

Hope College

Hope College Digital Commons

Van Raalte Papers: 1840-1849

Van Raalte Papers

9-22-1848

A Report Originally in the New York Sun and Then Copied by the Grand River Eagle

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.hope.edu/vrp_1840s

Grand River Eagle, September 22, 1848, p. 2.

Recommended Citation

"A Report Originally in the New York Sun and Then Copied by the Grand River Eagle" (1848). Van Raalte Papers: 1840-1849. 292.

https://digitalcommons.hope.edu/vrp_1840s/292

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Van Raalte Papers at Hope College Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Van Raalte Papers: 1840-1849 by an authorized administrator of Hope College Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@hope.edu.

September 22, 1848

A report in the New York Sun and copied by the Grand River Eagle, p. 2, on the arrival of 80 Dutch immigrants from the Province of Groningen on the ship, Emblem, from Rotterdam. The women wore large golden head dresses "and not one was worth less than one hundred and sixty dollars." The immigrants were "in good circumstances" and destined for the Holland Colony.

it, "the skies are
This puts us in parrot, who was ful!" One day
a soaring Eagle
us eagle was ri-
Poll incessantly
she was out of

oklyn.
the 9th inst., and
ity of Brooklyn.
first class stores
list, Universalist
s Lodges, Long
Loss of prop-
illions of dollars.

nce.
of Hughes was
on Friday last.
t of bringing the
ly gored that he

AND.
s Rebuked!
lication of a par-
h he says, that
y affected by the cting him to the mination for that
f the Philadel-
and cannot con-
ne, in connection Locofocoism has

to effect purposes so unworthy of the former, and so treacherous to the latter, will find little sympathy or favor among the Whig masses. Instead of disturbing and weakening us, it will unite and invigorate our friends. There will be occasional, but feeble responses to this malign demonstration. And the only effect of the movement will be to show the impotence of those with whom it originated.—*Alb.
Eve. Jour.*

A Company of Dutch Emigrants.

A few days since the singular appearance of a party of Hollanders attracted our attention and induced us to make some inquiries relative to them, when we learned a fact that will astonish no little those who remain incredulous of the vast amount of wealth brought to this country by emigrants. This company, consisting in all of eighty persons, large and small, in the ship Emblem, from Rotterdam, and were destined for the Holland Colony of the Rev. Van Raalte, in Michigan, to which place they have since been forwarded by Mr. Hodepyl, No. 114, Greenwich-street. They were all from the province of Groningen, and were in good circumstances.—Thirty-two of the women wore large golden head-dresses, consisting of a broad gold band across the forehead, broad plates at the side, and a heavy band and clasp at the back of the head. Many of these head-dresses were ornamented with diamonds and jewels, and over them were caps of the richest Brussels lace. Many were of immense value, and not one was worth less than one hundred and sixty dollars.—New York Sun.

The following is a specimen of the explicitness with which Gen. Cass replies to the interrogatories put to him:

- Q. What is your opinion on Internal Improvements?
- A. When a young man I came out West.
- Q. Are you in favor of free territory remaining free?
- A. I crossed the Ohio.
- Q. What are your views as to the inviolability of the homestead?
- A. There were Indians about.

Grand River Eagle

2nd page

Sept. 22, 1848