Xmas Savings Time Is Here Again - Hurrah!

HOLLAND BANKS TO PAY $65,000 IN CHRISTMAS CHECKS MONDAY

There is at least one bright spot in Holland and in Ottawa county for the banks of Holland and Zeeland are about to send out to patrons the money they saved for Christmas during the past year.

The cashiers of the two Holland banks, C. Van der Meulen of the First State and Henry Geerds of the Holland City State Bank, have announced that checks are now being prepared and will be mailed to more than 1800 within the next 10 days. The total amount sent out in Christmas savings in Holland will be about $65,000 and this will materially aid in bringing a measure of prosperity to this neighborhood.

Zeeland banks are also about to mail out Christmas checks bringing new life and cheer to that community.

A Christmas savings check will never look so welcome as this year, 1932. This method of saving was started in Holland about 18 years ago and each year the method has grown more popular. Inquiries are already being made by new prospective patrons as to when the next club will open. The club for 1933 is already begun with Miss Ann Heinicke's smiling face at the Christmas savings window of the First State bank and the wistful smile from Mary Schieringa that carries with it a "thank you" from a customer at a similar window at the Holland City State Bank.

No doubt there will be plenty of places to use the money but we suggest that should you spend it for gifts, Holland is the place to spend it. The money remains here, works here and is spent over and over again in your own city.

What ever you don't forget to start a new savings club for next year. Those who are cash in on their 1932 Christmas savings will fully realize how it feels to be in touch with ready cash at this time of the year when the demands on the purse strings are heaviest—and you can "bet your bottom dollar" the Christmas savers of 1932 will not be lost in signing up again for 1933.

PEOPLE'S STATE BANK REORGANIZATION IS POSSIBLE SOON

The People's State bank, which went into receivership nearly a year ago, is nearing the goal for a proposed reorganization which requires signed agreements of at least 85 per cent of total deposits. Voluntary signatures of more than 65 per cent or more than 1,800 depositors have been filed. The committee representing the depositors consists of John Vandewijk, Oscar Petersen, Fred Beuwkes, George Tinkhof and George Stefens.

The committee urges that depositors who have not signed do so immediately to prevent delay in the completion of other phases in the project, necessary before the bank can be reorganized and reopened, which all takes time.

The first step taken along the lines of reorganization were when a public meeting of depositors was called at the Armory by Receiver Clarence Jalling about three weeks ago.

At that time the entire plan was set forth by Mr. Jalling, Judge Miles and others. The progress made thus far is very gratifying to those in charge.

HOPE-HOLLAND TEAMS TO BE FETED

The next meeting of the Exchanges on December 7 will be the club's annual "Football Night" when the members take the football teams of Holland high school and Hope college as sons for the evening. James Hasselman, prominent football referee from Michigan State college, will speak on that occasion and besides there will be others on the program and plenty of music and good eats. The boys deserve a good sendoff and that is what they will receive at the Tavern next Wednesday.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN HOOVER GUARD

Two photographs showing Frank E. Doebberg as one of the guards of President Herbert Hoover on his recent trip to California have been received by his brother, Harry R. Doebberg, druggist. Doebberg left the postal service here nearly 30 years ago. He once was secretary to Senator William Alden Smith and served as special stenographer in the senate. His home is in Los Angeles. He was born at Holland.

Saturday has been designated by the Karsten post, American Legion, of Zeeland, as toy collection day. The post will hold its second annual Christmas party on Dec. 24. It is collecting toys and repairing and mending broken ones. Boy Scouts will assist with the collection of the toys, making a house to house canvass.

Miss Nellie Breen of Holland, a missionary to Sudan, Africa, who is home on her first furlough, will address the congregation of Third Christian Reformed church at Zeeland Dec. 15. Miss Breen was a former teacher in the parochial school here until she left for the mission work.

Today, Friday, at 2:30 o'clock, mothers and children of the cradle roll department of Sixth Reformed church will meet in the church basement for a Christmas party. Gifts will be exchanged. Mrs. C. J. Westrate, superintendent of the department, will be assisted by Mrs. Louis Dalman, Mrs. Gerrit Lemmen, Mrs. Lina Ter Louw and Mrs. J. Vanderbeek.

Do It Soon

Now that the annual day of Thanksgiving is over, the next thing ahead is Christmas; and we venture to repeat an old and familiar piece of advice. Shop early. Local stores have their holiday stocks on their shelves and counters, and in their show windows. The persons who set out immediately to buy their Christmas gifts, have a full assortment to select from. They have plenty of time in which to pick and choose. They will be able to secure careful individual thought and attention which salespeople simply cannot bestow on a customer in the midst of a hectic, last minute rush. Shopping today can be done calmly and discriminatingly and can be made a real pleasure. It can be done economically, too, because wise selection always signifies economy no matter what sum may be spent. It means something also to be able to get a particular gift for a particular person. There is a satisfaction in the memory of that sort of an achievement that lasts long after the holiday season is over and the world is thinking of other things.

So make up your list in accordance with the size of your pocket-book and do your shopping while a shopping tour can be made a holiday all by itself.

Holland merchants welcome you—they are prepared for you. Holland shopkeepers need your business—Holland needs your business for with it more business is created for all who live here. It's a mutual proposition.

Holland Folks Continue to Run the City Mission

HOLLAND EXCHANGE WANTS MISSION TO BE CONTINUED LOCALLY BY 39 TO 8 VOTE

Ernest C. Brooks, former mayor, was in charge of the Exchange club meeting at Warm Friend Tavern, where considerable discussion was indulged in whether to retain the City Mission so well founded by the late Miss Nellie Churchford, or to have the Salvation Army take over the property, which carries a debt of approximately $10,700. It seems to be the understanding that the Salvation Army, who had a representative present, would take over this property for the debt and continue to conduct it along the lines of their other missions known to the world over.

Contractor Frank Dyke, when asked what he thought the building worth, ventured the figure of between $25,000 and $30,000 in good times. It is a fine location and a well built structure.

J. A. Vander Veen, who has had much to do with mission work, gave a financial report of the institution and made a plea that it remain in local hands.

Dr. Thomas W. Davidson, who has seen a great deal of how the Salvation Army works in England, advised that the army should take it over. He pointed out the efficiency of the Salvation Army and forcefully denied the many things said of this wonderful organization who's benevolent undertaking in helping the "down and outs," as well as fallen girls, is well known. Eight girls from Ottawa were mentioned as having been helped and who have gone straight through the good offices of the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army, represented by Brigadier Edwin Clayton of the Grand Rapids division, in presenting the aspect of the proposed organization, stated that the Army would continue as the local mission was doing with two Sunday services, Sunday school, weekly meetings and personal calls. The Salvation Army as a corporation would liquidate the mortgage if the building as it stands would be signed over to them. In defense of the argument that the Army subscription went for work outside the city, Mr. Clayton said that an organization, 10 per cent of the funds from Holland would go to the Grand Rapids office, one per cent to Chicago and one-tenth per cent to national headquarters. He also maintained that "Not five cents in 50 years has gone outside of the United States, except for foreign missions."

Alex Van Zanten, Arthur Vischer, Fred Beuwkes, others made pleas to have the Mission remain in local hands at least a while longer. Dr. A. Leenhouts, however, made the final appeal that the Salvation Army be given the task to continue the work here.

When the ballots were counted the vote stood 39 to 8 to have Rev. Looman, the man now in charge, continue in his work. It is estimated that the cost of operating the Mission annual is about $2,200. The Mission was built some 7 years ago and the building was done by Holland carpenters and bricklayers, who donated their services.

TELEPHONE POLE SNAPS WHEN CAR STRIKES IT

A telephone pole was snapped off on Seventh street, Grand Haven, about 1 p. m. when a car driven by Mrs. Marjorie Ketter, 165 Fairbank street, Holland, climbed the curb and crashed into the pole, injuring neither the driver nor her husband, who was riding in the car.

The driver told the police that she was endeavoring to pass a truck and was forced over to the curb. The pole will have to be replaced and considerable damage was done to the car. The crash brought a crowd to the scene and city officers took charge—Grand Haven Tribune.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Anglemire have returned to Warm Friend Tavern to make their home for the winter, after spending the summer in Saugatuck.

Hungry Man Is Driven to Theft to Keep Alive

MAN RESORTS TO LARCENY TO KEEP WIFE AND FAMILY FROM STARVING TO DEATH

John Horn, said to be a former policeman of Grand Rapids, stole an outboard motor from the cottage of A. E. Jacobson and Paul A. Johnson, near Grand Haven, which he hoped to sell, he said, to get a few dollars to keep his family from starving.

The family came to Grand Haven from Pontiac in a car and trailer and were found by the state police at the Spring Lake camping grounds, living in the trailer with no heat, no food and hardly sufficient clothing to keep from freezing. The man found the motor and had gone to Michigan City to sell it, when the police there picked him up for the local authorities.

He promised to come back and return the outboard and the sheriff is placing him on his own recognizance. If the officers proceed with the law, the sheriff said he would recommend suspended sentence of any kind. The arrest was made on a simple larceny charge.

The wife and five little children ranging in age from three months to 10 years, were taken to the state police headquarters at Ferrysburg and there thawed out and food provided. Since then a bushel of coal, some potatoes and other food have been secured.

The case is one of the most pitiful that has come to light in Ottawa county. The Salvation Army, already drained, could not assist the family and neither could the welfare department of the township, as the family had just come from Pontiac. They were not eligible for help there on account of the length of residence. The family has been wandering from place to place, the man said, looking for work of some kind.

The officers said the children were particularly attractive and their condition wrung their hearts as they supplied them with food and comforts for the time.

Just what is to be done with the family is not known. Mr. Jacobson, who learned the conditions, offered to assist the family and to drop any proceedings against the unfortunate father, the sheriff said.

It is hoped, Sheriff Steketee said, that individuals will come to the rescue of this little family in some way. "They cannot be left to starve or freeze to death in a land where there is still plenty," he stated.

Anyone wishing to contribute in some way may do so by communicating with Lieut. Guy Baugh at the state police station at Grand Haven.

During the past week, when the weather has been so cold, it is a wonder that some of the family did not freeze to death and add an even greater tragedy to the little circle whose fate has been so cruel due to the economic conditions, said Sheriff Steketee.

This man is not bad at heart, in fact he was in despair to save his family. Everything possible should be done for these unfortunate.

John Horn, arrested for larceny of an outboard motor, was given the alternative of twenty days in the county jail or taking himself and family back to Pontiac, where they came from in a car and trailer a few days ago. The officers said Horn would go back as soon as he was able to get his car in condition. The community has been aroused by the pitiful condition of the family and the attractiveness of the children awoke unusual sympathy. The family is well supplied with provisions of food and clothing for some time, said the state police today.

Make Raid On A Fennville Cider Mill

PETTY THEIVING IN NORTH ALLEGAN COUNTY

Considerable petty thieving has been going on in the vicinity of Fennville. Thanksgiving night thieves carried off the penny weighing machine in the entrance of the Weaver drug store; also the peanut vending machines at the McTaggart and Bale filling stations. None of these machines could have had more than 50 cents in them. The Weaver machine cost $135, and was found smashed open in the edge of Goshorn lake north of Saugatuck. Dr. Walker's office in Saugatuck and a garage house there were burglarized about $200 in cash and some drugs being taken.

Quite early Sunday morning S. J. Beagle of Fennville was awakened by the noise of a Ford car near his office and saw two men get out and take a pile and keg out of the car and go toward the Steffen cider mill. He went out to the car and took the number of the license plates and met the men as they were coming back to get their car. They claimed they had done nothing, but went away with the car, after which Beagle took his gun and went up to the mill where he found the keg which they had filled with hard cider by crawling up the side of a tall tank and letting down pails full by the aid of a rope. Sheriff Reed traced the car and arrested two suspects. One recently was in Jackson prison for grand larceny out of Detroit. A good deal of this thieving has been going on and proper punishment of offenders may put a stop to further trouble.

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT AND MRS. G. J. DIEKEMA WERE TENDERED A FAREWELL RECEPTION AT THE HOME OF MR. AND MRS. GEORGE E. KOLLEN, ATTENDED BY 300 GUESTS. MR. AND MRS. DIEKEMA EXPECT TO TAKE UP THEIR RESIDENCE IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL IN THE DEWEY HOUSE.

Joos Ver Planke, 38, is a Holland visitor. He is the sole survivor of Company I, 25th Michigan Infantry. He was city marshal from 1873 to 1876 and was Ottawa county's first Democratic sheriff.

An Old Timer

There is some talk of repeating the colored lights festooning along River avenue and Eighth street, connecting the boulevard light standards on those main thoroughfares.

It has always been a beautiful Yuletide decoration, and it is hoped that the city will again be enabled, through the co-operation of the merchants, to at least devise some kind of a decoration of this nature. We understand Christmas trees are also to be featured and Christmas, 1932, we hope, will not be a bleak one altogether.

And while we are on street illuminations it is rather interesting to take a peep at River avenue when it is still River street and see our first street illumination. This arch effect was later also carried out on Eighth street. This was a quarter of a century ago, but it helped plant the seed of better street illumination which eventually resulted in our beautiful boulevard lighting system of today.

THREE-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER OF FORMER HOLLAND MAYOR DIES

A very sad and untimely taking away occurred in the family of our recent mayor when little Miss Jean Ruth Brooks, three-year-old daughter of Former Mayor and Mrs. Earnest C. Brooks, died Tuesday evening at Holland hospital following an illness of four days. She was born in Holland on March 31, 1929.

Besides her parents the child is survived by a brother, Louis Upham Brooks; a sister, Margery, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Walsh of Holland, and Mrs. Louise Brooks of Wheaton, Ill.

Funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, 659 State street. Rev. Thomas W. Davidson, pastor of Hope Reformed church, and Rev. H. Hoppers of Western Theological seminary, officiated. Interment took place in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Official statistics of crime in the kingdom of the Netherlands, recently published, shows that crimes and offenses against the law are constantly on the increase. But it is not the machinery of justice that there are comparatively few arrests and convictions. During the year 1881 there were only 611 persons accused before the courts, out of a population of 4,000,000 or one for every 6,733 persons. It is still more noticeable that of these only 72 were women and only 11 were below the age of 16. In comparison, however, a report from the United States shows the crime list is many times larger. Note: No, this was 50 years ago, not today. It seems that crimes committed by youths were low. Today it is appalling and the crimes are of the more terrible nature.

Our lamp lighter, old Mr. Noble, the "Santa Claus" looking gentleman, has had his pay increased. We now hope to see our street lamps well trimmed, oiled and lighted.

Mr. John H. Eppink, treasurer of Allegan county, has been solicited by the G. R. & I. to go to the Netherlands as their railroad agent to get Hollanders to come over and colonize in western Michigan. The company could not secure a better man.

Among the 29 teachers' certificates granted to applicants who stood the county school examinations at Grand Haven were John B. Nykerk, Mary Vischer, Christine Vaupell of Holland; also Magne Luidens and P. M. Stegenga of New Holland, and M. Klot of Drenthe.

Wm. Weed of the Douglas Basket factory made some 140,000 peach baskets, 6,000 peach boxes and over 5,000 berry crates this season and had their help been greater, could have turned out many more. Look out for them next year.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Dr. and Mrs. Ed Kremers have moved into their beautiful new home on Pine Ave. and West 14th St. Note: The home is now owned by Mr. Arend Bosman.

FARMERS INSTITUTE NEXT WEEK AT HOLLAND ARMORY

Secretary Harry Wetter of the Holland Chamber of Commerce announces that arrangements are practically completed for the Third Annual Farmers Institute to be held at the Holland Armory beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning with dinner served by the Holland merchants at noon. A follow-up program in the afternoon with prizes given at 4 o'clock, together with coffee is also planned. The high school band will furnish a concert during the dinner hour and a real get-together affair can be depended upon next Thursday. Holland merchants will don aprons and caps and they will serve as "chief cooks and bottle washers." All farmers who read this invitation are urged to come, also tell your friends.

Burglars Enter And Rifle Many Zealand Homes

PROBABLY THE WORK OF YOUNG BOYS; SHY, AND PREPARED FOR A RAPID EXIT

(Zeeland Record)

Burglars on Thanksgiving Day afternoon and evening ransacked a large number of homes in this city but their booty was very limited in comparison.

The work is probably that of boys looking for cash only, because in several cases valuable jewelry was left untouched but pennies were gathered up clean. The burglars were old enough to realize that they could easily be detected by jewelry and other valuables that could be identified if they confined their depredations to cash.

On South Centennial street five homes were entered mainly south of Central avenue. A car was seen parked in front of the Smith home where it later developed no one was at home and entrance made. Their method was probably to test whether anyone was at home, then make entrance, ransack the home and pass on to the next. Whether anyone saw the perpetrators has not been revealed, but they must have worked a long time judging by the number of homes entered. Contents of bureau drawers were "scrambled" and thrown about, while contents of boxes and containers were dumped onto the beds. They evidently were very cautious, leaving both front and rear doors ajar for a quick exit.

In most cases little or nothing was taken, but some housekeepers who were saving pennies for nickels had their hoardings pilfered. In one instance a lady returned home for her purse after starting for Grand Rapids, picking it up without examining it, and after arriving there she found herself penniless when she was about to use the two or three dollars she had possessed.

The wedding party gathered about the fireplace while the wedding ceremony was said.

Miss Laepple was charmingly gowned in a room colored suit of blue cloth, trimmed with beaver, and carried roses matching pleasantly with the cream satin blouse she wore. Other accessories fitting in with the gown were in brown.

Miss Margaret Kremers of Niagara Falls, cousin of the bride, was becomingly gowned in black Italian crepe with red and white embroidery. Her hat and shoes were also black, matching her costume in color shades. Her corsage harmonized pleasingly with her gown.

Miss Geraldine Dykhuizen wore grey crepe, augmented by a hat in brown with gloves and shoes to match. Violets, roses and snapdragons comprised her corsage. These young ladies attended the bride.

The couple left for a short wedding trip to Chicago and are now at their future home in Galien, Mich., where Mr. Schaafsma is an instructor in the high school.

Miss Laepple was popular among the younger set and was a graduate from Holland High as well as from Hope college.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests present were given light refreshments, and this Thanksgiving will be one long to be remembered in the Laepple family.

Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. Kremers of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. L. Vanderveer of Chicago; Joseph VerPlank of Gary, Ind., and Miss Joan VanderWerf of Evert.

GEORGE PELGRIM SPEAKS ON FURNITURE AT ZEELAND LITERARY CLUB

(Zeeland Record)

"Period Furniture was the topic discussed at the last meeting of the Ladies' Literary club at Zeeland. George A. Pelgrim, vice president and general manager of the Bay View Furniture company of Holland was guest speaker. He was introduced to the club by Mrs. H. Den Herder.

Mr. Pelgrim showed that furniture building is an art dating back as far as the thirteenth century when the Egyptians showed marked interest in it. Crudeness and lack of comfort were noticeable in the early period furniture, but rapid progress along this line was soon apparent, especially during the period of Grecian and Roman empires. Of this early furniture, much was used by kings and queens and is still in existence, and a study of it is indeed of interest. Mr. Pelgrim showed diagrams illustrating the quaint but interesting styles.

During the Renaissance, there was an outstanding advance in this art and many styles of the Renaissance of Italy, France, The Netherlands, Spain and England are popular at the present time. Diagrams were shown showing the characteristics of each country and period.

In conclusion Mr. Pelgrim spoke highly of the Colonial clocks and furniture manufactured in our own city which has grown popular far beyond Zeeland. Designs were shown of various attractive styles.

Herman Windemuller is confined to University hospital at Ann Arbor for a few days.

City Churches Did Not Forget to Be Thankful

THE SUM OF $6,452.67 IS DONATED TO HELP NEEDY CAUSES IN CHURCH AND SCHOOL

The members of the Holland churches did not forget to give "until it hurt" and they also did not forget their scripture where it says "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

It is wonderful the showing made by many of the churches considering the stressful times we have been passing through. Undoubtedly many gifts were made at great sacrifice. Collectively it appears that more than $6,000 was taken in in nine churches and a bond for $1,000 was left in the Hope church collection by an anonymous giver. The U. S. government bond, it was stipulated, was intended to go for the benefit of the psychopathic hospital at Cutterville, Mich.

The amount collected in the churches only fell a little less than last year and that in itself speaks well for a loyal church spirit displayed by the givers. If the bond is figured in then the amount would exceed last year's givings.

The churches and the amounts given by each follow. Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church led with $1,005. Other churches included: Ninth Street Christian Reformed church, $873.51; Central Avenue Christian Reformed church, $818.05; Third Reformed church, $558.81; Prospect Park church, $458.75; Maple Avenue church, $458.75; Fourth Reformed church, $265; Trinity church, $240; Sixteenth Street church, $229; First Reformed church, $147; Seventh Reformed church, $130.65; Sixth Reformed church, $56; Protestant Reformed church, $42.80.

The money will be used for denominational, benevolent, Christian aid, Christian schools and other causes now in great need. The grand total, including the U. S. government bond, totaled $6,452.67.

GONE TO TEXAS

Henry P. Zwemer, Bert Gribbin, Albert Koppel and Charles Van Zyl left Holland yesterday in a large new Buick car for a twenty day trip through the southern states with their destination Mission, Texas, where Mr. Van Zyl and Mrs. Zwemer have some orange groves started. They may find time to also visit old Mexico.

MRS. KIRCHEN IS MUCH IMPROVED

Tell-a-from Her Mount at Grand Rapids

Mrs. Charles Kirchen of Holland, who suffered injuries about the head and shoulders Saturday in a fall from her horse at the close of the drag hunt at Forest Hills Riding stables, east of Grand Rapids, is much improved and out of danger, it is reported.

Mrs. Kirchen, who is an expert horsewoman and a regular attendant at the hunt, was riding to the stables after the run was over, when, it is thought, her horse slipped and threw her to the ground. She struck on her head and shoulders and was rushed unconscious to a hospital.

Several X-rays were made during the afternoon and evening on the day of the accident and no broken bones found. It is thought the injuries will not prove serious. The Kirchen family live on West 12th street, this city.

GENERAL MEADE WORKING AT GRAND HAVEN HARBOR

The General Meade, federal sand sucker, is working at the mouth of Grand Haven harbor clearing away the summer accumulation of sand preparatory to winter navigation.

The sight of the big ship lighted and emitting huge clouds of black smoke, attracted attention of drivers on the Harbor drive and some believe a boat was caught on the sands there. The position of the Meade, when at work, is startling to those not familiar with the methods.

Much of the government equipment used on Lake Michigan is being brought to the government point for winter laying up. The Tomkins is here, several scows and tugs and the Meade will lay up when weather becomes sufficiently rough to make dredging impossible. Part of the crew is retained through the winter when repair work is done. This port is headquarters for all government equipment used in this district.

100 REPORT FOR FIRST HOLLAND CAGE WORKOUT

Nearly 100 candidates for the Holland High school first and second teams reported to Coaches Breen and Chapman Monday afternoon at the first basketball practice of the year. Of the number were seven players who earned letters last year. The lettermen are Capt. George Bosworth, a guard; Otteman, Wolrding and Slighter, forwards; Van Lenwen, center, and Nienhuis and Cobb, guards. Slighter and Van Leuwen complete their school career in February. Breen has about seven youngsters from last year's reserves to fill out his ranks.

NEEDY OF HOLLAND ARE ASSURED OF AID

Willard G. Leenhouts post, American Legion, is seeking the co-operation of churches, civic organizations, city welfare commission and the city mission in the distribution of Christmas baskets for Holland's needy families. Barrels have been placed so shoppers can fill them.

The Gen. Meade, federal sand-sucker, is working off the local harbor on the annual fall dredging. Later it will go to Ludington and points north.

Back to the Farm

It is expected that the farm population of the United States for 1932 will come close to equaling the highest figure known to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics: 32,077,000 persons in January, 1910. Between 1920 and 1930 the rural population decreased steadily until at the end of the decade more than 1,500,000 had left the farms. Today the trend is not entirely one-sided, but those passing from the farms to the cities are less by 132,000 persons than those returning farmward.

These statistics will stand in our economic history as a major indication of business conditions in the last two years. It is remarkable that a movement cityward which progressed slowly through 20 years could have been matched, numerically, in a two years' egress from city to farm. The influx to the cities ran parallel to the improvement of the automobile and the growth of automobile factories. But the return to the farm has been made possible as much by the automobile as by anything else, since automobiles and good roads have done more than any other single factor to remove the farm from its former isolation and inaccessibility.

Due to those very developments of science and invention which drew men and women from the farms between 1910 and 1930, the farms to which they return can be worked more easily and more profitably. Farm life in general has become less rural and more suburban. To the casual observer the farmward migration is merely an indication of need, of an economic necessity to get back where food supplies are the direct result of labor, where the land will at the same time solve the problems of unemployment and want. But aside from this superficial truth the increase in farm population means that definite steps will have to be taken by the farmers themselves to regulate production and markets, since "farm relief" has already been blocked by the same overproduction and difficulty in distribution that has faced industry in the cities.

FOREST GROVE PASTOR HEAD OF SCOUT AREA

Rev. John Wolterink, pastor of Forest Grove Community Reformed church, was elected chairman of the East Central district of the Ottawa county Boy Scout area at the annual meeting Wednesday evening. He succeeds M. B. Rogers of Zeeland, vice chairman chosen were Henry Baron, Zeeland, and Jacob DeWeerd, Hudsonville.

William VandeWater of Zeeland was re-elected commissioner and E. Hubbard of Hudsonville was elected deputy commissioner.

The Holland Civic orchestra presented its first concert of the 1932-33 season Tuesday evening in the Holland High school auditorium under the direction of Eugene F. Reeter. More than 400 attended the performance.

The first number on the program was "Semiramis," by G. Rossini. Other selections included "Symphony (No. 11) 'Militaire' G. Major," by Haydn; "Valse Lente," by Debussy; "Ballet of the Flowers, Op. 92, Part 3," by Henry Hadley.

The program was brought to a close by playing "Pomp and Circumstance," by Edward Elgar.

William Mulder and family of Holland were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vanden Belt on Washington street, Zeeland.

SOME VALUABLE BIRDS ARE DESTROYED BY FIRE AT ZEELAND

Fire threatened the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Vegter at Zeeland recently, as well as the Vegter block on East Main St., when a blaze started in the glass-enclosed porch at the rear on the second floor. The Vegters are breeders of canaries and this porch was devoted to training the mature birds and housed at the time six beautiful singers, five of which were suffocated by the smoke and fumes from the smudge.

The room was kept comfortably warm by a coal heater and Mrs. Vegter, before going to church in the morning, had attended the fire. During the Sunday-school hour, attended by Mrs. Vegter, the alarm was turned in by neighbors who discovered the fire and the department quickly extinguished it.

Although the Vegters have many other canaries, those destroyed were being especially trained for early delivery.

Severe Penalties Are Suffered By Lawbreakers

COURT HOUSE IS FILLED TO CAPACITY

—from Hope College Acher. Solemnity prevailed throughout the Hall of Justice on Monday night as the Supreme Court of Hope College tried and passed judgment on four male and three female culprits from the freshman class. Neil Webb, as the bespectacled judge, in a commanding and sonorous voice, called the court to order at 8 o'clock. Wilbur Ensfield, as the dapper court clerk, called the defendants and witnesses to the bar and administered the oath glibly to each individual called upon to give testimony, while Herbert Marsilje presided as foreman of the jury of twelve august and worthy seniors.

The first case called was Miss Jean Rottschaefer vs. Hope College, charged with dating upperclassmen. Prosecutor J. VanVesem presented the testimony of the college and one Lester Kieft ably and nobly attempted to defend the petite Miss Rottschaefer from the pile of testimony presented against her by the college. But alas, when the fates were weighed in the balance and after the jury had given the case due and just consideration a verdict of guilty was returned.

The height of assinnity was reached when "Kenny-Bug" Vander Velde and "Tootsy-Wootsy" Van Raalte were called to defend themselves against the charge of keeping late hours. Prosecutor De Windt presented the case of Hope college and one Mac Lean unflinchingly attempted in vain to defend the obviously guilty couple from the undeniably strong array of evidence presented by the college, and a verdict of guilty was reached in "noching flat and time to spare." The court was sorry to note that the "height of assinnity" remained so during the remainder of the evening.

The defense of insanity presented by Attorney Bill Heyns was undeniably proven in the case of Jay Bush and John Vander Meulen through the very actions of the verdant twain, accused by the court of excessive cockyness. It was a sad, sad story, and many an eye was wet as the audience gazed upon the sad plight of the two aspiring young men. It took a great deal of consideration on the part of the jury to decide the case, but after long deliberation they returned a just and impartial verdict of guilty.

In the next case, that of Deon Dekker, the court and audience were definitely informed of the differences between the "plain" first cousin of a donkey and the "Jack" first cousin of a donkey. The difference was definitely fixed as being in regards to the length of the ears and tone of the bray. Mr. De Windt, acting for the prosecution, brought several noted authorities to the stand to testify, among them a noted animalogist from Dingaling Brothers Circus. The jury again, after just and impartial consideration, returned a verdict of guilty of the charge of being a general nuisance.

Miss Evelyn Kingsbury was the last defendant called on a charge of "keeping 'Chicky' off the roost." Mr. Netting ably presented in defense, the old story of the beautiful, shy, little girl, constantly being hounded by a villain with black mustaches, but, alas, in this case, with no strong blonde hero to come to the rescue of the poor, afflicted maiden. However, the jury gave credence to the argument of the prosecution that "it takes two to make love as well as to make a bargain," and that "keeping chickies" from their nests after bedtime was a base and inexcusable crime, especially during traxnax season, and duly returned a verdict of guilty.

The court then proceeded to mete out sentences to the convicted culprits, and after severely reprimanding the members of the frosh team for breaking their perfect record of a scoreless season by inadvertently scoring a touchdown at Western State, the court was adjourned.

NO WORK, NO DOLE

Analysis shows that the story from Grand Rapids the other day, saying that the "Grand Rapids plan" of welfare relief had been scrapped, was a bit misleading. The City Commission abandoned the plan of issuing scrip to persons working on municipal projects and will close the municipal store where the scrip was redeemed. Hereafter cash will be given municipal dole workers, and also to persons on the welfare rolls for whom no work can be found.

The heart of the Grand Rapids plan, when it was inaugurated three years ago by then City Manager George Welsh, however, was in the slogan, "No work, no relief." Every person asking aid was required to earn it. This principle still is being carried out, as far as practicable, although Grand Rapids has reached a point where useful tasks at which to employ the heads of all families needing aid no longer remain.

SUGAR BEET CROPS RETURNS $60 ACRE

"Sweeter" sugar beets this year, with higher sugar content, will mean more cash for farm improvements.

It is estimated that the Michigan sugar beet crop this year will be worth close to $8,000,000. The probable average yield is 10 tons to the acre. Not since 1923-1924 has there been a return of $60 an acre. The 10-year average has been $56.81. Holland's sugar mill is still idle and the time to start is now for next season.

BACK TO NORMAL WINTERS

Chicago American—Chicago has forgotten what a normal winter is like, but its memory is about to be jogged.

That's on the word of C. A. Donnell, government meteorologist, who said today the current winter would be blustery and much more severe than the last two—but normal withal. He explained:

"Chicago has been spoiled by the last two winters. Not since 1923-1924 has real winter weather been experienced here. It is about 14 degrees colder this November than last, yet it is far nearer normal this year than last."

Last winter was the mildest Chicago ever had, he declared.

IS 82 AND STILL RUNS NEWSPAPER

Grand Haven Tribune—Tom F. Rogers, editor of the Ravenna Times, was in Grand Haven Friday. Mr. Rogers, although 82 years old, is still actively engaged in running a newspaper at Ravenna and Conklin. He knew the late Horace G. Nichols, founder of the Grand Haven Tribune, who died last week, very well and although he never worked in this city, was closely associated with the newspaper men of this section in the early years of his business. Despite his advanced years Mr. Rogers is able to carry on as he has done for many years and hopes to continue the paper there at least until he is 100, he says.

SIXTY DISASTERS IN 1932 ADD TO RELIEF PROBLEMS

Red Cross Spends $2,760,000 to Help Victims of Catastrophes.

In a year of great misfortune caused by economic depression, in which the American Red Cross assumed heavy burdens of relief for the unemployed, the organization also responded to emergency needs in 60 disasters in the United States and its insular possessions.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1932, the Red Cross gave aid to 75,000 families totalling 335,000 individuals, with expenditures of $2,760,786. These people were in distress because of drought, flood, forest fire, tornado, snowstorm, mine explosion or other similar great disaster.

TWO DOUBLE RAINBOWS SEEN IN CONNECTICUT

An observer describing the latest of these double rainbows said that both of its arches were complete, although one was much brighter than the other. The phenomenon was visible for miles around.

CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS CO. HAS CEASED OPERATIONS UNTIL SPRING

Active work at the Construction Materials company at Ferryburg, has ceased for 1932 and the plant, fleet of carriers, tugs and scows have been laid up awaiting the opening of the season in the spring. Ice conditions during the winter make it impossible for the plant to operate and the general closing is in line with the usual procedure.

Layne Rogers, head of the local plant, said the year had been a very successful one considering the general business conditions. About 625,000 tons of gravel were brought down from Bass river, which was a greater amount than was mined last year.

The big plant, lighted from the ground to the top of the nine-story section, is a sight that attracts much attention, and while it was running much of the time during the past months the capacity of the plant was by no means reached, said Mr. Rogers.

The Fontana shipped out about 400,000 tons of gravel to lake ports for distribution. She is now on Lake Erie carrying coal.

There are five boats in the fleet. Fontana, Sensibar, Sandmaster, Sandcraft and American. All of the boats run in here with the exception of the Sensibar, a 600-footer, which is a little too large for the present accommodations.

There are also four tugs, Liberty, Freedom, Johnson and Willard L. and thirteen scows.

About the first of the year the plan will be overhauled and the fleet put in shape for the regular season. During the summer about 100 men were employed. All but the foreman are laid off at this time.

Cars With Trailers Seem More Numerous

The number of trailers in use in Michigan increased nearly 25 per cent in 1932, according to records of the Department of State.

On Nov. 1, 1932, there were 75,988 trailers in the state for which 1932 licenses had been issued; or 15,302 more than were licensed on the corresponding day in 1931. All other classes of motor vehicles showed a decrease.

The total number of pleasure cars, trucks, commercial vehicles and trailers licensed up to Nov. 1, 1931, was 1,295,156 while on Nov. 1, 1932, 1,214,593 motor vehicles had been licensed. This is a decrease of 80,563 vehicles. License fees for the first 11 months of 1932 were $18,681,909.52, or $1,460,673.80 less than for the same period in 1931.

The new 1933 license plates were placed on sale Nov. 19 for use on new cars and trucks. On Dec. 1, the general sale starts and after that date 1933 plates may be purchased for vehicles now in use.

YOUNG GUNMEN HOLD UP PETER VENHUIZEN ON HIS FARM NEAR HOLLAND

Ottawa county authorities are seeking two youthful bandits who Sunday night held up Peter Venhuizen in his home in Holland township, R.F.D. No. 9, and robbed him of $5. Venhuizen reported to officers the two young men entered his home and demanded a box, which it is assumed they believed contained money. While one of the youths pointed a pistol at Venhuizen the other searched a bedroom, where he found the box, which contained only papers. The bandit with the pistol took Venhuizen's billfold and after removing a $5 note from it tossed the purse on the floor.

The armed robber was unarmed, although his accomplice wore a white handkerchief over his face. Martin Drost, a roomer at the Venhuizen home, was not molested by the robbers and neither he nor Venhuizen recognized either of them. After the boys walked leisurely away Venhuizen called up the local police advising them of the holdup. No clues were left by the pair.

HOLLAND WANTS YOU TO COME!

A MESSAGE FROM OUR MAYOR:—

It is with pleasure that I extend to you, our neighbors, a hearty welcome to attend the Farmers' Institute to be held in Holland Thursday, December 8th, at the Holland Armory.

The farmer means much to the city folks, in fact we are directly dependent upon the agriculturalist for our sustenance. The farmer, as well as the city man, has gone through a stressful period, and we hope and pray that the "sunshine of better days" is ahead.

The rural and urban dwellers are so inter-related that our problems are mutual. Undoubtedly some of these problems will be discussed at the Institute and I, as Mayor of the City of Holland, invite you most cordially to participate.

NICODEMUS BOSCH,
Mayor of the City of Holland.

A MESSAGE FROM THE HOLLAND MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION:—

Dear Neighbors:—

As president of the Holland Merchants Association I wish to extend to you a most cordial invitation to attend the Farmers' Institute to be held in our city Thursday, December 8th. Suitable preparations have been made for a program that will be intensely interesting to the "tillers of the soil."

The merchants of this city will do their utmost to make your stay in Holland a pleasant one and while the paramount reason for inviting you is to give you an educational program, relating to the farm, as well as refreshments, we wish to remind you that on that day or any other day the "latching" of our business homes are always hanging out and you are indeed welcome.

HOLLAND GREET YOU NEXT THURSDAY,
WILLIAM BROUWER,
President of Holland Merchants Association.

WELCOME AGRICULTURISTS:—

Thursday, December 8th, Holland and the country-side will celebrate the third annual Farmers' Institute. We are pleased to say that this yearly event originated with the Chamber of Commerce and it is with pleasure that we again invite our neighbors to take part in the elaborate program that has been arranged. It is a mutual get-together since — after all we have everything in common and our problems are mutual.

In behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, I extend to you a hearty welcome.

Allegan Editor Gives Some Old Allegan History

Edwy Reid, owner of the Allegan Gazette, one of the best weekly editors in Michigan and a "peppery one" in his younger day — in a recent issue appeared to be in a reminiscent mood when he devoted at least three columns to Allegan of yesterday.

"Especially interesting to Holland is his reference to the Holland fire of '71 which laid this city in ashes."

Mr. Reid says: "In September, 1871, when the writer was employed in another newspaper office in Allegan, occurred the great fire in Chicago. Forest fires swept over parts of Michigan and Wisconsin. In the latter state the town of Peshtigo was wholly destroyed and but few houses were left in our neighboring town of Holland City. Allegan was severely threatened. Fire came from the pine region to the west and up to the confines of the town. The smoke was so dense several days that business was practically suspended and it was impossible to see to read by the kerosene lamps which were the only source of domestic light. Charred leaves filled the air fanned by a brisk wind. It was hourly expected that the town would go. The fires were so extensive that fighting them was useless. Our only fire protection was an old hand-engine and a big cistern at the Locust-Hubbard corner. The engine was gotten out and effort made to soak the leather hose and valves of the pump so it would throw water; but it wouldn't. People who believed in divine guidance in all things felt sure Providence saved Allegan, not troubling to show why Holland was burned. Many farm buildings were burned also and there was much call for help which was most freely given. Allegan helped Holland to amount of much money and provisions. It was not exactly the historic time when 'The rich man loved the poor man and the poor man loved the rich,' but there was abundance of human kindness and no one was permitted to go hungry nor unclothed."

Relative to saloon days the Gazette editor said:

"When the writer came to Allegan there were nineteen whisky saloons in the town and two bag-nios all of which were run without interference by the authorities or anybody else. He at once began war upon the whole evil brood and they in turn made it lively for him; for they struck mercilessly against any one who arrayed himself against them. The biggest saloon in town was in its biggest business building and in several of them if not all gambling was unrestrained. Saturdays particularly the sight of drunken men on the streets was common and fights in the saloons were more than frequent. Seldom were the participants arrested if the offense was less than murder. What poverty there was in the town was traceable wholly to the saloons. They ruled the town through controlling the caucuses of both political parties so getting men into office who would favor them. Many thousands of dollars went for liquor which should have gone for food and clothing. We lived to see the last one of them banished from the town though it seemed at first a hopeless task."

Speaking of the belligerent attitude of the saloons reminds of the burning of the Presbyterian church. It was a wooden building on the site of the present church. Many of the members were active in 'temperance' work as agitation against drinking and the saloons was then called. It was presumed that this caused the incendiary burning."

"But there is another side to this picture. The village held a good many men who were entirely of the opposite sort. These gave our newspapers their countenance and support and they did not hesitate to stand up and be counted. Repeatedly they organized societies to fight the liquor traffic but all these after a time tired of the conflict until conditions became so bad that a new effort would be made. These men supported the churches and all other powers of righteousness; they established a library; they gave lectures; they engaged in charity work; they tried to dissuade evil doers from their ways; they made their lives patterns for oncoming generations; they were not always so ready to fight as was the man who never believed in throwing grass instead of stones, but there was co-operation among them all."

"A large wooden building stood a little east of the Hubbard-Locust corner. Allegan. It was framed here for erection in Chicago but its owners thought Allegan was the better prospect for business."

"The dam was also constructed wholly of timbers. It and the power canal leading from it were not substantial and were subjects of frequent breaks. This was the first dam of the Kalamazoo river up stream. To this point the Kalamazoo was considered a navigable stream and was under control of the United States government as indeed it is still. Steamers had for some years plied between Allegan and Saugatuck, but the railway had come at this time and such navigation ceased. At one time three steamers were so engaged."

The Holland City News would like to add that about 25 years after the Holland fire, Allegan's principal streets were consumed by flames and a hurry call was sent to this city and Grand Rapids. Chief F. O. Nye rushed a hose cart to the C. and W. M. depot, now Port Marquette, strapped the fire apparatus to a flat car attached to an old switch engine from the round house in the yards located near where the Holland Gas Co. tanks now are. The local firemen, including our own Chief Blom, who was a young fireman then, hopped aboard and the trip was made over the Allegan division in 30 minutes. Holland reciprocated in the same spirit as did Allegan a score of years before. We are wondering where that spirit, generally speaking, is today.

Mr. and Mrs. Govert Van Zantwick returned from their annual hunting trip in the Trout Lake region of the Upper Peninsula. Mr. Van Zantwick brought back a buck killed the second day of the hunt. He states an inquest will not be necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Boss motored to Lansing Monday on business.

Farmers of Ottawa and Allegan Counties Invited To The Farmers' Institute

This announcement can be considered as an invitation, Mr. Wetter, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, state, to all agriculturalists of Ottawa and Allegan counties to attend the Farmers' Institute to be held at the Holland Armory next week, Thursday, December 8.

NUMEROUS ZEELAND HUNTERS IN DEER COUNTRY

Zeeland Record—This year, as well as other years, Zeeland has sent a number of hunters north in the quest of deer. Twenty men purchased deer licenses at M. C. Ver Hage's hardware store this season and departed for the woods at the opening of the season.

A number of them have been reported as bagging their game, namely, John Tinholt, Harold Berghorst, G. B. Lemmen and Ben Lemmen. Those who made the trip are as follows: John Tinholt, Jake Van Hoven, B. J. W. Berghorst, Harold Berghorst, Henry Boerman, Gerrit Berghorst, Jas. Van Volkenburgh, Bert Wiersma, G. B. Lemmen, Ben Lemmen, M. P. Elenbaas, John F. Danielson, Gerrit D. Wynyarden, John Wyngarden, Gerrit Huizenga, Raymond Snow, Harry Vande Pels, J. W. Chamberlain, Laverne Berghorst, Dr. J. A. Van Kley and John Moeke.

Some of them had their headquarters at the Moeke-Berghorst camp, twelve miles west of Detroit in Mackinac county; others are stationed in other parts of the Upper Peninsula, while a few are on Drummond Island.

Not only has the hunting of deer taken hold of Zeeland's Nimrods but 229 small game licenses have also been issued.

The following are among those who have returned from deer hunting in northern Michigan: Jack Van Hoven, Albert Timmer, Bill Van Loo, James Vegter, James Van Volkenburgh, Dr. J. A. Van Kley, Mr. Louwma, Bert Wiersma, B. J. W. Berghorst and Harold Berghorst.

What Other Counties in Michigan Have Done with Farm Agents On Home Demonstration

The following communication is of more than usual importance and has to do with the two Ottawa county units abolished at the October session of the Board of Supervisors. The letter by the ladies is self-explanatory and follows:

Grand Haven, Mich., Nov. 23, 1932. Editor, Holland City News:

At a recent meeting of the executive committee for home economics extension work in Ottawa county, the following resolution was adopted. We would appreciate the publishing of same in an early issue of the paper.

Very truly yours,
ADDIE M. CLARK,
Secretary, Executive Committee.

We, the members of the executive committee for the Home Economics extension work in Ottawa county and leaders of extension and 4-H clubs in joint session at the Court House, Grand Haven, this twenty-second day of November, 1932, feel justified in making the following demands:

Whereas, the assistance of the county agent to the farmers of the county, the assistance of the home demonstration agent to the homesteaders of the county, and the inestimable assistance from both these sources in the leadership of our 4-H Boys and Girls' Club work is of such an educational nature as to be indispensable, especially at the time of economic stress.

Be it resolved that the Board of Supervisors reinstate the services of the County Agricultural Agent and the Home Demonstration Agent in Ottawa county.

Let it also be resolved that we as progressive people of our country feel that which is so beneficial to our boys and girls cannot be placed on the same scales with a few cents, such as the seven cents paid by the taxpayer on each thousand dollars valuation, which maintains these agents in our county.

Signed:
Mrs. Wm. Bos, Jamestown Twp.
Mrs. J. W. Crouse, Nunica.
Mrs. Wm. Van Zoeren, Vriesland.

Evidence that Michigan people approve of agricultural extension work is contained in the reports on votes received by the state leaders office which show that all 66 county agricultural agents received the financial assistance needed from their counties to continue their work.

Funds were provided by favorable votes of the boards of supervisors in 61 counties. The work was approved by a majority of the voters in three counties in a popular vote which brought out the largest vote in the history of the county. Private subscriptions by individuals and organizations will provide the necessary county funds in the two remaining counties.

A few counties made a small increase in their appropriations but salaries and mileage or other expenses of the agents have been reduced in nearly every county so the cost of the work has been materially reduced.

R. J. Baldwin, director of extension work in Michigan, finds a great deal of satisfaction in the approval of this work by the people of the state. Extension work began in Michigan in 1912 with the appointment of a county agricultural agent in Alpena county. The work has been going on continuously since, so that the value of the work and not its novelty was the basis upon which it was judged.

The present number of 66 county agricultural agents equals the number at work at any one time except during the war, when an agent was placed in every county as a war emergency measure. L. R. Walker, agent in Marquette county, has the record of staying on the job there since July 1, 1915.

ELECTION HELD BY HOME ECONOMICS BOARD OF OTTAWA COUNTY

Announcement of elections to the home economics executive board which co-operates with the home demonstration agent in carrying on extension work in the county was made today by Esther C. Lott, home demonstration agent.

At a recent meeting of the new board held at the court house at Grand Haven the following executive officers were elected:

Dog Bites 11 in Allegan County; Being Treated

One small fox terrier puppy is the cause of much trouble in Allegan. At least 11 people think so who, because they have either played with or were bitten by him, are being treated for rabies. The dog belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Voltz of that city and when the animal's head was sent to Ann Arbor for analysis it was reported he died of rabies.

Mrs. Voltz and two children, Betty, 6; Sally, 15 months, have started treatment with Dr. J. E. Mahan, who has a half dozen under his care. The Pasteur treatment is given each patient once a day for 14 days. The state furnishes the serum.

Louis Hettinger was bitten by a South Side dog this week but after thorough investigation it was found the dog had been vaccinated and no alarm is felt.

The bride, who entered the room with her father, wore a smart, rum colored suit of Boda cloth, trimmed with beaver. She carried roses, which matched her cream satin blouse. The bride was attended by Miss Geraldine Dykhuizen and Miss Margaret Kreners. George Cliquenot of Sodas, N. Y., attended the groom.

Following the ceremony the newlyweds left for Chicago where they spent the week-end. They are making their home in Galien, Mich., where Mr. Schaafsma is an instructor in the high school.

YEARS OF WORLD TRAVEL KNOWLEDGE NOW POSSIBLE IN A FEW MONTHS

Noted Travelogue Lecturer Tells of Many Strange Facts to Be Learned on World Cruise

THANKS to the growing popularity of the world cruise, Americans are learning more about the rest of the world than ever before, according to Deane H. Dickason, noted travelogue lecturer and movie director, who sails on the coming cruise of the Augustus, of the Italian Line, the world's largest motorship.

Among other strange facts gleaned from a world cruise, Mr. Dickason points out, the average American learns:

The world's first five and ten-cent store idea was developed by the "bit-man" of Madeira. That the only monkeys living wild in Europe are found on the steep side of the Rock of Gibraltar. That from Genoa, home of Columbus, who crossed the Atlantic from Spain in 70 days, now comes the new Rex and Conte di Savoia, which make the same crossing in four and a half days. That Vesuvius really consists of two peaks, only one of which has developed the smoking habit. That the police of Tripoli ride on camels. That the mosque of Omar, on the site of the ancient Temple of Solomon, is not a mosque and was not built by Omar. That India, with a population of 320 million has two million gods and worships them all. That the Taj Mahal, world's costliest tomb, was erected to perpetuate the memory of a "perfect wife." That Penang has a snake temple where sacred reptiles are cared for. That in the best circles of Bali, Island of Paradise, a young man elopes with his bride and is married after the honeymoon. That Chop Suey is unknown in China. That Japan has an island so sacred that births and deaths are not allowed there. That old Panama was once the richest city in the Western Hemisphere, and that no traveler ever suffered from loneliness in Havana. A world-cruise ship of the size and speed of the Augustus, Mr. Dickason declares, makes it possible for the traveler of today to see and learn as much of the world in four months as the traveler of past decades was able to learn and see in a lifetime. The Augustus leaves New York January 14, sailing eastward via the Mediterranean, Suez, Indian Ocean, China, Sea, Pacific and Panama Canal, arriving at New York May 25th.

... by Character and Competence

AFTER ALL, a bank is merely another factor in the scheme and theme of human relationships. A bank's ability to serve a community, a business or an individual is measured by the same elements as any other service-rendering factor experience, integrity, efficiency, character.

A BANK has no merchandise to show. It must stand on its record and the successful issues of the services it has rendered to its clientele; on the confidence and good will it has created. This Bank offers a record replete with just such service.

WITH SUCH A LAW IN MICHIGAN HIGHWAYS WOULD BE SAFER

Michigan needs a Safety Responsibility law which restricts reckless drivers from full use of the highways until they have proved their ability to respond in damages for accidents which result from their neglect. Such a bill has already been adopted as law in 18 states and six Canadian provinces.

The Safety Responsibility bill embodies economy and protection for the safe motorist in addition to restriction on the reckless driver. The American Automobile Association after years of study has drafted a model Safety Responsibility law which has been widely adopted by other states and provinces and is operating with success. It is high time for Michigan to act.

Local News

The water depth in Black Lake and Lake Michigan is reported the lowest on record. Capt. S. J. Toft of the Macatawa coast guard estimates a drop of about five feet in the last two or three years. A drop of nearly a foot occurred within the last 10 days. Channel depth at Holland harbor is about 18 feet. Many boat houses on the shores of Black Lake, which formerly were surrounded by water, now are on dry ground and much wider beaches have been formed. Wider beaches also have been formed on the Lake Michigan shore. The beach at Holland State park has widened to about 800 feet. At Idlewood, north of Ottawa Beach, where three years ago about 30 feet of the hills were undermined by high water and washed into the lake, necessitating the moving of several cottages, the beach now is more than 200 feet wide. Although the same conditions of low water prevailed at the Goodrich wharf the recent dredging of a channel and turning basin at a depth of about 20 feet has remedied conditions to obviate any handicap which might have affected navigation facilities. The beach at Macatawa Park also has assumed a much wider area. A few years ago high water played havoc with the beach walk and some of the cottages near the shore line were threatened with destruction.

SCHOOLS OF OTTAWA COUNTY ADOPT TUBERCULIN TEST

The tuberculin test is being offered and administered to the high school and junior high school grades of Ottawa county. The test consists of injecting into the skin of the forearm a drop of liquid called tuberculin. In most cases there will be no reaction following this injection. In the remainder there will be a local redness which will vary, but in no case need any general reaction such as fever or illness be expected.

The purpose of the test is to find cases of childhood type of tuberculosis or to find definite cases in which the lungs are involved. Most of the positive reactors, designated by a red area at the site of injection of the tuberculin, will have no evidence of tuberculosis, but because of contact with a tuberculous individual had an infection from which he has recovered. These cases will react as well as those who have an active infection or a childhood type of tuberculosis. An X-ray is furnished free to all those who may possibly have an active infection. This is being furnished by the Michigan Tuberculosis association which is also sponsoring this campaign with the assistance of the health unit and Dr. F. H. Bartlett from the Muskegon county sanatorium. Permit cards need to be signed by parents or guardians of those who are to take the test. These have been furnished to the schools and will also be available at the clinics which are to be held. The following clinics have been arranged for the next two weeks:

OTTAWA COUNTY FARM NOTES

By C. P. Milham
(County Farm Agent)

The third farmers' institute program at the Holland Armory will be held Dec. 8. Plans for the program have been made by Mr. Harry Wetter, secretary of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and Agricultural Agent C. P. Milham. The program begins in the morning at 9:30, at which time welcoming addresses will be made by Holland city officials. Messages will be presented by A. D. Morley, agricultural agent of Allegan county, and C. P. Milham of Ottawa. The big part of the morning will be a talk on taxes, where they come from and where they go, by R. V. Gunn, economics specialist from the state college, and "What the Farmer May Expect from Growing Sugar Beets," by C. R. Oviatt, sugar beet specialist from the state college.

Mr. Gunn has made a careful study of taxation problems and presents in a clear and concise manner interesting facts about taxes. Mr. Oviatt has assisted the sugar beet areas in setting up finances and contract plans which are fair and satisfactory to both the producers of sugar beets and to the manufacturer.

A plate dinner will be served at noon by the Holland merchants. From 1 to 3 p. m. is shopping time when Holland merchants have arranged special farmers' day sales. At 3 o'clock the program will continue with an inspirational speaker and motion pictures. At 4 p. m. will be "Koffie Kletzen," so popular in previous years.

Farmers who attended programs in the past are looking forward to attending again this year. If Ottawa county farmers can grow sugar beets and the Holland sugar plant operate, it will add many dollars to farmers' incomes and the labor situation in Holland and bring additional revenue and trade to Ottawa cities. Every acre of sugar beets grown means an acre less of other crops which will reduce surplus.

Ottawa county farmers planted 17,800 forest trees obtained from the college nursery in addition to trees obtained from other sources, according to Agricultural Agent Milham. These trees were planted for reforestation, sand blow control and windbreaks. There are many acres in Ottawa which should and can be cheaply and profitably reforested, claims Mr. Milham.

Every rat that lives a year destroys $40 worth of timber, grain, poultry and other farm products, according to a survey reported to Agricultural Agent Milham. Many farmers are asking information on killing rats. Rats may be killed with poisons, gas or traps.

The poisons recommended are Red Squill powder, mixed with various baits, strichnine or other strong poisons. Red Squill is harmless to other live stock and is the safest poison, although slow in action. This material requires two or three days to kill a rat. Red Squill may be obtained at elevators or from the K. R. O. Co., at Springfield, O.

Gas is effective where rats have holes under cement floors. Gas from an auto exhaust or hydrocyanic acid gas is effective. Farmers can afford to make an effort now to reduce losses from rats and mice. Every loss prevented means a saving.

TWO THIEVES ENTER HOME AND ROB OWNER

The home of Peter Venhuizen on East Twenty-fourth street was entered Sunday evening at about 8:30 o'clock by two youths, who seemed to be in no haste. The two youths leisurely walked into the home and demanded of Mr. Venhuizen that he produce "a box" which they said they knew he possessed. Mr. Venhuizen insisted that he knew nothing about "a box" and after considerable argument convinced them that they were wrong.

One of the thieves took Mr. Venhuizen's pocketbook and after taking $5 he tossed the wallet upon the floor.

Martin Drost, who resides with Mr. Venhuizen, was in the room at the time of the holdup. Neither man offered any resistance.

The youths took their time about leaving the house. One of the youths, unmasked, carried a revolver, while the other one, apparently unarmed, wore a white mask. Immediately after the departure of the thieves Mr. Venhuizen went to the home of a neighbor and notified police by telephone. No clues have been found up to the present time.
