COVER: A painting commissioned by the Netherlands for Hope College, now hanging in Van Zoeren Library. The artist, Kees Sabee, has entitled his work The March to the Feast of Whitsuntide.

The Hope College Alumni Magazine is published four times a year, January, April, July, October. Entered in the Post Office at Holland, Michigan as second class matter under the Act of August 24, 1912.
The March to the Feast of Whitsuntide

"With my painting I want it to be Whitsuntide throughout the 365 days of the year; 365 days during which God wants to trouble Himself with us. Hence the symbolic way up (God) in my painting.

"In the center of the top—half in the painting, I have placed the symbol of God like an altar in the church. The symbol of God and the crowd are paintingwise connected by the ichthyo (fish) symbol and the Holy Spirit (tongues of fire).

"Above the crowd begins another color, in which abstract forms float, this is not the earth any more, this is transcendental, this will also expand endlessly and rise. This is my Whitsuntide-vision, a festival rhythm in honor of our Creator."

EDITOR'S NOTE: This thoughtful painting, commissioned by the Netherlands for Hope College, was presented by Mr. H. A. Hoogendoorn, Counselor of Embassy for Press and Cultural Affairs, on Sunday, January 10.

At a fitting ceremony in Van Zoeren Library, the painting was unveiled by Dr. G. John Van Zoeren '12 and accepted by president VanderWerf.

Stanley Harrington '58 of Hope's Art Department presented a few interpretative comments, Rev. Allen B. Cook '37 gave the prayer of Dedication, and the Chapel Choir sang "Hope Thou in God" by Haydn Morgan.

Kees Sabee was born in Zeist, Holland, in 1934. He studied at the Royal Academy in The Hague from 1957 to 1961. One of his paintings was selected for the exhibition of religious art in the 'Grote Kerk,' The Hague in 1961. In 1962, he was requested to send a religious oil painting to the Bonifacius Commemoration Exhibition held in Friesland, Holland. In the same year, he had a one-man exhibition in one of the largest art shops of The Hague. His work is in private collections and in the possession of a College in Rotterdam. A one-man exhibition in The Hague in May 1964, was later shown in several cities in Holland.
Extracurricular activities at Hope College: are they extra, or are they Hope itself? That illusive, indefinable thing, through the generations referred to as the "Hope Spirit," yet so easily recognized when manifest; is this the Christian College in action? Are these students, mostly seniors, thinking of their own development or the needs of others, when they give every extra moment to these demanding activities?
For instance: Senior Paul Bast from Grand Rapids (son of Rev. Henry Bast '30). His extracurricular activities include being a resident adviser in Kollen Hall, a member of the Football Team, and Chief Justice of the Student Court. ° His R. A. job in the dorm takes a lot of time. A lot of problems? "No, but there are a lot of students who just need to talk to someone. It takes time." ° Football is over now, but in the fall it was demanding. ° "The Student Court at times takes a lot of time. There is a lot of responsibility here and the members of the Court (2 seniors, 4 juniors, besides Paul) weigh all the cases that come to us. We want to be fair. It is necessary in every case to consider the welfare of the individual and at the same time certain measures to protect the college community. The outcome is not necessarily a question of either-or; we try to do both." ° This semester the Court has undertaken the judgment and sentencing of 19 Hope students, whose offenses ranged from violation of the drinking rule to petty thievery and attempting to dine on campus gratis. ° "The big problem" Paul says, "is to find a constructive meaningful punishment for offenders." ° Besides these heavy responsibilities, Paul was president of his social fraternity the first semester. What's he going to do next year? Going to graduate school—in English, planning a career in college teaching.
And Susan Shauger, senior from Pompton Plains, New Jersey. Sue is active in “everything”: band, Beta Beta Beta (biology fraternity), National Student Association, Higher Horizons, and besides she has a campfire group which meets every Wednesday evening, and she does baby sitting for her room and board in a professor’s home. The National Student Association is a new group on campus. Sue is on the coordinating committee which works to promote national student projects through the Student Senate. In the band, Sue plays the baritone. Her assignment in Higher Horizons—she’s involved in the leadership because of her experience with Campfire and baby sitting. The purpose of this newest organization on campus—organized last year, is to work on a one student to one child ratio with children from homes with not high cultural and vocational horizons. Through friendship and an hour or two a week devoted exclusively to the child helping him with school work, hobbies, interests, the aim is to thus lift the child’s horizons. About 175 Hope students work with young children recommended by Lincoln and Washington elementary schools, the junior high and St. Francis schools. For relaxation, Sue rides a Honda and plays the guitar. What is Sue going to do next year? She’s applying to graduate schools of social work and education.
And Bennett Ametefe from Togo, Africa, a senior. He's a pre-med student who plans to return to his country to practice after his education is completed. Bennett is a member of the service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega (A-Phi-O), a star on the soccer team, and has just completed his own individual research project under the supervision of Dr. Philip Crook, head of the Biology Department. His project had something to do with frogs and had the intriguing description, "Investigations on the effects of Thyroxine on adult Rana pipiens at High and Low temperatures." □ A-Phi-O is very active on campus filling needs. It sponsors an information booth during freshmen orientation, aids in class registration, ushers at all school activities, and conducted the big, very successful all campus blood bank contribution this past fall. Also concerned about people outside the campus, members work with Boy Scouts and helped build a house for fire victims last year. "Interesting work," is Bennett's short comment about a lot of service. □ Having a soccer team to be on, is a treat for Bennett, and his teammates are mighty glad he's one of them! □ Bennett is a Catholic who attended a Presbyterian school in Togo. He didn't think he'd ever go to another school where he had to go to Chapel every day as he did in the Presbyterian school. But somehow he found his way to here and he has this to say "About Hope College: I have good reasons to be grateful to this country, to Hope College and to fellow Hopeites. I have good reasons to give them all the proofs of my gratitude."
And sophomore Margaret Welmers from Los Angeles (daughter of William '36 and Beatrice Fairbanks '39 Welmers). She is an exponent of the youthful rage of the day—folk singing. She took lessons for two years in California and uses her skill and talent at Hope Hootenanies and in responding to invitations for club programs on and off the campus. One example, she performed at the Grand Rapids chapter of the Women's League for Hope College. Margaret's other hobbies are softball and basketball, and her extracurricular organizations so far are French Club and the Women's Athletic Association. She is planning to major in math. Inasmuch as Margaret comes from a Hope family, she was asked if she found what she expected on the campus. Her reply was that she hadn't. She had expected something more collegiate, that the students would feel more confident about post school living. She was surprised to find they're all as apprehensive as she is about the future.

REIN VISSCHER RETIRES FROM HOPE COLLEGE POST "My father made it possible for me to have the opportunity to live in America and to enjoy this great country's heritage," said Rein Visscher, who retired earlier this month as Hope College business manager.

"My parents had the courage and determination to pull up their roots, leave their native land where they had some feeling of security in contrast to the unknown adventure of the new world."

"Dad had $17 in his pocket and owed $80 on the passage and that is all they had in the world, except a family of five, a bond of love and courage and a great deal of fortitude."

This was the story Visscher told to Dr. Calvin Vander Werf, Hope College president.

"Gertrude Wilhelmina Katrina, my mother, was born in Almelo, and my father, Gerrit, was born in Amsterdam. They met in 1890 and married in 1895. When he brought his family to the United States—and there were five of us—there was not much left over from my father's $9 weekly check."

"My father taught us to pay cash for things we needed and this carried over to my business career. There wasn't any credit available in those days and I remember my father buying a house for $900."

He worked 500 hours at the rate of 20 cents an hour for just $100 of that needed amount for a home."

Rein Visscher's first employer was the late Nicodemus Bosch, whose son Randall is now the present secretary of the Board of Trustees of Hope College.

After working in the tool and die industry and on mechanical drawing projects for ten years, Visscher entered the retailing business.

"The depression was a difficult period, but we had been taught by my hardworking father and strong willed mother to face up to such circumstances," said Rein.

For a time Visscher was manager of the student training store for the Kroger Company. Then went into the food business for himself, and for many years operated the IGA Food Market on Eighth St. In 1943 he sold his business.

"I rested, and after the war took a trip to Europe," Rein said. "Upon my return I talked with Dr. Bruce Raymond and he was having a difficult time in preparing for the influx of World War II veterans. Some 500 wanted to enroll and we had to find the facilities for them. I became the manager of the cafeteria and dormitories."

Rein continued, "We had limited facilities and converted the Masonic Hall (now Temple Building) into a dining hall for 300 students. We used war surplus equipment."

In 1949, when Dr. Raymond joined the Michigan Colleges Foundation, Visscher became business manager—just in time to be a central figure in the extensive building program of the college.

"We constructed Durfee Hall for 100 women and could provide meals for 165. Then in 1951 Voorhees Hall was renovated and refurnished for 110 women. In 1956 the Nykerk Hall of Music, Snow Auditorium and Kollen Hall were completed," said Rein.

Funds for the Music Hall were provided by the City of Holland and the Church.

In 1950 funds provided by the Housing and Home Finance agency were used to build Phelps Hall housing 160 women and 600 diners.

In 1961 the Van Zooren library was completed, Graves Hall was converted to foreign language classrooms and laboratory space, and in 1964 the Physics-Math building was erected.

As for the future, Rein said, "I want to maintain my home here in Holland with my many friends, from May to January, but we'll travel to Europe and visit Florida.

President VanderWerf said, "We want Rein to know how much we will miss his daily counsel, but rejoice that he will now have more time with his family. He richly deserves a long and happy retirement, but we look forward to his continued interest and availability as an advisor in our future plans."
THE CHRYSLER CORPORATION, at a noon luncheon in Detroit, Monday, January 25, presented the presidents of the fifteen member colleges of the Michigan Colleges Foundation, Inc., with the keys to a new Chrysler Corporation automobile.

The gift by Chrysler honored the member colleges on their 10th anniversary. Dr. Calvin VanderWerf, Hope president, accepted the gift of a Dodge Stationwagon.

Dinner for 650 members and guests of the Foundation was held in the grand ballroom of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel the same day. Citations were presented to 94 companies for their financial support to the independent liberal arts colleges, which form the Michigan Colleges Foundation, Inc. Since the birth of the MCF in 1950, over $5,000,000 dollars has been contributed to member colleges. The goal for 1965 is $1,000,000.

AFTER GETTING OFF to a rather slow start, the Hope College "Flying Dutchmen" seem to have found the range and at the semester break have a three game winning streak and an overall eight win and five loss record. In MIAA action, Hope, Calvin, and Adrian are bunched in second place with three wins and two losses following Albion, which has a 4-1 record. With a determined effort in the second half of the season, Hope could improve on its present record and provide a stiff challenge to Albion for the MIAA crown presently held by Calvin.

The present squad is relatively young, being composed of one senior, six juniors, four sophomores and three freshmen. The starting lineup includes two freshmen, two juniors and a sophomore, which helps paint a brighter picture for Hope teams in the next few years. Clare Van Wieren, Holland junior and co-captain, leads the team in scoring with a 20.3 average and is second in rebounding with 11 a game. Floyd Brady, a 6'2" Chicago freshman, is the team's leading rebounder, pulling down over 13 rebounds a game and adds to this a 17.1 scoring average to provide the Dutch with a fine 1-2 punch.

With the expansion of the athletic program, wrestling has made its debut on the Hope campus. Wrestling was started due to the student demand and interest. The team is coached by Eldon Grejž. Wrestling is not yet a varsity sport, but is expected to become one next year. Also it would appear that it might become an MIAA sport sometime in the future.

Presently, the team has a seven match schedule including Olivet, Adrian, Kalamazoo and the Eastern Michigan freshmen. Due to crowded conditions, the team is practicing on the handball courts, using tumbling mats instead of the regulation wrestling mats. Uniforms have been purchased and wrestling is now establishing itself on the Hope sports scene.

REV. ARTHUR JENTZ, instructor in religion and Bible, was awarded his Ph.D. degree by Columbia University in January.

Dr. Jentz's thesis was entitled "Ethics in the Making: the Genesis and Nature of Ethical Theory in the Philosophy of Alfred North Whitehead."

A graduate of Hope in 1956, summa cum laude, and from New Brunswick Seminary in 1960 cum laude, Dr. Jentz is also an alumnus of Union Theological Seminary.

The program under which he was studying was a joint program between Union and Columbia.

ELECTED TO THE ALUMNI BOARD

Lucille Vander Werf Veneklassen '23 was elected director-at-large to the Alumni Board at the Homecoming meeting in October, last.

Mrs. Veneklassen has been active in the alumni program during the past two years as co-chairman of the Chicago North Alumni Fund and as Chairman of the At-Large area of the 1964 Fund. It is an understatement to report that she has been successful in both spots; she saw to it that Chicago North reached not only its goal in dollars, but also in percentage of participation, closing the year with 121% dollar amount, 51% of the area alumni making gifts.

In the At-Large area comprised of 2,566 alumni, Mrs. Veneklassen managed 138% of the dollar goal and 32% participation.

Nor is the Hope College Fund program her only activity. The wife of a Chicago Physician, Dr. Oliver Veneklassen '24, she is currently serving as co-chairman of Community Service for the Woman's Auxiliary to the Chicago Medical Society and as editor of Pulsar, the monthly magazine of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Illinois State Medical Society.

A contributor of verses to the Chicago Tribune's Wake of the News Column for many years, Mrs. Veneklassen is a member of the National League of American Pen Women.

She also appears frequently before Church and Club audiences in the Chicagoland area as a book reviewer and in original presentations based on her own poetry. Mrs. Veneklassen is a member of the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA of Chicago. The Veneklassens are members of Bethany United Presbyterian Church.

ALL-COLLEGE ASSEMBLIES will be featured the third hour on Tuesdays during the current semester. Programs arranged by the Cultural Affairs Committee and a number of students will include: Dr. Lloyd Averill, Academic Dean at Kalamazoo College, speaking on the subject "The Validity and Viability of the Liberal Arts," February 9; Dr. Samuel Tarriand, Princeton theologian, February 16; Student-Faculty meetings, by departments, February 23; Rev. Robert Schuller '47, pastor of the Garden Grove Community Church, California, March 2; Sidney Harris, columnist for the Chicago Daily News, March 16.

Your Publications Wanted
Your Von Zoeren Library has always attempted to include all publications of Hope College alumni in its regular collection, but some of you are so modest that we don't know about your publications!

The library is most happy to receive two gift copies of each publication; but if this isn't feasible, if you will let us know, we'll try to buy at least one.

HOPE COLLEGE ALUMNI MAGAZINE
Rev. Jacob R. Kamps retired a year ago after 37 years of mission work under the Christian Reformed Board of Missions. With Mrs. Kamps (Isabel Everse '25), his first year of service was in China and the other 36 among the Navajo Indians in New Mexico. Address: 2448 S. Madison, Denver.

Dr. Paul F. C. Wu has written the Alumni Office asking that any alumni coming to Taiwan contact him. His Address: Taipei City Health Bureau, 15 Changan West Road, Taipei, Taiwan, China.

Dr. Fredrick F. Yonkman, now Vice President of Ciba Pharmaceutical Company, has assumed his full-time responsibilities as editor of the famous Ciba Collection of Medical Illustrations. These books of paintings by the world-renowned physician and artist, Dr. Frank H. Netter of New York City, accompanied by texts of expert international consultants, find a permanent place among the standard reference books in a physician's personal library.

Dr. Egbert H. Fell, a cardiac surgeon of international reputation and a member of the staff of Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, left in mid-January for Kuwait, Arabian Gulf, to be a missionary surgeon indefinitely. He will be assisted by his wife, Florence, a registered nurse.

His decision to go to Kuwait is tied with the story about an alumnus of the class of 1931, Dr. Lewis R. Scudder, who has been a Kuwait surgeon since 1937. In September Dr. Scudder was rushed to Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, from Kuwait, for emergency surgery occasioned by a severe head bump. Following 3 successful operations and a period of time combined with his furlough for recuperation, he will return to Kuwait in September 1965.

Dr. Fell visited Dr. Scudder in the hospital and found the patient concerned about the people of Kuwait, since he was the only surgeon at the hospital. After explaining the situation and the great need to Dr. Fell, the patient said, "What about your going to Kuwait?" Dr. Fell replied immediately, "All right, I will."

Members of the Presbyterian church, Dr. and Mrs. Fell will be working under the auspices of the Reformed Church, but will be "employed" by the Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Fell was honored by the University of Chicago with an award for "outstanding contributions to medicine" in 1963. A graduate of the University of Chicago Medical School in 1931, he served in the medical corps in World War II, discharged with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Through the years, Dr. Fell has had nearly one hundred articles published in medical journals. Among his many professional responsibilities has been his commissioning to investigate surgery techniques and equipment in Scotland, the Netherlands and Sweden.

By going to Kuwait, Dr. Fell is leaving a distinguished medical practice in Chicago to become the first heart surgeon in Kuwait.

Eugene and Thressa Mooi Damstra are spending the first six months of 1965 in Ganta, Liberia, carrying on for a missionary doctor and his wife, who are in the United States for refresher courses in medicine. In fact, the two couples have exchanged houses.

In 1963 the Damstras spent three months on a duty tour in Northwest Congo in a small village hospital called Wasalo. They report that "the experience was rewarding."

Bernadine Siebers De Valois, M.D. has been working two weeks a month at Pine Rest Christian Hospital in Cutlerville. Her main responsibility is for physical examinations of women and children.

As head of the American Mission Hospital in Kuwait, Dr. Scudder has been overseeing the treatment of approximately 400 cases daily and doing all the surgery. He and Mrs. Scudder, a registered nurse and hospital administrator, will return to their work in September 1965.

A graduate of Rush Medical School in 1935, Dr. Scudder left for the Middle East in 1937. Among the honors he has received for his dedicated service, was the honorary award, Officer of the British Empire in 1957. For two summers, during the war years, Dr. Scudder was the only doctor in Kuwait. These summers coincided with the time when the pilgrimage to Mecca was opened from Persia through Kuwait. The American Mission was deluged with out-patients, averaging 300 daily. Dr. Scudder worked night and day to attend to the mortally ill pilgrims passing through the town.

Dr. and Mrs. Scudders have four children, the older two, Marilyn and Lewis, being graduates of Hope College in 1961 and 1963. Marilyn, who will graduate from the University of Michigan Medical School in June, is in Kuwait doing her extern service. She is planning to go into mission medicine at the conclusion of her training. Lewis, Jr. is a student at Western Seminary. The two younger Scudder children are in secondary schools.

Dr. Egbert H. Fell '27 has gone to Kuwait to take over for Dr. Scudder until September and perhaps to continue with him indefinitely. (see Class of '27 note.)

Justin Vander Kolk and wife, Eunice, are in South India at 17 Millers Road, Bangalore-6, for an academic year at the United Theological College where Justin is teaching as a visiting professor. They are living in the home of Dr. Russell Chandran, Principal of the College, while the latter is at Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

The Vander Kolks' work in South India will be completed in April. At the suggestion of the Board of World Missions of the RCA, they will spend April and May acquainting themselves with the Church of South India and visiting mission stations in the Arabian Gulf.

The Michigan Rehabilitation Institute, directed by Lloyd Chapman, was featured in the Sunday issue of the Battle Creek Enquirer and News, January 3. A few excerpts from the full page article: "It may be a very small ripple in a great, big ocean, but a group of dedicated men and women are quietly and busily at work not far from Battle Creek turning unemployed, handicapped men into useful, producing members of society.

"Snuggled on the shore of Pine Lake in rolling wooded countryside near Plainwell . . . its accomplishments are inspiring, indeed, and dramatic, too. This institute . . . has built a future for nearly 4,000 men who had none.

"It is a vocational school, but much more than that. It has taken men who know no skills and given them skills. It has taken men with severe physical handicaps and taught them how to function in the world of the physically whole. It has taken men with families on welfare and made them self-sufficient. And it has taken men so insecure and frightened of reality that they cowered before it, and instilled in them courage and a self respect.

"It has done all these things and more. It has taken men who could not even read or write or add or subtract, and has taught them these fundamentals and how to put them to work.

"The short, dynamic man with the big cigar and the mighty big job of directing the staff that gives them this chance is Lloyd G. Chapman, who has been with the cen-ter ever since its inception 20 years ago when he signed on as a counselor. The intense, gray-haired director is proud of the fact that he has known personally every single man trained at the institute during its existence."

Dr. Harry R. Boer, principal of the Theological College of Northern Nigeria in Africa, visited Holland and Western Seminary before his return to Nigeria on December 26 following a furlough year. He delivered a special lecture to faculty, students and guests at the seminary in November pointing up the training of an indigenous ministry for the emerging Christian Church in Nigeria. As a token of their affection, the faculty and staff of the Seminary gave Dr. Boer a Hermes 3000 portable typewriter, especially built with a Greek language keyboard. Henry Kleinheksel '36 and Eugene Osterhaven '37, classmates of Dr. Boer at Hope College made the presentation.

Dr. Boer later graduated from Calvin College and Calvin Seminary and served as a military chaplain in the Pacific Theater of Operations during World War II. In 1955 Dr. Boer received the Th. D. degree from the Free University of Amsterdam.

Harold E. De Free, M.D., Director of Medical Education at the Brethren Methodist Hospital in Kalamazoo, was invited to participate as the November lecturer in a year-long series of lectures on Politics, Medicine, Law, Sculpture, Painting, and Drama, at McCormick Seminary.

Mr. Cordes' article is entitled "Proliferation of Hospital Professions in New Challenge to Management" and was published in the June, 1964, issue of The Modern Hospital.

A specialist in the chemistry of antibiotics, plant extracts called alkaloids, and other natural products, Dr. van Tamelen was cited for his extracts from the Indian plant Rauwolfia serpentina, the synthesis of colchicine, and the synthesis of "Dewar benzene."

"In a relatively short period of thirteen years, Dr. van Tamelen and co-workers have described these and other researches in about 75 papers, appearing mainly in the Journal of the American Chemical Society." the award nomination states. "It is noteworthy that Dr. van Tamelen has confined his interest strictly to pure science—to advance the knowledge of organic chemistry. Although prolific in discovery of new organic processes and compounds, no patents have been issued in his name. A fitting recognition was earned in the form of an ACS Award in Pure Chemistry in 1961."

The award, given every two years, was established in 1944 to commemorate the achievements of Leo Hendrik Baekeland, a Belgian born chemist who immigrated to the United States in 1889.
