Meets Called for Deferred Farm Men in Allegan

To Be Sent Forms to Aid Recommendation And Classification

A series of meetings to obtain information on all agricultural workers in Allegan county who were deferred by selective service in 1943 was announced today by Allegan County Agricultural Agent A. D. Morley.

Some classifications are being changed now and some deferred men are being reclassified, Morley said.

To help war boards in making recommendations to draft boards as to essential and less essential men in agriculture, the meetings will be conducted by the Allegan extension service at which registrants deferred for agriculture will be asked to attend, taking with them two copies of the new Michigan selective service questionnaire completely filled out, he stated.

In Ottawa county, according to Agricultural Agent L. R. Arnold, the reclassification is being carried on continuously.

Morley said copies of the questionnaire are being mailed this week to the approximately 1,000 men affected by the procedure in Allegan county. Unless the forms are filled out and presented to the draft board during January, those men will be placed in 1-A and be eligible for induction within a short time.

The meetings will start at 1:30 p.m. Notices to the men tell them which session they should attend, according to their postal addresses.

The meetings will be held in Allegan, Jan. 4; Otsego, Jan. 5; Plainwell, Jan. 6; Martin, Jan. 7; Wayland, Jan. 11; Dorr, Jan. 12; Hamilton, Jan. 13; Saugatuck, Jan. 14; Fennville, Jan. 18; Casso, Jan. 19; Pullman, Jan. 20; and Hopkins, Jan. 21.

A crew of men will be present at each meeting to check each questionnaire and make one master copy for the selective service board. One copy will be presented to the Allegan county war board by the county agent for their recommendation and one copy will be retained by the registrant.

The questionnaires will be checked by the war board and recommendations made to the selective service board. This does not mean that the selective service board will follow all the recommendations made by the war board regarding the deferments of agricultural workers in Allegan county this year.

Several hundred men have been reclassified through the selective service boards in Ottawa county after reviews of the farm situation, Arnold said. About 100 more registrants remain to be reclassified. It was estimated that approximately 600 men were deferred for agricultural work in 1942 and 1943.

Meetings have been held in Ottawa county. Reclassification of some registrants was going on in Zeeland Tuesday.

Pvt. Leonard J. Vos Missing in Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vos, 97 West 19th St., Thursday afternoon were informed by a telegram from the war department in Washington that their son, Pvt. Leonard J. Vos, has been "missing in action" in Italy since Dec. 2. No details were given although the adjutant general promised further information as soon as it is available.

This is the second Christmas season in which the Vos family received sad news concerning sons in service. On Dec. 10, 1942, they were informed that the eldest son, Second Lieut. Osborne R. Vos, was "seriously wounded in action" Nov. 25 in the southwestern Pacific area. On Dec. 23 they received a cable greeting and the message he was all right. He was one of the first Michigan officers to return from action in New Guinea where he participated in the Papan campaign in the foothills of the Owen Stanley mountains near Buna. After hospital treatment at Battle Creek, he was transferred to Camp Roberts, Calif.

Lieut. and Mrs. Vos are at present visiting the latter's parents in Natchez, Miss., and are expected in Holland Dec. 29.

Pvt. Vos who was 19 years old last Nov. 21 entered service March 24 at Camp Grant, Ill., and received his basic training at Camp

Grand Haven, Dec. 30 (Special)—Two persons were injured when a car driven by Edward Klintworth, 35, Eastern Ave., Grand Haven, plunged into an eight-foot ditch on a county road south of Nunica at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Two stolen cars were recovered by city police over the past weekend. A car owned by Richard Hardywood of Holland was stolen from Third Street Friday night and recovered on Second St. at 4:30 a.m. Saturday and a car owned by George W. ## Boy on Bicycle Is Injured by Truck

Frederick Herman Is Being Held Pending Investigation Here

Sheriff William Boeve and Deputy Edward Brouwer were in Holland today continuing an investigation into an accident which occurred about 2 p.m. Wednesday on US-31, two miles north of Holland, where Harold Dirkse, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick J. Dirkse of route 4, was struck by a truck driven by Frederick Herman, 22, of route 1, Dyer, Ind. Herman was being held in the local police station pending completion of an investigation.

Dirkse was confined to Holland hospital for treatment of a two-inch scalp laceration, pavement burns on the left cheek, bruises on arms, legs and a foot, and mild concussion. The hospital today reported he had spent a restless night, but his condition appears favorable.

The youth, and his companion, Jerold Riemersma, 13, a neighbor boy, had set out for the lake with their ice skates on bicycles and were traveling south about one and a half miles from home when the accident occurred.

Herman hit the rear of the Dirkse boy's bicycle with the front right fender of the truck as he attempted to pass the cyclists, police said. The driver said there was a small girl, about 10 years of age, who was riding a bicycle on the west side of the road. He said he sounded his horn when he was within 30 feet of the bicycles and was watching the girl at the left as he drove between the bicycles and struck Dirkse.

The Riemersma boy, however, told the sheriff's department there was no girl on a bicycle. He said he was riding about a foot from the edge of the pavement and Dirkse was riding about a half a bicycle's length behind him about 2 1/2 feet from the edge. When the truck hit Dirkse, he said, it caused Dirkse to scoot ahead and slide off on the road shoulder. As near as could be determined the distance from the point of impact to the place where the boy and bicycle came to rest was about 40 feet.

Dirkse was taken to the hospital by a car which Herman stopped. The Riemersma boy, however, told the sheriff's department there was no girl on a bicycle. ## Postal Business Back to Normal After Christmas

Two Hundred Twenty Thousand Cent and One Half Stamps Are Sold

Business at Holland post office has returned to normal following a busy pre-holiday rush.

Postmaster Harry Kramer reported the sale of more than 220,000 cent and a half stamps during the Christmas mailing period, or about $330,000 worth. This does not set a record, as far as it has been determined, because the holiday mailing season was of longer duration this year, he said.

All business in the office was cleaned up before Christmas but two carriers made some calls Saturday morning to deliver a few stray, belated packages. About 15 extra employees aided in the office during the rush and employees worked as late as 11 p.m. some nights to complete the day's work.

Grand Haven, Dec. 30 (Special)—Grand Haven post office, from Dec. 11 to Dec. 23, sold $100,000 worth of cent and a half stamps.

For the quarter, including October, November and December, during which the service men's mail was included, there was an increase of 10.7 per cent in postal receipts and a similar increase in cancellations and other business at the post office, compared with a year ago.

The over-all business transacted at the post office during the Christmas season is a new record. Fourteen temporary employees were on the job during the past two weeks and two extra trucks were required to handle the mail. Some nights the staff worked until 10 p.m.

Two Accidents On Icy Streets

Ted Sternberg, 14, East 32nd St., route 5, received bruises Friday at 6:30 p.m. while riding his bicycle when he was struck by a car driven by Walter Raymond Fry, 34, of 54 Ellensburg, South Haven at Eighth St. and College Ave.

Mr. Fry told police he was driving west on Eighth St. at a rate of 5 or 10 miles an hour and said he could not stop because of the ice on the streets. William Steketee, 72 West 15th St. was listed as a witness.

On Saturday at 11:40 a.m., cars driven by Gerrit Jaarsma of route 3, Hudsonville, and Dell Boersma, 138 West 23rd St., were involved in an accident at 21st St. and Washington Ave. The Jaarsma car, eastbound on 21st St., was damaged in the right rear.

Jaarsma told police he was crossing the intersection and thought he had plenty of time when his car was hit from the rear. Boersma, home on leave from the navy, was traveling north on Washington St. when he was struck.

Mr. Martin Jaarsma, 72, a resident of Holland, was injured in a collision with a car on Monday night. He was taken to the hospital and is recovering.

Looking alley burns down and now they close as it looks as if we just have to be bad."

Local officers of the association are Herman Belker, president, and Fred Ter Vree, secretary-treasurer.

Shirley Koning, 12, 233 West 18th St., had a cast applied to her fractured left leg as the result of a fall on the ice after a boy skater reportedly ran into her at the 19th St. skating rink Tuesday night. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Koning.

Little six-year-old Clarine Owen of 20 East 19th St. was treated for a laceration on the chin and released from Holland hospital following a fall which occurred near her home about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Fishermen Must Keep Dogs Under Control

Fishermen were warned today by the Ottawa county sheriff's department that dogs must be kept under control at all times while they are fishing on waterways. Complaints had been received by the sheriff's department from residents in the vicinity who claimed that dogs had been running at large, causing their own dogs to become frightened.

To Attend Advanced Gunners' School

Gunner's Mate Third Class Donald Oosterbaan was to leave for Washington Wednesday to attend gunners' school after being in Holland since Dec. 15, on "delayed orders" while awaiting specific instructions from the navy.

He came here from Los Angeles after having seen service in both the Atlantic and the Pacific. "There's still no place like home," he said.

Oosterbaan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Oosterbaan, 480 Pine Ave., enlisted in the navy July 29, 1942, and received his basic training at Great Lakes, Ill. After spending six days in Philadelphia he was assigned to a fleet oiler on the east coast and from early in October until the latter part of December, 1942, he made trips to South America and islands in the Atlantic.

In January the ship left for the west coast, via the Panama canal, and since then was in the Pacific. The duty of a fleet oiler, which is about the size of a battleship, is to supply fuel to ships and convoys on patrol duty. As gunner's mate, Oosterbaan had charge of all anti-aircraft guns on the ship and, when the ship was engaged in battle, he supervised the gun crew operating the anti-aircraft guns.

He was on duty in the south Pacific from January to May, on trips to and from the United States and other bases, from May to October in the Aleutian islands area, and from Oct. 22 to December in the south Pacific.

In April, 1943, when his ship was in dry dock in its home harbor, he married the former Miss Doris Wieten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wieten, 424 College Ave., in Los Angeles. For the past four months Mrs. Oosterbaan has made her home in Los Angeles and plans to accompany her husband to Washington.

Oosterbaan enlisted in the navy in Chicago with Jack Hiemenga and Gerald Beyers and began his sea duty as an apprentice seaman, working his way up to his present rank of third class petty officer. He wears campaign ribbons representing action in the American theater of war and the campaign against Japan, and wears the silver numeral "one" for his action in the Aleutian and a silver "two" for action in the south Pacific.

Widow of Former G.H. Mayor Taken by Death

Grand Haven, Dec. 30 (Special)—Mrs. Margaret Belle Cotton, 68, widow of Dr. C. W. Cotton, a former mayor who died a number of years ago, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Francis C. Angus, 710 Lake Ave., Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Cotton, who resided at 415 Clinton St., had been ill for the last eight months and seriously so for the past two weeks. She was born in Kane, Ill., Sept. 4, 1875, and came to Grand Haven in 1900 from Grand Rapids. Her maiden name was Margaret Belle Wood. She was a life-long member of the Order of Eastern Star, and a past matron. She was also a member of the Free Bed guild and was active in the Woman's club several years ago. She was a member of the Christian Science church.

Coasting Hill Is Closed to Public

The closing of the coasting hill at Holland Country club, a favorite with local residents for many years, by Lee Kleis, owner of the property, has left children in this area without a suitable place to slide.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff, who was at the hill for an hour or more Saturday afternoon said there was a crowd of about 75 youngsters there when the place was closed about 4:30 p.m. Signs reading "Private Property, Keep Out," have been posted on the gate and about 20 feet farther up the road to the clubhouse.

Kleis could not be reached Tuesday, but Mrs. Kleis said some expense has been incurred every year by coasters who break windows, crush shrubbery and in general damage the property. This year, she said, the vandalism got off to such a start that they felt forced to close the hill to coasters. She expressed her regret that this step was necessary.

According to Chief Van Hoff, the chain from the flag pole was reported missing this year and a fire had been built on one of the small clubhouse porches.

A move by Mr. Kleis to get the city of Holland to take over the club met with failure. Chief Van Hoff quoted one of the city council members as saying:

"From 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., daily, on display are 400 pigeons and between 50 and 60 bantam chickens. Judging the show is Charles Bartling of Springfield, Ill."

Local officers of the association are Herman Belker, president, and Fred Ter Vree, secretary-treasurer.

Presentation of Awards Highlights Heinz Party

Presentation of awards to long-time employees, speeches and music highlighted the annual Christmas banquet for approximately 350 employees of the Holland branch of the H. J. Heinz Co. Thursday night in Christian high school.

Nine employees were presented with gold watches for 20 years of service and three were presented with gold medals for ten years. The nine included Andrew Lampen, Joseph Bulek, Henry Brinkworth, William Dykens, Walter Freestone, Cornelius Paauwe, John Dykens, Francis St. Johns and Louis Vander Veen, the last three of whom were not present. Presented with gold medals for ten years with the company were Jeanette Bos, William Gordon and Stanley Yntema. Paauwe and Yntema responded. The presentations were made by Manager C. B. McCormick, who pointed out that 60 employees here representing 1,188 work years to date have received special awards.

Speaking on his experiences last summer working in the Heinz pickle fields, Dr. Walter De Kock, superintendent of Christian schools who directed a program of work for children, held the interest of his listeners as he related the work done by the 267 boys and girls aged nine through 15 during the summer. He said the youngsters who worked in 16 different fields from two to 30 miles from Holland earned $3,120 dusting plants, hoeing, training vines and picking several thousand bushels of pickles.

Along with several humorous incidents, Dr. De Kock pointed out that the children in their effort to alleviate a critical labor shortage received valuable training.

ing aside from the money. He said the program gave the children a proper appreciation of money, it taught them to work in groups, it gave them valuable discipline, developed leadership, gave training in a definite vocation and helped physical development by fresh air, sunshine and physical exertion.

Dinner music was furnished by a string trio consisting of Glendora Loew, Eleanor Reed and Margaret Hartman. H. B. Renick served as toastmaster and John Swieringa was song leader and entertained with instrumental selections. Other music was furnished by the Ver Beek trio, J. D. White, personnel manager, and James A. Hoover, former plant manager, spoke briefly. Andrew Lamer of the army and John Griep of the navy, both home on leave, were introduced. A turkey dinner was served by the Monica Aid society.

Along with the programs were booklets listing all employees of Heinz factories in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain who have been with the company more than 10 years.

Trinity Church Wedding Has Christmas Setting

Wearing a sparkling gown of white starred brocade taffeta in keeping with the Christmas season, Miss Eleanor June Dalman, daughter of Mrs. George B. Dalman of 539 College Ave., became the bride of George D. Vanderhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vanderhill of 223 West 20th St., in a lovely holiday ceremony in Trinity Reformed church Tuesday night.

Scotch pine trees in an attractive arrangement with blue lights and a central bouquet of white baby mums formed the background for the single ring ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Henry Bast at 8 p.m. Lighted candles and evergreen in the windows and evergreen boughs and white satin bows on the pews completed the decorations.

The bride's gown was fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long train with which she wore a shoulder length veil of white lace. Calla lilies tied with bits of the valley laces formed her bridal bouquet.

Laverne C. Dalman, brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. Miss Marian Klaasen as maid of honor and the Misses Barbara Heneveld and Alma Vanderhill as bridesmaids wore identically styled gowns after the Dutch motif, fashioned with fitted bodice, a row of tiny self covered buttons in front, pointed elbow length sleeves, and a tiny peplum in the back of the bodice. Tiny Dutch lace caps were worn by all three attendants.

Miss Klaasen's gown was of duchess taffeta and she carried a fascina nosegay of violets, white roses and mums. Miss Heneveld and Miss Vanderhill, sister of the groom, wore gowns of a light lavender blue shade and carried nosegays of white and pink roses and mums.

Paul Vanderhill assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were Howard and Andrew Dalman, brothers of the bride.

Proceeding the ceremony Miss Marjorie Brouwer sang "I Love You Truly." An organ prelude by Mrs. Harold Brouwer included "At Dawning," "Because," "Liebestraum," and "Love's Greetings." She also played the traditional Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches. During the ceremony Miss Brouwer sang "Thanks Be to God."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dalman chose a wine dress and hat with which she wore white accessories. Mrs. Vanderhill, mother of the groom, wore a dress of royal blue with black accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception for 130 guests was held in the church parlors with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Dalman serving as master and mistress of ceremonies. A two course lunch was served by the Mesdames Nelson Miles, Fred Van Lente, Arie Weller, Henry Visser and John Van Ost.

"My Hero" and "Because" were sung at the reception by Miss Brouwer accompanied by Miss Lois Van Zomerem who also played other selections. Mrs. Paul Vanderhill was in charge of the gift room.

JUSTICE WITH ONE EYE OPEN

In ancient legend the goddess of justice was represented as being blindfolded. Holding the balances even, she must not be influenced, even unconsciously, to tilt the scale in one direction or the other;
she must be completely disinterested. That is the ideal of human justice that the greatest peoples of all eras have held, but of course the ideal has never been quite attained.

Just now we are witnessing something in the world that would make the statue of a blindfolded goddess of justice look like a grim joke. Or perhaps the modern statue should be that of a woman with a patch over only one of her eyes, with the other ready for business in tilting the scale to the side to which she wants it to go.

The Russian government has been going through the motions of a "trial" of men accused of war guilt. The court is a solemnly convened tribunal; the judges are full of dignity and impressiveness; the juries stroke their chins and knit their brows after the manner of jurists; defense lawyers make a big show of zeal to save their clients from conviction. All the outward manifestations of a court of justice are there. But the goddess presiding over it has one eye
wide open.

For everybody knew from the first day of the trial that all the accused would be found guilty.
The judges and juries and defense
lawyers and court attendants would not have been human if they had not mentally condemned the accused before a single witness had testified. The chances are of course that those accused were in fact guilty; the mere law of averages would seem to suggest that. But why hold a trial when that trial is merely a public show?

So far the democratic members of the United Nations have resisted the demand for "trials" of that nature. The United States and England have said that there is no chance for even a semblance of justice in trials for war guilt in the midst of a war. They have resisted all the hints thrown out by Russia that such prisoners as Rudolf Hess be "tried"; they believe that in such a trial justice, as that word is understood in democratic countries, would be next to impossible.

The democracies are just as determined as is Russia that the war criminals shall be brought to justice. But their conception of justice is different from that of Russia. They believe that a trial is more than a mere confirmation of public hatreds. They know that while a devastating war is still going on, the goddess of justice can hardly be expected to keep her blindfold on straight, it is certain to slip down from at least one eye, perhaps from both eyes.

Lesson

January 2, 1944
Jesus Begins His Ministry—Mark
1:1-22

By Henry Geerlings
In this lesson we are given glimpses of the preparation of both John the Baptist and of Jesus for their life work. In some respects these are similar. God's ways are not identical for any two persons. God has called some men from the furrow and the flaming forge to preach His gospel with little or no formal preparation for that holy service.
Others He chooses to place in institutions erected and dedicated for that purpose in which they spend years getting ready to proclaim the unsearchable riches of Christ. But we are not to be limited in our thinking of one's preparation for a life of service to young men who have chosen the ministry as their calling, or to young women who desire to take up the work of the diaconate.
Getting ready for a life of service
pertains to all of us and particularly to those who are younger and have many years still ahead of them.

It is to be noted that Mark passes by the birth and early ministry of Jesus. He begins his story with the preaching of the Baptist who was six months older than our Lord. All four gospel writers regarded John's ministry of sufficient importance to make mention of it. It was the means of turning the mind of the nation toward the Messiah.

One peculiarity of Mark's gospel
is that it makes very few references to the Old Testament. He wrote to the Gentiles, and particularly to the Romans, and they knew little, and maybe cared less,
about the ancient religion of the Jews.

It is sufficient for us to note that the Baptist became the forerunner of Jesus and was therefore closely identified with his life and work. John's mission was to prepare the hearts of the people for the reception of their Messiah, much as workmen would prepare roads for the safe and comfortable journey of a ruler or other noted personage. John succeeded to arouse the people to a high pitch
of interest and expectation.

The baptism of Jesus provided the first public appearance of the Master. In a sense, it was His dedication to His life service and His introduction to His public ministry. Our lesson brings to our attention the thought that those who receive the Christ are called upon to present their lives in dedication to God and to the service of their fellow men.

Before there is any outward Christian service on the part of a disciple there must be the inward choice of heart and mind and soul. Dedication represents an attitude of the mind. As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. Our outward acts of devotion and consecration flow from the inward choice of devotion to God and His Christ. Any act of dedication must be fraught with depth of devotion and consecration.

Our world is in need of men and women dedicated to Christian life and service. The need far exceeds the supply. These dedicated souls are needed in all avenues of life. Too frequently we think of dedication to Christian service
as consisting only of filling the positions of the minister, the missionary and the teacher. We should think of Christian service in the larger sense of including all the noble and honorable pursuits of labor in which a Christian may engage. This would permit to emphasize the fact that in the normal callings of life, we can render Christian service. It is in those avenues that the vast majority of Christian people must dedicate
their lives to Christian service.

In emphasizing the normal activities of life as pathways for Christian service, we should not underestimate the unusual opportunities which come with the specific Christian callings such as the ministry of preaching, teaching and mercy. These callings offer unusual opportunities for consecrated service to God and fellow men.

HOLLAND CHAMBER of COMMERCE A Vital Civic Asset for Advancement of City

1944 Will Be a Big Year

You have seen the long list of Holland names displayed on the Honor Roll in Centennial Park. From the windows of home after home you have also seen the blue-starred service flags — some with the gold star of supreme sacrifice.

Yes, the War has been brought close to Holland. Arawe, Kiska, Cassino, and the other strange names of distant places hold a very real and direct interest to us. And we who have that interest are agreed that the only important thing which matters in our lives is to get our service men and women back home in Holland with us as safely, quickly as possible.

Your Chamber of Commerce shares that conviction. It believes, with you, that the one big job of winning the war overshadows all other immediate considerations. And in that belief it has been applying its leadership and powers to those projects on the home front which have to do with the successful waging of the war.

Your Chamber of Commerce must have the strength of many members in order to properly perform its wartime functions. For it must be remembered that what our boys in service expect of us at home is that we shall insure to them a Holland of prosperous, happy tomorrows.

There are such things as the proposed community center, the perpetuation of Holland's tulip fame, the needs of our youth which command the Chamber's attention. It must help in arranging for Holland's postwar work-pile, so that unemployment will not rear its depressing head. It must carefully scrutinize the new industries and businesses that seek admission to our city, encouraging that which is creditable and barring out the riff-raff.

What Holland is doing today is mighty important — but what Holland will be doing tomorrow is even more important in the lives of the service men who call Holland their home. True, tomorrow never arrives — but there you have the reason why your Chamber's work and planning is never done. Each day brings its tomorrow that your Chamber must prepare for.

The Strength of Many Members----

That's What Your Chamber Needs

Your Chamber of Commerce is not just an office with a man at the desk to give out information. He is there to carry out the directives of a Board comprising civic-minded citizens from all walks of life, and which meets every month to consider the civic matters that properly concern the Chamber. Supplementing the Board are numerous committees, each working in its special field, with the members giving freely of their time and abilities to the betterment of their city. And back of all these working bodies are the 400 members which make up the chamber.

Their names are here given so that you may see how representative the Chamber is of the city at large. It is not, as you can see, strictly a business organization — it is truly a civic group who realize what helps Holland helps them.

All memberships are voluntarily subscribed; don't wait to be approached. Make it your business to have a part in underwriting Holland's future.

Christians Take Early Lead, Beat Fennville, 51-37

Beelen High Scorer For Maroons With His Corner Tosses

The Maroons of Holland Christian high school easily defeated Fennville high school in basketball Thursday night, 51-37, in the Fennville high school gym.

There was little excitement in the game as the Holland quintet jumped off to an early lead which they held throughout the contest. Fennville went on a scoring spree in the final quarter, but the lead the Maroons had piled up was much too great to make the spree of any consequence. Holland led at the third quarter, 43-21, and at the half, 31-15.

Howie Beelen, turned in his second sparkling performance of the season as he dropped in two-handed corner shots with deadly accuracy and accounted for 14 Maroon points. Hap Zwemer was second in scoring for the Maroons with 11 points. J. Gryczas was high for Fennville with 12 points.

Don Zwier, Christian center, turned in a fine game of controlling all backboard balls both on defense and offense, and managed to ring up eight points.

Egg Dealers Discuss Packing Case Shortage

At a recent meeting of the shell egg industry advisory committee with war food administration officials in Washington, means of solving the shortage of egg packing materials was the principal topic of discussion.

The group, of which Andrew G. Lohman of Hamilton is a member, urged that the war production board take steps to speed the manufacture of at least 20 to 22 million fibre cases, which will be needed to handle a part of the record egg crop expected for 1944. A total of at least 28 to 30 million new cases will be needed. Probably not more than eight to 10 million new wooden cases can be obtained. WPB is now awaiting replies from individual egg dealers and handlers in the industry as to their actual requirements of egg cases during the season of flush production, beginning in February.

R. Christians Nose Out Holland By Single Point

Capacity Crowd Sees Battle; Lead Changes Hands Eleven Times

Playing before a crowd that jammed every nick and corner of the Holland armory, the Holland Christian high school basketball team dropped a 19-18 decision to a steady and firm Grand Rapids Christian quintet Wednesday night.

Even the loss of their ace guard, Joel Worst, early in the second quarter and the fact that Holland dropped off to a 6-point lead failed to rile the determined Eagles as they gained a 19-18 lead with four minutes left to play and then held it. The lead changed hands 11 times in the course of the game.

The Maroons led at the half, 12-11, and after the first quarter, 6-2, as both teams clamped down with a tight defense and steady floor game. The tight defense accounted for the low scoring to a large degree, but the Holland five missed many dog and set-up shots.

Bill Straayer was the Grand Rapids lad who accounted for the winning bucket, his only basket. George Worst topped the Eagles with seven points.

Don Zvier was high for Holland with seven points and Hap Zwemer was second with 5.

Holland jumped off to a 6-2 lead in the first quarter with Beelen and Zwemer scoring baskets and Wengarden and Zwemer scoring from the free throw line. The quarter was marked with fouls as Holland committed five and Grand Rapids four, and the Eagles failed in all five tries.

In the second frame, Coach Beukema's team moved the score to 6-5, but Bill Kool's dog shot killed the Maroons from the fire. Then John VanderMolen hit the Eagles making the score 7-7, after which the scoring alternated until G. R. held a 17-16 lead near the end of the third quarter. Don Zvier then swished a throw, putting the game in a tie at the end of the third.

In the final frame, Lefty Wyden connected with a free throw, giving Holland a 1-point lead, which was short-lived as a player dropped in a left-handed shot giving Grand Rapids the winning margin with four minutes to play.

After Straayer's bucket both teams failed to hit the hoop a number of times and then with 40 seconds to play the Eagles gained control of the ball and worked a highly successful "stall" against a very tired bunch of CHS boys.

The Holland boys all turned in good performances although the only guy to hit the hoop was Don Zvier. Field General Lefty Wengarden had the team working plays with almost football-like precision, but it was to no avail as the shots of the local cagers, especially those of Howie Beelen, added around the hoop and the game dropped out.

In the Sicilian campaign, part of our losses in the material employed were as follows:

- We lost 8% of our medium tanks.
- We lost nearly half of our 57-mm. guns.
- We lost 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % of our 75-mm. gun carriages.
- We lost 22% of our 105-mm. howitzer carriages.
- We lost 54% of our 37-mm. gun carriages.
- We lost an undisclosed number of ships, landing barges, airplanes.
- We lost a vast quantity of collateral material like food, clothing, things like 1,100 miles of copper telephone wire.
- We lost all this in a month-long minor campaign that was in every sense of the word a complete victory for us.

There's just no use in trying to dodge this fact:

Somebody's got to pay for that stuff we lost. Somebody's got to pay for the new stuff that replaced it. Somebody's got to pay for the infinitely larger amount of stuff that's going to be used—and part of it lost—in Italy, in France, in the Balkans, in Norway, in India, in a lot of places.

It's no use kidding ourselves. That "somebody" is Uncle Sam—and we've got to lend him the money to do it by buying War Bonds. There's no cheap way out—no easy way out—there's just nothing we can do except to keep on working and buying more and more Bonds till this War is won.

And the harder we pitch in right now—and the more Bonds we buy—the quicker that will be.
