Greetings from Western Seminary. Through the pages of this catalog we wish to give you a tour of Western Seminary and to introduce you to our community of faith. As a community of Jesus Christ, we are dedicated to growing in ministry with the worldwide Christian church. We introduce ourselves to you through our purposes and history, our faculty, our programs and courses, and our student and community life.

Western has described itself as a seminary catholic, evangelical, and reformed. Catholic, in that it seeks to express the one, holy, apostolic faith of the whole Christian church. Evangelical, in that it exists for the sake of making known by word and by deed the evangel—the good news that God's grace in Jesus Christ is the only answer for a sinful, lost humanity. Reformed, in that it recognizes its responsibility to be ever reforming itself according to the Word of God.

Through the pictures and text on the following pages you will see that Western is a diverse community of women and men committed to ministry in the church of Jesus Christ. Having met us on paper, please come and meet us in person.

Marvin D. Hoff
President
As America surged westward, almost every denomination developed a “western” seminary in response to the need for geographical proximity and cultural affinity. The nineteenth century drama of Dutch immigration to the Midwest, begun in 1847 by Albertus C. Van Raalte and his orthodox, pious seceders from the state church of the Netherlands, gave rise to this need in the Reformed Church. Their Dutch language and their specific theological concerns, as well as the great difficulty of traveling the long distance to New Jersey for a theological education, called for a regional seminary in Michigan.

In 1866, seven members of the senior class of Hope College petitioned and received permission from the Reformed Church in America to pursue theological studies at Hope College. To their credit, all seven completed their theological educations and entered the ministry. Western theological education had begun. But even these humble beginnings could not be sustained. A disastrous fire, which destroyed the town of Holland in 1871, and hard economic times combined to cause the suspension of theological education at Hope College in 1877, after having graduated 29 students.

After a six-year suspension, the program resumed in 1884, and in 1885 Western Seminary began an existence entirely separate from Hope College. Professor Albertus Pieters left a trenchant description of Western during his student days (1888-1891): “grounds, none; recitation hall, none; maps, none; library, none; periodicals, none. This is a complete and accurate inventory of the equipment of the Western Theological Seminary at that time.”

Western Seminary survived its uncertain early years and has continued in uninterrupted service to the church for more than a century. Today, the list of facilities and equipment is somewhat longer, students and studies both more diverse, but the seminary’s purpose remains the same: excite and equip people for ministries in the church of Jesus Christ. Today men and women prepare here for a variety of ordained ministries and leadership in Christian education.

Western also provides continuing education and professional development for ministers and service to the church at large. Western therefore offers programs of specialized study and professional development, short-term study opportunities, and personnel and resources to the church where they can be of service.

ACCREDITATION

Western Theological Seminary, an institution of the Reformed Church in America, is an accredited member of the Association of Theological Schools. Its degree programs are authorized by the Department of Education of the State of Michigan. The seminary is operated and controlled by the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America through its Board of Theological Education.

The seminary is approved for veterans' education under the provisions of the Veterans Administration.

SEMINARY CONSORTIUM FOR URBAN PASTORAL EDUCATION (SCUPE)

The Reverend James V. Brownson
Assistant Professor of New Testament
A.B. (University of Michigan); M.Div. (Western Theological Seminary), Ph.D. (Princeton Theological Seminary)
“My central concern is the interaction between the various and widely diverse articulations of Christian faith found in the New Testament, and the central gospel message that unites these different expressions of faith. I believe the exploration of both the unity and the diversity within the New Testament will help the leaders of tomorrow’s church rearticulate the gospel in the rapidly changing world into which they are called.”

James A. H. Cornell Professor of Historical Theology
A.B. (Central, la.), B.D. (Western Theological Seminary), Ph.D. (University of Edinburgh)

The Reverend James I. Cook
Anton Biemolt Professor of New Testament
A.B. (Hope), M.A. (Michigan State University), B.D. (Western Theological Seminary), Th.D. (Princeton Theological Seminary)

These places have shaped my Weltanschauung, which I describe as Catholic, evangelical, and Reformed."

A.B. (Central, Ia.), B.D. (Western Theological Seminary), Th.M. (Princeton Seminary), Drs. (Kampen, Netherlands), D.D. (Central, Ia.)
"God has been doing amazing things in our day. Whether one observes the base communities in Latin America, or the amazing growth of the church of Christ in China, or the movement of God's Spirit through the Hispanic population in Holland, Michigan, or the breaking down of the Berlin Wall, one senses that God's Spirit is doing wonderful things in our very day. I'm thrilled to be a part of the community of men and women—students, faculty, and staff—at Western who rejoice in the rich gifts Christ is giving throughout the world in our time."

"It has become critical for churches in North America to recapture what it means to be missionary congregations. Our own culture is increasingly secularized, and we are compelled to communicate the gospel with a cross-cultural envisioning of personal and social transformation. But now it is not just somewhere else in the world. It is here, too."

The Reverend Diane Maodush-Pitzer
Instructor in Pastoral Ministries
B.S. (Northern Illinois University), M.Div. (Western Theological Seminary)

Western Seminary offers four degree programs, one leading to the ordained ministry, the second to professional leadership in Christian education, the third to advanced study in ministry, and the fourth specialized theological research for graduate students. Through these programs, Western also provides foundational training for and encourages students toward specialized ministries such as mission, evangelism, education, counseling, social service, chaplaincy, and theological research.

All programs are built on a foundation of biblical understanding, and students will become familiar with the basic message of the Bible and develop an understanding of the principles of interpretation. On this foundation they learn the history and traditions of the Christian church, its mission in the world, and its doctrine.

Western brings this education to focus in the preaching and teaching of the Word, the administration of the sacraments, and the service of God in the world. Stress is placed on worship through word and sacrament, witness in word and deed, pastoral care and counseling, use of the principles and practice of Christian education, and the exercise of leadership. A faculty/student ratio of approximately 1/10 fosters an intimate atmosphere for learning in which a great deal of personal interaction with faculty as well as other students is possible.

MASTER OF DIVINITY

The Master of Divinity curriculum ordinarily leads to the ordained ministry and requires three years to complete (four, if the student takes an internship after the second year). It is open to those who have completed a bachelor of arts degree or its equivalent from an accredited college or university.

The degree has a requirement of 144 credit hours. Of these, not fewer than 12 nor more than 16 must be earned in the area of Formation for Ministry (see page 20). For example, students may take 132 academic credit hours and 12 hours in Formation for Ministry for a total of 144 credit hours.

All students are required to take courses numbered 410-430 in the Biblical, Theological, and Christian Ministry fields.

Beyond the required courses, students take one advanced course in each of the following disciplines: Old Testament, New Testament, theology, history, ethics, pastoral care and counseling, Christian education, worship and preaching, and leadership.

Students also choose 12-16 hours of elective courses in one of the fields. This allows a student to concentrate on an area of particular interest, such as biblical studies, pastoral care, or theology.

MASTER OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Director—Sonja M. Stewart

The Master of Religious Education program is designed to train people in the equipping ministries of the church and such vocations as Christian education direction, youth ministry, church music, pastoral care, adult ministries, early childhood ministries, and counseling. It has two tracks: a two-year residency program and a three-year "in-ministry" program for people currently working in a ministry setting and wanting to pursue more formal education. The M.R.E. program is open to those who have completed a bachelor of arts degree or its equivalent from an accredited college or university.

M.R.E. In-Residence

This degree has a requirement of 90 term hours. Of these, the following courses are required: EM410, 510, or 610; EM471, 472, 473, 574, 575, 676; and any three of the following: EM411, 412, 513, 514, 615, and 616. Students must also complete 16 hours chosen from the Biblical Field courses and 12 hours chosen from the Theological Field. In addition, students take 16 hours of credit from elective courses.

A minimum of four credits of Formation for Ministry are required for graduation from the M.R.E. In-Residence degree program.

M.R.E. In-Ministry

This program has a requirement of 90 term hours. Of these the following courses are required: EM410, 411, 412, 413, 471, 472, 473, 510, 513, 514, 574, 575, 610, 615, 616, and 676. Students also must complete eight self-designed learning projects called ministry units. Elective courses EM711, 721, 722, and 723 may be substituted for the ministry units.

The In-Ministry program is designed for people already engaged in a ministry setting. It takes three years to complete. It consists of a one-week intensive seminar in August of each year as well as classes held on Thursdays only to accommodate work schedules.

DOCTOR OF MINISTRY PROGRAM

Director—Stanley A. Rock

The Doctor of Ministry degree program assists people in ministry to develop their pastoral skills and disciplines as well as to integrate theological and biblical knowledge more deeply into their daily ministries. It is open to those who have completed the M.Div. or its equivalent and who have several years of professional ministry experience.

The four cornerstones of the program include the study of ministry as pastoral and educational; ministry as collegial; ministry as enabling; and ministry as God's servant role in the world. These four areas are addressed through a three-year, 48-credit hour curriculum.

The curriculum consists of two self-designed learning projects and one elective in each of the first two years and a major project related to the candidate's ministry in the third year. Three intensive two-week annual seminars constitute the residency requirements. This carefully ordered sequence of study attempts to enhance the spiritual, intellectual, psychological, and experiential formation of each candidate.

Each student granted full admission is related to a supervisory team of two faculty members who assist in the design and completion of the program.

MASTER OF THEOLOGY

Director—George R. Hunsberger

The Master of Theology degree is an advanced academic degree which builds on the basic theological training offered in the M.Div. program. It is open to those who have completed an M.Div. degree or its equivalent and who have at least three years of experience in the practice of ministry. This twelve-month program provides for focused research and reflection in a specific area of theological curriculum.

The Th.M. program at Western is unique in that it brings together a community of scholars who pursue advanced study in the context of cross-cultural dialogue. By design, at least half of them come from places and cultures outside of North America. Both international and North American students are admitted to the program based on their intent and ability to relate theological study to the social, cultural, and historical contexts of their ministries.

Western offers the Th.M. program in three focus areas: Ministry and Mission, Theology in Context; and Biblical Theology. The program requires 38 credit hours during one year of study in residence. The core requirements are:

- an Orientation Seminar  - 2 hours
- a seminar in Contextual Analysis  - 4 hours
- a seminar in Theological Method  - 4 hours
- completion of a Master's Thesis  - 8 hours

The remaining 20 hours of course work are taken in the student's chosen focus area, described below. These courses are selected in consultation with the student's advisor and the Th.M. director and are chosen from among the 500- and 600-level courses in the M.Div. or M.R.E. curriculum. A course designed on an Independent Research basis under the guidance of a particular professor may incorporate 400-level course lectures and assignments as partial fulfillment of course requirements.

Focus Area

Ministry and Mission—Focuses on participating in the coming of God’s kingdom. This area may include coursework in missiology, preaching, education, counseling, evangelism, and courses which focus on the practical outworkings of Christian faith, commitment, discipleship, and hope.

Theology in Context—Focuses on the content and process of theological reflection on its various historical and cultural contexts. This area embraces the disciplines of historical theology, systematic theology, and hermeneutics, as well as courses which assist the student in situating theological reflection within specific historical or cultural settings.

Biblical Theology—Focuses on the biblical texts as primary resources for theological reflection, spirituality, and Christian discipleship. This area embraces the disciplines of biblical studies and hermeneutics, as well as courses which use biblical resources for theological reflection, ministry, and mission.

FORMATION FOR MINISTRY

Director—John E. Schmidt

Formation for Ministry equips men and women for mission with Jesus Christ by helping students form pastoral identities, develop ministry skills, and gain inter-cultural experience in ministry. Formation for Ministry builds on the foundations of biblical, theological, and ministry studies by engaging students in the practice of ministry.

Each year, students describe their formation for ministry within the guidelines of the program and design experiences in ministry that are most likely to enhance their formation for ministry. Prior to graduation, students develop a five-year plan of continuing education.

Western’s program of Formation for Ministry has four components: experiences in ministry, intercultural experiences, colloquy groups, and mentors. Each is described below:

Experiences in Ministry. Students come to seminary with varying degrees of experience in ministry. Their task is to assess the quantity and quality of that experience and to determine how their experiences have or have not contributed to their formation for ministry. Students design a plan of formation for ministry for each year of seminary. Such a plan might include: Teaching churches in which students participate and observe a congregation as it engages children, youth, adults, and families in mission with Jesus Christ; Part-time Ministries in which students engage in part-time worship, education, care, and witness ministries concurrent with their academic studies; Internships in which students engage in full-time ministry in parish, parachurch, clinical, or agency settings; Practicums in which students investigate through seminars and experiences significant aspects of their personal formation for ministry.

Intercultural Experience

The North American setting in which most of Western’s graduates serve is characterized by increasing ethnic diversity and by growing disjuncture between the faith of the church and the dominant cultural values. This setting requires a sensitivity to the dynamics of the interaction of gospel and culture and the ability to lead congregations in a culturally plural world.

We use the term "intercultural" in recognition that these issues not only affect the transmission of the Christian faith from its historic home to the other cultures of the world, but also that they affect the way the church lives and believes within the cultures that were once called Christendom. This component of Formation for Ministry affirms the interdependence of Christians of all cultures and emphasizes our need in North America to address our own culture from the standpoint of the gospel, with the help of the global, multicultural church.

This intercultural component of a student’s formation for ministry comes by means of experience in intercultural settings and through mentors drawn from a broad range of cultures. Western stresses this intercultural component when helping students select teaching churches, part-time ministries, internships, and practicums. Study-travel seminars form an essential part of Western’s intercultural experience. It is expected that by graduation each student will have participated in either an intercultural internship or a study-travel seminar.

Colloquy

“Colloquy” is a Latin word meaning dialogue. At Western, colloquy groups of five to eight students meet regularly to reflect on issues of mission, pastoral identity, ministerial skills, and vocational direction. Colloquy groups engage students in praxis between the theory and practice of ministry.

The first-year colloquy meets weekly to examine the mission of the church and how the church both enhances and arrests the spiritual development of children, youth, adults, families, and society. Students are also introduced to classical Christian disciplines of spiritual formation.

The second-year colloquy meets weekly to reflect on ministerial tasks involved in missions, worship, education, pastoral care and counseling, leadership, and service. Spiritual exercises engage students in the personal and liturgical use of the weekly lectionary and celebration of the Christian year.

In the final year, colloquy students prepare for and participate in a weekend experience entitled “Launching Your Ministry” which helps them integrate the seminary experience and prepare for the transition to post-graduate ministry settings.

Mentors

Formation for Ministry is enhanced as students reflect theologically with mentors in ministry. Theological reflection helps students become aware of how their beliefs and attitudes affect their actions as ministers. Mentors help students learn to reflect theologically, to analyze their ministry experiences, and to find new ways to minister.

Each ministry and intercultural experience provides a student with a mentor, be it the pastor of a congregation in which the student is serving, a parachurch professional, colloquy group leader, member of the faculty, or interested layperson. Students meet regularly with their mentors, and mentors receive training and support from the seminary, including regular meetings with members of the faculty for theological reflection.

FORMATION FOR MINISTRY IN THE CURRICULUM

Master of Divinity Degree

In order to graduate with an M.Div. degree, a student shall complete a minimum of twelve credits in Formation for Ministry. Up to sixteen credits may be applied to the 144 required credits for graduation. The course “Gospel, Culture, and Ministry,” a part-time ministry, an internship, an intercultural experience, and three colloquy experiences are required.

Master of Religious Education Degree

A minimum of four credits of Formation for Ministry are required for graduation from the M.R.E. In-Residence degree program.
Western's commitment to continuing education for ministers and lay leaders is expressed in a number of special events throughout the year. Several of these are components of the Henry Bast Memorial Preaching Program. They include:

Annual preaching fellowships—grants provided to ministers who wish to design a learning program for themselves which will deepen their commitment to biblical preaching and creative worship leadership. Six such fellowships are provided annually.

A five-week resident preaching program enabling students and working ministers to learn directly from the insights and experiences of a practicing preacher.

The Bast lecture series which brings to the campus preacher/scholars who have made significant contributions in homiletics.

In addition, the seminary sponsors other visiting lecturers throughout the year, as well as short-term learning experiences such as day-long workshops and seminars led by experts in various fields of interest to the seminary community. During the 1989-90 academic year, continuing education events were led by Robert Bedingfield, Senior Minister at Central Reformed Church in Grand Rapids, Michigan; James V. Brownson, assistant professor of New Testament at Western Seminary; and Maria Harris, who teaches religious education at Fordham University. Dr. Wolfhart Pannenberg, Professor of Systematic Theology at the University of Munich, delivered the annual M.E. Osterhaven Lectures in Theology.

Student Services and Community Life

ORIENTATION

An orientation for all students is held at one of the Reformed Church campgrounds at the beginning of each school year. Students, faculty, and staff meet for discussion and social and athletic activities. New students are introduced to the seminary's history and traditions, various aspects of seminary life, and the use of the seminary facilities. The orientation concludes with a worship service in Mulder Chapel on the Sunday prior to the beginning of the fall term.

SOCIAL LIFE

In order to promote Western's social life, faculty, students, and staff enjoy a coffee hour together every morning after chapel. An all-seminary luncheon is held biweekly in the seminary commons. Committees of the student council and faculty also plan events such as parties, suppers, and athletic activities away from the campus.

SPIRITUAL LIFE

The seminary community develops its spiritual life through communal worship and service, as well as through accent on the spiritual development of individuals. Students are urged to pray if they would learn the mind and spirit of Christ. Chapel services, led by faculty, students, and visitors to the campus, are held each morning. Special preaching services, conducted by visiting ministers and others, are held from time to time for the benefit of the whole community.

COUNSELING AND PERSONAL SUPPORT

Western provides personal and family counseling to students and their spouses through the services of Dr. Stanley Rock. He counsels students enrolled in the degree programs. Students taking fewer than three courses each term may use the counseling service at a negotiated fee as time is available.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council provides the structure through which the goals of student life and community can be realized. It leads the community in addressing such issues as fellowship, academic concerns, common worship, involvement in mission, social action, and interseminary exchange. The council is composed of representatives from each class and two faculty advisors. It meets biweekly during the academic year.

ADELPHIA SOCIETY

The Adelphia Society unites all the women of Western for the purposes of making Christ known in the world, deepening the spiritual life of each member, and developing a sense of personal responsibility for the whole mission of the church, a program of prayer, education, giving, and service. It usually meets on Monday evenings. At least one meeting a month of the entire group is held in the seminary commons. Meetings of smaller groups are conducted in the homes of the women.

PUBLICATIONS

Poiema is a publication of the student body, under the auspices of the Student Expression Committee.

The Reformed Review is published three times a year by Western Seminary. It features articles of biblical and theological interest and has a circulation of 2,400 readers.

Westernews is a newsletter to inform and stimulate the interest of members of the Reformed Church in America and other interested friends in programs, people, and events at Western Seminary.

BEARDSLEE LIBRARY

The John Walter Beardslee Library is a system of information, equipment, and people. Its informational resources include more than 85,000 books and files of more than 800 periodicals, 500 of which are current subscriptions. A large collection of photographic slides depicts archaeology, church history, church art, and architecture.

The Kolkman Memorial Archives preserve letters and papers which document the history of the Reformed Church in America and of Western Seminary. (These also contain the archives of the Holland Historical Trust and those of Hope College. They are housed in the Van Wylen Library on the campus of Hope College, adjacent to Western Seminary). The library’s resources also include resources for the Bast Preaching Program, which contains a growing collection of sermons and homiletical aids.

The library is housed in the Cook Center for Theological Research, an environment planned to enhance serious theological study. Each floor is equipped with study carrels, tables for cooperative study, lounge chairs for reading, a seminar room, and an enclosed study. The center has video-education studios, a control room, and a microform reading room. From computer terminals to paper cutters, video-cassette recorders to pencil sharpeners, the center is equipped with hardware that can facilitate learning.

The center staff views the service they provide as ministry; their goal is to make available whatever information and assistance is necessary to assure library users fast, effective access to the information most useful to them.

A library can be a door that opens the bibliographic universe for its patrons, providing access to resources beyond its own collection. Beardslee Library does this through automation with Van Wylen Library (providing access to an additional 250,000 volumes); through cooperation with other area libraries; and through its membership in the American Theological Library Association, the American Library Association, and the Michigan Library Consortium. These relationships provide library patrons with virtually unlimited access to the information they need.

BOOKSTORE

The seminary bookstore is in operation during the school year. Required textbooks are available, most of them at a discount. A maximum line of credit of $200 is available to students and can be arranged at the business office.

HOUSING

Western Seminary provides apartments for students. Apartments are available as single bedrooms, communally sharing kitchen and living rooms; efficiencies; or as one-, two-, or three-bedroom units. Students can make their own arrangements for these or contact the business manager for assistance. Students are advised to plan early for suitable housing. The business manager helps students locate housing in the greater Holland area.

ADMISSIONS

The pre-seminary student should seek a balanced liberal arts program in the college studies. The following is suggested as a general guide:

ENGLISH — literature, composition, and related studies. At least four semesters.

SPEECH — at least two semesters.

HISTORY — ancient, modern European, and American. At least three semesters.

PHILOSOPHY — orientation in history, content, and method. At least three semesters.

NATURAL SCIENCE — psychology, sociology, economics, political science, and education. At least six semesters, including a minimum of one semester of psychology.

MANAGEMENT — principles of administration and organization. At least two semesters.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES — Four semesters of Greek should be taken, including two of New Testament Greek. The study of a modern European language such as German or French is desirable, though not required.

RELIGION — Several courses in the study of Christian and non-Christian religions are desirable.

The student should choose a major in a liberal arts subject, giving preference to one of the principal areas above. Majors in specifically scientific or technical subjects sometimes make it difficult for the student to secure the balance needed in the whole program.

The applicant for admission to Western Seminary should request an application form for admission from the dean of the faculty. That form contains a listing of the various items which must be submitted before the faculty’s admissions committee can act on the application.

A student coming from another denomination must present a letter from his or her board of ministerial training endorsing theological study whenever such endorsement is part of the standard procedure of that denomination.

A bachelor of arts degree or its academic equivalent from an accredited college or university is required for admission. The transcript of the applicant should evidence the kind of academic achievement that indicates ability to undertake study at the seminary level. An average grade of C plus (2.5 on the four point scale) is used as a minimum standard. In exceptional cases, a student with a lower grade point average, but with compensatory qualification, may be admitted on probation. If satisfactory work is done in the first quarter, the status becomes one of good standing. A graduate of a non-accredited college may be admitted on probation and become a student in good standing upon satisfactory completion of the first quarter’s work.
Western Seminary admits men and women of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.

The student must pass an examination in New Testament Greek during the spring of the senior year of college. Failing this, a concentrated seven-week summer course in Greek may be taken at Western Seminary. Application forms for the non-credit course may be secured from the dean of the faculty's office.

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS

Western Theological Seminary accepts credits secured at other ATS accredited schools. Candidates who seek the M.Div. degree from Western Seminary, however, must earn at least 38 academic quarter credit hours (a nine course equivalent) and at least two hours of formation for ministry credit in residence during the senior year.

ENGLISH PROFICIENCY REQUIREMENT

Students must meet the seminary's English language proficiency requirement prior to graduation. They must pass an English language proficiency test in their first year or successfully complete a no-credit course in English offered by the seminary.

GRADING

Academic grades are a permanent part of the student's seminary record. The work of the student is evaluated on the following grading scale: A—4 grade points per quarter; B—3 points; C—2 points; D—1 point; F—0. For grades with +, add .3 point per quarter hour; — subtract .3 point per quarter hour. At the end of each quarter, the student receives a grade report from the registrar.

PASS/NO CREDIT

The pass/no credit is limited to elective courses, and its use is at the option of the professor. Students may elect to take such courses on a graded or on a pass/no credit basis. The decision must be made during the first week of the course and the choice is irrevocable. A pass grade represents a grade of C or better.

INCOMPLETES

A student not able to complete all the requirements of a course may submit to the instructor, prior to the end of the quarter, a written request for an incomplete. The request shall state clearly the reasons justifying it. The instructor determines whether or not the request may be approved. If it is not approved, the student is graded on the basis of course work completed by the end of the quarter. Should the incomplete work constitute a major component of the course requirements, the grade is an F. If the request is approved, the student's work is to be completed within thirty days after the end of the quarter. The course grade is reduced one letter grade, except when the instructor adjudges the reason(s) for the incomplete to be due to circumstances beyond the student's control.

NEW TESTAMENT GREEK REQUIREMENT

Normally, satisfactory completion of the Greek entrance exam is a prerequisite for matriculation in the M.Div. program.

Prospective students who have some training in Greek are strongly urged to take the entrance exam in the spring, so that arrangements can be made to take summer Greek if the student does not pass the entrance exam.

Normally, students who have had no prior training in Greek or who have failed the Greek entrance examination are expected to enroll in the Western Seminary Greek program in the summer before matriculation in the M.Div. program.

Students admitted to the M.Div. program who have not passed the Greek entrance exam prior to matriculation must submit to the Dean of Faculty, within the first five weeks after matriculation, a written plan of action which will bring their competency in Greek up to entrance standards by the beginning of their middle year. This plan must be approved by the Dean of Faculty. Students will not be allowed to register for more than 48 M.Div. credit hours at Western Seminary before passing the entrance exam. Failure to pass the entrance exam after 48 M.Div. credit hours are completed will result in the termination of a student in the M.Div. program.

PROBATION

A student entering seminary with an academic grade average of less than 2.5 in undergraduate work, or whose grade average falls below a 2.0 in any quarter while in seminary, is considered a marginal student. A grade average below a 2.0 is unsatisfactory, placing the student on probation. If work is of probationary quality in any three of the first seven quarters of enrollment, or in two quarters in addition to the probationary status upon entrance, the student is asked to terminate work at the seminary.

Any student receiving Veterans Administration benefits will not be certified to the VA as eligible for financial aid if the student remains on academic probation beyond two terms, or beyond one term if the student has been admitted on probation. The Veterans Administration recertification is possible if the student veteran has obtained a cumulative 2.0 in the next quarter after the two terms of probationary status.

A student on probation is expected to devote all available time to studying, and is therefore relieved from such activities as preaching, teaching, and other responsibilities. The status of the student on probation is reviewed by the faculty at the close of each quarter.

STUDENT CONDUCT

Students are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the purposes and goals of the seminary. The Standard of Student Tenure recommended by the Association of Theological Schools, as well as the conduct outlined in The Government of the Reformed Church in America, Part II, Art. 8, Sec. 1-6 are the standards of the seminary. Should a student be dismissed for reasons of unsatisfactory conduct, reinstatement is possible by renewing application to a degree program according to the policy stated in Section V.11 of the Faculty and Administration Handbook.

WITHDRAWAL AND REFUNDS

Formal application for withdrawal from courses or from the seminary during the course of any term must be made to the dean of the faculty. A student withdrawing from school must also have an exit interview with the business manager. A student who withdraws from the seminary without the consent of the dean of the faculty is not entitled to receive any refund of tuition or issuance of transcript.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

A student who does not continue enrollment for a term or more must officially withdraw. Former students not enrolled in the current academic year must apply to the dean of the faculty for permission to reenroll.

STUDENT CODE NUMBERS

Each student receives a number from the dean of the faculty's office to be used in place of his or her name on major tests and examinations or at the discretion of the teacher.

THE CERTIFICATE OF FITNESS FOR MINISTRY

The candidate for the ministry in the Reformed Church in America is required to secure, in addition to the degree of Master of Divinity, the Certificate of Fitness for Ministry. That certificate, granted by vote of the faculty, is awarded at commencement to those Reformed church candidates who, having received the academic degree, are found to be qualified and are adjudged to be fit candidates for the gospel ministry (The Government of the Reformed Church in America, Part II, Art. 9, Sec. 1). The certificate entitles the candidate to an examination for licensure and ordination in the Reformed Church in America.
Graduates of the seminary are assisted by the dean of students in securing their first fields of service. The Government of the Reformed Church stipulates, however, that those graduates who have secured the Certificate of Fitness for Ministry and have been licensed by their classes remain under the immediate direction of such classes until ordination is completed (Part II, Art. 11, Sec. 2). The seminary is assistant, then, to the classes and such denominational agencies as have a primary responsibility in the matter of placement.

Churches in which interns serve pay an internship fee of $200.00.

Each quarter the dean's office publishes a drop date for courses. Any course discontinued by a student prior to that date bears no academic penalty. Tuition is refunded if a course is dropped prior to, but not after, that date.

Free audits for certain courses are permitted to spouses of full-time degree students by application to the dean of the faculty.

D.MIN. PROGRAM

The tuition charge is $3,900 for the three-year program, plus $30 entrance registration fee and a $20 diploma and graduation fee. The student makes an agreement with the business manager concerning a schedule of payments.

A continuation fee of $400 is charged for each additional year beyond the first three years in the program.

The seminary does not provide financial aid for students in the Doctor of Ministry program.

DEPARTURE

The student who leaves the seminary is required to pay all outstanding financial obligations, which include bookstore bills, housing rent, tuition and fees, library fines, and group insurance premiums. A repayment agreement for any outstanding loans with the seminary must also be executed prior to departure. Diplomas of graduating students are withheld until all financial obligations with the seminary have been discharged.

INSURANCE

Students should carry adequate hospitalization and life insurance for themselves and their families. Programs with Blue Cross and Blue Shield and Lake-shore HMO are available at the seminary. Term group life insurance of $100,000 is also available to new and transfer students by application. Students who want to participate in these programs must fill out application cards in the business office within 30 days of the first day of class. Descriptive bro- chures are available upon request.
STUDENT AID

The programs of student aid at Western Seminary are designed to help students meet their minimum educational expenses as they prepare for Christian ministry. Students should carefully plan their finances in order to meet the cost of attendance. Students and their families are expected to provide a major share of their expenses. The estimated total cost for nine months ranges from $7,500 for single students to $9,500 for married students.

If a student cannot match the total expected expenses for the year with equivalent income, savings, and assistance from the church congregation, the student should write to the seminary, requesting financial analysis and GAPSFAS forms. Based upon need as indicated by the analysis, a program of financial aid will be arranged.
