ASSESSMENTS.

Mr. Schaddelee, in his communication last week, asked of us, for information relative to the manner of assessing taxes, whether upon real or personal property, or both.

In our reply to J. D. H.'s article, we stated "that we were aware of the value of real estate is the basis, as equalized, for State and County taxes." Not admitting that it was legal, but presumed that as J. D. H. has been a member of the Board of Supervisors for several years, that was the practice in this county.

But as Mr. Schaddelee has revived the subject, and asks for information, we give, for the benefit of those interested, such law as we are able to find, relative to the subject:

First, the tax laws, as amended and passed in 1867. Sec. 1, reads as follows:

The People of the State of Michigan enact—That all property, real or personal, within this State, not expressly exempted therefrom, shall be subject to taxation in the manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 3. Personal estate shall, for the purpose of taxation, be construed to include all goods, chattels, moneys, credits and effects, wheresoever they may be etc.

Sec. 22, after stating that the roll shall contain the names of resident persons liable to be taxed, etc., "and the aggregate valuation of the personal estate of each person liable to be taxed, as appears from the statements, etc."

The above quotations are sufficient, we think, to satisfy the most skeptical, that real and personal property are the basis from which to raise our taxes. But what the Board of Supervisors may have done, we cannot say, more than this, that they have given us our full share of taxes to pay, for which we must give due credit, and that we have so much personal property, we should feel thankful.

WASHINGTON.

The beginning of the last session of the Forty-Second Congress was inaugurated at Washington last Monday. The feeling among politicians is said to be of the most pleasant nature.

Democrats, Liberals and Administration men, vying with each other in proffering the pleasanties of social intercourse. Such a feeling was hardly to have been expected so soon after a bitterly contested campaign. This state of facts, at this time, augurs well for an amicable session, and that legislation will not be retarded by bitter personal prejudices, or by charges of corruption and party infidelity.

If Congress can now go to work and legislate for the interests of the country, leaving upon the field all desire for party promotion, the people will have cause to hope, that ere long, every portion of our common country will be blessed with peace, and freedom manifested by every citizen, without regard to color or previous condition.

The same day, the President's Message was received and read, giving great satisfaction, with but one notable exception, viz: that portion relating to the civil service reform. The anti-civil service reformers assuming positions antagonistic to this measure. But it may be well to say here, that the President indicates a strong disposition to maintain the integrity of this reform movement against the combined influence of Senators and Representatives present. Altogether the indications at the opening of the present Congress are flattering, almost beyond precedent we hope they may with reason be continued, that measures of national importance will be acted upon judiciously, and no material interests of the country allowed to suffer.

DEATH OF HORACE GREELEY.

This distinguished philosopher and editor died at a private asylum near Tarrytown, at 9 o'clock, on the evening of 28th ult. Several days prior to his death his friends seeing that he was fast failing, had him removed to a private asylum, where he would be able to receive the best of treatment and care, the public learning but little relative to his illness until the sad announcement of his death. The nation will drop a drop of tear over his grave, and mourn the loss of a great and good man. Many of his opponents will undoubtedly regret the harsh sentences they have uttered against him, and join in the general mourning over a nation's loss. The great editor and philosopher is no more. We shall rever his name and cherish the principles which he has advocated—rest in peace.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

Translated from the Grandwet.

DEAR EDITOR.—By this opportunity I wish to say a few words relative to the Boston fire. When the news of this great fire came, by the telegraph wire, it brought tears in my eyes, and I was of the opinion with many other good citizens, that although we are not completely healed of our own wounds and with a heavy tax to meet we nevertheless could not suffer that, more aged persons and children should suffer for want of lodging and food. I read with great interest the telegraph dispatches from this unfortunate city, and noticed by every dispatch that the damage decreased. Finally "was the damage decreased from 600 millions to 80 millions dollars. From these reports it became also evident that the loss, nearly exclusively fell upon the rich, who also were well insured.

There were but fifty families who lost their houses, and those have been with all necessities well provided. This being the case I could not with a free conscience regard it to be my duty to request my fellow citizens to lend assistance to those who were in better circumstances at the present than we are ourselves. I am convinced that our citizens are ready and willing to give as soon as a case presents itself of more need than our own. I communicate the above stated facts, that our citizens may not be misled by the liberal notions of the Holland City News. I do not know for certain what ails the Doctor, whether he is effected by the horse epidemic or that he suffers with worms; though let this be as it is. One thing is certain if the doctor found less fault with his fellow citizens and did more to advocate the advantages of this city, the purpose of inviting capital to be invested among us, he would thereby make his paper more important and of more use to the place.

E. J. HARRINGTON.

The above piece of Belles Lettres was translated and handed us, with a request that it be published in the English language to be preserved in the archives of polite literature. We are glad to know that the Mayor has informed his fellow citizens of the facts above stated, and we publish the same to inform our fellow citizens what the Mayor is saying to his fellow citizens, which suits our liberal notions.

But the Mayor is mistaken in some of his facts, and with our liberal notions we must inform him and our fellow citizens that 100 families lost dwelling houses instead of fifty. He omits to state that 25,000 operatives were thrown out of employment, and that these are the people requiring and receiving the assistance of Chicago Manifeste and other places, which he must have read, else why those tears?

Why the Mayor charges us with finding fault with our citizens we cannot say, unless for our remarks upon the tax question. It is our duty and pleasure to stand by the people of this city, and if we think they are unfairly dealt by, shall advocate their rights and expose wrong in all places as we find it. We had not mentioned any name in connection with our remark upon the Boston fire, but as "wounded birds always flutter" we take it our friend is troubled. We are aware that our people are generous, and know that many of them were anxious to add their mite toward relieving the wants of the sufferers from the Boston fire, and only waited for some one to take the initiatory steps. The News, will, at all times advocate the advantages of this city, and the rights of the citizens and will not attempt to conceal any wrong or injustice, which we think tends to operate against the interests of those for whom we labor. We agree with the Mayor that capital is wanted here, and would add that the sure way to secure such investments is to build for ourselves a reputation that will invite a generous people to come and live with us. All the natural advantages we possess will avail us nothing unless every effort of our people shall evince a good show of charity, energy and self-sacrificing devotion to principle, that we may not lose confidence in ourselves, nor the respect and confidence of our fellow man.

THE MESSAGE.

We regret that our limited space forbids our publishing this document entire. We think it a document of surpassing ability, and superior in tone to that of any of his former messages to Congress. That portion of it including his recommendation to Congress we insert. He says:

The favorable attention of Congress is invited to the following RECOMMENDATIONS of the Secretary of War: A discontinuance of the appointment of extra Lieutenants to serve as Adjutant and Quartermasters; the adoption of a code providing a specific penalty for well-defined offences, so that the irregularity of sentences adjusted; the consolidation of accounts under which expenditures are made as a measure of economy; a re-appropriation of the money for the construction of a depot at San Antonio, the title to the site being now perfected; a special act placing the cemetery at the City of Mexico on the same basis as other national cemeteries; authority to purchase sites for military posts in Texas; the appointment of commissary sergeants from non-commissioned officers, as a measure for securing the better care and protection of supplies; an appropriation for the catalogues and tables of the anatomical section of the army medical museum; a re-appropriation of the amount for the manufacture of breech-loading arms should the selection be so delayed by the Board of Officers to leave the former appropriations unexpended at the close of the fiscal year; the sale of such arsenals east of the Mississippi as can be spared, and the proceeds applied to the establishment of one large arsenal of construction and repair upon the Atlantic coast, and the purchase of a suitable site for a proving and experimental ground for heavy ordnance; the abrogation of the laws which deprive inventors in the United States service from deriving any benefit from their invention; the repeal of the law prohibiting promotions in the staff corps; a continuance of the work upon the constabulary; the repeal of the seventh section of the act of July 13, 1866, taking from engineer soldiers the per diem granted to other troops; a limitation of time for the presentation of substance supplies under act of July 4, 1864, and a modification in the mode of the selection of cadets for the Military Academy in order to enhance the usefulness of the academy, which is impaired by reason of the large amount of time necessarily expended in giving new cadets a thorough knowledge of the more elementary branches of learning, which they should acquire before entering the Academy, also an appropriation for philosophical apparatus and an increase in the number and the pay of the Military Academy Band.

He also recommends that there be no further reduction of the taxes at present, that justice to the public creditors requires that the present rate of taxation be maintained and that special payments should be resumed as soon as practicable. Attention of Congress is called to consider the feasibility of adopting some plan to cheapen the transportation of products from the great West and South-west to the Atlantic seaboard, and recommends that a commission be appointed to take this subject under consideration. Regarding the civil service reform he says:

An earnest desire has been felt to correct the abuses, which have grown up in the Civil Service of the country, through the defective method of appointments to office, which have been regarded too much as the reward of political services. Under the authority of Congress rules have been established to regulate the terms of office and the mode of appointments. It cannot be expected that any system of rule can be entirely effective, and prove a perfect remedy for the existing evils, till they have been amended according to the requirements of the service.

During my term of office it shall be my best endeavor to so apply the rules as to secure the greatest possible reform in the Civil Service of the Government, and it will require the direct action of Congress to render the enforcement of the system binding upon my successors, and I hope that the experience of the past year, together with appropriate legislation by Congress, may reach a satisfactory solution of this question, and secure to the public service, for all time, a practical method of obtaining faithful and efficient officers and employees.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Town 3 North, page 16 West. DECEMBER 2, 1872.

MR. EDITOR:—The Saugatuck Commercial says that "we believe that Saugatuck has only to set about the matter earnestly to secure a rail road communication with the world." We quite agree with the Commercial, and believe that had the people of Saugatuck went to work earnestly a rail road would have been running through that place long ere this, but when we say Saugatuck, we mean the township, and not any municipal subdivision which may happen to be incorporated, as in any way independent of the township. We believe the people of the township are able and willing to subscribe an amount sufficient to build a road, but the difficulty has ever been with the efforts hitherto made that antagonistic interests and ideas have prevented any united work in aid of such a project. Local jealousies have been the means of defeating all our rail road projects up to date, and we can see no project for such an enterprise until the two villages Saugatuck and Douglas shall "clasp hands across the bloody chasm," and unite with the people of the town for the common good; as soon as those two villages can be united for such a purpose then it can be said that the first step has been taken toward perfecting an organization that will succeed. If a road can not be made to touch both places, let it go where it must, and let all say aye; and all talk and labor is thrown away until such a feeling is manifest; then a through line can be secured and all will go happy as a marriage bell. Will they do it? We want no plug road.

Secretary Boutwell tells us that the total receipts of the Government the last fiscal year were $374,106,867.56; the total expenses were $377,478,916.21; the reduction of the debt has been $99,900,253.54. Since March, 1869, the reduction of the debt has been $363,006,999.87, and the interest thus saved amounts to $24,187,851 annually.

Local News.

Nibbink lost a valuable horse this week; cause, epizoot.

Horse doctors are beginning to wear diamond shirt-studs.

The entrance to our harbor is blocked with ice, forcing a rise of the water in Black Lake.

At a recent term of the Circuit Court of Muskegon county, 14 couple were divorced.

We notice that Hon. John Root is engaged in remodeling and finishing the building on the corner of River & Tenth streets, and is soon to occupy it as a store.

Boone's livery stable has been enlarged and greatly improved in appearance. His horses are getting well and he is again ready for business.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of John McVickers & Co., manufacturers of high and low pressure boilers, water and land tanks, etc., at Saugatuck, Mich.

The tax roll for the township of Holland is now in the hands of Dirk Van Raalte, for collection. He can be found at the store of Bakker & Van Raalte.

On the delivery door of the postoffice the following notice is posted: "A three-cent postage stamp costs three cents; licked and stuck, five cents." Rather indicative, isn't it?

We learn that the Odd Fellows of this city have rented the hall over Van Landegend & Ter Haar's store, for a term of years, and it is now being fitted up for their use, and that it is to be ready for occupancy about the first of January next.

The Holland City Cornet Band are to give a social dance at Lawrence Hall, Thursday evening next. Tickets for the dance $1.00, supper extra. The object of this social is to raise funds to pay a balance due on their uniforms, the object is worthy, and deserves well the patronage of those who participate in such socials.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.—The assessment roll for the city of Holland is now in the hands of the Treasurer, and those desirous of paying their taxes, will find Mr. Deemling, the collector, at his office every day of the week, until noon, and Friday, all day. As soon as the drug store of J. O. Doesburg is opened, he can be found at that place of business.

SHIP BUILDING.—At Anderson's shipyard, the schooner Tri-Color is to be rebuilt. The Fanny Shriver is also at this yard, and is to be widened 2 feet and otherwise improved. At Scholte's yard, the schooner Bates is to be rebuilt; the schooner Arrow was to have been rebuilt, but unfortunately was frozen in near Point Superior and fears are entertained that the vessel cannot be got to the yard this winter.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—The wide awake firm of L. T. Kanters & Co., Eighth street, are receiving a large invoice of Holiday Goods, calculated to make glad the children, who are accustomed to look for the annual appearance of Santa Claus. They have a shop full of curious toys, just the articles desired to please the fancy, from a tin whistle to an American Family Organ. Parents will make glad the hearts of their children by calling at Kanters & Co., and purchasing just what they want.

A CARD.—The undersigned makes sincere and grateful acknowledgments for the liberal offerings presented at the Donation party, on the evening of the 25th ult. Many thanks are also due to Mr. and Mrs. Walsh for opening their rooms for the occasion, and for their hearty and successful endeavors to make the gathering a pleasure to all.

J. RICE TAYLOR.

General Elisha Mix is stirring up the people of Allegan, soliciting subscriptions to aid in building car shops at that place. He says that if the people will raise $20,000, the company will pledge themselves to start a shop with a capital of $100,000, and employing from 50 to 200 men. The money subscribed, to be paid, one-half upon the completion of the first car, and the remainder on finishing the first fifty.

J. W. Minderhout, Foreman of Eagle Fire Company, informs us that arrangements are nearly perfected for a Grand Concert to be given in aid of the firemen of this city, Tuesday evening the 17th inst., in the dining hall of City Hotel. We have not seen the programme, but judging from the well known musical talent engaged, we expect that it will be the great event of the season, and the object is a worthy one we bespeak for them a full house and large profits.

The Odd Fellows at Grand Haven, are to give a Grand Ball at the Cutler House Hall, on Thursday evening, Dec. 12th. The best of music will be furnished, and the supper will be served by Miss Host of the Cutler House. The committee of arrangements is composed of men of ability and standing, who are doing everything in their power to make this the pleasantest, and the most agreeable to be remembered party of the season. Cards of invitations are out and we expect some of our folks will attend.

If any person knows that he knows what we do not know, and thinks that anyone else ought to know, we will consider it a favor if he will let us know, that we may let others know what you know. We are anxious to make the local department of the News interesting, and can do so if our friends will keep us posted in what is going on in their several localities. We would be glad to receive correspondence from any town in this county, upon any subject that would interest the general reader. Friends send in your news items; proper credit will be given to each locality.

Capt. Henderson, of the barque Delaware, called upon us a few days since, and requested us to say to those who assisted him at the time his vessel was wrecked near the mouth of our harbor, that he feels very thankful for the valuable aid extended, especially by the following named persons: Geo. Schofield, Grand Haven; Abraham Hughes, Morris Houghton and Arie Koning, Holland; Norman Cochrane, Cleveland and several citizens on the Lake Shore, whose names he could not remember. The captain states that the value of the vessel lost was $40,000; Cargo of 33,000 bushels wheat, $40,000, all of which is a total loss.

We are pleased to announce that Capt. James D. Henderson, junior editor of the Allegan Journal, will be a candidate for Secretary of the State Senate. We believe that Mr. Henderson possesses a thorough knowledge of parliamentary rules, is a good penman, with a good political and military record, which should entitle him to a large support from our friends throughout the State. Mr. Henderson, as one of the editors of the Journal, has done yeoman's service in sustaining Republican supremacy in this part of the State, and we can think of no man, possessing the requisite qualifications, more entitled to the position than is Capt. Henderson. We hope he may succeed.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION.—Our readers will be glad to learn that the Fraternal Society of Hope College, and Literary Society of the Union School, have taken measures to organize an association for the purpose of securing a course of lectures, to be delivered in this city during the present winter. It is the intention of the managers of the association to have a course of six or more lectures delivered, and for that purpose correspondence is being held with several of the most renowned men in the State. President Angell of the State University has already signified his acceptance to visit us immediately after the holidays; President Eastbrook of the State Normal School, President Abbott of State Agricultural College and Rev. J. Morgan Smith of Grand Rapids have also been invited. The members of the association are using all their efforts to commence the course of lectures next Friday evening, of which due announcement will be made. This effort should meet the hearty commendation of every well wisher of our city, it will supply a want which has long been felt by every class of our citizens and we doubt not they will liberally second the efforts of the association. Family or Single Tickets will soon be for sale and we hope that our citizens will give them such patronage as will insure them a large profit for the undertaking.

Because it has paid over $300,000,000 losses.
Because it has more than any other Ins. Co. in the United States.
Because it has a surplus of more than five times that of all the other Ins. Co's in the city combined.

For proof, read the (Jan. 1873) Report of the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of New York.
