STEAM ROADS SEND CARS OVER INTERURBAN

First Car Went To Saugatuck

The first freight car from the Pere Marquette Ry. to be run over the Interurban track was brought down to Saugatuck Wednesday. It was one of the large steel cars and contained a load of coal for W. P. Wilson & Co., and experienced no difficulty whatever on the run from Holland. This demonstrates that freight cars can be brought down thus saving the expense of transfer at Holland which is an item of considerable expense.

"WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUNKIN"

PHOTO
FRANK FOURNIER

When the frost is on the punkin, and the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyouck and gobble of the struttin' turkey-cock,
And the clackin' of the guineas and the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's hallylooyer as he tiptoes on the fence,
O, it's then's the times a feller is a feelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to greet him from a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bare-headed, and goes out to feed the stock,
When the frost is on the punkin, and the fodder's in the shock.

MORE MONEY IN SUGAR MORE MONEY IN BEETS

HOLLAND SUGAR CO., RAISES
PRICE OF BEETS

Will Be Welcome News To The Beet
Growers

No doubt the farmers in this vicinity will be very much pleased to hear that the Holland Sugar Co., will raise the price of beets. The price per ton has been raised 50c and the growers will receive $5.25 per ton for 12 per cent beets and they will receive 40c additional for every per cent over the 12%. However should the test of the beets be less than 12 per cent 40c will be deducted for every per cent which these beets test below the 12 per cent. Last year the Sugar Co., was compelled by virtue of the tariff to reduce the price of beets per ton, but the fact that Germany, Austria, France and Russia are at war and the supply has been curtailed greatly thereby and thru these causes the price of sugar has gone up the manufacturers are receiving considerable more for the manufactured article and by reason of this they intend to share their good fortune with the agriculturist by giving them the same contract that was in vogue before the tariff interfered. There is no doubt that the tariff played havoc with the beet sugar industries of this country and while this great war is very deplorable it has materially aided the beet sugar industry of this country and those directly connected with it. One fact remains however the Holland Sugar factory is the first in the state who has voluntarily raised the price of beets to the farmer and no doubt there will be several farmers in this vicinity who will again start to cultivate beets and others who will add more acres to the acreage they have been contracting for. It is hoped by next year that a new sugar tariff schedule may be more favorable to a infant industry such as the beet sugar really is.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Do not think for a minute that because one of the aldermen put a knock in on the boulevard lighting system last week that the merchants have been laying down. Mr. Champen will have four samples of different styles of boulevard lights to show those interested soon and no doubt the one being the choice of the greatest number will be the one selected for installation. It is true after last week's meeting of the common council it did take the heart out of the solicitors who are spending their time, money and energies free, not alone for the boulevard lighting system but for anything and everything that makes for a better Holland. Towns all about the state half the size of this city have a beautiful lighting system and few are the cities where the business men are compelled to bear the heavy expense of installing the system.

The business men of Holland have been milked for a "fare you well" on most every project that comes along (even helping the second ward alderman's street paving proposition liberally). They are not going to be backward about the boulevard lights which is shown by the liberal donations subscribed toward its consummation. The idea that the lighting of the business streets is for the business men only is a very foolish one. It is for the benefit of every citizen who lives here and owns property here.

It is for the benefit of every person who does his shopping in the evening, and this especially strikes the laboring man. It touches everyone who has any pride in his city.

A neatly dressed traveling man is the kind of a man who brings business to the house he travels for, likewise a neatly appearing town or city brings business within its borders. Strangers coming within our gates, seeing our beautiful park, our city hall, our new postoffice, our fine appointed schools and a beautiful boulevard lighting system will linger and say, "Here is a town worth living in."

Let us boost the new project by putting heart into the different soliciting committees, and if you have not already donated, advise the committee without solicitation. This is far better than throwing a wet blanket over every new and meritorious project that comes up in our city.

BRING BACK FURS FROM GOLD FIELDS

OTTAWA COUNTY MAN HAS A
$1,000 BEAR RUG; BEAR
WAS SHOT IN ALASKA

Harry Gordon who has recently returned from Alaska exhibited a silver tipped grisley bear skin at Nunica Ottawa Co. It cost $50.00 to get the bear mounted and the workmanship was of the best with the head and claws all left on. It measured 8 1/2 feet and the weight is 90 pounds. Gordon values the skin very highly, he would not sell for less than $1000. He also had a wolverine which was a beauty. Both were mounted for rugs.

LITTLE GIRL ASKS FOR BROTHER IN VAIN

A GLIMPSE OF WAR

Roadside Scene of Innocent Sufferers that Touches the Heart

One of the Chicago Tribune war correspondents, following the armies in Belgium, drove his motor car through a village where a battle had raged the day before. Half the heavy stone houses which walled the narrow street had been broken down by exploding shells.

On the Belgian block pavement lay, as they had fallen, ten or twelve dead soldiers of the opposing armies. The flight and the pursuit had swept on, leaving the little village silent and desolate. Not a living thing was in sight.

Just on the outskirts of the village the chauffeur suddenly stopped his car. At the edge of the road lay the body of a little boy, a child of five years, caught as he ran and killed by shrapnel.

And by his side sat a baby girl of three or four years. She looked up at the men in the car, smiled, and held out her hands to be taken up.

Lipsing in French, she told them her name, said she was very hungry, cried a little, and as the car started on begged them to wait and "wake up her brother."

Wherever the wave of war has swept across Europe there are children in like case. Nobody knows how many children have lost their fathers have been separated from their mothers, had their homes destroyed, or been thrown out into a world which has turned all its energies to the terrible business of war.

Colonel Roosevelt says he is merely a private in the Progressive army. He must seem lonesome at roll call.

CELERY, MEN STRIKE FOR MORE
SALARY

But It Didn't Work Worth A Cent

The Celery men strike is over. The teamsters of the celery fields of Zutphen struck for two cents a box for hauling celery from Hudsonville swamp to Forest Grove Station last week Friday, but were disappointed as Henry Elders, the manager, refused to pay as they requested. They were glad however to return to work the next day and work in the customary way, which was being paid by the hour. Mr. Elders promised them a square deal and the men are now satisfied. The strikers were Wm. Albrecht, foreman, Harm Ensing, Ed. Zylstra, Bert Bosman, Leonard Van Ess and Charles Elzinga. —Corr.

HAMILTON

Thirty five guests gathered about the festive board at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hagelskamp at the recent dinner given in behalf of the Missionary Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Peterham have been wed now thirty years and this fact was not forgotten by their many friends who with well filled baskets made a raid on the Peterham home made many with them as befits the occasion.

Mrs. J. Dent of Grand Rapids has been the guest of her mother Mrs. Wm. Vanden Berg the past week. A ten pound son now makes lively the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson and although born on the 13th of the month the happy parents are not superstitious in the least.

A new barn is being built by George Tumnerman to take the place of the old one recently torn down.

Mrs. Ben Lugton is now well supplied with aprons. She now has one for each month in the year, and like Joseph's coat of many colors, the aprons collectively are like unto it. All the colors of the rainbow are here represented. The occasion that brought the laberenth of fronted pieces was her 35th birthday, and twelve lady friends thought it unique to each shower an apron upon her. It is needless to say that they were royally entertained with refreshments afterwards and in which the aprons also played a very important part.

The home of John Koolvoort has been receiving a new coat of paint. Wm. Bordinan is doing the job.

Mrs. Stankey has been visiting her brother Mr. Robyler of Saugatuck the past week.

Merritt Palmer has recovered from a sick spell.

Klaas Dykstra has been visiting his son Asher in Detroit.

Jesse Taylor one of our nimrods is now in the north wood looking for deer and also trying not to be shot for one. We hope he may succeed in both.

The foot and mouth disease is creeping closer. It has come within three miles of our little village, being on the farms of James Shipper and Gerrit and Henry Kleinheksel in Fillmore township. Benjamin Fokkert lost sixty head of cattle and hogs Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Motruuff were surprised by their friends and neighbors the occasion being the 25th miles stone of Mr. Botruuff's berth. The new barn of Jacob Edink will be utilized for the storing of automobiles. Jake has room for twelve.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Higgins of Kalamazoo now occupying the house of James Martin and intends doing carpenter work this winter.

Albert Klomparsen, Allegan, county road commissioner, had the time of his life Wednesday afternoon moving the stone crusher from the Waanders gravel-pit to the fair grounds at Allegan where the machine is to be stored for the winter. He hitched a tractor ahead of the machine and thought it would be a fine ride. He did not figure on the electric and telephone wires. He found the progress slow and exasperating. On DeLano-st. he got so many and such stout wires wrapped around the crusher that he had to call for help. He already had most of the telephone wires down in that vicinity and two thirds of the power wires, or at least he thought he had when the wires began falling all about him from the poles. Albert and the engine took the brackets off the poles with greatest ease. People in that part of town say he could have been heard several miles yelling "Whoa!" and then "Go ahead!" to the man on the engine. He abandoned the job when he reached Park drive, within sight of the fairgrounds. It was too dark to proceed further and he was "bushed." Next day he went on.

SAUGATUCK

While on her way to Pier Cove last Saturday the strap on the upper connection of the Str. Aliber's engine was broken and she was disabled in the lake. Anchor was immediately weighed and distress whistles blown. Parties on shore phoned to Glenn pliers and the Str. Wilson came to her rescue. No particular damage was done. The repairs were soon made and the boats is again on her run.

The managers of the Indiana Transportation company writes the Hotel World suggesting the need of more and higher-class hotels in Saugatuck and colony at Saugatuck from southern cities, Douglas, saying that "There is quite a colony at Saugatuck from southern cities, and, with a direct boat line operating, I have confidence that the travel from the south and southwest, as well as from Chicago, will increase to a very great extent. In fact, we have in mind, on account of the prospects, placing two boats on the route as soon as we can get adequate hotel facilities at Saugatuck to properly accommodate the traffic. I am enclosing a booklet giving description and some pictures of picturesque Saugatuck and Douglas. They are within six hours' ride of Chicago and possess every desirable feature, with the exception of proper hotels, for the class of patronage which seeks to pass the summer there. There is a great opportunity, I believe, for a hotel, and I am sure that limited capital, land, etc., can be obtained, and it only requires the right party, with some means, to take hold, to swing the deal and make the hotel a big success."

FILMORE

In a still further effort to stop the foot and mouth disease epidemic in Ottawa and Allegan counties, W. R. Harper, secretary of the Michigan state livestock sanitary commission, closed the creamery at Filmore yesterday and issued orders to the owners of the creameries at Oakland and Bentheim to throw away all their skimmed milk and butter milk until arrangements can be made to pasteurize it. Seven diseased herds have been traced to skimmed milk secured from Filmore creameries. Seven government veterinarians accompanied Dr. W. A. Trone through the quarantined townships today to trace all creamery infected herds.

Three new infected herds were located yesterday on the farms of Benjamin Tucker, Henry J. Kleinheksel and G. J. Fokkert in Filmore township, numbering 65 cows and 39 hogs. These will likely be condemned and slaughtered.

Since the canvass in Filmore township was started eight herds have been condemned and two slaughtered.

Every possible precaution is being taken in the ten townships in Ottawa and Allegan counties under quarantine to prevent the spread of the disease. The farmers themselves feeling that their co-operation with the authorities is necessary, are doing all they can for the most part to help along the fight against the plague.

Inspectors Still Busy In The Neighborhood of Filmore.

The Federal and State Authorities were busy inspecting cattle in the neighborhood of Filmore and East Saugatuck Friday where several have been discovered. A head of swine on the farm of Henry Timmer at Filmore is suspected of being afflicted and is being closely watched. There have been no further developments among the herds now in quarantine.

No traces of the hoof and mouth disease were found Friday among the two herds of cattle on the farms of Henry Timmerman and John Atgers in Filmore township. Federal inspectors will examine the herds Friday and both will likely be condemned. Four additional herds are under suspicion in that vicinity.

HUDSONVILLE

Hudsonville, Nov. 24—A society event of large proportions came off at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Neyheus last Saturday night, when a large company of young people met to give a kitchen shower to the prospective bride and groom—Mr. Henry De Graat and Miss Myrtle Chamberlain. The event was gotten up by Mrs. Wm. Neyheus, Mrs. J. Neyheus and Mrs. Chas. McCoy. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. George Hanna, Mrs. C. L. Vanderboegh and Miss Nan McIntyre of Grand Rapids. The presents were numerous and costly, and fun ran high. The fun culminated in a mock marriage of the couple in whose honor the shower was given. The Rev. Dr. Ernest Tibbett was the presiding clergyman and the ceremony was a sweet and impressive one. Mr. Martin Boldt acted as ring-bearer and Mr. Jamie De Cator as flower girl. Martin presented the ring, which was the largest size of railroad washers in a 16-quar dish pan, while Jamie gracefully carried a large flower pot in which was a flowerless begonia artistically embellished with sprays of catnip. At a late hour the company dispersed with a feeling that the bride and groom would know just how to act Tuesday evening when the actual ceremony will take place, the Rev. Fryor presiding.

SUBSCRIPTION LAWS

Most readers of newspapers are not familiar with the laws governing subscriptions. Here are the decisions of the United States court on the subject: "Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions. "If the subscriber orders a discontinuance of their publication the publisher may continue to send them until all dues are paid. "If subscriber refuses to take the periodicals from the post office to which they are directed he is responsible until he has settled his bill and ordered the paper discontinued. "If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, the subscriber is held responsible. "The courts have held that refusing to take periodicals from the post office or removing and leaving them uncollected is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud. "If the subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish the subscription continued, otherwise the subscriber is responsible until express notice with payment of all arrears is sent to the publisher.—Exchange.

She was born in Groningen, the Netherlands, and came to America in 1854. She was married to O. H. Yntema in 1856. Of their ten children six are still living. Mr. Yntema was born in Vriesland, the Netherlands and came to America in 1847. He died in 1908. Mrs. Yntema is survived by three sons and three daughters: David and Hessel Yntema of Grand Rapids; Nicholas of Drenthe; Effie and Johanna at home and Mrs. H. Lenters

GRAAESHOP

Mrs. Bouws of Graafschap and Mrs. H. Roek of Zeeland were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Borst, Jr. of Forest Grove last week Thursday.—Forest Grove Cor.

ZEELAND

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Nabor of Drenth—a son. Gerrit J. Karsten and Ralph De Haan left Monday for Byron Centre for a few days' visit with Dr. and Mrs. R. De Haan.

Further steps have been taken in Zeeland to stop the diphtheria epidemic there. No Sunday school classes were permitted Sunday and today no catechetical classes were allowed to be held. Congregating of children in any place is discouraged as much as possible by the health authorities.

DEASTIC ACTION TAKEN IN FILMORE TOWNSHIP AGAINST CATTLE PLAGUE.

Four additional herds were condemned, four appraised and two slaughtered Monday in the campaign which is being vigorously waged against the hoof and mouth disease in Allegan county. Thus far the place of attack is confined principally to Filmore township where thirteen infected herds has been traced through skimmed milk supplied by the creamery. The creamery has now been closed indefinitely and its 64 patrons have been denied permission to sell their milk and produce.

The herds condemned Monday numbered 48 cows and 24 swine and were owned by William Mulder, J. W. Mulder, Mrs. Johannes Ryzenga and Jacob Achterhof, all in Filmore township.

The two herds slaughtered numbered 51 cattle and ten hogs.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE MAY CAUSE FARMERS TO PUT IN SEPARATOR PLANTS OF THEIR OWN

The farmer these days who has a cream-separating plant on his farm has the advantage of his brother farmer who is not similarly equipped. Now that the authorities have decided to partially quarantine the creameries throughout the state, the average farmer will lose much through the fact that he is not allowed to take back home from the creameries the skimmed milk. It was this that he had been in habit of feeding to his hogs and it is used for other stock as well. Many a farm in this county depends to a large extent on this method of fattening his hogs for market.

The farmer however who has a cream separator plant on his own farm, as many have, can separate the cream from the milk at home, deliver the cream to creamery and feed the skimmed milk to the stock. Since it is not taken away from his own place there is no danger in it. As a result of the present epidemic it is expected that the use of cream-separators will come into much more general vogue in the country districts here.

RURAL TELEPHONES

The telephone is one of the most profitable business agencies that the farmer can employ. It affords him facilities for keeping in constant communication with the markets provides a sitting room for the community where the families can assemble and discuss the events of the day without the inconvenience of travel or loss of time, and in sickness and emergencies, it renders a divine service.

Michigan farmers should encourage the building of telephone lines. Local co-operative companies can be formed and country lines built at small expense.

CAPT. J. P. JENNINGS IS ONE OF MRS. MARY BOSTWICK IN THE PREMIUM BOOK OF POULTRY AS-

MOST TERRIBLE GUNS MADE DO PEOPLE OF EAST SAUGATUCK

YOUNG FLOWER MERCHANTS

THE VICTIMS OF WRECK OF "CURTIS."

Lived in Holland When a Boy; Parents Still Make Their Home Here.

Captain J. P. Jennings, of the steamer Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jennings of this city, is reported as one of those who lost their lives in the wreck of that vessel on Lake Superior. A telegram was received in Holland Monday confirming the earlier reports that Jennings had lost his life in the wreck. The telegram stated that his body would be shipped to Holland for burial.

Twelve bodies have been recovered from the lost steamer and the barges Annie M. Peterson and S. K. Marvin, lost near Grand Marais last Thursday, some of whom have not yet been identified. However the body of Jennings has now been definitely identified. The dead are Capt. J. P. Jennings, steamer Curtis, Detroit; Glen Campbell, steamer Curtis; Selgrud Halverson; Albert Johnson; Rudolph Gruin, Henry Kirchner, Charles Nelson, Pullus W. Noll, Alden, N. D.; Edward Anderson.

Government papers found on the tenth body lead to the belief it is that of Glen Campbell, second engineer of the Curtis.

Captain Jennings was well known here as a boy. He has been following the life on the lakes since he was 15 years old. His parents lived on a farm at the time, but the boy was of an adventurous nature and could not settle down to farm work. Since they lived near the city the boy used to come down to the docks here and watch the boats coming in from Chicago and leaving this port. He could not resist the lure of life on the lakes. When still a mere lad he shipped as a seaman and he has worked his way up to the command of a steamer.

Captain Jennings' home is in Detroit. All night Friday night, after the first reports had come of the possible loss of the vessel, Mrs. Jennings spent in a telephone office trying to get in touch with the Edward Hines Lumber company to secure definite news of the wreck, but she was unable to learn anything definite until yesterday.

"It's hard to be the wife of a sailor," she said. "I sailed with him for three years, until a storm nearly wrecked us, and that was enough for me. I begged him to try something else, but he would get restless as soon as there was a stir among the boats in the river each spring. He'd go down and watch them being fitted out; then he was off."

"I used to ask him what he gained by the awful risks he took, and he'd say, 'Think of the fun we have.'"

According to C. L. Hill, a representative of the Edward Hines Lumber company, owners of the three boats, all the bodies recovered were from the steamer. The Curtis carried a crew of 14, including two women cooks. The bodies were taken to Seney yesterday.

As time allows a study of the situation, it is believed the Peterson and Curtis were the first to succumb to the storm. Wreckage from those boats is piled 20 feet high along the shore and among this tangled mass were found more than half the bodies recovered.

Chas. Nelson and Glen Campbell reached shore alive, but died later from exhaustion and exposure. The others were drowned.

Campbell and Nelson climbed up an embankment 20 feet high. Campbell was found half way down, having slipped back just as he reached the top. Nelson made a plucky fight for life, walking and crawling four miles until he reached the Grand Marais breakwaters. Here his body was found face down with oil slickers pulled over his head, his arms outstretched in an effort to get up the breakwater.

When the Marvin broke away from the others she drifted south and the wreckage from this barge still is coming ashore 40 miles from Grand Marais between Two Hearts river and Crisp point. As yet no bodies have been found in that neighborhood. A search has been abandoned for the present. A northwest gale with snow, is raging and lifesavers find it impossible to work in the storm which here sweeps fiercely across Lake Superior.

The steamer Curtin was owned by the Hamilton Lumber Co., of Douglas.

COUNTY JAIL ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Is Accused of Wedding in Grand Haven While Having a Husband in Grand Rapids

Ottawa county has a sensational bigamy case on its hands which will probably be aired in the Ottawa County Circuit court at the February session. The arrest in the case was made Saturday and the alleged bigamist is now lodged in the Ottawa County jail in Grand Haven.

Mrs. Mary Bostwick, only 19 years old, is the woman charged with bigamy. She was arrested in Grand Rapids Saturday.

According to the statement of the arresting officer, the woman, formerly Miss Mary Robinson, was married in Grand Rapids, on March 28, 1912, to Carl Bostwick. She declared to have left home one a number of occasions, but each time returned to Bostwick. She is charged with having married Ford Pender, a Pere Marquette railroad brakeman, in Grand Haven, in August of this year, following her removal from Bostwick's home the month before. It is alleged that she lived with Pender a short time then returned to Bostwick. Later it is said, she again lived with Pender.

When Bostwick learned of the alleged action of his wife several days ago he went to Grand Haven and asked that she be placed under arrest. The warrant was issued at the order of Prosecuting Attorney Louis Oosterhouse.

The Grand Rapids officer who made the arrest stated Saturday that he received information from Grand Haven to the effect that the county clerk and Justice C. N. Dickinson, who performed the alleged second ceremony, had asked that both Pender and the woman be prosecuted for perjury. The latter is said to have made the statement that she was unmarried while both are alleged to have claimed residence in Grand Haven. Pender lived in Benton Harbor, the officer was informed. No definite action has been taken on these charges.

SOCIATION HAS BEEN ISSUED

Fifteenth Annual Exhibit to Be Held Latter Part of December

The premium book of the Fifteenth Annual Exhibition of the Holland Poultry and Pet Stock association has been issued. The show this year is to be held on December 22, 23, 24 and 25 and 26. The place of exhibit has not yet been decided upon. Charles McClave has been appointed as the judge. The book contains all the information required by poultry men who expect to show their birds in the exhibit this year. In addition to a large number of prizes offered by Holland and Zeeland merchants, a number of special prizes will arouse a great deal of competition.

The grand prize is the $50 silver cup. There has been much interest in this prize for a number of years because of the fact that it must be won three times before it becomes the permanent property of anyone. It is for the highest scoring breeding pen and so far J. B. Hadden, R. Westveld, John Damveld and J. J. De Koster have each one win to their credit while John VerHoef has two winnings to his credit.

There are also four $25 silver cups offered by prominent citizens of Holland, each of which must be won three times. They are the following: Holland Dentists and Physicians Trophy, for the first pen in the American class, won in 1911 by the Lakewood Farm; in 1912 by A. S. Moore; in 1913, by A. S. Moore. The Holland Druggists Trophy for the first pen in the English class, won in 1911 by M. Looker, Zeeland; in 1912 and 1913 by Tony Verliere. The Holland Business Men's Trophy won in 1911 by Mrs. Gordon, Dorr, Mich.; in 1912 by John T. Wiersma; in 1913 by Nick Essenboger. The Holland Manufacturers Trophy, won in 1911 by J. Du Mez; in 1912 by Wm. Bauwkamp; in 1913 by Wm. Fant, Grand Haven.

H. Van Tongeren and Superior Cigar Co., offer a $15 silver Trophy for the highest scoring pen of bantams, excluding pit game bantams. This trophy has been won by John Ver Hoef, Harley Scott and G. A. Brinkman.

AWFUL EXECUTION ON FORTIFICATIONS

The pinnacle of German military science has been attained by the Germans by means of the great secret Krupp mortars, with which the supposed impregnable forts at Liege, Namun and Antwerp Belgium, were battered into a mass of ruins. The caliber of these tremendous cannon is 42 centimeters, or sixteen and one half inches. They are described as "the most miraculous and powerful weapon designed in the history of war."

Even the inventor of these instruments of dire destruction is shrouded in mystery. They were first by the Krupps at Essen eight years ago. After the first trial they were pronounced a failure. This is now believed to have been a false report sent out by the German military authorities to conceal the fact of their tremendous efficiency from the other military powers of Europe. One of the war correspondents describes the manner of firing these mortars as follows:

"At some distance from a fort a space was cleared and a great mortar set in a concrete bed occupying a circle with a radius of 100 feet. Behind the mortar and outside this circle was a tunnel leading to a subterranean chamber. The great mortar was sighted, the projectile was set in place, and then the gunners retired to their underground chamber. Here they pressed a button and the mighty shot was fired."

"The explosion was terrible. Anything within fifty feet of the gun at the time of the explosion would be killed. Even men in the neighboring armies complained of headaches and toothaches from the jar, and the same complaints were made by the men in the forts where the projectiles exploded."

"The projectile pierced through one two, and three ordinarily impenetrable walls and buried itself in a fourth. Here it lay silent many seconds, then exploded like a volcano, bringing to the ground in ruins every stone which had stood upon another."

"A shot fired into the center of a fort buried itself deep in the ground and lay there as though gathering strength for its demoniacal eruption. Then, after twenty seconds, it exploded and razed the proudest walls in Belgium."

"Each shell costs $2,500. What it contains nobody but the Krupps know. It is brought to the battlefield in pieces and assembled by the highest paid and most trusted of the Krupp engineers. It is aimed and loaded by them and not one member of the artillery corps in the kaisers army has anything to do with it. The slogan of these men is, 'One shot for one fort.'"

WILL PRAY TO HAVE FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

ABATED.

In East Saugatuck the epidemic of foot and mouth disease has so impressed the people with its seriousness that it has been decided to turn the regular Thanksgiving Day services into a prayer service. At the meeting of the consistory of the Christian Reformed church of that place it was decided that the Thanksgiving service next Thursday forenoon was at the same time to be a prayer service at which prayers could be offered for a blessing on the work of the government and state authorities in suppressing the disease.

In that community some horses are suspected of having Glanders and the inspectors have put them in quarantine.

FIND WELCOME FOR THEIR WARES IN HOLLAND

The new business venture that was started a week ago by Mantion Bosch and Herman Koenig is taking a firm hold on the patronage of the local public, and the sale of flowers by the young businessmen has begun in earnest. A flower store is a great convenience to many local people who are in the habit of keeping their tables brightened up with flowers. The city had been without such a store for some time and the new place supplies a definite want. The boys are doing the business to keep themselves in funds for going thru school and they expect to be fully prepared for the holiday rush that is soon to begin.

"MIND!"—AN ANECDOTE OF THE NORTH SEA

A Scotch Trawler Strikes A German Mine In The North Sea And Is Lost. A Writer For The Glasgow Weekly Herald Records The Incident In Anecdote, Including The Captain's Comment

Crystallizing incident as the cineo matograph film registers the whirl of motion, it is anecdote and not his story that probes below the surface and finds the personal equation behind the marshalling of events.

This war in Europe is a remote enough thing to most of us now and then in illuminating flashes does anecdote or story come to penetrate the vapor blanket of generality which obscures the caldron beneath which Mars stirs and blows his fire.

So we quote the following fragments which the Weekly Herald of Glasgow, Scotland, snatches from the rack of events and passes on for us under the caption of "Mind."

The little trawler was snoring through the calm water back to Grimsby with a hold full of fish. To the east the first sign of day was visible in the pale blue of the sky along the horizon. In the fore'sle three men lay stretched on their bunks in the deepest sleep, worn out by the hard work of their calling. A fourth was sitting up, and by the aid of a small lamp turned low for his shipmates sakes, pored over a newspaper he had borrowed from the skipper.

"From aft there came the rhythmic thud of the propeller, with an intermittent clanking from the rudder chains as the hand on the bridge spun the wheel. Underneath him he could hear the steady drone of the trawler's forefoot sliding through the oily waves.

"He was reading of the great war and a certain paragraph had compelled his attention. It dealt with the enemy's broadcast sowing of mines in the North sea, and the subsequent destruction of peaceful shipping.

"Jove," he thought, "if a mine can sink a battleship, what would happen to the like of us if we struck one?"

"He sat and pondered over this for a while, till finally, comforted by the reflection that they wouldn't put their mines so far west as he was, he rose to put out the light.

"There came a sudden answer to his question.

"The planking beneath his feet shot up, and he propelled through the fo'c'sle hatch into the stump of the mast, agony in his ears from the vibration of an explosion so loud that he heard no actual sound. He ran aft down the deck, and as he ran the level changed till he was running up a steep slope. Clutching hold of a stanchion he looked back and saw the fore part of the ship blown to ribbons, and the sea all round mottled with falling debris. As he looked, the ship slid down till he could hear the propeller thrashing round half out of water. Then it stopped, and he knew that the engineer at least was still alive. The friend at the wheel was lying over it.

"Then the ship sank, and he found himself and the engineer in the sea, swimming with the skipper between them. The trawler's boat appeared quite close, and providentially right side up, so they helped the skipper in and baled her dry. Down to the south they could see another trawler steaming fast to their rescue, alarmed by the explosion. As the sun came up the skipper broke his silence. He turned to the east and solemnly shook his fist at an invisible foe, 'You swine!' he muttered."

HOW THE DUTCH WOULD FIGHT

Should the Dutch, like the Belgians, be called upon to resist a violation of their neutrality, they would, while calling upon their small army of 125,000 men, rely to a great extent on "General Dyke." In other words, they would repel the invader by flooding the country inundating the fields to a depth of between one and two feet, thus making a morass impassable to an enemy's troops.

Holland is not only flat but in some places it is hollow. Fields and meadows are ten or twelve feet and sometimes more below the level of the water, salt or otherwise. Consequently the land has to be protected by embankments or dykes, the tops of which, being broad and flat, are used for carriage roads and footpaths. The network of canals is unique.

The dykes are skillfully constructed, and should occasion arise some 300 square miles could be flooded at a fairly uniform depth, not sufficient to float boats but enough to make the country impassable to the enemy's troops. Holland's fortified positions and garrisons are so situated that they would be behind the flooded area, and if by any chance the Dutch were driven back from their water line the final stand would be made before Amsterdam, which, by reason of its encircling forts and the advantages of its positions on the water, is one of the strongest military positions in the world.

The last occasion on which the Dutch were compelled to inundate their country to quell an invader was in 1672, when a French army was effectively barred by this unique method of warfare. When the frost came and the water of the artificial lakes froze, the invaders thought that the Dutch were delivered into their hands, but a lucky thaw came and the invaders narrowly escaped disaster.

CHAS. K. HOYT ADDRESSES MUSKOGON SPORTSMEN ON THE PRESENT CONDITIONS OF MICHIGAN GAME

No More Deer In The North Woods Within Ten Years

"In ten year's time there will not be enough deer in the north woods to make it worth while for sportsmen to go deer hunting."

So declared State Game Warden Chas. K. Hoyt of Grand Haven in an address given at the first annual banquet of the Muskegon County Game and Fish Protective Association at Arebitor Hall Wednesday evening, when over 400 sportsmen in the city interested in the movement undertaken, gathered to partake of a big feast of wild game which had been prepared for them.

The game warden said: "Great changes have taken place, in Michigan during the past 50 years. This State abounded in rich timber tracts and ore mines. You have seen the timber disappear before the axe of the lumberman who converted it into immense fortunes. You have seen ore mined in immense quantities and you have seen the streams harnessed to power by great manufacturing industries, not for fair competition, but so as to gain complete control of power.

"What has been true of the State's natural resources has been, and will be, true of the game in the State. Michigan some years ago abounded in elk, moose and caribou. They have all disappeared before the marksmanship of the sportsmen of the State. In the fall of the year great clouds of pigeon used to darken the sky and obscure the sun. With the dying of a pigeon in a Ohio museum two months ago, there is not now living, one known pigeon in this country.

"The greyling in the streams have disappeared. These were replaced by the brook trout, which is now rapidly disappearing, and which in turn, is being replaced by the steel head or rainbow trout, as it is called.

"Under the protective system, prairie chicken, which a short time ago were practically exterminated are again to be found. There are probably two dozen counties in the State now where there are prairie chickens and they are increasing rapidly. The quail so susceptible to the cold and which some believe their scarcity, due to hard winters, are also increasing. These are protected until 1917 and barring severe cold spells, it is probable that they also will be plentiful by the time the protection is lifted."

The speaker went on to tell of the squirrel, fox and grey, and other game protected by law. He made an earnest plea for the abolishment of the spear in all waters in Michigan stating that it should be made a misdemeanor for any person caught in proximity to a body of water with a spear.

In speaking of the growing feeling of harmony between game wardens and sportsmen, Mr. Hoyt concluded: "I believe that every member of an association of this nature should pledge himself to report all violations coming under his observation to the game and fish department. It should be placed in the by-laws of the organization. I believe that the game and fish are placed with us as a trust and it is our duty to future generations to see that the trust is no misplaced."

At the close Congressman McLaughlin made a few brief remarks on the work of the U. S. government for the State game departments.

GERMAN BIRDMAN BATTLES 2 ALOFT

Machine is Wrecked by Bomb After He is Victorious

IS FLYING ABOVE PARIS First One And Then Second French Machine Pursue Flier—It Falls In German Lines

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—One of the most thrilling accounts of the perils of a military air scout is given in the Berliner Tageblatt, a copy of which has been received. A German aviator relates a vivid tale of a flight over Paris, during which he was pursued by two French aeroplanes, wrecking one in an air battle and escaping the other by sailing into a bank of clouds through a hail of French bullets.

His machine was hit many times and was finally struck by a shell in midair, when it fell crashing into the trees of a forest.

After describing the flight to Paris with a German major as an observer the aviator's story runs:

"For nearly an hour we had been flying in swoops and had been shot at vainly from here and there below us, when there approached is extremely rapid flight from the direction of Juvisy a French monoplane. Since it was much faster than my biplane, I must turn and seek to escape, while the major made ready my rifle and reached for his revolver.

Opens Battle on a Second

"The monoplane came steadily closer and closer. I sought to reach the protecting clouds, but my pursuer climbed more rapidly and came always closer.

"Suddenly I saw at a distance of about 500 meters a second biplane attempting to block my way.

"Now it was time to act. I darted at the flier before us, then a turn—the major raised a rifle to his cheek. Once, twice, thrice he fired. Then the hostile machine, now beside us and hardly 100 meters away, quivered and fell like a stone. Our other pursuer had meantime reached a position almost over us and was shooting at us with revolvers. One bullet struck in the body close beside the fuel controller. Then, however, impenetrable mist enveloped us protectively.

"When we came out again from the sea of clouds we descended, but suddenly there began to burst before us, behind us and beside us, roaring shrapnell shells I found myself still always over hostile positions and exposed to French artillery. Even madder grew the fire. I noticed the machine received blow after blow, but held cold-bloodedly to my course.

Grenade Wrecks His Machine

"Then suddenly before me, a yellow-white burst of flame made the machine bound upward. At the same time the major shrinks together, blood running from his shoulder; the wiring of one of the wings was shattered. To be sure, the motor still booms and thunders as before, but the propeller falls. An exploding French grenade had knocked it to pieces, torn one of the wings to shreds and smashed the major's shoulder. Steeply my machine sinks to the ground.

"When I awake from my unconsciousness I find Major G. lying beside me on the ground in the midst of a group of landwehr men, German outposts.

"Major G's injury made it necessary to transfer him to a field hospital. I, however, had only suffered a bruise on my leg."

WANTS HIS SUGAR BEET PLANT ASSESSED AS JUNK

Bay City Man's Attorneys Tell Wisconsin's Tax Board Democrats Killed Industry

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 25.—Because his sugar beet factory at Janesville, Wis., was put out of business by the Underwood tariff. Captain J. H. Davidson, Bay City, Mich., through his attorneys, before the tax board today demanded that the closed factory be assessed as junk, and not at $50,000.

The attorneys for Captain Davidson declared that the plant is idle with no prospects of reopening.

Officials of the Wisconsin Sugar company at Waukesha declare it is doubtful whether Wisconsin planters of sugar beets will continue in the industry even with the advance in price and scarcity of the product due to the European war, unless President Wilson gives some assurance that the free sugar clause of the Underwood bill will be repealed. They declare Wisconsin cannot grow beets under free trade.

STUDENT TROUBLE AT HOPE COLLEGE IS SETTLED

Student trouble was settled at Hope college Monday when Julius Gebbard, Anthony Englesman and P. V. Oltmans of the 'B' signed a pledge promising to support the administration, submitted by President Vennema and were reinstated and P. Koppelaar, C. Heemstra, C. Staplekamp, P. Prins and T. Prins of the 'A' class were reinstated after coming to an agreement with the college authorities. The 'A' class removed the banner from the roof of Winants chapel Monday afternoon.

Some excitement was caused in chapel Friday morning when President Vennema ordered J. M. Dosker, the yell master to leave the college premises for leading in class yelling after the faculty had taken their places. Friday Dosker was suspended with the men of the 'A' and 'B' classes but in the afternoon he was reinstated.

and individual prosperity, as so often implied, is to overlook the greater causes of gratitude. Every now and then pathetic instances bring out the heartfelt expression that "if one has health he has everything." Position and possessions count for little compared to the simple retention of health. So, if a man or woman today, unblest by possession of the wealth or prosperity they think they ought to have, will ponder upon the blessing of health or upon the preservation of the lives and health of those near and dear to them throughout the year they must find deeper cause for thanksgiving than any mere increment in material things. This is the true reverence, the genuine spirit of thanksgiving.

But in expressing this spirit in thanksgiving services, in gladness and feasting, it must not be forgotten that the true thanksgiving must come from the heart, and will find its fullest expression in kindly act, in consideration of those less fortunate and in assisting to make others equally thankful. The thankfulness that is limited to self is ungracious and unworthy.

Yet even in temporal affairs the nation as a whole has cause for gratitude. No country has been more blessed with abundance of crops. Industrial and commercial conditions are normal. We have been spared from any great disasters. As a nation we are at peace with the world. The census shows a splendid growth. We face the future not only with confidence but enthusiasm.

First American Thanksgiving.

We have come to look upon Thanksgiving day as one of feasting and pleasure. It may differ from that of our grandfathers, but it's not so very far from the customs of the pilgrim fathers who first instituted the custom in New England. Did you ever have an account of the first American thanksgiving? The Puritans were accustomed to somber religious observances, but the spirit of a new world began to change the method of giving thanks. The transition was gradual, but occasionally the unexpected was thrust upon them in a very positive way.

Thanksgiving in the South.

Until the middle of the past century Thanksgiving was practically unknown in the South. In Virginia the first Thanksgiving proclamation was issued by Governor Wise in 1857,

AUTHORITIES PLACE STATE-WIDE QUARANTINE ON THAT AND BUTTERMILK

A statewide quarantine has been placed upon the skimmed milk and buttermilk of all creameries as a result of the spread of foot and mouth disease.

U. G. Houck, U. S. inspector in charge, W. R. Harper, secretary of the Michigan Livestock Sanitary commission, and J. H. Skinner, the county agriculturist, met in Grand Rapids yesterday to consider the needs of the occasion. Dr. Houck declared that at least 70 per cent of the spread of the disease has been due to infected skimmed milk going out of the creameries and back to the farms to be fed to the cattle and hogs. That was what caused the trouble in Berrien county and he said that is what has caused the new outbreak near Holland.

As a result of this conference and the strong representations made by Dr. Houck it was decided that the state livestock sanitary commission and the state dairy and food department should co-operate to place a rigid regulation upon the creameries which will prevent them from sending out any skimmed or buttermilk to the farms until the epidemic of foot and mouth disease has been stamped out in Michigan. The quarantine is to cover the entire state and the two state departments will see to it that it is enforced.

ROBES STOLEN WHILE OWNERS ARE IN CHURCH

Social Progress Club Meets at Home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ten Cate in Regular Session

The Social Progress Club met Monday at the home of Att. and Mrs. Daniel Ten Cate. The members responded to roll call by speaking on the theme "My Favorite Book." All kinds of favorites were played, from "Robinson Crusoe" to a bank book. A special committee, recently appointed for the purpose of bringing to the attention of the club matters of local interest for discussion and possible subsequent action, brought up the question Monday night as to whether or not it is advisable that the present censorship of motion pictures in Holland shall be continued. Various members of the club gave various views, but the discussion was not finished because one of the members will present a paper on "Motion Pictures" at a future meeting.

"Social Tendencies in Modern English Fiction", was discussed in a paper presented by Arnold Mulder. That works of fiction as great as those that have become classics are being written today was one of the assertions made, and that hence present-day novelists, especially of England, are worthy of careful study. The paper further aimed to show that most great fiction mirrors life not only, being a kind of index of the great social movement in society today, but crystallizes social thought and advances social movements. The growth of the democratic spirit, as manifested in one way in political democracy, was shown to have been mirrored in and advanced by the literature of England and America. Similarly the various social movements of the present day were shown to be reflected in fiction not only, but also helped along and advanced by it. The general movement of social service, the feminist movement, the emancipation from false sex prudery, the anti-militaristic movement, the labor movement, and so on,—all of these were shown to have been exploited in fiction and to have been aided by it. That fiction is worthy of the serious attention of the serious man who wishes to keep in vital touch with the great intellectual, moral and social movements of today was the general conclusion drawn from the argument.

A spirited discussion by the members of the club followed the reading of the paper, both in defense of and dissent from some of the questions raised. Att. F. T. Miles read the concluding chapter of a detective story, the first chapter of which was written by Att. D. Ten Cate.

The Krupp company has increased its capital from 70,000,000 marks to 250,000,000 marks. Incidentally we may add that the trenches are also filled with marks.

HOLLAND MEN COME BACK WITH SIX DEER AFTER AN ADVENTUROUS TRIP.

Cornelius Zeedyk, of Jonison Park Harry Knipe of this city and A. H. Mattison of Virginia Park, returned Monday night from the north woods where they spent some weeks hunting deer. The local party of three secured the limit number of deer, each having bagged two. They already had the limit about a week ago, but the snow was so deep that it was impossible for them to leave camp for home.

Zeedyk's two deer weighed 312 pounds, Knipe's 310, and Mattison's 320 pounds.

Their party was in camp 25 miles from a railroad station and they experienced great difficulty making their way back through the deep snow. They declare that the snow is so deep that many a hunter kills his deer with an ax and does not need to use his gun, because the animals get stuck in the snow. They solemnly vouch for this part of the story of their adventures.

SHERIFF DYKHUIS SAYS DEER ARE GETTING SCARCE

Sheriff Dykhuis of the Newberry deer camp, arrived home Sunday evening with no trophy of the hunt, and says that the deer are far scarcer this year, than at any former times according to the hunters in the north woods.

Jack Boes, of Spring Lake, was one of the party who lost his way in a big swamp and spent the night trying to find his way out. The next day he was found wandering not far from headquarters. The night was an unusually mild one, and he was none the worse for his experiences except for the fatigue of his continuous walking.

The hunters in the north say there are more than ten thousand of the nimrods and that in some localities where they are so thickly stationed, the accidents and fatalities are numerous. Sheriff Dykhuis states that nearly every boat across the straits brought the body of some unfortunate hunter.

HE old-time spirit of Thanksgiving. "Ah, those were good old days!" This, with reminiscent sadness. If there was not a lurking sentiment for the splendor of good-fellowship, for the charm of simplicity and the peace that comes from a contented heart, that marked the old-time Thanksgiving, there would be no regret for the good old days that are gone. But why can't they be conjured back again that we might cherish the generous spirit of that household festival?

It is the character of the day that we would have back again—the aftermath of the harvest, with its spirit of joyousness, the bounteous feast gathering together the family, making sacred the beauty of home ties.

In old New England a bustle of preparation began long before the appointed day. The turkey, strutting in haughty disregard of his fate, was watched with furtive eyes and fed with liberal care. The pumpkins were gathered and lay with faces upturned to the sun. Vegetables, fruits, nuts, raisins and citron were heaped in plenty upon the pantry shelf. And within, the house was aglow in joyful anticipation of the coming guests—a true hospitality, not so elaborate as it was homelike and not so luxurious as healthful, but replete with a rare kindness and grace.

And when the feast was over, and the long afternoon of sport and games was spent, and the shadows of evening closed round, the great assemblage crowded about the huge fireplace. How gayly the popcorn spittered, how clear was the cider passed round! Hearts overflowing with joy and gratitude burst into song:

Ah, on Thanksgiving day, when from east and from west,

From north and from south, come the pilgrim and guest,
When the gray-haired New Englander sees round his board,
The old broken links of affection restored,

When the care-wearied man seeks his mother once more,
And the worn matron smiles where the girl smiled before.

This was the spirit of old-time Thanksgiving.

County School Commissioner N. R. Stanton has landed two "big guns" for his county institutes that are to be held in this city and in Grand Haven in January. The men assigned to Ottawa are the Hon. A. T. Corson, ex-superintendent of public instruction in Ohio, and Prof. C. O. Hoyt, member of the faculty of the Ypsilanti Normal school. Mr. Corson is one of the most popular institute workers in the country, and as a lecturer on educational subjects he has gained a national reputation. Prof. Hoyt is also a man of wide experience in institute work. Mr. Stanton has secured these two men after considerable difficulty. He was determined to have for Ottawa county the best men obtainable, and in a letter announcing the appointments State Superintendent Keeler says they are of the very first rank. The institute in Holland will be held on January 21, and in Grand Haven the meeting will be on January 20. Prof. Hoyt will be the conductor and Mr. Corson the instructor.

It is not very often that an alderman finds occasion to make use of the special police star given him when he takes office, but Saturday night Bert Slagh thought the occasion demanded it when Jim Blake came into his store in an intoxicated condition and asked for ten cents. A lively time followed. Slagh called up the police and as he did so his man started to leave the store. Slagh chased him down the street and caught him by the collar but this did not stop the knight of the road, who by a little twisting and squirming wriggled out of his coat and left the alderman with the coat in his hand. However, Mr. Slagh caught him again. But this time the alderman found himself in a more desperate position. Blake's partner, who gave the name of Frank Wilson this morning, stepped in to rescue Blake from the alderman. Just at that time Deputy Sheriff H. Harrington stepped off an Interurban car, seeing the trouble he took a hand in it and the men were lodged in the city jail. Monday Jim Blake was given 15 days by Justice Sooy and Wilson was given 30 days by Justice Miles. Wilson received the heavier sentence because he had made the most resistance.

High School Notes

The freshman class presented the high school with two double-faced Columbia records, entitled, "Mountain High," vocal solo, sung by Keefe, "The Strolling Yodler," by Keefe; "The Magpie and the Parrot," by Princess Orchestra and "The Broken-Hearted Sparrow," by the Princess Orchestra.

A surprise awaited the students of the high school Monday. Upon entering the auditorium they found the stage decked with a beautiful green velours curtain. This is to be paid for by the entertainments given by the high school during the year. The curtain ranks with any theater curtain in the average well equipped theater.

The high school team is anxious to redeem the 6-0 defeat of last year and is more than willing to play whether the weather is good, bad or indifferent.

Tickets were on sale yesterday and can be procured at the Van Tongeren Cigar store and from the High school boys. This will be a benefit game for the High school team to enable the best football team that Holland High has had in years to get sweaters. The entire profits of the game will be turned over to the high school team.

No matter what the weather the Holland High School-Alumni game will be played Thursday afternoon at the 19th street athletic park. Although the alumni team is far from being a well-drilled machine, the last few nights before the game are being spent in practicing signals and formations in the gymnasium of the High school and the team that goes up against the High school team will be a group of old time warriors, and a close game is looked for. On account of many of the fellows leaving town and several others not willing to undergo again the stiffness received in the game last year probably two men who were never affiliated with the High school will be put in the lineup to fill up.

REVERSING THE CODE

"What do you mean by writing me that my Jimmie can't pass into the next grade?" stormed an irate female, bursting into the principal's room. "An' after him doin' such grand work all the year." "Why, Mrs. Flaherty" replied the teacher, "you must know better than that. I've got your report cards every month and you know that his marks have been nearly all 'D's'." "Indade they have, and yit you say he can't pass. I don't understand it, mum." "I am afraid you don't understand our system of marking. D means deficient, you know."

"Sure, I don't know what that may me, mum, but Jimmie told me all about the letters. Sure 'D' is dandy, 'C' is corking, 'B' is bum, an' 'A' is awful—and he's got 'C's' an' 'D's' every month."

The football team is becoming very ambitious. Yesterday afternoon they cleared the field of snow in preparation for Thursday's game. The high school team is bound to show the alumni that the record of the high team has not decreased since they left school.

On Friday morning Secretary Moody of the Y. M. C. M. C. A.

HOPE COLLEGE

Material for fire escapes for Van Raalte Memorial Hall has arrived on the campus.

Several of the ladies of the Faculty spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. McCreary.

Mr. John Vander Broek was called to Grand Rapids last Tuesday to attend a funeral.

Workmen are busily engaged in putting a new top on a chimney on Voorhees dormitory. The top blew off in a recent wind storm.

Dr. A. Leenhouts addressed the Student Prohibition class of Hope college this afternoon, speaking on the subject "Alcohol and Mental Diseases."

Miss Nina Lindeman and Miss Hazel Clemens, both of last year's class, spent Sunday in the city and were in their former places in the society halls on Friday evening.

Mrs. A. Visscher entertained the lady members of the faculty with a tea at her home, Friday afternoon. The most delicious refreshments were served.

The five Hope college students who hoisted the "A" class banner to the top of the chapel tower last week removed it Monday afternoon. Following this the class carried the ladders through the business streets amid much rejoicing.

The first team basket ball squad of Hope college was chosen Thursday night by Mgr. Moore and Captain Stegenga. It consists of Smalleagan, Steininger, "Putty", T. Prins, Vande Velde, Veenker and P. Stegeman. They will commence hard practice for the first game with the Grand Rapids Bethanys on Dec. 4.

A large barrel of apples—Northern Spies—came by parcels post to Miss E. G. Martin, Voorhees Hall, last Thursday afternoon. Miss Martin issues a kind invitation to all apple-lovers to attend the apple feasts to be held in her room every evening at 10 P. M. until the apples are consumed. The young men are especially invited.

As a finale to the splendid recital given last Thursday evening by the faculty of the School of Music and of Expression, Professor Nykerk gave a delightful luncheon for the members of the faculty who assisted in the program, and several others. The luncheon was given in the parlor of the dormitory. The informality of the affair gave it the peculiar charm which is characteristic of Professor Nykerk whenever he entertains.

Supper time at Voorhees Hall on the Wednesday evening of last week surely was "Dorm night." These festive occasions occur once in four or five weeks, so that when they do come, everybody makes the most of them. The great event of which we are speaking has to do with the changing of seats at the Dormitory tables. This always causes great anticipation and commotion, for who can fathom the real value or profit to be gained from a table companion, three times a day for four weeks!! Many are loath to leave the old friends they have made during the previous month, but a fresh beginning, a change, is nevertheless enjoyable. A good motto always reads "Move On!"

On account of the epidemic of diphtheria that is spreading through Zeeland, the Hope College authorities have forbidden the students from Zeeland to go back and forth from their homes to the college by Interurban as is their custom. It is feared that the students in traveling back and forth to Zeeland will carry the disease into the College. During the Thanksgiving vacation the Zeeland students will very probably make arrangements to remain in Holland until after the epidemic in Zeeland has been checked.

Last Wednesday evening, a jolly group of Senior boys invited a number of girls to an informal dinner party. They chose a most appropriate place to "let go" their high spirits for the Bayview Hotel at Macatawa Park was quite a breezy point on that wintry night. But breeze or no breeze, it made no difference. The furies of snow only added to their zest and dared them on. The "eats," the weather, everything was in their favor. Is there any doubt as to the happy result of such a party?

Every senior that attended the senior class supper Friday evening certainly enjoyed himself. Supper was served by the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church in the Domestic Science parlors of the High school. Mr. Gordon Oltmans, class president, acted as toastmaster. The following toasts were given: G. DeWitt, "Value of Sociability"; Elmore Kruidenier, "Ladies"; Carrol Van Ark, "O Rats"; Miss Anna Lumberg, "The Star." Short talks were given by Miss Masten, the class patron, and Mr. Drew. After supper all went down to the gymnasium and enjoyed games.

Saturday evening the dormitory girls of Hope college held a reception in honor of the Cosmopolitan society in Voorhees hall. The reception room was gayly adorned with banners, and pennants, and pillows of all descriptions. The following program was rendered: piano duet, "The Myrtles" by the Misses Poppen; violin solo, Harriet Baker; reading, "The Telephone Call," Miss Schuurmans; vocal solo, "The Swallows" Miss Henrietta Van Zee; piano solo, "Dramatic Waltz" from the "Etude," Miss Florence Strunks. Refreshments were served. All the "Cosmos" reported an extra fine time.

Who dares to say the Dormitory girls cannot make fun on Saturday nights? Ask the Cosmopolitan society! Last Saturday evening, Mrs. Durfee and the Dormitory girls entertained the Cosmopolitan society in the reception hall. This was an informal affair, and informality always guarantees a good time. Chafing dishes were kept busy and Welsh rarebit seemed to be just the thing wanted. A short program was given. The Misses Sara and Theodora Poppen rendered a piano duet. Harriet Baker played a violin solo; a reading "A Telephone Romance" was given by Gertrude Schuurmans; Florence Strunks rendered a piano solo.

LOCAL LODGE WILL EQUIP THE ROOMS FOR SOCIAL ACTIVITIES OF MEMBERS.

A Committee of Ten Now Busy Collecting the Funds For This Purpose.

A new departure has been decided upon by the Knights of Pythias lodge which will make that organization mean a great deal more to its members as far as social enjoyment is concerned. Funds are being collected now for the purpose of adding the features of a club to the activities of the lodge. A committee of ten boosting members has been appointed for this purpose. The committee will solicit the funds and make all the necessary arrangements.

Additional rooms will be secured which are to be fully equipped with all the apparatus usually found in lodge club houses, such as pool tables, billiard tables, places for various other games, probably shower baths, etc. The plan, in a nutshell, is to conduct a place that will give the members all the advantages for physical and education work that are usually found in the average Y. M. C. A. building. While the club will begin on a comparatively small scale, the plan is to branch out continually.

State officials of the Knights of Pythias are in favor of having each organization in the state aim to own its own building and to add these features which the Holland lodge will soon add. In some places the clubs already own buildings, and it will be the aim of the Knights of Pythias here also eventually to own a club house of their own. For the present however they will rent additional rooms to take care of the new activities of the organization.

DR. GODFREY ON ZEELAND DIPHTHERIA

Advices Parents Not To Allow Their Children to Do Much Out-of-Town Visiting at this Time

Now is the time for the people of Holland to take precautions to prevent a diphtheria epidemic such as is prevalent in Zeeland at the present time, according to Health Officer Godfrey. There is at present only one case of diphtheria in Holland, and if proper precautions are taken the chances are very good for preventing the disease from taking hold here. A stitch in time saves nine, is the idea of the local health officer. General health conditions in Holland are rather exceptionally good at present and if the children especially are not exposed to diphtheria there seems no reason why the city should not escape entirely this year, thanks the health officer.

But the fact that there are some sixteen or seventeen cases in Zeeland and more being added each day constitutes a grave danger for Holland. If the parents will co-operate with the health authorities and not allow their children to go to Zeeland or Grand Rapids during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, much can be done. By letting the youngsters roam about at will in the neighboring places where the epidemic has taken a firm hold the parents are endangering their not only; thinks the health officer, but they are endangering the whole city.

The health officer thinks that the proper time to fight any epidemic is before it begins. The closing of the Zeeland schools and the discontinuance of all activities in that city in which children are concerned have brought home the danger. With the neighboring city but a few miles away there is constant danger and all necessary precautions should be taken. Although the schools have been closed in Zeeland, that does not take away the danger of infection, since the children roam about in more than ordinary freedom.

WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PAPER
THIRTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Although rather late in the season, we must chronicle the amount of work done by one overblash steam thrashing machine at Hamilton, Allegan County, Mich., and owned by Mr. Minor Bigsby. During the past thrashing season forty-seven days it thrashed 31,000 bushels of grain. One day when it was working for Mr. Timmerman of Fillmore, it thrashed 1,017 bushels of clover seed in the short time of five hours. Mr. Bigsby intends to build a lath mill at Hamilton this winter, and, of course has the best wishes of the community.

The Grand Rapids paper of the 20th says, that Mr. Wm Leenhouts, of the firm of De Graaf, Vrieling & Co., is missing since Monday morning last. It is apprehended that it is either foul play or insanity. Mr. Leenhouts has relatives in this vicinity; he is about 40 years old, and has a wife and five children. He was known in Grand Rapids as an honest industrious, and strictly temperate man. He had about $170 on his person, and it is feared that he has been foully dealt with. Since the above was written rumors are afloat that he has been seen in Detroit.

About thirty sportsmen of this city will engage in a rabbit hunt Thanksgiving day. Chas. Harmon will be the captain of one side and Henry Harmon of the other. The party returning home with the least number will defray the expense of a supper which will be spread at the City hotel on the evening of the hunt.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Seth Nibelink, Friday—a son.

John Zwemer Jr., of Reyneer Oregon, son of John Zwemer of this city, had his thumb and fore finger sawed so badly that amputation was necessary.

TEN YEARS AGO

Fire broke out Saturday night in the marsh near the island owned by Dr. H. Kremers and A. B. Bosman and before its ravages were stopped by the fire department a small frame house owned by Messrs. Kremers and Bosman and valued at $100 was destroyed. A barn nearly was saved.

Fred Lampen Waived Examination and Was Bound Over to Circuit Court.

Fred Lampen, charged by his brother George Lampen with using a forged check to borrow money, was bound over to the circuit court for trial when he appeared before Justice Robinson Thursday afternoon. He was brought here from the county jail for examination which he at first demanded and was returned to the jail to await trial at the February term of court, being unable to furnish bonds for $500.

THE REV. JOHANNES GROEN
WILL NOT COME TO THIS CITY.

The congregation of the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church was apprised at the services Sunday of the fact that the call recently extended by them to the Rev. Johannes Groen of Grand Rapids has been declined by that pastor. The letter informing the consistory of Mr. Groen's decision reached them Friday.

The decision of the Grand Rapids pastor comes as something of a surprise and as considerable of a disappointment to the local congregation. A few days ago members of the Grand Rapids congregation now served by Mr. Groen expressed the opinion that they felt that he would accept the Holland call.

MISS KANTERS GIVES PARENTS
A GLIMPSE INTO WORK OF HOLLAND LIBRARY

A large number of parents and friends attended the meeting of the Parents-Teachers' club of the Maple Avenue school Friday afternoon. The program was a very pleasing one, consisting of songs and recitations, a dramatization and a band, each class in the building being represented.

Mrs. M. J. Cook, the vice-president presided and introduced as the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Jennie Kanters, city librarian, who took as her subject "The Library and Your Child." The library is doing a great deal of good for the children of Holland. The teachers of the public schools have been very helpful in suggesting good books and encouraging the children to read. The parents were urged to encourage the child to go to the library, to use the reading rooms and to read books of various kinds. If the grown-ups should take more interest in the child and his books, said the speaker they could better direct him in the right path. They should never condemn a book before they have read it. The library books are so divided and graded as to meet the demands and needs of every child, but parents must use their judgment as to the fitness of books.

The weekly story hour has proved very successful in getting the children interested. If one can once awaken and arouse the child and make him see that good reading is very profitable, one is well started in the right direction. What our city library is doing for the child is worth considering.

Mrs. Mabel W. Smith rendered two very pleasing vocal solos at the conclusion of that splendid and instructive address. During the serving of refreshments the Columbia Grafonola recently purchased for the school, was played and enjoyed.

ENTERTAIN ADULT BIBLE CLASS

The members of the 14th Street Christian Reformed Church were entertained last Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heeringa, 119 East 18th Street. On debate on whether secret societies are detrimental to the church the affirmative was given the decision. Besides this a very good musical program was carried out. Refreshments were served. P. Schoon is the leader of the class.

ATT. T. N. ROBINSON SPOKE TO
Y. M. C. A. THURSDAY NIGHT.

Att. Thos. N. Robinson appeared before the class of the city Y. M. C. A. conducted by Secretary Moody in the High school building and gave them an interesting talk on law as a profession. Mr. Robinson gave the boys a great deal of information about the profession, as well as a real insight into what the legal profession means to society and what it does for society. Among other things he showed that the law is always with us. It marks out to a certain extent our conduct and safeguards to a certain extent our rights and privileges from the day of birth until the day of death. And after death a person is not yet through with the law, because it steps in and says under what rules his estate shall be disposed of.

DR. J. J. MERSEN TELLS OF MEDICINE AS A PROFESSION

Dr. J. J. Mersen addressed the Y. M. C. A. class in the High school last Thursday night on, "Medicine as a Profession." The doctor said that no apology need be made for the medical profession as it is one of the most sacrificing professions there is. He gave several cases where doctors had laid down their lives in attempts to master dreaded diseases. He declared that the doctor's work now is more to prevent disease and not wholly to curing disease.

An address will be given every Thursday night by local men on different professions.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN STOPS LIQUOR SELLING IN OWOSSO.

James De Young Gets the Goods on the Druggists and Prosecutes Them.

For the first time since Shiawassee county became allied with the dry counties of the state, more than four years ago, Owosso is dry. It has officially been dry since May 1, 1911, but in reality it has been wet, there having been little difficulty in getting something to drink besides water.

In the past half-hearted attempts have been made to rid the city of "blind pigs" but it remained for Mayor De Young, former prominent Holland citizen, the first executive under commission government, to clean up the town and put those selling liquor to route. He has done it by means of importing a detective from Detroit who, "got the goods" on eight men. One, Herbert Collins a drug store proprietor, is now a fugitive from justice, having been tipped off by friends and fled before the warrant could be served. Another druggist, H. A. L. Ferguson, is serving four months in the Detroit house of correction after pleading guilty.

Four others are in jail and two are awaiting trial. Since the eight men were arrested it has been impossible to buy liquor in the city.

The mayor is criticized for catching the offenders by means of a detective. He answered his critics by declaring that it takes a thief to catch a thief and that with sneaky people he was not averse to using sneaky methods. He let it be known also that if the law violators would do their work in the open he would get them in the open. That silenced the fault-finders. He declares that while Owosso has voted wet all three times a vote has been taken in the county, the county as a whole has voted out the saloons, and so far as he is able to make it, Owosso is going to be dry.

Until the Pray law went into effect in the dry counties in year of 1913, several locker clubs flourished in Owosso and the dry law was a joke. When they went out of business blind pigs and bootleggers sprung up like mushrooms. Offenders became so confident that they practically defied the police to get them. The mayor who took office this spring, decided that something must be done, and when he saw that it would be impossible for uniformed policemen to get the offenders, he brought in the detective without anyone but the police chief and city attorney knowing about it. The detective became, apparently, a good fellow among the good fellows. He got all kinds of evidence, and when everything was ready the officers had the violators flat-footed.

Today the lid is on awfully tight in Owosso.

MAYOR WILL NOT ALLOW THEATRE TO BE OPEN ON SUNDAY

A request by C. C. Falker, representing the International Bible Students association of Brooklyn to show the photo-drama, "Creation" on last Sunday at the Royal Theatre on the grounds that it was of a purely religious nature was refused by Mayor Bosch on the grounds that in view of the fact that public opinion in this city is against having the theaters open in Holland on Sunday no matter what the character of the picture shown. It would establish a precedent which would work contrary to the sentiment of the people's wishes.

The work of the new division will be largely detail work such as posting signs and reporting bad places in the road. Many may make the trip over the proposed pike next summer.

FIRST "MOVIE" TRIAL EXCITED
MUCH INTEREST IN JUSTICE COURT

Went to Jury Late Friday Afternoon After An All Day Battle

The case of the city of Holland vs Manager Himebaugh of the Royal Theatre took nearly the whole day in the court room in the city hall Friday. The case was tried before Justice Sooy. City Attorney Van Duren represented the city, since the charge was violation of a city ordinance, while Attorney T. N. Robinson defended Mr. Himebaugh.

It was not until about four o'clock that the case went to the jury.

After deliberating about half an hour the jury disagreed. The vote is said to have stood three to three.

The following men served on the jury: A. J. Force, H. Van Tongeren, John Vanden Berg, Nick Yonker, Herman De Fouw and Fred Beeuwkes.

Himebaugh was charged with violating the motion picture ordinance that was recently passed by the common council. The principal witness was Mrs. Geo. E. Kollen, who was one of the women appointed by the council to act as a board of censors. It was Mrs. Kollen who censored the picture in question. The other witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Himebaugh, Misses Marie and Marjorie Gilmore, Loyd Conkright and Manager Newman of the Apollo Theatre.

The name of the picture in question was "The Tragedy of Whipping Creek," and the charge was that it violated the clause in the ordinance referring to the showing of pictures of crime and bloodshed.

THEATER MANAGER AGREES TO CO-OPERATE WITH CENSORS AND CHARGE IS DROPPED.

Guilty or Innocence In This Particular Case Not Established; But

Both Parties Are Satisfied.

The charge of violation of the city ordinance against Manager J. W. Himebaugh of the Royal theater which ended in the jury disagreeing after a legal battle Friday afternoon was dropped Tuesday when City Attorney Van Duren and Mrs. G. E. Kollen, member of the Board of Censors, accepted a written statement given by Mr. Himebaugh in which the latter agrees to live up to the picture censor ordinance and to co-operate with the committee in the working of the ordinance.

By signing the agreement Mr. Himebaugh does not admit that in the particular case in which he stood trial he had violated the ordinance but that he will comply with the provisions of the city ordinance. City Attorney Van Duren and the censorship committee, on the other hand, declared that all they want is such written statement, assuring the co-operation of the picture man with the censorship committee.

The agreement that ended the trouble reads as follows. To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland.

Gentlemen:— In the operation of the moving picture theater at No. 10 West 8th street, in the City of Holland, I desire to assure you that it is my intention to observe and carry out the provisions of the ordinance relative to picture shows and to work in harmony with the Censorship Committee in showing only clean, wholesome pictures. I do not want to show any picture which is suggestive, which upholds crime or which in any way tends to lower the morals of the youth. Of course, we do not always know just what pictures will be thrown upon the screen from day to day but if any are not proper and our attention is called to them, we will immediately cut such picture out and not re-show it.

MRS. WALTER ROE GIVES TWO STIRRING ADDRESSES SUNDAY

Declares Treatment Red Man Receives Is a Shame And a Disgrace

Mrs. Walter Roe of Colony, Okla., delivered two stirring addresses in Holland Sunday in regard to the American Indian, a question on which Mrs. Roe is well posted, having served as missionary among the Indians of Oklahoma for many years. In the morning she spoke in Hope church about conditions among which the Indians of America live and in the evening she spoke in the First Reformed church in a more personal vein, giving a more intimate glimpse into the every day life and activities of this most interesting people. Both times she was greeted by very large audiences.

Mrs. Roe declared that the "century of dishonor" on the part of the American people toward the Indians is not by any means over and that the red men are being robbed disgracefully at this very day. She described the red man as one who is finding himself and who is growing stronger; one who sees on all sides of him the beasts of prey trying by every possible means to steal his land and his possessions. The federal government has been pursuing a policy of extreme paternalism toward the Indian, and while on the whole this policy has not been altogether wrong, still much more should be done. Mrs. Roe advocated the establishment of an Indian commission so that the red men might be governed in some such way as the Philippine people are governed. She declared there is so much red tape about the department of Indian affairs that it is practically hopeless to get the many things done that need to be done for the Indian. She said the white men, for the most part are keeping him in the ditch and they can't keep him in the ditch without getting down in the ditch with them and degrading their own characters.

The speaker advocated treating the Indian as a responsible human being and not as a mere ward of the nation. She said the Indian boys and girls must be given the same opportunities for education and work as the white children. Only in this way, by giving them the chance to fight their own way up, can the necessary iron be put into their blood that they need to help them to become a great and self-respecting people. She severely criticized the educational system which the government has provided for the Indians and said that it was responsible for the fact that there are practically no American Indians in the American universities although there are students there of all other nations and races. The government schools, she said, are almost worthless and do not prepare the Indian to take his place in the world of real sport.

Mrs. Walter C. Roe Asks Students to Write Essays About "Present Indian Conditions."

Mrs. Walter C. Roe, missionary among the North American Indians of Oklahoma favored the college students with a short talk this morning. She was here sixteen years ago, and at that time had a stalwart Indian brave with her. She told of the sacrifice the Indians had to make when they received Christianity. She told a few beautiful stories about the Indians illustrating with the sign language. She offered three prizes of $5, $3 and $2 each to the Hope student writing the best essay on "Present Indian Conditions."

PURITAN GOES BACK TO CHL

Grand Haven Tribune.—Unable to run into Holland Wednesday night, the steamer Puritan went through a similar experience as did the Alabama just off Grand Haven and finally headed back for Chicago, after wrestling with the storm for five hours. The Puritan arrived just out of Holland, about five o'clock Wednesday afternoon and turned back between 11 and 12 o'clock at night. From late reports there were no other steamers to venture on the lake during the fortnight's raging storm.

SHORT OF WORDS

This is the message the telegraph messenger handed to the young husband:

"Come down as soon as you can. I am dying.—Kate."

Eight hours later he arrived at the summer hotel to be met on the plaza by Kate herself.

"Why, what did you mean by sending me such a message?" he asked. "Oh," she murmured, "I wanted to say that I was dying to see you but my ten words ran out and I had to stop."

LANSING MAN ADDRESSES AUDIENCE IN LOCAL CHURCH SUNDAY

Told How America Can Be Made "Dry" By Federal Enactment.

Before an audience of about 250 people in the Third church yesterday afternoon, Hon. F. W. Corbett of Lansing gave an eloquent address in behalf of the anti-saloon forces of the nation. It was a union meeting members of all churches joining to make up the gathering and Mr. Corbett said today that he was particularly well-pleased with the reception he had been given in Holland. Last evening in the M. E. church in Saugatuck he repeated the address of the afternoon.

In his talk Sunday afternoon in Holland the speaker stated the case of the anti-saloon league of America that is making a campaign to overthrow the liquor traffic in the nation by passing a constitutional amendment and having the question presented to the various states. Mr. Corbett gave a very hopeful picture of the coming success of the anti-saloon forces in this country.

Mr. Corbett showed himself an authority on the subject that he presented to the audience. He is an entertaining speaker and he presented the case of the anti-saloon forces with great earnestness. He outlined what would have to be done in order to attain the complete banishment of the liquor traffic from this country through federal law.

STUDENTS TO DO CHURCH EXTENSION WORK

At a meeting held last Thursday afternoon the students of the Western Theological Seminary decided to do still greater church extension work in the rural districts around Holland than they have already done. Last summer a chapel was established in the Eastern part of the city and one at Beechwood where services are conducted Sunday evenings as an outgrowth of Sunday school work conducted by Hope College students for the past 15 years. Two committees were formed to work in different fields and to call on the families in their respective districts.

ABOUT TWENTY-FIVE OFFICIALS LOOKED OVER HOLLAND'S FIRE DISTRICT.

Give Valuable Advice to Citizens for Securing Lower Fire Insurance

A. C. Gilbert and Charles A. Kelley and some twenty-five other experts on fire prevention, representing the Michigan State Fire Prevention association, were in Holland Thursday to make an inspection here and to make recommendations about fire prevention. They made a thorough inspection of the fire district in Holland, going over the various premises carefully. No report has been made yet about how they found conditions here, but the following items of advice for fire prevention were issued by the men who were here:

A large part of the fire waste of this country is directly due to untidy conditions and other faults of management. Heavy loss naturally increases cost of insurance. A careful inspection of your entire premises daily will assist in bringing about a lower insurance cost.

Ashes should be kept in metal receptacles and never in paper or wooden boxes.

Oily rags or waste should be kept in standard metal waste cans, and contents removed and burned each night.

Rubbish should never be allowed to accumulate in buildings.

Spittoons should be made of metal and never contain sawdust or other combustible material.

Gasoline, naphtha and other volatile oils should not be kept in the building.

Gas brackets should have stiff fixtures. Metal bells should be placed over gas jets on low ceilings.

Steam pipes should be kept clear from all wood and other combustible materials.

Open fire holes should be protected with sheet iron or better be brick-ed up.

Electricity, when improperly installed, is hazardous; see that your certificate of approval covers the entire installation; lamp cords should not be hung on nails or wrapped around any piping; paper shades should never be used.

Stove pipes should run direct to brick chimneys and never through floors or partitions; protect floors under and above stoves with brick, cement or sheet metal.

Stairways should be kept clear at all times; never place any stock or shelving on stairs.

Aisles of good width should be maintained at all time; never pile stock in front of windows or against doors, as it handicaps the firemen in case of fire.

Fire doors and shutters should be closed every night, and stock should never be placed so as to hinder the ready closing of these fire stops.

See that all fire extinguishing apparatus is in good working order.

All of the above defects are charged for in your rate.

MRS. MAHAN'S RECITAL BARES WHOLE SCANDAL

THOMAS MAHAN BEGINS FIGHT FOR LIBERTY IN OTTAWA COUNTY COURT.

Insanity Plea and the Unwritten Law Expected to Figure in Trial Started Yesterday

Probably the most sensational case ever tried in an Ottawa Circuit court came to trial Monday afternoon. Thomas Mahan, is being tried upon the charge of attempting to maim the person of Fred Allison, Jr., upon finding him at his home with Mrs. Mahan on the night of April 14, 1914.

A carpenter's chisel, a mallet, a scarred board, and a blood-soaked floor mat, were carried into the court room from the jail to be used as exhibits in evidence. They were the instruments with which Mahan is charged to have designed to disable 19-year-old Fred Allison of Nunica, when he found him at the Mahan home on Fourth street.

The court came to order with two hundred people eager to hear the morbid details of the case.

Thomas Mahan sat stoically by the side of his Attorney Jay Lindsey, apparently much concerned in Prosecutor Osterhous' examination of the first twelve jurors called. By his side sat his wife, her face drawn in painful expression little resembling the woman of a few months ago.

Their three children all under 12 years, were with their mother—all pretty children, and of well kept appearance.

Fred Allison was not in the court room at the opening of the case. He sat in the ante room with Drs. Presley and De Kleine, who attended him on the night of Mahan's attack and until he was dismissed from the Marine Hospital months later. A few jurors were dismissed rapidly after the first drawing and the possibility of impaneling a jury Monday seemed small. However, Prosecutor Osterhous approved of twelve men finally drawn after an exhaustive examination.

The portrayal of a home undermined by a seducer, the disturbance of a circle, father, mother and children—the unwritten law whereby a man may be pardoned for outbreaks of a ferocious passion—are all expected to be arguments for the defendant.

And the prosecution will repeat the statement of Fred Allison, that he never went to the Mahan home except by solicitation of Mrs. Mahan. The jurors may be asked if a woman nearly twice as old in years could be seduced by the youth, Fred Allison.

Most of all pleas expected is that of temporary insanity. Attorney Lindsey may attempt to show the jury that in a wild rage, born of the circumstances—when Allison was found at the Mahan home—the defendant attempted to carry out his plan of disabling Allison for life.

Smedley & Lindsey are counsel for the defense; Prosecuting Attorney Osterhous is unassisted.

TELLS OF EVENTS LEADING UP TO THE NIGHT WHEN ALLISON WAS ATTACKED BY HER HUSBAND; EMPHASIZES INSANITY IDEA

Says Her Own Mistake the Cause.
Mrs. Thomas Mahan occupied the witness stand the greater part of Tuesday forenoon with her recital of every event leading up to the night of April 14, 1914, when Fred Allison was alleged to have been mutilated by a carpenter's chisel in the hand of Mahan.

Without mincing matters she told how she and Fred Allison had lived as husband and wife in both Grand Haven and Muskegon. After she had stayed in Muskegon for a week with Allison, she said Mahan came to the hotel Lawrence to find her's and Allison's names on the register. At that time the real beginning of the last family break came. She said that her husband seemed doubly enraged to think that she would receive him in the same apartments where she had lived with Allison.

Her following recital of the days when she left the home in Grand Haven, were filled with incidents of privation and hardship. She tells once of looking for employment in Grand Rapids with but 39 cents to her name.

"How did your husband appear, on the night this thing happened; what did your husband say to Allison?" asked Attorney Lindsey.

"He appeared moody all that week like I had never seen him," said Mrs.

Mahan, "and after he had tied Allison I wasn't in the house, of course I was on the front porch."

"Could hear what was said?"

"Yes, Allison said, 'Tom, I deserve whatever you give me.'"

"What did your husband say?"

"He said: 'How could you do it; didn't you think of my little Tom, my little girl and my little curly head?' When he said that he broke clear down and was crying. It was then Allison said, 'that.'"

The next few questions brought out the awful details of the following few minutes, when Allison was subjected to Mahan's attack.

"Were you in the house after first ordered out," asked Lindsey.

"Yes, I came to the back door and asked what he was doing."

Mrs. Mahan then told of how her husband kicked her in the back—then carrying her to a cot in the same room where Allison sat tied in a chair. She said she shammed greater pain than she felt to keep her husband's attention from Allison and said by her own mistake, she believed she caused Allison's injury a few minutes later.

"What did you say to your husband, then?" was asked.

"I said untie him; don't you see the ropes are choking him? That was when I was lying on the cot. Then Mr. Mahan flew into a renewed rage and it was a minute later that he told me to get out."

"Where were you then?"

"I stood in the wood shed. I realized that I had made an awful mistake. All the time I had been thinking that perhaps I could hold his attention from Allison. But when I said untie him, the mistake was made."

Then Mrs. Mahan told how she heard Dr. Presley come to the door; her husband say, "Wait a minute," and the awful pounding noise. Mahan went into the yard, then she said, and in broken tones of great emotion said, "O, what have I done; what have I done?" That was immediately after the pounding, according to Mrs. Mahan.

The cross examination brought out that over an hour elapsed from the time Allison was tied until mutilated with the chisel.

According to Mrs. Mahan's testimony, Allison refused to blame Mahan for the deed, the next morning when she saw him at the jail. She said Allison even asked her and her husband to visit him at the hospital.

Other witnesses introduced were Drs. Presley and Dr. De Kleine; Deputy Fortney who made the arrest, and Fred Allison. Their stories were all in repitition of the events described by Mrs. Mahan.

QUARTETTE THE BEST

The Weatherwax Bros. quartette is coming Wednesday, December 2.

They are equal if not superior to the famous Whitney quartet which made such a tremendous hit here a few years ago. The Weatherwax Bros. began their career in the Mc-Kinley campaign of 1896 and have many years of training and experience with audiences to back up their native ability. The quartette has the real "family harmony." They appear also as a trumpet quartette, producing a peculiarly grand quality of music. Besides the music two of the members are readers of marked ability and a highly entertaining program may be looked for. Tickets at Hardie's, 75c, 50c and 35c.

PRICE OF POTATOES 25c A BUSHEL

Because of poor prices many thousands of bushels of potatoes have been stored for sale in the spring, to better advantage it is hoped. There are a number of great warehouses holding 20,000 bushels each or more and many farmers are each able to put several thousands of bushels away in the same manner. It is said that not ten per cent. of the great crop has been sent. Only twenty-five cents per bushel is now offered in Wexford county.

Fennville, Mich., Nov. 24—A little after midnight Monday, Fred Chellman, 19 years old, and Lester Wright were returning from a drive in the country with a horse and carriage belonging to the Wittles Livery of this place, they were struck by a Pere Marquette freight engine which was backing near the depot. The horse was badly mangled and buggy demolished. The boys jumped in time to save themselves. A veterinary was summoned from Holland and the animal was shot.

DICK'S PARTNER

By George F. Pickett

(Copyright by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

HERE was snow on the peaks and the wind swept down the slopes and skurried wildly through the canyon.

The train pulled out from the little mountain station and left a passenger who stood on the platform looking over at the southwestern range as if dropped suddenly from another planet into an unknown life which presented puzzles of bewildering character.

"Be you Miss Lyleford?"

The girl looked attentively at the shaggy face as if with a view of classifying it and assigning it a place in the vast museum of human nature before admitting her identity.

"I am. You, I suppose, are Mr. Mawyer?"

"Yes; I'm Dick's pard."

Miss Lyleford extended her hand to him, while a smile lit up her face brilliantly.

"I am deeply indebted to Dick's pard," she said.

"No; it's t'other way 'round. I'm owing' you for a sight o' things; more particularly Dick's life."

She clasped her hands and a look of anxiety replaced the smile with which she had greeted him.

"He will get well?"

"Sure—now. The sight o' you'd call back a man what had already staked his claim in t'other world and filed his application with the land office up yonder. He wouldn't want no land patent when he could take out the patent for the happiness o' jest lookin' at you."

The winning smile came back and dimpled her cheeks and filled each curve of her face with ripples of light.

"A girl what can make sunshine out o' all the clouds around her can take the grumps out o' any man," thought "Dick's pard," looking at her admiringly.

"Now, miss, we'd better mosey," he said, "fer it's gittin' dark and the road 'long to our place isn't jist the path I'd recommend a delicate young lady to take when she wanted a constitutional to brace up a run down system. You ain't skeered o' most things, are ye?"

"I don't think so."

"No, I should think if a river of fire and brimstun was here and somebody a "wink of his voice," and his own personally conducted train drew up beside him. Daisy Lyleford looked curiously at the strange little beast, with its pathetic expression of unvarying patience and strict devotion to duty.

"I never had a pass over this route," she said.

"You won't find it such bad goin', though it isn't eal to the lightning express for speed. It gets there just the same and lays over the express in the matter o' landin' you most generally in one piece."

He assisted Miss Lyleford to mount the palfrey of the hills and the journey was begun, the miner leading the burro along a narrow winding path that ran across the foothills and along the edge of the canyon that opened darkly into the heart of the range. The sun went suddenly behind the mountains and night closed down early here while yet it was day in the valley. Over in the southwest flashes of lightning gleamed across the purple heights and thunder rolled faintly up the canyon.

"You must not be afraid of our mountain storms. They don't amount to much, 'cept to look pretty. An' this little cuss will take you safe as a rockin' hoss."

She smiled up at the rugged, kindly face that was dimly visible by the flashes of light.

"I shall not be afraid of anything with you to take care of me. I remember how good you were to Dick." "Sho', now! I didn't do anything for him. He was mighty good to me when I hit the slag pile; that is, when I was down on my luck, you know."

"I know what you did," she said, softly, and her voice was like a strain of music across the wind that drifted down from the mountain. "He told me how you were his friend when he first came to the mines, a 'tenderfoot,' he called it, and how you 'knocked out' Big Stoker when he tried to play pranks on him. Then he told me about the time you went prospecting together on the west slope. It seems to me that I have gone over that trail scores of times. I have felt the desert sun blaze down on me till every drop of blood in my veins turned to fire."

"And then the climb away up the mountain, stumbling over rocks and slipping on smooth slides and scaling almost vertical slopes, and then the top, shivering in the cold, freezing in the sharp winds."

"It is a little coldishlike nights, waitin' fer the sun to rise; but, lordy! ain't it a fine sight when she does git up? It kind o' pays fer settin' round on top o' the hill tryin' to keep warm by a brush fire that goes out mos' as soon as it kindles."

"Then that time Dick slipped on a glare of ice and fell down the side of the mountain into a crevice, and you crawled down and found him there hurt so that he could not move, and you put your own coat around him to keep him warm and sat against the wind to shelter him from it. You set his broken ankle and nursed him through all the days that he was helpless, watching him day and night. You scarcely ate anything in all the time that Dick could not be moved, lest the food that you had brought for the journey should give out and Dick might suffer. Then, when he was able to bear the motion, you carried him in your arms down to the plain and to the little station and took care of him till he was well."

"Sho', now! Did Dick tell you all that stuff?"

"He would have died that time if it had not been for you."

"That's nothin' fer a man to do."

"I think it is a great thing for a man to do. It shows friendship, and I think that is not a common thing in life."

O PUMPKIN PIE

By WILBUR D. NESBIT

O pumpkin pie!

Athwart thy face
A hundred fancies may I trace!
I see the glint of summer sun,
And twilight, when the day is done;
The sober peace of mowing cows
Who in the meadow grasses browse;
The radiant glory of the morn'
That sweeps across the nodding corn.
A thousand happy fancies start
When thou art nestling near my heart.

O pumpkin pie!

I hear the breeze
That whispered in the maple trees;
I see the swaying fields of wheat,
And hear the birdsongs, clear and sweet;
And, low across the land at night,
I catch the ballad of delight—
The chant the cricket sings in glee;
And summer comes again to me.
O pumpkin pie! Thus dost thou cast
Thy joyous glamour o'er the past.

O pumpkin pie!

Within thy breast
These gladsummer fancies rest;
The golden sunshine and the dew,
Have paid their tribute through and through.

The song the lark trilled in the air
Within thy form is echoed there;
For all these things of joy to me
Were caught and firmly held by thee.
O pumpkin pie! For all thou didst
I welcome thee unto my midst!

(Copyright by Wilbur D. Nesbit)

"Dick's my pardner," he said, quietly. Miss Lyleford had heard men say "he is my brother" with less of the finality of self-surrender that was expressed in the simple statement of the relationship of this miner with his friend. She heard a soldier say once "He is my comrade," with something of the deep, soft, earnest intonation of her escort.

A note in the sound of her voice reminded him of a voice he used to know away back in the years—his boyhood years—when he used to play with a girl in the schoolhouse yard. That voice had drifted away in silence long ago and he had not thought of it for years, except sometimes when he lay awake nights and heard a soft wind sweep through the pine trees. To his ear the wind had an undertone of sadness, as if it might have drifted over a grave.

A blaze of lightning lit up the mountain pathway. From the narrow ledge that wound around a steep wall of rock the girl looked down into the depths of a canyon that seemed to open into the heart of the earth.

"Balaam will take you safe through, no matter how shaky it looks."

She looked up into the kindly, reassuring face, and smiled confidently.

"I am not afraid; but it all seems so strange and so beautiful, and awful. It is uplifted so far above the world that I do not seem to belong to earth any more. I wonder how the people who are used to such scenes feel, and if they are not larger and grander than we who live on the common levels."

"I s'pose most folks are about the same old bad pennies, no matter where they live nor what they look at."

"How do you know about me so far away?"

"Dick had told me where he come from, and then, when he was out o' his head, he talked about you, and I thought mebbe you lived back where he did. He didn't talk about anybody else, and I thought mebbe you might be all he had, and then I sent the telegram hoping you might get it and come."

"You and I are all he has, and we will save him."

The man lifted his face up toward the dark sky.

"Yes, please God, we'll save him."

They had left the narrow defile and were on a high plateau.

"There is Tent Town just before us. That is our camp. We have no houses yet. Will you mind staying in a tent?"

"I shall love it. I never saw a tent before. It will be such a novel experience to live in one."

"That is his tent that has the light in it. Away over there, where the clouds have divided and there is a big, white star shining down onto it."

They fixed their gaze on the white tent and silence fell upon them until they had reached the little cluster of tents and Daisy's escort led her to the one next that on which the white star shone.

"This is yours next to his. Bill's taking care of Dick. Do you see the pink light in the window? That means he is better. I told Bill to put that light in the window if he was so that you might see it."

She stood for a moment in the doorway and looked over toward the east, where Thanksgiving day would dawn in a few hours. How full of gladness was the deep, dark night.

NETHERLANDS PAPER DE-CLARES QUEEN WILHELMINA AND PRESIDENT WILSON ARE TWO MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE FOR PEACE

Suggests These Two Rulers Command Respect of All Parties; No "Games"

The Handelsblad, published in Amsterdam prints an editorial headed "Is Intervention Possible?" in which it urges the co-operation of the Queen of the Netherlands and President Woodrow Wilson of the United States in using "this psychological moment" to offer mediation by these two neutral nations.

"Since in three and a half months the peoples of Europe and Asia have been drawn into war of which the original issues now have been forgotten," says the editorial, "future ideal results are impossible. The war is fast degenerating into a purposeless conflict calling upon all the worst passions of all the nations."

"Winter is approaching, and the misery everywhere is incredible. The number of dead on the battlefields is being increased by numbers of innocent people, who are perishing from illness and starvation. Has not the moment come to save what can be saved?"

"Two countries are plainly indicated as the ones which should make the first attempt. They are the kingdom of the Netherlands and the United States—the Netherlands because this country is without enemies and for centuries has been the center of the development of international law; the United States because through its geographical situation and universally appreciated sentiments and principles, its much honored president can offer his services without arousing suspicions on the part of any of the warring nations."

"This is the moment to act. The American minister at The Hague, who is thoroughly familiar with the internal working of European politics, is on his way to America, where he enjoys the entire confidence of the American government. Queen Wilhelmina is respected in America as well as beloved. The Dutch minister of foreign affairs is well known as he is esteemed in America."

"The possibility which is now offered may never return. The time has come to act immediately, and coming generations will thank the queen and the president for their courage to say the first mighty word which will show the peoples of Europe the way to lasting peace."

Mrs. J. G. Van Duren, chairman of the Civic Health Committee of the W. L. C. has made arrangements with the National Tuberculosis association and with the manager of the Apollo Theater in this city to enlist the aid of the motion picture in the work of anti-tuberculosis propaganda. The picture will be shown here on November 25. Holland is one of 75 cities in the United States for which the feature has been secured. The picture is shown in connection with the campaign for selling Red Cross seals that is now in progress.

The picture was prepared by the Edison company and its title is "The Temple of Moloch." It will be as entertaining as any motion picture story, a regular plot having been provided, including a love story of considerable interest. The plot hinges on the adventures of a young doctor who finds health conditions in the factory owned by the father of the girl he loves very bad. A struggle ensues between what he considers duty and his love for the girl, duty winning. Later tuberculosis attacks the family of the owner of the factory and the doctor is vindicated. The factory owner sees what he must do and improves conditions. Incidentally the young doctor wins the girl.

HOLLAND PEOPLE WILL HAVE TO STAND THEIR PART OF WAR ASSESSMENT

Telegraph Messages, Telephone Calls Etc., to Be Higher as Result of Tax.

The war tax passed by congress to make up the deficiency in the national treasury caused by the almost complete cessation of import duties caused by the war, will become operative December 10.

After that date every person in Holland sending a telegram the cost of which amounts to 15 cents or more in tolls must pay a war tax of one cent on the message. Long distance telephone calls amounting to 15 cents will be taxed a similar sum, together with freight and express shipments, and palace, parlor, or sleeping car tickets.

This tax is to be collected by the company which makes the collection for the message or service, and is to be turned over to the United States treasury at the conclusion of each month. The revenue stamps will be on sale at various offices of the telegram, telephone, freight and passenger companies, December 1, and the tax stamps will be placed on every message, receipts and bill of lading for freight shipments issued on and after that date.

These are some of the provisions of the special war tax which becomes operative within a few days, and a list of these sections which are of special interest to residents in this city have been compiled.

Below are the items selected, to be taxed, the amount—that is the stamps that must be applied—and by whom it must be paid.

Shipments by freight or express: each shipment where charge exceeds 5 cents, 1c affixed and canceled by shipper. Bill of lading must be issued for each shipment.

Message by telegraph or telephone: Each message where charge is 15c or over, 1c to be collected by telegraph or telephone company from the person paying for the message.

Palace, parlor or sleeping car: Seat in palace or parlor car, or berth in sleeping car, 1c company selling such seat or berth.

Vessel tickets: Passage ticket for each passenger sold in United States for passage by vessel to any foreign port or place, costing $10 or less, exempt from tax; costing over $10, not over $30, $1; costing over $30 not over $60, $3; costing over $60, $5. Stamp affixed and cancelled by purchaser.

Insurance policy on property: against marine or other perils, $1 or fractions of premium, 1/2-c stamp affixed and canceled by purchaser.

Custom house entry: Entry of goods at custom house, either for consumption or warehousing: Not over $100 value, 25c; over $100, not over $500 value, 50c; over $500 value, $1; stamp affixed and canceled by person making entry.

CHAMPION COW SETS NEW RECORD FOR MILK

California Bovine Produces More Than 30,000 Pounds in Less Than Year

Woodland, Cal., Nov. 18.—Champion Tillie Aloastra, a Woodland cow, has set a new record for milk production in excess of 30,000 pounds in a year.

The year will be up tomorrow, but the 30,000 pounds mark was passed several days ago.

Tillie Aloastra is a 5 year old Holstein-Friesian. She set a new record last year, surpassing by a few pounds the 29,592 pounds mark made by a Massachusetts cow.

FELT IN PLACE OF SOLE LEATHER

ER

You may be wearing shoes with soles of felt instead of leather.

The continuous rise in the price of leather has set manufacturers to cudgeling their brains for a substitute. It has perhaps been found in felt, which is much less expensive, but wears two or three times as long.

It is manufactured by a special treatment of waterproof felt, which makes it look very like leather. The invention has many good qualities; it will not slip on wet or waxed surfaces, and is made in so many degrees of flexibility that it may be treated precisely like leather. Felt is a non-conductor of heat and cold, and it is consequently, claimed that felt-soled shoes will be comfortable in winter and summer for this reason.

LIKE MR. GETZ GRAND RAPIDS, G. VAN SCHELVEN GIVES INSTRUCTIONS HOW TO SEND PACKAGES BY PARCELS POST.

POST.

The establishment of the parcel post has given a wonderful impetus to the use of the mails as a means of distributing Christmas gifts, and in view of the increased weight limit, reduced postage rates, and other extensions of the service, it is anticipated that the amount of mail during the approaching holiday season will exceed all previous records.

In order that the Christmas mail may be handled promptly and satisfactorily, it is essential that the public co-operate with the postal service to the fullest extent. The Department wishes to impress this fact upon patrons and also the importance of the careful observance by the public of the following simple directions:

Winship Hold Insurance Companies Must Buy Federal War Tax Stamps.

Insurance Commissioner John Winship rendered the following opinion in regard to the collection of the federal stamp tax upon insurance policies:

"The situation in Michigan is such that a company cannot pass this tax as a separate item on to the assured or to the agent. If the company seeks to have the assured pay the tax it will be in violation of act No. 285 of the public acts of 1913, which prohibits the collection from the assured of any fee or charge in addition to the premium charge made by the company from assuming the risk. If the company seeks to have the tax paid by the agent, it will be in violation of act No. 127, of the public acts of 1911, prohibiting rebates on premiums of fire insurance policies, the only method by which the company can pass the tax on to the assured would be by including it in the premium itself, as written in the policy and it would have to be included as a part of the premium and not as a separate item."

"The company could do this, because we have no law regulating the rates. The company could not, however, make a premium rate and a revenue tax charge also, nor can the matter be billed as two items to the assured. The entire charge must appear as the premium."

"The above ruling is subject to an investigation as to whether a federal court has ever ruled that an insurance company may pass a similar federal tax on to an assured. If such is the case, I do not believe our anti-policy fee law would operate against the decision of the federal court."

Well Known Quartet Which Is To Appear Here Uses Trumpets Specially Made for Them, Also Vocalists

The Weatherwax Brothers, who are to appear here soon, did their first public work in the fall of 1896, when they sang throughout northern Iowa in the notable McKinley campaign. They made such a hit everywhere that year that there was an immediate demand for them on the Lyceum and Chautauqua platform.

This quartet, in addition to vocal music, also appears in a trumpet quartet which always brings forth the admiration of those who love rich, heroic music. Trumpets are comparatively seldom used on the Lyceum platform, and it is a treat to hear them when well played. The trumpets which they use were made especially for this quartet.

As to the vocal work of this quartet, all four brothers have fine voices and have had years of practice together, which has resulted in most excellent harmony. They have all been natural musicians from their infancy, and as some one has truly said, "Their voices have a decidedly family blend." A unique feature of this organization is that there are 2 readers in the company.

A new kind of soap is to be used without water, says an exchange. We'll soon be able to dry-clean ourselves, as it were.

Chas. Osborn bows to the will of the people—but probably not to their judgment.

G. VAN SCHELVEN GIVES INSTRUCTIONS HOW TO SEND PACKAGES BY PARCELS POST.

POST.

The establishment of the parcel post has given a wonderful impetus to the use of the mails as a means of distributing Christmas gifts, and in view of the increased weight limit, reduced postage rates, and other extensions of the service, it is anticipated that the amount of mail during the approaching holiday season will exceed all previous records.

In order that the Christmas mail may be handled promptly and satisfactorily, it is essential that the public co-operate with the postal service to the fullest extent. The Department wishes to impress this fact upon patrons and also the importance of the careful observance by the public of the following simple directions:

Time of Mailing

Patrons are vitally interested in the delivery of packages on or before Christmas day, and hence every effort should be put forth to make delivery of all Christmas packages before the close of that day. In order to secure this object, and facilitate the labors of postal employees, the co-operation of patrons is earnestly requested.

It should be noted in this connection that parcels may bear the words "Not to be opened until Christmas," or similar inscription, and that this, together with early shipment, insures the timeliness of Christmas gifts; whereas the practice of mailing packages late, in hopes that they will still reach their destination on Christmas day, is likely to defeat its own object through unavoidable delay, due to the congestion of the mails at this particular season of the year.

Preparing of Parcels

Special attention is invited to the necessity of having parcels properly wrapped and fully and plainly addressed (in ink, if practicable); the name and address of the sender must also be placed, in the upper left hand corner.

Tags should be avoided, if practicable, but when used, should be securely fastened to the parcel, and as a precautionary measure the address should also be endorsed on the parcel proper.

All parcels must be presented at the post office window (or to rural carrier,) and not placed in street package boxes. Do not seal them, as sealed packages are subject to postage at the letter rate.

An essential feature in preparing parcels for mailing, especially during the holiday season, is that they be firm and solid. This applies particularly to paper boxes. All surplus space should be filled in with paper, excelsior, or the like, so as to render the package solid. No paper box, unless thus prepared, can withstand the handling it receives at depot transfers, whether placed inside of mail sacks or not. Neglect to do this occasions more breakage and damage to the contents of paper boxes than any other cause.

Written inscriptions, such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and numbers, names or letters for purpose of description, are permissible additions to parcel post mail. Books may bear simply dedicatory inscriptions, not of a personal nature. Other written additions subject parcels to letter postage. Communications prepaid at first-class rate may be sent with parcels prepaid at parcel post rate; provided, they are securely attached to outside parcels.

Fragile articles, such as millinery, toys, musical instruments, etc., and articles consisting wholly or in part of glass, or contained in glass, must be securely packed in a double-faced corrugated paste-board or wooden box, and the parcel stamped or labeled "Fragile." Parcels so labeled will be handled with the greatest care.

Perishable Articles

Articles of a perishable nature cannot be accepted, unless in such condition at the time of mailing, as to reasonably assure their arrival at destination and delivery in good order. This is obligatory, in order to protect other mail matter against damage or loss.

Insurance and C. O. D. Valuable parcels can be insured. The fee is five cents for $25, and ten cents for $50.

Prospective senders of insured or C. O. D. parcels may obtain at the post office, in advance, the number of tags which they will need, to be filled out and attached to the parcels before presentation at the post office. This will result in a great saving of time, not only to the postal employees, but to senders of such matter, besides relieving the congestion at the postoffice, and the inconvenience caused patrons thereby.

G. Van Schelven, Postmaster.
