History

The Cosmopolitan Fraternity (Phi Kappa Alpha) was founded at Hope College in 1890 based on the principles of friendship, truth, and progress. It has the distinction of being the oldest fraternity, originally a literary society, founded on the Hope College campus. Fraternity members have included Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Dr. J. H. Kleinheksel, Professor A. J. Timmer, coach A. W. Vanderbush, Dr. Gerrit Van Zyl, Dr. H. Voogd, Professor Dale De Witt, Jerry Kruyf, Dr. Paul Fried (honorary), and Dr. Harold Englund (honorary).

During its early years the organization was not a Greek fraternity but a “literary society,” as were the other such organizations on campus. During World War II, the fraternity gave up its identity and banded together with the other fraternities to keep the spirit of the Greek organizations alive while so many of the men were serving their country. In the fall of 1946, Cosmos again resumed their own identity to promote the ideals of friendship, progress, and truth.
