Local Foundry Plant May "Lock Horns" With City

OPENING OF EAST NINTH STREET BY CITY RESENTED BY FOUNDRY COMPANY

A matter of unusual importance and far reaching in scope is one between the city of Holland and the Manufacturers Foundry company on East 8th street, formerly known as the Western Foundry company.

The story goes back at least ten years when the Western Foundry of Chicago contemplated the erection of a branch foundry of tremendous proportions and it was found that with the expected expansion considerable ground was needed and it meant the closing of East Ninth street for 400 feet west of Fairbanks avenue.

The first unit of the Western Foundry was built and the abrupt ending of the war and other business conditions, it is said, put a stop to further development. The plant has lain idle for more than a half dozen years and no one seemed to remember or paid any attention to the closing of Ninth street. What brought the matter up was the re-opening of M21 over Fairbanks avenue, which will soon become a fact when the new road is completed. The city then felt that it had used for East Ninth street because of this re-opening and the common council appointed City Attorney C. H. McBride, Aldermen Wm. C. Vandenberg, F. N. Jonkman and Frank Brieve to take up this matter and re-open East Ninth street on the claim that the Western Foundry company had violated its agreement with the city of Holland and that the contemplated improvements were chronicled.

Anytime some time before the council committee took up this matter local people became interested in this plant that had been dead industrially for a long time. They bought up the plant and renamed it the Manufacturers Foundry company. With the property they naturally purchased all the rights that the Western Foundry had, which, according to the officials of the company, included a deed of 400 feet on East Ninth street, west of Fairbanks avenue.

It also appears that when the deal was made with Western Foundry that a council committee met with Henry P. Zwemer and property owners, John Elhart, A. Hamelink, and Henry Kievit, who were paid certain sums to cover damages to their property that they would sustain because of the closing of this street.

Another consideration that the present company contends was that the council insisted that if this street was closed then provisions should be made for a small narrow street, 33 feet wide, leading from Ninth street to Eighth street, so that property owners would have easy access to their property. Apparently some provision was made for Gerritson place and there is a short cut to motorists that is a short cut from Ninth street to Eighth street going to Grand Rapids or from Eighth street to Ninth street returning home thus avoiding the traffic jam at the Pere Marquette depot.

Anyway the new company states that it has all the documentary evidence, the resolutions passed by the common council several years ago, the deed to the property involved and correspondence relating to that time. The local men who purchased the plant claim that they purchased all these rights and further that they have spent considerable money reconditioning the plant which now has a pay roll of $60,000 a year and that they have great plans for the future and with any development or enlargement at all, the land in question will have to be available. If it is not available then it is useless to attempt any expansion, they say. They also contend that a bond issue covering the property of the plant is also involved.

What brought the matter to a head was when a few days ago city officials ordered employees to clean up the street preparatory to occupancy by the city. The officials of the Manufacturers Foundry company then immediately took action through its officials, Henry Winter, vice-president, and John Wenderhorst, secretary, filed in circuit court injunction proceedings restraining the city from occupying the street and trespassing thereon. The document was filed at Grand Haven late Thursday afternoon by Attorneys Robinson and Parsons, who are representing the company.

It is hoped that the Holland officials and the Foundry company can get together and iron this matter out in an amicable manner. The officials of the Manufacturers Foundry company feel that all these years no attempt was made to reclaim the street and the plant was dead and now that the breath of life has been blown into the enterprise by local capital, an attempt should be made to encourage rather than to discourage their efforts.

According to their report the plant is paying $60,000 a year in wages and the officials feel that this surely is a better showing than when the plant was idle and paid nothing.

The council committee contends that according to a supreme court decision this or any other city cannot give their streets away for any purpose. The attorney for the company contends, however, that such a decision is not in point and that there are other decisions just the contrary.

GEO. GETZ START BUILDING $3,000,000 YACHT CLUB HOUSE

The Chicago newspapers are picturing Geo. F. Getz of Lakewood farm as the chairman of the building committee who are to supervise the erection of a $3,000,000 Chicago Yacht Club building for which ground was broken Saturday. The club house will be in Grand Park on the Lake front, off Monroe Street, and will be part of the coming World's Fair permanent improvement plans. The Great Lakes Navy Station Band of 60 pieces was present.

Banquet for Business Men Next Month

HOLLAND MERCHANTS PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR

The last meeting of the Holland Merchants Association for 1929 was held Tuesday and plans are already being formed for the annual banquet to be held at the Masonic Temple some time in January. President Austin Harrington selected Harry Harrington, chairman; Charles A. French and Fred Beeuwkes as a committee to look after a suitable speaker and possibly Dr. Rice, who made such a wonderful impression in a recent lecture at M. E. church, may be induced to come.

The executive staff of the Merchants' association must also be re-elected in January. The nomination committee named by Austin Harrington were Ben Mulder, chairman; Henry Kraker, Joe Kardux, Milo De Vries, Gerard Cook.

The officers whose term of office expire are president Austin Harrington, vice-president Geo. Steffens, secretary Joe Kardux, treasurer "Heinie" Geerdts, directors Charles A. French, Jacob Lokker, Henry Kraker, Bert Gebben, Herman De Fokker.

Jacob Lokker made a protest at the meeting that when broken glass was found on the street this should be picked up, either by officers or by the persons responsible for the glass being there. The matter will be taken up with Chief Van Ry.

A resolution was passed and sent to Manager Carley of the local theaters thanking him for running the "Shop Early and Shop in Holland" films in his theatres without cost to the merchants or the Chamber of Commerce. The genial manager has always been anxious and most willing to co-operate.

Chairman Harrington stated that he was pleased with the co-operation he had received during the year and he thanked the officials who worked with him for their efforts. Joe Kardux, the secretary, especially came in for a few bouquets. Mr. Harrington stated also that it would be well to graduate the officers to higher positions, suggesting, for instance, that vice-president Steffens be made president for the coming year.

Another To Be Added To Local "Legal Lights"

DONALD SEVERANCE "HANGS OUT SHINGLE" AS ATTORNEY

Holland has another attorney in the person of Mr. Donald B. Severance and he has opened offices on the second floor of the Kremers building opposite by Attorney Fred P. Miles, now judge of the Ottawa and Allegan county circuit court, for a number of years.

Mr. Severance was admitted to the Michigan State Bar, Judge William Brown of Grand Rapids presiding over the proceeding that allows the young Holland man to practice in the courts of Michigan. It so happened that Judge Brown was presiding in the Ottawa county circuit at Grand Haven in the place of Judge Cross in the hearing of a damage suit and it was rather a coincidence that Mr. Severance should have been admitted to the bar in his own county, which also seldom happens.

Donald Severance had already passed the State Bar examination at Lansing and came through with flying colors. However, he was still under age and did not gain his majority until a few days ago when his admission was permitted. The motion was made by his former employer, Judge Fred T. Miles, under whose guidance he had been studying for the past few years.

Mr. Severance has shown that he has an unusual knowledge of the law for one so young and his interest in law has been exceptional.

Davis Goes With Utilities Gas-Electric Co.

FORMER HOLLAND GAS MANAGER TAKES POSITION IN CHICAGO

Emory P. Davis, for 16 years manager of the Holland Gas Co., and for the past two years constructing and managing a large plant in South America, has been made general manager and vice president of the Utilities Gas and Electric Co., with headquarters in Chicago.

This company has as its president Byron T. Gifford, a man well known in Holland from the fact that some eight years ago he was employed by the city to prepare figures on the Holland Gas Co.'s earnings to be submitted to the Michigan Public Utilities Commission at Lansing upon which rates were based.

The company with which Mr. Davis is connected has some valuable gas and electric properties in Wisconsin, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee and it will be the work of Mr. Davis to inspect these various plants in the capacity of new construction engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will leave Holland for Chicago today and will make their home at the Plaisance Hotel. It is rather interesting to note that this hotel is located at the entrance to what during the Columbus World's Fair at Chicago in 1893 was the Midway Plaisance, and will be so remembered by our older residents.

Mr. Davis states that some old landmarks of that big fair are still in evidence, including the German building and the Fine Arts Hall, now being made over, and is to be ready in time for the exposition to be held in 1933. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have a host of friends living in Holland who will be pleased to hear that they are to be located near this city at least.

Local Law Firm Victors In Big Akron, Ohio Suit

RUBBER INDUSTRY INTERESTED GREATLY IN CASE WHICH INVOLVES HUGE SUMS

L. A. Laursen, Inventor of Patented Processes Here for Conference

A recent news item in the Akron, Ohio, Beacon-Journal has an account of a law case in which the firm of Robinson and Parsons of this city won a signal victory. The case is of widespread interest because it is the outcome of the revolution brought about in the manufacturing of inner tubes through the use of patented processes of L. A. Laursen, scientist and inventor, formerly a resident of Eau Claire, Wis., now living in Akron, Ohio.

Practically all of the big rubber companies, including Goodyear, St. Ignace, U. S. Rubber Co., Goodrich, and other companies such as the Ajax, Gillette Rubber Co., and the Mansfield Rubber Co., are using the Laursen processes. The processes are also used in Japan, Australia, and England.

The Beacon-Journal item discloses that Mr. Laursen is the victor in one more of a series of cases which have arisen as the result of several individuals claiming that they have a right to certain financial returns from the successful operation of the Laursen processes. The particular suit referred to is one in which A. K. Heald and he built a planning mill on what is now the postoffice site. Later it became the Phoenix planing mill, owned by Ryn Werkman and Co. and the Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. Mr. and Mrs. Scott opened a small hotel at the northwest corner of Columbus avenue and Ninth street. Part of the building still remains. In 1881 he opened the first hotel at Macatawa-Hotel.

With the recent celebration of the "Golden Jubilee" of Thomas Edison and his invention of electric light, makes me think back to the light in general use by Holland's early pioneers. Candles of the home-made variety was all the go. The introduction of the kerosene lamp was an event in the early days. The first lamp of that kind shed a beautiful light when compared with the tallow candle. The contrast was as great as the kerosene lamp of yesterday is to the electric light of today but, withal, the Hollanders were skeptical people. They were afraid of the modern kerosene lamp. They had heard of explosions and there were many until the users became aware that the bowl should be only three-quarters filled with kerosene in order to leave room for the gas. A filled lamp was often the cause of a blow-up and a fire because of the dangerous elements the suit was filed, but the actual amount at stake now is said to be in excess of $100,000. Laursen had worked out the water cure process in Eau Claire where Hutchinson was at the time general manager of the Gillette Rubber Co.

The article further implies that Attorney Robinson and his legal associates representing Laursen brought out at the trial that there was no written evidence of an agreement as between Mr. Laursen and Mr. Heald and it was agreed that Mr. Laursen, who was living in Eau Claire should use the Gillette Rubber company machine shop in that city and other facilities in an effort to perfect a water cure.

The paper further states: "This occurred in 1923, a time in which the larger rubber plants were still employing a process of rap-rapping to cure inner tubes and other rubber products. Laursen was successful in contriving a curing process and later sold it on a royalty basis to the three Akron rubber plants, the Ajax Tire Co., and the Mansfield Tire Co. Mr. Laursen soon thereafter came to Akron to supervise the installation of his process in the case of the large tire plant which has proved very successful up to this time but it appears according to the Akron paper that the success that crowned his efforts brought legal entanglements with some of the former associates, and these matters have been occupying the courts now."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

While a fine ox, belonging to Mr. Mayboer, residing three miles north of Holland, was quietly grazing in Mr. Van Rilla's pasture, some culprit, devoid of any feeling, shot a load of coarse shot in the animal's shoulders, disabling the said ox on Sunday. This brave (?) defender of the potato patch ought to move to "Yazoo," Mississippi.

There was a wheat panic 50 years ago judging from this item: "Thousands have been ruined during the week by speculating in wheat. Stocks of all kinds are maelstroms of high finance and the man who buys today knows not what he can sell tomorrow for he may not have anything to sell. The moral of speculation is to put your money in honest investments."

Born-To Mr. and Mrs. Otto Breyma, a son.

Quite a conservation was made on Wednesday last by a vicious dog biting the arm of young Harry Doebber, oldest son of J. O. Doebber. The dog was afterwards shot by the city marshal. The multiplicity of vicious and worthless dogs will not be abated in this city until hydrophobia fills a few graves, we presume. Note-Well, it didn't get Harry; he is still alive and kicking in that drug store of his.

The first dance of the season will be held at Phoenix hotel with music furnished by the Holland City Quadrille Band. Note-The Phoenix hotel was located along the west side of the P. M. railroad tracks between East Eighth and Ninth streets and was managed by "Jim" Ryder.

Johannes Dykema was appointed chairman of the Board of Education in the place of Dr. B. Ledebor, who died a few months ago. Note-Mr. Dykema was the father of Martin Dykema of Meyers Mills, Pa. and of John Dykema of the Model Laundry. He held many positions of trust in his day in church, as well as in civic affairs.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Dr. G. J. Kollen, president of Hope College, returned from New York city, where he went in behalf of the college. He stated that he visited Madison Square Garden where election returns were received and it was a roaring, seething mass rejoicing over the fact that Roosevelt had been elected president.

Dr. B. J. DeVries, alderman of the first ward, and Miss Josephine Augustyn of Milwaukee were quietly wed.

The death of W. J. Scott, father of Dr. Preston Scott, took place at the home on Columbia avenue and Ninth street at the age of 79 years. Note-Mr. Scott opened the first American hotel in this city in 1860. It was located across from the present site of the Ottawa Furniture Co. on River avenue. He owned a planing mill on the site of the Ottawa. Later he went in partnership with A. K. Heald and they built a planing mill on what is now the postoffice site. Later it became the Phoenix planing mill, owned by Ryn Werkman and Co. and the Scott-Lugers Lumber Co. Mr. and Mrs. Scott opened a small hotel at the northwest corner of Columbus avenue and Ninth street. Part of the building still remains. In 1881 he opened the first hotel at Macatawa-Hotel.

THIS AND THAT ABOUT COLONIAL LIFE IN HOLLAND

By Albert Kamferbeck

With the recent celebration of the "Golden Jubilee" of Thomas Edison and his invention of electric light, makes me think back to the light in general use by Holland's early pioneers. Candles of the home-made variety was all the go. The introduction of the kerosene lamp was an event in the early days. The first lamp of that kind shed a beautiful light when compared with the tallow candle. The contrast was as great as the kerosene lamp of yesterday is to the electric light of today but, withal, the Hollanders were skeptical people. They were afraid of the modern kerosene lamp. They had heard of explosions and there were many until the users became aware that the bowl should be only three-quarters filled with kerosene in order to leave room for the gas. A filled lamp was often the cause of a blow-up and a fire because of the dangerous elements that was still in kerosene until the advent of the automobile when the explosive properties of benzine and gasoline were taken out of the oil for commercial use. You never hear of a lamp explosion today.

Anyway with the bowl three-quarters filled, naturally the wick in the lamp did not last so long and through force of necessity a piece of cotton cloth was sewed to the end of the wick before it was deposited in the lamp bowl and thus at least part of a wick was saved. This would seem like extreme economy today, but let me tell you, money was a scarce article and even pennies looked big to the pioneer and the throwing away of a part of the lamp wick was unthinkable. Circumstances forced the pioneer to practice such rigid economy if they were ever to work out their own salvation.

Damage Suit Falls Flat In Circuit Court

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION IS VAN ARK AND DE FREE COMPANY COURT MATTER

A very important suit, lasting the greater part of three days, has been completed in circuit court. Action was brought by B. H. Bowmanmaster of Holland, administrator for the estate of his son, Arthur Bowmanmaster of Central Park, who was killed last winter near the sink hole at Vriesland. The suit involved City Assessor Peter H. Van Ark of Holland, and the De Free company of Zeeland, and a damage was instituted in the amount of $25,000.

The case was tried before Judge Wm. Brown of Grand Rapids, who acted in the place of Judge Orie S. Cross. The suit was the outgrowth of an accident that occurred in Zeeland, 1928, on M21 east of Zeeland during a snow storm in which Arthur Bowmanmaster was killed. A Mr. Ver Plank got into trouble with his car, was stuck at the side of the road when John H. De Pree and Len De Zwaan of Zeeland came along in the De Pree company car. They parked their car along the roadside, asking if they could be of some assistance. Shortly afterwards Arthur Bowmanmaster and his sister, Mrs. Theresa Du Mez of Central Park, who were on their way to Grand Rapids with a truck of Mr. Bowmanmaster's father of Holland, came along, nearly colliding with the De Pree Bowmanmaster stopped his car not far from where a ditch had cut along the highway were Bowmanmaster, too, left his truck to see if he could be of any assistance, but finding that no more help was needed, he started back to his own car in order to proceed to Grand Rapids. Just at that time Peter Van Ark came from Holland with a sedan. He struck the Bowmanmaster truck on the left side, about two feet behind the cab. This threw the truck around so that the front end, which had been on the pavement, swung around to the right, facing south, and the rear end swung around to the north onto the pavement. When the collision was over Arthur Bowmanmaster was found lying on the pavement in a dazed condition and badly mangled. He was rushed into a passing car, taken to the Zeeland hospital, where he soon died of his injuries.

The suit was brought by Benj. H. Bowmanmaster for the estate of his son, charging contributory negligence against Wm. De Pree Co. and Peter Van Ark, and asking for $25,000 damages. Judge Brown found that the De Pree Co. was in no way responsible and dismissed the case against that company. A motion for similar action was made by Van Ark's attorneys but Judge Brown ruled "There might be a question of fact which the jury could pass upon" and the suit was continued after nearly a three-day trial the jury gave the case at 5 p.m. and returned a verdict at 11 p.m. of no cause for action; a signal victory for the defense.

Peter Van Ark, when placed upon the witness stand, stated that he was driving a Studebaker car, that the brakes had been tested, that he was on his way to Grand Rapids with two ladies as passengers, namely, Mrs. Walter Morris and Mrs. Nellie Lokker. He stated that he was not driving over 25 miles an hour but when approaching the truck there was a heavy snowstorm which obscured his vision. He applied his brakes when he vaguely saw the danger, slid along the icy pavement, struck the Bowmanmaster car, succeeded on the shoulder of the road for about 40 feet. He stated that he immediately stepped out and went to Bowmanmaster's assistance and helped him to the car that took him to the Zeeland hospital, and then notified the police of what had taken place.

Other witnesses were Benjamin Bowmanmaster, father of the young man who was killed, Dr. Ralph Ten Have of Zeeland, who attended Bowmanmaster, Louis Brewera, a salesman, Mrs. Theresa Du Mez, John De Pree and others.

The attorneys for the defense were Lokker & Den Herder and Attorney Lindsey of Grand Rapids, the plaintiffs, Hoffman and Hoffman.

The jury is composed of the following: Asa Brown, Allendale; George Matthews, Spring Lake; John De Vries, Grand Haven; Charles Werly, Crockett township; Harry Pellegrom, Grand Haven township; George Vander Bie, Mrs. Hesper Raymond, John Van Tatenhove, Benjamin Hamm of Holland; Arthur H. Ringelberg and Henry Albers, Grand Haven; Frank Stephens, Wright township.

LARGE OIL STATION WHERE GROCERY STORE STOOD BEFORE

Joe Kardux who conducted a grocery at River and Seventh streets has gone out of the business and the old store building, that for many years housed the grocery of the late Albert Hidding, is being torn down to make room for a large oil and service station. Mr. Kardux has leased the corner to the Sinclair Oil company for a period of ten years and it is understood that "Joe" is to become associated with the business at that busy corner.

ANYWHERE IN THE UNITED STATES FOR $1.00

Why not send the Holland City News as a Christmas present to a loved one abroad?

The price from now to January 1st, 1931, is $1.00.

A weekly reminder of Christmas for more than a year to come.

Rev. J. Lansing of the Immanuel church holding services at the Woman's Literary club rooms in continuing his sermon on Revelation will take up "The church of Smyrna." This church is seen in the time of persecution where many were martyred for the cause of Christ.

MERCHANTS TO REMAIN OPEN FOR CHRISTMAS

Holland merchants at the regular monthly meeting have decided to keep their places of business open evenings for four days before Christmas. The evenings selected are: Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 20, 21, 22, and 23. Christmas falls on Wednesday, Dec. 25 this year. It will be well however, to remind folks that when they shop early a better selection can be made and this can be done without rushing. Remember too that every dollar spent in Holland builds Holland and we surely need a little building just now.

COUNCIL NOTES

The common council met in regular session with all the "city fathers" present. Father Dr. D. Douglas of Grace Church was in charge of devotions.

Howard Lane was given a license to sell soft drinks in the Green Mill Bowling alleys.

Lane Kardux was given a building permit to erect a gasoline filling station at the corner of River and Seventh street. The building will cost $5,000 or over. The permit was approved by Fire Chief Blom. Ald. McLean made the motion to grant the permit and Wm. C. Vandenberg supported the motion.

The oath of office of Ben Mulder as a member of the Harbor Board in the place of A. H. Landwehr, resigned, was approved and filed.

Mrs. Lizzie Kakebeke, State Inspector of the State Department of Labor and Industry, who had visited Holland recently on a thorough inspection tour, sent in a communication commending Holland and City Inspector Henry S. Bosch on the sanitary conditions and the manner in which the employers of labor comply with all state regulations. She stated that Holland, taking it all in all, was far in the forefront of other cities.

The residents on 21st street asked that a light be placed in the middle of the block between Central and College avenues. The matter was referred to the light committee.

The Holland Merchants' association will have the use of the small court room on the third floor in the city hall every first Monday in the month without interference. This was granted by the Common Council on motion of Ald. Jonkman, supported by Ald. Brieve. Secretary Joe E. Kardux brought the matter up. In the past there has been some conflict as to who should have the room on certain nights, causing inconvenience, but this irons the matter out.

John De Bly, secretary of the Holland Winter Sports club, petitioned the council for help in maintaining skating ponds during the winter, and also recommended that the city erect a toboggan slide at Kollen Park or at some other suitable location. The matter was referred to the playground committee of which Ald. Andrew Hyma is chairman.

Ald. Westing reports welfare as follows: Regular aid given, $124.00, temporary aid given, $188.81, total $312.81.

The milk ordinance will soon be revised according to the ordinance committee. The zoning ordinance did not fare so well, and after due consideration the committee decided that no changes would be made in that law at this time.

Ald. Joldersma, on behalf of the Willard Leenhouts Post, American Legion, reported having received the "safety signs" to be placed at the various entrances to the city and presented one of these for the inspection of the aldermen. This safety work is being sponsored by the local Legion Post and the council is co-operating.

Ald. Wm. C. Vandenberg brought up the matter asking co-operation with the various agencies in the city who are fostering the erection of a stadium. He recommended that a joint meeting be called, with representatives from all the various clubs and other agencies now backing this worthy project. On motion of Ald. Kleis, supported by Ald. Brieve, Ald. Andrew Hyma, chairman of the playground committee, was appointed by the council to represent the city at a meeting to be held at City Clerk Peterson was instructed to call such a meeting and do the inviting of those persons vitally interested.

The Board of Health wants to kill off the mosquitoes in the Holland vicinity and in a communication to the common council tells the reasons why. The matter was referred to the committee representing the Gorras Memorial Institute of which Dr. A. Leenhouts is chairman. This institute has done much to eradicate the summer pest elsewhere and Holland may fall in line.

The common council allowed the request of the Police Board for a Ford coupe costing $568 as recommended by the Ways and Means committee.

The Board of Public Works will again take care of the lighting of the Christmas trees in Centennial Park from Christmas eve until and including New Years night.

On motion of Ald. McLean the board was also instructed to light up the large Christmas trees in the grounds surrounding the home of Mr. G. J. Diekema, minister to the Netherlands. Mr. and Mrs. "Diek" will not be here to see them lighted but the citizens of Holland will be privileged to view them as they have for so many years when the owner of the property was still in Holland.

A resolution was passed that the traffic light on the corner of Central avenue and Seventh street be changed to the corner of River avenue and Seventh street, and the police board was instructed to make the change. The change is a good one.

Much Money Is Collected In Local Churches

One Church Donates Nearly $2,000 Thanksgiving Day

In Holland, Thanksgiving day is always associated with free giving, especially in the Reformed churches, these donations being diverted to different channels. The money is used for various purposes, including denominational benevolences, Christian schools and charity.

The largest collection was in Ninth Street Christian Reformed church where $1,955.95 was given. The second largest was at the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church where $1,020.83 was deposited in the collection plate. The First Reformed church of Holland received a donation of $532.86. This denomination recently received an added donation from an unknown donor of $1,000. The gift was specified to go to missions.

No report was received from Hope church but the total collection was divided between the hospital at Cuterville and the Bethesda Sanitarium at Denver, Colo. The denominations that reported are the following: Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church, Rev. D. Zwaers, pastor, $930.34.

Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church, Rev. P. Jonker, pastor, $365.00.

Prospect Park Christian Reformed church, Rev. L. Van Laar, pastor, $785.00.

Third Reformed church, Rev. J. M. Martin, pastor, $1,009.02.

Sixth Reformed church, Rev. J. Vanderbeek, pastor, $415.00.

First Reformed church, Rev. J. Weyer, pastor, $532.36.

Seventh Reformed church, Rev. P. Van Erden, pastor, $231.00.

Fourth Reformed church, Rev. H. Van Dyke, pastor, $210.00.

Bethel Reformed church, Rev. E. Tanis, pastor, $207.25.

Trinity Reformed church, Rev. C. P. Dams, pastor, $647.00.

Central Avenue Christian Reformed church, Rev. L. Veltkamp, pastor, $1,480.00.

Some churches of other denominations are not reported in this list since these have other methods of collecting funds for similar purposes at different times during the year which does not happen to be on Thanksgiving day.

It goes without saying that the churches not mentioned are doing their full share along these lines.

BANK CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CHECKS MAILED MONDAY

The three local banks, namely the Holland City bank, People's State and First State banks will mail their Christmas Club checks to their respective patrons next Monday. In all $215,060 will be disbursed by the three banks. The Christmas Savings plan has surely taken hold of Holland and no better method to save with money available when it is most needed—could be devised. Savings Clubs for 1930 have again opened at the different banks.

ZEELAND BANKS PAY $48,000 IN CHRISTMAS SAVINGS

The two Zeeland banks will pay Christmas Savings checks next Monday. The Zeeland State bank has more than 600 patrons who will receive over $30,000 and the Commercial and Savings bank has 400 patrons who will receive $18,000.

The Grand Haven State Bank, in that city, the first to use the Christmas savings plan over 10 years ago, reported approximately $64,000 would be sent out to 1,600 accounts; The Peoples Bank of Grand Haven has about $31,000 for 800 accounts and the Spring Lake State Bank $13,000 for 400 customers.

A Parent-Teachers' meeting will be held in the First Methodist church on Friday evening.

Central avenue and Seventh street be changed to the corner of River avenue and Seventh street, and the police board was instructed to make the change. The change is a good one.

A resolution was also passed setting aside a suitable room in the city hall for the use of the new circuit court judge Fred T. Miles, and that Mr. Miles be extended an invitation to occupy this room in the conducting of circuit court matter and as a convenience to the public who have dealings in this court.

Ald. Paul Scholten sprung a surprise when he handed in his resignation as alderman of the Sixth ward. Mr. Scholten has sold his home here and will move to Grand Rapids. His new job as vice-president of the Associated Truck Lines and because of the recent consolidation make it necessary for him to reside in the "Furniture City," where he has his offices, and where he has also purchased a new home. Mr. Scholten regretted his leaving the council and thanked his fellow members for their friendly spirit and co-operation during his term in office. The resignation was accepted with regrets and a new alderman was appointed in the person of former Ald. Wm. Vissers. The motion was made by Ald. Ben Veltman. After the meeting Ald. Scholten gave his associates a spread at Keefe's cafe. Mr. Vissers received the unanimous vote of all the aldermen and will hold the office until next election in the spring, when a nomination will be made.

Alderman Veltman, chairman of the music committee, reported the annual meeting of the American Legion band and the general progress reported at that meeting. "The report showed the band had had a very busy and successful year." Alderman Veltman said, "and the coming year promises to be as successful and the band hopes to get the support of the entire city and to be a credit to the city as in the past."

DOBBIN IS STILL

ON THE JOB, SAYS
WAYNE DINSMORE

The popular opinion that the horse is a back number is refuted by Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse Association of America comments the South Bend Tribune. While horses are not so numerous on city streets, their use is increasing on farms. Lower prices of feed, grain and hay make it more economical for the farmer to use horses, according to Mr. Dinsmore, and large "hitches" of six, eight and nine animals have been found more practical than small ones. America has 22,500,000 horses, it is announced, but only 1,750,000 are used in cities.

Members of the Horse Association contend that motor-driven machines will never completely take the place of beasts of burden. Horses, they say, will always be indispensable, even in cities, because they can be used more economically in short hauls. They point to the increase of house-to-house delivery of foodstuffs, particularly bread, as a factor which insures a place for horses in the field of industry. This is logical, for where speed is not desirable and stops are frequent the horse cannot be improved upon. At any rate, it is pleasant to be reminded that old Dobbin is not yet on his way to the realm of things that were.

GOV. FRED GREEN IS NOT
DRAWING HIS SALARY

It has been mentioned that Gov. Green has not cashed any of his pay checks since he became chief executive Jan. 1, 1927. His salary as Governor is $5,000 a year, so his semi-monthly pay check is $208.33. But in not collecting on his pay checks until he retires as Governor, he then will probably cash them all at one time—he is not establishing a precedent. Calvin S. Brice was elected United States Senator from Ohio in 1891. He was a graduate of the law school of the University of Michigan, in one of the classes of the later '60s, later heavily interested in Standard Oil and rated many times a millionaire. It is told of Senator Brice that he did not collect any of his salary during his six-year term. Then the Senate paymaster gave him the lump sum of $30,000. A senator's salary at that period was $5,000 a year. Quizzed by a friend as to why he had not drawn his salary on regular paydays he replied that he had forgotten to do so.

PLAY GROUNDS GIVEN SUP-
PORT FROM DUTCH FOLKS

The first national congress of The Netherlands on public playing fields was recently held in Amsterdam. A resolution was unanimously adopted urging the necessity of spreading the playground movement throughout the country, and a committee was appointed to carry out the purpose of the congress with the aim of forming a national playing field league.

The playground movement in The Netherlands originated in 1902 when a playground society of parents was formed in Amsterdam to provide "play gardens" for children. Now there are more than 30 such district societies in Amsterdam and several in other parts of the country. At present there are 25 play gardens in Amsterdam and four so-called "sand playgrounds," for which the municipality appropriates more than 140,000 florins (about $56,000) a year, and investigation has shown that as many more are needed.

HOLLAND DISPLAYS PHOTOS OF ALL BUT ONE OF EX-MAYORS

Large photographs of mayors of Holland from the time Holland was incorporated as a city in 1887, with Isaac Cappon as the first chief executive, are on display in the council chamber of the city hall. The photographs cover a space all around the room. They are uniformly framed and are of equal size. There are 24 photographs although Holland has had 25 mayors. The missing one is that of Nicodemus Bosch, who served three terms. Efforts to obtain a photograph of Bosch have failed. A photograph of President Hoover occupies a place on the wall back of Mayor E. C. Crook's desk. Ten former mayors are living.

Teachers of
This County
Better PaidRural Schools Put Up Better Salaries Than Formerly

Rural school teachers in Ottawa county are paid well in comparison to the salaries of teachers in other parts of the state, and the nation, according to a census just completed at the office of Gerrit G. Groenewoud, county commissioner of schools of Holland.

Two hundred and eight teachers are employed in 127 rural schools in Ottawa county, ten of which schools are located in villages. According to this 1929 census, 9,700 children attend the rural school. Dividing this number by the number of teachers gives an average of 46 pupils for each rural school teacher.

Salaries paid rural school teachers range from $70 a month to $270 a month. Three teachers get $70 to $80, 11 get $80 to $90, 35 get $90 to $100, 32 get $100 to $110, 45 get $110 to $120, 26 get $120 to $130, 23 get $130 to $140, 16 get $140 to $150, three get $150 to $160, four get $160 to $170, two get $170 to $180, one gets $180 to $200, one gets $200 to $210, one gets $210 to $240, while two get $240 to $270.

This census excludes the enrollment in city schools, such as Holland.

State Plans
Renew Fight
About DunesLansing College 11 Years Ago
Started Effort to Hold
Bank Sand Ridges

Michigan State College after a lapse of 11 years again stands ready to take up the battle to keep the sands of the dunes along the Lake Michigan shore line from blowing inward.

A reforestation project from the Indiana line to the northern point of the lower peninsula is contemplated by the forestry department of M. S. C. The purpose of the project will be to check the westward drifting of sand from the dunes along the Lake Michigan shore.

Eleven years ago the college planted 500,000 trees along the lake shore frontage after listening to the pleas of the farmers and commercial interests. At that time the sand was drifting over from the dunes to cover up farm land, buildings and even part of villages.

Today the purpose behind the contemplated project shifts largely to the desire for beautification. The resort owner and the cottage dweller of 1929 are the most interested parties. The program under consideration will affect about 1,000,000 acres of shore frontage.

The principle of stopping the sand advance with trees is simple. Grasses and shrubbery are planted at first as temporary methods of keeping back the drifts. Timber barriers are also rushed into service. Meanwhile seedlings are planted. After a year they are able to grow without much help from the surrounding shrubbery and in time check the advance of the sand.

Trees act as a barrier to drift sands in three ways. They serve as a windbreak; their leaves form a humus over the soil which keeps it compact; and tree roots bind the sand particles more closely together. Surrounding farm land is enriched by the addition of organic matter to the soil.

Poplars and pines have been found most successful as barriers to sand drifts. Willows have also performed satisfactorily. Sand dunes along Lake Michigan are generally not more than 300 or 400 feet wide but they may extend over a mile in length.

The contemplated project may yield timber dividends in time. Many years ago a similar program was started along the maritime dunes in France and today rich timber is found along the former barren coast.

The project, although still within the preliminary stage, has advanced to the point where several carloads of trees have been furnished shoreline property owners. It is possible the cooperation of resort agencies will be solicited.

WHEN NEW YORK HAS
20,000,000 PEOPLE

A regional plan committee has spent seven years and a million dollars trying to visualize the future of New York City and tell the people of the New York how to prepare for it. The partial report recently issued is based upon probabilities of development up to 1965 in an area more than 200 times as large as Manhattan Island.

Upwards of 20,000,000 people will inhabit this mighty city of the future, the experts say. No need is there to induce growth of population; the task is to get ready for those who inevitably will come. County and state lines are disregarded. Whatever its political division, this metropolitan district will overrun the boundaries of 20 counties and three states. Such urban problems never have arisen before in the world's history.

But the committee says it is entirely feasible to provide for this tremendous future population to live in greatest comfort, with less crowding, with greater freedom of movement, greater safety and more healthful surroundings than are possible in the present-day city. A great system of loop highways is proposed; rail belt lines will bring every rail head in the district into direct touch with salt water; parks are to be developed on land now lying waste, and 16 airports are to be added to the 22 existing within the district. There is big optimism in the scheme, at least. It sets an example in foresight that well may be followed by every other large center of population.—Detroit News.

BAY STATE POLICE CHIEF

Police Chief Everett Eldridge, of Chatham, Mass., visited an automobile salesroom as a prospective customer.

"Take that car out for a spin and try it," suggested the salesman, pointing to a machine which was parked, with motor running, in the yard.

Eldridge hopped in and drove away. Shortly afterward he responded.

"I wouldn't buy a car that knocked the way this one does," he complained.

At this point, Leo Leblanc, grimy faced mechanic, crawled from beneath the automobile. It developed that he had been working under the car and, during the trial run, had saved himself from injury by holding himself suspended between the drip pan and an axle.

The "knocking" resulted when he rapped with a hammer in a frantic effort to warn the driver of his plight.

Mrs. Exo was born in Holland Jan. 1, 1866, and has lived here all her life. She was a member of the First Methodist church.

The deceased is survived by her husband and the following children: Mrs. John Barr, Zeeland; Harry Exo, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Nell Sandy, Nell Exo, Lester Exo, Ellsworth Exo, and Mrs. Bert Gillerist, all of Holland. Also two brothers and sisters survive. They are Cornell and Orrie Bush, and Mrs. Alard Driy and Mrs. William Tubergen, all of Holland.

MICHIGAN FISH
LACK IODINE, SUFFER
FROM THYROID GOITER

Michigan fish have their iodine troubles, in the opinion of Fred A. Westerman, chief of the fish division, who says that fish both in streams and hatcheries may lack sufficient iodine in their food or water.

The Great Lakes basin is notoriously short on iodine content, the lack of which has been demonstrated to account for the prevalence of thyroid goitre. A seemingly similar disease has been observed in some fish, according to Westerman, who says that the abnormality manifests itself in fish by swelling back of the gill covers, an inflamed throat, and sometimes it has the effect of making the eyes bulge.

GIRL RESERVES OF ZEELAND ARE ENTERTAINED AT HOLLAND

Thirty-five Girl Reserves of Zeeland High school were guests of the Girl Reserves of Holland High school at a supper and program given at the high school last evening from 5 until 8 o'clock.

At first all the guests were given paper and pencil and they tried a "get acquainted" game in which the one getting the largest number of signatures on their paper won a prize which was a Grand Reserve pin. Then at 5:30 a grand march led by the presidents of the two Girl Reserve clubs was marched through the halls. Then the refreshments of sandwiches, cocoa, cake and ice cream were served from the Home Economics lab.

Then all gathered in the hall at the East end of the third floor, and enjoyed a program given by the Holland girls.

The program follows:
Reception, Virginia Kooiker, president Holland Girl Reserves.
Response, Genevieve Bowers, president Zeeland Girl Reserves.
Playlet, "Road to Life Perfect," characters:

The Traveler—Anne Mersman.
Two Society Girls—Edna Boyd and Aline Tweedie.
Two Athletic Girls—Vivian Moon and Jo Anna Knoll.

The Student—Marjorie Bender.
The Club Spirit—Charlotte Elton.
At the end of the play, "Follow the Glean" was sung.
Playlet, "America for Americans."

Two Sisters—Ruth Van Oss, Chrystal Van Anroy.
Baggage Man—Virginia Kooiker.
Two Helpers—Ruth Verhey, Helen Shaw.

Indian—Margaret Rottschaefer.
Miss Emma Hoeke then led songs, after which a recreational period was enjoyed. The girls divided into four groups and played games, concluding a most enjoyable adventure in good fellowship between the girls of the two schools.

TOO MANY USED CARS

Used cars worry the automobile industry. They are harder and harder to sell, with prices so low on brand-new, shiny cars. But grieving and worrying will do no good.

The people of this nation, from schoolboys to grandfathers, want "a late model."

Millions in Europe, Asia and Africa want ANY kind of car, something that will move and give service.

Perhaps the big motor companies could find a wholesale, cheap way of getting the used cars, many almost as useful as new cars, across the oceans to people that want them.

To stop taking them in trade would be killing the goose that buys a new car each year.

17,596 ACRES OF PINE TREES
PLANTED

During the year 1929, 17,596 acres of pine trees were planted in the state forests of Michigan by the forestry division of the department of conservation.

This planted area is the highest for any one year in the history of the forestry division.

In 1928, 13,027 acres were planted in the state forests. In 1927, 7,400 acres were planted; in 1926, 6,945 acres; in 1925, 7,124 acres and in 1924, 5,791. Before that time the annual planting acreage had not exceeded 2,000 acres.

The state planted 9,157,600 trees this year in its forests; 5,157,600 of them being planted in the spring and 4,000,000 of them this fall.

A surprise party was held in honor of Mrs. Henry Essenberg at her home Tuesday afternoon. A dainty two-course luncheon was served. Those present were Mrs. H. Van Langevelde, Mrs. A. Old "Dobbins"
Is Disappearing
From MichiganTHERE ARE 17,000 FEWER
HORSES THAN ONE
YEAR AGOFarmers Fall Back on the "Wild
Horses" of the West

John Fitzgibbon, special writer for the Detroit News, gives an interesting write-up of horses in general and Michigan horses in particular. What Mr. Fitzgibbon writes in the following paragraphs cannot help but be rather surprising to those interested in the equine and its future in the face of the steady onward march of the "Iron Horse."

"There are about 17,000 fewer horses in Michigan than one year ago. So says Prof. Ralph S. Hudson, in charge of horse breeding at the Michigan State College. The number has been steadily decreasing since 1920, accounted for by gasoline engines and electric motors. Horsepower has been superseded by machine power, not only on farms, but also in traffic, rural as well as urban.

"The swing from horse to machine power during the last nine years, according to Prof. Hudson, has been so great that there is now a serious shortage of farm horses in Michigan, chiefly among small farmers who can not afford to buy power machinery. To relieve the shortage wild horses from the western range are being shipped into the state in carlots. In 1928 there were a dozen or more carlots. To date this year there have been about 50 cars.

"The decrease of approximately 17,000 horses in Michigan in the past year does not mean that there have been shipments outside the state. While the replacements of horses with machinery has been going on breeding has become a nearly extinct activity. A very large percentage of the 17,000 that disappeared in the last 12 months had outlived their usefulness and went to soap factories, to fur farms for fox feed and the like. During the last several years Prof. Hudson has been conducting at the college short courses in horse uses. Farmers from all sections of the state attended. He mentions that his conclusions, based on information assembled at these courses, and from other ways, is that there is but one horse for each 28 acres of cultivated land in the state.

Farmers Handicapped

"More than 52 per cent of the horses are more than 10 years old. But seven-tenths of one per cent are under two years. Many farmers at these courses said that they wanted to continue using horses, supplementing horses for machinery, but they did not know where to get horses. The National Horse Association of Chicago reports that practically no states other than the western ranges are producing more horses than they need.

"So, as stated, the farmers of Michigan have turned to the ranges of the West for wild horses to relieve the shortage. Whatever may be said of these wild horses they assuredly have a pedigree. The histories tell that their ancestors were Arabian horses brought to America in the Fifteenth Century by Spanish explorers. Cortez introduced them into Mexico. Other Spaniards took them farther north. Wild for several centuries, they dwindled in size from the magnificent original Arabian stock to 800 to 1,000 pounds. In recent decades, as a result of large domesticated stallions being turned loose among the wild herds, there are now a great many averaging 1,200 to 1,400 pounds. These are the kind that are coming to Michigan to relieve the farm shortage.

"It is estimated that there are 1,000,000 of these wild horses in Montana, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. In Montana alone upwards of 400,000. In recent years they have been hunted and killed by many thousands, so ranchmen can have more and better forage for their cattle and sheep. Wild horses are said to consume enough forage to feed 2,000,000 sheep and 800,000 head of cattle. Some are canned and exported to Europe, where horse meat is not an uncommon article of food among the poor of some countries. The hides have a value in the leather markets.

Wild Horses Used Before

"Utilizing wild horses in Michigan is not an innovation. Before the development of tractor operated machines that cut and thresh wheat at the same time wheat growers in the far Western States, where a single field of grain is often several thousand acres, had wild horses broken to haul a string of reapers, as many as 20 head to a string. But, since the arrival of the tractor, combined reaper-threshers, these wheat growers have no further use for wild horsepower, so only in states like Michigan is there now a place for wild horses in farm operations.

"Prof. Hudson mentions that last year wild horses were selling in Michigan for an average of $98; this year $110. Dealers go to the range states and buy the horses in car lots. As a rule the horses have had some breaking to harness. A great many have been worked in the wheat fields before, displaced by tractors. Their age runs from six to 10 years. Quite generally they are not treacherous, and, with the right kind of handling, become practically as useful for all kinds of farm work as domesticated horses. The State College sends experts into agricultural communities to show farmers how to handle the wild stock so there will be no difficulty in getting good work from it. And too helps out by mail instruction."

The annual congregational meeting of the Ninth St. Chr. Reformed church was held Tuesday evening. The following deacons were elected for the coming year: Lubbert Hop, Harry Kalmink, James Muuse, and Jacob Vanderploeg. The elders elected were E. O. Holkeboer, H. A. Lanning, S. Van Dyke, and Harry York. A budget of $10,000 was adopted for the coming year.

GRAND HAVEN CITY CHEMIST
TELLS COUNCIL HOW PROCESS
WOULD HELP WATER

Norman T. Ellis, Grand Haven's city chemist, reported to the city council the results of his investigations relative to softening the city water which he declared was very hard. "Hard to drink?" queried one of the city fathers. The present water system supply he said comes from the river with a high degree of hardness which is detrimental to boilers, and is disagreeable for domestic use especially in the laundry. He recommended the installation of a lime feeding machine at an initial cost of about $700.

A certain amount of lime together with the alum now used would bring the production cost about the same. In time the pipe system becomes clogged with lime deposits which can be obviated by installing a recarbonization machine, the total to cost about $1,500. With such an installation the water would be 50 per cent softer, he said. Grand Rapids, whose water is not quite as hard, has this installation which has been found satisfactory.

Lake Michigan water is considered softer, declared the city chemist. As engineers are already working on the problem of bringing lake water to the filtration plant, Mayor Peter suggested the matter be set aside to be taken up after the engineers have made their report. The council was agreed that under the present conditions the competition will bring this about water softener would be an advantage.

The canning factory at Fennville is running at full speed, the canning of Kieffer pears promising to keep up until Christmas time. The local crop of pears was so light this season that the Michigan Canners, Inc., shipped in 300 carloads from Illinois, to meet their sales demand. Illinois pears do not seem to be so firm as those grown further north. The local factory is giving employment to about 150 persons, mostly women, and the more skillful of them earn as high as $5 per day, which means that they must reap by hand about 20 bushels of pears each day. Help comes from as far as East Sault.

Mark the pullets that start to lay early. Then select the best for breeders next spring. The birds can be banded with aluminum or celluloid bands. An easy way to determine the approximate time pullets begin to lay is to note the development of the comb and wattles and the width between the pelvic bones.

HOLLAND STUDENT SENDS COTTON FROM THE SOUTH LAND

Anthony Weller, a former Holland High student now traveling through the South has sent to Miss Lydia Rogers, of the biology department, a branch of full grown cotton ready for picking and in a letter Mr. Weller says as follows: "The weather is wonderful today and the scenery beautiful. I am on the train to Chattanooga, Tenn., and the hills, (mountains, I would call them) with the trees clad in their autumn coat, are a beautiful sight."

"With all this scenery and these sights it makes the traveling job one of the most pleasant ones I could have chosen. One barrier that is hard to overcome sometimes, and that is a lonesome feeling for home. The North, South, East and West may be pretty and every state and city may have its beauties and comforts, but there is no place like Holland, Mich. I am glad I am going to be home soon again."

TAG ON TRAP NOW REQUIRED BY STATE LAW

Trappers this fall will be required to have their traps marked with a tag or plate bearing the owner's name and address. This phase of the new game law now in effect states that the name and address shall be in the English language.

The old law which required numbered metal tags, which were issued with muskrat trapping licenses, to be attached to traps, resulted in much confusion and delay in the apprehending of violators. It was necessary for wardens to communicate with the department at Lansing in order to determine the ownership of illegally set traps, and by that time it often was too late to catch the owner.

STATE'S ANGLERS USE 3,633 MILES OF NETS

The records of the fish division of the conservation department show that if all the nets used by Michigan commercial fishermen operating on the Great Lakes were placed end on end they would reach from Pittsburgh to Paris. All told there are nearly 30,000,000 feet of nets, 3,633 miles, which help to make the state one of the leading producers of fresh water fish.

During 1927, 32,505,973 pounds of fish valued at better than three million dollars, or an average of slightly over nine cents a pound, were taken by commercial fishermen of the state. Lake Michigan is easily foremost in supplying fish, ranging from the million dollar catch of trout down to the humble sucker and mullet, while Saginaw Bay falls into second place by a good margin. Whitefish rank next to lake trout in the amount taken. Licensed fishing crafts number 1,082 with a valuation of $345,000, of which Lake Michigan vessels represent almost one-half. Gas boats are the most popular, but the old reliable rowboat crowds out the steam engine for runner-up. Sailing vessels have become thoroughly relegated to the past, there being only seven licensed sailboats.

GET $1.00 FOR AN OLD MAID HEN IF STOLEN

The Poultrymen's Mutual Protective Association of Zeeland held its first directors' meeting since its organization in October on Tuesday morning. At this meeting the temporary officers serving during the process of organization were permanently elected to serve until the next annual meeting in June, 1930. Those elected were Robert Pool, president; A. Van Koeveering, secretary-treasurer.

The treasurer's report showed that on December first the association had 68 policies outstanding which carried $37,215 at risk, and it carried a net cash reserve of $7,276.70 to guarantee payment of losses. Several claims for losses have been paid, so the claims outstanding are none.

The association was organized during the past summer by twenty poultrymen in Zeeland and vicinity and nearly four hundred applications were in before the state issued the required charter on the 17th of October, on which date the first policies were issued. The policies protect the poultry owner against loss by theft of their poultry at the rate of $1.44 per adult bird, 75c each for young stock, and 25c for chicks. Policies are issued in denominations of $25, $50, $75, $100, $125 and $150 protection, the premiums for the several amounts varying accordingly.

MRS. KATIE HOFSTEEN GETS FULL CREDIT FOR HER JUNIOR RED CROSS EFFORTS

The Ottawa County Red Cross chapter with headquarters at the city hall, Holland, is in receipt of a letter acknowledging the fact that the Red Cross Christmas boxes sent a week ago had been received by Davies Turner at New York City. In all there were 137 boxes well taken care of.

The work was done by the Junior Red Cross and was under the supervision and direction of Mrs. Katie Hofsteen, junior chairman, and she surely took wonderful care of this part of the Red Cross work.

Mrs. Hofsteen has done this work for a number of years and in performing these duties she was obliged to canvass the Holland public and Christian schools and also other places in the vicinity. It was her duty also to visit the rural schools in the county in order to thoroughly cover the ground.

In her visits she passed out the "junior" buttons, enrollment cards and the honor enrollment blanks, leaving the Christmas boxes to be filled. This work was done during the beginning of the school year and it was evident that Mrs. Kate Hofsteen surely had her work systematized. When filled, the boxes were returned to headquarters, where they are examined by Mrs. Hofsteen and if found satisfactory were packed and sent out.

This work was ably and efficiently performed by Mrs. Kate Hofsteen, junior chairman. Mrs. Hofsteen practiced the most rigid economy and that reason there was a saving from $25.00 to year of about $25.00 to $50.00. This money went to the Children's Billiet at Otter Lake, Michigan. Mrs. Nick Hofsteen, who has done such outstanding work, lives at 158 West 14th street, Holland, Mich.

Mrs. Mary Metz, 79, widow of George Metz, died early Monday at her home, 600 Cherry street, S.E., at Union avenue, Grand Rapids. Mrs. Metz was the daughter of Magdalene and Christoph Bertsch and was born in Sadsbury, O., Feb. 27, 1850. With her parents she moved to Grand Rapids a few years after the Civil war and soon afterward met and married George Metz, who at that time was engaged in the tanning and leather business in Holland and built what is now known as the "North Side tannery," and in the earlier days the Metz tannery. Later they came to Grand Rapids, where Mr. Metz was prominent in the business life of the city. The Metz building is a memorial to his business enterprise.

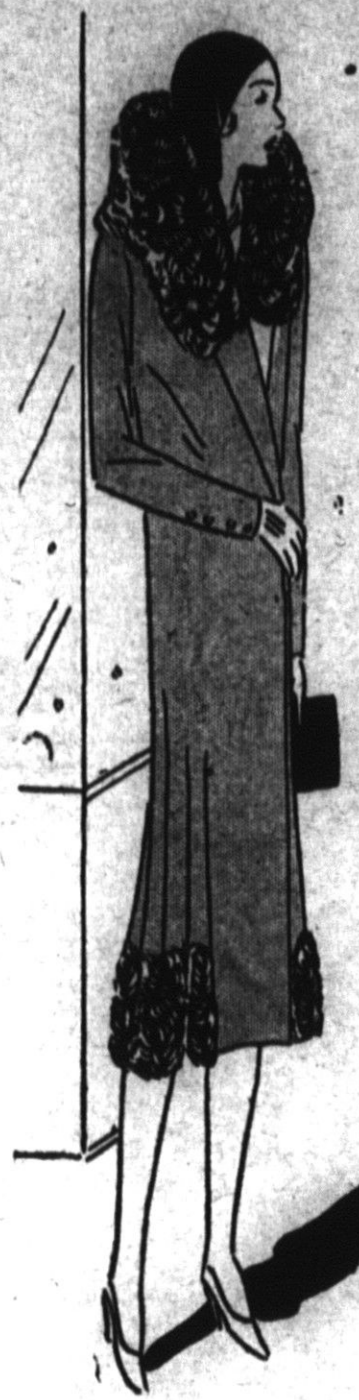

Mrs. Metz was a member of Park Congregational church, Ladies' Literary and Shakespearean society of Grand Rapids.

Funeral services were held at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery, Grand Rapids.

The annual week of prayer will be held on the Hope college campus Dec. 9 to 13, under the leadership of Dr. Daniel Poling of New York city, former minister of the Marble Collegiate Reformed church. The meeting will be held one hour each morning. Dr. Poling will conduct four of the sessions. Prof. Paul E. Hinkamp, college pastor, will have charge of the opening one. Discussion groups will be held during the evening.

The college Y groups are in charge of the event. Bernardine Siebers of Grand Rapids and Len Hoenboom of Clymer, N. Y., head of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. organizations, respectively.

GREAT PREPARATIONS MADE FOR WINTER SPORTS IN HOLLAND

When John De Bly, some four years ago started to agitate winter sports in Holland on Black Lake and put on a pretentious program he really started something that has taken hold all over Michigan. Petoskey and other northern cities, Grand Haven and Muskegon and even Zeeland have been having winter sports or are beginning to make preparations for such events. There have been winters when preparations were being made but they have prevented the realizing of well laid plans.

In Holland this year the Holland Winter Sport club is again in operation with John Van Dyke re-elected president; George Woldring vice-president; John De Bly secretary and Captain N. Weldner treasurer.

The board of directors are John Zwieringa, Andrew Hyma, John Woldring, R. Seibsema, John Kampen, and Charles A. Gross, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The plans now are to build a large toboggan slide on the incline in Kollen park leading to Black Lake to be used by the older folks and to establish small skating ponds in different parts of the city for the children.

A big program may be put on Black Lake during the winter, weather permitting. Ponds may be put on the different tennis courts in the city and other places available. In that case parents will not have to be worried over their children falling through the ice.

Martin Franzburg gave a short talk how ice skating was a great sport in The Netherlands on the canals that go from city to city in fact the land of dikes is one of the finest skating spots on earth in the winter time.

Secretary Charles Gross pointed out how Holland could be made a winter resort as well as a summer resort through the proper winter sports.

Mayor Earnest C. Brooks is co-operating with the committee of the Holland Winter Sports club in furthering a real pretentious program and John De Bly is sure to put on the finishing touches.

President Karsten called the meeting to order and welcomed the guests. Aldermen Scholten, McLean, Brieve and Kleis, members of the ways and means committee of the council, and Alderman Veltman, Steffens and Wolman of the music committee were present. Former Mayor E. P. Stephan, under whose administration the band was organized, J. P. Kolla, Louis van Hartesveldt and Henry Wilson were also present.

The annual report of the year's activities was read by Ray Knooihuizen, secretary. The report showed that during the past year and that Martin Langui was present at all meetings. Others mentioned for unusually high attendance averages were Bert Jacobs, Elmer

HOPE COLLEGE CAGERS OPEN SCHEDULE TONIGHT

The Hope college basketball team will open their schedule on Thursday evening with the Seventh Reformed church quintet of Grand Rapids. Coach Jack Schouten has been working with his men for the past week and will be able to place a formidable group of tossers on the floor. Cox, Van Lente and Boo Cook will undoubtedly form the defensive wall while the offensive burden may fall to the sophomores, Daiman, Van Hattensma, Spoelstra and Hoffman. Several other men are showing up well and will be given a chance in the first sets.

The preliminary game between the freshman team and the Hope All-stars is also attracting attention. The latter won a high rating in the amateur tourney at Grand Rapids last winter, and is represented with the same team.

To Keep Roads
Open in StormFIRST REAL WINTER
WEATHER IS FULLY MONTH
EARLIER THAN USUAL

The Ottawa county roads were kept open during the height of the recent storm with very little effort and only in a few places was it necessary to get out the road scrapers. In Holland city scrapers were out all day Friday and the snow plows attacked the drifts in some sections which if they had been left would have amounted to unusual proportions. City Engineer Zuidema has everything ready for a thorough cleaning this year the same as last. Sand is always available to make slipping places safe for pedestrians and auto owners as well. The snow is not allowed to bank up but is carted out by truck.

The Ottawa county road commission is also busy. The snow fence in some sections on county roads was not unrolled but is rapidly being put in action now. Carl Bowen, county engineer, explained the commission puts the snow fence up as late as possible to facilitate the farmer's late plowing. Last week farmers were still at their fall plowing in some sections.

There are approximately 90 miles of state road kept open in this county during the winter, and 160 miles of county road. The townships in some instances are taking care of their own roads. Spring Lake, Georgetown, Jamestown and Chester have tractor graders which they will use and Holland and Park Townships have each bought a carload of snow fence.

The first real storm this year is fully a month ahead of a year ago and with such severity as to be perhaps the foundation snow of many such storms during the coming months.

CITY WILL DO ALL NECESSARY WORK TO KEEP
LABOR EMPLOYED

Aiding President Hoover's plan to better the economic conditions of the country Mayor Ernest C. Brooks stated that the city of Holland, as one of the large employers of labor in the community is making a survey of all municipal projects which can be started and carried forward in the winter. The various department heads have received instructions to push all projects and provide labor for the unemployed where possible.

Mayor Brooks also issued a proclamation indorsing the sale of tuberculous Christmas seals and urged Holland citizens to give their co-operation to the Michigan Tuberculosis association in its campaign against the dreaded disease.

Mayor Brooks also received a communication from Gov. Fred W. Green calling attention to the appeal of President Hoover and the Holland Mayor backed by the common council had already been busy on these matters for a week or more.

Hinga's Men Set
Up Fine Record
For Third YearWIN SIX OF NINE, TIE TWO.
LOSE ONE, WITH GREEN
STARTING MATERIAL

Six victories out of a schedule of nine tough grid battles is the record of Bud Hinga and his Maroon and Orange eleven. The Holland high representatives tied two games and lost one, and boast the codistinction with Muskegon as being one of the only two teams to hold the state championship Benton Harbor team to a scoreless tie.

That the Hingamen ranked highly throughout western Michigan is proven by the fact that they tucked away two victories over Grand Rapids clubs, South and Catholic being beaten by the invincible Holland passing attack, while Creston, champion of the Furniture Capital, was held to four scoreless quarters. Muskegon Heights and the highly touted Regent fell before the Hollanders, 7 to 0, while in the annual Ottawa county classic Grand Haven was added to the string.

From a green eleven with only three veterans, Capt. Bonnette, Van Zanten and Nettinga, forming the nucleus, the local coach moulded one of the finest teams in the school's history by developing a grid machine from a bunch of second string subs of last year's season. Teed Van Zanten, who stepped into the role of quarterback and safety man, did not drop a punt during the entire season, and Capt. Bonnette outplayed his rival in practically every contest.

The last two years were banner ones for Coach Hinga, as only two defeats were chalked against the Wooden Shoes, and this season marked the third successive year that the locals have played an undefeated schedule of Grand Rapids eleven. Prospects for the 1930 season look bright, as seven veterans will return for action.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN
HURT AT GRAND HAVEN

William Zwemer, age 71 years old, was injured Monday at the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company, Grand Haven, when the elevator fell from the third floor to the basement. He was unconscious when taken out and was rushed to Hattin Hospital.

Fellow workmen heard the crash and were on the spot immediately. It was reported from the office that the pulley rope slipped and let the elevator go.

Mr. Zwemer, who is a hide dyer, was lowering the elevator with aides. He had not regained consciousness and but little else could be learned about the accident. It was thought, at the hospital, he would live.

Mr. Zwemer formerly lived in Holland and for 30 years was employed at the Caffon Bertsch Leather company. He is the father of Mrs. Harry Kramer, West 10th street and Ed Zwemer of this city.

319 EGGS IN 365 DAYS.

Egg records were established by 19 hens in the seventh International Egg Laying Contest at Michigan State College, it was announced at the poultry department this week. The highest record was made by a White Leghorn from H. A. Keister's poultry farm near Bangor. She laid 319 eggs in 365 days. Nineteen hens in the contest made better than 300-point records. All birds were scored by the weight of their eggs. Credit of a full point was given each hen for each 2-ounce egg produced.

Sheriff Feeds
Prisoners on
Fresh ChickensCOUNTY JAIL IS ALL SHINED
UP AND PAINTED FOR THANKSGIVING

Sheriff Steketee treated the prisoners at the county jail in fine shape Thanksgiving day. There were 15 of them and he had 30 pounds of chicken prepared, together with all the trimmings.

The jail has also been all "dolled" up recently. The cells and pen are painted in two tones of gray. Every inch has been scrubbed first and then given two coats of good paint, the labor of which has been done by the prisoners. Fortunately there were a couple of real workmen in the gang and they have taken charge of the work which is quite professional.

The halls and office have been decorated in tones of brown, light colors at the top of the room with wainscoting and baseboards of the darker hue.

Even the sheriff's private quarters is receiving a fresh coat on the kitchen walls.

It is about the cheapest job that has ever been done in the jail, the paint costing $100. The outside of the jail has received minor repairs and in all it is in excellent condition.

There are two women who were compelled to remain behind the bars Thanksgiving and many young men. The women's cells are not unattractive and a home-like air is maintained with fancy work and little things from home, which can transform even an iron cell into a home-like atmosphere.

The sheriff's force, including Marvin Denfelder, Jack Spangler and John Klaver, were on duty Thanksgiving day part of the 24 hours.

ZEELAND YOUTH HEAVILY FINED FOR SPEEDING AND COLLIDING

Justice John Pethmers of Zeeland assessed John Vander Poppers, age 18 years, with a fine of $50 and $3.35 cost when he pleaded guilty of attempting to race by the car of Henry Borri with his truck at an intersection. As so often happens, the brakes were faulty, the big truck wouldn't hold and crashed into the rear end of Borri's car, demolishing it and injuring Borri.

The man, who had just moved to Zeeland from South Dakota, sustained severely bruised arm, side, and limbs, with a ruptured blood vessel in the leg thrown in for good measure.

Both Chief of Police, Ed Rydenga and Officer Fred Bosma were immediately on the scene and after aiding Mr. Borri they investigated the circumstances. It proved that Van Der Poppers had exceeded the speed limit and that the brakes on his truck were ineffective and practically useless.

Justice Pethmers promised Van Der Poppers a jail sentence if he appears again for reckless driving.

RED CROSS FUNDS
ARE INCREASED

The Red Cross roll call in South Ottawa county has reached the halfway mark of the quota set by the national organization.

Rev. John Minnema, who had charge of Vriesland community, reported the collection of $65.

The amount of $57 was reported by Prof. Van Der Ven of the North Holland school, who had charge of the roll call in that community.

The Dutch Tea Rusk company contributed a total of $40, while the Dunn Manufacturing company reported a total of $21. The employees of the Federal Baking company donated $11, the West Michigan Laundry collected $8 and the Essenburg Building and Lumber company added $8 to the total fund.

A house-to-house canvass netted $38 and Mrs. Van Duren collected an additional $5 at her office in the G.A.R. room.

The drive will be continued until the quota is met.

SMALL SON WITNESS IN LOVE BALM SUIT

A six year old son of the plaintiff was the principal witness in the $10,000 alienation of affection suit heard in Circuit court at Grand Haven.

Karl J. Landgraf, of Grand Haven, brought suit against Ernest Mars, also of Grand Haven, charging Mars had alienated the affections of his wife.

While Johnnie Landgraf was offered as a witness for the plaintiff, he shielded his mother, Mars' rooms at the home of Mrs. Landgraf in Grand Haven. The boy lives with his mother.

After all of the testimony had been taken, the principals in the case got together and finally agreed to settle out of court. Landgraf will be given a small cash settlement by the terms of the agreement. The attorneys in the case found that the testimony of the child could not be admitted.

The attorneys for the plaintiff, Clarence Lokker and Dan F. Pagel, were convinced when Judge O. S. Cross sustained the objection by Charles E. Miner, attorney for the defendant. The payment of the Plaintiff's attorney fees was a satisfactory settlement.

ADDRESS ONLY
ON ONE SIDEPUBLIC IS ADVISED TO USE
ONLY ONE SIDE TO ADDRESS
PACKAGES

Post Master Ed. Westveer has received instructions from headquarters at Washington relative to addressing Christmas parcels to which he is calling the attention of the public. Co-operation is asked relative to preparing Christmas mail, wherein attention is called to the practice of some mailers who place the name and address of the addressee, either with or without the sender's return card on two or more sides of parcels in the apparent belief that this is desirable.

As a matter of fact, the practice does far more harm than good, since it results in confusion and delay in ascertaining whether proper postage has been prepaid, the parcels sometimes being rated with postage due before it is discovered that the postage stamps are affixed to some other side.

Furthermore, when parcels bearing an address on more than one side are sent as special-handling, special-delivery, insured, or C.O.D. mail and the indorsements showing that such special services are to be accorded the parcels are not placed on all the sides bearing the address, the indorsements are liable to be overlooked and the parcels do not receive the special treatment intended.

Where mailers make a practice of placing the address on more than one side of a parcel they should be advised of these objections and requested to discontinue the practice. It is believed that they will be glad to have their attention called to the matter, since it is to the mutual advantage of themselves and the Postal Service.

Scene From "The Bonnie Brier Bush"

"THE BONNIE BRIER BUSH"
THIRD NUMBER IN HOPE
COLLEGE LECTURE COURSE

"The Bonnie Brier Bush" which will be presented here by the Scottish Musical Comedy Company is a delightful musical play written by John E. Daniels of Boston. It is based upon three of Ian MacLaren's works—"Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," "In the Days of Auld Lang Syne" and "Kate Carnegie."

"The Bonnie Brier Bush" has all the elements of success, and it comes here fresh from unusual triumphs in New York and New England.

The play snacks of Scottish life and preserves the atmosphere of life among the Highlands by retaining the dialect and costumes of the native Scots of the period. It is admirably presented. Every member of the company is a singer as well as an actor and their Scottish songs are charming.

A beautiful love story, an abundance of wit and humor, together with a wealth of song and melody, unite in producing a play that will long be remembered.

The patrons of Hope's Lyceum Course certainly remember this company's gripping performance when they presented Daniel's delightful comedy, "Cottier's Saturday Night." It was replete with fun-provoking laughter. The same company is with us this year in "The Bonnie Brier Bush."

Don't forget the date, December 17th, at Carnegie Hall. Get your tickets at Huizenga's Jewelry store by Dec. 7th. A crowded house is anticipated.

Waterway Would Bring Holland
IndustriesChicago Speaker Gives Boy Hue
When Telling of Ocean Way
Via St. Lawrence

Colonel Sidney Story, of Chicago, who addressed the Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday evening at the Knights of Pythias Hall said that every lake city, and especially Holland because of her strategic position as a lake city, would benefit greatly by the St. Lawrence waterway. Colonel Story claimed that Holland need have little concern when that waterway is completed in the way of seeking outside industries for location here, for, said Colonel Story, they will seek out Holland because of her wonderfully prosperous and logical location on Lake Michigan.

A very representative body of members were present to hear Col. Story, who gave a most virile message and painted such a wonderful picture of the advantages to be gained through the completion of the St. Lawrence waterway that every man present spoke in the highest terms of the address and went away thoroughly sold to the program now being projected by the Chamber of Commerce for larger and better harbor facilities for Holland.

Col. Story, who is a champion of the St. Lawrence seaway said in part:

The lakes to gulf waterway is for large line use and will be of benefit to the southern tier of states, and also to the northern tier, for reaching by way of the gulf ports, the ports of Mexico, Central America, and also for reaching by water all the trade centers along the Mississippi, Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Red rivers.

The improvement of the St. Lawrence seaway will make of Holland one of the great inland seaports of America.

Col. Story has been for years the champion of the American Merchant Marine, organized in 1910, the first American flag service between North and South American ports. At that time the United States had no laws to protect her commerce and ships and the Pan-American mail line was ruthlessly kicked off the seas.

Col. Story brought this matter before the United States Congress. The investigation showed the conspiracy against America. The result was the legislation which gave to the United States the Merchant Marine Act of 1920 and the Jones Bill—foundations upon which we are developing sea legs.

Col. Story stated that he was on the Panama Canal at the time the French were trying to build it. Story, however, is for the construction of the Nicaragua Canal, because it will benefit more the United States and especially the Mississippi valley.

Col. Story is for adequate naval preparedness to protect America against her enemies from within as well as without.

The development of our inland waterways, which mean bringing the ocean to the great lakes, will make our hinterland unshrinkable. In other words our farmers, merchants and people generally will begin to think in terms of ships and commerce and then with Americans coming and operating American ships our Merchant Marine will be permanently and profitably developed and the products of the middle west will enjoy a square deal and equal opportunity in the markets of the world with those of all nations.

What other nations do American people have also the brains and energy to do. We carry freight by rail and on our lake boats, with our high standard of wages, cheaper than it is carried on any railroad or waterway in the world. Our sailors are efficient and daring and our shipbuilders the best. We developed our industries on land and we can also develop them on the sea. We will no longer permit our commercial rivals to carry our Commerce, steal our trade secrets and customers.

If Americans will patronize their own ships, as Scandinavians, Germans, and French patronize their shipping, our shipping problem will be solved for all time. No nation will ever rise to the pinnacle of success that doesn't control the carrying of its products from producer to consumer.

A Merchant Marine builder is the right arm of the navy. Our navy is inefficient without merchant ships as auxiliaries to carry coal, munitions, and food, for battleships, cruisers, submarines, etc.

BORER-PROOF CORN IN MICHIGAN
Development of a strain of corn that resists the ravages of the European corn borer has been announced by A. R. Marston, superintendent of the Michigan corn borer experimental station, Monroe. In an address before Entomological society of Ontario, Thursday, Marston said maize amargo, a South American strain, had been crossed with Duncan, Golden Glow and Red Cob ensilage strains and then inbred to produce a corn immune to the corn borer. After three years' experimenting he said the strain has proved 100 per cent resistant, even when planted with alternate rows of corn infested with the parasite. Five years would be required, he said, before the new strain would be available for general planting.

A HALF-MILLION POUNDS OF FRUIT CAKE

How would you like to have the task of baking approximately 550,000 fruit cakes? That is the job that has been handed Vertner Fluor, master baker of the Kroger Grocery & Baking company. Fluor is to produce all of the fruit cakes that will be distributed by the Kroger company throughout its 6,000 stores.

In making these fruit cakes, Mr. Fluor is using three large ovens with a total capacity of 4,000 pounds of cake a day, and it takes no mathematician to figure out that he will be a very busy person for some days to come.

Here are some of the ingredients and the amounts that will be used: Visualize, if you will, some 108,326 pounds of raisins, 23,214 pounds of dates, 27,284 pounds of marshmallows, cherries, 23,212 pounds of figs, 28,115 pounds of glazed pineapple, 12,806 pounds of citron, 25,225 pounds of walnuts, 5185 pounds of almonds, 52,947 pounds of sugar, 35,815 pounds of butter, 16,236 pounds of Crisco, 55,945 pounds of eggs, along with endless amounts of spices, pecans, flour and other ingredients.

This tremendous amount of ingredients is being prepared by forty-two girls, all of whom are doing nothing all day long but seed raisins, chop dates, prepare walnuts, orange and lemon peel, and the preparation of thousands of pounds of other delicacies that go into the cakes.

OTTAWA COUNTY RURAL

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS OF PARK TOWNSHIP

I will be at the Peoples State Bank at Holland every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from Dec. 10, 1929, to Jan. 9, 1930, and at the Central Park Grocery every Wednesday between these dates except legal holidays, and at home near Ottawa Beach every Friday.

Miss Josephine Lippenga of Chicago was a Thanksgiving visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lippenga.

RURAL ROADS IMPROVE

Low cost paved highways for rural districts are becoming increasingly common, as the new agricultural era develops. Production of road oils and asphalt has steadily increased over a period of a few years.

To the modern farmer, good roads are as important as they are to his city neighbor. Economical surfaces with low maintenance cost and excellent wearing and driving qualities, have proven a boon to rural America.

GUM CHEWING DOG
SCRAPES THEATRE SEATS

The Coliseum, at Evansville, Ind., has a custodian's assistant that works for hours without pay. It's "Spermint," the gum-chewing terrier of Custodian Marce Bowen.

The dog goes down one row of seats and up the next after each meeting here, scraping chewing gum from the seats and eating it. Movie contracts—to scrape the seat in theatres—have been turned down by Bowen, who wants the dog to continue to have a keen appetite for the confection.

Local Concern
Now Under New
ManagementTHOMAS OLINGER
RESIGNS AS HEAD OF LOCAL PLANT

Thomas Olinger, able manager of the old Federal Manufacturing company, now the Hart and Cooley Manufacturing company, has resigned his position after being connected with that concern since 1914.

Mr. Olinger first came to Holland when Dr. L. L. Conkey, known all over Michigan as an able veterinarian, came to Holland to manufacture operating tables upon which horses and other animals were operated. These tables are still in use in many of the veterinary colleges and were shipped all over the globe.

Two years later the plant, then located in what is known as the old Wire Fence company building, was changed to the Holland Lighting and Specialty company in which Holland capital was invested.

The advent of the automobile made the sale of operating tables for horses unprofitable and Mr. Olinger sold out the business and in 1919 changed the name of the company to the Federal Stamping Works, manufacturing small metal castings. There was a great demand for these castings in the furnace trade.

In 1923 Mr. Olinger sold the Stamping Works to the Federal Manufacturing company and became the president and manager. The plant was a great financial success and a short time ago the Federal Manufacturing company was merged with the Hart & Cooley Manufacturing company, capitalized at $1,500,000.

In Mr. Olinger's place as chairman for the coming year Mr. Stanley Hart of New Britain, Conn., was named.

A. H. Landwehr of the Holland Furnace company was also connected with the first enterprises together with Mr. Olinger.

FOUR HOPE COLLEGE GRADU-
ATES AGGREGATE 143 YEARS
IN FOREIGN SERVICE

Hope college class of 1887 holds a record for foreign missionary service probably unequalled by any class of its size in any institution in the world.

The class roster contained the names of seven persons, five men and two women. Four of the seven members volunteered for life service in the orient and the total number of years of service is 143.

They were: Rev. Harmon V. S. Peeke, now on furlough in this city; Rev. Samuel M. Zwemer, who plans to return to this country early next year to take a chair in Princeton seminary; Rev. Albertus Pieters, now professor in Western Theological seminary, and Mrs. Albertus Pieters, formerly Emma Kollen. They represented the Reformed Church in America.

Rev. and Mrs. Pieters were the first to retire after service in Japan 32 years. Rev. Zwemer was one of the founders of the Arabian mission and was active in foreign service 39 years. Rev. Peeke spent 40 years in Japan.

Pieters, now vice-president of general synod of the Reformed church in America, Zwemer and Peeke are sons of pioneer Michigan ministers, two serving churches in Holland and vicinity. Pieters was elected by the general synod in 1925 to the chair of English Bible and Mission.

Add to the record of these missionaries the years spent in the ministry by their fathers and the total approximates 250 years of religious work.

DE BLAUW-MEENGES WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Meengs, 150 East 15th St., last week Thursday afternoon when their son, William Meengs and Miss Jessie Blauw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew De Blauw of Redlands, California, were wed.

Rev. John H. Meengs, pastor of the North Park Presbyterian church of Grand Rapids and brother of the groom, performed the impressive wedding ceremony before an arch of similar greens.

The young couple were attended by Miss Henrietta De Blauw of Grandville, a sister of the bride and Ernest Wagnor of this city.

Miss Joy Luidens of Chicago and Miss Anne Luidens sang two beautiful solos and Miss Marion Luidens played the Bride March by Wagner. Only the immediate relatives and friends were present.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Schuitema, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gishawer, Mr. Henry De Vries, Miss Joy Luidens and Miss Anne Meengs.

The bride is a graduate of Blodgett hospital and Mr. Meengs is employed with the Essenburg Building Service. Mr. Meengs is well known in this city through his activities in connection with the boy scout organization. He had charge of Troop 6 of First Reformed church for some years and is also a district commissioner in the county organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meengs left immediately after the service for a short trip to Indiana and Kentucky and will stop enroute at the home of the groom's brother, Rev. A. Meengs of Franklin, Ind. They will be at home to their many friends at 154 East 15th street after December 15th.

SCOUT PINE CREEK
CAMP NEARLY READY
SAYS VAN LENTE

The Holland scout camp at Pine Creek is almost completed, the partitions having been recently lined, and a well driven. About the only things left undone are the fire place and painting, which the committee hopes to accomplish within a short time.

Saturday a delegation from all the Holland troops met at the camp near Waukegon and devoted the day to collecting fire wood for the winter, clearing a new road, and performing various other tasks.

Chairman Al Van Lente of the Activities Department was on the grounds and supervised the selection of troop sites, the plan being to allow each troop in the district to have a site of its own which it may develop according to the respective groups' own desires.

Mr. Van Lente believes that the building will be ready for dedication and occupancy before the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zerrip of Grand Rapids were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Holsten.

Seals Delivered By Air

Michigan school children who each December join in the campaign to sell tuberculosis Christmas seals were given the unusual experience this year of having a quantity of their seals "air delivered" by the plane pictured above.

Seals were delivered by Pilot Ford Bott and a representative of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to more than 50 towns in the course of a three-day, 1,500-mile trip shortly after the opening of the seal sale on Thanksgiving Day.

The ship, displaying the double-barred cross, symbol of the crusade against tuberculosis, made one trip to the Thumb region, a second to the northern part of the Lower Peninsula, and a third to the southern portion of the state. The pilot's services and use of the plane were donated by the Foster Airways Corporation as the company's contribution to the 1929 Christmas seal sale.

Since greatest emphasis is now being placed on prevention of tuberculosis through health work among children, their enlistment in the seal selling army is held to be one of the most worthwhile effects of the annual Christmas seal sale.

Uncle Sam Closes Fennville Cider Mill. Others To Be Closed

The cider mill at Fennville was closed a few days ago, following action taken by representative of the prohibition department in Chicago, against M. Steffens & Co., owners of the Fennville cider mill and other plants.

According to Manager G. G. Burleigh of the Fennville plant, under the ruling of the prohibition department, no more cider can be made nor can any of the product now on hand be shipped or disposed of pending settlement of the matter. The company Mr. Burleigh says, has been doing business for the past eleven years, or ever since prohibition went into effect, on a blanket permit, covering all of the plants controlled by M. Steffens & Co. Now it is claimed, each plant should have a separate permit to make cider, and also have other permits for each carload of cider or vinegar shipped, and still other permits for the disposal of the same.

This is the first inking Mr. Burleigh says, that the procedure under which the plant was operating was not regular, and immediately upon being notified last week he at once advised farmers that no more apples would be bought. A large number of growers who had brought loads of apples to town, had to carry their fruit back home again.

It is understood that a large number of other cider and vinegar plants in Michigan will be forced to close also, as most of them have been operated on general permits and if the department decides to push the cases, they are liable to penalties covering their operations for the past eleven years.

THROUGH NEW METHOD
AT M.A.C.

Alcohol is now acting the part of a detective in a method which was perfected by members of the soils department at Michigan State College to determine the amount of moisture in a soil. Old methods of measuring the quantity of water in the soil required that the soil be taken to a laboratory and dried in an oven for twenty-four hours. The new method permits the investigator to tell in five minutes in the field how much water the soil contains. No matter how fertile a soil is, plants cannot grow unless there is water present in the soil to allow the plant food to go into solution so it can be taken up by the plant. Clay should contain 35 per cent moisture, sand should have 12 per cent, and loam soils need 20 per cent to enable plants to make rapid growth. Soils which are low in water content can be improved by an application of organic matter, or the soils can be tilled by methods which build dust mulches on the surface. Organic matter increases the soil's water holding capacity and a dust mulch decreases the amount of water evaporated from the soil.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Vegter and family spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Grand Rapids.

Miss Ruth Melpolder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Melpolder of Washington, D.C., and Leon Kleis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kleis of this city, were united in marriage in Ann Arbor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Lente, Dr. J. Anderson of the Methodist church of that city performing the ceremony. The young couple were attended by Miss Mabel Mocke of Flint and Fred Steketee of Holland. Among the guests from Holland and vicinity who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kleis, Mrs. Mary Steketee, Walter and Fred Steketee, Miss Dorothy Logan and Miss Jeanette Herman of Holland, and Mrs. M. Coburn and Nettie Coburn of Zeeland. The bride attended Hope college and for the past few years was employed at the Peoples State bank. The bridegroom is a graduate of Holland high school and Hope college. He now is coach at St. John high school, at which place they will make their home after a short stay in Detroit.

"Ghosts" of The Sea Are Indeed
Weird TalesMysterious Ships Suddenly Come,
Then Disappear in Mist As Suddenly

The captain of the Mexico, the Danish motor-ship that went in search of the missing training-ship "Kobenhavn," reported a story related to him by the inhabitants of Tristan da Cunha—that the Kobenhavn was sighted more than a quarter of a mile from the Tristan reef, with not a soul on board and with her helm unmaneuvered.

When it appeared that the ship would strike the reef, she turned mysteriously, drifted into a current, and disappeared into the mist. Thus the Kobenhavn may yet be added to the long list of mysterious ships which have been found in every ocean of the world.

In the West Indian waters a Dutch liner once fell in with a tramp steamer that plainly was not under control. The Hollanders came up alongside the vessel, and when they boarded her they found no living thing except a large retriever, which was almost mad with terror.

On inspection they discovered steam still in the boilers, although shut off from the engine, and in the charthouse a penholder was stuck between the pages of the log-book and the ink on its nib was not yet dry.

As far as could be ascertained, however, there had been no fight or storm peril, but two lifeboats and a skiff were missing.

A whaler from Peterhead once reported that it had sighted a weird-looking ship, badly battered and weatherworn, in the Barents Sea. All her boats were gone, but when she was boarded the body of a young and very beautiful woman was found on the floor of the cabin, perfectly preserved by the intense cold.

Sitting close to her was the body of a young man, also preserved, who still held a flint and steel, which he appeared to be yet striking.

In another cabin a third body was found, but no facts ever came to light to solve the mystery.

What must be one of the most mysterious stories of all, however, is that which concerns a boat sighted in 1922 by the captain of the French sailing vessel Emilie Galline.

This captain was rounding the Horn when he encountered a field of icebergs, and while creeping his way into open waters again he sighted, in a cleft on the summit and some 120 feet from the sea a large three-masted vessel.

The vessel appeared to be intact, and although none of its boats were missing, no human beings were sighted, either on the ship or on the berg.

LOCAL BANKER FEELS THAT WE STILL HAVE MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Wynand Wichers, cashier of the First State bank, gave a real Thanksgiving address at the Exchange club at a recent luncheon. His subject was, "Thank God for Tomorrow."

He stated that while right now there was an industrial depression, at the foundation the structure is safe and solid. He said that the future holds much in store for us and while, as a rule, Thanksgiving Day is set aside to be thankful for what we have received in the past, he felt that the future holds much for us for which we can be equally thankful.

He said that it is needless to enumerate scientific triumphs of the past that have been a blessing to mankind, since we all know that. Science holds out still greater things for tomorrow. It seems that the field is unlimited. Tomorrow science will lead the world into greater peace, happiness and prosperity. Today the work of philanthropists is growing tremendously. Foundations for research are many and wonderful results are already being achieved.

From the industrial standpoint President Hoover recognizes that a period of depression exists, but the fact that he is calling the "capacities of industry" together is already alleviating the situation. The stock market debacle did not cause a currency panic as in other stressful times, for which we are duly thankful.

America is the richest nation on earth and is not the debtor of other nations, but is the chief creditor of the nations of the earth, which is surely something to be thankful for.

Mr. Wichers, in a recent trip to Washington, D.C., pointed out how the United States government is enlisting the services of great scientists who are constantly working on great problems for the betterment for the people of this nation. These men of great capacity are working for small pay since they love the work and the ends that their research benefiting mankind is to be put.

Ferret Hunting Is Forbidden in Michigan

MAX SANDY TELLS ABOUT THE "COTTON TAILS"

The following is from the pen of Max Sandy in the Grand Rapids Herald:

"Only a little more than a month remains of the rabbit season. This year for the first time the season ends on Jan. 1. This puts a hardship on hunters in the north, who get their best, snowshoe rabbit hunting in January and February. The big varying hare is sporty game. They give the hounds a long and fast run and test the skill of the shooter. But on the other hand the Jan. 1 closing is highly commendable, so far as the cottontails of the southern part of the state are concerned. During January in Kent county, for example, the bunnies run very little. They hole up and stay there. This means that about the only way to get a bag of rabbit is by use of ferrets, which is illegal. Enforcing the ferret law always has been considerable of a problem; but it will be much easier now, because any rabbit hunter in the field after the first of the year is an outlaw, whether he has a ferret or not.

"Reports of rabbit hunters are even more erratic than usual this year. In some sections the cottontails seem to be more plentiful than at any time in a long while. In other places they are mighty scarce. When we hunted pheasants during two days of the open season,

VEGETABLES VIE WITH FRUITS AT FENNVILLE

Fennville long has been known as a fruit shipping point, but the season of 1929 is the first year it has moved forward in the direction of vegetable products. One firm has shipped 50 carloads of cabbage this year and will load 18 carloads of carrots next week.

These two crops, coupled with the string bean pack of the Michigan Fruit Canners plant here, rank Fennville among the large vegetable shipping points of the state.

"We kicked up a half dozen bunnies, which is a good day's showing, considering that we had no hound and that a bird dog was ranging ahead of us. But we suspect that if we went into the same territory with our minds set on rabbits there'd be a different story to tell. However, we've half a mind to try it."

HOPES FOR OIL STILL EXIST IN OLIVE TOWNSHIP

That interest is still alive in Ottawa County as an oil producing area it is strongly rumored that a large oil company will begin drilling in Olive township not far from the well near Agnew which had a good showing of oil about 2,000 feet. There have been some leases sold recently to that company which indicates a healthy interest in that section.

Several more drillings have been made with much secrecy. The Muskegon field is admittedly nearing an end and other sections of the state are being looked over carefully.

Holland Man Devoted to Music 60 Years

JOHN VANDERSLUIS STILL CONTINUES BECAUSE OF JOY IT BRINGS

John Vandersluis of Holland is pictured in the Grand Rapids Press with the following interesting contribution:

"Devoting nearly three score years to the musical profession is a distinction rarely achieved, but to do it unselfishly, in the spirit of service and without salary or remuneration is quite another thing. This unusual record has been attained by former Mayor John Vandersluis, who still is drilling choirs and choruses at an age past 70.

"Vandersluis was only a lad of 14 years when first singled out for membership in a choir in First Reformed (now Central) church, Grand Rapids. H. H. Vanderstoop, who later became his father-in-law, and a "voorzinger" in Dr. Ogger's church in The Netherlands before he came to America, was the choir director who saw in the lad a prospect for musical talent. A few years later Vandersluis became choir director.

Drafted by Church
"Vandersluis was associated with the choir in the First Reformed church, Grand Rapids, for about 20 years. He then moved to Holland to establish a business of his own. His musical hobby stuck to him and he was drafted to direct the choir in Third Reformed church. This he did for more than 30 years. For the past several years he has directed choirs in other churches and one is in charge of the choir in Bethel Reformed church. He also directs the singing in Third Reformed Sunday school.

"Vandersluis' work, however, did not stop there. He frequently was summoned to drill choruses for cantatas, quartets, octettes and other musical combinations in different parts of the county, directed community singing and choruses at the Christmas season, and in fact found unusual enjoyment in singing his way through life.

Never Turns Deaf Ear
"Vandersluis never turned down a request for service in music when he saw it would be a benefit to the community. A musical event had precedence over his business affairs. "While directing the choir in the Sixth Reformed church he was supplied with such a reserve force of singers, the choir loft was filled at both services on Sundays. Besides the regular choir, he directed a male quartet and a double male quartet, two separate groups.

"Vandersluis in his musical career found a valuable aid in his wife, who was a member of his choir for more than a score of years. Both had a common interest in the work. Her last request before she died a few weeks ago, was that he should not discontinue his musical work, in which she had evidenced such real pleasure and satisfaction.

Has Two Hobbies
Vandersluis always had two hobbies — fishing and singing. If these interfered with business, he "A few years ago Vandersluis became charge of his clerks. He knows how to catch fish and how to direct choruses.

The first step in the completion came tired of business and sold out. But he hastens to add that he'll never get tired of music."

MUSKEGON CONGRESSMAN ASKS FOR A LAKE RESCUE BOAT

In a letter received at Muskegon by John C. Beukema, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Cong. James C. McLaughlin announced that he will introduce a bill asking for construction of a $500,000 coast guard cutter for use in aiding in marine rescues.

He pointed out that such a vessel would have been of great service in recent Lake Michigan disasters. The bill will specify that the vessel be reserved for use in Lake Michigan. A similar proposal, sponsored by Sen. Burton of Ohio, called for a cutter to be stationed at St. Mary's river for use on Lakes Superior and Huron.

Mr. McLaughlin conferred with Rear Admiral F. C. Bullard before drafting the bill, and said he had the approval of the commandant of the coast guard.

POULTRY INSURANCE GOING STRONG

Zeeland Record:
The Poultrymen's Mutual Protective Association, recently organized in Zeeland, is meeting with marked success and promises to be of inestimable benefit to the poultry keepers of this state. Already some five hundred poultry owners have joined the organization, and nearly as many applicants for membership are awaiting acceptance.

The association was organized through the efforts of the Modern Poultry Breeder, Michigan's own monthly poultry magazine, and it was devised to protect the poultry owner against loss by theft. It functions exactly as an insurance against theft in which the owner gets paid for his loss. Already the association has paid several claims to the great satisfaction of the parties suffering the loss. The headquarters of the company are in the Zeeland Record building.

HOLLAND FOLKS ATTEND ZEELAND SURPRISE

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kievit and daughter Mildred were completely surprised at their home on Sanford street, Zeeland, by a number of their relatives who came to spend the evening. Those comprising the party were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Huyser, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Huyser, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Huyser and children, Mr. and Mrs. S. Baron, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wiltedink, and Basil Van de Bunte, all of Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Huyser of Beaverdam; Miss Hester Cook of South Blendon; and Wm. Kievit of Grand Rapids. Delicious refreshments were served while games and a fine social time kept them entertained until a late hour.

G. L. Phillips of the Tavern Drug store spent Thanksgiving with friends in Pontiac.

GRAND HAVEN SPENDS $3,500 FOR ITS POOR

There were 198 persons receiving temporary aid at Grand Haven during 1929, 49 families temporarily given relief, six permanent families assisted and 23 permanently poor persons maintained. The total cost was $3,741.13 which included food, fuel, clothing, rent, storage, moving, and funeral expenses. Food was the largest item, costing $2,406.20; fuel was second with $776.41 and rent at $543.00.

The Grand Haven city nurse presented her usual monthly report and it was decided to institute a toxin-antitoxin program through the schools again. This campaign was instituted three years ago with astonishing results. The campaign is being waged through the rural schools and Mrs. Landborg, city nurse, was of the opinion it was time to immunize again in the local schools.

ZEELAND GAS STATION PUTTING IN LARGE STORAGE TANK

The Central Service Station, operated by John Veneklasen in Zeeland is placing a large storage tank for gasoline storage in connection with the service station. The tank is of great proportions, and on a guess we would say it is eight feet in diameter and twenty-five feet long, and large enough to store a couple of cars of gasoline. The tank is being placed in the vacant lot just east from the service station, where men have been digging a hole to place it beneath the surface. Mr. Veneklasen is preparing to put his place in shape for the big business that promises to come his way when the main state highway finally is completed over Washington street at Zeeland.

Wire-Walking Bear Is Killed On Phone Line

"BAD FACE" FALLS AS VICTIM FIRED BY CANADIAN YOUTH

Bad Face, the wire-walking bear, is no more. He met his death while attempting to escape via the overhead route, along telephone wires, and he was not electrocuted. He was shot.

The story of Bad Face was told today by George Phillips, superintendent of eastern flying operations for the Provincial Air Force, and Frank McDougall, district forester.

A 14-year-old lad, named Boileau, from the little hamlet of Algoma, Canada, was responsible for the sudden demise. Bruin attempted to enter the Boileau home. Mrs. Boileau screamed and Bad Face leaped it for a telephone pole. The boy followed, armed with his father's rifle.

Up the pole went the bear. He reached the copper strands. He did not hesitate. One broad foot came down on a strand of wire. A second came down on another strand. Then away went Bad Face, without balancing pole or parasol. He did nobly, progressing 20 or 30 feet on the tricky traveling. Then young Boileau cut loose. His first shot struck the bear's neck. Then the mushroom bullet spread. Bad Face slumped. He fell across the wires, kicked a couple of times and died.

"I don't suppose you'll believe this yarn," Phillips said. "Well, I didn't either, until I was taken outside the Boileau home and shown the bear, still up on the perch."

Phillips and McDougall were flying from Sault Ste. Marie to Sudbury and landed near the Boileau home in a storm.

W. C. T. U. URGES CIGARET BAN IN RESTAURANT

Those who dine in public eating places in Nebraska will have to get along without their after dinner cigarettes if the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has its way.

The society at its recent state convention exhumed an old statute prohibiting cigaret smoking in restaurants and adopted resolutions urging enforcement of the law. As a further gesture, it is now distributing placards to the restaurants, calling the diners' attention to the law.

WILDERNESS IS SCENE OF DUEL

A duel of the wilderness in which the vanquished was killed, his side ripped open, was discovered by Conservation Officer A. J. Brookman of Vanderbilt in Osego county, Michigan. Brookman discovered a spike horn buck in the woods, glaring at him and pawing the ground. Nearby was the body of a 225-pound prong-horn buck, killed in the fight. A doe and two fawns had been the only spectators to the fight. The dead deer furnished meat for the county poor farm in-

Dog Ignores "Owners," Licks Judge's Hand

Solomonic Attempt to Have Puppy Select His Master Goes Awry

Any ordinary witness would have been sent to jail for the grave breach of court etiquette that Prince committed today. But because of his extreme youth (Prince is only four months old), Judge Frederick Elliott of Chicago condoned his offense and waived a contempt of court citation.

Prince, a police dog, was summoned into court as a witness in a dispute over his ownership. The rival masters were stationed in opposite corners of the court room. The witness, somewhat bewildered by the proceedings, was led forward. At a signal he was released.

From one corner came a shrill whistle.

From the other: "Hyah, Prince! Hyah!" Prince sniffed judiciously. Then he bounded up to the bench and affably licked the court's hand.

Case continued.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Vaupell and Miss Elaine Vaupell spent Thanksgiving day in Allegan as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Vaupell.

CLAMS CATCH RATS—MAKE 'EM 9-LEGGED

For many years the residents of Wors Island, Maine, were puzzled by the prevalence of three-legged rats. It remained for a New England clam digger, Jack Woodie, to discover the reason for this mysterious matter. Jack and other clam diggers often in gathering up their spoils leave a few live clams or quahogs scattered about in search of food find these clams by accidentally putting their foot into an open shell. The clam clamps down with a viselike grip and the rat twists off its leg to escape much as a beaver or muskrat does when caught in a trap out of water. Woodie saw one rat so caught. The rat dragged the heavy shell along for a few rods, but the rough nature of the flats soon tired it out. The rising tide threatened to drown the rodent who, frightened, began gnawing its foot off close to the shell. In this way it freed itself and joined its companions on higher ground.

Lesson for December 8

HELPING NEIGHBORS IN NEED
LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:33-37.
James 1:26, 27; 2:14-17; Matt. 23:21-26.

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Being a Good Neighbor.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Being a Good Neighbor.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Be a Good Neighbor.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Modern Good Samaritan: Who Is He?

It is difficult to discover a thread of unity running through the texts selected by the lesson committee. The teacher should choose between them, making a study of the one best suited to the needs of the class. If the use of all the texts be desired, the teacher will be under the necessity of selecting the verses from each unit best suited to the needs of the class. Perhaps the nearest approach to unity of treatment of the texts in the light of the lesson subject would be the following:

I. Who Is My Neighbor? (Luke 10:29, 30).

The parable of the Good Samaritan makes clear who is a neighbor. This destitute and wounded man left on the highway by robbers, needed a neighbor. My neighbor, therefore, is the one who needs my help—whether he lives next door or on the other side of the world.

II. What Being a Neighbor Means. (Luke 10:31-37).

Our primary concern is not—who is my neighbor? but whose neighbor am I? Being a neighbor is:

1. To be on the lookout for those in need of help. (v. 33).

2. To have compassion on the needy. (v. 33).

Human need called forth Christ's compassion. All who have His spirit will be likewise moved.

3. To give to those in need. (v. 34).

This means not only to give money to help the poor, but also to minister to them. The human touch is frequently of greater value than material aid.

4. To bind up wounds. (v. 34).

5. To set the helpless ones on our beasts while we walk. (v. 34).

6. To bring to the inn and take care of the unfortunate. (v. 34).

7. Genuine love is not spasmodic, but complete in its service.

8. To give money. (v. 35).

It costs much to be a neighbor. Love is the most expensive thing in the world. It costs God His only Son; it cost Christ His life.

III. The Test of Pure Religion. (James 1:20, 27).

1. The tongue is bridled. (v. 20).

This means that those who have experienced Christ will speak with discretion.

2. Sympathizing with and helping those in need. (v. 27).

The widow and orphan are the symbols of helplessness and need. Those who have true pity will visit such and render necessary aid.

3. Keep unspotted from the world. (v. 27).

The one who has truly experienced the life from God will separate himself from the world.

IV. Judgment of the Nations. (Matt. 23:31-40).

It is difficult to see what bearing this text has upon neighborly responsibility, as it is a picture of the judgment which is to take place at the end of this age.

1. The Judge. (v. 31).

He is the Son of Man who died to redeem the human race. He will then be clothed with majesty and power, occupying His throne, acting as Judge.

2. The time. (v. 31).

It will take place when the Lord comes in His glory, accompanied with a retinue of glorious angels. It will take place after He has gathered the elect remnant of Israel.

3. The place. (v. 31).

From Zechariah 14:1-5 we learn that it will be in or near Jerusalem. Since, according to Luke 1:31-33, Christ is to sit upon the throne of His father David, we conclude that the place will be real and the throne real.

4. The people judged. (v. 32-45).

They will be the living nations upon the earth after the transition of the church (1 Thess. 4:16, 17). They will be people unto whom the gospel of the kingdom shall be preached (Matt. 24:14). Those who preach this gospel will be Jews (Rev. 7 and Romans 11). They will be the brethren of the Lord in the flesh.

5. The issue of the judgment. (v. 46).

(1) The sheep, Israel, shall enter upon their inheritance of the prepared kingdom.

(2) The goats, rejecters of Christ, go into everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels.

BAROMETER IS HUNTER'S BEST FRIEND

VETERANS AT SPORT RELY ON WEATHER FORECAST FROM THIS INSTRUMENT

Veteran duck hunters know that weather plays an important part in their business. The blustering squally storm that sweeps down from the north is the one that sends the ducks down and into the marshes for shelter and makes the shooting more profitable even though it may be less comfortable.

It is no fun to plan a day in the field for rabbits and get up early in the morning to find a blizzard raging or a rain soaking the landscape.

Many veteran hunters wouldn't part with their barometers for love or money. They consult them out of season to learn their lore and then consult them in season, the better to select their hunting days. Barometers are not expensive devices and prove most interesting and valuable in outsmarting the weather.

A rapid rise of the barometer indicates unsettled weather. A gradual rise indicates settled weather. A rise with dry air, and cold increasing in summer, indicates wind from northward, and if rain has fallen better weather is to be expected.

A rise with moist air, and a low temperature, indicates wind and rain from northward.

A rise with southerly wind indicates fine weather.

A steady barometer with dry air and seasonal temperature, indicates a continuance of very fine weather.

A rapid fall indicates stormy weather.

A rapid fall with westerly wind indicates stormy weather from the north.

A fall with increased moisture in the air, and the heating increasing, indicates wind and rain from the southward.

A fall with dry air and cold increasing (in winter) indicates snow.

A fall after very calm and warm weather, indicates rain with squally weather.

THE COLD-STORAGE EGG IS A GOOD EGG

Despite the prejudice of many persons against cold-storage eggs and poultry, the quality of these products at certain seasons of the year is superior to some of the fresh products found on the market. Young fresh-dressed chickens bought during the winter and early spring are inferior in flavor and tenderness to those killed and stored in early fall. Fresh eggs coming on the market in hot weather are often inferior to eggs laid and stored during the cool months earlier in the season. Under the present marketing system, farm-produced eggs often take 2 or 3 weeks to reach the consumer's table. Extensive experiments by the Department of Agriculture show that there is little or no difference in taste between fresh eggs and poultry and these products after 4 or 5 months in cold storage.

Poultry of Former Holland Man Goes to Japan

The fame of Ottawa County poultry has gone to the ends of the earth.

This was indicated Saturday in the shipment of 50 pedigreed White Leghorn pullets and five pedigreed cockerels to the Japanese government. The poultry was purchased by Kiyoshi Matsukawa, commissioner of agriculture for the Japanese government, who came to Western Michigan with his New York agent, M. Hada, and inspected several hundred birds in the breeding flock of Dr. L. E. Hensley, president of the Michigan Poultry Improvement Association.

Matsukawa selected 100 birds from the flock but Hensley refused to deplete his breeding stock of more than 50 pullets.

The poultry will be used as foundation stock at the government's poultry farm at Okazaki, Japan. It was shipped to Seattle, Wash., where it is to be assembled with Barred Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Wyandottes purchased in other states. Matsukawa said the Japanese government has two of its poultry specialists at Seattle awaiting the arrival of the poultry. They will accompany the birds on the voyage across the Pacific. Dr. Hensley, who now lives in Kent County, for several years conducted a hatchery at Jensen Park and also at Zeeland, and he has done a great deal to promote the poultry interests in Ottawa County.

The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the mayor.

Present: Mayor Brooks, Alds. Westing, Kleis, Wolman, Brive, Vandenberg, Hyma, McLean, Stefens, Jonkman, Postma, Veltman and the clerk. Minutes read and approved.

Clerk presented oath of office of Wynand Webers as a member of the Library Board.

Accepted and filed.

Clerk presented petition from residents in the vicinity of the O. E. Szekely Aircraft and Engine Co., protesting against the noise made by their engines while running out of doors on testing rack.

Accepted and filed.

Clerk presented communication from National Rivers and Harbors Congress requesting names of delegates who will attend the annual convention held at Washington, D. C., Dec. 10 and 11.

Accepted and Clerk instructed to forward names of the delegates.

Reports of Committees

Committee on Claims and Accounts reported having examined claims in the sum of $6,995.67 and recommended payment thereof. (Said claims on file in City Clerk's office for public inspection).

Allowed.

Committee on Welfare reported poor orders in the sum of $124.00 for regular aid, and $53.29 for temporary aid, total $177.29.

Accepted and filed.

Committee on sidewalks to whom was referred the matter of investigating the condition of the walks on the east side of Maple Ave., between 8th and 9th streets, reported recommending that for the present the ground be leveled off and a suitable fence erected to properly safeguard pedestrians. Said work to be done immediately under the supervision of the city engineer and the cost of same charged to the owners of the adjacent property, viz., J. K. Mosser Leather Company.

Committee on ordinances to whom was referred the recommendation from the Board of Health requesting the passage of an ordinance requiring that all milk delivered in the City of Holland be either pasteurized or grade "A" raw milk, reported recommending that the matter be referred back to the Health Board for more specific instructions on just what the Board desired incorporated in such an ordinance.

Adopted.

Reports of Select Committees

Ald. Kleis, chairman of the Select Committee, appointed to investigate the desirability of installing a new system in the Assessor's and Treasurer's office for the assessment and collection of taxes, submitted a detailed report, recommending that the City install a complete up-to-date outfit consisting of an addressograph system together with the Burroughs calculating machine at a total cost for these machines of $3,105.50.

Carried.

On motion of Ald. McLean, seconded by Vandenberg, Mayor and Clerk authorized to execute the necessary contracts on behalf of the City.

Attorney T. N. Robinson appeared in person on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, and petitioned the Council to extend the city light and power lines north on US-31 as far as the landing field operated by the O. E. Szekely Aircraft and Engine Co.

Referred to Committee on Public Lighting, with instructions to secure an estimate of cost from the B.P.W. and report back to the Common Council.

Attorney Robinson also brought to the attention of the Common Council the apparent lack of specific designation on the proper procedure to follow in regard to appeals that may be taken from actions of the Appeal Board, who are appointed to carry out the provisions of the Zoning ordinance.

In this connection cited the recent action of said Appeal Board in granting a special permit to Harry Bontekoe to move his house within 4 feet of his lot line which is contrary to the zoning ordinance.

Said action of the Appeal Board having aggrieved Mr. Anthony Schermer, who owns the property, next to Mr. Bontekoe's property. After some discussion and on motion of Ald. Vandenberg, seconded by Brive, the matter of amending said ordinance to clarify this part of the ordinance was referred to the City Attorney and the Ordinance Committee.
