New Police Chief Welcomed to City

Charles L. Lindstrom's first day as chief of police of Holland today was more social than administrative.

At 9 a.m. he met the local police force and representatives of area enforcement agencies at coffee in the now vacated fire quarters adjoining the police station. Tuesday afternoon he met city officials and the City Hall employees at coffee in City Hall.

Thus, he was introduced early to one of Holland's most pleasant pastimes — drinking coffee and chatting.

The 31-year-old new chief, who comes to Holland from Lansing where he served as a program manager with the State Office of Criminal Justice Programs, spoke briefly following introduction by City Manager William L. Bopf.

"I know it will be a big undertaking to follow your previous chief, Les Van Beveren," he said. "I know Les personally and we see pretty well eye-to-eye on law enforcement."

"As for a new police station, every police chief dreams of such a thing, and it's great you have your plans so well along.

"I'm particularly glad you have the area enforcement men here. Inter-agency cooperation is one of the most important things in any police program," he said. "I hope to remain in Holland for a good long time."

The new chief, who formerly served as chief of police in Albion, figured it would be some time before he could sort out names and faces in the new work.

He is currently house-selling, not house-buying, but he hopes that in another month he can move his family (wife and two daughters, 6 and 7) to Holland.

Michigan born, Lindstrom is used to snow but was noncommittal on the generous amounts in Holland at the moment. But when he spent four years in California, he admitted he missed the snow.

Chief Lindstrom is a graduate of the Michigan State University school of police administration.

Property Is Rezoned For Meijer's

With no objections voiced at a public hearing on rezoning a 75.5-acre parcel at the southeast corner of 16th St. and Waverly Rd. for a new Meijer's Thrifty Acres, City Council Wednesday night rezoned the parcel from agricultural and residential to C-4 regional shopping center.

There was some question on a sufficiently large setback in case the street would be widened, and Frederick Meijer who was present with other representatives of his company assured Council he not only would cooperate but would request a proper setback. Such details will be worked out later with the Holland Planning Commission.

On motion of Councilman Morris Peerbolt, Council suspended the rules to take final action immediately after the public hearing instead of waiting until the close of the meeting. Later Peerbolt suggested this order be observed at all public hearings, and referred such a resolution to the next regular meeting for action.

Council also approved a variance from fire district requirements for Dr. Laurence Schmidt for constructing a veterinary clinic building at 956 Washington Ave. No objections were voiced at the public hearing.

Mayor Nelson Bosman welcomed students of government classes from E. E. Fell Junior High School. Council chambers were bright with poinsettia plants provided by the Park department. The mayor thanked Park Supt. Jacob De Graaf for the flowers, and wished Councilmen and all citizens of Holland a very Merry Christmas. Mayor Pro Tem Peerbolt responded on behalf of Council wishing the mayor and his family season's greetings, and thanking the mayor for countless hours spent on behalf of the city.

Council received for study a petition bearing signatures of 50 downtown merchants requesting that the downtown mall be deferred, pending further study of six items mentioned in the petitions or that "the petition be considered a referendum petition for submission to the electors on the question of increasing taxes by the amount necessary to defray annual operating and maintenance costs of said mall."

The city attorney was authorized to institute condemnation proceedings to acquire property at 68 West Seventh St. adjoining the police department site. Councilman Lou Hallacy, chairman of the special police study committee, outlined developments for the new police complex and Paul Vander Leek of the architectural firm of Kammeraad, Stroop and Vander Leek, displayed sketches of site plans, building plans, and front elevations of the proposed police building. Hallacy also said the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners agreed to erect a district court building nearby.

After the reports, Council authorized the newly appointed building authority to make application to the Municipal Finance Commission to finance the $600,000 facility through the sale of revenue bonds, with the building to be leased to the city by the building authority. The motion also included retaining the law firm of Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip as bond counsel.

Sau-Tuck Industries Inc., was granted permission to continue the use of a steel storage building at 850 Maple Ave. until about March 1 when the new Sau-Tuck building in the south-side industrial park will be completed. By an 8-1 vote, council approved an agreement with Emergency Physicians of Holland, Inc., for physician staffing of the emergency department of the hospital. Basic principles had been worked out previously, and the contract was approved by the Hospital Board Dec. 15. Dissenting vote was cast by Councilman Jack Smith. Councilman Elmer Wissink commented on the no-risk aspect of the contract for physicians which he figured was unique in business circles.

City Atty. Gordon Cunningham announced the appointment of Jack Marquis as deputy city attorney and introduced Marquis, a graduate of Ohio State University law school, to Council. The appointment was confirmed.

A letter from Holland Jaycees expressed appreciation for the use of city property at 13th St. and Central Ave. for a Halloween Haunted House project.

Council approved purchase of an NCA 400 Electronic Accounting machine currently in use in the auditor's office for $11,707.50 which price gives credit for 100 per cent of rentals paid during 1969 and 75 per cent of rentals during 1970. A maintenance agreement also was approved.

Council also approved a revision to the budget of the Computer Services Center, the total dollar value remaining at $44,000, creating a programmer-operator classification at pay range 29, and cancelling a one-year lease with IBM for the 519 reproducer.

Council Approves One-Way Streets

City Council voted Wednesday night to implement one-way streets on Seventh and Ninth Sts. in the central business area, listing a target date of July 1.

The plan calls for one-way westbound on Seventh St. from Columbia to River Aves. and one-way eastbound on Ninth St. from River to Columbia Aves. Columbia Ave. would be one-way northbound from Ninth to Seventh Sts. Two-way traffic would continue on River Ave.

The action would delete Eighth St. from River to Columbia Aves from the State Highway System and substitute the other streets.

The matter of deleting on-street parking from Seventh St., Ninth St. and Columbia Ave. will be deferred until this aspect has been fully evaluated by Council and staff.

The city manager also presented an engineering report prepared by Gordon M. Buitendorp Associates Inc. for development of the expanded Kollen Park boat launching facility. It was noted that the preliminary estimate of $78,000 is in excess of the amount to be funded by local adn state monies, the increased cost largely due to unstable soil conditions in the area and the fact that figures developed several years ago for grant application were not geared to inflationary trends. The report was accepted for information.

Certifications were confirmed for Councilman Smith, Wade Drug Co., various departments, $52.23; Councilman Lamb, Lamb Inc., $65.92; Councilman Peerbolt, Peerbolt's, $19.95.

Liability insurance on city vehicles through the Lams Agency of Zeland with Hawkeye Security Insurance Co. was renewed for $7,528.46.

Council approved a 30-day trial period on truck deliveries in the alley on the north side of Eighth St. between River and Central Aves., providing that the alley not be blocked by any vehicles making deliveries before 10 a.m. Monday through Saturday for longer than 30 minutes, and after that any longer than 10 minutes. Trucks blocking the alley must move when they prohibit exiting cars from parking places, and must yield to emergency vehicles. Offenses may be subject to prosecution under city ordinances.

At the close of the meeting, Atty. Donald Hann, representing several downtown merchants concerned with the warehouse uses of downtown property by Vogelzang's, asked whether the committee appointed by the mayor could report on developments. Mayor Nelson Bosman said a meeting had been held at progress was being made.

A letter from Grand Haven Mayor David Pushaw asked Holland's cooperation in promoting county-wide reappraisals for Ottawa county since both Holland and Grand Haven are engaged in professional reappraisals. The communication said updated county reappraisals would provide more equitable treatment in all tax questions.

The city manager reported on an inadequate right of way at 20th St. and Hazel Ave. and said the city could improve it if a full right-of-way were obtained, subject to special assessment. He said if the situation continued unsatisfactory, the 33-foot right-of-way could be vacated at a public hearing, and the property could be subject to action by developers in the future.

Sheriff's Operations To Continue at Local Branch Building

GRAND HAVEN—The Ottawa County Board of Commissioners Tuesday afternoon took action to limit costs of the proposed new district court building in Holland to $250,000, thus eliminating plans for sheriff's quarters. The board also authorized the improvements committee to work with architects on the location of the building and parking areas to provide the easiest flow of traffic at the site which adjoins the Holland police department site which has been enlarged for a new police complex.

Holland City Manager William L. Bopf, Councilman Lou Hallacy, II and representatives of the architectural firm of Kammeraad, Stroop and Vander Leek Inc. outlined plans for the new enforcement complex in Holland.

Wrong Lane Usage

William Bruinsma, 27, of 622 West 27th St., was cited by Holland police for improper lane usage after the pickup truck he was driving and a car operated by Roland J. Overway, 25, of 552 East End Dr., collided Friday at 9:20 a.m. along 11th St., 250 feet west of River Ave.

Shooting was the difference of the outcome as the Hawks were able to make only 18 of 63 shots for an icy 29 per cent while the Rebels hit on 22 of 51 attempts for 43 per cent.

"We were only 11 for 38 in free throws," concluded Bos while the winners sank 20 of 37 for 54 per cent.

Hamilton out rebounded Lee, 42-36 as guard-forward Randy Busscher led the way with 12. The Hawks made nine less turnovers than Lee, 18 to 27 but their poor shooting percentage cost them the game.

Hamilton will be seeking its first win Tuesday in its home opener with Wayland.

Artrain Will Visit Holland

A unanimous vote decided that Holland would request the visit of the Artrain when it makes its rounds in 1972 or 1973. Extensive discussion proceeded the vote on choices for a date for the visit. The importance of a time which encouraged maximum attendance was emphasized. The last two weeks in May following Tulip Time was selected as the first choice with the first two weeks of October as a second choice.

To Continue Auxiliary School Aids

The Holland Board of Education Monday night unanimously passed a resolution to continue to offer auxiliary services to children attending nonpublic schools within the school district in the wake of the passage of Proposal 3 (the anti-Parochial amendment) in the November election. The amendment was defeated in Holland but passed statewide.

The resolution calls for the school board to continue "to offer auxiliary services such as but not limited to diagnostic testing, speech correction and swimming instruction to the students attending nonpublic schools within the school district of the city of Holland, and to support the official position of the Michigan Association of School Boards unless ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction to do otherwise."

The stand also is supported by the Holland Education Association, according to Donald Rohlek, chairman-elect who earlier outlined the public school program, the third of a series of departmental reports at monthly school board meetings.

In his presentation, Rohlek outlined activity on the elementary, junior high and high school levels in which three teachers carry on the art program in 12 elementary buildings, two teachers conduct the program in junior high and two fulltime and one half-time teachers in the high school.

He said five elementary buildings have multi-purpose rooms in which art is taught, and gymnasiums and halls are used in the other buildings. Junior high has two art rooms and some auxiliary rooms but generally is crowded. Holland High has a separate building which was a gift to the schools, but after 10 years has outgrown some areas and must limit some classes. And the enrollment increases every year, he added.

He said crafts, drawing, metals, sculptures, print making, ceramics and art appreciation are taught on the higher levels, plus exploratory courses on the eighth grade level, with a good share of sensitivity to art on all levels.

Supt. Donald L. Ihrman reported 85.7 per cent of parents participated in the recently completed parent-teacher conferences in elementary schools, an indication of high interest in their children's progress in education.

Guidance Director Thomas Carey and Psychologist Eugene Scholten presented an evaluation of the 1969-70 state assessment program for fourth and seventh graders in Holland public schools. Both classes did well in reading, math, English expression and basic skills, ranging in the 75 to 80 percentile but less well in the first part of the tests on attitudes.

Many other districts experienced the same results, the men said, and the Michigan testing program probably will have some revisions. Not all children took the tests because of some resistance in Holland and elsewhere on invasion of privacy. Dr. Scholten said the tests have been highly criticized but in general they were valuable tests not unlike the Iowa tests which had been used before.

A request from Hospital Director Fred Burd on possible use of school property at 24th St. and Maple Ave. for use of hospital parking was tabled until after the transportation committee to assist in implementing a program providing for two new junior high schools to replace present overcrowded facilities.

The board concurred in his suggestion on guidelines for four committees, sites, curriculum, public information and present facility use.

President Lamb presided at the meeting which lasted nearly two hours. The invocation was given by Robert Gosselaar. All members were present.

President James O. Lamb commended Treasurer Charles Bradford and Financial Secretary Thelma Dalman on continued wise investments of

UP 2.5 MILLION A YEAR

The Bureau of the Census has at last issued the official figure: there are 204,765,770 Americans. Or rather, there were that many of us at the time of the 1970 census some months ago. By now the Census Bureau population clock has ticked past 206 million, and the number is still rising — not as swiftly as in some other countries, but fast enough. . . fast enough.

This, rather than the widely noted shift in congressional representation as a result of the head count, is the central import of the 1970 census. It would be folly to suppose that, since the rate of growth is slowing somewhat, we need be little concerned about the so-called population explosion as it applies to us.

Americans use up resources at a per capita rate vastly higher than that of most peoples. We enjoy ease and freedom to a degree matched in few other nations. For these reasons we had better do some hard thinking about the impact of the rise in population to be expected even at the current relatively slow pace.

That phrase, "relatively slow," must be taken with a grain of salt. How slowly are we increasing in population when the figures show that since the 1960 census we have gained a net increment of approximately 25 and one-half million people? Though the rate of increase is down, in absolute numbers the decade of the 1960s added more people than in any other decade save that of the 1950s, when the increment was 28 million.

Suppose the present gain in absolute numbers were merely to hold steady, even though the population base is constantly rising. A decade hence there would be still another 25 million of us, and 10 years beyond that — only 20 years from now — another 50 million. Some experts believe we already have too many people. If that is not true now, it evidently soon will be.

in Various Ways
John 1:9-18
By C. P. Dame

Merchants are reminding us of Christmas long in advance. Soon, if the trend continues we will be told in August about the coming of Christmas, the meaning of which many do not understand or do not care to know about. This lesson tells us that Christmas teaches the truth that God became man in the person of Jesus Christ.

I. Jesus is the true light. The four gospels begin variously. Matthew tells the story of the wise men, Mark begins by telling about the forerunner, John the Baptist, Luke records the story of the shepherds, and John relates the pre-existence of Christ. John's gospel differs from the three. Great indeed is the mystery of the incarnation which John wrote for us.

John calls Jesus the true Light. The word "true" occurs nine times in John's gospel, not once in the synoptics. The word means genuine, being real. John the Baptist was an imperfect, transitory light who came "to bear witness to the Light." Jesus is the "true Light which lighted every man that cometh into the world." When Jesus came the partial made way for the perfect and the incomplete for the complete. Today Jesus is still the Light of the world.

II. Some rejected Jesus, some accept Him. Before Jesus came to this world He was active in it for it was made by Him. The word "world" as used by John refers to this inhabited world. This world rejected Jesus, its Creator and Ruler. His own, the Jewish people, who had been told about His coming by prophets and its sacrificial offerings also rejected Him. However, a few did receive Him and to them He gave the power "to become the sons of God." These "were born, not of blood, nor of the will of man, but of God." They were redeemed by the Holy Spirit. Some still reject Jesus and some accept Him.

III. Jesus reveals the Father to us. "And the Word was made flesh" — became human, and dwelt amongst us, and His friends saw His glory, which He showed on the Mt. of Transfiguration in a special manner and through His teaching and conducts daily, and especially in His redemptive suffering and His glorious resurrection.

In the closing words of the text the writer refers to the testimonies of John the Baptist regarding Jesus and then speaks on behalf of his fellow disciples, telling all that the law came by Moses but grace, the unmerited favor of God to undeserving sinners, came by Jesus Christ. The law is fine but its failure was to give power to obey — this grace does, at least it moves a believer in that direction. We need both law and the gospel.

Truck Fire Damages 10 Motorcycles

Fire, believed started from a lighted cigarette tossed from a passing vehicle, caused an estimated $5,500 damage to ten motorcycles loaded in the back of a pickup truck at Central Ave and US-31 Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

The cycles, packed in wood and cardboard cartons, were in the back of a truck operated by Gerrit Keizer of Grand Rapids and enroute from Chicago to Holland.

Holland fire chief Richard Brandt said Keizer told him a passing motorist advised him of the fire in the back of the truck and Keizer stopped the vehicle along the bypass. A trailer pulled by the truck and containing additional cartons of motorcycles was unhitched and was not damaged.

The shipment of cycles was headed for Garry's Cycle Sales, 11223 East Lakewood Blvd.

Six cycles in the truck were destroyed and four others were damaged. Brandt said damage to the truck was estimated at $300. No injuries were reported.

Firemen said Keizer told them neither he nor his passenger were smokers and that the truck made only one stop since it left Chicago.

Brandt said apparently a cigarette tossed from a passing vehicle landed among the cartons and smoldered until the fire broke out.

Holland policemen attempted to extinguish the blaze until firemen arrived.

Sheridan, 32, of Oak Park, and Christi Jo Jones, 18, of 345½ River Ave., collided Saturday at 7:59 p.m. on Lakewood Blvd., 6 of a mile west of 144th Ave. Sheriff's officers cited Miss Jones for failure to stop in an assured clear distance. No one was reported injured, including two passengers in the Jones vehicle, Pam Rithamel, 16, 1361 Lakewood Blvd., and Allen Box, 14, 112 West 15th St.

West Ottawa Approves New Budget

West Ottawa Board of Education Monday night adopted its 1970-71 school budget calling for a total of $3,525,297, following months of study.

Included in revenues are general property taxes, $1,536,811; state aid K-12, $1,434,705; adult education, $44,268; transportation, $81,281; special education and other programs, $1,632,706; county special education, $56,072.

Expenditures include elementary instruction, $1,149,568; secondary instruction, $1,162,439; administration, $100,868; transportation, $210,109; operation (housekeeping, $271,051; maintenance, $94,918; fixed charges (insurance), $115,023; capital outlay, $97,838.

The board also set aside $75,000 to meet the new Supreme Court directive providing books and supplies not previously furnished. The 1969-70 budget was $3,225,000.

Under buildings and grounds, the board accepted the offer of an unidentified donor to carpet the library, an acoustical treatment move to reduce noise since library use has increased 125 per cent of its designed capacity.

The board reaffirmed its hot lunch policy of not denying a child a meal if his parents cannot afford to pay for it, but requiring payment from all who can afford payment. Applications for free or reduced charge lunches are made through the building principal and forms are available in any school office.

The board emphasized that all such applications are kept confidential and children are not identified except to administrators who must know in order to carry out their responsibilities.

A child is eligible for free lunch if a family of three earns $3,375 or less in a year. This ranges to a family of eight earning $6,300. Such income can be verified from income tax files of the Internal Revenue Service.

Average daily participation in the hot lunch program is about 75 per cent of enrollment. Kindergarten do not stay and some students by choice carry lunches. Most of the food preparation is done in the central kitchen in Woodside school and in the high school. Beechwood and Waukazoo schools use their own kitchens.

Supt. Lloyd Van Raalte gave an analysis of expenditures and trends dating from 1960 to the present. He said 60 per cent of the income goes for good and 28 per cent for labor. The balance of 2 per cent goes for supplies and replacement of dishes and equipment. Price per meal since 1966 has been 35 cents, plus a government subsidy of 4 cents reimbursed through the National Hot Lunch program. Use of commercially prepared foods in the menus in recent years has cut labor, but Van Raalte said the biggest problem is fluctuation in numbers reporting for lunch.

The board approved a bid purchase of $13,268.69 for stock-room supplies, about half of it associated with added supplies under the Supreme Court ruling. Also reviewed were procedures for distribution and control, geared to the combined objectives of education and economy.

Also discussed were problems of vandalism and break-ins at several buildings. Under study are such security items as sound monitoring in the high school, automatic telephone dialing system, automatic cameras and night watch.

ESTABLISH SCHOLARSHIP—Jack De Witt (left) of Zeeland has presented funds to Hope College for the establishment of a special scholarship program for students from Germany or Austria. The Jack and Marlies De Witt scholarship will be offered

Hope Scholarship Set For German Students

Mr. and Mrs. Jack De Witt of Zeeland have presented funds to Hope College for the establishment of a special scholarship program for students from Germany or Austria.

The Jack and Marlies De Witt scholarship will initially be offered for the academic year 1971-72 to a well-qualified undergraduate from Germany or Austria who wishes to come to Hope College for a "Junior Year in America." The student chosen will spend one academic year at the college concentrating on courses dealing with American history, literature, economics, politics or other aspects of American life and culture.

The new scholarship is viewed as a reciprocal aspect of Hope's overall International Education program under which Hope students have been able to travel and study in Austria and Germany during the past decade. The student receiving the award will reside in one of the two German language houses on campus and will take an active part in the various programs designed to help American students prepare for study in Germany and Austria.

To qualify for the De Witt Scholarship the student selected must be enrolled at an Austrian or German institution of higher learning and must plan to return there upon completion of the year of study at Hope. Excellent command of English, a clear understanding of the aims of Hope and its educational program will be required of all applicants. Hopefully, they will also have had prior personal contact with Hope students, faculty or alumni through the Vienna Summer School or other European programs attended by Hope students.

The scholarship will cover the cost of room, board, tuition and fees for one year, but students will be expected to pay for their own books, personal expenses and vacation periods either out of their own resources or by accepting part-time employment.

Students will also be responsible for arranging their own travel between their home and Hope. They will, however, be able to travel with the Hope groups returning from Europe at the end of the summer or going to Europe in June.

Dr. Paul Fried, Hope director of international education who will have primary responsibility for developing the new programs, expects to contact the Fulbright Commission in Vienna, Austria, and officials in Bonn, Germany during the Christmas vacation and may be able to interview prospective students while he is in Europe.

"Hope College is deeply appreciative of the special scholarship fund provided by Mr. and Mrs. De Witt," said college Chancellor Dr. William Vander Lugt. "Every institution of higher learning must have scholarship funds available to foreign students who desire to study in this country. As many of our students are studying abroad, so we need foreign students on our campus to share with us their political, cultural, and religious backgrounds. The De Witt scholarship will greatly add to this interchange."

SWITCHES SPORT—Minnesota Twins' pitcher Jim Kaat of Zeeland has temporarily traded bullpen for handball court, as he plays a round of handball Tuesday to keep in shape for next season. Hopeful of being in a regular starting spot for the Twins, Kaat said, "Now I feel better than I have in 10 years." That's good news for Minnesota fans and bad news for the rest of the American League. (UPI telephone)

1st Victory Of Season For Dutchmen

Hope College's basketball team got a much deserved early Christmas present Saturday evening in the Civic Center, as they won its first contest of the season, 91-61, over Spring Arbor and its 700th career win.

As a team, the Dutchmen went into the Spring Arbor clash hitting a frigid .383 from the floor but Santa Claus couldn't have made his presents any better, as Hope found its shooting eye to swish 36 of 73 shots from the field for 49 per cent compared to the Cougars who only made 29 of 79 attempts for a cold 35 per cent.

Coach Russ DeVette of Hope made one switch in his starting lineup that gave the Dutchmen the spark that they needed. The spark was felt in the presence of sophomore forward Dave Harmelink of Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, who took the place of Ric Scott, who had a sore leg and did a banged up job, as he fired in 14 first half points to give the Dutchmen a 41-26 halftime lead.

"Harmelink sure helped us," elated DeVette who also indicated that he was pleased with all of his players and was glad to see us find our shooting eye.

With big Tom Wolters of Fennville continuing to improve with each contest, Hope dominated both backboards against the taller Cougars throughout the entire evening. As a team, Hope took off 76 rebounds to only 41 for the losers with Wolters topping both teams with 16. Marty Snoop and Harmelink helped out with 12 apiece while Jimmy Jones had 14 for Spring Arbor.

Hope finished the game with 17 turnovers compared to 23 for the Cougars who took a 6-5 record into the contest.

The game started off slowly for both teams, as the first goal wasn't scored until 2:51 elapsed on the scoreboard as Snoop tallied on a rebound shot to give Hope a 2-0 lead.

A three-point play by center Nate Lake gave the Cougars a 3-2 margin as the Dutchmen were able to only score three points in the first five minutes of play.

Spring Arbor wasn't much hotter, as they only held a 9-3 margin with 15 minutes to play in the first half.

Harmelink tallied two buckets, and Snoop and Dan Shinabarger added one each to give Hope a 11-10 advantage with 12:03 left in the half.

With Shinabarger finding his magic touch from all over the court, Hope raced to a 19-11 margin and increased its lead to 41-26 at the intermission.

Harmelink and Shinabarger paced Hope in scoring with 14 and 11 counters respectively at the half.

Lorenza Howard of Hope, who finished the night with 11 points held Jerry Neigh, the Cougars excellent scorer to only eight points in the first 20 minutes of action. Neigh, who had been averaging close to 30 points a game was forcing his shots against Howard, who was hanging over him. "Howard did a fine job on Neigh," stated DeVette.

Howard showed that he could score too, at the outset of the second half, as he pumped in five quick points to give Hope a commanding 46-26 lead.

From then on, it wasn't too much of a contest, as the Dutchmen were out to prove that they were better than their 0-3 mark. Shinabarger and Neigh finished the game with 20 counters each while Jeff Troutman was the only other Cougar in double figures with 13.

Harmelink, who fouled out early in the second half backed "Shinny" with 14 points while Wolters and Snoop scored 13 and 12 in that order, as 12 of the 13 Hope players finished the evening with at least two points.

Holland Rips County Rival Grand Haven

Snow, rain, sleet or even Grand Haven couldn't stop Coach Don Piersma's Holland High Dutch basketball team Friday night in the Fieldhouse as the Dutch breezed to an easy 71-50 decision.

Although it didn't snow, rain or sleet during the game, the Bucs must have thought that they were hit by the same blizzard that fell on Holland early Friday morning.

"We played tremendous defense and I was glad to see Steve Shinabarger do so well," stated Piersma after the contest which was played before a large crowd.

Shinabarger, who is the younger brother of Hope College's outstanding guard Dan looked more like his brother than ever, as he canned six of eight field goal attempts and hit on two free throws for a fine 14 point performance.

Holland's ace scorer, Jim Helmink came up with his usual fine outing by tallying 21 counters to lead both teams in that department while slick moving guard Dave Brownson chipped in with 11.

Big 6' 5" junior forward Bruce Albe, a transfer student from Louisville, Ky. led the Bucs with 19 points and one must wonder what the score would have been if Albe wouldn't have been around Friday. No one else could muster 10 or more markers for Coach Al Schafer's squad.

Jim Helmink... game's high scorer

Greg Slenk, who was giving away two to three inches to Albe and center Terry Rutherford tossed in the games first basket on a bucket by Jim Searer.

The Dutch enjoyed a 16-11 first period margin before Grand Haven came to life in the outset of the second quarter by scoring two quick baskets to cut the deficit to 16-15.

However, Holland never relinquished the lead, even though the Bucs came within one point at 18-17 moments later.

Reserve forward Mike Riksen came off the bench to drop in two baskets with one coming on a fine move to put the Dutch up by a 31-19 score which turned out to be the closest Grand Haven came the rest of the evening as they didn't score for two and a half minutes against the rugged defense of Holland.

The scrappy Dutch led at the intermission, 40-23 as Helmink and Brownson led the way with 12 and nine points respectively.

Albe, who showed he is a fine ball player but can't do it alone led Grand Haven with 11 at the half.

Holland's offense in the third and fourth quarters was like that of a speeding bullet as it seemed like there were eyes on the basket for the Dutch while for Grand Haven, nothing would go in.

Grand Haven trailed Holland, 57-34 at the end of three periods but came to life against the Dutch reserves by outscoring them, 16-14 in the final eight minutes to make the final score, 71-50.

The Dutch hit on 27 of 56 shots for a fine 48 per cent while the Bucs who shot 13 more times made only 20 of 69 attempts for a cold 28 per cent.

Coach Ken Bauman's Holland reserves smashed the baby Bucs, 48-37 in the prelim contest.

The loss was the first for Grand Haven in three outings while Holland ups its mark to 2-1.

Jed De Boer led Holland with 23 counters while Ron Scholten and Steve Miller scored 12 and 10 in that order, Gary Speer paced the Bucs with 11 points.

Christian Wins Over West Ottawa

Holland Christian's basketball team Friday night soundly trounced an out-manned West Ottawa team in the Civic Center, 82-36.

The Maroons, looking extremely sharp in the first half, turned in their best performance of the season. Coach Elmer Ribbens surprised the Panthers by having his cagers start out with a full court press, and even after taking the press off, the Maroons continued with a very tight man - to - man defense, swarming all over their opponents.

West Ottawa opened with a zone defense, which was quickly riddled as Ron Scholten and Phil Tuls were deadly from the court. When the Panthers switched to a man - to - man, Christian was equally successful, as they worked the ball in to Jerry De Groot and Dave Mulder.

Christian swished the nets for 18 baskets in 30 tries in the first half, for 60 per cent, while West Ottawa could hit on only eight of 25, due to the pressure defense of the Maroons.

Denny Oosterbaan scored the game's first basket to give the Panthers their only lead in the game. Scholten bombed a pair and Oosterbaan again scored to tie the game at 44. From then on it was no contest as Christian went on to take a 16-6 lead at the quarter. Scholten had 10 in the period.

By the time the second quarter was half over the score stood at 30-13, as Tuls, Scholten and De Groot each carded two field goals and Mulder one. Ron Holstine, Oosterbaan and Keith Raak hit buckets for the Panthers during that time. The half ended with the Maroons doubling the score on the Panthers, 38-19.

The third period proved disastrous for West Ottawa, as they were unable to solve Christian's defense, getting off only eight shots, and making but one. The Maroons, meanwhile, took 22 shots, connecting on nine, and also hit 10 of 14 free throws, to score 28 points to four for the Panthers in the quarter, making it 66-23 going into the fourth quarter.

Substitutes played the entire fourth quarter for Christian and much of it for West Ottawa. The Maroons continued the onslaught, led by Steve Vogelzang and John Dykstra to take their biggest lead of the game, 82-33, before Jack Glupker scored the last three points, ending it at 82-36.

Scholten, playing little more than a half, was the scoring leader with 15 points, followed by Mulder and Tuls with 14 and De Groot with 10. Oosterbaan was the only West Ottawa player in double figures with 10 points.

Christian's reserve team won its fourth straight game in a squeaker, 42-41. West Ottawa with a 1-2 record held the lead at the end of each quarter, 11-7, 19-18 and 33-32, before the Maroons pulled out the win in the final minute of play.

Ed Meiste and Rick Klompaker had 12 points for Christian, as did Con Zomermaand for the Panthers. Christian, with a 44-second record, travels to Muskegon Christian next Friday.

Weeber Speaks To Community Health Board

Lewis Weeber spoke to the Community Mental Health board Thursday about the education service offered by the clinic staff. Weeber is a psychiatric social worker with the Community Mental Health Services and in charge of their education and consultation services.

The staff gives more than 40 speeches a month throughout the county. These talks inform people about the mental health services available and emphasize the role emotions play in lives.

A result of this education has been the stimulation of people and organizations to help others through volunteer services. Weeber cited the development of the Suicide Prevention Service, which is manned by trained volunteers. Many college aged youth are also serving with the drug centers. Other services that could be developed by community organizations are a Big Brother program, work with minority groups and with single parents. He also suggested a series on child management could be sponsored by a PTA group.

Weeber was with West Shore Clinic in Muskegon before joining the Community Mental Health Services in May 1970. He is a graduate of Calvin College and Michigan State University and has served with the Peace corp in Eastern Nigeria. He lives in Grand Haven with his wife Genevieve and son Steve.

Dr. G.H. Bonnette to Head New U-M Dental Department

ANN ARBOR—A department of dentistry offering services ranging from filling teeth to implanting plastic jaws has been established by The University of Michigan Hospital.

Gerald H. Bonnette, DDS, professor of oral surgery at the U-M School of Dentistry and a 1930 graduate of Holland High School, has been appointed chairman and director of the new department which expands the range of activities from the previous limitations to oral surgery.

"This new service will fulfill a growing and sometimes critical need for comprehensive dental coverage for both inpatients and outpatients," Dr. Bonnette said.

He heads a staff of 10 dentists, 13 dental resident trainees and two dental hygienists. Dr. Bonnette will have responsibility to both the director of the Hospital and the dean of the School of Dentistry.

Emphasis on routine restorative dental care will be one of the goals of the new department which is not intended to replace the family dentist, but to round out the hospital's services for those whose general health might require dental supplement.

Five of the clinic's six operating rooms are devoted to oral surgery, diagnosis and periodontics. A sixth room is used for operative and orthodontic care and maxillo-facial prosthetics—replacement of surgical defects in the orofacial region.

"This is an area of great need because of the increasing number of cancer patients who have lost parts of their jaws and faces due to the disease and the surgery necessary to cure it," Dr. Bonnette said.

Another key responsibility of the dental department is the screening of all cardiac surgery candidates for local gum or dental infections. These bacteria often attack diseased or weakened hearts. The dental infections must be eliminated or controlled to reduce such infections complications to heart surgery.

Two of the department of dentistry staff members, James R. Hayward, DDS, and Donald E. Kerr, DDS, did much of the organizational work for the new department and were co-directors until Dr. Bonnette's appointment. Dr. Hayward continues to direct the oral surgery section of the department and Dr. Kerr specializes in oral pathology and periodontal disease.

The oral surgery service at University Hospital began in 1917 under Dr. Chambers J. Lyons who became internationally famous for his work in oral cleft surgery. Oral surgery became a section of the department of surgery in 1952 and became the service of dentistry and oral surgery in 1963.

Activities remained limited to oral surgery, but the need for more comprehensive coverage over a wider range of dental services has been intensified. Last year, the department of dentistry was approved by University authorities in both the medical and dental fields.

HOLIDAY TEA HELD—Mrs. James Lugers, left, opened her home at 1921 South Shore Dr., on Thursday afternoon to members of the Holland Garden Club who honored past presidents at the traditional Christmas tea. Many attractive arrangements using flowers, greens, candles and bows and bells were used throughout the house. With Mrs. Lugers before the fireplace, is Mrs. Will J. Scott, center, tea committee and Mrs. Donald Kingsley, right, Club president. (Sentinel photo)

Holiday Tea at Lugers Honors Past Presidents

With the weatherman in a cooperative mood the early part of the afternoon, a large number of Holland Garden Club members turned out for the annual Christmas tea Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Lugers, 1921 South Shore Dr.

From the roof of the front porch, Mrs. Gilbert Moeller had hung, a kissing ball of fresh boxwood, gold flocked balls and gold velvet ribbon, and to the left of the doorway, a string of sleighbells trimmed with gold velvet streamers welcomed visitors.

A tall arrangement of pine, red carnations and gold-glittered white football mums, accented with an orange and red velvet bow graced the table in the front foyer, where Mrs. L. J. Geuder and Mrs. Paul deKruif greeted the members. It was designed by Mrs. Donald Van Kampen, general chairman, whose theme, "Deck the Halls," was carried out in many of the arrangements which used fresh holly in place of pine boughs.

Entering the living room, an arrangement using several gold and green folding prism candles in a variety of heights, and glowing warmly on a tray of fresh holly, was placed on a table by the window overlooking the lake, by Mrs. Donald Jencks.

On the game table, Mrs. Robert Albers used fresh holly and berries, with red, dyed Carum blooms in an Ikebana-style, "water reflecting" arrangement.

Over the fireplace, which was flanked by red poinsettia plants, a large, green wreath sparkled with Italian lights and a red velvet bow. The coffee table, done by Mrs. Ralph Leschier, held a black, wrought iron sleigh and reindeer which were filled with flocked fruit, resting on a bed of greens.

The divider shelf between the living room and dining rooms held a crescent shaped basket which was filled with greens and clusters of fruit by Mrs. Lugers.

The tea table, designed by Mrs. Leonard Dick, featured a long, low arrangement of red anthuriums on a base of fresh holly and berries. A topiary tree of waxed fruit, made by Mrs. Jack Lamb, stood on the stereo, and on one buffet, a lighted gold candle in a brass candlestick was draped with flocked fruit and greens, while a tall arrangement of holly, berries, and white carnations in a wooden compote was used on the second buffet, both done by Mrs. Van Kampen.

On the porch of the dining room, Mrs. James L. Jellison paced twinkling Italian lights on a large tree which framed another view of the lake.

In the main floor den, a piano top arrangement by Mrs. Joseph Mitchell used a large piece of driftwood as the framework for greens, pink, purple and green flocked grape clusters and hot pink candles, while the large, round coffee table held a centerpiece of greens, and flocked fruit around a large orange and hot pink candle by Mrs. Tom VanderKuy.

Mrs. Jellison draped the entire railing of the spiral staircase with greens and Della-Robia roping, accented with gold velvet bows, while on the landing, Mrs. Van Kampen had placed a boxwood topiary tree trimmed with white Italian lights, miniature fruit clusters and orange velvet bows.

In the window of the sewing room at the end of the stairs, Mrs. Van Kampen hung a wreath of permanent greens and red, "tomato" pincushions, tied with a red and green velvet bow.

The master bedroom, by Mrs. Jack Glupker, featured an arrangement of snow-sprayed grapevine, oak leaves and cat-tails, centered with a yellow football mum in a brass and copper ewer, echoing the print of the wallpaper.

In one of the girl's rooms, with burlap wallpaper, a large gold candle in a hurricane lamp glowed in a wreath of purple, green, orange and gold burlap flowers, designed by Mrs. Robert Clark, and placed on a gold painted campaign chest.

Another girl's room sported a jolly Mr. and Mrs. Santa on the dresser, along with a topiary tree of greens, fruit and cones, both by Mrs. Van Kampen.

A pair of cone-shaped trees, made of antiqued gold, permanent flowers, was used in the black and white guest room. One tree was contributed by Mrs. Donald Kingsley, its companion-piece by Mrs. Jerome Hurtgen.

11 Inches Falls Here; Roads Bad

Heavy, Wet Snow
Hard to Move; Travel
Warnings Posted

A snowstorm during the night dumped about a foot of snow on Holland area, closing schools, stranding cars and producing all the difficulties that go with heavy, gummy snow that was extremely hard to move.

Light rain through the morning made the heavy mass even harder and the 31-degree reading contributed to the slushy problems.

Officially, the snowfall measured 11 inches, according to Weather Observer Lynn P. Wheaton. Some observers on plows for the street department were of the opinion the snowfall was closer to 14 inches compacting to a foot or less.

It was worse in Grand Rapids where a record 15.1 inches had fallen by 10 a.m. since 6 p.m. Thursday. It surpassed a previous record of 14 inches in a 24-hour period. Side roads in the city were impassable and many motorists abandoned their snowbound cars.

Today's storm caused complete school closings. Holland School Supt. Donald L. Ihrman announced city public schools would not meet at 6:22 a.m., and the list as announced by local radio stations grew rapidly. A check revealed only Saugatuck schools were holding classes in the entire area.

Even with snow replacing light rain at noon, all basketball games slated tonight were still on schedule.

City sanders were out at 5 a.m. today and all other equipment shortly thereafter. City Engineer Harold Derks said a good share of the snow fell after 5 a.m. Underbody scrapers were unable to move the heavy snow, and front-end and V-plows were pressed into service. Crews were unable to maintain regular schedules, but hopefully, all local streets would be cleared by midafternoon. Sidewalk plows had more than their share of difficulties.

Local utilities had little or no problems in the storm and Consumers Power reported only minor power interruptions with no lines down. The major concern was with winds brushing wires together causing lights to flicker.

Holland Public Schools Seek Subtle Integration

Since the 1954 Supreme Court decision that racial segregation of public schools is unconstitutional and the 1969 Supreme Court order that schools must desegregate immediately, the big question of what exactly is required, has remained unanswered.

This year the Court seeks an interpretation of whether the order to desegregate requires full integration and complete racial balance of the public schools regardless of housing patterns or only the universal right of admission to all public schools.

Complete racial balancing is the interpretation which often requires busing of students to other schools and redistricting. Of the approximately 5,600 students in the Holland Public Schools the superintendent's office estimates that roughly 10 per cent are Spanish-American, the rest being white with only a few black students.

A recent interview with Holland Public Schools superintendent Donald Ihrman and vice-superintendent Gardner Wieringa revealed that the local school system has not felt it necessary to seek a racial balance and, in fact, has not been specifically concerned with integration as an issue.

"Integration just happened in Holland," Ihrman explained. "There was no planned movement to distribute students," he added.

The superintendent noted that there are Spanish-American students in all of the city's schools due to the existing distribution of Spanish-American families throughout Holland.

There are larger concentrations of these students, however, in Federal, Washington and Lincoln grade schools. The Junior and Senior High Schools are a melting pot for the whole system, Ihrman pointed out.

Ihrman maintains that students are essentially free to go to school where they want. The existing distribution of students is felt to be satisfactory without taking such measures as busing students.

The attitude of the public schools, he continued, has been one of minimizing emphasis on the presence of Spanish-American students to the extent that they will be better able to integrate themselves into the schools.

There has been no imposed distribution of students or special studies or any other actions which might set these pupils apart from their fellow students.

At the same time, however, the public schools have taken special steps to meet the particular needs of the Spanish-American student, Ihrman added.

He cited the hiring of a Spanish-American teacher and a teacher who has lived in and is familiar with South America. More teachers with similar backgrounds are desired, he said, but there is a problem in finding competent, qualified teachers.

In some classes with a large concentration of Spanish-American students it has been possible to reduce the student-teacher ratio so that each child may have more individual attention.

A Head Start program works with about 90 pre-school age children during the summer to help prepare those who have not always had the same educational opportunities as most children and are not fully prepared to enter school. Some Spanish-American children participate in this program.

The public schools recently submitted a proposal to the State Board of Education for a multi-elementary program for early elementary grades. It was designed as a reciprocal learning experience where Spanish would be taught to English-speaking students and English to Spanish-speaking students in the same classroom. At present the program appears in jeopardy of being approved for lack of state funds.

Superintendent Ihrman explains that the biggest problem in this area is communication which is hampered by cultural differences. He feels that it is most important that Spanish-American students and their families understand the goals of the public school system and how they fit into their lives.

To aid communication occasional meetings with parents have been called. School representatives attempt to stress the advantages they see in staying in school and encourage students to continue with school on into college.

It is the hope of the public schools that some of their Spanish-American students will earn their teaching certificates and return to teach in the Holland system, Ihrman said.

Adult education classes have also served to help get parents involved in education. Ihrman estimates there are about 70 adults presently enrolled in high school completion courses.

School Bus Election Set Here Feb. 15

A special school election for transportation millage will coincide with the Feb. 15 city primaries in action taken by the Board of Education Monday night.

The issue calls for 1½ mills for five years to fund a program to provide in-district transportation for all public and non-public students living a mile or more from school.

Plans call for all polling places in the city plus those in Federal and Harrington districts to be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The city clerk will conduct the school election as well as the city election.

A somewhat similar measure calling for 2 mills to provide transportation for students 1½ miles from school was defeated in October, 1969, by roughly 1,600 to 1,300. The millage was reduced in the new election mainly because of increased total assessments in the district.

Dr. James Prins served as chairman of the special transportation study committee.

SHOVELING OUT — Mrs. William Miller got an assist from her three children, William Jr., Ruth and Teresa, in shoveling early Friday at their home at 56 West 13th St. It was a scene duplicated at many households where shoveling by hand was not only the best way, but often the only way in clearing walks and drives. Skilled plow operators agreed that today's snow was the heaviest and stickiest they had worked in for a long time.
