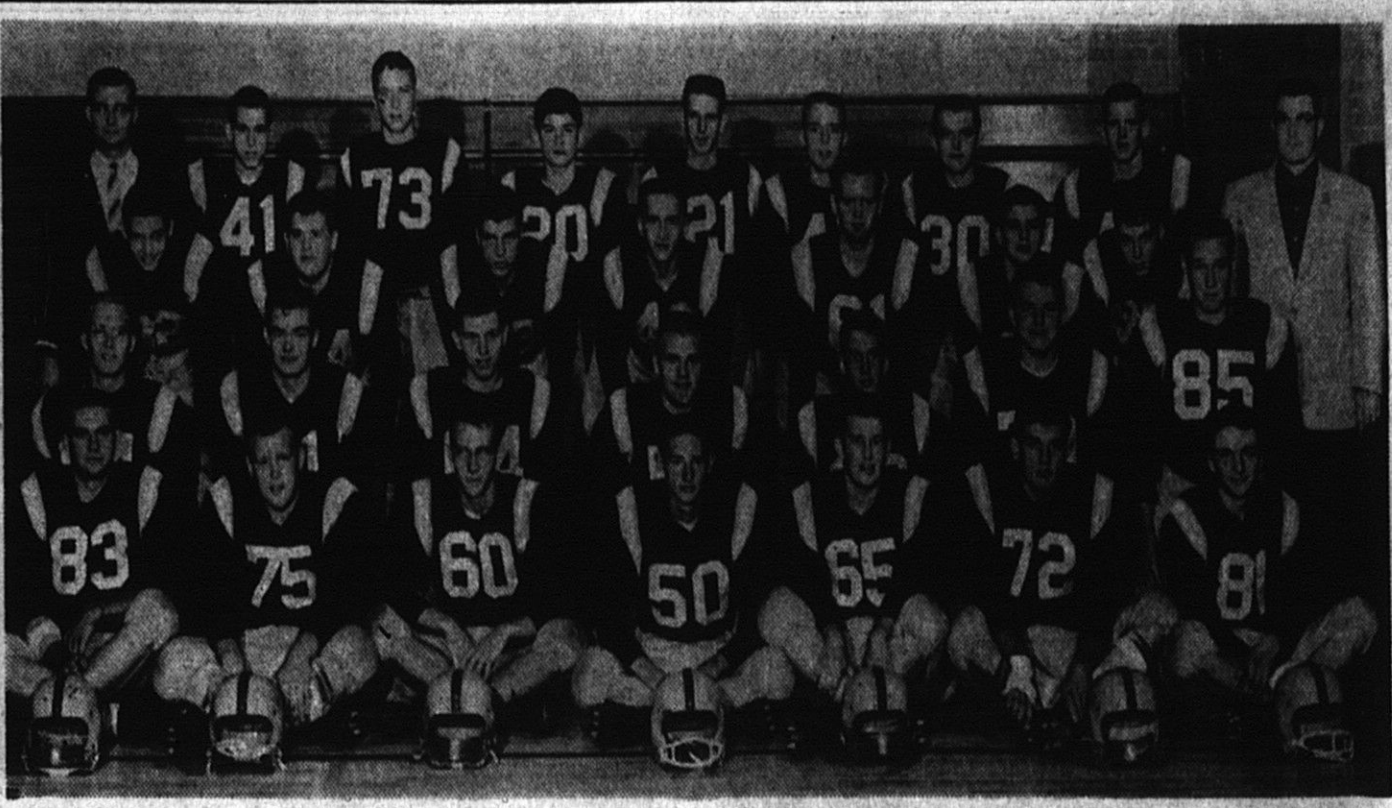

Forming the nucleus for Hudsonville's team next fall will be McDuffie, Struik, guard Art Vredveld, quarterback Dennis Kole, left half Ken Visser, who rushed more than 100 yards each against Lee, Sparta and Zeeland and Ed

Den Houten, tackle. Others are Jim Vander Molen, defensive end, Jim Thompson, offensive fullback, Lynn Allen, fullback and Everett Selvig, offensive center.

Ken (Fuzz) Bauman with the line and also was pleased with the reserve football team. The seconds, coached by Larry Byle and Dan Tompkins, made a 3-1 record.

Football has caught on at Hudsonville after a few dismal years and Kempker is optimistic about next year. This season he had 29 on the varsity and only 18 a year ago while the reserves had 38 this season and 25 a year ago.

With this kind of a turnout next year, plus a big group of junior lettermen, the Eagles should be tough.

Zeeland Gridders Have Speed and Experience Returning

ZEELAND (Special) — Speed and experience are two ingredients needed most in developing a football team and as Zeeland football coach Jarold Groters looked over his list of players returning next year he is confident he has some of both.

Groters smiled as he spotted the names of three of his backs who will be returning, plus four good linemen and some boys from the reserve squad, including a speedy halfback.

Junior Cliff Ter Haar, who led the Chix with seven touchdowns, will be back. He picked up 559 yards for 7.9 per carry along with sophomore Ron Glass, promoted late in the season from the reserve squad who made 129 yards for a 7.5 mark plus sophomore Bob Elenbaas who gained 340 yards for a 4.9 average.

These runners plus 449 by senior halfback Junior De Jonge and 303 by senior fullback Ron Plasmann helped Zeeland gain a total of 2,079 yards this year. Plasmann's 98-yard dash in the Comstock Park game was the longest run from scrimmage and occurred on the only play the Chix had the ball in the fourth quarter against the Panthers. De Jonge averaged 5.2 per carry and Plasmann, 7.6 a try.

The more than 2,000 yards is a better rushing mark than the one made by the unbeaten 1955 Zeeland team, Groters said. The Chix tried 1,811 yards rushing in 351 tries and completed 18 of 56 passes for 288 yards.

Added to the trio of backs, Groters plans to help from sophomore Gordon Beukema, the fastest man in the 100-yard-dash at Zeeland. He played on the reserve this season.

Zeeland's best single offensive game was 438 yards against Comstock Park, including 258 in the first half. The Chix also outrushed conference champion, Fremont, 279-177, but lost, 20-13. That game cost the Chix the crown and they finished second with a 3-1 mark.

Defensively, Zeeland allowed a total of 1,729 yards, 1,200 rushing and 529 in the air. The Chix held Comstock Park to one yard in the first half in winning 41-0. Ter Haar scored four touchdowns in the game.

Leading the defense was tackle Marv Feenstra with 64 tackles. Bob Schrottenboer followed with 43 while Glen Nykamp had 38, Jim Van Dam, 29 and Tom Van Kley, 27. Schrottenboer will be back at tackle next year along with Kurt De Jonge, a 210-pounder. Defensive guard John De Jonge is also back along with defensive center Bob Meyers. This quartet played a lot this year and will form the line nucleus.

Feenstra and Van Dam were named the most valuable. Van Dam threw all of the Chix passing yardage. Ter Haar led the club in scoring with 43 points while Junior De Jonge had 24, Van Dam, 18, Elenbaas and Glass, seven and Plasmann, six.

Zeeland outscored its eight foes 105 to 98 and out first downed them, 80-77 but ended with a 3-5 mark. But with the backs returning, plus the experienced linemen, Groters expects a different story in 1959. "We must find a fullback and develop a quarterback and we'll be tough," the veteran Chix coach said.

HOPE ATHLETES GET FIXED UP — These five members of the Hope College football team, along with other players, reported each day to the Hope training room in the basement of Carnegie-Schouten gym. ## Hope Gridders Used More Than 8 Miles of Tape This Year

Hope College's football team, which achieved its best season in history, was kept together by eight and a half miles of one-inch tape, Dr. Lawrence J. Green, the team trainer, said today.

"The tape was the most we've used in the seven years I've been here," Dr. Green, head of the physical education department said.

Dr. Green, who is assisted during the football season by Stuart Post, Hope junior as assistant trainer, said most of the tape was used to wrap ankles and also for covering knees. "We had five boys with weak knees on the club this year," Dr. Green said.

Called "Doc" by all the athletes, Dr. Green received his doctorate from the State University of Iowa in 1955. He has been chairman of the Hope physical education department since 1953 and did his doctorate thesis on the changes of football rules throughout the years.

The Hope College training room was one of the busiest and most popular places for the Hope team this year. A big group of athletes could be found there any day prior to or after practice.

Some of the best football tales spun about Hope football had their origin in the Hope training room with personable Dr. Green always providing a willing ear and then giving out with a loud guffaw as he laughed "with" or "at" the story.

Dr. Green thought one of the reasons the Hope team was so successful this year was the lack of injuries. Hope's hurts were all minor and responded after treatment. Only a few of the players were forced to miss games because of injuries.

Most of the injuries were bruises and a few were pulled muscles in the legs, shoulders and groin. For players having bruises on the forearm, pads with a half-inch rubber cushion, were taped over the bruises. In some cases, shots were also administered for bruises.

The training room contains a whirlpool bath for treatment of an injury. The whirlpool is large enough for five persons to dangle legs into the hot water or for one person to sit in the bath.

Heat lamps are also available along with analgesic ointment, ascorbic acid, salt pills and dextrose tablets. Many other types of materials for alleviating injuries are also available. Some of the players also get massage treatments and at halftime of the games, the trainer is responsible for the players having orange slices.

Dr. Green succeeded Jack Schouten as Hope trainer. Schouten was well-known for many years and nursed many Hope athletes back into playing shape. Schouten was a familiar figure trotting out on the field at River-view Park with his black bag. He has helped countless athletes and other residents in his home, during his training days and following his retirement.

Now football is finished, but Dr. Green will be busy for the next few months keeping the Hope basketball players in shape.

Education Board Receives Appeal

Acknowledgement of an appeal to the State Board of Education concerning a hearing pertaining to the transfer of a portion of Maplewood District to the Hamilton Community Schools was received Tuesday by attorney Gordon Cunningham, attorney for the Maplewood School Board.

The letter stated that the date of the hearing will be set and notices will be sent to interested parties. The hearing will be held in the office of Lynn M. Bartlett, secretary of the State Board of Education in the state capital building in Lansing.

At the hearing, written and oral arguments may be presented, Cunningham said. The area under question involves some 400 acres within the area which annexed to Holland city last June 3 and a small area of perhaps 40 or more acres in the Maplewood school district but outside the city.

The Allegan County Board of Education voted Nov. 7 to transfer this portion of the Maplewood district. But Cunningham appealed the decision to the State Board.

Win Gives Dutch Best Grid Season

BELOIT (Special)—It was a satisfied Hope College football team which walked off the cold, muddy Strong Stadium turf here Saturday afternoon with its best season in history following a decisive 26-6 win over Beloit College before 350 chilled fans.

They were satisfied because they had completed the most successful season in Hope's history, eight wins in nine games, and they were satisfied because they had come back.

They had to come back to convince themselves that they were a better club than the one that lost 18-13 at Albion the week before. The Albion loss had cost the Dutch undisputed first place in the MIAA and it ruined thoughts of an unbeaten season.

Hope was determined to prove the point and they were decisive in doing it. They rolled up 399 yards rushing and added 25 in the air for a total of 424 yards and were in command throughout, scoring in three of the four quarters.

Unfortunately, as happens when a team closing its season on a far distant field, only about 50 Hope fans witnessed the final win. But they got to see a fine gridiron machine in action.

It started with the opening kickoff, the first time this season Hope received on the initial kickoff, when Jerry Herp returned the ball from the goal line to the 24. Then on the first play, Ron Bekius ripped 13 yards over center and Herp followed with 19 on a reverse.

Six plays later, including a 15-yard holding penalty against the Dutch, Pete Watt scooted down the left sideline on a double reverse for 25 yards and the touchdown with 10:45 to go in the first quarter. Bill Huibregtse converted. The reverse was the same play. Watt ran 42 yards to score against Hillsdale and it was the first time he had run the play since the Dale game.

Beloit took the kickoff and aided by four straight pass completions, mixed between some short gains off the tackles, drove to the Hope 11 where they were stopped. Capt. Larry Ter Molen and Bekius applied the clincher on the fourth down play.

Huibregtse recovered Jared Dornburg's fumble on Beloit 21 with six minutes to go in the second quarter after Hope had had a frustrated length of the field drive stopped by a pass interception in the end zone by Rich Kirtley for an automatic touchdown.

Dornburg fumbled on the first play, Duane Voskuil ripped off tackle on the next play, was clear at the 10 and stepped in for the touchdown. Huibregtse's kick was not good and the half ended 13-0.

On the unsuccessful drive, Hope, after stopping the Bucs on the 11, were penalized to the six and then began moving. It took five running plays to get to the Hope 42 where Watt again let go on the reverse and ran down to the Beloit 23, but the Dutch were called for holding, putting the ball on the Dutch 25.

Voskuil picked up eight and Watt followed with a 24-yard dash on the Statue of Liberty play. Then Bekius ran through center to the Buc 25. Watt pushed for five and then Mack's aerial was intercepted.

Ron Bekius scored Hope's two fourth period touchdowns. The two six-pointers gave him 14 touchdowns and a total of 85 points, second in Michigan scoring. Neither team scored in the third quarter.

Bekius ran six yards off tackle for the third Hope TD with 7:45 to go in the fourth quarter. It climaxed six-play, 39-yard drive which started with a punt return. Jack Faber's 11-yard pass to Watt was the longest gain in the drive. Huibregtse's kick was good.

Then the Bucks struck. Two plays after the kickoff, with the ball on the Beloit 27, Kirtley twisted through the Hope tackles, broke loose about eight yards up the field and was off on a 73-yard gallop. The score came exactly a minute after Hope tallied and was the longest run from scrimmage by a Beloit back this year. The run was more rushing yardage than the Bucs had made in the previous three and a half quarters.

Hope took the kickoff and scored in 12 plays. Freshman Sharky Vander Woude and Bekius did most of the ball-toting while Faber threw a 14-yard pass to end Rowland Van Es. Bekius jumped over center for the final yard and the touchdown. Huibregtse's kick was not good to make the final score 26-6.

Hope's defensive team again shone. Ter Molen led the group along with Huibregtse, Don Paarberg, Tom Miller, George Peelen and Chuck Coulson, who played his best game. Faber and Bekius were the main stoppers in the secondary.

Faber came all the way around behind the ball carrier to nail the runner on one play and intercepted a Beloit pass in the second quarter which was ruled interference for one of the most questionable plays this season. A clipping penalty against the Dutch later in the game also brought vehement reaction from the Dutch. In all Hope was penalized 117 yards and the Bucs, 28. Beloit ended the season with a 2-6 record.

Free substitution was permitted in the game through agreement by the coaches. The only change Hope made was platooning its ends. Ron Bronson and Ron Boeve started offensively for the Dutch and Mike Blough and Chuck Coulson, defensively.
