New Highway Will Be One of Finest in State

RESIDENT ENGINEER RE-
GARDS LAKE SHORE PROJ-ECT AS A VALUABLE
IMPROVEMENT

The News has been talking long and long for the new scenic highway from Ottawa Beach via Port Sheldon to Grand Haven, passing through the only wild country left in Ottawa county. Resorters as a rule are simply "wild" about those kind of highways and Ottawa county has finally capitalized on its natural resources to the fullest extent. If your editor had his way he would like nothing better than to see paved or tarred Lincoln Ave., South, and toward East Saugatuck through that beautiful New Richmond country through the Peach Belt to Fenwick, connecting up with the trunk line that leads to US-31 to the west. This stretch is one of the most beautiful in Michigan. These are the kind of roads that bring the tourists and the more scenic highways and by-ways we can create, the better for Holland.

But that just now is aside from the point of scenic highway to be. Mr. N. W. Paquette, of Grand Rapids, resident engineer of the state highway commission, was in Ottawa county a few days ago and went over the new Lake Shore Holland to Grand Haven road.

He believes it will rank among any of the scenic drives in this section of the country for beauty of forest and lake scenery and was most enthusiastic over the grades, long curves and the splendid scenery through which it winds.

He says it will be a great asset to the entire Ottawa county resort district and will make Lake Michigan property accessible for any form of permanent resort building activity.

The lake shore project is being done under welfare and CWA labor supervised by Carl Bowen, county road engineer. About three miles at the Grand Haven end has been graded and drained. About two miles at the Holland end has been completed. Work is being done near Port Sheldon, which involves a large cut and it is expected that entire project will provide labor for many months.

Interest is being taken on how the surface is to be covered, and several plans are afoot which may result in early completion of this highway which stretches through some of the most beautiful dune country in this state. It opens a lake shore resort area which will increase properties considerably, and affords residents in that section an outlet to either city. It is the first state improvement that has ever been done in that section.

LITTLE KIDNIES TO BE REMEMBERED BY "BIG BROTHERS"

The Big Brother Elks of Holland are to give a Christmas party next week Friday, December 22, at 5 o'clock. One hundred and fifty boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 13 are to be given a bang-up turkey dinner with all the trimmings at the Elks hall at 208 Central avenue. Boys and girls who are found not so fortunate as many of us and who under ordinary circumstances would not enjoy a Christmas dinner will be invited.

The Elks themselves will serve and Chris Korose of the Green Mill will do the baking of the turkeys. There is to be a Christmas tree and a real Santa Claus after the dinner and every youngster present will be remembered with some Christmas goodies to take home.

The Elks organization, well known for its patriotic and benevolent activities here and elsewhere are bearing the total expense of this Christmas cheer. They deserve unstinted praise.

BOTER LEADS

The Young People's society of Forest Grove met with the Vriesland Christian Endeavor at Vriesland Sunday evening. The leader was Mr. Dick Boter of Holland. His subject was "The Way of Salvation." A male quartet of Forest Grove, consisting of Messrs. Ben and Ed Mast, Charles Sprick and Donald Kiel, rendered vocal selections.

1,500 Pounds of Sugar Are Stolen

Quietly entering the warehouse of the Pet Milk company at Wayland, Allegan county, thieves loaded seventy-five one hundred pound sacks of sugar on a truck and hauled it away Thanksgiving night without the theft being discovered until Tuesday of this week by company officials. The robbery was reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday morning and an investigation showed a dual wheel truck had been used but no other clues were found.

HOPE CLASS OF '84 STILL INTACT; HAD 2 MEMBERS

The class of 1884 is the oldest class of Hope college alumni still intact since Hope's pioneer still was graduated in 1886. The two members are Simon Hooenboom of Sodas, New York, and Gerrit H. Hooper of Ontario, New York. Both entered the ministry and were graduated from Western Theological seminary in 1887.

The annual bazaar of the Ladies' Aid society and Ladies' auxiliary of Sixth Reformed church will be held Saturday in the building formerly occupied by the Jervold company, at 60 East Eighth street, instead of the place announced elsewhere in this issue. Sewing, fancy work and lunches will be sold.

Curtis W. Snow, instructor in organ at Hope College since 1929, devotes most of his time and ability to the musical interests of the college and the community. It has always been his chief desire to promote an appreciation of the best types of music upon the campus.

He has organized the Hope College Choir, the Student Choir at Hope Church, and the Holland Civic Chorus. Under his direction, the Civic Chorus is now, for the fourth time, presenting Handel's "Messiah." Because of his efforts the Christmas Music Festival has been made possible. Tuesday night Mr. Snow conducted the University of Michigan Symphony Orchestra and the Holland Civic Chorus in the annual presentation of the "Messiah."

GOES TO KELLOGGSVILLE

Rev. Edward Boeve, pastor of the Christian Reformed church at Wellsburg, Iowa, has accepted a call to the church at Kelloggville, connected with classic Grand Rapids east. Mr. Boeve, graduate of Calvin, served his first church at Spring Lake five years. Howard B. Scholten, recent graduate of Western Theological seminary, will be installed pastor of the Reformed church at Ada, December 22.

PLANT HEADED BY KOCH AND MORAN TO BE MOVED FROM GRAND RAPIDS

(Grand Haven Tribune) The manufacture of electric curling irons by a firm headed by Otto Koch and Charles Moran will be moved from Grand Rapids to this city. The company will occupy a building at 409 Seventh street and already preparation is being made for the installation of the machinery.

ZEELEND HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS MAKE STUDY IN TWO COUNTIES

A study of thirty farms in Ottawa and Allegan counties in 1932 revealed that, had the operators charged themselves 5 per cent interest on their investment, time and labor, they would have incurred an average net loss of $578, according to Otto Pinos, agricultural instructor in the Zeeland high school.

The survey was made by agricultural pupils in the school, who found that sales of dairy products averaged $71 per cow and sales of eggs $1.95 per hen. The average yield of corn was 38.7 bushels and that of wheat 25.5 bushels per acre. Tillable land in legumes averaged 26.3 per cent of the farm. Land and personal taxes averaged $118, while net income per farm, without charging interest on investment, was $65.

DENTAL SURVEY WILL BE HELD IN OTTAWA COUNTY

The most thorough dental survey ever conducted in Ottawa county will be undertaken as a part of the nation-wide survey which has been endorsed by the American Dental association. Dr. William R. Davis, director of mouth hygiene of the state department of health, made this announcement at a meeting held this week in Holland before the Ottawa County Dental association, the Ottawa county health unit and welfare workers.

The purpose of the survey is to determine the needs of dental care in children throughout the nation so that a feasible dental program can be adopted, based on the findings.

The survey is to include representative schools throughout the county. A schedule will be arranged by the local health unit for the dentists of the county. A committee of dentists has been appointed to assist in formulating plans. The work will begin about the first of the year and must be completed by about May 1. Report of examinations will be sent to the state commission for dental survey. It is expected that the survey will awaken much interest and will impress the public with the need of more dental care for growing children.

Mr. Joseph L. Kounts, who was a guest last summer of the Brooks, has recently been elected mayor of the city of Portsmouth, Ohio. While visiting in Holland he spent some time going over the splendid record of Holland's board of public works, as Portsmouth has been planning for a municipal light plant.

Music Critic Writes About "The Messiah"

DR. J. B. NYKERK HAS SEEN
AND HEARD HANDEL'S ORA-TORIO IN ENGLAND AND LARGEST CITIES OF THIS COUNTRY.

Below will be found a review of "The Messiah," by G. F. Handel as rendered by the Holland Civic Chorus augmented by the University of Michigan Symphony orchestra with Earl V. Moore of Ann Arbor and W. Curtis Snow of Hope college conducting. The review is given by Dr. J. B. Nykerk, dean of Hope college:

By DR. J. B. NYKERK

"What a gracious compliment the University of Michigan paid Hope college," expresses the general sentiment of the vast audiences that assembled in the Memorial chapel on December 11 and 12. They had come to be inspired through the rendering of the best that the great tone poet—Wagner, Schubert, Beethoven, Bizet, Salzedo, Sibelius, Schuetter and Handel have composed, and they went home more than satisfied.

The university sent to Holland its very best musicians free of costs. This included the head of the University School of Music, Professor Earl V. Moore, who brought with him the University of Michigan orchestra, consisting of 85 pieces; Arthur Hackett, the head of the voice department, together with Thelma von Eisenhauer, soprano; Helen McClafflin, contralto, of the university, and Mr. Carl Lindgren, basso, of the State Normal college at Ypsilanti; also the heads of the department of violin, cello and piano—Messrs. Besekirsky, Pico and Brinkman, together with Miss Ruth Pfuhl, head of the harp department.

Space does not permit to give all these musicians their proper due. Those of us who have heard "The Messiah" rendered in New York and Chicago, as well as at the great musical festivals in England, were certainly proud of the great achievement by our state university. The most popular number played by the orchestra on Monday evening was no doubt Schubert's symphony No. 8, "Unfinished," unfinished because it has only two movements, the allegro moderato and the andante con moto. As to the rendering, however, under the sympathetic baton of Mr. Moore, the orchestra showed such finish in detail and such a revelation of empathy as is unusual in a student ensemble. One would have thought that we were listening to seasoned musicians, playing with the abandon of artists. The same impression was made when, on Tuesday evening, under the artistic baton of Mr. Snow, the orchestra rendered that ever-pleasing "Pastoral Symphony" in Handel's "Messiah."

What about the string trio, Beethoven's "Concerto in C for Violin, Violoncello and Piano," rendered by Messrs. Besekirsky, Pico, Brinkman and the orchestra? When we consider that each one of the trio is an artist, and that their parts are equivalent to solo parts in wood and performance in the ensemble. These musicians have made the string trio popular with our Holland audience.

And what a pleasure it was to see such an audience of children from the city schools foregather on Tuesday afternoon in our college chapel! They were all very respectful and attentive at this Christmas musical festival (children's concert), when Mr. Moore introduced them to Wagner and Bizet not only, but revealed in his inimitable way the nature of the families of strings, wood winds, brass, tympani and other percussion instruments. It was a university extension to them. Again many children for the first time heard a harp played by a real artist, Miss Ruth Pfuhl, who rendered with exquisite finesse and sympathetic verve Salzedo's "Prelude No. 2" and a Mazurka by Schuetter.

On the evening of December 12 the spacious chapel was filled to overflowing with more than 2,000 devout listeners to hear Handel's masterpiece, while hundreds were unable to gain entrance. Hand.

TELLS OF THE IMPORTANCE OF SUGAR PLANTS

(Grand Haven Tribune)

The sugar beet industry in Michigan is of high importance. According to a booklet published by the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar association, there are 16 beet sugar factories in this state with a daily slicing capacity of 18,200 tons of beets. Colorado's capacity is 31,050 tons with a total of 18 plants, and California has a capacity of 16,000 tons. Utah and Nebraska are also outstanding sugar states, but Michigan ranks second in daily capacity among the states of the country. Cane sugar is widely used in America, but beet sugar is a highly refined product and we Northerners would do well to buy it in preference to the cane product. Sugar beets are one of Michigan's best cash crops. Holland has a beet sugar plant, and there are many inland towns that rely upon the sugar-making season for employment and wealth. Just as celery is a big item in this community, sugar beets are valuable in this county, and the business men and farmers who have built the beet industry to what it is are to be complimented for their vision. Despite the fact that beet sugar has had its ups and downs there seems to be assurance that this product will grow in value on this street at present.

DAYS OF CHRISTMAS TREES AND CANDLES

The First Methodist church built in this city together with a very modest parsonage. Picture taken from Hope churchyard across the way—fenced in to keep out the cow—many roaming about at large in these days. This church was burned and shortly afterward another was built and also burned. The present church is the third edifice built on that site.

Holland is again getting ready for the Yuletide season. The principal streets are decorated with a festooned colorful electrical display.

The two large fir trees in Centennial park will again be scintillating with beautiful lights—thanks to the Daughters of the American Revolution and the board of public works, who are sponsoring this annual event which has been in vogue for the past decade. Director John Vander Sluis will again have his carollers out, all churches being represented. The lighting generally takes place on Christmas Eve and remains lighted every evening until and including New Year's night.

Christmas trees during the Christmas season and wreaths in the windows are a common sight in Holland today. The illumination of homes and gardens with colorful electric glims have become quite the thing during recent years.

Fifty years ago a Christmas tree in a church would be an event in this city and only the well-to-do occasionally had a Christmas tree where relatives and friends gathered. Your editor remembers just north of the city. Nobody interfered—the landowners did not know and would not care. There were so many you could have them for the asking. Today it is a different story. Christmas trees cost real money and strange to say, now that they do every home has one, in the ear days there were Christmas trees in most of the churches. The Dutch churches, predominating at that time, gave their entire program in Dutch. Your editor at six remembers speaking his little speech in Dutch with fear and trembling. There were only eight lines but it seemed as long as a sermon. The usual box of candy and an orange were the rewards to all Sunday school pupils who indulged. Because of religious scruples most of the churches eliminated the Christmas tree but much of that objection has gradually died away as has the pipe organ in church, and even now an orchestra is not objected to. Time was in Holland when a "voor zinger," a voice leader, struck the note and led the singing without instrumental music. But that, too, is all changed.

The only church where your editor remembers seeing a Christmas tree in his youth was in the old Methodist Episcopal church pictured above. There were generally two of them, tall, stately, cone-shaped beauties, all lighted up with candles and pop corn and cranberry strings. That was a great sight at the old church and standing room was at a premium since members from other congregations wanted to see the beautiful sight. To a kid it was a veritable fairyland, and those Christmas trees in the old church on Tenth street, fifty years ago, left a deeper Christmas impression than any Christmas since that time.

Later years Christmas trees in churches have gone into the discard brought on largely because of the tremendous fire hazard, bringing danger to life and property, and while the Christmas programs today are even more pretentious than before and just as impressive, evergreen decorations and ornaments together with seasonal flowers take the place of the erstwhile Christmas trees.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Did you see the glass blowers? We did, and drew as a specimen, one of those useful articles which is said to be "mightier than the sword"—a glass pen which will never need a pen point. Note: Fifty years ago Holland had about a half dozen public entertainments staged at long intervals and "glass blowers" was one of them. The "show blowers" never failed to put on exhibition the beautiful "full rigged ship" of glass in a glass bottle, but we never by chance were privileged to see the actors make anything but pens or small objects. On the inside the show had on exhibition many large articles in glass for sale. The making of articles constituted the show and the admission price was 10c. There were invariably the drawings of prizes at the end of each show and as the editor states his prize was a pen and from experience we can say up to this time glass pens have never worked. Talking about entertainments—besides "glass blowers," there were the "bell ringer" and "tumbler players." The players used all sizes and all manner of bells of different keys and artists in that line gave some very unusual exhibitions of skill and harmony. Rubbing the tops of water glasses generally formed a part of the harmony program. About the only road show Holland enjoyed were "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" and the "Midnight Express," the latter rather melodramatic, and where a canvas locomotive nearly runs over the hero, tied to the track by the villain, who was foiled.

Ninth Street is being transformed from a sand trail to a fine gravel street, said to be the best in the city. Hopes are that next year Tenth Street will be graded and the hill at the Methodist Church leveled and gravel to take the place of sand on West 10th Street placed there by the Cappon Bethel Leath-er Co. Nevertheless sand bark is better than soft sand filled with rut-ter and rutting a greater part of this street at present.

Holland Lake Michigan Park Draws Heavy

GRAND HAVEN LEADS, HOW-EVER BY TWO TO ONE, BUT
HOLLAND HAD OTHER
ATTRACTONS

According to the past season's report on State Parks given out by State Superintendent Hoffmaster and the decrease in tourist travel in Michigan first because of the depression and second, because of the World's Fair at Chicago, is not largely reflected in the attendance at our State Parks, of which Ottawa Beach is one. In all the State Parks there was only a decrease of 300,000. Holland's park was right up to attendance of the year before, totaling 750,305, with 7,042 campers. Grand Haven oval had 1,620,500, with 9,084 campers. The reason for this difference is the fact that Holland has miles upon miles of Lake Michigan front built up and many miles more around the inner bay. Then it has had Lakewood Farms, Pine Lodge, Tunnel Park, Castle Park, Macatawa, Jenison Park and scores of others, while Grand Haven only has Highland Park and no inner bay. It is easy to calculate that with such diversified avenue of recreation the number of tourists will be more divided between all attractions than at Grand Haven.

There are 53 parks in the state and these attracted a total of 9,342,549 visitors. Grand Haven stands at the head of the list, Bay City comes second with 1,428,120 visitors but comes first in campers, totaling 14,776. Ottawa Beach at Holland comes third in the list of both campers and visitors.

While the number of persons visiting parks remained almost the same as during the previous year, the number of campers dropped 17 per cent. Superintendent Hoffmaster said. The parks reported 148,899 campers as compared with 177,967 for the year before. These campers built 40,340 individual camps. The number of campers registering from Michigan dropped 18 per cent for the year, numbering 128,787 of the total.

Campers from 46 states were registered at the state parks during the year. Campers were also registered from Canada, the District of Columbia and Cardiff, Wales.

Several of the larger parks, principally in the southern part of the state, registered more visitors than during the previous year, due according to the Parks Division, to the hot weather that prevails during the summer months.

is gone. Note: The theater was of short duration and was in the Hotel Holland block. Admission was a nickel and a dime.

Fred Knoll of Laketown bought an old residence from the once prosperous little lumber city of Singapore near Sault Ste. Marie. The town that was covered over with sand dunes so that only the church spires and house tops remained exposed. He dug out the house, moved it by scows via Lake Michigan to Central Park. The house came to grief when unloaded at Black Lake. In the transfer it became so wrecked that it was taken to the new site on a farm piece meal and reconstructed.

E. J. Fairbanks, who has been conducting a bazaar and china store at 11 West 8th Street, is closing out during the holiday and will travel for the Economy Screen Co. of Holland after Jan. 1. Note: Mr. Fairbanks is still engaged in that business and travels in all parts of the United States by automobile.

"Billy" Swarthout and Andrew Fisher of the Holland Life Saving crew bagged 18 rabbits before they had breakfast one morning this week.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Tom Eastman shot a large owl in the Robinson marsh, slightly wounding it. The old gray bird is about three feet tall and measures nearly 4 1/2 feet from wing tips. The owl is a holiday guest in the show window of Whites Market on River Avenue.

Now since the Women's Suffrage Amendment passed in this state, City Clerk Oveyev is taking registrations and women are coming up to the city hall at leisure so they can cast their first ballot at the spring elections. Richard is dubbed as the "ladies' man," now.

Jim Van Ry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Ry, has sent home from France a German helmet which is now on display in the Van Ry Grocery, College and 14th Street. The helmet is camouflaged so the enemy cannot easily detect the wearer. "Jim" is with the American troops.

There is a drive on mashers in Holland. Stopping girls on the street and at churches and theaters has become a habit. Five were arrested and fined by Judge Robinson. Note: The names are withheld in this item, some of them have turned out to be excellent citizens, undoubtedly wiser during these 15 years. Anyway, it stopped mashing for a time.

John Den Herder of Holland, the new county treasurer, has packed up bag and baggage and has moved to Grand Haven. Note: "Bag and baggage" is still there and he is still caretaker of Ottawa county's funds.

Louis B. Dalman of Holland, stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., has been promoted to the rank of corporal. Note: Louis is now in the city engineer's office and was also commander of the Willard G. Leenhouts post during the past year.

Holland merchants have laid in an exceptionally large store of Yuletide gifts and undoubtedly hundreds upon hundreds of suggestions at most reasonable prices can be found in the several announcements appearing in this issue.

Advertising gives you worthwhile information and especially at Christmas time.

Look at the announcements in this issue and see what Holland merchants have to offer. You will find suggestions and bargains on every page.

MERCHANTS HOLD OPEN FOR THE HOLIDAYS

At a meeting of the Holland Merchants' association Monday it was unanimously decided by those present that the stores will be open evenings next week the last four days of the week, namely Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. As a rule stores are closed on Christmas eve, but since Christmas Eve comes on Sunday all places of business will be open late Saturday night.

Christmas falls due on Monday, December 25, giving the city two free days in succession.

All for M-40

Allegan Gazette—In articles in the press relating to the desired paving of the highway between Holland and Allegan mention is made of the fact that the proposed paving would be extended to Battle Creek; that already there is a pavement that far to the southeast. That is true but much more also is true. That paved way extends from Battle Creek clear across the country to Washington and all other eastern cities. All that remains unpaved is the short distance between Allegan and Holland. It would seem that state authorities should recognize these and other pertinent facts and move at once for completion of such a meritorious plan.

PERE MARQUETTE GIVES GOOD WILL PARTY

Employees of the Pere Marquette Railway at Zeeland will give their annual goodwill party at the Civic auditorium on Thursday evening, December 21. The purpose of the party is to raise funds to keep the Pere Marquette unemployed in food, fuel, and clothing during the winter months.

This goodwill party is being sponsored by all organized and unorganized forces of the Pere Marquette Railway company.

HORSES AND LAMBS ADMITTED TO CHURCH

Because lambs are carried to the altar at the Christmas Eve mass, Provence, France, claims a distinction shared with Siena, Italy, the only other city where animals are permitted to enter Christian churches. Prior to the running of the Palio in Siena each year, each horse is taken to its owner's church and blessed before the altar.

EMPLOYEES MUST PAY 25 CENTS YEARLY TO NRA

(Grand Haven Tribune) A dispatch from Washington says every employee of a retail establishment will contribute 25 cents a year under new regulations prescribed by NRA for financing the retail code authority.

Local authorities may make additional assessments but no worker is to give more than one dollar annually toward expenses of code authorities, national and local.

DIRECTORS OF OTTAWA ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at the annual meeting of the Ottawa County Medical association: Dr. R. J. Nichols, Holland, president; Dr. G. D. Bos, Holland, vice president, and Dr. W. B. Bloemendal of Grand Haven, secretary and treasurer. The Ottawa county health unit, including Dr. Ralph Ten Have, Miss Madge Breenahan, Miss Marion Daddes and the Grand Haven nurse, Miss Beatrice Piprel, were given the association to heart. Miss Deborah Veneklassen, county welfare administrator, speak on the relation of the physicians and the nurses to the welfare needs of the county. The speaker explained to what extent the CWA and welfare funds could be used for such aid and suggested methods of assisting those who needed hospital treatment.

The meeting of the League for Service Union Dramatic club which was to be held this Friday evening will be postponed until after the holidays.

Mrs. L. N. Tynar has received word of the arrival of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Strub in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Strub will spend the Christmas holidays here. Mr. Strub has been located at Newcastle-on-Tyne where he has had charge of the Proctor-Gamble factory.

Mrs. Clara Young, 28-year-old school teacher, was free today on $50 bond pending examination on assault and battery charges December 28. She pleaded not guilty when arraigned Wednesday in justice court. A Watson township farmer complained to Sheriff Fred W. Miller that Mrs. Young and two men, whose names were not divulged, attacked him because of an argument over a cow. According to Miller, the farmer said Mrs. Young stood on his head while the two men beat him.

Municipal Dock Shaping Itself At Head of Lake

COUNCIL COMMITTEE IS MEETING REGULARLY AT
C. O. C. OFFICE

That some definite plans on a municipal dock are taking shape is evident from the diligent work of the council committee recently appointed by the mayor. The committee has been having repeated meetings at the Chamber of Commerce offices at the Tavern with Secretary William M. Connelly.

Ben Gibson, engineer, and Jacob Zuidema, city engineer, are drawing tentative plans for a dock at the head of the lake and these plans are ready to "go over" next Monday night if satisfactory and in time to have the matter brought up before the common council next week, Wednesday.

The thought is to clean up the head of our lake and build a dock from Fifth street to the south to Third street to the north, a distance of nearly 1,000 feet. Most of this property is owned by the city of Holland so that is in favor of the project. The idea is to extend the dock approximately 600 feet to the west into the lake.

Water-tight jetties are to be built there and sand suckers will pump the mud out of the bay to the west over the jetties to the east, thus filling in that part of the bay and what was at one time part of Black lake will then be solid ground. This is the method used at Muskegon and it is a very practical method for it serves two purposes: first, making land where the dock is to be, and makes a deep waterway where the boats are to dock.

Such a project would mean the extension of the channel from the present Goodrich docks for 1,500 feet west to the proposed docks. The project when completed will have cleaned up a bad mess that has been an eye sore at the head of the lake for years. Old broken-down wharves will be taken out and the silt and mud will also be pumped out of the bay behind the jetties, making solid ground which later will be covered with concrete.

The dock, when completed, will permit at least three large steamers to tie up at one time. It is understood that already many applications for bulk freight space have been applied for should the dock proposition become a fact.

One Grand Rapids concern wants space for 35,000 tons of coal and another concern space for paper pulp. Firms in Holland, too, have been mentioned in connection with the use of a municipal dock.

Col. Ralph Adams, the man who did such a wonderful job at Muskegon, is also taking a hand in this new dock proposition.

It will be through the CWA that the financing will have to come and it is expected that at least 100 men can be put to work on this project for an indefinite period.

Under the CWA Holland will not have to loan money but 70 per cent for labor and 30 per cent for material will be a direct grant from the government. It is too early to estimate the cost of such a dock until the engineers have an estimate, but it is well over $100,000. The council committee is composed of Bert Habing, chairman; Neil De Cook and Peter Huyser.

OTTAWA ALIENS SEEK NATURALIZATION PAPERS

Naturalization of a group of Ottawa county citizens will be held in circuit court on Monday, December 18. The examination will be given by Robert C. Wilson, officer from the Detroit office. Those in the class will receive their final papers. To facilitate the examination William Wilds, county clerk, will conduct a school of instruction at the courthouse on Friday evening, December 15, for those who are desirous of becoming familiar with the final procedure.

Those to apply for citizenship are Sophie Sysk and Michal Piontek, Grand Haven; Hisea Visser, Spring Lake; Vaslay Justian, Fersyburg; Thomas W. Davidson, Engelbert Weitering, Jacob and George Dreyer, and Paul Korose, Holland.

HOLLAND RIFLEMEN NAME NEW OFFICERS

The Holland Rifle club, at its annual meeting, elected the following officers: President, Sam Althus; vice president, Ted Wyma; secretary-treasurer, A. M. Barnum; range manager, Herman Prin; custodian of guns, John Jonkers.

Organized 15 years ago with about a dozen members, the club has grown. It is anticipated the roll this year will list about 75 members. Winter practice is held on a regulation government indoor range in the city garage. Guns and a certain amount of ammunition are furnished by the war department at Washington. The club was developed several crack marksmen. Summer meets are held on outdoor ranges.

A Step in the Right Direction

World-wide response is awakened by action of tenants in an English apartment dwelling, agreeing to cut off their radio sets at 11 o'clock each night and endeavoring so to operate their sets at all times as to avoid annoyance to the neighborhood. It is to be hoped that this example will be followed in every neighborhood where civilization is heralded by a blaring loudspeaker. Inconsiderateness of radio set owners is becoming one of the besetting problems of modern life. The home owner is quite as much at the mercy of the "radio hog" as is the apartment dweller. Seemingly, only a thousand-acre farm far from the beaten path is even moderate assurance of surcease from the constant bellow which a wonder of modern science pulls protestingly from the ether lanes. In its place, within the confines of one's own living room, radio reception is a blessing. Out of place, it is quite the opposite. In most communities little or nothing can be done, legally, to discipline the owners of the offending sets. In the final analysis it becomes a question of fair play and another application of the Golden Rule.

HELP FILL A BARREL FOR HOLLAND'S NEEDY
More than 60 Christmas barrels have been placed in several of the centrally located places of business in the city. These barrels are conspicuous with large Christmas signs asking the purchasers to remember the barrel for the needy of Holland on this 1933 Christmas for the need is great.
This drive is again being sponsored by the Willard G. Leenhouts post, American Legion. Charles Vos is chairman of the committee and his assistants are Ben Lievesse, L. B. Dalman, Ben Lanning, Andrew Rutgers and John Althuis.
Between 800 and 1,000 barrels will be distributed. As the containers are filled the contents are emptied by Legionnaires, who assemble and arrange the barrels.
Last year a number of gifts of provisions such as onions and beans were received, and Chairman Vos urged those who planned on making similar contributions this year to contact members of the committee.
The drive will continue until deliveries are made on December 23.

ALLEGAN CORONER SETS DATES FOR 2 INQUESTS TO CLEAR 3 DEATHS

That means three deaths by automobiles in Allegan county in one week.

GRAND TRUNK INSTALLS STORE DOOR DELIVERY
Announcement was made a few days ago by the Grand Trunk Railway that all freight shipped over that road would be delivered in the various villages and cities to which it was shipped. In other words, that the company assumes the payment of the drayman who delivers freight from the depot to your home or store.
This is something new for the railroads, but an innovation that will be welcomed, and that will remove one big excuse that some have had for patronizing the trucks.

HOLLAND MAN SIGNALLY HONORED ON FURNACE INDUSTRY CONTROL BOARD

Arthur W. Wrieden, for many years with the Holland Furnace company and head of Holland's Chamber of Commerce, was signally honored in being appointed to the presidency of the Warm Air Furnace Manufacturers' institute and management of the Code Authority of the Warm Air Furnace Manufacturing industry. In taking the position, Mr. Wrieden is again affiliating himself with a group he has worked in for the past seven years as director of the Warm Air Heating association. He now has offices in Warm Friend Tavern.

Mr. Wrieden was instructed to leave the city in taking this position but he absolutely insisted that if he was to serve it would have to be in Holland, one of the finest small towns in the country and a community he wants to call "home" always.

In an interview Mr. Wrieden says as follows:
"In taking over the presidency of the Warm Air Furnace Manufacturers' Institute and manager of the Code Authority of the Warm Air furnace manufacturing industry, I am again affiliating myself with a group I have worked with in the past seven years as a director of the Warm Air Heating association."

"My contact with the association convinces me that the code authority in the furnace manufacturing industry will function in the way that President Roosevelt desires all industries to function. I am convinced that the government has no intention of interfering with industries that can and will govern themselves in the best interests of its labor, its capital and the public."

The part the administration will take in industry will be largely one of a silent partner and it is only when the code authority of an industry finds that it is failing in this self-governing program that it will be necessary to call in representatives of the recovery administration who are non-voting members of the code authority.
There is no question in my mind that if any industry fails to its part in governing itself, it will automatically invite a larger degree of government control. I believe that the furnace manufacturers in our country will be able to govern their own industry, and it is for that reason that I have accepted the position of manager of the Warm Air Manufacturers' code authority, and at the meeting of the furnace manufacturers in Cincinnati last week the only question I made was that the office of the code authority be established in Holland, Michigan. I am very happy to announce that the general office of the code authority of the furnace manufacturers in the United States is now established in our city."

Next Post Meeting: WEDNESDAY, DEC. 27.

The Christmas Barrel committee, consisting of Charles Vos, Ben Lievesse, L. Dalman, Ben Lanning, Andy Rutgers and John Althuis has started functioning.

Barrels have been placed in all of the grocery stores and markets wherever available. Foodstuffs placed in these barrels will be given on all the needy in the city. There has been some talk that the contents of the barrels went to only the members of the legion that it were in need. This is all wrong. It is divided as far as it goes among all the city's need.

Coin boxes have been placed in advantageous places, such as drug stores, etc. Small change from purchases may be dropped in these boxes and will be used for the same purpose.

The regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held Monday evening, December 18. There will be a grocery and toy shower at this meeting. Members are requested to bring groceries or toys for the needy.

Mrs. Ed Slooter, president of the American Legion auxiliary, "may know her onions but she doesn't know her men." The American Legion would advise that a list of the bachelors of the organization be presented to her so she can tell the bachelors from the "bachelors."

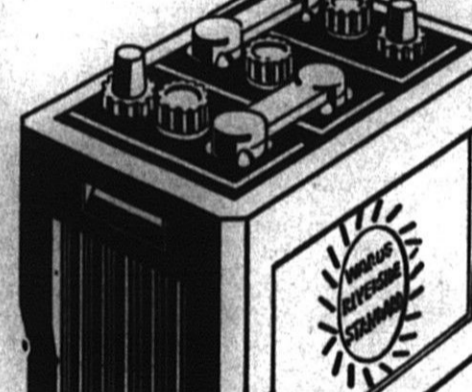

The other day she listed one Legionnaire as a single man and, lo, and behold, the happy couple, who have long since been married, were blessed with three youngsters. It seems that the saying doesn't always hold true that "you can tell a bachelor from the cut of his jib."

What this column needs is news. Keep an eye open for anything that might be of interest to Legionnaires. We want to keep in close touch with all the gang and that is part of our duty. Anything that happens to any of us deserves a news item, anything from the ludicrous to the sublime.

Our Nation's Resources Big, Cut Selfishness

BEN LIEVENSE BRINGS INSTRUCTIVE LECTURE

An unusual feature at the Holland Merchants' association meeting Monday night at the city hall was an illustrated lecture by Mr. E. T. Ruffe of the Willard Battery corporation, who was brought here by Ben Lievens, who has represented the company for many years in this city.

The unusual part of this lecture was the unique way of throwing it on the screen through a new lantern device, just about pocket size, but showing the consecutive chapters of the "Economy Story" unusually clear. Mr. Ruffe spoke with great understanding and the pictures of our development—from the time our forefathers came here in sailing ships to become a free people and then continuing through the years until the present time—was a truly interesting story.

"This country is terribly debt-ridden, but when you see the tremendous resources that are back of that debt it is only 'a drop in the bucket' by comparison."

Mr. Ruffe gave figures there illustrated that would make one dizzy for size and if some of those in power and some of those who control many of these resources together with our politicians would "play the game" for the good of all instead of for the good of self, depression would soon be dissipated. This country has the most wonderful resources and the most wonderful possibilities in farming of any country on the globe. It has fruit possibilities embracing the torrid and temperate zones. Its mineral wealth has scarcely been scratched; its water power is unlimited; its shipping possibilities are over abundant; it has the best workshop and tools in the world. Everything to work with, everything at our command and these resources are tied up with railroads and highways such as no other nation has.

One who sees the Willard Battery pictures cannot help but feel proud of our nation but at the same time they leave a bitter resentment that someone somewhere is constantly throwing the monkey wrench in the machinery.

Mr. Ruffe gave full praise to the endeavor of President Roosevelt and the great possibilities of the NRA providing this movement receives the unselfish co-operation of all.

Benjamin Lievens of the Willard Battery company should be thanked for bringing such a demonstration to Holland and it is only deplorable that there were not 500 present instead of 50.

HAMILTON

The Hamilton Farm Bureau and the Lortin Farms creamery are putting on a quality cream and butter program for the benefit of dairy farmers. Believing that the flooding of the market at the present time with undergrade butter will ultimately lead to more exacting demands for better quality cream and butter, the local organizations are planning a course of education to encourage farmers to produce better cream and eggs. Every Tuesday a school will be held for the employees of the farm bureau when instruction will be given in dairy and poultry production. Professor Hanna will be here this week. Tuesday, to discuss problems of the poultry industry. Professor Baltzer of Michigan State college will speak on dairy productions next week, Tuesday evening. Ill home Sunday.

Mrs. E. Archambault was in Grand Rapids on business last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miskotten visited in Milwaukee for several days last week.

The roads were very slippery Sunday night. Several folks report narrow escapes. The Eding garage received an emergency call toward midnight. A car had turned completely over. The elderly couple in the auto escaped injury and also the car was found to have no damage when the men had put it back on the road.

C. N. Menold visited his sister at Fennville Sunday.

John E. Lohman was in Chicago Saturday on business.

George Kaper, Bert Tellman and Andrew Lohman attended the Farmers' Day meeting in Grand Rapids. A large number also attended a similar meeting in Holland on Friday.

Rev. G. J. Pennings, missionary to Arabia, preached at the First Reformed church last Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Roggen attended a meeting of the Western Social circle at the parsonage of Ebenezer Reformed church Monday afternoon.

It seems that M-40 is going to receive some attention from the state department. Senators Odell, Brower, Leland and Van Eenenam have taken up the matter at Lansing. Good work. They are assured the support and co-operation of the entire citizenship of this vicinity.

The Bridge club met last week on Tuesday evening at the home of Mabel Lugten.

Gladys Lubbers was entertained at the L. Wade home of Holland Sunday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Hamelink were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miskotten Saturday evening.

Hamilton folks are wondering just what speed law Holland has adopted recently. Hamilton's happy milkman returned home from a shopping tour in the neighboring village last week feeling rather down in the boots because the Holland cops had taxed him a dollar for some reason or other. It does seem that the cops would give us outsiders some consideration if we are not exactly on the know of all their traffic regulations and unwittingly get out of line in the parade. Evidently they do not realize how much fear and trembling fill us when we accept Holland's invitation to do business there and get into the traffic on main street.

Mrs. B. Voorhorst visited her children, Professor and Mrs. Arthur Koechele of Allegan Sunday.

Kindling Wood
Special Attention To Farmers:

A farmer builds a fire every morning. This requires a lot of kindling and it often happens that farmers split up boards for kindling which should not be used for this purpose. The Holland Furniture Company has some fine extra dry kindling. You can buy two cords for $3.50 if you haul it yourself. Buy this kindling and save the boards you have been splitting.

Cars driven by Richard J. Krulz and Spring Lake and Minard Schipper of West Olive collided on M-50, six miles west of Allendale. Damages of $100 resulted to the machines.

A false alarm was turned in to the fire department Wednesday afternoon from the box located at Pine avenue and Nineteenth street. F. R. Rickerson of Chicago paid a $5 fine for speeding at 40 miles an hour on north River avenue.

Charles Bronson of Holland paid a $5 fine Wednesday when arraigned before Justice Nicholas Hoffman, Jr., on a charge of dizziness.

The Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang," will be given at Hope church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by members of the Sunday school under the direction of Miss Myra Ten Cate. The cast will include Herbert Chapman as Holger, Paul Eugene Hinkamp as Steen; James Borer as Uncle Bertel and Miss Helena Viascher as an old woman. Those included in the chancel scene will be Leland Beach, who will have the part of the priest; Rod Van Leuwen in the role of a courtier; Jack Ridenour in the role of a rich man; Miss Ellen Rhea as a rich woman; Miss Barbara Telling as a young girl; Bob Wismer as a scholar; Mayo Hadden as the king, and Miss Jean Van Raalte as the angel. The play will be augmented by music by the children of the primary department.

The crowd appears to have been prospering too well for its own good throughout the United States and Canada in recent years. So rapidly have its ranks increased that a large majority of the farmers and practically all of the sportsmen in the two countries are begging reduction in its numbers on the grounds that it is a menace alike to crops, domestic fowl and wild life. A recent bulletin of the American Game Association states: "It is estimated that more than 30 per cent of the duck hatch in the Canadian breeding grounds last summer was destroyed by crows, and some farmers in these areas declared that crows destroyed 'nine out of 10 duck nests' they had under observation."

A writer who signs himself Lin Yun-tang says in the Shanghai Chinese Critic that his countrymen, do not eat chop suey, "because the things left over from the regular feasts are given to servants only." He goes on to say: "There is really only one chop suey shop in Shanghai (and?) that made a reputation by collecting the left overs from the restaurants and selling them to rickshaw men at so many coppers per bowl. Some connoisseurs have averred that such chop suey is really wonderful, but it is emphatically not true that Chinese residents in Shanghai are clients of that chop suey shop."

The tuberculin testing survey, which was conducted in the county has been completed with the exception of a few remaining schools. Up to the present, 4,000 have been given the tuberculin test. Of this number 819 were positive and are in need of X-rays. A two-day X-ray clinic has already been held at which time 195 were given an X-ray of the chest. The Michigan Tuberculosis association is in charge of the taking and reading of the X-ray films. Last year all of the expenses incurred were paid by the Michigan Tuberculosis association. This work is financed entirely by sale of Christmas seals. It will not be possible for them to finance all of the X-ray work in our county this year. The extent to which it can be financed will depend upon the sale of the seals. Last year the seals sold in Ottawa county amounted to 1.4 cents per capita which rate is much below that of most of the counties in the state. The amount of support received from them depends on the support given in the sale of Christmas seals. Tuberculin testing followed by X-ray is considered most valuable aid in checking the spread of tuberculosis as well as finding early cases who are most amenable to treatment. The results of the tuberculin testing in the county have proved it to be of a great deal of value.

The annual bazaar of the Ladies' Aid society and Ladies' auxiliary of Sixth Reformed church will be held Saturday in the building formerly occupied by the Jerrold company, at 60 East Eighth street, instead of the place announced elsewhere in this issue. Sewing, fancy work and lunches will be sold.

A $5,000 program of repair work for the grounds and buildings of the Holland public schools has been approved by the Civil Works Administration. Repair work will include decorating in the junior high building and in Van Raalte school building; the grading of playgrounds adjoining Longfellow, Van Raalte and Froebel school, and the high school practice field; a new roof on the Lincoln school, and repair work in the fan room of the high school. Work will also be done on the school forest project with money obtained from the CWA.

Special services will be held in the Baptist church at Allegan, at 7:30 Sunday as a farewell to members who are moving to Holland with the Baker furniture industry. A group from Calvary United-nominal church, Grand Rapids, will take part in the service.

Holland's yuletide spirit is evidenced in the annual trim of the business section with evergreen trees placed in the cement sockets used for flag display in front of the stores. Rows of colored lights will illuminate the streets during the holiday season.

The American Legion plans to distribute toys and Christmas baskets for the poor. Barrels will be placed in stores for the collection of gifts donated by shoppers. Sunday schools will stage Christmas programs, some featuring the white gift festival. The annual carol sing is expected to be held in Centennial park Christmas Eve.

Welfare Agent Is Making Sift In This County

MRS. POPPEN INVESTIGATING APPLICATIONS FOR OLD AGE PENSION

Mrs. Anna Poppen of Holland, county welfare agent and member of the old age pension committee of Ottawa county, was in Grand Haven making investigation of applications for old age pensions. Under the new law it is believed pensions will be paid to those over 72 by March.

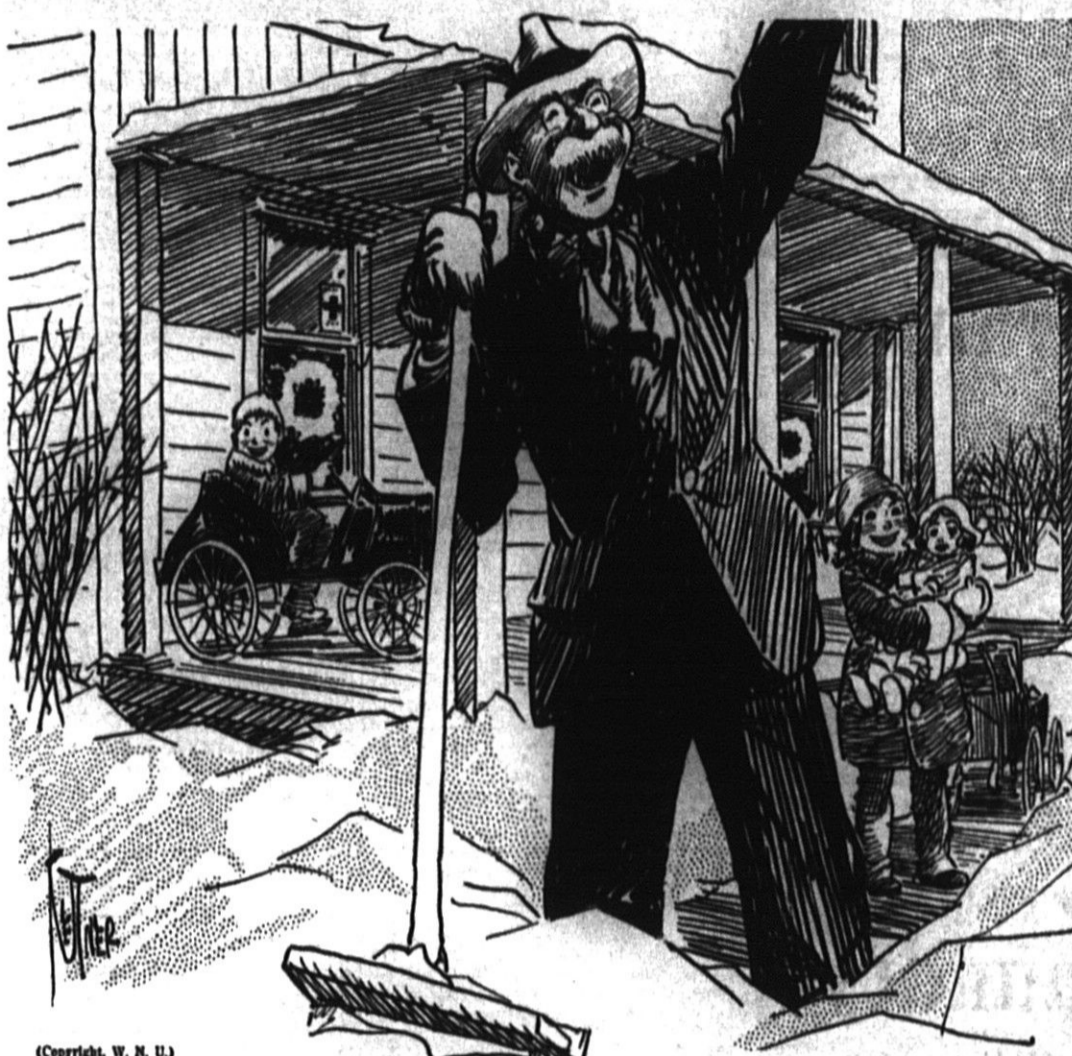

The committee woman was instructed to begin the investigation of the case from now on. She already has about 100 applications from over the county. Careful check is made on the circumstances of each applicant. Those eligible must be over 70 years of age and in need. Property must not exceed $3,000.

There have been many inquiries for those eligible for the new pension, which will support the old at the county clerk's office and other offices in the court house relative to the new law and when it will take effect.

The census takers are at work in the county taking the census age pension.

Credit Is Due Backers Of Farmers' Day

MERCHANTS, MANUFACTURERS, CIVIC BODIES AND COMMITTEES ALL CON- TRIBUTE TO ITS SUCCESS

Holland's fourth annual Farmers' Day, which was held Friday at the Armory under the auspices of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and Holland Merchants' association, brought more than 2,000 tillers of the soil from Ottawa and Allegan counties to our city.

William M. Connelly, managing director of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, officiated as chairman and introduced the speakers. He also read a message of welcome from the mayor, who was unable to be present because of illness.

Arthur W. Wrieden, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of the opening exercises. William J. Brouwer led the group in the singing of "America." The invocation was spoken by Rev. Thomas G. B. Brownlow, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The morning session featured addresses by C. P. Milham, state and federal agent in Ottawa county; Charles E. Bassett, horticulturist of Fennville, and J. R. Bechtel of the Heinz company. Mr. Milham in the address stated farmers were beginning to realize the necessity of working together for agriculture's good, rather than for selfish interests, and of curtailing production.

In "1933 optimism," Mr. Bassett agreed with Milham that farming difficulties resulted from overproduction.

The reason for the high cost of pickles as a finished product compared with the low price paid to the farmers for their raw product was explained by Mr. Bechtel, who said costs involved in preparing and distributing pickles were so great as to make it the poorest paying variety handled by the Heinz company.

The Holland High school band played during the noon hour, when dinner was ably served by the Holland merchants' committee, by Henry A. Geerds and a group of assistant cooks from the national guards.

Congressman Carl E. Mages, who was spoken in the audience by Mr. Connelly, was called upon to make a few remarks.

Mr. Mages said statistics show we are definitely on the upgrade, although he warned the farmers not to expect the federal government to support them. "The government can only help you to help yourselves," he said.

Prof. R. V. Gunn, extension economist of Michigan State college, who was one of the main speakers at the afternoon session, explained the purpose and operation of the agriculture adjustment act.

Dr. J. A. Brock, educational secretary of the Michigan Farmers' and Manufacturers' Beet Sugar association, in his inspiring address, made a plea for co-operation among farmers and city people as well. He said we should forget ourselves and work for one common cause.

Mr. Brock urged support of the beet sugar campaign in this community and in Michigan, and he stated that he was assured that the Holland sugar mill would be enabled to run 120 days next season.

William C. Vandenberg, general chairman, through whose efforts the Holland sugar refinery was reopened, pleaded for continued co-operation to keep the factory open by pledging contracts for next season. County Agent Milham said the sugar beet crop was the most profitable of all crops this year.

Representative Edward Brouwer of Holland stated that the Michigan farm loan board had been created and he assured farmers action under the federal farm loan bank.

The conservation motion picture showing was canceled, owing to lighting conditions and Mr. Tinker from the conservation educational department substituted with a speech.

John Feenstra of Beaverdam expressed the appreciation of the guests for Farmers' Day, and Jake Van Wylen of Holland route 2 sang several selections. Bernard Raterink, 12 years old, of Zeeland, also entertained with several songs.

During the morning session Donald Kramer and Gary De Haan offered musical selections on the marimba and piano, which were unusually well received.

Prizes donated by Holland merchants were awarded at both morning and afternoon sessions. The program was brought to a close at 4:30, after coffee and cookies had been served by Henry Geerds and his dinner committee.

Committees for Farmers' Day, who all did their part in making the day a big success, follow.

General chairman, William C. Vandenberg; program and entertainment, William M. Connelly, C. P. Milham, B. A. Mulder, and E. P. Stephan; finance, prizes, food, E. P. Stephan, J. Van Tatenhove, and C. Dornbos; armory and dinner, Major Henry A. Geerds, Henry Venhuizen, Henry Vander Bie and Ray Knuisken; publicity, reception and registration, Vaudie Vandenberg; C. A. French, B. A. Mulder, Andrew Klomparsen, Alex Van Zanten, James Klomparsen, Dick Boter, Henry Wilson, Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, A. P. Kleis, Mrs. Henry A. Geerds, Mrs. William Westrate, Mrs. Jacob Fris, Mrs. Vaudie Vandenberg, John Olet, Tyde Warner, Henry Kroll, Ben Steffens, Lawrence A. Taylor, James Voss, John Arendhorst.

Parking privileges were given the agriculturalists so they could conveniently park their cars while the Farmer's Institute was in progress. Each received a printed program. (Continued on Page 4)

DOES OF ALLEGAN COUNTY HERD ARE KILLED

Two does have been found killed near the Kalamazoo river four miles northeast of Fennville. They were part of the deer herd which has been running in this section of Allegan county for the last few years. No trace has been found of the hunters who shot them.

plete reports have been filed. Numbers of the appointed census takers have given up their appointments due to the meager remuneration allowed by the state which is two cents per person in the cities and four in the townships.

Several women who are not employed have been placed in the vacancies. Although they make but 50 cents per day they are glad of the opportunity, said Mrs. Poppen.

No hearings before the Ottawa county committee will be scheduled until after the first of the year.

MAN ADMITS ROBBERY STORE IN HOLLAND

Kenneth Olin, 23, was held at Muskegon Monday for the theft of an automobile in the fall of 1932 from William Stribley, who now is secretary of the Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce. The police said his arrest also cleared up a number of robberies and petty thefts in Muskegon, Grand Haven and Ravenna.

Olin was arrested last week in Berwyn, Illinois, driving a motor car stolen not long ago from Dr. J. O. G. A. R. I. and of Muskegon Heights. Clothing and jewelry stolen from the Kuiper store at Holland were found in the car and returned to the store, which was entered recently on Washington boulevard.

The arrest of Olin was the result of a description furnished to Muskegon police authorities by a young woman to whom he had given a ride in Stribley's car shortly after the theft.

Olin was quoted as saying that after stealing and abandoning Stribley's car he spent some time in the state of Washington, returning to western Michigan this fall and perpetrating a series of burglaries and thefts. Chief Peter Lievensen of the Holland police force Sunday night obtained a confession from Olin of his having perpetrated the Kuiper job in Holland.

The loss amounted to nearly $2,000 worth of property.

WANT TO FIX COURT HOUSE WITH CWA FUNDS

Plans to improve the Ottawa county court house under funds provided by the CWA are being made by the house and grounds committee of the board of supervisors. It is proposed to convert the space occupied by the old boiler room into offices, lay new floor covering, replaster some of the walls, redecorate, revarnish the interior trim and put the building in first class shape.

The estimates have been presented to the county Emergency Relief committee and it is expected they will soon be given approval by the state board.

Conversion of the former boiler room in the southeast corner of the first floor will be a long needed improvement. It is proposed to place the old age pension bureau there as a very convenient place for older people who must seek the office.

The first floor corridor will be covered with a heavy covering of some type to correspond with that used in some of the offices.

No estimates of the amount which the county will apply have been made public as yet. Estimates are being taken as yet. Estimates are being taken to complete the details, said Philip Roebuck, member of the committee, and when the project is approved all will be ready to give employment to many and to secure many improvements in the building which have long been recognized by the board, but which for economy reasons have not been attained.

The annual tag day at Fennville for the Sunnycrest School for Girls at Holland was held Saturday when girls of the town were on the streets to receive contributions.

What the Sugar Beet Means to This Vicinity

FILLING THE BOWL WITH DO- MESTIC SUGAR PUTS PAY CHECKS IN AMERICAN POCKETS

The tremendous stake of the American people in the beet sugar industry was portrayed by an exhibit displayed at the Chicago Hay and Grain Show by Michigan State College.

Farmers are not the only parties interested in the success of the beet crop. Truckers, railroad men, coal miners, workers in limestone quarries, cotton growers, workers in the cotton mills, and laborers all participate in the trickle of dollars from the crop.

One million acres of the most fertile soil in America grows beets when the price of sugar is high enough to permit the mills to grind the crop and contract for acreage. When this land goes out of beets, it adds tremendously to the surplus of other crops whose production is now being curtailed by agreements between the farmer and the federal government.

Seventy thousand farmers grow beets when the crop is at its peak, and 400,000 laborers find work in the beet fields. More than a million tons of coal, coke, and limestone are used in milling the beets and thousands of trucks and railroad cars are needed to move the beets and other supplies needed by the mills.

A ton of Michigan beets makes 275 pounds of sugar, 100 pounds of dried beet pulp, and 40 pounds of molasses. Michigan stands third in the list of sugar beet states. All of the states produce only one-fourth of the sugar consumed in the U. S. The other 75 per cent is imported.

Beet sugar, and that means the Holland variety, compares favorably in quantity with any other sugar. Housewives can not tell the difference and chemical analysis shows the equal value of beet sugar.

With the campaign just closed it has been demonstrated in Holland the benefits of the sugar beet. It has kept more than 200 laborers going in the factory. You have seen this motored of beet trucks busy night and day for the last three months—well, all those trucks are making money for the truck owner, and shortly the farmer will be paid for those thousands upon thousands of tons of beets he has brought to Holland. Surely better than an idle plant.

500 MEN ARE PUT AT WORK; OTHERS TO BE GIVEN JOBS

Slightly one week after employment relief went into full swing in Allegan county, 500 men, formerly out of work, or holding temporary jobs only, have been placed on a steady employment basis, working 30 hours per week, according to reports of officials in charge of the employment drive in that county, and the balance of the county's allotment, 300 men, are to be given jobs as rapidly as full details for construction projects can be completed. The first four hundred to be employed were taken from the relief rolls of the county, the fifty per cent required by the state employment relief board, and the additional 400, one hundred of whom are at work, are to come from the unemployment ranks of the county, making a total of 800 men who will be given jobs on various projects that have been or are to be approved.

The annual tag day at Fennville for the Sunnycrest School for Girls at Holland was held Saturday when girls of the town were on the streets to receive contributions.

Mrs. Will Reilly of Chicago is spending two weeks with her father, John Chalmers.

462 CAUGHT VIOLATING GAMES LAWS IN OCTOBER

Showing an increase over the same period of 1932, the Division of Field Administration of the Department of Conservation reported today the conviction of 462 men in Michigan during October for violation of one or another of the conservation laws. The figure is compared with 314 convicted in the same month last year.

Violators paid a total of $2,942 in fines during the month and an additional $2,585.80 in court costs. Jail sentences aggregating 1,609 days were imposed.

Violations of hunting laws exceeded all other classes of conservation laws in number during October, the Department reporting 341. The number of fish law violators aggregated 63 and trapping law violators 15.

WINTER FEEDING

No systematic feeding of game birds is carried on in Michigan. To save quail and pheasants when a severe storm locks up the seed supply requires advance work. Feeding stations should be established in early winter and maintained, so that the birds know where to look for grain. The game division of the Conservation Department will advise as to how and where to start feeding stations. Now that M. D. Pirnie of the Kellogg Sanctuary has found that chicken infections are fatal to quail, the pretty sight of bob whites feeding with the farmer's poultry is not so comforting.

Marjorie Mattison, 11-year-old daughter of F. M. Mattison of Holland route 6, is recovering from bruises received Saturday when a car driven by Mr. Mattison collided with an auto driven by Roy Klomparsen, 17, son of Andrew Klomparsen of 135 East Fourteenth street.

ROAD COMMISSION WILLING TO USE MEN TO PLANT TREES IN OTTAWA COUNTY

The Ottawa county road commission announced that under the CWA they could employ about 12 men for two or three months providing materials for roadside planting were furnished to the workers.

There are a number of roads throughout the county that have recently been widened and graded, stretching through barren areas. These roadsides could be greatly improved through planting and landscaping provided the trees were available, it was said. Any one having seedlings or small trees that could be donated to such a cause is asked to get in touch with the road commission.

There are a number of places in the county that are thickly overgrown with small trees. It would improve the present growth if some of the small trees were removed.

This labor will be done by the road commission under the CWA plan and furnish a three-fold good, relieving the owner of too heavy a growth, replanting barren areas along the roads and providing labor for the unemployed.

Roads, especially the gravel or soft top roads, are greatly improved by wayside planting and the pleasure of motoring along stretches that are planted to trees is apparent to all.

Persons having heavy plantings around their homes, which must be thinned, probably will respond to a call of this kind, said one of the road men today, and no doubt there are others who will gladly donate to a project of this kind.

As a follow-up of the fall magazine campaign, annual competition for positions on the Boomerang board has resulted in the appointment by the student council of Cornelia Lieverse as editor; Charles Bertsch as business manager, and Mae Ver Schure as typist. No definite plans have been made for the annual but quotations have been received from both photograph studios as to the propositions that can be made to the students. If enough money is made on the council plays it is very likely that there will be published a little larger book than last year, '11'.

It was decided at the council meeting that there will be season basket ball tickets to sell for 75c to cover five home games. As managers for basket ball teams were chosen Henry Glatz for the first team, and Rod Van Leuwen for the second team. It was also suggested to send a card or flowers to Howard Bowen, a member of the Grand Haven football squad, who was injured in the Holland-Grand Haven game.

The mayor received a letter from Grand Rapids Central in which it was announced that there was to be a meeting of the interhigh council meeting on November 22.

History of Ebenezer Is Continued

Henry H. Boeve, Historian of the Church, Given 60 Years of History, Church Building Begun in 1866.

(By Henry H. Boeve)

In the spring of 1923 we again called at the door of our Western Theological seminary. This time Mr. Richard Roseboom was asked to become the pastor of Ebenezer to which he consented. The first two years all was well—not a cloud in the sky. The family had increased from two to three. Soon dark clouds arose. Mrs. Roseboom was taken sick. It seemed as if Michigan climate did not agree with her. In the winter of '28 and '29 the pastor was here and Mrs. Roseboom was out west—not a very pleasant condition of things. Under God's providence Rev. Roseboom was given a position in Denver, Colorado, as special adviser of the First Reformed church.

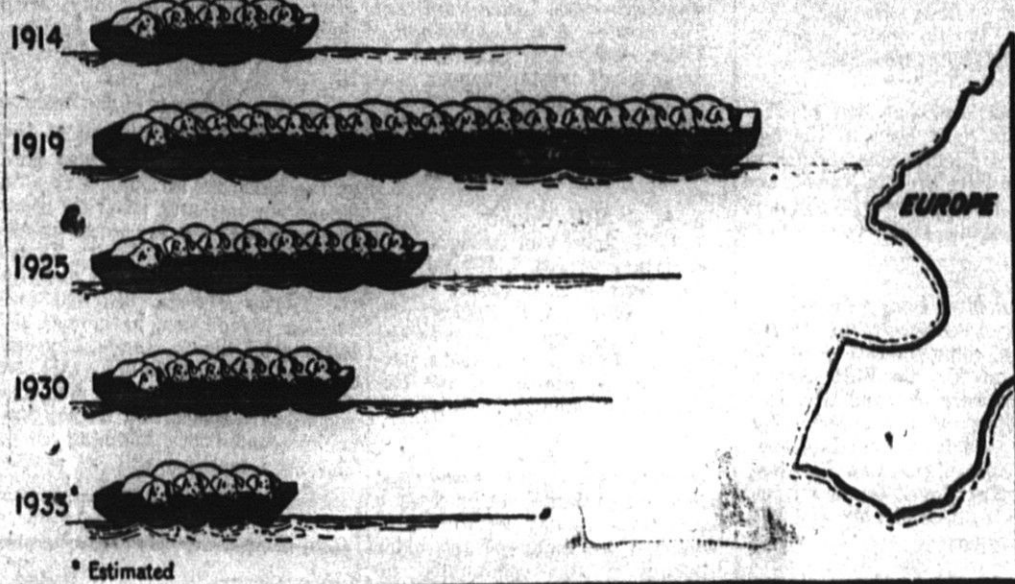

In the spring of 1929 again we rapped at the door of the Western Theological seminary. Out came John F. Schorringhuis as our choice. He has not yet turned into history but is with us still to enjoy the benefits of Christian life, striving to make the path of life a benefit for eternity to come.

We have endeavored to give you a history of a small station along the Christian highway, buidied to serve a traveling generation. We have nothing to accumulate if we would be a spiritual "hitch hiker."

But for those who would pay the fare of sacrifice and perseverance there is a fountain of life from which to drink and a wonderful supply of victuals for a hungry soul. On its register are the names of saints recorded that have tarried at this station, keeping it in repair and tidy, not sitting on a bench of ease, but beckoning many a fellow-traveler to take comfort under the roof of God's guidance and tender care, helping to lift the burden of many a downcast soul. This station has stood for two-thirds of a century. It has been tried by the revolt of man, by fire and by the elements of Satan—yet the name of Ebenezer

UNITED STATES EXPORTS OF HOG PRODUCTS

(Each hog represents 1,000,000 head.)

THE accompanying graph constitutes a vivid explanation of one reason why the prices for corn and hogs have been so low the last few years. The main reason is the severe decline in the export demand for United States hog products since the 1919 peak.

In 1910-14, European nations took the equivalent of nearly six million hogs. This was only a moderate export level, but the total United States hog production at that time was in good balance with the combined domestic and foreign demand.

Under the stimulus of the World War, foreign purchases of our hog products jumped to the equivalent of about seventeen million hogs. But since the war, our exports have dropped back again to the equivalent of about four million hogs. This decline has been due to a rapid restoration of hog production in European countries since the war, particularly in Germany and Denmark, and more recently because of tariffs and of quotas which limit the quantity of imports.

Meanwhile, hog production in the United States has continued to increase at about the same rate as the population. Consequently, the products no longer shipped abroad have become excess products on the home market and have driven down hog prices. Some adjustment to this changed demand must be made if hog prices are to be raised to a more favorable level. The corn-hog production-control program, now being offered by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, will help farmers bring about this necessary better balance.

CHRISTMAS CHEER FOR ZEELAND CHILDREN

The final plans for staging a Christmas party for the needy children of Zeeland have been completed by the legion auxiliary. Upon Manager W. Faber's suggestion a benefit basketball game was arranged. The Wolves five, a fast Negro team from Grand Rapids, will play the feature game with the Stallkamps, local independents. The Keller five of Grand Rapids will meet the Zeeland Athletic team in the opener.

Nearly 100 youngsters will attend the party in the local school December 22. The committee in charge is headed by Mrs. H. Maters and Mrs. N. J. Danhof.

TRAP ON POLE LANDS HAWKS

An effective method of attracting and capturing hawks and other birds of prey that take their toll from the farmers' chicken coop is to place a trap at the top of a pole in an open field. Hawks generally seek an object on which to alight that will give them a good view of a surrounding field before swooping down to the ground in search of prey. A tall pole serves this purpose very well so that a trap on top of one has frequently proven effective.

The common council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present—Mayor Bosch, Aldermen Prins, Kleis, Drinkwater, Van Zoeren, Wolman, De Cook, Habing, Steffens, Huyser, Jonkman, Van Lente, Thomson and the clerk. Devotions were led by Rev. John VanderBeek.

U., the Pastors' association, and the Woman's Literary club, requesting the council not to license the sale of hard liquor in the City of Holland until the citizens have an opportunity to vote on the matter. Such request is made subject to such powers being vested in the council.

Accepted and filed for future information.

The clerk presented communications from Governor Comstock's office, Secretary of State Mr. Fitzgerald, Highway Commissioner M. Van Wageningen, Deputy Attorney General G. K. O'Brien, acknowledging receipt of mayor's recent message to the council and resolution in connection therewith, recommending the relocation of US-31 between Holland and the East Shore garage north of Saugatuck. Referred to sewer committee.

The clerk presented copy of communication sent to Mr. Connelly by Carter W. Brown, Castle Park property owner, protesting against the proposed relocation of US-31 between Holland and the East Shore garage north of Saugatuck.

Mayor ordered the copy turned over to Mr. Connelly. (Note: Mr. Connelly was present at the council meeting.)

The clerk presented communication from the local American Legion post requesting the assistance of part-time help from 3 or 4 mechanics for a period of a week or ten days to recondition used toys which they will collect and distribute to the needy children at Christmas time.

Granted.

The clerk presented communication from the City Sign Co. proposing to change over the wooden shoe signs at the north and west entrances to the city from the present illumination by lamps to neon-lighted signs; also to construct an additional neon sign similar to that at the east entrance on M-21. They further propose to enter into a five-year contract at a total cost to the city of $44 per month, including upkeep, repairs, and the cost of electric current during this period. At the end of the five-year period, they propose to turn these signs over to the city without any additional cost.

Referred to ways and means committee.

Reports of Standing Committees. Committee on ways and means reported having met with the board of public works on the matter of adjusting the board's accounts, and reported substantially as follows: That at the present time the amounts due to the City of Holland by the board of public works represent taxes and contributions as per agreement in the sum of $53,069.15; on the other hand, the amounts due to the board of public works by the City of Holland represented by balances in board of public works accounts at the time when the board began keeping their own depository, also unpaid fire alarm and main sewer tax appropriations, equals an amount of $38,120.80. Accordingly, there is a difference in favor of the City of Holland, in an amount equal to $14,948.35. In addition, the settlement provides that the City of Holland give a note to the board of public works for $125,610.00, which represents balances in the light and water funds at the time the board of public works began to keep their own depository.

Alderman Van Zoeren explained to the council members the purpose of this adjustment of accounts which at the present time does not represent an actual transfer of cash, but merely book transfers in order to straighten out the accounts.

Adopted, all voting aye.

Claims and accounts committee reported claims in the amount of $4,436.82 and recommended payment thereof.

Allowed.

(Said claims on file in the clerk's office for public inspection.)

The board of public works reported the collection of $20,340.53; city treasurer, $8,298.89.

Accepted.

The clerk presented communication from board of public works recommending purchase of water pipe, hydrants, etc., at an estimated cost of $15,000.

Adopted.

The clerk presented communication from Henry Geerlings, secretary of board of education, requesting the council to turn over to the board of education all delinquent school taxes of past years when and as the same are received by the city treasurer from the county treasurer. (Note: This request means that the board of education will receive all delinquent school taxes from past years regardless of the fact that prior to the year 1932, the city treasurer had settled with the board of education in full for the amount of the tax levy.)

Granted.

Mr. Connelly, managing director of the Chamber of Commerce, presented a proposition to the council relative to a municipally owned harbor and resolution that in his opinion the harbor board had taken the position that it was not within their jurisdiction to recommend matters of this kind, and had, therefore, turned it over to the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce in turn, turned it over to their own harbor committee, and this committee, after investigating the matter, felt that something should be done to determine whether this matter should be followed up or dropped. Accordingly, they recommended that a special committee be appointed to make the necessary investigation and report back to the council at the earliest possible time.

Recommendation approved and the mayor requested to appoint a committee of three to have charge of this proposition. The mayor appointed as such committee Aldermen Habing, Huyser and De Cook.

Messages from the Mayor.

Mayor Bosch presented a message to the council recommending that Armistice Day, November 11, be declared by the national government as a legal holiday. Mayor further recommended that Congressmen Carl E. Mapes and Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg and James Couzens, be requested to do all in their power to have this brought about at the next session of congress in January, 1934.

The message of the mayor follows:

TO THE HONORABLE, the Common Council of the City of Holland.

Gentlemen:

Every year as we approach November 11, Armistice Day, we hear citizens bemoan the fact that this day of days has not been declared by our national leaders a legal holiday. We rightfully celebrate the Fourth of July in memory of those brave leaders of American history who gave this country of ours our independence. On May 30 of each year we cover the graves of our brave boys in blue with flowers to commemorate the memory of these brave heroes who fought and who died to save our great union. Both of these holidays have been declared legal holidays and rightfully so.

In my Armistice Day proclamation I brought attention to the fact that up to this time Armistice Day has not been recognized by our government as a legal holiday and left the thought that strong efforts should be made when the next congress meets that this day be legalized as a holiday, the same as our national patriotic days. The world strife for which Armistice Day represents the end, sent the flower of this nation's manhood to foreign shores to battle for what they thought was the savior of democracy. Every locality in this grand country of ours felt the scars of that war through the loss of loved ones.

It would be most fitting and proper and a great step toward consummation of this idea if you as a council, representing our city of Holland, would go on record tonight as approving congress' legalizing Armistice Day as a legal holiday. I would further suggest that you unanimously pass a resolution so stating these thoughts and to send a copy of this resolution together with copy of this message, to the Hon. Congressman Carl E. Mapes, and to the Hon. United States Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg and James Couzens. I request that this resolution be so worded that our congressman and United States senators do all in their power to secure the legalizing of this day at the next session of congress when it again convenes next January, 1934.

Respectfully submitted,

NICODEMUS BOSCH, Mayor.

A resolution was adopted accepting the mayor's message and instructing the city clerk to forward a copy of his message to the above stated Congressmen Mapes and Senators Vandenberg and Couzens, together with a copy of this resolution.

Therupon Alderman Kleis presented the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Prins:

WHEREAS, the Hon. Mayor of our city has delivered a very timely message to us advocating that the United States congress legisnate Armistice Day, November 11, as a legal holiday, and

WHEREAS, we the common council of the City of Holland are heartily in accord with said message;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that we, the common council of the city of Holland, recommend that Armistice Day be declared a legal holiday and that a copy of this resolution together with a copy of the mayor's message be sent by the city clerk to the Hon. Congressman Carl E. Mapes and to the Hon. Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg and Senator James Couzens, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that said congressman and senators be requested to lend their support to the end that said Armistice Day may be so declared to be a legal holiday at the next session of congress when it convenes in January.

Carried, all voting aye.

Unfinished Business.

The council was informed in a communication from Mr. James Boyce, Jr., that delegations were present from Laketown township, Park township, Saugatuck and Hamilton, to take up with the council matters of the utmost importance to them.

Mayor Bosch then called upon Mr. Boyce to present their proposition to the council. Mr. Boyce, as representative of these several delegations, called upon the following men to address the council: George Strait, treasurer of Park township; Len Viessers, supervisor of Laketown township; Mr. Bauhahn, a member of Laketown township board; Mr. Onthank and Ed Munson, residents of Virginia Park. All of these men in addressing the council protested against the action taken by the council a short time ago in recommending that US-31 be relocated between Holland and the East Shore garage north of Saugatuck. These men brought out several matters which, in their opinion, made it unwise to have this trunk line relocated. After listening to the various reasons given by the different speakers, Mayor Bosch replied to the effect that in his opinion the matters brought out were not such as to warrant a reconsideration by the council of their previous action.

City Attorney Lokker also spoke on the matter, and stated that while he felt that these men were sincere in their contentions, that they were not as vital as they might themselves think. Mr. Lokker further informed those present that the initiative in this matter had not been taken by the City of Holland, but on the contrary, the state highway department had come to the common council of the City of Holland asking them to approve of a relocation of four blocks on Michigan avenue from Twenty-eight to the Thirty-second streets. At that time the council had concurred in the action of the state highway department, and had gone ahead and put in a storm sewer at an expense of approximately $5,000, so that this street would be in readiness for paving.

Mr. Lokker further stated that in his opinion it was not a matter for either the City of Holland or the representatives of the various townships to decide, but rather a matter for the state highway department, and they, no doubt, would make a decision wherein they would consider the greatest good to the greatest number in accordance with their general policy in making such decisions throughout the entire state.

The council took no action in regard to reconsidering their previous recommendation.

Adjoined.

OSCAR PETERSON, City Clerk.

Public school closed at Saugatuck because the school board had no money to continue and faced a $10,000 debt to tax delinquencies, opened again Monday for two weeks, closing Dec. 22 for the Christmas holidays and perhaps longer, depending on what the financial situation is after January 1. The decision to reopen after a week of closing was made upon the granting of local credit for a carload of coal and the state's assurance a primary school fund allotment would be forthcoming before the end of the month. It also was hoped some delinquent taxes might be paid to enable a part payment on the large indebtedness to members of the teaching staff, who have shown a surprising willingness to carry on despite salary deficiencies. Supt. L. H. Waugh announced Saturday the school would be operated on slow time in order to economize on electricity.

J. Andrew Gerber, 77, long prominent in the business and civic life of that community and one of Fremont's most active boosters, died unexpectedly early last Wednesday after having suffered a heart attack. He had transacted business as usual Tuesday. Mr. Gerber and his father, Daniel Gerber, went to Fremont in 1877 from Douglas and started the Gerber tanneries. After 15 years in that field Andrew Gerber became associated with Old State bank of Fremont, having served as president and more recently as chairman of the board. He also conducted the state automobile license bureau here.

wooden shoe, extending the courtesy of the city. Chief of Police Lieveens furnished these.

Twelve young ladies from Holland High school in their colorful Dutch costumes pleased the farmers greatly as they pinned badges on coat lapels. The farmerettes were not so enthused to see the young ladies tiding up their young swains from the countryside. The young ladies, however, showed all the courtesies due our guests and it was a real successful Farmers' Day.

Former Mayor E. P. Stephan deserves great credit for his able work in securing finance, food and prizes. Despite the stressful period response was never more spontaneous. There were more farmers present and much more food necessary, but there was plenty to go around and to spare.

William C. Vandenberg, general chairman, showed his usual ability in getting the affair organized. Bill was the "Alpha and the Omega" of Farmers' Day, and was ably assisted by his brother, Vaude.

SIMPLE, substantial foods are in order in early December, foods that leave the housewife time for Christmas preparation, foods that are appropriate for the children, that will help build sturdy bodies, good habits and digestion. Milk, bread and butter, fruits, vegetables, meats, fish and cheese are the foods required and the more simply they are cooked and served the better.

This is the season for citrus fruits. Excellent oranges and grapefruit are arriving from Florida. Florida also is sending us quantities of crisp green beans. Texas spinach is plentiful and of fine quality. Carrots, cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts are also attractive in quality and price.

When the children come from school they often need an afternoon snack. Give them an apple or bread and syrup or some cookies. You will find that a cup of tea for yourself at the same time will prove restful and stimulating.

Rev. and Mrs. A. Jabaay and children have returned to Zeeland after spending a few days with their parents in Munster, Indiana, and also with relatives at Lansing, Ill.

About 40 members of the Zeeland Farmers' club were present at the monthly meeting, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Meeuwse on South Fairview road.

The program was in charge of Albert Meeuwse and Albert Kloosterman and consisted of a duet by the Misses Thelma Scholten and Thelma Wyngarden, harmonica sections by Simon Vande Luyster, solo by Dennis Scholten, talk on poultry housing by Dick Kuipers and Edward Caball and Wesley Faber presented the hatching code. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pino Dec. 29. Will Veruink and Alvin Naber are in charge of the program for this meeting.

Nineteen Zeeland young men recently met and organized a glee club. Tuesday night has been set aside for practice. Most of the members have had musical experience. Gill J. Van Hoven was elected president, Fred Van Sytzama vice president, George J. Moeke secretary, Harry Derks, treasurer and Adrian Wierams librarian. The services of Clarence Dykema as accompanist have been engaged.

The White Leghorn cockerel from the Cabal Superior Poultry farm at Zeeland, owned by George Cabal, won the grand championship of the poultry exposition held in connection with the Michigan Fair show in the Civic Auditorium in Grand Rapids last week. The Zeeland hatchery also won third in the White Leghorn display. Practically all the best breeders in the state had entries.

Road Between City and Allegan Well Published

ALLEGAN NEWSPAPERS NOW
TAKING IT UP—HAMILTON
ALSO INTERESTED

The Holland City News has been busy for sometime advocating the advisability of putting M-40 in shape between Holland and Allegan. The efforts are bearing fruit and the matter is being taken up at Lansing. The Allegan News had in substance the following:

(Allegan News)
Impetus to the long discussed improvement of M-40 between Allegan and Holland is being given by the Hamilton Committee to Promote Construction of M-40 and a determined attempt to secure appropriations from the Allegan county allotment of the Federal Aid fund is being made.

Letters have gone out to persons who are interested in the proposed project from the Hamilton club and a campaign, direct to M. D. V. Wagoner, state highway commissioner, is expected to result in approval of an improved highway.

The Hamilton club bases its move upon the fact that there is now $45,000 appropriated to Allegan county, part of which it claims, could be used to material advantage on grade work on M-40.

The Hamilton club contends that the amount of traffic, especially commercial, on this highway is more than sufficient to warrant early construction.

That the commercial and agricultural transportation demands on this highway warrant early construction. That M-40 is one of the oldest and most prominent highways in this section of the state.

That the condition of the present road-bed is not desirable and is not conducive to attracting traffic.

That the building of the road has been under consideration for an excessive length of time.

That it is not paralleled by any other highway which can accommodate the traffic.

That it connects two cities and taps an excellent agricultural section.

That it is the shortest route from south-central Michigan to any point north for Great Lake commerce or resort trade.

Citizens of Allegan, those living along the highway and of communities along that road, are requested by the Hamilton organization to write directly to Mr. VanWagoner, citing the reasons for requests that the road be included in an improvement program.

It is the opinion of backers of the project, mainly the Hamilton organization, that with a concentrated effort being made, results will be obtained and improvement of the highway will be authorized.

Other organizations along M-40 between Allegan and Holland, undoubtedly will take up the move and will co-operate in the project.

Hogarth Praises Two Youths Who Uphold the Game Laws

Two nine-year-old Oceana county boys who attempted to hold a pair of deer law violators at the point of a gun, are Michigan conservation heroes today.

The two boys, Billy Lidke, of Rothbury, and Carl Slobade, of Hart, were given the thanks of the state department of conservation in a letter written to them by Director George R. Hogarth.

The two boys, armed with single barrel shotguns, were hunting near the Lidke home when they heard a shot. Investigating they discovered two men each armed with a rifle, approaching a deer which they had shot. Billy accused the men of shooting the deer, told them they had done something wrong, and said he was going to get his dad.

While Carl held the two men at the point of his shotgun, Billy ran back home to notify his father. The two deer poachers tried to argue Carl into letting them go but he threatened to shoot if they moved. The men finally frightened the boy by threatening to kill him if he fired, and they turned and ran. The boy followed but became lost in an unfamiliar swamp.

In the meantime Billy, his father, William Lidke, and sheriff's officers arrived on the scene to find the violators and the boy gone. Carl turned up later in the evening.

The bravery of the two boys in their attempt to hold the two conservation law violators was lauded by Director Hogarth in his letter of thanks to them. The letter said: "I have been reading about your recent exploit in attempting to capture two men, who had unlawfully killed a deer, and I cannot let it pass without expressing my admiration at your courage, and the thanks of the State of Michigan for the manner in which you performed a duty that would have caused many men to hesitate."

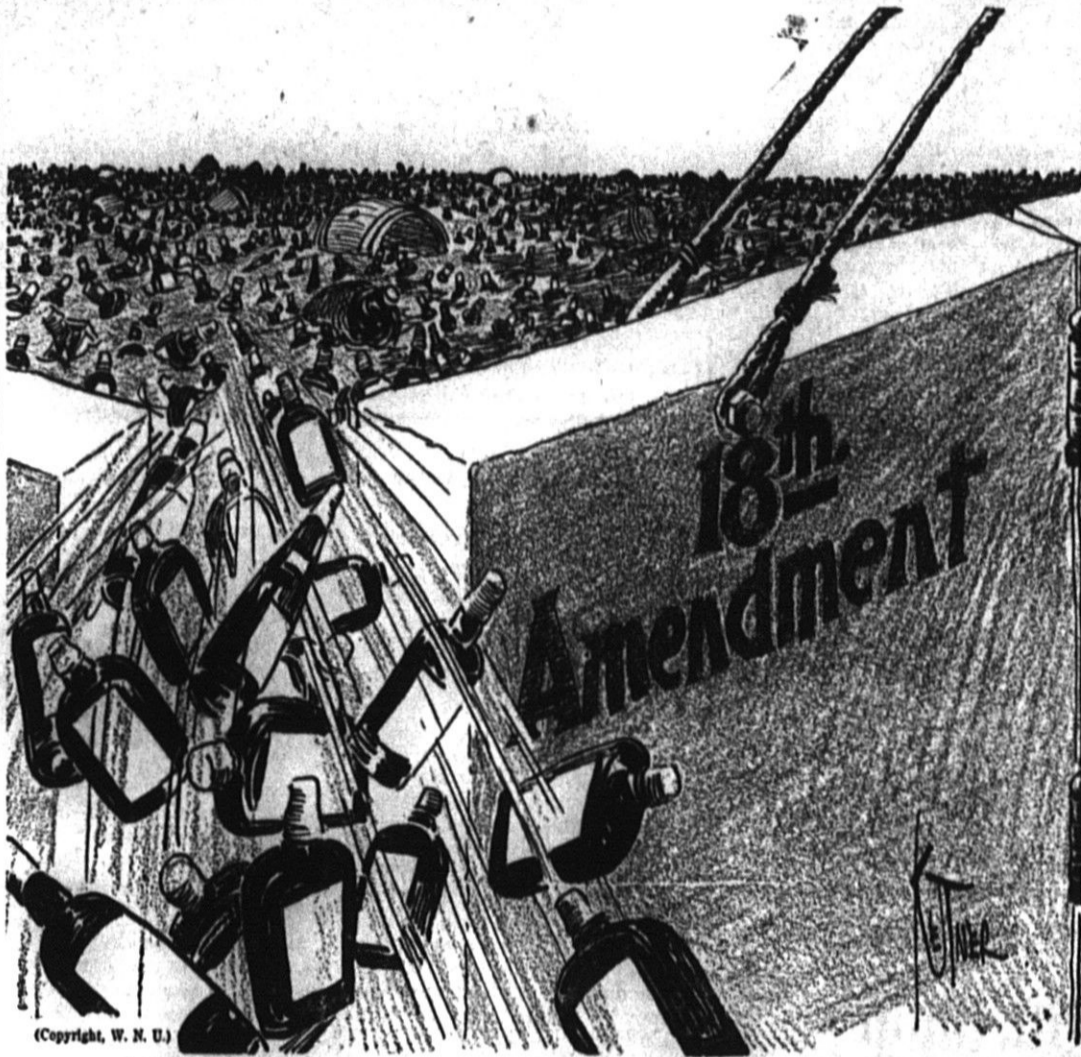

"It is boys like you upon whom the future of conservation rests and I hope that the example you have provided will be a lasting lesson to those who are indifferent toward the welfare of our wild life."

"I can only wish that every man in this state could be imbued with the same spirit that prompted you."

J. H. Lente was re-elected president of the Trinity men's relief society at the annual business meeting held in the church Friday evening. Others elected were: Gilbert Vander Water, vice president; Albert Nienhuis, secretary; and George D. Alber, treasurer. Anthony Van Ry is honorary president of the organization. Following the business session a program and social hour was enjoyed at which the wives of the society members were present. Program numbers included selections by Slim and Jim, James Barkel and Earl Van Dort; readings by Miss Esther Bultman, and remarks by Mr. Van Ry, Mr. Van Lente and Rev. H. D. TerKouert. Refreshments were served by members of the mission society.

WINTER BIRDS HAVE ARRIVED TO REPLACE GAY SONGSTERS

Winter birds that replace the host of summer songsters have arrived in Michigan to stay with us until early spring. Among these, the most "wintry" of all is the snow bunting or snowflake which ride on the late November gales in large flocks. When driving through the country, you may see them flying about as if driven by a wind, then settling down suddenly in a field to feast on the weed seeds. Without warning, they will be off again, sailing about and again settling down.

At a little distance, the snow bunting appears to be pure white, and when snow is here, is a real part of the winter landscape. Perhaps this will be a "snow bunting year," for if the winter is cold and the snow is heavy to the north, more of the snow buntings come to Michigan than if the winter were mild.

This is also true of the snowy owl, which was numerous in Michigan only a few years ago, but which during the mild winters of recent years has chosen to remain in Canada. Of the two birds, the bunting, which eats pigweed and ragweed seeds, is the more desirable, since the snowy owl is likely to devour our more desirable game birds and small mammals, although it also eats field mice, which can well be spared.

Most striking of all our winter birds is the cardinal or redbird, which seems to be staying in Southern Michigan more than it used to. Its brilliant plumage presents a gay picture against the white snow, and since it sings both winter and summer, it is one of our most welcome winter birds. When it comes to winter feeding stations, it is much appreciated for the brilliance of its color.

You will find the cardinal rather restless and uneasy, moving constantly about. When disturbed, it registers its annoyance by elevating its crest to the fullest extent, and accompanying its rather feeble chip with quick upward jerks of the long tail.

Further north, the pine and evening grosbeaks, redpolls, crossbills and winter siskins may be found during the winter. These are primarily birds of the wooded country. Seeds or buds of shrubs and trees form a considerable part of their diet. Common at every winter feeding station are the tufted titmice, chickadees and nuthatches. These are gay little birds and are always thankful for a bite to eat.

Of course the hairy and downy woodpeckers remain with us after having spent the summer in Michigan.

MAN WHO INVENTED GANG- SAW SYSTEM SETTLES IN HEART OF TIMBER AREA

The "father of the modern sawmill" has come to Portland, Ore., to retire. In this city, the heart of one of the greatest timber sections in the entire world, he will be close enough to the pulse of the lumbering industry to his himself to the woods and listen to the whine and clatter of a sawmill which has become to his accustomed ears a favorite and a musical sound.

His name is Andre Gagnon and he is known from Norway to Mexico as the greatest of all sawmill men. Among his principal achievements are the Gagnon clutch and the band gangsaw system. No other man, declare millmen, has contributed so many inventions of major importance to the industry.

By attuning his ear to the shrill song of the steel, it is said that Andre Gagnon can forecast the breaking of a band saw almost to the second. It remained for his wife to tell an amusing incident while their train was on a siding.

Mr. Gagnon found the mill and addressed its owner, whom he never had seen before, with the statement that in three minutes the saw would break. The millwright nodded indulgently but made no move to have the saw shut off. In slightly more than two minutes the saw broke. Andre Gagnon's legend lived from that moment and within a few weeks the story was being told in several languages.

Elephants Flee From Airplanes

Annoyance at the noise of airplane motors that have recently invaded their territory is given as one of the reasons for the noticeable unrest among African elephant herds of late, by Capt. R. J. D. Salmon. Even trained animals in the Belgian Congo never become really indifferent to the sound of gasoline engines, he states, and he believes it unlikely that the herds in the Uganda will ever learn to browse peacefully as the air mail goes overhead.

The most significant result of the unrest now apparent among the African wild elephant herds is that many of the animals are leaving their familiar haunts along the east Nile to seek new feeding grounds to the north and south of this area. This not infrequently brings them into inhabited areas where they do much damage to the crops of the natives.

If this tendency of the animals to enter cultivated areas increases reduction in their numbers is inevitable, Capt. Salmon declares.

Date McKillips of Fennville and his orchestra of old time tunes are playing for occasional dancing parties given by the Rebekahs at the Odd Fellows hall in Holland.

The Royal Neighbors held their annual meeting recently in the lodge hall on West Eighth street. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Frances Hillebrands, orator; Mrs. Estelle Dore, vice orator; Mrs. Frederica Hertz, past orator; Mrs. Martha De Witt, chancellor; Mrs. Leona Norlin, recorder; Mrs. Grace Urick, receiver; Miss Elizabeth Norlin, marshal; Mrs. Hannah Beck, inner sentinel; Mrs. Hannah Vanden Brink, outer sentinel; Mrs. Estelle Brown, manager; and Mrs. Anna Zietlow, musician.

A meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies' society was held last week in the city hall. Mrs. John F. Sunden was elected president; Mrs. John Tiesenga, vice president; Mrs. Gerard Van Kolen, secretary; and Mrs. Ben Rosen, treasurer. The retiring officers were: Mrs. Shad Aituis, president; Mrs. John Saven, vice president; Mrs. Lee Warren, secretary. Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed.

John Buscher, Sr., was pleasantly surprised at his home on route No. 6 last week, Wednesday evening, the occasion being his seventy-seventh birthday. Approximately thirty guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Van Andel of Holland route 3 were surprised at their home last week, Thursday evening, when a group of neighbors gathered for a farewell party. Mr. and Mrs. Van Andel, who have resided on the old Zealand road for the past seven years, will soon move to a home on Central avenue. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served. Twenty-four guests were present.

Not Pleased Over Baker Co. Leaving Them

ALLEGAN GAZETTE GIVES REASONS AND GIVES HIS-TORY OF THE FURNITURE
PLANT'S FOUNDING

A few weeks ago The News gave a reprint of the fine letter Hollis Baker gave to his men fully telling the reasons why the Baker Furniture Co. chose Holland as a future home. Last week the Allegan Gazette gives the reaction on the moving of the plant and also gives some interesting history as this relates to the founding of the plant at Allegan.

Removal of the Baker Furniture company factories from this city to Holland is one of the severest blows Allegan has ever sustained. It had been here so long that no one ever thought its removal even a remote possibility. The change to Holland was accomplished by an intricate process of financing. The Bush & Lane piano factory in Holland has been idle the past three years and Holland banks held mortgages upon it for loans.

The Gazette says further: Baker Furniture Factories were founded about forty years ago by Mr. Siebe Baker, who removed here from Hamilton. With the late Mr. Henry Cook he bought the factory property of the late N. B. West, who had operated it many years in manufacture of sash, doors, blinds, etc. The original firm was West & Bassett until the latter went into service in the Civil war and was killed. They were cousins also of E. B. Bassett, long a prominent resident of Allegan, who was father to Mr. Charles E. Bassett of Fennville. Chauncey J. Bassett rose to the rank of colonel. It was for him that the present G.A.R. post was named. To return to the Baker story, Mr. Baker was a native of the Netherlands (Holland as we mistakenly call that country). He came in wooden shoes and spoke no English and had no money. Naturally he went to the location of the VanRaalte "colony" at Holland. First he engaged a carpenter and there are still houses in Monterey which are his handiwork—and substantial houses they were, too, exceedingly well built. After the residence in Hamilton, he wished to get into larger business. Mr. Baker wished to enlarge the West plant and engage in making furniture, but Mr. Cook, who was advancing in years, did not care to venture and so sold to Mr. Baker. The business was steadily enlarged until the factory was one of the largest in this country and its business was not confined entirely to the United States nor to one grade of product. Latterly it produced pieces of the highest quality in design and finish. It is not probable that Siebe Baker would ever have thought of removal from Allegan because he had ties which bound him to this city and which his son, quite naturally, does not so strongly feel. Much to the credit of this writer it can be said he was one of Mr. Baker's most intimate friends and associates of business. So we write with no small degree of feeling, Mr. Baker became a well-known and highly educated man and was prompted at all times by the highest ethical principles. His passing was sincerely mourned by every resident of this city.

Holland City is to have another furniture plant, that of the Charles R. Sligh company of Grand Rapids which will be removed there. It is not a very large concern but is worth having by any town. Now, why should any such company choose Holland, where there is no water-power? Holland has, however, municipal electric service which is managed with high profit. Have both the Baker and Sligh company been offered low rates for power and light? Quite likely. Such service there is lower than in either Grand Rapids or Allegan and solely for the reason that the city owns and operates the plant. Presently, it is hoped, Allegan will be in position to offer such service as inducement to manufacturers to locate here. That was a major consideration when the municipal dam was proposed.—Allegan Gazette.

The League for Service of Fourth Reformed church held their annual election and Christmas party Friday evening at the home of Miss Wilma Nyboer. The officers elected were Miss Sadie Zoon, president; Miss Jeanette Plakke, vice president; Miss Joan Speet, secretary; Miss Nyboer, treasurer; and Miss Helen Giebink, assistant secretary and treasurer. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Miss Speet, Mrs. Theresa Bouwman and Miss Nyboer. A two-course lunch was served by Miss Nyboer and Mrs. Leona Knoll. Maxine Veerink entertained a group of friends at her home, 49 East Twenty-second street, last week, Thursday, the occasion being her eighth birthday. Games were played and refreshments were served. Eleven guests were present.

Miss Martha Slowinski was hostess to a group of children Friday afternoon honoring her niece, Miss Betty Van Weelden, who celebrated her seventh birthday. The party was held at the home of the child's mother, Mrs. Mary Van Weelden, 332 Maple avenue. The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and yellow. Games were played, after which refreshments were served. Eight little guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Van Andel of Holland route 3 were surprised at their home last week, Thursday evening, when a group of neighbors gathered for a farewell party. Mr. and Mrs. Van Andel, who have resided on the old Zealand road for the past seven years, will soon move to a home on Central avenue. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served. Twenty-four guests were present.

Game Warden Jobs Are Sought By 740

Civil service examinations for conservation officer have been taken by 740 men, reported George R. Hogarth, Director of Conservation. Out of these 740 men, eight regularly assigned officers and six free lance men will be appointed.

In Jackson, 300 men took the examination, in Roscommon 260, in Marquette 100, Houghton 40, and Ironwood 40. Appointment of additional conservation officers is a part of the new law enforcement campaign which is being carried on by the Department of Conservation.

There will be a total of 10 free lance officers who will be shifted from one part of the state to another, to act as adjuncts to the regular local officers, as occasions and conditions demand. The department is also seeking greater cooperation from county justices of the peace in making penalties for the violation of fish and game laws more severe. Maurice Kuite of Holland is considered by the department as excelling in conservation work.

"BENNY" OOSTERBAAN OF MICHIGAN IS HIGHLIGHT AT BANQUET

The ninth annual Exchange club dinner in honor of the Hope college and Holland high school football teams was held last evening in the main dining room of the Warm Friend Tavern. The "big red" was attended by more than 100 Exchange club members, managers, players and special guests. The outstanding feature of the dinner was the presence of "Benny" Oosterbaan, assistant football coach at the University of Michigan, who was the speaker of the evening. His presence was made possible through the efforts of Principal "Jack" Riemersma of the high school.

President "Andy" Klompars was chairman of the evening. He called on Fred Beuwkes for the opening prayer. The highlights in the evening's program were as follows:

The brass quartet of the Holland high school played the very appropriate and pleasing numbers, "The Michigan Victors" and "Wave the Flag," the former being dedicated to our own famous "Benny" of Muskegon and Ann Arbor. "Andy" Klompars then announced the facts concerning the Exchange Club Boy Scout drive. The committee in this drive are as follows: Jake Fris, Jack Knoll, Chester Van Tongeren, William Brouwer, Bert Vander Pool, C. C. Wood, W. J. Olive, Peter Notier, John Olet and Henry Carley.

Greetings from the national and Kalamazoo Exchange clubs were tendered by Ray Pellet of the national Exchange club. The local Exchange was again the recipient of the class B honor certificate. This is the third time it has been won by the local organization. The club was also honored in receiving two new members, namely A. W. Tahany and S. W. Campbell. Football leaders and players were then introduced. "Andy" expressed appreciation of the "fine showing" both teams had made this past season. He said at least 5,000 people had been entertained at the first three games. He introduced Milton "Bud" Hinga and Gerald Breen, who after brief speeches, introduced their grid men. "Bud" referred to the two "Scotch" managers of his team—Paul McLean and Bruce Raymond. Breen also responded with appreciative remarks regarding the kindness of the Exchange in providing "what the boys always look forward to." The whole group then joined in singing the old favorite college and university songs. Mr. Heeter and the boys' high school glee club led in the singing.

Mr. Riemersma in introducing Mr. Oosterbaan made mention of the coach's great athletic record. "Michigan is good at football," he said, "because it has two Dutchmen for coaches. Moreover, 'Benny' also married a preacher's daughter."

Coach Oosterbaan humorously began his address by citing his personal experience in meeting "77" of Illinois. "To meet Red Grange was a nervous task," he said. "It seemed to me as I came on the field that every player on the opposing team wore number '77.'" He briefly explained the University of Michigan football system. They place much emphasis upon the art of punting itself and spend much time in learning to protect the punter. Moreover, Michigan players try to rush the punter on the opposing team, and in that way often gain a great deal of yardage. "Our team is also an intelligent team," he continued. The players are required to take an examination before the season begins in the rules of the game. In stressing the value of football, he mentioned that it inculcates a spirit of co-operation, fosters friendship, creates pleasant memories and destroys an independent attitude. In concluding, he said: "If you want to make good, you can."

"Andy" thanked the guest speaker and suggested that he should not change his Dutch name, so that when Hollanders come to Ann Arbor they may have there someone their very own.

The Hope players present were L. Japinga, E. Damson, J. Nettinga, Seekamp, B. Freeman, M. Slagh, Korstanje, Bonnette, Klompars, Te Roller, Tyse, T. Van Zanten, George Good, John Good, A. Van Zanten, S. Boven, Gross, and Hyens, manager.

COUNTERFEIT $5-DOLLAR BILLS IN CIRCULATION IN AND NEAR DETROIT

A bulletin is being circulated by the Michigan Bankers' association warning of many counterfeit $5 United States notes that are being passed in Detroit and vicinity and the co-operation of all banking institutions and merchants to be on the alert for them is urged.

The following descriptions of the notes is given to assist in identifying the counterfeit money: Series 1928, check letter "K," face plate No. 217, back plate No. 247, portrait of Lincoln, serial numbers vary. The note is printed from photo-mechanical plates on one sheet of paper showing red and blue ink lines intended to simulate the silk fiber in the genuine. This note has a light faded appearance; portrait is dull and indistinct. The fine lines in border, face and back of note are broken and indistinct, back of note is printed in off-color green.

The note with check letter "H" has a face plate No. 316, back plate No. 140, portrait of Lincoln and serial numbers vary. This is a fairly deceptive counterfeit printed on one sheet of bond paper from photo mechanical plates of good workmanship. The Lincoln portrait is etched too heavily and in the printing process it is produced in a darker shade than any other part of the face of the note and is generally smudgy. Seal and numbering are expertly printed.

The last mentioned note has been circulated very sparingly during the past few months, but during December, prior to the holidays, it is the intention of the passers to get rid of these notes during the rush period.

Bet On Weatherman Is Good Economics

You cannot get rich by placing bets that the weatherman is wrong, according to studies made of the government agencies for predicting weather conditions.

When hurricane warnings go up in the ports along the oceans and the Great Lakes, vessel owners place their money on the weatherman and delay starting any voyages. Records of vessels carrying $30,000,000 worth of cargo held in harbor by one hurricane warning are on the records.

These destructive storms that formerly swept unwarded over the gulf states seemed to be disasters that suddenly appeared out of the void. Weather forecasts now show us that these storms may be charted and their appearance on the coast may be scheduled almost to the hour.

Shippers watch the weather forecasts to determine how much protection must be given to perishables. Unprotected cars in transit are shunted into roundhouses or other places away from freezing temperatures and heat or insulation is provided for cars being loaded.

Regular observers, trained for the work, make the observations upon which the daily weather predictions are made, but 4,500 people assist the government in obtaining data upon climate. These thousands of volunteer helpers are furnished equipment and make monthly reports to the weather bureau.

The weather prophets do not claim to be infallible but they point out the continuously increasing betterment of their work and promise that mistakes will become scarcer each year that the service is maintained.

Books at Hope College Rich in History

Detroit Free Press—Many books dating as far back as the Sixteenth Century have been discovered in Hope College Library.

The books were unearthed during the cleaning of the stockrooms, and included many which are believed to be the only ones of their kind in America and possibly Europe.

One collection on Dutch history and literature was contributed by Dr. William Elliott Griffiths, who also donated a set of P. J. Blok's History of The Netherlands, considered the greatest history of that country ever published.

In these books were found old letters written by Dr. Blok to Dr. Griffiths, telling him of an offer made by Putnam for an English translation and informing him of his appointment as the young Queen's tutor in history.

Cactus Does Not Need Dry Climate

Despite the fact that most of us think of the cactus as a native of the desert Southwest, these curious jointed fleshy plants occur in many other parts of the country, according to Dr. John K. Small, veteran student of southern botany. Dr. Small has found a number of species of cacti in Florida and these have not limited themselves to the drier central areas of the state as might be expected. The same species of cacti that flourish there, Dr. Small has discovered, may be found in the salt marshes along the sea shore. Some of these apparently have an aversion to too much wetness, however, for they have taken to living on the limbs of trees.

Greenhouse Men to Have Course

Commercial producers of flowers are offered a chance to brush up on the newest angles of their business at a short course to be given at Michigan State College, Jan. 2 to March 2. The course is of interest to those desiring to enter the business as well as to those already engaged in producing flowers or vegetables under glass. Instructors will be members of the College staff or prominent floriculturists who have been successful commercially.

Lectures and practical work in the laboratories will occupy the time of the students. Soil conditions, insect and disease control, and allied subjects will be included in the course. Complete information can be obtained from the director of short courses at East Lansing.

BEEES AND THE NRA

Michigan beekeepers are going to be handed a difficult problem at their annual meeting in the Civic Auditorium, Grand Rapids, Dec. 7 and 8, if the code which they are to consider contains a clause limiting the working hours of bees.

Apiculturists of the state collect a million dollars worth of honey annually and 25,000 persons participate in the income from this crop. The proposed code to be considered at Grand Rapids will affect marketing practices in selling honey and bees. There are many beekeepers in Ottawa and Allegan counties who will be present at the Grand Rapids meet next week.

NEVADA'S OLDEST TREE CUT DOWN BY C.C.C.

An old tree recently cut down by the C.C.C. recruits in the Deer Creek forest near Las Vegas, Nev., has been declared the oldest tree in that state. An examination of the rings of this tree made by Nevada Rep. J. A. Scruggs, after it was felled, revealed its age to be 942 years.

KILL AND EAT FAWN IN A FEW MINUTES

When they saw several coyotes appear suddenly over a knoll near their camp site and plunge frenziedly into a nearby swamp three Iron Mountain hunters, Dr. L. Browning, Claude Parmelee and Maurice Lundin, followed. They soon came upon the carcass of a fawn. In the brief time it had taken them to reach the spot the pack of coyotes had completely devoured the flesh of the fawn and disappeared. They left behind only a bare skeleton in the blood-trampled snow.

The Woman's Literary club met in the clubrooms Tuesday afternoon to hear Mrs. C. P. Fletcher of Benton Harbor, who gave a talk on the "Three Wise Men of the East."

The three Wise Men of the East were the emperor, Shah Jehan of India, who built the wonderful Taj Mahal as a mausoleum for himself and his favorite wife; Chen Lung, the fourth emperor of the Manchou dynasty in China, and Hiroshi, a sixteenth century emperor of Japan. The speaker dwelt largely on the early history of China and Japan.

Mrs. S. C. Nettings presented a resolution, which was adopted by unanimous vote to petition the city council to use any power which might be designated to it to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors in the city until a vote of the people is taken.

How To Blue
Gun Barrels

So many requests for instructions on how to blue gun barrels have been received from our readers that we are preparing the following formula for the benefit of anyone else who may be interested.

Dissolve 4 1/2 oz. of hyposulphite of soda in 1 qt. of water; also 1 1/4 oz. of acetate of lead in 1 qt. of water. Mix the two solutions and bring to a boil in a porcelain dish or stone pot. Clean the gun barrel free from grease, oil or varnish, warm the barrel, and smear with the hot solution, using a piece of sponge tied to a stick. When color develops, wash and wipe dry; finish with boiled linseed oil.

TEACHER GUARDS SCHOOL LIFE

The most loved person in the community would have been the most dreaded and shunned, had parents of children attending one small rural school in Michigan known that tuberculosis had marked the teacher for its victim. A girl who was the picture of animation and health, this young teacher, just two weeks after school closed last June, lay dead. Here was an unsuspected case of tuberculosis.

Following her death, the school board requested a tuberculosis test and X-ray examination from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Out of 32 pupils, 29 were found to be infected. The X-ray revealed that several had enough germs to cause disease. These children, found and treated in time, were spared the sad fate of their young teacher.

In the educational campaign carried on for over 25 years, a movement which has resulted in a 50 per cent reduction in the death rate in Michigan, teachers have co-operated more than any other group. Michigan is one of the first states to begin a tuberculosis survey using the tuberculin test and X-ray examination. Teachers realizing that they are closer to children than anyone save parents, have welcomed the opportunity to discover whether or not they themselves might be infected. Two per cent of the teachers examined in the past two years have had tuberculosis.

Among the prominent educators who endorse this modern movement aimed at the early discovery of the disease is Dr. Paul F. Voelker, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Dr. Voelker says, "I would like to see the tuberculin test and X-ray examination made available for every school in Michigan. There is no doubt that the scourge of tuberculosis can be successfully combated only by preventive procedures."

"It is our public duty for the health protection of the future citizens of Michigan to support the Michigan Tuberculosis Association in this great work," declares Dr. Voelker. "I sincerely hope the campaign for the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals which finance this work will be extraordinarily successful this year."

Report of the Committee on Agriculture
Grand Haven, Michigan, November 13, 1933.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Ottawa County, Michigan.
Gentlemen:
Your committee on Agriculture, to which was referred the matter of the payment of sparrow bounties for the coming season, has the honor to report as follows:

Whereas, on account of the depressed conditions obtaining in the county, the amount of taxes which will be returned as delinquent will be as large as, if not larger than usual for the past several years, and the funds available for county use will be correspondingly small, we deem it wise to omit the payment of the bounty for this coming season.

We therefore recommend that the county clerk be instructed to notify the general township clerks that such bounty will not be refunded by the county for the winter of 1933 and 1934.

Report of the Committee on Agriculture
Grand Haven, Michigan, November 13, 1933.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Ottawa County, Michigan.
Gentlemen:

Your committee on Agriculture, to which was referred the matter of the payment of sparrow bounties for the coming season, has the honor to report as follows:

Whereas, on account of the depressed conditions obtaining in the county, the amount of taxes which will be returned as delinquent will be as large as, if not larger than usual for the past several years, and the funds available for county use will be correspondingly small, we deem it wise to omit the payment of the bounty for this coming season.

We therefore recommend that the county clerk be instructed to notify the general township clerks that such bounty will not be refunded by the county for the winter of 1933 and 1934.

Respectfully submitted,
HARM FLAGMEYER

Library Obtains Famous English Dictionary Set

THIRTEEN VOLUMES IN COMPLETE EDITION

"Probably the greatest book in the library, next to the Bible," that is the gist of Professor Ritter's enthusiastic comment on the new English Dictionary, recently acquired by the college library.

Fifty years in the compiling, this massive Oxford production is the most nearly complete record of the whole English language ever gotten together. Each of the thirteen volumes is as large as many atlases and together the set consists of thirteen tomes. The total number of pages alone is more than 15,000.

Although portions of the Oxford English Dictionary had been given to the public at various intervals since the official beginning, in April, 1882, its appearance in its present form in 1928 was a distinct literary event. Scholars everywhere acclaim it the most nearly perfect dictionary ever published. Reading the introduction, one is struck by the fact that this great piece of literature came very close to not appearing at all. The Philological Society of London undertook the publication of a superior English dictionary as early as 1857, but it was not until 1882 that a publisher could be found for this imposing work. In the two decades preceding a vast assortment of material had collected from the various readers who volunteered their services. Instead of having a few amanuensis and readers plying their labors, scores of readers had sent in slips bearing the historical data of thousands of words, so when James Murray took upon himself the immense task of editing the greatest dictionary in the world he found he had a literal house full of paper.

Native African Tells Amazing Life History

Last Tuesday morning Lo Bogola, a native African bushman, whose birthplace is a three days' walk south of the Niger river, addressed the student body in another Lyceum course number.

Very dramatically he described his inward conflict in trying to reconcile the teachings of his blood father and of his white father, and in learning the countless little ways of civilization.

In introducing the man, Dr. Wichers attributed the change in him to the influence of Christianity, and Lo Bogola confirmed his statement by saying that he was glad to have been brought out of savagery not because of our inventions and civilization, but only because of our God of love.

Lo Bogola, whose real name is Bata Kindai Anjoza Ibn Lo Bogola, is one of the most genuinely interesting men in America today. It seems hard to believe that this man who addressed us in such flawless English, was at one time a little affection-starved French Sudanese bushboy, and that his blood brother is a fierce bushman, who has threatened to kill Lo Bogola on sight. He did not mention in his talk that he served with great credit in the world war, nor that his travels and observations have been much wider than he led us to believe. Since the death of his benefactor in Scotland, Lo Bogola has spent years on this continent, Europe and Africa, traveling, lecturing, and studying. There is no doubt that he is one of the most remarkable men who has ever visited our campus.

PLANS INCLUDE ATHLETIC FIELD FOR FOOTBALL, BASEBALL, TRACK

Important improvements are being carried out on Hope's campus, directed by the city engineer. The project aims to beautify the southeastern section of the campus as well as to provide a suitable place for Hope's athletic activities.

Men are now busy constructing a regulation size football field to the south of the Carnegie gym. The entire field is being elevated and graded in order to secure adequate drainage. Several sections of the field are being elevated over one foot. A cinder track will be constructed around the football field. This will give Hope adequate facilities for the development of its track program, since it will give the local runners a place to practice and to hold field meets.

The project also provides for a new baseball diamond to the east of the present backstop. A new backstop will be erected, and base lanes will be carefully laid out. The entire baseball diamond will be sodded with exception of the base lanes and the pitcher's box.

The workers will also landscape the grounds directly in front of Van Raalte Hall, extending the lawn from the chapel to the campus drive. Besides this the college authorities plan to terrace the sand hill in the southeastern tip of the campus, thus creating an excellent amphitheater for outdoor pageant work.

Dr. W. Wichers, in speaking of the project, stated that the football field was not intended as a permanent gridiron on which varsity games are to be played. Hope will continue to play its games at Riverview park.

Dr. Wichers Attends Board of Ed. Meeting

Dr. W. Wichers traveled to New York City Tuesday, December 5, to attend the regular meeting of the Reformed Church Board of Education, and to promote the interests of Hope College among various prominent individuals.

Our president addressed the Hope Alumni organization of that city on Wednesday morning. The group discussed various means of aiding our college in securing several necessary improvements.

In discussing the meeting the Board of Education, Dr. Wichers stated that the board was very much interested in the new youth fellowship movement which is being promoted by Rev. R. Drukker, pastor of one of our Grand Rapids churches. This movement aims to provide a definite organization for the youth of the Reformed Churches of America.

Prof. D. Ritter Honored By Nat'l Eng. Council

At the twenty-third annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English, held this year on November 30 and December 1 and 2 at the Hotel Statler in Detroit, Deekard Ritter of the college English department acted as secretary of a sectional meeting convening the morning of Dec. 2 under the chairmanship of Oscar J. Campbell of the University of Michigan. Topics under discussion at this particular meeting included "Some Experiments in the Teaching of Literature," "College Reading" and "Objective Teaching."

JUNIOR CLASS MAPS WORK FOR THE PUBLICATION OF STUDENT ANNUAL

The Milestone staff of 1934 is already busy at work on plans for the publication of the year book. For the past few years, the Milestone has been a subject for speculation and conjecture. This year, however, definite plans for the publication of a Milestone of the type published previous to 1930 seems assured.

The colorful drama of college life will be reproduced as authentically as possible, including the Administration, the class of '33—who, for unavoidable reasons, did not have a yearbook—the four present Classes, Societies, Organizations, Activities, Athletics, and those memories which are the heart of college life.

Immediately after the Christmas recess the pictures of the Junior, Sophomore, and Fresh classesmen will be taken, as well as those of the Societies and Organizations. In this the staff requests the help of the students so that they and the staff together can build a yearbook which will truly be a "milestone" at Hope, as pictorially true, as rhetorically perfect, and as artistically beautiful as can be done.

Nykerk, Steffens Lead Hope Five To Initial Win

The Hope basketball team opened the season Friday evening at the Armory with a 29-21 victory over Ferris Institute of Big Rapids.

Starting slowly but getting a 14-9 lead before the first half closed, the Orange and Blue basketballers maintained that lead without trouble during the second half. Coach Hinga's men at times looked flashy but certain weaknesses appeared which are always present in the first game of the year. However, in the second half the Big Rapids boys proved easy enough so that every man on the Hope squad was given a tryout.

Next week the Hope team travels to Big Rapids to play Ferris a return game.

Nykerk with 11 and Steffens with 8 points shone for Hope, while Freeman looked best for the visitors with 8 points.
