November 2012

Western Theological Seminary

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.hope.edu/collection_registers

Part of the Archival Science Commons

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.hope.edu/collection_registers/417
November 16, 2012.

This Register is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives and College History at Hope College Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Collection Registers and Abstracts by an authorized administrator of Hope College Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@hope.edu.
Abstract

Clarence H. Holleman was a medical missionary in Amoy, China (1919-1941, 1946-1949). His papers reflect the experiences of an American family in China during the Communist takeover in the late 1920s and in Taiwan at the Mackay Memorial Hospital in Taipei (1957-1960).

Accession No: W95-1196
Provenance: Clarence H. Holleman
Donor: Clarence H. Holleman
Photographs: 3 images
Processed by: John H. Maassen, June 1995

Biography

Clarence H. Holleman was born in 1890 in Springfield, Missouri. A medical doctor, he and his wife, Ruth Eleanor Vanden Berg Holleman, were commissioned by the Reformed Church in America as missionaries to the Amoy Mission in China in 1919. They were pioneers in medical work and Mrs. Holleman opened a school for women. When the Communists closed mainland China to Christian missionaries in 1929, the couple remained until being driven out by the Japanese military in 1941. After the war, they returned in 1946, and remained until being driven out by the Chinese government in 1949. At that time, they returned to the United States, where Dr. Holleman spent several years in private practice. In 1957, they were invited to Taiwan and were associated with the Mackay Memorial Hospital in Taipei until their retirement in 1960.

Scope and Content

The Holleman Papers reflect the experiences of an American missionary family and others during both the Communist takeover in China in the late 1920s and the Japanese invasion of the mid-1930s.

Container List

- Biographical Information, 1929, 1939, 1966, 1973
- Correspondence with Dr. Elton Bruins, 1970-1971
- Diary? (in Chinese)
- Medical License and Permit, 1938, n.d.
- Photographs
  - Dr. Huang, 1950 (1 image)
  - Chinese Boy, 1948 (treated by Holleman) (1 image)
Twelfth Annual Meeting of the Church of Christ in China, South Fukien Synod, 1932 (1 image; oversized, digital)

Writings

Address to the Board of Hope and Wilhelmina Hospital, July 9, 1941
Address to the Osteopathic Association of Pomona, October 16, 1952
Capture Story, Experiences of May and June, 1929
China Reminiscences, 1950
I Sought to Serve, 1950
Japanese invasion of North China, 1937-1938
Tribute to Dr. David Huang, 1952
Untitled Experiences in China, 1952
A Reminiscence of China