A SEMINARY CATHOLIC, EVANGELICAL, AND REFORMED

Western Theological Seminary is catholic in that it seeks to express the one, holy, apostolic faith of the whole Christian church. Catholicity signifies the wholeness or fullness of the Christian faith, the attempt to declare "the whole counsel of God." Western Seminary is not sectarian but is self-consciously a part of the great Christian tradition. We represent a particular heritage and tradition, but we acknowledge and treasure our oneness with Christians of all communions in all ages and are concerned to manifest the unity we have with them in Christ.

The geographical dimension of this catholicity is Western's long and notable involvement in the world mission of the church. The world is our parish as we send out ambassadors for Christ to the ends of the world. Increasingly this is a two-way street as we receive students and visiting professors from overseas churches.

These servants of Christ not only remind us of the catholicity of the church. They also help us as we seek to "attain to the unity inherent in our faith and our knowledge of the Son of God — to mature manhood, measured by nothing less than the full stature of Christ" (Ephesians 4:13, N.E.B.).

EVANGELICAL

Western Seminary is evangelical in that it exists for the sake of making known by word and by deed the evangel — the good news that God's free grace in Jesus Christ is the only answer for a sinful, lost mankind. The heart of our gospel is that "In Christ God was reconciling the world to himself" (2 Corinthians 5:19).

We affirm the great Reformation slogans — by Scripture alone, by grace alone, and by faith alone, as well as the classic evangelical emphases. Ours is a progressive evangelicalism which holds to the fundamentals of the faith, but looks forward instead of backward. In the joy and freedom of the Spirit we strive to magnify Christ in all that we do.

Evangelical means for us not simply a faithfulness to the gospel of Christ, but also a living-out of that gospel. Pure doctrine must be confirmed by holy living, and both should be united in an urgent concern to share "the unsearchable riches of Christ." The good news must be proclaimed to individuals and also be brought to bear on society as a whole. In Christ we seek to demonstrate "faith working through love."

REFORMED

Western Seminary is reformed in that it recognizes its responsibility to be ever reforming itself according to the Word of God. Semper reformanda! Always reforming — this is the true Reformation spirit.

We cherish and promote our Reformed heritage and tradition, especially as mediated to us through the Belgic Confession, the Canons of Dort, and the Heidelberg Catechism. But we also lay claim to the wider Reformed tradition. In the last analysis, however, we recognize no authority other than the Bible, our infallible rule of faith and practice.

The word "Reformed" connotes for us such emphases as the sovereignty and glory of God and his gracious election, the sinfulness of man, and Lordship of Christ over all of life. We take seriously the whole of Scripture and are convinced that a high view of the authority and inspiration of the Scriptures must be matched by an adequate hermeneutic that does justice to the one covenant of grace in both of the Testaments.

With the Genevan Reformer, John Calvin, we try to maintain a correlation of the Word and the Spirit. For the Word without the Spirit produces a barren orthodoxy. The Spirit apart from the Word results in bizarre excesses and schism. There should be no tension here, for the Spirit is the Spirit of truth (John 16:13; 1 John 5:7).

These three great concepts are not mutually exclusive, but correlative and interdependent. As Western Seminary strives to be ever more catholic, it will also develop as a school which is increasingly more evangelical and reformed — and conversely. In short, our goal is to assist in the training of ministers who will bring the whole gospel to the whole world — to the glory of God.

Purpose

STATEMENT OF PURPOSES

Western Theological Seminary exists to train and equip men and women for ministry in the church of Jesus Christ. This training focuses on three degree programs, one leading to the ordained ministry, the second to professional leadership in Christian education and the third on advanced study in ministry. The Seminary also prepares qualified students for specialized ministries in the areas of missions, evangelism, counseling, and social service.

Western Seminary is committed to the continuing education and professional development of ministers, and to the training of lay people. Toward this end the Seminary offers special graduate courses, seminars, conferences, and workshops to foster and facilitate personal growth, theological awareness, and professional development.

The Seminary serves the church at large by cooperating with and sharing in denominational and ecumenical programs. It makes available its personnel and resources to that church as she engages in mission and works for the coming of the Kingdom of God.

Western Seminary seeks to achieve these goals by furnishing its students with a solid foundation in the Bible. To that end it requires a working knowledge of the Hebrew and Greek languages in the Master of Divinity degree program. Students become familiar with the basic message of the Bible and secure an understanding of the principles of interpretation. On this foundation they are instructed in the history and traditions of the Christian church and its mission in the world, and in Christian doctrine. Thus students are equipped for their ministries to work and think in a biblical and theological way.

The Seminary brings all this training to focus in the preaching and teaching of the Word, the administration of the sacraments, and in the service of God in the world. To that end it stresses such skills as worship in the Word and sacrament, witness in word and deed, pastoral care and counseling, use of the principles and practice of Christian education, and in the exercise of managerial and administrative abilities. These skills are developed and tested through field education assignments during the school year in local churches, in summer and intern experiences in various forms of ministry, and in clinical pastoral education.
A BRIEF HISTORY

As America surged westward almost every denomination developed a “western” seminary in response to the need for geographical proximity and cultural affinity. That need was a significant one in the Reformed Church in America, for the nineteenth century had witnessed the drama of Dutch immigration to the Midwest, begun in 1847 by Albertus C. Van Raalte and his orthodox, pietist seceders from the state church of the Netherlands. Their Dutch language and their specific theological concerns as well as the great difficulty of traveling long distances to secure a theological education, dictated need for a “western” seminary.

In 1866, nineteen years after Van Raalte’s arrival to settle his colony in Holland, Michigan, seven members of the senior class of Hope College petitioned the Reformed Church for theological education in the West. The General Synod of the Reformed Church voted that “leave be granted to pursue their theological studies at Hope College, provided no measures shall be instituted by which additional expense shall be thrown upon Synod or the Board of Education…” (To their credit, it should be noted that all seven completed their theological education and entered the ministry. The only other member of the class became a professor.)

Even these humble beginnings in 1866 as the theological department of Hope College could not be sustained. The disastrous fire which destroyed Holland in 1871, and the national depression in 1873, caused the general synod to suspend theological education at Hope College in 1877. By that time twenty-nine students had graduated.

After a six-year suspension theological instruction was resumed in 1884, and in 1885 Western Theological Seminary began an existence entirely separate from Hope College. Professor Albertus Pieters left a trenchant description of Western during his student days (1888-91): “grounds, none; recitation hall, none; maps, none; library, none; periodicals, none. This is a complete and accurate inventory of the equipment of the Western Theological Seminary at that time.”

The first seminary buildings were Semelink Family Hall (classrooms) in 1895, Beardslee Library in 1912, and Zwemer Hall (dormitory) in 1914 and 1928. The former two were replaced by the present structure in 1954. Western now enjoys the splendid Mulder Chapel and the Beardslee Library, which numbers 72,000 books and 570 periodicals. “Recitation halls” have given way to specialized teaching rooms equipped for working with TV as well as Hebrew lexicons; projection both on screens and from pulpits; and small groups in seminar rooms as well as very large groups in the seminary Commons.

One of the real strengths of Western in those early years, as now, lay in her faculty. Its quality may be judged by the fact that in the early years, of her first thirteen professors, five were called to teach in other seminaries. With the advancing decades of the twentieth century, the emphasis has been not only upon “Godly and gifted” men and women, but also upon academic training within their fields of expertise.

In this era of women’s liberation it may be noted that Western’s first woman professor, Elaine Lubbers, began teaching in 1962. The first woman to enter the ministry, Elsie Law, graduated in 1963, and the first woman
M.C.E. candidate graduated in 1968. That tradition is being continued through Professor Sonja Stewart, and through women candidates for the M.R.E. and M.Div. degrees.

For more than a century of service Western has continued her emphasis upon an understanding of the biblical languages as a solid foundation for the interpretation of the Scriptures, together with a thorough study of both systematic and historical theology. Western has also stood in the forefront of seminaries concerned with preparation for the pastoral tasks of ministry — preaching, church management, counseling, and Christian education.

ACCREDITATION

Western Theological Seminary, an institution of the Reformed Church in America, is an accredited member of the Association of Theological Schools. Its degree programs are authorized by the Department of Education of the State of Michigan. The Seminary is operated and controlled by the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America through its Board of Theological Education.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS
John Lam, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds
James Klomparens, Supervisor of Housing
Western Theological Seminary is an educational instrument of the Reformed Church in America. It has as its primary purpose the training of men and women for the diverse forms of Christian ministry in today’s world. The Seminary believes that this is accomplished most effectively through programs which seek to be deeply biblical and thoroughly Reformed in character. The whole curriculum and program are therefore devoted to the training of persons who can equip and lead the church in fulfilling her mission to be the body of Christ in the world, and to proclaim his gospel everywhere.

The Seminary presently offers three degree programs, the Master of Divinity (M.Div.), the Master of Religious Education (M.R.E.) and the Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.). The Master of Divinity program requires three years (four if the student takes a supervised internship after his second year), leading normally to the ordained ministry. The Master of Religious Education program requires two years. New candidates are not admitted to the Master of Theology (Th.M) program at the present time. Three Fields—the Biblical, the Theological (systematic theology, church history and historical theology, and Christian ethics), and Christian Ministry (worship, preaching, Christian education, pastoral counseling, evangelism, mission, and church government and administration) provide direction for studies in the several programs. The Doctor of Ministry program is described on pages 32-33.

An optional bi-site experience: Western maintains a close relationship with its sister school, New Brunswick Theological Seminary in New Brunswick, New Jersey. Each, because of its location, faculty, and relationships with area churches and institutions, offers opportunities which are not available at the other. Master of Divinity students who wish a varied educational experience can arrange a program which includes residence at both campuses. Variances in curriculum structure permit a number of possible programs, and the administrations of the two schools are prepared both to facilitate the academic transfer arrangements and assist with any practical problems involved in moving.

Master of Divinity Program

The Master of Divinity program has a requirement of 135 term hours, of which 93 are in required courses and 42 in electives. The program focuses initially on biblical studies, which include in the first year a thorough survey and analysis of the English text of the Bible, with a study of the best interpretive tools, and courses in the biblical Hebrew and Greek languages and literature. A succession of four courses in biblical exegesis and theology follows in the second and third years.

Six courses are required in the principal areas of systematic theology, and four in the two-thousand-year span of the history and theology of the Christian church. While emphasis in these studies is laid upon the life and thought of the Reformed churches, Christianity in all its diverse forms, Catholic and Protestant, is given careful attention. Both normative and historical Christian ethics are also brought under survey and analysis.

The Christian Ministry Field engages the student where all the other studies emerge in the practical applications of ministerial involvement in many forms of activity in the church and community. Accent is laid upon ministry to persons—wherever the church extends God’s grace and help—in pew and classroom, in the management of the church’s business, in sickroom and hospital, in supportive and healing counseling relationships, in evangelistic and missionary appeal to non-Christians.

The student has, in addition, a wide range of electives in all the above areas from which to make a selection of fourteen courses. Courses may be concentrated in one or two fields of special interest or spread over a wider spectrum. Three of the electives (nine credit hours) may be combined to furnish the student with the valuable Clinical Pastoral Education experience at the Pine Rest Christian Hospital in Grand Rapids, or at other hospitals in the United States.

Required Courses

All required courses receive three credit hours, except where otherwise indicated. Key to course numbers: first digit refers to class unit (1 — juniors; 2 — middlers; 3 — seniors); second digit indicates the quarter; the third digit refers to the number of the course in its field.

BIBLICAL FIELD

BF111 HEBREW/Coughenour
Fundamentals of Hebrew grammar, taught by a combination of the inductive and deductive methods.

BF112 INTRODUCTION TO EXEGESIS/Cook
Elementary principles of exegetical study, with readings in the New Testament text.

BF113 REVIEW GREEK/Schutter
A survey of difficult elements in New Testament Greek, vocabulary growth, and Greek reading.

BF114 INTRODUCTORY BIBLICAL STUDIES/Piet
A survey of some prophets, plus Exodus through II Samuel.

BF121 HEBREW/Coughenour, Schutter
Fundamentals of Hebrew grammar, taught by a combination of inductive and deductive methods.

BF122 ADVANCED EXEGESIS/Cook
A course in exegetical practice based on the Letter to the Philippians and the Gospel by Mark.

BF123 INTRODUCTION TO EXEGESIS/Schutter
Elementary principles of exegetical study, with readings in the New Testament text.

BF124 INTRODUCTORY BIBLICAL STUDIES/Piet
A survey of other prophets, Joshua through II Chronicles and the Wisdom Literature.

BF131 HEBREW EXEGESIS/Coughenour, Schutter
Reading and interpretation of passages selected from the Law, The Prophets, and Psalms.

BF132 INTRODUCTORY BIBLICAL STUDIES/Piet

BF211 OLD TESTAMENT THEOLOGY AND EXEGESIS/Coughenour
Provides acquaintance with the history and methods of Old Testament theology, selected major theological themes, practice in exegetical method, and interpretation and application of Old Testament theological content to ministry.

BF221 BIBLICAL EXEGESIS AND THEOLOGY/Cook
The exegesis and theology of the Letter to the Romans.

BF231 NEW TESTAMENT THEOLOGY AND EXEGESIS/Cook

BF311 BIBLICAL EXEGESIS & THEOLOGY/Schutter
A new look at the Fourth Gospel, its purpose and theology.

BF331 THE CHURCH AND MISSION/Piet
A study of the church in her essential character as mission, with attention given to the Reformed Church's expression and experience in mission.

THEOLOGICAL FIELD

TF111 INTRODUCTION TO THEOLOGY/Osterhaven
A preliminary examination of the major divisions, themes, and definitions significant for all branches of theological study.

TF131 CHURCH HISTORY (100-1500 A.D.)/Bruggink
The historical development of the church from the Apostolic Fathers to the eve of the Reformation, with particular emphasis upon the formative development of doctrine in the first six centuries.
TF211 CHURCH HISTORY (REFORMATION) / Bruggink
The Reformation is studied in terms of doctrine, culture, polity and politics as it developed out of concerns for theological, social, and liturgical reform.

TF221 THEOLOGY (GOD) / Kaiser
A study of the nature of God. The doctrines of the Trinity, the divine decree, creation and providence, are treated.

TF222 PROLEGOMENA TO CHRISTIAN ETHICS / Eenigenburg
Christian ethics' function as an amender of traditional morality patterns is in focus, with dependence on the use of correct biblical concepts.

TF231 THEOLOGY (CHRIST) / Osterhaven
A study of the person and work of Christ. The natures and offices of the mediator, the problem of kenosis, and the meaning of atonement.

TF311 THEOLOGY (MAN) / Eenigenburg
Christian and non-Christian presuppositions concerning man's origin, nature, and destiny. Typical themes are the nature of the person; the meaning of the imago Dei; relationships among body, mind, and spirit; sin; the humanity of Christ.

TF312 CHURCH HISTORY (1650-1900 A.D.) / Kaiser
Protestant and Catholic development is studied in relation to revolution: intellectual, economic and political. The history of the Reformed Church in America is given specific consideration.

TF321 THEOLOGY (CHURCH, SACRAMENTS, SALVATION) / Osterhaven
The church is considered as a continuation of the redemptive program begun in the Old Testament. Her nature, ministry, and sacraments are treated. The work of the Holy Spirit in the application of salvation to the believer.

TF322 CHURCH HISTORY (20TH CENTURY) / Bruggink
Particular attention is paid to the church in the United States, the Reformed Church in America, the ecumenical movement and the worldwide impact of Vatican II.

TF331 OUR REFORMED HERITAGE / Osterhaven, Hesselink
An attempt to appreciate and evaluate the treatment of main emphases in the doctrinal standards of the Reformed Church in America in the light of their historical backgrounds. Comparison is made of the treatment of specific doctrines.

CHRISTIAN MINISTRY FIELD

CM011 SPEECH LAB / Ralph
A non-credit requirement for juniors.

CM111 THE CONGREGATION ORGANIZING AND EDUCATING / Stewart, Bennink
A field-based course in which congregational life, its organizational structures, and educational ministry are the foci. Through observations and colloquy groups students explore the various functions of ministry and begin to formulate their professional identity.

CM121 PREACHING / Kansfield, Heideman
A study of the New Testament conception of preaching; the place and use of the Bible in preaching; the preparation and delivery of sermons; and techniques of communication.

CM122 THE CONGREGATION CARING FOR PERSONS / Bennink, Stewart
Definitions and styles of pastoral care are explored in an effort to illustrate how the pastor enables a caring community to develop personal and congregational wholeness. (Five weeks, one and one-half credit hours)

CM123 THE CONGREGATION WORSHIPING / Bruggink
Biblical and Reformed understandings of worship are studied with particular emphasis given to the components of the liturgy. (Five weeks, one and one-half credit hours)

CM131 THE CONGREGATION EVANGELIZING / Brownson
The nature of Christian evangelism in the early church and the faith experience of the student are examined to formulate the student's witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ. (Five weeks, one and one-half credit hours)
CM132 MINISTRY SKILLS/Bennink, Stewart
A laboratory for learning specific skills for individual pastoral care and teaching. (Five weeks, one and one-half credit hours)

CM211 PASTORAL COUNSELING/Rock
Purpose and practice. Development of helping relationships with individuals experiencing personal conflicts.

CM212 PREACHING/Heideman/Kansfield
Preaching and Pastoral Care, and Preaching a Series of Expository Sermons.

CM321 CHURCH ADMINISTRATION AND GOVERNMENT/Geschwendt
Principles of administration and organization in the church. A comprehensive perspective which makes administration a ministry rather than a prelude to it. History and interpretation of the Government of the Reformed Church, and related matters.
Elective Courses, 1978-79

All elective courses receive three credit hours unless otherwise noted.

FIELD EDUCATION

Philosophy of Field Education

One way in which Western Theological Seminary has defined itself is as a “Graduate Professional School.” This designation implies that the curriculum of this school will not be sufficient if it is concerned only to transmit a body of knowledge, or if it is content only to train students in a pattern of skills. In other words, we understand our task to be concerned with the whole person, and more specifically with the stages of his or her transformation from lay person, into professional. Thus, it is not sufficient for theological education to concern itself solely with the fund of knowledge and its derivative skills. The goals of our curriculum include the development in the student of (1) a thorough grasp of the content areas in biblical and theological study which underlie ministry; (2) efficiency in the academic and pastoral skills of ministry; (3) a strong sense of vocation or calling to enter the ministry; (4) a sense of professional identity and commitment to the work of ministry; (5) an understanding and acceptance of the institutions within which ministry occurs; (6) a sense of identification with the values and norms of ministry; (7) acceptance of and ability to exercise the authority adhering to the office of ministry; (8) personal maturity and sensitivity.

Many of these goals cannot be accomplished solely in the classroom and library of a theological seminary. An effective system of field education is necessary in order to assure adequate exposure of students to effective role models in the person of practicing members of the profession, and to the organizational and institutional structures of the church. Field education is an integral component of the training process and is concerned not only with the development of competence in ministry, but also with the service to the church and the community.

The Field Education Program

Two levels of involvement are built into the field education experience.

1. Introduction to the Church and Its Ministries.

This is a field-based educational experience intended to develop a student's self-awareness as a disciple of Jesus Christ, and to become acquainted with the varieties of ministries to which he or she as a professional may respond to the call to minister in Christ's name. During the first year of study the student observes various congregations and pastors, as well as specialized ministries. This observation period is intended to supplement and broaden the student's previous experience of the Church's life and complement the introductory Christian Ministry Field courses. Students will meet weekly in a Ministry Colloquy group led by a faculty member. This meeting provides an opportunity for discussion of issues arising from observations in the "teaching congregation," the nature and mission of the Church, ministry as a profession, as well as concerns related to the theological education process.

The "teaching congregations" for 1978-79 are:

- Hope Church, Holland
- Third Reformed Church, Holland
- Fourth Reformed Church, Holland
- Fellowship Reformed Church, Holland
- First Reformed Church, Zeeland
- Second Reformed Church, Zeeland
2. The Advanced Practice of Ministry

After the first year, students will be engaged in various opportunities of ministry. The second level of field education is intended to provide the student with theory and content regarding various professional skills, together with an opportunity to minister. The curriculum offers a broad spectrum of courses through which students may begin to acquire those skills presently required in the various ministries of the Church and those which may be required in the foreseeable future. Students involved in a concurrent assignment during the academic year will participate in a weekly colloquium which allows for the discussion of issues arising from the field assignment and from the interface between the field experience and the various theological disciplines.

In the Advanced Practice of ministry a variety of options are available for actual ministry: full-time (summer assignments, Clinical Pastoral Education, internship) and part-time (concurrent assignments and preaching assignments).

Field Education Requirements

1. Master of Divinity Degree

In order to graduate with an M.Div. degree a student must complete eight units of field education. Units are distributed in the following manner:

A. Introduction to the Church and Its Ministries: 1 unit
B. The Advanced Practice of Ministry
   1.) Summer assignment: 3 units
   2.) Preaching assignment: 1 unit (Preaching in a worship service 12 times during the Middler and Senior years.)
3.) Concurrent assignment
   12-15 hours per week: 3 units
   8-11 hours per week: 2 units
   4-7 hours per week: 1 unit
4.) Internship: 1 unit per month (with 9 minimum and 12 maximum).
5.) Clinical Pastoral Education: 3 units plus 9 hours of academic credit. (C.P.E. is an experience-based model of learning which is available at over 300 hospitals, prisons, and mental health centers nationwide. C.P.E. can be taken during a summer or as a full-time internship. Provisions have been made so that students can engage in C.P.E. during the third quarter of the Middler or Senior year. See the Director of Field Education for applications.)

2. Master of Religious Education Degree

A minimum of six units of field education are required for graduation from the M.R.E. degree program. Included in this 6 hours must be Introduction to the Church and Its Ministries, a summer assignment, and a two unit concurrent assignment.

Several courses in the M.R.E. curriculum have been designed as field-based experiences. In conjunction with such courses students will be placed in specific congregations for concurrent assignments. These congregations will be designated as “Christian Education Learning Congregations.” Three congregations being utilized in this manner for 1978-79 are Maplewood Reformed Church, Holland; Oakview Reformed Church, and Richmond Reformed Church, Grand Rapids.
N. B. Students who have begun their seminary programs prior to September, 1978, will be subject to the field education requirements as stated in the W.T.S. 1977-78 Catalog, page 14.

Master of Religious Education Program

Required Courses

JUNIOR YEAR

RE111 THE SHAPING OF AMERICAN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION/Stewart
An examination of the foundational issues and events that shape the theory and practice of Christian education.

RE121 ENABLING SPIRITUAL GROWTH THROUGH CHRISTIAN EDUCATION/Stewart
An experiential course in which students develop the disciplines necessary for growth in the Spirit through journal writing, prayer and meditation and develop ways to act as spiritual directors for others.

RE131 FAITH DEVELOPMENT AND RELIGIOUS ENCULTURATION/Stewart
A practicum on how Christian faith is nurtured and developed. Students develop an integrated program for faith development as they examine the church’s rites and rituals, the observance of the church year, and intergenerational interactions and their relation to sanctification and religious enculturation.

CM111 THE CONGREGATION ORGANIZING AND EDUCATING/Bennink, Stewart
A field-based course in which congregational life, its organizational structures, and educational ministry are the foci. Through observations and colloquy groups students explore the various functions of ministry and begin to formulate their professional identity.

CM122 THE CONGREGATION CARING FOR PERSONS/Bennink, Stewart
Definitions and styles of pastoral care are explored in an effort to illustrate how the pastor enables a caring community to develop personal and congregational wholeness. (5 weeks) One and one-half hours credit.

CM123 THE CONGREGATION WORSHIPING/Bruggink
Biblical and Reformed understandings of worship are studied with particular emphasis given to the components of the liturgy. (5 weeks) One and one-half hours credit.

CM131 THE CONGREGATION EVANGELIZING/Brownson
The nature of Christian evangelism in the early church and the faith experience of the student are examined to formulate the student’s witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ. (5 weeks) One and one-half hours credit.

CM132 MINISTRY SKILLS/Bruggink, Stewart
A laboratory for learning specific skills for individual pastoral care and teaching. (5 weeks) One and one-half hours credit.

BF114 INTRODUCTORY BIBLICAL STUDIES/Piet

BF124 INTRODUCTORY BIBLICAL STUDIES/Piet
A survey of some prophets, plus Exodus through II Samuel.

BF132 INTRODUCTORY BIBLICAL STUDIES/Piet
A survey of other prophets, Joshua through II Chronicles and the Wisdom Literature.

TF418 PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE AND CHRISTIAN INITIATION/Kaiser
This course is intended as an introduction to theological studies for first year M.R.E. students. The class will examine the outlook and methods of the sciences as they relate to theological method and the process of Christian initiation. The aim will be to discover a unified pattern underlying the knowing process both in science and theology, for specialists and lay people alike.

TF221 THEOLOGY (GOD)/Kaiser
A study of the nature of God. The doctrines of the Trinity, the divine decree, creation and providence, are treated.

TF231 THEOLOGY (CHRIST)/Osterhaven or TF465 THE ATONEMENT OF THE NEW TESTAMENT/Kaiser
The student elects either TF231 or TF465.

SENIOR YEAR

RE211 THE PRACTICE OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IN A CONGREGATION/Stewart
A congregation-based course to supervise student teams working on concurrent assignments. The teams’ job descriptions and educational needs become the foci for the direction and content of the course.

RE221 THE PRACTICE OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION IN A CONGREGATION/Stewart
A continuation of RE211.

RE231 THE SENIOR PRACTICUM IN CHRISTIAN EDUCATION/Stewart
An evaluative-integrative review of the understanding and work basic to Christian education. Students will work to strengthen areas of weaknesses.

and curricula designs. Students develop skills for evaluating and designing a Christian education program.

The student may elect courses from the M.Div. program to fulfill the number of course hours required for graduation.

The field education requirements for the M.R.E. program are listed with the general description on pages 26-28.

The Three-One Program

Western Seminary conducts a “Three-One Program” in cooperation with Central College, a Reformed Church institution at Pella, Iowa. Following three years at Central College, the student wishing to become an associate of a local pastor and congregation, or of another Christian organization, may take a year of additional study at Western Seminary in order to qualify for that position. The degree is given by Central College.

DOCTOR OF MINISTRY PROGRAM

The Doctor of Ministry degree program is designed to assist persons in ministry to enhance and integrate biblical-theological knowledge with ministerial disciplines and pastoral skills. Building on academic foundations laid in previous programs of study and on the years of experience in a professional ministry, the program aims at the integration of knowledge and experience in such a way as to develop a high level of competency in the following four aspects of ministry:

1. Ministry as pastoral and educational. Doctoral students identify areas of preaching, teaching, and pastoral care as the major focus for further professional growth.

2. Ministry as collegial. Students personify the biblical insight the Christian faith is covenantal and/or collegial. In both pastoral and educational ministry they seek out, learn from, assist, and cooperate with others in the body of Christ.

3. Ministry as enabling. Students develop skills in enabling others to fulfill their responsibilities in ministry.

4. Ministry as God’s servant role in the world. Students integrate knowledge and skills to represent personally the church’s ministry in the world, demonstrating effective evangelism and witness to, dialogue with, and love for human beings in their personal and social lives.

Students work in close cooperation with a faculty supervising team in designing academic learning and growth experiences which will assist in developing a mature doctrine of ministry undergirded by the marks of careful scholarship and professional competency in all four areas.

CURRICULUM DESIGN

First Year: Orientation seminar (three weeks): two learning units, one elective
Second Year: Candidate seminar (three weeks): two learning units, one elective
Third Year: Project seminar (three weeks): A project

Credits:
Orientation seminar 3
Candidate seminar 3
Project seminar 3
Four learning units 12
Project 9
Electives 6

Total term hours credits - 36

The student is to complete the program in not less than thirty months and in not more than five years.

Each person granted full admission to the D.Min. program is related to a faculty supervising team composed of one member each from the Christian Ministry, Biblical and Theological fields.

ADMISSIONS

Persons who have earned a Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent from an accredited seminary, who have had a minimum of one year in their present ministerial position before preliminary admission, and who have had at least two years in ministry after receiving their first professional degree, are eligible to apply for admission to the program. Preference will be given to those who have had more than five years experience. D.Min. candidates are expected to remain in ministerial positions while participating in the program.

ACCREDITATION

The Doctor of Ministry degree program was offered for the first time at the seminary in 1977. Application for accreditation is being made to the Association of Theological Schools.

GRADING

Grades for the various courses are as follows:

S = Satisfactory. Represents “A” or “B” work.

C = Conditional. If a “C” grade is given, the supervisor of the course explains in writing where the achievement level is inadequate and indicates what further work should be done. When the additional work is successfully completed, the “C” is changed to an “S” grade.

U = This grade indicates a failure to make adequate progress in learning. If the student receives a “U” grade, he is requested to submit a new design for learning and to repeat the course on the basis of the new design.

A student who receives more than two “U” grades in the program is dropped from the program.

FINANCE

The tuition charge is $2,520 for the three-year program, plus a $30 entrance registration fee and a $20 diploma and graduation fee. The student makes an agreement with the Business Manager concerning a schedule of payments.

A continuation fee of $400 is charged for each additional year beyond the first three years in the program.

The seminary does not provide financial aid for students in the Doctor of Ministry program.

The George Nathan Makely Award for Excellence in Scholarship in Old Testament Language and Literature.

The award is given on the basis of the student's work in Hebrew language and exegesis. The candidates for first and second prizes are recommended by the Biblical Field and decided by vote of the faculty.

The Lewis De Kleine Award for Excellence in Scholarship in English Bible. The award is given on the basis of the student's work in English Bible. The candidates for first and second prizes are recommended by the Biblical Field and decided by vote of the faculty.

MIDDLER STUDENTS
The Simon Vander Ploeg Award for Excellence in Church History.

The award is given on the basis of the student's work in church history. The candidates for first and second prizes are recommended by the Theological Field and decided by vote of the faculty.

SENIOR STUDENTS
The George Nathan Makely Award for Excellence in Systematic Theology.

The award is given on the basis of the student's work in systematic theology. The candidates for first and second prizes are recommended by the Theological Field and decided by vote of the faculty.

The George Nathan Makely Awards for Excellence in Worship Content and in Worship Leadership. The two awards are given on the basis of the student's work in chapel leadership, preaching courses, and field education assignments. Graduating M.R.E. students and M.Div. students are eligible.

The candidates for first and second prizes for each award are recommended by the Christian Ministry Field and decided by vote of the faculty.

The Henry J. Pietenpol Senior Excellence Award. The award is given on the basis of the senior student's overall promise for success in ministry. It is decided by written ballot of the faculty.

The John and Mattie Osterhaven Graduate Fellowship Award.

The award is given to a senior student (or students) for graduate work in theological studies. The applicant must have the intention of serving the Reformed Church in America in some form of ministerial or missionary service. The applicant must have spent a minimum of five quarters in study at the seminary and achieved a grade point average of at least 3.5. The applicant must submit an application in writing to the secretary of the facility. Such application shall state how the award will be used, where the student expects to continue studying and the type of study he or she expects to pursue.

The faculty shall select a recipient (or recipients) for the award by written ballot, basing its decision on scholarship, personal character, and potential usefulness in the church. If no award is given, the sum may be added to the grant for the following year. The recipient will receive the grant in early September of the year it is awarded or whenever thereafter he begins his post-graduate studies.

Baker Book House Award.

The award is given to a senior who has distinguished himself in the field of biblical and theological studies. The candidate for this award is recommended by the Theological Field and decided by vote of the faculty.

The American Bible Society Award.

The award is given on the basis of the senior student's excellence in public reading of Scripture. The candidate for this award is recommended by the Christian Ministry Field and decided by vote of the faculty.
GUEST AND FACULTY LECTURERS, 1977-78

Each year a committee arranges for a series of lectures by distinguished theologians from this country and abroad. Scholars, authors, and leaders in the world church come to Western's campus. The guest lecturers are available for discussion and consultation with students and faculty.

Once each quarter a Western faculty member presents a special lecture in his or her field of study.

ADMISSIONS

The pre-seminary student should seek a balanced liberal arts program in his or her college studies. The following is suggested as a general guide:

ENGLISH — literature, composition, and related studies.
   At least four semesters.
SPEECH — at least two semesters.
HISTORY — ancient, modern European, and American.
   At least three semesters.
PHILOSOPHY — orientation in history, content, and method. At least three semesters.
NATURAL SCIENCES — preferably physics, chemistry, or biology. At least two semesters.
SOCIAL SCIENCES — psychology, sociology, economics, political science, and education. At least six semesters, including a minimum of one semester of psychology.
MANAGEMENT — principles of administration and organization. At least two semesters.
FOREIGN LANGUAGES — Four semesters of Greek should be taken, including two of New Testament Greek. The study of a modern European language such as German or French is desirable, though not required.
RELIGION — Several courses in the study of Christian and non-Christian religions are desirable.

A student should choose a major in a liberal arts subject, giving preference to one of the principal areas above. Majors in specifically scientific or technical subjects sometimes make it difficult for the student to secure the balance needed in the whole program.

The applicant for admission to Western Seminary should request an application form for admission from the dean. That form contains a listing of the various items which must be submitted before the faculty's Admissions Committee can act on the application.

A student coming from another denomination must present a letter from his or her board of ministerial training endorsing theological study whenever such endorsement is part of the standard procedure of that denomination.

A bachelor of arts degree or its academic equivalent from an accredited college or university is required for admission to the seminary. The transcript of the applicant should evidence the kind of academic achievement that indicates ability to undertake study at the seminary level. An average grade of C plus (2.5 on the four point scale) is used as a minimum standard. In exceptional cases a student with a lower grade point average, but with compensatory qualifications, may be admitted on probation. If satisfactory work is done in the first quarter, the status becomes one of good standing. A graduate of a non-accredited college may be admitted on probation and become a student in good standing upon satisfactory completion of the first quarter's work.

Western Seminary admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.

The student must pass an examination in New Testament Greek during the spring term of the senior year of college. Failing this, a concentrated seven-week summer course in Greek may be taken at Western Seminary. Application forms for this non-credit course may be secured from the dean’s office.

GRADING

Academic grades are a permanent part of the student’s seminary record. The work of the student is evaluated on the following grading scale: A—4 grade points per quarter; B—3 points; C—2 points; D—1 point; F—0. For grades with +, add .3 point per quarter hour; — subtract .3 point per quarter hour.

PASS/FAIL

The pass/fail is limited to elective courses, and its use is at the option of the professor. Students may elect to take such courses on a graded or on a pass/fail basis. The student’s decision must be made during the first week of the course and the choice is irrevocable.

INCOMPLETES

A student not able to complete all the requirements of a course may submit to the instructor, prior to the end of the quarter, a written request for an Incomplete. The request shall state clearly the reasons justifying it. The instructor determines whether or not the request may be approved. If it is not approved, the student is graded on the basis of course work completed by the end of the quarter. Should the incomplete work constitute a major component of the course requirements, the grade is an F. If the request is approved, the student’s work is to be completed within thirty days after the end of that quarter. The course grade shall be reduced one letter grade, except where the instructor adjudges the reason(s) for the Incomplete to be due to circumstances beyond the student’s control.

NEW TESTAMENT GREEK REQUIREMENT

A student completing the first year of the M.Div. program, but not yet having passed the qualifying examination in New Testament Greek, shall be bound by the following provisions:

a. The student shall continue to be classified as a junior, not having taken the two courses in Greek exegesis required in the junior year, and therefore unable to take the three exegetical courses required in the middle year.

b. The student shall be limited to a nine credit hour program per quarter in each of the three quarters of the current year. Required middle courses which do not demand the knowledge of Greek may be taken. This modified program should enable the student to make the necessary preparation for passing the qualifying examination in New Testament Greek. If a student fails that examination twice, he or she shall be asked to terminate studies at the seminary.

c. The student shall expect to take four years for the completion of the seminary academic program. Tuition charges will be the same as for other students, namely, for nine full quarters.

PROBATION

A student entering seminary with an academic grade average of less than a 2.5 in undergraduate work, or a student whose grade average falls below a 2.0 in any quarter term while he or she is in seminary, is a marginal student. Work on a grade average below a 2.0 is considered unsatisfactory and the student is placed on probation. If the work is of probationary quality in any three of the first seven quarters of enrollment, or in three quarters in addition to his or her probationary status upon entrance, the student shall be asked to terminate work at the seminary. A student on probation shall be expected to devote all available time to studying and is therefore relieved from such activities as preaching, teaching, and other responsibilities. The status of the student on probation shall be reviewed by the faculty at the close of each term.

STUDENT CODE NUMBERS
Each student receives a number from the dean’s office to be used in place of his or her name on major tests and examinations or at the discretion of the teacher.

THE PROFESSORIAL CERTIFICATE
The candidate for the ministry in the Reformed Church in America is required to secure, in addition to the degree of Master of Divinity, the Professorial Certificate. That certificate, granted by vote of the faculty, is awarded at Commencement to those Reformed Church candidates who, having received the academic degree, are found to be qualified, and are adjudged to be fit candidates for the gospel ministry (The Government of the Reformed Church in America, Part II, Art. 8, Sec. 6). The Professorial Certificate entitles the candidate to an examination for licensure and ordination in the Reformed Church.
The Beardslee Library

The Beardslee Library has a spacious, well-lighted reading room with seating capacity for well over half of the student body, offices for librarians and staff, and three floors of stacks. The Special Collections Room on the upper level contains archives and rare books. It is an important source for research in denominational and local history. An active program of securing archival material is in progress. The Education Research Center, on the lower level, serves the churches of the community in the area of Christian Education. Fifteen study carrels are available for private study.

The Library contains approximately 72,000 volumes. About 2000 volumes are added annually. Emphasis is given to religion and theology, but the fields of philosophy, psychology, history, social sciences, art and foreign travel are also well represented. More than 460 American and foreign journals are received. Thousands of bound volumes of periodicals provide many long runs, some of which go back into the eighteenth century.

A microfilm reader, microfiche reader, and audio-visual aids are available. The microfilm collection contains some reels, many of which are denominational materials, chiefly missions. There are a number of microfilmed periodicals, and theses on theological subjects from many universities. The cassette library is growing. Interlibrary loan service is available to students and faculty, and circulation by mail is offered to alumni.

The Library is an institutional member of The American Theological Library Association, the Chicago Area Theological Library Association, and the Presbyterian Library Association.

THE REFORMED REVIEW

The Reformed Review is a quarterly publication which features articles of biblical and theological interest. The Review has a circulation of 2,300 at home and abroad. Many lay persons, as well as clergy, read the Reformed Review regularly.

COUNSELING SERVICES

The seminary provides an intensive counseling service for the benefit of students and their spouses. Professors Stanley Rock and Richard Bennink are available for personal and family counseling. In addition, effort is made for the participation of students and their spouses in a variety of support groups throughout the year. Such groups have dealt with: marriage enrichment, the role of the minister's wife, the special needs of parents and children during the pre-school years and as singles support group. Other support and fellowship groups have formed as students and faculty have taken initiative together, seeking to strengthen each other in Christian faith and Christian community.
Student Activities

ORIENTATION
An orientation for all students is held at one of the beautiful Reformed Church campsites. At the beginning of each school year students, faculty, and seminary staff meet for discussion, social, and athletic activities. New students are introduced to the seminary's history and traditions, various aspects of seminary life, and the use of the seminary facilities. The orientation period is concluded with a worship service in Mulder Chapel on the Sunday prior to the beginning of class sessions on the next day.

SPIRITUAL LIFE
The spiritual life of the seminary community is encouraged and developed in many ways. The deepening of personal faith and life in Christ is sought through communal worship and service, as well as through accent on the spiritual development of persons. Emphasis is placed on the practice of prayer as a main resource in learning to know the mind and spirit of Christ. Chapel services, led by faculty, students, and visitors to the campus, are held each morning. Special preaching services, conducted by visiting clergymen and others, are held from time to time for the benefit of the whole community.

SOCIAL LIFE
The social life of the seminary community is promoted throughout the year in many ways. Faculty, students, and staff enjoy a coffee hour together every morning, after chapel. An all-seminary luncheon is held once a week in the seminary Commons. Much of the social life is planned by committees of the Student Council and include parties, suppers, athletic activities, and activities away from the campus.

STUDENT COUNCIL
The Student Council provides the structure through which the goals of student life and community can be realized. These include expressions of the student community in fellowship, academic concerns, common worship, involvement in mission, social action and interpersonal exchange. The Council is composed of representatives from each of the classes. Two faculty members serve in an advisory relationship. Meetings are held biweekly during the academic year. Members of the Student Council have representatives on the Curriculum, Lecture, and Orientation committees of the faculty.

ADELPHIA SOCIETY
The Adelphia Society seeks to unite all the women of the seminary community for the purpose of making Christ known in the world, to deepen the spiritual life of each of the members, and to develop a sense of personal responsibility for the whole mission of the church through a program of prayer, education, giving, and service. The Society holds meetings usually on Monday evenings. At least one meeting a month of the entire group is held in the seminary Commons. Other meetings are conducted in the homes of the women.

STUDENT PUBLICATION
The Poiema is a publication of the seminary student body, under the auspices of the Student Expression Committee.
Financial Information

TUITION
M. Div. Program and M.R.E. program — $420 each quarter, $1,260 per year

Part-time students pay $35 per credit hour. The total tuition cost for the nine academic quarters is charged to all M.Div. students without regard to the number of quarters needed to complete the program.

Th.M. program — $35 per credit hour

Tuition charges are due and payable at the beginning of each academic quarter. Full tuition is charged for full-time students carrying 12 hours or more. Students carrying fewer than 12 hours are charged the hourly rate per credit hour.

Auditing — $15 per credit hour.

Each quarter the dean’s office publishes a drop date for courses. Any course discontinued by a student prior to that date bears no academic penalty. Tuition will be refunded if a course is dropped prior to, but not after that date.

FEES
M. Div., M.R.E., and Th.M.

Application fee — $25 (applied to tuition)
Matriculation fee — $5
Registration fee — $10 (due annually in September)
Diploma fee — $20 (due the final quarter before commencement)
Student activities fee — $25 annually, payable with the first quarter billing

Noon luncheon fee — $15 (quarterly, for the once-a-week luncheon)
Summer Greek Program (non-credit) — $150
Intern Supervision fee — $150
Three-One Program Total Fees — $80

DORMITORY AND HOUSING
Single Students
Zwemer Hall, single men’s dormitory room, September-May: $510 ($170 per quarter); June-August: $17 per week

Security deposit (due once at entrance in September, refundable at the end of school year) — $25. Room key deposit — $1. A room must be requested. Kitchen privileges are available.

Married Students
Apartments or houses are also available in the community. The student makes his own arrangements. The seminary has twelve homes with twenty apartments that are available to married couples. The rentals range from $110 to $165 plus utilities.

DEPARTURE
If a student leaves the seminary, he or she is required to pay all outstanding financial obligations, such as bookstore bills, dormitory rent, tuition and fees, library fines, and group insurance fees. A repayment agreement for any outstanding loans with the seminary must also be executed prior to departure. Diplomas of graduating students will be withheld until all financial obligations are satisfied.
obligations with the seminary have been discharged. The tuition of students discontinuing a program during an academic quarter will be refunded on a prorated basis.

BOOKSTORE
The seminary bookstore is in operation during the school year. Required textbooks are available, most of them at a discount of up to 40 percent. A maximum line of credit of $150 is available to students and can be arranged at the business office.

INSURANCE
Students should carry adequate hospitalization and life insurance for themselves and their families. The Board of Pensions of the Reformed Church in America makes available to all students a group medical plan and a group life insurance plan, for which new and transfer students become eligible on October 1. No examinations are required during the application period, which ends September 30 of the year of matriculation. Descriptive brochures are available upon request.

STUDENT AID
The programs of student aid at Western Seminary are designed to help students meet their minimum educational expenses as they prepare for Christian ministry. Students should carefully plan their finances in order to meet the costs of attendance. Students and their families are expected to provide a major share of their expenses. The estimated total cost of nine months for single students is about $3,700 and about $5,600 for married students.

If students cannot match their total expected expenses for the year with equivalent income, savings, parental help and assistance from their home churches, they should write at once to the seminary, requesting a financial analysis form. It includes estimated income and expenses for the coming school year. Based upon need as indicated by the analysis, a program of financial aid consisting of grants, work scholarships, and loans can be arranged when the student arrives. The completed analysis application must be returned to the seminary by September 1 of the academic year.
