Hope Officials, Businessmen Hold Confab

A group of 37 business men and Hope College faculty and staff met in the Warm Friend Hotel Monday evening, under the chairmanship of President Calvin Vander Werf, to discuss plans for extending the cooperation and support of Hope College by business and industry of the community.

President Vander Werf described the role played by Hope College in the community, pointing to the educational services, cultural events, and economic impact of the college.

He cited the $3.5 million which the college brings into the community each year, and indicated that at the beginning of its second century of service, the college would need to move forward even more rapidly if it hoped to do its share in the education of youth in an increasingly complex society.

Three hundred area youths are enrolled at Hope; two seminars for local business and professional persons have been held this fall. Over 100 musical, theatrical, and athletic events have been attended by Holland residents in the past year.

To continue such educational benefits and to insure growth of the college's quality, Vander Werf explained that Hope, like all colleges, must find a broad base of financial support to supplement the large portion paid directly by the students. Hope students pay for 80 per cent of their education. Other schools, subsidized by government funds and gifts, require students to pay only 13-40 per cent.

Vander Werf appealed to the local businessmen to join in telling the Hope story to the business community of Holland inviting them to share in educating the future leaders of our community and country.

Within the next two weeks, teams of those businessmen present at the meeting and Hope College personnel will visit the businesses and industries in the Holland area in a Holland Help Hope campaign.

Businessmen joining in the college's program are Bernard Arendshorst, Clarence Becker, W. A. Butler, Andrew Dalman, L. C. Dalman, John Donnelly, Dale Fris, Edward Heikman, Don Hillebrands, Clarence Klaasen, Harold Klaasen, Russell Klaasen, L. W. Lamb, Jr., Henry Maentz, Seymour Padnos, Neal Steketee, Vernon Ten Cate, Henry Ten Pas, Donald Thomas, and Bruce Van Leeuwen.

College personnel who will team with the businessmen are Gordon Brewer, Irwin Brink, Robert Brown, Clarence De Graaf, A. A. Dykstra, Lars Granberg, Lawrence Green, John Hollenbach, Adrian Klaasen, Richard Raymond, Roger Rietberg, Morrette Rider, Henry Steffens, Calvin Vander Werf, John Ver Beek, Rein Visser, and Kenneth Weller.

Surviving are the wife, Betty; four children, Bruce, Maria, Craig and Sandra; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Vander Vlies of Holland and three sisters, Mrs. Henry (Emily) Brower of Holland, Mrs. Joseph (Leone) Salvadore of San Jose, Calif., and Mrs. Robert (Beatrice) Kamphuis of Fort Knox, Ky.

Hope Alumni Begin Fund Drive in Area

The Hope College Alumni Association began its 1964 Alumni Fund program in the Holland area Tuesday.

Saving the hometown until last for a person to person campaign, Chairman Vern J. Schipper has announced that 65 per cent of the local goal of $28,000 is in; 17.5 per cent of the 1,564 alumni having responded to the several direct mail appeals.

Schipper's committee includes Miss Corinne Pool, chairman of special gifts; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kleis, Mr. and Mrs. John De Haan, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Boeve, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Van Ark, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Van Lente, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leenhouts, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Heneveld.

Also Don Hillebrands, Terry Hoffmeyer, Thomas Bos, Maurice Verhelst, Mrs. Eugene Scholten, Mrs. L. W. Lamb Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Zuverink, Dr. Ronald Boven and Edward J. Yeomans, Mrs. Preston Luidens, Mrs. Kenneth Bauman, Mrs. Harry Frissel, Mrs. Harold Cobb Klaasen, Mrs. Tunis Baker and Mrs. Vernon Boersma.

The national fund program for 1964, with a goal of $126,000, 36 per cent participation, has been directed by Robert J. Prins of Detroit, vice-president of the Alumni Association. Organized geographically, 20 areas have chairmen and workers with dollar and percentage goals.

To date two areas have attained over 100 per cent of their money goal. Chicago-North, under the chairmanship of John Mulder and Mrs. O. E. Veneklasen has raised $4,750 on a goal of $4,250 or 112 per cent from 39 per cent of the 173 alumni in the area.

Paul W. Dame, Kalamazoo chairman, reports $4,530 on a goal of $4,100 from 32 per cent of the 275 Hope people there.

The Washington, D. C. chairman is Fred Vandenberg who has piloted the 58 alumni of the area to 94 per cent of the $1,200 goal from 53 per cent of the potential donors.

On the national basis 22.5 per cent of the 8,740 alumni have contributed $70,634. Inasmuch as a large number of gifts come in during the last half of December when taxable income facts are available, it is expected that the 1964 goal will be achieved, according to Lamont Dirkse, president of the Alumni Association.

The money raised through this fund for Hope College is earmarked for faculty salaries, scholarships and research, the three college programs most important to alumni. The success of these features keep the college in the forefront and alumni degrees in good standing.

Dutch Share MIAA Lead With Albion

Hope College's basketball team grabbed a share of first place in the MIAA Wednesday night as they trounced Alma, 103-73 before 1,200 fans in the Civic Center.

The victory set up a showdown for the league's top spot in Albion on Jan. 6 when the Flying Dutchmen meet the Britons. Albion also has a 3-0 league mark.

Hope looked the best they have this season in running over the Scots. Coach Russ De Vette emptied his bench and had replacements playing about half of the second half.

Superior rebounding and the all-around defense displayed were the key factors in Hope's third win this season in five starts.

The winners knocked down 76 rebounds while Alma had 55 and Hope had a commanding 36-23 rebounding edge in the first half. Co-captain Clare Van Wieren picked off 15 while Roy Anker and Lloyd Brady each had 11 and Bill Potter 10. Denny Weener grabbed six in the last stages of the game.

Close for the first six minutes, Hope spurred to a five-point, 21-16 lead at the 10-minute mark and then after Alma scored a basket, Hope made nine straight points to lead, 30-18.

It was no contest after that and the halftime bulge was 50-28. The Flying Dutchmen received fine balance in the first half as Van Wieren had 14; Chris Buys, 10; Carl Walters, eight; the two centers (Anker and Potter) five each and Brady, seven.

Walters and Buys enjoyed some fine shooting as Walters canned four of six and Buys sank five of nine. Most all of their shots were long swishing jumpers.

Van Wieren was getting his on unorthodox moves and shots under the basket. He was able to maneuver through the Alma zone and hit six of 14 in the first half. Anker's baseline hook, with three seconds left, gave Hope the 22-point halftime spread.

The rout continued as the second half opened and Van Wieren got another four baskets and three free shots before he retired with 10 minutes to play. He fired six times from the floor in the second half.

Hope used a variety of defenses and kept the Scots off-guard throughout. The winners were called for only 13 fouls and the losers received little charity line help. They made seven of 13.

Alma was charged 24 times and Hope made 17 of 28. From the floor, Hope had halves of 22 for 50 and 21 of 54 for 45 per cent while Alma had 33 of 112 for 29 per cent. Bill Pendell led the losers with 23.

Van Wieren led Hope with 25 and Walters, who added a basket and three straight free throws in the second half, and Potter each had 13. Potter coupled with two long sidecourt jumpers.

Weener, Holland sophomore, put Hope over the century mark for the first time this season on a layup with 1:42 remaining. Holland freshman Don Kronmeyer added two late-game baskets.

Buys, who again displayed tough defense and was all over the floor, ended with 12. Anker contributed nine and John Simmons and Dean Overman each added eight points.

Hope now breaks for the Christmas vacation and De Vette said the team would return Dec. 30 for two days of drills prior to the Aquinas game Jan. 1 in the Civic Center.

Alma now has an 0-2 league mark and is 1-5 overall.

College Solves Mystery Of Disappearing Cookies

Hope College students have been wondering why they never found any cookies on "Santa's Cookie Tree" which has made its second annual appearance on the Hope campus.

In spite of the "Help Yourself" sign on the tree, there just weren't any cookies there. The mystery was solved, however, when it was discovered that six or seven grade school students had made it a game to strip the tree of goodies while Hope students were attending chapel services each morning.

After feeding the Christmas gremlins for two days, the tree was moved into Van Raalte Hall. Now the college students have a chance for some Christmas cookies provided by Christmas elves at the president's home.

Thieves Dim Holiday Glow

Most Holland residents traditionally take pride and pleasure in decorating their homes and lawns with gaily colored lights during the Christmas holiday season.

But an increasing number of residents have seen their pleasure in this seasonal pursuit wane because of bulb-snatchers. Holland police, and most residents, feel that bulb snatching from Christmas trees is the work of youngsters who probably do nothing more than smash the bulbs they collect.

One Holland woman today reported the theft of all but one bulb from a small outdoor tree at her home. While the woman and her daughter were attending choir rehearsal at her church, her husband decorated a pair of trees in front of their home, intending to surprise his wife and daughter.

When the woman returned home she found one small light burning on her Christmas tree.

Several of her neighbors had also said they had bulbs missing from time to time. It wasn't the bulbs or the money they cost that the woman objected to.

Winter in Holland is usually long and drab, and the Christmas season provides some sparkle and color. Bulb snatching may not be a very serious offense but it can be discouraging to persons who attempt to add life and color to the city during this season.

Settlement Approved By Council

City Council Wednesday night voted unanimously to accept a compromise settlement of the bulk of the electrical equipment antitrust litigation commenced by the city and now pending in the U. S. district court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

Gross settlement, as proposed by six defendants, is listed as $384,000 which after deducting all costs, expenses and fees chargeable to such recovery would result in a net recovery of $256,000.

Jams E. Townsend, local attorney who served as special counsel in the litigation, who explained the settlement to Council, indicated the net amount should be forthcoming about Jan. 15.

The six defendants involved in the settlement are Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., McGraw Edison Co., Moloney Electric Co., Wagner Electric Corp., General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The net figure of $256,000 represents about 14.75 per cent on total purchases from the six defendants during the period of 1956 to 1959 of the electrical products involved in the litigation. The gross recovery percentage was given as 23 per cent which compares with gross settlements made by the U.S. government of about 10 per cent of purchases and gross settlements made by major utilities ranging from 7 per cent to 13 per cent of purchases.

Atty. Townsend submitted documents from the Philadelphia law firm of Dilworth, Paxson, Kalish, Kohn and Dilke who served as attorneys for the city of Holland and 99 other parties in similar litigation. Townsend felt that Holland had fared well by the services of the Philadelphia firm and that the settlement was influenced upward because of the firm's competence.

Asked whether Holland would have fared better in independent litigation, Townsend said litigation always is a risk and he felt the absence of extensive litigation was a factor which benefited Holland. He felt the city had been wise in deferring to experts in the field.

Councilman Henry Steffens asked many questions on breakdowns of each firm's settlements, etc. Townsend explained that the settlement was a blanket settlement of the six firms but that all except General Electric settled on a 15 per cent basis. Because of the purchase of certain types of electrical purchases (namely turbine-generators) General Electric was placed in a special category, and the total General Electric payment to Holland (gross) was $359,000.

Approached from another angle, electrical equipment purchased from all defendants in the three-year period of 1956 to 1959 totaled $1,908,807.19 which included purchases from General Electric of $1,337,632.06. Claims not settled in this blanket settlement are comparatively small.

Councilman Richard Smith asked what Holland would do with the money when it was received, and Townsend said he expected there would be careful study by city Council and the Board of Public Works before any disposition is made. He described the settlement as "some form of recovery or return to the electrical utility."

City Attorney Gordon Cunningham said he felt Townsend had been most generous in his plaudits to the Philadelphia firm and probably was a bit modest about his own work in the case. While not involved in any way, Cunningham said, nevertheless, that he had seen a tremendous amount of correspondence that Townsend had carried on in the case and he felt that the settlement while very advantageous to the city was responsible to some degree because of efforts of Townsend, the Board of Public Works and BPW. Supt. Guy E. Bell.

2nd Lt. Thomas J. Van Kley, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lavern A. Van Kley of Fairview Rd., Zeeland, has graduated from the training course for U. S. Air Force air armament officers at Lowry Air Base, Colo., and has been reassigned to Nellis AFB, Nevada, for study in his new specialty. Van Kley earned his A. B. degree at Hope College and was commissioned upon completion of Officers Training School.

CONSTRUCT WINDMILL FRAMEWORK — The basic structural members of Holland's imported Dutch windmill "De Zwaan" were hoisted to the top of its 30-foot brick base Monday and Tuesday. posts and the legs of the "A frames" will form the corners of the octagonal mill superstructure. In this picture the 125-foot crane used for the job lifts one of the cross-frames into position. Jury Awards $80,000

GRAND HAVEN — An Ottawa Circuit Court jury Monday awarded judgments totaling $80,000 in favor of Adrian and Dorothy Dekker of Grand Rapids who sought $200,000 damages from Albert R. Bauch, who operates Embassy Tavern, and the London and Lancashire Insurance Co.

County Clerk Harris Nieuwsma said the judgments of $40,000 each to Mr. and Mrs. Dekker were the largest awarded in Ottawa Circuit Court in the last 20 years. The jury deliberated two hours and 20 minutes after three days of testimony.

Judge Raymond L. Smith ordered that the judgments not be entered in court records immediately pending possible further proceedings by attorneys for the defendant.

The Dekkers claimed Bauch sold liquor to Homer Williams who was an alleged intoxicated condition March 13, 1961. Minutes later, plaintiffs claimed, Williams' car struck the Dekker car on M-50 resulting in serious injuries to Mrs. Dekker. Bauch's establishment is located at 10936 Lake Michigan Dr. south of Grand Haven.

Arrest Pair In Breakin

Four recent Holland area breakins appeared solved following the arrest of two Holland youths after a breakin at Jim's Beachcomber on Ottawa Beach Rd. early Tuesday.

Ronald J. Bolles, 19, of 316 West 28th St., and David A. Fox, 20, of 110½ West 13th St., were picked up by Ottawa County deputies with the aid of Holland police about 2:30 a.m. They admitted being involved in a breakin early Tuesday at Jim's Beachcomber.

Bolles was arraigned in Holland Municipal Court on charges of breaking and entering in the night time, and Fox was charged with aiding and abetting. Both waived preliminary examination.

Bond was set at $2,000 each. Fox furnished bond, and Bolles was being held in lieu of bond at the Ottawa County jail.

Fox was arrested by Sgt. Gerald Witteveen and Deputy Don Key of the Sheriff's Department when they saw his car drive back and forth past the tavern after the two officers had discovered the breakin.

Holland patrolmen William Keizer and Robert Schra, called to assist Witteveen and Key, picked up Bolles a few minutes later as he was hitch-hiking along Ottawa Beach Rd.

Officers tracked footprints leading from the rear door of the tavern and found a cigar box containing the $35 taken in the breakin. The box had been hidden among a group of pine trees.

Following interrogation by detective John Hemple, it was learned that the two had been involved in a pair of breakins at the Shortcut Garage at Lake-wood Blvd. and 120th Ave. and a second breakin Dec. 3 at Jim's Beachcomber.

Yule Program Provides Story About Candles

The Etta Fox Chapter of Quarters met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Pickel to enjoy their annual Christmas program. The home was gaily decorated with all types of lighted candles and Christmas wreaths.

Mrs. Pickel and Mrs. Ned McLaughlin presented a program on "Candles." Although the word "candlestick" is found in the book of Exodus there is no evidence that anything like candles in their present form existed before the tenth century. Most of the candles made today are used for religious purposes.

In Bethlehem, Pa., the first candle service was held in 1756 when 250 candles were used by the town's 741 residents. In recent years there have been as many as 15,000 candles used for their Christmas service.

The churches' use of candles on altars is derived from the Jewish religion and the association of candles with Christmas is a carry-over from Jewish festivals. No one knows who invented candles. The first candlesticks were crude. Most of the fanciful candlesticks belong to the present age.

The Italian family of Azello was the most famous candle makers. They made the largest candle in the world. It is 18 feet high and weighs a ton. On Nov. 2, of every year it is lighted.

The evolution of artificial lighting from a pitch knot to the kerosene lamp covered a period of about 6,000 years. But within a period of about sixty years the kerosene lamp was followed by gas and various types of incandescent electric lamps.

The first candles were probably used by the Romans to burn before altars of their gods to make a dazzling sight for their pageants and court settings. The Christians were quick to adopt the candle as a symbol. "The Light of the World."

Many very old and interesting candles, candlesticks and candle forms were displayed. At the social hour antique Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Kaper-Wiswell Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaper. The Methodist Community Church in Lincoln, Calif., was the site of a double ring ceremony uniting Miss Maria Eva Wiswell and Robert Ray Kaper of Roseville, Calif., in marriage on Nov. 21. The afternoon service was performed by the Rev. Ronald Grellich.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Wiswell of 243 "E" St., Lincoln, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kaper of Hamilton.

Her elbow-length veil was secured by a crown of white satin covered with lace and she carried a bouquet of cascading white chrysanthemums and pink baby roses.

Robert W. Wiswell Jr., assistant best man and Richard

Gary was playing a game with Bob MacArthur on the second floor of the hospital Wednesday morning when his hand yielded a jack and three fives. The cut yielded the five matching the jack for a 29-point hand.

Jan (Dick) Medendorp, the windmill construction expert who is spending four months in Holland supervising the restoration of the windmill De Zwaan here, was talking the other day about American money and how much it buys.

He was quite impressed when City Manager Herb Holt took him to the building inspector's office for a permit for the windmill superstructure and found there was no charge since it was a city project. The permit called for $15,000, and the ordinary fee on that amount here is $18. Medendorp said in the Netherlands, such a project would require a fee of 2,000 guilders or $600.

Rate of exchange on the guilder is 3.62 to the American dollar, but wages in the Netherlands guilders are nearly match American wages in dollars. For instance, a carpenter in America might earn $100 a week and the same carpenter in the Netherlands would earn 100 guilders a week, not 362 guilders.

Medendorp said an American with a dollar in his pocket can stroll downtown, buy a pack of cigarettes, stop for coffee and a roll, have a second cup of coffee and still have some money left. The Dutchman with a guilder in his pocket could stroll downtown, but not even purchase a pack of cigarettes since such a pack costs 1 1/4 guilders.

More on the election front: Ray Vande Vusse, of 155 Dartmouth, has dug up some more information on voting patterns in Ottawa county in the earlier days of the settlement. Although Lincoln failed to carry Holland in 1860, he did carry Ottawa county polling 1,414 votes to 1,217 for Douglas. But in 1864, Lincoln lost in Ottawa county receiving 1,345 votes to 1,536 votes for McClellan.

Thereafter the Republican party was firmly entrenched in the county. In 1868 Grant received 2,441 votes to 1,851 for Seymour; in 1872, Grant received 2,630 to 1,163 for Greeley; in 1876, Hayes, 3,401, and Tilden, 2,620; in 1880, Garfield, 3,284, Hancock, 2,019; in 1884, Blaine, 3,753, Butler-Cleveland, 3,049; in 1888, Harrison, 4,302, Cleveland, 3,191.

In earlier days, the Ottawa county people had little to do with the Whig party, the forerunner of the Republican party, and voted Democratic in the 1840, 1844, 1848 and 1852 elections. In 1856, Fremont was the first Republican presidential candidate and polled 1,392 votes to 998 for Buchanan, Democrat.

CAMPAIGN COSTS

Almost every day there is a story that breaks about the cost of votes and the millions of dollars spent in the last campaign. The Robert F. Kennedy-Senator Kenneth B. Keating campaign for the United States senate from the state of New York is reported to have approached two million dollars for each candidate. This to our way of thinking is a lot of money even with our present inflated dollar. These reports are no doubt taken from the reports that the candidates filed.

We wonder just how far this trend will move before there will be some kind of legislation that will come before the Legislatures and the Congress of the United States with some kind of a program. We understand that there is also some talk about the donations to county, state and national organizations whereby some amendment to the federal income tax laws would allow these donations to earn some kind of tax deduction.

Time for all media is an important factor. Many people to whom we have talked, are of the impression that no ordinary individual can aspire to high office. They cannot come forth with the millions it takes to keep their name before the public, along with the people who spend millions of their own money and that of the taxpayers who are asked to support the county, state and national programs. It would seem that with all of our education and more and more people living off the government that we should start to work on some kind of an equitable program.

Truck Windmill Signs Win Award

Rolling billboards 40 feet long have won City Sign Co. of Holland the December "Truck of the Month" award from Signs of the Times, a sign industry trade magazine.

The signs are on the sides of trailers now in use by Holland Motor Express. Identical signs were painted on Rooks Transfer Co. trailers by other local sign specialists. They show a colorful postcard of Windmill Island, with the invitation, "You'd like it in Holland, Mich. . . Wish you were with us."

Judges cited the attractive script, lettering and artwork as factors in making the award. The difficulty in producing a pleasing design across an unusually wide expanse of an irregular surface, such as presented by the corrugated metal sides of the trailers, was also taken into consideration.

The idea for the signs originated with Marvin C. Lindeman.

The Birth of Jesus Christ
Matthew 1: 1, 18-25
By C. P. Dame

One of the most important events of the world is celebrated on Dec. 25—it is the birth of Jesus Christ. Millions of people do not realize the vital importance of this event which is forgotten by many who talk about Christmas and make a big ado about it. This lesson tells us about this great event.

I. Jesus was born of the virgin Mary. The genealogy of Jesus is found in two gospels, in Matthew 1:1-17 and in Luke 3:23-38. Matthew arranged the names of the ancestors of Jesus in three groups of fourteen. Matthew calls Jesus, "the son of David" a term which reveals His royalty and "son of Abraham" a term which designates His race. In the list of names a number of women are recorded. This is unusual for in Jewish pedigrees no women's names are found. The kind of woman is surprising—Rahab, a harlot (Joshua 2:1-7); Tamar a seducer (Genesis 38) and Bathsheba who sinned with David (II Samuel 11, 12). Ruth the Moabitess was a fine young woman, a Gentile, who came from a hated nation. Gentile and Jewess women, some bad, some good, and some men whose careers were marred, were ancestors of Jesus.

Mary the mother of Jesus was betrothed to Joseph, a carpenter of Nazareth. In Jewish life a betrothal was binding. During that year the man and the woman were considered man and wife but they did not live together. When Joseph learned during that period that Mary was pregnant he planned to quietly divorce her thinking she had been faithless. God told Joseph the truth that Mary "was found to be with child of the Holy Spirit." Jesus had no human father. He was virgin-born.

II. Jesus came to save. Not only did the Lord tell Joseph about the supernatural conception of Jesus but He also mentioned His great mission—to save, that is to rescue His people from the power and penalty and stain and guilt of sin. Only a Saviour who is both human and divine is able to do this. Matthew wrote his gospel for the Jews and that is why he refers to the Old Testament prophecy, "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call His name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is 'God is with us' (Isaiah 7:14). Jesus is both God and man, our only Mediator and Saviour.

III. Joseph the believer obeyed the heavenly message. "Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him and took unto him his wife." This action showed his faith. God spoke three times to Joseph. First He spoke to him about Mary, then He told him to go to Egypt and then told him to return to Palestine. In every instance Joseph, the oft-forgotten man of the Christmas story, obeyed. We can be sure that Joseph was an excellent foster father.

Today many preachers and laymen do not believe in the virgin birth of Jesus. Matthew relates the birth of Jesus giving the story from the standpoint of Joseph. Luke gives the account from the standpoint of Mary. The denial of the two stories in two gospels undermines the reliability and authority of God's Word. Usually the liberal preachers, and they are found in all major denominations, not only deny the virgin birth, but also the atoning death and the bodily resurrection of Jesus. One reason why some of us oppose church unions is that we hold dear doctrines which are often compromised in order to unite.

OPERATES LATHE—William Lawler, a retired hand carver for the Baker Furniture Co., still enjoys turning out everything from door knobs to cribbage pins on this 19th century German hand lathe in the basement of his home on Lakeshore Dr. near M-89 in rural Ganges. Although Lawler worked as a hand carver, he learned to operate the lathe during spare time while working for the former Charles Sligh Furniture Co. of Grand Rapids. (Sentinel photo)

Retired Carver Keeps Busy With Woodworking, Hobbies

GANGES—Some people are rich in money, and others are rich in another way. So says Will Lawler, a retired wood-carver who now lives on Lakeshore Drive near M-89 in the Pier Cove area.

Although he is 81 years old and has been retired for over 14 years Lawler still lives an active fulfilling life which would tire most men many years his junior.

Before retiring Lawler was one of the skilled craftsmen who helped make Grand Rapids and Holland noted as furniture centers. He worked for nine years doing hand carving for the Baker Furniture Co. of Holland, and before that he was employed for over 30 years by the then Charles Sligh Furniture Co. of Grand Rapids. It was at the Sligh Co. that Lawler learned his craft starting as an apprentice at age 15.

One can see evidence of Lawler's skill in the small home near the lakeshore where he lives with his brother, Thomas. He has carved a series of decorations on bookshelves, kitchen cupboards and on the mantle over his fireplace. Lawler also did much of the construction work on the house.

A small, wiry man, Lawler still retains the firm grip of a skilled craftsman. He still keeps his over 150 hand carving tools sharp and gleaming although he admits that he doesn't get to use them much any more.

While working for the furniture companies Lawler learned how to operate hand lathes. In the basement of his home he has a nineteenth century German hand lathe on which he has turned out everything from door knobs to cribbage pins.

When he's not "monkeying" in his basement workshop Lawler is busy with other projects. This summer 28 families along the lakeshore and in Grand Rapids ate cucumbers raised in his garden. He also grows corn, tomatoes, and carrots.

During the fall he sawed up several cords of wood to help heat his home this winter. Lawler is also something of a meteorologist maintaining his own records of rainfall, snowfall and temperatures.

One of Lawler's main interests is studying birds. He has built four types of bird feeders for his property and as gifts for neighbors. During the winter a flock of over 20 cardinals gathered at his place. The black-capped chickadees have become so domesticated that they will come when Lawler whistles and take feed from a pipe in his mouth. As host to many kinds of birds from the lakeshore area Lawler uses over 100 pounds of sunflower seeds during a winter.

Lawler concludes that nowadays it would cost a lot of money for the objects he turns out because of the amount of time he likes to spend on them. He, of course, doesn't charge for the products he makes for friends and neighbors, but one senses he gets the full value out of building them.

High School Christmas Display Shut

The Holland High School Art Club's Christmas display closed early after more than 1,000 persons attended the show in the Hazel Forney Herrick Art Center Thursday night. The display was originally to have remained open until Dec. 17.

The Art Club display, presented this year for the second time, was closed after local fire officials were informed by the Fire Marshal Division of the Michigan State Police if fire regulations were being violated by the display, local authorities would have to assume full responsibility.

Holland Fire Chief Dick Brandt said the Fire Marshal's office informed Holland authorities that the display was in violation of the law. He said that if he had known local officials could have taken full responsibility for the display "we probably would have left it up."

Brandt said he was aware that some state fire regulations were being broken, but that the high school Art Club had conformed with all of the safety rules thought necessary by local officials.

West Ottawa Loses, 88-76 To Godwin

WYOMING — Godwin's basketball team showed that they will definitely be a contender in the Grand Valley League this season as they dumped the previously unbeaten West Ottawa Panthers 88-76 Friday night before 1,000 fans at the Godwin fieldhouse.

The West Ottawa fans got to see a fine exhibition of scoring by big 6'4" Bruce Van Huis as he set a school scoring record of 33 points in the losing cause. He broke his own mark of 27 points which he set last year. In the first half it looked as though he might even go higher as he scored 23 of the 33 points in the first half. However a stubborn Wolverine defense held him to 10 points in the second half.

Godwin used their familiar full court press throughout the ball game and occasionally were able to steal the ball from the Panthers due to the constant pressure.

The Panthers were in the ball

... sets school record

game until they had a bad third quarter and were outscored by a fired up Godwin crew 27-13.

West Ottawa opened the scoring with a basket and free throw by Bruce Van Huis to take a 3-0 lead. Godwin quickly countered on baskets by Larry Hollemans and Roger Klunder to lead 4-3.

The score was tied 4-4 and 6-6 but then Godwin went into the lead on a free throw by Larry Hollemans and they kept the lead from that point on.

The first quarter was even with Godwin holding two to four point leads throughout most of the quarter. Quick baskets by Tom Dykstra, Roger Klunder, and Marv Post gave them a 28-22 lead at the end of the quarter.

Godwin continued to build their lead in the second quarter on the scoring of little Bob Van't Hof. At one point they led 41-31 with about three minutes left in the quarter. However the Panthers fought back on baskets by Dave Vizithum and Bruce Van Huis to pull to within 6 points at the half, 49-43.

The third quarter proved the downfall of the Panthers as the Wolverines received balanced scoring from all five of their regulars to roll to a 76-56 lead at the end of the third quarter. Because of their pressing defense, Godwin ran into foul trouble in the game. John Isler, the regular center fouled out with seven seconds left in the third quarter. He was followed by Tom Dykstra and Roger Klunder in the fourth quarter. The Panthers spent a good deal of time at the charity line but were able to make only 21 out of 40 attempts.

The Panthers rallied in the fourth quarter on the strong play of Dale Boeve who was playing in place of regular forward Paul Buscher who missed the game because of the flu. Boeve scored eight points in the final quarter to help the Panther cause and Dan Bauer added three.

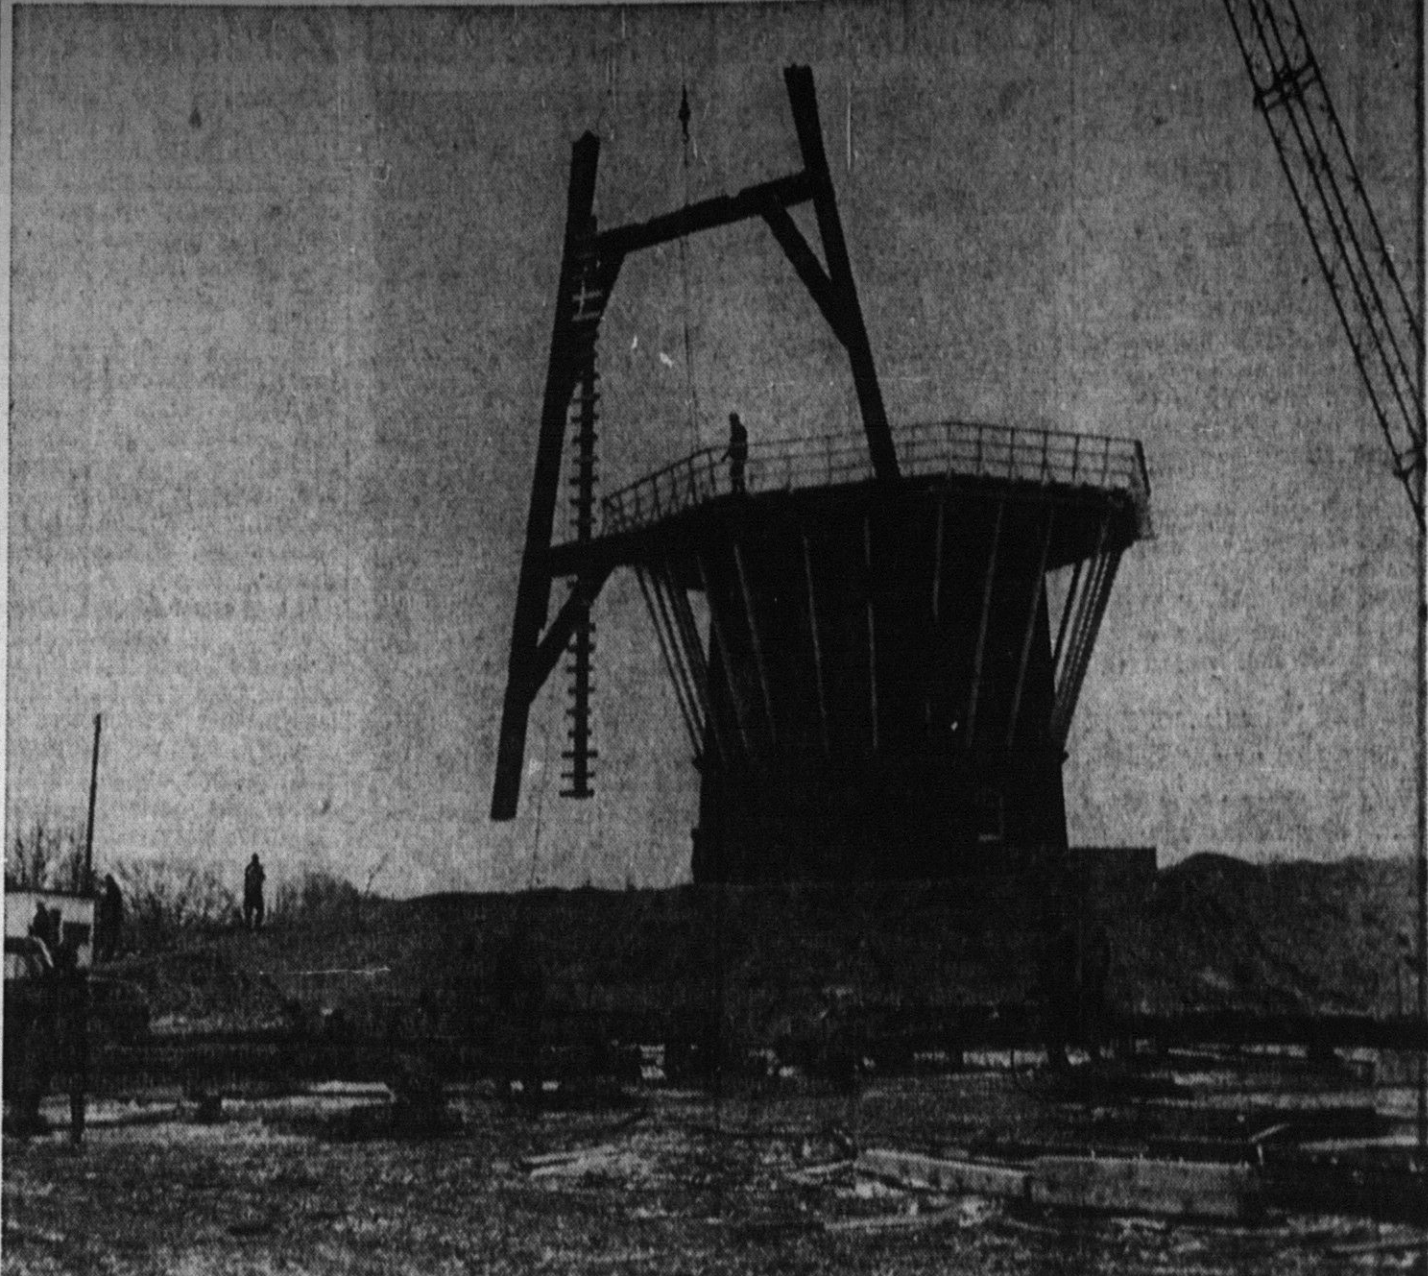

Bob Van't Hof led the scoring for the Wolverines as he scored 22 points for the second week in a row. He was followed by Roger Klunder with 17, Tom Dykstra with 13 and Larry Hollemans with 12. Klunder was also singled out for his fine defensive work. Boeve followed Van Huis with 19.

Next Friday the Panthers entertain East Grand Rapids who will be looking for their first win after three defeats. Game time is 8:00 at the West Ottawa gym.

UP SHE GOES! — Workmen hoist a 42-foot structural section of the old windmill De Zwaan of Vinkel, the Netherlands, into place atop a new red brick base constructed on the Windmill Island site on the banks of Black River. This is one of eight such structures which will form the sides of the octagonal mill which when completed will soar some 90 feet into the air, not counting the 80-foot sails which will be the last to be put into place. City officials and guests gathered for a ceremony today marking installation of first elements of authentic mill imported from the Netherlands last October. It was a blustery day of 18-degree temperatures, and ceremonies were cut to a minimum because of the cold.

AT WINDMILL SITE — Dignitaries pose at the entrance to Holland's windmill De Zwaan framed by one of eight huge structural sections of the authentic Dutch windmill just before it was put into place above the red brick base recently completed. This structural section, 42 feet tall, is one of eight which will form the eight sides of the octagonal mill soaring some 80 feet into the air. In this picture are city officials and representatives of the Michigan Tourist Association. Mayor Nelson Bosman is seen in light coat near center. National Guardsmen provided a color guard.

Authentic Windmill Beams Put Into Place

Despite a biting wintry wind and at times swirling snowflakes, city officials, Windmill committee members and others were on hand at 11 a.m. today for ceremonies marking first placement of structural sections of the original Dutch windmill at the Windmill Island restoration site on the banks of Black River.

Up to now, the windmill base on a 10-foot mound had been constructed of native American materials, namely red brick which matched as nearly as possible the type of brick used in old Dutch windmills.

This 28-foot red brick base constitutes the first three stories of the windmill interior. Today's ceremonies marked placement of eight structural sections 42 feet tall, forming the sloping sides of the windmill proper.

Above this will be the big windmill cap some eight feet tall.

Counting the 10-foot dirt mound, the top of the cap will be some 90 feet in the air. Attached to this cap will be the big 80-foot sails. In upright position, the top of the sails will be some 120 feet in the air, the equivalent of a 12-story building.

Because of extremely cold weather, ceremonies were cut to a minimum consisting mainly of taking pictures as a huge crane placed the first of the eight structures into position.

Present at the ceremonies was Miss Holland of 1964-65, Bonnie Timmer, wearing an authentic Walcheren costume from Zeeland province. The local National Guard Co. provided a color guard.

Heading the city delegation were Willard C. Wichers of the Netherlands Information Service, coordinator for the Windmill project, Mayor Nelson Bosman, City Manager Herb Holt and several councilmen.

Also present were Wesley Tebeau of Muskegon, chairman of the Michigan Tourist Association; Aurey Strophpaul and Max Henkel of the West Michigan Tourist Association, and John Maters of Lansing, publicist for the Michigan Tourist Association.

While a giant crane placed the A-frames into place, other heavy equipment was operating to the south of the windmill, working on Dutch dikes which will surround the island development.

The 200-year-old mill De Zwaan which had been at Vinkel for the last 80 years was dismantled piece by piece last summer and shipped here aboard the Dutch ship, the Prins Willem of Oranje, which docked at Muskegon Oct. 5.

At Muskegon, local officials joined Dutch representatives in the official presentation of this Dutch symbol strengthening ties between the motherland and Holland, Mich., regarded as the Dutch capital in America.

The two flat-topped "A-frames" were assembled on the ground at the foot of the mill's 30-foot base. A few of their original beams had deteriorated and had been replaced with new Michigan timbers. These new pieces were stained prior to the mounting of the frames in order to make their color uniform.

The three-ton, forty-foot sections were hoisted aloft without serious difficulty. Workers at the site had expressed concern before the ceremonies began that the wind would complicate the mounting process.

The frames were lifted to the top of the mill base by a 30-ton capacity crane. Once in place, each was tied to the ground by four steel cables. They were then bolted to heavy angle irons fastened to the cross-beams.

The smaller frames will be hoisted up in pieces and assembled at the top of the mill Tuesday. According to Jan Medendorp, the Dutch millwright in charge of the restoration project, the basic framework should be completed by Tuesday afternoon.

In the meantime work on the canal and dikes is continuing, and should be completed within a few days. Work on the garden areas is going ahead, as well.

NETHERLANDS VISITOR — Cornelius van der Meulen (seated) who served as chairman of Holland's 1947 Centennial Commission, and Dr. Leo Schlichting of Niemegeen, the Netherlands, are shown at the newest acquisition to Netherlands Museum, a small American organ which has been in the Harrington family since the early days of the Holland settlement. It was purchased from the estate of the late Lulu Harrington, a great granddaughter of George Harrington who guided Holland's founder, Dr. A.C. Van Raalte, on his first trip here. Dr. Schlichting back in 1947 was instrumental in arranging several gifts for the local museum. (Sentinel photo)

Netherlands Educator Pays Return Visit Here

A visit to Holland this week by Dr. Leo Schlichting, professor of political science at the University of Niemegeen near Arnhem, the Netherlands, stirred pleasant memories here.

Dr. Schlichting back in 1946 and 1947 was with the Netherlands Foreign Service in New York City and worked closely with the local Centennial Commission in reestablishing ties with the motherland. During the centennial year in 1947, Dr. Schlichting was instrumental in arranging for a Dutch ship, the Prins Willem IV, to come directly to Holland, Mich., to bring the barrel organ, a gift from the people of Amsterdam, and several pieces for the Netherlands Museum here, including a Frisian chaise, Delft ware, pewter, glass and other pieces.

Other projects Dr. Schlichting worked on in connection with the centennial was the essay contest in which six winners visited the Netherlands and six others visited Holland, Mich., and arrangements for a flight of immigrants from the Netherlands to Grand Rapids, Mich. Dr. Schlichting was in Holland on one or more occasions to work out plans.

Main purpose of his current visit to America was to attend the 175th anniversary celebration of Georgetown University which awarded an honorary degree to President Lyndon Johnson Dec. 3. It was on this occasion that the President spoke on European developments, stating that there was no crisis in NATO but that many changes are coming. Dr. Schlichting had from Georgetown in 1961.

As president of the Netherlands Universities Foundation for International Cooperation, Dr. Schlichting met with many high American educators in setting up programs of educational aid to underdeveloped countries. This calls for a bi-lateral relationship whereby universities in Europe and America exchange students with Africa, Asia, etc.

The local Netherlands Information Service headed by Wilard C. Wichers also set up a lecture tour for Dr. Schlichting, calling for appearances at the University of Chicago, Wisconsin State University, Michigan State University, Notre Dame and Indiana University. On Saturday, the Dutch educator will address a luncheon meeting of the Indiana Press Association. He plans to spend a few days in New York before returning to the Netherlands.

Dr. Schlichting's daughter, Renata, who spent the summer of 1959 at the Netherlands Information Service office here, has been following an interesting career back home. She presently is at home in Niemegeen, but in the last few years she studied languages in France and Italy, and was employed in the municipal offices of the Hague in helping set up various worldwide conventions.

The Hague prides itself on its facilities for such services, and Renata was one of eight staff members who helped set up programs for the various gatherings. This involves a type of meticulous planning in which careful checks are made of time involved in loading buses, making bus runs, checking food services and doing the thousand and one little things which are necessary to the smooth operation of an international gathering.

Trinity Guild Holds Annual Christmas Meet

Trinity Church Women's Guild for Service Christmas supper was held Tuesday in the Ter Keurst Auditorium with about 165 attending.

The theme, "Christmas Around the World," was carried out in the program which featured Moody Yap, a native Chinese, Miss Bertha Magan of Peru, South America, who is attending Hope College, and Elsie Bwanausi from Malawi, Africa, also a student at Hope, telling of customs in their native lands.

Mr. Yap, a student at western Theological seminary, spoke about Christmas customs in China, Hong Kong, and the Philippines. He said that the Island of Ku Lang Su was predominantly Christian during his childhood and that the Christmas celebration was carried on in the church from Dec. 20 to 25 with daily music and devotional messages. Trees were decorated with cotton to represent snow.

In Hong Kong customs are much the same except that gifts are exchanged and cards sent and in the Philippines church services play a prominent part in the celebration. Mr. Yap sang "The Star of Bethlehem" and the Yap children, Daniel and Esther, sang "Away in a Manger."

Miss Magan said the Christmas season is in summer in Peru and gifts are placed in shoes set on window sills. Midnight services are held in the churches on Christmas Eve and family gatherings are also held at that time.

Miss Bwanausi explained several of the Christmas customs in her country, Malawi, Africa. In Blantyre, where she lives, services, programs and often plays are given to tell the story of Christmas.

Mrs. Ted Boot read the poem "Christmas, Christmas Everywhere."

Mrs. Paul Vander Hill, Guild president, presided and the Hoffman Circle with Mrs. Arthur Hoedema as chairman, arranged the program. Co-chairmen for the Christmas program were Miss Margaret Lieveense and Miss Esther Kooyers.

Invocation before the supper was given by Mrs. Wilbur Daniels. Devotions were conducted by Miss Kooyers and Mrs. Eldert Bos read Peter Marshall's "Christmas Prayer."

The worship center contained a large globe of the world connected by gold ribbon streamers to an open Bible. Supper arrangements and decorations were in charge of the De Weerd Circle, Mrs. Richard Van Eenennaam, chairman, while Mrs. Louise Ter Louw and her committee arranged other decorations. Mrs. Dora Russcher was in charge of the worship center supper. Door hostesses were Mrs. Ted Bos and Mrs. Eldert Bos.

Dutch Win 82-75 Game Over Olivet

Hope College's basketball team grabbed second place in the MIAA here Saturday night as they stopped Olivet, 82-75 before 1,700 fans in the Civic Center.

It was Hope's second straight MIAA victory and evened the season's mark at 2-2. For Olivet it was its first MIAA loss and third setback in four games. Albion leads with a 3-0 MIAA record. Hope seeks its third MIAA win against Alma Wednesday in the Civic Center.

The Flying Dutchmen displayed some of their best playing of the season in the first half and early in the second half. But an Olivet press in the late stages of the game succeeded in cutting the final margin.

Hope led 38-21 at half and with seven minutes gone in the second half held a 52-27 margin for the game's biggest spread. This appeared to Coach Russ De Vette to be a good spot to insert some replacements.

The subs came in and Olivet began to chip away at the lead. They outscored Hope 23-12 in the next five minutes and had the margin to 64-50. That was enough for De Vette. He reinserted the regulars.

Although the outcome was never in doubt, Olivet continued on its rampage. The press resulted in the Comets not only getting the ball and some key baskets but they also had Hope fouling and cashed in at the line.

In the last five minutes, Olivet outscored the winners, 25-18 as they scored seven free throws and nine baskets. Leading the way was sub Dave Gosselin with seven points.

Five straight baskets in the closing minute pulled Olivet within five, 80-75 before Carl Walters finished the scoring with two free shots with three seconds left.

Despite the bumpy finish, Hope had received some fine performances. Its rebounding game was superior as the Flying Dutchmen grabbed 83 to Olivet's 44.

Leading the way was freshman Floyd Brady who snatched 22 rebounds. Roy Anker followed with 21 and Clare Van Wieren had 19. Brady had 15 of his rebounds in the first half and Anker had 11.

Brady, who shot nine of 14 from the floor in the first half, led Hope with 25 points. Several of his field goals were scored on rebound shots as he had good position under the basket.

Van Wieren had 23, including four baskets after he returned in the final six minutes. Anker's play was superb. Hope's most improved player, the 6'7" junior was leaping and scrapping for rebounds and has developed his shooting. He made 12 points.

Chris Buys turned in one of his best games. His scrappiness kept pressure on the Comets and he got off several fine passes. Buys added two needed baskets in the final four minutes. Carl Walters did his job of setting up the Hope offense.

The winners made 37 per cent of their shots on 35 baskets in 94 tries. Hope had halves of 17 of 52 and 18 of 52. Olivet hit 32 per cent on 28 of 87. The Comets made 10 of 40 and 18 of 47.

Hope hit 12 of 20 free throws and Olivet, 19 of 27, including eight straight by Gosselin and six in a row by Mike Rabbers. Guard Jim Everett, who sparked the Olivet attack with pass interceptions and good jump shooting, led the Comets with 21 and Gosselin had 20.

I would call attention to the National 4-H News, December issue, as it shows many of the things that have gone on at the National 4-H Club Congress, listing the achievements and accomplishments of many of the youth in the United States, and what they have done to win the various awards to attend this event. It is an excellent issue and is available at all of the libraries. We are in hopes that those of you who receive a subscription to this magazine, would share your copy with older 4-H members and other leaders.

CAROLING AT HOSPITAL — The Hope College Chancel Choir under the direction of Roger Davis sang traditional Christmas carols all around Holland Hospital Monday evening, attracting most patients to windows for the event. Earlier, the choir members sang at the 10th St. and 12th St. corners on River Ave. at Centennial Park. Monday night's weather was too cold to attract audiences, but cars slowed down and windows were rolled down. The 60 to 70 members of the choir made the trip to the hospital by bus, changing previous plans which called for walking. They ended the evening at Hope Church where hot chocolate and doughnuts were served. (Sentinel photo)

Last-Second Basket Wins For Allegan

ALLEGAN — A one-handed desperation swisher from near midcourt by forward Jim Pritchett with the final horn sounding gave the Allegan basketball team a thrilling 61-60 win over Holland Christian before a jam-packed crowd here Friday night.

Just eight seconds before, the Maroons had gone ahead on a corner shot by forward Jack Kalmink. The Tigers then took the ball out of bounds under the Christian basket with six seconds remaining to pave the way for the winning heave.

It was a thrilling climax to a game which saw the lead change hands four times in the last four minutes. The Tigers are now 4-1 for the season while the locals are 2-1.

Although the Maroons were on the short end of the final score they showed that they are beginning to jell as a good ball club. After a fair first two quarters, the Maroons were sharp in their best ball of the season.

Christian's inability to control the boards in the first half was the big factor in the Maroon defeat. Rebounding gave the scrappy Tigers a seven point lead at halftime and forced Christian to play "come from behind" basketball the entire last half. The Maroons fought back desperately under plenty of pressure to knot the count midway in the third period.

The guard play on both sides was spectacular with Tom Deur and Larry Klaasen looking superb in all departments and particularly against the constant Tigers pressing tactics. Gary Wagers and Stu Purkey were the ball hawking guards for the Tigers. On the boards it was big Pritchett and Mike Oram for the Tigers and Kalmink, Wedeven and Alferink mostly for the losers. Christian's cause was hurt considerably at the start of the second period when Alferink picked up his third personal and sat out the next two quarters.

The Maroons continued to shoot well as they bombed the nets for 27 out of 61 tries for about 47 per cent. Despite the rugged play foul shooting was at a minimum with the Maroons connecting on six of eight and Allegan on 11 out of 13.

Christian, behind some great shooting by Deur and Kalmink, shot off to a 9-5 bulge and maintained the margin until the Tigers went ahead 14-13 with 1:30 left in the period. Wagers and Oram were the big guns in the Tiger surge. Two quick swishers by Deur gave the Maroons a 17-16 bulge going into the second period.

Christian's bad quarter was the second as the Maroons lacked the scrap of the Tigers who pulled away from a 25-25 deadlock with some aggressive board work and good outcourt shooting. By halftime, Coach George Van Wagener's club led 36-29.

Paced by Kalmink and Steggerda, the Maroons chopped four points off the Tiger lead in less than a minute. Allegan spurted again but Holland knotted the count at 41-41 with three minutes left in the period. The winners later upped their margin to six points before the Maroons cut it to 49-45 going into the hectic finale.

After knotting the count at 49-49 on some fine pattern play, the Maroons again fell behind by four points. Finally with four minutes left in the game, Deur with pressing tactics, stole the ball and gave the losers a 56-55 edge. A basket by Wagers with 3:33 remaining sent the Tigers into their famous "keep-away" stall. The Maroons twice broke up the tactics to score before Pritchett's final toss.

Deur led all scorers with 20, followed by Kalmink and Klaasen with 14 each. Pritchett paced Allegan with 17 and Schreur and Oram each had 13.

Next Friday Christian entertains another strong Ludington outfit.

Ottawa County Farm News

By Richard Machiele,
Ottawa County Extension Director

The annual meeting of the West Michigan Holstein Breeders Association was held at Zeeland this past week. Two new directors, Frank Wiersma of Byron Center and Gordon Schreur of Zeeland, were elected. They will replace David Kober and John Buth who were retiring. The new officers for this year are: president, Roger Holmes; vice president, Elmo Heft; and secretary-treasurer, Henry Baker. Some interesting facts were brought out at the meeting. A total of 66 per cent of all cattle registered in all breed associations are Holsteins; and between 260,000 and 263,000 total cattle are registered this year. Michigan had 1,000 more Holstein cattle registered in 1964 than in 1963. The area breeders were commended for the fine herd improvement work done in herd classification and DHIR.

Gerald Poest and Sons, breeders of registered Holstein cattle for many years in the Zeeland area, have sold two of their registered animals for foundation stock to the Anville Institute at Anville, Ky., a branch of the Reformed Church of America. We are glad that this good cattle can form the basis for a foundation herd at the Anville Institute.

This week we had opportunity to visit with Lloyd Cogswell, district forester assigned to Ottawa County. His work is particularly with the woodlot improvement program. He tells us that our northern hardwood, especially hard maple, is in good demand by sawmills for furniture manufacturing, and advises that if any of our readers have marketable hardwood timber that prices are good. He also emphasized the need for thinning and pruning our pine plantation stands.

A growing problem in Ottawa County is the many woodlots that have no new growth because of density of the stands. It is necessary to do thinning work on these stands. The A.C.P. program is set up to give assistance on both hardwood and pine plantation improvement work. During the winter months some of this work could be done and a fair wage received for the work.

Chemical control of hardwoods has been tried in many areas of the state and found practical to do. If any of our readers are interested in woodlot improvement, we would certainly like to hear from you. Mr. Cogswell is available for work in this area and his services are free for Michigan residents. We would also like to hear from anyone interested in chemical treatment for thinning.

The Michigan chapter has a membership of 110 member firms in the state.

Students Give Music Program At PTA Meeting

A program of Christmas songs by the students was presented at the December meeting of the Waukazoo PTA Thursday evening. The program was under the direction of Mrs. John Kleinheksel, music supervisor for several West Ottawa elementary schools.

The program and meeting was preceded by parent visitation through the holiday decorated school. The meeting was conducted by John Kaiser, president, and the treasurer's report was given by Gerald Stielstra. The report included the report on the November soup supper.

The next meeting will be a combined West Ottawa PTA meeting to be held Jan. 21 in the West Ottawa Cafeteria. Guest will be Dr. Harry Robinson from Central Michigan University who will speak on "Changes in Curriculum and How They Affect Us."
