Building Of Museum May Be Delayed

PROPERTY OWNERS CHANGE MIND ON SEWER CONSTRUCTION; NOW THEY WANT IT

The common council was of short duration last evening, not over a half hour being consumed on the entire proceedings. The most important matter to come up was the proposed building of a combined library and city hall on the old hospital site, extending from 12th to 13th St. on Central Ave., the home of the late Dr. Kremers.

Alderman Brouwer, who reported on the action of the Civic Welfare Committee, told of the different meetings that were held, fully described in this column. It appears that the building in prospect will extend from 12th to 13th St. and is being fostered by members of the Historical Commission who would like to house their museum exhibits. It was also thought by citizens that a library could then be constructed as one of the units, and the Board of Public Works, cramped for room, could use part of the present library. Of course, these are all arguments brought in favor of the project.

Alderman Prins brought out the fact that according to the estimates, exempting what the government gives, the bond issue would be for approximately $90,000. Both amounts would total $125,000. He stated that the city was in fine financial condition and that for one week he would like to keep it that way. He pointed out that already two projects were in the offing for next spring's election, when undoubtedly the people would pass upon a $50,000 bond issue to rejuvenate and lay out additional space for the city's cemeteries, for which plans have been in prospect for the past two years, but no funds available to carry this out.

He also saw a possibility of Alderman Kalkman and others demanding that buying the tannery property for $16,000 would also be a bond issue to be voted for next spring. He contends that should we augment a third bond issue for $90,000, he feared that all three bond issues, should they be placed on the ballot, would lose at the ballot box.

Other aldermen asked a great many questions about the proposal, however, Alderman Brouwer, who made a partial report, stated that the committee is still investigating and wanted more information, plans, estimates of cost, and ways and means. The whole proposal was temporarily tabled at least.

Mr. Willard Wichers, head of the Historical Survey here, stated that the museum was growing to such proportions that before long a building to hold these would be imperative. He recalled what representatives from other cities, such as Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Muskegon and others said, that they felt that Holland was the logical Dutch center and they would like to have it remain that way, and that a shrine should be created here in the way of a museum for Dutch lore pertaining to our ancestry and the settling of the Dutch in Western Michigan. They stated emphatically that they wanted this museum in Holland.

However, they also stated that if Holland did not show an inclination to foster a movement of that kind that other Dutch centers might take it upon themselves to create such a shrine in their community. Mr. Wichers pointed out that Holland did get busy, has a fine collection, and has made a gratifying start. However, we must go further, and while additional exhibits are constantly coming in, the need to house these exhibits is imperative, and for that reason the proposed museum-library has been fostered.

The news believes that before any argument is made whether to bring up this building proposal of a museum and library that more definite plans should be devised and more specific figures should be obtained and plans and specifications drafted. It would appear that those interested were not entirely prepared to present the whole picture of this proposed building plan, and Alderman Brouwer, chairman of the Mayor's Committee, collaborating with the Historic Commission, stressed that point. A more tangible picture should be made available.

Alderman Brouwer stated that he would like to suggest a change in the public auction ordinance, following largely the one in Kalamazoo. The Board of Park and Cemetery was sold the $13,000 Van Raalte Ave. paving bond. The building committee, through Art Drinkwater, who was given the authority to have all the windows and crevices in the city hall caulked so that drafts could not get through the crevices, bringing about a saving of fuel, stated that he had inspected the windows and crevices and found none to caulk, and he stated that no job will be let this winter for that purpose and not until it is really necessary.

These and other interesting matters will be found in the official council proceedings below, as compiled by City Clerk Oscar Peterson.

HOLLAND HIGH AND HOPE GRID TEAMS TO BE FEASTED

The next meeting of the Exchange Club will be held Monday evening, next at 6:30 o'clock at Warm Friend Tavern. This will be the annual football night, honoring the players of both Holland High and Hope College. Henry A. Johnston, Coach of the Varsity "B" team at Michigan State College, East Lansing, will show moving pictures of the big games played this fall throughout the nation.

Exchange Club members and guests should set aside next Monday evening for this great event. Encourage our school and college students by being present. Landlord Lillard has planned a most worthwhile menu for this annual occasion. Secretary Albert Lampen has sent notices to all the Exchange Club members.

NIECE OF DR. ARNOLD MULDER BADLY BURNED

Miss Jane Romeyn, formerly a resident of Holland, and now personal hairdresser for Claudette Colbert, famous actress, in Hollywood, was badly burned recently in an effort to remove furniture from her Hollywood apartment during a fire there. Since the accident, Miss Colbert has cancelled all luncheon appointments for a period of two weeks to feed and care for Miss Romeyn in her dressing room.

As a consequence, Miss Colbert was awarded the title of "nicest person of the week" at Hollywood. The family formerly lived on West 15th street, until moving to California.

The young lady is a niece of Dr. Arnold Mulder, prominent author, writer, editor, and educator, formerly of Holland, now at Kalamazoo College.

YOUNG HOLLAND ATTORNEY "HANGS OUT HIS SHINGLE" HERE

A few weeks ago Peter Boter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Boter, Lakeshore Drive, was admitted to the Bar to practice law in the state of Michigan. He graduated with high honors and stood the final test before the Bar Association very creditably.

Mr. Boter was born in Holland and received his fundamental education in the local public schools. He graduated from Holland High School and then entered Hope College, where he studied for two years. He then entered Michigan at Ann Arbor and received his A. B. degree in the literary department. He received his J. D. (Juris Doctor) degree in the Michigan Law School during his graduation. This is an outstanding honor, and not all graduates of the law class are so honored. There were 150 in Mr. Boter's class, and 30 graduates of that class received their J. D. degree.

He also contributed articles and editorials to the Law Review, a legal publication, published in connection with the school. The faculty of the college select the students whom they deem are eligible to write for this legal publication, and men of high standing with high credits are, as a rule, selected to do the writing. He was named barrister, an honorary position in the college legal society. He was also named vice president of the Lawyer's Club at Ann Arbor.

He was elevated to the semifinals in what is known as the Campbell Case Club during his junior year. Eight students of this class considered eligible are pitted against one another, and these prospective attorneys are given cases to try. The facts and the evidence are given them and they are instructed to try these cases as if in a court of law. This avenue of knowledge is made available to give the law students practical experience before they graduate; and apparently this experience is given in the junior year in order that this knowledge may come to the students early enough to let them know what it is all about.

Anyway, Mr. Peter Boter is now in the city and yesterday opened up offices in the Spritama building, 28 West 8th St., over John Pieper's Optometrist parlors. With the opening of court at Grand Haven recently Mr. Boter was introduced to the members of the Ottawa County Bar Association and from now on he will be one of their number.

After having been struck by a car being driven by Burton J. Naberhus, 20, of 212 West 10th St., Miss Alice De Frell, 65, of West 14th St., was treated by local physicians for a fractured collar bone and knee injuries. The accident occurred about 5:30 p. m. Friday.

On Sunday afternoon an organ recital will be presented in Hope Memorial Chapel by Kenneth R. Osborne, organist at Hope College. On Jan. 9, Walter Blodgett of St. James church, Cleveland, will present a recital in the chapel.

Holland Streets Lighted Most Beautifully

HOLLAND MERCHANTS MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR CHRISTMAS

Christmas Tree to be Lighted in Centennial Park

Holland is decked in Christmas array. River Ave. and 8th St. are scintillating with colorful lights, festooned from boulevard standard to standard with "glims." At intervals large Christmas trees have been put up and these are more impressive than the little ones placed in every flag socket along the thoroughfares as was done heretofore.

Holland's principal streets are today "great white ways." The myriads of lights augmented by the illuminated and neon signs make the nights seem something really worthwhile. It cannot help but inculcate the spirit of Christmas. The Board of Public Works has had a force of men busy putting up the lights, and from now until after New Year the illumination will continue to be intact.

The Board of Public Works will also illuminate the large fir tree in Centennial Park, which is generally topped by a mammoth star. This "Christmas" aspect in Holland's beautiful park originated many years ago and was fostered by the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter Daughters of American Revolution, and this has become a real institution in this city. Thousands gather on Christmas Eve to sing carols around the tree and the venerable director, John Vander Sluis, has taken care of the directing during all these years.

Undoubtedly many homes will be brightened with Christmas trees large and small, and many a front yard in the residential district will be colorfully lighted with electrical illuminations. These illuminations are always worthwhile and call for an annual trip of all the streets in the city, and it is a real treat to make such a trip.

The merchants, too, in many instances are putting on extra illuminations and the show windows are really calling for some "window shopping." Many of them are beautiful. All stores are foregoing the Wednesday afternoon half-holiday beginning this week, and will continue to be open through the month of December. This is true with the exception of the grocery and food stores. These will be closed on Wednesday as usual, with possibly the exception of the last week before Christmas.

Stores will be open every night before Christmas beginning Saturday, December 18, and will continue to be open the next week on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, until 9:00 o'clock; however, on Friday, Christmas Eve, all stores will remain open until 6:00 o'clock, and shoppers, who cannot come during the day time, can be accommodated during the evening.

Holland merchants have laid in an especially fine assortment of Christmas gifts, and judging from the size of the stocks, a brisk trade is anticipated. Holland is a fine city in which to do your Christmas shopping and every dollar spent here, builds here.

SNOW REMOVAL ON SIDEWALKS DISCUSSED

Holland is given praise by all visitors from abroad that its streets are kept as free from snow as it is possible to make them, surpassing any other city as large as Holland and larger. City Engineer Zuidema and his able staff can be credited with this work. The city also has snow plows for the walks, and a communication from some folk who formerly lived in Iowa states it is apparent that the walks could be put in better shape by the people themselves. The communication is signed by Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Berentschot, Geraldine Berentschot, and Pearl Ten Harmel, all from the state "where the tall corn grows."

In part, they say that accidents occur in the city every winter when snow falls, and this is caused by the fact that some property owners clean their walks and others do not, leaving them in an uneven condition. With the last snowfall a lady from Sioux Center, Iowa, visited here and sustained serious injuries, and she was brought to Holland hospital at considerable expense.

The folk signing this communication state that some years ago they lived in Sioux Center, where they had a wonderful system of cleaning sidewalks. Every property owner is obliged to clean his walk as far as his property goes. However, should the property owner not do so, the city sends a man who does the work for $c per block of four feet. This cost is considered a fine and not a means of collecting money from citizens to defray the expense of the work. If, however, the snow is frozen down, and it cannot be readily removed by the property owner, the city of Sioux Center does it for them, and in these cases exempts the owner from penalties.

In conclusion the communication reads as follows: "We have lived here in our own beautiful city for the past 12 years and have often wondered if such a system could not be worked out here. We think it could, and it would improve our 'safety-first' measures, and we hope, gentlemen, that this will be investigated, and if possible, carried out."

The matter was referred to the committee on streets and crosswalks, together with the City Engineer.

A dispatch from Cleveland, the center of the Greyhound Bus strike, indicates that the strike is settled. Holland, up to this time, has not been effected much by the strike.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Our attention was recently called to a section of the new law defining what is meant by retail liquor dealers. It appears now that sweet cider dispensed publicly comes under that head. Persons selling cider by the glass must secure a liquor license and must give approved bonds if he wishes to engage in the business. That is going to hit several stores in places where refreshments are sold. There are a large number of people who sell cider by the glass, and the rank and file believe that sweet cider is not intoxicating. However, there are quite a number in this city liable to prosecution under the new law, and the penalty is quite severe. You may, however, sell cider by the gallon without a license or without a penalty. Note:—Laws have many strange angles. Sweet cider is non-intoxicating, but when it becomes hard, it is another matter. Then it has a real "kick." But the strangest part of the law was that in the same place of business you might not sell by the glass fifty years ago under the law, but you might sell by the gallon. In other words, the folk then might not sell a drink without a penalty, but they were not penalized when they sold a drunk. Undoubtedly the law was intended to prevent hard cider from being sold. But, believe us, there was a "pile" of cider sold in "ye olden days," and it was not sold in saloons either.

George Van Hess, station agent at Allegan, was in Holland Saturday and like all people from Allegan he never travels without a sample of petroleum from the new gas well, and consequently, scented up the Holland City News office for an hour or two with his little pile of oil. George is interested in this new gas and oil well, discovered near his station in Allegan. Note:—It was at that time that considerable Holland and Zeeland capital took a flyer in Allegan oil. George Van Hess was one of them. The promoters were right, however, there was plenty of oil but the equipment to get at it was not so improved as the methods used today. Who knows what these oil wells might have developed into had the promoters ventured a little further and a little deeper. Time has proven that Allegan County is in the oil strata. Mr. Van Hess was well known by the editor, having been for years with the Holland Interurban. He was a fine gentleman and Mrs. Van Hess still lives in this city.

4000 CHILDREN FROM HOLLAND AND VICINITY WILL RECEIVE MUSEUM INSTRUCTION

Within the next two months, over 4,000 school children will visit the Netherlands Museum, as part of a widespread educational project, it was pointed out today by Willard C. Wichers, district supervisor of the Historical Records Survey. Teachers will accompany the students in their visits.

This movement is being sponsored by Sons of the American Revolution, Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Literary Club, as well as by educators. Mayor Geerlings has also endorsed the plan, as well as a large group of other citizens.

Pointing out the need for a permanent location for the museum, now being housed in the former People's State Bank building, at 29 East Eighth St., Dr. A. Leenhouts, member of the board, heartily commended the plan.

IMMEDIATELY AFTER, THE LOADED TRUCK "JACK-KNIFED" ON THE NORTH SIDE OF THE APPROACH TO THE BRIDGE AND SENT ITS LOADED TANK OVER THE EMBANKMENT, SEVERAL FEET BELOW.

Although a crew of men was on the job almost immediately, the wreck effectively blocked all the traffic from Sunday midnight until about eight o'clock Monday morning.

Zeeland Police Investigate A Mystery Man

STRANGE CASE INVOLVES STRANGE MAN IN ZEELAND

Rather a strange case envelopes a "mystery man" at Zeeland, who claims his name is Mathew. Whether that is his name is hard to conjecture. It seems that this "mystery man" came to Zeeland right after Thanksgiving Day. Citizens on Church St. noticed a large Buick car parked there for hours. It was a strange car and remained in front of the home of D. F. Boonstra from 2:00 o'clock in the early morning. The neighbors investigated, looked the car over, and found a man sleeping in the car. They also took down the license number of the car.

The approach of the Zeelanders awakened the sleeper, who was in the rear seat. He was questioned and then unexpectedly drove away. The questions rather evasive and aroused their suspicion. A Zeeland officer, Lester De Pree, checked up on the license plate of the Buick car and found that it had registered on a 1928 Chevrolet. The Zeeland officer immediately telephoned police in surrounding towns, which resulted in nothing in the way of finding the man in question.

From later development it appears that Mathew did not go to Grand Rapids as had been supposed, but evidently went another direction. A few hours later a service station attendant near Zeeland reported that a young man had left his grip at the station to make good for five gallons of gasoline which he needed, but had no money to pay for. According to the service station attendant he redeemed the suitcase by paying for the gas.

Since that time a watchful eye was kept on the service station and Tuesday forenoon the vigilance of the officers was rewarded, when Chief of Police Fred Bosma of Zeeland saw the "mystery man" enter the station. The Chief questioned the man, who said that he had "hitchhiked" back to Zeeland from Holland. When they stated that traveling to Zeeland was not going south as he had stated he gave as his excuse that he had to go back to Zeeland to pick up the grip. The fact that he could not explain that the car bore improper license plates was felt as sufficient cause by the police to hold the man. A search of his person showed no evidence of weapons nor of any money. How he expected to get the suitcase back without money is difficult to understand.

The man claims that Friday he drove from Holland to Muskegon, after leaving Zeeland, where he remained for four days, claiming to "hitchhike" the entire way back to Zeeland. State Trooper Gill of Grand Haven was called and took the man to Muskegon jail, to await investigation. About all that was found on the man's person was some small-sized photographs of himself, one of which he gave to Chief Bosma of Zeeland. Police say that the man is not very communicative, although he appeared very nervous at times.

A telephone call to the State Police at Grand Haven brought the information that Federal officers are questioning the man at the Muskegon jail.

It further develops that a robbery was "pulled off" in Muskegon when it was found that the government National Forest headquarters had been entered and some $600 in typewriters, adding machines and office equipment was taken and whether the man in question had anything to do with that job is what officers are endeavoring to find out.

FROM LATER DEVELOPMENT IT APPEARS THAT MATHEW DID NOT GO TO GRAND RAPIDS AS HAD BEEN SUPPOSED, BUT EVIDENTLY WENT ANOTHER DIRECTION.

A few days ago Plainwell smothered Zeelanders in a football game to the tune of 100 to 0. That reminds your editor that he played "shortstop" on the Holland Black Diamonds, a west end team, 30 years before and beat Zeeland at baseball on their own grounds 100 to 1 in favor of the Holland team. Yours truly was a little too jubilant and a big, pugnacious Zeeland lad presented your editor with a beautiful dark colored "lamp." Note: Zeeland today and for many years has excelled in all lines of sports and more victories than defeats. Now is at that time that 100 to 1 scores are not in the program—and today, by the way, the "lamp" is better.

GETS HIS BUCK QUICKLY NO "BUCK FEVER"

One Holland man skirted the edges of the North woods the other day supposedly to hunt deer just before the season closed. This man was Harry Plaggenmeyer, who by the way, is so superintending a road contract in the far reaches of upper Michigan.

Early one morning Harry jumped into his car with gun all oiled, ready for the fray. Undoubtedly the deer had heard of Harry's coming, and knowing that the "zero hour" of the hunting season had nearly been reached, came out to greet and accommodate him.

One big buck was especially elated when he saw the Plaggenmeyer car zooming along. He outdid himself and leaped from the woods directly in the path of Harry's oncoming automobile. The Holland man was too good for the deer. He heading straight for the head end of the "Iron Horse," and what happened can well be imagined. Harry got his buck without firing a shot, but the car was badly bent and the insurance adjuster is already on hand to find out how many "bucks" this buck will cost them. It appears that the buck and not Harry was stricken with "buck fever."

HOPE GRADUATE, A DOCTOR FOR YEARS, PASSES

Dr. Dick Werkman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, passed away, was the word received by relatives of Mr. Werkman in Holland. At least a half century ago Mr. Werkman graduated from Hope College. That was when the local institution could boast of few facilities, and aside from Van Vleck Hall the classrooms and the chapel were cold, frame buildings. No one dared to dream that a Hope Memorial Chapel and the other pretentious buildings would ever adorn the campus.

Dr. Werkman, when he graduated from the Michigan Medical school, moved west to Hull, Iowa, where he practiced for 32 years. He then moved to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he was called to take the chair of Professor of Chemistry in Coe University. This position he held for a number of years and until the time of his death.

Mr. Werkman was formerly Miss Sena De Boer, of Holland, and she still survives, together with five children—Ed Werkman, journalist in Pittsburgh; John Werkman, who conducts a book store in Chicago; Miss Marguerite, dietitian in South Dakota; and Mrs. Albert De Wilde of Hull, Iowa. A sister, Mrs. Ida Burton of Holland, and a brother, Simon De Boer, local rural carrier, also survive. Miss Gertrude Werkman, a sister, is a resident of Holland. The late Reynold Werkman, the man who built the first furniture factory in this city, namely the Ottawa, and who had a great deal to do with Holland's early development as a house contractor, was an uncle. He at that time conducted the Phoenix Planning Mill, a large, red mill, then on the present post office site.

Funeral services were held at Cedar Rapids Friday, and interment took place in Hull, Iowa, Saturday.

GOODFELLOWS NEWSPAPER DRIVE WILL AGAIN BE PUT ON BY EXCHANGE CLUB

The third annual newspaper drive of the Goodfellows' Foundation of the Holland Exchange Club will be held this year again in December. On the day of the drive, exact date of which is to be announced later, local businessmen who are members of the club, become "newsboys," and sell a special edition of the Holland Evening Sentinel. Two years ago the goal in the drive was $500, and last year the goal was set at $1000. Both years the goal was surpassed. The money derived from sales is used to aid in giving financial assistance to needy children who need their tonsils removed or need other assistance beneficial to their health.

Last year $1208.89 was collected, while $1361.17 was the amount of expenditures, leaving a balance of $59.72. Disbursements for the year, as listed in the report by the committee in charge, composed of A. Keppel, chairman, Paul E. Hinkamp and William Brouwer, are as follows: 49 tonsillectomies at $20 each, $980; one removal of adenoids, $10; 50 hospital fees at $3 each, $150; three children helped with dental care, $34; one expert consultation provided, $3; milk furnished to 17 needy families, $181.17; fee for filing corporation report, $2; office expense, $1.

A crowd of approximately 3,000 people were present at the Holland-Grand Haven football game at Ferry field, Grand Haven, on Thanksgiving Day. The Holland eleven was well on the way to a second touchdown when the gun sounded for the end of the ball game, having 10 yards between themselves and the goal line.

Late Holland Man Honored In Classic Publication

FURNITURE MAGAZINE'S COVER DEDICATED TO J. A. VANDER VEEN

The November issue of the "Fine Furniture Magazine" a wonderfully written style publication of all outstanding makes of furniture throughout the nation, dedicates its cover page to John A. Vander Veen, local industrialist who passed away suddenly a few weeks ago.

The center of the cover shows a fine portrait of the Holland man in a background of bright red. Beneath the picture appears the following wording, "His was the helping hand."

Referring to page 30 of the publication, the "Fine Furniture Magazine" devotes more than a half page to the passing of Mr. Vander Veen and his life's work and business accomplishments, much of which has already been published in the Holland City News.

SUCH PARAGRAPHS DEFINING THE CHARACTERISTICS OF "J. A."—AS THE PUBLICATION INTIMATELY TERMS HIM—are these:—

"Contrasting his Holland stoicism, his astuteness in the realm of business, was John A. Vander Veen's inherent sense of humor. Uttered in a sotto voice, it belied the robustness of Jovial John's spirit of conviviality."

"ALTHOUGH NATIVE TO A CITY BOASTING A FURNITURE MAKING HERITAGE, JOHN VANDER VEEN DID NOT BEGIN HIS BUSINESS CAREER IN THAT INDUSTRY. AT THE ROLLING AGE OF 13 HE WENT TO WORK IN HIS FATHER'S HARDWARE STORE WHERE HE LABORED FOR EIGHT YEARS, FORSAKING IT ONLY TO SEEK OFFICE TRAINING IN A BUSINESS COLLEGE AT GRAND RAPIDS. A YEAR OR TWO LATER HE BOUGHT HIS FATHER OUT, BECAME SOLE OWNER AT THE AGE OF 23. A FEW YEARS AGO HE SOLD HIS INTEREST IN THE STORE IN ORDER THAT HE MIGHT DEVOTE MORE TIME TO THE HOLLAND FURNITURE CO., IN WHICH CONCERN HE HAD PURCHASED STOCK IN 1893."

THEN FOLLOWS A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF MR. VANDER VEEN'S RISE IN THE BUSINESS WORLD AND THE INDUSTRIAL PLANTS HE STARTED, FOSTERED, MANAGED OR WAS INTERESTED IN.

Another sidelight not so generally known here was described as follows:—

"TIRELESS IN HIS WORK FOR THE CITY MISSION, VANDER VEEN HELPED MANY A LAD OVER THE ROUGH SPOTS IN HIS LIFE, A JOB PERFORMED IN HIS OWN QUIET, SECRETIVE WAY. NO ONE BUT "J. A." KNEW HOW MANY YOUNG MEN COULD THANK HIM FOR HAVING THE BENEFITS OF A COLLEGE EDUCATION. UNDERSTANDING AND LOVABLE, DESPITE A SEVERE MIEN AT TIMES, HE WAS EVER READY TO LEND THE HELPING HAND. INTERESTED IN BASEBALL, JOHN PERSONALLY COLLECTED MOST OF THE FUNDS NECESSARY FOR THE ERECTION OF THE GRANDSTAND THAT ENHANCES THE RIVERVIEW BALL PARK IN HOLLAND."

"A prominent figure in the Grand Rapids market, 'J. A.' was anticipating celebration at the January exhibition of his 45 years' association with the furniture industry."

The Spirit of Christmas

Anyone who judges the world today solely by the wars and rumors of wars that disturb it, the wrangling and bitterness between nations, the racketeering and other crime that is rampant in many countries, the industrial strife that afflicts our own, is justified in despairing of the future.

Fortunately that is not the whole picture.

Beneath the surface is a vast amount of decency and charity and goodwill and affection, which rarely makes the front pages.

Christmas throws up this side of the picture once a year.

As a day that is coming more and more to be regarded as peculiarly belonging to children, Christmas brings out visible evidence of a side of human nature that too often remains concealed during other seasons of the year.

School children in one city are taking their last year's toys to school, where they will be brightened up and then sent to schools in poorer districts for distribution among children who otherwise might not receive any this year.

The policemen and firemen of another city are also collecting and mending toys for Santa Claus to redistribute on Christmas eve.

The annual visit of the Goodfellow is looked forward to by tens of thousands of needy boys in several cities of the nation, whose life will be made brighter by the donors of money and clothing to that admirable organization.

And the Goodfellow are but one of many which act at this time of year as clearing houses for human kindness.

They exemplify and radiate the Christmas spirit.

Holland's American Legion has already started a drive for clothes, toys, new or to be made over ones. Don't forget this drive.

The Exchange club will soon start its newspaper sale for needy children in medical needs.

All this world needs to put a new face on it is for that spirit of kindness, tolerance and understanding to be injected into the relations between nations and between the grown-ups in the nations, who are responsible for the turmoil and strife which beset them today.

Roddie, seven year old son of Prof. and Mrs. Bruce M. Raymond, is much improved, and is resting at his home here, after having spent ten days in a Grand Rapids hospital in a serious condition.

FUNERAL OF MISS HOEKJE, INSTRUCTOR IN HOLLAND HIGH, IS TODAY

The flag at Holland high school was at half-mast all week in memory of Miss Emma Cornelia Hoekje, 42, teacher of German and French in Holland high school for the past 13½ years, who died Monday about 11:30 p. m. in Blodgett hospital, East Grand Rapids. She had been in poor health for about a year, and had been confined at the hospital for over two weeks. Blood transfusions, resorted to in an effort to save her life, were of no avail.

Miss Hoekje was born on Nov. 9, 1895, in Fremont, to the late Rev. and Mrs. John Hoekje. Rev. Hoekje died 11 years ago. Miss Hoekje and her sister, Miss Hanna G. Hoekje, teacher of Bible and Journalism at Holland high, lived, since the death of their father, at their home, 144 West 10th St.

Miss Hoekje was a graduate of Hope College. She was a member of Third Reformed Church, where she was actively engaged in church work up to the time of death. She was a Sunday school teacher at the church, a member of the Gleaners' class, and of the Mission Auxiliary.

After being the moving spirit behind the organization of the Intermediate department of the church, three years ago, during the summer of 1936 she was superintendent of the organization.

Miss Hoekje was also active in her school work. The personnel card system and personnel board were under her direction, and were developed by her. The Girl Reserves, for many years an active organization, was under her guidance. She was in charge of Thanksgiving and Christmas programs during the past few years, and aided in distribution of Christmas baskets at the high school.

In 1924, Miss Hoekje came to Holland from Monroe high school. She took several summer courses at the University of Wisconsin.

Three sisters, Miss Hanna G. Hoekje at home, Mrs. H. V. Stegeman, missionary to Japan, and Mrs. Grace Hondelink of Rochester, New York; and two brothers, Prof. John Hoekje, Registrar at Western State Teachers' College in Kalamazoo, and Dr. Willis Hoekje, missionary to Japan, survive.

Funeral services will be held today, Friday, at 1 p. m. from the home, and at 1:30 from Third Reformed church, the Rev. William Van't Hof officiating at services at the church and at the home.

Additional addresses will be presented at the church by Wynand Wichers, president of Hope College, and Dr. J. R. Mulder of Western Theological seminary, "Abide With Me" and "One Sweetly Solen Thought" will be sung by the Holland high girls' sextet, under direction of Miss Trisxie Moore, at the services.

Junior and senior high teachers who will act as pall-bearers are Principal J. J. Riemersma, Rexford E. Chapman, James A. Bennett, Richard Martin, Erwin D. Hanson, and Edward Donovan. School will be dismissed for the afternoon.

Attorney Orien S. Cross of this city was in Pontiac on business Wednesday.

Christian Rest—Matthew 11:28-30; Hebrews 4:1-11.

Henry Geerlings

Christ knew the secret and the source of a restless soul. He Himself richly possessed the rest He promised to men. On its surface, was there ever a life more troubled and vexed than His? Or was there ever a soul more heavily burdened than His with all the sin and sorrow of the world? He was a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief. He knew all the vicissitudes of life, and He faced all of its temptations and temptations. He endured the hatred of man and He tasted the bitter pangs of a violent death. Yet His burdened spirit knew a calm that was unbroken, and a peace that was untroubled. His life was like a vast ocean whose surface is lashed and broken by the fury of storms, but in whose death there is a peace that no tide can touch and no storm disturb. That peace was the result of His faith in God. It is a rest, a peace that truly passes understanding. Only faith in God, in His purpose, His power, His presence can bestow it upon men.

Christ gives rest from worry. That takes more out of us, puts more burdens on us, holds out less hope, manufacturers a more galling yoke, than any other single thing that can be mentioned. If we lived closer to God, put sin out of our lives, seek to embody in our thinking the will of Christ, we would have rest such as the world can neither give nor take away. It is this that makes us forget our duty, misleads us into the belief that it offers us the largest possible return, and places burdens on us that no mortal man can carry. The fact of the matter is that we cannot come all to Christ with the hope of finding rest unless we are willing to deal with sin.

Christ gives us rest from petty annoyances. There are persons who can face great problems courageously, but are terribly annoyed by little things. They meet the former with a stout heart because they have schooled themselves to it, and they will not give up; but when it comes to trifles they offer no resistance at all. They simply yield to them. What most of us need in ordinary circumstances is composure of spirit. We do not need give way to every petty hostility, and every trifling annoyance. It is pathetic to see a strong man go all to pieces and lose control of himself because he finds a word misspelled in a letter he dictated or a meal not ready on time. If necessary, it could be proved that Christ had all these things in mind when He called people to Himself for peace and rest.

Christ gives rest in the midst of activity. I am sure Christ did not mean that in all cases we are to stop what we are doing to find rest and peace. He gives us said they were not to be anxious about the future, that if God feeds the birds and clothes the flowers, He will not fail to provide for us. Worry is harder on us than work. It takes more out of us, and it brings no good return. We ought to banish our borrowed troubles and trust God. The rest that He offers is intended to free our hearts from worry, and to say the least we cannot afford to live in a world of fear.

Christ gives us rest from sin. That is the worst enemy we have. It takes more out of us, puts more burdens on us, holds out less hope, manufacturers a more galling yoke, than any other single thing that can be mentioned. If we lived closer to God, put sin out of our lives, seek to embody in our thinking the will of Christ, we would have rest such as the world can neither give nor take away. It is this that makes us forget our duty, misleads us into the belief that it offers us the largest possible return, and places burdens on us that no mortal man can carry. The fact of the matter is that we cannot come all to Christ with the hope of finding rest unless we are willing to deal with sin.

Christ gives us rest from petty annoyances. There are persons who can face great problems courageously, but are terribly annoyed by little things. They meet the former with a stout heart because they have schooled themselves to it, and they will not give up; but when it comes to trifles they offer no resistance at all. They simply yield to them. What most of us need in ordinary circumstances is composure of spirit. We do not need give way to every petty hostility, and every trifling annoyance. Christ gives rest in the midst of activity. I am sure Christ did not mean that in all cases we are to stop what we are doing to find rest and peace. He gives us strength and vision to carry on what we are doing, and to carry it on in a very different spirit. We want to go ahead with our work in the confidence of new power and with new pleasure. There is such a thing of finding rest in the midst of our daily tasks. The spirit in which we labor makes what we are doing less irksome and wearying. Then too, a change of labor provides rest. We have powers of body and mind that need to be brought into exercise more than in the case at present. This will give rest to those that have been at work.

Reports of Select Committees.

Alderman Brouwer reported on behalf of the Committee appointed by the Mayor sometime ago to consider the matter of a Dutch Museum to be erected in the City of Holland. Alderman Brouwer reported that their committee had held three meetings with the committee from the Netherlands Pioneer Historical Foundation Society in regard to such a building to house a museum and library. It was reported that the matter had been taken up with WPA officials and the best information they can furnish in case such a building was built as a WPA project, is that the government would furnish the common labor and 5% of the materials. The balance of the cost of skilled labor and materials would have to be furnished by the City. It was further reported that the Historical Committee is interested in going ahead in getting preliminary plans at no cost to the City providing the Common Council will concur in such action.

It was further stated that in the meetings that have been held, it was brought out that the tentative plans at present call for the construction of a building on the old hospital site at the corner of Central Ave. and 12th St.

It was further proposed that the building which would be erected would house both the library and a museum.

In discussing the matter, it was brought out that the probable upkeep cost would amount to $10,000 per year.

Mr. Willard Wichers, who was present, stated that the historical survey up to this time has been financed by the U. S. Government. However, it is their plan that if a building were constructed, that an effort would be made to secure memberships which would help pay the cost of maintenance.

After a brief discussion and comments by different aldermen, it was moved by Alderman Bultman, and seconded by Prins, that the matter be tabled for the present.

Communications from Boards and City Officers.

The claims approved by the Hospital Board in the sum of $3,303.35; Library Board—$161.65; Park and Cemetery Board—$1,447.63; Police and Fire Board, $1,321.86; Board of Public Works—$19,499.03, were ordered certified to the Council for payment. (Said claims on file in Clerk's office for public inspection.)

Clerk presented communication from the Board of Park and Cemetery Trustees requesting the Council to sell to them at private sale the Van Raalte Ave. Paving Bonds in the amount of $13,365.00.

The Board offered to pay the best price that had been obtained at the time the bids were received two weeks previously, viz., 4% bonds at par and accrued interest, plus a premium of $51.00.

Request granted and bonds sold to Park and Cemetery Board, all voting Aye.

Clerk presented communication from the Board of Public Works requesting permission to invest $7,500.00 in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Mr. Kalkman stated that he was water mains and for this they were going to employ all the labor. However, since then, the laying of these water mains has been approved as a WPA project, and as a result, some of our local men were deprived of work and men on WPA from outside the City were given employment. Mr. Kalkman recommended that the Board of Public Works be contacted, and if possible, that citizens of Holland be given preference in securing labor.

Referred to Board of Public Works Committee.

Unfinished Business. Clerk reported that the hearing on the construction of a sewer in Lincoln Ave., East 16th and East 17th Sts., which was deferred from the last meeting, should be considered.

ZEELAND PEOPLE LOSE FATHER BY DEATH

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Matter of Zeeland were summoned to their home city, St. Johns, last Friday by the death of their father, John Matter, who died at St. Johns hospital at the age of seventy-seven years. Mr. Matter had been in poor health for several months and had been in the hospital several weeks. He had lapsed into unconsciousness the previous Monday. His funeral services were held at St. Johns on Sunday afternoon.

JURY AWARDS $1,847 TO WHITE ELECTRIC CO.

The White Electric Co. of Holland was awarded $1,847.38, claimed to have been its anticipated return on a $7,574 wiring electrical contract—entered in July 8, 1937—against the Heinz Co. in circuit court, after a half hour deliberation by the jury. The jury held that this amount was due as damages for breach of contract by the defendant, Judge Joseph Sanford of Muskegon presided in the place of Judge Fred T. Miles, who disclaimed himself since a nephew, State Representative Nelson A. Miles, was one of the attorneys for the plaintiff. For that reason Judge Miles asked the Muskegon judge to occupy the Ottawa Circuit Court bench for this particular case—while the Holland man tried cases in Muskegon County for Judge Sanford.

Cecil White of the White Electric Co. claims the sum was due because of breach of contract, he having received the bid for the wiring of the company's new building. The company makes its claim that the plaintiff would have been unable to fill the contract because of certain union labor dissensions that seem to have entered in and it was claimed would have delayed the work and the finishing of the job was imperative. They cancelled the contract and gave the job to the Hall Electric Co. of Muskegon.

The White Electric Co. was represented by Attorney Nelson A. Miles and Attorney John R. Dethmers; and the firm of Diekema, Cross and Ten Cate represented the Heinz Co. Whether an appeal is to be taken has not yet been fully decided by the Heinz Co.

OHIO MAN FACES OTTAWA CHARGES: FORMERLY OF BORCULO

Marvin Hoffman, 27 years old of Borculo, north of Zeeland, who gave himself up to Toledo, Ohio, police Monday and was brought here yesterday to face breaking and entering charges by Sheriff Frank Van Etta and Undersheriff Tony Groeneveld, told the officers he was tired of being hunted and for this reason decided to return and face charges. Hoffman, already on parole from a previous breaking and entering charge, is alleged to have entered a Zeeland home Jan. 12, 1937, and taken a sum of money.

Hoffman is one of three men who were charged with entering the home of Johannes Kats, one mile northeast of Zeeland, rifling the bureau drawers and stealing a purse containing a sum of money. The two other men were apprehended at the time. Marvin Hoffman escaped and had not been heard of until Sunday.

Bertal Slaght Tells of License Changes

Two changes will be effective this year in procedure of issuing operators' and chauffeurs' licenses, according to word received by Bertal Slaght, head of the local license bureau, from Leon D. Case, secretary of State. When application for operators' licenses are received in Lansing too late to allow return of the permit within the 20-day period demanded by law, post-cards will be sent to applicant advising them of this fact. On Dec. 1, chauffeurs' badges and licenses will be placed on sale for 1938, thus saving applicants for these licenses the $1 fee for a 1937 license and badge for the remainder of this year.

ZEELAND YOUTH MARRIES SOUTH HAVEN GIRL

Cyrus Kuipers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuipers of W. McKinley St., Zeeland, and Miss Margaret Schewe of South Haven were united in marriage at the bride's home in South Haven Tuesday evening. The young couple will make their home in South Haven, where Mr. Kuipers is employed.

Mr. Gerald Böhms, who was present, stated that since the last Council meeting when an objection had been entered, he had investigated the necessity for such a sewer, and although some of the residents in this section were hardly able to stand this extra cost, however, they felt inasmuch as it is to be put in as a WPA Project, that they should go ahead with it and no further objections registered.

On motion of Alderman Prins, seconded by Kleis, Resolved that the sewer be constructed.

Adopted, all voting Aye. Adjourned. Oscar Peterson, City Clerk.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The next Post meeting will be held Wednesday evening, December 8th.

Now is the time to gather up all your old clothing and toys for the Christmas Drive. The date for picking up these articles will be announced later.

The Commander and the Adjutant attended the Post Officers' Conference at Saginaw on November 27th and 28th. Child Welfare and Americanism were the main points that were discussed. The Adjutant will make a complete report at the next meeting (if he did not know it, this is his notification.)

The usual chorus singing "There Are no Wives With Us" was heard but we couldn't join in on the refrain.

Don't forget your dues. If they are not in during this month, the National Magazine will not be delivered to you.

A notice has been posted in the daily paper announcing a fun party in the Legion Rooms on Saturday the 4th. Just as if we ever get into that room without having fun. Anyway we will be looking for you there.

Some complaint was heard that the last Fun Party of the Legion was stag. We had to do it to keep one member of the Auxiliary from going home with all of the prizes. (Please do not ask for names or other identification.)

Past Commander Van Tongeren went deer hunting and has been seen on the streets since his return. Such silence can only denote failure. But then, side-pork is wholesome.

Willard G. Leenhouts Post Will Put on Clothing Drive for Needy

From Dec. 6 to Dec. 18 a combination clothes-toy drive will be held by the American Legion here for the benefit of indigents. The drive will be conducted throughout the Holland School systems. Donations will be collected from the children at their schools. Those who do not have contact with the schools, or who would like to make direct donations may call either Ed Slooter, 9646, or Jack Zwemer, 2955, and the Legion will collect the donations.

Time does not allow repairing of broken toys this year, so all who plan to make contributions are requested to aid Santa Claus by fixing broken toys. Those who attended the meeting of the executive committee last Friday evening, where the above resolutions were enacted were Henry Cook, Simon Meeuwse, Dr. William Weststrate, Chester Van Tongeren, Commander Slooter, Harry Kramer, E. V. Hartman, Ben Lieverse, Al Van Lente, Tony Dogger, Jacob Bultman, Henry Poppen, and Andrew Rutgers, all of whom are either present officers or past Commanders of the Legion.

DR. ARNOLD MULDER GUEST SPEAKER AT CENTURY CLUB

At a meeting of the Century club Monday evening at the home of Mayor and Mrs. Henry Geerlings, West 14th St., Dr. Arnold Mulder, professor of English at Kalamazoo college, delivered an address on the subject, "American Criticism for American Readers." The speaker characterized 19th century writing as English rather than American. The years 1912 and 1913 were mentioned by the speaker as being eventful years in the development of literature, the former in the field of poetry; the latter in the field of drama. Dr. Mulder concluded his address with a plea for more critical, opinion-forming reading of present-day literature.

Mrs. W. C. Snow accompanied Mrs. Phillips Brooks, soprano as she sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," and "Auf Wiedersehen." Following a discussion of the club constitution, in charge of Prof. E. P. McLean, president of the club, a social hour, arranged by Dr. M. J. Cook, the Rev. and Mrs. Paul E. Hinkamp, Mrs. Martha Robbins, Mrs. C. J. Ossewaarde, and Mrs. J. E. Telling, was enjoyed by all present.

Dr. Mulder and Mrs. Mulder are both former members of the local Century club.

SPORTS OF THE WEEK

Three local independent teams lost to three out-of-town teams in a triple-header basketball encounter at Holland Armory Thanksgiving Day evening. In the first game, the Dutch Kraft Paint team of Grand Rapids took the Zeeland Independents into camp, 31 to 19. Another Grand Rapids team, the Ryskamp Markets, defeated the local Pure Oil team 20 to 17. In the final thriller, the Peter Pan Bakers of Kalamazoo edged out the Holland Furnace five 28-27. The center jump elimination was used in the three contests.

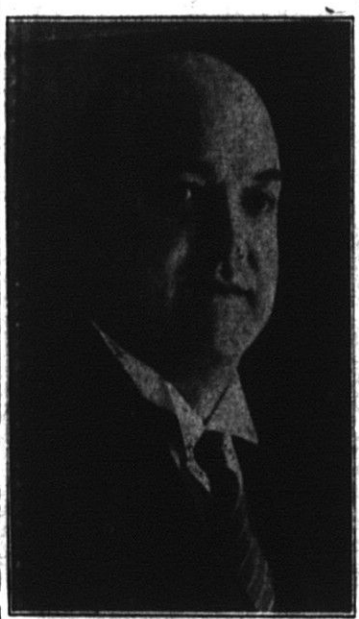

Miss Vivian Decker, of this city, enrolled as a sophomore in the Physical Education department at Western State Teachers' College in Kalamazoo, has been initiated into the Women's Education association of the college, a women's organization for those interested in physical education work, according to word received here.

Music Takes Large Part In Trinity Service

EVANGELICAL SERVICES AT TRINITY DURING DECEMBER

Plans have been formulated to hold special Evangelical services at Trinity Reformed Church every Sunday evening during the month of December. The meetings are to begin at 7:20 and twenty minutes will be devoted to song service at each meeting.

This song service is to be led by Mr. John H. Smits of Grand Rapids, considered one of the most able song leaders in Michigan. Mr. Smits will be assisted by his daughter, Angeline. Miss Angeline Smits is recognized as an outstanding accompanist and her artistic ability is well known throughout western Michigan. It was she who was the accompanist at the International Christian Endeavor convention held in the Civic Auditorium at Grand Rapids last June.

MR. JOHN H. SMITS

Rev. Henry Terkeurst, pastor of Trinity, will deliver the discourses during these gatherings. The Evangelical program is indeed timely during the Yuletide season and will augment the many other religious activities from the pulpit and through song and oratorios of a religious nature.

Rev. Henry Terkeurst will have as his subjects: December 5, "The Danger of Neglect"; December 12, "Divided Allegiance"; December 19, "The Necessity of Choice"; December 26, "God's Greatest Gift." The general theme will be "Personal Decisions."

The church choir, under the direction of Mrs. C. Trapp, with Mrs. J. Marcus at the organ, will furnish appropriate music during the services, and Mr. Cornie Steketee will assist with the trumpet.

THE KELLOGG LIBRARY AT HAMILTON

W. K. Kellogg Foundation library books have been placed with Mrs. Marvin Kooker at Hamilton to be loaned to the teachers. It is hoped that some of the people in the Northwest part of the County will be able to get books at Hamilton. We certainly shall appreciate the kindness of the Hamilton ladies in aiding our rural teachers and children.

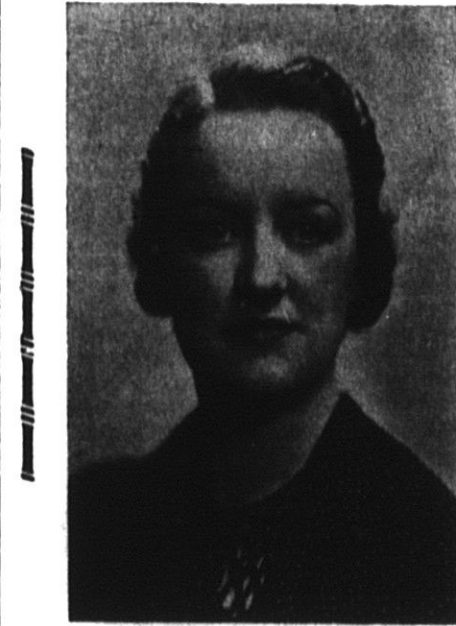

Saugatuck and Plainwell have a good supply of books. If you have been unable to get books at the other libraries, it would be fine to give them a trial.

Mrs. Habing is 75 years old. Former Alderman Bert Habing is a son. Mr. Habing has aided in building most of the best structures in Holland.

Holland Latex Sales Company Moves Here

(Zeeland Record)

The Holland Latex Sales, Inc., on Friday of this week moved its glove manufacturing department to Zeeland, and will begin operations here as soon as it can install its equipment.

The company has been manufacturing rubber gloves suitable for various purposes about the home and the laboratory, and holds the patent on a special process that is quite superior to any previously invented. This is only one department of its manufacturing business which, for mechanical reasons, they are compelled to make distinctly separate from any other product, hence the establishment here.

The company has leased the concrete block building situated just east of the old Van Hoven-Vereeke building on East Main street, on which it has taken a lease for the period of three years. It is estimated by the company that this building will provide them with the necessary room for the period of the lease and should there be demand for more space later, it might build additional factory space on the same lot.

The company will install all its equipment at once and may be in operation early in December. The equipment was moved here early this week.

Youngsters Turn Out 350 Strong

A crowd of about 350 set a record attendance at the Annual Thanksgiving dinner at the Holland City Mission at 6 p. m., Thursday. The meal consisted of five illegally killed ducks—a gift from the State Conservation department, mashed potatoes, rolls, bread, butter, milk, coffee, celery, pickles, cranberries, and pumpkin pie, together with two boxes of California grapes donated by a local fruit merchant, and padded pops for the young children. All the available food supply was consumed.

A program, consisting of a trio, several duets, songs by the infant class, selections by the Mission orchestra, and an address, "Why We Are Thankful," by the Rev. George Trotter, mission manager, was presented preceding the meal.

Jeanne Baukema of Holland has been named a member of the women's varsity debate squad for the third consecutive year at Michigan State college. In addition she is president of the local chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary society.

Man Gives Self Up To See His Little Ones

ZEELAND MAN SURRENDERS; CONFESES TO $1,000 EM- BEZZLEMENT

Martin Van Horn, waived examination Monday afternoon when arraigned before Justice John Gallen of Holland on embezzlement charges. He was remanded to the county jail in lieu of bonds for $5,000.

A longing to see his daughters, six and eight years old and his son, four years old, led Martin Van Horn, 28 years old, former Zeeland man, wanted for embezzlement of funds of the Stallkamp Feed Store, a branch in Coopersville of which he was manager at the time of his disappearance April 27, to give himself up at the county jail Saturday night. Van Horn said he was working from time to time in California when the urge to see the children came on him a week ago Friday and he set out for home.

Van Horn did not attempt to see his children when he arrived, he said, but came straight to the county jail. He hopes to see them soon and says he is ready to plead guilty and pay the penalty for his offense in the hope of bringing his family together. He does not know how much of the feed store's funds are missing he said, although the owner L. G. Stallkamp of Zeeland, who placed Van Horn in charge of the Coopersville store four months before Van Horn disappeared, claims more than $1,000 is missing.

Van Horn disappeared the night of April 27, leaving an envelope containing $50 and a note in his car asking his wife to be good to the children and telling her they would find him where they found his father, Sheriff Frank Van Etta and his deputies scoured the country and asked Chicago police to watch as Van Horn's father was found in the Chicago river years ago. Despite the officers' vigilance, Van Horn escaped, going he said, to California by bus.

"My advice to a young man planning to go to California for his fortune, is to go east," Van Horn said. "They have too much cheap wine in California and it is easy to stay under its influence all the time." Van Horn said he was sincere in his desire to remake his life and does not expect clemency from the law. "After I pay the penalty," he says, "I will try to bring my family together and earn an honest living for them."

Van Horn told Charles Salisbury, undersheriff, that he had hitchhiked all the way from California, where he has been living, as he was sick of dodging the law and longed to see his wife and two children, whom he had abandoned. He said he would plead guilty to the charge and attributed his deed to the influence of drink and gambling.

The defendant told the officers that he left his car that night and took a bus for Grand Rapids and then Chicago. He later went to California. Van Horn and his wife were expecting to make a call on friends and he was bringing their car to the home to pick up Mrs. Van Horn after he had finished his work at the feed store. Mrs. Van Horn went to the car and found the envelope.

Sheriff's officers notified Mrs. Van Horn of her husband's arrival and immediately she visited him at the county jail.

He served pastorates in Springfield, S. D., two years; Sioux Center, Iowa, four years; Newkirk, Iowa, two years, and then entered academic work in Northwestern Junior college, Orange City, Iowa, for four years. He served Seventh Reformed church in Grand Rapids for three years before going to Roseland, Chicago, for six years. For more than eight years he preached in the Fourth Reformed church, Holland, followed by almost ten years at Hudsonville.

EXCHANGE CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

At a regular meeting of the local Exchange club in the Warm Friend Tavern last Monday noon, Pierre Vinet of the Michigan Gas and Electric Co., reported on his trip to Tampa, Fla., recently, as local delegate to the national Exchange club convention. Lieut. Harold Mulbar of the Michigan State Police had been scheduled to appear on the program, but was unable to be present. Mr. Vinet told of his experiences in Decatur, Ala., where they had a woman mayor-of-the-week; in the sponge fisheries of Tarpon Springs, Fla.; and also of the coin-divers at Key West.

The annual Goodfellows' drive was announced for Dec. 18, when a special issue of the Holland Evening Sentinel will be sold by Exchange "newsboys." John De Wilde is chairman for the day. He is to be assisted by Clarence J. Valing. The Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp is publicity director. Next Monday night will be Football Night at the club, when members of both Holland high and Hope College football teams will be guests of the organization at 6:30 p. m.

A letter from L. E. Arnold, Ottawa county agricultural agent, thanking the club for its contribution of $10 for 4H club work, was read by secretary Prof. A. E. Lampen. Exchange president, C. C. Wood, presided at the meeting.

BARBARA LAMPEN TO PRE- SENT RECITAL IN CHAPEL

Miss Barbara Lampen, a pupil of Mrs. Harold J. Karsten in the Hope College school of music, will present her senior recital Tuesday evening, Dec. 7th, at 8 p. m., in Hope Memorial Chapel.

The program includes a Mozart Fantasia; Beethoven's "Walden" sonata; Schumann's "Carnival Scenes from Vienna," a Chopin "Ballade," subjective "Veils" of Debussy and the modern Spanish composer, Lecuona's "Malaguena."

Former Holland Life Saver Goes North to Islands

Chief Boatwain's Mate Charles A. Bontekoe, assistant officer in charge of the Muskegon Coast Guard station since Dec. 7, 1932, left Saturday to take command of the station at Bois Blanc island, north of Sheboygan, on Lake Huron.

Mrs. Bontekoe accompanied her husband to establish their residence at the new post. Their son, Robert, and daughter, June, are remaining in Muskegon.

Boatswain Bontekoe's appointment to command of a station came only a few days prior to the completion of five years of service at Muskegon during which he was promoted to chief mate, first class, a rank equal to that held by John A. Basch, chief boatswain's mate, commanding the Muskegon unit.

Mr. Bontekoe recently completed extra activities courses with high honors in work relating to the coast guard service at a treasury department school in Chicago. He was transferred to Muskegon after several years service at Holland.

Mr. Bontekoe is a Holland boy and has distinguished himself repeatedly in rescuing passengers from steamers in distress. He was one of the men selected to aid the flood sufferers in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys last winter. The Holland City News at the time printed a personal story of this terrible experience in the flood area.

Local Plant to Start Building Program Soon

HOME FURNACE PAYS 60-CENT CASH DIVIDEND PER SHARE

The Home Furnace Co., another substantial Holland industry, made announcement within the last few days that this firm is paying 60c cash dividend per share on common stock. This dividend will reach the stockholders on December 20, rather an opportune period in the midst of the Yuletide season. It is quite a coincidence that the announcement was made on the eve of Thanksgiving day and that the payment will be made on the eve of Christmas.

Another gratifying announcement was made that a cash bonus would be paid the employees of the plant on December 24, the day before Christmas as a Christmas remembrance. This action was taken at a board meeting of the Home Furnace Co., and it surely is pleasing that the firm is able to pay earnings on money invested and besides remember the employees who have faithfully contributed their share in the way of faithful service to this enterprise.

At a previous meeting the Board of Directors authorized the retirement of $5,000 of the preferred stock of the company, payable December 15. At that time a very reassuring report gave a review as to the progress of the company during the first ten months of the fiscal year. It was shown that during 1937 the operations and the volume of merchandise turned out taxed the facilities of the plant, and it is evident, judging from the business ahead, that a building program is in the offing for additional factory room and for better equipped and more roomy office facilities. This is imperative to keep up with the requirements of an increasing volume of business.

The Home Furnace line of products features cast and steel oil burning and gas burning air conditioning units. Stoker and hand fired units also include many improvements. During the year the company completely air-conditioned its offices with a Home system for winter heating and summer cooling.

Officers of the company are president, Attorney Daniel Ten Cate; vice president, E. P. Stephan; secretary-treasurer, James De Jonge; assistant secretary-treasurer, Clarence J. Becker.

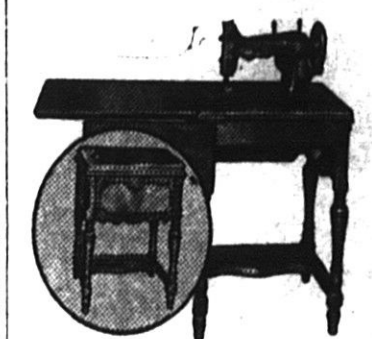

Other board members include Henry Luidens, Otto Kramer, Marinus Westra; John W. De Vries and Christian E. Becker, general manager.

BUY TEN-ACRE PLOT TO BE USED FOR SCHOOL SPORTS

Purchase of 10 acres of property at the south end of Seventh St. Grand Haven, for use in the growing intramural sport program in the Grand Haven schools, was voted last night by the board of education. The property, owned by Dr. Albert Rysdorp, has been used for school sports with his permission the past five years. The purchase price was $3,800.

E. H. Babcock, superintendent of Grand Haven schools, said he felt the school was acquiring the property at a reasonable figure, principally because of the interest in the school system shown by Dr. Rysdorp, a member of the board of education years ago. No improvements have been made on the property during its use the past five years, but some work is planned by the board. The field is located about three blocks from the high school, Junior high and Central school, and it is suited for football, baseball or flooding in winter for hockey.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

MOST housewives plan to serve in-laws, extended and easy-to-prepare meals after the Thanksgiving feast. Eggs make a welcome main dish after too much holiday fare. They may be used freely for cooking and baking, because storage eggs are plentiful and very reasonable for this time of the year. The supply of fresh eggs is gradually increasing, and prices, naturally, are decreasing.

Forequarter cuts of veal, legs and chucks of lamb, smoked pork are good choices in the line of meats. Some families who spent Thanksgiving Day away from home, may want a turkey of their own for the week-end. Turkeys are still available at reasonable prices. There is a wide choice of cheap fruits and vegetables. Grapefruit, small oranges for juice, apples, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, carrots, rutabagas are all cheap.

The following menus are easy to prepare and are foods which are reasonably priced.

Low Cost Dinner
Ham Loaf with Egg Sauce
Glazed Carrots
Baked Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Half Grapefruit

Medium Cost Dinner
