NEW PLANT OFFICIALLY OPENS — The opening of the new addition to the Parke, Davis & Company plant on Howard Ave. in Holland was marked Wednesday with a tour for company and city officials and local and visiting newsmen. The honey-combed appearance of the 336-foot long structure is the result of the 10,000 plastic "pop-out" windows. The H-shaped structure houses four separate production areas. Construction on the new addition started in July, 1959. The building was constructed and equipped at a cost of $7½ million.

Parke-Davis Shows Plant To Visitors

Parke, Davis & Company, one of the nation's largest pharmaceutical firms, opened its new $7½ million chemical plant in Holland with guided tours Wednesday for company officials from Detroit, Holland city officials and local and visiting newsmen.

The Parke-Davis structure located on Howard Ave. on the north side of Lake Macatawa is a two-story, H-shaped structure built predominantly of concrete and plastic. The new facility is for the manufacture of nearly 50 fine chemicals used in some of the company's 500 medicinal products.

The new building was designed by A. M. Kinney, Inc., of Cincinnati, Ohio, in conjunction with the Parke-Davis engineering division. It represents the ultimate in safety for personnel and property. "An unusually large amount of plastic materials has been used in this chemical plant," according to T. C. Anderson, vice president and director of production and engineering for Parke-Davis.

Eighty per cent of the building's exterior walls are windows of plastic, 10,000 in all; miles of pipes and tubes are of similar material. A total of 25 million pounds of precast and cast-in-place concrete were used in the building. The structure rests on more than 600 steel pilings sunk to a depth of 60 feet.

Anderson said the new plant was located in Holland to permit utilization of services and facilities and land available at the existing plant. Parke-Davis began manufacturing in Holland in 1951 after purchasing its original six buildings from the Armour Leather Co.

The existing six buildings are used for the manufacture of Chloromycetin, an antibiotic; the production of Benadryl, an antihistamine; and certain packaging operations. They will continue to be used for these purposes.

The manufacture of fine chemicals — those produced in pure form and in relatively small quantities — was moved to Holland from Detroit because facilities there were scattered and inefficient and unsuitable for expansion to meet increasing demands for these essential chemicals.

Employment by Parke-Davis in Holland was expected to be increased to approximately 250 with the opening of the new addition, boosting the company's annual payroll to about $1,250,000, Anderson said.

Construction of the new building was started in July, 1959. Darin & Armstrong, Inc., was general contractor, while Lorne Plumbing and Heating Co. and Harlan Electric Co., handled the mechanical and electrical work. All firms are located in Detroit.

The fireproof new building contains a total of 105,700 square feet and measures 336 feet in length by 192 feet wide. Four separate, self-contained manufacturing units are located at the points of the "H", while the "crossbar," or central section, provides office, warehouse, utility and locker area.

One hundred reactors, ranging in capacity from five to 3,500 gallons, are installed in the manufacturing quadrants, along with filters, centrifuges and driers. Most of the equipment is glass-lined steel or special corrosion-resistant alloys.

Additions to the company's existing facilities were necessary to handle the water and electrical needs of the new plant.

The existing power house was expanded with the installation of a new 50,000 pound-per-hour high pressure steam generator and a turbine generator. Low pressure steam exhausted from the turbine is used for chemical processing.

Water pumping capacity for both the existing and the new plant was increased to 18 million gallons per day; 10 million gallons daily for process cooling; 7 million gallons for fire protection and one million gallons for drinking.

The plant's potable water supply comes from wells on company-owned property located on Douglas Ave., one block north of the plant site.

Thieves Take Valuables From Home in Breakin

Thieves Friday staged a daylight breakin at the home of J. A. Brieve at 906 136th Ave. and took several items valued at $600 to $700, Ottawa County deputies said.

Included in the loot were a diamond ring, antique mantle clock and antique silverware. Most of the loot was taken from a dining room and bedroom.

The breakin was discovered by Brieve at 5 p.m. Friday. Deputies placed the time of the breakin between 1 and 5 p.m. They said entry was gained by forcing a door open.

The ventilation and fume removal system in the new facility, operating at floor and ceiling levels, provides five complete air changes per hour in manufacturing areas.

Concrete was used extensively for the building frame because of its resistance to corrosion and its ability to withstand explosion and fire. Epoxy concrete and epoxy paint were used extensively throughout the plant for further corrosion protection.

Solvents used in manufacturing are stored in an adjacent area and are pumped to metering stations located throughout the plant. Each solvent pump can be started and stopped at each metering station. A rotating transit concrete mixer is used to prevent ice cubes used in manufacturing from freezing together, permitting easy handling.

To minimize hazards and provide greater manufacturing flexibility, each of the four production areas has independent electrical power systems with the motor control centers located in non-hazardous equipment rooms. Lighting, heating and ventilating equipment are supplied from a separate motor control center.

Fire protection at the new plant includes a trained fire squad composed of plant employees and an extensive system of automatic sprinklers and hose houses in addition to numerous fire extinguishers.

Sixteen automatic air-operated and 16 manually operated double fire doors offer additional protection against fire. Operating on a heat principle, the air-operated doors between the manufacturing areas of the plant, close automatically in case of fire.

The building is equipped with some 45 emergency showers and eyewash fountains, scattered throughout each of the four production areas, in case of accidental spillages of chemicals.

Employees are furnished with two sets of work clothes by the company. Clothing is changed in spacious locker rooms prior to and when leaving work. Shower rooms are located adjacent to locker facilities. Special racks for shoes are built underneath the lockers.

Some of the chemicals manufactured at the new plant are being used in the following Parke-Davis products: Ambodryl (for treatment of allergy symptoms); Camoquin Hydrochloride (for treatment of malaria); Celontin (anticonvulsant for epilepsy); Chloretone (antinauseant for prevention of seasickness); Milontin (anticonvulsant for epilepsy); Primaquin Phosphate (antimalarial drug); Promacetin (for treatment of leprosy); Sal-Ethyl Carbonate (an antipyretic for use in arthritis and related conditions); Silvol (for minor inflammatory conditions of eye, nose and throat); and Surtal (an anesthetic).

Parke-Davis facilities in Holland are under the direction of Plant Superintendent Donald J. Vink. Earl L. Van House supervises production in the new chemical building, while W. F. Roser is in charge of chemical operations in the original installation.

The Junior Church members of Third Reformed Church will meet at the church at 4 p.m. Friday for a party and supper after which, at 6 p.m., they will go to the Resthaven Home where they will entertain residents and present gifts. About 60 juniors will take part in the events. At 7:30 p.m. Friday the Junior Fellowship group will have a Christmas party in the church.

Students of Apple Avenue School will present their annual Christmas program Friday afternoon at 1 p.m. A tea will follow for parents and guests.

$500 Granted In Civil Case

GRAND HAVEN — Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Tuesday filed an opinion awarding $500 damages plus costs to Mr. and Mrs. Chester Walnowiak against Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reminder Jr. who had erected a motel next to the Walnowiak property in Spring Lake.

The agreement provides an easement for Reminder to maintain his motel as presently located and the right to enter plaintiff's land to make necessary repairs and maintain the premises.

The suit was heard before Judge Smith without a jury Dec. 5. In the original complaint plaintiffs asked that the motel be moved back and the court opinion determined this solution to be inequitable and economically unfeasible. The easement will allow motel owners to maintain a roof overhang and awning overhang and the right to maintain a two-foot fill to protect footings against frost.

Discipline Is Problem At Library

Cooperation of Parents Sought as Youngsters Tend to Get Out of Hand

Herrick Public Library has been having disciplinary problems. With hundreds of children and young people pouring into the library at noon, after school and in the evening, and not enough chairs to seat them, noisy habits on the part of youngsters and teenagers have developed, sometimes even leading to pranks and destruction.

Beset with problems of maintaining order, Librarian Hazel Hayes hastened to add, "We love children, we welcome them, and we want them to have books and library services, but they must behave and have respect for the staff."

She sought the cooperation of parents, suggesting that they accompany their children to the library on occasion. She also suggested that those students who do not need reference books in their studies might study at home. It has become the habit of teenagers to come to the library with an armful of school books and never once refer to a library book.

Herrick Public Library has 175 seats divided into sections for children, junior high, senior high and adults. During noon hour, it had become the habit for some 250 to 300 students to walk in at the south entrance and out of the front in a noisy and troublesome manner. This was solved when the staff closed the ramp entrance from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

But noisy conduct continued in the evening and adults have taken to visiting the library during off-hours.

Recently, the board decided to have a uniformed police officer on the premises each evening.

Mrs. Hayes said libraries all over the country are experiencing similar difficulties.

"It was a little late in coming to Holland. Certainly, with the cooperation of parents, we can solve it," she said.

Mrs. Preston Luidens is president of the Library Board. Other members are Mrs. Henry Steffens, Donald Thomas, Hero Bratt and Dr. Kenneth Weller.

She was born in Chicago and was employed for 37 years in the accounting and packing department of Western Electric Co. She retired in 1955. She was a member of the Christian Reformed Church of Des Moines, Ill.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Overzet of Grand Haven and Mrs. Ed Witt of Denver, Colo.; three brothers, Fred of Alamosa, Colo., the Rev. William Swierenga of Comstock Park and Harry of Denver, Colo.

Holland High Fieldhouse Floor Is Being Installed

Dick Ter Beek Succumbs at 71

Dick Ter Beek, 71, of 364 Howard Ave., died this morning at Holland Hospital.

He was a life long member of First Reformed Church and was a member of the Chancel Choir for 30 years, as well as a former member of the Men's Adult Bible Class.

For 41 years he was employed by the Harrington Coal Co. as branch manager of their north side office. Mr. and Mrs. Ter Beek were married 51 years ago last Thanksgiving Day.

He is survived by his wife, Nellie, and two sons, Raymond A. of Holland and Marvin J. of Grand Rapids; eight grandchildren; one brother, John, and three sisters, Mrs. James M. Cook, Mrs. Richard Schaddelee and Mrs. Ruth Nonhof all of Holland.

Installation of the basketball floor in the new Holland High School fieldhouse is taking place this week and 90 per cent of the work is expected to be completed by Friday.

Workers are presently laying wooden strips for the playing surface of the floor. The wooden strips are two and three-eighths inches wide and about three-quarters of an inch thick and are clipped together with a corrugated strip of metal.

Clips are also driven into the groove of each strip as part of an anti-buckling process. The strips measure from two to 16 feet in length and are laid end-to-end on the 96-foot long floor.

The initial step in laying the floor was putting an asphalt primer on the concrete. This is followed by the placing of steel strips or "power steel channels" on the floor.

These strips measure about an inch in width and 1½" steel pins are "shot" into the strips with a rammer. The strips are placed a foot apart for the entire length of the playing floor.

The pins are "shot" into the "channels" every 12 inches along the strips across the width of the 96-foot floor.

After the steel strips have been laid, a water proofing insulator is put between the "channels." The strips of hard maple wood are then placed on the floor.

A group of 24 persons, representing several floor firms, visited Holland this week to watch the floor process. The method is regarded as one of the latest in the laying of gymnasium floors.

Officials of the firm laying the floor, said the method used on the fieldhouse is called a "power lock floor" because of the "locking" of the pieces of wood. The Civic Center floor is an "iron bound" floor and is laid in mastic.

Including the finishing of the floor, the entire floor project should be completed in two weeks, school officials said. The next gym floor project will be the Lincoln elementary school and this floor will be installed by the same floor firm after the fieldhouse floor is completed.

The 25 Gray Ladies of the Ottawa County chapter of the Red Cross had their Christmas polka dinner Wednesday evening at the VFW clubhouse.

Pick Up Students For Cutting Tree

Five Hope College students were picked up today by Holland police in connection with cutting down a blue spruce tree last week in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

Police said the five have admitted the vandalism. Two of the students are freshmen and three are second year students. They were scheduled to be arraigned on charges in Municipal court later today.

Judge Cornelius Vander Molen indicated that in the event guilty pleas are entered, he might delay sentencing until after Christmas vacation. Two of the students are from Michigan and three from out of state.

Detectives said the students, all living at the same address, got rid of the tree after reading of the incident in the Sentinel. However, they kept a single bough which they attached to an outside door of their rooming house, detectives said.

Jans had a better percentage of free shots with 13 of 21. Holland had 43 chances and made 20.

Traverse City, still thinking about its unbeaten football season and the LMAC crown, committed 31 fouls in the game. The Dutch were charged with 15.

Each team made 16 baskets with Holland connecting on 16 of 41 for 39 per cent while the Trojans made 16 of 52 shots for 31 per cent. Traverse City made only six baskets in the second half in 26 tries while Holland sank eight of 16.

Holland banged home seven baskets in 15 tries in the first quarter and led by one point, 18-17 at the period. The Trojans made six of 13.

Then Holland had a bad quarter and the Dutch sank only one basket in 10 tries. The Trojans were not much better but did hit four of 13 and moved to a 30-23 halftime lead.

But Holland came back and with the third period only two minutes old the Dutch had tied the score 30-30. Carl Walters put Holland ahead for the first time in the second half with a free throw to make it 36-35 with 1:40 remaining.

The Dutch stayed in front to hold a 40-37 third period advantage. In the third quarter Holland sank five baskets in eight tries while Traverse had three of 15.

The final quarter saw the game tied twice with Holland going into command for good with 3:29 left. Ferry Nyland sank a basket to give the Dutch a 46-44 lead and he never again trailed.

In the first couple minutes of the last period Traverse sneaked ahead by two points but Holland jumped back and into the lead, 43-42 with 5:39 remaining. The score was tied 43-43 with 4:30 left and then Holland roared ahead 44-43 with 4:24 to play but eight seconds later the Trojans tied it.

Then came Nyland's basket and Holland took command the rest of the game and gave the Trojans only one more point. Nyland led Holland with 15 points, including seven free shots. He fouled out of his third straight game.

Holland sank three of eight from the floor in the fourth period and the Trojans made three of 11. Junior center Mike De Vries, who had been bothered all week with boils, scored 12 points for Holland while Walters, who played about half the game, tallied nine.

Walters operated at half speed because of a knee injury and it is reported the junior guard will have an operation on the knee during the holidays. Geall led the osers with 21 points.

Holland continues in LMAC competition next Friday night in its home opener against Muskegon in the Civic Center. The Dutch now have an overall 1-2 record. Muskegon lost to Muskegon Heights, 58-60 Friday night to give the Big Reds a 1-1 record.

It was Traverse City's second straight loss. The Trojans entertain Sault Ste. Marie next Friday night.

Frosh Lose First Game

GRAND RAPIDS—West Ottawa's freshman team started the season on a sour note as they were defeated by Godwin 55-27 Friday afternoon.

Godwin displayed a good tight man-to-man defense and a good fast break to build-up a big 16-5 first quarter lead and then coast to victory. Godwin held a 31-13 halftime lead and a 47-16 third quarter lead.

Coach Vern Ingalsbee played every man on his squad while looking for a winning combination. Ingalsbee felt that a deciding factor in the game was their lack of practice on a big floor.

Doug Overbeek led the Panther scoring with 10 points, followed by Bruce Van Huis with five; Arvin Visser three; Steve Vander Lip, Nelson Dyke and Tim Victor with two points and Dennis Reimink with one point. The little Panthers hit on three of 11 free throws.

A Godwin player tried to help the Panthers when he scored two points at the wrong basket. The freshmen travel to East Grand Rapids next Friday for another Grand Valley contest.

Godwin Beats West Ottawa

GRAND RAPIDS—West Ottawa's reserve basketball team played a good ball game, but still was defeated by Godwin 52-42 in a game played at Godwin gym Friday night.

The Panthers jumped out to a first quarter lead of 12-10 and played on even terms with the scrappy Godwin squad. A full court press bothered the Panthers in the second quarter and they went into halftime with a four point deficit, 24-28.

Godwin kept the pressure of the tight man-to-man defense on the Panthers during the rest of the game and the Panthers were never able to get closer than eight points after midway in the third quarter.

The losers had numerous opportunities in the fourth quarter to close the gap, but they missed easy shots and missed 10 free throws on one-and-one situations. The Panthers made only 4 of 20 free throws in the contest.

Coach Karl Essenburg was happy about the improved play of the team as they showed much more hustle and rebounding strength. Bruce Johns, Clary Vanden Bosch, and Steve Piersma were his strong rebounders for the Panthers.

Vanden Bosch, Johns, and Piersma also led the Panthers in scoring with 11, 10, and eight points respectively, followed by Tom Fairbanks with four. Paul Buscher with three; Dave Farabee, Dave Underwood, and Dave Vitzthum with two.

Toppen of Godwin was a real problem for the Panthers as he drove and shot for 24 points in the game.

The reserves now have a record of 0-2 and will attempt to win their first contest next Friday at East Grand Rapids.

The Hamilton reserves stopped the Sand Lake seconds, 35-25. Sand Lake led 7-3 at the quarter while Hamilton had a 17-15 halftime margin. Hamilton led 30-16 at the end of the third quarter.

West Ottawa Drops Game To Godwin

GRAND RAPIDS—West Ottawa's basketball team opened its first Grand Valley season on the wrong foot at the Godwin gym Friday night, as the Wolverines crushed the Panthers 65-29.

The Panthers never got started in the game. After the Panthers were trailing 6-3 early in the first quarter, the Wolves poured it on by scoring 17 straight points to grab a 23-5 first quarter lead.

down the floor. The Panthers did not get many good shots during the first half and consequently did not make a high percentage of them.

Jerry Isler, 6'4" forward for the winners, scored 14 points during the first quarter to lead his team to their early lead.

Godwin, substituting freely, continued the pressure on the Panthers during the roughly-played second quarter and out-scored them 17-8 to build up a big 40-13 halftime lead.

The Panthers really hustled in the third quarter. Their offense still sputtered as they could only collect six points, but their defense was much improved as they moved into a zone and kept good pressure on the Wolves attack. The defense held Godwin to only six points during this quarter.

The last quarter was again rather roughly played and the Panthers were outscored 19-10.

Coach Herb Maatman felt that his team learned a valuable lesson last night. "Any team that competes in a league as tough as the Grand Valley must play fast and hard on both offense and defense. Godwin rushed all night and never let up. We must learn to keep this pace."

The Panthers hit on 11 of 52 shots in the game for a poor 21 per cent. In the first half they had 6-24, and in the second half 5-28. Godwin meanwhile made 25-65 in the game for 38 per cent. At the free throw line, West Ottawa had 7 of 15 for 47 per cent, while Godwin had 15 of 30 for 50 per cent.

Jerry Isler of Godwin played a good game and collected many rebounds and 22 points against the shorter Panthers in the half that he played. He made six of six free throws.

Tom Vitzthum was the only Panther to reach double figures as he scored 10 points.

West Ottawa is now 0-2 for the season and 0-1 in the Grand Valley while Godwin is 2-1 overall and 1-0 in Grand Valley competition. The Panthers move to another tough assignment next Friday as they travel to East Grand Rapids for another league contest.

Mrs. William Telling of Hinsdale, Ill., as matron of honor wore a beige faille sheath dress and carried cymbidium orchids. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Diekema selected a navy blue satin sheath dress with which she wore an orchid corsage.

Cited for Having Concealed Weapon

Philip N. Smith, 24, of Muskegon, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by detective John Hemple and Sgt. Gerald Witteveen of the Ottawa County Sheriff's Department on charges of carrying a concealed weapon.

Smith demanded examination at his arraignment Tuesday on the charge before Justice of the Peace Wilbur E. Kow. He was released on $100 bond to appear for examination Dec. 19.

Series of Dedication Plans Set for New School

"We want to emphasize our new high school program of education rather than the new building, and so we are planning a unique series of dedications over the entire second semester in which the various departments of the school will be highlighted," Wendell A. Miles told the Board of Education at its monthly meeting Monday night in the library of E. E. Fell Junior High School. Miles is chairman of the schools committee.

"It is more difficult to emphasize education than to inspect a new building, but we must not lose sight of the primary purpose of our educational functions, and to put this across to the people is a terrific job for the board, the administration and the teachers. A new building is a setting for a better educational program, and our studies and recommendations are made with those things in mind," Miles said.

He added that there are no specifics at this time other than that the first public meeting is tentatively scheduled Feb. 20 in the new fieldhouse emphasizing physical education, not athletics.

Supt. Walter W. Scott added that there is not another school in Western Michigan which has as complete a physical education program from kindergarten through 12th grade as Holland has had for several years.

Miles said other departments to be highlighted at intervals before the end of the second semester will be social studies, languages and communication skills, mathematics, art, music and vocational education.

He added that many persons in far-away places are interested in the new school in operation, and the committee is planning to have some well known personalities participate in the dedication series.

At the close of Miles' report for the schools committee, Harvey Butler informed the board that the Common Motor Carriers of Holland have volunteered their services in moving equipment to the new high school during moving week in January.

This operation will involve moving athletic supplies and equipment, machine shop equipment, library books, chairs from Third Church which were specifically purchased for use in the new high school, and many other miscellaneous items. Carriers participating will be Holland Motor Express, Associated Truck Lines, Grand Rapids Motor Express, Wolverine Express, Rooks Transfer and Citizens Transfer and Storage. Other firms with home offices elsewhere have offered services if needed, Butler said.

HOLLAND AREA

Last Saturday we toured the new West Ottawa Junior and Senior High School and were happy to meet some of the people who did a great amount of work in bringing this educational dream to reality.

We hope that with this fine new school and its fine equipment that teachers and students alike will make particular effort to see that the very best use is made of the new establishment and that everyone keeps in mind the fact that these new quarters are designed to improve education.

People should remember that Saturday's visit was only an informal open house and that several things in the gymnasium and swimming pool area are to be done before the school is fully completed. A formal opening will be held at a later date and the people of the community who did not visit the school Saturday should do so at the later date. People who will be paying for the school for several years to come should be interested.

Families with children in the lower grades will be paying for the bonds long after these children have graduated from high school. We need to keep these things in mind when people vote long term bonds for new buildings and equipment.

"Holland, All - Ways on the Grow" is the current motto of the community and those persons looking for places to locate industry should take a look at our area. We have many things to offer — fine schools, college, secondary, a harbor, lakes for recreation, churches and transportation services including rail and harbor. We should not forget water resources and the possibility of using Holland Harbor for large lake and ocean-going freighters.

The new Consumers Power plant will be finished one of these days, opening new avenues for industrial and commercial development. Much information is available. Write the Holland Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday School
Lesson

Sunday, December 17
Growth Through Adoration
Luke 1:39-55

By C. P. Dame

Next Sunday we will study the Christmas lesson. This lesson is a fine preparatory lesson for the coming Sunday. We need the spirit of adoration all the time but the Christmas season is a time when this spirit ought to be especially prominent in the lives of all true believers. And this spirit of adoration can minister to our spiritual growth.

I. Some people have enduring fame. Mary, the mother of Jesus, and Elisabeth, the mother of John the Baptist, belong to that class. Mary is mentioned in the first verse of the lesson text and Elisabeth is named in the second verse. The lesson says that Mary made a trip to the hill country, into a city of Judah and "entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth."

Note the two events that took place before Mary made this journey. The first was the announcement regarding the birth of John the Baptist to Zacharias and Elisabeth, an aged couple, and the second was the announcement to Mary by the angel Gabriel about the birth of Jesus. Both of these women felt highly honored. Mary was much younger than Elisabeth. Evidently she felt the need of counsel and guidance which an older person can give to the younger who seek it. And that may explain why Mary made this trip.

II. The Holy Spirit is always active but He is more active at certain times than at other times. The angel had said to Mary, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you." Observe too that Elisabeth "was filled with the Holy Spirit." As soon as Elisabeth saw Mary she burst forth into song and called her blessed and the mother of "My Lord."

Only in Luke's gospel do we find the Beatitude of Elisabeth, the Magnificat of Mary, the Benedictus of Zacharias and the Nunc Dimittis of Simeon and the songs of the angels. Mary and Elisabeth were both deeply religious, interested much in the spiritual realities of life and hence they had delightful fellowship together. Both looked with high expectation to the coming events in which they were to play a large role. Little did they realize in those days what joys and griefs awaited them.

III. Christianity has always fostered singing and music. The song of Mary, called "The Magnificat," has been used by the church in its worship services from early times. This song reveals Mary's character. It shows that she was familiar with the song of Hannah found in I Samuel 2 and with the Old Testament psalms. Mary's song is divided into two parts. The first part, composed of verses 46-49 is personal. In these verses she honors God for what He has done for her. "My soul doth magnify the Lord" — these words reveal much.

We too, are here for that purpose. In the second part, verses 50-55, Mary speaks of the mighty deeds of God wrought on behalf of all mankind. The public spiritness of Mary is manifested clearly in the second part of her song. A reading of her song reveals that Mary had caught the spirit of the Old Testament prophets. The phrases "scattered the proud," and "He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree," remind us of the sturdy, rugged prophets, who in the olden days, denounced the proud and commended the humble. Mary was very God conscious as the words which she spoke and about her God strikingly reveal! We do not believe in worshipping Mary but we surely believe in honoring her and in imitating her attitude of self-surrender and devotion to God.

Rev. James Wayer Retires
After 57 Years in Ministry

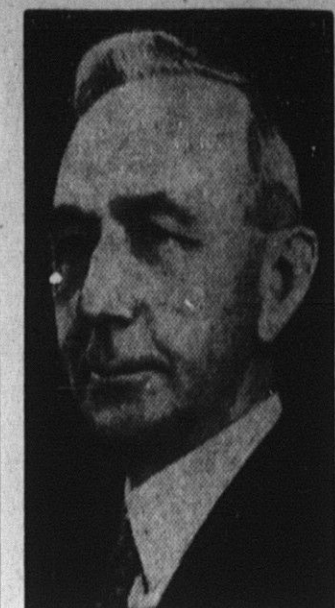

The Rev. James Wayer, assistant pastor of Hope Church for more than 10 years, has tendered his resignation to the consistory and plans to retire.

During his 57 years in the ministry, he served as pastor of five churches, starting in 1907 as pastor of Ebenezer Reformed Church east of Holland. Twelve years later he became pastor of First Reformed Church in Holland, serving 20 years. In 1939, the Wayers went to First Reformed Church at Racine, Wis., where they remained until 1949 when they returned to Holland intending to retire. Instead he accepted the position of assistant minister at Hope Church.

Rev. Wayer was born in the Netherlands and came to this country in 1892. He was graduated from Hope College in 1901 and from Western Theological Seminary in 1904. The same year he married Margaret Maring, daughter of a pioneer settler of Muskegon. That year he was ordained minister in Ebenezer Church.

Mrs. Wayer has also been active in church and community work. She served for 30 years on the Reformed Church Board of Foreign Missions. She has been active in the Woman's Literary Club and is well known for her book reviews.

On the double occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary and the ordination into the Christian ministry of Rev. Wayer seven years ago, the late Mayor Harry Harrington wrote these words: "The value of Christian service that both of you have made in this community and elsewhere can never be estimated. What we do for ourselves dies with us, but what we do for our communities lives on."

The Wayers were honored at a dinner Thursday night attended by consistory members and their wives and the Rev. and Mrs. William C. Hillegonds, Randall C. Bosch, vice president of the consistory, was master of ceremonies and spoke on behalf of the consistory and Hope Church. Both Rev. and Mrs. Wayer responded with interesting anecdotes in each of their church homes. The Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp gave the closing prayer.

The Wayers will be honored at a reception at the 11 a.m. service of Hope Church Sunday, Dec. 17, in the parish hall.

Chapel Filled for 33rd
Rendition of 'Messiah'

Despite blustery winter weather, Dimment Memorial Chapel was filled for the 33rd annual presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" Tuesday night.

After an absence of two years, it was delightful to hear the great oratorio again in the beautiful memorial chapel decked with blue lights for side lighting for the Christmas season. For the past two years, a selected chorus had sung only excerpts of "The Messiah" at Civic Center presentations of "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

The 250-voice chorus under the direction of Dr. Robert W. Cavanaugh was at its best in the climactic "Hallelujah Chorus," the final selection in which the audience traditionally rises to its feet. While this chorus is a fitting climax to a great work, Handel's beautiful "Amen Chorus" has gone by the board through the years. Perhaps the chorus will sing it some time.

The beautiful oratorio solos by four visiting artists highlighted Tuesday's presentation, particularly the return visit of Richard Scheiber, baritone, who sang the difficult arias and recitatives with ease and competence. He scored a hit with the chorus when he turned to it in the final rendition of the aria, "Why Do the Nations?" He previously appeared as baritone soloist here in 1957 and 1958.

Newcomers to Holland this year were Jean Morrison, soprano, Patricia Sage, contralto, and Lawrence Lane, tenor. All soloists are of Chicago. Lane gave a fine lyrical rendition of the tenor selections, particularly the opening "Comfort Ye My People" and "Every Valley Shall be Exalted." Miss Sage gave a dramatic interpretation of the beautiful contralto solos, especially "He Was Despised" and the favorite "He Shall Feed His Flock."

Miss Morrison handled the well known soprano solos with sensitive feeling and regard for delicate shading. A highlight was her rendition of the joyful "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth."

Roger Rietberg at the organ and Anthony Kooker at the piano did their usual highly competent jobs as accompanists, assisted by the college orchestra trained by Morrette Rider, associate conductor for "The Messiah."

Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, college president, gave the invocation.

At a business meeting conducted by Dr. Clarence De Graaf, vice president of the consistory, the following elders and deacons were elected: Dr. Arnold Dood, John Scholten and Bernard Sterenberg, elders; Dave Holkeboer and Robert Scholten, deacons. The retiring elders are Edward Koops, present clerk of the consistory, Andrew Knoll and John Van Til. Retiring deacons are Dick Geenen and John Otting.

ICE CREAM STORE BURNS — Lt. Fred Pothuis of the Holland Fire Department sits the charred ruins of the Mills Ice Cream Co. office for clues on the cause of blaze which gutted the firm's office late Friday night. The blaze flared up a second time at 5 a.m. Saturday and gutted the entire second floor. Damages caused by the blaze were estimated at approximately $3,000.

Mills Ice Cream Co. Hit
By Early Morning Fire

Fire which flared up a second time at Mills Ice Cream Co. at 206 College Ave. early Saturday caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the second floor and roof of the two-story building.

Holland firemen were called back to the scene at 5 a.m. Saturday when a Holland policeman noticed smoke and flame in the upper floor of the store. Firemen had put out an earlier fire at the store at 11 p.m. Friday.

The cause of the blaze which gutted the second floor of the building and burned through the roof was not determined, firemen said.

The first floor of the building, containing an ice cream parlor and soda bar, suffered no fire damage, but firemen said water damage on the first floor was extensive.

Firemen were summoned to the ice cream store at 11 p.m. Friday when a policeman noticed smoke coming from the rear of the building and turned in a fire alarm.

The blaze was confined to a stairwell and office at the rear of the store. The fire was discovered only about 10 minutes after store manager Thomas Speake had left the building.

Speake said there was no indication of any trouble when he locked the store at 10:50 p.m.

The fire apparently flared up the second time toward the front of the building, firemen said. The front part of the second story was used for storage.

Speake said the company might possibly be forced out of business at the present location. A city zoning ordinance provides that such a wooden building damaged more than 20 per cent of its insured value may not be replaced unless granted permission by City Council.

Benefits Holland Children

Children of Holland will benefit from the annual Candy Cane Charity Ball sponsored by the Junior Welfare League. The ball this year will be held Saturday at the Civic Center starting at 9 p.m.

Holland hospital's pediatrics department benefits through the League program. Also a part of the services to children are glasses, milk, vitamins and layettes for persons needing these items and unable to pay for them.

This is the eighth year the League will put on the dance to benefit Holland's underprivileged children in some way. Special decorations this year will not be removed as is the custom. Instead, Holland area children are invited to come to the Civic Center on Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. to see Santa's workshop and other ball decorations. They will receive candy canes as they leave.

League members have been working at each meeting on the special decorations which are to be a surprise. Also part of the pre-ball excitement are the dresses the members and guests will wear at the ball. A preview was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Klomprens, co-chairman, 643 West 24th St.

Gowns vary from the formal to the informal — short length skirts and down to the floor. Sleeveless gowns and those with varying length sleeves were among those shown. Bright colors, white and black were among the favorites.

Mrs. James Pollock and Mrs. Klomprens are co-chairmen of the ball. Mrs. Henry Mass Jr., is in charge of favors; Mrs. William Vandenberg Jr., decorations; Mrs. Jack Lamb, cleanup and Mrs. Howard Poll, publicity.

Reservations may be obtained from League members, the Chamber of Commerce and Hansen's Drugs.

Hope Tops Adrian For MIAA Victory

Dutch Score 93-74 Win Over Bulldogs

Hitting on 50 per cent of its shots in the second half, Hope College's basketball team rolled over Adrian College, 93-74 here Saturday night before 1,500 fans in the Civic Center.

It was Hope's initial MIAA win and second overall. The Flying Dutchmen now have a 2-2 mark while Adrian is 1-1 in the league and 1-3 overall.

After leading by five points, 41-36 at half, Hope opened up the second half and raced to a 14-point 52-38 lead in the first three minutes and that was the game.

Adrian cut the margin to 10 points, 58-48 with 14 minutes left but another Hope spurt led by Glenn Van Wieren quickly zoomed the Dutch to a 67-48 count and the margin at the 10-minute mark was 70-54.

Hope enjoyed a 28-point lead twice in the final four minutes. The Dutch led 91-63 with 2:16 left and scored two more points.

Jim Vander Hill, the defending MIAA scoring champion, started strong defense of his crown with 31-point performance including 14 baskets. Most of the two-pointers were the long one-hand jump shot variety. The basket getting the most applause was a two-hander from the side near mid-court.

Van Wieren is rapidly developing into Hope's No. 2 scoring punch. The Holland sophomore banged home 10 baskets, mostly one-hand jump shots from around the foul circle.

Scoring five baskets early in the second half, Van Wieren paced the drive. He also tallied five buckets in the first half and added four free throws for 24 points.

Van Wieren did a good job of digging out loose balls and then beating the defense down the floor and was also strong on the defensive boards. Vander Hill was also strong on both boards along with Capt. Ek Buys who added 15 points.

Adrian made a game of it in the first half and the contest was tied 15 times. The last tie was 36-36 with 1:05 left to play in the first half. Van Wieren added a quick basket and Buys scored a free shot and basket to give Hope a five-point halftime lead.

The Dutch shot a fine 47 per cent in the game with 33 baskets in 82 tries while Adrian made 34 of 82 for 40 per cent. Hope sank 17 of 51 in the first half for 33 per cent and Adrian had a 17 of 38 for 45 per cent. The Bulldogs made 17 of 44 for 36 per cent.

Hope again used a zone defense most of the time and the Dutch committed only 10 fouls. Adrian got only eight free shots and made six. The Dutchmen 15 of 23 free throws.

Little Don Harned led Adrian with 22 points while John Johnson and Ron Schult each had 16.

Overflow Crowds Attend Children's Play in WLC

Overflow crowds descended on the Woman's Literary Club Saturday for the four performances of the children's play, "Rumpelstiltskin," presented by Holland Community Theatre.

When all children could not be seated at the first afternoon performance, they were invited into the basement where Mrs. Fred Davis and Janet Walker entertained them with stories and games as they waited for the next performance.

Unusual lighting effects provided eerie drama in some of the witches' scenes. Only when the merry miller and his wife took over did the tension lift. Children were fascinated with the stage tricks of spinning straw into gold, the sword fight between the young prince and courtiers and the flashy colorful costumes.

Rumpelstiltskin, as played by Mrs. Robert Greenwood Sr., was the hit of the show, particularly in her scenes as the bad little man who threw temper tantrums and finally went to pieces in a rage. Her original ballet was a show stopper for the children, fascinated by song and dance.

Another favorite was Dale Conklin as the bragging miller. Judy Garlock as the miller's wife showed considerable improvement in stage presence and poise over her earlier appearance in "High Ground." Dennis O'Meara as the king in a kingly velvet robe showed regal authority as he commanded the miller's daughter to spin straw into gold or die.

Mary Slag as the miller's daughter appeared as a shy girl at first giving the drama just the right touch of pathos. Aided by Rumpelstiltskin, she spun straw into gold and became a kind and loving queen and devoted mother.

David Overton as the young prince demonstrated new talents in his singing in the garden and his dance with the young queen. Mrs. Robert Greenwood Jr., as Princess Karen, delighted the crowds with an original lullaby sung with guitar accompaniment. Donald Drew and Robert Greenwood Jr. were loyal, strong guardsmen and Jean Holman and Olyn Lipchik were ladies in waiting. Diane Noe was the devoted nurse and Barbara Kouw as page turned the pages of the large fairy tale book as the drama unfolded.

Mrs. Ray Reidsma, as the witch in a long velvet robe lined with flashing sequins and wearing a towering witch hat adorned with mystic symbols made a scary witch in an eerie setting over a pot bathed in green light.

Maria Van Faassen, director, was assisted by Diane Noe as technical director. David Overton on lights. Charles Anderson on sound. Arthur C. Yost on set designs. Gil Bussies Jr. on publicity and Jean Holleman in costumes.

Old Greek Tragedy Scores New Hit at Hope College

The old Greek tragedy "Medea" written many centuries ago by Euripides came to life again Thursday night as Palette and Masque of Hope College effectively presented the Robinson Jeffers adaptation before a full house in the music building on Hope campus. The play was presented again Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The powerful drama, popularized in this generation by Judith Anderson on the New York stage, is an ambitious project for any group, professional or amateur, but Director David P. Karsten's cast and production staff turned out a fine performance, reflecting weeks of hard work and meticulous regard for detail.

Donna Davis, a junior of Catskill, N. Y., emerged as a fine tragedienne in the title role. Experienced in poetic drama in previous productions of "Murder in the Cathedral" and "Way of the Cross," Miss Davis projected a driving passion as Medea, the wronged wife seeking revenge.

She received strong support from the entire cast, particularly from B. J. Berghorst, Zeeland junior, as the husband Jason who had been aided by Medea years previously in his quest for the Golden Fleece.

Nancy Lees who scored in the previous PM production of Truman Capote's "The Grass Harp" was equally effective as Medea's nurse. The three women of Corinth, on stage for almost the entire play, were played by Edith Prince, Virginia Mortensen and Leanne Ridderhoff. Contrasts in voice tones highlighted their performances.

Carl Benes appeared as the tyrannical Creon who ordered Medea banished from Corinth after Jason had deserted her to marry Ceron's daughter. Karl Jicha appeared as the tutor and Ken Baron as Aegaeus, an old friend. Douglas McCullough appeared as a slave in one dramatic sequence urging Medea to flee.

Children's parts were taken by Charles Vander Broek and Mark Vander Meer. Attendants appearing briefly were Jean Louret and Mary Ten Pas.

A stark modern setting and effective lighting were important factors.

The display is located on the west side of Centennial Park along River Ave. near 11th St. Jaycees will remove the display after New Year's.

Thief Steals Tree From Cemetery

Park Supt. Jacob De Graaf reported to city police Friday that a blue spruce tree 10 to 12 feet high had been chopped down in Pilgrim Home Cemetery, presumably for a Christmas tree.

The act of vandalism discovered Thursday is similar to a case four years ago when a tree also was chopped down. In that case, the youth was apprehended. His mother had given him money to buy a Christmas tree. He kept the money and chopped down a cemetery tree.

The current case involves a blue spruce in an area currently under development almost directly south of the cemetery office.

De Graaf said blue spruces are valuable trees, retailing at about $10 a foot at a nursery. In this case, the tree was worth well over $100.

ROUGH TRIP — Santa Claus arrived in Holland Thursday afternoon and was 'stranded' atop the Civic Center before the Holland Fire Department's hook and ladder truck came to the rescue. A cold and cautious Santa is shown descending toward the huge crowd of young, up-turned faces on hand to greet him. How Santa got to the top of the Civic Center is still a mystery. The helicopter which was to bring the jolly old gent to Holland could not get into town because of bad weather. Santa got warmed up shortly after his arrival and talked to the hundreds of children present while his helpers passed out candy cane treats to all.

Kentucky Occupied Strategic Spot for Both North and South

By Rev. Edward J. Masselink

Kentucky, as a state, occupied a strategic place in the war, and attempted to maintain a neutral position. On April 16, 1861 the governor refused to furnish troops demanded by the Federal Government. After an invasion of Southern troops in August, 1861, the legislature, after a very exciting discussion, gave its adherence to the Union. The population, however, remained divided in its loyalty. During the war 92,000 men served in the Union army, while 40,000 joined with Confederate forces.

Louisville was a very important military center for the Union Army, since it is the hub of transportation between the North and the South. By numerous railway connections, it was easily accessible from all points in the North. The Louisville to Nashville Railroad was the direct line of supply for the Union Army of the Cumberland which was encamped in southern Tennessee. By way of the Ohio River, materials could be sent by boat from Louisville to Memphis and Vicksburg, where Grant and Sherman were conducting their campaigns.

On April 1, 1863, the Twenty Fifth Michigan Volunteers, under the command of Colonel Orlando H. Moore, were transferred to Louisville, for military police duty. Colonel Moore was made the Provost Marshall of the city.

The Union Army maintained huge stockpiles of war material at Louisville. There were hundreds of cannon and sheds full of ammunition and rifles. Great quantities of salt beef and pork as well as beans and rice were kept in supply. Boots and shoes, denim for uniforms, medicines and gauze, saddles and harnesses — equipment for hundreds of thousands of soldiers were concentrated in this area. In addition to this, there was a large military prison. The task of Colonel Moore and his men was to guard these supplies, and maintain military order in the city.

The days at Louisville were the happiest period of the war. Spring had come to the south. They lived in barracks instead of in tents. The letters home were full of accounts of trips they had to take in escorting prisoners to and from Washington, Baltimore, Harper's Ferry, Cincinnati and other far off places. Numbers of the men were granted leaves to spend a few days at home. The liked Louisville.

Here at Louisville they found real opportunity to serve in the cause of freedom. On New Year's Day, 1863, Lincoln had issued his Emancipation Proclamation, legally freeing all slaves.

Kentucky was a slave state, even though it had remained until this time in the Union. The sentiments of the people, however, were with the South, and they had paid little attention to Lincoln's proclamation.

Many runaway slaves were at this time making their way to the west in getting across the Ohio River. When they came to Louisville, the city police would arrest them and place them in jail. If they were from Kentucky, they were returned to their plantations. The others placed on the slave block and sold over.

Colonel Moore came from Schoolcraft, which was an important station on the underground railway. Many fleeing slaves had found refuge in the Moore home, and often Orlando had helped his father transport them by night, in a closed carriage, to the next stop. The love of freedom ran hot in his blood.

Soon the barracks of the Twenty Fifth Michigan Volunteers became the refuge for runaways slaves who came to Louisville. The men gave them shelter during the day, and by night they would ferry them across to the Indiana side.

Before long the Louisville Journal and the Louisville Democrat wrote scathing editorials about this subject. When General Boyle asked Colonel Moore what all these Negroes were doing around the camp, Moore replied that they were needed as servants for the officers. Thereupon Colonel Moore issued the following order:

Headquarters Provost Marshall's Office,

Louisville, Kentucky,

May 1st, 1863.

Special Orders— No. 12

Hereafter all unlawful interference with the authorized Negro servants of officers of the United States Army, and Negroes legally entitled to their freedom, passing through Kentucky and Indiana, is prohibited; and while the legal rights of the citizens of Kentucky shall be strictly guarded, parties will be held responsible for such unlawful interferences.

(Signed)

Orlando H. Moore

Colonel 25th Mich. Inf. and Provost Marshall.

The following day Colonel Moore issued a second order to the effect that no more slave auctions were to be held in the city of Louisville. General Boyle demanded by what authority the sale of slaves was interfered with. Moore replied that he assumed the responsibility for this himself.

General Boyle demanded that the orders be retracted. When this was refused, General Boyle immediately relieved him of his post as Provost Marshall of the city of Louisville.

Moore appealed this matter to President Lincoln, who upheld Moore and, removing him from General Boyle's command, placed him directly under the command of Headquarters of the 23rd Army Corps at Lexington.

Before Lincoln's sustaining order could return, however, Colonel Moore and his Michigan Volunteers had again been transferred. Now they were sent for picket duty to Lebanon, Kentucky.

Maroons Use Tight Defense To Beat Chix

Holland Christian's Maroons handed the Zeeland basketball team its first defeat of the season Tuesday night in the Civic Center with a convincing 64-34 win over the Chix before 2,300 fans for Christian's second victory in three starts.

Coach Art Tuls' club outplayed the losers in all departments to coast to the victory. Zeeland held two one-point leads in the opening minutes of the game, but from then on never threatened. Christian managed to increase their margin in every quarter as Tuls used his entire 12-man squad.

Two factors played a big part in the Maroon victory. Christian's almost air tight defense kept the Chix outcourt all night long, seldom permitting a shot from closer in than the free throw lane. In addition the Maroons took complete control of the boards, especially the defensive one, allowing the invaders just one shot at the hoop.

With Holland's Jim Langeland, 6'5" center and Paul Steigenga, 6'3" forward doing most of the board work, the Maroons completely surprised the Chix with a smooth operating fast break. Repeatedly throughout the game, the Maroons had the Zeelanders outmanned coming downcourt and went in for the easy layup. Dan Zuverink, Jim Klinger and Gary Boeve, who formed the Chix forward wall handled the Zeeland rebounding.

Guard play was fine on both quints. For Zeeland, Chuck Hanson performed well and was the Chix' only scoring threat, hitting on a nice one hand shot from well outcourt. The Maroons' three guards, Jim Fredricks, Paul Tuls and reserve Cal Boer tallied 32 points between them with Fredricks snaring 12 points on one-handers from out while Tuls and Boer tallied 10 apiece. Boer got four straight in about three minutes off the fast break.

Hanson took the opening tip off for the Chix and immediately connected from outcourt to give the losers a two point margin. Christian came back to take a 3-2 bulge, before two Chix free throws gave them their last lead of the tilt.

Zeeland didn't score another fielder from the opening tip until Hanson hit another with 4:23 remaining in the second period, some 12 minutes later. Paced by Captain Clare Van Wieren the Maroons held a 14-5 first quarter lead.

Christian really turned it on to open the second period scoring seven straight before Hanson got his second basket. Getting balanced scoring from four boys, the Maroons upped their margin to 32-14 at halftime. Gary Boeve, scored Zeeland's other fielder in the first half.

After the Chix scored the opening basket of the second half, the Maroons went to work and built up a 40-18 lead with 4:26 left in the third stanza. Fredricks, Steigenga and Langeland were the big guns for the Maroons in the period which ended with the Maroons holding a 51-22 lead.

Paced by Boer, the Maroons upped the margin to 59-24 in a hurry before reserves began to take over. Zeeland's best scoring output was 12 in the last period, compared with 13 for Christian.

Besides having difficulty with the Maroons defense, Coach Paul Van Dort's quint had trouble finding the range as well. The Chix hit a poor 18 per cent, getting 11 baskets out of 60 tries. Christian's ability to get in for the layups boosted their average as they hit 43 per cent, connecting on 26 out of 60 attempts.

In the free throw department, the Maroons collected 12 out of 21 while Zeeland hit on 12 out of the same number of shots. Steigenga led all scorers with 16 markers, while Hanson was high for the Chix with 14.

Christian plays Friday when they invade Allegan for a game with the undefeated Tigers. Zeeland rests until Dec. 22 when they entertain Fremont.

Furnishings Approved For School

Additional furnishings and equipment for Holland's new high school were approved by the Board of Education at its monthly meeting Monday night.

Purchases from Herman Miller Co. of Zeeland totaling $7,827.40 covers furniture for the library lounge area, student lounge area in classroom units, teachers' work area furniture, reception area of principal's office, conference area of principal's office, stage furniture and home economics furniture.

Purchases of equipment from Steel Case through Fris of Holland totaling $2,713.55 cover unit offices, and equipment for the principal's office, including assistant principal and secretary.

Supt. Walter W. Scott said the furniture selected is attractive but not what he termed "plush."

Also approved was purchase of all-purpose draperies from Edwin Raphael Co., Inc., at a cost of $10,305.45, provided samples are satisfactory to Mrs. Suren Pilaflin, wife of the architect, consultant on color and decorative equipment. This covers draperies for the foyer and music rooms, library, homemaking rooms, principal's office and art center, two stage curtains, cyclorama and wing curtains, and stage valance.

Also approved was purchase of furnishings and equipment for the art center exhibit area and the auditorium lobby from Thonet Industries at a cost of $1,582.76, and certain miscellaneous items such as lamps and planters for the two centers at a cost of $1,150.82.

The board approved a contract with Ideal Window Cleaners to clean all windows in all buildings including putty removal at a cost of $1,621. The work started Monday on inside windows.

An order for miscellaneous cabinet work for certain pieces of miscellaneous cabinet work other than items for regular classrooms was approved for Essenburg Building and Lumber Co. of Holland for $4,615.02, with delivery promised on or before Dec. 20.

The buildings and grounds committee also issued a report on work items to be completed after the school opens in January. These items, previously listed in The Sentinel, include such items as finishing grading, landscaping, put in additional walks if necessary, surfacing of certain black-top drives, possible underground sprinkling system, flagpole and school sign, exterior and ground lighting, sculpture court between are building and library, and additional parking areas.

All exterior metal on buildings will receive final painting during the summer including exterior block of the fieldhouse and service buildings and overhangs of all other buildings. Metal fascia of all buildings will receive complete painting next summer. Heating, ventilating and plumbing items will require adjustments during at least one heating cycle, probably extending to the end of 1962.

Progress on arrival of furniture and equipment on the site this week was outlined. All major items of classroom furniture have arrived in Holland except teachers' desks which are scheduled to arrive Dec. 15.

The new floor for the fieldhouse is being laid today in the presence of some 20 observers from all over the country interested in this new type of self-locking floor. Lockers are being installed in the fieldhouse and in classroom units.

Supt. Scott said the board is generally well pleased with the progress of the building and said much of it was due to the excellent cooperation from the various trades working on the job.

Scott also reported briefly on progress on other fronts. He said the new gymnasium at Lincoln School is nearing completion, new lights have been installed in Washington School, work is being done on libraries at Apple Ave. and Montello Park Schools, and a library has been completed at Lincoln School. Work is being done on heating systems.

The Nov. 30 report for work done at the new high school as well as at other schools lists a balance of $1,382,556.88. The budget appropriation totaled $3,460,750 and amount expended through Nov. 30 totaled $2,079,470.62.

Secretary James Hallan reported a notice from the Ottawa County treasurer that Holland district will be receiving $48,253.96 in primary interest money on the basis of 3,413 students. Supt. Scott said the future on state finances appears bleak and a survey indicates that unless there is a sharp upsurge in sales, the payments may be only 25 per cent. He expressed confidence, however, that the legislative would do as it has done in the past that by June 30, school payments will be made.

He also reported on a communication from the Holland Garden Club expressing regret that it would not be able financially to participate in landscaping at the new high school.

Vice President Alvin J. Cook presided in the absence of President Jack Plewes. Bernard Arends, also was absent. The invocation was given by Assistant Supt. Robert Slocum. The meeting adjourned at 9 p.m.

Music-Drama Program Entertains Century Club

Century Club members and guests enjoyed a program of music and drama Monday evening in the Woman's Literary Club.

Young talent in instrumental, vocal and dramatic presentations delighted the audience.

Miss Esther Timmer, a senior at Holland Christian High School and a student of Mrs. Morrette Rider, opened the program with pensive and spirited interpretations of "Meditation" from Thaïs by Massenet and "Introduction and Polonaise" by Bohm.

James Thomas, a Hope College junior from Yakutat, Alaska, a baritone from the class of Norma Hark Bawman, added to the enthusiasm and appreciation of the club with "O Holy Night" by Adam, and "Scarlet Ribbons" by Danzig.

"The Farce of the Worthy Master Pierre Pathelin," a satire on lawyers and judges written for the traveling players of the 15th Century, was produced by the Holland Community Players under the direction of Dr. Edward Savage.

Presented in medieval manner when plays were given for fair patrons with the only properties being two barrels and a board, a cast of Hope College students reproduced the talent of that day in a jolly, playful, "confusing" way. The theme of knaves becoming fools, and fools, knaves was a favorite of the day.

Paul Ransford in the title role was witty and acrobatic as a super knave among knaves, racing delightedly from mistrusted lawyer who had lost his practice to flatterer, deceiving customer, to "mad" lying debtor and back to scheming, mistrusted, outwitted lawyer.

He was supported ably by Mary Bosch as his shrewish wife, Guillemette; the Shepherd, David Mouw; William Brauer, the Judge; and Peter De Moya as the loser in every case—the merchant.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrington were chairmen of the social committee. Serving with them were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Visscher, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wichers, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. van Leuwen, Mrs. W. M. Tappan, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Becker and Mr. and Mrs. George Lumsden.

Dr. John W. Hollenbach, president of the club, announced that the next meeting would be a buffet supper on the Hope College campus. A program on "The Orchestra of the Seventeenth Century" will be presented by members of the Club, Professors Morrette Rider and Anthony Kooiker. Inasmuch as the regular meeting date falls on New Year's Day, the date will be pushed ahead one week, to Jan. 8.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele
Extension Agent, Agriculture

A registered Guernsey cow, Kamplands J. S. Robin owned by Donald Kamps, Byron Center, has completed an official DHIA production record, the American Guernsey Cattle Club reports.

The record was for 11,210 pounds of milk and 496 pounds of fat, "Robin" was a senior two-year-old.

This official production record was supervised by Michigan State University.

Michigan dairy farmers using bulk tanks may have to change feeding practices to prevent feed odors in milk. Off-flavors in milk from bulk tanks is more difficult to distinguish than in can, Michigan State University researchers have found. Dairies can return off-flavored milk to the farmer when milk is shipped in cans. It is practically impossible where the dairy received an entire tanker truckload of milk from many different farms. Silage fed during the fall and winter months causes most of the off-flavor trouble.

It is unfair to place the blame entirely on the roughage. Most of the time the fault lies with roughage feeding practices. Most feed flavors in milk come from feeding silage before milking. The result is milk with a silage smell. When the silage and hay feeding is done after milking, there is great improvement in milk flavor. Cows kept under loose housing, where all silage is fed after the morning milking, will usually produce milk with practically no feed flavors. In most stanchion barns, the only off-flavor problem occurs during the evening milking, as most cows are usually fed before milking so that hay can be fed later.

Some dairy plants are currently collecting samples once a week from bulk milk tanks and determining flavor scores. Farmers are cautioned against milking cows in the summer immediately after taking them from alfalfa or clover pasture. This can produce the same off-flavors as silage feeding before milking. The trend toward year-around, barn-lot feeding of cows gives better control of flavor by feeding all roughages after milking is completed.

Livestock farmers planning for 1962 should take a hard look at some of the predictions for the year ahead before undertaking new ventures of major expansion. Numbers of all classes of livestock except dairy cows, sheep and turkeys are expected to be on the way up for next year. The increase in livestock production and an abundant feed supply are in prospect for the next 12 months, according to the annual forecast of the feed survey committee of the American Feed Manufacturers Assn.

The committee is composed of 24 college and experiment station men from all important feeding areas of the country. Michigan is represented by John Ferris, Michigan State University specialist in agricultural economics.

The following estimates have been made by the committee: Feed supplies of corn, oats, barley and sorghum grain continue to be and sorghum grain continue to be 27 per cent above last years.

The 187 million tons of grains, oilseed meals and other concentrates available for feed compare with 149 million tons last year. Supplies of high protein feeds exceeds last year's use by nine per cent, grains by 27 per cent.

Large feed supplies mean that livestock numbers will be on the increase since feeding ratios will be favorable for livestock in many areas. About 52,568,000 pigs will be produced next spring, an increase of four per cent over 1961.

Because of relatively favorable egg prices in 1961, a two per cent increase in the number of laying hens is predicted. The number of chickens raised for laying flock replacements will probably rise about one per cent.

Commercial broiler production will also increase one per cent to a total of 356,000,000 for the year. Based upon previous price and supply relationships, the number of turkeys raised should decrease five per cent to 102,000,000.

Milk cow numbers will remain at about 17,400,000, the same as in 1961. Heavier grain feeding should increase total milk production by about two per cent since roughage is plentiful in most sections, and concentrates are available at favorable price ratios.

Beef cattle numbers will increase by about three per cent, and fed cattle by four per cent. Half of the 27 million total slaughtered will be grain fed on the abundant feed supplies.

The total number of sheep and lambs will decline about three per cent because of a sharp increase in the slaughter of range ewes.
