H Club Honors Team Doctor

Dr. Otto van der Velde '15 who has devoted his time to Hope College athletic teams as Team Doctor since 1924 was honored at the 1965 Homecoming. The H Club paid tribute to him at the annual Homecoming luncheon as expressed by Board Chairman Ekdal Buys '37, and the Homecoming program as well as the football game were dedicated to him: (Hope won over Alma, 48 to 6).

The caption over Dr. van der Velde's picture in the Hope-Alma Football Program read "Thank you, Dr. Otto van der Velde!" The article went on to explain that the dedication was "in grateful thanksgiving for the love he has showered upon so many Hope alumni, students, faculty and administrators over the years," and also, Dr. van der Velde "has dedicated himself to Hope students, not only as a doctor, but as a counselor and friend."

A resume of this alumnus' career preparation includes his birth in 1891 and early life "on a windswept Kansas prairie," his initial college work at Northwestern Academy in Orange City, Iowa, and then at Hope College. He chose Rush Medical College in Chicago for his professional training which continued in the U. S. Army during World War I. Following his internship at Harper Hospital in Detroit and four years of work in Detroit, Dr. and Mrs. van der Velde (Margaret Den Herder '15) moved to Holland.

Dr. van der Velde established his life-long practice in Holland in 1924. Besides his active practice and his devoted service to Hope College as Team Doctor, he also served Holland High School in the same capacity.

Community and professional organizations were important to this humanitarian. Dr. van der Velde is a member and past president of the Rotary Club, the Holland Professional Club and the Ottawa County Medical Society. He is former chairman of the Red Cross, Easter Seal and Cancer Societies of Ottawa county, and he has served on the board of directors of Prestatie Huis, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Greater Holland Community Foundation. In January 1964 Dr. van der Velde was honored as the "father of the Red Cross blood program in Ottawa County."

Currently Dr. van der Velde serves as a member of the Committee for Community Mental Health Planning. For the past seven years he has been Clinic Doctor for Hope College, a position from which he retired in June.

Anchor Dedicated To Dean Hinga's Memory

The Anchor, presented to the College by Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, was dedicated at Homecoming to the memory of the late Dean Milton Hinga, coach, Dean of Men and Dean of Students at Hope College from 1931 until his death in 1960.

President Vander Werf presided at the ceremony at which Prof. Clarence Kleis, a member of the faculty from 1921 to 1964, spoke about the many contributions made by Dean Hinga to Hope College and Holland community.

State Senator Guy Vander Jagt of Cadillac, a graduate of Hope in 1953, spoke about the anchor "as a symbol of Hope for the century past and the century to come."

Mrs. Hinga accepted the Anchor on behalf of her late husband and presented it to Dr. Vander Werf for Hope College, past, present and future.
International Center

Orient becomes involved

A conversation between President Vander Werf and President Tatsuo Wakabayashi of Meiji Gakuin University in the fall of 1964 resulted in an exciting new International program. Thirty-seven Japanese students came to the Hope College campus in the summer of 1965 for five weeks of Intensive American Studies.

The students lived in campus dormitories for three weeks; the last two weeks were spent in the homes of Holland residents who volunteered invitations to these pleasant and enthusiastic young people from the Orient.

Rev. Gordon J. Van Wyk '41, professor of History at Meiji Gakuin University, was loaned to Hope College by the Reformed Church Board of World Missions to direct the project. Dr. Philip Van Eyl '55, Chairman of the Psychology Department, as associate director planned the academic program.

The students were met in San Francisco by Director Van Wyk and traveled by bus to Holland, Michigan, stopping en route at strategic places for a look at life in America. One such stop was in Denver where the Denver Reformed Church group held a reception for them. The students dressed in oriental attire for the occasion.

At Hope these young people studied American History; Holland's history as a frontier settlement; American Social Problems; American Educational Problems and American Fine Arts. They took a trip to the Ford Motor Company—for a look at Big Business—and Greenfield Village. They spent a week-end in Chicago to get a glimpse of urban renewal and racial problems. They visited Michigan State University for a first hand conception of a great American University. And, they attended a Big League baseball game!

This program was such a success that now, according to Dr. Paul G. Fried, director of Hope's International Center, there is a possibility of a reciprocal project—Hope College students in Tokyo in summer 1966 for Intensive Japanese Studies.

In establishing the Seminar, President Vander Werf and President Wakabayashi sought to maintain the spiritual sisterhood between these two Reformed Church related Colleges—Hope and Meiji Gakuin.

. . . . "Enclosed is the check which was sent us for the lodging of our student. Please use this to further our student program, the pleasure was indeed ours. We truly enjoyed these two weeks with this girl, and we hope and pray that we may have been a Christian witness for her; she was very anxious to know about Christianity."

"We are returning the check you mailed us for assistance in preparation for housing of our Japanese student. We were not planning on remuneration, as we felt the experience for us would be very rewarding. We hope the check will help further the student program.

"We would like to add that our student proved to be a lady at all times. She brought much to our home in the form of humor, her culture, intelligent conversation, kindness, et cetera. Our hope is that she gained some values from us."

"The students are now in high spirits, telling everybody everything, exchanging pictures and actually some of them asked our President for permission to go to America to study further. . . . Finally let me tell you the fact that the Exchange Program Committee was so eager to hear my report . . . They were enthusiastic."

"Our people are still talking about the experience, and I'm not just saying it, they really are. They have a new concept of our work in Japan."

Rev. Harold E. Brown, Denver
Vienna Alumni Seminar 1965

It was a success, this first venture by Alumni into International Education! It was fitting that this Seminar should be the first Alumni project of the Second Century, following by one month the graduation of the 100th Class. Inasmuch as International Education is a very important part of the Hope College program today, Alumni demonstrated their progressive attitudes, as well as their interest in continuing education.

Highlights of the Seminar were included in every one of the 10 days in Vienna—the historic city which was formerly the center of the Holy Roman Empire. Highlights of note: trips to Budapest, Hungary, and Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, both behind the iron curtain; an invitation from the Austrian Foreign Minister to an afternoon at the only Diplomatic Academy in the world; seeing the 150 year exhibit of the Congress of Vienna, the body that reorganized Europe after Napoleon; musical events and art tours available only in Vienna, plus lectures by Hope's Vienna professors to prepare the participants for greater enjoyment.

The 22 participants were alumni of Hope College and of the Vienna Summer School. The VSS alumni came with their young spouses to celebrate the 10th Anniversary of the VSS; the Hope Alumni celebrated the 100th Anniversary of Hope College.

"Being with the Alumni in Vienna I felt I was seeing in action the words that were spoken by Dr. Vander Werf for the Chicago Tribune on July 25th. He stated: 'We are interested in helping each student as an individual not only to earn a living but to live a life. Hope College tends to inspire in each student something finer than culture, something rarer than competence, and something nobler than success.' These attributes seemed to be part of the Alumni. I am glad I could be a part of the first Alumni Seminar."

"Really have no criticism—of course it could have been longer, but then this would exclude persons on a limited vacation. The lectures were all very fine and the social activities fun, and especially, I think that all of you did a wonderful job accommodating the needs of all of us of such different ages and with different problems."

"Well done for a new venture. Keep it up. We'll help advertise it."
Vienna Alumni Seminar Participants

Erika Volkenborn Ahrens '58 and VSS '56 and husband, Mr. Arthur Ahrens, Colorado Springs; Julia Herrick Colapietro '56 and VSS, Benton Harbor; William '57 and VSS and Mrs. De Roo, East Lansing; Adeleite and Geraldine Dykhuizen '26, Holland; Lucille Walvoord Dykhuizen '31; Warren Grapenthin VSS, Chicago; Shirley Jean Hand '55, Rochester; Wilhelmina Bos Hughes '26, Chicago; Helena Joffer '56, Parker, S.D.; Gerald J. Kruyf '56, Grand Rapids; Dr. H. Roy Mooi '32 and Mrs. Mooi, Coldwater; Agnes Tysse '28 and Miss Marjory Drake, Ann Arbor; Charles Peterson VSS and Mrs. Peterson, Oklahoma City; Barbara Wood '61 and Donna Speck, Denver; Linda De Witt '64, Zeeland.

"After all these weeks since the Alumni Seminar, I'm still enthusiastic about it — talking to friends and telling them if the Seminar is offered again be sure to go. It was a never to be forgotten experience and so much fun too."

"The lectures should include better teaching aids (maps — names on blackboards, etc. — we are so rusty.)"
The Vienna Summer School at its 10th Anniversary

Well established by the first and continuing director, Paul G. Fried '46, the program follows much the same pattern each year, but it is never the same. Different students, different itineraries for the study tours, different historic scenes visited, and various government officials and artists visited, make the Hope College Vienna Summer School the most interesting and effective venture.

In 1965 the group visited Paris — Versailles, Le Chapelle, Notre Dame, the Louvre; the military subdivision of NATO; in Brussels, the Common Market; and in Germany an uncommon treat, they were briefed by Bruce Van Voorst '54, now chief of the Bonn and Berlin Bureau of Newsweek Magazine. This is just a glimpse of the whole study tour for the division of the school called the Northern Group.

Equally exciting was the itinerary of the Southern Group who toured with Dr. Edward Savage and Mrs. Snow through France and Italy, concentrating on art, drama and music. Principal stops included Rome, Florence, Sienna and Venice.

Dr. Fried is making plans now for the summer 1966 which will pioneer an Eastern European Study Tour through Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland, en route to Vienna.

“"This summer has resulted in a broadening of horizons and an increase in my desire for knowledge. Seeing the places about which I had read and studied prompted me to want to learn more about them. Being exposed to new viewpoints greatly added to my awareness of what is going on around me.”

“Further stimulated my interest in literature and made me want to study more European literature.”

“For me the summer was not only educational, but extremely enjoyable. Being able to see all that we as a group saw for the money we paid was really marvelous. We saw things which the ordinary tourist on his own would probably not see.”

“Thank you for the greatest experiences of my life.”
Great Lakes Colleges Association
International Programs

Through membership in the GLCA Hope College has been able to offer students a variety of educational experiences abroad which a small college alone certainly could not support. Perhaps the most interesting and novel of these is the Yugoslav-American Seminar which was held in Ljubljana during August and the first half of September of this year.

The initial impetus for this exciting encounter between East and West came some three years ago, when Dean Vander Lugt, Professor Abrams of Antioch College and I met with the Oberlin and Wooster program directors in Vienna to discuss possible areas of cooperation and joint ventures from our well-established base in Austria.

In the Summer of 1964 Professor Abrams and President VanderWerf took part in an International Seminar on Higher Education at Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia and in January of 1965 negotiations involving U. S. Department of State, the GLCA and the University of Ljubljana were virtually completed during a brief mid-winter trip which took Dr. Abrams, President Landrum Bolling of Earlham College and me to Belgrade and Ljubljana.

The uniqueness of the venture is best illustrated by the fact that it received financial support both from the U. S. State Department and from the Yugoslavs, as well as from the Johnson Foundation of Racine, Wisconsin. During this first summer fifteen American and ten Yugoslav students spent four weeks together comparing their respective societies. In the course of the seminar sessions they heard lectures and participated in discussions led by a total of seventeen American and Yugoslav professors.
Hope College was represented by two students: Robert Donia, a junior from Kalamazoo, and Edward Huntington, a senior whose family currently lives in Turkey. Dr. and Mrs. Hollenbach added prestige and charm to the American faculty contingent and I added my know-how in making arrangements for the Orientation sessions here and in Vienna and as administrator for the project.

There is every indication that the seminar was eminently successful and represents a significant contribution to the growing dialogue between East and West. Both the State Department and the Yugoslav authorities seem eager to have us work out arrangements for a similar program in the summer of 1966.

For Hope College the Seminar takes on added significance since we were able to work out a special program under which a Hope student, Robert Donia, is now spending a semester at the University of Ljubljana. His work will consist mostly of tutorials (given in English by Yugoslav professors) in history, sociology and economics, but he will also spend some time in language study.

To my knowledge Bob is the first American undergraduate student to be involved in such a program in Eastern Europe. In return we have invited the University of Ljubljana to help us select a student who will spend the next year at Hope College on a Geneva Fund scholarship. An exchange of this kind can obviously serve to cement the growing friendship and understanding between our two countries.
Other GLCA Programs

As reported in the July Magazine, Prof. Heine, assistant professor of German and Geography, whose story appears on the following page, spent the summer in Tanzania, East Africa, making a study of the exploitation of the water resources and irrigation projects. His was a faculty research project sponsored by the GLCA Ford Grant.

At the present time Dr. Hubert Weller, assistant professor of Spanish, is in Peru under a GLCA grant to study the works of Rafael de la Fuenta.

Three other GLCA programs currently include Hope students.

Dr. John W. Hollenbach, on leave-of-absence from the College, is a visiting professor at the American University in Beirut, Lebanon, and is researching Middle Eastern Culture in preparation for offering a senior seminar at Hope College in 1966. Dr. and Mrs. Hollenbach are serving as advisors of the twenty-three students from seven of the GLCA colleges—three from Hope.

Five Hope students studied at Bogota, Colombia, last school year; nine are currently enrolled there.

The GLCA summer 1965 program in Guanajuato, Mexico, enticed six Hope students.

OTHER INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Douglas P. Collins, Hope junior, is now studying at the University of Nantes, France, for the year on a $600 scholarship granted by the Institute of European Studies. Also, Robert Werge, a senior, studied at the University of Oslo on a University Scholarship during the past summer.

As reported in the April Magazine, Hope has its own Geneva Scholarship program supported by a friend of the College since 1962 which provides funds for students from countries outside the United States, particularly those from developing areas of the world. This fund is designated Geneva Fund in recognition of the significant contributions men have made there, both in religious and political fields, towards the achievement of international peace and justice.

NEW PROGRAM

To confirm that the international program is an ever growing and expanding one, Director Fried informed the editor as we go to press that he is now making arrangements for a project between Silliman University in the Philippines and Hope College. Both schools are members of the Protestant College and University Association.

Silliman has requested an exchange of ideas, not students this time, with Hope. The request is for Hope students to select readings in American Literature which best will introduce a non-western student to American culture. Dr. Fried has asked Dr. Joan Meuller of the English Department to work with her students in American Literature on this project. In return Silliman University students will select readings in Philippine Literature that will introduce a westerner to Philippine culture.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ON CAMPUS

International students on campus the Fall of 1965 represent 24 countries. The 45 students include 8 Americans whose parents are presently living in foreign countries.

The Recorder’s Report shows 13 students from Hong Kong; 4 from the Netherlands; 3 each from Canada and Japan; 2 from Arabian Gulf and Iran; one each from Nigeria, Syria, Nyasaland, Taiwan, Singapore, Philippines, Pakistan, Germany, Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador, Korea, Zambia, Surinam, Cameroon, Mexico, Ethiopia and Venezuela.

Hope’s First Prince Bernhard Scholar

Johannes Huber of Groningen, the Netherlands, has been selected to be the first Prince Bernhard Scholar at Hope College. The Scholarship was established in April during the visit of His Royal Highness to the campus.

Born in Groningen in 1947, Johannes lived for several years in Indonesia where his father was a medical director of a hospital on a Goodyear Rubber Plantation. His education since the age of twelve, however, has been in schools in the Netherlands, including the University of Amsterdam and the State University of Leyden.

A Visit With Alfayo

by Prof. Werner Heine

The East African Airlines Fokker lowers its nose and begins its descent to Nairobi Airport. The wheels hit the ground, slow down, and come to a standstill.

Alfayo Moturi, a Hope Graduate of 1964 is waiting at the gates. "Hi, Mr. Heine, how are you? How is Hope? Did you have a pleasant flight?" He takes me to the Norfolk Hotel—it is 9 a.m.—and we have breakfast together.

"Would you like to go to the parliament with me," he asks me. "The three East African countries will have their own currencies next year."

"Why do you prefer to break up your economic union?" I question. "Tanzania thinks it can do better alone. Uganda, the smallest country of the three, is afraid to be over-ruled, and Kenya . . ."

Everybody in the Lower House is excited. The atmosphere is impressive. Some look and speak like Cambridge or Oxford Graduates. There is much dignity. "I will run for M.P. when we will have the next election," says Alfayo." Last time, it was late when I came back from Hope."

We have lunch together in a small restaurant a few miles away from Nairobi later on. Two friends of Alfayo join us; his boss, a regional commissioner is interested in learning about liberal education in America. He praises Alfayo. The two friends ask questions about America, political issues, the antagonism between America and China. They like to debate. They really enjoy it. Alfayo does not say much. He wants to show me his district. He is responsible of an area, the size of a county.

We visit his police department, his agricultural, health, and administrative offices. Seventy-six thousand people live here in the Highlands six thousand feet above sea level, some twenty miles west of Nairobi, Kikuyus' country, Mau Mau ridden years ago. A beautiful scenery. Alfayo's house surrounded by a lawn with a view over plateaus and mountains. In clear nights, you can see the lights of Nairobi.

Pictures of Hope, the soccer team are on the buffet. Alfayo takes out the Milestones of 1962 and 1963. "I ordered that of 1964 too," he says. "But I did not get any answer yet." What about Dr. Klaasen, about this professor and that one? Where are my class mates? Question after question?

"And where is your brother, who was in East Germany last year?" I ask. "He has come back. He will go to West Germany to continue his studies soon."

"How did you feel, when you came back after your graduation from Hope?" I interrogate. "It was not easy to change," he confesses. "It was probably a greater challenge than the adaptation in America five years ago. But now I am happy. I like my work, and I think my people like me."

Late in the evening, Alfayo takes me back to Nairobi. Next morning at 7 o'clock, the East African airplane leaves for Tanga. It is rainy. The sky is overcast. I am thinking about Alfayo, the Hope College Alumni. "It was not easy to adjust oneself in Kenya again. It was probably harder than to get used to American way of life." He succeeded, but what about many others?
Hope's International Center 1965 carries the Anchor to eight countries in five continents of the world.
Again this year, 12.6% of the 546 freshmen who registered at Hope College in September are what we have come to call “second generation Hope students.” Indeed one is a fourth, and ten are third generation students.

When the Alumni Secretary issued the call to the 69 young people in these categories to assemble for a photograph, she didn’t really expect such a large turnout for the first sitting. Forty-four did show up and made remarks such as, “My mother will be so happy to have me in this picture,” “I’m sure I’m a fourth generation, but will you check it?”

Others who couldn’t come for the first sitting, reported earlier with reasons for not being able to be present. They made remarks such as this, “I don’t care for myself, of course, but it would please my parents to have me in the picture.”

For the second call, another day of the week and an evening hour, 20 appeared. All were so cooperative and so pleased to be accommodated and were such pleasant and cooperative young people, that you may be sure the Alumni Secretary was very proud of them. Maybe at some later date we can photograph the remainder. We also called in the transfer students in this category. There are five of them.

The Gerritt W. Wesselink Memorial at Hope College

At a ceremony in the Pentagon, the Department of the Air Force presented a citation and $2500 in memorial funds to Hope College in memory of the late Gerritt W. Wesselink, Air Force General Counsel.

The presentation was made by Secretary Zuckert to Dr. VanderWerf in the presence of Mrs. Wesselink, Marilyn, Malcolm (daughter and son) and friends of Mr. Wesselink.

The citation, prepared by the Office of the Counsel General of the Air Force, made mention of Mr. Wesselink's cherished memories and associations of his years at Hope throughout his lifetime, and that he lived in the best traditions of his chosen profession. As husband, father, friend and business associate he typified the finest human qualities: warmth, tolerance, understanding and integrity.

His career, as mentioned in the citation, included private legal practice as an associate, and later as a partner, in the Chicago firm of Crowe, Gorman, Mulder (John '28) and Wesselink. It encompassed high achievement in legal scholarship and teaching—at the Georgetown University and George Washington University Law Schools, at the Judge Advocate General School and other service schools. It included valued contributions as a Government attorney, culminating in his service as General Counsel of the Department of the Air Force, in which capacity he provided the highest quality of leadership to an outstanding professional group.

He led the lawyers in the Air Force General Counsel's Office with wisdom and humor; his qualities of leadership were manifest to all who had the benefit of his advice. What he gained from Hope College, he strived always to pass on to others; a sense of righteousness, a respect for true learning, a deep regard for the enlightened spirit.

In accepting the Memorial Tribute, President Vander Werf spoke of the memorial as a fitting one to a great and good man. He said, "The Gerritt W. Wesselink Memorial Microfilm Collection in the Hope College Library will serve countless generations of aspiring students, especially those in the fields of law, history, and political and social science. But more than that, it will stand as a vital, living, inspiring symbol on our campus."

"Gerritt Wesselink's whole life epitomized the ideal that life can have real content, purpose and meaning—and still be great high fun."

"This is the ideal we wish so desperately to inspire and inculcate in the lives of our students at Hope College."
Reverend Milton J. Hoffman, veteran traveler for KLM, was invited to join a company of Dutch and American friends of KLM to make the inaugural flight from Vienna to Dhahran. The special flight left Amsterdam on May 15. Enroute to Amsterdam, Dr. Hoffman spent a week in England, particularly to visit London and his alma mater, Oxford University (Rhoades Scholar). He also visited relatives in The Netherlands.

After the festivities of the inaugural flight in Dhahran, Dr. Hoffman spent three days in Bahrain and Kuwait at RCA mission stations. His next stops were in Moscow, Kiev and Leningrad, spending three days in each city. He planned bus trips to Prague and Budapest from Vienna.

A year ago Dr. Hoffman traveled by KLM as far as Karachi and Pakistan. His second trip included Lebanon, Jordan and four days in Jerusalem.

Dr. Hoffman wrote from Leningrad on May 31: "To see what has happened and is happening here is to have a firmer faith in the essential goodness of people everywhere. What wonderful people the Russians are! In no land have I found such a hunger for learning. Think of it—in Moscow alone there are 3,000 libraries, the Lenin library the largest in the world.

"And the beauty of the three cities I have visited—wide avenues often tree lined, magnificent buildings, wonderful palaces 200 and more years old. Our group spent all afternoon at the Hermitage—no place in the world like it!"

Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers has been re-elected for a second three-year term as president of the Iowa Association of Private Colleges and Universities. The Association, started on an experimental basis three years ago, is composed of 24 four-year private colleges and three private junior colleges.

Teun Holkeboer returned to the Orient in May to visit her former students of the Amoy Girls High School where she taught for nearly 30 years.

Her itinerary started with her delivering the Commencement address at Hope Christian High School in Manila on May 17. Her plans included spending the month of May in Manila where she has many alumni from the 10 years she worked in this High School after being driven out of China by the Communists. In addition, there are more than 100 alumnae from the Amoy Girls High School.

After May in Manila, Miss Holkeboer planned to go to Formosa (Taiwan) for June to participate in the celebration of the centenary of the Christian movement in that country. There, too, there are more than a hundred alumnae from the China school—refugees from the mainland.

Her trip will also include visiting former students in the Philippines outside Manila, Bangkok, Malaysian cities such as Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, I-Po, and Penang, before her return to the United States in September.

Charles Van Zanten and Mrs. Van Zanten of Shelby, Michigan, returned to Izmir, Turkey, this past spring. They called at the building in which Mr. Van Zanten taught English to Turkish boys over 40 years ago. The building is now occupied by NATO air headquarters for Greece and Turkey.

The Van Zantens were greeted by Major General Clyde Box, USAF, Commander of NATO's Sixth Allied Tactical Air Force in Izmir.

Mr. Van Zanten, who holds a master's degree in history from the University of Michigan, has retired from the superintendentcy of the Shelby Public School system.

Dr. Dykhuizen on College Board

At the Alumni Board meeting in June, Dr. Harrold Dykhuizen '30 was nominated a candidate for the Board of Trustees. The Alumni have the prerogative to nominate an alumnus every other year. If elected by the trustees after alumni action, the electee serves a 6 year term. Dr. Dykhuizen was elected to the Board at a meeting in August.

A Muskegon Urologist, Dr. Dykhuizen has always been an ardent supporter of Hope College. He lived on the campus in the President’s Home during the years his uncle, Dr. Edward D. Dimnent was president of the College. He was president of the Alumni Association from 1955 to 1957 during which time he expanded the Alumni Fund, then a direct mail program. His letters to the alumni as Chairman of the 1957 Fund won a citation for direct mail from the American Alumni Association in 1958. That year 18% of Hope’s alumni contributed $47,900, considered a fine response to direct mail at that time.

Dr. Dykhuizen replaces Randall C. Bosch ’25 a College Trustee since 1947 and a member of the Executive Committee for the past 14 years.

Floyd Folkert, elected President of the Alumni Association by the Board of Directors on June 5, is General Manager of the J. C. Penney Company of Muskegon.

Mr. Folkert went with the Penney Company in Holland upon graduation from Hope College in 1939. After a training period, he was transferred to Petoskey for four and a half years as assistant manager. From there he went on to Cleveland for nine years as manager of a store there. In 1961 he was transferred to Muskegon.

Somewhere along the line, Mr. Folkert served in the U. S. Air Force as a navigator in World War II.

In Muskegon, President Folkert is a member of the Laketon Bethel Reformed Church, vice president of the Consistory; vice president of the Muskegon Area Development Council; and treasurer of the Muskegon County United Appeal.

Mr. and Mrs. Folkert live at 763 Moulton Avenue, Muskegon, with their two children: Carol, a junior at Hope College, and David, a senior at West Michigan Christian High School.

An additional anonymous gift of $50,000 for the Student Cultural-Social Center was received by President Vander Werf on July 2. The SCSC fund now stands at around $103,000.

"Symphony in Summer/Time" is a half-hour motion picture film produced by the National School Orchestra Association in conjunction with Hope College. Made by WOOD-TV, Dr. Morrette Rider of the Hope music faculty acts as host during the presentation of the activities on the Hope College campus during the NSOA conference this past summer. Included in the various sequences are presentations by the NSOA Youth Symphony Orchestra, directed by J. P. Holesovsky, and a 100 piece symphony orchestra of directors, conducted by Dr. Rider. The film is scheduled for showing on a number of television stations including those in Grand Rapids, Chicago, Kansas City, Milwaukee, and Memphis. It may be obtained on a rental free basis by contacting Mr. Orville Dally, NSOA president, 633 Center, Bryan, Ohio.

The National School Orchestra Association through its president Orville Dally, has announced that its eighth annual conference will be on the Hope College campus August 7 through 12, 1966. This will be the third time in recent years that the Hope campus has been selected for this nation-wide conference.

Dr. Rider has announced the concert schedule for the College Orchestra and Symphonette:

Boris Teraspolsky, professor of cello at Indiana University will be featured soloist at the first orchestra concert on November 18 in Dimnent Chapel.

Dr. Anthony Kooiker, pianist, will be soloist in the March concert, and in April, the symphonette will leave on its twelfth annual concert tour, traveling through the south to present seven concerts in Florida. Later in the month concerts will be presented in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana.

This artist also received an honorable mention in the Mississippi National Watercolor Show for a work entitled “Landscape,” and had two works, an oil painting and a water color, accepted in the Butler Institute of American Art Mid-Year Show earlier this year.

HOPE COLLEGE ATHLETICS—1965-1966

At this writing the Hope football squad stands at the .500 mark having recorded victories over Wheaton and Adrian and losing decisions to Ohio Northern and Olivet College. Unusual balance in the MIAA this season has heightened interest and presents a very real possibility of any team beating any other team right down to the final game.

The soccer team, enjoying varsity status for the first time has downsed Calvin, Oakland University, and Maryknoll Seminary, while dropping games to Lake Forest and the University of Illinois—Chicago Branch.

Injuries to key runners Gary Peiper and Paul Hartman have slowed the Cross Country team in spite of a fine individual showing by sophomore Calvin Oslerhaven.

Prospects for basketball are bright with the entire starting line-up returning. The schedule includes Hope’s first appearance in the east. On December 28, 29, and 30 the Dutch will take part in the Union College Invitational Tourney. Other participants besides Union and Hope are De Pauw, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Douglas Rozendal, by zigzags on the family tree, achieves his third generation status through his mother, Johanna van der Wal Rozendal '45 and his paternal grandfather, the late Anthony Rozendal '97.

Jean Schrotenboer arrives at being a third generation Hope student via her great grandfather, the late Albert Zandstra '80.

Sally Kruizenga, as mentioned in the July Magazine, had two grandfathers who were Hope graduates: the late Dr. Cornelius D. Mulder, 1899, and the late Rev. E. R. Kruizenga, 1904.

Here is just one story that illustrates that Hope is the school chosen often for the education of the young people in many families. Rev. Theodore Zandstra '41 mentioned a few days ago that his daughter Barbara, now a sophomore, is the 7th one in his family to attend Hope. His story went something like this:

Rev. Theodore's father, the late Rev. Frederic Theodore Zandstra, graduated in 1912; his uncle, the late Dr. Sidney Zandstra in 1903; his cousins, the late Dr. Thomas Zandstra and his twin sister, Miss Daisy Zandstra of Paterson, New Jersey, in 1931; his sister, Marilyn Zandstra Ettema, Chandler, Minnesota, in 1944, and hopefully, Barbara will graduate in 1968.

To carry this a bit farther, as the Alumni Secretary was preparing this story on "Second Generation Hope Students," she easily recalled that many of those here listed have brothers or sisters who are on the Alumni Roster. As the photographs were being taken, several onlookers mentioned that they had brothers or sisters who had graduated, but not parents.

Of course, someone in a family has to start the educational tradition at Hope College. If you know of a young person who would be happy at Hope with this and other traditions you are familiar with, will you write his/her name on the card at the back of this magazine and drop it in the mail box, The Admissions Office will take it from there.
