ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Holland and Park Township Farm Bureau will be held at Holland Township Holland on the Zeeland Road, Saturday, December 10, at 1:30 P. M.

ED. SCOTT, Sec.

COUNTY ROAD COM- MISSIONERS TO KEEP ROADS CLEAR OF SNOW

WILL USE FOUR WHEEL DRIVE
TRUCK WITH FLOW
ATTACHED

Austin Harrington, chairman of the Ottawa County Road Commission stated that the trunk lines in Ottawa county would be kept free from snow during the coming winter. The cement road between Holland and Grand Haven would be plowed when necessary and likewise the highway to Grand Rapids.

The road to Macatawa will also be kept open and the Saugatuck division will be free of snow to the county line.

The Allegan county division on the Saugatuck line will be kept open by the Allegan county authorities providing they keep their promise.

In Sunday's edition of the Detroit News a large map is printed showing the roads which will be kept open by the state.

One extends from Grand Rapids to Lansing and Detroit, the other from Detroit to Saginaw and Bay City and a third from Detroit to Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo and Benton Harbor.

These roads are designated by a heavy solid line showing that these roads will receive the first attention in snow removal. The map also designates secondary routes which will receive attention if it is possible. These trunk lines are indicated by a dotted line.

According to the map in the Detroit Tribune, the roads from South Haven to Saugatuck to Holland to Grand Haven, and from Holland to Grand Rapids are dotted lines which would indicate that they are secondary routes. But Capt. Harrington is going to see to it that these are main routes by plowing off the snow when necessary.

A jury was secured from among the extra taxmen called into circuit court Wednesday afternoon to try the case of the People vs. John Tinkholt charged with perjury. Yesterday the session was taken up largely with reading testimony offered by the defendant in a former trial.

ANOTHER BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS TREE IN CENTENNIAL PARK

WREATHES WILL ALSO BE PLACED IN HOSPITAL
WINDOWS

More Than Two Hundred Poor
Children To Be Given a Dinner

The Daughters of the American Revolution have again taken it upon themselves to place a large Christmas tree in Centennial Park.

Last year for the first time Holland was privileged to witness a public Christmas tree, beautifully illuminated.

The presence of the tree in Centennial Park instilled a Christmasy spirit in the hearts of everyone who passed that way and from Christmas eve until New Years night the beautiful fir tree scintillated with myriads of lights.

On Christmas night an appropriate public program will be given and possibly the prominent singers in Holland will go about the city singing Christmas carols.

The tree is to be located in the southeast corner of Centennial Park, practically on the same spot as where the tree stood last year.

This enables the patients at the Holland hospital to get a full view of the tree and for a week at least enjoy its presence there.

The D. A. R. will also place Christmas wreaths in the windows of Holland Hospital and on the afternoon before Christmas will give a spread for two hundred needy children in the literary club rooms.

Mrs. Charles H. Mc Bride who, is chairman of this work states that all the details of these Christmas doings have not yet been completed and that further information will be published later.

TO GIVE A LECTURE ON LIFE OF CHRIST

Friday night at 7:45 o'clock, Prof. Paul E. Hinkamp, of the department of Bible and Philosophy at Hope College will deliver a stereopticon lecture on the "Life of Christ" in the Trinity church auditorium. Prof. Hinkamp delivered the same lecture at the college last year and it proved to be very interesting and instructive to Bible Students.

The lecture is held under the auspices of the "B" division of the young Ladies' League for Service of the Trinity church. The general public is invited to attend. A silver collection will be taken the proceeds going to missions.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY NETS $360.00

TWO NEW TENNIS COURTS FOR
HOLLAND HIGH SCHOOL
ASSURED

Last night the second night of the playlets, "Where is Helen," and "His Superior Intelligence," was also a success. For two nights offerings given by the pupils of the high school and directed by the student council proved wonderful successes.

The amount of money taken in in the two nights was $360.00, and this amount assures the high school two new tennis courts for next year which will make three in all.

Every participant in the plays did wonderful work and too much cannot be said in praise of the high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Ruth Koppel. The play was directed by Gertrude M. Wickes, and the cast included: Helen Bartlett—visitor, B. U. Josie Van VanWeele; Dorothy Hill—a student at B. U., Esther VanLente; Hortense Allen—matron of Wordsworth Hall Lucile Osborne; Kathlee—a maid with troubles of her own, Thelma Haas; Jack Jamieson—a student of literature and love, Gerrit De Koning; Harold Wilson, Tom Standish—students, John Henry Albers and Claude Lappinga; Daniel W. Bartlett—Helen's father, Harold Vande Bie; Prof. Emilius Edgerton—of the faculty, Vernon Ten Cate.

FORMER PROPRIETOR OF LAKESIDE INN, DIES

M. F. LaBourlier, former proprietor of Lakeside Inn, died Saturday in Los Angeles, Calif.

This is the information received by friends of Mr. and Mrs. LaBourlier.

For years Mr. La Bourlier was a Chiropractor in Grand Rapids with headquarters in the old Morton House, and later moved to the Ash-ton building in Grand Rapids.

He was a prominent Elk and is well known and was a frequent visitor at the local lodge, especially during the summer months while caring for his hotel here.

Of late his health failed him and Lakeside Inn last summer was leased to other parties and the LaBours-lers left for California where the doctor passed away.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN, 35, NEVER RODE ON TRAIN

Joseph Sherwinski likes Grand Rapids and he declares he is content to stay there. He is 35 years old formerly conducted an orchestra but for five years has been proprietor of a west side grocery store.

He has never ridden on a railroad train and only once has he traveled on an interurban car. That was several years ago when he went to Muskegon. He is living with his wife and baby in the same house in which he was born.

Holland has never had much of a negro population and the number of colored folks who are residents of the city can always easily be counted on the fingers of one hand, with a few fingers left uncounted. There are fewer than ever at present, but there is at least one living near Holland who makes his living working in the city and who is an interesting character.

His name is Henry Flake and he lives in a shack that he built himself on the Vrieling land between Waverly and P. M. Bridges. He lives there alone but he is an unusually neat housekeeper and he keeps his house spick and span.

Mr. Flake is a one-armed man, but in spite of that handicap he can do a lot of kinds of work that would stump a two-armed person. He is remarkably versatile and gets along in firstclass shape, doing many jobs that are usually not expected of a one-armed man. Mr. Flake came to Holland last July and he has lived in his shack ever since. He declares he likes Holland and that he expects to make this his permanent home.

He cooks his own meals and keeps his home trim. Being near the river he suffered once from an overflow of the river which made his bed drift through the room, but aside from temporary inconvenience, it did no material damage. Mr. Flake is getting to be a well known character about the city and has made many friends since he arrived here.

He will hold a double celebration on Christmas day. Not only will he celebrate this holiday in the true Christmas spirit but it happens that his 40th birthday anniversary comes on the same date. "Ah's gwine to eat roas' chicken, yessah!" he said but he admitted that he would probably have to eat it alone. However, he said he was used to that.

SENSATIONAL BANK ROBBERY STIRS WESTERN MICHIGAN

ONE OFFICER KILLED, ONE
WOUNDED BY BANDITS
IN GRAND RAPIDS

Story of Robbing of Grandville Avenue Bank Reads Like a Detective Novel

A mistake in the long distance telephone message to Chief of Police Van Ry caused the report Wednesday afternoon that it was the Grandville bank that had been robbed of $10,000. It was the Grandville avenue bank in Grand Rapids, not the bank in the village of Grandville.

The robbery was perhaps the most sensational ever pulled off in Grand Rapids, and it reads like a blood-and-thunder detective novel. The bandits, fully armed but not masked, entered the bank at five minutes to two, held up the employees, took about $11,000, locked three employees and two patrons in the vault, made their get-away in a high powered automobile, were struck a little later by a Michigan Central train, escaped injury but had their car wrecked, held up a citizen who was driving a Cadillac, compelled him at the point of a gun to drive them from the scene, later ejected him from the car and made their get-away, hid in a house on Weaver street, were spotted in the evening by a neighbor who called the police, killed one officer and seriously wounded another, and made their getaway in the Cadillac.

That is an outline of the quick action story of this sensational affair. The officer who was killed as he tried to enter the house the bandits were occupying is George Bransma. He was shot down and died instantly. The wounded officer shot through the abdomen, is Samuel Slater.

It was a tip of A. J. Gerard, yardmaster of the Pennsylvania railroad, whose home is at 440 Weaver st., almost directly opposite the bandit house, that sent Bransma and Slater on the trail of the robbers.

Gerard, who witnessed the wreck of the bandits' car at the Hall-st., crossing of the Michigan Central railway yesterday afternoon and who spoke to one of the bandits who was injured, arrived home at about 6 last night and told his family of the sensational robbery and escape. Describing an overcoat left behind in the wrecked auto, he was interrupted suddenly by his wife.

"That fits the description of the coat worn by one of the men who recently moved in across the street" she said.

Mrs. Margaret Brown, Mr. Gerard's mother-in-law, told of seeing two men coming across the field near their home shortly after the bank robbery. One appeared to be carrying a satchel. It appeared to be very heavy, she said. She saw them enter the bandit house.

Stories of the two women moved Mr. Gerard to telephone Supt. of Police Carroll, a personal friend. Bransma and Slater went out on the job and they were shot down when they tried to enter the house. Some of the plunder was found in the house later. The bandits a minute or two after the shooting drove away in the big car.

HOLLAND FOX MEN ARE NOW IN MUSKEGON

ONE FORMER HOLLAND MAN
MAKES MONEY RAISING
FOX

David Blom, Arend Smith, Lee De Feyter and a few others who are interested in fox farms are in Muskegon this week where a large exhibition of fox is being held. The full valuation of the silver black fox that are being show is more than $750,000 and are now on public exhibition there. The second annual show of the National Silver Fox Breeders' association opened in the Armory at Muskegon last night when about 6,000 persons passed through the turnstiles. It is the only silver fox exhibit that will be held in North America this year.

Jim Kelley, formerly of Holland, and who has a large fox farm in Muskegon and is also interested in the one on the Pike directly north of Holland is very prominent at the show. Mr. Kelley has become a very wealthy man, selling these fur bearing animals. Some of his fox have sold for as high as $25,000 a pair.

AUTO HE-VAMP IS CAUGHT AT LAST

A he-auto vamp will have to answer to a serious charge in circuit court at the January term.

Cornelius Bosch was riding with his automobile along River avenue after the congregations had been dismissed and noticed a young lady whose home is on the north side, near the Cappon-Bertsch Leather Co. tannery, walking on River avenue.

He said to the young lady, "Hello, where are you going?" "I'm going to my home on the North Side." "Jump in my machine and I'll take you there, for I am going that way myself."

She innocently complied for the reason that the walk from the 9th St. Christian Reformed church where she had been worshipping, was an unusually long one, and she had been given a lift to her home on several other occasions.

When the Grand Haven bridge was reached, the young lady asked Bosch to stop, for she had reached her destination. Instead Bosch made the remark that it was early and she no doubt would enjoy a little ride.

She protested and asked to be taken home. Instead Bosch drove her to Waverly on a lonely road several blocks from any residence.

He drove over a raise in high, stopped his car, claiming that his auto had stalled. He then attempted to take liberties with the young lady but she fought ferociously, kicking a blow out of the sedan. She ran through the woods and over hills and fell exhausted on the porch of her home.

Chief Van Ry who took charge of the case got in touch with Deputy Sheriff Johnson, and the sheriff and the police forces cooperated in looking up a fellow who was under suspicion having a Ford car with a winter top.

When the car was examined it was found that a new pane of glass had just been placed in the car and several of the pieces of glass that remained in the Ford matched pieces found on the Waverly road.

Bosch was arrested on suspicion and confronted with the crime and admitted his guilt.

The officers sent for the young lady and she identified Bosch immediately, and he admitted the truth of her statement.

Complaint was made out against the man on a serious charge and Justice Van Schelven put him under of $1200 which were furnished.

The local police had been looking for this he-vamp all summer. Last July another young lady who wanted to go to Zeeland was given a ride and reported the same treatment, but she escaped.

This girl came out of the fray with a black eye, while the maiden from the North Side was scratched about the face.

Chief of Police Van Ry brought the girl who made the complaint before Cornelius Bosch, and she claims that this is the same man who accosted her last summer. Bosch very strongly denied this, however.

ZEELAND SCHOOL ISSUE LOSES BY DECISIVE VOTE

At the special election held in Zeeland Monday to decide whether that city should bond itself for $175,000 for the erection of a new high school, the new school proposition lost out by an overwhelming vote. The total number of votes cast was 570, of which 151 were in favor of the project and 419 against.

It was seen before the election that sentiment was very strongly against the new school, and the vote was so decisive that the issue is dead for the present at least, and probably for some time to come.

It is believed that the vote was greatly affected by the contention made by Mr. Albert Labuis that the public school population of Zeeland has been decreasing from 1911 to 1920, on account of the rapid growth of the School for Christian Instruction. Those in favor of the new school however declared that since 1919 the school population has been on the increase, and they declare that Mr. Labuis did not include in his figures the 1921 school census which is said to have shown a large increase. It is declared by those who were in favor of the new school that present buildings are not large enough to accommodate all the pupils so that two classes are now being held in the city hall.

The last school erection that Zeeland has done was in 1914 when an addition was built to one of the two schools. The last complete school built in that city, exclusive of the Christian school, was erected as long ago as 1906 when the present high school was built.

COUNTY TREASURER TO COME HERE TO HAND OUT PLATES

County Treasurer John H. Den Herder announced Monday that he will be in Holland on Tuesday, December 13, with a supply of automobile plates for 1922. Mr. Den Herder will make his headquarters at the Wolverine Garage again, as he did last year, and automobile owners can call there and secure their plates.

This system of handing out auto plates was so successful last year that it was decided to repeat it. According to the strict provision of the law the county treasurer is not obliged to come to Holland for this purpose, but he fixes these special days to save a large number of auto owners the trouble of writing for the plates.

Auto owners who wish to take advantage of Mr. Den Herder's coming to Holland are requested to do their share in making the work as light as possible. Each applicant is asked to come with his application blank filled out so that the work of passing out the plates can be done with as little delay as possible.

Mr. Den Herder expects to come to Holland one more day during December after his first visit and all persons who expect to drive their cars early in the year will find it to their advantage to see him on one of those two days. The date of the second visit has not yet been determined upon.

Later in the winter Mr. Den Herder will come back to accommodate those persons who will not need auto plates until spring opens.

It is possible that Mr. Den Herder will be able to supply car owners with certificates of ownership during his visit to Holland, although no announcement to this effect has been made.

PENNY SOCIAL AT BEECHWOOD IS A SUCCESS

The Hard Time Penny social of the Beechwood P.T. Club held Friday evening was a splendid success. Members came dressed in aprons and old clothes and paid one cent for admittance. The program consisted of a solo on the Grafonola, entitled "Building Castles in the Air," by the Beechwood McCormick, alias Elton Hansen. Some ladies portrayed "Working With the Music" by washing, ironing, sweeping, dusting and scrubbing to "Yankee Doodle." Carla Emmick played a piano solo entitled "The Doll's Dream."

After the program court was held and arrests made of persons wearing collars and ties, jewelry or silks. One gentleman had a trial—he removed his collar and tie after his arrival. The jury pronounced him guilty and he paid a fine of three cents. Candy was sold for one cent a piece and popcorn for one cent a bag. When refreshments were served each person had to pay one cent for cup, plate, spoon, cake and coffee. In this way many pennies were taken in.

FERRYSBURG SCHOOL TEACHERS BOUND TO MARRY

Ferrysburg people are beginning to believe that there is something very strange in the air, which causes them to lose their teachers thru the decision to marry. The room for the 2nd and 3rd grades in the Ferrysburg schools seems to have started on a matrimonial record which nothing can stop. Several teachers in that room have resigned jobs to get married. All methods to check the tendency have failed. Miss Dorothy Ver Wy of Grand Haven was the latest teacher in that room. She resigned however to marry George Hale of Nunica. The board has engaged Mrs. Clarabelle De Witt of Grand Haven to take the room.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Bove left Sunday evening for New Orleans to spend the winter there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Phernambucq drove to South Haven Sunday. Cornelius De Keyser was in Grand Rapids Tuesday on business.

MORE THAN 1200 PEOPLE ATTEND SALE

Without doubt the most gigantic sale that ever took place in Holland when it comes to crowds, was pulled off Saturday afternoon when the Van Ark Furniture Co. put on an aluminumware sale starting off when the mockingbird blew for 1 o'clock.

Long before that hour the store was filled to the doors and when the city whistle blew the crowd had extended across the sidewalk into the street.

There was such a jam that Chief Van Ry detailed Officer Cramer to keep one of the doorways clear of people, but even this avenue was not enough and a large part of the purchasers were forced to go through the basement door into the alley that leads to River avenue.

The aluminumware was all stacked up on the west side of the building and in the show window and around it a temporary enclosure was built that also answered as a counter.

The jam was so great that the enclosure was soon broken down and men and women were soon helping themselves to pans and kettles and percolators, in fact, it was a regular "help yourself sale" that had gotten beyond the control of the sales force.

But let it be said that every piece of aluminumware was paid for and 1200 pieces amounting to $800 were disposed of in less than three-quarters of an hour.

Not one half of the big crowd succeeded in getting anywhere near the place where aluminumware could be purchased and naturally had to go without.

At 2 o'clock, an hour after the sale had started, there was not a piece of aluminumware left in the place.

Both Mr. Van Ark proprietor of the store and William Deur, advertising manager, stated, that this sale is unprecedented in the Van Ark store.

Pardon us for tooting our own horn, but Mr. Deur stated that the only advertising medium used was a half page adv. in the Holland City News on Thursday and a similar sized adv. in the Sentinel on Friday. No other method was used to call the attention of the people of Holland and vicinity to this sale.

Mr. Hugo Schick of the Great Northern Mfg. Co., who conducted the sale stated that he had held sales in every city in Western Michigan of 3000 and over, and this one by far excellent any held before. Said Mr. Schick, "This convinces me that hard times are not as prevalent as we are led to believe. Our method of putting on a sale is to get something started. If every merchant and every manufacturer would put something over along these lines, the wheels of industry in this country would be humming overtime."

Jerry Boerman, janitor at the city Hall, was the first man to pay his taxes for the December tax-gathering campaign. Last summer when the city and school taxes were collected Mr. Boerman was tied for first place with another citizen, but on winter taxes he beat all others to it.

Tax gathering began Monday morning at 8 o'clock at the office of City Treasurer Geerds in the city hall. While the first few days in a tax gathering campaign are usually light, returns thus far were satisfactory as compared with other years. The city treasurer's office will be open every noon between 12 and 1 during December for the accommodation of those taxpayers who find it inconvenient to call at the treasurer's office at other times.

COMMITTEE ORDERS 10,000 ADDITIONAL CHRISTMAS SEALS

Mrs. E. J. Blekkink, acting chairman of the Civic Health committee of the Woman's Literary club on account of the illness of Mrs. A. Leenhouts, has sent an order for 10,000 additional Christmas seals to the Michigan Tuberculosis association at Lansing. The demand for the Christmas stickers is so big this year that more seals had to be secured. The initial order this year was 70,000 which was ten thousand more than have ever been sold in Holland, and the additional 10,000 just ordered will make the total 80,000. There will of course be some "come backs" as usual, but it is expected that the sale this year will be the largest on record here.

YOUNG MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED DISCHARGED FROM HOSPITAL

Cornie Schermer of Zeeland, who met with a serious accident a few weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to his home from the Holland hospital. At present he is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schermer at Holland.

Schermer, it will be remembered, drove some children to a farmer's home north of Zeeland and upon his return his Ford car was struck by a Pere Marquette train cutting it in half.

The young man was dragged several feet and received internal injuries and several bruises about the head and chest.

He also sustained broken limbs. It was stated that the man had practically no chance to live. The able care received at Holland Hospital again demonstrates that such institutions are lifesavers and shows the need of the right kind of a hospital for this city.

E. Vaupell was out again today after being confined to his home for ten days with illness.

HOLLAND WILL HAVE ANOTHER AUTOMOBILE ROAD TO DETROIT

Motorists in a short time will be able to go to Detroit or to the State Capitol without taking the round about way to Grand Rapids.

A proposed new state trunk line has practically been assured, which will connect Holland and Zeeland up with Lansing and Detroit, cutting off a distance of 25 miles. Instead of going to Grand Rapids, the road will divert towards Byron Center and Caledonia.

Austin Harrington of Holland and William Connelly of Spring Lake have been at the State Capitol for some time the latter part of last week going over this matter with the state highway commissioner, Frank H. Rogers and he has promised to use his influence to have federal aid given the project under the new "Townsend good roads bill" recently signed by President Harding.

When Capt. Harrington was seen he stated that there was very little likelihood of the project falling thru and that Mr. Connelly and himself had been working on this project for a long time, knowing that such a road would benefit Ottawa county.

Mr. Harrington stated that not alone would it be a valuable feeder to our Holland-Chicago boat line, but it might be the means of securing a boat line to Milwaukee, as this highway would be the most direct feeder from Detroit and the East, tapping the heart of Michigan which could not help but become a tremendous freight feeder to Milwaukee and the Northwest.

By looking on the map it is noticeable that Detroit, Holland and Milwaukee are practically in a straight line and this harbor has always been considered ideal as a connecting link by railroad or truck line with a boat line to Milwaukee.

The direct highway to Holland from the East will also stimulate tourists trade in the summer time, and if this new direct line was properly advertised in Detroit and in the East the possibilities in this direction would be unusually great.

FILLMORE WOMAN DIES

AFTER OPERATION
Mrs. Gerrit Fokkert, 46, a resident of Fillmore township, died Friday afternoon after an operation for goitre to which she submitted Friday morning. Mrs. Fokkert had been confined to her bed for six weeks, and was advised by her physicians to have the goitre removed, as her condition was becoming more critical. She was taken to Lansing where specialists expressed hope for her recovery.

After being under an anaesthetic for an hour and a half, her heart became so weak that it was not possible to finish the operation.

She is survived by her husband and nine children.

LEGION BAND CANNOT PLAY IN THE DARK

Despite the pouring rain the high school auditorium was well filled with an appreciative audience who came to hear the second annual concert given by the Willard Leenhouts American Legion Band.

It is estimated that at least 600 patrons were present and judging from the repeated calls for more numbers the audience was well pleased with the efforts of the boys and also with the offerings of the other participants in the program. Band Director Van Vyven gave the audience many selections that were quick and snappy interspersing these with heavier numbers making a well balanced program.

The special numbers by members of the band were well received and the Excelsior Quartet was repeatedly called back to give more singing selections. Miss Metz never fails to please her audiences and her efforts as the reader of the evening were again rewarded by an appreciative gathering.

A number not found on the program was "Lights Out". Just as the concert was about to begin members of the band were requested to shove aside some of the stage curtains in order that the members of the band might have more light to see by. Instead all the glims in the auditorium went out and the place remained in darkness for at least 35 minutes. Some one rushed to the telephone, wired Superintendent Champion who soon had two men working on the job. It was found that when the curtains were pulled back in some way a "short" resulted somewhere in the building. After a big half hour had passed the lights were again switched on and the band began the concert. The members of the band were so pleased with the patronage received that they are now planning for another concert to be given next April. Like this concert, the proceeds are to go toward a fund that will help to defray the expenses of the band members when they make their trip to the National Legion convention that is to be held in New Orleans next fall.

Mrs. H. Wolbert of Laketown, Mrs. C. Spykhoven and daughters Marie and Jeanette Hermans, of Carmel, Iowa, and Mrs. J. Rotman and son Marvin of Holland, visited relatives in Zeeland Tuesday. In the First State Bank adv. found on the 4th page in this issue of the News appears a check payable to "Cappy and Roby" supposedly on a Christmas savings account. Of course the football stars do not know that they have anything coming and possibly they haven't. Here's hoping that they have! The check however is simply used to illustrate the workings of the Christmas Savings plan and the names of "Cappy and Roby" are as good as any to demonstrate.

L. D. Puff, Fremont hardware merchant and sportsman has been exhibiting his chief trophy brought back from the woods in the vicinity of Ewen in the upper peninsula. Puff found two sets of buck horns locked together and the deer had been dead only a short time. It was apparent from the surroundings that a long battle had been staged, resulting in the death of one buck. The other evidently had dragged the vanquished some distance but was unable to extricate himself from the deadlock of horns. The body finally became lodged between two saplings, which made further progress impossible. Starvation was the fate of the survivor of the battle.

Rats are being used to teach the children of Ottawa county that they must at least drink two glasses of milk daily if they want to be well and grow up to be as sturdy and strong as they ought to be. Two rats are brought to school. One rat is fed nothing but vegetables—and his fate is a terrible warning to any vegetarian so deluded as to think he can get along without milk. For the rat, which eats only vegetables, grows thin and puny, as compared with the other rat, which is given all the milk he wants in addition to plenty of vegetables. This work of teaching children what, when and how to eat is being carried on in 29 townships of Ottawa county under the direction of Miss Eva K. Schurr, county home demonstration agent.

Rumors have been afloat for some time that a new dancing pavilion would be erected at Jenison Park. When one of the officials at the Park was called up by phone he stated that nothing definite had been decided upon and possibly that the old pavilion might be remodeled into a presentable dance hall. It was also stated that the bathing beach was to be fixed over and that the park generally was to receive an overhauling. He however stated that later plans may have been arranged which he knew nothing about. Three different parties have been planning a pavilion at this point but business depression put a stop to the planning at least temporarily.

DATE DEFINATELY SET TO DEDICATE NEW LIGHT SYSTEM

At a meeting of the Merchants Association together with some of the aldermen and members of the Board of Public Works, it was decided to make Friday night, December 16, the big night when the new boulevard lighting system will be turned on.

That evening all the places of business will be lighted up and the stores will be open, in fact the business men of the city will sort of keep open house when ordinarily the stores are closed on that evening.

Mr. James De Young of the Board of Public Works stated that almost any evening would be suitable to the board and it wouldn't do any harm to make a few tests to see whether every light was in working order. These tests he stated would be made late at night in order not to make the opening a stale affair.

Superintendent Champion stated that the system was practically completed and that the finishing touches were just being put on and that by Monday or Tuesday there is no doubt but that the new system would be ready, and could be tested out.

Friday night, he stated, was as suitable as any if that pleased the merchants.

Chairman Cook then asked Alderman Ben Wiersma and Alderman F. Brieve who were present, whether this would please the council and they stated that almost any evening would be satisfactory, that the establishment of this system didn't depend upon one or two days, and that the main concern of the council was to have the system run without a hitch before the dedication took place.

Mayor E. P. Stephan is in Kansas City and could not be present, and it is understood that he has some plans and some fire works for the occasion. It was the sense of the meeting that Chairman Cook appoint a committee to meet with the mayor to see what had been done along these lines and to aid in making more arrangements if this was necessary. No doubt all the bands in the city will come out to help celebrate and serenade the different business places and have a "high old time" doing it, and maybe the National Guards can be induced to give a drill on the big white way.

Let's make it a bang-up celebration, for Holland has waited ten long years for these lights, and now has a system second to none.

On December 16, and thereafter this city will be in full dress, and Holland folk will no more think of wanting to loose their boulevard lights than they would their Centennial Park.

The committee appointed to help this project along are J. Wall, Henry Van Ark, Al Joldersma, John Van Tatenhove and William Viissers.

Rev. and Mrs. James Wayer were called to Muskegon Tuesday on account of the death of Mrs. Wayer's

SPECIAL SCHOOL

ELECTION TO BE HELD DECEMBER 20

To bond or not to bond the city of Holland for the purpose of erecting a new Junior high school will be put up to the people of the city to decide at a special election. The board of education has decided on Tuesday, December 20, as the date for the election.

On that day the people will be asked to vote on a bond issue of $350,000, which sum will cover the entire cost of the building and equipment. It will furnish Holland with a building complete as it should be on the day when the classes begin to occupy it. Emphasis is laid on the fact that $350,000 will be an "outside" price. There will be no come-backs but the architects have so figured that it will cover everything.

The original estimate was more than $350,000 for the building alone, with the equipment as extras, but changes were made and features at first planned were eliminated so that the price has been pared down by many thousands of dollars. The board of education wishes to give the people the top notch figures immediately so that there would be no extras later and the architects were instructed to figure in such a way that not a nickel additional would have to be appropriated later on.

The proposed new Junior high school would house the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. It would relieve the congestion in the high school by taking a couple of hundred pupils out of that crowded building, and it would relieve the grades by allowing the conversion of the present Junior high school into a grade school, after remodeling it. In this way it would increase the room all along the line.

The proposed new building will be of fireproof construction throughout. Robinson & Campbell of Grand Rapids are the architects.

The opening number on the program of the Women's Literary society Tuesday was a resume of the leading current events by Mrs. Wm. Westveer.

Mrs. Arthur Heuer then sang "Hail lulu," by Arthur Coenard and "Ich liebe Dich," by Grieg. Mrs. Martha Robbins played the accompaniments. The closing number was a reading of parts of "Main Street" by Mrs. Etta Whitman. After this followed a discussion of the book by various members.

FOR RENT -- A house. You move in today. Pay a small sum down and give a mortgage on your furniture and in a year or so you will know the amount of money needed by the landlord.

Would you rent a house upon terms like that? Why not?

Is that proposition materially different from the buying of a fire policy without knowing exactly what the cost is going to be? By insuring here you pay but one rate and that is low, considering the hazard. You assume no liability -- the company takes the risk, not you -- that's why this agency sells fire insurance in the old, established stock fire insurance companies.

HOLLAND POLICE HELP ROUND UP LIQ- UOR VIOLATORS

Government officers have been making it hot for a dozen or more liquor violators in the city of Grand Rapids, and the rounding up of these men chased some of them out of that city and these were apprehended at Holland.

Late Saturday Officers A. Taylor and G. M. Bradley came to Holland looking for the foreigners, who, it is alleged, violated the liquor law.

The government detectives co-operated with the Holland police and three men were taken from the Pere Marquette train which was about to leave Holland for Chicago.

In order to get by the officers the bootleggers had taken an automobile for Grandville and boarded a Holland Interurban car and reached here just in time to buy tickets for Chicago when Officers Steketee and Bontekoe, together with the Grand Rapids officers rode up in the nick of time as the train was about to leave.

The men were taken back to Grand Rapids by automobile where they were arraigned.

In connection with liquor violation in Grand Rapids a new angle has arisen.

Some of the hardware dealers are now selling stills for the making of liquor and Saturday the officers raided one hardware store and confiscated 11 copper boilers, 60 ft of copper coil and 48 brass connections.

When the hardware dealer was arraigned he stated that he believed he was acting legally in offering the equipment for sale. He said he had displayed the goods openly among his stocks, and was under the impression that the sale was permitted.

"I bought it from a Detroit firm and believed I could sell it without violating the law," Baltes said. "The apparatus is being widely advertised, and, anyway, I am not the only one that is handling them. There are a lot of dealers who are selling them. I didn't think it illegal."

Government Chief Fred K. Cronewett, who made the arrests, said his intention of checking, wherever possible, the sale of the illegal equipment. "If we can put a stop to the sale of stills we will be able to stop the manufacture of moonshine," he said.

LITTLE BOY IS STRANGLED IN NEW HOUSE

Four year old Claus Vander Wall of Spring Lake met a tragic death by strangulation Sunday noon. The little boy and his brother had gone to play at the new house of Henry Vander Wall, the child's father, on River street, in that city, and while playing little Claus became caught between the frame of the steps in such a manner that he was just lifted off the ground. It is thought that the strangling was slow and painful though no one was near the scene of tragedy until Mr. Vander Wall arrived and found the body.

The facts of the accident as told by Henry VanderWall are as follows:

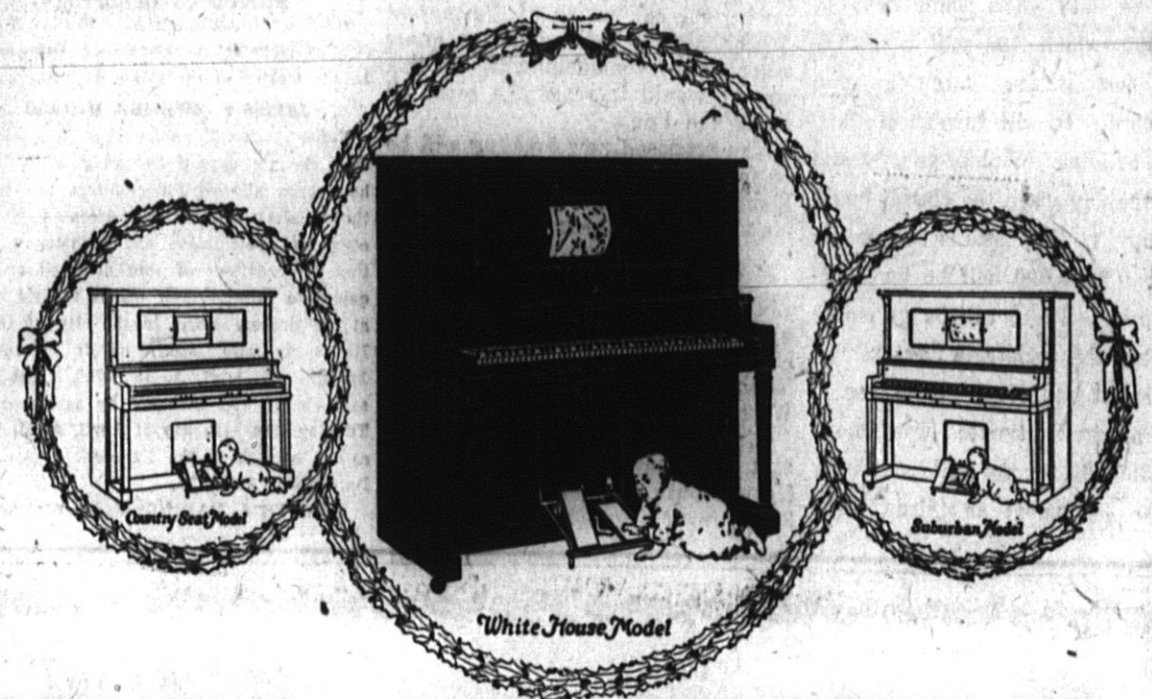

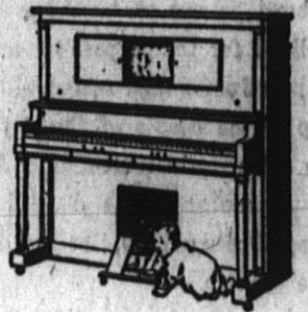

"Little Claus and his brother had gone over to Mr. VanderWall's new house to play and just before dinner the other little chap appeared saying that 'Claus had gone after the kitty' The family sat down and ate and after dinner the father went to look for little Claus. Approaching the house and catching sight of the child Mr. VanderWall called but Claus did not stir. The father rushed forward and pulling away the board that held the little one prisoner he was horrified to see the little boy topple over. Claus was rushed to a neighbor's but it was too late to do anything.

Private funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock in the Vander Wall home at the south end of River street. The Rev. Mollema officiating and interment was at Spring Lake cemetery.

Henry J. Boer, county coroner was called and he went to Spring Lake immediately to make an investigation. He took the statements of the father, but did not consider an inquest necessary and did not empanel a jury.

HAMILTON FARM BUREAU ERECTS ITS OWN BUILDING

The Hamilton Farm Bureau association has begun its work upon the new building for which $10,000.00 was subscribed in a canvass held during the past summer months. The association has since its organization located in the Heinz plant, but found it inadequate to meet their needs.

It was decided at a meeting of the board that in order to carry on the business in a systematic and profitable way, it would be necessary to put up their own building and also to increase its facilities in handling feeds and farm products.

With about two weeks of work in the construction of the building, the walls and basement have been completed. The work thus far has been donated by members of the organization. The structure will be a full three story design, including the basement, 36x60 ft and about 25 ft. high. The cost of the frame and building is estimated at approximately $5,000. With favorable weather conditions the bureau will be ready to begin operations in about six weeks.

The farmers will be able to do their own custom grinding, use the new building as an elevator for a shipping center, and buy collectively. Besides the various feedstuffs the bureau also invests in lime, cement, coal and other farm necessities.

At present there are 40 members in the organization. The officers are G. J. Lower, president; Andrew Lohman, secretary-treasurer; John Bink, manager.

LOCAL MAN'S BOOK REVIEWED IN CONTINENT

"The Continent," national known church paper, with offices in Chicago and New York, contained a brief review in last week's issue of a new book by Rev. Jasper S. Hughes of Jenison Park. The name of the book is "The King's Trumpet." It is paper-bound and contains 175 pages. According to the review in the Continent, the author "goes deeply into his conception of the symbolical meaning of the book of Revelation."

Rev. Hughes has devoted many years to study of the book of Revelation and has frequently lectured on the subject. "The King's Trumpet" is the result of these years of study.

CREAMERY OWNER KICKS AT WATER TARIFF TILL MEMORY IS REFRESHED

One of the loudest howlers at the water tax window at Muskegon the other day was the proprietor of a large creamery concern. His bill ran $25 for a quarter of a year and he criticized the city management and the high price of the fluid which is obtained from Lake Michigan. He couldn't see why his bill was more than others and he sought to tell the world about it.

Just then Chief of Police Peter Hansen strolled into the chamber and hearing the conversation; he mentioned his records showed that the creamery owner had been arrested and convicted twice in the last six months for having too much water in the products of his concern. The creamery owner paid his bill and left, satisfied perhaps that the water was worth what the city charged him.

GRAND HAVEN FOLKS REACH THE SOUTH IN NINE DAYS

Word has been received by Miss Edna Kelly of Grand Haven of the safe arrival in Miami, Fla., of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Boet and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jobin also of Grand Haven. The party motored to the southland, camping enroute. Mr. Boet piloted the car through in nine days making a distance of 1732 miles on 107 gallons of "gas." Michigan air was in all the tires when the party arrived.

The tourists visited Daytona and Cocoa, Fla., enroute. They expect to spend the winter in the south and report that the weather and bathing are not in it with "old" Michigan according to the letter. Michigan roads are much better than those of the states which the party passed through.

ACTIVITY FOR BUREAU WORK GOING AHEAD

The regular program of the Western Michigan Development Bureau will be pushed ahead according to H. J. Gray, acting secretary, until such time as a permanent secretary-manager is selected. A committee of five has been empowered to select a secretary. This committee will probably report Dec. 15. Six of the 20 counties in the bureau have appropriated $1350 for the bureau.

CAPPON AND ROBY ARE AWARDED LETTERS

More honors have come to Franklin C. Cappon and D. F. Roby, the Holland football stars. Announcement was made Friday by the Michigan News Bureau that the two Holland men had been awarded letters for their work on the University of Michigan football team.

LOCALS

At the Merchant's Association meeting when the camp site for traveling tourists was proposed a clump of woods near Virginia Park store was suggested. It is understood that this belongs to the E. J. Harrington estate, and the late Mr. Harrington in his will expressly stipulates that this woods shall be used for park purposes only.

Grand Haven is to have a big bridge building project on its hands. The present bridge is also used by the Muskegon interurban and is nearly worn out, but it is understood that a new one is to be built, but not in the same location. The new bridge is to cross the River at Ferrysburg, running nearly parallel with the Pere Marquette railroad. This bridge matter is a big proposition, but Grand Haven as usual, is equal to the occasion.

Mrs. C. H. Seevey was called to Portland, Mich., because of the death of her brother Manley Cronkrite.

Fred Wurzburg, the band master who dropped dead at Grand Rapids Tuesday morning of heart failure was at one time leader of the Holland band. This was some years ago when the business men all chipped in and bought instruments and uniforms for the organization. Henry Luidens, cashier of the First State Bank, at that time acted in a sort of supervisory capacity and Mr. Wurzburg gave Holland quite a band for a time. For many years Mr. Wurzburg was leading bandmaster in Grand Rapids. He was born in Germany 68 years ago.

C. J. Drogman was in Grand Rapids today on business.

The press sheet sent out by the Pere Marquette R'y Co., states that the sugar beet season is about to close for this year, as far as shipments are concerned, which is considerably earlier than last year according to the traffic officers of the road.

The committee on poor reported Wednesday night to the council that the sum of $106 had been expended for temporary aid the past three weeks.

It was "Mayor" Brieve again at the meeting of the common council Wednesday night. The "Cookie King" being president pro tem of the council, he is called upon to preside over the meetings in the absence of Mayor Stephan. Mr. Brieve has had some chances lately to fill the mayoralty chair and he wields the gavel like a veteran.

HOLLAND HIGH HAS A HARD SCHEDULE

Prospects are exceptionally bright for another winning basketball team at Holland high school this year. Four veterans of last year's squad are back, Roy Hill, Ted Vanden Brink, Iva Weersing, and Maynard Boone. A wealth of basketball material is out, the entire reserve squad of last year pressing the veterans hard for a berth on the squad besides many other promising candidates. Two new backboards with new leather baskets have been installed in the Gym. Four baskets are now available to take care of the large squad of candidates.

The largest number of candidates ever turned out for basketball responded to the first call by Coach Martin.

The Van Ark Furniture Company is to have an auction sale on some lines of furniture of which they have an overstock. John Raven will be the auctioneer and the sale will start Saturday of this week. Mr.

Van Ark when asked whether this was a going out of business sale, stated emphatically that it was not. He simply was going to reduce some lines of furniture of which he had put in an oversupply and he considered this the quickest method of turning these lines into cash. REVOLUTIONARY FATHERS KNEW MODERN TRICKS

The first of the regular winter meetings of the Sons of the Revolution was held at the home of Dr. Almon Tanner Godfrey. An excellent paper on "Colonial Economics" was read by Mr. Earnest Brooks, which disclosed the fact that concerted agreement and cooperation by agriculturists to restrict production of farm products in order to effect higher prices is not by any means recent origin or occurrence. The Virginia tobacco planters in the 17th century conspired in this very manner "in restraint of trade". The lack of transportation facilities was shown to discourage the development of manufactures, the colonists having had to content themselves with agriculture principally with resultant dependence on commerce with the mother country. The economic events which led to the Boston tea party and to the final break with Great Britain were ably and clearly delineated.

HAS BOULEVARD LIGHT OF HIS OWN

William Van Asselt, who conducts a delicatessen store on East Eighth street has installed a boulevard lighting system of his own that is independent of the general boulevard system soon to be put into operation along Eighth street and River avenue. Mr. Van Asselt's store is located just across the Pere Marquette rail road track, and since the plan for the general boulevard lighting system called for lights only up to Lincoln avenue, he was naturally left out.

He had attempted to have his store included in the system, but in this he was unsuccessful. So he decided to erect a boulevard light standard there at his own expense. He bought one that had to be discarded by one of the banks and had it put in place. It is all ready for business now, but Van Asselt will not turn the juice on until the general system is completed. On the same evening that Holland gets its "white way" for the first time, Van Asselt will turn on the switch and join the procession. "You can't stop a Dutchman," was his comment.

HAULING CARP FROM THE BAY A GREAT SIGHT

Harry Nies and David Blom, who are engaged in carp fishing operations in Pine Creek bay, are having considerable success at the outset of their venture. The first haul gave them two tons of carp which were packed there at the head of the bay and shipped to market in the large cities and the second haul netted tons.

The fishing is done with a large seine that is stretched across the bay, with men on each shore drawing it along toward the creek, and there is little chance for fish to get away when they are bagged in the big seine. The fishermen use a scow and a launch for transportation purposes, and the shipping of carp is expected to attain large proportions. The first haul of two tons seems to show that there are plenty of carp in the bay. The first haul of carp netted a very large quantity of game fish of all varieties and descriptions. The hauling up of the big seine is a sight worth seeing and gives some idea of the submarine life in the bay. Perch and black bass and sunfish and bluegills and speckled and white bass and a dozen other varieties are caught in considerable numbers. All these game fish are returned to the water immediately under the direction of Deputy Game Warden Serier and great care is taken to keep them all alive.

Pine Creek bay is filled with small black bass, which are rather sensitive when small. Their scales come off easily, and when this happens the fish almost invariably die before long. It is admitted by fishing experts that many game fish will die as a result of being handled that way, but it is declared by some that the carp that are taken from the water would destroy many more if left in the bay.

COURT HOUSE OFFICES ARE BEING SHIFTED

Because the Ottawa County Road commission is bursting out of its present quarters in the court house at Grand Haven, a shift in some of the offices have become necessary to make more room. The road commission has previously occupied offices in the basement floor at the southwest corner directly under the county clerk's offices. The location was convenient and the office was ample for awhile.

Only one office room was possible, with a very small anteroom, however. With the addition of the new county road engineer, and the necessary enlargement of the office equipment, one room has proved inadequate. The necessity for a two-room suite, at least, has developed rapidly.

The office of the Ottawa County Road commission will be moved to the northwest corner of the basement floor, fronting Washington street. This gives the commission a two room suite with a vault for the records. Both rooms are to be occupied by the commission.

Bilious Headache Made Her Almost Crazy

[Health Talk No. 30]

By JOHN DE JONGE, D. C.

When the doctor arrived this woman, a refined type given to much mental activity, was pounding her head against the wall. To be sure the pounding was not vicious enough to be injurious, but the jar was all that interrupted the increasing pain and nausea.

In this case the headache was due to the stomach condition. The liver was also inactive. Chiropractic spinal adjustments afforded some measure of immediate relief, enough to enable her to sleep, but it took a long series of adjustments to restore the stomach and liver place spinal nerve openings to normal health of those organs possible. In other cases of headache the chiropractor is quite often able to stop the pain in one adjustment.

Headaches and Indigestion Gone

"Being troubled with headaches, indigestion and inflammatory rheumatism, all of which prescriptions failed to relieve, I finally turned to chiropractic. In two weeks I was normal and able to return to work. I continued adjustments for some time longer and now, thanks to the friend who advised chiropractic, I am well and able to work without interruption."—A. W. Carter, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 1253P.

MORE DETAILS OF TERRIBLE DEATH OF G. H. MAN ARE RECEIVED

A gloom has been cast over the countyseat because of terrible death of John Vyn, considered one of the most popular men in the city of Grand Haven. Mr. Vyn was also very well known in Holland and throughout the county, and had children at Hope College and many relatives living here.

It seems that Chester Brockway of Grand Haven was driving one of the firm's big Reo trucks and John Vyn sat at the driver's left. The driving cab was enclosed and the two men were talking as they approached the dangerous cemetery crossing. Suddenly they looked up and saw the approaching passenger train coming from the east. The truck was then almost upon the track and the oncoming train was so close that there was no chance of stopping the truck. The enclosed cab, possibly shut out the sound of the train's whistle for the crossing.

Driver Brockway crowded on all speed on the chance of getting across the tracks, at the same time shouting to his companion to stick to the cab. By a miracle the powerful truck shot across the rails just as the train swept past, missing the machine by a narrow margin. The terrific power of that final plunge carried the truck fully a length away before the train went over the crossing.

Fearing that the truck was doomed Mr. Vyn leaped out of the truck's cab. The testimony of the train fireman, Thos. R. Holbrook of Detroit furnishes the only information as to how John Vyn met his death. The fireman saw the truck flash across the track, and the next instant he saw a man on the track ahead apparently in a position to spring for safety. He was crouched on one knee and his hands.

The fireman shot to the engineer P. McCall and the air brakes were applied at once. The train came to a stop about 200 feet west of the crossing and the fireman's fears of a tragedy were confirmed. The remains were badly mangled and the train crew completed the identification of the victim through Mr. Vyn's companion.

Brockway the driver, did not see the accident but heard the train whistle wildly and also heard the brakes applied and looked back to see it stopping. Chester Brockway recovering from the strain of the efforts to save his truck noticed that Mr. Vyn was missing. When the train was left in charge of the remains collapsed. He was later removed to Elizabeth Hatton Hospital, in a serious nervous condition.

George Richardson, a Grand Trunk employee who was aboard the train stopped he felt that his employer had been hurt. He ran up the track but pending the arrival of the coroner and the train came on to Grand Haven. The train was in charge of conductor James Buck of Detroit. The train crew stated to Coroner De Boer that the whistles for the crossings were blown and that the bell was ringing. Mr. Boer considered an inquest unnecessary.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Anna Whelan was absent from her classes on Thursday and Friday on account of illness. Mrs. W. C. Kools took her place.

An Interclass basketball tournament was held in the High School Gymnasium on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. Crowds of students lined the balcony and the yelling was very enthusiastic. Four games were played each evening. The senior team was coached by Maynard Boone; the Juniors by Le Roy Hill; Sophomores, Ted Vanden Brink; and Freshmen, Ira Weersing. Each team displayed strength and capability and at this writing the contest remains yet to be concluded, however, the Sophs and Juniors seem leaders.

A new set of trap drums has been presented to the orchestra by the Council. These drums were tried out at the regular practice Tuesday evening.

The Blue Triangle Club gave the Thanksgiving day program in assembly. It was a pageant entitled "The Spirit of Thanksgiving."

Miss Davidson could not meet her classes on Thursday on account of illness.

The State Older Boys' Conference met in Saginaw November 26-28-29. The Hi-Y society in High school sent as delegates to this convention: Quirinus Breen, Egbert Fell, Russell Damstra, John Henry Albers, Ted Hidding, Rutherford Huizenga, John Vanden Brink, Claude Lappinga, and Harold Lievense. Regular meetings, conference was taken; a parade held, and all sessions carried on as usual. Each delegate outlined his visit to the Hi-Y on Friday evening at its meeting.

LANDS ARTICLE IN THE MICHIGAN HISTORY MAGAZINE

The Michigan History Magazine published at Lansing by the Michigan Historical Commission, contains an interesting article about the early history of Port Sheldon written by Ralph Chester Meima, a student at Hope College. The article, which is called, "A Forgotten City," covers thirteen pages of the magazine and it is illustrated with cuts of the original register of the "Ottawa House," now in the historical case of the Grand Haven public library; the handbill announcing opening of the "Ottawa House," now in possession of Mrs. C. E. Mapes, Grand Rapids; and a water color painting of Port Sheldon, largely imaginary, now in the Grand Haven public library.

The article gives an extremely fascinating account of the romantic beginnings of the Port Sheldon boom. It describes graphically the bursting of the bubble and the fading of the dream of a large city at the mouth of Pigeon River.

The Michigan History Magazine is edited by Dr. George N. Fuller, who is taking a personal interest in the Hope College boy's work.

SEEKS TROPHIES OF LATE WAR FOR NEW STATE PARK

William M. Connelly of the Grand Haven State Park commission Thursday mailed a request to Senator Townsend asking him to take steps toward securing captured cannon taken by the American forces in the world war, for the ornamentation of the state park on the shore of Lake Michigan. The park commission received the information that the government was disposing of war trophies for park ornamentation and Senator Townsend has been asked to look the matter up and assist in securing two guns if possible. If they can be secured the cannon will be mounted properly at either end of the state park oval. The commission wants the guns for the purpose of ornamentation only, and not for fortification of the beach oval.

It is believed that the mounted guns would add greatly to the appearance of the park, and will fit into the plan of improvement approved for the park in the near future. The state park commission does not hold the same views of the Chicago park officials who turned down an offer of trophy guns for his parks because he believed the reminders of conflict should not be placed in public places. The Ottawa commission is inclined to the view that American people should not forget the war nor the sacrifices made by American boys. The commissioners see only advantages in the display of the tokens of American victory and they want the guns placed there.

Representatives of the American Legion are co-operating with the park commissioners in the effort to secure trophy guns, and it is believed that Senator Townsend will be able to get action, or to furnish, information as to how the trophies may be secured.

PLANS TO GIVE PLAY EARLY IN JANUARY

"The Man on the Box" is to be given in Holland at Carnegie Gym. January 4 and 5, if the Hope College Dramatic Club plans go through. Although the date is still unauthentic the club expects to give this popular comedy in the near future, and has already begun to carry out its ambitions.

The cast for the play has already been selected, in which "Tut" Baker, of Paterson, N. J. will be the "Man on the Box," and Margaret Van Donzelaar, of this city will play the role of the heroine.

This old-time play is just now at its height and it has been rendered often in various parts of the country.

ODD THEFT IS REPORTED TO GRAND HAVEN POLICE

An odd adventure in burglary was reported to Grand Haven police on Tuesday by A. Cook, who conducts a grocery store at 1118 Washington avenue. Mr. Cook informed the officers that his store had been entered sometime during the night, but the only articles missing were two suit cases which he was holding as security for a grocery bill, which one of his former customers owed him.

Officer Klumpel of Grand Haven investigated the case and discovered that the entry had been made thru a basement window, which is used as a coal chute. The window had been broken out and the prowler had let himself into the coal bin and thence gained access of the store basement.

There were no traces of any attempts to force the door leading up to the store on the ground floor. To all appearances the store proper had not been entered at all. Nothing was disturbed in the basement or in the store and the proprietor could not account for any goods stolen.

The only thing missing was a pair of suit cases which the owner of the store kept stored in the basement. This fact leads to the conclusion on the part of the proprietor that the person who entered the building was seeking only the suit cases and when he secured them he probably left the store by the same avenue he had used to make entry.

The proprietor of the store told officers that the two suit cases had been left with him by a man who owed him a grocery bill. He gave the name of the party who had since moved out of the city, and this is the only lead which the officers have. Suspicion naturally leads in this direction however, although there is absolutely no clew as yet towards its confirmation.

The man who left the suit cases at the store has not been seen in the city for a long time. He is known to a number of people and if he were there recently it is believed that he would have been seen by some one who knew him. The suit cases did not contain enough articles of value it is believed to cause any one to take a chance on such a serious offense as breaking and entering.

As nearly as can be ascertained the suit cases contained some toilet articles, violin music, a violin rack and some other minor musical material. In order to run down their only lead, the police wired the master of the Grand Trunk car ferry which left Grand Haven for Milwaukee on Tuesday morning furnishing him with a description of the owner of the suit cases and asking him to look out for him. The captain was asked to hold and notify in case any one of the description attempted to disembark.

NAVIGATION TO COME TO A CLOSE NEXT SATURDAY

President J. S. Morton of the Graham & Morton Co. announced from his office in Benton Harbor Saturday that navigation on the Holland-Chicago run will come to a close this week Saturday, December 10. The plan is that the last boat of the season shall leave Holland on next Saturday evening, and shippers will be able to deliver their freight at the local dock up to Saturday night. After making the usual trip to Chicago the boat will go back to Benton Harbor where it will go into winter quarters for the season.

This has been the best season of the Graham & Morton Co. for the past fifteen years, according to local manager Johnson. The passenger business has been exceptionally good. This is attributed to the fact that a large number of persons who other years took long trips contented themselves this summer with short trips to resorts not too far from Chicago. The lowering of the passenger rates also had a marked effect on the increase of this type of transportation business.

The freight business was also very good the past season. This was due to the fact that Holland industries have been working all summer to a much larger degree than factories in many other cities. The volume of Holland business handled by the G. & M. boats the past summer was much larger than any one had dared to hope, Mr. Johnson reported Saturday.

The continued fine weather of the fall season also helped to make the season a successful one. The boats have been able to run on schedule almost every day, with the exception of two or three times when heavy seas interfered.

CIGARETTE HELD TO BLAME FOR MUCH EVIL

Interesting and practical talks were given by Prin. J. J. Riemersma, and by Miss Smith of Junior High school, at the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. E. B. Rich, Friday afternoon. Mr. Riemersma spoke on the harmfulness of the cigarette as observed by him in his dealings with boys. Said he, "It is one of the greatest evil influences of the day and large manufacturers forbid its use among the employees. He gave three reasons why a boy should refrain from smoking them. First, a nonsmoker returns a larger dividend for the time and effort spent in gaining an education; second, he will be more sure to succeed in life; and third, he is better equipped physically, mentally and morally for the game of life. A stenographer who smokes them can be only a third or fourth rate one. Nine out of ten cases in the juvenile courts are traceable to the use of cigarettes. No boy can represent high school on any athletic team who is a smoker, because it so weakens the heart or lungs, that it would not be safe. Many become tuberculous from their use. Their moral effect is to make their users untruthful, careless of their personal appearance, and to lose all ambition to succeed at their studies. He stated that he did not wish to give the impression that the situation in High school was at all alarming as not very many of the boys were now using them, but those who do are poorest in their standings and irregular often in their attendance.

Miss Smith then told of conditions in Junior High, saying, that many more of the younger boys were smoking than she had thought possible. Much can be done by the parents in the homes.

The program of the day was in charge of Mrs. Etta Whitman. Current Events were given by Mrs. Blekkink and Mrs. J. Boshka of Macatawa. The devotions were conducted by Mrs. C. P. Dame. Miss Ada Whitman sang two songs, playing her own accompaniments "Lassie O' Mine," by Walt; and "The Night Wind," by Ernest Ball. The tea committee were Mesdames Bottume, Cobb, Hidding and Boshka. The next meeting will be a special Christmas program.

HOLLAND MAN WAS BALD, BUT ALSO BOLD

The following yarn is clipped from the front page of the Chicago Daily News, where it appeared under the caption, "There Pills Go too Furr."

There are some things worse than baldness. And yet under every shiny pate lingers some remnant of desire for a hairsute covering.

Herr Wilhelm von Gasthaus, the prominent chemist of the Bayern Antlin company of Germany, realized this elemental principal during the war when he paused in his manufacture of TNT to consider the future.

"Tin hats will make the fighting forces of the world baldheaded," he declared. "After the war there will be a demand for a hair tonic that will really work."

And of this observation came the "Hirsutal pills," the most marvelous discovery of the age. The pills taken internally are guaranteed by the manufacturer to grow hair on the smoothest head. They were brought to this country last month by agents of German chemical concerns and made their appearance in Chicago a week ago. Gottlieb Mueller, a dye salesman brought in a hatful of the pills with his usual samples of methyl violet and open-hearth indigo.

Out of the goodness of his heart he gave a dozen of his hair growing pills to M. J. Harrison, a chemist of the Holland Aniline company of Holland, Mich. In all the district bordering upon the great lakes there was no dome quite so brilliant as Harrison's. He took the pills very bravely. He was bold as well as bald.

Today J. F. Quinlan, an official of the company who lives at 1403 Cuyler avenue, received a wild protest from the chemist.

"Something must be done about this German chemical invasion," declared Harrison over the long-distance phone. "This hair tonic is a diabolical device calculated to bury our American institutions under a mattress of curled hair. It is a wigged plot."

"Doesn't it grow hair?" he was asked.

"That's the trouble. It grows hair all right, but it doesn't confine the growing to the head. I took an over dose and found out."

"Inside of five minutes I had raised a beard six inches long and my clothes began to feel uncomfortable. I was sprouting a fur coat like a collie dog, only much thicker. I rushed to a barber shop and attempted to keep my face from total obliteration in this jungle. My eyebrows had grown so long that I could hardly see, and my mustache was covering my nose so that I could not breathe."

"Five barbers started work on me at once in a frantic effort to save my life. It was a hard race. The hair kept growing faster than they could shave it off. In the end the life shavers won. The effect of the pills wore off partially. I went home in a taxi cab because the fur on the soles of my feet made walking feel like a march over a doormat."

"I hope now that I can find a good German depilatory to be taken internally as an antidote. Then, perhaps, I shall be restored to my position in my family and my hair apparent will recognize his hairy parent."

Those who have studied the habits of fur-bearing coal dealers say that it's going to be a hard winter.

HAIR GROWING YARN STILL GOING STRONG

The yarn about the hair-restorer pills in which M. J. Harrison, a chemist of the Holland Aniline company, is supposed to have figured, is still going strong in various publications throughout the United States. The story was first published in the Chicago Evening News, occupying a place of honor on the front page. The News devoted nearly a column to it. The Sentinel reprinted it from that paper about a month ago, and various other publications took the yarn over from the Chicago News.

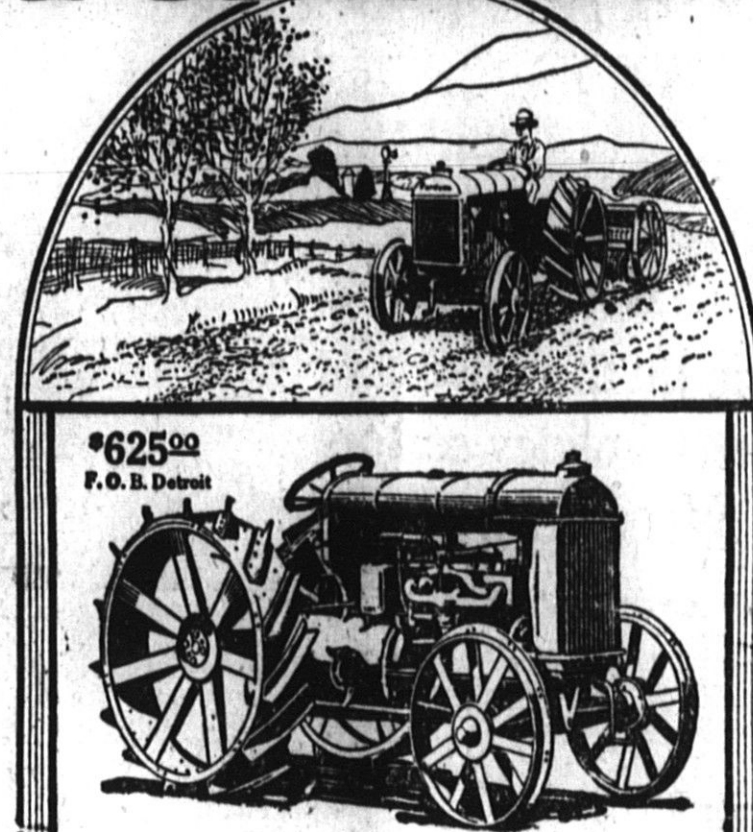

A recent issue of the Saturday Blade prints not only the story of how the Holland man took the pills and then found hair growing so fast all over his body that he had to keep five barbers busy all the time to cut it, but the Blade also prints a cartoon of the barbers at work. The Holland man looks like a prehistoric wild man in the cartoon, with hair several inches long all over his body. Three barbers are at work on him with clippers, and one with a pair of shears. The colored porter stands watching the hair cutting, a regulation minstrel smile on his face from ear to ear.

A. N. Lindeborg has just returned from Chicago where he went to purchase a stock of Christmas goods for his drug store.

man whose identity, if known, has not been divulged.

This came to light in the investigation of the circumstances surrounding Handy's murder. His mutilated body, partly decomposed by submergence in water, was brought to the surface in the shallows of St. Joseph river directly north of the fish wharves, late Thursday by current set in motion by the propeller of a fish tug. The corpse was anchored to a 50 pound rock. The back of the skull was crushed as by stone or club and there was a deep gash over the right temple.

Authorities are searching for Handy's companion, who is said to have been engaged in intermittent periods with Handy in the sale of potatoes. Handy, a man of considerable wealth was depressed by family troubles and separation from his wife. In the early summer he spent his time about a feed barn, employees say, and he always carried large sums of money and this information strengthens the robbery theory. Handy also is reputed to have been miserly and his characteristic is accountable for his not taking a trolley car on the night of his disappearance, when he is thought to have been carrying considerable funds. Only one cent and a knife were found in his pockets.

Make This a Warm HOME Christmas

A thoroughly good heating plant in the basement will add to the perfect joy of a merry holiday season. Our proposition makes it easy. We will install immediately a and you can enjoy it three months before you pay a cent on it. This offer holds good up to and including December 20th. You could not ask more in a heating plant than you get with a HOME HOT BLAST FURNACE, whether Pipe, Pipeless, or Triplex.

Either type is fundamentally right. Is easy to run. Saves expensive fuel. The HOME combustion system is scientifically correct. All soot and gases are burned. All heat goes into the house, not up the chimney.

HOME parts are made of the best materials for lifetime service. The easy operating breast-high shaker handle is only one of the list of practical features which make the HOME supreme.

No smoke, no clinkers, no dust, less ashes, less care in firing, less coal to buy. Installed by factory mechanics and satisfaction guaranteed.

This is a good offer. Avoid the rush of a late order. Get in touch with us TODAY so you won't be disappointed.
