Council Buys Another House For Parking Area

Gaylord Property on West Ninth St. Sold
To City for $18,000

City Council Wednesday night voted to purchase property at 49 West Ninth St. from Alice E. Gaylord for $18,000 to be used for parking purposes. The property with 411 feet of frontage on Ninth St. can care for 16 cars, according to City Manager Herb Holt.

Holt said the property had been in conflict with health and zoning laws and has at times been regarded as a nuisance. To effect the transfer, Council transferred $20,000 from the capital improvement fund to the parking meter fund, the loan to be repaid as soon as funds are available. The extra amount will be used to improve the premises. Use of the property as parking area is part of the city plan as drawn up by City Planning Commission.

Holt also was authorized to solicit bids on contracts for the disposal of Ninth St. residential buildings recently acquired by the city. The buildings must be moved by March 15.

This was only a small part of a huge amount of business transacted by Council, most of it of a routine nature.

Council approved a recommendation of the city manager to purchase a jeep with snowplow attachment and two-way radio equipment to be used for plowing snow in parking lots, for emergency ice and snow control activities, for street painting and sign maintenance work. Estimate cost is $2,150 for the jeep, $340 for the snowplow, $500 for radio, or approximately $3,000, chargeable to the motor vehicle highway fund.

The city manager reported on sidewalk repair costs for work done during 1955 and was instructed to send bills payable in 90 days or put on the assessment rolls.

Council also okayed the purchase of a merry-go-round wheel at a cost of $300 and a miracle Skyway Climber at $200 to be placed in Prospect Park, the cost to be charged to the recreation area improvement fund.

Purchase of duplicating equipment known as "Copease" equipment was okayed at a cost of $450. This will provide Councilmen with exact copies of minutes as they appear in the official records.

Council waived the reading of a lengthy six-page resolution for paving bonds totaling $74,000 in the 1955 paving projects. Total amount of the paving was $94,951.28 but some $20,000 was paid in full. Bids will be opened Jan. 18.

The city manager presented a report on the construction of a sanitary sewer in West 30th St. between Harrison and Van Raalte Aves. at an estimated cost of $3,762. He also reported on constructing a water main on Van Raalte Ave. from 30th to 32nd Sts. and in 30th and 31st Sts. from Van Raalte to Harrison Aves. at a cost of $9,795.42 with hydrants at $2,542.07. Hearings on both subjects will be held Dec. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

A resolution pertaining to Social Security for city employees was adopted.

Council okayed purchase of a Model S tractor from John De Kraker at a price of $1,704.08 plus purchase of an Allen Convertible cab from the same source for $271.08 to be used for sidewalk plowing. The amount will be charged to the capital outlay account of the street department.

Purchase of 250 light and 40 heavy manhole frames and covers from Neenah Foundry Co. at a cost of $19 each for the light and $31.50 for the heavy frames and covers was okayed. Total costs of $6,010 will be charged to the Motor Vehicle Highway storm sewer and culvert account. Also charged to this account will be sepper and culvert pipe from T. Kupper's Sons for $21,833.27, the lowest of three bids.

A request from Herman Bere for permission to move the A and W Root Beer stand from 139 East Eighth St. to a location on US-31 seven miles south of Holland was granted, providing sufficient insurance coverage is received.

A communication from Chester E. Kuiper requesting cancellation of a fire department contract for Temple Furniture Co. was approved.

Council approved a recommendation from the Board of Public Works on changes in the lake intake line contract with Luedtke Engineering Co. for a net increase in contract price of $45,611. Two items previously had been approved, and the other two items are a net deduction of $8,970 for substituting a steel intake drum for the timber crib, and a net increase of $661 for addition of a 42-inch riser pipe to the branch outlet on the intake line.

Approval also was given a net increase in contract price with C and C Construction Co., Inc., of $2,400 for substitution of smooth face buff colored iron spot face brick on the water treatment plant instead of the rough textured red face brick as stipulated in the specifications.

Mayor Robert Visscher presided at the meeting which lasted an hour and 20 minutes. Councilwoman Bernice Bishop gave the invocation. All Councilmen were present.

Blaze Leaves Family Homeless

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A Robinson township family of seven was homeless today after fire destroyed their home Wednesday afternoon while the family was out. All furnishings and clothing were lost in the blaze, which swept the frame dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz and their five children, aged 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8.

Shortly after lunch, Mrs. Lutz took her husband to the home of a neighbor where he was doing some work. She had the two youngest children with her and remained there for a time. Then she left and picked up the other three children who were returning from school and headed for home.

When she drove into the yard, she found the house completely enveloped in flames. Neighbors had been attempting to control the blaze but, unable to do so, they concentrated on protecting the out-buildings.

Fire departments of Grand Haven township and Allendale township were called but they have no jurisdiction in Robinson township.

Mrs. Lutz said all cooking equipment had been turned off. The house was heated by an oil heater in the living room and a wood stove in the kitchen, both of which Mrs. Lutz said were under control. There is some insurance.

The Woman's Literary Club started a month-long Christmas vacation today following its annual Christmas meeting in the clubhouse Tuesday featuring music, drama and a festive tea.

The Christmas program attracted one of the largest crowds in recent months. A sunny day, the prospect of a long vacation and the fact that last week's meeting was cancelled because of bad weather were factors in the large attendance.

Highlight of the program was a Christmas play, "Dust of the Road," by Kenneth Goodman, presented by a group of Hope College students under the direction of Miss Elva Van Haltsma of the faculty. The one-act fantasy involved an incident in which Judas Iscariot returned to the world on one day, a Christmas, to serve as the voice of conscience for a couple facing temptation on a large sum of money.

In the cast were Peter de Moya of North Swazey, N.H., as Judas, Tom Ten Hoeve of Ridgefield, N.J., and Connie Miller of Zealand as the farm couple, and Del Farnsworth of Wayland as the elderly father.

Well received were three Christmas selections sung by James Kranendonk of Alberta, Canada, with accompaniment by Lois Van Linder of Herkimer, N.Y.

Mrs. Alvin D. Bos, president, closed the main program by reading the Christmas poem which appears in the club's yearbook this year. It was entitled "A Christmas Benediction" and was composed by Clarence Hawkes, famous blind poet of Hadley, Mass.

The floral arrangement in the club room was in charge of Mrs. L.W. Lamb and the arrangement in the tea room was done by Mrs. E.P. Schneider and Mrs. J. D. Jencks. The tea was in charge of Mrs. H.K. Alexander and Mrs. R. L. Schlecht, board members.

Pouring were four past presidents, Mrs. John K. Winter, Mrs. Clyde H. Geerlings, Mrs. Bruce G. Van Leuwen and Mrs. Garrett Vander Borgh.

The next meeting Jan. 3 will feature Mary Waterstreet, impersonator of presidents' wives in historical drama.

Nienhuis Resigns As Councilman Due to Ill Health

Junior Chamber Will Operate Concession
At Civic Center

The resignation of Anthony A. Nienhuis as councilman of Holland's first ward was accepted with regret at a regular meeting of City Council Wednesday night.

Nienhuis, a member of Council since 1947, resigned because of ill health. In his letter, he thanked the voters of Holland for their continued confidence and trust during the years and paid tribute to the mayor, fellow councilmen and city officials for their cooperation in working together to make Holland a better place to live.

Mayor Robert Visscher instructed City Clerk Clarence Greengood to send a letter of appreciation to Nienhuis with a certificate of merit given councilmen when they conclude their term of service. The charter calls for an appointment by council within 30 days.

Council also granted permission to the Junior Chamber of Commerce to operate the concession at Civic Center with the Jaycees retaining 30 percent of the net profit, the funds to be used in financing youth activities and civic projects. JCC President Mike Van Oort explained that the Jaycee Auxiliary also had offered its assistance in the operation during afternoon and evening events. It was pointed out that currently it costs the city 30.5 percent to operate the concession, plus another five percent in processing and accounting. The new arrangement would reduce cost to the city, plus the assurance that funds would be used for civic improvements.

Council rejected an offer from Standard Oil Co. to purchase the east 15.5 feet of the property on Ninth St. recently acquired through condemnation proceedings at a price of $9,000 or $580.65 per front foot. Councilman Robert J. Kouw said Council could easily declare this strip excess property at present, but if the city should ever build a parking ramp on the site, the 15 1/2 feet would be necessary.

Approval also was given a transfer of funds to the hospital construction fund to allow the Hospital board to award contracts for elevator, laundry, pneumatic tube system and x-ray totaling approximately $97,000 before Dec. 20. Tangible resources available at present are $20,000, and the remaining $77,000 will be transferred on a loan basis from the following funds: BPW compensation fund $38,255.35; capital improvement fund, $13,836.88; general city compensation fund, $24,907.77.

The $38,255.35 from the BPW compensation fund represents 50 percent of the fund. In view of the fact that the city and Board of Public Works are under a new compensation system, auditors had recommended that the funds be dissolved. Council also approved a resolution transferring the other $38,255.35 to the earned surplus of the electric utility fund. The hospital loans from the compensation funds are to be repaid by July 2, 1959, at which time the city auditor and chief clerk of the Board of Public Works will determine the percentage to be distributed to the earned surplus of the electric utility fund and to the general city funds.

Council also accepted for first reading two new ordinances. One sets up new election precincts as required by state law, and the other exempts physically handicapped persons, persons selling products of their own farm and persons selling for a religious organization or educational institutions from payment of fees as transient merchants. In the case of religious or educational institutions, entire proceeds of sales must go to the institution. The ordinances will come up again at the next meeting.

Drive Continues

The Chamber of Commerce membership drive continued today after getting off to a slow start last week because of weather conditions.

No goal has been set for the 1956 campaign, but Chamber officials are hopeful that last year's new members will be equalled. Captains who have not reported thus far are requested to give progress reports to headquarters by Friday.

Allegan-Ottawa Mental Health Group Completed

Permanent Committee Named; First Meeting To Be Held Thursday

Organizational plans for the formation of the Allegan-Ottawa Committee for Mental Health have been completed by the temporary committee selected last June when a large group of interested persons from all parts of the two counties met to discuss plans for a two county co-ordinating committee to help in fostering further education in the mental health field.

Fred Carrol of Otsego, Mrs. Walter Wightman of Fennville and Mrs. F. R. Hunter of Allegan were chosen for the temporary committee. Ottawa representatives were Mrs. Ben Grosse of Grand Haven, Mrs. Henry Vermeer of Jamestown and Mrs. Robert R. Horner of Holland.

An early fall meeting of the temporary committee discussed the make-up and the purposes of the proposed two-county permanent committee. The group decided that such a committee should set objectives for increasing knowledge among the people of the counties for a better understanding of the problems and aids for mental health. The committee could formulate and suggest procedures for spreading information and could encourage groups for local work. It also could act as a clearing house and a co-ordinating center for all groups working in various phases of mental health work.

Possible personnel for the new committee were discussed so that representatives from all geographical areas of each county would be found if possible. Also it was decided that both men and women should be members, and that some elected officials, professional social service people and major laymen be invited to serve on the first committee.

The following citizens of the two counties have expressed their interest and willingness to be members of the first Allegan-Ottawa Committee for Mental Health and will meet in Holland for their first meeting on Thursday, Dec. 8 at 6:30 p.m. at Cramerford's restaurant: Allegan, Judge Harold West and Mrs. Paul Lovejoy; Fennville, Sen. Edward Hutchinson and Mrs. Willis Hunting; Mrs. Forest Burchfield from Plainwell, Mrs. Leo Weipert and Fred Carrol from Otsego, Harry Webber of Martin and Mrs. James Boyce of route 1, Holland.

The Ottawa County members will be: Grand Haven, Miss Fleda Nevins, Mrs. Aubrey Ernst and Mr. Robert Van Horssen; Coopersville, John Noe; Hudsonville, William Vander Laan, Jamestown, Mrs. Henry Vermeer; Allendale, Mrs. John Van Buren; Zeeland, George Van Koeve; Holland, Don Crawford, Miss Florence Vander Woude, Mrs. Henry Rotzhaefer and Mrs. Robert R. Horner.

The Social Studies Committee of the Holland Branch of the American Association of University Women was the instigating force for the organizational meeting of last June after several years of survey and study of the needs for more education in Mental Health in Ottawa County. During the fall the Allegan Branch of the AAUW has also been enlisted to work in Allegan County. On the permanent committee four members of the AAUW are represented; Miss Florence Vander Woude and Mrs. Robert Horner of the Holland Branch, Mrs. Paul Lovejoy of the Allegan Branch and Mrs. Forest Burchfield of Kalamazoo Branch.

Church Officers Named

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — At the annual congregational meeting of First Reformed Church Monday evening Martin Reenders, Dick Vander Kolk and William Wuenneke were named elders and Keith De Jong, John Claver, Jr., and Arnold Reenders were elected as deacons.

OLIVET (Special) — Hope College's cagers moved into first place in the MIAA standings here Tuesday night with an easy 72-57 victory over Olivet College.

The Dutch now have a 2-0 conference record while Calvin and Alma Colleges follow with 1-0 marks.

Hope took command of the game from the opening tipoff and pounded the hoop to the tune of 32 baskets out of 68 shots for a terrific 47 percent.

It was 6'10" Paul Benes and Co-captain Whitey Riemersma who led the Hope first-half attack and John Adams was the big gun in the second half.

Benes sank 21 points in the first half, including five straight baskets and Riemersma picked up four baskets. The Dutch led 46-31 at halftime.

Hope got the fast break going briefly at full speed in the second half and Adams came through with four buckets.

Olivet's defense bottled up somewhat the smooth operation of the fast break the rest of the game. Coach John Visser substituted freely and used 12 men in the contest.

Hope led by about 20 points most of the second half but slumped slightly when substitutes cluttered the lineup in the final minutes.

The Dutch scored 19 out of 35 shots in the first half and 13 out of 33 in the second half.

Benes added two baskets to the Comet cause with two tips.

Hope travels to Ypsilanti Friday night to battle Michigan Normal in a non-conference game.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele, County Agricultural Agent

Some of the pine plantation owners asked about selling pulpwood. I wrote John Fields at the S.D. Warren Company of Muskegon regarding this. He tells me that his company is willing to buy pine pulpwood bolts cut in eight-foot lengths with a minimum top of four (4) inches. Limbs should be closely trimmed and the sticks reasonably straight. However, he also states that it is not advisable to take pulpwood thinnings in plantations until the trees have reached the size to produce at least 2 1/2 sticks of pulpwood or a merchantable length of 20 feet to the four inch top diameter.

It is only when you can harvest such trees that you could expect to get a fair return for your lumber. The price for pine pulpwood is $16 per cord delivered to the plant in Muskegon.

According to the outlook there are many new opportunities for vegetable production in the state of Michigan. Stan Reiss, Extension Horticulturist of Michigan State University says that both consumers and farmers should be interested in lengthening the marketing season. Much of the produce used in the state of Michigan comes from outside of the state.

A small percentage of Michigan produce reaches the terminal markets. We agree with Stan Reiss that opportunities in vegetable production in this area looks exceptionally good in comparison with other enterprises.

In recent figures published in the state of Michigan the average cow in the Michigan DHIA produces 9,600 pounds milk and 382 pounds butterfat. The average for all cows is 6,500 milk and 247 butterfat. We can be proud of Ottawa County in that your association this past year completed the following records: DHIA No. 1 averaged 10,473 pounds milk and 417 pounds butterfat; DHIA No. 2 had 11,085 milk and 427.1 butterfat.

We know that through this testing program production will be increased at a time when it is necessary for dairy farmers to have good production in order to show a profit. Many more than the 65 herds that we are testing at the present time should be in the dairy improvement association.

Any farmer in the county who is interested can contact the county agent for details on price.

Flint Car Stolen

Holland police Wednesday received a report of a stolen car owned by Davis Supply Co., Flint, which was taken from a parking lot near Ninth St. and River Ave. Tuesday night.

'56 Michigan Grid Captain Honored By Townspeople

Tom Maentz had his night.

And what a night it was. Tom, the big "6'3" captain-elect of the Michigan football team summed it up in his brief remarks.

"This is the greatest honor I've ever received and I'll never forget it. My being elected captain I thought was my greatest, but this is even greater."

Holland threw out the red carpet for Maentz Tuesday night at Tom Maentz Night in Civic Center.

Some 600 Holland area residents, including 130 Holland High athletes, attended the event and through their presence congratulated Maentz for the job he has done as a Wolverine football player.

The event was sponsored by the Holland High Athletic Council.

Maentz too, thanked the people of Holland High for aiding him in his athletic and educational development.

His remarks were one of the final highlights of an evening jammed-packed with plaudits.

Michigan's Coach Bennie Oosterbaan and End Coach Mat Patanelli gave local residents an insight into their reactions to the local lad's contribution to Michigan football.

"I wouldn't have missed this remarkable affair for anything. There isn't another guy like him and it's wonderful for Holland to honor him," Oosterbaan said.

Oosterbaan went on and repeated what he had said often since the Ohio State defeat "that he accepted the blame for the incident in the last two minutes of the game."

In regard to Ron Kramer, Maentz's running mate at left end, the Michigan coach said, "Ron never quite fully recovered from his injury. He was frustrated and confused those last couple minutes. But he's definitely playing for Michigan all the way and not for Kramer."

Oosterbaan said it was unfortunate that Michigan was rated No. 1 in the nation before even putting on a suit.

"Injuries, such as Maentz and Kramer, prevented us from developing to full extent," Oosterbaan said.

Patanelli described Maentz as an "ideal athlete." In prefacing his remarks, the Wolverine end coach told Holland High athletes the importance of being "champion in the classroom."

"Use the same effort in attaining high grades that you use in playing athletics," he said.

He singled out four things that he thought made Maentz a great football player. He pointed to his industry, courage, leadership and gentlemanly traits emphasizing each with an example seen on the Michigan football field.

The Michigan end coach said Maentz was "all business" working on the points he needed most to improve. He was serious and practiced the adage of "play as you practice."

He brought out Maentz's courage by relating all the setbacks the all-conference end had received, a broken jaw as a freshman, neck injury last year and the back injury this year.

Patanelli believed Maentz would show his leadership next fall by example and voice. He told how Tom was a gentleman on and off the field, had the respect of all and was popular with the team.

He cited how highly Maentz was thought of at a camp in Montana this past summer where the local athlete served as counselor and he as director.

Bob Stupka, former Holland High coach, wished Maentz "lots of luck" and "hoped he would continue to show his great ability next year." Stupka coached Maentz in High school and is now a resident of Watervliet, Wis.

Joe Moran, Holland High athletic director, spoke primarily to the Dutch athletes. "I hope that some of you as stars of the future will shine as brightly as Tom Maentz has tonight," Moran said.

He reviewed briefly his association with Maentz while watching his progress from the elementary grades through high school.

Ron Van Dyke, co-captain of the Holland High 1955 football team, was awarded the most valuable player award presented by Stephen Wiersma of the Elks Club.

Van Dyke's name will be engraved on the 24-inch trophy and the prep halfback was given a smaller trophy to keep.

Moran accepted the trophy and head football coach Dale Shearer the bronze plaque for the engraving of the names.

Shearer introduced members of the Holland High varsity and coaches and also reserve coach Ned Stuits and ninth grade coach Ed Damsen who in turn introduced assistants and players.

Bob Connell introduced the Dutch cross-country team.

Peter Van Dornen was master of ceremonies and introduced special guests.

He introduced Clarence (Shike) Vande Water, Lloyd Heneveld, and Jim De Pree, Holland natives, and former Michigan football players and also Helme Lightner, an ex-Wolverine from Grand Rapids.

He also mentioned Franklin (Cappy) Cappon, now coaching at Princeton University.

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water
Genial Peter Van Dornen, who did an excellent job of keeping the Maentz' banquet moving along Tuesday night at Civic Center, started his remarks by suggesting that the people of Holland honor the prep football teams each year and referred to the event as "the first annual."

Van Dornen started what turned out to be a string of comments and laughs by introducing a picture, published in The Holland Sentinel, of Maentz' hands.

The master of ceremonies kiddingly told of Henry Maentz, having the spirit but not the hands to make the Michigan football team.

"But when he met the future Mrs. Maentz and her father Dr. Stegeman and shook hands with them, he realized these were the hands he needed."

So Van Dornen said that was how Maentz was endowed with his big hands.

And each speaker throughout the banquet quipped about the hands.

Co-captains Ron Van Dyke and Bill Buis of the Holland High football team presented Bennie Oosterbaan and Mat Patanelli with a pair of wooden shoes, the traditional Holland gesture to visiting personages.

Patanelli quipped, "I'm not a Dutchman and I'll have to ask Ben how to wear them."

The co-captains were introduced by James Hallan, president of the board of education.

Telegrams were received during the banquet from Wendell A. Miles, United States District Attorney and from the Sigma Chi fraternity, Maentz' fraternity at Michigan.

The Sigma Chi fellows addressed the wire to "Tulip Tom."

The Civic Center was decorated for the occasion.

Two manekins were appropriately attired in football uniforms from Holland High and Michigan with Maentz' numbers — 60 for high school and 85, his college number.

The manekins were placed in front of school blankets, the Red and White of Holland High and the Maize and Blue of the Wolverines.

Several pine trees were placed around the figures.

The display was made by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Klompars and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shilder, parents of Holland High football players.

A large bouquet of yellow pom-poms was also placed on the stage as a gift from the employees of First National Bank.

Maentz, Oosterbaan and Patanelli answered questions from Holland High athletes in the basement of the Civic Center prior to the dinner.

Maentz complimented Holland High on its football season.

He reported he had two Grand Rapids boys for roommates and after Holland lost to Creston, he didn't know what to think. But the one-sided win over Ottawa Hills in the final game, "it meant I could live in my room for another year."

Ottawa County 4-H News

by Willis S. Boss, 4-H Club Agent

Chrislyn Wagenveld, Holland; Phoebe Osner, Grand Haven; Pat Hubbel, Coopersville; Bob Crouse, Nunica; Gerald Koop, Zeeland; Dennis Beuschel, Sparta; and Mrs. Warren Bosworth, Jenison returned home from a visit to the big city last week. They all agreed that Chicago was interesting to visit but they were all happy to return home. Remarks made were: "cold and windy"; "tall buildings"; "Boy, what steers"; "icy streets"; "We sure are tired, but let's walk." Sponsors who contributed to their trip were: First National Bank, and Russ's Drive-in of Holland; Zeeland State Bank; Hudsonville Co-op; Coopersville West Ottawa Soil Conservation Service; and the Ottawa County Farm Bureau.

4-H of Ottawa County wants to thank all of you for making these trips possible.

Dec. 6 marks the opening of two events. Ottawa County has six entries in the Turkey Festival in Lansing and four members are entering the Grand Rapids Fat Stock Show. Last week, this column mentioned Roger Timmerman of Nunica as an entry. This was a mistake as it should have been Roger Jewell from Coopersville with his steer. Also, we have Merle Smallen from Hudsonville with a steer entry. We hope and look for some results of these entries in completion.

Enrollment blanks are coming in every day. We hope all members enrolled will compete with some good quality articles in their projects. Indications are that a good number will be in winter project work. Achievement days are being held the last of March and the first of April. All members should work to have their projects completed by that time. We also will be having our demonstrations and Achievement booths at this time.

Another thing we want to remind you of is the "Share the Fun" contest we hold at each Achievement time. If you can play an instrument, sing, give a reading, or act, you should be in this contest. Start thinking about it so you can enter when the time comes.

There are about 200 members entered in the 4-H school conservation project and I have seen some groups working on this project. It is coming along good. You teachers can use some of your library money for books dealing with conservation and wildlife. If you haven't enrolled, why not do so now. It's still not too late and you can have this project of school, as well as 4-H credit.

LEARNING ALL OVER AGAIN
Government secretaries in Washington are appalled at the prospect of perhaps having to learn typing all over again right from scratch. A new typewriter keyboard is being tried out in which the letters are all re-arranged. For it is claimed that the speed can thereby be upped from 90 to 120 words a minute.

That will be fine for the next generation - provided the schools begin right now to teach the new keyboard to the future typists. But it will be horrible for the millions for whom the so-called standard keyboard has become second nature.

Newspaper offices, among others, will be hard hit if the "reformed" keyboard is adopted on a wide scale. Virtually all newspaper copy rolls off typewriter ribbons. It is hard enough, in the rush and hurry of production, to avoid howlers on copy before it reaches the linotype machine. What will it be in the interim when all the reporters and editors are learning all over again where to look for the a's and the i's and the g's and the p's?

A fairly safe guess is such a keyboard "reform" will not come tomorrow or the next day. Some idea of how difficult it is to change a system that has become universal may be gained from the hitherto futile attempts to achieve spelling reform. All the arguments, in point of logic, are in favor of simplified spelling. English spelling is a horrible atrocity, not a single good word is to be said for it.

But ever since the days of Noah Webster spelling reformers have argued and shouted and pointed out the logic of their position. The only trouble has been that it would force millions of adults to learn spelling all over again. As a result the reform will probably not come for another 500 years.

The same thing is true of our arithmetic. The decimal system that is used by many cultures other than our own is so far superior to our method that no logical argument can be made against it. But men do not live by logic. It is just too much trouble to learn a new system all over again, and as a result all attempts to get the public to adopt something that is simpler and easier all along the line has failed.

For most people breaking a bad habit is much more painful than living with it. The chances are we'll be keeping the keyboard that we have grown up with, at least for quite a while to come.

GUEST EDITORIAL

JOHN L. LEWIS SPEAKS OUT
Grizzled John L. Lewis, original founder of the CIO and veteran chief of the United Mine Workers union, has been a controversial figure in American industry and labor nearly all of his long lifetime.

At 75, the UMW president still speaks his mind without fear of favor.

In his latest public declaration, Lewis has suggested federal legislation controlling union funds and has suggested, too, a congressional resolution urging the attorney general of the United States to step up prosecution of those found guilty of misusing union welfare funds. Such individuals he picturesquely described as human jackals and scoundrels.

"If some of the leaders of organized labor would abandon their holier-than-thou attitude and forget what they are going to do with the rest of the world and put their own house in order, welfare funds might have a better chance to live," Lewis told a Senate labor committee.

Lewis demands that the unions be compelled to account for their handling of welfare funds collected from employers.

He went on to say there are plenty of existing federal and state laws regulating trusts and the handling of funds. "I'd like for you to show me one crook in the United Mine Workers union and see what I'd do about it," he challenged.

Union welfare funds are big business nowadays. If it weren't for political reasons, operations of the big unions would come under the same security as the so-called industrial and business monopolies. Union responsibility doesn't end

Sunday School Lesson

Who Is My Neighbor?
Luke 10:25-37

By Henry Geerlings

Because of the frequent robberies and murders committed on the road between Jerusalem and Jericho, it came to be known as the red bloody way. The name arose probably later than the time of the story we study today.

Jerusalem and Jericho were populous cities in those days, and the road was much traveled. But we have no difficulty understanding how robberies, and worse occur on a public highway when we recall their frequency in our congested cities, in broad daylight.

The spot indicated by our Lord as the scene of the parable is unmistakable. About half way down the descent from Jerusalem to Jericho, close to the deep gorge of the Wady Kelt, the sides of which are honeycombed by a labyrinth of caves, in olden times and in the present day the resort of freebooters and outlaws, is a heap of ruins, marking the site of an ancient inn. The Khan El Abner, as the inn is called, possessed a deep well with a scanty supply of water. Not another building or trace of habitation is to be found on any part of the road, which descends 3,000 feet from the neighborhood of Bethany to the entrance into the plain of Jordan, a distance of more than 18 miles.

Irregular projecting masses of rock and frequent sharp turns of the road afford everywhere safe cover and retreat for robbers. Everyone loves a story. "Once upon a time" — and immediately our minds and hearts are open. Long after men have forgotten the arguments, the definitions and the explanations they remember the story. This has always been true. Indeed before the days of motion pictures, radio and television; before magazines, newspapers and books, the stories people heard remained in their hearts even more than they do today.

We do not wonder, therefore, that Jesus used the story to convey His message and to inscribe it indelibly upon the hearts of His disciples. He was the master storyteller. He did not use the fables. He lived too fully in the real world. Besides, He wanted His followers to have no illusion about either its tragedy or its noble goodness. He rarely used allegory, for He painted pictures with a few bold strokes and left the rest to imagination. He did not go in for blueprints.

The parable of the good Samaritan of this lesson is one of the best known stories ever told. It begins in the stuffy atmosphere of a legal inquiry and ends in a hotel lobby where the good Samaritan paid two bills. Where, outside the Bible and the teaching ministry of Jesus, would you find anything like this? The lawyer never dreamed that he helped to create an immortal character who would inspire men to the end of time to be neighborly.

This lesson on neighborliness involves one of the two best known parables of Jesus, the story of the good Samaritan. The other is the story of the prodigal son. These parables are found only in the gospel of Luke. Although they are not connected in the ministry of Jesus, they have kept alive in the hearts of millions of people two central teachings of Christ and the faith He taught.

The surprise in the story was the Samaritan's attitude toward the sufferer. He asked no questions. He acted. He ran the risk of being attacked by the same robbers, but he took care of their victim. He gave first aid and provided for continued care. He was a friend in need.

He did not wait to see whether the man was worthy or not. He spared not even his own inconvenience in order to help the poor man. He walked by his side and allowed the man to ride. He made his way to the hotel and put the man in charge of the owner, with specific instructions that he should be provided for and the bill should be charged to his account. That was real charity. It did not take advantage of anybody. It did not tend to make a beggar of the afflicted man.

We stand before this man approving his conduct. His charity forces us to admire him. Jesus was ready to commend him for his act. He had the right spirit, the true attitude of helpfulness. He was under less obligation than the priest and Levite, but he outdid them in service.

Beats Deadline For Extradition

SAUGATUCK (Special) — Daniel Basketfield, Jr., 24, Chicago, turned himself in to Saugatuck Justice L. L. Junkerman Monday, narrowly beating the deadline for extradition proceedings to get him to Michigan to answer charges of aggravated assault which grew out of a fight over boat docking space in Saugatuck last July 3.

Allegan Prosecutor Dwight Cheever said Basketfield was charged with assault resulting in great injuries but less than the crime of murder after the July 3 incident in which Lee Coner, Gary police photographer, was seriously injured by a blow to the face. Cheever said Coner was not expected to live at the time and was in a coma for three weeks, aggravated by a serious heart condition. He has since recovered but still suffers from bad eyesight as a result of the injuries.

Cheever said Basketfield demanded examination when arraigned before Junkerman and Jan. 14 has been set for the date of examination. Two hearings previously were held on extradition proceedings in Chicago.

Man Gets 3 to 14 Years On Check Writing Count

ALLEGAN (Special) — A man was sentenced to serve 3 to 14 years in Jackson prison and his nephew and his wife placed on probation by Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Monday as the result of their check writing activities.

Verle Sheldon, 49, Shelbyville, was sentenced to prison for uttering and publishing fraudulent checks. His nephew, Kenneth Smith, 20, Pontiac, was given three years' probation and ordered to pay $300 court costs for the same charge. Smith's wife, Audrey, 24, was given two years' probation for issuing "no account" checks.

Intersection Accident

Damage to two cars that collided at 22nd St. and Central Ave. Monday afternoon was minor, city police said. Involved were cars driven by Dorothy Van Putten, of 1298 South Shore Dr., and Francis Rietveld, 27, of 28 West 17th St.

CLEAN THE WALKS — Scores of Holland residents — 230 to be exact — took advantage of The Sentinel's "free snow shovel" offer Saturday and up until the deadline Monday. At the same time the editorial spurred many others to get out and shovel their walks Saturday. The rain helped a lot Saturday night. However, a new snowfall Monday again covered the icy spots. A special 35-piece orchestra, chosen from the Hope symphony orchestra, will accompany the chorus under the direction of Dr. Morrette Rider. Presiding at the organ and piano will be Prof. Roger Rietberg and Prof. Anthony Kookier.

Grand Haven, Mich. October 10, 1955.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Ottawa County, Michigan:

The matter of providing suitable office space for the Social Welfare Department, the Bureau of Social Aid, the Holland Branch of the County Health Department, the Prosecutors Office and the County Jail and the psychiatric worker, which was referred to this committee at the June 1955 session of the Board, has been studied and the committee wishes to report progress as follows:

We are unable to find any suitable rental space.

We have received offers on property that can be purchased as follows:

One two-story building, 60x75 feet with limited parking space, located in the city of Holland, for the sum of $45,000.00 and upon investigation the approximate cost of remodeling this building to meet requirements would be $15,000.00, for a total cost of $60,000.00.

One two-story and basement building, 50x100 feet, located in Zeeland City, for the sum of $33,000.00, and the estimated cost of remodeling this building to be $5,000.00, for a total cost of $38,000.00.

Your committee has also considered the advisability of building an entirely new small building that would meet the requirements of these agencies. It has been found that such a building 60x60 feet would be adequate and that the cost would be approximately $25,000.00. This does not include the cost of land, but we have found that a suitable location can be purchased for $3,000.00, making the total cost of land and building $28,000.00.

Respectfully submitted, Dick Nieuwma, Chairman, Social Welfare Committee.

Mr. Slaughter moved that the Report be laid on the table until the first day of next week's meeting which motion prevailed.

October 4, 1955

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors:

The County Agricultural Committee wishes to make the following report in regard to a central location for the Extension Department office.

Whereas, the County House is presently overcrowded and if no existing space is available in the County Agricultural Agents' services are mainly in the farming area of the county, also the service of the 4-H Club Agent and Home Demonstration Agent are mainly rural.

We feel it would greatly improve the availability of service of the Extension Department.

Therefore, be it resolved that the County of Ottawa provide adequate space in the center of the county at Allendale and that the Extension Department be moved to Allendale as soon as space is provided. And, further, recommended that an item of $15,000.00 be included in the budget to provide rent, utilities and other expenses.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors,

October 10th, 1955.

Mr. Chairman and Fellow members,

In all my 21 years of service on this Honorable Board of Supervisors, nothing ever bothered me as much as this by me not being in accord and going along with my committee. And, gentlemen,

I assure you there is no selfish motive on my part involved by me not being able to sign this report,

Respectfully submitted, ANNA VAN HORSEN, Clerk

as I am not ready at this time to recommend to this Honorable Board of Supervisors as a member of this committee to make such a drastic change to transfer the agriculture or extension department from the county seat at Grand Haven to a place elsewhere in the county. That and that only is my reason that I could not sign this report or recommendation by the committee. I have all the people of Ottawa County at heart and to their best interests and not just one group of people. And therefore I suggest that we as a Board of Supervisors of Ottawa County, first by taking a vote to find out whether if we are ready to make such change to transfer the agriculture or extension department from the county seat at Grand Haven to any other location elsewhere in the county.

Zeeland Defeats Coopersville For League Win

ZEELAND (Special) — Zeeland High's basketball team pushed in 20 points in the fourth period to earn a decisive 56-41 victory over Coopersville Friday night in the opening Ken-New-Wa league game at Zeeland High gym.

The Broncos jumped to a 9-2 lead right off the bat but Zeeland countered and Coopersville held a one-point, 10-9 first quarter lead.

The Chix found the mark a little better in the second quarter and pushed into a 27-23 lead at half-time.

Zeeland continued to stay in the lead but the pesky Broncos managed to stay right in the game in the third period.

Art Klamt hit a couple baskets and Darryl Wiersma scored one late in the period to send Zeeland ahead 36-23.

The Chix used a full court press to good advantage in the final period and won going away.

Ken Vande Bunte, although not scoring, turned in a strong job rebounding.

Carl Wissink led the Chix offense with 11 baskets and two foul tosses for 24 points.

Zeeland made 38 percent of its shots.

The Chix travel to Sparta next Friday night for a league game.

Library Adventures

If you were interested some weeks ago in the "revelations" made by Hitler's chauffeur and by his valet about how the German dictator died, you will want to read a fairly new book that had all the facts in type long before those "revelations" were made. In fact, they were not "revelations" at all.

The book is called "Hitler, a Study in Tyranny," and it is by Alan Bullock. It appeared in print long before the former Hitler attendants returned from their ten years in a Russian prison. But it had the complete story of Hitler's last days, as well as the detailed account of the rest of Hitler's life.

"Hitler, a Study in Tyranny" is one of the most fascinating books I have read in recent months. It is a volume of 776 pages, but perhaps few readers, once started, would want it to be shorter. The thought bubbles itself again and again, as you read, "And this happening in my own time." All of us were profoundly ignorant of what was really going on.

How does Alan Bullock, an Englishman, know so much about the career of Hitler, a German? He had two main sources of information such as historians seldom enjoy so soon after the events they record. His title was "Censor of St. Catherine's," which meant that he had free access to the British Army's documents. Those documents consisted of captured German government files and the voluminous records in the famous Nuremberg trials.

At the end of the war, when the German state ceased to exist, a great part of the secret archives fell into the hands of the Allies. Such a thing has seldom happened before in human history. What those archives did not reveal was supplied in large part by the sworn testimony of the Nuremberg trials, where many of the former tyrants were fighting for their lives.

There were of course many other sources of information, among them Hitler's speeches and his book, "Mein Kampf." Also, a good many who had been confined by Hitler in concentration camps during the war added their quota of facts about what may go down in history as the most horrible period of crime on a large scale that mankind has experienced in modern times.

Human life meant nothing to the Hitler government. As an example, when Ernst Roehm, in 1934, objected to the way Hitler was running the government, he was slaughtered without mercy. And not only he but 401 others, many of whom had no connection with him. Although he had been Hitler's bosom friend, Hitler couldn't tolerate the least opposition.

Later the "executions" sometimes ran into the thousands. As for the Jews Hitler murdered — remember these figures are based on captured Nazi documents — "of the nine million six hundred thousand Jews who were living in Europe at the outbreak of the war, 35 percent are authoritatively estimated to have perished." Bullock adds: "History records few, if any, crimes of such magnitude and of so cold-blooded a purpose."

The story of Hitler's last hours is perhaps the most dramatic part of the book. Caught like a rat in a trap, with the Russians only two blocks away from the underground retreat, he made his will, ordered

Supreme Court Reverses Opinion In Anderson Case

LANSING — The Michigan Supreme Court late Thursday filed an opinion reversing an Ottawa County Circuit Court order in the case of the two dwellings on the northwest corner of River Ave. in Holland, owned by Walter E. Anderson of Muskegon.

Anderson had appealed to Supreme Court the Circuit Court order which had ordered him to raze the two dwellings on petition of State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs who contended the buildings were a fire hazard.

Supreme Court justices unanimously agreed that just because the buildings were old and somewhat dilapidated does not alone justify razing them and does not make them a nuisance. The high court, however, did rule that within 60 days Anderson must board up windows and other openings in the two buildings, and must remove a tarpaulin if it is oil soaked and any other inherent sources of fire. If he complies, the order to raze the buildings will be annulled. If he fails to comply within 60 days, the order to raze the buildings will remain in effect.

Meanwhile, Anderson and the city of Holland are awaiting another Supreme Court opinion on the same matter. This involved an appeal from Anderson protesting zoning ordinances in Holland. Anderson who wants to build a filling station on the site contends that residential zoning is unfair in that block and has appealed a Circuit Court opinion upholding the city of Holland.

City Attorney James E. Townsend of Holland said Saturday that oral arguments in this appeal are scheduled at a January hearing in Supreme Court.

Late-Game Rally Saves First Win For Dutch, 84-80

Hope College's cagers led all the way and at one point by 15 points, but needed a last minute spurt to squeeze out an 84-80 opening MIAA win over Hillsdale College here Saturday night in Civic Center.

In what looked like a rout at halftime turned out to be a close one about 18 minutes later, as the Dutch found the Dales breathing mightily hard and only two points down.

Hillsdale pounded in 50 points in the second half, after Hope had held a comfortable 44-30 halftime lead.

Even though Hillsdale cut the margin in the final half, Hope kept the pace and did control most of the play through some fairly good marksmanship.

With two minutes remaining and Hope leading, 78-72, a couple of one-handed long shots, by Hillsdale guards Frank Wesner and Al Schaffer found the mark, and the Dutch began to sweat.

Hope reacted and in a fine example of the fast break forward John Adams dumped in a layup and co-captain Harold Molenaar followed with two foul shots and the Dutch were six points out again.

Tow-headed Molenaar, who led Hope with 23 points, ended the Dutch scoring with two more foul shots in the last minute while the Dales added their last points on baskets by forwards Tom Tate and Lee Jones.

Hope started the contest with eight straight points before the Dales scored.

It was little Molenaar, who has assumed the playmaker role, leading the attack. He struck on five straight shots in the first half.

Another big cog in the first half attack was freshman, 6'10" center Paul Benes, who racked up three baskets on hook shots and added seven free tosses.

Hope lost the big fellow on fouls with 5:44 left in the game and it was felt.

However, Coach John Visser did rest Benes quite a bit in the second half because of three first half fouls and got an opportunity to see the team function without the tall man.

After leading by 14 points at halftime, it was four minutes after the second half started when the Dutch got the score to 50 - 35, o: the largest separation of the game.

Bob De Young sank the bucket and it touched off the Dales who began to steadily cut down the Hope lead.

The early lead allowed Visser to use 10 of his 14 players and gave him another look what he has for this year.

What Visser saw of all his charges pleased him.

Hope hit for 50 percent of its shots in the first half on 17 bas-

Couple to Live in Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Hoffman

After honeymooning in northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Hoffman who were married Nov. 22 plan to make their home in Alexandria, Va. The groom is stationed with the Army at Fort Belvoir, Va.

The bride, the former Faith Lampen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lampen of route 1, Hamilton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoffman of route 2, Hamilton.

They were married in double ring rites by the Rev. Paul Veenstra in Hamilton Christian Reformed Church. Miss Fannie Bultman was organist and Miss Mary Ellen Wolters, soloist. Palms, candelabra and bouquets of white snapdragons and gladioli decorated the church.

The bride wore a bluish pink chapel gown of nylon tulle and chintilly lace. The fitted lace bodice had a sheer yoke accented with sequin and seed pearl embroidered lace applique. The long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and the full skirt of tulle fell over taffeta into a chapel train. Her bluish pink illusion veil was attached to a chintilly lace bonnet scattered with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible with pompons and streamers.

Mrs. Floyd Boerman, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a gown of peacock blue net over taffeta, featuring a strapless bodice and full skirt, with matching net jacket. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Vernon Bolks, aunt of the groom, and Miss Shirley Oetman wore identical gowns in toast color. They carried white satin muffs with pompons and streamers.

As flower girl, Linda Meiste wore a white satin dress with Peter Pan collar and lace inserts in the skirt. She wore a veil and carried a white Bible. Darwin Lampen, the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Lloyd Hoffman. Ushers were Floyd Boerman and Vernon Bolks.

Both Mrs. Lampen and Mrs. Hoffman chose for the occasion navy blue dresses with white accessories. They had pompon corsages.

One hundred guests attended the reception at the Hub restaurant in Zeeland. Mr. and Mrs. James Lampen were master and mistress of ceremonies. Punch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Albers and gifts were arranged by Miss Kathryn Lampen and Miss Donna Ver Beek.

For going away, the bride wore a black dress, peacock blue coat with beige accessories and pompon corsage. She is a graduate of Holland Christian High School and has been employed at the Hamilton Farm Bureau office. The groom was graduated from Holland High School.

S-D Also Means 'Saving Dollars'

S-D Day means Saving Dollars as well as Safe Driving. This reminder to Holland car owners was suggested by Ben L. Van Lente local agent for State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company.

In urging support for S-D Day, December 1, proclaimed by President Eisenhower, Van Lente pointed out that there are important tangible benefits to be derived from safety - consciousness, and drivers should keep these things in mind.

"The main benefit of consistent careful driving," Van Lente said, "is the saving of lives, sound bodies and peace of mind. But a gain that is sometimes overlooked even by practical, dollar-wise people is the saving of money, too. And this is part of a person's and a family's peace of mind and well-being."

The car driver who avoids accidents, Van Lente emphasized, is helping to save money for himself and others by lowering the cost of accidents, which last year ran to a national total of more than 4-billion dollars. "Even if most of the expense of an accident is borne by an insurance company, the cost is there," he said. "And higher claim costs naturally mean higher rates."

"Our company is proud of the safe driving record of its policyholders as a group. This year our figures show that only one out of fifty - five State Farm members will be responsible for an accident causing bodily injury, only one out of nine for an accident causing damage to property. Careful driving, such as this enables State Farm to set low rates."

"All of us in the insurance business know that people want a good buy in auto insurance. But arithmetic and common sense prove that accidents are very costly in many ways, and one place they hit hard is in the pocketbook!"

"S-D Day is a good time to prove that drivers can, by their own actions, save lives and save money, too."

Dog Notes

By Peter Boggs

Queer Reasoning Power
Often I have thought of Pal, my old bird dog who died a few years ago. Particularly do I remember things he did which savored of queer human reasoning powers.

Pal and I were walking through the woods one day, when I saw just in front of us a huge hornet's nest, hanging about 18 inches from the ground. I called Pal back to me. He came at my call. But not before he had been stung badly, at least twice.

He was little more than a pup at that time. One of my older and bigger dogs, King, used to bully him unmercifully. On the day after our encounter with the hornets, I was in the same woods with both King and Pal. Pal dashed up to King from behind and bit his tail painfully. Then he turned and fled, chased by the furious older dog.

Pal led the chase until he was within a foot of the hornet's nest. Then he slipped to one side and ran off at right angles to his former course. King, running at top speed just behind him, crashing into the nest and was stung severely.

Instinct or human reasoning, on the part of Pal? I say human reasoning. Such things as this, besides his great hunting prowess, have endeared the memory of Pal to me as long as I shall live.

A New Kind of Kennel

An acquaintance of mine has devised a new type of kennel house for his dog. It is a big improvement on any of the old designs. In shape it is like an ordinary kennel, and it stands a foot or so above the earth, with a runway leading up to its door. But that doorway is not in the usual place, at one of the two ends. Both ends are shut.

Instead, at the extreme edge of one of the kennel's longer sides a doorway has been cut, just large enough to permit the dog to go in and out comfortably. This opening faces the south, as all kennel doorways should. Thus, the dog can cuddle down on cold nights, as far away as he chooses from the opening, and he can avoid any blast of wind on his body. This is impossible when a doorway fills the greater part of one of the narrow ends.

The remainder of the side into which the doorway is cut has hinges at the top. The bottom is fastened shut with hooks. Thus, on sunny days, the whole side of the house, from the eaves to the base, can be swung back and left open long enough for the cleaning of the floor and for the sun to warm and dry the whole house and to rid it of germs.

The whole thing is a first-rate idea. It is as cheap to build as it is sanitary and comfortable.

The Question Box

Question: Am expecting a litter of pups from my female beagle. How long before the pups are due should I stop hunting? —T. F.

Answer: Stop hunting your beagle at least three or four weeks before she is due to whelp. All dogs should be kept very quiet for at least three weeks prior to giving birth to pups. Normal exercise is all right.

Volleyballs

Barbara Lampen, an exchange teacher under the Fulbright plan in Ede, the Netherlands, has written home that she addressed the Rotary Club in Ede on the subject, "Why There Are Only Two Political Parties in the U.S."

In the course of her talk she mentioned that Holland, Mich., had a Rotary Club and one man piped up, "I've been there." It turned out he was J. J. Rippen, a dealer in pianos and musical instruments, who had attended the Holland club as a guest of Willard C. Wichers three years ago.

Barbara wrote that all the Dutch Rotarians spoke English well and were particularly interested in the political structure in America. "I guess my debut as a public speaker was fairly successful," she said.

Barbara also wrote that all Fulbright students in the Netherlands got together on Thanksgiving Day in Leyden for a church service in the church where the pilgrims worshipped. A Thanksgiving dinner followed.

Thanksgiving Day is a typically American holiday, and Barbara has been describing the holiday to her Dutch students, both on a junior high level and the college level. They were particularly interested in a typical menu.

The exchange teacher also wrote that she had spent four days in England early in November and had visited Marjorie DuMez Pritchard there.

While playing bridge one night, Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith casually remarked, "That Michigan-Ohio State game cost me money."

A companion asked, "Did you have a bet on?"

"No," the judge replied. "My daughter goes to Michigan State and now she wants to go to the Rose Bowl."

At the dedication of the new Thomas Jefferson school a week or so ago, there were a lot of flowers, mostly from builders and others interested in the new building. But in Mrs. Dena Schutmaat's room in the special education department was a real special bouquet. It was sent by her son in South America and her daughter in New Zealand.

A lot of people have commented on the Christmas story read by Dr. Marion de Velder at the Community Christmas Festival in Civic Center Nov. 25. Dr. de Velder said that the story, "The Raggedy Cloak," by Margaret E. Sangster, first appeared in the Salvation Army War Cry in 1942 and since that time has been widely reproduced.

Ed Boer has the laugh on some of his more experienced hunting friends these days.

He went up with a party on the first day of the deer hunting season to the new Au Sable Ranch and Ski Club near Gaylord operated by Jerry Fairbanks, formerly of Holland.

Ed boned up on some shooting instructions and went out that first morning and bagged his buck in five minutes.

At 9 a.m. he was back in the lodge for coffee, and Fairbanks asked, "Aren't you going to do any deer hunting?"

Ed said, "Look out the window. There's my deer all dressed out." The hunting party stayed at the ranch two more days. Nobody saw a sign of any other deer.

Third Church Has Election

The annual congregational meeting of the Third Reformed Church was held Thursday evening in the fellowship hall. The opening devotional service was led by the Rev. Jerry A. Veldman, associate minister.

The Rev. C.H. Walvoord presided at the business session in which elders and deacons were elected. Elders elected were Judson Hoffman, Robert Notter, Harold Oosting, Benjamin Plasman and Garrett Vander Borgh. Elected deacons were John De Kraker, Russell Klaasen and Albert E. Van Lente. These men will be ordained and installed to their respective offices Sunday evening, Jan. 1.

In addition to the consistory election, Arnold Vermeer was chosen as the representative on the Christian Education Council.

During counting of the ballots, reports were heard from some of the 12 men who represented Third Church at the National Laymen's Convention in Chicago last week. A report also was given on the formation of a Woman's Guild.

2,500 School Children Enjoy Christmas Play

Some 2,500 children thoroughly enjoyed two performances of "The Rescue of St. Nick," an exciting Christmas story staged by Junior Welfare League Thursday afternoon in Holland Civic Center.

The youngsters, ranging from kindergarten through fourth grade age, lustily protested the wicked Halloween witch, cheered their hero, Santa Claus, and enthusiastically supported the "helpers," who outsmarted the witch and rescued St. Nick.

Outstandingly clever costumes and intriguing settings in Christmas Tree Forest and Candy Cane Palace contributed much to the success of the performance, which opened with the appearance of the lovely Christmas fairy in the play room of young Pete and Peggy. The fairy imparts the dreadful news that St. Nick is a prisoner of the Halloween witch and Pete and Peggy are needed desperately to help rescue him. So they fly away to the "island of somewhere else" on Vixen the reindeer and their enchanted dog, Danger.

Weird Pumpkinhead giants, capering two-faced goblins in elfin costumes and the cackling, wicked witch herself provide chills and thrills as they capture Peggy and Sticky, a helpful Candy Cane boy.

But right does triumph in the end, when Pete, spurred on by his young audience, performs a tremendous feat of magic, releases Santa from a deep dungeon and L. prisons the witch and her cohorts until next Halloween.

Mrs. William Beebe capably directed the production and all the players deserve much credit for their fun-provoking parts in the performance. Mrs. Stuart Padnos and Mrs. Delwyn Van Tongeren appeared as Pete and Peggy. Others in the cast were Mrs. Julius Lubbers, Mrs. Gerard Cook, Mrs. Frank Van Raalte, Mrs. John Vander Broek, Mrs. Julius Karsten, Mrs. Donald Lieverse, Mrs. L. W. Lamb, Jr., Mrs. Robert Longstreet, Mrs. Chris Den Herder, Mrs. Lester Deridder, Mrs. Clare Van Lier, Mrs. Charles Knooihuizen and Mrs. William Arendshorst.

Between acts, the youngsters were entertained by Mrs. James Brooks, who appeared in clown costume.

Children of the city schools attended the first performance of the afternoon at 2:30, and children of suburban schools came at 4 p.m. All had been given free tickets at school. Arrangements for the Civic Center and tickets were made by Mrs. Joseph Borgman, Jr., and Mrs. Don Miller.

Children were accompanied to the Civic Center by their teachers and room mothers.

Plans Are Completed For Christmas Party

Plans for a Christmas party were completed at a meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles Friday night when 19 members were present. Mrs. Ruth Driy, president, was in charge of the meeting.

The Christmas party will be held in the hall on Dec. 14 at 6:30 p.m. Members are to bring their own table service, a gift for their secret pal who will be identified and a 50-cent gift for exchange. The group also will bring Christmas gifts for the children's home at Coldwater.

Cards were played with prizes going to the Mesdames Stella Kay, Dorothy De Boer, Nellie Israel, Evelyn Graboski, Geraldine Austin and Fanny Pardue.

Lunch was served by the month's committee with Mrs. Marie Huizenga as chairman.

Dinner Meeting Held By Hope Church Group

Hope Church Woman's Club held their December dinner meeting Thursday evening at the church. This is the "fun" meeting of the year for club members. Clever decorations in keeping with the spirit of the meeting were arranged by Mrs. Chris Den Herder.

Work project for the evening was the making of mobiles from Christmas candy for the patients at the Children's Retreat at Cutterville.

Mrs. Maurice Schaap, president, presided at the short business meeting which followed the dinner.

A quiz game "64 Questions for Christmas" with Mrs. Vernon Ten Cate as emcee followed the business meeting.

Community Christmas Festival Highly Successful

Parade Followed By Yule Program In Civic Center

Religious floats, Christmas carols and beautiful choir music together with such impressive features as a candle light processional by robed choirs and an interesting Christmas story combined to make Holland's first annual Community Christmas Festival one of the most successful undertakings of its kind here Saturday, November 26.

The 15 floats in the parade were rated by three judges, not for prizes but for maintaining a complete record on the first festival venture for future reference. The floats were judged on theme, content, originality and other aspects. Judges were Mayor Robert De Bruyn of Zeeland, the Rev. Harold Englund of Zeeland and Sid Woudstra of Holland, the latter filling in for J. Elmer Mulder, superintendent of Zeeland Christian Schools who was ill.

Rated first was the Fourth Reformed Church float on the theme, "Born to Die — From Manger to the Cross." The float appeared near the end of the parade and was conspicuous by its border of lights.

Rated second was the float of Harlem Church on the theme, "No Room in the Inn" and third place was entered jointly by Calvary, Sixth and Ebenezer Churches, showing the angel and shepherds. Other floats were entered by First Methodist, Beechwood, Bethel, Hope, Central Avenue, Assembly of God, Sixteenth Street, First, Wesleyan Methodist, Fourteenth Street, Youth for Christ and Maplewood Churches.

Civic Center was jammed by some 3,000 persons for the program which followed, featuring music by the two high school choirs, carol singing with brass choir accompaniment, and a Christmas story told by Dr. Marion de Velder of Hope Church.

The event was sponsored by the Community Service Committee of the Holland Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Holland Ministerial Association and the Retail Merchants Division.

Jack Plewes, chairman of the Community Service Committee, expressed heartfelt appreciation to the many persons and organizations who co-operated wholeheartedly in making the festival an outstanding success.

"At first there was some criticism whether it was the Chamber of Commerce's place to sponsor such an event, but the Chamber is primarily a service organization and definitely interested in the welfare of the community. What's good for Holland is good for the Chamber of Commerce, and we've come a long way from the days when people believed the Chamber functioned only to promote business and industry," Plewes said.

It was the second year that the Chamber had worked on a "Christ in Christmas" theme. Last year the Junior Chamber of Commerce raised funds and purchased a nativity scene for Centennial Park. The nativity scene, beautifully lighted, graced the stage at Civic
