DUTCH ENTERPRISE

Someone has called the Dutch the Americans of Europe. It was no doubt an American who thus threw them what he considered a compliment. And any American acquainted with big schemes will feel the same way about the Dutch when he realizes what they are doing to the Zuyder Zee.

This month the pumps are beginning to operate which will drain, eventually, 550,000 acres now covered by the sea. The new land will be 7 per cent of the total area of The Netherlands, and will add 10 per cent to the country's arable soil. The cost is estimated at around $200,000,000, a huge sum for such a small country; but the Dutch figure they will get it all back within a few years after the land is laid out in farms.

The job is being thoroughly done. Borings were made to discover the nature of the soil under the sea, and the reclamation areas were so laid out as to include the best land.

It is estimated that only 8 per cent of the reclaimed soil will be sand. After the dikes have been built and the water pumped out of the enclosed areas, the land will lie fallow for some time, until the rains have washed out the sea-salt; but meanwhile it will be available for grazing, and like the salt marshes of France it will afford good feeding for cattle and sheep which, brought to market, will yield flesh with that faint flavor of salt which good chefs value. After the salt has been washed away, the land will make rich farms.

Across the mouth of the Zuyder Zee a dike 19 miles long is being built, 112 yards thick at its base, made of sand and stiff clay, and buttressed on the sea side with brushwood mattresses weighted with stone. On this dike will be laid a double railroad track, a road for heavy motor and wagon traffic and one for cyclists and pedestrians. This will afford a shorter route between Amsterdam and Friesland.

When a nation of 7,500,000 people undertakes a public work on such a grand scale, it becomes a matter of mystery why the Americans of America should have waited so long before undertaking such a relatively simple and highly lucrative job as the St. Lawrence waterway.

The postal department finds that the placing of Christmas seals and other stamps, besides P. S. postage creates considerable confusion in handling and cancelling mails. At this season it will help to attach such seals or stamps to the reverse side of such mail.

Miss Bertha Veneberg of Holland spent Wednesday in Zeeland visiting relatives and friends. The Venebergs formerly lived two miles north of Zeeland on the State St. road.

DR. PIETERS SPEAKS AT MEETING OF MEN'S CLASS OF HOPE CHURCH

The Men's Sunday School class of Hope Church held a meeting in the church parlors last week Wednesday evening, at which time Dr. Albertus Pieters spoke on "How a mistake of the Japanese government made the United States possible."

Dr. Pieters compared the 75 years from 1450 to 1525 to the last 75 years in the world's history. He stated that Japan, after being over run with foreigners, finally decided to end intercourse with other nations.

As the supposition, Dr. Pieters attempted to reconstruct what might have happened had the Japanese decided to welcome foreign trade, and interest themselves in building powerful armies and navies, and expanding their claims. America at this time was developing very slowly and wars in the continental countries were hindering the colonization of the eastern coast. During this time the Japanese were undisturbed by outside influences.

Had the oriental country been westernized enough to plan and carry out the colonization of the western coast of the Americas, it is probable that the two races would have met in their slow expansion in the Mississippi valley, and many things could have transpired from the resulting problem, Dr. Pieters said. Following Dr. Pieters' talk, a short business meeting was held, during which several members of the class were called upon to make a few remarks. Scarth Inglis of Cassopolis, a guest of E. E. Fell, was also called upon to make a short talk.

A short report was read by the secretary, after which Wm. J. Olive, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the nomination of officers for the next term. John Bosman and C. A. Gross were the other two members of the committee.

E. E. Fell was nominated as president, F. G. Geiger was nominated vice president, and James McLean secretary-treasurer. By motion the rules were suspended and they were named unanimously by acclamation.

The sum of $15 was given by the class to aid Y.M.C.A. students at Hope college to give a Christmas program for Robinson township Sunday school pupils taught by these college students.

OLD RESIDENT VISITS PACIFIC COAST

Zeeland Record.—One of the old respected citizens will spend the winter in sunny California if his plans are carried out. Today Peter Wiersma leaves Zeeland on what he can safely say his first real vacation trip, and well he deserved the anticipated pleasure.

His first destination is Chicago, where he will visit relatives for a few days before proceeding to Denver. Then he will go to Gallup, New Mexico, to visit that mission station and other stations in the New Mexico territory before making his winter headquarters at Redlands, California.

While in California he expects to visit all the places of special interest before returning to Michigan. Here goes hoping that he has a pleasant trip.

The East Holland school will hold their next Parent-Teachers meeting at the school house on Thursday evening, December 19.

HAMILTON

Mrs. Sena Maatman was quite seriously injured last week Thursday in an auto accident at the four corners in the north end of town when a car driven by mail carrier Vredevel of Zeeland crashed into the Ford driven by Mrs. Maatman. It appears that Mr. Vredevel failed to see the stop sign and entered the through street at quite a high rate of speed. A large truck parked in front of the Nyenhuis store obstructed the view with the result that the two cars crashed before the drivers realized what was happening. The car of Mrs. Maatman was almost completely wrecked and she received several severe cuts due to flying glass. The occupants of the other car were unhurt but the car was also damaged considerably. Mrs. Maatman was taken to the Holland hospital, but was able to return home the same day.

Two skeletons, believed to be those of Indians buried in pioneer days, were uncovered by workmen while digging sewer trenches near the north limits of the city. The bones were found at a depth of about four feet. The section where the skeletons were found formerly was an Indian burial plot, according to records of pioneer days. Frank Stansbury, living on North River Ave., states that he remembers his father say that many "red men" were laid to rest in that vicinity. The bones, now in possession of Coroner Gil Vande Water, would indicate that these were the remains of aged Indians.

A net full of Black Lake Carp

Holland's Game Club Gets Nation Wide Publicity

ITS CARP FISHING OPERATIONS FIND SPACE IN LEADING MAGAZINE

"Forest and Stream" Devoted Two Pages to Story with Pictures

One of the largest out-of-door magazines in the United States, namely, "Forest and Stream," devotes more than two pages to telling its thousands of readers how the lowly carp brought a harvest of gold to the Holland Game Fish Club, enabling the officers to build its fine fish rearing ponds east of the city.

Ben East, noted photographer of wild life and writer on game under the caption "Bass from Carp" tells the story in "Forest and Stream" as follows:

In the fall of 1927 the Holland Game and Fish Protective Association (which since has changed its name to the Holland Fish and Game Club for the sake of brevity) took over from private commercial fishermen the seining of carp from Black Lake, a bay of Lake Michigan west of Holland, which is a thriving little city, some 30 miles west of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

For years this sportsmen's club had wanted to undertake conservation projects of a big nature.

There was urgent need for rearing ponds in which bass and pan-fish fry could be kept and fed through the summer for autumn planting as healthy fingerlings. There was plenty of reason for wanting to undertake the rearing of ring-neck pheasant. Ottawa County offered limitless opportunities for reforestation projects. And so on. There was no end to the need for conservation activities on a big scale.

With the Holland club, however, as with countless other sportsmen's clubs, the question of finances continually reared its stubborn head. "We could do so and so," this spring, the club officers kept telling each other, "if we only had the money." Some work already had been done, paid for from the club treasury or by private contribution. But the scope of such work necessarily had to be small. As is usual with sportsmen's organizations, funds of that nature were extremely limited.

Then someone got a new idea. Commercial fishermen had been making a good thing of carp fishing in Black Lake. The lake, running from Holland's back door to Lake Michigan, abounded in carp. Carp moved in through the channel from Lake Michigan each autumn in great schools that crowded the channel, rank upon rank, ton after ton.

Naturally the Michigan conservation department did not want the carp left in Black Lake, one of the best game-fish waters in that section of the state. So it had been the practice each year for the department to enter into a contract with commercial fishermen for the removal of the carp, the state receiving a small percentage of the profits.

The fishermen continued their seining throughout the fall and as late in the winter fishing beneath the ice, as the hauls of carp came heavy. They had been showing profitable returns from their contracts, and it finally dawned on the officers of the Holland Game and Fish Protective Association that here lay a source of badly needed funds for conservation work.

If private fishermen could make money from carp removal it seemed reasonable that the club could do the same.

Forthwith the officers departed for the offices of the state conservation department at Lansing and corralled the contract on the carp fishing for a period of one year.

They went home, hired a crew of fishermen on a percentage basis, asked for the appointment of one of their own members as special deputy game warden to watch the seining, and went to work.

Complaints had been made in years past that commercial fishermen engaged in the carp seining did not properly protect game fish caught by accident in the nets. The special warden was to see to this part of the work.

Up to December 1st of that year more than twelve tons of carp had been taken in the seines and shipped alive in special tank cars to the eastern markets. Then a single haul of the net took tons of the coarse fish, although many escaped when weeds fouled the seine.

It was a sight worth seeing to watch those carp seines brought in laden with tons of monster fish.

The sluggish bottom-feeding carp frequent shallow water and were taken in long seines run around entire schools while they were feeding. Naturally bass, pike or other game fish caught in the wallowing horde of these big fellows stood little chance to escape alive. The carp some of them weighing in excess of twenty-five pounds, literally pounded any smaller fish to a pulp.

The fishing crew gave special attention to this phase of the seining, however, and every effort was made to keep the game fish out of the nets.

Fortunately the game fish did not react to the closing coils of the seine as did the carp. The net was run out by means of a scow in a circle around a school of feeding fish. As soon as the game fish encountered the meshes they fled toward open water. The carp, on the other hand, gathered along the net in a struggling mass, buffeting and hammering in an effort to break through the seine or force a way under it. In this way the game fish kept to themselves for the most part, and as the net was drawn ashore for lifting they were first to release them at once, before the net was drawn up far enough to force the smaller fish into the maelstrom of big carp.

Too, every precaution was taken to keep from seining on grounds where game fish were plentiful. One haul of the nets that yielded tons of carp brought in less than one hundred pike, catfish, bluegills and bass. A seine of five-inch mesh was used to prevent taking any small fish, and the work went on with scant damage to anything but the carp.

The club found that at current prices, after the state's commission on the contract and all other expenses had been paid, a net profit of about $75 per ton could be realized on the carp. At that rate the winter's work would yield several thousand dollars for the club treasury. Plans for the spending of this money began to take shape.

The club purchased six acres of land for a rearing pond site. "A dozen bass fingerlings for every carp," became the slogan for the association. Work was begun on the ponds, and the Holland Fish and Game Club's conservation program was under way at last.

That was two years ago. Less than a year later 25,000 healthy large-mouth black bass fingerlings were taken from the waters of the first rearing pond, completed the spring before, and planted in waters about Holland. By that time construction of a second pond was under way, more land had been purchased plans laid for the creation of a park on the club grounds, and arrangements were under way for the second season of carp seining.

As this is written there are close to 200,000 healthy fingerlings in the two ponds on the club grounds. About 70,000 bass fry were placed in the bass pond last June. Last year the club planted as fingerlings eighty per cent of the fry put into the rearing pond. If this record holds good again it will mean more than 55,000 fingerling bass for planting when the pond is drained and seined this fall.

The bluegill pond was finished and put into operation last spring, and the number of bluegill fry hatched there this year was estimated at 175,000. Some losses occurred during the summer, of course, but the game club probably will plant close to 160,000 bluegill fingerlings this fall.

Both bass and bluegills make rapid growth in the ponds. Bass put in as fry late in the spring reach a length of five inches before planting time arrives in September. They are planted early in the autumn to prevent the larger ones from devouring the smaller fish. The bluegills are planted in October. For the most part the young fish are planted in Ottawa County waters. The club cooperates with the state conservation department, however, and is willing to send small shipments of fingerlings to other locations about the state, if requested to do so.

The young fish are fed largely on daphnia or water fleas, which are produced in a concrete-lined culture pond near the rearing ponds. This pond this year has furnished several cans of daphnia per week for fish food. About August 1st minnows are added to the bass diet. These are seined from nearby creeks or from Lake Michigan. Later it is planned to rear them in a special minnow pond at the rearing station. About a can a day is needed for fish food by the end of the season.

Future conservation projects of the club depend entirely upon the success of the carp fishing. If the seining operations are successful again this winter—and there is no apparent reason why they will not be—the club will go into ring-neck pheasant culture next spring. An employee will be sent to the state game farm at Mason to study pheasant rearing there, and then will be given charge of the work.

The club now has ten acres of land, and believes it can raise enough ring-necks on this plot to supply the covers of Ottawa County and give the local hunters all the gunning the law allows them. The ten-acre plot has been named the Holland Conservation Park. Trees have been planted and more planting operations will be carried out next year. In addition to this a small building is to be erected on the property next spring, for use in storing equipment and for club meetings.

The dream of the Holland Fish and Game Club has come true. Carp have been changed into bass and bluegills by the hundreds of thousands. Nor is the end yet reached. If the club's luck holds up, carp also will be changed into ring-neck pheasants for release in Ottawa County coverts, into county forests and other worthwhile conservation projects.

Holland has found probably in larger measure than any other sportsmen's club in the country, how to support an extensive and ever-growing conservation program, and keep it on its own feet.

HOLLAND CHRISTIAN TRIMS FENNIVILLE IN OPENING GAME, 30-10

Holland Christian High initiated its basket ball hostilities with a fast start and flashed that same superb offense which has carried it to the state tournaments for the last few years, when it overwhelmed Fennville High 30-10. The Fennville five had substituted for Greenville when the latter club cancelled unexpectedly. At the beginning of the contest things looked dull for the locals and the quarter ended 4-2 in their favor.

Coch Mayskens, employing strategic methods, substituted Beckman, Dobbin and Demots for Timmer, Boven and Bontekoe, the former men running up a score of 14 to 2 at the half. This move seemed to pep up the varsity men and they started the third period, immediately staging a scoring spree which mounted the count to 30 points. The substitutes finished in fine style, piling up ten more points while they held down the opposition.

The Christian reserves set the fashion for the evening when they snowed the Fennville seconds in the prelim, 22-10. Two freshmen, Wabeko and Roberts, took Coach Mayskens' eye as promising material for the varsity next season.

THIS AND THAT ABOUT COLONIAL LIFE IN HOLLAND

By Albert Kamferbeek

The old pioneers of the Holland colony were rather partial to log cabins when they first settled in these parts, in fact, the first church built was one of logs, located near the first entrance to what is now Pilgrim Home cemetery. With the coming of the saw mills that cut great gashes in the beautiful timber, the "dutchmen" slowly but surely adopted the more economical, and convenient way of building, using sawed lumber which was very cheap and right on the ground. I will say that the homes of Holland laboring classes of today are nothing short of palaces compared with the crude frame buildings of colonial days. Those early trail-blazers had no modern conveniences whatever in their humble homes and their house furnishings were of the most common place type.

I am reminded of the parlor of one of the "high ups" of the early days. I picture a room 16 x 16 feet. The floor was covered with some kind of linoleum — the first floor covering of that kind I had ever seen for a "back woods kid." We considered it beautiful in spite of the fact that today it is a kitchen rather than a parlor necessity. In one corner of the room stood a melodeon (a small reed organ of the very earliest make). It was an insignificant looking musical instrument measured by the standards of today. But even at that a person who could boast of having a melodeon had some standing in the community — he was rich.

Other furniture lined stiffly along the side walls were six cane-bottomed straight back chairs. This constituted the furnishings in this large parlor. If the main room of the "well-to-do" was furnished so frugal one can get some conception of how barren the poor log hut dweller's found their two room tree-houses.

PROBATE JUDGE SAYS CRIME IN MICHIGAN IS APPALLING

Startling statistics to show that the crime population in Michigan during the last quarter century has increased 124 times faster than over the rest of the nation, were produced by Probate Judge Clark E. Higbee of Grand Rapids in an address before the state crime commission at Lansing.

As shown by the federal department of census the comparative percentages of increase were 288 per cent for Michigan and 23 per cent average for other states, declared Judge Higbee.

Anticipating the answering argument that during this period Michigan changed from an agricultural to an industrial state, Judge Higbee pointed out four eastern industrial states for comparison. In Rhode Island, he said, the decrease in crime population was 40 per cent; in New York it was 10 per cent; in Massachusetts 30 per cent; and in New Jersey 5 per cent.

Family Treks Back After Finding Old Home Land Not What It Used To Be After All

Grand Haven Tribune.—Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius DeGram and their seven children who left this fair land a few months ago to make their home in The Netherlands, have returned to the city well satisfied with this country in which to make their living and enjoy the standards of living which they know now are far ahead of the land of the dikes.

They arrived this week and have been busy greeting friends, who welcomed them back to this city. It was when one of the older children came home one day and found his mother bending over the wash-tub and rubbing the family wash, that the young man declared he had enough and would return to America and take the family himself if necessary.

It needed little persuasion, for with food at the prices they found, there was little comfort. Cookies

PROF. HAROLD R. HUNT OF MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE TO STUDY BEAVERS

The biology of beaver is now being studied at Michigan State College by Prof. Harold R. Hunt, assisted by G. W. Bradt, in co-operation with the department of conservation, and the results of the experiments are expected to prove valuable to the department and to all others interested in the animals.

Eight beaver were provided by the conservation department for the experiments.

Prof. Hunt will study the food preferences of the beaver; what they eat and how much; their breeding habits, whether they will breed in pens; what their reactions are to artificial care, and will seek all the information he can concerning the animals.

When the experiments have been completed, the information will be available for the public.

It is possible that when the beaver experiments are completed other animals of Michigan will be subjected to the same study.

The state college is not going into the fur farming business, nor is it establishing a model fur farm.

Prof. Hunt said. He is merely attempting to determine some facts about the animals, facts that are desired but have never been determined.

MOTHER ERECTS MONUMENT IN MEMORIAL OF HER SON IN ALLEGAN COUNTY

Albert Klopars and Marvin Brower of the Ottawa Monument works on East Eighth street were in Hilliards, Allegan county, Tuesday, where they are erecting a large monument in honor of a Catholic priest, Father Frank Jonjowski, who died in Detroit. The mother of Father Jonjowski lives in Hilliards and she expressed the wish that the body of her son be buried near where she lived. The monument is a work of art and cost in the neighborhood of $1,500. There was too much snow in the cemetery to place it Tuesday but the stone will be placed as soon as weather conditions permit and early in spring the slab will be appropriately dedicated in accordance with church regulations.

PRISONS FULL TO OVERFLOWING WORST IN HISTORY OF NATION

Michigan is by no means the only state that is confronted with the problem of relieving the greatly overcrowded conditions of her penal and reformatory institutions.

In New York a recent preliminary survey shows that $28,000,000 will be needed to make the state's 11 penal institutions modern, safe and adequate in size. Of this $28,000,000 approximately $22,000,000 is for prison enlargements and for modern equipment, the rest to be allocated to reformatories and hospitals for the criminal insane. Neither does it include $3,500,000 appropriated by the Legislature for a new state prison.

NEW STADIUM IS TOPIC OF DISCUSSION AT ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON

The Rotary club held their regular weekly noon luncheon at Warm Friend Tavern last week Thursday at which time they engaged in a general discussion of the proposition of an athletic stadium for Holland, under the general supervision of Attorney Thomas N. Robinson. Vaudie Vandenberg spoke in behalf of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and said that they had decided that all the various groups in the city should assist in making this idea a reality.

Supt. E. E. Fell said that some property had already been purchased but that this would not necessarily exclude the consideration of other sites.

James McLean stated that Holland was surely in need of a stadium and that there were several sites available. He suggested the site already purchased by the Board of Education, the present Riverview Park, if renovated, and the lake shore property of the sugar factory.

Arthur Wrieden said that Riverview park, in its present condition, was dangerous to the players. The soft sand base made sprains and breakage of bones too easy, and so for a matter of protection alone the new athletic field should be acquired. He also suggested that the use of this field would not need to be limited to the High School but that it might as well be used by Hope college and any independent athletic teams as well.

Henry Geerlings, a member of the Board of Education, suggested that the fairgrounds might serve as a possible location.

John Arendshorst, former secretary of the Fair association, said that he thought the fairgrounds an ideal site for the new field because it already possessed a grandstand, a track, and plenty of parking space.

Alderman Wm. C. Vandenberg stated that if changes were made at Riverview park it would be a fine site as far as a situation near the center of the town was concerned.

The Rotary club also agreed to continue its support of the local council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Frank Van Order and Stanley Huntley of Allegan were arrested last week Thursday by Conservation officer Harry G. Plotts for placing traps within six feet of muskrat holes along the banks of the Kalamazoo river in Trowbridge township. After being arraigned before Justice F. E. Fish each paid fines and costs of $18.15.

Rev. P. D. Van Vliet, who has been pastor of the South Olive Christian Reformed church since 1923, has received a call from a church at Hoboken, N. J. Rev. Van Vliet celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination as a minister this year.

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held Friday and was called to order by the president, Mrs. Edith Walvoord. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mrs. F. T. Miles had charge of the devotion. She spoke of the uplifting influence of sacred music and the joy expressed in sacred song. Mrs. A. Pieters made a few remarks showing how this joy is lacking in heathen religions. A group of girls from the Y.B.B. rendered two songs. Miss Ruby Hughes spoke on "Reforms and Reformers in Our Country." Mrs. P. Hinkamp then read "The Hymn of Thanksgiving," found in the first song book of the Y.W.C.T.U.

The monthly Parent-Teachers meeting of the Maplewood school was held Friday evening and was opened with community singing led by Miss Mildred Boeve, with Miss Gezina Kleinheksel at the piano. Prayer was offered by Rev. Lansing. After the business meeting the following program was given, which was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. John Weighmink: A recitation by Miss Harriet Kleinheksel, a piano duet by the Misses Johanna and Gezina Kleinheksel; two dialogues and a pantomime were given by the Misses Louise and Ruth Wyman, Ruby and Edna Weighmink, Mabel Klomprens, Helene and Henrietta Weighmink, Minnie Brink, and the Messrs Henry Van Dort, Hiram Weighmink, Robert Klomprens; a recitation was given by Raymond Kleis; a vocal solo by Mr. Hiram Weighmink accompanied by Miss Minnie Brink. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Lansing who spoke about "Our Responsibility to God." A vocal duet by the Hyink sisters, Rev. Lansing and Miss Hyink also sang two beautiful hymns. Mr. Richard Weighmink furnished accordion music while refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. John Bush and committee.

ZEELAND

Mr. Mart De Jonge, Zeeland taxidermist, gave a venison dinner at Buikema's restaurant last Friday evening for members of the Zeeland American Legion band. Twenty members enjoyed the bounteous dinner. Mr. De Jonge was fortunate enough to return from his recent hunting trip to the Upper Peninsula with a 200-pound buck. The band members were very much pleased with this excellent feed and greatly appreciate it.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Van Eenennaam of Erie, Pa., formerly of Zeeland, announce the birth of a son.

Mrs. Tom Ver Hage of Indian Creek, near Vriesland, submitted to an operation for appendicitis and gall bladder trouble at the Huizinga Memorial hospital at Zeeland Friday morning.

A social afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. C. A. De Jonge on Church street, Zeeland, by the Ladies' Aid group of which Mrs. De Jonge is leader. The different groups are getting ready for the final annual windup of work. A resume of the year's work will be given by the different groups at the next Ladies' Aid meeting.

Mrs. H. A. Andrews has returned from Detroit where she has been attending a convention of the Women's Auxiliary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. De Kruif of Levering, Mich., visited their sister, Mrs. Delia Veneklasen and other relatives last week.

An interesting program on missions was given at the Third Christian Reformed church Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting was under the auspices of the King's Daughters class and interesting addresses were given by Mr. John Vande Water and by Miss Holkeboer of the Gospel Extension Mission, and a little girl who was attendant at the mission. The meeting was largely attended and all the speakers showed that they were deeply interested in the cause of the missions.

The first home debate of the season, which occurred Friday evening, resulted in a unanimous victory for Zeeland. The local team upheld the negative side of the question. "Resolved, that judge or board of judges be substituted for the jury in all trials in all state and municipal courts of Michigan," and were represented by Winona Wells, Helen Clark, and Alice Kette. This is the second victory of the local team this season and authorities are well pleased with the outcome. Mr. M. Rogers, principal of the Zeeland high school, is the coach and he is largely responsible for the excellent record.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendrikus Bouwman, who recently celebrated the sixty-third anniversary of their marriage at their home in Graafschap, have the probable distinction of being the oldest married couple in this community. Born in The Netherlands, Bouwman came to this country at the age of 22. Mrs. Bouwman came here two years later. They resided in Graafschap, where they were married in 1866. They lived on the same farm 48 years, retiring about 15 years ago. Bouwman is in his 89th year and his wife is 84. Both are in good health. YOUNG HOLLAND MAN BECOMES AN EAGLE SCOUT

By Francis J. Geiger

Scout headquarters of the Ottawa-Allegan Council today announced the award of Eagle Scout rank to Julius Wagenaar of Troop 7, Third Reformed Church of Holland. He is the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Wagenaar of 229 W. 16th St., Holland.

Eagle Scout is the highest rank in the Boy Scout program. There are only seven others in this rank in the area, of whom three are scoutleaders. They are: Harry Kirk, Preston Bile, Robt. McCracken, Everett Husted, Elmer Spangler and Lloyd McCracken of Grand Haven, and Frank Moser of Holland. To qualify as Eagle Scout the scout must first attain the rank of first class scout and then qualify for twenty-one merit badges. He must also have had at least one year's service as a first class scout during which time he has practiced the principles of the scout oath and laws and demonstrated leadership ability.

Scout Wagenaar is unusually young to attain this high rank. The three summers that he has spent at the council camp has facilitated his progress, however. Last summer he served as bugler during the entire camp season and at the close of camp was awarded the "Honor Camper" badge. He is also a patrol leader in his troop. Much credit for his progress also goes to Scoutmaster Al. Van Lente and Acting Scoutmaster Gordon Van Ark.

The merit badges that Scout Wagenaar has earned are: Woodwork, handicraft, bugling, firemanship, metalwork, bookbinding, carpentry, woodcarving, first aid, life saving, personal health, public health, cooking, camping, civics, bird study, pathfinding, pioneering, physical development, swimming and leathersmith.

Award of the badge will be made in connection with the annual council meeting which will be held next Wednesday evening, Dec. 11th, in the Holland First Reformed Church. This will be the annual gathering of all men connected with scouting.

Boys are "motor-minded." They want action. They don't want to just sit and listen. But they will listen intently if what they hear is related to what they are going to do a little later. That is where the scout teaching ties up with what the schools and Sunday schools want him to think about.

Ever since our Colonial fathers planted the little red school house on the New England hills, it has been our American ideal to provide for our coming generations. The importance of the boy has never loomed larger than it does right now. The need of efficient education and American ideals has never been so thoroughly recognized. We must omit no opportunity for moulding the character of our boys along these lines. The Boy Scout movement is one of the greatest of these opportunities.

The Bible Witness Hall tabernacle has been completed and arrangements now are being made for the dedication December 16th. Dr. Fitzwater will speak at the opening of the Bible Witness Hall, Dec. 17 and including Friday, Dec. 20th. The "Announcers Trio" are scheduled to appear on Monday evening, Dec. 16. Dr. Fitzwater writes the Sunday School lesson published each week in this paper.

PROJECTS OF IMPORTANCE WERE DISCUSSED AT WINTER SPORTS CLUB

The Winter Sports club met Monday evening at the city hall and listened to and approved a report made by the inspecting committee on several proposed projects to be sponsored by the club.

The committee was composed of President John Van Dyke, Secretary John De Bly, Ald. Andrew Hyman, Henry Vander Schel and Henry Te Roller. The report was made by Mr. De Bly and included a pond to be constructed for children at the city playground on 21st St., a slide for toboggans at Kollen Park down to the lake, and a skating pond on Black lake.

Most of the evening was spent in discussing the proposed skating pond and the Kollen Park slide. The financing of the work of erecting and maintaining these community centers were also talked over but no definite decision was taken.

A parliamentary rule was adopted by acclamation that no person could speak at meetings, after obtaining the consent of the chairman, for more than three minutes. This was made to aid order at large meetings. Work on the proposed constitution for the club is going forward now, but temporary rules must suffice now until it is completed.

ALLEGAN WOMAN JAILED FOR LIQUOR VIOLATION

Mrs. Dorothy Brenner of Monticore township pleaded guilty before Judge O. S. Cross in circuit court Saturday on a charge of selling beer at her home. She was placed on probation for three years and fined $100 and costs of $38.50 and must serve 90 days in the county jail. If the fine and costs are not paid she is to serve six months additional. Her husband, Jacob Brenner, who also was arrested, was not implicated in making the liquor, the wife stated. He may be discharged.

Terrible Auto-Train Accidents in Northern Ottawa County

Four young Grand Rapids persons are dead and three others are suffering injury as the result of a grade crossing accident at Coopersville Saturday night when an automobile in which they were en route to a dance was struck and demolished by a Grand Trunk freight train at the high school crossing. Three of those who lost their lives were killed outright.

Passengers in the automobile Sunday told investigators that they saw the lights of the locomotive as they approached the crossing, but did not believe it was so near the crossing.

As Tloczynski neared the rails, going up a slight incline, he apparently saw the train was nearly upon the car and at first attempted to bring the car to a stop, but immediately realized the danger and tried to speed up and cross ahead of the engine.

The tires, however, slipped and before the vehicle could be moved it was struck and carried nearly 1,000 feet.

The dead:

Louis Tloczynski, 26, of 725 Fremont ave., N. W.

Dorothy Tloczynski, 22, of 725 Fremont ave., N. W.

Theodore Letzelberger, 24, of 757 Fifth ave., N. W.

Helen Kurth, 21, of 651 Front ave., N. W.

The injured:

Paul Owen, 21, of 910 Douglas st., N. W., possible internal injuries and skull fracture.

Clarence May, 26, of 1033 Third st., N. W., internal injuries.

William Braun, 23, North Plymouth rd., R. F. D., No. 4, compound fracture of leg.

Louis Tloczynski, his sister, Dorothy, and Theodore Letzelberger were killed outright and Miss Kurth died at 9:30 Sunday morning in St. Mary's hospital from internal injuries and shock.

Braun said Sunday he saw the headlight on the locomotive just before the collision. He was riding in the rear seat with May, Owen and Letzelberger. Tloczynski was driving and his sister and Miss Kurth were in the front seat with him.

The train crew was composed of Engineer McMullen, Fireman Wagley, Conductor S. J. Tribbey and brakemen J. L. Potter and Mitchell DeLaverne.

The freight Fontana, leased by the Construction Materials Co. and taking the place of the Andaste, the ill-fated ship which was lost in Lake Michigan in September, had been laid up for the winter at Ferrysburg. In order to get the Fontana through the ice on Grand river gravel tugs were used, thus making it easy for the large boat to run through.

Hard to Get Started

LOCAL MUSICIAN
GIVEN OVATION
BY MUSIC LOVERS

John Lloyd Kollen, Just From Europe, Is Appreciated in His Home Town

The following contribution from the pen of Dr. J. B. Nykerk of Hope college has been received by the Holland City News:

By DR. J. B. NYKERK

Not within the writer's memory has a more perfect performance been witnessed in Holland than was offered in the Woman's Literary club last night, when John Lloyd Kollen played his judiciously chosen program, ranging from the classical Beethoven to the almost ultra-modern Debussy.

As was expected, the house was crowded from the pit to the gallery with an eager, almost reverent, audience which greeted him with acclamation bordering on an ovation.

For was not Mr. Kollen a product of our own city, in whom everybody was interested and from whom all expected great things after his two-year's study with Philipp, the greatest piano-forte technician, not only in Paris, but in the world? On this—shall I say?—prodigy, his adoptive mother had spent every monetary effort necessary to develop what was a sure promise—a musical artist. It is unnecessary to say that her highest hopes have been realized.

John L. Kollen started his musical career in our own city. Later he studied with an eminent teacher in Chicago, later in Berlin and in New York, to end for the present in a grand climax with Philipp in Paris.

The artist last night held his audience spellbound for an hour and a half and was compelled to respond to several encores after every group, the encore after the famous "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven being the Gluck-Brahms "Gavotte." His double encore at the end of the concert was the complimentary repetition of his master's "Feux Follets," and by the insistence of the excited audience, Brahms' "Rhapsodie in G Minor."

What about his technique and musicianship? Depth and breadth of conception were an early promise when this budding artist was teacher of piano, harmony and appreciation of music as well as the director of the orchestra of Hope college, and this promise was fully sustained in both the Beethoven and Brahms numbers.

Poise coupled with verve was evident. Perhaps the modest young artist was somewhat self-conscious in the adagio sostenuto movement of the great "Moonlight Sonata," but when it came to the allegretto and presto agitato, he seemed completely lost in the music.

But what perfection of technique he revealed in his Chopin numbers. The like of this has never been heard before in Holland. What with distinctness of speed and expressive handling of melody, with appropriate crashing climaxes—not a wish or desire was left unfulfilled to the most captious critic.

And what about his program music of the modern type—no, not jazz, God forbid!—but Debussy, whose impressionism became as classical as Keats' "On a Grecian Urn." For the first time the writer has been converted to Debussy, hair, hide, and all, especially in his "Reflections in the Water," and his will-o'-the-wispish "Feux Follets." In all this the masterful touch control of the artist was art-revealing.

Mr. Kollen was ably assisted by one of our most charming singers in Holland, Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte, whose numbers were all dignified and in the dramatic style so becoming to her poise and pose.

Mrs. Van Raalte also graciously responded to the sincere insistence of the audience to encores. She was ably assisted at the piano by Mrs. Martha C. Robbins.

The program was sponsored by a competent committee of the Hope Church Women's Aid society. It follows:

"Sonata quasi una Fantasia" (Moonlight) Op. 27, No. 2, Beethoven; "Adagio sostenuto, Allegretto, Presto agitato," Mr. Kollen. "I Went, Beloved," George Hue; "Soft Footed Snow," Sigurd Lie; "One Fine Day" (from "Madame Butterfly"), Puccini; Mrs. Van Raalte.

"Etude, Op. 25, No. 7," Chopin; "Etude, Op. 10, No. 5," Chopin; "Etude, Op. 10, No. 12," Chopin; "Valse, Op. 42, Chopin; Mr. Kollen. "The Grey Wolf," Burleigh, Mrs. Van Raalte.

"Reflections in the Water," Debussy. "The Hills of Anacapri," Debussy. "Fireworks," Debussy. "Feux Follets," Philipp, Mr. Kollen.

Hiram Potts
Sure Was A
Dry Editor

DETROIT NEWS TELLS OF AN UNUSUAL OTTAWA COUNTY MAN

The Detroit News this week relates an unusual story of a former Ottawa County editor who moved away from here many years ago and now apparently is well-to-do. The News says: "Hiram Potts, who is now past 60, and who believes he has the record of having started more Michigan weeklies than any other man now living, writes to correct a recent notice printed in the Detroit News that Eugene Field wrote the poem about Mr. Potts some 40 years or so ago that at the time was widely published in the press of the country. The refrain of each verse, 'H. Y. Potts,' 'To the silver gray editors of Michigan he is known not as Hiram but 'H. Y.' The poem was written when he had diverse activities at Grand Haven, including editing a paper.

"H. Y." in his letter says that James Whitcomb Riley wrote the poem and sent it to Eugene Field who published it in 'Sharps and Flats,' a daily column Field contributed until his death to the Chicago Daily News. This was the first publication and explains why Field was credited with having written it. The poem is in one of Riley's volumes.

"The world has been not unkind to 'H. Y.' although he has been out of the newspaper field for many years. He maintains three homes, one on Marlborough Ave., Detroit, one near Robert's Landing, on the St. Clair River, and one at Sebring, Florida."

The Holland City News might add to the Detroit News story that this same H. Y. Potts established the first weekly paper in Zealand under the name of the Zealand Exporter, which later became the Zealand Record. Potts was a regular "Bill Nye," his wit was just as dry and while others laughed at his humor until tears came, his face remained as serious as that of a judge. The editor of this paper has had the pleasure of meeting H. Y., and this tall, spare, sober looking man we find is a most interesting character.

AFRICAN BIRD LEARNS
HOW TO OUTWIT DRY

A certain species of small bird native to the upper waters of the Zambezi in Africa, is a home brewer of note. W. T. Logan, a returned missionary, states that this little bird makes a small hole in the clay river bank and fills it with ripe fruit, carefully covering the pit after placing the fruit therein. A few days later the bird goes back and opens the clay vat sips a little of the contents and is mildly intoxicated.

Mrs. Richard Van Der Haar of Grand Rapids spent the week visiting friends in Holland.

VERMONT MARBLE

Tribune Writer of Holland's Woman Juror

OTTAWA'S FIRST CIRCUIT COURT JURY WOMAN READY TO PERFORM CITIZEN DUTY

Grand Haven Tribune—Mrs. Hesper Raymond of Holland has the distinction of being the first woman from Ottawa County to enter a jury box as a circuit court juror and is here today serving on her first case, a damage suit involving a death in an automobile accident.

"One of the greatest pleasures, aside from serving in a capacity of which every citizen should be proud, is the satisfaction it will give to my mother, Mrs. Maude E. Bell who has been a prominent worker for Woman's Suffrage in Nebraska, Mrs. Raymond's native state," said Mrs. Raymond.

The jurywoman is 29 years old and tells it with no hesitation. She is bright, intelligent and keenly interested in the court procedure and the testimony relative to the case. She follows every line and the attorneys seem to have no trouble in keeping their eyes on her. "She is not hard to look at, in any sense of the word," remarked an attorney.

Mrs. Raymond has lived in Holland five years. She is a member of the Ladies' Literary club, has been a regent of the Holland chapter of the D. A. R. and is keenly interested in everything pertaining to the advancement of women and to national topics. She is a graduate of the Nebraska University and has had some business experience.

She was first acquainted with the fact she was to be a juror, when reading the list drawn for the November term in a county paper. When asked if she would serve she raised no objections and considered it a duty, one to which she would give her entire time.

This is the first time women's names have been included in the list which is given by each supervisor from the residents of his precinct.

"Whether I am ever called upon again for such duty or not, I shall consider this time well spent and am certain there are many women in the county who are equally willing to serve whose judgments are fully as reliable as the male sex."

HOLLAND TO EXPEND HALF MILLION DOLLARS, GREEN HEARS

In his report on economic conditions in Holland to Gov. Fred W. Green, Mayor Ernest Brooks cited a building program approximating $500,000.

The projects include the new Bell Telephone Co. block and substation, $255,000; a new office for the Duffy Manufacturing Co., $30,000; an addition to the Ottawa Furniture factory, $75,000; two new business blocks, $55,000; new municipal greenhouse, $15,000; and several new homes.

Tentative projects include a nurses' home on the hospital grounds at a cost of $25,000, boulevard light extension, $20,000, and approaches to the new highway bridge on US31, $20,000.

SALT WATER MAY BE MORE VALUABLE THAN OIL IT DROWNS OUT

Salt water, a perennial bugaboo of oil field operators, in the Muskegon field as well as in other oil sections, may contain chemicals with a value comparable to the oil it frequently adulterates.

Oklahoma City's new oil field is the site of a plant Dr. Otto V. Martin, a chemical engineer, is building to recover valuable material from water that many oil companies gave away as worthless.

Dr. Martin contends that salt water, properly utilized, is worth more than oil itself. The problem of recovering and purifying chemicals in the brine, he says, has been solved.

"These brines long have been known to contain useful chemicals," he explains, "but their economical recovery and particularly their purification and form always have presented a problem."

A supply of brine underlies the Muskegon field, as several wells have been drowned out by salt water and salt water has been hit in wells where there has been only a show of gas and oil. Chemists say it will yield not only a high grade of common salt, but magnesium, bromine, iodine and other chemicals.

These chemicals can be broken up for recombination into still more varied products. Proximity to natural gas resources also makes possible production of other gases and chemicals, such as chloroform, through combinations of chemicals with natural gas.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Kindness to Those Who Work for Us.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Fair Play in the Day's Work.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Golden Rule in the Work of the World.

While some of these instructions were given to Israel, showing what God required of them, we should remember that He requires no less at our hands.

I. Treatment of Hired Servants (Deut. 24:14, 15).

Political and industrial power have been used through the centuries in the oppression of the poor and weak.

1. Oppression forbidden (v. 14). The man who hires out is usually poor and needy. The employer should not take advantage of his poverty and helplessness.

2. Foreigners to have the same treatment as fellow countrymen. The alien is at a great disadvantage as he cannot speak our language or defend himself.

3. Wages to be promptly paid (v. 15).

The laborer was to be paid at the end of the day. The credit system in industry is greatly to be deplored. It not only places the purchaser at a disadvantage, but causes a bad psychological reaction upon his personality.

II. Fidelity to Contracts (Matt. 20:1-16).

In this parable it is clearly made known that there was agreement between employer and employee as to wages and time. Though those employed at a later hour received the same wage, there was no occasion for complaint by those first employed, for they received their wage according to agreement. Fidelity to agreement, whether oral or written, is an absolute essential in industry.

III. Unfaithful Tenancy (Mark 12:1-10).

In this parable a valuable vineyard was rented out to husbandmen. They not only refused to turn over the just returns to its owner, but shamefully treated his servants who were sent to collect rent. Those entrusted with possessions and power are under solemn obligation to make proper returns therefor. Proper rents should be promptly and gladly paid to the owner.

IV. Contentment With Wages (Luke 12:14).

One of the chief difficulties in the industrial world today is discontent with wages. Oftentimes workers fail to take account of the conditions of business even to the extent of going on strike and make demands as to wages which the proprietor cannot meet. Contentment with wages does not mean that a workman should not be ambitious to prepare himself for a more efficient service and higher wages.

V. Reciprocal Duties of Servants and Masters (Eph. 6:5-9).

1. Servants are to be obedient to their masters (vv. 5-8).

This obedience should be (1) "with fear and trembling"; that is, the servant should have a proper regard for his master and an earnest desire to please him. (2) With singleness of heart. Servants should perform their tasks as though doing them for Christ's sake. (3) Not with eye of the one who looks on, but as unto Christ. (4) With good will. This expresses the spirit of service. It should not primarily be for approval or pay. Christian servants will perform their duties with the same fidelity as they would unto Christ. (5) Rewarded by the Lord (v. 8). The Lord takes account of our service in the common rounds of life and will one day reward us accordingly.

2. Masters to be considerate (v. 9).

Just as servants are to give wholehearted consideration to their masters, so masters are to look out for the best interests of their servants. The employer is to give definite consideration to the needs of his employee. Wages should be paid according to his need and his merits.

(1) Masters should desist from threatenings. (2) They should be impartial in dealings with their servants.

VI. Responsibility of the Rich (1 Tim. 6:17-19).

Riches are possible to Christians, but most perilous. God charges such:

1. Not to be high-minded; that is, to have a sense of superiority and personal importance.

2. Not to trust in the uncertainty of riches. Riches often fail, they fly away.

3. Riches to be properly used. (1) To do good. Not for selfish gratification, but for the welfare of others. (2) To be minister to good works. Some are rich in bank accounts, but poor in good works. (3) The rich are under obligation to use their riches in their distribution to the poor and the needy.

HOLLAND DOWN FOR $9,000 FOR ITS HARBOR

Only work of a comparatively minor nature is provided for Western Michigan harbors in the budget of estimates for river and harbor development calling for appropriations of $55,000,000. The sum was fixed by the chief of army engineers in Washington in a report on the amount that can be profitably expended during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1930.

Figures released by L. W. Goddard, government engineer stationed at Grand Haven, show that almost a half million dollars, or $449,000, will be expended in maintaining harbors of lake cities on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan.

Among the appropriations for maintenance are:

Grand Haven harbor, $55,000, dredging and rebuilding of 607 feet of the north jetty.

St. Joseph harbor, $7,000, dredging and minor repairs to revetments.

South Haven, $105,000, dredging and rebuilding of superstructure on 806 feet of the north pier and 518 feet of the north jetty.

Saugatuck harbor and Kalamazoo river, $16,000, dredging.

Grand River, $10,000, for dredging of the lower 17 miles of Grand River. This section of the river ships more tonnage annually than any other in the state.

In 1924 the tonnage grew to 323,539 tons in 1928 and the tonnage grew to 323,539 tons in 1928 and the tonnage this year is expected to reach 400,000 tons. Much of this is sand and gravel used as building material.

Muskegon harbor, $20,000, for dredging and minor repairs. This harbor is one of those on which work previously appropriated for remains to be done. Approximately $287,000 remains on hand to complete improvements already started.

HOLLAND MAN IN DETROIT FREE PRESS ALL-STATE 11

Benton Harbor, western Michigan's undeveloped town, and Detroit Central are the only high schools honored with more than one player on the all-state eleven picked by George Lawton, prominent high school official, for the Detroit Free Press.

However Hinga's fast bunch in Holland can crow over the fact that the Free Press has selected at least one man for honors.

Quarter Back Bonnette of this city being selected for the second team. Not a player from Grand Haven was selected it appears.

DEATH TAKES PROMINENT SPRING LAKE RESIDENT

Enno J. Pruim, age 86, for 19 years a supervisor from Spring Lake, died Sunday at his home in that village. He was stricken with pneumonia Nov. 22.

Born in 1843 in Nithuizen, The Netherlands, Pruim came to this country in 1863, settling in Spring Lake with his family. At the age of 18 he served in the Union army and enlisted throughout the Civil war. He participated in Sherman's march to the sea.

In addition to serving as supervisor, he also was street commissioner, township treasurer, highway commissioner and at one time served as justice of the peace. He was connected with early lumbering operations in this region.

He leaves the widow and one son, John of Muskegon Heights. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the residence in Spring Lake. Burial will be in Spring Lake cemetery.

HOLLAND HAS BUT FIVE CIVIL WAR VETS LEFT

Through the recent death of Matthew Notter the ranks of Civil war veterans in Holland have been reduced to five. The honored survivors are B. VanderHoop, John H. Wise, Swan Miller, John R. Douma and Gerrit S. Doesburg. The original roll contained 118 names.

Of the departed heroes 31 lie buried in southern soil and 117 in local cemeteries. Thirty-two veterans are buried in the soldiers plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

ALLEGAN COUNTY FARM IS SCENE OF DRILLING

An oil company has started drilling for oil on the Arthur Ketcham farm in Cheshire township, Allegan county. The drillers believe they have fine prospects at this location.

OLDEST COUNTRY IN THE WORLD

San Marino, a tiny country on the eastern slope of the Apennines, about 40 miles southeast of Ravenna, Italy, is regarded as the oldest republic in the world.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE FOR MICHIGAN WON'T ADOPT KISSING RULES OF KANSAS

Dr. Guy L. Keifer, head of the Michigan Department of Health, says that the department positively will not promulgate in the state the rules recently adopted by the Kansas Health Department to protect kissers. It is such rules, Dr. Keifer adds, that causes people to ridicule new and really meritorious rules for better health conditions.

Here, briefly, is the Kansas code of kissing rules as reported in an Associated Press dispatch:

"Never kiss in crowded places or poorly ventilated rooms, but if you must kiss take a hot mustard footbath and avoid drafts in case you feel all at once afterwards."

"Guard against sudden changes in temperature when kissing. Kissing in a conkoin coat one minute and lighter apparel the next is extremely dangerous."

"Don't kiss any person who has chills and fever."

"At a party where 'postoffice' and similar games are played, be sure to gargle frequently."

HOLLAND WINTER SPORTS CLUB TO RESUME PROGRAM

The Winter Sports club will resume activities in a short time. The group was organized last year with a membership of 250. Officers are: John Van Dyke, president; John De Bily, secretary, and Capt. Weidenauer, treasurer. Weather conditions hampered the success of the organization last winter, but a complete program will be outlined for the coming season and judging from present weather conditions an early start can be made possible a great event between Christmas and New Years.

Use Six Million Doses of Dope in U. S.

The staggering total of 6,240,000 known medical doses of narcotics were diverted from the legal supplies between July 1, 1928, and October 21, 1929, it was revealed today by the federal narcotics unit.

This is sufficient to give every person in the nation's capital a "shot" of dope every day for nearly two weeks.

There were diversion of 3,694,080 medical doses of opium derivatives, including powdered opium, tincture opium, paregoric, morphine and heroin and 2,545,920 doses of cocaine.

The federal narcotics control board is charged with restricting the imports to the legitimate necessities.

During the period the narcotics unit settled for cash, instead of prosecution in court, cases involving diversions of 7,267 ounces of paregoric, 344,936 medical doses of morphine, 352 doses of heroin, which is not permitted to be manufactured and 1,940 doses of cocaine.

The compromise negotiations are shrouded in secrecy and no public record is kept.

Cases in which cash offers of compromise are now pending involve 8,265 ounces of paregoric, 720,200 doses of morphine, and 5,176 doses of cocaine.

KENT COUNTY GARDENER'S EXPERIMENT PAYS RICH REWARD IN CROPS

A new method in backyard gardening has been introduced here by C. M. Norton, a retired farmer of Kent county.

Early last spring Norton excavated about eight inches of humus from a plot 5 by 66 feet in his backyard and built a thin concrete base in the bed. The humus and top soil were replaced and planted to a dozen or more vegetables.

The soil in Norton's garden is a light plainfield sand and the concrete base tends to arrest the escape of moisture, except as it slowly drains over the edges of the base. As a result Norton has had to irrigate this bed only four times this season compared with daily sprinkling in the rest of his garden.

More vegetables are being produced in the plot than his family can readily consume. Crops in the bed have matured two weeks earlier than in the garden proper and the yields have been two and three times heavier.

Norton first tested this system of gardening at his winter home in Florida where the soil is extremely light.

Cornelius De Roo, a former mayor of Holland, now a resident of Flint, is visiting old friends in this city.

BIRD HUNTERS CAN GET TALLY SHEETS FROM STATE

A bird hunter's tally card has been prepared by the Conservation department on which hunters can report the counties hunted in; the abundance of the birds; the number of hours hunted on each date; and the number of partridge, prairie chicken or pheasants tagged on each day of the open season. The card also calls for the kind and number of dogs used in hunting.

The department needs more and more detailed information as to upland game bird conditions in all parts of the state. Since there has been no partridge hunting for several years and since the season was closed on prairie chicken last year, it is especially important that the results of the present open seasons be checked up on.

The tally cards will be distributed by local conservation officers, by sportsmen's and any other interested organizations, and in many sporting goods stores, or direct from the Lansing office.

OTTAWA HAS 127 SCHOOLS

A census of rural and village schools just completed by County Commissioner Gerrit G. Groenewald of Holland shows 127 schools, 208 teachers and 9,700 pupils enrolled.

Jacob Welling, 323 West 20th street, has applied for a building permit to erect a garage.

The H. J. Heins company employees paid $12.85 to the Red Cross roll call. Ernest V. Hartman had charge of the factory. This brings the total roll call for Ottawa county to within $500 of the quota.

Hunting Is Becoming More Difficult

NOT FOR THE RICH BUT FOR THE AVERAGE RED-BLOODED MAN

Albert Stoll, Jr., prominent out-of-doors writer for the Detroit News, gives the following interesting contribution about hunting.

Deer hunting is done for; the ducks are thinning out; geese and brant for the most part are in the South; upland bird hunting is a closed book and the sportsman faces nothing but trapping, rabbit hunting or ice fishing in the immediate future. This is the usual turn of affairs when December rolls around bringing with it days of memories and future anticipation.

In Michigan it has reached the point where rabbit hunting is about the only compensation the licensed small game hunter receives for his fee and good intentions in upholding the game laws. The hunting seasons on non-migratory small game have been cut down to such an extent that the average hunter is lucky enough to belong to some private game club chartered under the new game law where he can shoot birds for 60 days. Five days on grouse and seven on pheasants is about as short a time as could be set and still be called an open hunting season. Duck flights are so erratic and public marshes so difficult to find that even the wildfowler finds his days filled with discontent. But with rabbits it is different. There isn't a place in the State that doesn't harbor cottontails or jack rabbits. Even the outskirts of congested centers of population furnish cover and it is the only small game the State possesses that doesn't make the shooter drive miles from home to help fill the kettle.

As a sporting proposition both the cottontail and the jack rabbit possess very many good qualities. They are quick, full of life, swift of foot, tricky and fast enough to draw snap shooting. Fence rows, brush lots, swales, cornfields and briar patches all draw the cottontail and with a good sound and light snow the hunter always is assured of a fair bag.

In northern Michigan, beyond the range of the cottontail, the jack rabbit or varying hare, holds sway, and a fine table tidbit it makes. This year, to all appearances, is a jack rabbit year, for the animals are extremely plentiful and should furnish the hunter with plenty of shooting all during December. The bag limits on the two species vary somewhat in the Upper and Lower peninsulas as does the open season. Below the Straits the season closes Jan. 1 and allows the hunter five in one day, 10 in possession and 50 for the entire season. Above this line the season runs until Jan. 31 with five in a day, five in possession and 50 for the season.

OTTAWA COUNTY COURT TERM IS VERY BRIEF

Damage Suits Held Chief Place in Recent Cases; Sentence Day is Not Set

Grand Haven Tribune—Judge O. S. Cross has excused the jury for the November term of Ottawa County Circuit court duty this term unless something unforeseen should arise.

The term was one of the shortest in the history of local court action. Not one criminal case was tried. A series of interesting damage suits, arising for the most part from automobile accidents, furnished some interesting work in the civil section.

Sentence day has not been designated as yet by the judge. This too will be fought with the few who pleaded guilty sentenced to serve their penalties.

The next term will open the third Monday in February. Judge-elect Fred T. Miles will take his place on the bench. His first appearance as judge of the Allegan-Ottawa circuit will be in Allegan in January.

Due to the large law practice which Mr. Miles has enjoyed in the county during the many years he has practiced, it will, no doubt, be necessary to call in or exchange seats with other judges of the state.

Judge Cross retires after 18 years faithful service in which his ability has been unquestioned and proved by the many cases returned from the State Supreme Court corroborating his decisions. Out of eight cases which were appealed recently from the Ottawa-Allegan circuit only three were lost.

Judge Cross will be seen in this court frequently as he will join the law firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate of Holland, and will engage in general practice.

Fraters Enjoy A Night on Wheels

Innovating a new type of party for Hopelites, the Fraters and their lady friends skated at the Virginia Park Skating Rink last Friday night. The skating was directed by the manager of the rink, who featured "Ladies Rob," "Gents' Rob," "Grand Circle," "Grand March," and many other stunts.

Were there tumbles? Yes! But no one was hurt. However, Maurice Marcus and Elizabeth Arendshorst succeeded in winning the prize for being the biggest nuisances. Marcus quite wiped up all the floor wax in his many tumbles.

After the skating all of the couples went to the "Fraternal House" where a dainty lunch was served. Of course, the Fraters made the servants, and it was up to them to serve. They did, proved quite competent. Everyone joined in the singing of songs before the party adjourned.

Rev. A. Keizer of Holland accepted the pulpit of the Second Christian Reformed Church of Kalamazoo, Sunday.

"ANNOUNCERS TRIO"
From Station WMBI, Chicago

Monday, Dec. 16th, will mark the opening of the Bible Witness Hall in the new building recently erected on Main St., Zeeland. For the first evening the committee has secured the "Announcers Trio," popular on the air from radio station WMBI, the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. They are often heard in their programs from the Institute every noon hour, Sundays and in their "midnight hour" on Fridays.

New Citizens Given Flags After Pledge

CLASS OF 15 ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP IN CIRCUIT COURT IN OTTAWA COUNTY

A class of 15 was admitted to citizenship before Judge O. C. Cross in Circuit Court after passing satisfactory examinations before the U. S. examiner of Detroit.

Out of the list Czechoslovakia contributed five citizens, who forever renounced allegiance to that country. The Netherlands followed with four. This is one of the few times that the Netherlands has not been by a large percentage.

Silk flags, 14 by 8 inches in size, which were presented by the Elks of Grand Haven and copies of the American Creed contributed by the D. A. R. of Holland were presented to each new citizen by Mrs. Hesper Raymond, a member of the D. A. R. of Holland, who was in court as the first jurymen to sit in an Ottawa Circuit court jury box.

She welcomed the new citizens, saying she realized that the strength it required to put aside old traditions, customs and language and allegiance in revoking their claims to the mother country, was considerable. She read the American creed and then personally presented each member with the beautiful symbol of this country.

The new citizens are: Lutzen Slagter, Grandville; Hubertus Van Meurs, Holland; Gullis Stephen, Spring Lake; Antonio Andreani, Mary Yemic, Ernest Gramman, Florian Polak, Louis Pappas, Elmer P. Klop, Filomena Vorlick, John Maczak, John Cotie, of Grand Haven; Ivan Rakale, West Olive; Jeltje Turkstra, Holland, and Grace Berens, Jenison.

Hattie Honderd of Jenison and Josef Broucke of Grand Haven did not appear and the petitions remaining of the class of 22 were continued and advised to study further on the requirements and to appear at the next hearing.

The complete list of those who applied, including those now passed and those who must study further, follows: Rudolph Resnar, Jugo Slavia, Grand Haven; Josef Broucke, Czechoslovakia, Grand Haven; Lutzen Slagter, Netherlands, Grandville; Hattie Honderd, Michigan, Jenison; Hubertus Van Meurs, Netherlands, Holland; Gullis Stephen, Netherlands, Holland; Fennekin Berentschot, Netherlands, Holland; Stephen Gullis, Czechoslovakia, Spring Lake; Antonio Andreani, Greece, Grand Haven; Mary Yemic, Jugo Slavia, Grand Haven; Ivan Rakale, Jugo Slavia, West Olive; Ernest Gramman, Switzerland, Grand Haven; Florian Polak, Czechoslovakia, Grand Haven; Louis Pappas, Hungary, Grand Haven; Elmer Klop, Netherlands, Grand Haven; Filomena Vorlick, Czechoslovakia, Grand Haven; John Maczak, Hungary, Holland; Jeltje Turkstra, Netherlands, Holland; John Cotie, Austria, Grand Haven; Andrew Brodowski, Poland; Grand Haven; Grace Berens, Netherlands, Jenison.

The ceremony and fun mark initiations.

Two of the girls' societies have partially initiated their members. Friday night the Dorians formally received their new members with an impressive ceremony. The Freshmen in their white attire made a pretty picture as each stepped forth and pledged herself to the Dorian creed.

Thursday night preceding, a pot-luck supper, the Dorians had their Freshmen submit to an informal initiation. Hitherto unsuspected talents were brought to light to the amusement of the audience and chagrin of the victims. This ordeal will be completed at the next Basket Ball game, when they will give the upper class men a break.

Guinea fowl are used extensively as a substitute for game birds and guinea raising in small flocks on general farms is becoming more profitable. The demand in late summer at city markets is for young birds weighing from 1 to 1 1/2 lbs.

As the fall season advances heavier birds are in demand. Guinea fowls are fed much the same way as chickens, but they need less feed as they are natural rangers and obtain much of their feed in that manner.

Dr. E. D. Dimment, president of Hope college, is in Chicago on business for the college.

KUITE TELLS OF FURS EXPORTATION

Conservation Officer Kuite of Holland states that many people seem to be ignorant of the export fur law passed by the last legislature, and requests that the Holland City News give a summary of the same for the benefit of the public. The law requires that before any raw furs or skins legally taken or killed during the open season are shipped out of the state, a permit must be obtained from the department of conservation. The permit must be attached to the package to be shipped, and any common carrier is forbidden to transport same without permit tag attached. The permit must be signed by the local conservation officer before it is attached to packages for shipment. The penalty for violation besides fine or imprisonment, provides for confiscation of all furs, hides, and pelts illegally shipped.

Tells of Dr. Pieters As Missionary In Japan for 32 Years

Grand Rapids Press—Rev. Albertus Pieters, professor of English Bible and missions in Western Theological seminary, has taken his position among the veteran ministers in the Reformed Church in America.

Honored with his bachelor of arts degree at Hope college in 1897, he taught in the public schools in Iowa for one year and was ordained a minister of the gospel in 1891, following his graduation from Western seminary.

The same year he was commissioned a missionary to Japan, where he rendered an unbroken service for 32 years. He served as principal of Seido academy for several years and specialized in newspaper evangelism.

Returning to this country in 1923, he became professor of biblical literature at Hope college and in 1926 was elected by general synod of the Reformed Church in America to the chair in Western seminary, founded in the memory of Rev. and Mrs. N. Dosker and Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Hulswit of Grand Rapids, by the families of C. Dosker and F. M. Hulswit in the amount of $60,000.

Dr. Pieters is the son of the late Rev. Roelof Pieters, second pastor of the old Colonial church in this city. He was given the doctor of divinity degree by Hope college board of trustees in 1924 and in 1925 was named vice president of the general synod of the Reformed Church in America.

Dr. and Mrs. Pieters were members of the same class at Hope college. His sister, Jennie A. Pieters, has been connected with foreign missionary work in Japan 25 years. Their five daughters are graduates of Hope. Mrs. Pieters also devoted 32 years of her life to foreign missionary work in Japan.

Young Smart Lads Molest Church Goers

OTHER MINOR ANNOYANCES ARE REPORTED; SEVERAL YOUTHS GET SUMMONS

Sheriff Steketee of Grand Haven, will not put up with the hoodlum element near Boreto, which seems to delight in annoying church-goers and services in the country churches in that section. There is a general spirit of lawlessness which must stop, he says.

On Sunday several youths were summoned to appear before Justice C. E. Burr, Grand Haven, for obstructing the highways and one has already appeared. They were Delbert Berkhorst, Gerrit Van Hooven, John Looman, Willard Nelhouse and Willis Hirdes. Berkhorst paid a fine of $10 and costs of $7.40.

Simon Spoelman and Ernest Styf were arrested for having one headlight. They were reported to have been with the gang.

Complaints have come from this section frequently that grown boys annoy girls and women going to church and attempt to block the highway with cars as they race up and down the roads. Noise and other disturbing actions have been suffered from gangs there before. Sheriff Steketee will keep a patrol in that section to see the tricks are not repeated.

BOUWMASTER ASKS FOR SECOND TRIAL

Benjamin H. Bouwmaster has filed with the trial court a motion asking for a new trial, in his suit against City Assessor Peter Van Ark, which is based upon alleged error in the former trial. The petition will be answered by Judge William B. Brown, who was on the bench in the former trial. The jury which tried the case at Grand Haven returned a verdict Dec. 8 of no cause for action after a two-day trial.

Mr. Bouwmaster asked for the sum of $10,000 on behalf of the estate of his son, the late Arthur Bouwmaster, who was accidentally killed in an auto accident last winter on the highway east of Zeeland.

C., to represent Holland and the state of Michigan at the national convention of Rivers and Harbors congress. Mayor Brooks is listed as one of the speakers on Holland's industrial and transportation facilities. The Holland delegation met the Grand Haven harbor board and they all stayed at the Willard Hotel, at Washington.

Dr. Dan Poling Tells of His Own Religious Experiences at College

Had Not Intended First to Enter Pulpit Career

From Hope College Anchor.

Approaching his task from an intimately understanding angle, Dr. Daniel Poling opened the annual Prayer Week upon the campus of Hope College on Tuesday morning. The Memorial Chapel, fitting scene for such convocations, was well filled in the main part of the auditorium as both Hope students and townspeople came to hear the widely liked speaker of the occasion. The first meeting of the week, on Monday morning, was conducted by the College Pastor, Prof. Paul Hinkamp of the Bible Department.

In a personal interview with a member of the Anchor staff, Dr. Poling imparted the impression that his method of approach to his audiences would be one of sympathetic, informal manner, seeking the phases of religion which are of major appeal to the college-age mind. The story of Dr. Poling's own college days will serve to aid and illustrate here his viewpoint of our individual situations.

Having attended a denominational college himself in Dallas, Oregon, our leader of the week knows campus life from our own angle. Dr. Poling was at one time the high point track man of the Pacific coast, during his school days. Being proficient not only in all branches of athletics, he was a Y.M.C.A. president at one time, and a much respected scholar in his studies. He attended Ohio State University and also Chicago University in later phases of his education.

The thing that led him to his present career will be of interest to Anchor readers. Until two months before his graduation from college Dr. Poling had no intention of taking up religious work! The son of a minister, Dan Poling did not feel attracted to the particular endeavors of that field. It was strictly an urge on his own part, according to Dr. Poling himself, to find some active lifework in which to put all his energy that led him to discuss with some friends of his, who were in Y.M. work, the possibilities of a career as a Student Volunteer worker.

His entire life previous to that time had shaped him toward such a decision. The extent to which he is equipped personally for his ambitious work is apparent to all who have listened to his earnest and convincing analysis of religious matters. Dr. Poling is now forty-five years young, having been developing his ideas in the field of American public life for twenty-five years. From his numerous experiences and the conclusions he has drawn from them, Dr. Poling will offer a Week of Prayer Program filled with enlightening logic for all who join his large audiences. It is his earnest desire to make the capacities of the Christian Religion nearer and clearer to us all.

CANNED CHICKEN BECOMES POPULAR

Increase in consumer demand for canned chicken is resulting in a greater demand for government inspection of the poultry at canning plants. Inspection for condition and wholesomeness under the food products inspection law is now maintained in eleven poultry canning plants.

This service is rendered by the department of agriculture at the request of the canning plants and through cooperation with the New York Poultry Merchants association and others at the time the entrails are removed, and birds that are diseased, unwholesome, or are otherwise unfit for food are destroyed.

In September nearly 2,000,000 pounds of poultry was inspected at the eleven plants.

The next annual congregational meeting of the Third Reformed church will be held on Monday evening, January 18th.

Irwin Lubbers Likes His Work For Degree

Our former English professor, Irwin J. Lubbers, is following a course in the North Western School of Education this year. At the end of the coming summer session of the university he will have completed the requirements for his doctor's degree in education. At the same time he is teaching a course in the university in secondary education. Naturally, most of his own studying follows along teaching lines, but he is especially stressing French and German.

At present Prof. Lubbers is investigating the field of education for his thesis topic. As yet he has not decided upon his subject. He and his family are living in Evanston during this winter.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB GETS $250.00

"Necessity is the mother of invention"—so runs the old adage. The Girls' Glee Club has had this proved to them this week. With an extensive concert tour in view, the fair lady vocalists found their choir gowns in a sad state of repair—the eternal case of "nothing to wear." So a bit of publicity and effort on the part of Dr. J. B. Nykerk and Mrs. W. Fenton brought an anonymous gift of $250.00 to the Club. With a bit more from their own treasury, the gowns will be purchased.

ZEELAND BOY FIGURES IN ACCIDENT

Raymond Fris and F. De Ridder of Zeeland figured in an accident as they were returning from Grand Rapids. On account of a dense fog it was impossible to see very far ahead on the highway. A Buick car was stationed on the pavement a little beyond Vriesland, where the driver was cleaning the windshield. The Zeeland boys did not notice the car until they were very close, which resulted in pushing the Buick into the ditch. Both cars were slightly damaged and Mr. De Ridder received injuries and cuts in the face which required medical attention. He was taken to his home on Church St., Zeeland. Mr. Fris is a former Holland boy.

John Arendshorst, former secretary of the Fair association, said that he thought the fairgrounds an ideal site for the new field because it already possessed a grandstand, a track, and plenty of parking space.

Glee Clubs Plan East, West Trips

The girls expect to tour Wisconsin and Illinois for a period of two weeks.

HOPE COLLEGE -NEWS-

First Court Game Not a Prophecy

Hope's defeat in the opening basketball game by the Hub Clothiers of Grand Rapids means little or nothing to the chances for a successful year on the court. This week a far better prepared unit will face Seventh Reformed Church of Grand Rapids on Friday evening at Carnegie gym. Previous to the initial contest, the courtiers had but a few days of practice together and showed it in lack of team play and accuracy in locating the basket.

The Clothiers presented anything but a setup in the first tilt. It was one of the best teams Hope has ever taken on in a testing contest.
In the game the Hopesites gave only flashes of the type of ball that will be played in a few weeks. Following the warning up games the Orange and Blue terrors will tackle as heavy a schedule as any Hope team has ever attempted. Two games with each of the M.L.A.A. teams, two with Calvin, two with St. Marys, and single enagements
with Michigan State and General Motors Tech. of Flint will be played.

The Hope team needs the support of every student in school.
There are but two veterans and what the new members lack is confidence. Only proper backing by the faculty and students can provide this. The appearance of the band in the game with the Seventh Reformed group would also aid a great deal. If the entire mass gets behind the club, Hope can be assured of a team that will finish well up in the M.L.A.A. race. What's more, we'll beat Calvin twice and gain revenge for the wins that the latter took from us last season.

Ten men compose the varsity.
The captain for the season is Carl Van Lente, a veteran of four years.
Boo Cook, his mate defensively, ability as a public speaker in introducing the speakers. Mr. De Graf held the party in a continuous state of amusement during his toast to the Mouth. He was followed by Mr. Wolthorn, who toasted to the Mind. Mr. Cotts, one of the promising pianists of the Freshman class, played several selections. Mr. Bellingham concluded the program by a toast to the Heart. The party then went in a body to Carnegie gym, where they were in time to witness the last half of the basketball game.

Prayer Groups Discuss Talks

The host and hostesses of the Prayer Week discussion groups are here given, with the places of their meeting. Much of the benefit of this annual campus event is derived from these groups, and consequently it is due largely to the tact of

Choral Groups To Sing "Messiah"

Although it is too late to undertake anything in the form of a Christmas pageant among the students and faculty, we will not be disappointed, however. Two clubs, the Teachers' Choral and the Holland Civic Chorus, which is sponsored by the Holland Musicians' Club, have united to form a choir of some sixty voices. They will present in full Handel's well known Christmas Cantata, "The Messiah."
Our chapel organist, Prof. Snow, has undertaken the responsibility of directing the organization. The soloists have not been announced but will be made public in a few days. The Cantata will be presented in the new Chapel with piano and organ accompaniment on the eighteenth of this month. The program promises to be exceptional and will bring the true Christmas spirit to Hope's campus.

Songs and Comedy In Scottish Play

Another John E. Daniels musical success is "The Bonnie Brier Bush," which is being offered this week under the auspices of the Lyceum Course by the Scottish Musical Company. This delightful musical play is based on three of Ian MacLaren's works—"Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," "In the Days of Auld Lang Syne," and "Kate Carnegie." This comedy is being presented by the same company that last year gave "The Cotter's Saturday Night."

While there is much pathos and sentiment in the first act, the second is a good foil to it, since it is full of riot and humor, song, and story.

The play smacks of Scottish life, and preserves the impressions of real existence among the highlands by retaining the dialect and introducing the costumes of the natives.
Every member of the company is an artist, and their singing is a musical treat.

First Year Physiques To Undergo Training

This year not only will the Fresh make the gym ring with their energy of exercise, but the Sophas as well, will be doing their bit twice each week. Coach Schouten has arranged for two girls' gym sections on Mondays and Fridays for the Freshman girls, and one for Sophomore girls. The three divisions of boys will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Mr.
Schouten urges the student body to remember that on Mondays and Fridays the gym is to be given over to the girls exclusively. On Tuesdays and Thursdays it will belong to the boys. Wednesdays various teams may use the hall for practise work.

The gym classes will be supervised by senior men and women.
These are not yet selected, and applications for gym supervision for which teaching recommendation will be given, may still be filed with Mr. Schouten.

Just for the sake of variety, most of us indulged in twelve weeks tests. That accounts for the sleepiness of some individuals who have barely succeeded in dragging themselves around the campus this week.

Valuable Cow Saved from Slaughter Pen

Owner Retains Animal Records to Show She Returned 1000 Dollars.

Records of butterfat production for a grade cow which was offered for sale for fifty dollars seven years ago in Eaton county show that the animal has returned $1,005.84 above the cost of her feed since that time, and she has one daughter which paid $160.81 more than the cost of her food into the herd profit last year.

The records of these two animals were made available through the accounts kept on the production and feed costs for each animal in herds entered in herd improvement association work. Such records make it possible for dairymen to select their most profitable animals for breeding stock and to cull out the unprofitable cows.

Testers in the association also aid herd owners in making up ratings for the cattle. One Ingham county dairyman was saved seven dollars per ton on the grain mixture which he was feeding by suggestions which enabled him to use cheaper grains. The production records on his herd proved that the cheaper grain ration did not lessen the amount of butterfat produced.

The improvement of the cattle in the herd through the use of good sires can be accurately checked by the tester's records over a period of years. The sires of high-producing heifers can be saved for continued use in the herd or the animals can be exchanged for others with known records.

ILLEGALLY CAUGHT FISH ARE PUT TO GOOD USE IN MICHIGAN

What happens to the thousands of pounds of fish and game that are confiscated every year by Michigan conservation officers from law violators?

A big gray book in the office of the law enforcement division of the conservation department holds the answer to the question.

In this book is written a complete history of every conservation law violation case. It lists the defendant's name, the officer who apprehended him, and anything confiscated, together with the disposal of the confiscated property. The most generally confiscated property is fish and game.

During the first six months of this year, throughout the State, conservation officers confiscated 21,545 pounds of fish held illegally. At the average retail price for fish, this was worth $4,509.

Fish confiscated is not permitted to spoil. It is given to some charitable institution. Scores of poor farms, orphan homes, and hospitals have fed confiscated perch, trout and whitefish to their inmates, patients and charges. Prisoners at Jackson and Marquette prisons have feasted on fish caught by some game violator. Many needy families have tasted of the bounty provided indirectly by some man who violated a game law.

During the first six months of this year, conservation officers confiscated 13,672 pounds of perch; 6,223 pounds of whitefish; 1,109 pounds of yellow pickerel; 235 pounds of trout; 92 pounds of grass pike; 115 pounds of catfish and 91 pounds of sunfish.

The largest individual seizure was made at Detroit last winter when 13,672 pounds of perch were taken. No single institution could handle the entire amount. The department called Jackson Prison, the Detroit House of Correction and several hospitals, asking stewards how much fish they could conveniently handle. In this way the entire catch of almost seven tons was disposed of.

SAYS WILD HOUSE CAT ENEMY OF OUR GAME

From the annual report of William C. Adams, director of the division of fisheries and game of Massachusetts, the following indictment of the cat as an enemy to game appears: "There is growing appreciation of the reduction of our desirable wild life by the wild hunting house cat. The sentiment in favor of reducing the numbers of these predatory cats is slowly but surely increasing. It may be years before our people will come to the point of taking hold of this problem firmly, and devising ways and means of eliminating these homeless wild hunting cats from our countryside; but it seems in this case (as in many others) that the ravages must assume alarming proportions before the public will be sufficiently interested to act. We believe these cats are one of the greatest destructive factors operating in our covers today. During the year the county treasurers paid out $1,130 in bounties on 113 wild house cats, for which they were reimbursed from the treasury of the commonwealth. — Bulletin of the American Game Protective Association.

MAN INJURED AT LEATHER PLANT IS RECOVERING NOW

William Zwemer, formerly of Holland, who was injured when an elevator at the Eagle Ottawa Leather company dropped three stories, is improving at Hutton hospital and the physician in charge thought a week would see him out.

It was found he has a scalp wound, a sprained knee and ankle, a cut on one finger and one fractured rib. His escape from serious injuries at his age is miraculous and although he suffered considerably at first is resting more comfortably now and is not expected to carry the injuries long. Mr. Zwemer was employed for many years in the Cappon Bertsch Leather Co. here and is the brother to Henry Zwemer of Holland.

Dr. R. H. Glover At Seminary on Missions

Western Theological Seminary has been fortunate enough to secure Dr. Robert H. Glover to lecture during the Christmas vacation.

Dr. Glover is in charge of the China Inland Mission. For many years he was a medical missionary in China, and is exceptionally well-versed on that country. He is a world-traveler as well as the author of a textbook on the History of Missions, which is now used in more than one hundred schools and colleges. He is a noted lecturer at the Winona Lake Conference. Holland is indeed fortunate to be the host of such a world figure. The lectures are open to the public, and students especially can receive much help from them.

"Milestone" At Big Press Meet

W. Wichers, Staff Head, At National Press Conclave

Carrying out his intentions of doing all within his power to make the 1930 "Milestone" an unusual book, Editor Willard Wichers attended the annual convention of the National Scholastic Press Association at Chicago last week. Although there is no journalistic department of our college that sends delegates to this highly important and interesting meeting, yet Willard Wichers took it upon himself to make the most of the opportunity. No other source exists for live-wire, invaluable publication helps that can compare with the annual meets of this association.

Willard Wichers left last Wednesday and returned on Saturday evening, having spent the intervening time at one engrossing discussion group after another. Every sort of technical and artistic problem came up for diagnosis, while eager delegates from every state in the Union took hurried notes and exchanged workable ideas. It was a grand time of "give and take" for ambitious students.

The headquarters of the convention was the Knickerbocker Hotel while the majority of the actual work took place at Wieboldt Hall on McKinlock Campus of Northwestern University. The highlight of the three-day meet was the Friday evening banquet held in the Oriental Room of the Knickerbocker. Fifteen hundred gay guests heard practical talks on publication problems from such well known and famous characters as Zona Gale and Quin Ryan.

Finding his greatest interest to be in the discussion of work on annuals, Willard Wichers attended all possible addresses on this phase of the convention. He was most attracted by the talks of Mr. Bruce McCoy, Chairman of the Journalistic Department of the University of Minnesota, and that of Prof. H. F. Harrington of the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University.

Knowing that the mainstay of a successful annual lies in its art theme, Willard Wichers kept eyes and ears open for remarks and suggestions along this line. He promises that the 1930 book will long be a source of pride and credit to Hope College. The art theme, although not yet completed, will be of an appropriate nature.

The famed speakers at the meetings were generous with their pens so that our delegate, among others, secured several prized autographs. Willard Wichers' place at the banquet was near the speaker's table.

affording him a close glance at the aforementioned literary highlights. Zona Gale advised all would-be writers to learn their trade from the ground up, starting with simpler themes and graduating to the larger task. One cannot be too well equipped for this line.

Another feature was the trip the delegates took through the plant of the Chicago Tribune, where they saw many of the modern methods of newspaper publication in actual working order.

HOPE HIGH DEBATES

The Hope High School was unfortunate in losing their debate to Grand Rapids Christian High School last Thursday evening, December 4th. The debate was held in the old Winanta Chapel, and the question up for argument was, "Resolved: That a board of judges be substituted for trial by jury." Our High School debaters had the negative side of the question, and lost by a unanimous vote. R. Chapman of Holland High, Mr. Rogers of Zeeland High, and Dr. Heyns of the Holland Christian schools were official judges.
