Miles Considers The Netherlands Most Industrious

Couple Travels Through Many Parts of Europe But Like Holland Best

Details of a "delightful and informative" trip to Luxemburg, Belgium and the Netherlands, were related today in a letter to The Sentinel from Capt. Wendell A. Miles of Holland, who had just returned to his post in Germany after taking the trip with his wife, Mariette.

Previously, the couple had traveled through Italy, France, Switzerland, Austria, Lichtenstein and Germany, but they consider the latest trip the most enjoyable. "We are pleased to report that the Dutch people appear to be the most industrious, the most hospitable, and the most interesting people in Europe today," Capt. Miles wrote.

"The flooded lands about Hoom are again dried up, the Aalsmeer flower market knows no equal in the world for the quality flowers constantly under the scrutiny of discerning buyers. The people of Volendam are certainly the most picturesque, and Rotterdam now proudly presents the renovated ocean liner 'Nieuw Amsterdam' for tourists' inspection.

"The Netherlands has a large census of new American cars, low-priced gasoline, splendid roads of the four-lane auto-bahn type, and wonderful hotels. The clerks in the stores and the waiters in the restaurants speak English fluently.

"The Netherlands now has a meatless Tuesday and a meatless Friday, but fish are of high quality and are excellent eating. These people distinguish themselves from most Europeans today by being uncomplaining about hardship although they must live in austerity.

"The Hague is one of the most distinctive communities in Europe. It presents a dignified and cultural surrounding for the International Peace temple.

"As we traveled by auto we were fortunate in being able to go to the cheese auction at Alkmaar, to den Helder, across the dykes of the Zuider zee up to Groningen, through the newly reclaimed lands of Vriesland, through Zeeland, and down to Arnhem which now is famous for the airborne cemetery near where over 6,000 English soldiers were killed in one week in September, 1945, in the liberation of the Netherlands.

"At Leiden we visited the famous university and the people seemed to be in the same festive mood of a few days before when they celebrated their annual holidays commemorating their liberation from the Spanish occupation of 1620. The great windmill where Rembrandt is supposed to have been born is still in operation.

"It was interesting to observe that although the windmills traditionally pump water from puddle, to canal, to river, to the Zuider zee, the people of Eastern Holland on higher ground use the mills for saving lumber, grinding wheat, and as a source of power for countless other forms of industry.

"During the past year more than 2,000 Americans from the occupation zone of Germany have traveled through Holland. Most of them have been quartered at the summer resort at Noordwijk. During the 1948 season, the Netherlands Tourist association is expecting more than 5,000 Americans as visitors. In addition to the usual attractions of a beautiful country and a world-renowned tulip festival, Holland will be celebrating the 50th year of the reign of Queen Wilhelmina, the 700th anniversary of the foundation of the Hague, and the 300th anniversary of the Peace of Munster.

"No greater and loving care has ever been given to graves anywhere in the world than that given by the Dutch from in and about Maastricht to the graves of the 17,400 American soldiers in Margraten cemetery. We are informed by the officials (American) of the cemetery that on most any Sunday afternoon there are from 5,000 to 10,000 Dutch people decorating the graves and otherwise paying homage to the dead of the United States. Even while we were there during the early part of Sunday morning there were more than a thousand people and it was bitterly cold. Such devotion cannot go unnoticed.

"For those who are interested, we shall be happy to exhibit our pictures and movies which we have taken in Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Volendam, Monnikendam, Zandam, Alkmaar, Hoom, Hilversum, Haarlem, Leiden, the Hague, Utrecht, Nimegen, Arnhem, Apeldoorn, Zwolle, Maastricht and countless other places, after our return to America."

Holland Ready for Thanksgiving Day

Holland residents will join people all over America Thursday in observing Thanksgiving day, a happy tradition which started during Colonial history three centuries ago.

Most housewives, contemplating turkey for the holiday feast, have found that fowl is a little higher this year, but to balance such budgeting they also found cranberries and pumpkins are cheaper. Lower prices also prevail on such items as grapefruit, celery, fruit cake, cider, nuts, apple juice, and canned asparagus, peas, peaches and soup.

Students were prepared for a week-end holiday. Public and Christian schools and Hope college closed today for a two-day holiday. St. Francis de Sales closed Tuesday for the holiday. Western Theological seminary closed today and will resume classes Monday noon.

Most churches will hold Thanksgiving services Thursday morning.

Most factories also will close for the day as will the stores and the city hall. The Netherlands Museum will be closed for the day.

There will be no city or rural mail deliveries Thursday, but the post office lobby will remain open until 9 a.m. for the convenience of box holders. The recruiting office in the post office also will be closed. It had previously been announced the office would be open.

Drivers Cautioned By Chief Van Hoff

"You can beg, you can warn and you can threaten, but there are still a few motorists who fail to fully realize the added driving hazards caused by snow, ice and poor visibility."

These were the words of Chief of Police Jacob Van Hoff as he appealed to all vehicle drivers for their co-operation in careful driving during winter months.

"It is simply necessary to give serious consideration to the fundamental rules for safe driving under adverse weather and road conditions," he said.

1. Get the "feel" of the road.
2. Adjust speed to conditions.
3. Use tire chains on snow or ice.
4. Keep windshield-windows clear of snow, ice, fog and frost.
5. Slow down well in advance of intersections and curves.
6. Follow other vehicles at safe distances.
7. Signal intentions of turning or stopping.

"If all car, truck and cab drivers will really obey these fundamental winter driving rules, we'll have fewer accidents and traffic tieups," Van Hoff said. "And they'll save money and trouble."

Lakewood Township to Repeal Zoning Ordinance

Following a lively discussion Tuesday night in Lakewood township hall, a resolution was adopted requesting the township board to take action to repeal the township zoning ordinance. The action will probably be taken at the meeting Monday night. Eighty-five persons met to voice opinions. The meeting was originally called to discuss amendments to the ordinance.

Spokesmen who opposed the ordinance were John H. Scholten, board member, Walter Healy, Jr., and Julius Slager. They said they felt the ordinance was dictatorial and transgressed on the rights of the people.

Favoring the ordinance were Alvin Bauhahn, James Boyce, Simon Harkema and Manuel Huyser. They told of advantages they saw in the ordinance.

Boyce was moderator at the request of John H. Koeman, chairman of the zoning board. Scholten acted as teller.

Local Accountant, Hit by Automobile, Dies of Injuries

Cornie Kragt, 46-year-old accountant, who was critically injured in an automobile accident in front of Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church shortly before noon Sunday, died at 1:15 a.m. today in Holland hospital where he had been taken for treatment of a crushed chest and other injuries.

The accident occurred when Kragt walked into or was hit by a car driven by R. John De Weert, 15, of 319 West 17th St. The driver told police he blew his horn and applied brakes. Witnesses said the car stopped within three to four feet.

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water said the investigation is being continued.

He was a director and a member of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the Exchange club, the National Association of CPAs, and the Western Michigan branch of the Michigan Association of CPAs. ## War Dead Being Returned Here

Casketed remains of five servicemen from the Ottawa-Allegan area were scheduled to arrive in New York today on the Army Transport Robert F. Burns carrying 4,212 war dead from Henri Chapelle military cemetery at Eupen, Belgium and a few from the cemetery at Saint-Laurent-sur-Mer of Bayeaux.

Included in the number is the body of S/Sgt. Harold J. Slenk of Holland which will arrive here in the next few weeks accompanied by a uniformed Army escort from the Chicago Distribution Center of the American Graves Registration division. Slenk's body has been returned to this country for final interment at the request of his next-of-kin, Reka Slenk, 99 West Ninth St.

Another Ottawa casualty whose body was aboard the Robert F. Burns was Pvt. John Edward Van Oordt of Ferrysburg, the first fatality of the Grand Haven community on German soil. He was killed Sept. 23, 1944. His mother is Mrs. Della Van Oordt, 401 Pine St., Ferrysburg.

Others returning for final burial are Pfc. John W. Douglas, next of kin, John Douglas, Hall St., Hudsonville; T/4 Jacob Dalem, Jr., next of kin, Jacob Dalem, Sr., Hamilton; and Pvt. Charles E. Schulek, next of kin, Charles Schulek, route 2, Wayland.

A nation-wide poll of a representative group of the 300,000 Gold Star families who lost members during World War II indicated that 70 per cent desired to have their deceased warriors brought back to the homeland for final interment. Thus, more than 11,200 of Michigan's fallen dead will be returned through the Chicago Distribution Center the next two years.

Lt. Col. Carroll J. Grinnell, chief of the Chicago center, said the honored dead will be returned to the United States in a progressive, planned operation, with no priority because of rank, race, creed or color.

A rare book by David Peter de Vries, Dutch colonist, author, sailor and soldier, is one of the highlights of a special exhibit at the University of Michigan's Clements library. Few copies of de Vries' "Short History," published in 1655 still exist and few still have the frontispiece shown above which gives a picture of the stout hearted Dutch colonist. The exhibit is a part of the University's program to honor a century of Dutch settlement in Michigan.

Frontispiece of Rare Book in Dutch Display

Ann Arbor, Nov. 26 — David Peter de Vries, pioneer Dutch colonist and one of the most dramatic and yet little known figures of America's past, is featured in a display at the University of Michigan.

Entitled "The Netherlands and America," the exhibit is being staged to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the settlement of the Dutch in Michigan, according to Robert B. Brown, curator of books at the library.

De Vries was an author, sailor and soldier as well as a colonist. His greatest work, "Korte Historie," or "Short History," published at Hoom in the Netherlands in 1655, tells of his voyages in almost every part of the world. The book will be one of the rarest in the exhibit. It is first rank source material on the history of the Dutch in America as De Vries wrote down nothing of which he was not an eye witness. Brown said. Few of the books are thought to exist, and the Clements library copy is one of the most perfect known, he added.

De Vries took up land on what now is Staten Island, N. Y., in 1638 just 210 years before the Dutch came to Michigan. There by tactical maneuvering and diplomacy he managed to keep the Dutch at New Amsterdam, soon to be New York, at peace with their Indian neighbors.

Shrewd and worldly in his outlook, De Vries furnishes a sharp contrast to the Puritan divines who had settled a little way to the north in Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay colonies. Brown declared. He had little patience with the straining mass of red tape beloved by Old World directors of the Dutch colony and bitterly protested it, Brown said.

As De Vries foresaw, the absentee control exercised by the Dutch West Indian company was to mean ultimately the transfer of New Amsterdam into the eager hands of the English colonists, the curator indicates.

Two Meetings Scheduled For Rural Instructors

Grand Haven, Nov. 26 (Special) —The regional in-service area meetings conducted by the county education office for the rural teachers of the county will be held Dec. 1 at Ferrysburg for teachers of the northern part, and on Dec. 2 at Beechwood school for those of the southern part of the county.

The topic for discussion will be "How to Make Our Christmas Programs an Educational Experience." There will be a short period for discussion of general problems.

Thanksgiving Day Can't Trace Direct Lineage

Thanksgiving Day has not been observed for nearly half of the 326 years since its first observance, Vincent C. Franks, former rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Richmond, Va., says.

Having made a detailed study of source information, although it differs widely, the Rector has come to the conclusion that Thanksgiving has been observed in this country from July 30 to Dec. 13, since its origin.

Thanksgiving started in 1621, when Gov. William Bradford, after a good first harvest, appointed a day for public thanksgiving. The next record of a public observance is in 1623, when the Plymouth colony held an observance in thankfulness for a good harvest. The Plymouth celebration was held on July 30.

For the next 150 years, there was no recorded observance until in 1781, Congress set aside Dec. 13 as a day of thanksgiving, for the American victory in the revolution.

the north in Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay colonies. Brown declared. He had little patience with the straining mass of red tape beloved by Old World directors of the Dutch colony and bitterly protested it, Brown said.

Man Found Dead In His Trailer

Grand Haven, Nov. 27 (Special) —The body of David Joseph Bourdeau, 64, was found lying in his bed in a house trailer in Ferrysburg at 4 p.m. Monday by Nancy Bickler, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bickler of Ferrysburg, who had stopped at the trailer on her way home from school.

Mr. Bourdeau, who had been in failing health for the last six months, had requested the child to stop in occasionally to inquire if he was in need of anything. The parents notified state police who called Justice George V. Hoffer to act as coroner. He gave a verdict of death from a heart ailment. Hoffer was of the opinion Bourdeau had died Sunday night.

He was born in Ontario, Can., Jan. 15, 1883. He had been employed at the Continental Motors Corp. in Muskegon and earlier at the Oldberg Manufacturing Co. in Grand Haven. He had never married.

Surviving are two brothers, Albert of Windsor, Ont., and Nelson of Cohoes, N.Y.

Snow for Thanksgiving, But Icy Pavements, Too

Legions of snow men sheltered by crude snow forts today peered through coal black eyes at bundled up pedestrians stepping along the walks and at motorists moving slowly along icy streets. No doubt about it, winter is here and the weatherman now guarantees snow for Thanksgiving.

Cloudy skies and light snow flurries were forecast for the holiday and travelers have been advised to take it easy because of slippery highways in Michigan. The Automobile Club of Michigan said the slippery conditions were eased by a thicker blanket of snow farther north.

Snow measured three to five inches generally over the state except for 14 inches on the Keweenaw peninsula in Upper Michigan.

Depositors Disappointed Through Error in News

Holland City State bank depositors, who may be expecting an additional dividend on a basis of Tuesday's report in The Sentinel, will be disappointed. Cornelius vander Meulen pointed out today.

Vander Meulen said the Monday hearing was for the purpose of examining transactions of the Holland City Depositors Corp. before dissolving the corporation. Last July the corporation had asked for an interim order to permit distributing of $90,446.96 of liquid assets. Judge Fred T. Miles accepted an audit of the distribution of this sum and ordered affairs of the corporation closed.

The story, which was erroneously reported to The Sentinel at Grand Haven, said the amount was available for distribution. The money has already been distributed, vander Meulen said.

Tourist Group Begins Campaign For New Members

Would Sell Michigan Vacation Advantages To Thousands of People

Under leadership of President Joe Bachunas of Sodus and general chairman William Eisner of Dowagiac, members of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association have launched a vigorous campaign to add 500 members to the rolls of the organization.

Details of the campaign are being worked out by the new secretary-manager, C. C. Wells, who warns that the value of Michigan's great tourist and resort industry still has to be sold to thousands of people.

"We are already in a new competitive era," says Mr. Wells, "and our big job is to sell Michigan's vacation advantages against the lure of at least 39 other states, plus Canada, who are showing increasing effort to gather in the golden flood."

It is pointed out that many business men and resort operators are not members of the association because they are not acquainted with it and have not realized how this great spread of outside cash affects all types of trade.

Sales tax figures reveal a tremendous increase in retail sales over the entire area during the vacation months in all types of business. Wells said. The point is stressed that such an influx of new money cannot help but benefit everyone, because tourist dollars create jobs, pay increased wages and add substantial tax revenue to cities and counties.

"Every business man in Michigan should be alive to these facts and help encourage summer visitors to come to our region," Wells concluded. "We cannot afford to show cold indifference to a $40,000,000 industry."

The membership drive is sponsored by 31 chairmen and will continue through the winter months, according to the committee.

Fined on Drinking Count

Conklin Father Is Found Guilty In School Case

Man Pays Heavy Fine For Failure to Send Children to School

Grand Haven, Nov. 26 (Special)—It took a jury in Justice George V. Hoffer's court Thursday afternoon less than 10 minutes to find Leonard Vander Jagt, 43, route 1, Conklin, father of 13, guilty of failing to send his children, Lorraine, 14, and Donald, 13, to school. He was fined $100 and $14.15 costs.

Vander Jagt, who has previously paid a fine on a similar charge in the Coopersville justice court, was not represented by counsel and defended his own case.

Witnesses called by Prosecutor Howard W. Fant included John Noe, Jr., of the School Commissioner's office, Jennie Kaufman, superintendent of schools; Raymond Hubbell, director of the school board of District No. 3, Wright township; Luther Mulder, president of the board and mayor of the village of Coopersville.

Noe testified that he first learned of the Vander Jagt children not attending school through Hubbell, after which Vander Jagt was contacted and later sent a written notice, by registered mail, that his children should be in school by Nov. 6 on failure to be in school at that time complaints were sworn out against Vander Jagt by Noe. Miss Kaufman verified Noe's testimony.

Hubbell testified that the village of Coopersville provides a school bus which runs in front of the Vander Jagt home.

Mulder said the buses are in good condition. John DeWitt, science teacher at Coopersville High school, is the driver. This evidence was introduced as Vander Jagt said he did not feel the buses were safe for his children to ride in and that they were being driven by a driver who holds two jobs.

In defense Vander Jagt called his children, Lorraine and Donald, to the stand. Lorraine said she was told by her father that she was supposed to be in school Nov. 6, but no one told her to go or not to go. She once said she wanted to go to high school but that she "does not want to now."

She graduated from the eighth grade May 18, 1946, receiving A and B grades.

Donald, who completed the eighth grade, said he had wanted to go to school but that he also did not want to go now. He said he wanted to be a farmer, so had changed his mind about going to school.

Vander Jagt, who was employed as a baker in Holland at one time, asked, in his argument to the jury "are these children ours or the state's?" He also said the buses went past the railroad crossing without stopping and that the "laws are making slaves of the children and the parents."

Jurymen were Dick Boon, foreman, John Verseput, Charles Salisbury, Mrs. Dick Bottje, Mrs. George Fett and Mrs. Eva Satter, all of Grand Haven.

Christmas Tree Cutters Warned About State Law

Legal Bill of Sale Must Be Obtained for Cutting Trees, Boughs, Holly

This is the season of the year when thoughts turn to Christmas trees but sometimes not to provisions of the Christmas tree law which governs all cutting, removing and transporting of these trees within the state's boundaries.

C. A. Boyer, chief of the bureau of plant industry, state Department of Agriculture, again this year will establish road blockades to check trees being transported by car, truck, and trailers. For approximately six weeks these blockades will render 24-hour service for the convenience of anyone wishing to move trees.

Anyone wishing to cut or transport Christmas trees, holly and evergreen or other decorative boughs, must first obtain permission from the property owners, securing a legal bill of sale, which must accompany the trees at the time they are in transportation. Approximately 30,000 bills of sale have been mailed by the Bureau of Plant Industry to county agents, county sheriffs, conservation headquarters, state police barracks, and other co-operating agencies for such use. They may also be obtained free from the state Department of Agriculture.

Trees having roots attached come under the heading of nursery stock, and must be inspected on the premises on which grown, and a certification of inspection obtained before removal—a bill of sale is not sufficient for trees having roots.

The Christmas tree business is a big one, involving several millions of dollars; annually from one and one-half million to one and one-half million trees are checked. In order to avoid violation of the movement of the type of material covered by the Christmas Tree Law, it is urged that buyers and/or cutters, be certain that they have their Bill of Sale from the person from whose land the tree is taken; and in the case of trees with roots, a certification of inspection obtained.

Local Stars Meet Colored Quintet

The 1947-48 basketball season in Holland will make an auspicious beginning Friday when the local Pure Oils independent quintet will play host to a traveling colored aggregation, the New York Comedy Kings. This colored squad is one of the most potent cage squads in the country, in addition to putting on great entertainment. Their basketball talent is of the highest caliber, as is their showmanship.

The contest is being sponsored by the Holland Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The colored wizards ended last season's play with an unbroken string of 51 straight victories, over many highly regarded quintets. Exceptionally popular in Michigan, the Kings are making their third annual tour of the Midwest.

Advance reports say the Kings like to play a little football with their basketball. They line up in football formation and go through a grid maneuver. Their other favorite trick takes place when they are in possession of the ball near the basket they are defending. A player lays the ball down on the floor and goes into a huddle with his own teammates some yards away. Often the opposition is too befuddled as to what is going on, and when a player does take a "gift" shot, he does it sheepishly.

A prelude to the feature contest is slated for 7 p.m.

County Social Practices Discussed Before AAUW

A discussion on "The Child, the Court, and the County," and their relationship was directed by Mrs. Charles K. Van Duren, Ottawa county agent, Thursday night at a meeting of Holland branch, American Association of University Women. The meeting was held in the W. J. Westervelt home on West 11th St., with Mrs. Henry Steffens as hostess.

In explaining her work, Mrs. Van Duren indicated that when a child comes into juvenile court, someone has failed. Of the 518 children who came through the court in 1946, only about 100 were in the delinquent group, she said. In describing the uses and practices of the court, the speaker said that its purpose is to bring emotional and social maturity to the child and that the juvenile court has now become more like a clinic in its relation to problems of the child.

Michigan was the first state to recognize that a child has rights, and offers individualized justice which is not punitive, but aimed to discover the causes of the child's faltering, said the speaker. The county agent serves the child's needs under direction of the probate judge, working towards social rehabilitation for Ottawa county children who are in trouble.

In discussing adoptions, Mrs. Van Duren stressed the fact that under the new state law there is no charge for adoptions, all of which must be completed through the judge of probate in the county in which the adopting parents live. Children for adoption can be placed only by a licensed child-placing agency or by the court, she said.

Mrs. Van Duren displayed a chart showing the county social setup and the services offered and answered the questions of her interested listeners.

Miss Bernice Bishop, branch president, conducted the meeting. A report was made by the social studies chairman, Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Notter, Mrs. Kenneth Allen, Mrs. Ralph Eash, Miss Mabelle Geiger and Miss Margaret Gibbs.

Next meeting of the branch will be Dec. 11 in the home of Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen.

Hurricanes Bow To Flint Club In Season Finale

Locals Fail on Last Period Scoring Chance; Boeve, Leeuw Shine

The Flint Falcons edged the Holland Hurricanes, 7-6, in a hard-fought battle Saturday night. This marked the last game on the semi-pro schedule for Holland. About 1,000 saw the game.

In a brief talk at half-time, Hurricanes Owner-Manager Fred W. Bocks thanked Holland patrons for their co-operation and announced plans for a full schedule next year. He said he was unable to book a team for a game here on Thanksgiving day.

Holland's lone touchdown came in the third quarter in a spectacular 25-yard pass from Halback LaVern Boeve to Don Hulst in the end zone. Vern Vande Water's kick was wide.

The scoring play started when Boeve went around end from the Falcon 47 for a nine-yard gain. Vande Water's pass to End Dick Massuch was good for two yards and a first down. Fullback Walt Hudzik ran to the 19 for another first down and Vande Water's pass to Halback LaVern Boeve was good for two yards. Two incomplete passes narrowed Holland's chances for scoring, and in a last-ditch fight, Boeve faded far back from the line of scrimmage for the successful pass.

Flint scored in the second quarter when R. Haugle ran from the two-yard line on an end-around play, after the Falcons progressed from the Hurricane 44 where E. Pea intercepted one of Vande Water's passes. A spectacular pass from J. Fullwood to Jack Gregson was good for 16 yards, and a pass from Gregson to Parks netted eight yards, bringing the ball to the 20.

Fullwood went around end to the 16 for a first down before Haugle roared to the four-yard line for another first down. Gregson cut through center to the 2-yard stripe. Fullwood was hit behind the line for a loss on the second play. The Falcons were penalized five yards for the offense, bringing the ball to the 7. Fullwood's pass to Parks was complete to the 2-yard stripe, and from there Haugle scored.

The Falcons made the extra point on a trick play. With Fullback J. LeMire in kicking position, the ball, on a surprise play, went to Parks who passed to Woodward in the end zone.

Holland came close to scoring in the fourth quarter when a 23-yard run by Boeve brought the ball to the 11-yard line. Don Leeuw carried the ball to the 9-yard stripe on a play off tackle, and then to the 3-yard line on a reverse play. He lost a yard on the next play, and the fourth down found the Hurricanes facing an impregnable Falcon line. The ball stopped at the line of scrimmage.

The Hurricanes fought desperately the last few minutes of play. Boeve's pass to Leeuw was good for 11 yards to the 20-yard line, but Boeve's next pass was intercepted by G. Merrill of the Falcons. Two more Falcon plays brought the ball to the 24-yard line and the whistle blew.

The gridiron was in fairly good condition, in marked contrast to the previous week when players waded through a pool of mud in rain, sleet and snow.

Holland outplayed Flint most of the game, making 14 first downs to nine for the opponents. Both teams turned to passes to gain yardage. The Hurricanes attempted 17, completing 4, while the Falcons attempted 13, completing five. Holland intercepted two passes and Flint intercepted three.

Office Building 'Bruised' After Visit From Truck

Monday was the day for trucks hitting buildings in Holland.

At 6 a.m. a dairy truck in a collision on an icy intersection crashed into a front window of Home Market at 13th St. and Lincoln Ave., shattering the glass and scattering the products on display.

At 3:08 p.m. a heavily loaded semi of the Holland Furnace Co. moved slowly from its parking place on Furnace Co. property on 19th St. near the tracks and crashed into the office of the Holland Ladder and Manufacturing Co.

Ruby Schrotenboer, secretary to Owner-Manager Joseph H. Geerds, escaped what might have been serious injuries. The impact sent the wall of the building three feet inward into the chair at her desk, but, fortunately, Miss Schrotenboer was in another office. She was alone in the building, however, since Geerds and others were attending funeral services for Corrie Kragt.

Glass from the shattered window flew about the room. The stencil machine in one corner was knocked over and a multigraph also bore the brunt. The impact slipped the partition of the entry over about three feet and severed the electric clock connection.

The truck had just been parked and the driver had reported to furnace company headquarters nearby when the heavily loaded vehicle moved slowly down a slight incline through mud and snow. The truck was only slightly damaged.

The Cheerful Blue Birds of Van Raalte school held a business meeting. The girls made health charts with the help of their leader, Mrs. Lorin Wenzel.

Motion to Dismiss Bus Case Is Denied

Grand Haven, Nov. 27 (Special)—The controversial bus case in which Blaine Timmer is charged with operating a bus without proper license today was scheduled for Circuit Court Dec. 10 after Judge Fred T. Miles denied a motion for dismissal, entered by Timmer's attorneys last week on the grounds that a criminal case acquittal could not be appealed to a higher court.

In his opinion today, Miles ruled that while ordinarily a person acquitted by the court or a jury cannot be re-arrested for the same offense, a case such as the bus case can be appealed because the rule does not apply to violations of city ordinances.

The opinion pointed out differences between offenses under city ordinances which are not generally called "crimes" and offenses against state rules which are crimes. Statutes allow a "home rule" city to appeal an acquittal in the same manner that a defendant may appeal upon conviction, the judge ruled.

Two trials have been held on the case in which the city of Holland charges Timmer. On Aug. 11, the case resulted in a jury disagreement and a re-trial Sept. 15 acquitted Timmer. The alleged offense occurred July 16, while Timmer was an employee of Lakeshore Bus Lines, owned and operated by Alfred Brinkman.

Holland Banking Payment Ordered Agency Dissolved;

Grand Haven, Nov. 27 (Special)—Final hearing on a petition to dissolve the Holland City Depositors Corp. was heard in Circuit Court Monday afternoon, after which the court granted the petition and approved the accounts of Cornelius vander Meulen, and ordered payment to the depositors of the balance of the money on hand, amounting to $90,446.96. This last dividend is scheduled for payment to depositors before Christmas.

The First National Bank of Holland has been designated as depository for the undelivered dividend payments. Depositors can present certificates to the First National Bank for payment.

In 1933, at the time of the bank holiday in Michigan, the First State Bank was closed and the banking department appointed as conservator. The bank was later re-organized and all depositors were paid, at once, 50 per cent of their deposits. Thereafter a new corporation was formed for the purpose of collecting the assets of the bank that were of doubtful value, and which was known as the Holland City Depositors Corp.

Various persons, including Henry Geerds and later Vander Meulen, were appointed liquidators. They collected assets and from time to time have paid depositors some portion of the amount due them. It now appears they have sold, or otherwise disposed of, all assets and therefore petitioned the Circuit Court for a dissolution of the Holland City Depositors Corporation and for an approval of the accounts.

At the final hearing Monday afternoon it appeared that in addition to the 50 per cent of the amount paid the depositors at the time the bank was re-organized, the depositors have been paid three quarters of the remainder due them.

Congress Headed For Scrap About Truman Demands

Forthcoming Election To Darken Chances of Aid, Inflation Curbs

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty Of Our Washington Bureau

Washington, Nov. 27—It's to be a stormy session of Congress.

With only two things to scrap about, the long shadow of the forthcoming presidential election darkens the hopes of either adequate foreign stopgap aid or real inflation curbs.

There's another reason slighted until the President's message gave it a new emphasis. The two Truman demands are interlocked. Foreign aid and domestic prices must be worked out...or fought out...together.

That's the rub. Many a Michigan Republican was willing to go along with the foreign aid proposal, after stamping on a GOP modification to prove the Republicans still control things on Capitol Hill, but few want to accept the administration's formula on domestic policies. They will demand drastic changes.

Sen. Robert Taft made that clear. And he's the No. 1 man on guiding GOP strategy on domestic affairs.

He assails Mr. Truman's proposal to re-establish price controls on a few vital commodities as an effort to resurrect OPA. It is, of course, no such thing. Also Taft makes certain charges against "the President's own decontrol board" for having decontrolled dairy products and grains in 1946. Taft is conveniently forgetting the three-man decontrol board was created by Congress after Truman had vetoed a Taft-emancipated version of OPA. This time, the facts prove Congress was the culprit, not the President.

Taft is trying to have it both ways, now that it's apparent to every housewife that decontrol was premature.

All of which makes it simple to forecast that the heated debates started in this session will continue through the 1948 presidential campaign.

Residents Dig Way Out of Five Inches of Snow

Holland residents dug their way out of 51 inches of snow Monday morning in the first heavy snowfall of the season.

Employees and trucks of the Street department were pressed into service, and truck plows and the big snowplow were busy all morning removing masses of heavy wet snow.

The snowfall, which started at 11 p.m. Sunday, lent a fairy-like touch to local scenery, a beauty which remained well into the afternoon.

On the ground and on walks, the snow melted rapidly, making walking and riding messy if not hazardous. Scores of motorists received their first preview of "things to come" in experiencing difficulty in getting out of yards and away from curbs.

REASON FOR FAILURE

The Community Chest campaigns are far enough in the past now so that they can be viewed somewhat objectively. Holland of course had reason for gratification because in this city the quota
was reached in plenty of time,
and post-campaign pledges
brought the total to a figure considerably higher than actually required.

This was all the more gratifying because this year an unusually large number of communities in Michigan either had difficulty in reaching the goal or had to be satisfied with less than the amount aimed at. All sorts of post-mortem in various communities have been advanced to account for failure.

In most of these explanations
the fact is forgotten that there has been a shift in classes on the basis of income. In a community like Holland, which is almost abnormally stable, the change has not been so marked as in many other places, and hence it is understandable that the Chest fund so-litation should be on a stable basis. In many other places the income of the class that has traditionally been expected to bear the greatest share of the burden has gone down at the same time that the need for more Chest funds has gone up.

The so-called middle class, sometimes called the White collar group, has seen its purchasing power decreasing. There has been a slight increase in actual dollars in many cases, but the pay envelope is usually worth far less than it was in the older day when the Community Chest quotas were first fixed for such people.

In those old days the wages of so-called "labor" were relatively lower, and this group was not expected to bear so much of the burden in Community Chest campaigns. Today, on an average, the purchasing power of this group has increased with breath-taking speed, but such people are for the most part still on the old quota when the Chest solicitors come around. There are of course exceptions, but in many communities this generalization holds.

A white collar man who could not hope to earn what a so-called "laboring man" would earn is nevertheless expected to bear a greater Community Chest load, on an average, than his more fortunate fellow citizen. The failure of so many Chest campaigns seems to indicate that there is something wrong with the distribution of the burden. The people of Michigan communities are not suddenly becoming stingy. It seems more likely that those least able to pay are being expected to carry too much of the load.

Zeeland Man Arraigned
On Firearms Charge

Grand Haven, Nov. 27 (Special).
—Harry Kamps, 41, route 2, Zeeland, was arraigned before Justice George V. Hoffer late Friday afternoon on a charge of careless use of firearms. Upon his plea of not guilty, the case was adjourned until Tuesday. Kamps furnished $100 bond for appearance at that time.

Complaint was made by sheriff's officers alleging the offense occurred in Holland township Oct. 31 when Harvey Huizenga, 22, of Zeeland, was injured in the leg by bullet shot while he and others were involved in Halloween pranks on the Kamps farm. Huizenga was hospitalized for injuries.

Willard E. West, 25, of West Olive, was arraigned in the same court this morning on a drunk driving charge and upon his plea of guilty was sentenced to pay $50 fine and $9.35 costs and serve five days in the county jail with an alternative of 60 days in jail.

Sunday School
Lesson

November 30, 1947
The Proof of a Christian
1 John 4:15-21; 5:10-13;
II John 4-6

By Henry Geerlings

The first test of a Christian is faith. In this faith, which is saving faith, there are three elements.
One is knowledge. We must know what the things are we are to believe. They do not pertain to the physical world, but to that body of redemptive truth which the Holy Spirit uses in bringing men into the kingdom. Without knowledge of the essential truths of the gospel there can be no apprehension of Christ, no faith in Him. Another is assent. By this we mean the intellectual acceptance of the gospel teachings as true. It is intellectual belief, the recognition of the claims of Christianity and the truth of its doctrines. The third of these elements is confidence, or self-surrendering trust—an act of the heart and the will resting on the grace of God as provided in Christ, apprehending and appropriating
all that is thus offered—atonement, forgiveness and salvation. Knowledge may exist without faith. Assent may be short of trusting faith. But confidence or saving and on the Savior is faith's completed reality.

The second test is love. Faith has been called the first thing in the world, while love has been called the greatest. That is a good order in which to place them.
When we believe we will love.
It is faith that brings about the new birth, and it certainly must follow that the person who is born of God and is a child of God will love, and this love will operate both vertically and horizontally, upward and outward.
There is not a bit of evidence for our saying we believe God and are saved by Him if we cannot add that there is love in our hearts
toward Him and toward all mankind.

The third test is obedience. At another place John tells us that Jesus said, "If a man love me, he will obey My word." Love and obedience cannot be taken apart
without destroying both of them.
This love is not a dreamy, intangible, unreal thing. It keeps its feet on the ground. It lives its faith. It practices what it preaches. Our superiors do not care to have us singing their praises all the time. On the contrary they want us to do what they tell us.

The fourth test is an overcoming life. The Christian is one who can meet temptations and trials and still stand erect. It is pathetic to see what some Christians are like when they are out in the world. You would not judge from what you see of them that they are Christians. But the individual who believes in Christ and is born of God, and has a heart full of love, and does his best to obey his Lord, may be in the world, but he is not of it. You would say of him wherever you might meet him that he is a child of God. There can be no doubt about it, the person who believes Christ and takes Him for his Savior has a power in his life that others do not have.
He is an overcoming individual.

He is pushing the darkness back farther and farther because he is letting his light shine more and more. Jesus knows that you are a Christian when you believe in Him, but the only way the person at your side knows it is by the way you live.

A fifth test is our willingness to believe the evidence. You have often heard your pastor speak of the evidences of Christianity.
What he means is that there are good and sufficient reasons for believing that the religion of Jesus is true. John mentions three reasons. They are the Spirit who came down on the believers at Pentecost and dwells in us, and the water, or Jesus' baptism when the Spirit descended on Him and the blood of His death on the cross. These are three of the great events which are to be received as reasons for our faith. We are so willing to believe the word of men,
why do we not believe as easily the Word of God? Can you believe that we would have the Christian church, the Lord's Day, changed lives, the wholesome influence of 600,000,000 followers of Jesus in the world today, and the hope of eternal life, if there were nothing to our religion? It is not easy to suggest other proof of the truthfulness of the Bible and its faith we would accept if we reject that which we now have.

The sixth test is the witness we have in our hearts that we are the children of God. There is something within us that tells us we are His children when we do what he asks us to do. The Spirit himself bears witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God. I know that when I do what my father asks me I shall have his approval and receive some expression of his good pleasure. A voice within tells me that. And another voice speaks approvingly to me when I do the will of my heavenly Father. It is a feeling of rest and peace. My feeling towards Him is different because my standing is different.

wyk, Virginia Klingenberg, Elaine and Vivian Volkers, Delores Ryzenga, Phyllis Quist and Jerry

Hope college freshmen Monday night won revenge for loss of the annual tug-of-war by defeating the sophomores, 1,090 to 1,070 in the annual Nykerk Cup contest. The event, in which girls of each class are pitted against each other in drama, oratory and music competition, was held in Holland High school auditorium.

Coached by Miss Peggy Prins, junior, and Miss Eleanor Short, freshman, the winning team gave a "brilliant" one-act play, "Ladies of the Mop." The humorous antics of four lady scrubbbers of a theater stage completely won the enthusiasm of the audience. The scrubbers, each of whom possessed acting aspirations and samples of their "talent," were the Misses Donna Speet, Lois Taylor, Barbara
Van Neuren and Phyllis Heunink.

Miss Joan Phillips delivered the winning team's oration, "A Man Above Men." This sketch of Andrew Jackson's rise to the presidency emphasized his dynamic personality, his state policies and his never-ending popularity.

"The Green Cathedral," Hahn,
was sung by 18 freshman girls,
uniformly dressed in black skirts and white blouses. They were accompanied by Miss Betty Cookman. Members of the chorus were the Misses Jean Adams, Ruth Deutche, Margaret Schoonveldt,
Delores Freyling, Eloise Irmann,
Audrey Hillyer, Ginie Hesse,
Joyce Thatcher, Nancy Corp, Lynn
Van Weiden, Jean Ver Beek, Connie Shilling, Alice Gravenhorst,
Barbara Kerr, Nancy Smith, Dorothy Fennema, Anita Nederveld and Eleanor Bareman.

Miss Kay Steketee, senior, and Miss Marian Reichert, sophomore, coached the sophomores. The team's musical number was presented by a sextet composed of the Misses Barbara Kranendonk, Marjorie Angus, Beatrice Denton, Doris Koskamp, Evelyn Van Dam
and Mrs. Rob Froelich. They sang
"The Light of Dawning," Tschalkowsky, with Miss Angus taking the solo parts. Accompanist was Miss Rovilla Ganote.

The soph's able orator, Miss Donna Slayter presented a case for the Stratton bill which would admit displaced persons of Europe to citizenship in the United States.

"The Golden Door," was the title of the oration in which Miss Slayter enumerated sound reasons why America should open its doors to these unfortunate, persecuted
persons.

A bride-to-be was warned by her married friends of all of husband's little faults in "They're None of Them Perfect," the sophomores' one-act play. The laugh-provoking trivialities which so irritated the wives failed to impress the prospective bride who confirmed the faultlessness of her fiancé by his own word. Players were the Misses Delores Bennett, Jeanne Toussaint, Mary Lou McRae, Carol
Brandt, Evelyn Miller and Nancy Rook.

Student Council President Don Mulder related the origin and history of the Nykerk Cup contest before its opening. Miss Millie Vermaire, who was in charge, introduced each number and presented the trophy to the winning team.

Judges were Dr. John Hollen-bach, Mrs. W. Curtis Snow and Helen Wade, faculty members.

Michigan in Washington

Ether Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

REP. JESSE P. Wolcott, charging the President's domestic economy and foreign aid program to be "as opposite to the American system as socialism is the opposite of democracy," has a program of his own to meet inflation and put Europe back on its feet.

Through proper management, Wolcott contends, foreign aid could be supplied at one third the cost calculated by the Paris conference and the President.

He proposes the administration of foreign aid through an independent government corporation with relatively small capital but authority to expand this capital a number of times, through the issuance of notes, bonds and debentures.
The money should be spent by claims, with "the least amount of dollar diplomacy," and he sees no reason why each foreign country should not pay for a large part of aid in its own currency.

THIS, HE explained, would create a pool of foreign currencies
from which loans might be made for productive enterprise in the country receiving the aid, or in other countries whose currency might be converted into that of the recipient country.

Domestic problems could be solved by a balanced federal budget, large-scale public debt retirement, curtailment of government expenses and revision of the tax structure to encourage maximum production.

Wolcott's domestic program is based on his conception of the causes of high prices, which he lists as: a shortage of consumer goods against high purchasing power; excessive government spending; an outdated tax structure; idle capital and savings; and a large volume of easy money credits.

The Port Huron Republican is chairman of the powerful House
Banking and Currency committee.

IF REP. CLARE E. Hoffman,
Allegan Republican, has his way, Congress will be calling on the carpet all newspaper and radio editors and commentators "be-littling the Congress as a whole."

Protesting to the House this week against publication of an editorial in a local newspaper entitled "Disloyal Congressmen," Hoffman declared that "in recent years it has become a 'national sport' for certain publications, editors and radio commentators to belittle the Congress as a whole, to ridicule, vilify and smear individual members of Congress with whose views the publisher, editor or commentator was not in accord."

"Are we to adopt the policy of crawling into a hole every time our integrity is attacked?" Hoffman asked. He suggested, every time charges "deliberately seeking to ruin the integrity of the Congress" were printed or aired, "...we ask the gentlemen to come up here and lay their cards on the table."

THE INDIAN is reputed to have a long memory and Rep. Albert J. Engel, Muskegon Republican, became convinced of it during his blood control projects inspection
trip last month.

With a group of Army engineers,
he unexpectedly dropped in at a tribal meeting of North Dakota Indians at the Fort Berthold reservation near Garrison. Though he was dressed in Army khakis, dirty and unshaven, he was immediately recognized as the Congressman who befriended the Indians in Washington more than a year back...and was warmly welcomed.

Engel, chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee on War department functions, had stayed late one night to listen to the Indians' testimony when other committee members left, protesting the Redfaced could put their remarks in the Record.

Oilers Win First
League Contest

Holland's Pure Oils quintet
made a successful debut in the 1947-48 season Saturday, by whipping the Roth Zephyrs of Grand Rapids, 37-21 in a YMCA league contest. The Hollanders had little difficulty after the first period when the score was deadlocked at 5-5.

With all boys performing in top shape, the locals pushed their lead to 19-14 at halftime, and 30-19 at the end of the third quarter. Grand Rapids scored only two points in the final period.

Coach Dell Koop said that he used everyone in the tilt with all of the boys breaking into the scoring column. Clair De Mull paced the local scorers with 10 points.

ing at the piano and organ were the Misses Eva and Marie Melna-

Dean Hinga Tells College Objectives

College can mean more than a diploma, Dean Milton L. Hinga told Holland Kiwanians Monday night. Educators have pointed out the dangers of rushing students through colleges simply to award them a degree and pass them out into the world of reality.

"College should mean an appreciation of the arts, a feeling of the rightness of democracy as a way of life and a seven-day religion," he said. Hope college is dedicated to development of a richer life through liberal arts instruction, he said.

Hinga was introduced by Program Chairman Pres. Ludens. Louis Van Schalven of Grand Haven was introduced by President St. Borr. Wilbur Cobb introduced his committee for the annual "March of Dimes" and announced preliminary plans for the drive for funds to combat polio.

At a board of directors meeting Franklin Van Aisburg was unanimously elected as club secretary, completing officers for next year.

Survey Includes Local Dining Room

The Warm Friend Tavern dining room has been included in "Where to Eat," a new national directory of America's most popular eating places. "Where to Eat" lists 2,300 restaurants selected by business executives as among their favorite places to dine, while traveling. It was compiled by the Dartnell Corp., Chicago publishers of business surveys and reports.

A special feature of the book is the list compiled from the votes of contributors of America's most popular restaurants. In this first application of the opinion poll technique to the question of dining, Old Original Bookbinders in Philadelphia was voted No. 1 on the East Parade.

Among the other top 10 in popularity were Antoine's in New Orleans, Millers Brothers in Baltimore, Arnaud's in New Orleans, the Locke-Ober Cafe in Boston, Keen's English Chop House in New York, Barney's Market Club in Chicago, Charlie's Cafe Exceptional in Minneapolis, the Divan Parisien in New York and the Durgin-Park in Boston.

Ferrysburg Deer Hunter Dies of Gunshot Wounds

William Snyder Hit By Stray Bullet Near Iron Mountain

Ottawa county's first deer hunting fatality was chalked up Friday with the information that William J. Snyder, 37, of Ferrysburg, died at 8 a.m. Thursday of gunshot wounds.

According to United Press, Snyder was struck in the head by a stray bullet while hunting in Iron county. Officers are questioning a suspect identified only as "Buckman" of Iron county.

Details in Ferrysburg were meager. The information came in a telephone call from the victim's father-in-law, Earl Hossler of Grand Rapids. Snyder, his father-in-law, and a brother-in-law, Tom Hossler, had left for the north woods Nov. 13.

Snyder was born in Cadillac, Jan. 4, 1910, and married the former Dorothy Hossler nine years ago. He was a member of the Eagles lodge in Grand Haven. He had been employed at the Anderson-Bolling Manufacturing Co. in Spring Lake.

Besides the wife he is survived by four small children, Billy, 8, Dale, 7, Anna May, 5 and Tommy, 3; his mother, Mrs. Mae Snyder of Grand Haven; five brothers, Henry and Archie of Bay City, Harry, Herman and Harvey all of Grand Haven; four sisters, Mrs. Harry Probst of Coopersville, Mrs. Helen Pierson, Nunica, Mrs. Hazel Hall of Muskegon and Mrs. Moore, Grand Haven.

(From Friday's Sentinel)

The daughter born Nov. 10 to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brower, route 2, has been named Betty Ann.

Mrs. Marvin Rotman and infant son, Paul, returned to their home, 50 East Seventh St., from Holland hospital Wednesday.

Word has been received here of the death of Fred A. Croft of Evanston, Ill., Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in Evanston hospital following an operation. He was the brother-in-law of Mrs. C. J. McLean of Holland and Castle Park, and was well known in this city.

It was inadvertently stated in Thursday's Sentinel that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Baker received with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Merriam at their tea Wednesday afternoon honoring Mr. and Mrs. Hollis M. Baker of Waukegan. The guests of honor and Mrs. Hollis S. Baker of Grand Rapids were in the receiving line.

A special meeting of the American Legion auxiliary will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Legion Memorial club house. A special bus will leave the Greyhound station at 7:30 p.m. for those needing transportation to the club house.

Power Failure Here

Power was cut off for about two hours in a two-block section near River and Eighth Saturday night when a transformer burned out at the Board of Public Works. Power went off shortly after 8 p.m. and was restored after 10:15 p.m. after a new transformer was installed. Area affected was between River and Pine Aves. from Eighth to 10th Sts.

Home Market held "open house" today after a milk truck unceremoniously crashed into a show window at 6 a.m. today, ripping out the lower casement. Employees and customers surveying the damage are, left to right, Arthur Slager, Herman Brookhouse, John Oonk, Andrew Vander Ploeg, owner of the building, and in foreground, Con Slager, proprietor of the store.

Accident Leaves Market Wide Open for Business

The store front of Home Market, 13th St. and Lincoln Ave., probably was the worst "casualty" in a truck-crash accident at 6 a.m. today on slippery streets.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Robert Tummel, 39, 306 North State St., Zeeland, and a Consumers Dairy truck driven by Justin Deters, 666 Michigan Ave., collided on the slippery intersection at 13th and Lincoln. The impact sent the milk truck into the store, shattering a big plate glass window and crashing into the window display case, ripping the framework to ground level. A special display of new soap products was scattered over the entire store.

Mrs. Emma Tummel, mother of the car driver, received bruises to chest, arm and knee, and was taken home. Her son was driving her to the depot where she had planned to board a train for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the funeral of a brother-in-law, Tom Van Alstyne, who died Sunday morning. If her injuries prove minor, she probably will leave for Ohio Tuesday in company with another son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Tummel.

The front end of the Tummel car, traveling north on Lincoln, was badly smashed, and the front end and right side of the truck, proceeding east on 13th, also was badly damaged.

City police who investigated gave Deters a ticket for failure to yield the right of way.

Grand Haven, Nov. 24 (Special)—Lacy Corbitt, staff member of the U. S. nutrition survey, received scalp lacerations when the U. S. public health truck he was driving at 9 a.m. today skidded on the highway on M-104 four miles east of Spring Lake, went over an embankment and rolled over. The truck was loaded with surgical instruments. X-rays were to be taken in Municipal hospital today to determine Corbitt's injuries.

Rotarians Hear Tuberculosis Talk

"Rehabilitation of Tuberculosis in Michigan," was the topic of a talk given at the Thursday noon meeting of Rotary club, by Roy Manty, director of patient services, of the Michigan Tuberculosis association.

Manty urged members of Rotary to participate in the X-ray surveys which will be conducted in January, because, he said, "tuberculosis is the largest killer of the social diseases existing today."

"Persons who look normal and healthy, who are walking the streets of your city, may be carriers of tuberculosis," Manty said, "and you cannot afford to let this condition exist, for you are as susceptible to this disease as anyone."

Today, if a case of tuberculosis is caught in a preliminary stage, it may be arrested with means now known," the director said.

In sanatoriums provided for the care of those affected with "TB," occupational therapy programs and other means of learning, are now available.

In closing, Mr. Manty said, "it is your responsibility to help this minority group understand tuberculosis, be cured of it, and take them back in your cities and businesses as reputable people, or they will have nothing more to do than turn to the political medicine men who will give them some security."

The speaker also described the Michigan Tuberculosis association and its work, and the work of other social agencies combating this sickness.

Elaine Ackerson, of the Holland Public schools music faculty, sang, accompanied by Barbara Lampen.

Sports Briefs

Ascending the stairs to the press-box last Saturday night, The Sentinel reporter heard the remark, "Oh, those lucky guys, sitting up there in that nice warm spot."

Lest fans believe that the sports-writers sit in their shirt sleeves, and collars open, let us set you straight.

True, the press section is protected by windows, and how. Several of the writers had to brush the snow flakes from their pads throughout the flurry last week.

There are a few cracks that could use a filler. One reporter was working clothed in a suit, two sweaters, top coat, overcoat and fur lined gloves. In addition he was sipping warm coffee at intervals.

Understand that writers aren't kicking about their jobs or the press box, but it does send a chill down your spine when someone says, "nice warm spot, up there."

Holland Hurricanes could be called "mudders." Facts will bear out this statement. Against the Detroit Bluejackets last Saturday, in the middle of a snow storm, and playing on a water soaked gridiron, the locals broke loose for two of the longest runs of the season. First Don Leeuw broke away on a punt return for well over 60 yards and then Jack Westerhof did the same thing for 53 yards. It is hard to explain whether the locals are faster on a wet field or whether the visitors were slowed up. Maybe Owner Fred Bocks should hope for rain and snow again tonight.

Social Aid Office Explains Law on Old Age Benefits

Property Cannot Be Taken From Recipient During His Lifetime

The office of the Bureau of Social Aid in City Hall has been a busy place since the passage of another Old Age Assistance law by the last legislature. The new act went into effect Oct. 11.

Many people, who formerly comfortably accepted Old Age Assistance, have been disturbed over the new implications and are questioning the effect of the law on their own status as well as that of their relatives, according to Mrs. Mayo Hadden, Sr., head of the county bureau.

To correct wide misunderstanding, Mrs. Hadden made it clear that the new law does not give the state a lien against the property of an old age assistance beneficiary during his lifetime. So long as the person lives, the state can make no claim against his property, provided fraud or similar considerations are not factors in the case.

The new amendment permits the state Department of Social Welfare to file claim against an estate for old age assistance paid during the lifetime of a deceased recipient starting Oct. 11, 1947.

The state's claim, however, ranks fourth on a list for payment of claims against the estate. Bills will be paid off in the following order:

1. Necessary funeral expenses as determined by the Judge of Probate.
2. Debts due the United States.
3. Expenses of last illness.
4. Debts due the State of Michigan.

5. All other debts.

In general, if the estate is less than $100, no claim will be filed. Nor will the state file a claim if such action creates a hardship on heirs who by reason of age or physical or mental infirmity are unable to support themselves.

Mrs. Hadden said 1,390 cases receive help through the Bureau of Social Aid in Ottawa county which has a population of approximately 60,000. These cases are people in need because they are unemployed, partially employable, or have income insufficient for their needs.

Supplementing of income in the Old Age Assistance program applies particularly to the man getting Social Security. Most elderly men have not been employed enough years under covered employment to have piled up a surplus for Old Age Survivors' Insurance. The average OASI Pension is about $25 and the recipient's wife, if she is 65 or over, can get one-half of this amount, or $12.50. But under current standards, $37.50 does not cover living costs of a couple, even on a minimum basis.

The department does everything possible to find employment for such applicants, factory work for the men and housework for the women, but when a person has passed 65 or is blind or has family members to care for at home, this is almost an impossibility.

The new law applies only to Old Age Assistance, so affects 1,223 out of the 1,390 cases in the county.

Because of misinformation, 75 persons have requested that their cases be closed in Ottawa county.

Persons receiving Old Age Assistance are permitted to sell their property but they are expected to receive market value and live on this amount for a reasonable length of time before re-applying for assistance. If property is transferred to preclude recovery, the person becomes ineligible for assistance for five years from the date of transfer.

This law allows the person to use up their estate and continue on Old Age Assistance even though they need and use more than the money is worth. This money is a loan without interest. In a sense the person is self-supporting even though the amount received as a grant has to be limited according to bureau standards.

Zeeland Cagers Edged by Bucs

Zeeland, Nov. 26.—Grand Haven's Buccaneers proved too much for the Zeeland quintet Tuesday night at Zeeland when they trimmed the Chix, 31-19. It was the opener for both schools, consequently there was much ragged play throughout the affair.

Grand Haven held a lead during the first half, with Zeeland getting plenty of shots, but not scoring. Halftime score was 17-12 in favor of Coach Steve Sluka's men. The second half was merely a repetition of the first with the Bucs gradually stretching their margin.

Coach Ray Lokers said after the game today that he was "quite well satisfied." He said the boys had only limited practice sessions, and should improve with each drill. Both Zeeland guards, Howard De Jonge and Bob Van Rhee looked good, Lokers said. He used his entire team in the fray. Ed Boeve played outstanding ball for the winners.

Fritz Crisler 'Takes' Shower To Celebrate Undeclared Season

One of the happiest men in American football took a shower with his street clothes on Saturday afternoon. It was none other than the coach of the brilliant University of Michigan Wolverines, Fritz Crisler.

As the Wolverines culminated a perfect season Saturday by lashing out a 21-0 victory over a stubborn Buckeye eleven from Ohio State, it marked the first undefeated season under Coach Crisler. The clock's second hand swept past the "50" which meant that there was time for only one more play. Crisler, amidst his Wolverine reserves hoisted himself on a chair to watch the final play of the regular season it was revealed by Lloyd Heneveld, Wolverine guard from Holland in an exclusive Sentinel interview, Saturday.

A broad smile covered his face as the play was executed and the gun sounded. The game was over, Michigan had won its ninth game to end a perfect season. . . and the road was clear toward the West and the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. Immediately four substitute Wolverines grabbed Crisler and hoisted him on their shoulders. The entire team swarmed around him and began their trek across the gridiron to the dressing room. High above the head gears of the gridirers was the same grinning face, that of Crisler, the head coach of the greatest gridiron machine in the Big Nine Conference.

But in the shower rooms all was in readiness for the Wolverine hero for the showers were on and under the stream of water went Crisler along with his two assistant coaches. But the smile remained and as one of his gridirers said, "There wasn't a spot on his face that wasn't wrinkled from his broad grin."

Laughter and fun reigned in the locker rooms for over an hour as Crisler enjoyed one of the happiest moments of his life.

Holland's contribution to the Big Nine Champs, Lloyd Heneveld, has been held from action for the last two weeks with an injured foot received in the Indiana encounter. He expects to be in shape before the team begins its journey to the Rose Bowl.

Michigan Homes In Fine Repair, Survey Reveals

Dwellings of State in Better Condition Now Than Before War

Homes in Michigan generally are in much better repair today than before the war, in spite of shortages of materials which have prevailed until recently, according to a report just released by the Title Council of America.

Only 8.7 per cent of all dwellings in Michigan and the North Central states today need such major repairs as replacement of floors, roof, walls or other major structural parts, the report disclosed. Twice this many, or 17.4 per cent, were in need of such work in 1940. The report was based on surveys made by the Bureau of the Census.

"Homes are not only in better repair today but also more have such modern conveniences as central heating, tiled baths and electric lights than did before the war," said F. B. Ortman, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

Private bathrooms, for instance, have been installed in tens of thousands of dwellings in the North Central states since 1940. Ortman pointed out. More than 64 per cent now have such facilities in comparison with 53.3 per cent in 1940.

More than 91 per cent of houses in the North Central area today have electric lighting, and 58.2 per cent have central heating, according to the Title Council report. In 1940, 83.1 per cent had electricity and only 52.9 per cent central heating, it showed.

More Deer Hunters Report Killing Bucks

H. Kuipers of Port Sheldon proved last week that you only need one arm to shoot a buck. He reported that he shot his 10-point, 175-pound buck with his right arm while his left arm was in a cast. All in all, the party of seven bagged three bucks.

Others reporting deer are Morris Olsen, who shot an eight-point, 185-pound buck at Nema, Mich. Hunting with him were John Lamberts, Fred Olsen and John Van Kampen, Jr. Harold Door, 893 Columbia Ave., returned with a 12-point buck after a week's hunting trip in Hiawatha National forest in the Upper Peninsula.

Glenn Ringewold, 269 Felch St., also reported shooting an eight-point buck in northern Michigan. Accompanying Ringewold was his father, Albert, 272 Fairbanks Ave.

Vows Exchanged at Borculo

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Rietman

Borculo Christian Reformed church was the scene of a wedding Nov. 11 when Miss Geneva Geerts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Geerts of Borculo, and Dennis Rietman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rietman, exchanged their marriage vows. The Rev. C. Vanden Heuvel read the double ring service at 7:45 p.m.

Tall baskets of white chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and lighted candelabra formed the setting for the service. Miss Ella Schout, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Dale Bussies, who sang "Oh Promise Me" before the ceremony, and "The Wedding Hymn" following the exchange of vows.

Wedding attendants were Mrs. Henry Geerts, matron of honor, and Mrs. Kenneth Hirdes and Mrs. Harvey Jongekrijg, bridesmaids. Judith Ann Masselink and Alvin Wayne Masselink, niece and nephew of the groom, were flower girl and ringbearer, respectively.

Henry Masselink assisted the groom as best man and Gordon Rietman and Harvey Jongekrijg seated the guests.

The bride's gown, designed by her, was of white satin styled with a net yoke and lace trim. The sleeves were long and tiny buttons extended down the back to the waistline. A long train was inserted and edged with lace. Her lace-veiled veil was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with a white satin ribbon.

The flower girl wore a blue satin gown with white chrysanthemums in her hair and carried similar flowers in a basket. The ring bearer wore a white sailor suit and carried the rings on a white pillow.

A reception for 140 guests was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Henry Masselink and Henry Geerts were master and mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. John Vork and Mrs. Raymond Schroteboren were in charge of gifts.

Arnold Advises On Care of Cows

With cooler nights here, dairymen should keep cows stabled, L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent said. Cold wet days will cause cows to stand around outdoors with their backs humped up and tails tucked between their legs, probably wondering where to go to get their next bite of food.

Under such conditions, cows are better off in the stable. While keeping cows in the stable will require a little extra work, Arnold believes that it will pay off in milk returns because of the better feeding that can be done, more comfort for cows, and the lessened danger of mastitis and udder inflammation.

A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State college, advises this grain ration: 700 pounds of cereal, 100 to 150 pounds of either 24 per cent or 32 per cent protein concentrate mixture.

Permitting cows outdoors under bright, sunny fall days during the daytime to grub out some feed from stalk fields is all right, providing regular barn feeding conditions are carried on.

Cows should be fed one pound of grain daily for the total pounds of fat produced in a week. For example, a cow giving 40 pounds of four per cent milk would produce ten pounds of fat per week and should receive ten pounds of grain daily.

According to past records, November is usually the lowest month in terms of pounds of milk produced. Feeding cows hay, silage and grain will tend to reduce this drop in milk production.
