October 2012

Western Theological Seminary

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.hope.edu/collection_registers

Part of the Archival Science Commons

Recommended Citation

http://digitalcommons.hope.edu/collection_registers/352
October 8, 2012.

This Register is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives and College History at Digital Commons @ Hope College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Collection Registers and Abstracts by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Hope College. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@hope.edu.
Abstract

The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America was formed in 1908. Its delegates came from thirty denominations, united for service through a variety of departments. It continued to represent its member denominations for forty-two years. In 1950, the FCC, now representing twenty-seven denominations, joined with seven other national interdenominational organizations to form the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America. The FCC coordinated the efforts of member denominations in areas of social and church-related issues by means of conferences and publications in order to initiate and stimulate action in areas such as ministry of the church to older people, the role of women in the church, and ethical aspects of economic life. The collection includes annual, biennial and quadrennial meeting reports, pamphlets that were published by and about the FCC, two copies of the Federal Council Bulletin, and information regarding the conclusion of the FCC as an organization and its joining with the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America.

Accession No: W88-0810.5
Provenance: Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America
Donor: Western Theological Seminary
Processed by: Carolyn Nienhuis, October 1994

History

The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America was formed in 1908. Its delegates came from thirty denominations, united for service through a variety of departments. It continued to represent its member denominations for forty-two years. In 1950, the FCC, now representing twenty-seven denominations, joined with seven other national interdenominational organizations to form the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America.

Scope and Content

The FCC coordinated the efforts of member denominations in areas of social and church related issues by means of conferences and publications in order to initiate and stimulate action in areas such as ministry of the church to older people, the role of women in the church, and ethical aspects of economic life. The collection includes annual, biennial and quadrennial meeting reports, pamphlets that were published by and about the FCC, two copies of the Federal Council Bulletin, and information regarding the conclusion of the FCC as an organization and its joining with the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America. The collection is arranged alphabetically.

Container List

Agenda, Executive Committee, 1949
Annual Reports, 1913-1915, 1949 (2 folders)
Biennial Meetings, 1948, 1950
Biennial Reports, 1948, 1950
Concluding Service of Worship, 1950
Correspondence, 1949
Data Book, Volume I, 1930
Draft Papers for Executive Committee, 1949
Federal Council Bulletin, 1950 (2 issues)
Federal Council Yearbook, 1915
Independent Peace Activities of the Constituent Bodies, Part II, 1916
Pamphlets, n.d., 1910-1950 (scattered) (2 folders)
Reports
  General Secretary, 1915
  Proceedings, Second Quadrennial Council, 1912
  To the Quadrennial Meeting, 1916 (4 folders)
Southern Presbyterian Journal, 1947