Council Okays Fluoridation Of City Water

By unanimous vote, City Council Wednesday night approved fluoridation of the municipal water supply and authorized the Board of Public Works to implement the program as soon as possible, all in accordance with rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Michigan Department of Health.

The action followed a report by the Board of Public Works advising that the cost of fluoridation equipment installed ready to operate is estimated to be $4,900. It was indicated that sodium silica fluoride would be used which costs between 3 and 3½ cents per pound. With the present flow, daily cost of chemicals would be about $6.

Letters endorsing fluoridation of city water were read from the Ottawa County Medical Society, Ottawa County Health Department, Holland Jaycees, Holland-Zeeland Dental Society and Mrs. Corinne Townsend of 15 West 25th St., writing as an individual. Sam Stephenson, director of the Department of Environmental Health for the city, said his department's recommendation for fluoridation was based largely on the 20 years' experience in Grand Rapids in a program which has proved effective, safe and economical.

Also present at the meeting were Dr. Howard H. Mehaffey, assistant dental director for the Michigan Department of Health, dental division, Dr. J. A. Lubbers, local dentist, and Dr. Vernon L. Boersma, pediatrician.

Dr. Mehaffey briefly reviewed the Grand Rapids program starting in 1945 and said the study revealed a 65 per cent reduction in tooth decay among children. He stamped fluoridation as the safest and most practical way of benefiting all children in this field.

Asked whether any miscalculation or faulty equipment could be harmful, Dr. Mehaffey said equipment is so designed that any failure would result in no fluorides put into the water system. He said there also are other safety factors such as an automatic slowdown in case of a power failure.

He said fluoridation of water would benefit any person up to 18 years, and thereafter offer some protection for the remainder of his life, but the main benefit is the first eight years of a child's life.

Other questions revealed that cost of operations for Holland would be about 9 cents per capita per year, or about $2,200. No water rate increases are envisioned.

Fluoridation does not leave any detectable odor or taste, and only by chemical analysis can fluorides be detected.

Dr. Lubbers said any dentist is aware of fluoridation in examining youngsters' teeth, and local dentists always recognize children moving in from places where fluorides are used. He said there are some indications that fluoridation will benefit older persons, and pointed to certain research in which fluorides have proved effective for bone diseases in the elderly.

Dr. Lubbers said all dentists are interested in good dental health for children and all people and that's why dentists favor fluoridation programs.

Dr. Boersma as a pediatrician said he is not so close to the fluoridation programs as dentists, but pointed out that babies born of mothers who use fluoridated water have been known to have better enamel on their baby teeth.

At the conclusion of the unanimous vote, Mayor Nelson Bosman remarked a great step forward had been made in authorizing fluoridation.

Tax Bills Are Mailed In Zeeland

The bills cover general county taxes, intermediate school district taxes and special education taxes. Those residents living in the New Groningen school district also pay regular school taxes in the fall. Those in the Zeeland school district pay school taxes in the summer.

The total tax rate not including New Groningen school taxes is $10.40 per $1,000 assessed valuation. Of this amount $9 goes for general county taxes and $1.40 goes for the intermediate school districts and special education taxes.

This year's rate is 23 cents over 1964.

The New Groningen school tax rate is also increased this year. The rate is up from $26.20 per $1,000 assessed valuation to $29.60, Vanden Brink said.

The total levy to be collected in county taxes this year is $81,750.51. A total of $15,275.15 will be collected for New Groningen school.

LOAD TREES — With Christmas only three weeks away most of the 350,000 Christmas trees grown in Ottawa County have already been loaded and shipped all over the United States. Ottawa County grows 1.4 per cent of all the Christmas trees bought in the United States. John Fox, an employee of Van's Pines Inc., 7321 144th Ave., loads some of the last Scotch pines for shipment. (Sentinel photo)

Christmas Trees Are Major Crop

The Christmas tree is an old-time symbol of Christmas, but Christmas tree growers in Ottawa County and elsewhere have introduced many new wrinkles for this old Yuletide favorite.

Most of the trees don't grow wild as they did in grandpa's day. Christmas tree growing is now a big-time business with growers constantly working to produce a better product.

Ottawa County was one of the first areas of the country to have Christmas tree farms, and the county today remains one of the leading producers in the United States. The county is a good place to grow the trees because of the light soil and moderating influence on the climate from Lake Michigan, according to John Trocke, marketing agent of the county agricultural extension service.

The farming of Christmas trees started in the West Olive area about 35 years ago. Today, Christmas tree growing is a more than a $700,000 business. Ottawa County has between 85 and 100 farms producing about 350,000 trees each year, Trocke said. This represents about 1.4 per cent of all trees sold in the United States.

Trees from this area are shipped to every state of the union with a majority going to the Midwest and Texas, Trocke said.

About 90 per cent of the trees grown in Ottawa County are Scotch pines. The Scotch pine, Trocke pointed out, has gone from less than 10 per cent to more than 33 per cent of the Christmas tree market in the last decade. The reasons, he added, are that the Scotch pine has a better shape, has better color and holds needles longer than other varieties. It also grows faster than some varieties.

Other trees that are grown for Christmas trees are the white spruce, Douglas fir, red pine and Austrian pine. There's a lot of work in growing Christmas trees. Seedlings are planted in the spring during the rainy season. One of the first steps is to spray the trees to protect them from insects.

It takes about eight years to grow the average six-foot Scotch pine. Spruce trees take longer to grow (between eight and 10 years), while some varieties reach the desired size in six years.

One of the most important tasks is shearing or pruning the trees. The outside branches and the top branch are cut back each year with hedge clippers or special 14-inch shearing knives. Shearing produces a tree with the right taper from top to bottom and also a symmetrical shape. It also makes the limbs grow closer together and helps fill out the tree.

A new process being used on a large-scale for the first time this year is spray coloring of the trees.

In September, about a month or six weeks before Scotch pines are cut, workers spray selected trees with a special spray.

This spray paints the needles a darker green and also keeps the trees fresher by aiding in the retention of chlorophyll. Most of the spraying is done while the trees are still standing although some growers spray their trees after they have been cut.

The Scotch pines are normally cut from the middle of October until mid-November. Spraying of the Scotch pines, however, allows growers to cut them earlier because the trees normally have to be cut before they turn yellow in early autumn.

After the trees are cut they are loaded on to trucks and trains for shipment around the country. The goal is to have the trees on the market by early December.

A process which is important in marketing the trees is baling. The limbs are bound with twine to protect them from breaking, and to facilitate handling and storage.

A new idea which is being tried in Ottawa County this year, Trocke said, is packaging the trees in clear plastic bags. These bags protect the trees from breaking, preserve the moisture and freshness of the trees and make handling and storage much easier, he said.

Christmas tree growers aren't through working for a better product, however. The next step is to make the tree fir-proof, Trocke said. A compound for treating the trees has already been developed, and Trocke plans to study next year the possibilities of using it commercially in this area.

Carvers Seek First Win On Saturday

The last place Holland Carvers will attempt to register their first North American Basketball League victory of the season Saturday night when they travel to Benton Harbor to meet the Twin City Sailors.

The Sailors are the undefeated league leaders and boast a balanced and potent scoring attack which has moved down five straight league foes. Game time is 8 p.m. in the Benton Harbor High School gym.

The Carvers are the top scoring team in the NABL (117 points per game), but have dropped two straight one-point decisions since their 117-113 loss to the Sailors in their league opener.

A team meeting after last Saturday's loss to Chicago has resolved several problems, according to team general manager Lou Borgman, and two players who missed last week's game are expected to be on hand Saturday.

Center Dick Dzik (6'6"), who scored 25 points in Holland's opener, and Gary Lee will be ready for action Saturday, Borgman said.

Twin Cities coach Bill Perigo will probably have trouble deciding on a starting lineup. The Sailors boast the fifth through tenth leading scorers in the league and have a well-balanced team.

Newly acquired Gary Brads (6'8"), Jerry Harkness, Larry Comley and Bob James are the Sailors' top scorers. James will start at guard along with Johnny Egan or Al Saunders.

The forward spots will probably go to Comley and Harkness, although Brads may start at one corner if Perigo starts Les Hunter at center.

Holland coach Bill Reigel is expected to go with the same lineup used the last two weeks, although Dzik may start. The starters have been John Serbin at center, Henry Hughes and Charlie North at forward and Willie Merriweather and Manny Jackson at guard.

Borgman is trying this week to obtain a player from the Grand Rapids Tackers, through a deal with the Muskegon Panthers.

Three Deer Killed When Hit by Cars

Three deer were killed in Ottawa County when they were struck by cars Thursday night. One deer was killed when it was hit by a car driven by Cal Schaap of 125 McKinley St., Zeeland, on Lakeshore Dr. south of Riley St. at 8:08 p.m. Thursday, according to Ottawa sheriff's deputies.

Another deer was killed when it ran in front of a car driven by Leroy Brookhouse, 41, of 1255 East 16th St. on US-31 near Blair St. at 6:35 p.m. Thursday, according to Grand Haven State Police.

The State Police also reported that a third deer was killed when it was struck by a car operated by Ronald Kamphuis, 19, of route 4 on 126th Ave. a quarter mile south of Tyler St. at 7:40 p.m. Thursday.

Shelter Bids Tabled For 2 Weeks

Bids on four shelter houses for recreational areas in Holland were tabled for two weeks by City Council Wednesday night following a long discussion.

City Manager Herb Holt had recommended shelter houses at Kollen Park, city tennis courts, Maplewood playground and a Riverview Park.

Discussion centered only on proposed plans for the facility at Riverview Park. City Recreation Director Joe Moran outlined plans for the proposed building to be erected on the south side of the field, behind the baseline from home to first base. He said the building would be adequate for baseball but barely adequate for football.

Holt said the proposal was a compromise decision but one which would serve football for a few years until new football facilities are developed. Mayor Nelson Bosman said Hope College is committed to an athletic field on Fairbanks Ave. within the next few years. Moran said one such development would serve the football needs of the city.

Low bids were entered by Stephenson Construction for the shelters at Maplewood and Riverview, and by Vander Hulst and Branderhorst for the tennis courts and Kollen Park.

Low bids list $11,788 for Maplewood, $16,082 for Riverview, $16,987 for the tennis courts and $19,820 for Kollen Park, for a total of $64,668. Holt said low bids are still some $14,000 in excess of the original $50,000 estimate, but it was the opinion of the architects that no further cost reductions can be expected without sacrificing the quality of the buildings, or reducing size.

On recommendation of the city attorney, Council voted to retain the services of the law firm of Miller, Johnson, Snell and Cummins of Grand Rapids on labor matters in view of recent legislation.

Council reapportioned William R. Barlow and Ralph Bouwman Jr. as members of the city board of canvassers. Their terms expire Dec. 31. Other members of the board are Alvin W. Vanderbush and Edward Van Eck, whose terms expire in 1967. Hereafter, such appointments are for four years.

Council accepted for first reading an ordinance regulating community antenna television systems, and an ordinance defining reckless and careless driving. Hearings on both are scheduled two weeks hence.

The CATV system, also referred to as cable television, involves erection of a master antenna in the area with cables going into local homes subscribing to the service. The new ordinance provides for licensing procedures for such operations.

At the Nov. 17 meeting of Council, the Booth American Co. had applied to Council. No rates are included in the ordinance but City Attorney Cunningham said the ordinance provides for rates similar to those charged elsewhere. Current rate is about $5 a month.

Requirements of operation provide that such service in no way create or maintain a nuisance, either public or private, and in no way shall interfere with existing television, radio or other electrical or electronic equipment.

Following a public hearing, Council denied a petition to vacate a 25-foot portion of an alley east of Lincoln Ave. running between 13th and 14th Sts. Several persons who had signed the petition asked that their names be withdrawn. The vote denying the request was unanimous. Several persons appeared at the hearing.

Council granted permission to Washington Square Merchants to play Christmas music during the season.

City Attorney Cunningham was appointed as legislative contact man for Holland, on request of Michigan Municipal League.

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. John Harkon, of 184 Glendale Ave., objecting to Sunday operations of Windmill Island was referred to the Windmill Committee.

Cards of thanks from Mayor and Mrs. Bosman and from Councilman Richard W. Smith and family for expressions of sympathy during recent bereavements were filed.

Councilman Morris Peerbolt commented at the close of the meeting that Council should have a slide projector or some such device to make it easier for Council and the audience to see maps, plans and presentations of this type. He said school boards have long utilized such equipment. City Manager Holt was instructed to get information on such equipment.

Mayor Bosman presided at the meeting which lasted two hours and 10 minutes. All Councilmen were present except Henry Stoffeis.

are located on each side of the living room which is in the center of the building. The White River Club is located on 40 acres of wooded land on the White River in Newaygo County, three miles north of White Cloud, about one mile east from M-37. Besides trout fishing, the area offers good grouse hunting and is also good for deer hunting.

Holland Men Own White River Club

One of the best known hunting clubs in the lower peninsula, with a history dating back almost 40 years, is owned by a group of 17 Holland men.

Called the White River Club, the area is located on 40 acres of wooded land on the White River in Newaygo County, three miles north of White Cloud, one mile east of M-37.

The frame lodge, with 100 feet of frontage, is in the shape of a T. The lodge has a large living room with two large wings off the living room with four double sleeping areas on either side. Another sleeping area is located in the rear of the building for a total of nine sleeping areas. Each sleeping area accommodates two persons.

A stone fireplace is in the lodge and an indoor grill has been converted from another fireplace. Located behind the living room is a dining room, kitchen and utility room. The dining room accommodates 20 persons.

Electricity, an electric pump and plumbing are included in the building. The lodge has three rest rooms and showers. The lodge is insulated and is about 75 feet in depth. An enclosed porch extends in front of the sleeping areas.

Organized in 1926 by a group of nine Grand Rapids men including Hollis S. Baker, the club was sold to the Holland group on May 13, 1953.

John De Wilde of Holland, then production manager at Baker Furniture, heard the property was for sale and was instrumental in arranging the purchase.

Club members held a recent dinner honoring De Wilde, who resigned for health reasons. The club has 18 members but with De Wilde's resignation, the membership numbers 17.

Dr. William Westrate Sr., club secretary for the past ten years and one of the original purchasers, said the club constitution lists that the club was organized for the purpose of promoting outing and recreational activities.

Besides the White River trout stream which flows past the clubhouse, the woods offers good grouse hunting. The area is also good for deer hunting. Brown and brook trout are taken out of the White River. Club members also trek to the Pere Marquette River, about 20 miles north, for trout fishing.

Twice a year for the opening of trout and deer seasons, club members have "opening day" gatherings. Other times during the year, members are encouraged to bring friends and often times families spend weekends at the lodge.

Jacob Fris is chairman of the club and Dr. Harold De Vries is vice chairman. Dr. Westrate is secretary and Henry Morse, treasurer. Vern Klomprens is chairman of the house committee.

Other members include Lewis Hartzell, Ward Hansen, Dr. Richard Schaftenaar, Henry Geerds, Rance Overbeek, Dr. Herman Harms, Larry Koib, Larry Williams, Dr. James Cook, Joe Knoll, Peter Elzinga and Bill Baker, Jr.

A Holland group, including De Wilde, Geerds, Westrate and Fris, had a club near Iron River in the Upper Peninsula when De Wilde heard the other club was for sale.

Dr. Westrate said they purchased the White River Club with the idea of forming a larger group and almost immediately the group grew to its 18 members. The limit is 18, according to club rules, and the club presently has a waiting list. With De Wilde's resignation, an 18th member will be added.

The Grand Rapids group formed the White River Club in 1926 and the property was purchased and the clubhouse erected in 1927.

During the days the Grand Rapids club had the lodge, it was a favorite spot for members and friends of members and as many as 50 callers were hosted in the clubhouse in one day.

The present owners have welcomed callers and the White River Club is a popular stopping place for many Holland area hunters and fishermen.

WILLIAM J. BROUWER

Public service marked the life of William J. Brouwer who died unexpectedly of a heart attack Saturday at the age of 74.
A leading merchant and churchman, Mr. Brouwer shared his leadership talents with the community and served in many capacities, large and small.

As a member of the Hospital Board since 1946, he helped guide in the transition of a small hospital into one which more than tripled its services, and at present is ready for better than a $3 million addition which again will double its capacity. He served as chairman of the building committee for both the 1957 addition and the current expansion.

His work in the church from Sunday School superintendent to choir director, in Holland's civil life in the Chamber of Commerce and Tulip Time, in the Exchange Club, the Gideons and the Resthaven board, all add up to a remarkable record of true service in the community.

Always willing to help and often working quietly behind the scenes, Mr. Brouwer's contributions to community life cannot easily be assessed in a single story. His loss is mourned.

Sunday School Lesson

Isaiah
Isaiah 1:11-12,
14-17; 31:1-3a
By C. P. Dame

If any diligent reader of the Bible would be asked to name ten of the great men mentioned in that wonderful Book
he would surely include Isaiah.
This lesson calls upon us to study the message he gave to the people of his day—a message that our age also needs.

I. Empty ceremonies displease God. Isaiah said this a long time ago. Who was he?
Well, he was a great prophet who ministered for 40 years—from 740 to 701 B. C. during the "days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah kings of Judah." We know but little of the personal life of this man, —Amos was his father, he was married, had two sons, and was called by God to be a prophet—read Isaiah 6 which tells about his call. Hebrew tradition says that he was killed by Manasseh, the wicked son of Hezekiah.

There are 66 chapters in his book, just as there are 66 books in the Bible. The New Testament writers quote Isaiah more than any other Old Testament writer. Isaiah is called "the evangelical prophet" because he says so much about the Christ.

Isaiah is called a statesman as well as a prophet. During his ministry there were five important crises in the nation and he gave wise counsel in every instance and the results showed that he was right.
During the crisis of the Assyrian invasion he stood loyally by Hezekiah the king. His strong faith in God gave him strength. He knew the condition of the nation and denounced its religion which consisted of empty ceremonies, generous sacrifices and much pomp and pageantry but lacked the sense of justice, compassion and social righteousness.

Speaking for God the prophet called upon the people to shun evil, do the good, "seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow."

II. A false security surely fails. Some of the politicians in Judah disagreed with Isaiah and sought help from Egypt.
At that time Egypt and Assyria were contending for world supremacy. The Assyrian army was threatening Judah, whose leaders counselled getting help from Egypt.

Isaiah denounced these leaders and tried to turn their minds to God. But they ignored God and trusted in military might. There was a false kind of security.

Some Americans think just like these politicians of old.
The materialists of every age think in the same manner. The prophet told the politicians that "the Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horses flesh and not spirit." The word
"flesh" here means weakness and frailty. Just as Judah in those days needed faith in God so we too need faith in Him who is Almighty.

Schools, Pool Hike Tax $2.38 Per Thousand

If all three bonds and millage proposals in the special school election Dec. 7 pass, the average increase per $1,000 of assessed valuation would amount to $2.38.

That is the information provided by the Board of Education which is submitting the three propositions to public vote.

The propositions call for (1) $1 million bond issue to replace old Longfellow and Van Raalte elementary schools and build a new Maplewood school, (2) $500,000 bond issue for a new swimming pool, and (3) a quarter-mill operating levy for the swimming pool.

On the elementary program, an average increase of 64 mill on state equalized valuation for 23 years would mean an average increase of $1.17 per $1,000 assessed valuation. The equalizing factor is 1.83.

2. Average increase of 41 mill on state equalized valuation for 18 years for a new swimming pool, results in approximately 75 cents per $1,000 in assessed valuation. The same equalizing factor of 1.83 applies.

3. A quarter-mill operating levy for the swimming pool on equalized valuation would amount to an average 46 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The second and third propositions are interrelated and if one loses, both lose.

A fourth proposition calls for district-wide assumption of debt. As new school districts have an-nexed to the Holland district, some of them assumed their own debt for recent school construction and modernization.

Among these are Lakeview and Holland Heights, and as a result the tax millage varies within the entire district. Lakeview has 1.65 mills, East Van Raalte 2.84 and the core city including Apple Ave., Montello Park and Maplewood, 2.28. The board recommends that the entire district assume the outstanding bonded indebtedness of all constituent school districts to arrive at a uniform tax levy of approximately 2.26 mills for all property owners in the city.

Only property owners and their spouses vote on the first two propositions. All registered voters vote on the second and third propositions.

All school bonding or millage propositions are based on state equalized valuation, according to state law. These are figures the state imposes on property values statewide. Assessed figures are usually lower. In the case of Ottawa county, the equalization factor is 1.83 and for Allegan county 1.80.

2 Mexicans Are Guests In Allegan

ALLEGAN — Two Allegan families were among the more than 100 residents of neighboring cities who waited all Saturday night at Grand Rapids Airport for the arrival of a plane-load of 103 Mexican students who are to be guests in area homes for the next eight weeks under the "Youth for Understanding" program.

Currently enjoying their summer vacation, the students will attend junior high schools in this country to brush up on their English and learn about home life in the United States.

As the plane — 10 hours overdue because of engine trouble—landed at Grand Rapids, the beaming students paused in the rush to find their "families" to taste and feel snow for the first time in their lives.

On hand to greet 15-year-old students Vincente Quesada and Roberto Ortega — both of Mexico City — were Mr. and Mrs.
Donald Remington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bergstrom of Al-

Allegan Cancer Group Plans Victory Dinner

ALLEGAN — Marking the close of a highly successful 1965 fund drive, the Allegan unit of the American Cancer Society will hold a combined victory dinner for volunteers and a director's meeting at the Masonic Hall here, Thursday evening. Punch will be served at 6:30 followed by a seven o'clock dinner.

Contributions totaling $16,176
— 127.3 per cent of their goal
— were collected by volunteers from 35 Allegan communities during the 1965 campaign, executive secretary Wilma Harlan reports.

This figure placed Allegan third from the top among 26 counties with quotas of $5,000 to $14,999. Only 11 counties achieved 100 per cent or more of their quotas and many fell far short of the mark.

Of the Allegan total, $1,629.20 was in the form of memorial gifts. To be applied toward the 1966 Cancer Crusade, $811.35 was turned in too late for this year's accounting, Mrs. Harlan said.

Accountants Hear Talk by Miss Bareman

The Holland Chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants held its regular meeting on Tuesday in the Centennial Room of the Hotel Warm Friend.

Program committee chairman, Bonnie Stoltz, introduced one of the chapter members, Esther Bareman, as the speaker of the evening. Miss Bareman is employed by Maifor, Moore and Long, Certified Public Accountants, in Holland.

She distributed forms listing several questions and true or false statements, which the members were asked to answer as a quiz. Miss Bareman then reviewed the questions, giving answers to the questions, such as: Is it permissible to list your deductions one year and the alternating year take the standard deduction? Are there any changes in the regulations for filing the 1965 tax return? What can be included in the deduction for contributions? What taxes are deductible? How do you determine a casualty loss? How is the sick pay exclusion determined?

While most of these questions related to personal tax returns, questions regarding parallel matters on a business level, were also ably answered by Miss Barman.

At a business meeting following the membership approved changes in by-laws for the local chapter, as recommended by the committee, Wilma Beukema and Cecilia Ver Hage.

FIRST SNOWFALL — Lines of stately trees form a snow-covered arch over Ninth St., looking east from Washington Blvd., as two inches of fluffy snow blanketed Holland early Monday, producing this picture postcard effect. Monday's snow was the first measurable snowfall of the season. (Sentinel photo)

MOTORIST'S HEADACHE — While the first snow of the winter is not without a certain beauty, Monday's two-inch snowfall kicked off the annual winter ritual for drivers of replacing tires with snow tires, checking anti-freeze and scraping car windows clear of snow and ice. Ron Visser of 29 East Main Ave., Zeeland, like hundreds of drivers Monday, goes through the daily ritual after his car was covered by the early-morning snowfall. (Sentinel photo)

First Snowfall Of the Winter Covers Holland

Holland awoke Monday to a two-inch blanket of snow, the first of the season.

It was part of an Arctic cold front which moved through the northern reaches of the nation, bringing snow and winds of near hurricane force.

Holland escaped much of the snow, something unusual in this snow belt along the shore of Lake Michigan. Houghton reported 22 inches of snow on the ground.

Grand Rapids had six inches. Traverse City eight and Sault Ste. Marie had three inches. One inch was reported at Lansing, Muskegon, Jackson and Flint.

Pellston as usual claimed honors as the state's icebox.

Crusaders Win, 54-48 In Opener

Hudsonville Unity Christian's basketball squad came on strong in the final 10 minutes of the game in the Civic Center Friday night to edge the Holland Christian Maroons 54-48 before a sellout crowd of over 2,500 fans.

After trailing 38-27 with 2:19 remaining in the third quarter, Coach Andy Ten Harmsel's Crusaders hit 50 per cent of their shots to outscore the Maroons 27-10 for the remainder of the game. Meanwhile the Christian club was experiencing its worse quarter of the game as far as shooting went, connecting on just two out of 12 tries.

In the entire game, Coach Art Tuls' inexperienced club collected 20 fielders out of 58 tries for about 34 per cent. Unity Christian bolstered by the torrid fourth quarter, hit for 35 per cent.

Despite the defeat, Tuls was not downhearted by the play of most of his players. "We made some costly experience mistakes when it really hurt during Unity's drive in the final quarter, but that is to be expected in the season opener with new players," Tuls said. He felt that the club had definitely shown improvement in the last week and was particularly pleased with the minimum of ball handling errors and floor violations. He used 11 players and started a lineup of two seniors, one junior and two sophomores.

The Maroons also looked tough on the boards, pulling down 47 rebounds in the contest. Senior Jack Berghoef led with 13, followed by soph Steve Bushouse with nine and junior John Lappenga with eight. Forward Tom Nyenhuus and Senior Jim Duthler led the Crusader rebounding.

Christian was hurting at the foul line connecting on just eight out of 21 tries while the winners pushed through 16-29. The Maroons outscored the winners 20-19 from the field.

It was a slow moving opening minutes of the tilt after Les Hulst opened the 1963-64 scoring for the Maroons at the 6:56 mark of the first period. The score was tied three times before the Maroons broke away from the 7-7 deadlock. Led by soph Lloyd Doezman and Berghoef Christian pulled away to a 17-10 margin at the first horn.

Scoring dropped off in the second period for the Maroons as Tuls substituted freely in the period in an effort to get a look at as many boys as possible. Unity, behind the fancy outcourt shooting of Henry Huizenga, threatened to close the gap on a couple of occasions in the second period but Christian still managed a 25-24 halftime edge.

Senior Les Hulst picked up his fourth foul at the start of the second half and spent the rest of the quarter on the bench but the losers flashed some fine shooting from four different players to increase their margin to 31-24 at the 5:25 mark. Bob Van Koeveering hit on two from the pivot spot to keep the Crusaders within range before the Maroons scored five straight points to take a 38-27 margin, the largest of the game.

A sudden zone press thrown on by the winners accounted for three quick baskets to put the Crusaders back in the game. By the end of the period Unity trailed 40-35. With six minutes left in the contest Unity took its second lead at 41-40. From then on the Maroons lost the tempo although they led 44-43 with three minutes remaining. Christian repeatedly broke the Unity press in the final minutes only to miss the layup. Foul shooting finally sent the Crusaders into the game winning margin.

Huizenga of Unity led all scorers with 21 points, while Hulst had 11 and John Lappenga 10 for Holland.

United Fund Recognizes Long Record of Service

Services of many years in the holiday basket exchange were acknowledged Tuesday by United Fund leaders who presented a framed resolution to Mrs. R. F. Keeler who headed this effort in Holland for 25 years.

Mrs. Keeler had headed the Social Service Exchange, an activity of the United Fund which attempts to coordinate Christmas baskets among the needy of Holland.

This work hereafter will be done by Capt. William Stuart of the Salvation Army, one of the agencies served by the Greater Holland United Fund.

The framed citation commended Mrs. Keeler for the many years of outstanding service to the community through her work with the Social Service Exchange including her coordinating activities for the annual holiday baskets.

"Mrs. Keeler's conscientious and effective work with Holland's various service and welfare agencies helped bring happiness and assistance to many people in the community. Her coordination activity also greatly contributed to a more equitable distribution of available services and resources. To Mrs. Keeler, the Greater Holland United Fund expresses a sincere tribute of appreciation," the citation reads.

This year the coordinating work will be done by Capt. Stuart who asks that all individuals, organizations and churches clear names through the Salvation Army in an effort to have the distribution as equitable as possible. The Salvation Army itself distributes baskets for Christmas, although changing patterns in recent years have led to new programs utilizing Christmas food orders rather than baskets because of diets and other factors. Toys also are available for children.

The Salvation Army work is financed through Christmas kettles downtown. There will be no "tree of lights" downtown, but a large lighted tree will be put up just outside the citadel entrance at Ninth St. and Central Ave.

Organizations desiring to pack a basket for a needy family may obtain a name from the Salvation Army. In many cases, organizations and persons give money to the Salvation Army and it arranges the basket or whatever is desired.

Assessor Urges Delay in Filing For Exemptions

Since filled-in applications for Senior Citizens Homestead Tax Exemptions cannot be accepted until after Jan. 1, City Assessor Alvin De Haan suggested today that eligible persons wait until January to file for exemptions.

At that time his staff will assist persons in filling out the blanks. Otherwise, many such applications are returned because of errors.

To qualify for the exemption, the combined income of the couple is not to exceed $5,000 a year. The home must be assessed at not more than $10,000 in equalized valuation. The exemption lists up to $2,500 in state equalized valuation. In the case of Holland city, assessments up to $1,366 would be exempt. Those with higher valuations would pay the difference.

Applications may be filed at any time after Jan. 1 but before the final meeting of the board of review which is around the last of March.

WLC Seminar on Poetry Is Delightful Experience

About 20 members of the Woman's Literary Club gathered in the club library Tuesday afternoon for a literature seminar on poetry led by Mrs. William G. Winter Jr. who chose five American women poets as representative of the changing forms of poetry which reflect the changes in living.

Emily Dickinson (1830-1886) was described as an egocentric and Calvinist with a view of life based on a series of sharp exclusions, each "estate" involving its own renunciation except one — immortality. Her first volume was published four years after her death.

Amy Lowell (1874-1925) was described as an imagist who first drew attention to free verse in unrhymed cadence, and to polysonic prose as translated from the Japanese. A disturber and an awakener, Amy Lowell was the transition woman between the traditional type with regular rhythm, to the free verse which has an emotional pattern and discipline, but no regular voice or sound pattern.

Marianne Moore, now 78 years old, who has received wide acclaim for her volumes of poetry, has a compressed style which is difficult but not obscure.

Miss Brooks, a Chicago Negro who was in Holland last May for the Fine Arts Festival at Hope College, accepts her color line as a prizeable differentiation and transcends it in her writing.

Mrs. Winter encouraged all "to discover poetry for yourself." She quoted Elizabeth Drew, a literature teacher of England as saying two things are needed in poetry appreciation — apprehension and comprehension.

Persons wanting to make such a tape are asked to call the Red Cross chapter house at 89 West 11th St. for an appointment. Appointments are set up at 30-minute intervals for the 15-minute tapes.

"I'm very proud to be an American and to serve my country."

Views From The Campus

(Phillip Homes joined the Hope faculty in September as chairman of the art department. Homes and his family moved to Holland from Iowa City where he is completing work on his Ph.D. in Art History at the University of Iowa. Homes is a graduate of Lawrence College, and has done graduate work at the University of Wisconsin as well as the University of Iowa.

He held the position of Art

Philip C. Homes

Supervisor for the Public School of Green Bay, Wisconsin in 1958-1959; he taught art in senior high in Appleton in 1960-1961, and in the Bergstrom Museum, Neenah, Wisconsin in 1961.

His major studio field is ceramics, and his recent exhibition record in ceramics includes works accepted in The Syracuse Ceramic National 1964-1965, Wichita Decorative Arts Show 1964, and the Mississippi River Craft Show, 1965. Editor's note.)

By Philip C. Homes

In our highly mechanized and scientifically-oriented society, the position of the artist is a rather arbitrary one. He no longer performs a specific function, as was the case in many earlier cultures, but now is reduced to the role of a commentator, offering visual evidence of personal interpretations and opinions. Frequently his work is so personal that it has concrete meaning to only a small segment of our society. The universal language of art, known to all, has given away to greatly varied and highly individual dialects. This tendency has been growing since the Renaissance and is very much in evidence today in the abstract forms of art, which defy a single meaning, but offer each viewer his own interpretation.

If the role of the artist in the modern world is somewhat ambiguous, that of the craftsman is an even more acute problem. Potters, weavers, metalsmiths and the like, once an integral part of our society and producing objects necessary for everyday life, have been replaced by mass production. These needs can now be met more efficiently and more economically by mechanical processes. The potter, for instance, cannot hope to compete with the machine in the manufacture of tableware and other functional pottery; for him to do so would be as futile as for the painter to compete with the camera to achieve an exact representation of nature.

Still, the craftsman has persisted, and in recent years found new purpose toward which to direct his skill. Originally the term craftsman implied a high degree of technical skill, but not necessarily any creative ability. A potter was a craftsman in clay, just as a blacksmith was a craftsman in metal. Blacksmiths still exist, but they no longer manufacture only functional necessities; potters still produce useful pot forms, but more often the skills of manipulating clay or metal are utilized for purely artistic purposes. The potter and blacksmith have become sculptors in clay and metal. The weaver, no longer needed to produce fabrics for clothing and furnishing, has become a painter in cloth.

In effect, the craftsman has become an artist. Contemporary pottery forms are more sculptural than useful, although on occasion may serve both purposes. It is possible for a vase to be a highly sculptural and expressive form, and still act as a container as well. It is, however, no longer necessary that the product of the craftsman be a functional item. Mechanization has assumed this task. Painters and sculptors are no longer needed to record nature or illustrate a text for the illiterate. The potter today need no longer be a maker of cups, plates and jugs, but is free to work as an artist, utilizing his technical skill as a means to another end.

If mechanization has freed the artist and craftsman from his original role, it has not replaced him but merely offered him the opportunity to explore new vistas. Contemporary society has placed a strong emphasis on the value of individual freedom, and the contemporary artist has exploited this freedom to express his views. There is no longer any need for art to conform to traditional criteria; its value, if any, lies in its individual basis. Art today, whether the product of painter or potter, seeks personal forms and new relationships. It provides thought-provoking stimuli, and not ultimate answers.

Dutch Drop 81-62 Game In Opener

Holland High's basketball team received an abrupt bump in the season's opener here Friday night as a poised Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills team scored a decisive 81-62 win before 1,800 fans in the Holland High gymnasium.

Displaying mid-season finesse, the Indians took control early and added strong rebounding and good shooting to keep a commanding lead throughout.

Coach Bob Hendrickson registered surprise at the overall ability his club showed in chalking up the win and establishing Ottawa Hills as one of the contenders for Grand Rapids City League honors.

His most pleasant surprise was a 6'5" senior Henry Saunders, who was playing his first varsity game. Hendrickson said Saunders had been used a minute in the tournament last season but he had been scholastically ineligible the rest of the season.

Saunders was the best man on the floor. His rebounding was superb. Displaying quick hands and lots of spring, Saunders pulled down 25 of Ottawa's 40 rebounds. That was one less than the entire Holland team got (26) in the game.

Of the 25, 12 were defensive. And he was a master on offense as he hit 12 baskets and added a free throw for 26 points. Five of Saunders' baskets came in the first quarter as he helped push the Indians in front to stay.

An effective full court press gave Holland trouble in the first period and the Indians capitalized. The game was tied four times in the first three minutes before two baskets by Bruce McCreary, who ended with 15 points, and two Saunders baskets put Ottawa ahead, 17-9. The first period score was 25-16. Ottawa kept its advantage in the second period, working the halfcourt score to 44-33. Larry Pete and Mike Lawson each scored three times in the second period but eight points was the closest Holland could get.

Pete, who popped 10 baskets and had 22 points, sank four in the third period, mostly on jumpers over the Ottawa zone. But McCreary was matching suit. He swished five baskets, three in a row, and helped the Indians to go 17 points up before settling for a 15-point third quarter margin, 66-49.

A 22-point spread, 81-59, in the closing seconds was the game's biggest bulge. Throughout the Indians didn't make mistakes but played a poised contest. Mark Kemperman, who added 18 points, was a good example of this poise along with McCreary, his running mate at guard.

Holland had its troubles. The Dutch made many errors as they threw the ball away, had it intercepted or were outplayed on the boards. Lawson, 6'10" senior, got only five of Holland's rebounds. Three were off the defensive board and the Dutch had trouble getting the fast break in motion.

Coach Don Piersma indicated Holland's forwards also didn't give Lawson much help on the boards but Bob Brolin and Dan Colenbrander grabbed a few. Colenbrander added 10 points to trail Lawson (14) and Pete.

Holland outshot the winners, hitting 44 per cent on 27 baskets in 61 tries. But Ottawa got many more shots, 82, and made 34 for 41 per cent. Holland had quarters of 6-13; 8-19; 8-15 and 5-14 while Ottawa had periods of 10-22; 9-19; 9-23 and 6-18. The Dutch hit eight of 15 free throws and Ottawa 13 of 24. Holland didn't get a free throw attempt in the third period.

The Dutch open Valley-Coast conference action next Friday at Wyoming Godwin. Grand Rapids Central defeated Godwin, 90-78 Friday.

Poetry Seminar Planned by Club

"Poetry," a refreshing pause during holiday preparations, is an extra treat in store for Women's Literary Club members Tuesday at 2 p.m. when Mrs. William G. Winters Jr. conducts the first in a series of literature seminars.

Meeting informally in the clubhouse library, the group will read and discuss the works of five American women poets, from the lyrical Emily Dickinson to the warmly practical Phyllis McGinley. Amy Lowell, Marianne Moore and Gwendolyn Brooks are the other poets for examination.

Mrs. Winter will illustrate the theme that poetry reflects the life of the age in which it was written. The "browsing session" will also direct the group's attention to best examples of contemporary poems for pure enjoyment.

The study, concluding with coffee and chat, is open to any member. Seminars on women dramatists and satirists are planned for January and March.

Mrs. Robert A. Roy (R. DiMaggio photo)

Arrangements of yellow and white mums and gladioli enhanced with white candelabra on either side of the altar formed the background for the wedding of Miss Diane Kay Marcus and Robert A. Roy solemnized Saturday afternoon.

Scene of the 3 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. David P. Mc Clean, was the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Lansing.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marcus of 523 Woodhaven Dr., Lansing, former Holland residents, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Albert Roy of 220 East St. Joseph St., Lansing, and the late Mr. Roy.

As Mrs. Harold Paige played appropriate wedding music the bride approached the altar with her father. Her self - faced peau de soie chapel-length gown was designed with a modified sheath front and aleon motifs on the scoop neck, sides and back of the train. The waist was empire style and the full skirt and train emphasized a redingote effect. She wore a bluish veil and carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis and sweetheart roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Charlotte Stephens of Holland, wore a gown featuring a burgundy velvet top with scooped neck and three-quarter length sleeves, and a floor-length skirt of mortar crepe. She wore a velvet headpiece and carried a cascade of white and pink carnations and sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lois Van Hoff, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Karen Marcus, sister of the bride, wore gowns fashioned like that of the honor attendant only with sapphire blue velvet bodices. Their bouquets included white and yellow carnations and sweetheart roses.

Sherry Marcus, niece of the bride, wearing a burgundy red velvet dress, was flower girl. She strewed rose petals on the aisle carpet.

John Locke attended the groom as best man while Brian Marcus, Stan Marcus, brothers of the bride, and Robert Taylor served as ushers.

Fred Rasmussen, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Marcus selected a blue dress with overblouse while the mother of the groom was attired in a burgundy suit. Their corsages included red and white carnations and roses.

The newlyweds greeted about 120 guests at a reception held in the social room of the church. Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Max Ploughman as master and mistress of ceremonies; Miss Marilyn Baumgartner and Phil Baubeck who attended the guest book; Miss Marcia Jongma and Miss Chris Mullen who arranged the gift table; Mrs. Willis De Cam, Mrs. Larry Briggance, Mrs. Stanley Marcus and Miss Barbara Weeks, who served.

The newlyweds are planning a trip to Florida for early spring. They are making their home at 544 Mercer Rd., Princeton, N.J.

Last spring Junior League allocated funds to various organizations in Holland including the Migrant Ministry, Girls' State, Salvation Army Camp, Child Guidance Center, the Christian Counseling Service, HANDS, and Higher Horizons.

Also an important part of the service Junior League renders children are glasses, vitamins, and layettes given to families unable to purchase them.

This year one of League's service projects is providing the children in the pediatrics ward of the hospital with a toy, puppet, or toothbrush kit that they may take home with them.

League members save bleach bottles and scraps of yarn and material from which the toothbrush kits are made. The hand puppets are made out of terry cloth and are trimmed with faces of buttons and felt. Bedroom slippers made from wash cloths are also popular with the children.

These items, along with toys and games, amuse the children and add something extra and cheery during their stay at the hospital.

Mrs. Dale Grissen, chairman of the hospital project, delivers these items to the hospital, and the nurses distribute them to each patient.

Puppet shows for the children are made possible from proceeds of the Ball. Work has already begun on "Rumpelstiltskin," the first show scheduled for January.

This year proceeds from the Ball will be used by Junior League to continue and further develop their program of aiding the children of Holland through their contributions and services.

Tickets for the ball may be purchased at the door or from any League member.
