VIRGINIA AFFAIRS.

As we had expected the Spanish Cabinet has acceded to the demand of this Government, for restoration for the seizure of the Virginias. We are inclined to think that the people generally will be pleased to learn that the choleretic gentlemen of the east, did not succeed in exciting the minds of those in power, to a sufficient heat as to declare that war was the only honorable way of avenging the dignity of the government.

The moment any misunderstanding arises with any foreign power there is a larger class of community, chiefly resident where editors and reporters of ambitious daily papers most devotedly pray for a sensational item; when adventures who have nothing to lose and everything to gain, do most congregate and to whom no prudent manager for a moment look to for counsel upon the most ordinary business transaction. There has been a great deal of talk about this Cuban affair among the people, but the cry for war did not proceed from the sober thoughtful classes of the country. "We think we have a Government in whose hands the interests of the nation are not likely to suffer" if it has settled our trouble with Spain averting the disastrous consequences of a foreign war without withdrawing any just demand, or lowering our personal estate, it will be a triumph in its history gratefully to be remembered long after it has ceased to exist. The following are the terms acceded to by the Spanish Cabinet as copied from the New York Times.

Spain promises first to deliver the Virginias to the United States. The flag and papers which protected the vessel, and gave the United States a right to demand her return, also protected all the men on board, and the survivors will be also delivered with the vessel. Spain agrees to salute the American flag at Santiago at some appointed time, and to bring to trial and punishment the officers who perpetrated the horrible butchery.

The details of terms are probably not fully arranged and reduced to form, but the principles upon which our Government has made the demand are fully agreed to. Spain will, of course, desire an adjudication or arbitration to decide the ownership of the vessel, and whether she had violated the municipal laws of the United States, but this will be determined while the vessel is in the custody of the United States. Spain thus acknowledges that she had no right to undertake to determine those questions on the high seas. Provision for the families of those who were slaughtered will undoubtedly be made in some form.

But the one important fact is that Spain has yielded to the demands of this Government, and that a war is for the present at least averted. There is ground for hope that the Spanish Republic is strong enough to fulfill its intentions and promises, and sustain itself in power at home and assert itself in the management of Cuban affairs.

ANOTHER OCEAN HORROR:

The Ville du Havre Sunk.

OVER TWO HUNDRED LIVES LOST.

London, Dec. 1.—The ship Tri-Mountain, from New York arrived at Cardiff, Wales, early this morning, with the intelligence of a dreadful disaster to the steamship Villa du Havre, which left New York November 15, for Havre in command of Captain Surmont. At 9 o'clock on the morning of the 23d the Ville du Havre came in collision with the British ship Loch Erne, from London for New York, and sunk shortly after. Two hundred and twenty six lives were lost. The Loch Erne saved eighty-seven of the passengers, and the Tri-Mountain brought them to Cardiff. At the time of the collision the weather was clear, little wind was blowing, but there was a heavy sea. The second officer was in charge. The collision was wholly unexpected. The Loch Erne struck the steamer amidships and made a breach 13 feet deep and 25 to 30 feet wide. Panic took possession of the passengers a few minutes after the collision. The main and mizzen masts fell across two large boats and were crushed to pieces and many of their occupants killed and injured. In the brief interval between the collision and sinking of the steamer the crew were able to launch only a whale boat and the captain's gig. The Loch Erne went a mile before stopping. She then got out four boats to pick up the people struggling in the water. Meanwhile the whale boat, under command of the second lieutenant of the Ville du Havre, picked up one load of those who were clinging to planks, spars, etc., and took them to the Loch Erne, and then returned to the scene and rescued another load. Captain Surmont, who remained on deck to the last was rescued by this boat three quarters of an hour after the collision. One of his officers swam a mile to the Loch Erne, and was hauled on board with a rope. The boat continued to search the waters in the vicinity of the disaster until there was no hope of saving more lives.

The cold was intense. Many of the survivors were immersed two hours, and almost lifeless when rescued. The ship Tri-Mountain sighted the Loch Erne at 8 a. m., six hours after the sinking of the steamer, and received the survivors as before reported.

The saved speak in the highest terms of the kindness of Captain Urquhart her commander.

There were six stowaways on board the Ville du Havre.

Later accounts make the date of the collision the 23d instead of the 24th.

A vessel which has arrived at Bristol reports speaking the Loch Erne with ten survivors of the Ville du Havre on board.

Fears are entertained that the Loch Erne has gone down with all on board, this vessel having been known to put about for Queenstown at which port she was due some days since. This accident carries grief into homes in various parts of the country and will create the profoundest sympathy throughout the land.

WAS IT HONEST.

For the Holland City News.

In a recent editorial, you very truly said that the misconduct of the public was almost demoralizing the political parties. Happily, the masses of the people are honest and abhor such schemes of corruption, as the "salary grab" &c. They may not know just how to condemn, may even for a while seem to sustain, but sooner or later they are sure to find a lash for the evil-doers.

The benefit of a lesson is in its application, and why not apply the above truth to the affairs of our own city? If any community needs confidence between man and man, fair and upright dealing in all public matters, it is our burned and depressed Holland. This being understood then, I affirm that the last four months have revealed a state of things in Holland as bad, comparatively as in Washington.

It may have been desirable to amend our City Charter and it may have been just as desirable to seek a change in the management of our Public Schools but both these objects could have been secured in a straight forward, honest and honorable manner, and all would have been well, but how any true man and citizen can endorse or justify the proceedings of the Mayor Common Council, and others in gaining their selfish ends is more than general public can comprehend. It strikes them as "corruption" in our very midst. To speak more plainly let these questions be asked:

1. Was it honest for our Mayor "officially" to substitute one bill for another, before the Legislature, and then to spring a Charter upon the city, which neither the Council nor the people had petitioned for, or desired?

2. Was it honest to, divide School District No. 1 and practically to destroy its Grade School when not a citizen had ever asked for it, and when not even our Senator had a hint of the secret scheme he had on hand?

3. Was it honest to carry on that illegal election of April 7th, when the officials might have known, and should have known, that the new charter was not a law, and when they dared not count the votes except under the sanction of a false official telegram?

4. Was it honest for the Common Council to sit under an old charter election, and then to declare (against a written protest) that the School Inspector elected and qualified under the same old Charter had their offices vacated filling their place with appointments.

5. Was it honest for the Mayor and Alderman, elected under the old Charter, to "grab" that salary, and for the new "Board of Education" to "grab" those school monies in the hands of the Treasurer and which the State paid over for the Teachers of 1872-73, so that said teachers remain unpaid to this day?

6. Was it honest to "grab" all the property of School District No. 1, and to deprive the country portion of the same, of all school privileges, putting the people to great expense in order to maintain their constitutional rights? Such questions, Mr. Editor, will be asked at the ballot box, and otherwise, in this city. Awaiting an answer, from whom it may concern, I am, Yours &c.

QUERIST.

DENOMINATIONAL EDUCATION.

From Bishop Borgess pastoral, a portion of which we publish, on the first page of this weeks paper, we may fairly infer that the Catholics are determined not to submit longer to the Common School system of this State. He says a "Catholic School must be established in every parish or mission at the earliest practical moment."

It is pretty evident, from this that the Bishop has joined his brethren in the east, and this is the initiatory step in Michigan, declaring war against our system of Education. The next move, we apprehend will be a demand for the division of the public school money, as was made in New York, a few years since, with the supreme control of a denomination at school, with such text books as may be dictated by the Bishop, who already commands the refusal of the sacraments to those who seek education elsewhere.

We infer their result because the Bishop, must know that from one third to two thirds of the parishes in this State are too poor to sustain two kinds of schools and the Catholics will be forced to bring their children up in ignorance, contrary to the enforcement of the "Educational Act" disobeying the Bishop or they will have to secure aid from the "School Fund." We do not learn that the Bishop charges any unfairness to our "system" that it is tainted with sectarianism or that it is not in strict accordance with the constitution of our State.

In fact he gives us no reason for this bold step towards denominational exclusiveness. We can but think that in many of the poorer parishes in the State this order will prove detrimental to the interests of his own people if attempted to be enforced, causing many to grow up in ignorance only, to curse the power of such a restrictive policy. We shall watch the progress of this work with much interest and that our fears may not be realized. The political system of this country is founded on the principal of public free, intellectual culture, and if we recognize the maxim that idea governs the world we learn that all our hopes rest on the broad principal of universal education. A repressive policy can never impart intrinsic strength to a community. The insincerity of Sapiu whose civilization has been under the power of Catholics for centuries is due to the cause of partial administration, the principles of which if once acknowledged, in this country would be the means of promoting discord and strife ending in the warring of sects and the dismemberment of a great Republic. No true American can ever sanction a system of public instruction that does not have for its basis freedom to all independent of sex, color or nationality.

IN FELON'S GARB.

Twoed's Incarceration at Blackwell's Island.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—After being taken to Blackwell's Island, yesterday, Twoed was asked the usual questions by the recording clerk, to which he answered that he was aged 62; occupation, a statesman; no religion. As his family are Protestants, he was entered as a Protestant. He was taken to the bath then, had his head shaved and beard taken off, and was arrayed in full striped uniform. He had two letters from New York city physicians recommending that he be placed in the hospital, but after examination by the Penitentiary Physicians he was remanded to a common cell like all other felons. The jacket given him to wear is known at the Penitentiary as a "larceny jacket." His son stayed by him till he was led away to his cell, when he and a few friends and reporters left the island.

Retiring Senators.

The United States Senators whose terms expire March 3, 1874, are: Ames, Miss., Hamlin, Me., Bayard, Del., Lewis, Va., Boreman, West Va., Pratt, Ind., Brownlow, Tenn., Ramsey, Minn., Buckingham Cl., Schurz, Mo., Carpenter, Wis., Scott, Pa., Cramer, Cal., Sprague, R. I., Chandler, Mich., Stewart, Nev., Edmunds, Vt., Stockton, N. J., Fenton, N. Y., Sumner, Mass., Flanagan, Tex., Hamilton, Md., Republicans in Roman Opposition in italics.

CONGRESSIONAL.

This body met at noon on Monday last, but little business was transacted the first day, beyond organizing the two branches and the introduction of a few bills in the Senate, which lie upon the table to be referred to appropriate Committees hereafter.

The house was organized by the election of the following officers: for Clerk, Edward McPherson. For Sergeant at Arms, N. G. Ordway. Door-keeper, O. S. Buxton. Postmaster, H. G. Sherwood, (Mich.) Chaplain, Rev. J. G. Buttler. The delegate from Utah George Q. Cannon, the polygamist, was sworn in. In the Senate several bills were introduced looking to the repeal of the "Salary Steal" law, and in the House of caucus the following resolutions were adopted by a large majority.

This evening the Republican members held a three-hour caucus on the salary bill, resulting in the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That the act of March 3, 1873, so far as it increases the salaries of members of Congress and of certain officers and employees of the two houses, ought to be repealed.

Resolved, That a committee of five members of this caucus be appointed by the Chairman, to whom all propositions offered this evening, be referred, who shall report a suitable bill to be presented to the House at the earliest opportunity.

The caucus was much more harmonious than was expected and it appears evident that the Republicans in the House are desirous of acceding to the demands of the people. Gen. Butler has not been able to convince his constituents that it was right to steal from the Treasurer and he would favor a repeal of the law giving them the privilege and demand a return of the money from all who took it. Among the new members from the North a strong sentiment favoring repeal, while a majority of the southern members will take all they can get.

There are few vacancies in the committee, and, but few changes have been made. The President sent to the Senate the following nominations. George H. Williams for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; B. H. Bristow for Attorney General and A. R. Shepherd for Governor of the District of Columbia.

OUR CURRENCY.

The fact that our national currency is continually appreciating in value while other things are depreciating, proves that the people have an abiding confidence in the credit of the Government. Our bank circulation is secured by the bonds of the nation. The depositors of a national bank may be swindled out of their deposits, but the bill-holders are secure. The Government holds ample security to make them good, and neither failures nor suspensions can effect the value of the bills they hold. Hitherto the panics which have afflicted the country have caused a great depreciation of State bank paper. The failure of a bank to redeem in gold was the beginning of a depreciation in the value of its paper money. The more distant the probability of redemption the lower fell the value of a paper dollar. Men holding promises to pay were glad to convert them into something more substantial. Now men are glad to convert the most substantial securities into greenbacks, and the novel fact is noticed that the wider the financial depression spreads the nearer gold and greenbacks approach in value, so that at any time we may be face to face with the long expected resumption of specie payments without any legislation whatever. If our people can practice economy and force our merchants to stop the importation of unnecessary articles that create a demand for gold, and permit our exports to largely exceed our imports, gold will become a drug in the market, and with the full restoration of public confidence will actually fall below the value of greenbacks, because its bulk and weight render it an inconvenient medium for exchange among business men. If the present crisis should lead to this quiet resumption its good effects will overbalance its bad ones.—Republican.

Senator Ferry, of this State, member of the Committee on Finance, will propose a remedy for the financial disturbance, as follows: Banking to be open and free to all; the maximum currency of the country, exclusive of fractional, to be $300,000,000, issued by the government direct, and made lawful money, as greenbacks are; immediate relief through the use of the $44,000,000 reserve and 56,000,000 new currency on purchase of bonds, thus making up the $300,000,000, and convertible into currency bonds bearing 365-100 per cent. interest, reconvertible into currency on demand; bonds not to be taxable; the national currency to be exchanged for the new lawful money currency, at the convenience of the government within such practicable periods as the Secretary of the Treasury may designate; the fractional currency to be substituted with silver, and fractional currency as fast as so redeemed to be destroyed.

There is to be a Club Dance at next. A good time is expected.

Geo. W. Alexander has opened a

Our city patrons will receive their paper this week from the hands of Joshua Myrick, if any of them do not receive it we should be pleased to learn the fact, we are anxious that all should be served.

Received from Hon. W. B. Williams our worthy Representative in Congress a late copy of Daily Morning Chronicle containing the reply of Judge Advocate General Holt to Andrew Johnson relative to the hanging of Mrs. Surratt; accept thanks.

We are pleased to learn notwithstanding the great financial troubles throughout the country, the prospects for the Holland Iron Company, were never more favorable, and that a meeting of the directors has been called for next Wednesday, to push on the work.

In Allegan on Tuesday evening, Mr.
Clark June, and Mr. Chas. Mattoon, had a controversy in regard to an old pistol, which led to the calling of hard names, and the stabbing of Clark June, with a knife in the hands of Mattoon.
June has since died of his injuries.

The weather this week has been all the most particular could desire.
Monday good sleighing, Tuesday raining, Wednesday fine summer day; snow all gone; Thursday one of the worst snow and wind storms for many years, Friday more moderate, Saturday pleasant.

binations of the day. The office is at Last week while the American express freight was waiting for a train behind time; a package of Stationery designed for Bangor was purloined from the truck, on the platform of the C. & M. L. S. R. R. A day or two since the package was found broken open in the back yard of G. J. Kroon, near the depot. The thief evidently disgusted with his haul threw it away with the conclusion that he had received nothing worthy of his steal.

any kind will secure this quarterly where they will find just what they want, with all the directions necessary for obtaining and propagating them.
He warrants the safe delivery of every

On Sunday evening last, fire was discovered issuing from Munk's residence west of tannery creek the fire alarm was sounded, many rushing to the burning building and doing all that was possible to stay the progress of the flame until the fireman could arrive; considering the roundabout way they were compelled to go to reach the building, they are entitled to much credit for being on the ground in time to save it; nearly in fact. Another evidence of the value of a good fire organization. Loss on building about $300. fully insured.

Hon. W. B. Williams, member of Congress elect from this District, left for Washington, to commence his official duties. Mr. Williams, is as a citizen, a worthy and honest man, who has built up for himself during his residence in this an honorable name, and in a visible position. As a lawyer he stands in the front rank of his profession, and as a speaker he is ready and bold. We feel sure that his course in Congress will be added to his personal reputation. He carries STATE RIGHTS

George. I am going to the Drug business—

Is that so, going to start a shotguncy pop—in what place?
Why! in Holland of course.

You get out—you can't make any money in that way—Walsh RETAILS goods cheaper than you can purchase them at WHOLESALE.

I know that, but I intend to purchase my goods at Walsh's at his retail figures—then I will sell them out at what the other stores charge—and make my fortune.

So you can, don't you want a partner?

Who will beat this? The editor of the Allegan Journal enrolled 76 men on Tuesday evening in half an hour for the First Michigan Free Cuban U. S.
Cavalry—in case of a war with Spain.
At this rate the Wolverine cavalry brigade will soon be filled up. Their motto is free Cuba, freedom and a free American flag to float forever over the free American continent, and another star on the American flag.—Allegan Journal.

Don knows what cavalry is consequently he knows how to do it, won't there be mourning though, if the "Free Cuban U. S. Cavalry" should be ambushed within a few miles of the island and forced to retreat into nowhere. Don't go Don, don't go.

During the gale on Tuesday last, the Schooner's Four Brothers, Josea, Tri-Color and A. Plugger were blown ashore near De Jonge's ice house, the Plugger's bulwarks are gone on one side and jib boom carried away. The Four Brothers foremast is considerably chafed, and portion of her rigging is carried away, she is being damaged otherways by coming in contact with the A Plugger. The Arrow was driven ashore near the old May Flower and is pretty well out on dry land. It is feared that the damage will be considerable. The trains on M. L. S. and the C.
& M. L. S. R. R., were several hours behind time. The telegraph lines were broken, and communication with the outside world. All on account of the storm. The Store front of D. Te Roller Dry Goods dealers was blown in. McGeorge's star was disconnected and Schravensande chimney was left in a smoky condition. Various articles were found missing and no little loss occurred in the movement of sign boards board piles, and other things that was laying around loose.

Probate Order.
STATE OF MICHIGAN,
County of Ottawa.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Ottawa, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Grand Haven, in said County, on Tuesday the second day of December, in the year one thousand, eight hundred and seventy-three.

Present, Samuel L. Tate, Judge of Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Arie J. Van Kooij deceased. On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Anneus J. Hillebrande, administrators of said estate representing that said estate is now fully administered and praying that a day may be appointed for the examination of his final account, and that the same may be allowed, and that the balance of said estate be assigned to the heirs at law thereof, and he discharged from further trust.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Wednesday the thirty-first day of December inst. at one o'clock in the afternoon, be assigned for the hearing of said Petition and that the heirs at law of the said
