Alumni Association of Hope College
Hugh De Pree, president of Herman Miller, Inc. of Zeeland, has been re-elected Chairman of the Hope Board of Trustees. A 1938 Hope graduate, Mr. De Pree has been a member of the Board of Trustees since 1955, serving as chairman since 1966. Mr. De Pree's election came during the Spring meeting of the Board of Trustees in early May.

The Honorable A. Dale Stoppels '47, Judge of Probate for Kent County was elected vice-chairman of the Board and Willard C. Wichers '31, Director of the Midwestern Division of the Netherlands Information Service, was re-elected secretary.

Re-elected to six year terms as members of the Board of Trustees were Dr. Fritz L. Lenel, professor of metallurgical engineering and Chairman of the Materials Division at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y. and Dr. Wicha.

Dr. David Marker, associate professor of physics at Hope, was elected to a two year term on the Board as a faculty representative.

The Trustees nominated the Rev. Albertus G. Bossenbroek, field secretary and minister-at-large for the Synod of New York of the Reformed Church in America, and Titus J. Hager, president of Marguerite Lumberman's Warehouse, Inc. of Grand Rapids. Both have served one term. The appointments of Rev. Bossenbroek and Mr. Hager were subject to the approval of the General Synod of the R.C.A. They were approved.

CONSULTANT ON FOREIGN STUDY PROGRAM

Dr. Robert Schuiteman, associate director of admissions at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was on the campus mid May as a consultant designated by the National Association of Foreign Student Affairs to analyze the College's foreign study program.

Dr. Schuiteman, a 1950 Hope graduate and a native of Muskegon, has the responsibility of advising the 3000 foreign students at MIT. He has also worked in the foreign student programs at the University of Illinois and University of Michigan and has been active in the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs.

In 1965 he received a Fulbright-Hayes Lectureship for the purpose of evaluating the predeparture orientation of groups of foreign students accepted for study in the United States. He has also evaluated foreign study programs in Britain, the Netherlands, South America and British East Africa.

TEXACO GRANT

Hope College has been selected as one of the privately-financed colleges in the United States to receive unrestricted grants under the Aid-to-Education Program of Texaco, Inc. The grant of $1,500 awarded for the 1971-72 academic year is the fifth awarded to Hope by Texaco.

1972 BAKER SCHOLARS

Nine Hope College sophomores who intend to pursue careers in business administration have been designated as Baker Fellows beginning in September.

The Baker Fellowship Program was established at Hope in 1971 by the George F. Baker Trust. Hope is the only institution of higher education in Michigan to be the recipient of the award. "It has been the concern of the Baker Trust to search out and develop potential leaders in American business life who will also be custodians of many of the values which are an important part of the nation's cultural heritage," said academic dean Morrette Rider. "It is the belief of the Trust Fund that the privately supported liberal art colleges of the nation can best develop the natural leaders to fill this dual role.

Among the other institutions having been granted the Baker Fellowship Program are Harvard University, Haverford College, the College of Wooster, and Denison University. The students selected will receive substantial financial support for the remainder of their undergraduate program and continuing through their Master's Degree, providing they maintain the academic standards expected of scholarship holders.

Designated as Baker Fellows for 1972 are Johnny Conatser from Holland; Joel Bouwens from Zeeland; Perry Allen Kuiper, Lansing, Ill.; Byron Schmidt, Munster, Ind.; William Fokken, Muskegon; Robert G. Kibbey, Jr., of Farmington; Curtis Edward McFall from Benton Harbor; David Brian Boersema from Adrian; and Ronald John Posthuma from Grand Rapids.

The Baker Scholars have been selected by a committee of Hope alumni who have established careers in business management. The committee includes George D. Heeringa, president and general manager of Hart and Cooley Manufacturing Company who is chairman of the committee; James W. Meulman, retired president and chairman of the board of the American Seating Company; Clarence J. Becker, president of Lear Siegler, Inc., Home Division; Ekdal J. Buys, senior partner, Buys-Mac Gregor Company; Hugh De Pree, president of Herman Miller, Inc.; Richard De Witt, retired president and chairman of the board of Big Dutchman; and Jack De Witt, retired chairman of the board of Big Dutchman.

Commencement 1972

Commencement 1972 focused on the graduating class numbering 432 in the 107th annual event held in the Civic Center on June 5.

Retiring Chancellor William Vander Lugt gave the address entitled “Of Course, Diogenes . . . a Mind is Required.” The text of the twenty-minute speech is printed in this magazine, including the preamble reference to his now famous ‘glasses act’ of 1971.

Honorary degrees were conferred upon Dr. Vander Lugt, Dr. Gordon J. Van Wylen, Dean of the College of engineering at the University of Michigan and president-elect of Hope, and upon Rev. John E. Buteyn '36, secretary for World Ministries of the Reformed Church in America.

President Emeritus Irwin J. Lubbers presented Dr. Vander Lugt for the Doctor of Humane Letters degree; Willard C. Wichers presented Dr. Van Wylen for the Doctor of Letters degree; and Trustee Albertus Bossenbroek presented the Rev. Mr. Buteyn.

Chancellor and Mrs. Vander Lugt hosted the graduates and their families at a breakfast preceding the commencement. Their guests numbered more than 1300.

The Rev. Mr. Buteyn gave the Baccalaureate Sermon in Dimment Chapel on Sunday, June 4, on the timely title “Getting it all Together.”

Last year on the occasion similar to this one, I had forgotten my glasses. That was embarrassing. Luckily, our youngest son, Bill, who had just returned from his two years with Uncle Sam, was in the audience. He was still well conditioned to take orders and to be helpful at ceremonial occasions. He went across the street where our car was parked and retrieved my glasses. This saved the day. But to be remembered by forgotten glasses; rather than by the address you deliver, is most embarrassing. I'm glad to have this second chance and hopefully will be remembered by what is seen through the glasses.

In February, 1970, when most of you in the graduating class were sophomores, Frank Borman was on Hope's campus to receive an honorary degree. He had been chosen by you as your campus hero. He possessed qualities that inspired you. At that time, he made a tentative promise to return on June 5, 1972, to be your commencement speaker. I wrote to him in the Fall of '71 to remind him. He answered that it was too early to commit himself so far in advance. Both Dave Breen and I wrote again in January of this year and then he informed us that the Eastern Airlines had scheduled him to speak in Illinois this morning. Since Colonel Borman was not available, Dean Rider suggested that I be the speaker. One thing Dean Rider liked about my speech last year was its brevity. He said nothing about the quality. At 11:15 we were marching to the music of the recessional. The 11:15 adjournment hour was quite different from what we had had in previous years. Sometimes it was as late as 12:10. The speakers at these were usually distinguished university presidents from prestigious institutions. They received a large fee for delivering the commencement address and felt they should speak from 50 to 55 minutes to earn their honorarium.

Mr. Handlogten immediately agreed with Dean Rider. His reasons, however, were different. My price was right. In the Dutch language, we would call what I am doing this morning "een liefde beurt" i.e., a deed of love. I'm happy and honored to do this for the Class of '72. Following the exercises this morning, I, too, will be Hope '72. Last year, some of the seniors thought I was chosen because we had no money for a real speaker. This wasn't so. In fact, last year was one of the few in recent years that we had money in the bank. But seriously, I feel that commencement is not the time for a long involved discourse. Your parents and friends came to see you receive the degree. The faculty is still tired from reading your final examination papers. They aren't ready for any intellectual stimulation. And if the faculty, the counseling services, and the Chaplain's Office were not able to direct you in the proper direction during the past four years, I cannot hope to do it in 20 minutes.

I'll not be able to take you as high nor as far into space as Colonel Borman might have lifted you. But I do know you better. I know something of your struggles, your disappointments, your triumphs. I want to pay tribute to the courage of Bob Tanis, a member of the graduating class, who spent his four years of college in a wheelchair and to all his classmates and fellow students who carried him up and down the stairs, to and from each classroom. You taught all of us invaluable lessons. Such courage and such selfless service are qualities that give life character and dignity.

I cannot claim to know all of you on a one to one basis. We are too large an institution for such intimacy. However, all of you are known on a one to one basis by several members of the faculty. Collectively, therefore, you are known on a personal basis. You have told me that many members of the faculty dealt with you tenderly and sympathetically. They treated you as persons. This, to be sure, is one of the strengths of your Alma Mater.
The big event on Hope’s campus this past year was the election of a new President. After two years of administration under a Chancellor, we are back to a President. Many people still don’t understand just what the difference is. Maybe you don’t either. Last Fall I was introduced at a Rotary-Ann dinner as “a substitute for the real thing.” Rotary, as you know, is a men’s luncheon club and once a year we invite our wives to a big dinner so that we can’t be accused of discrimination against women. But a Chancellor is no substitute. He has his own identification. There are many minor differences between a President and a Chancellor, but basically they are two. I have already alluded to the first one, that is, it takes a President a long time to make a point—50 minutes is a minimum. A Chancellor is brief, and, secondly, a Chancellor will never get his portrait to hang on the wall in the President’s Room in Graves. He is happy when he gets his picture in the mythical Milestone.

But I’m not here this morning to talk about the faculty or trustees, or Rotarians, or the President-elect. I am here to give you a final word as you commence from Old Van Raalte. Your relationship to Hope College will change today. She will become your Alma Mater. From now on you’ll be known as B.A. and/or B.M. Hope College 1972. This will never change. Thus far you have been tied to Hope for four years—from now on it is for life. What does this mean? It does not mean that wisdom will die with you. No matter how much you or I know, it is only an infinitesimal when measured against the totality of knowledge. I’m reminded of what was said to Al Smith, a colorful politician in the late 20’s while he was campaigning for the Presidency of the United States. Speaking to a crowd one day, a heckler said to him, “Tell them all you know Al, it won’t take long.” To which Mr. Smith replied, “I’ll tell them all both of us know, it won’t take any longer.” Measured against the centuries, it won’t take very long to tell all you and I and all of us together know.

The B.A. degree from a liberal arts church-related college means two things... you now have greater understanding and hopefully, greater imaginative power.
The B.A. degree from a liberal arts church-related College means two things essentially. It means that now you have greater understanding and hopefully, greater imaginative power. Let me make a few remarks on each of these qualities.

Greater understanding.

When I was a college student, we suffered from a dearth of experience. College students today suffer from a surfeit of experience.

When I was a college student, we suffered from a dearth or lack of experience. College students today suffer from a surfeit, or too much experience. In the late 20's, the radio was just becoming an instrument of communication. Newspapers and periodicals were the main media of information. We never saw the news as it happened and where it happened. Today with television and radio and endless newspapers and magazines, we are exposed to the plight of humanity with little time to think what it all means. Television simulates personal experience. It is sense oriented. Immediacy and self-involvement characterize its effect. It implies that experience rather than understanding is the norm of behavior. But experience and understanding are two different things and I hope that your Alma Mater made that abundantly clear. For an understanding of complex issues, we need more than sight and sound, we need to make room for the work of the mind. Experience is of individual things, understanding and wisdom are of causes and universals. The difference between experience and understanding is well stated by Plato when Diogenes, the representative of experience said to him, "Tables and chairs I see, but the form of table and the form of chair I do not see," to which Plato replied, "Of course, Diogenes, for tables and chairs you have eyes, but for the form of table and the form of chair a mind is required." We do not regard any of our senses as giving us wisdom. They do not tell us the "why" of anything.

If you did not learn this lesson while here, you have wasted your time and money. Meaningful experiences can be gained outside of college walls, but no bachelor's degree is to be conferred upon you for that reason. What we see and hear may supply the data that make for understanding, but they must be seen through the eyes of the mind. In college, the work of the mind must be emphasized. Higher education becomes a mockery if it isn't. Watching TV or campaigning for a presidential hopeful may be good experience but it is not as valuable to one's mind as studying mathematics or Aristotle. Hope College is strong because it recognizes the priority of conceptual knowledge. It puts the question "Why" to all of experience and pushes back the curtain of cognition as far as it will go. Truth is the result of careful observation plus faithful reasoning and the tacit assumption that there is meaning beyond the present disorder. In a day when there is so much emphasis on direct experience, the question is, Do we have the courage and the stamina to accept the discipline that is necessary to attain time-sanctioned goals? In an instant culture such as we are living under—instant breakfast, instant replay, instant money through credit cards, instant communication through television, etc., we are inclined to lose heart and to give up on life because our ideals are not immediately realized.

For an understanding of complex issues, we need more than sight and sound, we need to make room for the work of the mind.

The liberal arts are desperately needed today. The liberal arts see things in historical perspective and not in terms of an instant culture. A fact may be communicated in minutes but an idea may take years to comprehend and understand. Ideas must be hammered out on the anvil of the mind. Intellectual powers and evaluative sensibilities must be enhanced. This is the function of the liberal arts college and the Bachelor of Arts degree is conferred upon those who show they have attained, to a certain degree, these abilities. In Plato's day and even in my college days, it was easier than it is today to center on the structure of experience. It was easier then than it is now to be a liberal arts college. But the liberal arts are more necessary now. They are threatened to be replaced by direct experience. This is one of the reasons for present unrest in higher education. When the question of relevance is raised, the liberal arts have always said ‘relevance through structuring experience, through formalizing it, through seeing it in historical perspective, through asking the big questions about the good for man.’ Many students, however, seek relevance through direct experience. This is one of the greatest inside threats to the liberal arts college. It is my hope that the new President will continue the strong liberal arts tradition for which this college is well-known and highly respected. This tradition has made it a first-rate institution in higher education and the 70’s will demand that its administration and faculty be clear as to what constitutes the Liberal Arts. The temptation to adjust to present day pressures will be great indeed. We have, I feel, already succumbed to some of it. May I at this point recommend that you read Daniel Yankelovich’s, “The Changing Values on Campus.” It is a survey of present day college students’ values undertaken for the J. D. Rockefeller III Fund and now published in paperback. It is the best institutional analysis I have seen. In his analysis he mentions several issues that are part of what he calls the student counter-revolution. Some of these support, some of them oppose the liberal arts tradition. I shall quote three which I think definitely oppose the liberal tradition.

(1) placing emphasis on sensory experience rather than on conceptual knowledge,

(2) de-emphasizing detachment, objectivity, and non-involvement as methods for finding truth, arriving at truth instead by direct experience, participation and involvement,

(3) expressing one’s experience non-verbally; avoiding the literary and stylized as artificial and unnatural, relying instead on exclamations, silence, vibrations, and various non-verbal forms of expression to communicate and respond.

There are, to be sure, many aspects within the student movement that enhance the Liberal Arts, but we must not overlook the factors that threaten their existence.

Not only is your Alma Mater a liberal arts college which means that it focuses the emphasis on understanding but also a church-related college. We live in a time when it is very difficult to see what Christianity may be expected to contribute to our troubled world. A basic question for us as Christians is, How honestly have we put ourselves in the place of another? Do I understand something of the other person's life and lot? Whenever human relationships break down, that breakdown if thoroughly analyzed, practically always implies the failure on someone's part to put himself in the place of another. The gap between people today whether in homes, in churches, in colleges, among nations and countries, is usually due to a defect of the imagination. But we shall never contribute much to the solving of the problems of others until we solve the problem of self first. Unless we solve the problem of our own unimaginative self, we shall continue to be what Job called "miserable comforters or physicians of no value." Until we have enough imagination to put ourselves in the place of others, the hurt of our time will never be healed. Christ came to show us how this self can become the passkey into the lives of others. He is the most imaginative person who ever lived. In all things, says the writer to the Hebrews, He, was made like unto His brethren. He put himself in our place and asks us to put ourselves in the place of others. It is, of course, impossible to feel in our own bodies the pain which another person suffers, but we can cultivate that unselfishness of mind and heart which we know as imagination. By being church-related, Hope College has invited you to develop the imagination so that you can partake of the character of Christ.

Until we have enough imagination to put ourselves in the place of others, the hurt of our time will never be healed.

A growing number of people are saying that the Church as an organized institution is dead. To me it is reassuring that in a recent article under the title of "Do we still need the Church," Father Malcolm Boyd, an Episcopal priest and an associate fellow at Yale University, answers the question with a resounding "yes." He, as you may know, has been a strong critic of the Church and promises to speak out against what he considers to be her failure. She must quit talking to herself. But he claims that those who say the Church is no longer necessary are wrong. Should the churchless Christians grow in number, we shall soon have a whole new generation biblically and theologically ignorant. This will result in the loss of any shared religious experience, for the Church is the reservoir of the Judeo-Christian tradition which has provided the center from which social progress has emanated. I paraphrase Father Boyd's conclusion, "It is the Church that reminds us of the quality of mystery in life. It is the Church that teaches every new generation that unless we are willing to put aside our pride in actions of sacrifice and love, we cannot truly mature or fully live. It is the Church that points us to a restless Christ who roams the earth; it is the Church that draws us outside our various ghettos toward God. The Church is bigger than the attempts of any of us to conform her to our own image." The Church at its best is a reminder that God became a man who entered into the world of people. The Church is a commemoration of and a communion with Jesus Christ who lived for others. The Church is God's instrument of reconciliation.

A modern writer speaks of the Church of Jesus Christ as follows: God is calling his children to form a great circle for the playing of His game. In that circle we ought all to be standing linked together with joined hands facing toward the light in the center which is God's love. But what happened? We have turned our backs so that we see neither the light in the center nor the faces on the circumference of the circle. And in this position it is awkward to join hands with our fellowmen.

Graduates of the Class of 1972, it is our wish that the two qualities that Hope College tried to develop—namely understanding and imagination—may continue to grow in you. With these qualities in your hearts, you will bring honor to your Alma Mater and healing to a sick world.

On this occasion, the 107th commencement of the College, our final word to you and to all here assembled, is from the 107th Psalm which was read as the Scripture of the morning. "O that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, for His wonderful works to the children of men." Praise the Lord!!
Alumni Day 1972

Perfect June weather prevailed throughout the 1972 Commencement week-end.

More than 300 Hope men and women attended the reunions of nine classes held at Marigold Estate on Saturday, June 3. The Class of 1927 chose Point West for its 45th anniversary celebration with 61 present.

The Alumni Dinner was a grand affair in air conditioned Phelps Dining Room. Alumni Association President John Schrier presided over the annual occasion.

President Elect Gordon J. Van Wylen was the featured speaker. He spoke on his concept of Liberal Arts education with a Christian emphasis. Immediately upon the close of his remarks, the 464 people in the room rose as one man, declaring unmistakably to Dr. Van Wylen that the Alumni support him as he takes his office July 1.

Earlier in the day, the Alumni Board had voted resolutions of appreciation to Dr. William Vander Lugt and Mr. Clarence Handlogten for their fine work caring for the College during the vacancy in the office of president. The resolutions were read and presented.

The 1972 Distinguished Alumnus Awards were presented to Mina Becker Buys ’36, J. Oliver Lampen ’39, and to Willard G. DeGroot ’39 in absentia. The citations were read by members of the Alumni Board: Doris Adams De Young ’52, Midwest-director-at-large from Wisconsin, made the presentation to Mrs. Buys; Cornelius Groenewouw ’40, Rochester-Buffalo director, made the presentation to his kindergarten through college schoolmate Dr. Lampen; Thom Wombwell ’64, New England Club director, read the citation for Mr. DeGroot who could not be present.

Intercollegiate Athletics at Hope...

Staff Position and Plans for the 70's

Introductory note: As Dr. Gordon J. Van Wylen assumes the presidency of Hope College, and our dream of a new Physical Education building comes closer to reality, it seemed appropriate for us as a staff to reexamine our program and its position including aims, objectives, and procedures, in short, our raison d'être. One phase of the program is intercollegiate athletics. Due to spectator involvement it comes under public scrutiny more readily than other parts of the program but may yet be misinterpreted without sufficient background information. The following statement is offered as staff consensus and forms the basis for administering intercollegiate sports at Hope.

Current Physical Education staff:
Cindy Bean, Gordon Brewer, Gene Brown,
Maxine De Bruyn, Russell De Vette,
Lawrence Green, George Kraft,
Sandra Parker, Raymond Smith,
William Vanderbilt, Chairman.

Part of the aura surrounding college life in America has been that associated with intercollegiate athletics. At times this segment of the college experience has occupied a lofty position not commensurate with its real importance in the educative process. In a few instances it has reached the opposite extreme and the intercollegiate program has been eliminated. What is the status of intercollegiate athletics today? How did it get that way. What should be its proper place? An examination of these questions, their answers and implications, is a necessary preface in formulating an institutional statement of position.

It is not necessary at this point to trace the detailed history of intercollegiate sport. Sufficient to say, it began without institutional blessing or control. The element of competition in sport fits naturally into the American pattern of struggling to the top with laurels for the victor. It was soon apparent that such displays held great appeal for spectators as well as actual participants. In many instances this eagerness to be entertained led to the “using” of players and to other undesirable practices. Eventual acceptance by college administrations of the reality of intercollegiate athletics led to formation of the NCAA and other controlling agencies, but not before a great many patterns had already been established. Universities invested in huge stadiums and the stadiums had to be filled. Americans were eager to view an athletic struggle but soon lost interest when their adopted favorite failed to emerge at the top. Interest in or compassion for a loser is not a distinctly American trait. The implications for university administrators were obvious! Sponsoring athletic teams might well be a noble experience—but produce a winner! This after all is the American tradition. The fact that 50% of the teams competing were destined to lose proved a staggering statistic and sent university officials scrambling frantically for competent coaches and talented performers.

In the past two decades the above situation has been compounded by the phenomenal success of professional sport. Television, and superb television coverage have exposed the great majority of Americans to entertainment provided by the “play for pay” organizations whose chief aim of course is to make a buck by pleasing those who watch. The product dispensed by the pros is often near perfect, being the result of full time planning, study, and effort. The American public is impressed and rightly so. Happy, excited spectators will pay to watch again. It’s a good, sound, American business principle. Professional sport is, and probably must be, product oriented. As stated earlier, its chief objective is to make money, which means keeping the spectators happy which of course means winning. John Q. Public says “Get your house in order and win—we’re not interested in what process you use, only results!” And professional management correctly answers, “We will, if we expect to survive.” It may mean trading players, firing managers, or moving to another city.

Sport, however, does not belong solely to the professionals who have made it their vocation, nor to the near professionals at the large universities. It is engaged in at many another level and often for reasons more noble than securing fame or the almighty dollar. Those charged with administering a program of interscholastic or intercollegiate sports find themselves subject to public pressure to also produce a product that will entertain spectators and grant them ego satisfaction via identification with a winner. An unthinking public has failed to make a distinction between two levels of sport whose objectives are radically different, or certainly should be.

What then should be the objectives of an intercollegiate program in a small, church related, liberal arts college? What are the objectives of intercollegiate athletics at Hope College? We believe first of all that our program should center about the activity and welfare of the participants themselves. This as opposed to placing first emphasis on a collective product that might be interpreted in some quarters as more likely to enhance the image of the college. We feel strongly that our program should provide enjoyment for those who take part. This will comprise a number of things but basically it must include a satisfactory return for energy and effort expended. We desire for our participants that they experience the sense of accomplishment that accrues when physical activity is skillfully carried on. Certainly the camaraderie with both teammates and opponents contributes to the enjoyment of intercollegiate athletics. Becoming acquainted with other college students and their programs throughout the country provides a relationship that can lead to a valuable interchange of ideas, and this is an objective of our intercollegiate athletic program. We also hold that the program should demonstrate to participants the benefits and desirability of physical fitness.

An objective somewhat more difficult to define is contained in the unique opportunity provided by the competitive sport experience for young men and women to more completely discover themselves, the weak and the strong points, the good and the bad. To accept this state of affairs, notwithstanding discouraging limitations, is an important step in the self control and direction men seek and society demands. The ultimate step toward maturity is the marshaling of one's resources and channeling such abilities in meaningful service to others. We believe that athletics properly administered, can contribute to this process and is an objective of our program.

We feel that participation in the athletic program with all its facets and problems, budget, travel, time, and instruction, will help give the student a greater sense of appreciation and sensitivity for the total college program and its need. We deem this important enough to be yet another objective.

Included in our list of objectives is encouraging the interest and cooperative support of alumni and friends. Our intent is to do this through an honest portrayal of what we are doing with the young people involved.

Finally, we subscribe to the belief that our program should reflect the Christian commitment of all staff members.

In addition to the statements listed above we feel that another concomitant, values that accrue from the program that are somewhat incidental to primary reasons for sponsoring intercollegiate athletics. Included in this category are the preparation of some students for the coaching profession, spreading the word about Hope College through the words, deeds, and behavior of its athletes, inspiring youth of the community to develop their athletic skills, and offering entertainment to spectators.

The humanistic movement in sport which has swept the country in recent months can no longer be ignored. Today it manifests itself in more than boycotts and protest books. Athletes and educators are demanding an end to dehumanizing tactics employed by many coaches in the mad scramble to produce that winner. These have included brow-beating in practice, drugs to "hop up" the performer, and verbal abuse, but usually the losing point is that an inordinate amount of the college athlete's time is demanded in preparation for and performance of athletic contests. In some cases this has delayed or made impossible the securing of the degree being sought by the student. The new demands for fairness, consideration and more humane treatment have a familiar ring as they approach the Christian ethic.

Hope's heritage of sport has been shaped by men who lived and coached by the Christian ethic. Long before the humanistic movement reared its head the influence of Schouten, Hinga, Vanderbush, Weller, Visser, Siedentop, and others was being felt in terms of honest pursuit of excellence, fairness, reasonable demands, compassion, and concern for all involved. To the values espoused by these men who saw fit to be humanitarians as well as coaches, we the present Hope staff humbly rededicate ourselves in the 1970's.

What does this mean when translated into specific coaching activity and program administration? First of all, it means a continued commitment to excellence. The Hope staff has no quarrel with the Lombardian quest for excellence. Our qualification is that the means by which that excellence is achieved is as important as the excellence itself. The Hope position does not support constraining authoritarian coaching techniques nor the "use" of a few stars to gain notoriety for those individuals, the school, or the coach. We believe that the building of a misleading self image through the medium of transient stardom renders a disservice to the young athlete seeking to know the truth about himself and the world. Athletes are to be thought of as people with many needs and problems. From a Christian perspective it behooves us as staff members to be sensitive to such needs and available to aid in their solution.

The quest for excellence implies a coaching competence. This means a professional approach to one's coaching assignment. (Not to be confused with methods employed by coaches of professional teams.) Included in this approach are conscientious preparation, acquaintance with latest publications, attendance at clinics, and membership in professional organizations. In the area of recruitment coaches will continue to encourage athletes to choose Hope when it appears that they might profit from the overall educational experience at our institution. This will be done according to systematic procedures which have been set up by the Department of Physical Education and Athletics. Time allocations for recruiting take into consideration the staff's obligation to students already committed as members of Hope's student body, and those in high schools who stand to reap the benefits of Hope if only they are informed and encouraged. We feel that the former should have first call on our time but not to the exclusion of the latter. The wisdom of bringing quality student athletes to Hope is obvious enough. We continue to contact these young people in a variety of ways receiving invaluable assistance from the Admissions Department and interested alumni.

The opposition faced by our nine intercollegiate teams is of prime concern to the staff. Much of this becomes automatic with our membership in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association. In the scheduling of non-conference opponents however, every effort will be made to meet schools of like size and philosophy that are located within a reasonable distance. When such opponents are not available on a given date, the next best alternative will be taken. Periodic attempts for intersectional competition will be made. Our adherence to the principle of athleticism of competition does not rule out the desire to face a stiff challenge in all contests.

In the final analysis it is our intent to see that sport receives its due and no more, that its essential nature as a play experience be retained and not prostituted to serve another end, perhaps to the eventual detriment of the participants. Exorbitant claims for the therapeutic or character building aspects of sport need not be made though the potential for same is ever present. Sport is its own justification.

With the long awaited new Physical Education structure now imminent, we continue to encourage athletes to choose Hope when it appears that they might profit from the overall educational experience at our institution. HOPE A PARTICIPANT

Hope was one of approximately one hundred private colleges and universities from throughout the country selected to participate in a four day conference on the topic, "Confronting the Financial Crisis," sponsored by the American Council on Education in Washington, D.C. The Council recognizes that many colleges and universities are facing the most serious financial crisis in their history and the purpose of the Conference, therefore, was to assemble for the Conference successful practitioners in college administration and nationally recognized specialists in a number of phases of improvement of college management. Representing Hope at this meeting were Dr. Bernard Brunsting, a member of the Board of Trustees, and the Academic Affairs standing committee of Board, and Dr. Morrette Rider, Dean for Academic Affairs.

Two Hope students have received word that poems they have written have been accepted for publication.

"Nomad's Song" by Carol Yeckel, a freshman majoring in English, was selected to appear in the "Annual Anthology of College Poetry."

"The Anthology" published by the National Poetry Press of Los Angeles, is a compilation of the finest poetry written by the college men and women of America. Selections were made from many thousands of manuscripts submitted.

Miss Yeckel, a native of Rochester, N. Y., attended Greece Arendia High School where she served as editor of the school newspaper and worked on the editorial staff of the school's literary magazine. Ernest C. Brooks of Holland was honored for his active role in Michigan corrections this spring. Marquette Prison's new $1,250,000 medical, dental and social treatment building was dedicated on April 19 and named the Brooks Center. “The Brooks Center will permit the prison to give inmates excellent treatment and care in modern quarters with first-rate equipment. The need for this new facility has been very great,” Warden Raymond J. Buchkoe said. Now a retired businessman, Mr. Brooks has played an active role in corrections since Gov. G. Mennen Williams appointed him head of the Corrections Department in 1949. He served in that office until 1953 when Williams named him to the Corrections Commission, a body on which he still serves. He has been reappointed four times by various governors since then and has served several times as chairman of the commission. Mr. Brooks attended Hope from 1908 to 1912 and transferred to the University of Chicago and graduated from there in 1912. While at Hope he played on its first football team 1908-1909, was on the 1909-1910 cross country, relay, and basketball teams. Following service in the U. S. Army during World War I, Mr. Brooks was hired as superintendent at Hope in 1918. Mr. Brooks served as mayor of Holland from 1928 to 1932 and fostered Holland's first Tulip Time Festival. He hired as a coach at Hope in 1918. Mr. Brooks has played an active role in corrections since Gov. G. Mennen Williams appointed him head of the Corrections Department in 1949. He was elected to the Michigan Senate on the Democratic ticket in 1930; during this first term he co-sponsored the Model Corrections Act in 1937. He was reelected to the Senate in 1940 and was a candidate for governor in 1944.

The Rev. James B. Mulder of Highland Park, N. J. paid his annual visit to his alma mater in June to attend the Alumni Day Dinner, Baccalaureate and Commencement. On this sixtieth anniversary of his graduation, the 1912 ceremonies counted fifty-eight attendances. Why not sixty—rationing during World War II interrupted the perfect sequence. Mr. Mulder was born in Zeeland, attended the Hope Prep as well as Hope College, taught in a public school in North Dakota between Prep and College. He went to Rutgers and New Brunswick Seminary from Hope, graduated from the latter in 1916. Ordained into the RCA ministry the same year, his first pastorate was the Van Nest Church in Peekskill, N. Y. In 1920 he started a two year associate pastorate with the late Joseph R. Sizoo '07 in the Second Reformed Church, Somerville, N. J. Other pastorates were Second Church in Irvington, N. J. for eight years, and the Highland Park Reformed Church from 1930 until his retirement in 1956. Mr. Mulder has been pastor emeritus since; he preached the sermon at the church on its 80th anniversary. He succeeded his Hope classmate, the late Anthony Luidens, when he took the Highland Park pastorate.

Gosselin '15 has scored again; his 18th book has just been published by Theo. Gaus' Sons, Inc. of Brooklyn, N. Y. Titled Corn Town Kid, the book is largely autobiographical, says Mr. Gosselin. Martha Barkema '25, who served Baylor University School of Music in Waco, Texas “with distinction for thirty-five years,” has retired. She will return to Holland where she will continue teaching and working with young people. "The Baylor Line, February issue, carried a laudatory story about Martha by a former student who now recently has been a colleague on the Baylor voice faculty. He refers to the fact that even though she "came to Baylor with highest academic credentials and holds the rank of full professor, is loved and respected by students and colleagues alike, she has been called simply 'Barkie' an appellation of affection and admiration. During the twenty-five years that Barkie directed Bards and Rhapsody Choir, a total of more than fourteen hundred students came under her direction. The choir gave over one thousand concerts in cities from New York to San Francisco, from Chicago to Monterrey, Mexico. "During her career in Texas, Barkie has been honored by numerous church groups, civic clubs, and academic organizations. She is listed in Marquis' Who's Who of American Women, The Directory of American Scholars, and Texas Women of Distinction." It will be remembered by Hope men and women that "Barkie" taught French at Hope in 1928 and 1929. She also was music director at Third Reformed Church in 1927, 1928 and 1929. In Waco she directed the choir in First Baptist Church for twenty-four years.

Mary Pietern Keshane's '25 article from the May 1970 Elementary School Journal, "A. S. Neil: latter-day Dewey?" is included in a book of readings published by Addison-Wesley, edited by Dr. Jean Grampa of the U. of Maryland, Education in the World Today. Mrs. Keshane is retiring from the Faculty of Shimer College but will teach in its Oxford, England program next year. A. Nelson Doak '27 is semi-retired but is a member of the staff of Ocean County Mental Health Clinic where he is largely responsible for the Crisis Intervention Service—a 24-hour emergency service to the people of Ocean County. LeRoy Nataresse '27, though retired, has been drafted back as associate pastor of Emmanuel Reformed of Paramount, Calif.

worked as a volunteer in the Long Beach Free Clinic. Mary Damstra Cook '83 is teaching kindergarten. Virginia Frelich '38 fell on the ice in March and sustained a broken arm and leg, and a concussion. Was hospitalized for 6 weeks and is now home finishing recuperation.

One of these inevitable errors that creep into directory publication happened to Russell '31 and Ruth Vander May Van Tatenhove '42. Since they had served 18 years, Judge Miles, N. J., to Sarasota, Fla., there was a modicum of reason for the error. But accidently we moved Russell to Sarasota and left Ruth in Roseland. That's not right, classmates. "After 30 years of marriage we are still living together," wrote Russ. His letter of correction was good natured, but he did want you to know!

Elmer Hartgerink '39 has been appointed director, environmental control for Miles Laboratories, Inc., Elkhart, Ind. He will be responsible for coordinating a worldwide program for the company. Elmer has been with Miles since 1941, starting as a research chemist.

Florence R. Hampton '40, secretary to B. S. Ryder, the secretary of Colgate University, is an influential non-alumni assistant to the President, was one of four non-alumni honored by the Colgate Alumni Corporation during reuni... in Midland, has received a $900 research grant from the College Science Improvement Program to support field study of Michigan's rapidly diminishing prairie grouse. Clayton has been actively involved in the efforts to save the prairie grouse for the past year. He single-handedly organized a fund drive in the Tri-County area to buy land for nesting ground and has made speaking appearances throughout the area to explain the plight of the prairie grouse to interested citizens' groups. As an active member of the Michigan Association of Conservation Ecologists, the Michigan Entomological Society and the National Audubon Society, Mr. Bergman has previously done research projects and studies of the varied thrush and the jackpine warbler.

hours and 52 minutes. The lieutenant has five courses ranging from five to ten miles laid out on base and he uses them to run between 50 and 100 miles a week. His new approach to training for the Boston Marathon uses what he terms as "LSD." In this instance, LSD refers to Long, Slow Distance.

"I used to do a lot of speed work," the lieutenant said, "but this year I concentrated on running for longer periods of time at a slower pace."

The difference in training paid off for Lt. Nyboer who said, "I was pleased with my finish. It has given me the incentive to try again next year."

The lieutenant noted the big difference between his training on base and the marathon itself. "I train alone," he said, "but in the marathon, the streets are lined with people. They cheer you on and hand you oranges and Gatorade. It is an experience."

Following his release this Dec., Lt. Nyboer plans to move to Rochester, Minn. where he will do Ophthalmology residency at the Mayo Clinic. He said he will continue his running and plans to enter the Boston Marathon again next year.

1972 MIAA Track Champs

Hope captured its fourth Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) track championship in the past seven years finishing the league dual meet schedule undefeated and outdistancing the seven competing schools on Field Day.

Coach Gordon Brewer’s Dutchmen collected 54 points on Field Day, three ahead of host Calvin. Next were Alma with 47, Kalamazoo 45, Olivet 49, Adrian 21 and Albion 14.

The Dutchmen had two double winners in the meet. Senior Cliff Haverdink of Hamilton, Mich. won the 440-yard dash (:49.8) and 220-yard dash (22.2) while junior Greg Daniels of Muskegon, Mich. was the mile (4:20.2) and two mile (9:26.2) champion. The latter performance established a new MIAA record breaking the old mark of (9:29.4) set by Don Yehle of Alma in 1967.

Other Hope finishers on Field Day included freshman Steve DeYoung of Waupun, Wis., fifth in the shotput; junior Chet Evers of South Holland, Ill., second in the long jump and running up in the triple jump; sophomore Craig Bleckley of Coopersville, Mich., third in the pole vault; sophomore Rick Schuyler of Holland, Mich., fourth in both the 120-yard high hurdles and 440-yard intermediate hurdles; junior Chris Gouyd of New York, N. Y., second in the 100-yard dash and fifth in the 220-yard dash; and freshman Glenn Powers of Scotia, N. Y., fourth in the 880-yard run. Hope’s 440-yard relay team of Hud Wilson, Chet Evers, Cliff Haverdink and Chris Gouyd finished first in a thriller over Calvin with a time of (:34.2).

Named to the all-league track team were Haverdink, Daniels, Evers and Gouyd.

Senior third baseman Jim Lamer of Zeeland, Mich. was named to the all-MIAA baseball team for the third year.

Lamer led Hope in hitting (.333) and RBIs (21) this past spring as the Dutchman ended with a 10-18 overall and 4-8 league record.

Hope ended fifth in the MIAA all-sports race. Top honors went to Kalamazoo College with 72 points followed by Albion with 64, Alma 62, Calvin 62, Hope 57, Adrian 45 and Olivet 39.

Dorothy Will Be Missed

Dorothy Will Be Missed

A familiar and beloved mother-image left Hope in June and she didn't leave happily with a long agenda of things she had been waiting to do. Dorothy Burt, manager of the Kletz for fourteen years left because she had overreached retirement age for administrative staff members.

With heavy heart and tears in her eyes, Dorothy trudged home on June 2. When interviewed on June 21, she still felt 'lost' and missed the students and faculty so much. She said, "I had no intention of retiring, I hadn't heard of the retirement schedule. I always was grateful for my job. Every morning when I opened up at 6:15 I thought how fortunate I was to work with such nice people."

Dorothy was hired by Business Manager Rein Visscher in 1945 to help out at the Temple Building when the College was using the facilities there for Voorhees dining room overflow. That was when the post World War II enrollment skyrocketed. From there she went to the cooking staff at Voorhees, then to Durfee in 1950 when that dining room opened. Head cook at Durfee until the Slater Food Service was retained by the College in 1958, Dorothy then became the manager of the Kletz in Van Raalte Hall. Last fall she took over the new location in De Witt Center.

Numbers of students have worked for her, very often as many as 30 a semester were on staggered schedules in the Kletz. When some of these former students assess their college experience, they mention what they have learned from Dorothy. "It was always so happy, and things are so at ease in the Kletz. Dorothy has a bright word for everyone," commented one. A 1962 Anchor reported that another student observed "Dorothy is kind to everyone—maintenance men, students, faculty and administration. She never takes advantage of anyone and seems to think of everyone at their best. She wants to make us girls little housewives and says that we should know how to make a good egg salad sandwich before we marry." Dorothy will be missed and, she misses us!

Mrs. Tellman Retires

Mrs. Mary Tellman, house mother to more than 3,000 Hope College women during her 22 years as a dormitory head resident on the Hope campus, is retiring at the end of the school year.

Mrs. Tellman came to Hope in 1950 as head resident of Voorhees Hall. In 1960 she took charge of the then new Phelps Hall.

During her years at Hope Mrs. Tellman served as women's counselor on the annual Chapel Choir tours which included trips throughout the United States and Europe. She was also campus hostess to the many families who participated in the college's summer institutes.

Mrs. Tellman, who plans to continue as a resident of Holland, will pursue a new career as a certified and licensed graphoanalyst.

Outstanding Professor

David G. Myers, chairman of the Psychology Department, was selected for the H.O.P.E. award by the Class of 1972. Dr. Myers is the eighth Hope professor to be named Hope's Outstanding Professor-Educator.

A member of the faculty for five years, Dr. Myers is a graduate of Whitworth College and the University of Iowa. He has been active in the Holland community as one of the founding board members of the Community Action House, an elder and Sunday School teacher at First Presbyterian Church, and is currently chairman of the Holland Human Relations Commission.

In the tradition of awardees, Dr. Myers was introduced to the alumni at the Alumni Dinner on June 3 and addressed the guests briefly.
Bike Club Beginning

A Bike Club on campus was organized and directed this past year by Sandra Parker of the Phys-Ed faculty. It is Miss Parker's hope that it will be made a part of the student activities program (SAC). Also, that the Club will make two trips a year: one at Christmas break in Florida, one during spring break.

This past year the Club drove to Tallahassee, Florida in a U-Haul trailer during spring vacation. They biked from Tallahassee to Pensacola Beach, a distance of 300 miles in five days. Using side roads, mostly beach roads, the 19 members, including Sandy, covered 70 miles a day on two days; other days, not so many miles. They slept in churches or schools, with permission. The trailer accompanied them at all times. After a day in Pensacola, they returned home, a two-day trip.

The Club made another excursion during the first year, a round trip to Fremont, Michigan, a distance of 70 miles, on back roads. This trip, in early May, left Russ's at 9 a.m. and reached Fremont at 5:30 p.m.; returned the next day.

Miss Parker said, "This activity at Hope was patterned after the Wondering Wheels program at Taylor College. The purpose is for personal Christian growth. Each trip started with a sharing session and devotions; this phase of the program was practiced at some time during each day. At the close of a trip, a table discussion revealed what each participant learned from the trip."

Other benefits of the activity include the physical challenge of riding the bike the prescribed distance; and fresh touch with the out-of-doors, better tasting food and water; also, the increase of one's own awareness of God through group living, experiencing stressing conditions, trusting for studying and relating to Scripture.

Faculty Honors Retiring Colleagues

Faculty members of Hope College and their wives honored their retiring colleagues at a dinner on June 17 at Holiday Inn. Prior to the dinner, punch was served to the group in the garden setting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Renze Hoeksema. A summer dinner party in a place other than Phelps Hall was an innovation this year; a delightful new way to entertain retirees so young in spirit!

Dr. Arthur Jentz, who has been both a student and a colleague of some of the retiring faculty, opened the evening with a period of devotion. Informality and good fellowship marked a delightful evening in which the guests spoke of their happy experiences of the past, and their plans for the future.

Some fitting, poetic pieces were read by Dr. Henry ten Hoor, including a work written for the occasion by Dr. Francis Fike.

In reviewing the era in which these men served the college, the Rev. Lambert J. Ponstein called attention to the various ways in which their commitment to educating young people was demonstrated, and their understanding of a Christian college shown. He recalled from his own observance occasions when at registration sections were filled and students were waiting to get into them. There was little discussion of the problem. It was simply, "open up a section and I'll teach it." And this was in addition to a full load. It was their college and they loved it. He mentioned that these men were a strong part of that faculty which was so often honored, especially in the 1957 citation of Hope College as one of the ten best small colleges in the country.

The doxology, praise to God for what He had done, completed the evening. The honored guests were Dr. and Mrs. Clarence De Graaf, Professor and Mrs. Alvin Vanderbush, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Brand, Dr. and Mrs. William Vander Lugt, and Dr. and Mrs. Bastian Kruithof.

A NOSEGAY OF LIMERICKS

FOR RETIREES

On the occasion of a celebrative dinner
Retiring from Hope there are five
Of the brainiest men now alive.
If they never come back
To keep us on the track
There's a question if Hope will survive.
Our Chancellor Vander Lugt—Bill—
Lives up on a high windy hill,
Says, "Faith added to knowledge
Will make a good college;" Proves he's on, but not over, the hill.
Our colleague, De Graaf, Clarence T.,
Has been frequently promised a tree.
If Meuller is capable She'll find a Dutch mapable.
It's a tree I don't think he will see.
There once was a teacher named Brand
Who taught business, short story, and comp.
 Said he, "As for me, I give mostly B.
Now my students think B stands for Brand."
There is Kruithof who never grew tall,
But his thinking by no means is small.
Like Zacchaeus did climb To a level sublime,
And in output surpasses us all.
A political scientist, A,
Taught at Hope when the proxy was Cal.
Said he, "How can we Be the school we should be
When the proxy does everything-well!"
ADVANCE ANNOUNCEMENT

President Gordon J. Van Wylen will be inaugurated on October 13, 1972. The ceremony will take place at 2:30 p.m. in Dimnent Memorial Chapel. Alumni desiring to attend the inauguration of Hope's ninth president are welcome and invited to request a ticket by October 1. Ticket allotment will be made within the limits of space. Request should be made through the Alumni Office.

The 7th Annual Community Ox Roast, co-sponsored by the city of Holland and Hope College, will be held Saturday, September 16, 1972. The announcement was made in June by Mayor L. W. Lamb, Jr. and President Gordon J. Van Wylen. The Ox Roast will be held on Windmill Island and will coincide with Hope's opening home football game. The Dutchmen will meet Manchester College of Indiana in Riverview Park. One ticket will provide admission to the football game, entry to Windmill Island and the delicious beef dinner.
