GREELY'S CONSISTENCY.

Greely, at Portland, Maine, said he fully endorsed the propriety of the restriction which imposed silence on the chief candidate on a ticket; that a man had no right to imperil his friends or his party by making speeches that were liable to be misinterpreted. His Portland speech had hardly left the press before he resolves to make an extensive speech-making tour. According to the Tribune he has made over 200 speeches in his own behalf. In this we have the latest addition of Greeley's vacillating character. Could we have stronger evidence of his changeable nature? When he returned to New York he tried to explain this inconsistency. He told his friends who gathered to meet him, that he undertook the personal canvass by the advice of the State and National Committees. He does what he acknowledges to be improper, because his friends advise him to do it. Here we have the weakness of a child in a Presidential candidate. If Mr. Greeley can so easily be influenced by his friends to practice an impropriety before his election, what reason have we to believe that similar influences will not govern him after his election? We have claimed that he is but the tool in the hands of designing men, that he will be moulded by their hands, and would reflect by his official acts their sentiments rather than his own. His speech-making tour, in view of what he said at Portland, confirms our previous well-founded opinion of the man and his vacillating character.

HARD TO PLEASE.

The Greeleyites are hard to please. They pitch into Grant because he can't make a speech, and into his Cabinet officers because they can. They find fault with the government officials while at their posts of duty, and go for them savagely if they find them absent. They denounce the party for making certain laws, and condemn it and all connected with it for not enforcing the same. One wing of the Greeley Democracy believes in the Ku-Klux act, the other don't; and either way we displease both wings. Greeley himself says that such an organization did exist, while many of his Southern advocates deny the fact, and claim the charge as a trumped-up one, designed to oppress and persecute the Southern people. What can be done for these chronic grumblers? We have done our best to please them, but they won't be satisfied without Greeley. We have done our best to give them Greeley, but they don't like the way we offer him. We have quoted his best writings, but they don't grow very enthusiastic over them. We have given Greeley on secession, finance, civil service reform, and peace negotiations, but they refuse to be pleased even by this kindly offering. After the 5th of November they can do as they please—not with the government, but with Greeley. They can follow the man or his shadow the rest of their days; they can make him a little idol, and carry his bland features in their hearts—a twin picture of the lost cause.

GREELY ON GRANT.

The leading reformers may well tremble over the speech-making tour of Mr. Greeley. Their stock in trade has been vile abuse of General Grant. The philosopher in his travels thus rebukes them in his Dayton speech:

"Fellow-citizens of Ohio, since the day I left home I have made a great many little speeches like this, but no man has ever heard one word from me implying disrespect and disparagement for that eminent citizen and public servant, the President of the United States. No word from me has thrown disparagement on his public services, or dishonor on his high office."

This looks very much like a return to common sense on the part of Mr. Greeley. If he had gone a little further, and repudiated the men who are engineering his movement on the White House, he might have lost their valuable services, but he would have regained some of the respect which he has lost. The speakers who deal in slander and abuse are the agents of Mr. Greeley. He may refrain from indulging in slander himself, but as long as he permits his agents to continue the practice without protest from him, he is morally responsible for their conduct. But we ought not to be too exacting. Greeley has made a good beginning; let him keep it up, dispose of his leading interest in the Tribune, which has recently become the mouth-piece of Liberal filth, or discharge the "underdone" young man who edits its columns, repudiate Schurz, Trumbull, and the leading slanderers who espouse the cause, and try, between now and November, to do justice to "that eminent citizen and public servant," whose public character has been defamed by the paid agents in his employ.

DISASTER ON THE LAKE.

From the Grand Haven Herald, Oct. 15.
Painful rumors prevailed last night and early this morning of the loss of the propeller, Lac La Belle. We regret to say that the reports are entirely confirmed by the intelligence brought by the Ironsides, which left Milwaukee at 11 o'clock on Monday night. From Capt. Mower, who was returning from a visit across the lake, who favored us with a copy of the Evening Wisconsin, containing dispatches up to 6 o'clock, and Capt. Saveland, of the Ironsides, we have gathered such circumstances of the disaster as were known at Milwaukee at the time the Ironsides left.

Three boats, in charge of the captain chief engineer and mate, respectfully, have been heard from. The number of persons on board, passengers and crew, was about sixty. These could be accommodated on the three boats, but as there were five of them, all in good order, it is supposed that every person was rescued.

The second engineer had arrived in Milwaukee, and from him Capt. Saveland gained some particulars. The vessel sprung a leak on leaving Milwaukee harbor, and the pump was immediately set to work, but for some reason it did not do full service, and the hull continued to settle until the water was above the dead lights one of which yielded to the pressure, and a stream of water six or eight inches in diameter burst through, putting out the fires, and leaving the vessel at the mercy of the wind and waves. She was driven south, and when distant 20 miles from Racine, at 8 o'clock, on Monday morning, she sunk in about 60 fathoms of water. He says all persons known to be on board were taken off by the boats.

Capt. Saveland saw the Lac La Belle on Sunday afternoon. She was, in his opinion, properly loaded for the season, having on board 70 tons less than the usual quantity of freight for a trip. She left about 10 o'clock Sunday night. The lake was comparatively still, and only a good whole sail breeze was blowing.

The Lac La Belle was built in Cleveland, between six and seven years ago. She came to Lake Michigan on the 9th of November, 1869, in charge of Capt. Wm. M. Stannard. Previously she had sunk in the St. Clair River, having collided with the steamer Milwaukee. She was loaded with iron and copper ore, and remained at the bottom of the river about three years, when she was raised and repaired. Capt. Stannard says her hull was then as sound as possible, on account of the timber having been thoroughly "docked" by so long exposure under water. She was purchased at a great bargain by the Engelmann company, and has ever been regarded as a superior boat for the heavy service in which she was engaged.

The officers were H. W. Thompson, captain; Wm. Sanderson, clerk; Edward Carney, mate; W. Berrand, 1st engineer; E. Martin, 2d engineer; David Martin, steward; all of Milwaukee. Mr. J. E. Dowe, the agent in this city, was also on board.

The Lac La Belle had 10,800 bushels of barley in bulk, the remainder of the load consisting principally of barrels of flour. The boat and cargo were insured for $45,000, about one-half their value. Mr. Engelmann, with characteristic energy and undaunted enterprise, immediately opened by telegraph negotiations for the purchase of the steamer "Meteor," at Cleveland. The Lac La Belle had recently been overhauled at the Milwaukee dry dock, and supposed to be in a completely servicable and sea-worthy condition.

Blue overcoats and gilt buttons will be the style for next winter.

INDIANA.

The contest on Governor in Indiana is not yet decided. The Democrats claim a majority of 600 for Hendricks, but the returns up to Saturday were not complete, and it is noticeable that for three days they had been steadily dropping down as further returns come in. Besides, the Indianapolis Journal of Friday morning says:

"We are enabled to inform our friends that enough frauds have been discovered to overcome the majority apparent at the present writing of Mr. Hendricks. In the meantime we advise all parties who have wagers up on the result on the Governorship to await official action before giving up the ship."

Special telegrams from Indianapolis to the Inter-Ocean confirm this statement and say that "additional frauds have been reported in Democratic precincts in Grant, Hancock and Davies counties." A dispatch of Friday night from Indianapolis says:

"Knowledge of frauds by the Democrats are coming to light every few hours. In addition to those in Knox the Republican Committee have information of frauds in Fort Wayne, Michigan City and Bartholemew county, and the night before the election a party of political bummers were caught in one of the out townships teaching a Democratic inspector the art of substituting Democratic tickets for Republican tickets, while counting off. The Democratic inspector was caught stuffing the ballot box at Chesterfield, Ind. He has been arrested and is now in jail. Hendricks' majority can be wiped out three times over on the contest, and all persons holding bets here are refusing to hand them over until the matter is definitely settled. The Democracy had no organization, and relied upon fraud to carry them through. More illegal Democratic votes were polled in these wards in this city than Hendricks' majority will amount to."

THANKSGIVING.

Proclamation by the President of the United States.

WASHINGTON, October 11.—By the President of the United States of America:

A PROCLAMATION.
Whereas, The revolution of another year has again brought the time when it is usual to look back upon the past, and publicly thank the Almighty for His mercies and His blessings;

And whereas, If any one people has more occasion than another for such thankfulness it is the citizens of the United States, whose Government is their creature, subject to their behests, who have reserved to themselves ample, civil and religious freedom and equality before the law, who, during the last twelve months, have enjoyed exemption from any grievous or general calamity, and to whom prosperity in agriculture, manufactures and commerce has been vouchsafed;

Therefore, Upon these considerations, I recommend that on Thursday, the 28th day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship, and there make their acknowledgements to God for His kindness and bounty.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 11th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1872, and of the Independence of the United States the 97th.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.
By the President:
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.—Advices from Tucson, Arizona, of October 8, says that on September 30th the Apaches attacked Hughes, ranche, near Crittenden, and killed a Mexican and stole the animals. Lieut. Hall and 15 of the Fifth Cavalry went to the ranche, where Mrs. Gabena and child were besieged, and found the Indians 100 strong, with breech-loading guns. They retired to the mountains and defied their troops. A sergeant with five men was dispatched to warn the farmers of Sonora Valley of the danger. Hughes' ranche the Indians killed Sergt. Geo. Stewart, Corp. Wm. Nation, privates Ed. Carr and Jno. Walsh. An order was received by Lieut. Hall from Gen. Howard not to fire on the Indians in the mountains unless engaged in actual outrages. The same order was sent to all posts south of the Tula River, the same day of the murder of the soldiers. Howard was at this time in Dragon mountains with the noted Cochise, trying to induce him to go on the reservation. On the 6th of October a large band of Apaches from the Santa Pita mountains, with a herd of stolen cattle, attacked a party of American and Mexican miners, 80 miles south of Tucson, and robbed them of all their animals. Two men are missing. The Indians are armed with the best guns and fixed ammunition.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—It is reported that a former member of Congress from one of the districts of this city has decamped, talking with him considerable property belonging to two widows and one or two other persons. The statement is that he became attorney for the widows, and persuaded them to place their stock in his keeping, promising to return them dividends. He made one or two payments, and then disappeared, since which nothing has been heard of either the stocks or their custodian. The value of the stocks is about $20,000.

Local News.

The covering of Eighth street is finished to Cedar street, from city limits east.

Ground was broken this week for the foundation walls of the 2nd reformed Church.

We notice the dry house of Cappon & Bertsch is being enclosed with a covering of sheet iron.

To City and Township treasurers. We are prepared to furnish tax receipts of best quality at lowest prices, call and see specimens.

Messrs. Hoogesteger & Mulder are putting up a new building on River street, next to Meengs' grocery store; surely editors can build houses.

The City Hotel is being plastered. But a few weeks will elapse and we shall have one of the finest hotels in the West, opened for the traveling public.

Late advices from Paris report Senator Sumner worse, and his symptoms more alarming than when he left America. A consultation of eminent physicians was called to examine his case.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Van Landegend & Ter Haar are having a galvanized iron cornice put upon their new, three-story building on Eighth street. This is the first cornice of the kind put up in the city. The firm of Van Landegend & Ter Haar is bound to prosper, being unwilling to accept the theory that any thing is good enough for Holland. They will have the finest building in the city, and we hope their patrons will be Legion and reliable, and that abundant success may crown their efforts.

Our talented young friend F. B. Ledebor, M. D., is settling up his business preparatory to leaving for San Francisco, Cal. The doctor has gained for himself a position among the Medical fraternity in this section a reputation that young men might well strive to emulate. The best wishes of his many friends here will follow him to his new home and we expect are long to hear that he has gained a lucrative practice and a help mate to travel with him down the rugged road of life.

Lincoln was a rail-splitter; Grant was a tanner; Bolivar was a druggist; Mahomet Ali was a barber; Virgil was the son of a potter; Milton was the son of a scavenger; Horace was the son of a shop-keeper; Demosthenes was the son of a Cutler; Robert Burns was a plowman in Ayrshire; Shakespeare was the son of a wool stapler; Cardinal Richelieu was the son of a poor butcher; Oliver Cromwell was the son of a London brewer; Whitefield was the son of an inn-keeper at Gloucester.

TO VOTERS.—All qualified electors who have not their names registered, upon the books of the wards or townships in which they reside, are this week notified that the books are to be opened for that purpose on Saturday, the 2d day of November next. All persons who have resided in the ward or township ten days, and in the State six months, previous to the day of election, must have their names registered, or they cannot vote. A canvassing committee should be appointed at once whose duty it should be to canvass thoroughly and see that all are registered. There should be no falling off of the Republican majority this fall; let the majority of '68 be increased by that of '72.

SUICIDE.—On Wednesday last, a lady who has been married only three months, to a German residing in Crocker township, in this county, committed suicide in the following extraordinary manner: Early in the morning she threw herself head foremost into a well made of barrels, but being discovered in time, was rescued, and induced to put on dry clothes. Later in the day, however, her corpse was discovered back of the barn, with her face downward, in about six inches of muddy water. This unfortunate woman was not more than 23 years of age and the cause of her weariness of life is a great mystery.—Grand Haven Daily Herald.

ACCIDENT.—Last Saturday a son about 12 years old of Ex-Mayor Cappon was severely injured, he, in company with two or three other children was riding up the elevator in the dry house attached to Cappon & Bertsch's tannery; in going up this boy was discovered by the man in charge of the elevator, to have his head over the platform and fearing it would come in collision with the cross bar near the floor, he gave the alarm, the boy receiving it just in time to save the head by throwing it backward, but not quite enough to clear the chin, which was torn off, taking the front teeth of upper maxillary and terribly mangling the flesh and bones of the lower jaw. It was one of the most fearful looking wounds we ever saw. The wound was properly dressed and the boy is in a fair way to recover.

A GREAT MUSICAL TREAT.—THE OLD FAVORITES COMING.—The Alleghenians, Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers are coming with New Songs, New Quartettes, New Duets, New Bell Pieces, and an addition of New Artists. They will appear at Lawrence's Hall, Monday evening, Oct. 28th. The London, (England) Daily Times, whose correct musical criticism are copied over the whole continent of Europe, says of them: "No such performance on the human voice has been heard in London within our memory. To say that the music produced by these extraordinary bell-ringers is sweet, is to mention its smallest merit. It is not only melodious but pure, tender, sympathetic, and expressive to a degree to which no written description can do adequate justice."—London, (England) Times.

SAD ACCIDENT AND LOSS OF LIFE.—On Thursday evening last the schooner Julia Smith, Capt. Regan, got aground on the bar at the mouth of Black Lake. The tug Col. Graham tried to pull her off, and the tow line carried away one of the timber heads of the schooner, which struck John Allen, the mate of the vessel, in the breast with such force as to dash him against the timber head on the other side, breaking his skull and killing him almost instantly. His corpse was immediately brought to the city by the tug Colonel Graham, and H. D. Post, Esq. called an inquest. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death. Thursday Allen's remains were buried in the cemetery at Holland, with the usual religious ceremonies. He was said to be a native of Dundee, Scotland, was about 26 years old, and bore an excellent reputation as a sober, industrious man, and an experienced and skillful seaman.

P. T. BARNUM'S WORLD'S FAIR.—On the 23rd day of October the Greatest Show on earth will pitch its acres of canvas in Grand Rapids, giving three grand, full and complete exhibitions of the entire Seven Shows, for the simple sum of fifty cents—children half price—morning, afternoon and evening. P. T. BARNUM'S GREAT SHOW, travels by rail, requiring three and sometimes four trains of about forty cars each, with from two to four engines to each train, in order to transport it rapidly from one city or large town to another. It is so large and diversified in its multitude of appointments that six separate pavilions are used for the various departments of the exposition. Barnum cannot afford to stop his big show in small towns. Only think of a show requiring a thousand men and horses to manage it, and containing over a hundred thousand curiosities, 500 animals, birds, reptiles and marine monsters, a double set of performers, a double circus, with one hundred of the best performers in the country, a vast group of sea lions, wild Fiji cannibals, horse-riding goats, living giraffes, mammoth giants, ponderous reptiles, living human wonders, astounding dwarfs, four times smaller than the famous Tom Thumb—all these to be seen for the sum of fifty cents. It is no wonder if people will see a hundred miles to see it. Extra trains will run at reduced fares to carry the people to Barnum's great World's Fair on the day above mentioned.

MURDER AT DOUGLAS.—One day last week, three men named Ellis, got into a dispute with a man named Graham; and came to blows, when Graham picked up a piece of scantling and struck one of the Ellises so severely on the head as to fracture his skull. Graham was arrested and taken before a Justice, but no one appearing against him, he was discharged. Since his discharge Ellis died, and when the Prosecuting Attorney went down to attend to the matter, the man Graham was not to be found.—Allegan Democrat.

Mrs. Sarah Payson Parton, better known to the public as "Fanny Fern," died in New York, Thursday afternoon, at the age of 61. She was married some years ago to James Parton, the author, but they separated after a short experience of each other's dispositions. Previously, we believe, she had been married to a Mr. Payson, and was a sister of N. P. Willis. The writings of "Fanny Fern" were characterized by a dashing, independent manner, that has made her a favorite with the public. She has written of late years, mainly for the New York Ledger.

These Bitters are good for all diseases arising from a derangement of the stomach. As a corrective, it cannot be excelled. Pleasant to the taste, assists digestion, and keeps the system generally in good condition.

First—Because they are more foodsome than other Bitters. Second—Because the Bottles are as large as a great many Bitters which sell for $1.00, while ours are sold for the small sum of FIFTY CENTS.

Directions.—Dose—One-half wine glass before each meal. Take one-third Bitters and two-thirds liquor, and you will have a pleasant drink. Sold by dealers generally.

STEKETEE & KIMM, Sole Proprietors, 1-1. 67 Monroe St., Grand Rapids, Mich.
