NEWSPAPER LAWS.

If subscribers order the discontinuance of newspapers, the publishers may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.
If subscribers refuse or neglect to take their newspapers from the office to which they are sent, they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.
If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the newspapers are sent to the former place of residence, they are then responsible.

CONCERNING DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS.
The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can have arrested any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and to send a postal notifying the publisher, lays himself liable to arrest and fine.

Xmas Presents at M. Kiekintveld.

The people of Holland, who buy presents, need no introduction to this place of business.

We wish only to call your attention to the fact that we are holding the first place in our line, and notwithstanding the hard times we are prepared to show you as fine a line of goods as ever before, at prices which are right.

We mention here a few of the many articles suitable for presents to be found at our store:

Books! Books! Books!

Books of Poems, Travel, Fiction and Biography, in both cheap and fine bindings.

Books in Sets, Standard Works, Fireside, Toy and Picture Books.

Booklets from 5c to $1.00. We have an especially fine line of booklets, suitable for presents to Sunday School classes and Christmas souvenirs. We invite all teachers who intend buying presents to call and inspect this line of goods.

Our supply of Teachers' Bibles is the largest and finest ever shown in Holland. Prices from 35c to $9.00.

The increased demand for this very appropriate gift has induced us to buy a large supply from the publishers in New York, enabling us to sell them 20 percent lower than heretofore. We carry both Bagster and Oxford.

A nice assortment of Holland Bibles and Psalm Books is always to be found on our shelves.

FANCY GOODS!

Albums, 75c to $1.00.

Bergen Hall has been secured for this purpose and the exercises will open at 7:30 o'clock sharp. Ladies are especially invited to attend. Besides the merits of the speaker and his topic, another attractive feature of the evening will be the opportunity offered to contribute towards the destitute mine workers in the northern part of the state, an object which needs no further commendation at our hands.

Marshal Van Ry received word from Hopkins Station, Allegan county, this week that an unknown man had been found hanging in Mr. Edwards' barn, about a mile and a half from that place. The man had entered the barn, found a rope and attaching it to an overhanging beam, had jumped to his death. The man was thirty-five or forty years old, five feet seven inches in height, weighed about 150 pounds, had fine, light, sandy hair and mustache, dark grey overcoat, light snuff colored trousers and dark slough hat. In his pockets were found $1.05 in money and a number of sewing-machine attachments. From the description Marshal Van Ry identified him as one that had been sent up for drunkenness from this city some three months ago, when he gave his name as Frank Phillips and said he hailed from Milwaukee. His satchel is still here in the Henningway House. While in the county jail he attempted to commit suicide.

The plan of improving Grand River by dredging, as proposed by Col. J. O'Kiel, the representative of an English syndicate, is said to be the one adopted in dredging the Potomac river at Washington and the flats adjoining that city. Scows are arranged so as to hold large hoppers, and into them are dumped the earth taken up by the great shovel. The dirt then runs out through large pipes into bayous and low places along the river. It serves a two-fold purpose: it gets rid of the dirt and makes arable land of the waste places along the banks. Its chief beauty is in its extreme cheapness. Instead of loading the dirt on the scows and then having to dump them, it is dumped direct into the hoppers and conveyed ashore.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1893.

Holland, Mich.

The Close of Navigation on the Great Lakes.

Take it on the whole and the season which has just closed, or is about to close, has been an unprofitable and a disastrous one to shipping.

On the five great lakes 53 vessels and 123 lives were lost.

Tabulated by lakes the loss of life was: Lake Erie 49, Lake Huron 33, Lake Superior 10, Lake Michigan 12, Lake Ontario 4, Detroit River 5.

The vessels that were lost had an aggregate tonnage of 24,258 and were valued at $1,040,000.

The grand total of losses on boats from all causes is $2,112,588.

The great storm of October 14 was the most destructive in the history of the lake marine. Not counting cargoes except on boats which were totally lost, the amount of property destroyed during that storm amounted to $484,327, and 52 lives were lost. Next in severity was the big gale of April 12, when eight lives and property valued at $280,000 were destroyed.

The loss of life during the past season was the largest in six years. The total number lost in 1887 was 204.

Only one passenger was lost of all the vast crowds carried on lake steamers during the world's fair year; three committed suicide by jumping overboard.

The disasters during the storms of the past ten days and with which the season will come to a practical close, are here noted:

The steamer F. W. Wheeler, coal laden from Buffalo to Chicago, went ashore three miles east of Michigan City, on Sunday morning at two o'clock. At first the life saving crew went to her, but the captain declined assistance and sent for twenty men with shovels to jettison the cargo. The boat was lying easy on sandy bottom and in no danger. At noon the wind shifted from southeast to northwest and blew a gale. The crew of the Wheeler signaled for the lifesaving crew to take them off. The sea was washing clear over the boat. The lifesaving crew launched their boat off the ice banks which lined the shore and made two trips, bringing nine men in the first load and the remaining seven in the second, landing them all in safety. Capt. Finch was steering with a long oar when suddenly a big ice cake, on the crest of a wave, struck it and knocked him into the water. He went down, and as he came to the surface two of his men caught him and tried to pull him back into the boat. They were in turn struck by a huge wave and nearly knocked overboard, being compelled to release the captain, who sank again although he had on a cork jacket. The Wheeler is loaded with 2,100 tons of coal, and left Buffalo Wednesday morning and is not insured. Capt. Trotter of the Wheeler is loud in his praise of Capt. Finch of the lifesaving crew and his brave men for their noble work. Later reports are that the Wheeler is breaking up and will be a total loss. Next spring an effort will be made to recover her machinery.

In going to the wreck of the steamer F. W. Wheeler, mentioned above, the tug W. R. Crowell, from Chicago, foundered six miles from the Indiana shore in fifty feet of water Monday night. Her crew of five men were taken by the tug Morford and brought back to Chicago. The Crowell and the Morford left Chicago at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon for the wreck of the Wheeler. A northwest wind had raised a big sea, but the tugs kept a long all right until about 4 o'clock. Then the Crowell began leaking. The water gained rapidly on the pumps and Capt. Fay Wyman turned the tug's head into the wind in order to use all the steam on the pumps. Still the water gained and the Morford took the tow line. This soon parted and the big hawser which was being taken for the Wheeler was frozen so stiff that it could not be unwound. Then the tug was turned toward the shore and the Morford was signaled to take off the crew. Both boats were thickly covered with ice, a big sea was running and the rescue was attended with great danger. The first time the Morford approached the sinking boat two men jumped and landed safely in the arms of the Morford's crew. The next time the Morford approached the wreck it was thrown off by a wave and did not get near enough, but finally all were rescued. The lost boat was worth $16,000. She was one of the most powerful tugs in the Chicago river, had patent steam steering gear and other modern appliances and was in the best of condition.

The schr. Hunter Savidge, formerly owned by the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Co., of Spring Lake, but now belonging to parties in Alpena, went ashore five miles north of Sand Beach, Saturday night. The life-saving crew took the surf boat overland and relieved the crew with great difficulty. The damage is very slight. The Hunter Savidge left Alpena in the tow of the steam barge Viking. When off Sand Beach the Viking dropped the line but the schooner was unable to make the harbor and drifted ashore. The wind was blowing a gale from the northeast. The next day the life-saving crew in the lifeboat and Capt. Wagstaff with the tug Sand Beach went to Hardwood Point to assist the tug Rannels in getting the schooner Hunter Savidge off. After four hours hard work with the pumps and siphon the Sand Beach pulled her clear, but when she started to pull her into deep water the line parted and the schooner surged back, striking the lifeboat, smashing the port bow of the latter and almost upsetting the crew. Finally the Sand Beach pulled the schooner into deep water. The tug Rannels then took the schooner to Sand Beach, arriving at noon. Some time after the life-saving crew returned, after battling for their lives in trying to reach the harbor against a gale from the south, with a terrible sea running. When they reached the lighthouse they were completely exhausted and the tug Rannels brought them ashore. Their heads and bodies were badly bruised from their being thrown about by the waves.

At Milwaukee, on Sunday afternoon the fishing tug Herman brought in Capt. Andrew Olson of Washington Island, and Harry Peterson, of Chicago, a seaman, who were taken off the small scow Dreadnaught by the steamer Syracuse, thirty miles southeast of Racine and afterwards transferred to the tug. The Dreadnaught was bound from Washington Island for Racine with a cargo of wood. The vessel became water-logged on Thursday last and since then until rescued by the Syracuse they had been exposed to the terrible cold weather which prevailed. Both men are under treatment at the Emergency Hospital, Milwaukee. The Dreadnaught is adrift and will prove a total loss.

The steamer Waldo A. Avery, Chicago to Buffalo with grain, burned in the straits Tuesday night. The burning boat was beached at McGulpin's Point, five miles west of Mackinaw City. Both steamer and cargo will be totally destroyed. The crew all escaped in safety. The flames lighted up the straits so that the burning boat was sighted from both St. Ignace and Mackinaw Island.

The scow Mackinaw, which went on the beach at Muskegon last week has gone all to pieces.

A whole fleet of vessels is fast in the ice floe at the head of Lake Erie and all efforts to release the boats are vain thus far.

The secretary of war submitted to Congress the report of the board of engineers investigating raft towing on the great lakes. The board reports that raft towing is a serious impediment to navigation and results in the destruction of bouys, stakes and other marks placed to define channels. The board recommends that it be prohibited except under strict regulations.

Bismarck on America.

Bismarck, in talking about America, said: "The security and strength of your country lie in the fact that the American race is a mixed one—a 'Sam-melvolk.' History has never made a great people in any other way. Look at France. It was the invasion from Italy and the north that give her bone and sinew. Spain was strongest because she sucked in Iberian blood. And England, what made her so great? Not the invasion of the Anglo Saxons only, but the fact that there they joined hands with the Normans. A people may be comfortable and prosperous without an influx of foreign blood, but it will cease to be capable of great things whenever that ceases."

Continuing, he said: "The Americans to my mind, have overdone the Columbus worship. The Norwegians were the first discoverers and settlers of America. Columbus was a chart maker, and, before setting out on his own voyage, had positive proof of the existence of other continents. And it would have been far better for America and her early history had the settlement continued to be by Norwegians and other hardy tribes from the North. The Spaniards made a bad beginning in America."

YOUR FUTURE

IS IN YOUR OWN HAND.

Palmaristry assumes to tell what the lines in you hand indicate. It will amuse you, if nothing more.

The above diagram almost explains itself. The length of the LINE OF LIFE indicates probable time to which you will live. Each BRACELET gives you thirty years. Well-marked LINE OF HEAD denotes mental power; clear LINE OF FORTUNE, fame or riches. Both combined mean success in life; but you must keep up with modern times to win it. You will find plenty of these in Demorest's Family Magazine, so attractively presented that every member of the family is entertained. It is a dozen magazines in one. A CLEAR LINE OF HEART bespeaks tenderness; a straight LINE OF FATE, peaceful life; the reverse if crooked. A well-defined LINE OF HEALTH spurs you doctors' bills; so will the health hints in Demorest's. No other magazine publishes so many stories to interest the home circle. You will be subject to extremes of high spirits or despondency if you have the GIRDLE OF VENUS well marked; keep up your spirits by having Demorest's Magazine to read. By subscribing to it for 1894 you will receive a gallery of exquisite works of art of great value, besides the superb premium picture, 12x20 inches, "I'm a Daisy!" which is almost a real baby, and equal to the original oil painting which cost $300; and you will have a magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep you posted on all the topics of the day, and all the fads, and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and you get with it, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2.00, and you will really get over $25.00 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send for a specimen copy. A large QUADRANGLE means honesty; a large TRIANGLE, generosity; long FIRST DIVISION OF THUMB, strong will; LONG SECOND DIVISION, reasoning faculty. THE MOUNT OF JUPITER betokens ambition; that of SATURN, prudence; the SUN, love of pleasure; MARS, courage; MOON, imagination; VENUS, love of pleasure; and MERCURY, intelligence. Take our advice as above and you will be sure to possess the last and most valuable quality.

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, ss.

COUNTY OF OTTAWA.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Ottawa, held at the Probate Office, in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, on Wednesday the Twenty-second day of November, in the one year thousand eight hundred and ninety-three.

Present, JOHN V. B. GOODRICH, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Hermannus Doeberg, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Otto J. Doeberg, son and legatee named in the will of said deceased, praying for the probate of an instrument in writing filed in this court purporting to be the last will and testament of the said deceased, and for the appointment of Isaac Marell, as executor thereof.

Thereupon it is ordered, That Wednesday the Twentieth day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be held at the Probate Office in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; And it is further ordered, That said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof by causing a copy of this order to be published in the HOLLAND CITY NEWS, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Ottawa for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

20th Judicial Circuit in Chancery.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Ottawa, in Chancery, at Grand Haven, on the 1st day of November, A. D. 1893.

In this cause it appearing from affidavits on file that the defendant, George H. Brown, is not a resident of this state, but is a resident of Chicago, State of Illinois, on motion of complainant's solicitor, it is ordered that the appearance of said non-resident defendant, George H. Brown, be entered herein within four months from the date of this order, and in case of his appearance he cause his answer to the bill of complaint to be filed, and a copy thereof to be served on the complainant's solicitor within twenty days after service on him of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and in default thereof said bill will be taken as confessed by said non-resident defendant.

And it is further ordered, that within twenty days the complainant cause a notice of this order to be published in the HOLLAND CITY NEWS, a newspaper, printed, published and circulated in said county, and that said publication be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession, or that she cause a copy of this order to be personally served on said non-resident defendant at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for his appearance.

Merely a Matter of Money.

A very eminent Philadelphia, now deceased, had two daughters married in another city. One of these ladies was very fond of society and of having a good time. On one occasion her husband made a trip to Philadelphia and saw her father and told him that really there was such a thing as going beyond moderation and he feared he would be compelled to break up and send the daughter back to Philadelphia to the parental home. To this the old gentleman responded in his quiet way that he was very sorry, as he was just on the point of making arrangements to send quite a sum of money upon his daughter, realizing that he was growing old and that it must be difficult for her to sustain her social position adequately. Upon hearing this a decided change is said to have come over the complaining husband. He had to acknowledge, he said, that there were many fine qualities which could not be overlooked, and although she had been a great trial to him, yet if the father really felt this great interest in her, as her husband would try to overlook her eccentricities and bear with her a little longer. He did, and nothing more was ever heard of the matter. —Philadelphia Times.

Troubles Threatening the Kidneys.

Although they are grievous and very often fatal if disregarded, may be prevented by a timely resort to that admirable safeguard of health, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a genial promoter of activity in the renal organs, the stomach and the liver. Ere inaction of the kidneys develops into Bright's disease, diabetes, or other dangerous disorders, recourse should be had to the Bitters. If this suggestion is followed, the happiest outcome of the earlier symptoms may be anticipated with confidence. Check a development of these maladies at the outset by the means indicated, since at their maturity they are hard indeed to conquer. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, insomnia, nervousness, constipation, malarial complaints are eradicated by the Bitters, a medicine of comprehensive use and prompt effects.

AMONG the many "freaks" offered for exhibition at the World's Fair were a hen that always walks backwards, a Shetland pony that is so small that her shoes are made from $20 gold pieces, a razor that had been used by George Washington, an Indian prodigy aged 4 years, who can recite "Thanatopsis," and a garment 400 years old.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT is both a palliative and curative in all Lung Complaints, Bronchitis, etc. It is a standard remedy for Coughs and Colds, and needs only a trial to prove its worth.

If all people were as good as they try to appear when they know they are watched, what a nice, clean, sweet world this would be.

Suffered for Twelve Years.

Oreide, (formerly Enterprise, Taylor) Buffalo, N.Y.

Gentlemen—A heart overflowing with gratitude prompts me, to write you. Twelve long weary years I suffered greatly from Urinary Derangement and at last was given up by my physician to die, besides spending almost all my money. After five months' treatment with your Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I now enjoy most excellent health. I would, to day, have been in my grave, and my little children motherless, and it is not too soon for my medicine. I will recommend your medicine as long as I live.

If any one doubts this, give my name and address.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. MALVINA WILSON.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y.

Gentlemen—"I was under the care of different physicians for nearly two years; tried every doctor in our town; continued to suffer and decline until I was a physical wreck. The most learned physicians pronounced my case GRAVEL or STONE in the bladder, and said that I would never be any better until it was removed by a surgical operation. Oh! I thought what next? Every one felt sad; myself, gave up, as an operation seemed to us all certain death. I shall never forget how timely the good news of your SWAMP-ROOT reached me. I sent you by this same mail sample of the stone or gravel that was dissolved and expelled by the use of SWAMP-ROOT. The Great Kidney and Bladder Cure. It must have been as large as a good sized goose egg. I am feeling as well today as ever. I did, I kept right on using SWAMP-ROOT, and it saved my life. If any one doubts my statement I will furnish proof."

WORK OF HOKE SMITH

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

He Offers Defense for His Course in Pension Matters—Starvation Stalks Abroad in Michigan and Wisconsin—Comptroller of Currency Makes Report.

Interior Department Report.

Washington dispatch: Hoke Smith, Secretary of the Interior, in his annual report reviews the work of all branches of the department during the last year. He comments on the inadequacy of legislation thus far enacted to provide for the legitimate procurement of public timber to supply the actual necessities of the people dependent upon it, to promote settlement and develop the natural resources of the public lands. Legislation providing for a wise and comprehensive forestry system is recommended. The Secretary discusses at length the opening of the Cherokee outlet. He says the hardships incurred by applicant's was an unavoidable result when so large a crowd, far in excess of the land to be obtained, was preparing to rush madly upon it. Referring to the Cherokee Indian allotments, the Secretary states that he sought unsuccessfully to dissuade those representing the Indians from seeking to select town sites for speculative purposes. In order to defeat the plans of the Indian speculators he approved the allotments made, but fixed town sites in such a way as to thwart their schemes. The Secretary recommends the passage of legislation to protect the people not settled in these towns from this discrimination. The work of the Indian Bureau shows that they are steadily advancing in civilization. Tribal wars and wars with the whites having ceased, they are increasing, and there are now more than 250,000.

The payment of Indian depredation claims is deemed a subject of grave consideration. Under the existing laws the appropriations intended for the support of these Indians will be consumed by the payment of these claims, and a second appropriation will be necessary to meet their needs, so that the payment of these claims will eventually devolve upon the Government. It is estimated that these claims will absorb many millions of dollars, and the policy of subjecting the Treasury to this strain is questioned. The recent troubles in the Chetaw Nation are touched upon at length. The Secretary urges the prompt passage of the bill now pending before Congress extending the jurisdiction of the United States in Indian Territory in order to include the right of removal of all cases, where local prejudice is shown without regard to citizenship.

Upon the subject of pensions the Secretary calls attention to the great amount saved to the Government by the stoppage of payment of pensions in Norfolk, Va., New Mexico, and Iowa. Where it was thought that the pensions could not be sustained, and another medical examination was necessary, payment of the pensions was suspended pending the investigation. "This," he says, "was done by the Commissioner of Pensions in pursuance of the uniform practice of the bureau, existing almost from its early organization. It was found that many thus suspended were able to supply the proof when notice to that effect was given. Payment to them was at once resumed."

Referring to the work of the Census Office, the Secretary states: "I now feel all confidence that every effort is being conscientiously made to bring the census to a close and to render it as useful as possible when finished." It is intimated that the appropriation now available will be sufficient to meet the expenses up to Feb. 1, but that additional appropriations to the amount of $500,000 will be necessary to continue the work from that time. In closing the report the Secretary stated that in the estimate of expenditures for the department a great majority of the proposed improvements were rejected, only those actually necessary for the conduct of public business being adopted.

ECKELS MAKES REPORT.

What the Comptroller of the Currency Says to Congress.

The annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency, which was submitted to Congress more briefly than the report usually made by that officer, differs from former reports in that no tables appear in the body of the text. It shows 3,796 national banks to have been in operation at the close of the report year, with a capital stock of $995,558,120, represented by 7,450,000 shares held by 300,000 shareholders. At the last report of condition the total resources of the banks then in operation were $1,099,563,243.36. The total amount of circulation was Oct. 31, $209,311,993, a net increase during the year of $36,586,972. During the year 119 banks were organized in thirty-two States and Territories, with a capital stock of $11,230,000, distributed as follows: Forty-four, with a capital stock of $5,135,000, in the eastern States; forty-one, with a capital stock of $2,340,000, west of the Mississippi River, and thirty-four, with a capital stock of $3,775,000, in the central and southern States.

Within the same period 153 banks suspended, with a capital stock of $30,500,000. Of this number eighty-six, with a capital stock of $18,205,000, resumed, and sixty-five passed into the hands of receivers, with a capital stock of $12,295,000. At the close of the year seven remained in the charge of examiners pending resumption. The aggregate liabilities Oct. 31, 1893, the date of the last report of condition, compared with those of Sept. 30, 1892, were $400,531,613 less. The shrinkage in liabilities is accounted for by a decrease between the dates mentioned in the following items: Capital stock, $8,032,677; individual deposits, $314,298,458; and bank and bankers' deposits, $181,333,125. The decrease in resources is as follows: Loans and discounts, $327,400,928; stocks, etc., $5,965,564, and due from banks and bankers, $132,051,454. Cash of all kinds increased $36,068,000, including $3,410,815 in gold.

United States bonds held for all purposes increased $40,601,250.

The suspension of national banks during the year is discussed, and also that of resumption. Upon the question of resumption the Comptroller says: "With a full knowledge of the general solvency of the institutions and the causes which brought about their suspension, the policy was inaugurated of giving all banks which under ordinary circumstances would not have closed, and whose management had been honest, an opportunity to resume business. This policy was one which seemed to commend itself to the Comptroller as proper to pursue under the circumstances, and it is believed the results have justified the experiment of its adoption."

WISCONSIN MINERS STARVING.

Without Work, Money or Food in a Wild Mountain Region.

It was a cheerless Thanksgiving day on the great Gogebic range of iron miners, where 5,000 able-bodied miners—Finns, Cornishmen, Austrians, Italians, Poles and Irishmen—with 15,000 women and children dependent upon them are out of work. There is no money, there is little food and less clothing, and until the people of the State responded to Gov. Peck's appeal for aid, these 10,000 miserable folks were suffering all the horrors of starvation.

For many years, until last spring, the great iron mines of this region have been working full blast. Those were days of prosperity and the miners were full with money. This spring the mine owners were forced by overproduction to shut down the mines. Iron ore lay piled all about and there was no one to buy.

One by one the great iron mines of the Gogebic range reeled up their hoisting cables until not a pit in the whole range was working. Then the miners did not know which way to turn. Not one of them had a penny saved for such a day. Some of them had cut wood from neighboring forests and others had raised potatoes to eat during the winter. But the majority of these hardy men were left destitute when the mine superintendents announced that the pits would not be worked for an indefinite period.

It is no exaggeration to state that 1,000 children on the Gogebic range are to-day without food, clothing or shoes except for the limited supply forwarded by charitable people elsewhere. And these poor creatures do not belong to miners alone. For years and years hundreds of men have been chopping wood in the black forests to the north and south for the big furnaces at Hurley, Ironwood, Bessemer, Saxon and Ashland. When the mines shut down these woodmen were ordered to stop work, and thus 100 or more men were forced to return to their homes and await the time when the whistles and bells of the shafts should announce the opening of the pits. It has been six months since the howls of the Gogebic range were whacked by the picks of the men who now stand round in the snow and biting winds and wonder whether it's to be beets or potatoes that the good wife is to cook at noon. The little children running about the bare floors cannot answer the question, for the cold wind from the broken windows drives them into corners and makes them talk about the stockings they should be wearing and the shoes father can not buy.

Relief committees at Ironwood, Hurley, Bessemer and Ashland are doing all in their power to relieve the distress, but they are scarcely able to take care of so great a charge. It is not probable that the mines on the range will be opened this winter. This means that 21,000 people must be taken care of if the graveyards in that storm-swept section of Wisconsin and Michigan are not to be crossed and recrossed by the black hordes of the village hivers. Then, too, the doctors say that typhoid fever has broken out in settlements along the snow-capped range and that the broken picket fences of the graveyards must be drawn farther away if the dead are to be kept within the inclosures.

VAN ALLEN WILL NOT ACCEPT.

Almost Was He Persuaded to Be an Ambassador.

Correspondence between J. J. Van Allen, the Department of State, and the President has been made public. It includes a letter dated Nov. 20 from Mr. Van Allen to Secretary Gresham declining to accept the Italian ambassadorship, one from Mr. Cleveland to Mr. Van Allen urging his acceptance, and a reply to the President's letter, dated Nov. 25, persisting in the declination.

The almost ambassador denies the charge that he furnished $50,000 to the Democratic campaign fund—he says the sum was smaller—or that for such a reason his name had been sent to the Senate. In his letter to Van Allen urging him to reconsider his refusal to accept the ambassadorship, Mr. Cleveland says:

"I did not select you for nomination to the Italian mission without satisfying myself of your entire fitness for the place. I am now better convinced of your fitness than ever. You know, and I know, that all the malignant criticism that has been indulged in regarding the appointment has no justification, and that the decent people who have doubted its propriety have been misled, or have missed the actual considerations upon which it rests. We should not yield to the noise and clamor which have arisen from those conditions. My personal preferences should enter very slightly into your final determination, but so far as we have preference it is emphatically that you accept the honorable office conferred upon you and vindicate by the discharge of its duties the wisdom and propriety of your selection."

THE HIGHEST AWARD.

Royal Baking Powder Has All the Honors—In Strength and Value 30 Per Cent. Above Its Nearest Competitor.

The Royal Baking Powder has the enviable record of having received the highest award for articles of its class—greatest strength, purest ingredients, most perfectly combined—wherever exhibited in competition with others. In the exhibitions of former years, at the Centennial, at Paris, Vienna, and at the various State and Industrial fairs, where it has been exhibited, judges have invariably awarded the Royal Baking Powder the highest honors.

At the recent World's Fair the examinations for the baking powder awards were directed by the chief chemist of the Agricultural Department at Washington. The chief chemist's official report of the tests of the baking powders, which was made for the specific purpose of ascertaining which was the best, shows the leaving strength of the Royal to be 100 cubic inches of carbonic gas per ounce of powder. Of the cream of tartar baking powders exhibited, the next highest in strength tested contained but 133 cubic inches of leaving gas. The other powders gave an average of 111. The Royal, therefore, was found to be 20 per cent. greater leaving strength than its nearest competitor, and 44 per cent. above the average of all the other tests. Its superiority in other respects, however, in the quality of the food it makes as to fineness, delicacy and wholesomeness, could not be measured by figures.

It is these high qualities, known and appreciated by the women of the country for so many years, that have caused the sales of the Royal Baking Powder, as shown by statistics, to exceed the sale of all other baking powders combined.

A Canon's Good Word for Novels.

So far as principle goes there never has been in the world anything to compare with the Christian code as a training to the instinct, says Canon Browne, of St. Paul's, in a recent article in the London Humanitarian. And if I were asked what is the best practical handbook to that code, not as a matter of religious opinion or belief, but as a guide to a working instinct, I should answer that I know nothing better than a clean, sweet, healthy novel; where the people are parables rather than portraits; are not impossible people, but the better kind of every-day people; bright with the charms which in real life lie dormant in so many; men and women moving through the pages, with whom women and men as they read can honestly and wholly fall in love. If only one of those who have the power would make to this generation the priceless present of a book that is not indeed a picture of a paradise before the fall, but is not a picture of a hopelessly fallen world, where man is cruel and brutal, and the sufferings of women are awful; if only such a writer would give us a wholesome book, where sin and sorrow are not absent but are in the shade, and brightness and sympathy and love are the forces that guide the instincts upward, and teach us to hope for and show us how to labor for the happiness, the regeneration of a fallen world.

She Had to Give a Reason.

The other day I was told of a little girl who attended a distribution of prizes given by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. She had won, you must know, a book as a reward for writing the best essay on the subject given, and with the other successful children was undergoing a viva voce examination. "Well, my dear," said the gentleman who had given away the prizes, "can you tell me why it is cruel to dock horses' tails and trim dogs' ears?" "Because," answered the little girl, "what God had joined together let no man put asunder."—Lecture Hour.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by taking Hild's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE Resolute was an Arctic exploring ship which sailed from England, April 15, 1852, in Sir Edward Belcher's expedition. On Aug. 25, in the same year, she was abandoned in the ice. On Sept. 10, 1855, she was found drifting on the high seas by Capt. Buddington, of the American whaling ship George Henry. All claim to the Resolute having been relinquished by the British Government, the vessel was purchased by Congress for the sum of $40,000, and sent to Queen Victoria as a present, and was formally presented to her by Capt. Hartstein, of the United States Navy, Dec. 16, 1855.

A Shrewd Easterner.

"There are devices practiced in the far West," observed an Omaha man recently, "for making money; devices that appeal to the enterprising and ingenious citizen, that are, by a long way, more ingenious than commendable." "Every now and then," he went on, "a shrewd Easterner sees an unlooked-for opportunity to get ahead in the West. He generally intends to remain just long enough to get a big bank account and then to return home and spend his money. Oftener than not, he does not return, and the West, particularly the 'new West,' is recalcitrant with just such Eastern adventures."

There is a man living on a claim near the frontier town of Hecla, Wyoming, whose career so far has been pre-eminently successful. Less than a year ago he took out a land claim for six hundred acres. He had his eye upon the land adjoining his own, where an old frontiersman lived along with his daughter.

"The shrewd Easterner gained the favor of the old man by winning his way into the daughter's affections and afterward marrying her. He then put his father-in-law into the way of stealing sheep that had wandered from neighboring ranches, claiming that they were communistic property. Both were arrested, as the 'business' man knew and intended they should be. The latter then turned State's evidence, and was set free."

"That was part of the well-formulated scheme. While his father-in-law was serving out his sentence in prison the Easterner jumped the old man's claim, hired an unscrupulous neighbor to run away with his wife and obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion. "He now smokes the pipe of peace as he surveys his broad acres and congratulates himself upon his shrewdness. He will probably return East some day. No doubt he'll pose as a Western cattle king or something of the sort when he does."

Girlhood in Spain.

The fact that the Spanish woman enjoys no social freedom until she marries or attains her majority has given rise to the supposition among those who know us only through the fantastic tales of unscrupulous travelers that in Spain women live subject to the most absolute of tyrannies, and that we are the victims of the brutal selfishness of man. Nothing could be further from the truth or more calumnious. The Spanish woman, yielding cheerfully and willingly the obedience of paternal authority enjoined by religion, receives, with the nuptial benediction, the liberty to go about alone and to guard unaided the good name and respect with which in childhood and youth she had seen herself surrounded. But let it not therefore be imagined that the Spanish girl leads the life of a recluse, subject to monastic rules. So far from this being the case perhaps there is no woman in the world who enjoys herself more while she is unmarried, who is a greater coquette, or who tyrannizes more completely over her suitors; and when long dresses give her the right to present herself into society a period of amusement and diversion begin for her which terminates without regret on the part of the good wife as soon as the duties of maternity come to fill her life and to completely occupy both her thoughts and her time.

Navigation of the Dead Sea.

At length the Dead Sea is to be navigated, and two sailing boats, one rather large and heavy, for cargo, and the other smaller and nester for passengers, have just been conveyed from Jaffa to Jerusalem by rail, and thence to the Dead Sea by road. The boats belong to the Sultan, as does also the Dead Sea, which forms part of the crown property, and it is Abdul-Hamid's intention to turn to good account the salt, bitumen and sulphur that abound in its waters and on its shore.

SATURDAY, DEC. 9, 1893.

Annual Meeting of the South Ottawa and West Allegan Fair Association.

Pursuant to call, the stockholders of the above society met in annual meeting in G. A. R. hall in this city, Tuesday afternoon, President A. G. Van Hees in the chair. There was a good attendance, much larger than in recent years.

The first business in order was the annual reports of the secretary and treasurer, both of which were approved. The following is the secretary's report:

RECEIPTS.

Gate money.....	$710.40
Annual membership.....	41.00
Five year membership.....	30.00
Speed department.....	45.00
Licenses.....	190.00
Premium butter sold.....	5.00
Rest of house.....	30.00
Grass sold.....	12.00
Total.....	$977.40.

DISBURSEMENTS.

Hardware, lumber, gravel and teaming.....	$47.54
Gate keepers, police, night watch and labor.....	90.75
Races.....	88.00
Secretary, assistant and treasurer.....	145.00
Note and interest.....	54.90
Hay and straw.....	59.94
Music.....	85.00
Brooms, ribbons, etc.....	35.00
Water.....	30.00
Postage, express, etc.....	23.00
American Trotting Ass'n.....	10.30
Premiums on butter.....	13.00
Paid three orders, 1893.....	17.35
Balance on hand.....	$64.16
Total.....	$977.40.

Against the balance on hand of $64.16 an off-set of $297.44 was reported for interest due on outstanding notes and mortgage, representing an indebtedness of $2,300, leaving a net balance in the treasury of $66.72, with which to meet the premiums awarded at the late fair, amounting to over $400. This was the most trying feature confronting the society.

In behalf of the board of directors it was explained how during the late fair we only had one day of good weather out of four; how the great exposition at Chicago had operated against the success of all rural fairs, large and small, and how notwithstanding all this the board would still have been enabled to pay out a fair per cent on the premiums awarded, had not the weather interfered so disastrously.

It was furthermore represented that if the exhibitors could be prevailed upon this year to view the situation from the same standpoint in which the board had to face it, the future of the association was anything but discouraging. The assets—the grounds, buildings and track—represented a value of two or three times the indebtedness, and the floating debts had practically all been taken care of, thus leaving the society on a healthy basis for future operations.

One thing and another brought out a general discussion how best to promote the interests of the association, encourage exhibits, and draw a larger attendance. Among the suggestions made were the following: To hold the fair two or three weeks earlier; secure an address on agriculture that will be of practical interest to the farmers; arrange for a complete exhibit of our local manufactures; enlarge the territory within the jurisdiction of the association and increase the number of directors; hold a general meeting of the stockholders some time in May, in order to revise the premium list and arrange for a systematic campaign in behalf of the next annual fair; to recommend to the board of directors that if from the receipts of next year there should be a surplus after paying expenses, premiums and interest, such surplus is to apply to the unpaid balance of premiums of 1893.

All these matters were presented and discussed in a spirit which made it manifest that the fair is bound to revive and start out upon a new and prosperous career.

The election of the officers for the ensuing year was then held, secretary Van Duren announcing that it would be impossible for him to accept the position another year. The following were chosen:

President—A. G. Van Hees, Zeeland.

Vice president—A. Van der Haar, Holland.

Secretary—J. Kerkhof, City.

Treasurer—O. Breyman, City.

Directors—H. Van de Bunte, James-town; Marienus Van Zoeren, Vriesland; J. H. Boone, Zeeland.

A Sample of New York Politics.

The New York school of politics is often designated as "peculiar," somewhat in the same sense that in ante-bellum days the southern statesman in referring to African slavery and for the purpose of hiding its hideous features, styled it a "peculiar institution."

As a sample of the methods of this "peculiar" school of New York politics, the manner in which the late election was conducted in the town of Gravesend, adjoining the city of Brooklyn, may throw some light upon the general character of that "school."

Besides, it will be of special interest to the reader in connection with the pending effort of the present Democratic congress to abolish all Federal supervision over elections.

We quote from Harper's Weekly: "In the town of Gravesend, Long Island, at the recent election, there has been an open rebellion against the legal authority of the State of New York, and a forcible resistance of the process of the Supreme Court."

In Gravesend, John Y. McKane is the political boss, and the Chief of Police. In his official capacity he has under his command a much larger force of policemen than is usual, except in large cities. This is due to the fact that the police is organized with reference to the great crowds that visit Coney Island during the summer and the three large race-tracks within the township. The police, the police justices, and all other officials are creatures of McKane, and they obey his orders at all times to the letter.

Within the township, according to the last census, dwell some eight thousand persons. Such a population ordinarily polls about 1,500 votes. The vote in Gravesend, however, is usually much larger than this, and it is always cast as McKane dictates. He has this vote cast for the Democratic candidates when he so chooses, but now and then he gives it to the Republicans. As he indicates his preference the electors, in the proportion from ten to twenty against one, cast their ballots. In preparation for the State election held on the 7th of November, there were registered more than sixty-one hundred votes in the town of Gravesend. Here was a manifest intention to commit a fraud.

In Brooklyn, which is in the same county as Gravesend, Mr. William J. Gaynor has for many years been the active, fearless, and uncompromising enemy of ring rule, and the foe of rascality in the city and county administration. In the contests that he has conducted in the courts he has met with so much success that the bosses hate him almost as much as they fear him. The Republicans and Independent Democrats nominated Mr. Gaynor as their candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court. It became evident some weeks before the election that the good people in Brooklyn and Kings County were likely to overthrow the bosses at the polls, and these desperate law-breakers made preparations to do by fraud, if possible, what they could not accomplish with honest votes. Hence the immense registration at Gravesend.

Mr. Gaynor is not the man to sit quietly and permit wrong to be done without a protest. He therefore sent a force of clerks to Gravesend to copy the registration lists so that the eligibility of the electors might be inquired into. When these clerks arrived in Gravesend they were attacked by ruffians there, and arrested by the police on trumped-up charges of drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and vagrancy. They were sent to jail, but after a time were discharged. All of them were roughly handled and subjected to personal indignities. Mr. Gaynor then secured an order from the Supreme Court, directing the Inspectors of Election in Gravesend to permit the copying of registration lists. The Inspectors avoided personal service of this order upon them.

Meantime McKane had arranged to hold the election at Gravesend as he saw fit. He appointed both Democratic and Republican poll watchers, and all of these were his willing henchmen. He said that the people of Gravesend must be let alone to do their own voting in their own way. This was a declaration of independence, except his own imperious and lawless will. The town of Gravesend is large in area, and is divided into six election districts. McKane, desiring to have all the polling-places always under his own eye, has constructed these districts so that they all centre in the Townhall. To do this he had to connect some of the outlying districts with mere ribbons of land only a few inches wide. These ribbons broaden as they reach the Townhall, so that each of the six polling-booths—three on each side of the hall—is within its proper district. This plan was at once simple and ingenious, and most convenient for McKane's purposes.

Though Mr. Gaynor did not secure copies of the registration lists he determined to have, if possible, honest watchers in his behalf at the Gravesend polls on election day. From Judge Barnard, of the New York Supreme Court, he secured an injunction, directed to McKane individually, and as Chief of Police, and also addressed to the police, the officers of election, the people of Gravesend, and to all others, restraining any and all of them from interfering with the watchers appointed by the Republican County Committee. Mr. Gaynor then secured the appointment by this committee of the proper number of men each of whom was an entirely reputable citizen, of Kings County. These watchers included lawyers, doctors, clergymen and merchants. At their head was Colonel Alexander S. Bacon, one of the counsel of the Republican Committee. To tell who Colonel Bacon is will give some idea of the class of men sent by Gaynor to Gravesend, as each one is a fit associate to this gentleman. Colonel Bacon is a graduate of West Point; he resigned and studied law, and now has a large law practice in Brooklyn. He is a Colonel in the National Guard.

These gentlemen, armed with the injunction of the Justice of the Supreme Court, arrived in Gravesend half an hour before the polls were open. McKane was already on hand with about fifty men in police uniform and several hundred others, all instructed to do his bidding. Lines had been drawn around the Townhall, and within these lines no man was suffered to go without permission of McKane or his lieutenants. The carriage in which Colonel Bacon and three of his associates drove to Gravesend stopped in front of the Townhall. McKane was expecting the watchers. Colonel Bacon got out of the carriage and this conversation ensued:

McKane. "Mr. Bacon, I was expecting you. You're the man I'm looking for. Now get out of here, and be quick about it."

Colonel Bacon. "Mr. McKane, I have an injunction here from the Supreme Court for you."

McKane. "Injunctions don't go here. I'll take no papers. I don't care a d— for the Supreme Court or for Judge Barnard."

Colonel Bacon. "But you'll have to." McKane (to his police). "Hustle this man out of here."

While this conversation was in progress Colonel Bacon was all the time trying to give McKane the order of the Court. The boss of Gravesend held his hands behind him, but Colonel Bacon repeatedly touched McKane's person with the paper. This is said to be a sufficient service under the circumstances. When McKane ordered his men to hustle Colonel Bacon away they did so very quickly. They pushed and struck him and knocked him down several times. His clothes were torn and soiled, and he was more or less bruised. Then he was arrested for creating a disturbance, and taken to the jail at Coney Island. The companions and associate watchers with Colonel Bacon fared just about the same as he did, but not all were arrested. Those not taken into custody hurried to Brooklyn and reported the outrage. Steps were at once taken to secure the release of those who had been arrested, and by noon all of them were free.

During the remainder of the day McKane and his men were undisturbed. They took no chances however, but maintained a strict line around the Townhall. No one not satisfactory to the boss was permitted to pass the lines. The tracks of the Prospect Park and Coney Island Railway pass just in front of the Townhall, and the passenger platforms are in the street over the way. Whenever a passenger got out of a train he was at once pounced upon and cross-examined as to the business that brought him to Gravesend. If his answers were not entirely satisfactory he was threatened with arrest unless he left town at once. And the police saw to it that those ordered away obeyed these orders. The newspaper reporters were permitted to have some liberty, but two of them were for a while under arrest.

There appears to be no doubt that McKane and his men will be brought to justice. They can be punished in various ways. Judge Barnard can punish them summarily for contempt of his orders; then the can be indicted and tried for criminal contempt of the court, the penalty of which is a fine of $500 and imprisonment for one year; then they can be indicted and punished for a violation of the ballot reform law, and here the penalty is a fine of from $250 to $3000, or imprisonment for from six months to three years, or both. A vigilant prosecuting officer would have no difficulty in finding evidence both as to the registration and the voting. There were some thirty-five hundred votes cast, more than twice as many as are qualified to vote in the town. Then the clerks who were arrested on a false charge, the watchers who were beaten and all others who were maltreated by the orders of McKane, have redress by civil actions for damages against McKane and his henchmen. If these men be followed up by the vigor and righteous zeal that their crimes should excite, each of them will get some measure of his deserts, and the rebellion in Gravesend, in the State of New York, will have ended in an advantage to the State and the good people of it, for a number of the criminals will be placed in prison, where they belong, and the criminal classes will have been taught the law is supreme, and must be respected and obeyed.

Mr. Gaynor was elected by 30,000 votes in a county which is generally Democratic by 25,000 votes.

Obituary.

Died, on Sunday morning, in this city, Hendrik De Vries, aged nearly 76 years. He was born in the province of Groningen, Netherlands, Jan. 5, 1818, and came to this country in 1848. The first winter he passed at "Mill Point," after which he located here. For twenty years he was the faithful watchman at the Plugger Mills, and then followed his trade as cooper. In 1851 he was married to Adriana De Kok, who died Dec. 1, 1891. He leaves two sons and four daughters: Jacob, of Chicago, Mrs. H. Werkema, of Grand Rapids, and Peter, Kate, Helen, and Nellie of this city. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, from the Third Ref. Church, Rev. D. Broek of Grandville, a former pastor, officiating, by reason of the illness of Rev. H. E. Dosker.

Died, on Tuesday morning, in this city, Jacob F. Dyk, aged 77 years. The deceased had been a resident of Holland for only two years, having located here in December 1891, when he was married to Mrs. A. Beuwkes. He came to this country from the province of Friesland, Netherlands, in 1870, and resided until about 5 years ago at Grandville. In his time he was a jeweler, carrying on his business on a large scale. He was a man of much reading and had travelled quite extensively. Beside his widow he leaves nine children: Frank J. and Alle, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Henry Zuidema, Oakdale Park; Wierd J., Kensington, Ill.; Mrs. M. Van Over, Denver, Col.; Dirk, Ontario, N. Y.; Rev. Jacob, Clyde, N. Y.; Suzie and Elizabeth, Orange, N. J.; and C. Peter, of the Theol. seminary, New Brunswick, N. J. The funeral was held from the residence on Thirteenth street, Friday forenoon, Rev. J. Van Houte, his pastor, officiating.

Died on Thursday, in this city, at the home of her brother J. Toppen, Eleventh street, Mrs. E. Evenhuis, of cancer, aged 61 years. She had been in this country only four months, her brother having sent for her this past summer. She leaves a son here aged twenty years, and one married daughter in the Netherlands. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock from the Market street H. C. Ref. church.

Died at Graafschap, on Thursday, Miss Hilligje J. Mulder, aged 92 years. She will be best remembered by the old settlers as the sister of the late William J. Mulder, and one of the early residents of Holland township. She had been sick only two days.

Thanks.

The ladies of Relief Corps No. 131 of the city of Holland will please accept the thanks of Mr. and Mrs. Van Etten, for their liberal donations on Thanksgiving.

Thanks.

The family of the late H. De Vries desire to express their heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so willingly assisted them during the sickness and death of their dear father.

Thanks!

The Y. W. C. A. desires to convey its thanks to the citizens of Holland for the liberal contributions which enabled it to send out so many baskets on the day of Thanksgiving.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osborn,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. KIRCHMAN,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ANCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Time.

A corner! A corner!
But not one in wheat;
A corner in building stone,
A hard one to beat—
The corner where River
Traverse Eighth street.

A tower! A tower!
But not that of Babel;
But one tongue is spoken
Just under this gable,
To interpret it well
All citizens are able.

It is time, by day
And by night there is speaking,
Of sands that are always
So constantly leaking;
The foot of the bourgeois
Eternally seeking,

Of years that are coming,
Brought nearer each chime,
When the Fifth Ward will be
A well settled chime;
While Holland keeps growing,
The clock keeps time.

Common Council.

HOLLAND, Mich., Dec. 5, 1893. The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Hummer, Alds. Lokker, De Spelder, Schoon, Delman, Haberman, Vischer and Harrington, and the Clerk.

Reading of minutes was suspended.

A. J. De Vries, contractor for the improvement of Sixth and Eighth streets, special street assessment district, petitioned for the following:

That owing to the great number of stormy days since he commenced the work of improvement he had been unable to complete the work in the time specified in the contract, and requested that the council grant him such an extension of time for the completion of the work as they consider reasonable. And further requested the council to pay him an installment on the work.

In order that he could pay off his obligations to such laborers and teamsters as had been employed by him on said street improvement. He also submitted an estimate of the city surveyor of work done on the aforesaid street district which said estimate, according to contract prices, amounted to $3,072.45.

The time was extended sixty days, and the mayor and clerk instructed and authorized to issue street district bonds and deliver three bonds, amounting to $2,702.91, to Mr. Devries as part payment for work done under the contract, for the improvement of the aforesaid street district.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

The committee on poor reported, presenting the semi-monthly report of the director of the poor and said committee, recommending $30.50 for the support of the poor for the two weeks ending December 30, 1893, and having rendered temporary aid to the amount of $11.00.

Approved and warrants ordered issued on the city treasurer for the several amounts as recommended.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITY OFFICERS.

Clerk reported receipt of the city treasurer for $117.37, from claims allowed by the board of supervisors for money paid out of the general fund of the city in cases of diphtheria.—Filed.

The secretary of Hope Co. No. 2, reported the resignation of Mr. Bos as member of said company, and recommended the payment of fourteen dollars to Mr. Bos, the amount of salary due to him for nine months service as fireman.

Resignation accepted and a warrant ordered issued on the city treasurer for the amount as recommended.

The supervisors of the first and second supervisor districts of the city of Holland reported the amount of taxes certified to the city treasurer for collection.

Accepted and filed.

The following claims approved by the board of public works were certified to the common council for payment, and allowed, viz:—

P. Winter, salary as engineer at water works $50.00

G. Winter, salary as engineer at water works 50.00

G. Schaatsenaar, 30 hours labor 3.35

M. Jansen, tapping mains, etc. 4.50

The board of assessors reported special assessment rolls for the payment of the first installment of the special assessment made in and for Sixth and Fish street special street assessment district, and for West Eleventh street special street assessment district.

Rolls accepted and confirmed, and the clerk is directed to certify the same to the city treasurer for immediate collection, as provided in sections 25, 26, 27, and 28 of Title XXVII of the city charter.

The Board of Public Works recommended to the common council the following machinery etc., for the steam plant at the city pumping and light station, viz:

One duplex steam pump six ft; one heater of suitable size for the engine and both of the water works pumps; and all necessary material and labor for the complete installation of said pump and heater.

Recommendation adopted and the improvement authorized, the cost not to exceed six hundred dollars; the clerk to advertise one week for bids for such items as are contained in the recommendation.

At a meeting of the Board of Public Works of the city of Holland, Michigan, held Dec. 4, 1893, a full board in attendance, the following rates for furnishing electric lighting to consumers by the city, were adopted, and the clerk instructed to present the same to the common council for approval, as follows:—

That the rate of $2.00 are lights for stores, midnight schedule, be five dollars per month, it being optional with this board to decline application for electric lights in case the total number applied for is deemed by them insufficient to warrant the operation of the commercial light circuit.

For business houses the rate per 16 c. p. light per month, for 1 light 16 c. p. for 2 lights $1.30, for 3 lights $1.70, for 4 lights $2.10, for 5 lights $2.50; each additional light up to and including 10 lights 30 cents, each light over ten 25 cents—midnight schedule. All night lights in business houses 25 per cent additional to store rates.

That the rate for dwellings, per month, all night, be for one light 60 cents, for two lights $1.10, for three lights $1.50, for four lights $1.75, for 5 lights $2.00 and 20 cents for each additional light over 5 lights.

Where meters are desired by consumers they should be furnished by the city at a monthly rental of 20 cents. Meter rates will be three quarters cents per hour for each light of 16 c. p.

Lights of greater c. p. than 16 c. p. shall be charged at proportionate rates.

The board reserves the right to decline applications for commercial lights when the location of the applicant is such as to entail a larger expense in wiring than is deemed desirable to incur.

The communication was accepted, and referred back to the board with suggestions from the council that the board consider the matter of making a city clock schedule, and the recommendation that in business house rates the rate for ten lights or upwards to twenty lights be fixed at 30 cents; from 20 and upwards 25 cents. Adjourned.

GEO. H. SIPP, City Clerk.

"When I was a Boy,"

Writes Postmaster J. C. Woodson, Forest Hill, W. Va., "I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary medicines, and advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."

"I have been using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for 30 years, with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as being especially adapted to all pulmonary complaints. I have, for many years, made pulmonary and other medicines a special study, and I have come to the conclusion that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral occupies a position pre-eminent over other medicines of the class."—Chas. SHIP JASON WRECKED AT EAST-HAM, MASS.

Nothing startling from the Islands—Out of England's Great Men Dies—Fatal Locomotive Explosion—The Avery Made One Trip Too Many.

Ship and Crew Lost.

The British ship Jason, Captain McMillan, Calcutta for Boston, went ashore Tuesday night off Eastham, near Highland Light, Mass., and but one of her crew was saved, and he was washed from the rigging and brought ashore by the tremendous seas. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the Jason made the land off Cape Cod, and for the rest of the afternoon she struggled valiantly to weather the point. The captain had lost his bearings in the blinding snow and when land was sighted he was so near that it soon became apparent that his ship was lost. At 10:30 p. m. one of the ship's masts went by the board, and she was breaking up. The life-savers, after several unsuccessful attempts, succeeded in shooting a life line over the doomed ship, but the sailors in the rigging were not able to secure it. There were twenty-seven in the Jason's crew. She was built at and hails from Greenock, Scotland, and is 1,340 tons burden.

NEWS FROM HONOLULU.

Proceedings Are Delayed Because of "Unexpected Contingencies."

The news from Honolulu by the barkentine Kikikita, which arrived at Port Townsend Monday, is four days later than that by the steamer Alameda. In an interview published in the Honolulu Evening Star, Minister Willis is reported to have said: "You are authorized to state that no change in the present situation will take place for several weeks. I brought with me certain instructions from the United States Government on the Hawaiian situation, but since my arrival contingencies have arisen, about which neither the United States Government nor myself were aware when I left Washington. I have thought best to submit these matters to Washington before proceeding further to carry out my original instructions. No one need fear trouble and no lawlessness will be permitted." Mr. Willis, the Hawaiian Consul in San Francisco, when asked what unexpected contingencies Minister Willis had found in Honolulu, said: "I think he found that the men composing the Provisional Government of Hawaii were high-minded, law-abiding citizens, instead of filibusters, such as he had been led to believe them to be."

DEATH OF JOHN TYNDALL.

The Great English Scientist Passes Away at His Home in Surrey.

That great English scientist, Prof. John Tyndall, passed away at his home in Haslemere, county of Surrey. His death was hastened by a severe cold, though he had been ailing for a long period. There was scarcely a department in physical research with which Prof. Tyndall was not familiar, though perhaps he was best known for his deep learning in the science of light and heat. "The Professor" was the son of poor parents, and was born in the village of Leighlin Bridge, County Clare, Ireland, in the year 1820. He attended a local school and then went to work for a merchant of his town. At the age of 19 he obtained a position as assistant to a surveyor, and this proved his real start in life, giving an impetus to his natural inclination to science. Among his works are: "Light," "Sound," "Faraday as a Discoverer," and "The Forms of Water in the Clouds and Rivers, Ice and Glaciers."

STEAMER AVERY BURNED.

Vessel and Cargo Destroyed in the Straits of Mackinaw.

The steamer Waldo A. Avery, Chicago to Buffalo, with grain, burned in the Straits Tuesday night. The burning boat was beached at McGulpin's Point, five miles west of Mackinaw City. Both steamer and cargo were totally destroyed. The crew all escaped in safety. The burned boat was owned by Hawgood & Avery, of Bay City, and was valued at $80,000. Her cargo consisted of 70,000 bushels of corn, which was to be held on board for winter storage at Buffalo.

Will Reduce the Debt.

It is understood that the reorganization plan of the Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which will shortly be published, will provide for a reduction in the outstanding funded debt of about $5,400,000 and a reduction in fixed interest of about $400,000. The capital stock will also be reduced from $30,000,000 to $20,000,000. The stockholders will be called upon to pay an assessment of $3.50 per share, and give up 25 per cent of their holdings in stock of a par of $100.

MORE CRONIN BRIBERY.

Sensational Disclosures Made in the Celebrated Case.

Sensational facts and still more startling rumors marked Friday's brief session of the Coughlin trial in Chicago. Juror F. C. Rohm was charged by Attorneys Wing and Donahue with having committed perjury on his examination and his dismissal was requested. He may be arrested. Followed in their efforts to secure a jury favorable to Coughlin by means of an improper venire, the unknown men whose powerful influence has been so remarkably exhibited in every phase of the Cronin case, are now endeavoring to buy off the prosecution and thus secure the acquittal of the ex-detective. It was positively stated Friday morning that one of the men approached was Kichham Scanlan, the attorney called into the case for the prosecution by state's Attorney Kern. According to the story given out, a well-known man, an acquaintance of Mr. Scanlan and a citizen whom he had always considered above reproach, called at his house Saturday evening and intimated that if the attorney would drop out of the case or would so manipulate the conduct of the trial that the jury would be compelled to find a verdict of not guilty, he would insure him the payment of $10,000.

A COLD DAY AT ST. PAUL.

Mercury Touches 40 Degrees Below with No Prospect of Speedy Relief.

St. Paul dispatch: The predicted colder weather seems to have arrived—at least, there has been heard no rumbling about excessive heat. The weather bureau's report gave Helena, Mont., with zero weather, as the warmest place in the Northwest, and Swift Current, Canada, with 28 degrees below, as the coldest. This morning the Weather Bureau's St. Paul thermometer touched 29 degrees below, while other thermometers in more exposed places about the city went down much lower, 38 and 43 below being the coldest yet reported. Such cold weather this early has not been experienced for six years and this cold spell is almost phenomenal. The mercury has hovered fondly about the zero mark for nearly ten days and weather officers can promise no speedy relief.

WHIPS A YOUNG ROWDY.

Elder Dinsey, of Indianapolis, a Believer in Muscular Christianity.

An exciting scene was witnessed at Ashboro, near Brazil, Ind., at a revival meeting. Elder Dinsey, a noted divine of Indianapolis, was conducting the services, when the congregation became greatly stirred up over a general fight which was going on outside the church door. The minister ceased preaching and attempted to stop the altercation. He was assaulted, but came out on top by badly beating up his assailant, a young man named Ellis. Ellis filed charges against the minister for assault, and the minister retaliated by filing charges against him for disturbing religious meetings.

Chicago Playhouse Damaged.

Fire gutted the three upper floors of the five-story Haymarket Theater Building at Chicago Friday. For two hours thirty companies of firemen fought as fierce a blaze as has visited the West Side of the city since John M. Smyth's big establishment across the street was destroyed. The bitter cold air and stiff west wind made active work almost impossible, but the firemen succeeded in checking the flames before they reached the auditorium or stage of the playhouse. The entire amount of damage done by the flames and water reaches $100,000. When the fire was discovered about 9 o'clock, all the occupants of the building were beginning to start in the day's work. A panic seized the persons on the upper floors when the fire rushed along from room to room with frightful rapidity, and it was feared that lives would be sacrificed before all could reach a place of safety. Charles E. Boyer, the elevator conductor, bravely stood at his post and made several trips to the fourth and fifth floors through the smoke and flames, and saved the lives of several who had given up all hopes of getting out alive. Young Boyer performed deeds of heroism which few men would have undertaken. Time and again he shot the elevator up to the upper stories and carried down fainting women and panic-stricken men. Not until the elevator cable got so hot that he could not handle it did Boyer quit the machine, and then he had assured himself that nobody remained up-stairs. His last trip was made to carry up a company of firemen. At the second floor the cable parted and the passengers were thrown to the bottom of the shaft. Fire Marshal Campion and several members of engine company 7 and truck 2 were cut about the head with broken glass.

A Golden Tale.

R. E. Preston, the director of the mint, has submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury a report of the operations of the mints and assay offices for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1903. It shows that the value of gold deposited, including re-deposits during the fiscal year 1903 at the mints and assay offices, was $59,839,905, of which sum $33,256,168 was classified as of domestic production. Foreign gold bullion and coin of the value of $24,583,737, and worn and uncurrent domestic coin of the value of $60,870 constituted the original deposits. The amount of silver deposited aggregated 73,135,706 standard ounces, of the coinage value in silver dollars of $85,193,367.

Big Distillery Destroyed by Fire.

Revenue Agent Thrasher has investigated the burning of the distillery and warehouse of R. M. Clark & Co., near Dixon, Ky. The captain Thrasher thinks the fire was the work of an incendiary. The stillhouse was almost entirely destroyed and the warehouse badly damaged. Only about nine barrels of whisky were burned, but there will be a large loss from leakage.

Chicago Snow-Bound.

Male humanity in Chicago passed Sunday in the service of the snow king. He did not have a chance to worship at any other shrine and about the city an army of 30,000 hired shovelers heaved away from dawn to dark on the deep drifts which the gale of the day before had piled against front steps and along the walks. The municipality alone put on 500 extra men in the district about the City Hall, and this force, with 300 teams, made hardly any hole in the great furrows of slush and snot which banked the streets from curb to curb. The street car companies sent out every available man who applied for work and even then the tracks were kept ready only for uncertain service. It would take at least a week to get the downtown avenues into passable shape. The cloud-burst complicated matters beyond any previous experience, and even in times of widespread idleness the corporation found itself unable to get enough men to do the cleaning as rapidly as the business interests demand. Every applicant was accepted, and those who did work Sunday were paid for two days that their energy might be pushed to the very last limit. Horses and wagons were at a premium, and late in the day the street department had out scouts looking for more laborers. Appeal was first made to several groups of weary waiters, Dusty Roads and Wayside Willies who were toasting their shins in the corridors of the city hall, but these gentlemen were not in search of real work, and disdainfully scorned the offer to earn an honest cent.

DESERT THEIR TRAINS.

Wyoming Division of the Lehigh Said to Be Strewed with Wrecks.

Wrecked engines, smashed cars and disabled cat-coties are strewn along the Wyoming division of the Lehigh from Coxton to Packerton, while freight trains are stalled in many places along the mountain, having been deserted by non-union crews. The new men appear utterly unable to run the trains with any degree of safety. It is snowing on the mountain sides, and it is predicted by competent engineers and many of the strikers that the first real cold snap will drive every non-union engineer and fireman from the road, as these green men cannot control the trains on the steep mountain grades, some of which are ninety feet to the mile. Wrecks have become so numerous that the officials are declining to give out any information, and it is impossible to learn from them any but the merest details.

HER MANIA FOR CATS.

Officials at Dedham, Mass., Disturb the Plans of a Crazy Spinster.

The attention of the Dedham, Mass., Board of Health has been called to a certain smell emanating from a tenement in the building known as the Crystal Palace. In the rooms occupied by an aged ward of the town, Kate Walsh, the trouble was located. Officers visited the premises investigation revealed the body of a huge cat carefully covered up and resting across the seat of a chair. This was removed and the room was disinfected. There were found in the attic over a hundred live cats. The rooms were alive with vermin. Miss Walsh is demented, her mania being to collect cats.

Rescued from a Sinking Vessel.

Two little children, held aloft in the arms of their parents from the deck of a water-logged and fast sinking vessel, attracted the attention of a passing craft during the awful October gales, and, after an experience such as mortals seldom suffer, the crew of the Newfoundland barkentine, Lady Ellibank, were on Thursday landed at Philadelphia from the British steamer Siedmar. The rescued party consisted of Captain J. M. Congdon, his wife and two small children and eight seamen.

Will Not Go to Italy.

James J. Van Allen has refused to represent the United States as ambassador to Italy. While vague rumors that such was his intent have been occasionally heard, little credence was placed in them, and the announcement of his positive declaration of the position tendered him created genuine surprise. He says he gave $50,000 to the Democratic campaign fund from pure patriotism, and will not accept any position under the suspicion of his fellow citizens.

Millions of Dollars.

The coinage of gold at the Philadelphia mint during the past two months was one of the largest in the history of Uncle Sam's money-making institution, about $15,000,000 being coined. Under orders from the Secretary of the Treasury two months ago, the mint was required to turn out $15,000,000 in gold by Dec. 1. All the presses were put to work, and overtime has been made, the operators working at night in order to comply with the Secretary's mandate.

Sues Her Father for Damages.

An unusual case has been placed on trial at Warren, Ohio. Elizabeth Kibbee, of Bristol, Ohio, sues William Noble, her father, for $1,000 damages for having, as she alleges, maltreated her and turned her from his house. The defendant claims the plaintiff's conduct was such as to warrant him in moderately chastising her, and some sensational testimony touching upon that point has been introduced.

Roland Reed Is Dangerously Ill.

Roland Reed, the well-known comedian, continues very ill at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, Ont. He is suffering from an acute attack of la grippe, and his condition is so serious that the attending physician called in others for consultation. Reed has canceled all of his engagements for three weeks ahead.

Death on a Trestle.

As thirteen people were walking over a street-railway trestle from a party in the east end of East Liverpool, Ohio, at 1 o'clock in the morning, they were run down in the dark by an electric street car, and one woman was instantly killed and several wounded.

Accident Makes an Engineer Insane.

Samuel J. Thurter, one of the oldest engineers on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway, is violently insane. Last January his engine ran into a freight train. His mind was affected by reason of the accident and he has grown gradually worse since.

For Mayor of Chicago.

Republicans of Chicago have nominated George B. Swift for Mayor, and Democrats have chosen John P. Hopkins. The fight is now on.

AFTER PEIXOTO'S LIFE.

Rumor of an Attempt to Murder the Brazilian President.

It was reported at the Brazilian consulate at New York Friday that an attempt had been made on the life of President Peixoto, of Brazil. It was said that no cable dispatch in reference to the matter had been received. Until the consulate was notified officially they would not give any credence to the rumor. At the office of Charles R. Flint, who has charge of the arrangements for supplying the Brazilian government with war vessels, no news of the attempted assassination of the President of Brazil has been received. They place no faith in the story. A dispatch from Rio Janeiro says that the insurgent admiral, Melio, has finally succeeded in forcing a passage past the forts guarding the entrance of the Bay of Rio Janeiro and that his flagship, the Aquidaban, is now on the high seas. The passage was not effected until some desperate fighting had been done.

LANGAN WAS HIS RUIN.

Cashier of a Suspended Ohio Bank Indicted at the Instance of Its President.

Frank Langan, Secretary of the Minneapolis Rolling Mill Company, has been indicted by the grand jury for embezzlement on two counts at his former home at Lima, Ohio. Langan was cashier of the Lima National Bank, which suspended about a year and a half ago. Langan's indictment is said to be at the instance of B. C. Faurot, President of the bank, who claims that Langan conspired with others to bring about his ruin. Faurot is said to have been a millionaire previous to the bank failure. Langan was also secretary of a concern known as the Mexican Investment Company, of which Faurot was president, and the latter has begun an action to recover $50,000 from Langan in this connection.

Shot to Death by Tramps.

At a late hour Thursday evening, in the absence of a butcher from his place of business, at Marion, Ohio, a number of tramps burglarized the shop. While extracting the change from the money drawer Byron Michapher entered. The tramps opened a fusillade on Michapher, and he fell with a dozen bullet holes in his body. The tramps then made their escape, and though the police have made a diligent search they have not yet been apprehended.

Hot Shot for Melio.

The Hotchkiss Ordnance Company starting up its two factories at Providence, R. I., on twenty-four hour time, and the orders for torpedoes have been largely increased. Charles R. Flint, the Brazilian Government representative in New York, has been here and the resumption of work on day and night time is the result.

Murders His Wife.

Peter Larson, a Scandinavian, at St. James, Minn., shot and fatally wounded his wife, who had sued him for divorce. There was no doctor in the town to care for the wounds. Larson fled after the shooting, but it is not thought possible that he can escape. The murder was deliberate, as Larson bought a new revolver.

Took Advantage of Kindness.

George Day, under sentence for two years in the Guthrie, O. T., penitentiary for obtaining money under false pretenses, was granted permission to go and see his family, and while en route he broke away from the guard and escaped before the officer could draw his revolver, which was buttoned under his overcoat.

Cigarettes Will Be Banned.

Secretary Smith is going to institute a reform in the Interior Department. What is deemed bad manners to some extent will have to go. The infantile clerk who insists the Department with his cigarette will be called upon to decide whether his smoke or his job is the more valuable to him.

Burned to Death in His Office.

The railroad depot at Vine Hill, Ala., together with the office of the Vine Hill Lumber Company, was destroyed by an incendiary fire. E. M. Fredericksen, president of the lumber company, was asleep in the office and was burned to death.

Prostrated by a Thanksgiving Dinner.

Nearly 200 prisoners in the Columbus (Ohio) penitentiary were incapacitated for work two days by illness, mostly the effect of a Thanksgiving dinner of turkey, cranberry sauce, mince pie, and the usual side dishes.

Killed His Wife and Himself.

At Grand Rapids, Mich., Myron A. King shot his wife and then himself. She was instantly killed and he died a few hours later. King was an old soldier, 53 years of age and quarrelsome.

H. R. Kist Spotted and Arrested.

H. R. Kist, formerly manager of the Western Union at Coffeyville, Kan., has been arrested, charged with stealing money from the telegraph company.

STATE OF MICHIGAN.

OCURRENCES DURING THE PAST WEEK.

The State Treasury Is Nearly Empty—Chief Clerk in the State Department Passes Away—Measly Grand Rapids Swindler—Outrage at Muskegon.

A Lamentable Fact.

THE State Treasurer tacitly admits that the treasury is practically empty; that the accounts of the State with Detroit and other banks have been overdrawn about $15,000 to pay running expenses, and that $150,000 in taxes has been collected in advance from the Michigan Central and other railroad companies to meet the expenses of the State Government. But he claims that the deficiency is due to the insufficient appropriations of the Legislature of 1891.

Capt. Spencer Dead.

Captain Clinton Spencer, who was stricken with apoplexy Monday night, died Wednesday at his home in Lansing. The deceased was born at Ypsilanti, July 31, 1840. His father was an early resident of Washtenaw County. Clinton served in the war from 1861 until July, 1863, when he lost an arm at the battle of Gettysburg, and retired from the service. He was honorably discharged May 16, 1864. In July, 1862, he was commissioned captain of the First Michigan Infantry, and his record as a soldier is an honorable one. He served as register of deeds of Washtenaw County from 1867 to 1869, and was Postmaster at Ypsilanti from 1871 to 1883. At the time of his death he was chief clerk in the State Department, and his wife, Mary C. Spencer, is State Librarian.

Carno's Victims Were Two Women.

S. A. Carno, of the Grand Rapids firm of Carno & Morton, furriers, took $585 of the firm's money and went to New York to buy goods. He has written to his partner, Mrs. Morton, that he will not return. The money he took belonged to Mrs. Morton, his partner, and his landlady, Mrs. Theresa Mendel, a pretty Jewess whose husband is dead; he succeeded in borrowing $364 from her, promising interest at the rate of $15 a month. Mrs. Mendel is sick from the shock and swears she will kill him at sight. It is believed that Carno will not return to the city and his present whereabouts are unknown. He was a man of exemplary habits and associated with the best German families in the city.

A Brutal Assault.

Wednesday evening Ato Goudberg, a flour and feed dealer at Muskegon, was assaulted by some unknown person, and left lying nearly dead. While conscious Goudberg told a rambling story. A stranger entered the store, he says, and ordered a large quantity of feed. Payment was demanded before the man loaded the goods into his wagon. The man refused to pay, and struck him on the back of the head with an iron bar, inflicting three deep cuts. He was found later by his wife, who entered the store, lying in a pool of blood. Robbery was evidently the motive for the assault, as Goudberg's pockets were rifled of the money they contained.

Terribly Bitten by a Dog.

The 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eaton, at Ypsilanti, was seriously injured by the bite of a Newfoundland dog. The child wandered away from home, and entering McGraw's livery stable, frolicked for some time with the animal. Tiring of the play, the little one affectionately placed her face on the dog's head and said: "Good-bye, Carlo." The ferocious nature of the brute then asserted itself, and with a snap it fastened its teeth in the child's face, producing five gashes extending from ear to chin. Fears of lockjaw are entertained. The dog has been shot.

Fire at Jackson.

The Girard Block, next to the Commercial Hotel, Jackson, was destroyed by fire. The block had been an eyecore and disease-breeding hole that has bothered the health department for the past two or three years. It was owned by Russo Brothers, Italians, and occupied by Nicol Le Seno as a fruit store and residence. The Le Seno family escaped by jumping from windows. Insurance, $1,500.

Ex-Cashier Bradley Held for Trial.

At Lansing, Nelson Bradley was bound over to the Circuit Court for trial on a charge preferred by Commissioner of Banking Sherwood of making a false report of the condition of the now defunct Central Michigan Savings Bank, of which he was cashier. He gave bail in the sum of $5,0

ANOTHER LOST CONTINENT.

The Theory of Antipodes Which is Supposed to Be Sunk in the Antarctic Sea.

An interesting discussion has been going on of late concerning a supposed lost continent in the Antarctic sea. Mr. H. O. Forbes, to whom the theory of the former existence of this continent is due, proposes to call it Antipodes. He bases his belief in this ancient, and now sunken, land upon the existence of allied forms of wingless birds in the Mauritius and in the Chatham Islands.

When geologists find upon distant islands forms of animals peculiar to continental lands, or to other far-removed islands, they are sometimes driven to the conclusion that in former times a land connection must have existed between the continents and islands in question. But the idea, though new in this particular application, is not new in itself.

Two other supposed lost continents have become famous. The first is Atlantis, the story of which was known to Plato, a land of fertility, wealth and civilization, now lying, according to the legend, at the bottom of the Atlantic ocean.

The other lost continent is an invention, or a deduction, of modern science. It is called Lemuria, and is supposed to have existed in the Indian ocean. The islands of Mauritius, Madagascar, Bourbon, Rodriguez, and the Seychelles are believed to be remnants of this lost continent still projecting above the waters. According to some German savants, man himself probably originated in Lemuria instead of in Asia.

Antipodes, if it ever existed, was separated from Lemuria by almost half the circumference of the globe, and the Chatham Islands are remnants of it. Across the great stretch of water between the Chatham Islands and the Mauritius, it is argued, the flightless birds, whose bones are found in both places, could not have made their way. There are other peculiarities in the distribution of life in the southern hemisphere which, it is asserted by some, can only be accounted for on the supposition that such a continent as Antipodes once rose above the waters of the Antarctic sea.

A BACHELOR GIRL'S DEEDS.

An Agreeable and Enthusiastic Treatment of the Old Maid.

About thirty years ago or more, writes Oliver B. Bruce in Godey's, when a young girl in a family had reached the ripe and mature age of twenty-five or thirty and lived until that time unmarried, a flat in society went forth, after that period she deserved the cognomen of the old maid, and in those days the title was accepted without reservation, and the term "laid on the shelf" was many times unhappily used.

This old-fashioned girl being simply and purely educated, whilst the pursuits of the age were narrow where the advancements of women were concerned, a responsibility in life was needed after the first blush of youth had banished. It was then that this ripe and full-grown woman became a person of importance in a family. From year to year the boys and girls left the parental roof for a nest all their own. Whilst this clever helper remained to be the solace and comfort in the household and fill the position of the useful member, she acted her part well, with a dignity and cheer that was unrivaled. Far and near she was termed the "Angel of Mercy," the saint who was proof against all difficulties; the harbinger of peace, that straightened out all the stony paths and brought clear sunshine amid the troubled waters in life to those who were sick, timid and sorrowful. For did not her dear hand cook all the tidbits for the weak and tired invalid so invitingly, and when a marriage was on the tapis, it was she who with skillful fingers plied the needle so tastefully and steadily, and dressed when the time came the victim for the marriage feast.

YANKEE ARISTOCRACY.

Curious Admissions Made by Some New England People of Good Families.

A conversation among a group of people the other day, all of whom were of good New England families, brought out some curious admissions. Only one, says the Boston Transcript, of the party could trace his descent, in the line of mothers, farther than to the grandmother, though several could trace it very much farther in the paternal line, and even in what they called the "maternal line," which meant, of course, the mother's father's family.

All present could tell the maiden name of their mother's mother, but only one could tell the maiden name of her mother. Of course, many in New England among those genealogically careful people who can tell you the names of all their sixteen great-grandfathers and grandmothers can do this; but these are comparatively few. And those who cannot carry back the lines of mothers more than three generations include the representatives of some of the most aristocratic families in New England, whose line of paternal descent is unbroken to the settlement and beyond.

Sagacity of Blind Horses.

The way in which blind horses can go about without getting into more difficulties than they ordinarily do is very remarkable. They rarely, if ever, hit their heads against a fence or stone wall. They will slide off when they come near one. It appears, from careful observation, that it is neither shade nor shelter which warns them of danger. On an absolutely sunless and windless day their behavior is the same. Their olfactory nerves, doubtless, become very sensitive, for, when driving them, they will poke their heads downward in search of water fifty yards before they come to a stream crossing the roadway. It cannot be an abnormally developed sense of hearing which leads them to do this, for they will act alike though the water be a stagnant pool. Men who have been blind for any great length of time develop somewhat similar instincts to blind horses.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE!

The Cause and Its Lesson.

Why did he commit suicide? Oh! for the same reason that thousands of others are on the verge of the same sin, or in immediate danger of insanity, paralysis, idiocy, or some other equally unfortunate result of any nervous affection. He knew he was afflicted with a nervous disorder, but was careless, apparently indifferent to the outcome; or he may have lessened his chances for recovery by treating with physicians who had little or no knowledge of such affections, or by deluging himself with worthless so-called remedies. His case was a sad one, but no worse than that of any other nervous sufferer, who has nervous or sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, irritability, melancholy, failing memory, hot flashes, fainting, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, sexual debility, epilepsy, etc. The same or similar consequences are likely to result to any one who has any of these advance symptoms of an awful end. Do not hesitate in getting rid of them by intelligent treatment. Dr. Franklin Miles, the celebrated specialist, has studied nervous diseases over 20 years, and has discovered the only reliable remedy for them. Thousands of voluntary testimonials prove the virtues of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve.

Alonso Barker, of Clinton, N. Y., writes: "I was so afflicted with extreme nervousness that I was on the verge of insanity. My hands trembled so that I could scarcely feed myself. I used twelve bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, and was cured. It is with pleasure I recommend this wonderful remedy for nervous troubles."

"I had been a great sufferer from chronic headache until I began, about four months ago, to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Pills, since which time I have not had a headache. Several of my friends are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, and find them, as I did, to be more than you claim for them."—Mrs. Mary Kiser, Los Angeles, Cal.

W. H. Capwell, editor Tribune, Plymouth, Pa., writes: "My wife was cured of sick headache of many years' standing by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. She has recommended it to her friends, and they all praise it highly."

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs. Dr. Miles' Pills, 50 doses, 25 cents. Free book at druggists, or by mail.

Olive.

The residents along the border line of Grand Haven and Olive townships are at present engaged in a little war which started Monday. Somebody discovered that the fences, supposed to be on the township boundary line, ran along in the township of Grand Haven. At a meeting held at Abe Harris' Monday, it was decided to notify those residents of Olive who had fences in Grand Haven township road, to have them moved back to their required line. A number of the Olive residents protested and a little skirmish of words started between the representatives of both townships. Several of the Olivites threatened the Grand Havenites, among whom were Joe Edwards, Abram Mastenboek and Abe Harris. Luckily the meeting dispersed without any blows being struck, but a number of the Grand Haven representatives were in the city the next day with the intention of getting out warrants for the arrest of the Olive leaders for threatening violence. The Grand Haven township people also swear that they will see that the Olive residents move their fences, or law will be resorted to.—Tribune.

Grand Haven.

The fine weather during a part of the week has been utilized towards the finishing touches on the roof and tower of the new court house.

The U. S. steamer Hancock, government tug Graham and U. S. dredge and pile driver are all laid up here.

Thus far this year 302 marriage licences have been issued. In the corresponding period last year 255 were issued. Twenty-eight were issued in November.

Judson Farmer of Spring Lake says his nine hens have laid 1,236 eggs during the present season, netting him $0.41 above all expenses. This makes 136 eggs and a fraction per hen, netting him a little over $1.04 per hen, after paying all expenses of keeping them.

Wednesday Spring Lake dedicated its new town hall.

Several lumbermen have recently made great fortunes in Canadian timber land. For instance an investment of $300 by William McKay, of this county, 31 years ago, secured for him a property for which he refused recently $750,000.

At the annual election held Monday evening, John Fisher was elected foreman of the hose company and John Van Dongen assistant. John Loch was elected foreman of the hook and ladder company and C. VanderNoot assistant.

Members of the German Lutheran church of Grand Haven township are making preparations for a minister. The church has been without a pastor for some time, but the society have now made arrangements to secure one. They expect him about Christmas time and are putting the church and parsonage in order.

The life-saving crew will go out of commission Sunday.

The opera house was packed Friday night at the wrestling match between Tom Cannon of Buffalo and Billy Andres of this city. Cannon agreed to throw Andres four times in an hour or forfeit $50. If Andres got one fall he was to win. Cannon got two falls in thirty-five minutes and Andres one.

John T. Hiller, a music writer of Grand Haven, is getting considerable newspaper notoriety. Last fall he was publicly horsewhipped in Toledo by a gentleman who thought that John was becoming too intimate with his wife. John has got himself into several bad scrapes since. He struck Appleton, Wis., a few weeks ago and immediately began to soar in high society. Within a week after arriving he became engaged to a society young lady. On the day of the marriage the groom did not appear, and the papers in that community do not speak kindly of him.—Detroit Journal.

A C. & W. M. furniture car ran off the track on the spur line opposite the D. & G. H. & M. depot Tuesday night. Both trucks went off but the car was not overturned.

Corinthian Chapter No. 85, R. A. M. elected the following officers for the ensuing year:—

H. P.—Robt. Finch.
K.—Myron Scott.
S.—Robert W. Radeke.
Treas.—Wm. J. H. Saunders.
Sec.—Chas. T. Pagelson.
C. of H.—Chas. C. Findley.
P. S.—Mark Burd.
R. A. C.—Geo. D. Turner.
Sentinel—William Sleutel.

Robinson.

Abram Foster of Robinson township met with a serious loss Wednesday night in the burning of his barn and contents. Mr. Foster was in the hay loft of the barn to throw down some hay and was about to hang up the lantern where he supposed a nail was in the wall. Instead the lantern fell down, was overturned and the hay caught fire. The barn was in flames in a few moments. The hay and crops and eight cows were burned. Mr. Foster managed to save his three horses and the heifers. There was only a light insurance upon the burned property.

Allegan.

Luther Fisk, employed in the Allegan paper mill, was caught on a revolving shaft Saturday and whirled around, his head striking a 10-inch beam and a plank, crushing the skull. One of his legs was smashed almost to a jelly. He lived but a few minutes after being released. He was 22 years old and left a widow and infant child. This is the second accident at the mill in three days. A man named Johnson was caught on Wednesday and badly bruised, but not killed.

Within the last eight months there have been killed and wounded in the town of Allegan, by worthless dogs, about $460 worth of sheep, and at a very reasonable estimate about $10,000 worth in the county in the past year. The tax on dogs, provided by law, will not pay to exceed twenty-five per cent of the above amount. There are no other provisions of law, except dog tax, unless it can be collected by the owners of the dogs doing the killing. Owners of sheep should understand that before they can get relief from the dog tax fund, the law requires them to sign an affidavit that they have diligently tried to find the owners of the dogs and recover damages from them, but have been unable to do so.—Journal.

Calvin Lovett of Trowbridge was the only Allegan county exhibitor of cattle at the World's Fair. He sent three Shorthorn heifers, two of which entered the buttermaking contest with other Shorthorns and Jerseys. They were Fourth Belle of Trowbridge and Blossom, and both were included in the judgment of the five best Shorthorns, and both were among the thirteen winners of both breeds. In the twenty-one days of the test Belle's butter product was $11.45 and Blossom's was $9.98. Both had been in milk six months while all but one of their competitors were fresh. Had Belle been in fresh milk she would have won $500. The result is highly satisfactory to Mr. Lovett, who finds his hopes fully gratified in his efforts to secure a fine milking strain of Shorthorns.

It is very likely that Allegan village will soon be made defendant in two suits brought to recover damages for injuries received on some of our wretched sidewalks.—Gazette.

Ex-Judge Hart was down with the grippe.

Port Sheldon.

Pigeon river is frozen earlier this year than it has been for several years back. Still, when I see the records of the frost in the Chicago papers I think we ought to be thankful that we live in the good state of Michigan, where the mercury does not go below the zero mark so quick as it does on the other side of the lake.

The snow has fallen level and the light frosts have made pretty good sleighing for the limited amount of snow. All of which is evident from the number of teams passing over our bridge with wood for the Holland market. Several teams for the last three days have hauled wood from the north side, near the vicinity of West Olive Station, by reason of the greed of the C. & W. M. They were not satisfied with a fair charge for cars to carry wood and have raised their rates so that it is impossible for the poor farmer to ship his wood by rail, so he has to haul it over the road 12 or 14 miles.

The article in the News on the system of county roads is a grand thing, and I think if the farmers would put it to a vote and make the old state road a county road they would never regret it in the way of traffic and increase in the value of their farms. And then besides they could snap their fingers at the grasping railroad monopoly.

Our shingle and saw mill is showing some activity at the present time, and logs are going into the mill yard every day. They are getting scarce here and yet they seem to pick them up somewhere.

Saturday last Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anya and daughter returned home for the winter. Mr. Anya has been employed at the life saving station at Pentwater for the last six months.

Leonard Klynes Jr. is convalescent from the sickness which confined him to his bed for the last four weeks.

Graafschap.

A singing school has been organized in the chapel of the Holland Christian Reformed church, with quite a large attendance. It is just what is needed here and the membership ought to be doubled.

Miss Josephine Cook, the principal of district No. 2, Fillmore, has a slight attack of the grip, but still performs her duties.—Journal.

Saugatuck.

The rice swamps along the lower part of the Kalamazoo river are gradually filling up and becoming solid ground. This is particularly noticeable in the swamps east of Douglas. Cattle are now pastured in places where logs were rafted twenty years ago.

The steady rain the fore part of the week was a timely relief, as many wells and cisterns throughout the country had become dry and in some localities farmers were finding it difficult to obtain water for their stock.—Commercial.

The Late Prof. N. L. Downie.

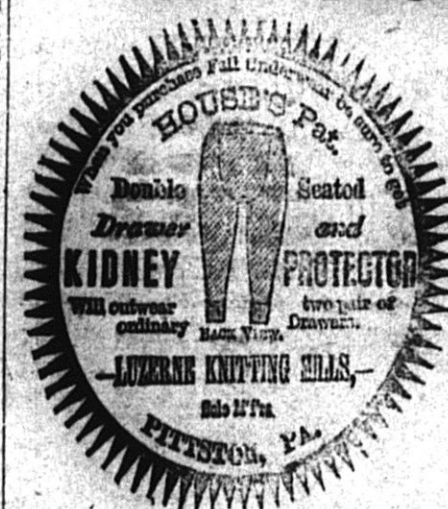

Muskegon Chronicle.—The funeral of the late Professor Nell L. Downie took place from the family residence in North Muskegon. The services were conducted in a very impressive manner by Major C. E. Storrs, who was for many years a close friend of Mr. Downie. Although the weather was very disagreeable there was a large attendance. As a mark of respect to one who had been so long and prominently connected with the North Muskegon schools they were closed on the day of the funeral.

For some time before retiring from the North Muskegon schools Prof. Downie's health, which was never very robust, had been failing. He seemed to realize that his work in the school room was done and he did not again take it up. Two years ago, in hopes that a change of climate would benefit him, he went to the Pacific slope and spent the time until this fall in the states of California, Oregon and Washington. Any relief he may have experienced, however, was only temporary; and when he came back this fall it was apparent that he could not long survive. He leaves a wife and six children. Of the latter Charles and Benjamin live in Oregon; Alexander and Maggie are at home; Mable is a teacher at Whitehall and Grace teaches at Ravenna.

Soon after Mr. Downie came to this county the law was enacted providing for a county board of school examiners and he was elected a member of the first board and was re-elected until when he retired he had been on the board ten years, and for the greater part of this time he was the secretary of the board. He was also for many years clerk of Laketon township and clerk of the village of North Muskegon.

"Royal Ruby" Port Wine.

If you are reduced in vitality or strength by illness or any other cause, we recommend the use of this Old Port Wine, the very blood of the grape. A grand tonic for nursing mothers, and those reduced by wasting disease. It creates strength; improves the appetite; nature's own remedy, much preferable to drugs; guaranteed absolutely pure and over five years of age. Young wine ordinarily sold is not fit to use. Insist on having this standard brand, it costs no more. $1 in quart bottles, pints 60 cts. Royal Wine Co. For sale by Martin & Huizinga, Holland, Mich. C. Blom, Sr., Holland, Mich.

A Quarter Century Test.

For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for Coughs and Colds. Trial bottles free at Heber Walsh, Holland, and A. De Kruif, Zeeland, Mich. Large size 50c. and $1.00.

Store to Rent.

The store now occupied by H. Stern & Co., on Eighth street, will be to rent by February 1st, 1894. Address A. J. WARD, Holland, Mich.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt-Rheum, Fever Sore, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Heber Walsh "The Drug-gist."

Any one who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford, of Plainfield N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says: "I thought sure I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and thought I would try it, as a last hope; am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them and that is the last of it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Heber Walsh, Holland, Mich.

For rheumatism I have found nothing equal to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It relieves the pain as soon as applied. J. W. Young, West Liberty, W. V. The prompt relief it affords is alone worth many times the cost, 50 cents. Its continued use will effect a permanent cure. For sale by Heber Walsh, Holland, Mich.
